

Shoppers, Your Help Is Needed

Shoppers in and around Wayne are being asked to help the Wayne Chamber of Commerce decide how to conduct its annual Christmas give-away promotion.

In order to make the Christmas gifts as popular as possible the Chamber is asking all customers of local stores to cast a vote on what kinds of prizes they would like to see awarded this Christmas.

The Chamber has several options open to it: awarding one big prize such as a new car, awarding four $500 prizes plus several bicycles or awarding between 20 and 25 $100 to $150 prizes.

Shoppers can help the Chamber decide what kinds of prizes See HELP NEEDED, page 5

Here's My Vote

I would like to see Wayne Businessmen award...

- One large prize such as a new automobile
- Several $500 prizes and new bicycles
- Numerous prizes worth $100 to $150 each

Pot Nets Fine

A young Wayne man, Jeffrey Kraemer, 18, paid a $100 fine in Wayne County court Friday on a charge of possession of marijuana. Court costs were $13.

Kraemer was one of three young men arrested on charges of possession of marijuana last month.

The other two were former Wayne resident Zachary Harms, 19, and Steven Meyer, 17, of Wayne. Harms earlier paid a fine of $200 while Meyer paid a $100 fine.

They were arrested Aug. 2 and held overnight in the county jail before posting $500 bond.

After Nearly 49 Years, City Employee Retiring

A man who has become almost an institution in Wayne, Norbert Bruger, will retire at the end of this month.

Bruger, superintendent of the city's electrical generating plant, will complete 48 years and six months as a city employee at the end of September.

That is a record for length of service for city employees in Wayne and likely a record for city employees across the state.

Bruger's retirement was officially announced Tuesday night during the city council meeting.

City administrator Fred Brink, in announcing Bruger's retirement, said, "Wayne's a better city for having had you around here." Bruger has performed a "tremendous service" to the city, Brink noted.

Commented Bruger: "It's been a challenge, and I've enjoyed it."

Bruger, 71, began working for the city's electrical department on April 5, 1926 as a lineman under power plant superintendent Rollie Miller. He moved up to superintendent of the plant in the spring of 1939, taking over the post held by Sol Hemple.

The new addition to the power plant, built in 1966-67, was named after Bruger in recognition of his many years of service to the community.

Bruger noted that he saw the production at the power plant increase about 20 times since he began working there. Production was less than 400 kilowatts when he started nearly 49 years ago, he said. But this summer the production climbed at one point to 9,200 kw.

Bruger, born on a farm near Winside, has been an officer in the local volunteer fire department for almost as long as he has been a city employee. He has held the post as department secretary since 1931, a total of 43 years. And in all that time he has not missed a single monthly meeting of the department.

Area Highway Work Slated

Highway projects totaling $8.18 million in Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties are scheduled for contract letting between now and June 30, the Nebraska Department of Roads announced Wednesday.

The projects, their estimated costs and lengths:

- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highway 12 from Ponca to Highway 20, $2,275,000, 8.1 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highways 84 and 57 east and north of Hartington, $1,342,000, 6.8 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highway 57 between Carroll and Highway 20, $2,125,000, 9.3 miles.
- Improvement of the Waterbury Spur, $87,000, 1.3 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highway 12 from Ponca to Highway 20, $2,275,000, 8.1 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highways 84 and 57 east and north of Hartington, $1,342,000, 6.8 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing of Highway 81 from junction with Highway 84 to junction with Highway 12, $2,357,000, 8.5 miles.

Those projects are among projects totaling $87 million which will be let across the state during fiscal year 1975, according to the roads department. That total is $18.3 million more than the construction total planned for letting during the past fiscal year.

The 1975 program includes 72 projects on 370.6 miles of highway on the state's primary and secondary highway system, the department noted.

The projects let late in this fiscal year will not necessarily be completed before June 30 because major projects often require two years or more to complete, according to department director Tom Doyle.

Also released Wednesday by the roads department was its five-year program for highway construction projects which hopefully will be started between now and 1980.

Among those projects are 13 in Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties which will cost an estimated $21,007,000 of the total $706.7 million.

Among those projects:

- Urban work in Wayne on Highway 35, $1,761,000, 1.2 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 35 north of Winside, $1,199,000, 4.0 miles.
- Second stage bituminous on Highway 37 north of Carroll, $755,000, 9.3 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 9 from Wakefield to junction with Highway 20, $3,512,000, 14.0 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 15 north of Wayne, $3,712,000, 10.2 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 15 from Concord junction to Laurel, $1,793,000, 5.0 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 35 from Hoskins to Norfolk, $2,828,000, 6.6 miles.
- Grading, structures and surfacing on Highway 57 north of Laurel, $1,956,000, 10.0 miles.

NELSON WITTIG
Chamber Tabs New Directors

Three new members have been named to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The three, elected by mail balloting, are Larry Johnson of Johnson's Frozen Foods, Roger Nelson of Swan-McLean Clothing and Al Wittig of Wittig's Super Valu.

The three winners in the voting were announced during Monday night's board meeting. They will start serving their three year terms at the October board meeting, according to Chamber manager Howard Witt.

Named during that coming meeting will be a new president to replace Rowan Wittse, a new treasurer to replace George Thorbeck and the Chamber's manager for another year. Wittse will move up to president of the Chamber, taking over the post held the past year by Dr. Wayne Wessel.

Johnson, Nelson and Wittig will take over on the board in place of retiring members Dick Keidel, Thorbeck and Wessel. They will serve with board members Dale Gurtshall, Dick Sorensen, Roy Hurd, Willis Meyer, Bill Workman and Witt.

Enrollment Dips

A total of 300 students were attending kindergarten through the eighth grade in rural public schools in Wayne County as of early this week, according to the superintendent of schools.

The number of students in the 24 schools is down from the 340 who were attending last year. Fred Rickers reported enrollment in 1972-73 was 350 in the rural schools in the county, and See ENROLLMENT, page 5

Grid Preview Inside

Followers of West Husker football teams will find a special treat inside this issue of The Wayne Herald — a 16 page supplement giving rundowns on all eight teams in the loop.

Featured in the special supplement, first ever published, are teams from Wayne, Wakefield, Emerson, Hubbard, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Wisner-Pilger, Stanton, Madison and Columbus Lakeview.

Stories about each team will enable readers to learn a little bit more about the teams their favorite club will be facing as the football season wears on.

A total of 25,000 of the supplements are being distributed this week through insertion in publications in all eight West Husker communities.

Airport Manager To Leave Post

Don Johnson, manager of the municipal airport in Wayne for nearly 24 years, will leave that post effective the first of November.

Johnson, 51, said he will be a shop manager for an aviation shop in Omaha.

Johnson's resignation was announced by city administrator Fred Brink during Tuesday night's council meeting.

Johnson said he will move to Omaha about the middle of October but his wife and son, Danny, will likely continue living here for a while. His wife, Betty, will graduate from Wayne State College in April; his son is a sophomore at Wayne High School.

Johnson came to Wayne from Lincoln, taking over operation at the airport along with R. G. "Dutch" Fuelberth of Wayne in March of 1951.

The Johnsons have three grown children, Dale of Wayne, David of Liberal, Kan., and Donna of Lincoln.

Chamber Coffee Set

Businessmen and employees in Wayne are invited to the Chamber of Commerce's monthly coffee on Monday at First National Bank.

The coffee, scheduled for 9:30 to 11 a.m., is an opportunity for businessmen and employees to visit with others working in the city.

Allen Teachers, Board Settle Pay Negotiations

The Allen Education Association and the Allen school board Monday night agreed to drop the $112 difference in the eighth step of the 1974-75 pay scale.

The agreement came before the regular monthly board meeting when the association decided to accept the board's proposal of four per cent of the new base pay of $6,850 added onto last year's seventh step, or $28,656.

"We accepted the board's proposal because they would not agree to the fact finding committee report and we had no other recourse," said Noelyn Isom, representing the association. The association had been seeking four per cent of the base added onto the new seventh step, or $28,768.

Prior to the end of the 1973-74 school year, both the board and association deadlocked in negotiation talks, with the teachers asking for a base of $7,000 a year and the board offering See NEGOTIATIONS, page 5

Bargains Reign At Kiwanis Sale This Afternoon

Buyers from Wayne and the surrounding area will have six hours to find good bargains at the annual Wayne Kiwanis Club's white elephant sale today (Thursday).

Beginning at 1 p.m. the city auditorium will be loaded with goods, both consigned and donated, waiting for shoppers to buy. The consignment part of the annual sale lasts until 8 p.m. with the regular auction going until 9.

According to Steve Schumacher, in charge of the club's event, today will be a good time for everyone to come in and browse through the many items for sale. Already on the consignment list are an antique desk, projector equipment and many other items.

Persons who want to have either donated or consigned goods delivered to the auditorium have until this afternoon to call 375-1444-895-1735 or 375-3330. See SALE, page 5

Line Work Continues

A SILHOUETTE against the sky, lineman Al Grashorn connects temporary wiring for the industrial site east of the city as municipal electrical distribution employees continue their work switching over to a higher voltage to serve the area. The legging pole in the photograph is the old line which will come out when the change is finally completed. That change from 5,000 voltage to 15,000 voltage will be completed by the end of this month if there are no major setbacks, according to electrical distribution superintendent Bill Mellor.

And They Call This Fun?

THIS IS what the end of Wayne State's Freshman Olympics looked like Saturday — with the frosh unceremoniously dumping upperclassmen in a mud puddle. The scene was the site of the traditional tug of war moments earlier. Several hundred students competed in the event.

Back on the Trail, Dyas Criticizes State's Republicans in D.C.

By NORVYN HANSEN

Off and walking again after an un-scheduled rest in the Pender hospital, first Congressional District candidate Jess Dyas criticized his opponent in the November general election for being "a public relations kind of representative."

Dyas, a Democrat, criticized incumbent Republican Charles Thone and Nebraska's two other Republicans in Washington, D. C. Senators Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, during a stop in Wayne Tuesday morning as he winds his way on his 734-mile walkathon through First Congressional District.

Thone, Curtis and Hruska are not "real leaders" in Washington and, are not giving voters in this state the representation they deserve when it comes to national issues, Dyas told a gathering at the El Toro on the east edge of the city, his first stop in Wayne before a walking campaign in the downtown business district.

