

Business Activity Lags In County, Report Says

Although Wayne County businesses racked up nearly $280,000 more in retail sales during the first three months of this year as compared to the same period a year earlier, those sales failed to keep pace with the inflationary increase in the level of retail commodity prices, a University of Nebraska publication reveals.

Net taxable retail sales in Wayne County totaled $5,366,000 from January through March of this year, bettering the $5,089,000 total for the same three months in 1973, reports the U.N.L. Bureau of Business Research.

That amounts to a 5.4 per cent increase in sales, several percentage points below the statewide 11.6 per cent increase which can be attributed to inflation alone, the Bureau's report says.

Across the state, net taxable retail sales amounted to $1.18 billion, up 16.6 per cent over the $1.01 billion recorded in the same three-month period in 1973. Since 11.6 percentage points of that increase can be attributed to inflation, the state realized a five per cent increase in retail activity, according to the Bureau's report.

Dixon and Cedar Counties were more fortunate in their retail sales activity during the first three months, the report shows, but Dixon County sales also failed to keep pace with inflation.

Firms in Dixon County did $2,493,000 in business the first three months of this year, 9.8 per cent greater than the $2,271,000 racked up during the same three months in 1973. However, that total fell almost two percentage points behind

Autograph Party for WH Students Slated

Wayne High students will be able to pick up their 1973-74 annuals during an autograph party at the high school commons Saturday night, reports annual sponsor Robert Porter.

All students are invited to attend the 7 to 10 p.m. party, said Porter, so students can obtain as many autographs as possible. It will be the first time for students to see the annuals, which arrived in Wayne on Wednesday.

Monthly Drive For Papers Set

Wayne, Winside and Carroll residents with old newspapers they have accumulated in recent weeks may get rid of them Saturday during the monthly paper drive conducted by members of Boy Scout Troop 175 in Wayne.

The Scouts will begin picking up papers Saturday at 8:30 a.m. Residents are asked to have their newspapers boxed or bundled and set on the curb or where they are easily visible.

Heading up this month's drive are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Somnerfeld.

Hit, Run Reported On Carroll Street

A parked automobile suffered damage to the right side in a hit and run accident in Carroll early Sunday morning, reports the Wayne County sheriff's office.

The automobile belongs to Arthur Cook, who had parked his car in front of his home. The accident happened about 2:30 a.m., according to the sheriff's office. Damage was estimated at $372, the sheriff's office said.

Safety Group Concerned With Road Safety

City and county law officials in Wayne may begin stopping motorists to urge them to be more careful while driving in an effort to impress on the public the need for highway safety, said Ray Butts, chairman of the Selective Localized Accident Prevention committee in Wayne.

Butts said that was one idea discussed during a meeting of the SLAP committee Wednesday morning.

Meeting with the committee was Jim Pearson of Norfolk, liaison officer with the state roads department.

The biggest problem in cutting down highway mishaps is not the highway traffic, according to information Butts has obtained from state officials. He said the information shows that many accidents which could be prevented involve motorcycles and vehicles on county roads and at railroad accidents.

Butts noted that churches across the state are being asked by state officials to devote part of their Sept. 1 services to highway safety.

Meeting with Pearson were committee members Vern Fairchild, Kurt Otte, Dean Pierson, Al Wittig, Fred Brink and Butts.

Dixon Youths Help Fight MS

Dixon youngsters raised $26 for the fight against muscular dystrophy during their neighborhood carnival on Wednesday of last week.

Serving as ringmaster for the event was Jeffrey Craven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craven, who hosted the carnival.

Assisting him were Jason Craven, Duane and Jeff Nelson, Kevin and Neil Gohier, Chip Young and Stacy Thomas.

Farmer Wins $25 Drawing

A Wayne area farmer, Paul Dangberg, collected $25 in Birthday Bucks as a result of winning the consolation prize in last week's drawing in Wayne.

Dangberg, who was at Jack and Jill in Wayne when the winning date was announced, will be able to spend the $25 in coupons just like cash in any of the participating businesses.

Because the grand prize was not claimed in last week's drawing, the prize jumps to $325 tonight (Thursday). The winning date, drawn at random earlier, will be announced in all participating businesses at 8:15 p.m.

If there is no grand prize winner tonight, another $25 consolation prize will be awarded and next week's grand prize will climb to $350.

A person's birthday must match exactly the date drawn at random to win the grand prize. On the evenings when that does not happen, the person whose birthday is closest to the date drawn wins the consolation prize.

Wayne-Carroll Classes Slated to Begin Next Week

Students in grades kindergarten through 12 in the Wayne-Carroll school system will begin the 1974-75 school year next week, reports superintendent Francis Haun.

Students except those attending kindergarten at Carroll begin the year on Wednesday, Carroll kindergartners are not to report until Thursday afternoon.

All classes except those for kindergartners will be on a shortened basis that first day,

Haun noted, and no hot lunches will be served.

Wayne High students are to meet in the high school lecture hall at 8:50 a.m. on Wednesday for discussion of a variety of subjects.

Classes for students will run for the following time periods: 9:33-9:47, 9:50-10:04, 10:07-10:21, 10:24-10:38, 10:41-10:55, 10:58-11:12 and 11:15-11:30. School will be dismissed at 11:30 and buses will begin taking students home at 11:40, said Haun.

Members of the high school's student council are to meet in Room 202 at 8:15 a.m. with Donald Zeiss, newly hired principal at the high school, and students may begin purchasing lunch tickets at 8 a.m.

Students who will be attending middle school in the fifth and sixth grades should report to their homerooms at 8:50 a.m. They will find their names and homerooms listed on the bulletin board that morning, said Haun.

Middle school students in grades seven and eight should report to the gym through the south doors to pick up their schedule cards, he added. They are to report to class at 8:50 a.m., Haun noted.

Kindergarten students attending school in Wayne will attend from 8:30 a.m. to 11 or from 12:30 p.m. to 3 depending on which section they are in, Haun noted.

Carroll kindergarten students are to attend school from 12:30

Allen, Wakefield Youths Share 4-H Dairy Honors

Youths from Allen and Wakefield split evenly the top breed honors in the 4-H dairy show Monday afternoon at the Dixon County Fair.

Mark Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chapman of Allen, showed both the champion and reserve champion in Brown Swiss competition.

Showing the champion Avshire was Jack Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Warner of Allen. Taking runner up honors in that breed was his younger sister, Jeanne.

A Wakefield brother and sister combined to sweep top honors in the two other breeds, with Deb Domsch taking top placing in the Guernsey class and her brother, Carl, taking top placing in the Holstein class. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Domsch.

Coming in with reserve champion animals in those two breeds were two other Wakefield youths, Doug Fischer taking the Guernsey competition and Gary Munter taking the Holstein competition. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Munter.

Those two young Warners also earned honors in the showman competition. Jack was named champion senior showman, earning the trophy donated by the Dixon County Farm Bureau. Jeanne was named top junior showman during the competition.

Carl Domsch also earned himself a trophy, taking the one donated by the Nebraska Holstein Association for the champion registered 1-H Holstein.

Charolais Steer Is Named Dixon County 4-H Champ

A Wakefield youth, Greg Meyer, showed the overall champion steer in the 4-H beef show at the Dixon County Fair on Tuesday. His Charolais steer placed just ahead of Bud Brown's crossbred steer in the competition pitting different breeds against each other.

Meyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Meyer of Wakefield. Brown's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown, also of Wakefield.

Showing the champion market heifer in competition among the broods was Lori Erwin of Concord. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord, she showed a Charolais to top ranking. Exhibiting the reserve champion market heifer was Brad Erwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Erwin, also of Concord.

Named top junior showman during the competition was Lon Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Ernest Swanson of Wayne. Mark Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Koch of Concord, was named second place junior showman.

Bud Brown earned an additional honor by placing first in senior showmanship, just ahead of runner up Jim Dahlquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Dahl of Laurel.

Winning the special trophy given away each year by former Dixon County 4-H'er Jerome Helgren of Grayslake, Ill., was Lisa Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord. She received the Angus Supreme trophy Helgren supplies each year.

Randy Kahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kahl of Wakefield, won the trophy given away by the Nebraska Pollette Herford Association for exhibiting the best polled Hereford breeding heifer in the show.

In market animals, Kevin Kraemer of Allen showed the champion and Dennis Carlson of Laurel showed the reserve champion among the Angus steers. Among Angus heifers, Brian Bloom of Dixon showed the champion and Mike Ruwe of Wayne showed the reserve champion.

Lyle Borg of Concord showed the champion and Cheryl Koch of Concord showed the reserve champion in Hereford steer competition. Brad Erwin showed the champion and Garry Roebber of Wakefield showed the reserve champion in Hereford heifer competition.

In the Charolais and Charolais crossbred class, Greg Meyer showed the champion and Denise Magnuson of Laurel showed the reserve champion steers. In the heifer class, Lori Erwin showed the champion and Kari Erwin showed the reserve champion.

Bud Brown had both the champion and reserve champion among the crossbred steers, while Brad Erwin showed the champion and Mike Ruwe showed the reserve champion among crossbred heifers.

Lori Hartman beat out her brother, Clayton, to take top honors among the Angus breeding heifers. Clayton had to settle for reserve champion status in that competition.

Gary Roebber's Hereford was named tops in its breed in the breeding heifer contest, placing See BEEF SHOW, page 7

Mrs. McGhee to Direct Program at Allen High

Gwen McGhee, graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and recently vocationally certified, will be the new coordinator of the Allen High School distributive occupation program.

The program will have three dimensions: in school related classroom instruction, on-the-job training and vocational youth group. Students taking the class will work out a schedule with Mrs. McGhee and their employers as to their work periods and school attendance, she said.

Other objectives of the course are to provide for an easier adjustment to work and employment after high school, to establish good work habits and attitudes, to show relevancy of the basic school subjects and to provide wages to trainees that often help them complete school or continue education beyond high school, Mrs. McGhee noted.

