85th Birthday Observed Sunday

Mrs. Anna Voecks, a lifetime resident of Winside, celebrated her 85th birthday Sunday at the Wayne Care Centre. The event was hosted by her two daughters.

Birthday cakes were baked and decorated by her granddaughters, Kathy Lehman and Juleene Miller.

Special music, "How Great Thou Art," "Alleluia," "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "His Name is Wonderful," was presented by Pastor and Mrs. Gotlberg.

Mrs. Voecks was born Aug. 25, 1889 on a farm southwest of Winside to Mr. and Mrs. Ergd Muehleimer. She married August Voecks Nov. 15, 1911 and the couple had three children: Reuben Voecks of Puyallup, Wash., Mrs. Richard (Rosella) Miller of Hoskins, and Mrs. Fred (Dorothy) Lehman of Norfolk. There are seven grand children and eight great grandchildren.

WAYNE'S TWO quarterbacks, Paul Mallette, left, and Marty Hansen, both have the speed and passing ability to make the team's run-pass option a threat every time they get the ball. Hansen is the more experienced of the two, but both have the running speed to break loose from the backfield.

Devils Possess Strong Defense, Quick Offense in Bid for Husker

By BOB BARTLETT
Some Wayne High fans believe that coach Al Hansen is going to regret signing a contract with South Sioux City and Blair the first two games of the football season. But Hansen is not worried.
"We're going to find out what we have and if it's good enough to be a conference title contender," he said.
On paper the Blue Devils appear to be one of the strongest teams in the eight member West Husker Conference. Not only are the Devils strong and experienced on defense but will show more versatility on offense.

SPORTS

MARK BRANDT

ROD HOOPS

That versatility will show up both in the running and passing game — a combination which Hansen points out will be balanced. "We'll be doing more passing this year because we have two throwing quarterbacks — both who can alternate at the halfback slot," Hansen added.
All conference back senior Marty Hansen will share signal calling duties with another veteran, junior Paul Mallette. They will be part of a backfield nucleus with an average speed of 4.9 records or better.
Senior tightback Rod Hoops and sophomore Mark Brandt will be the other big backs lying on the field. The pair will be the team's strongest runner, carrying 195 pounds on a 4-2 frame. "He will be the best candidate for up the middle plays," added Hansen.
However, Hansen isn't discounting his other swift running back, Brandt. In early practice sessions Brandt has displayed front, including center Mike Meyer, guards Rick Mitchell, and Don Nelson, tackles Larry Creighton and Gordon Emry, average about 192 pounds.

Meyer heads the line at 192, followed by Mitchell, 188, Emry, 182, Nelson, 174, Creighton, 172. But as Hansen pointed out, "They'll be tough!"
Tough is the word the nine-year coach uses to describe his defense. Most of his offensive players will double on defense, bolstering a quick unit.
Some changes include senior Gary Hansen going as nose guard. The 187-pounder knows how to move a center, Hansen noted. "He's always strong."
Other faces in the defensive backfield will be junior Brian Frevert at linebacker and Ritch Workman as halfback.
Wayne sports 21 lettermen for the 1974 campaign, a campaign which most opposing coaches in the West Husker feel could give the Devils the conference championship.

However, Hansen points out that Hartington Cedar Catholic and Columbus Lakeview also are strong. In fact, the entire conference is pretty well balanced, he added.
Wayne won't be going into conference play until Sept. 20 when the Devils host Wisner-Pilger. The first two games find Wayne at Class A South Sioux City Sept. 6, before returning home to Class B powerhouse Blair.
The rest of Wayne's schedule: September—27 at Wakefield, October—4 Stanton; 11 At Madison, 18 Columbus Lakeview, 23 at Emerson Hubbard, November—1 Hartington Cedar Catholic, 8 at Pierce.