This state "has not been sending the fighters" to Washington "who are concerned about such things as health care, education, inflation and federal spending, some of the things Dyas said he would fight for if elected in November."

He criticized Thone for being an "after-the-fact Congressman," a comment Dyas attributed to a Republican he talked to during his walk, through the district. Dyas said Thone is willing to take a stand but only after an issue has been decided.

Thone is good at public relations — sending out surveys, mailing newsletters and the like — but he is not good at giving the aggressive leadership this state needs in Washington, Dyas noted.

An example of Thone's public relations work is revealed in a survey Thone conducted recently, Dyas said. That survey showed, according to Dyas, that 75 per cent of those polled had "no opinion" about Thone's accomplishments.

It is ferrible when such a large percentage of your constituents have no opinion about whether they think you are doing a good job in representing them, he noted.

Dyas was sidelined from his trek through the district on Aug. 29 when he was hospitalized in Pender for treatment of phlebitis in his leg. He had walked from Bloomfield through Hartington, Ponca and South Sioux City before the leg ailment became so bothersome after he walked into Emerson that he was hospitalized.

The ailment, the same problem former President Richard Nixon suffered before resigning from office, kept Dyas in the hospital for five days and recuperating at home in Lincoln for another five days.

Dyas laughed when asked what he thought when he found out he had the same problem as the former president. He admitted it was embarrassing.

The Democrat said he would have to have others walk for him during his trek the first part of this week, but he hoped to be able to take over all the walking by the middle of this week. He was scheduled to walk from Wayne to Pierre on his tour through all 97 counties in the district. His walk is expected to end in Falls City in late October, about 10 days later than originally planned.

During Tuesday's stop in Wayne, Dyas picked up probably the youngest member of his "Two Cents Worth Club."

Mr. and Mrs. David Ley, who was born Sept. 7 in Lincoln.

Matthew's grandmother, Mrs. Henry Ley of Wayne, enrolled the infant in the club, open to anybody who wants to donate their "two cents worth" to the Dyas campaign. The enrollment fee is $14.68, two cents for each mile Dyas has vowed to walk.

Mrs. Ley, one of those present at the gathering at the El Toro, is a longtime Democratic leader in Wayne County.

Dyas said he hopes to have 1,000 members in his "Two Cents Worth Club" by the time he ends his trek in Falls City.

Meal Prices Rise!

The Wayne Senior Citizens Center has felt the bite of inflation as the cost of noon meals, provided daily for local persons 60 years or older, jumped to $1.54 compared to $1.28 charged last year.

Meals are prepared by the Broughton Food Service and can be ordered by phoning the Wayne Senior Citizens Center between 10 and 11 a.m. Monday through Friday, except on holidays.

Meals will be delivered by volunteers.

To Wed

The engagement of Susan Klug to Kent Luebe has been announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Klug of Hoskins.

Miss Klug is employed as a secretary at the Nash Finch Co. of Norfolk. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Luebe of Pierce, works for Norfolk Concrete Finishers.

Plans are underway for a Nov. 30 wedding.

Workshop Conducted At Wakefield Church

A creative teaching workshop for area Sunday school teachers was conducted Sunday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran Church of Wakefield.

The workshops were headed by Pastor Clarence Harms, a member of the district resource board; and Leah Serk of the Concordia Teachers College at Seward.

Thirty-five persons attended from the Northeast Nebraska area.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Anna Marie Krefels

Fall Fashion Forecast

A hint of crispness in the morning air assures the coming of fall, and with it we welcome changing activities and new fashions.

Soft, fluid lines for figure flattery are in the fashion fore-cast. Though pants still reign, they're going cuffless with a modified flare. Skirts are fuller, often gored to allow easy movement. The easy-to-wear elastic-waistlines are to make reappearance in the fashion picture.

Dresses feature fuller skirts and dolman, raglan or wide kimono-like sleeves. Necklines are cut deep, sleeves are full and midriffs are slightly con-toured.

It's the season of washable fabrics such as brushed jerseys, textured knits and crinkly crepes, but it's still advisable to check care instructions on fabrics and ready-to-wear garments.

Last year's skirts and slacks can be given a fall '74 look by wearing them with new tops. Emphasis is on sweaters of all kinds - cardigans, bulki-ers, short ones, long ones, with all sorts of stitch and color combinations. Some sweaters are styled like jackets to give a suit like appearance to separates.

"Fades" are very much on the scene. Some of these garments feature "live wash fading" instructions or some "fades" explain that they should be washed separately since the background will fade through several washings, usually five. When colors stabilize the garment can be washed with other items of similar color, weight and degree of soil.

Lensure wear-and-dress-up at-home wear is predicted to make an attractive comeback in fall '74. Sportswear, leisure and evening wear will be boosting easy care prints for natural life styles this fall season.

Will Show Slides

Mrs. J. S. Johar of Wayne will present slides of India at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center today (Thursday). The program will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Lesson Presented On Homescaping

Mrs. Harvey Mohlert and Mrs. Kenneth Haller gave the lesson on homescaping Tuesday at a meeting of the Merry Movers Home Extension Club in the home of Mrs. Laurence Backstrom.

Eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Etta Roberts, answered roll call. Lytelling where they would locate their dream house if wishes were to come true. Mrs. Roberts was welcomed as a new member.

Officers are Mrs. Charles Maier, president; Mrs. Robert Peters, vice president; Mrs. Ray Bufls, secretary; and Mrs. Leo Hansen, news reporter. Music leader is Mrs. Fred Mann.

The Oct. 8 meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Robert Peters.

Planning May Rites

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Creamer of Concord announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelley Marie Creamer, to Jeffrey John Stingley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stingley of Sturgis, S. D.

The bride-elect, a 1972 graduate of Allen High School, is a junior majoring in music at Wayne State College where she is affiliated with Tau Beta Sigma. Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Sturgis High School and a 1974 graduate of the University of South Dakota where he received his degree in biology. He is presently a graduate student at the University of South Dakota where he is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Plans are underway for a May wedding.

125 at Birthday Party

Approximately 125 friends and relatives gathered in the Herman Opler home of Hoskins Saturday to help Mrs. Mattie Voss, of Hoskins observe her 85th birthday.

The open house event was hosted by Mrs. Voss' five daughters, Mrs. Joe (Esther) Durando of Van Nuys, Calif.; Mrs. Fred (Verna) Key of Houston, Tx.; Mrs. Kenneth (Dorothy) Erickson of Pacoima, Calif.; Mrs. Charles (Helen) Swarth of Whittier, Calif.; and Mrs. Herman (Frieda) Opler of Hoskins.

Mrs. Herman Opler registered guests and Mrs. Joe Durando, Mrs. Fred Key, Mrs. Kenneth Erickson and Mrs. Charles Swarth were in charge of serving. Mrs. Elmer Peter assisted in the kitchen.

Guests were present from Norfolk, Carroll, Howells, Winside, Pierce, Omaha, Plainview, Lincoln, Pilger, Wayne and Hoskins, and Houston, Tx., Greeley, Colo., Sioux Falls, S. D., Tacoma, Wash., and Pacoima, Calif. and Van Nuys, Calif.

No wedding date has been set.

Club Plans Anniversary

Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club members discussed plans for the club's 20th anniversary at their Tuesday meeting in the home of Mrs. Harvey Beck. Eleven members and a guest, Mrs. Alvin Anderson, answered roll call by naming something they would like to make.

The lesson on crafts was given by Mrs. Rollie Longe. Mrs. Erwin Fleer read "The Heart Test That Could Save Your Life." The club received a purple ribbon for their booth at the Wayne County Fair.

It was announced that achievement day will be held Oct. 4 at the Carroll city auditorium, and a show and tell a rama, sponsored by the Dixon County home extension council, is set for Sept. 20 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Northeast Station, Concord. A home economics day for homemakers will be held in Lincoln Oct. 23.

Officers were reelected and will assume their duties in January. They are Mrs. Paul Stevers, president; Mrs. Marvin Victor, vice president; Mrs. Joe Corbit, secretary, and Mrs.

3 Area Volleyball Teams Post Wins

LORI MAGNUSON of Wakefield leaps high in an attempt to block a return by Janet Libbe of West Point. Looking on during Monday night's home match is Wakefield's Cindy Johnson.

Three of the four area high school volleyball teams chalked up wins earlier this week. Wakefield leads the pack with a 3-0 mark after posting victories over West Point Monday night and Emerson Hubbard Tuesday.

Coach Ernie Kovar's varsity squad went two games, 11-15, and 15-7, before claiming the last set, 17-15, against Emerson.

It was a six-set battle all the way the last game, Kovar pointed out, but with "exceptional" net play by senior Cindy Johnson and Jana Dahlgren, the Trojanettes downed the area club.

Wakefield's reserve team added to its win column with a 15-7 and 15-12 sweep. Sophomore Renee Wilson served 16 points in both games, with 10 in the first game. Lynn Helm had 13 serve points.

Emerson was victorious in the freshman game, 16-14 and 15-5.

Monday night Johnson and Dahlgren again led the Trojanettes in beating West Point, 15-4 and 15-6. Johnson had nine spikes while Dahlgren had five spikes and three scores. Kovar credits "vastly improved" net play for the upset of last year's state tournament entry. Credit with good set-ups were Lesa Utecht and Les Gardner.

The reserves got their second win in as many games on 15-2 and 15-13 victories.

Wayne High won its first varsity game in two outings Tuesday night, defeating Stanton on its home court, 15-13 and 15-6.

Sophomore Steph Dorcy and Julie Kay led the local girls in setting up the scoring plays, said coach Mavis Dalton. Both girls had nice setups, she pointed out, with good spikes and bumps.

Team effort best describes the reserves' victory, Dalton noted, as Wayne won, 15-11 and 15-8.

In freshman action, Wayne lost the first set, 9-15, before whipping a group of Stanton sophomores and juniors, 15-10 and 15-4.

Sue Schwartz served six straight points the last two games to lead the club to its first official win of the season. Schwartz garnered 13 points for the night.

Both Wayne and Winside will be going for their second victories tonight (Thursday) when they collide at Wayne. Freshman game starts at 6:30.

Winside posted its first win of the season Tuesday, ripping Wisner-Pilger in two games, 15-7 and 15-6.

Those girls displayed more nerve than I've ever had at Winside, said coach Don Leighton. They were working as a team, really setting up and spiking the ball well.