The coordinator and the employer will work together in deciding on a training plan for each student, and Mrs. McGhee See PROGRAM, page 9

Taxes Are Due

The second half of 1973 real estate taxes became delinquent on Sept. 1 and bring drawing upon the real interest of that same reports, Wayne County treasurer Leon Meyer.

Meyer said county real estate owners may pay their taxes at his office anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Hoskins Man Is Injured in Traffic Mishap

H.F. Mittelstaedt, 59, of Hoskins was hospitalized Monday morning at Norfolk following a car pickup accident at a county road intersection one mile west of the Peace United Church of Christ west of Hoskins.

He was the driver of the pickup which collided with a car driven by Mrs. Melvin Wachler, 45, of Stanton about 7 a.m.

Mrs. Wachler, who received lacerations and complained of neck injuries, was treated and released from the Norfolk hospital.

The drivers and Jerome Mittelstaedt, passenger in the pickup, were taken to the Norfolk hospital by the Hoskins rescue unit. Young Mittelstaedt was not seriously injured.

Feeders Group Plans Annual Outlook Meet

The Northeast Nebraska Live Stock Feeders Association's fall outlook meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 9, at The Paddock steak house in South Sioux City.

A panel consisting of a banker, packer, auction market representative and industry spokes man will consider the outlook for feeders for the coming year.

The membership will discuss a donation to State Senator Loran Schmitz to help finance his lawsuit regarding a conspiracy within the chain stores.

Local Youths 'Fair' After 1-Car Mishap

A Wayne youth, Mark Powers, remained in fair condition in a Sioux City hospital Wednesday morning after being transferred there from Wayne following a one car accident on the north edge of Wayne Saturday night.

Powers received a double fracture of the left leg and cuts and bruises when the car he was riding in went out of control, skidded off the west side of Highway 15 and rammed into a utility pole just north of Wayne about 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

The automobile, driven by Brian Magnuson, 16, of Wayne, broke the utility pole in two.

Magnuson was reported in fair condition at the Wayne Hospital Wednesday morning with a fractured pelvis and minor cuts and bruises.

Two other passengers in the automobile, Scott Glassmeyer and Larry Creighton, both of Wayne, have been released from the local hospital.

Glassmeyer, who suffered a concussion and cuts, was released Tuesday. Creighton, suffering from a mild concussion, was released the morning after the mishap.

Magnuson was southbound on Highway 15 when he skidded 109 feet before leaving the highway and striking the utility pole, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

That Time Of Year Again.

AUGUST in Nebraska means county fairs, and a county fair month, with its own traditions and lasting memories. In Dixon County each year. Getting his call ready for Tuesday 4-H beef show is Brian Kahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kahl of Wakefield and sampling some of the orange drink with his mother at Monday night's free barbecue is three-year-old Tiffany Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Benson of Concord. The fair, which opened Sunday evening with the traditional vesper services, continued through Wednesday night. One of the last items on the agenda — crowning of the first queen of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association. For a page of other pictures and results of the fair, turn to page seven of the first section.

WSC Students Married Saturday At Christ Lutheran in Norfolk

Now at home in Wayne are Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stoyanoff, who were wed in 7:30 p.m. rites Saturday at the Norfolk Christ Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Stoyanoff is the former Susan Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lysle Park of Norfolk. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stoyanoff, also of Norfolk.

The bride, a 1972 graduate of Norfolk High School, is a senior at Wayne State College. The bridegroom graduated from Norfolk High School in 1971 and is a senior at Wayne State College where he will graduate this December.

The 225 guests who attended the wedding and reception at the church fellowship hall were registered by Mrs. Jane Wiese of Norfolk and ushered into the church by John Stoyanoff III of Altoona, Pa. and Jim Say and Robb Thomas, both of Norfolk.

The Rev. Karl Davies of Norfolk officiated at the double ring ceremony and Arne Sorenson of Neligh was organist. Soloist was Mrs. Jack Fischer of Ogden, Ia. Candles were lighted by John Park of Norfolk, brother of the bride, and Randy Park of Wayne, the bride's cousin.

Maid of honor was Lisa Wiese of Scribner and bridesmaid was Debra Park of Norfolk, sister of the bride. Jerry Fischer of Norfolk was best man and Jack Fischer of Ogden, Ia., was groomsmen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a floor-length gown of white jersey knit trimmed in lace and styled with long cuffed sleeves and a raised waistline. She wore an elbow-length veil and carried white orchids and white roses accented with ivory, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Her attendants wore princess gowns of lavender and pink sheer nylon polyester floral print in floor-length with long cuffed sleeves and white picture hats. They each carried lavender carnations, white roses and ivory.

The men wore dark gray, single-breasted tuxedos and Mr. Park selected a green nylon polyester dress with beige accessories and Mrs. Stoyanoff chose a green double knit with green accessories.

Loren Park of Wayne served as host and Mrs. Keith Woodard of Shelby and Mrs. Lois Grube of Akron, Ohio were hostesses to the reception. Gifts were arranged by Beverly Bohac and Gail Wantlin, both of Norfolk.

Mrs. Loren Park of Wayne and Mrs. Norman Schmeckpeper of Norfolk cut and served the bridal cake, and Mrs. Laurence Fischer of Norfolk and Mrs. Jack Fischer of Ogden, Ia. served the groom's cake. Jane Hoffrah of Charter Oak, Ia. and Mrs. Richard Bohac of Norfolk poured and Jerry Wiegale of Charter Oak and Patricia Park of Norfolk served punch. Waitresses were Peggy Woodard of Shelby, Julie Park of Wayne, and Marilyn Newhard, and Sharon and Sheryl Schmeckpeper, all of Norfolk.

Rev. H. Cowles Gives Sermonette, 'Character'

The Rev. Harry Cowles presented the sermonette, "Character" to 16 members of the Wayne Senior Citizens Center Friday afternoon.

Rev. Cowles told members, "Take the Bible, wrap it up and dish it out to help others by living it in our daily lives." Mrs. Harry Cowles led the singing a long, accompanied by Mrs. Alma Splitzger.

The next sermonette and singing will be at 2 p.m. Sept. 20 on Thursday evening, the Senior Citizens Center. "Build or Buy" fund was increased by $62.32 when Mr. and Mrs. Don Langston, Mike Jacobsen, Mark Quinlan, Jim Johnson and Mark Smith, staff members of Wayne Radio KTCM, canvassed downtown Wayne.

Music was provided during the evening by the center's Bobbles and Bubbles band.

Punch, coffee and homemade cookies were served by Corinne McCullough, Sadie Osnower, Nellie Brockman, Annie Ruebke, Rene Pedersen, Alma Splitzger, Rose Heithold, Alice Doran, Goldie Leonard, Lettie Longnecker, Emma Soules, Betty Summer, Helen Violette, Myrtle Weber, Rachel Bull and Besse Peterman.

Mrs. L. Daum Next Hostess

Happy Homemakers Extension Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 19 with Mrs. Leon Daum. Twelve members attended the Aug. 15 meeting held at the former Alfonsa store. Hostess was Mrs. Bruno Splitzger and guests were Mrs. Roger Hansen and Brad of Wakelid and Mrs. Walter Splitzger of Wayne.

Mrs. Bernhard Splitzger demonstrated how to make cold slaw using a blender. The group discussed fair exhibits and Mrs. Delvin Mikkelsen read a letter from Wayne State College offering a credit course for women.

The lesson, "Selection of Dinners," was presented by Mrs. Edwin Gaaue.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Joycelyn Smith

Cantaloupe
Cantaloupe, a variety of muskmelon with a sweet and fragrant taste, originated in Asia.
The flesh of a cantaloupe may be salmon, pink or green-colored, with salmon colored most prevalent.
Sweetness, fine texture and pungent aroma are characteristics of a good cantaloupe and are found only in well matured melons. It is difficult to distinguish a ripe melon, but there are two clues worth observing.
The outside or netting should be well raised, coarse and grayish. The stem-end scar, where the melon was attached to the vine, should be slightly sunken, smooth and well-caloused. When half the scar is only slightly sunken and the other half is rough, the melon was picked at "half slip," or before it matured on the vine. The melon should have no soft spots in the skin.

If melons are ripe, refrigerate. Melons can be stored at room temperature until ripening is complete.
Cantaloupe can be frozen. Use firm, ripe melons. Cut in halves. Scoop out seeds. Peel. Cut into three-fourths inch cubes or balls. Place in plastic bag or freezer container, seal, label and freeze. Serve before completely thawed. Melons become mushy if completely thawed.
Cantaloupe can add zest to winter meals if frozen now.

For a breakfast low in calories but high in nutrients, start the day with fruit or juice, a bowl of your favorite cereal with non-fat milk, a slice of enriched toast with margarine and a glass of low-fat milk to drink. This breakfast provides only about 400 calories but contains many of the more than 45 nutrients needed daily for good nutrition.

Local Church Will Present 'The Return'

"The Return," a film documenting the formation of the nation Israel will be shown Sunday evening at the Wayne Assembly of God Church.
Produced by the Evangelical Communications Research Foundation, the film relates the events leading to the final hours of the world's history with the drama beginning in Israel.
Israel related to neighborhood, according to a growing number of scholars throughout the world is the beginning of the fulfillment of his predicted destiny among the nations of the earth.
The public is invited to attend the 7:30 p.m. showing.

Goal, Budget On Agenda for 'Chest' Board

Members of the board of directors of the Community Chest in Wayne are expected to set a goal and adopt a budget for distributing money collected in this year's fund drive when they meet at noon Tuesday.
Board members earlier this week set the dates for the two breakfasts which will help start this year's drive. The kickoff breakfast for the advance gifts campaign is slated for Sept. 18 and the general kickoff breakfast is set for Sept. 30. Both begin at 7 a.m. at the Student Center on Wayne State's campus.

Members discussed a variety of methods to help drive workers reach their goal during Tuesday's meeting. Included among them was trying to have businesses get each employee to contribute to the fund, earning those which succeed special recognition in The Wayne Herald.
Also being considered are asking the local Lions Club and Kiwanis Club to hold their fund-of-war again this year, asking groups at Wayne High or Wayne State to help with the drive, and holding special events in the downtown business district during the drive.