Only Three Drop During First Week of Workouts

A measure of the stuff that Wayne State's 1974 football team is made of might be found in this fact, mentioned by coach Ed Stoltenberg.
Only three of the 80 who reported for pre-season practice a week ago Monday have dropped out. And the coach expects his squad to stay right around 77, barring major injury.
"We don't cut any players unless they don't practice," Stoltenberg told Kiwanis Club Monday. "Might lose somebody that would really come on strong."
He cited several past players who did not look promising at first, but later became starters.
The Wildcats scrimmaged Morningside College here Saturday morning — and looked pretty good, Stoltenberg said. Although neither team scored in the first series, with first string units in action, the coach thought Wayne maybe had a bit the better of it.
Later the Wildcats did put over two touchdowns. And they'll have another chance in a return scrimmage today (Thursday) against Morningside, this time at Sioux City.
Saturday's drill gave transfers and freshmen a chance to show their talent, and Stoltenberg declared there are some who will see considerable game action. A few may even rate starting duty.
Among the transfers, Stoltenberg mentioned Willie Bailey and Dan Harms, both from Estherville, Ia., Junior College. Bailey is a 6-1 and 230-pound offensive guard, Harms a 5-10, 175 tailback or wingback. Howard Elliott, another transfer, from Knoxville, Ia., is giving a good run at split end and wingback.
A welcome arrival Monday was Ron Jones. In case basketball fans lift an eyebrow in surprise or doubt — that's right, it's four-time cage letterman

Ron Jones. Though he used up basketball eligibility, he never played college football — did play at Kankakee, Ill., high school — and is still in school.
Jones turned out for spring football, and Stoltenberg says that if he plays now as he did last spring, he'll be pushing for a starting defensive back slot.
Among 37 freshmen are three who played in the Shrine Bowl Aug. 17 — Mike Dunklau of Wayne, an offensive tackle; Phil Parrman of Elkhorn, a center, and Chuck Covey of Omaha (Bryan H.S.), a defensive tackle. Dunklau broke a little toe in Saturday's scrimmage — one of those injuries a fellow just have to live with awhile, Stoltenberg said. It is not banded or splinted.

Bruggeman won the third heat in the modified division then went on to take the C-Feature. The wins keep Bruggeman on top of the final season point standings.
Gene Brudigan, also of Hoskins, won the B-Feature, and Wakefield's Dennis Crippen placed first in the first heat of the stock car division.

Trojanettes Face Rebuilding Year

Wakfield girls volleyball team will be relatively inexperienced this year, according to head coach Ernie Kovar.
It will be a rebuilding year, he pointed out, adding that he has three veterans back from last year's 10-6 team.
Two seniors, Ruth Bressler and Leslie Gardner, and junior Tammy Murphy will comprise half of the A team. Murphy, labeled as the best server on the team, stands at 5-1, but Kovar notes she has a lot of "spunk."
Altogether, Wakfield has 39 girls' 2007 for the season. Sophomores and freshmen number the most, 79, with six seniors and four juniors completing the list.
"It's going to be an interesting year," Kovar said, looking at his list of girls. "We have a lot of young people, so it's going to be a rebuilding period, at least for the next year or two."
In addition to lack of experience, height will be a problem also. Senior Jana Dahlgren is the tallest Trojanette at 5-11. But the height drops from that point to 5-7 Ruth Bressler.

Kovar, in his second year, classifies the coming season as a fun season, but adds "we're going to be a scrappin', hustlin', fightin' for our life" kind of team.

Wakfield's schedule:
September — 9 West Point; 10 Emerson Hubbard; 16 at Bancroft; 17 at Wisner Pilger; 23 Hartington Cedar Catholic; 24 at South Sioux City.
October — 8 South Sioux City; 14 at Lyons; 15 at Stanton; 21-24 Husker Conference at Madison.

Thought for Today By Rowan Wiltse Many little make a much. Cervantes Whether we speak of learning, ambition, interest in our fellow man or sales for the proverbial rainy day, many little do, in the words of Cervantes, make a much. Little efforts or accomplishments remain little until cumulatively they assume respectable proportions. Although it might appear that progress is some times a painfully slow, step-by-step process, each individual step is vitally important and must be taken if an ultimate goal is to be reached. A well-developed capacity for taking infinite pains with small details, those important "little's" has been the basis for our unexcelled reputation in this community, which we have served for many years.

When Retirement Near, SS Advice Can Chart Plan

Almost all individuals nearing retirement age—that is, age 62 for working or self-employed persons, age 65 for widows, etc.—should contact their Social Security office to learn the advantages of accepting early, reduced full or partial payments, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

Large increases in benefits and increased earnings allowances—new make-if possible to pay substantial dollar payments even though the individual is yet working.

Many self-employed people do not contribute services in every month of the year and thereby qualify for payments for specific months even though their net income is substantial.

The 1974 earnings allowance is $2,400. One dollar of the individual or family benefit is withheld for each two dollars the worker earns above the $2,400 allowance.