Leighton called his first season game a "tremendous effort," noting that the high spot in the games was the serving. Winside converted about 85 per cent of its serves, he pointed out. Out of 34 good serves, 30 were for points.

On the starting squad were Cindy Thomas, Deb Albrecht, Karen George, Patty Mann, Jill Stenwall and Theresa Klingsang.

Both the reserve and freshman teams lost. The C team fell 5-15 and 12-15 and the B squad lost 8-15 and 5-15.

Laurel's varsity remains winless after three starts, falling to O'Neill Tuesday night.

First-year head coach Carol Woodward pointed out that "We played a good first game, but I can't put my finger on the reason we lost the next two." Laurel escaped the first set with a 16-14 win, but fell 4-15 and 3-15 in the last two.

The reserves also lost, 5-15 and 4-15. No freshman game was played.

In the only other action tonight, Laurel hosts Randolph in A, B and C games. According to Woodward, the varsity will play at 8:30.

Torczone Waiting, Seeing How Wakefield Shapes Up

Like most high school football coaches, Wakefield's John Torczon is taking a wait and see attitude, waiting to see which of his 18 returning lettermen plus the remainder of the 36 man squad will merge with five returning starters to form this year's varsity team.

Torczone, in his fourth year, doesn't feel anyone has a spot sewn up, not even last year's varsity vets, seniors Charlie Leonard, Randy Kahl, Chuck Lindstrom, Pat Nicholson and junior Scott Mills.

"These kids and the rest of the team have to work if they want a spot on the starting lineup," Torczon pointed out following Monday's practice in preparation for Friday's opener at Attenu. A quick glance at the team gives Torczon the feeling that his 1974 squad will be lacking size and experience to equal or better last year's 6-3 mark.

But a second look at the lettermen reveals that Wakefield's front line could average 182 pounds per man. Junior Merrill Hale comes in at 225, followed by two other juniors, Scot Keagle, 185, and Steve Graev, 170. Seniors include Ray Jensen, 180; Lee Echtenkamp, 175, and Lindstrom, 160.

SODERBERG

Junior Mike Soderberg appears to have a good shot at the quarterback slot. Soderberg, a scrappy 5-9, 140-pounder probably will be joined in the backfield by a host of players vying for the starting slots. They are Nicholson, Loren Victor, Doug Schwartz, Tim Rouse, Kahl and Mills.

Other lettermen include Baker for Brown, At Jensen, Ken Dolph and Tom Hattig. An additional letterman is transfer Mike Meyers of Verdigr.

Working with Torczon this year will be assistants Joe Coble and Dennis Chipman. Wakefield's schedule

September 20 Madison, 27 Wayne, October 4 at Wisner, Pilger, 11 at Columbus Lakeview, 18 at Stanton, 25 at Hartington Cedar Catholic.

November 1 at Emerson, Hubbard, 8 - Lyons.

RALPH BARCLAY charts defensive strategy for Wayne State preparation against Northern State.

Athlete Of The Week

MARTY HANSEN,
Wayne High School

Support Your Team!

Wayne High's Marty Hansen is about average in height and weight for a running back — 5-11 and 168 pounds. On the football field, though, he's anything but average.

The main ingredients which make him the Devils' leading rusher are speed and determination, some of the reasons why Hansen has been chosen as this week's "Athlete of the Week."

The other reasons, the senior led Wayne rushers with 117 yards in 13 carries for a one-yard average each time he handled the ball Friday against South Sioux City, a Class A club; he scored a pair of touchdowns, three extra points and a field goal in that 24-6 win, and he was second on the tackle charts with nine stops.

Impressive? Certainly. But to Marty, his performance can be credited to one thing — teamwork. "We're playing as a team this year," the three-year letterman and Husker all conference back said. "It's sort of like one for all and all for one when we play."

Hansen led Wayne chargers in rushing by getting "every yard I could get with the help of great team blocking. When the hole was there I ran," he added.

Hansen, son of coach and Mrs. Al Hansen, quarterbacked last year. This season he was switched to halfback because of his speed and experience. However, both he and junior Paul Malotte still share signal calling duties.

His award is the first to be handed out during the high school football and volleyball season.

WS Scouts: NS Tough Despite Loss

Wayne State quidders are working this week under the intelligence from scouts who watched the Saturday night Wildcat foe, Northern State, in its opener.

The advice, don't be lulled by the fact that Northern lost by 10-7 to Valley City State.

That had to be a misrepresentation of Northern power, the scouts said. Northern dominated all the way and had two touchdowns canceled by penalties. The Wolves are unaccustomed to losing. And Wayne coach Don Stoltenberg has commented that nobody remembers when Northern did not win the South Dakota conference.

On the other hand, the Northern State football pressbook says this of Wayne as an opponent: "Should be an out-standing Gypsy Day contest. Wayne has no single individual standouts, but rather a well balanced attack which functions very smoothly. The Wildcats have defeated Kearney, which ranks them high as competitors."

Matter of fact, the Wayne Kearney Northern comparison is something to consider, since Kearney has had more than its share of difficulty against Northern in recent years. Wayne has experienced problems beating Kearney, but is among the top teams to have whipped the Wildcats several times in the last few years.

The Wildcats last played Northern in 1955. Of five on-counters, Northern won four. Wayne goes into its clash with the Wolves on the strength of an opening win last Saturday over a strong William Penn team, 12-7 at Oskaloosa, Ia.

Victory came hard, after Penn smacked the Wildcats with a touchdown on the game's third play, with running back Carl Johnson going 61 yards and Kurt Arner kicking the point. Wayne offense retaliated in the second quarter with a 22 yard scoring pass from quarter back Dave Miller to split end Maurice Munkin, plus Dean Ott's extra point kick.

Wildcat defense continued to master the Statesmen through the third period. Another pass spectacular in the fourth put Wayne ahead when quarterback Rick Benedetto connected with Ott for a 64 yard play. Ott again converted the point.

Ott's place kicking was something new in a three year Wayne career. He did the punting last year, and against Penn he showed punting wizardry with a 44 yard average on 10 kicks — several of them shortened because he aimed for a corner, Stoltenberg said.

Penn mustered a late threat, moving from near its goal line to past mid field. Then freshman defensive back, Ray Wagner — an all stater at West Point High — intercepted a pass to stop the drive, about a minute from the end.

Statistics

	Wayne	Penn
First downs	15	12
Running yards	126	108
Passing yards	144	126
Total offense	272	234
Return yards	27	41
Passes	8 to 11	8 to 11
Punts average	10.44	9.37
Fumbles lost	2	3
Penalty yards	86	60

Prep Picks... Wakefield Could Spoil Wecker's Birthday Wish

Last Friday night Allen football coach Ron Wecker celebrated two special occasions — his first win at Allen and his birthday. And it was quite a birthday present his team give him, a 23-6 victory over Winnebago.

Although some may claim Allen had an easy opener against the inexperienced Indians, Wecker is quick to admit Winnebago put up a good fight. "We weren't too sure how our defense would work, so you might say it was an even battle at the start," the coach quipped.

Wecker pointed out that his team should have had one more touchdown. Allen had the ball close to Winnebago's goal line, but time ran out.

As birthday wishes go after a person has celebrated one birthday, "...we wish you many more." That might reflect the coach's wish to beat Wakefield Friday night when the Eagles host the untested Trojans.

But I don't believe Wecker's wish will come true. I'll pick the Trojans over the Eagles.

Although coach John Torczon's club has yet to play, Wakefield always has had the tradition of being tough, especially against the rival Eagles.

What could make the Trojans just as tough this year are 18 returning lettermen. Even though only five of them started during last year's 6-3 campaign.

Wakefield will be lacking weight, but Torczon expects his backfield speed to make up for that. Leading the offensive unit will be seniors Chuck Lindstrom, Pat Nicholson and Chuck Leonard. Junior Mike Soderberg will likely quarterback.

Last week I started the season on the right foot for a change, picking all four contests right. Wayne easily mastered Class A South Sioux City, 24-6; Madison downed Laurel, 7-0, and Winside beat Neligh, 12-6.

With that in mind, here goes some more predictions for Friday night's contest (See winner in boldface):

Blair at Wayne — Although Blair, literally blew Greina off the field in its opener, 41-0, that doesn't mean the Blue Devils are going to be a pushover. Home field advantage plus a very quick and strong team makes Wayne the favorite.

Winside at Tilden-Elkhorn Valley — Another victory for the Wildcats, as they prepare for the rugged Lewis and Clark Conference.

Plainview at Laurel — If you think last week's game was close, try this one. The Pirates, however, should prevail.

Needed: Housing for Out-of-State Hunters

Wayne area residents who would be willing to put up hunters during the approaching pheasant season are asked to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce office in Wayne.

Howard Witt, manager of the Chamber, said this week that he has already received inquiries from out-of-state hunters as to whether there are families in the area who would be willing to let hunters stay with them for a few days during the hunting season.

This is an excellent opportunity to show out-of-state people that Northeast Nebraskans will go out of their way to help them during the hunting season," Witt noted.

Norfolk Sophs Down Wayne

Norfolk sophomores scored touchdowns in the second and third quarters to down Wayne, 14-0, Monday at Norfolk.

The locals, without leading rusher Mark Brandl, marched down to the four-yard line late in the third period, but a stiff defense held the team on a fourth-and-one play.

"The kids played real tough," said coach Ron Carnes, "but we haven't been able to practice as much as we wanted to last week while preparing the varsity for the South Sioux City match."

Mike Wieseler led rushers with about 100 yards under the calling of quarterback Monte Lowe.

Defensively, Ralph Atkins led tacklers with 12 stops. Other leading tacklers were Rick Straight and Marc Lawrence with 11; Wieseler, nine; Tim Koll, eight.

The next sophomore game is Sept. 23 at home against Pierce. Score by quarters:

WSC Runners 4th at Chadron

A fourth-place cross country finish among five teams gave Wayne State coach LeRoy Simpson reason for cheer Saturday.

If that seems strange, Simpson explains: "I don't think we beat anybody last year. The team is way ahead of last year, and that's without much practice since the boys came back to school last week."

Cross country had a revival last year at Wayne after a lapse of several years.