Money raised annually in the fund drive goes to support several local agencies along with a home for unwed mothers in Sioux City and several national organizations.
Receiving money this year will be the city recreation program, Senior Citizens Center, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, cystic fibrosis, Florence-Crittenton Home, Arthritis Foundation, Salvation Army and Red-Cross.

Hamm-Wooden Families Meet

The annual Hamm Wooden family reunion was held Sunday at the Bressler Park in Wayne.
Fifty-nine relatives were present from Shenandoah, Ia., Woodbine, Ia., Harlan, Ia., Atkin son, Norfolk, Osmond, Plain view, Neigh, Wausa, Cairo, Winside, Wayne, Carroll and Fremont.
Mrs. Nellie Hamm of Plain view was the oldest woman attending and George Johnston of Carroll was the oldest man present. Youngest girl was Kathryn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hill of Prague and the youngest boy was Shawn Lindsay, son of Donna Lindsay of Wayne. Bill Wax of Sheridan, Ia., came the greatest distance to attend. The youngest married couple were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Wade of Norfolk.
Walt Hamm auctioneered the white elephant sale and refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.
The 1975 reunion will be held the third Sunday in August.

Baton Twirlers Win 13 Awards

Five baton twirling students of Mrs. LeRoy Damme of Winside received 13 trophies during the open baton contest of the National Baton Twirling Association Saturday at Morningside College in Sioux City.
Kim Damme, five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Damme of Winside, received two trophies in intermediate solo, visitors solo, hoop, two baton and duet divisions.
Also receiving awards were Connie Beelaert, 16, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Beelaert of Orchard, three trophies in two baton, solo and military (solo); Joette Haase, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Haase of Norfolk, three trophies in intermediate solo, two baton and duet; Brenda Eucker, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DuWayne Eucker of Norfolk, second place trophy in solo; and Janet Anderson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson of Laurel, third place trophy in two baton.

Double-Duty Roast
A big roast that gives double duty is a good buy, especially during the holiday season. Any leftover from a special dinner can be sliced thin, spread with a homemade or commercial dip or spread, rolled up, secured with a small pick and arranged on lettuce for luncheon service. Or secure the rolled slices with several picks and cut each roll in two or three segments and serve as appetizers.

Reeg Wins 3rd Straight WCC Title

Wayne Country Club officials were wondering if they should change the name of the club's annual tournament to the "Bob Reeg Invitational" following Sunday's meet.

The were joking, of course. Reeg, however, wasn't kidding about working for his third straight tournament win. The two-time winner made it three in a row, firing a one-under-par 107 for 27 holes to once again take the traveling trophy.

Consistent shooting has been Reeg's credentials in the three years as tournament king — last year he fired a 106, the year before a 109.

Boosting that consistency this year were seven birdies — one topped by an 80-foot putt on the par four, 387-yard 11th hole. On the par three, 232-yard 12th hole he sunk a 40-foot putt.

"That 80-foot putt had to be the turning point in the match," Reeg reflected.

Reeg had breathing room after he routed the first 18 holes in 69, five strokes fewer than the tournament's second-place finisher, Ken Dahl. Right behind Dahl with a 75, was Don Sund, who took third out of a field of 16 in the championship round.

Altogether over 85 were entered in the championship and eight flights of the 17th annual handicap tournament.

The flight winners: Ken Whorlow, first flight; Lee Tietgen, second; John Addison, third; Rowan Wiltse, fourth; Kerry Bressler, fifth; Bert Block, sixth; Bill Scott, seventh; Kem Swarts, eighth. All flight winners were from Wayne, except Block of Allen.

Flight placings, listed in order of finish, after considering handicaps:

Former Cager At WS Back In 'Action'

Former Wayne State College basketball player Dave Schneider has rejoined the Athletics in Action team after a year's absence, and is among veterans of AIA East and West squads now playing a six-game schedule in the Philippines.

One of the Athletics in Action teams defeated Wayne State last year in the Western Illinois University tournament — without Schneider's presence. Members of the AIA team commented they missed the 6-9 post man and hoped he would return.

Now he's back with the team, which is sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ International.

Players are former collegiate cage stars from all over the nation.

Schneider, of Blair, played on Wayne State's 1967-70 teams the latter three winning Nebraska NAIA district titles. He led the Wildcats in scoring his last two seasons.

Schneider's name appears high on the charts of Wayne's all time leaders in scoring and rebounding. He ranks first in career and season field goal percentages, .556 and .665; sixth in career points, 1,148, and third in season points, .535; sixth in career rebounds, 586, among other high-ranking categories.

JCs vs. KMEG In Softball

Employees of KMEG television in Sioux City, both male and female, have challenged the Wayne County Jaycees to a softball game Sunday afternoon at the city ball diamond.

Admission for the 2 o'clock contest will be 50 cents, with children under 12 admitted free. All proceeds will be donated to the muscular dystrophy fund.

Pheasant Season Opens Across State on Nov. 2

Nebraska's 72 day pheasant season will open the same day as last year, Nov. 2, and close on Jan. 12, reports the State Game and Parks Commission.

The daily bag limit for pheasants this fall will be three roosters, and the possession limit will be nine.

The 1974 quail season will open and close on the same days as the pheasant season, providing a quail hunt some two weeks shorter than last year. Limits were left the same as in 1973, however, allowing a hunter six bobs per day and 18 in possession.

Nebraska's 1974 grouse hunt regulations are virtually identical to those of last year, providing a 44 day hunt with a daily bag limit of three birds and a possession limit of six. The area open to grouse hunting is also unchanged from a year ago.

This year's goose hunt will open Sept. 28 and close Dec. 2. Other features of the goose season include a bag and possession limit of five geese.

Duck season will run from Oct. 12 through Dec. 8 in the eastern portion of Nebraska. In the western part of the state, the High Plains Mallard Management Unit, the season will be split, running from Oct. 5 to Nov. 17 and reopening from Dec. 14 to Jan. 3.

Daily bag and possession limits will be determined by a point system similar to those used in past years. Canvasbacks and redheads will be 100-point birds; hen mallards, wood ducks and hooded mergansers will be worth 70 points; blue-winged teal, cinnamon teal, gadwall, wigeon, pintails, scaup, shovelers and all mergansers except hooded mergansers will be 15 points. All other ducks, including the drake mallard, will be 35 points. The daily bag limit is reached when the duck hunter has just shot puts him at or over 100 points. The possession limit will be two daily bag limits.

The 1974 fall turkey season was lengthened to 34 days this year and 300 permits are added in the Round Top Unit. This year's regulations contain provisions that make roasting pheasant illegal.

Among other action was the setting of the trapping season on Nebraska's bobcat, muskrat and weasel. The muskrat and weasel seasons will begin Nov. 1 at a trapping station open. The seasons for all three fur-bearing mammals are:

Homer Wins Playoff, 9-3

Wayne town team's bid to claim the playoff title in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League came up seven runs short as Homer ripped the Royals, 9-3, Sunday at Homer.

Homer, which had to settle for second place in the season playoffs, after Wayne dropped the Royals, 11-1, to break a tie for first, got revenge with an 11 hit attack off Wayne hurlers Randy Benish and Roger Saul.

Benish started on the mound, giving up two runs in the second when Homer scored on a hit and wild pitch. That made the score 2-0 after Wayne took a brief 1-0 lead in the first inning.

Smartstop Terry Lull scored Wayne's first run after walking, advancing to second on left fielder Mike Creghton's sacrifice and scoring on Benish's single.

Wayne changed the color of the game with two runs in the top of the sixth on three hits. Benish singled through second base, catcher Denny Paul doubled to right field to score Benish and right fielder Mic Daehnke scored Paul on a sacrifice to right field.

But Homer rallied quickly, scoring four runs on two hits and a pair of Wayne errors in the bottom of the same inning.

Saul took over in the bottom of the seventh, giving up two runs that frame and one more in the eighth.

Wayne and Homer continued to split the league's top awards following the one game playoff battle.

Wayne's leading hurler, Bob Weisenberg, won the league's most valuable player award, and Homer's Merlin Berkenpos was named the league's top hitter.

Both teams finish league play with 19-3 marks going into the

By Bob Bartlett

WAYNE MAY not be the top city in Northeast Nebraska, the state or nation in setting records. But it has to be among the top in one department — having three boys of one family on state Class B Legion and Midget championship teams. Last week the Don Meyer family of Wayne joined the exclusive club when Mike, as catcher, and the rest of the local Legion team won the state title at Aurora.

The Meyer family duplicated a feat by the Gene Helgren family of Wayne, which placed sons Don and Rick on the winning Legion and Midget teams in 1963 and Randy on the winning Midget team three years later.

Both families had sons on those winning teams in 1963. Don Meyer and Don Helgren were on the Legion club which beat Aurora, 5-2, for the title. Meyer threw 14 strikeouts while Helgren played shortstop. The team finished the season with a 25-3 record.

The Midgets in that same year had an equally impressive record — 30-3. This time Rick Helgren and Mike's late brother, Jerry, were infielders. Rick on third and Jerry on second. Wayne won the title with a 4-1 victory over Syracuse. In 1966, Randy, who played on Wayne's season league winning team this year, was second baseman on the team that beat Ord, 7-5, for the Midget title. Incidentally, the Midgets were perfect that year with 24 straight wins.

PROBABLY the person happiest about this year's Legion crown is coach Hank Overin. Why? Last week's state title was his first as Legion coach. In 1963 he coached the winning Midget team while the late Ralph Bishop was head of the Legion.

NORTHEAST Nebraska should be proud, not only for Wayne winning the Legion title but also for West Point taking the Midget crown. That's a mighty big plus for baseball in this part of the state.

But don't forget about Wakefield, a club which made it all the way to the state Class A finals before being knocked out.