Life expectancy tables are used to determine the amounts of the early retirement benefits. These tables clearly show that the great majority of people accepting early reduced benefit amounts are dollars ahead until they are 74 to 79 years of age.

The social security telephone number is 371-1595, Norfolk.

GRADED STRUCTURE, which takes the place of a road bridge gets inspection by commissioner Floyd Burt.

Flood Control Structures Save Bridge Replacement

Another flood control road structure has been completed in Wayne County to replace an expensive road bridge. The structure, which is a special purpose dam constructed in a road, was built under the direction of Wayne County commissioner Floyd Burt. This type of structure was chosen as a more economical alternative to replacement of a bridge with the added benefit of flood control. Located on the Myron Deck farm, five miles south, three west of Winside, the structure controls the drainage from over 900 acres of cropland and pasture. Total cost of under $19,000 was shared 50-50 by the Wayne County commissioners and the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District. Burt has completed four such road structures and is beginning a fifth, five miles south of Winside. Thus far, the Wayne County road crew has constructed the structures for an additional savings in construction costs. With Lower Elkhorn NRD assistance, the county was able to save $20,000 to $35,000 in replacement costs as compared with new bridges.

Allen Board Hires Drivers

The Allen school board has hired Mrs. Norma Warner and Joe Ankeny as new bus drivers for the coming school year. Mrs. Warner will replace Leland Sawtell, and Ankeny will take over for Larry Mitchell, said superintendent Gail Miller. The pair were named during a special board meeting Monday morning. Other drivers for the year are Wayne Jones, Dale Durant and Courtland Roberts.

State senators study difficult money matters to be prepared for legislation

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN—The Legislature is taking to the road as the summer draws to an end. Study committees, some of which have been holding hearings outstate already, have scheduled more sessions away from the capital.

One study is brand new. The Executive Board of the Legislative Council, the Legislature's administrative arm, has authorized a study of the effects that inflation is having on interest and usury rates set by Nebraska Statutes.

Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha has been named to head the committee study. He has scheduled the first hearing for Thursday, Aug. 29, at the Eppley Conference Center in Omaha.

Representatives of lending institutions and the building and real estate industries have been invited to testify, but Goodrich said the committee also would appreciate comments from interested citizens.

There is concern that mortgages won't be available because of the limits placed on interest rates by state laws. The statutory ceiling is 9 per cent and some Nebraska financial institutions say they have to pay more than that from money centers in the East so they have dollars available for loans here.

Also under legislative scrutiny is the public power industry.

A series of outstate hearings began last week for a committee headed by Sen. Richard Lewis of Holbrook with sessions at Fremont, O'Neill and Grand Island.

The Lewis committee has dates in North Platte Sept. 9, Alliance Sept. 10 and Sidney Sept. 11.

Since the power bills expected to be introduced would have an impact on all electrical generation, transmission and distribution systems, municipal and public power district representatives from throughout the state have been invited to testify.

Lewis said the goal is to have legislation on the books which will insure adequate, low cost electrical power for all Nebraskans.

The Transportation Advisory Committee, under chairmanship of Sen. Leslie Stull of Alliance, also has been active outstate. The Stull committee has been seeking testimony on how city and county governments can meet street and road problems with revenues provided by the present tax structures.

Legislation increasing the state gas tax is expected to be offered to the 1975 Legislature. Since the tax is a specified amount per gallon and isn't a percentage of the price, the upward zoom in the cost of fuel hasn't helped gas tax revenues. In fact, the energy shortage, insofar as it has held down consumption, has hurt the revenue picture—at a time when inflation is jacking up the cost of building roads and streets dramatically.

Public Payroll Jumps

Statistics reported by the Nebraska Tax Research Council show the number of public employees in Nebraska increased by 31.1 per cent between 1965 and 1973.

The council issued a report based on data gleaned from statistics the U.S. Census Bureau prepared.

The charts show there were 399 state and local governmental employees in Nebraska for each 10,000 of the state's population in 1965, compared with 493 in 1969 and 523 in 1973. The percentage increased between 1969 and 1973 was 6.1 per cent, showing that the bulk of the recent growth came in the first four of the past eight years.

The statistics show there was a 47.6 per cent increase since 1965 through 1973 in state government employment, and a hike of 7 per cent in the 1969-73 comparison. In 1965, there were 103 state employees for each 10,000 Nebraskans, while that figure jumped to 142 in 1969 and 152 in 1973.