Chip Hagerman of Ainsworth led Wayne's six runners with an 18th place finish, in 24:16 over a 4.4-mile course. Andy Myrtle, freshman from Holstein, Ia., came in 20th at 24:24, followed by Roger Kuhlman, Onawa, 23rd in 25:11; Dale Sohl of George, Ia., 24th at 25:38; and Cliff Switzer, freshman from Clearwater, 26th at 28:03. Mike Otterstein, another freshman from Plattsmouth, was Wayne's sixth finisher, out of the scoring at 28:29.

Kearney State won team scoring with 34 points, followed by Black Hills State, 41; Chadron State, 54; Wayne State, 111; and South Dakota Tech, 135.

Wayne will compete Saturday in the Applejack Bowl at Nebraska City.

Sportsbeat

By Bob Bartlett

SOME MAY call Mill Peters dedicated, others may say he's not so dedicated. The label doesn't matter to him. Coaching football does.

That's what Peters has been doing for the past three years at Wayne State, and that's what he intends to do this year. "When you're a bachelor, it's not hard to work during the summer and scrimping during the winter," the defensive assistant coach said.

Peters says his summer job managing a bar at Lake Okoboji, earns him enough to get by for a year. Although Peters does receive a fee for his coaching, he said, "I consider coaching football at Wayne more like a vacation than anything else."

The 27-year-old George, Ia. native, who earned his master's last year, played reserve ball for the Wildcats in 1955-56 as defensive tackle, but he never made the varsity. It was then Peters decided to quit football, but since then he has surrounded himself with athletics, learning from coaches and players the finer arts of the game. Peters graduated in 1969 with a degree in physical education.

After a one-year stint at West Bend as head football and track coach, he decided to return to Wayne State, where he says he has picked up some valuable information about football from two of the best coaches in the game — Ralph Barclay and Del Stollenberg.

Peters doesn't intend to help out Wayne's staff indefinitely. In fact, this is his last year. "I'm getting to old to be running around. It's about time for me to settle down."

FOR THOSE who did not attend last week's first Second Guesser's meeting, you'll want to be there for sure today (Thursday).

Wayne State football coach Del Stollenberg and his staff will review game films of Saturday's 14-7 win over William Penn, a highly talented ball club. In addition, Stollenberg will preview Saturday's contest at Northern State at Aberdeen, S. D.

Last week a crowd of 27 turned out for the noon meeting, held at the Black Knight. Not only was the food good (same price $2), but the coaches' comments made the meeting interesting.

During the meeting, athletic director LeRoy Simpson told the group the college will be handing out free game brochures at all home games, another incentive to create more interest in WS football.

Not only will the programs be chocked full of information about both football teams but also it will have some news about other activities and events happening on campus.

THE LEWIS and Clark Conference has decided to continue its football playoffs at Wayne State this year.

During a meeting last week school superintendents and principals voted to stay with the college after it was learned rental fees would stay at $75 instead of the reported $250.

The members, however, mixed expansion.

sion of the league this year. Bancroft and Beemer had expressed interest in joining, but according to league statistician Jim Winch of Winslow, "the league has no desire to expand at this time."

A committee has been set up to study future expansion. To be considered is dividing the league into north and south instead of the present east-west divisions.

The reason, Winch explained, is to keep each division as even as possible.

There is a possibility West division member Hartington High could go over the arbitrary 100-boy limit the league has set as the cutoff point in the realignment program. Talk has it Hartington Cedar Catholic (a class B school in the Husker Conference) may close in a year or two if financial problems are not solved. If that happens Hartington High would jump way over the limit, possibly prompting the Trojans to move to another conference.

On that committee are loop president Don Vanderheiden and secretary Del Fuebberth, both of Osmond, president-elect Gail Miller of Allen and Winch.

In other conference news, the League voted to wear dark jersey's this year at all home games. In past years the home team has worn white.

Negotiations

After an impasse was declared, a three-man fact-finding committee established the $6,850 base ($400 more than the previous year) and agreed with the teachers on the additional $112 for the eighth step.

About the middle of July board members pointed out that the figure for the eighth step was not how they interpreted it. The association referred the matter to the Nebraska State Education Association, which recommended that the association should forget about the difference.

As a result, "final contracts for the new year will be drawn up immediately," said superintendent Gail Miller.

Also during the board meeting, members voted to change admission to all home volleyball games due to the increased prices for officials. Miller said: "Admission for adults will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students."

The board also agreed to follow the state guidelines for free and reduced hot lunch prices.

Mrs. Jim Warner was reappointed as playground supervisor, receiving $2.50 per hour for working during the noon hour.

Board members also instructed principal Bruce O'Callaghan to study the bus routes after the school received complaints from parents about the travel time their youngsters spend on the busses.

Enrollment

the year earlier the total was 385
Totals in individual grades this year: Kindergarten, 17; first grade, 37; second, 20; third, 27; fourth, 48; fifth, 23; sixth, 45; seventh, 42; eighth, 41.

Harriers Debut Friday

Wayne High cross country runners will open their season Friday at the fourth annual Plainview invitational.

Two team trophies will be awarded along with 15 medals to the top individual runners.

A reserve meet will be held following the varsity activity for coaches who wish to run JV members. No awards will be given for that competition.

Youths Urged To Register for PP&K Contest

Registration for the 1974 Runt, Pass and Kick contest, co-sponsored by the Wayne Lions Club and Wortman Augo, will continue until Oct. 4.

Any youngster, eight through 13 years of age, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register at the Ford dealer. There is no registration fee.

Each registrant will receive a free PP&K Tips Book which includes a complete set of rules, helpful conditioning exercises and important punting, passing and place kicking tips by leading NFL specialists in these skills.

PP&K involves no body contact, no special equipment is required and youngsters compete only against others in their own age group. Participation does not impair a youngster's amateur standing.

First, second and third place winners in local competition will receive one of 18 local trophies. The contest is set for 1:30 p.m. Oct. 5 at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium.

to award by filling out and returning the survey form printed along with this story. The survey may be mailed to The Wayne Herald or dropped off at the Herald office.

Chamber manager Howard Witt said the survey being run by the newspaper is an excellent way for shoppers to have a voice in what kind of promotion the businessmen in the city conduct this Christmas.

The businessmen want to make the promotion as popular as possible, he said, and one way they can do that is by hearing what local and area residents think.

The surveys should be returned to the newspaper as soon as possible since plans for the Christmas promotion are already underway.

Dyas noted, but now President Ford has tore open the old wound again.

President Ford's pardon of Nixon is going to result in "an awful lot of pressure" to grant pardons for those already convicted and those in danger of being convicted of charges stemming from Watergate, Dyas said.

Dyas pointed out that there are a lot of people who have done nothing more than write bad checks who are serving time in prison for their breaking the law.

He also noted that the pardon puts President Ford in a ticklish situation when it comes to considering amnesty for the young people who refused to serve in the military for the young people who refused to serve in the military during the Vietnam conflict.

Several local people turned out to help Dyas through this part of his walk. They included Tim Wacker, Gerlaine Scribner, Jim Keating, Anton Pedersen, Kelly O'Donnell, Terry Sam Heppburn and Gordon Shupe III. Dr. Ed Elliott, a Wayne State teacher who is an avid jogger, had been scheduled to join part of the way for Dyas but was faced with a schedule conflict when Dyas came through Wayne.

At the luncheon, Dr. Del Hefti of Wisner explained the changing roles of animal veterinarians today. "Veterinarians used to be called horse doctors before they started to specialize in small and large animal practice," he said. Now veterinarians work in widely different areas, treating all kinds of animals, he added.

Before the use of two-way radios and mobile clinics, most animal doctors had "fire-engine" type practices where they would literally run from one case to another. Most of that has changed now, he said, although there are still a few cases where veterinarians are constantly on

Black Woman Sets Stage For WS Course on Women

The chairwoman of the Black studies department of the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Lillian Anthony-Welch, set the stage for a new Wayne State course, Women's Studies, in a pair of talks Tuesday.

She was the first of 13 lecturers who will discuss a variety of topics on the general theme of "Changing Roles of Women" during the once-a-week fall course. Registration for the class will remain open until its second session Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Anthony-Welch also spoke at an afternoon audience

Board Members To Meet Here On Monday

School board members from Northeast Nebraska are expected to attend a district meeting scheduled at Wayne on Monday afternoon.

The meeting is one of 12 district meetings scheduled around the state this month by the Nebraska State School Boards Association, according to Irvn Brandt, president of the Wayne Carroll school board and NSSBA district director.

Scheduled during the meeting, to be held at Wayne High School, is the showing of a film and a workshop which will focus on the responsibilities of board members and the school district in communicating with the public. Helping conduct the work shop will be Sue Peterson, a public relations official with the state education department.

An evening dinner will be held at the elementary school in Wayne, followed by slide presentations, one of them dealing with the principles and mechanics of the recently passed state law boosting state aid to public school districts.

on the subject, "Black Women as Culture and Value Transmitters."

Out of long experience as a teacher, writer, traveler and human rights promoter in many nations, she recalled a three-year teaching experience in an

MRS. ANTHONY-WELCH

Egyptian school for children of the aristocracy. It proved to be an entertaining, but poignant story of a foreigner who repeatedly got tangled up with customs of the century old school. "I didn't want to be perceived as a troublemaker, but I soon realized I was well on the way," she said with a chuckle.

After she returned to the United States in 1959, she received a letter from a colleague at the Egyptian school who wrote, "Nothing has been the same since you came. But we have accepted the change."

And that was one instance of a black woman as a culture transmitter.

Mrs. Anthony-Welch also recounted her trip to the African nation of Ghana with a group of black students from the University of Minnesota, their ages from 18 to about 40. Purpose of the trip: to attempt tracing their ancestry back to Africa. It turned out an almost impossible search, in the sense of individuals finding clues to African tribal origins, she said.

But something more important came from the search. Mrs. Anthony-Welch and students found many ancient African customs "have much commonality with the customs of American blacks" to this day.

The meaning of this, she reasoned, is that blacks do have a culture of their own. She took issue with a belief that because black people cannot trace their exact origins in Africa, it does not mean they have no heritage.

She said blacks have learned to live with a dual personality—that is, adapting to both the black experience and to the dominant culture.

She declared it is a distortion of reality to perpetuate the myth of racial differences.

Lessons on Vegetables Are Planned

Vegetables are packed with vitamins and minerals; they aid in body processes and they are low in calories. So why do so many people say they don't like vegetables?

Many times it's because the vegetable wasn't cooked properly, says Joycelyn Smith, area home economist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

During September and October home extension clubs and other interested organizations in Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties will be exploring new ways to cook vegetables that bring out their best flavor, she notes.