It's almost a tradition for NEN clubs to be state winners. Last year, when Wakefield played Class B ball, the team took state. Now it's Wayne's turn.

Two year's ago Wayne Midgets — the same members of this year's Legion club — advanced to the state finals before falling in the first round.

What if all boils down to is top coaching. And I believe this area has two of the best — Wayne's Hank Overin and Wakefield's Paul Eaton

Roberts Defends Singles Throne In Finals of JC Tennis Tourney

Last year's men's singles winner, Tom Roberts, of Wayne, successfully defended his crown in the finals of the third annual Wayne County Jaycees tennis tournament Saturday.

Roberts, competing in the men's senior singles, beat Bill Redrow of Columbus 7-6 and 6-1 in the evening finals after rain earlier in the day forced officials to delay action.

The other defending champion, Larry Pochop of Norfolk, failed to repeat as men's junior singles champ, losing to Paul Potter of Columbus two of the tournament's closest matches.

Potter, who played in last year's Nebraska Coaches Association All Star basketball game, took first with 7-5 and 7-6 sets. Said Roberts, tournament manager, "Potter has a very smooth style. He should be one of the best in Nebraska in the near future."

Potter, however, didn't go home with just one first place trophy. He, along with Roberts and Jerry Nedrow of Norfolk, won a pair of firsts.

Nedrow won the girls singles over Cheryl Schram of Wayne, 6-0, 6-7 in Saturday's finals. Friday, she and Mark Forster won the mixed doubles title.

Roberts and Wes Fritz, also of Wayne, teamed up in the men's senior doubles to beat Mike Senior and Redrow in three sets, 1-6, 7-6, 6-1.

TOM ROBERTS

Fritz might have won his second first-place trophy when he and Potter were at match point in the third set of the men's junior singles. However,

Potter won 7-5 after taking a 6-4 match to advantage to the finals. Earlier, Fritz had won 7-5.

Potter completed his second win when he and Randy DeFrore beat Dave Buskohl and Prochop, 7-6, 0-6, 6-3 in the finals of the men's junior singles.

In the men's junior consolation bracket, Jack Manske of Wayne defeated Bob Bartlett, also of Wayne, 6-0, 6-2.

Semi final results:

Men's, jr. singles — Prochop def. Buskohl, 1-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Men's jr. doubles — Potter DeFrore def. Dan Brummond Dan Walters, 6-0, 7-5.

Buskohl-Pochop def. Dan Rose Manske, 6-3, 6-1.

Hoskins Wins Meet

Hoskins softball team won the Osmond Jaycees softball tournament Sunday with a pair of wins over Osmond, 4-3 and 4-0. The battery included pitcher Dan Bruggeman and catcher Jon Behmer.

Stoltenberg: Timing Sharper, But Still Lot of Work to Do

Coach Del Stoltenberg surveyed his Wayne State College footballers on first day practice Monday — an offensive team running plays against a defensive line holding tackling dummies — and delivered a good comment.

"Their timing is sharper than I've seen for the first day in several years."

That, of course, was one comment on one day, and he might well have repeated President Gerald Ford's first remark to Congress: "We have a lot of work to do."

Stoltenberg and staff had 26 lettermen among 34 returning squadmen and about 40 others totting Monday to prepare for the Sept. 7 opener against William Penn College, at Oskaloosa, Ia. Among those 40 working out include three former Wayne High players, Charlie Brockman, Kerry Jech and North Shrine all star player Mike Dunklau.

The Wildcats still have the mark of youth from a 1973 squad loaded with sophomores and freshmen, about 50 of them out of 70. A bunch of those sopho, now juniors, carried most of the offensive load en route to a surprising 6-2-1 record last year.

But if that mark turned out better than most folks expected, coach Stoltenberg is quick to say, "Nobody has proved anything this year."

He does expect a new found spirit of team unity to carry over this fall. One statistical fact remains the same as a year ago. There is no individual for and away the big ground gainer. Season end figures from 1973 show nothing impressive except for the pass receiving of wing back Dean Ott, Hooper. Ho's back to improve on a Wayne record of 37 catches for 544 yards, both new marks. That earned him a team vote for most valuable on offense.

The defensive most valuable also returns — middle guard Pat Donohoe of O'Neill. Also returning offensive end Stan Lewis of Chicago, 6-5 and 245 pounder who is getting attention from pro scouts.

The offensive backfield returns intact, except for senior fullback Kirk Park. At quarter back, there are three lettermen: juniors Dave Miller of Savannah, Ill., and Rick Benedetto of Schiller Park, Ill., who alternated as starters most of two seasons, and sophomore Brad Hahn of Auburn, Miller and Benedetto ranked first and second in total offense last year. They're pretty much equal — one usually effective when the other is stymied.

Brian Moeller, junior from Scribner, returns to the tailback spot as last year's leading rusher. Fullback duty is up for grabs, with Dan Jones, senior from Corning, Ia., the most seasoned contender.

Up front on offense, there are veterans in tight end Jerry Basye of Glenwood, Ia., split ends Maurie Mintken of Gretna, who started every game as a 1973 rookie, and Brent Moeller of Scribner, center Mark Anderson of South Chicago Heights, Ill.; tackles Dick Glesner of Springfield, (converted from guard) and Regg Swanson of Laurel.

The defense has talented veterans returning. Besides Donohoe and Lewis, Mike Schuster of Dubuque, Ia., is at tackle again sometimes moving to defensive end and two of the deep back positions are filled by Nick Danze of Omaha and Sid Conrad of Beemer.

There are some gaps in the defense, with no established players at one tackle, at both linebacker positions and two backs. However, one of the past linebackers, George Biszak, who lettered four times, will be on the scene as a student assistant coach.

Wayne's 10-game schedule includes three first-time foes, William Penn, Black Hills State and Dakota State, plus two not on the schedule for years, Northern State and Doane.

September — 7 at William Penn; 14 at Northern State; 5, D.; 21 at Midland; 28 at Doane.

October — 5 Dakota State; 12 at Chadron State (Wildcat Days); 19 at Kearney State; 26 Peru State.

November — 2 Iowa Wesleyan; 9 at Black Hills State.

Grid Coaches Report Good Attendance

All five area high school football coaches report fair to good attendance the first week of practices.

As expected, Wayne leads the group with 50 players out of the 1974 campaign. Coach Al Hansen has 17 seniors, 14 juniors and 19 sophomores. Of that total 11 are returning starters and 21 re-turning lettermen.

Laurel and Allen have good turnout with over 40 reporting to each camp. Early eight were working out in the opening day Monday at Laurel, said first year coach Bob Bozied. Bozied wasn't sure of the number of starters returning from last year, but he pointed out he has 14 veterans.

Sophomores outnumber the other classes with 14 at Laurel. Seniors are next with 13, juniors 11 and freshmen 10.

Another first year coach, Ron Wecker of Allen, has 43 out this year. Wecker has a balance of players in three classes. Seniors, juniors and freshmen number 13, 12 and 10, respectively, with eight sophomores also competing for a starting position.

Wecker counts only one starter or returning from last year's squad, but notes he has 10 veterans.

Wakefield coach John Torczon said 18 of his 35 players reporting for Monday workouts are veterans. But of that amount, only five are starters from last year.

A breakdown shows there are 15 seniors; 11 freshmen and nine juniors.

Windside coach Doug Barclay has 15 returning starters and veterans among the 32 players who attended first day workouts.

Sophomores outnumber the rest of the classes with 12, while seniors and freshmen number seven each. There are six juniors.

FAMILY PLANNING is essential for newly married couples deciding the future for themselves. Mrs. March pointed out during the Kiwanis luncheon Monday.

Clinic Offers Birth Control Help

For the past nine months, women in Wayne and the surrounding area have had a place to go to learn more about birth control.

The place in the Northeast Nebraska Family Health Service clinic in Wayne, Mrs. Jane March told Wayne Kiwanians Monday. It is where counselors try to communicate that "there's more to life than reproduction," Mrs. March pointed out.

High schools are one area the clinic tries to provide information about birth control. "Not to promote promiscuity, but to protect the girl from herself — she don't want a child having a child," she said.

Mrs. March, one of six counselors at the clinic which serves 17 counties in NEB, said the federally funded program is open to everyone, particularly the low level six one women who can't afford contraceptives.

Not only does the clinic provide information about birth control methods and abortions, but it also offers women cancer detection methods.

The Wayne clinic, a pilot program similar to those in Omaha, Hastings and Grand Island, started less than a year ago when the central headquarters, located in Walthill, was moved to Wayne with Mrs. Ann O'Donnell as director.

The move has been beneficial, Mrs. March said, as the monthly caseloads have increased by 50.

The need for birth control is apparent, she said, citing figures which put the world's population at five billion. At the present growth rate there will be 7.5 billion people by the year 2,000, she added.

OBITUARIES

Amelia Temme

Funeral services are set for Friday at 2 p.m. at the Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne, for Amelia Temme of Wayne. She died Tuesday at the Wayne Hospital at the age of 80 years.

The Rev. John Upton and the Rev. Jack Schneider will officiate. Pallbearers are Ronald Temme, Valvin Temme, Albert Temme, Mark Temme, David Temme, and Kinsey Lynch. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

Amelia Louise Temme, daughter of Henry and Louise Jakob Reilmann, was born June 19, 1894 at Winside. On Jan. 16, 1917 she was united in marriage to Charles Temme at Winside. The couple farmed in Wayne County until August, 1946 when they moved into Wayne.

She was preceded in death by her parents and two sisters. Survivors include her widower; three sons, Alvin of Wayne, Herbert of Leawood, Kan., and Donald of Concord, Mass.; two daughters, Mrs. Donald (Elsie) Echtenkamp of Wayne, and Lois Temme of Omaha; 12 grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Myrtle Levie

A former Carroll resident, Mrs. Myrtle Levie of East Los Angeles, Calif., died Aug. 7 at the age of 79 years. Burial was Aug. 9 in California.

The daughter of David E. and Mary James, she was born Dec. 18, 1894 near Carroll.