On the local basis, the public payroll jumped by 25.3 per cent between 1965 and 1973 and by 5.7 per cent between 1969 and 1973. The charts showed 796 local governmental employees in 1965 for each 10,000

Nebraskans, 351 in 1969 and 371 in 1973. Monthly earnings of governmental employees also climbed during the past eight years. There was a 66.9 per cent leap in public employee earnings between 1965 and 1973 in Nebraska, 52 per cent for state employees and 72.8 per cent for local employees.

Between 1969 and 1973, state and local employee monthly earnings combined increased by 24.3 per cent. The state only figure was 15.7, while the local only figure was 27.6 per cent.

The average monthly earnings for a public employee in 1973 was $691 ($8,292 annually), compared with $414 in 1965 and $556 in 1969. The 1973 state only figure was $640 and the local only amount was $712.

Pity no coverage on Japanese visitors

Wayne Editor

Where were you? Wayne county recently had the privilege of being host to 11 of the most interesting, enthusiastic young guests, they will ever have. These ten Japanese youngsters and their sponsors were hosted by ten 4-H rural families. We enjoyed every day they were here and are so sorry that more people could not have shared in this project.

However, the city of Wayne completely ignored them. The Wayne Herald was notified many times of gatherings and never showed up. When the bus arrived and departed with them there was no one present but the host families. I personally called the college and asked if they could visit the campus and planetarium, and was told they would contact me. I never heard another word.

This chance to make a world wide impression of Wayne, Nebr., may never come again. I'm glad they were young enough not to realize how they were snubbed and very sorry that you missed out on this opportunity.

They were bright, happy and a complete joy to be around. We will always treasure the memories of the three weeks our young friend was in our home and hope he look back just as fond memories of rural America, his and our son, in spite of a language barrier became real pals and we feel it was a wonderful and worthwhile project!

Legal advice for rural attorneys now close as phone to Creighton

Many rural Nebraska attorneys must travel hundreds of miles to research a criminal case in major law libraries in Omaha or Lincoln. Now they can do it by phone.

Creighton University last month started a criminal justice research assistance project to aid rural Nebraska attorneys who do not have easy access to a major law library nor the funds to hire law clerks. The project director is Geoffrey W. Peters, an assistant professor in Creighton's School of Law.

The 15 month project has been funded by a grant of $134,583 from the Law Enforcement Administration Administration LEAA, using Nebraska as a test site to study problems unique to rural criminal justice systems. The free service is available to attorneys in 91 rural Nebraska counties. It excludes only the two urban counties in which Omaha and Lincoln are located.

Calls during the first month came from 15 Nebraska counties, Dixon among them. Peters and his staff have dealt with over 30 issues and have already completed 14 projects for county attorneys, district judges, juvenile court judges and court appointed counsel.

The staff includes a faculty associate, secretary, librarian and eight Creighton law students, who provide case-by-case information to any rural attorney or judge who calls a toll free, state wide WATS number (800-647-8448) with a specific research question. A supervised law student will do the research and either phone or write a memorandum to the attorney.

Creighton's new Ahmanson Law Center, scheduled to open this fall, will house the most current criminal justice library in the state. If personal research is needed, an attorney may travel to the new law center, where office space, clerical assistance and a librarian will be available for more work on a case. But in most cases, a phone call is all that will be needed.

Peters said there is an immediate need for information about criminal law developments in rural areas.

The LEAA grant also provides funds for a monthly newsletter, analysis or legislative bills, reference materials for judges and research into the operation of the Nebraska criminal justice system. Peters has planned several out state trips to hold seminars for rural attorneys.

If the buck stops, it had to start

When Harry Truman was president, his desk displayed a sign with the terse message, The Buck Stops Here. Anybody who has been president or chairman or leader of anything knows what the message means, and such people are entitled to display such a sign.

Suppose we turned that message around to say The Buck Starts Here. Everybody could display that, and what a time in America's history for it to be true!

The Buck Starts Here might be translated into "I am responsible" or "What I do matters" or "I have an influence."

President Gerald Ford said it well in his first address to Congress and the nation "If we can make effective and earlier use of moral and ethical wisdom of the centuries in today's complex society, we will prevent more crime and more corruption than all the policemen and prosecutors' governments can ever deter. If I might say so, this is a job that must begin at home, not in Washington."