Leader training sessions will be held for representatives of any interested group or club on an equal and nondiscriminatory basis. The session will give these representatives information that they in turn, can present to their own club members.

Training for the lesson, "The Many Faces of Vegetables," will be held:

Sept. 16 - 1:30 p.m., extension office management room, Wall Hill.

Sept. 17 - 1:30 p.m., Ridge View Manor, Coleridge.

Sept. 18 - 1:30 p.m., Northeast Station, Concord.

Sept. 19 - 1:30 p.m., Equitable Savings & Loan, South Sioux City.

Sept. 20 - 9:30 a.m., Villa Wayne, Wayne.

Weekly Drawing Climbs to $425

Wayne's weekly Birthday Bucks prize will be worth $425 this week as a result of the grand prize going unclaimed again last week.

Winning last Thursday night's $25 consolation prize was Mrs. Bill Chance of Wayne. She was in Bill's Cafe when the winning date drawn earlier was announced.

The drawing tonight (Thursday) at 8:15 p.m. will result in someone winning $425 in coupons which can be spent just like cash in any participating store if some shopper has a birthday matching the date announced in all stores. If there is, no grand prize winner again this evening, another $25 consolation prize will be awarded and the grand prize will climb to $450 for next week's drawing.

All area residents are eligible to participate in the weekly drawings, even those persons who have won previously. No purchases are required, but a person must be present in one of the sponsoring businesses at the time the winning date is announced in order to win.

Police Blotter

Baricades Damaged

A wagon came loose from a tractor and damaged several street baricades on the 200 block of East Seventh about 3 p.m. Tuesday. The operator was Dave Laneel, 7212 1/2 Main.

About 4:30 p.m. Monday two cars collided on the 100 block of East Seventh. Ralph Barclay, 1010 Liac Lane, had stopped for a red light when a vehicle driven by Danise Nelson, Phillips, struck the rear end of the Barclay car. Nelson suffered a bump on the head.

A pickup driven by Reoney Peterson, Waverfield, struck a car operated by David Lessmann, rural, Wayne, on the 700 block of Main. Lessmann had stopped for other vehicles when the accident occurred.

W-C School Board Seeking Advice on Adding Facilities

Wayne Carroll school board members Monday night gave approval for superintendent Francis Hahn to investigate further the possibility of having an architectural firm study the school facilities in Wayne to see if additional parking, an all-weather track, tennis courts and softball diamond can be added.

Hahn also is to contact state officials to discuss the possibility of obtaining another access to Highway 35 from the high school parking lot and parking a left turn lane near the parking lot entrance.

Board members also agreed that professional help is needed if any additional facilities are to be added.

Morris Sandahl of Carrol noted that it "would be money well spent" to hire an architect to make recommendations on improving the facilities available to students.

In his discussions with the architects, Hahn also is to obtain an estimate on how much it would cost to air condition portions of the high school building used by students during the summer. The high school was constructed so air conditioning could be added at a later date without a great deal of difficulty, according to Hahn.

Board members also approved hiring a school nurse and a third grade language arts teacher.

Taking over as school nurse earlier this week was Mrs. Neil Dinges of Wayne. The language arts teacher hired during the meeting was Beverly Scovill, a 1964 graduate of George Peabody University in Nashville, Tenn.

The hirings fill all vacancies in the staffs at the schools in Wayne and Carroll, according to Hahn.

Board members also:

Accepted the low bid of $488 each for six color television sets submitted by McNatt's OK Hardware of Wayne. Also submitted bids on the 25-inch sets were Swanson TV, $500 each, and Kaup's TV, $517 each.

Approved taking bids from the two refuse service firms in the city for garbage removal at the Wayne schools. Bids will be taken for service to begin in November. Reviewed the bus routes being driven daily by Harry Lesberg, Larry Osterkamp, Jay Drake, Perry Johnson and Earl Davis.

Reviewed enrollment figures for the school district showing that enrollment stood at 1,020 shortly after school started. That compares with the total enrollment of 1,031 last school year.

Reviewed the school district valuation and mill levies. Based on a valuation of $13,860,405, up from last year's $13,103,490, the mill levy will be 57.74, down from last year's 61.17.

Former Businessman Is Now Minister in Area

A former businessman from Guthrie, Okla., is the new pastor at the Winside and Carroll United Methodist Churches.

He is the Rev. Jim Scovill, who was pastor at four churches before coming to the Wayne area Sept. 1. He takes over for the Rev. Robert Swanson who left in June.

Rev. Scovill, who also works at the Cooperative Christian Ministries on the Wayne State campus, has been minister in Kansas and Oklahoma cities, including his last parish, the First United Methodist Church in Tulsa.

Rev. Scovill joined the ministry in 1965, after a "two year struggle with his conscious" about whether he should give up his business materials business in Tulsa. "I had been in business for 15 years, but found it for the last three," he said.

In 1968 Rev. Scovill became a deacon in the church and two years later was made an elder. The 47-year-old Oklahoma man and his wife, Beverly, have three daughters, Karen, 24; Gretchen, 22; Nancy, 18, and a son, Jim Jr., 23.

Rev. and Mrs. Scovill attended colleges in Nashville, Tenn., where Rev. Scovill graduated from Scarrett College in 1966. He attended seminary at St. Paul's School of Theology the next four years.

Mrs. Scovill is a part time teacher at the West Elementary school in Wayne. She is enrolled at Wayne State, studying for her masters in elementary education.

Wayne Hosts Lions Meet

Approximately 75 Lions Club members from across eastern Nebraska took part in the district cabinet meeting held at Wayne State's Student Center Sunday afternoon.

Clete Sharer of Wayne, recently installed as district governor, headed the 2 30 business meeting, which attracted district officers from Wayne; Laurel, Fremont, Elkhorn and Millard.

Speaking during the evening banquet attended by approximately 130 Lions and their wives was state senator John "Bob" Murphy of South Sioux City. Murphy compared service organizations to legislative bodies, noting that the Nebraska legislature faces such a large number of proposals each year that it is impossible to act competently on every one of them.

Singing during the banquet was Claudia Mallatt of Laurel. A student at Wayne State and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mallatt, she was the senior division winner in the Lions' state talent contest held at Norfolk earlier this year.

Also taking part in the banquet program was local club president B. J. Hirt and Wayne mayor Freeman Decker.

During the business meeting, district officers set Millard as the site for the November cabinet meeting. Wisner was named as the host community for the cabinet meeting which will take place in February.

Discussed during the afternoon was the World Lions Service Day scheduled for Oct. 4. That is the day all 1,300,000 Lions across the world are to render some service to mankind to show "what" a large service organization can do to help others.

District officers attending the meeting and banquet included Charles Denesia of Wayne, secretary to Sharer; Lee Foote of Wayne, deputy district governor; or Jim Loquist of Laurel, zone chairman; Cecil Anderson of Fremont, zone chairman; Clinton Sprick of Hooper, deputy district governor; Paul Hagemann of Elkhorn, zone chairman; Ron Witt of Millard, deputy district governor, and Lou Harrison of Millard, deputy district governor.

Also present during the day was Ralph Eickhoff of Columbus, who holds the district governor's post for one of the other five districts in the state.

Walker for Votes Earns A Rest

DEMOCRAT HESS DYAS rests in his jeep and talks with Anton Pedersen of Wayne during his walk through the Wayne area Tuesday to gather votes in his bid for the First Congressional District seat now held by Republican Charles Thone. Listening are Jim Keating, Mrs. Dyas and Kelly O'Donnell. The three were among several local people who walked for Dyas, who was recovering from a boil of pleuritis in his leg. Dyas, who has vowed to walk 734 miles through all 27 counties in the congressional district, criticized Thone and Senators Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis for lacking leadership in Congress. He also was critical of President Gerald Ford's unconditional pardon of former President Richard Nixon. Story on the front page of this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Full List of WS Workshops Available

A complete list of the nine weekend workshops to be offered this term by Wayne State College has been made available by Dr. Don Keck, director of continuing education. The first three workshops, which have been announced previously, are "Principles of SLD (Specific Learning Disabilities), two hours credit, instructor Mrs. Dorothy Ley, Sept. 13-15; "Individualizing Instruction for the Classroom Teacher," to be held at O'Neill, two hours credit, instructor Dr. Gene Bigelow, Sept. 20-22; and "Identification of SLD Problems," two hours credit, instructor Larry Clay of Educational Service Unit 1, Oct. 4-6.

FACA Council Meets Monday At Concord

The regular monthly meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Family and Community Affairs Council was held at the North east Station, Concord, Monday with council members attending from Coleridge, Wayne, Newcastle-Hartington, Emerson and Concord. The meeting was chaired by the vice president, Fred Oppegard. Also attending were mental health education resource persons, Al Lierz, mental health educator, and Judy Greenwald, northeast Nebraska drug counselor.

The council discussed plans for mental health pilot programs to be offered to the Hartington and Emerson schools, sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Family and Community Affairs Council. Appointed to a committee to plan for the 1975 annual meeting of the council were Mrs. Shirley Arens of Hartington, Al Lierz of Norfolk, and Chris Hingst and the Rev. Ron Nelson, both of Emerson.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at the North East Station. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

Council members Tuesday night split 4-4 on a vote which would have done away with the required three readings of a proposed ordinance which would permit taverns in the city to sell beer to go on the Sabbath.

Councilmen earlier this summer gave approval to permitting on sale beer business on Sundays.

Voting against doing away with the three readings of the proposal were John Vakoc, Darrel Fuetlberg, Ivan Beeks and Mrs. Carolyn Filter.

Noted Vakoc after the vote: "This should give any of the public an opportunity to comment on it (the proposal)."

Before the vote, mayor Freeman Decker said the city was "rapidly moving" to a "wide open city" as far as liquor business is concerned. He said the council members should be cautious if they do not want to see a "backlash." He said there is a possibility that the council will receive request for beer licenses from such businesses as grocery stores if it continues granting requests of local tavern owners.

He noted that he was not against sale of alcoholic beverages, but he questioned the necessity of permitting that business seven days a week.

Council passed on a 6-2 vote a resolution asking that the county election commissioner include on the November general election ballot a proposal which would permit voters in the city to either accept or reject adding fluoride to the city's water supply.

Dr. Bigelow's workshop will be repeated Nov. 8-10 at Columbus. Registration deadline for the November session is Nov. 1.