She was united in marriage to William Henry Abrams Feb. 12, 1919. He preceded her in death March 22, 1928. She later married Arnold Levie at California.

She was preceded in death by her parents, one son, Robert, and one brother. Survivors include her widower; one son, Donald J. Abrams, and one granddaughter, both of Whittier, Calif.; two brothers, Ted James of Wayne, and Ivor James of Carroll; and three sisters, Maude Fisher of Carroll, Elsie Hemmings of Hemingford, and Evelyn Jacobs of El Monte, Calif.

Ethel Grow

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne, for Ethel Grow, 67, of Wayne. She died Saturday at the Wayne Care Centre.

The Rev. S. K. deFreese officiated and pallbearers were Jack Sweigard, Bruce Wylie, Earl Shipley, Raymond Sullivan, Dean Pierson and Cal Comstock. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

The daughter of Frank and Bessie West Gillespie, she was born March 11, 1907 in Antelope County. On Aug. 12, 1925 she married Charles Grow at Yankton, S. D. The couple lived in Antelope County until 1944 when they moved to Winside. In 1951 they moved to Wayne.

She is preceded in death by her husband and parents. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Eva) Nelson of Wayne; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren; one brother, Dallas "Bill" Gillespie of National City, Calif.; and three sisters, Mrs. Arthur (Fern) Uecker of Spring Valley, Calif.; Mrs. Arnold (Ruby) Retzlaff of Crescent City, Calif.; and Mrs. Harry (Eva) Whittle of Spring Valley, Calif.

Harold Twiford

Harold Cyrus Twiford, 64, of rural Laurel, died Friday at a Sioux City hospital. He was born March 4, 1910 at Pender.

He received his education at Chambers, S. D., and in 1927 he moved to Laurel. On Nov. 21, 1933 he was united in marriage to Lillian Obermeyer at Coleridge. The couple made their home on a farm south of Laurel.

Twiford was a confirmed member of the United Lutheran Church at Laurel. He was active in livestock organizations and was past president and secretary of the Livestock Feeders Association. He recently received the 10-year pin for 4-H leadership.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at the United Lutheran Church, Laurel, with the Rev. Olin Knudsen officiating. Pallbearers were Arnold Ebmeier, Harold Ward, Howard Pehrson, Marvin Christensen, Walter Loeb and Lester Bowers. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery.

He was preceded in death by his father, one brother, Clark, and one sister, Marie. Survivors include his widow; one son, Gene of Laurel; his mother, Mrs. C. O. Twiford of Earl, Calif.; four grandchildren; Todd, Jill, Dana and Gail Twiford; four brothers, Dale, Jack and Don, all of California, and Doug of Arizona; and five sisters, Mrs. Mel (Pearl) Schlitz, Mrs. Don (Kay) Thompson, Mrs. Mill (Olive) Davie, Mrs. Francis (Marion) Petersen, and Mrs. John (Wilma) Magorian, all of California.

William Gehner

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside, for William Gehner. He died Saturday at his home in Wayne at the age of 65 years.

The Rev. G.W. Gottberg will officiate and pallbearers will be Robert Ramm, Ronald Kittle, Werner Mann, Elmer Wacker, Walter Bleich and Robert Peters. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

The son of Henry and Wilhelmine Remmert Gehner, he was born March 8, 1909, in Germany. As a young man he came to the United States with his parents, and settled near Winside.

On October 10, 1940 he married Alvina Ramm at Pilger. The couple farmed near Winside until 1972 when they moved to Wayne.

He was preceded in death by his father. Survivors include his widow; three sons, Alvin and Wilfred, both of Wayne, and Gerald of Des Moines; four grandchildren; his mother, Wilhelmine Gehner of Wayne; one sister, Mrs. Gilbert (Lottie) Westerhouse of Norfolk; and several nieces and nephews.

Business notes...

The ABC Nursery School at 119 Sherman St., Wayne, is scheduled to begin classes Sept. 3 and 4. The school is operated by Mrs. Karl W. Otte.

Three year olds, who will begin Sept. 3, are scheduled to attend classes each Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Two classes of four year olds will meet each Monday, Wednesday and Friday beginning Sept. 3. One class will meet from 9 to 11 a.m. and the second class will run from 1 to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Clara Sullivan of Wayne recently returned from a Revlon advanced cosmetic training seminar to acquaint selected cosmeticians with the latest cosmetic products and application techniques.

Commissioners Learn About Buying Land

Wayne County Commissioners will go ahead with researching records and hiring an appraiser to determine value of right of way along a three mile stretch of county road from Sholes northwest to the Cedar County line, according to clerk Norris Weible.

Weible said the commissioners learned the proper procedure they must follow in acquiring the property during their regular meeting Tuesday. Present to explain acquisition procedures was M. W. McBride of Lincoln, an employee in the right of way division of the Department of Roads.

McBride told the commissioners they must have the land appraised and then appoint a negotiator to arrive at a selling price agreeable to both the owner and the county.

Commissioners are attempting to acquire right of way in order to widen and improve the county road.

Weible said there are 13 tracts of land involved, with about 10 different owners.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners formally adopted the budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year.

The budget calls for spending $1,702,927 during the fiscal year which began July 1, up from the $1,603,309 figure spent during the past fiscal year, according to Weible.

Although the budget is up, the mill levy is expected to remain the same, 10.54 mills, because of an anticipated increase in valuation, Weible said.

Commissioners are expected to set mill levies for all governmental subdivisions in the county within the next few days.

VA Q&A

Q. I understand the Veterans Administration is paying a record dividend this year on "V"-prefixed National Service Life Insurance and "K"-prefixed U.S. Government Life Insurance policies. When may I expect the dividend on my NSLI policy?

A. Your dividend is payable on the anniversary date of your NSLI policy, and no application is necessary. If you have elected to buy paid-up insurance with your dividends, you will get a statement of your account rather than a check. Dividends amounting to $303.8 million are payable throughout 1974 on anniversary dates of policies carried by 3.9 million eligible veterans.

Q. I am a World War II veteran who never used his GI home loan entitlement. I hear the Veterans Administration will still guarantee loans for such veterans. Is that true?

A. Yes. In 1970, Congress removed expiration dates on all unused, VA expired loan entitlement. Henceforth, veterans retain entitlement until used. Apply to nearest VA office if you want to use this benefit.

Q. I was honorably discharged last month after three years of military duty, and am thinking of applying for a GI home loan from the Veterans Administration. What are some of its advantages?

A. Because VA guarantees 60 per cent of loans — up to a maximum of $12,500 — down payments are either small or not required and there usually is a long repayment period with no penalty for early prepayment. Also, VA appraises the house to determine reasonable value.

FEET GET plenty dirty at a county fair, especially the feet of little girls bound and determined to scurry in and out of the exhibition barns. Proof of that is little Carrie Ann Smith, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith of Waterbury, who takes a few moments out of her activities to clean a few layers of dirt off her feet during the Dixon County Fair this week. The fair opened with the traditional vesper services Sunday night and continued through Wednesday night.

KARI ERWIN

Concord Youth Gets Honors in Rate-of-Gain

Kari Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord, proved that she knows how to raise beef by sweeping top honors in the rate of gain contest held in conjunction with the Dixon County Fair this week.

Both the steer and the heifer she entered in the contest ended up gaining the most weight per day. Her 1,050 pound Charolais-Angus crossbred steer gained an average of 3.23 pounds daily during the 169 day period. Her Charolais Hereford crossbred heifer gained an average of 2.437 pounds during the same time span. It weighed 1,010 pounds at the end of the 169 days.

A Simmental steer weighing 1,120 pounds averaged 3.15 pounds per day to win Alan Jensen of Wakefield reserve championship honors. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Jensen of Wakefield.

LaRae Nelson's 880 pound Simmental crossbred heifer gained an average of 2.426 pounds daily to win her reserve championship honors. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nelson of Laurel.

LORI ERWIN of Concord won overall champion honors among market heifers with this Charolais at the Dixon County Fair on Tuesday.

NAMED overall champion market steer at the Dixon County Fair on Tuesday was this Charolais exhibited by Greg Meyer of Wakefield.

Bee Line to Heaven?

A SWARM of bees unexpectedly took up household duties on a church sign on the corner of First and Main Street in Wayne a few days ago, prompting a person who works a short distance away to start telephoning around to see if anybody knows how to get rid of them.

"If you can't be a highway then just be a trail. If you can't be the sun, be a star. If isn't by size that you win or you fail: Be the best of whatever you are."

Program

Students will be given time in class to discuss their work. "The business facilities of Allen and the surrounding communities provide a learning environment that cannot possibly be provided by the school," said Mrs. McGhee. "In return, the program will provide the employer-trainer with assistance in selecting qualified personnel and help in training personnel that are potentially full-time," she added.

Students will be screened as to their interests and abilities before being put on the job, and each student will receive a grade for his classroom work and another grade for his work on the job, according to Mrs. McGhee. Students will receive credit for their on-the-job training as well as classroom work. Participants eligibility for extra curricular activities will not be hindered, she noted.

Mrs. McGhee said she will be asking for advice and assistance from the school advisory committee to aid her in directing the cooperative program.

The distributive occupation program has been in existence at Allen High for the past three years. About 20 students are expected to enroll in the program this year, said Mrs. McGhee, taking over as director in place of Charles Haag, who resigned his teaching job at Allen earlier this year.

Mrs. McGhee, in her third year at Allen, also will teach health occupation classes and will serve as school nurse.

Allen Contracts Still Unsettled

Allen teachers will report to the first day of school Tuesday, regardless whether contract talks for the coming school year are settled, said Allen Education Association chairman Noelyn Isom.

The Allen school board and association failed to agree on the eighth step in the pay scale after a three-man fact finding committee ruled the step would be four per cent of the base added onto the seventh step, or $8,768, said Isom. However, the board interpreted that to mean four per cent of the base added onto last year's salary, or $8,656, Isom noted.