For too many months citizens of this country have — with reason — grown

Some recollections on "fine Wayne fair"

Wayne Editor

Was an error in listing Mike's poorest hog as carcass-winner. He had another with 6.5 inch loin eye, unreligable 43 pound hams and 43 pound loin — 46.24 per cent ham and loin. His best hog 6.8 inch loin eye and 47.84 per cent ham and loin. His sister Eileen had a gilt with 47.95 per cent ham and loin, but overlooked it in choosing what she thought best pig.

Happy to see so many good market hogs. Thanks to Bob Hansen for bringing sow and pigs for display and one of his massive big boars. Everyone sure liked the big new cattle arena and all the displays. Especially enjoyed presentation of awards.

No idea Marly Willers and Bill Fredrickson had served so long. Liked Lee Herman's very modest speech. Never did meet old Mr. Peters but have known the boys a long time.

Good turnout for tractor pull. Great to see some local boys enter and place highly — good sportsmanship of all. Joe Foss, Sioux Falls, still smiling when his motor blew up and would require expensive rebuilding. Big crowd, too, the last night at Jaycees' very popular demolition derby.

Thanks to all who helped with the fair. Believe the hot dry July helped bring out the best in everyone. Sure hope for a record breaking grain crop next year.

WAY BACK WHEN

New travel worry: cost of car

The uneasiness that Wayne County residents felt last summer about going on automobile trips for their vacations has all but disappeared.

Their concern at that time was whether they would become stranded someplace for lack of gasoline. This year the concern has been supplanted by a new one — how expensive the trip will be.

Local families who are now traveling in various parts of the country are finding that prices have gone up all over.

That is borne out in a special report made by the American Automobile Association, which states that travel costs are some 10.6 per cent higher than they were a year ago. The chief culprits are food and gasoline.

As a result, the new figures indicate, Wayne County couples are now having to spend approximately $57.50 a day, traveling modestly. That is about $5.50 more than in 1973.

A two-week trip for two local people, at that rate, adds up to $805. And that takes care of the necessities but not the frills.

Included in the $57.50 daily budget is $20 for food, another $20 for overnight lodgings, $12.50 for oil and gas and $5 for miscellaneous expenses.

That is based upon their covering 300 miles a day, on average, and getting 13 miles to the gallon of gas.

In addition to the cost of a vacation being greater, the annual expense involved in the ownership and operation of a car has mounted considerably, as Wayne County residents are discovering.

For a standard size car in the popular price range, driven 10,000 miles a year, it is now $1,662, or 16.6 cents per mile, according to the AAA.

Of this, $1,092 is for fixed costs, such as depreciation, insurance and license fees.

The variable costs, for oil, gas, tires and maintenance amount to $570 for 10,000 mile operation, or 5.7 cents a mile. The cost is 25 cents a day additional for cars with air conditioning.

Applying this average locally, Wayne County residents are spending some $8,144,000 a year to own and operate the 4,900 cars that are in use.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Muncy, Pa., Luminary

"If and when there may be 'pie in the sky' for all, many would complain if there weren't a liberal slice of cheese for each piece of pie."

Odessa, Texas, American

Just how many gallons of gasoline did Congress and governmental bureaucrats produce last year? Zero gallons. That's how many. Politicians and bureaucrats do not produce. They consume. But the question asked and answered sheds some much-needed light on the shortage problem and its solution, too. If politicians and bureaucrats did not produce a single gallon of gasoline last year and are, in fact, consumers, not producers, how can anyone capable of thinking in a straight line possibly believe that the government can solve the gasoline shortage with further decrees?

4-H BEEF SALE

We have just finished another successful 4-H Beef Sale with excellent support from the business community. I was especially pleased with the fact that there was only a $5 spread between the top and low bid on individuals and about the same price spread on pens of three.

One of the auctioneers remarked that he liked this type of sale much better than where a very high price is paid for a few top beef animals and the rest of the cattle going for a much lower price.

I'm hoping that next year we can also offer a bonus to the 4-H sheep and swine producers.

LIVESTOCK BANQUET

The pork Bar-B-Q was delicious. This remark I heard many times after the Chamber of Commerce 4-H Livestock Recognition Banquet Thursday. The Bar-B-Q was a combination of Dick Sorensen's corn feed hogs and Jim Caffee's skill in cooking these selected pieces of lean pork in a sauce. I have never eaten a better Bar-B-Q any place, any time. Dick has been complaining that he isn't making any money, so I'd suggest he and Jim start a Bar-B-Q stand here in Wayne and call it Dick and Jim's Wayne County Corn Fed Hog Bar-B-Q. At least they would have me as a regular customer.