School law workshops will be held on campus Oct. 18-20. Dr. Morris Anderson will instruct "School Law for the Teacher," and Dr. Arthur H. Dugan will teach "School Law for the Administrator." Each course offers one hour credit. Registration deadline is Oct. 11.

Mrs. Jean Owens of Lincoln will instruct the "Curriculum Modification for SLD" workshop to be held Nov. 1-3. Two hours credit will be given. Registration deadline is Nov. 7.

Richard Mettler, director of the Title III SLD program in the Wayne schools, will conduct a workshop, "Establishment and Administration of an SLD Program," Dec. 6-8. One hour of credit will be given. Registration deadline is Nov. 27.

"Principles of SLD" is a prerequisite for all other SLD workshops. "Identification of SLD" is a prerequisite for all other SLD workshops except "Principles of SLD." Both of these SLD workshops, as well as "Curriculum Modification for SLD," require follow up days.

Tuition for each workshop is $15.50 per credit hour of either graduate or undergraduate credit. A separate check should be made out for each workshop and mailed to the WSC office of continuing education, along with a notation of the workshop being requested. A $5 matriculation fee should be included by students who have never before taken a class at Wayne State.

Questions or suggestions concerning additional workshops or those already scheduled should be directed to Dr. Keck.

Information regarding on campus housing will be provided on request.

Vote Is Postponed on Permitting Sunday On-Sale Beer Business

Wayne area residents will have to wait for at least one more council meeting, possibly two more, before they find out if the council gives its okay to permitting off-sale beer business on Sundays.

Council members Tuesday night split 4-4 on a vote which would have done away with the required three readings of a proposed ordinance which would permit taverns in the city to sell beer to go on the Sabbath.

Councilmen earlier this summer gave approval to permitting on sale beer business on Sundays.

Voting against doing away with the three readings of the proposal were John Vakoc, Darrel Fuetlberg, Ivan Beeks and Mrs. Carolyn Filter.

Noted Vakoc after the vote: "This should give any of the public an opportunity to comment on it (the proposal)."

Before the vote, mayor Freeman Decker said the city was "rapidly moving" to a "wide open city" as far as liquor business is concerned. He said the council members should be cautious if they do not want to see a "backlash." He said there is a possibility that the council will receive request for beer licenses from such businesses as grocery stores if it continues granting requests of local tavern owners.

He noted that he was not against sale of alcoholic beverages, but he questioned the necessity of permitting that business seven days a week.

Council passed on a 6-2 vote a resolution asking that the county election commissioner include on the November general election ballot a proposal which would permit voters in the city to either accept or reject adding fluoride to the city's water supply.

The proposal will appear in this form: "An ordinance to prohibit the adding of fluoride to the water supply of the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska."

In other words, a "no" vote would mean the city's water supply would have fluoride added to it while a "yes" vote would mean the level of fluoride would remain at its natural level.

Voting against the resolution were councilmen Ted Bahe and Vernon Russell.

Petitions carrying enough signatures to put the issue on the ballot were turned into the Wayne County clerk Norris Weibe several weeks ago.

Wayne and every other community in the county — Winslow, Hoskins, Carroll and Sholes — will vote on the fluoridation issue come the November election.

In other action the council: —Voted to have city administrator Fred Brink purchase a three-wheel scooter for use in picking up trash around the city. The vehicle will cost between $300 and $500 and will take the place of a pickup. Brink told the council.

—Approved revised parking restrictions for the Knolls on the west edge of the city.

—Okayed giving a franchise to Peoples Natural Gas Co. for distribution of natural gas in the city.

—Approved a recommendation to the county clerk that the polling place for the first ward be changed from the public library to Villa Wayne.

Wayne County Youth Wins Purple Ribbon

Sue Sievers of Wakefield showed her crossbred steer to a purple ribbon in the 25th annual Meat Animal-Exposition show and sale at Norfolk on Monday.

Daughter of LeRoy Sievers, she was the only Wayne County exhibitor to earn a purple ribbon in the event.

Receiving blue ribbons during the show were Kent Roberts and Penny Roberts, both of Wakefield, for their Hereford steers; Steve Brummels of Hoskins for his Angus steer; and Leslie Thomsen of Wakefield, Robert Anderson of Hoskins, Shaun Niemann of Carroll and Brad Brummels of Hoskins for their crossbred steers.

Receiving white ribbons in the show were Keith Roberts of Wakefield and Karen Wittler of Hoskins for their Hereford steers, and Jon Meierhenry of Hoskins, Rita Wittler of Hoskins and Paul Roberts of Carroll for their crossbred steers.

Teachers of Reading Invited To Area Meet

Teachers of reading in the Wayne area are invited to the first meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Council of the International Reading Association (IRA) to be held in the Birch Room of the Student Union on Wayne State campus next week.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19.

Dr. Theora England, formerly of Northwestern College at Orange City, Ia., will speak on "Oral and Choral Reading." Dr. England's presentation will be followed by a workshop session during which her advanced students will work with small groups of teachers to develop skills in oral and choral reading.

Dr. England, retired professor and professor emeritus, has presented numerous programs to women's clubs and church groups. Her choral speaking choir made stops in several states in April.

A small registration fee will be charged non-council members. Further information is available from Dr. Mary Arlene Schuyt at Wayne State.

Accident Rate In County Is Below Average for Country, Study Reveals

Do residents of Wayne County lead safer or more hazardous lives than people in other parts of the country?

Are they more liable or less liable than people in other areas of the country to be involved in an accident of some sort - automobile or otherwise - during the course of a year?

According to government statistics, local people seem to be less accident-prone than the average.

The accident figures for the local area and for communities in other sections of the United States were compiled by the Public Health Service as part of its annual vital statistics surveys.

All types of accidents were taken into account, whether they occurred in the home or at work, while driving, swimming, boating or hunting.

Based upon the last three annual reports, fatal accidents in Wayne County have been averaging four per year, with three of them attributed to automobiles.

Included in the figures are all accidents in which local persons were involved, wherever they happened. Excluded were those affecting non-residents.

Related to population, the toll in the area was at the rate of 38 fatalities per 100,000 people during the three-year period.

It was a lower rate than was found in most other communities in the United States, where the average was 58 per 100,000. The rate in the West North Central States was 55.

Throughout the country, according to the National Safety Council, about 1,000 fewer persons died in traffic accidents in 1973 than in 1972.

It attributes the unusual drop to the fact that people did less driving and traveled at reduced speeds toward the end of the year because of the energy crisis.

Accidents have been responsible for a huge economic loss in recent years, it finds.

The average over the last three years is placed at $29 billion a year. This takes into account loss of wages, medical expenses, insurance payments, reduced production and property damage.

Wayne County's proportionate share of this cost, applying the average loss per accident locally, is approximately $1,008,000 a year.

Ikes to Pick Directors at October Meet

Members of the Izaak Walton League in Wayne will name three members to their board of directors at their Oct. 14th meeting.

Going off the board are Glenn Walker, Norris Weible and Ed Steahan.

The three people named to the three-year terms on the board and the present board members will meet later to name new officers for the coming year. Ending their terms as officers are president Walker, vice president Merton Hillon and treasurer Al Shufelt. Secretary Gary Wiebelhaus, who will be moving to Kansas, who will be moving to Kansas to take over a business at Fort Scott later this month, has resigned from his office in the club.

Club members heard a talk by Clarence Preston of Wayne about the trip he and his wife made to Anchorage with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woods, also of Wayne, during Monday's regular monthly meeting.

Ripped, Flipped and Flopped

EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG WINDS struck Wayne early Saturday evening, breaking limbs out of trees, knocking over plants in gardens and, at least in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rieken, doing considerable damage. The winds, which lasted only about 10 minutes, ripped off the front porch of the Rieken home, flipped it over and flopped it down on the back of their roof. The result was a mail box upside down on the roof, prompting Mrs. Rieken to say she was going to tell the mailman to make sure he put her mail "in the box." The Rieken's were gone Saturday evening and admitted it was quite a surprise to pull into their driveway about midnight and find their home porchless. The storm was accompanied by some rain, with the rain being driven horizontally at times. A total of .82 of an inch fell in Wayne that evening.

Medicare Benefits Now Available to Kidney Sufferers

Now it is possible for people with kidney disease severe enough to require dialysis and/or a kidney transplant to get some help to pay for the cost of this treatment.

According to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk, treatment cost is so great that most individuals have not been able to afford it. But since July 1973, workers, their spouses and their dependent children who have kidney disease may qualify for Medicare benefits to help pay for treatment, he noted.

You're Never Too Old to Hear Better

Electronic hearing tests will be given at Morrison Hotel, Wayne, Nebraska, Sept. 13 from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. by Nile A. Newburn, Belfone Hearing Aid Specialist. These tests will be offered as part of the Better Hearing Workshop program now being conducted nationwide.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to come in for a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular degree of hearing loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available. Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told an aid won't help should have a hearing test and find out about the very latest kinds of hearing correction.

The free hearing tests will be held at Morrison Hotel, Wayne, Nebraska Sept. 13 from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. If you can't get there on that day call 375-3200 and arrange for an appointment at another time.

Wakefield Man Fails to Post Reduced Bond

A rural Wakefield man remained in Dixon County jail at Ponca Monday after reduction in his bond following his plea of not guilty to a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury.

Charles Schultz, 26, pleaded not guilty to the charge on Wednesday of last week during his arraignment before Dixon County judge David Curtis of Laurel.

Judge Curtis reduced Schultz's bond from $25,000 to $5,000 and set his preliminary hearing in Dixon County court for Oct. 2.

Schultz, who is being represented by South Sioux City attorney Bob Scoville, is charged in connection with a shooting incident in Wakefield early in the morning on Aug. 15.

Injured in that incident was Robert Bladt, 32, of Wayne, who suffered shotgun pellet wounds in the thumb, face, chest and leg. He was treated and released from the hospital at Wakefield several hours after the shooting.

Schultz, a former Wayne resident, was arrested about three hours after the shooting at his farm home about four miles west of Wakefield.

VA Q&A

Q. The Veterans Administration operates the largest single hospital system in the U.S. Are its hospitals accredited?

A. All 171 VA hospitals are fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation which represents the combined judgment of the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians and the American College of Surgeons.