The association sent the matter to the Nebraska State Education Association for a ruling to help the association decide whether to go to the court of industrial relations for settlement.

The $112 difference would effect three full time teachers as well as a part time instructor, Isom pointed out.

Earlier this summer both parties agreed on a $6,850 base pay.

Wayne-Carroll Teachers Prepare for '74-75 Year

Teachers in the Wayne-Carroll school system will meet Monday morning for the first of two workshops prior to next Wednesday's first day of school, reports superintendent Francis Haun.

Speaking to the teachers following a general session Monday will be J. C. Trenery, an investigator in the drug division of the State Patrol. His topic: "What Teachers Should Know About Drugs."

Monday's workshop will end with an all-school luncheon sponsored by the board of education at the elementary school.

Tuesday morning's workshop will include information about the services available teachers through Educational Service Unit No. One.

Classes for all students in the school system begin Wednesday. Assisting Haun as principal of the high school this fall will be Donald Zeiss, hired this summer to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Deryl Lawrence.

Other principals are the same as last year - Richard Mettler at the elementary level and Loren Park at the middle school level.

Bus drivers this year are Earl Davis, Carroll west route; Jay Drake, Wayne northwest route; Perry Johnson, Carroll east route; Harry Leseberg, Wayne northeast route, and Larry Ostercamp, Wayne east and south route.

Cooks for the coming year include head cook Marjorie Summers, Edna Nissen, Joyce Ellis, Ila Pryor, Leona Magnuson, Myrtle Henegar, Marian Warrelmann, Genevieve Carmichael, Mardella Bebee, Lena Manske, Mary Stokes, Margaret Schram and Frances Poeslman at Wayne, and head cook Betty Morris and Viola Morris at Carroll.

Following are the teachers

Commission Names Roberts for Post

Daniel Roberts of Wayne has been hired by the Game and Parks Commission to fill a conservation officer vacancy in eastern Nebraska, according to Carl Gettmann, chief of the Commission's enforcement division.

Upon completion of a three-month training period, Roberts will be assigned a patrol area somewhere in eastern Nebraska, Gettmann said.

Roberts, 23, is a graduate of Wayne State College with a bachelor of science degree in biology. He was an honor roll student in Wayne High School and made the Dean's List while at Wayne State College.

'Many More Could Receive SS Benefits'

According to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk, there are many people in the Wayne area who could be receiving social security disability benefits if they would apply for them.

Any worker who has been forced to stop work due to an illness or injury should get in touch with the social security office, he said. If an individual has worked under social security the required length of time (as little as one and one-half years in some cases) and then has an illness or injury which prevents him from working for a year or more, he and his family could be entitled to a monthly benefit, according to Branch.

A person should not wait to apply, but should get in touch with the social security office as soon as it looks like his condition may be one that will keep him from working for at least a year, adds Branch.

Persons having questions about disability should call the Norfolk social security office. Branch said that in most cases, the entire application process can be handled over the telephone.

Free Meals Available to School Kids

Families with children attending the Wayne-Carroll school system this fall may qualify for free hot lunches and free milk for their children if they fall within certain income classifications, according to superintendent Francis Haun.

Haun said schools are required to offer free meals and free milk to children of parents who fall in certain income brackets if parents request the free meals.

Following are the income ceilings which families can't exceed if they are to qualify: $2,910, one person under 18 years of age at home; $3,830, two; $4,740, three; $5,640, four; $6,480, five; $7,310, six; $8,080, seven; $8,810, eight; $9,510, nine; $10,190, 10; $10,860, 11; and $11,530, 12.

For each additional family member under 18 years of age, the family income can increase $670, according to Haun.

In determining a family's income, income means before deductions from income taxes, social security taxes, insurance premiums, bonds and the like.

More information on the free meals available to families is available from superintendent Haun.

Other schools in the Wayne area, including Winslow, Allen, Wakefield and Laurel, also make free meals available to low-income families using the same income ceilings. Superintendents at those schools have additional information for interested families.

You're Never Too Old To Hear Better

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 5814, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria Street, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

Last Workshop For Teachers At WSC Today

The last of three day-long workshops for K-12 teachers will be presented today (Thursday) at Wayne State College, with eight topics on the program.
Dr. Gene Bigelow, VSC education professor in charge, said teachers attending should go first to the Student Center for registration, before 9 a.m. if they want to attend the 9 o'clock topic.
However, teachers can arrive later if they want to attend a session at other hours. There is no fee or advanced registration required.
Most of the topics will be presented twice.
The schedule: Human Development in the Classroom, at 9 and 1; Media in the Classroom, at 9 and 1; When Do You Win?, at 9 and 1; Multi-Sensory Approach to Teaching, at 9 and 1; Think Metric for Classroom Teachers, at 10:30 and 1; Identification of the SLD Child, at 10:30 and 1; Traditional Classrooms and Open Teaching Techniques, at 10:30 and 1; Increasing Student Response and Achievement in Work Attack, Handwriting and Spelling, at 10:30 and 1.
If attending one of the later programs, teachers still should register first at the Student Center.
The workshops are sponsored jointly by the college and Educational Service Unit No. One. The first was presented at Norfolk Monday, the second at South Sioux City Wednesday.

OSHA inspectors can arrest, try, convict

By Arch Booth, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Not long ago a court ruled that agents of the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) may enter any place of business without a court-issued search warrant and without prior notice. This is a power that neither the police nor the President of the United States possess, but Congress has chosen to give it to a small group of appointed bureaucrats and their staff.

The powers of OSHA are so extensive that small businessmen are terrified of it. One writes: "I feel should I become too involved (in activities of the National Chamber) the OSHA people would get interested and make it impossible to stay in business. There is no way a small contractor can abide with all their rules; therefore let us say I am afraid to speak out."

OSHA inspectors serve as investigating officer, judge and jury. When they levy a fine, it goes into effect within 15 days unless the alleged violator appeals, and the fine can be increased in the appeals process.

The Internal Revenue Service also presumes its victims guilty until proven innocent. IRS can seize property — including your home — on its own determination that you are a tax delinquent, and it's up to you to prove them wrong.

I'm afraid to speak out

Such powers are not limited to OSHA and the IRS. They are becoming daily more common through the federal government.

Consider the case of the Marlin Toy & Electric Co.

This small Wisconsin manufacturer was sold by the Food and Drug Administration in November, 1972, that two of its most popular toys were hazardous to children and would therefore have to be removed from the market.

The company complied with the order and removed the toys from the market, redesigned them to eliminate all possibility of hazard, and submitted the new toys to the FDA for approval in time for the 1973 Christmas season. The FDA approved.

Happy ending? No. The Consumer Product Safety Commission, another federal agency, neglected to remove the Marlin products from its holiday list of banned toys. Thus, for the second Christmas season in a row, Marlin was unable to sell its two best-selling products.

The commission apologized to Marlin for its "editorial error" and promised to correct the mistake in the next issue of its list. But by then the company was virtually out of business, having had to lay off most of its 100 employees.

New injustices don't cure old ones

Marlin cannot even sue — because the Federal Tort Claims Act does not permit recovery for such offenses as misrepresentation or false statements by federal authorities. Senators Proxmire (D-Wis.) and Helms (R-N.C.) and Rep. Kastenmeier (D-Wis.) have introduced private bills in an attempt to compensate the company. But that's a one-shot remedy, at best.

Has Congress learned anything from this experience? Well, Congress is now considering legislation to establish yet another "watchdog" agency, to watch the watchdog agencies. This is the so-called Consumer Protection Agency.

Sen. Helms had this to say about it: "The act does not provide a shred of legal protection to the businessman whose products or services are wrongfully condemned by the administrator. The administrator is presumed to be infallible. There is no way for a company to prevent the publication of a false or misleading statement; and then after it has been published, there is no way in which a company can be compensated for wrongful injury."

Senators Helms and Proxmire are trying to amend the Consumer Protection Agency Act to provide some remedy for victims of regulatory injustice, assuming it ever becomes law. But the problems are much deeper than any one act or agency.

Somewhere along the line, we began carelessly to accept new injustices in the name of correcting the old. It was a big mistake.

Thoughts for the day

THURSDAY — The pressure is often the fence between the narrow way of life and the broad road to ruin. II Corinthians 12:9 — My grace is sufficient for thee.

FRIDAY — We are to live, like God, to bless others. This is His will, Matthew 22:28 — The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life as ransom for many.

SATURDAY — Poverty, thou mayest stride in at my door, but God is in the house already. Isaiah 48:18 — I have chosen thee.

SUNDAY — Every day is a little life, and our whole life is but a day repeated. Psalms 90:12 — So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

MONDAY — The highway of holiness is always the commonest road of life. I Peter 1:16 — Be ye holy for I am holy.

TUESDAY — Every sunny that touches the earth has the sun at the other end of it. So every bit of love upon God's earth has God at the other end of it. I John 4:46 — God is love, and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God.

WEDNESDAY — The man who lives in God knows no life except the life of God. Galatians 2:20 — I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me. Hazel Sorensen, Wakefield

Out of Old

Nebraska's Gold Mines, 1858

The lure of riches played a significant role in the exploration and settling of the New World — from the Spanish conquistadores in Mexico and Peru in the 16th Century to the bedraggled prospectors in the Yukon of 1896. Gold was most often the magnet.

Nebraska had provided the 49'ers with the principal overland route to California's gold fields. Less than ten years later when gold was discovered at Cherry Creek, Kansas Territory (now Colorado), the Missouri River ports again became staging areas for prospectors. While Atchison, Kansas City, Nebraska City, and Omaha became the major "jumping off places," other river towns coveted a larger share of the trade. One such town was Brownville, whose young editor, Robert W. Furnas, trumpeted the advantages of his town in his Advertiser, files of which may be found in the Nebraska State Historical Society Archives in Lincoln. Actually, Brownville was potentially the best port, since it combined the maximum use of economical river routes with the "airline" direct route to Fort Kearny on the Platte. Other cities had already cornered the trade, however, and Brownville never caught up.