We had about 170 4-H'ers and their leaders at the banquet. Vernon Krause was the speaker at the banquet. Vernon is the new district beef specialist at the Northeast Station, filling the position vacated by Walter Toll man.

It's good to have Vernon and the other extension agriculture specialists support our 4-H program as they do. The agricultural specialist's job is mainly to work with adult programs, but they are always willing to work with 4-H whenever they have the time.

EDUCATIONAL 4-H

We have excellent support for our 4-H livestock program in Wayne County. Two recent examples are the Chamber of Commerce 4-H Livestock Banquet and the 4-H Beef Sale. The primary objective of our 4-H program should be educational. This means that we in 4-H, especially in the livestock project areas, need to make our 4-H work as educational as possible. We need to work much harder on records, judging and project meetings than we have in the past. There is no limit to what 4-H can do with the continued cooperation of everyone.

RECORD BOOKS

Record books are considered the very backbone of our 4-H program. In the next couple of weeks Mrs. Harold Olsen, teams of junior leaders and leaders will be judging a good many hundred record books. In past years Mrs. Olsen and the county agent have done all the judging, but this year the judging will be done partly by teams of leaders.

COFFEE HOURS

The 4-H Council has completed having coffee hours for business men in Wayne and Winslow, and another one was planned for Carroll Tuesday. We will also have a coffee hour for Hoskins businesses in the near future. Just another way of saying thank you to the business people for all the nice things being done for our 4-H boys and girls.

700 Ask Payments For Farm Disaster

About 700 applications have been made for low-yield disaster payments. The Wayne ASCS office reports that Ray Butts, director, said producers who came in and reported their acreages right away after planting time still have to sign a request to be eligible for low yield disaster payments.

The ASCS has hired two appraisers for Wayne County — Duane Creamer of Carroll and Ron Ring of Wayne, and probably will hire some reporters to do field measuring and grain measuring. Anyone with farm experience interested in this work should contact the ASCS office.

"We do have a change in regulations (again)," Butts said. "Any corn or grain sorghum harvested for green chop, silage or grazed is to be appraised, and it counts as production. This is true regardless of whether or not the allotment is overplanted."

'Look Out,' Says Head of Feeders Before Meeting

The outlook for livestock feeders in 1974-75 could be "look out!" according to Tom Gustafson, Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association president.

The association's fall outlook meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 9, at the Paddock Steakhouse in South Sioux City.

A panel consisting of a banker, a packer, an auction market representative, and an industry spokesman will consider the outlook for feeders for the coming year.

Panel members are Bert Paulson, Toy National Bank, Sioux City; Doyle Potts, Spencer Foods; Schuyler Gale Sohier, Stockman's Livestock Auction, Yankton, S.D.; and Bill Jones, executive vice president National Livestock Feeders Association, Omaha.

The membership will discuss a proposition to State Sen. Loren Schmitt to help finance his lawsuit regarding a conspiracy within the chain stores.

Steer Champions Switch at Laurel

TWO KINDS OF CHAMPIONS are represented here, following the Laurel 4-H Calf Show and Sale. From left, Kari Erwin, Bat Brown and Lisa Anderson. Two of three showed champion animals and two were named champion showmen. To find which, read the story at right. Bat, by the way, is polishing his plaque and getting some kidding as a result.

This time it was Bat Brown getting the championship nod and Greg Meyer the reserve championship for their steer entries — at the annual Laurel 4-H Calf Show and Sale Saturday night.

Four days earlier at the Dixon County Fair the Wakefield boys' steers ranked the other way around, in close competition.

But when it came sale time at Laurel, Meyer's entry, a 1,160 pound crossbred, earned the top price of $66 a hundredweight, bid by Shrader Allen Hatchery of Wayne. The packer's bid was $47.50.

Brown's crossbred grand champion 1,225 pound steer sold for $59 to Joe Montoya, Laurel. That was $11 over the packer appraisal.

In heifer judging, a .005 pound crossbred shown by Kari Erwin of Concord won the championship and sold for $57 to First National Bank of Wayne. The packer bid was $46. At the Dixon Fair, Kari's sister, Lori, claimed the championship with a Charolais heifer.

Brad Erwin of Concord collected the reserve championship on his 1,000 pound crossbred, which brought a $53 price from Ray E. Johnson, Concord. The packer bid was $45.25. Brad also won the Dixon Fair reserve championship.