Q. When was the last time service-disabled veterans received an increase in compensation, and how much was it?

A. Benefits for the most severely disabled were raised from $1,232 to $1,454 monthly recently. Public Law 93-295 on May 31, 1974, authorized the Veterans Administration to increase compensation 15 percent for veterans rated 10 to 50 percent disabled.

Some Kind of Crop!

ED LINN calls it a "cucelon." Actually, it's a cross between a cucumber and a muskmelon, according to the rural Laurel farmer, who noted that the cross just happened that way. Linn said he found several such oddities in his fields last week and brought several with him to Wayne, where he works at a filling station.

Conservation Efforts Are Paying Off

The possibilities of another dust bowl era, have been diminishing almost daily throughout Nebraska for the past 30 years, says Arnold Marr, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service Office in Wayne.

These significant progressive efforts are a direct result of a concerted preventative erosion program among Nebraskans, Natural Resource Districts and SCS technicians, he noted.

Conservation programs have immediately come to the forefront as the agricultural community reflects on and compares the similarities of the 1933-1936 and the 1974 droughts, according to Marr. In the main, SCS has been using various conservation approaches, including terraces, conservation tillage, grassland management and tree planting, to ward off recurring soil devastation.

End result of these cooperative efforts are quite evident, with the most vivid example being the absence of soil blowing in the Great Plains, Marr noted.

"Our rich, fertile lands that have had a combination of sound conservation practices applied are being preserved as a whole," he said.

The drought can damage crops, he noted, but a well vegetated soil now will enhance chances for a better crop next year. "I feel this is a time to evaluate our conservation methods, strengthen our unprotected areas, and seek professional assistance for future planting seasons," concluded Marr.

Consumers spend nearly 1/2 billion dollars a year for frozen orange juice concentrate - about twice the value received by farmers for their entire citrus crop of 25 years ago.

Getting Towards Fall

A SILHOUETTED grasshopper climbs abandoned garden tools as the evening rapidly approaches. The shorter days are a reminder that soon farmers will be harvesting what little crop provided this hot, dry summer. For some farmers life crops will be adequate, for others they will be disappointing.

Survey on Immunization Is Scheduled

The Bureau of the Census will survey a sample of households in the Wayne area the week of Sept. 16-20 to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, according to Walter Freeman Jr., director of the Bureau's regional office in Denver.

The immunization survey, conducted nationally every year, provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella and mumps. This information is needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention.

These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is held confidential by law and is used only to compile statistical totals.

Internal row in legislature breaks into open

CAPITOL NEWS.
LINCOLN — The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee is having an internal struggle which broke into the open today.

The committee has a staff aide, Bill Nicholas, who has been paid $9,000. A majority of the committee, apparently, would like to have his salary raised to $12,000.

One of those on the minority side of that question is Chairman Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove. He has said Nicholas should be fired if he isn't willing to work for $9,000 because his work, in Kennedy's opinion, isn't worth any more. Kennedy says Nicholas has agreed to work at the $9,000 figure.

But the Executive Board of the Legislative Council has already voted to raise the pay to $12,000. It did so on the basis of a report that the Public Health and Welfare Committee had voted 5-2 to request the hike.

Kennedy, however, says that vote wasn't taken at an official meeting and isn't valid.

The vote was taken at a briefing the committee was attending in Omaha last month as the senators were heading toward the luncheon. They gathered in the hall, as the scene was recalled for the Executive Board, and voted that Nicholas should receive his raise.

Since there wasn't any secretary nor any minutes and the public hadn't been notified that a meeting was to be held, Kennedy said the vote was meaningless.

The Executive Board listened to Kennedy and board member Glenn Goodrich of Omaha, who also serves on Kennedy's committee, discuss the situation at length and finally directed Kennedy to convene his committee formally, take a vote on the issue and report back the results.

Speaker Richard Proud of Omaha said the Executive Board didn't have any business getting mixed up in the internal affairs of committees.

Subpoenas Issued
 Another legislative committee made news recently — by issuing subpoenas to insure that witnesses would appear to testify.

That's a rare procedure in Nebraska. In fact, veteran observers could remember it discussed frequently, but never actually used.

But Senator Ernest Chambers of Omaha, chairman of the Government Committee, used it to require Douglas County sheriff Theodore Janing and his chief deputy, Joseph Thorton, to appear at a hearing.

Chambers said he wants to know more about the special deputies Janing has organized. The sheriff said he didn't have to discuss the matter with Chambers, so the senator prepared the subpoenas to require Janing's appearance.

Chambers said his interest in the special deputies stems from a shoot-out in June in which Douglas County civil defense director William Noyes fired a gun at a man engaged in a duel with law officers in Omaha.

Noyes, it turned out, was carrying the gun in his capacity as a special deputy.

Chambers, in whose North Omaha district the shoot-out occurred, said he wanted to know more about the training, liability, control and legality of Janing's force.

Chambers also has asked the Douglas County commission to report on the special deputy situation. The commissioners indicated they are willing to cooperate with the senator and didn't receive subpoenas.

Freight Rate Hiked
 The Nebraska Public Service Commission has granted a six per cent increase in truck freight rates for loads under 5,000 pounds and a three per cent boost for larger loads.

The commission says the increase was granted for in-state shipments to bring those rates in line with interstate rates. Truckers had said that fuel and labor costs justified the boosts.

Missouri Scores Twice
 A report by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency shows the Missouri River scored twice in a listing of river pollution.

That portion of the Missouri which serves as Nebraska's eastern border was described by the EPA as the most polluted major waterway in the nation.

On the other hand, that portion northwest of Sioux City is the cleanest.

The EPA report says considerable bacteria from animal and human wastes, pesticides, viruses, metals and other chemicals pollute the river between Sioux City and St. Joseph, Mo. Upstream from Sioux City to the headwaters in Montana, it's the cleanest of those river areas studied for the report.

If you're so rich, why aren't you smart?

So you're making a good salary. But you're not saving any of it. Instead, you want to go after the "big deal" that's going to make you a cool million. Maybe.

What happens if your big scheme goes sour? You've still got to get through the future. And let's face it: Nobody can afford to take tomorrow for granted.

So maybe you'd better join the Payroll Savings Plan now. Just sign up at work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way, you can still afford to take a few financial risks, if that's your bag. But you'll always have a solid cash reserve to fall back on. And that's being smart.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Vidalia, Ga. Advocate
 "It appears we have been concerning ourselves with too much icing and not enough with baking the cake. We have tried to pacify everybody without incurring any wrath, and we have allowed education to drift instead of steering a pre-set course toward basic objectives. We have been too busy experimenting to use the most important tools of education — reading, writing and arithmetic taught to the rule of the 'hickory stick' — necessary to maintain order and attention."

Isle, Minn. Millie Lacs Messenger
 "Bingo games, cash prizes offered for buying a raffle ticket, even door prizes given if admittance tickets are sold are lotteries, according to the U. S. Postal Service. And if newspapers using the U. S. Mail publish ads which refer to such prizes, they are endangering their second class mailing permit. It's a stupid ruling, in my opinion, in a country where some states hold legal lotteries and some allow gambling of any kind. It's hard for an editor to explain that the Randmine quilt at a local church might be selling chairs on, can't be mentioned in the story of the bazaar or in the VFW's bingo games can't be advertised, when in most cases, these fund raising events are for charitable purposes. But the Postal Service has decided that they must protect you from the evils of bingo, rattles and the like. They're doing it for your own good, they claim?"

OBSERVATIONS

Everybody can help

Members of the board of directors of the Community Chest in Wayne are looking to the service clubs in Wayne to challenge each other to another tug-of-war to help promote and raise money for the annual fund drive coming up within the next few weeks.

Last year, the "heavies" in the Lions Club and the Kiwanis Club helped their organizations fulfill their community service pledges by taking to the streets and seeing which one really had the most "pull" in the community. Well, when it was over and done with there was little doubt that the Lions Club won the two contests. Just ask those drenched members of the losing team who were pulled through the stream of water if you're doubtful.

The Community Chest directors are hoping that those same groups will take it upon themselves to challenge each other again this year. The Lions Club has a tradition it has to live up to now, and the Kiwanis Club has to improve its standing in the community.

The directors are also helping some other groups, such as the Wayne County

Jaycees, may get into the act this year to make the event even more popular. The more, the merrier, or the wetter.

There is likely going to be an opportunity for other businessmen to get into the swing of things if the directors of the Community Chest go ahead and plan another event being considered. That event is a tricycle race pitting businessmen against businessmen to see which one can scurry down the street without upsetting those clumsy little things which youngsters make work so easily and effortlessly.

But those aren't the only people who are being looked for to help make this year's Community Chest fund drive one of the most successful ones in years. There will be a host of workers who will be going out to ask people to donate to the Community Chest. If those people do their job correctly, there is little doubt but what the goal will be reached. And there are the hundreds of residents who will be asked to donate. If they will meet their responsibility, there is no doubt but what it will be reached. — Norvin Hansen.

GRANDPA'S BOY

By BRAD ANDERSON

'Inefficiency is rampant in nation's welfare system'

By Arch Booth, President, National Chamber of Commerce

Balancing the federal budget is the biggest single step toward controlling inflation — that much most Americans now realize. But a balanced budget requires either tax increases or cuts in federal programs. There's where the fun begins: What to cut, and how much?

I doubt that dramatic cuts are possible. What we'll have to do is trim a little here and a little there, on the principle that if you watch the millions the billions will take care of themselves.

The nation's archaic, chaotic welfare system would be a good place to start. Nearly 11 million people now receive welfare — double the number 10 years ago. The cost is now about $7.8 billion a year. Mismanagement and inefficiency are rampant.

For example, a new auditing system in New York State uncovered an incredible 60 per cent error rate in the checks written. Almost half of the checks contained over-payments. A new welfare certification procedure there has resulted in over 8,900 cases being dropped from the rolls.

In West Virginia the caseload of welfare recipients has dropped one-third since 1970 — down by over 30,000 people. The West Virginians placed heavy emphasis on finding jobs for able-bodied recipients. In just a few short years the number of unemployed fathers on welfare there was cut by 80 per cent.

California trimmed its welfare rolls by 244,000 between 1971 and 1973, saving more than $1 billion. Simultaneously, the state actually increased benefits for recipients with no outside income.

In many states eligibility requirements for public assistance are now so loosely drawn (or enforced) that labor union members striking for higher pay receive millions of dollars in welfare payments — especially in the form of food stamps — during the course of their strike.