In his Advertiser of December 16, 1858, the columns were filled with news stories and correspondence about the "Nebraska Gold Mines." At that time the state's western boundary was the Continental Divide. The southern boundary of Nebraska (the 40th Parallel) ran just north of the Cherry Creek discoveries.

Furnas' leading editorial said, "With out fear of misrepresenting... With out there is no doubt but that gold exists in the western portion of this Territory to an extent almost or quite equal to California. Great efforts are being made by various points to prove that they are respectively the best and most practical ones from which to start from the Missouri River... It is all false. There are quite a number of excellent starting points... People will examine a map of the country before starting on such expedition. All we ask in behalf of our place is for those departing for the mines in the spring to examine the map and see for themselves what position we (Brownville) occupy. All routes from the river center at or before reaching Ft. Kearny."

Under a seven-deck headline (beginning "Late from the Gold Mines" and ending "From Brownville the Route is Unsurpassed! Oxen Better than Mules"), Furnas ran optimistic letters from prospectors at St. Vrain's Fort, Nebraska Territory.

One correspondent said, "Miners are

WAY BACK WHEN

30 YEARS AGO
August 17, 1944: The state office of education has ruled that teaching certificates are granted only to those with averages of 80 or above. An old-fashioned sing was featured at the Wayne Kiwanis program Monday noon at Hotel Stratton. Emil Olson was appointed by the county board of supervisors as Dixon County clerk to succeed Don Maskell. August Shain, who drives a truck for Perry Jarvis, suffered a broken leg Thursday evening when he jumped from a truck which caught fire. Linda Beck, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beck, broke her left arm above the elbow Saturday evening when she fell from her pony.

25 YEARS AGO
August 18, 1949: Construction of a new sanitary sewer district was approved Tuesday evening at a city council meeting. Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones, Carroll, exhibited the grand champion 4-H baby beef calf at the Randolph junior fair last week. Clifford Dahl, president of Nebraska Association of Licensed Nursing Home Operators, was at Osceola Thursday to preside at a business meeting. The greatest buy in the sporting field was the Jeepster, available at Ed Walske Auto Service. An urgent appeal for nurses was needed in the U. S. for polo stricken areas. Wayne County tax levies for the year 1949 were approved by the county board of commissioners. Widening of 10th Street for three blocks along the south edge of Wayne State Teachers College campus was started.

20 YEARS AGO
August 19, 1954: Arthur Magdanz received a deep head cut and severe bruises on his arm and back when a highway department mower he was operating south of Dakota City was struck by a truck. The Luther Leaguers of St. Paul's Lutheran Church are planning a trip to Spearfish, S. D. to see the "Passion Play." Gilbert R. Fletcher, Hoskins, had a 20-vote margin in the primary election race for the Republican nomination for third district commissioner. Gov. Robert Grosby this week announced the re-appointment of Mrs. Don Wightman, Wayne, to serve on the committee on Fulbright scholarships in Nebraska. Wayne stores and business houses were closed Aug. 26 to allow employees to attend the fair. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lundberg arrived home Monday after spending six weeks visiting relatives in Sweden and touring Europe.

15 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1959: Micker Topp, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Topp, Pilger, showed the grand champion steer at the Wayne County fair 4-H baby beef show Tuesday. Renee Wiltse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wiltse, Wayne, was crowned queen of the Wayne County fair in activities before the grandstand Monday night. A record enrollment of about 1,200 students is expected at WSTC for the 1959-60 fall semester, officials of the college predicted this week. School District 51 patrons voted to purchase a site and construct a new building Friday.

Taxpayers in three of the four Wayne County towns will face tax increases varying from nine to 23 per cent for 1959. School District 85 was formally dissolved at a public hearing Saturday morning in Wayne before County Supt. Gladys Porter and Stanton County Supt. Bess Waring.

10 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1964: Nearly 500 Northeast Nebraska firemen and their wives are expected to attend the annual convention Sunday in Wayne. Ronnie Magnuson, Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Magnuson, showed the Wayne County Grand Champion, a 960-pound steer. A special TV show giving the 1964-65 cattle feeding outlook will be presented for farmers in Northeast Nebraska. Donald L. Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Krueger, Winslow, was graduated from a technical training course at Keeler AFB, Miss. A group of southwest Minnesota farmers arrived in Wayne by bus Monday afternoon for a three day tour of Northeast Nebraska farms.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

"We wonder if the young drivers will know what to do with themselves this winter? There are too many youths who have never had a shortage of anything, except maybe trips to the woods, and we figure if they can take a cold floor in the morning, and will drink hot water in the place of milk for breakfast to get warm, will not watch TV to save on electricity, will get fighting mad if the government tries to take away or register their guns, and will get into politics and business to help get rid of our shortages, the country should be fairly secure. They demonstrated in war for us to get out, so we wonder if they will panic and demonstrate because of this energy shortage? Will they blame the government and parents? Or will they learn from all this and use their education and put it to work? It should be an interesting winter!"

State's high court to rule on Hinky-Dinky's dabbling

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN — The Nebraska Supreme Court will be asked to decide if a savings and loan company can install computer terminals in grocery stores so customers can make deposits or withdrawals.

Dist. Judge Herbert A. Ronin decided in Lancaster County that such a system is followed by the state's banking statutes.

The case was brought because First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Lincoln had put terminals in Hinky-Dinky supermarkets in Lincoln and the State Superior Department claimed they were illegal.

The case is to be appealed by the state. Separate legal action on the same point is being pursued in federal court, where approval of the system by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board is being challenged by several Nebraska financial institutions.

Ronin's decision was based on his conclusion that the transactions were between savings and loan customers and the loan company and that the grocery wasn't operating as a financial institution, only as a conduit.

Politicking Ban Asked
One of the things slowing up progress in Nebraska's legislative sessions, according to an observer who's been there, is the campaigning done on the floor by candidates for other offices.

Robert Crosby suggested that state senators be prohibited from seeking other elective offices while they are serving terms in the Legislature. That would keep them from making campaign speeches during legislative debates.

Crosby is a former senator who became lieutenant governor and then governor. Now he's a Lincoln lawyer and one of the busiest members of the lobby corps, so he's familiar with the legislative process.

Crosby is one of those who has offered suggestions for ironing some of the wrinkles out of the process. He also has suggested the senators do away with a present rule limiting each lawmaker to the sponsorship of 10 bills.

That same thought was expressed by another former senator, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, who now serves as executive secretary of the Nebraska Association of County Officials.

Ruhnke, noting the variety of ways the 10-bill rule can be bypassed, called the rule "a farce."

There was general feeling, as witnesses appeared recently before a legislative committee studying procedures, that the committee's study needs to be strengthened.

One of those making that comment was Don Thompson of McCook, another former legislator. He said the rules should make it tougher to revive a bill which has met a committee death.

Senator E. Thome Johnson of Fremont sponsored the resolution which established the interim study of legislative mechanics.

Steen Laff Mark
Melvin O. Steen was a crustyascal who didn't let anyone push him around as he pursued what he figured was the right course for Nebraska's recreation and tourism efforts.

Steen's methods often caused controversy, but he wasn't bothered by that. Even when a majority of the State Game and Parks Commission, which he served 14 years as secretary and director, decided Steen should retire, he found a loophole and stayed on the job.

One reason he didn't want to quit when the commissioners thought he should was that he didn't think they were picking the right man to replace him. The commissioners had promised the job to a Minnesota man, but Steen managed to keep his post until Willard Barbee, who had been Steen's protégé in Missouri and Nebraska, was named his successor.

Steen was hired for the Nebraska post from Missouri where he worked for the conservation commission. He brought Barbee to Lincoln to work with him.

Among the memorials to Steen's tenure as top man in the Game Commission are the chain of lakes along the Interstate Highway, the development of Two Rivers

Recreation Area, plans for significant improvements at Fort Robinson State Park and the establishment of Indian Cave State Park.

Flexibility Sought

The Nebraska Association of Public Employees has decided to ask the 1975 Legislature to tie wages of state workers directly to the cost of living.

The association's legislative platform also seeks increases in wages, with a minimum of $6,500 annually within the next three years. The Legislature also will be asked to put all state employees under one pay plan and personnel system (university employees now under a separate system and professional staffers aren't under any).

Rains Brighten Prospect Of Using Corn as Silage

Although recent rains were too late to put any grain on Nebraska's corn, they have considerably boosted the tonnage of forage that will be available for cattle feed.

That's the consensus of the Nebraska Grain Marketing and Utilization Committee, a group of representatives from agribusiness, agriculture, state agencies and the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Members of the committee, who met in Lincoln last week, agreed that many areas of Nebraska will have corn growing to maturity with less than 10 bushels of corn per acre — too little to harvest for grain. However, the corn plants will make excellent silage for cattle.

Committee member Paul Guyer, NU extension beef specialist, commented, "Since it has rained, attitudes have gone from thoughts of liquidating or severely culling cow herds to finding the best ways to feed all this forage."

Although the rain and cool weather came too late for corn, Guyer noted that in eastern Nebraska responded quickly and has begun popping heads. "It looks like it will produce several bushels of grain per acre if frost doesn't come early."

Guyer stated that the rains will cause corn plants to grow, adding to the dry matter produced and the quality for silage, but the tonnage of silage produced will be lower than normal.

He expects yields of about two tons of dry matter per acre, or five to seven tons of 35 per cent dry matter silage per acre.

"In order to salvage the corn crop as cattle feed, we may have to move the cows some distance to where the feed is," he explained. "All the crop will make good cow feed standing in the field. Or it can be put in the silo at less than 70 or 75 per cent moisture."

If the corn field does have some corn in it, it's probably a little better feed than the dry cow needs. The NU beef specialist suggested, "If you're leaving the corn standing for cows to graze, it would be wise to first graze the stalks lightly with steers to get most of the grain, then follow with cows."

The other alternative is to harvest corn silage for growing and finishing rations. "Corn silage will fatten cattle, but it takes a year and about eight or nine tons of silage to get a steer from 400 up to 1,000 pounds," Guyer said.