Bat Brown gained another honor at the Laurel event — named the top showman among boys while Lisa Anderson of Laurel won the girls showman. See Steer Champion, page 7.

Farrier Class at NNTCC Needs Horses to Be Shod

A farrier school believed to be the first ever in Northeast Nebraska is underway at the Northeast Technical Community College. Farm reports Bob Schlimgen, dean of community services.

Ten students from three states are taking the full-time, eight week horseshoeing course, which covers everything from the anatomy of a horse to pathological shoeing of halter performance, race and gaited horses.

Farrier schools have been held at three other places in the Midwest — Illinois, Kansas and Lincoln, Nebraska, where Mick Clark, instructor at the NNTCC course, has conducted a school for several years.

Clark is considered by many to be the all-around premiere horseman in Nebraska. Schlimgen said, as he teaches horsemanship as well as horseshoeing. He is a graduate of the North Texas Farrier School, received his bachelor of science from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, is a registered horse shiner in Illinois and has been reserve state champion the past two years in registered cutting events of the American Quarter Horse Association.

Schlimgen said the college needs more horses to trim and shoe for the course. Buss and Randy Ehrlich, local quarterhorse breeders, have offered their horses for the course, however many more are needed. Students will not be allowed to work on public horses until they are competent to do so. Clark emphasized and then they will work only under supervision. They will begin working on public horses the day after Labor Day, Sept. 3.

A minimal charge, to cover materials, will be $2.50 per horse for hoof trimming and $5 per horse for both trimming and shoeing.

Interested persons with horses can obtain more information or make arrangements to bring their horses to the college farm by calling Northeast College, 171-2020, and asking for CIARK, Extension 252, or the Community Services Division, Extension 213.

The college also is taking applications for a second farrier school class of 10 students, to begin Oct. 21.

Three and a half million full time wage and salary workers earned less than $6.0 a week, according to personal reports of workers who responded to a special question in the 1970 Census Report. About two-thirds of these workers were women and 15 per cent young men, ages 16 to 24.

Reflections and Autographs

FOR MANY Wayne High students Saturday night was a time to reflect back over the past year as classmates browsed through the 1973-74 Devil Daze yearbook at the high school. For Susie Fredrickson a look at some class antics opened her eyes while she and Jane Ring flipped through the annuals. For others, like Phil Koeber, Saturday night was a busy session of signing long letters on inside pages.

Pesty Crickets - Can Be Barred

Crickets by the millions are invading Nebraska households. Once inside, they often feed on house plants, cotton or woolen fabrics and create a general disturbance with their chirping.

The chirping is done by male crickets in their efforts to attract females. After mating, female crickets lay eggs in the soil and these overwinter to produce next year's cricket crop.

The UN Extension Service suggests:

To prevent crickets from entering homes, see to it that all window screens and door weather stripping are sound, so crickets can't squeeze through. Unroll the morning paper out doors so crickets aren't carried inside.

Spray a strip around the outside of the house about five feet wide extending out from the foundation to discourage entry. Use chlordane (two per cent), dursban (0.5 per cent), diazinon (Spectracide) (0.5 per cent), malathion (three per cent) or ronnel (Korlan) (one per cent).

This bothers me . . .

Why would the Milk Price for a producer near Belden and a producer near Magnet vary 15¢ per hundredweight? Is it merely because their milk is picked up by different route men, or WHAT?

The copies, shown below are copies of actual check stubs (reduced in size) show they are only 144 checks apart from each other - made out on the same day . . . They also show the milk was picked up the same days.

Exterior construction is pretty nearly done on the Broyhill Manufacturing Co plant east of Wayne and interior work will begin soon.
Roy F. Broyhill, president of the parent firm in Dakota City, told The Wayne Herald Monday he hopes the 80 by 175 foot plant will be ready for production by Nov. 1.
At the start it will be welding fabrication of agricultural and turf spraying equipment. Broyhill said plans call for installing 10 Mig welding units.
Hiring will be done through EMCO Inc., an employment agency in Wayne operated by O.K. Brandstetter.
Heating will be an unusual feature of the steel framed building. Its 14,000 square feet will be warmed by infra red light panels located at the roof and wall junction. The propane gas fired panels will warm the concrete floor, in turn warming the air.
Illumination will be by mercury vapor lights.
The Wayne firm, located north of Highway 35 on the Wayne industrial site, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Broyhill Manufacturing Co.