"But if you can buy calves at 30 cents a pound and sell for 40 cents next year, your silage would be worth $22.25 per ton out of the silo, which is $14.12 above the cost of harvesting and storage. Buying calves at 35 cents and selling them at 40 would make silage worth $18.20 a ton."

"Remember, too, that you can always store your silage and hold it over for a year or two and make good returns if you plan wisely."

"You need to use a sharp pencil and visit with your banker about potentials," Guyer concluded.

Cut-Out Data Valuable In Swine Production

By Don Spitze, Wayne County Agent

Twenty nine 4-H'ers and farmers from this area competed in the market hog show at the Wayne County Fair. Each of the contestants sent one hog to be slaughtered at Hormels, which recorded carcass cut-out information on the hogs.

Following is the cut-out information on the top five hogs in the show.

Owner	Carcass Length	Per Cent Ham & Loin	Back Fat	Loin Eye
Mike Finn	31 3/4 inches	44.97	1.1	6.15
Edwin Finn	30 3/4 inches	42.80	1.2	5.90
Kim Baker	30 1/4 inches	44.00	1.3	5.15
Dick Long	31 1/4 inches	43.70	1.1	5.40
Marvin Hansen	31 0 inches	43.14	1.2	5.05

What value is this carcass information? The following information shows how this carcass information can be valuable to anyone producing hogs.

Level of Heritability	Trait	Average Per Cent
High	Carcass Length	65
High	Per cent Ham	60
High	Backfat Thickness	50
High	Loin Eye Size	35
Medium	Per cent Loin Cuts	35
Medium	Loin Efficiency	35
Medium	Growth Rate	30
Low	Wearing weight	15
Low	Number farrowed	10
Low	Number weaned	10
Low	Birth weight	5

You will note that the five highest traits in heritability are all measured by information received in a carcass contest.

Here is information that indicates how carcass cut-out information of relative's cut can be used in selection of boars and gilts. Boars or gilts should meet or exceed these standards:

Hams and loins, 40 per cent or more of carcass weight; backfat, 1.4 inches or less; length, 29.0 inches or more; loin eye area, 4.0 sq. inches or more.

The following information indicates some desired standards for market hog carcasses.

Traits	Strong Average	Permissible Range for Contest
Loin Carcass Weight	270 lbs
Ham and Loin Percentage	42 per cent	38 per cent or more
Carcass Weight	160 lbs	140 lbs
Back Fat	1.2 inches	less than 1.5 in
Length	30 inches	29 inches or more
Loin Eye	5.0 sq. inches	4.0 sq. inches or more

Each producer should be shooting for at least the strong average figures.

Other contestants and their rank: Melvin Wilson, Pender, 54th; Roger Gustafson, Wakefield, seventh; Allen Keagle, Wakefield, eighth; Cliff Baker, Wakefield, ninth; Roger Luft, Wakefield, 10th; Gerald Meyer, Wayne, 11th; Kevin Hansen, Wayne, 12th; Howard Greve, Wakefield, 13th; Glen Nichols, Wayne, 14th; David Hansen, Wayne, 15th; Marcia Rehwisch, Wayne, 16th; Glen Nichols, Wayne, 17th.

Other participants were David Gustafson, Betty Wilson, Allen Keagle, Dan Loberg, Dennis Anderson, Roger Luft, Mike Rehwisch, Steve Rehwisch, Rex Hansen, Trudy Hansen, Gloria Hansen, Kathy Gustafson, Judy Gustafson and Kevin Loberg.

GREENBUGS

Greenbugs are continuing to be a real problem on grain sorghum in Northeast Nebraska. This is unusual for this late in the season.

Greenbugs can be distinguished from corn leaf aphids by color. Greenbugs have a distinct green color while the corn leaf aphids are a bluish green. Normally corn leaf aphids are not much of a problem, although they may be a problem if they are found in large numbers on the head.

Use the following guidelines in determining the need for control:

1. Look for the parasites. If 20 per cent or more of the green bugs are brown "mummies,"
2. If either greenbugs or drough have killed two large lower leaves and greenbugs are heavy on the third or more leaves, treat the field.
3. If greenbugs and/or corn leaf aphids become numerous in newly emerged sorghum heads, feeding on the developing grain and producing large amounts of honeydew which "sticks up" the head, treat the field.

Insecticides recommended for greenbug control include Diazinon, Malathion, Thimet and DiSyston. Commercial applicators may use parthion.

Do Bees

The Do Bees 4H Club met Aug. 12 in the Ever! Johnson home with ten members, three leaders and five mothers an swering roll call with "What I Dislike Most About Sewing."

Nine members modeled their garments in a style show for the mothers.

Plans were made for a booth at the Dixon County Fair, and projects were discussed.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Johnson and Carla.

The club will hold an achievement day at a later date.

Yard & Garden Tips . . .

Q. What kind of diseases should you look for in lawns after a drought?

A. There may be leaf spot (helminthosporium leaf spot), melting out disease. It would be in the leaf spot stage, as it would have just started in the last 5 to 10 days. This is a cool weather pathogen and could be sprayed with a number of lawn fungicides.

Q. What do you do about little white bugs on the underside of squash leaves?

A. These are white flies and malathion or Diazinon spray will get rid of them if the spray gets on the underneath side of the leaves.

Q. If rhubarb is still growing well could it still be used this late?

A. Some could be used, but the plant should not be pulled down too far, as it needs most of its leaves now for storing food for next winter.

VA Q&A

Q. Will the Veterans Administration counsel veterans seeking guidance in selecting suitable GI Bill training programs?
A. Yes, counseling will be provided veterans who request it.

Q. I received an honorable discharge after two years of service in Vietnam. Am I eligible for burial in a Veterans Administration cemetery?
A. Yes. All cemeteries formerly under VA jurisdiction have been placed under a national cemetery system within VA, as authorized under PL 93-43 (June 1973). You would be eligible for burial in any national cemetery having space, except Arlington, where space is limited.

You are required to answer said petition on or before the 23rd day of September, 1974.

Bank Accounts To Take Jolt When Colleges Open Doors

The bank accounts of Wayne County families who have sons or daughters bound for college will take a severe jolt this year.

Tuition costs have advanced sharply since last year. In addition, there have been proportionate increases in the cost of room and board.

On the basis of a federally conducted study of more than 2,000 colleges, it is found that the biggest jump will be at private institutions, where the average cost will be $3,261, or $206 more than it was in 1972.

Among public colleges the increase will be more modest — from $1,414 last year to $1,492 this year.

For the number of Wayne County residents expected to attend college, it adds up to a total cost of $907,000.

The figure covers tuition, room and board but does not include books, transportation, clothing, laundry and pocket money. They could come to an additional $500 or more per student.

The data on costs and enrollments are based upon surveys made by the U. S. Office of Education, the Department of Commerce and others.

The colleges, too, find themselves in a financial squeeze. Their costs, for faculty salaries, supplies, maintenance and the like, have been mounting steadily.

At many colleges, enrollments have been declining. And, at the same time, because of economic conditions, their new endowments have been falling behind. As a result, several colleges have had to close their doors.

Among reasons given for the drop in the enrollment rate are the ending of the Vietnam war, which has reduced the proportion of young men entering college, the lag in federal aid for students and the inability of more and more families to meet the rising cost of higher education.

However, there still will be about 8.3 million in college this fall, according to the latest figures.

The number of young men and women in Wayne County who are college-bound is estimated at 380.

The $907,000 cost that local parents will have to meet, exclusive of extras, is based upon the expectation that half the students will be going to public colleges and the other half to private ones.

VA Q&A

Q. Does the recent law which extended GI Bill benefits from eight to 10 years for veterans separated from service between 1955 and 1964 apply to me? Since I was discharged in 1965 before the current GI Bill was passed, my eligibility had already expired as of May 31, 1974 — eight years after the bill was passed.

A. If you hadn't used all your benefits by the former May 31 deadline, Public Law 93 337 (July 1973) extended them for two years.

Q. I have been out of military service six months but I have been unable to find a job. What would you suggest?

A. If you haven't already done so, visit your local state employment service office and take along your DD Form 214. If a suitable job is not available, you will be allowed to apply for unemployment compensation if you live near a Veterans Administration regional office or a U. S. Veterans Assistance Center, you should also check there

YOU ARE NOT JUST A NUMBER!

Social security, employers identification, credit card, telephone license plate and even prescriptions. The list appears to be endless. These days a name doesn't seem to mean anything. But, there is one exception we are pleased to say and that is in our family pharmacy.

We feel that if someone is going to rely upon us for their vitally important prescription medicines and health-aids then they deserve to have us make the effort to know them by name. We promise to try but if we forget, please help by reminding us.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

THE BARBECUE LINE at the Dixon County Fair Monday night was a popular place, with hundreds lining up for the annual free meal which helps kick off the three day affair. Approximately 2,000 people were served at the event this year, but not without some hitches because the general chairman, Earl McCaw of Allen, was missing from the working ranks. McCaw, who suffered a heart attack recently, had to watch the action from the sidelines. Said one of the workers: "We didn't know how much we would miss him."

VA Q&A

Q. How long do veterans separated from military service between April 2, 1970 and August 1, 1974, have under the Veterans Insurance Act of 1974 to apply for the new Veterans Group Life Insurance?

A. They have until August 1, 1975, to apply, but they must provide evidence of good health, except for VA rated service connected disabilities.

Q. What Veterans Administration benefits should a veteran make his family aware of in the event of his death?

A. A veteran's family should be especially apprised of such VA benefits as dependency and indemnity compensation and dependents' education benefits for service connected deaths, non-service connected death pensions for widows (or children where widow is ineligible because of excessive income) and burial benefits.

Q. If a veteran chooses that proceeds from his National Service Life Insurance be paid in monthly installments, does the beneficiary have the right to elect to receive payment under another option?

A. Yes, provided the new option requires payments over a longer period of time.