Improvements at the state level affect the national budget too, because the federal government picks up the tab for over half of the costs of state and local welfare programs.

The "welfare lobby" loudly opposes reform. We are told that checking on a recipient is an "invasion of privacy"

(whereas an income-tax audit is now?). We are told that requiring the able-bodied to work for a living is "slave labor." And yet, we hear little concern expressed for the loss of the money that disappears in the administrative machinery or winds up in the pockets of people who make a very good living — money that could be used to help those genuinely in need of it.

Well, for the record, let it be noted that I have not suggested cutting a penny in benefits to people who are truly unable to support themselves. But we have reached the point where neither the welfare system in particular nor the nation in general can afford to carry the burden of waste, inefficiency and fraud. It's our welfare that's at stake.

By Carl Marcy, former Chief of Staff of Senate Foreign Relations Committee

In 1967 an American spy lay in the Eastern Mediterranean monitoring battle front messages as the Israelis and Egyptians fought their Six Day War. Suddenly the U. S. Liberty was under attack — and moments later the American was flamed to Washington but a foul up in communications (the message inadvertently went to the Philippines) left our highest officials with knowledge only that a peaceful American vessel had been subjected to air attack while on the high seas. For long hours those officials did not know the nationality of the attacking aircraft. One Cabinet official thought the attack had come from the Egyptians; another official of equivalent rank thought the attack had come from the Russians; the truth, when established, was that the attack had been made by the Israeli Air Force.

One good thing can be said for the U. S. Liberty incident: Washington officials counted to ten so they had time to get a full report and thus avoided turning an unfortunate incident into a war.

Not as much can be said for the Government's response to alleged unprovoked attacks in the Gulf of Tonkin in August 1964 on the U. S. destroyers Turner Joy and Maddox. In retaliation, the United States within hours began its devastating involvement in the war in Vietnam by bombing North Vietnamese PT concentrations. Even before the American retaliation was begun, the captain of the United States destroyer Maddox was sending a message to his superiors that there should be a "complete evaluation" of the second of the earlier reported enemy attacks before any further action. "Freak weather effects" and an "overzealous sonar man," messaged Captain Herrick, made the alleged attack appear doubtful.

It was too late. The machinery of military retaliation was underway. Congress gave the President the green light to send over 50,000 Americans to death in Vietnam. It was four years later before the full facts of the Tonkin incident began to come to light — that the first attack had been provoked by United States supported incursions into North Vietnam waters and the second attack most likely was a figment of imagination.

No President or Secretary of State automatically acquires higher intelligence or better judgment because he has assumed a public office. Indeed, government officials — as all of us — have a tendency to believe what they want to believe — that their policies are working. In a free society, however, citizens have a responsibility to inject a question or two, now and then; a duty to be skeptical.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

Testing Tires with Laser, Computer Laser beams and computers on wheels represent the latest devices used by tire manufacturers for product quality control and research and development.

The laser beam is used to take tire measurements accurate to within a thousandth of an inch to provide tire development engineers information to evaluate rubber compounds and other materials used in manufacturing tires.

The laser beam is bounced off the tires in much the same way space scientists bounce more intense laser beams off the moon. By measuring the reflected light, the engineers can determine tread depth and other tire dimensions just as scientists determine the exact distance to an orbiting satellite. The laser system is capable of recording a thousand measurements a second.

The "computer on wheels" is used to measure the performance of experimental passenger car tires. Data gathered from these tests are used by tire manufacturers to develop new and improved tread designs and rubber compounds for production tires. The computer is installed in the back seat of a club-car pickup truck, while test tires are mounted on a specially designed trailer equipped with remote controlled brakes and towed by the truck. The weight of the trailer can be varied to simulate either the front or rear axle of an automobile. Tests conducted while the truck-trailer rig are designed to measure the traction ability of the tires.

The test trailer is used instead of an automobile to test tires in order to eliminate variables like the car's suspension system and other components which could distort the data. Tests are run under varying load conditions, at different speeds and on all types of roads, simulating the requirement tires must meet under normal driving conditions.

A budget that shows a definite trend toward austerity was adopted Saturday by the Board of Trustees of Nebraska State Colleges during its regular meeting held in Chadron.

Recognizing the depressed condition of Nebraska's top industry, agriculture, the board members pared the requests submitted by each of the four state colleges — Chadron, Kearney, Peru and Wayne.

However, the chairman of the budget committee, Dr. William Colwell of Chadron, noted that the board is not planning to "forsake our responsibility of providing a quality education for the young people of Nebraska. At this time we must economize so as to get the maximum efficiency from the manpower, equipment and other resources that the colleges possess."

The board decided to make no salary budget request because members said insufficient guidelines have been received from the governor and the legislature. Salaries make up 79 per cent of the general fund appropriation.

The board will seek a 6.4 per cent hike in other general fund items, primarily to offset the loss of purchasing power caused by inflation.

The trustees will also recommend that out-of-state tuition, now set at $27.50 per hour, be reduced to $15.50 per hour, the same as Nebraska students now pay, on a four-year pilot project to help increase enrollment and fill dormitories.

The plan was originated by J. Alan Cramer of Wayne, who has called it an economic investment because the out-of-state students would spend a considerable amount of money in the state. The concept would remain in effect only as long as no new facilities or staff were needed to handle the increase.

In lieu of major capital construction expenditures, the board recommended that about $700,000 be appropriated for the first year of a three-year program of improving maintenance and operation of existing facilities.

The capital construction projects that were approved total about $800,000. In summary they are:

Wayne — $75,000 to demolish an old industrial arts building, $60,000 for resurfacing of the track and $10,000 for planning the remodeling of the humanities building.

Chadron — $350,000 for the third and final phase of remodeling the administration building, $3,000 for planning an athletic field and $40,000 for land acquisition.

Kearney — $25,000 for landscaping and replacement of trees and $60,000 for outdoor recreational facilities.

Peru — $230,000 for phase two of a health and physical education building.

On a system-wide basis, $379,000 will be sought for support of utilities for revenue bond facilities such as dormitories and student centers.

All four of the schools will seek funds ranging from $7,200 to $9,800 for the support of women's athletics.

Less than half of the other items under new and expanded programs submitted by the colleges will be forwarded to the legislature. Most of those approved are for the replacement of equipment or to bolster existing service programs.

Near Redfield, Iowa we're storing natural gas deep underground. During the summer and fall we pump the gas 3,000 feet below the surface, under dome-like rock formations. The rock below the dome is porous and holds gas like a sponge.

When the cold of winter comes and the demand for gas increases, we pump it back up into our pipeline for delivery to your home.

On the coldest days, over 12% of the natural gas throughout our pipeline system comes from the underground storage facility at Redfield. Enough gas to supply approximately 230,000 residential consumers.

Why Redfield? It's one of the few areas with the right kind of rock formations for underground storage. And it's close to our main pipeline so we can get gas to you quickly in the winter when it's needed most.

Meanwhile, 3,000 feet above our energy warehouse, the cattle graze contentedly and the corn grows tall. Developing underground storage is just one of the things Northern is doing, and will continue to do, to keep that clean, efficient blue flame burning at your house. Falling Leaves
Many people believe that leaves fall from trees in the fall because of the colder weather, but the real reason is shorter days.

Trees that are kept warm artificially will still lose their leaves as the days shorten. Trees lighted artificially for the same amount of time each day will retain their leaves longer after temperatures have dropped.

When the days of autumn shorten, a chemical change takes place in the leaf stalk where it joins the twig. The substance binding the cells breaks down, and the leaf eventually falls to the ground.

Fertilize Lawns
Now is the ideal time to fertilize bluegrass lawns. During the cool months of September, October and early November bluegrass develops underground roots and stems.

Complete fertilizers, those which contain nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, are most effective when used in the fall. An application of 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet is sufficient.

Most fertilizers should be applied when grass blades are dry. Water the lawn thoroughly immediately after application. Fertilizers which contain broad leaf weed killers should not be watered for one or two days after application.

Caution on Grub Control
Here are some warnings on use of grub control insecticides:

- Do not treat calves less than three months old.
- Do not treat in conjunction with other insecticide treatments or veterinary medicines.
- Do not treat after October.
- Following treatment, if animals show a weakness in rear legs, have a staggering walk, diarrhea, increased salivation, bloat or grunt, consult your veterinarian.
- Carefully follow directions regarding number of days required between treatment and slaughter.

Do not treat lactating dairy animals. Non lactating dairy cattle can be treated with Cor-Ral, Fomphor or Ruelene, but follow directions of days required between treatment and freshening. Do not use feed additives for dairy animals.

Intersection Work Half Done

THE INTERSECTION at Seventh and Logan in Wayne was scheduled to be open again for two-way traffic today.

Thursday, after municipal street department employees had the east half of their job of smoothing out the dip and grading the intersection. Street department superintendent Vern Schulz said his employees would probably begin work on the south half of the intersection Monday, opening the completed intersection to traffic about two weeks after that. The south half of the job will include extensive grading to accommodate trucks and farm machinery using Logan to go to and from the business district. Schulz said his employees may finish work on widening and improving the intersection at Fairground Avenue and Main Street and the intersection at Third and Winton if bad weather doesn't set in.

4 Area Men Handling ASC Crop Appraising

The Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office has hired and trained four men to handle crop appraising duties for ASCS, according to Ray Butts, ASCS executive director.

The four men are Duane Creamer, Carroll Dennis, Cull Wayne, Ron Ring, Wayne, and Dale Stollenberg, Carroll.

The appraisers are needed because the drought in the county is causing unusually low yields of feed grain crops. Butts said. The 1974 feed grain program allows disaster payments for low yields on corn, grain sorghum, barley and wheat, he noted.

Production that cannot be measured in the bin or crib will have to be appraised in the field, said Butts, who noted that corn or sorghum that is to be cut for silage, fed directly to livestock, grazed, abandoned or stored in a high moisture bin will have to be appraised.

The appraisers are unable to visit all fields prior to cutting silage, resulting in making it necessary for farmers to leave strips in the fields to be appraised, the director said. As soon as the appraisal is completed, the strips can be cut, although many producers will be leaving the strips to catch snow and for wildlife, he added.

Butts noted that some farmers do not realize they have to come in and make application for the low yield payments. Producers were required to report their acreages after planting last spring, but have to come in again to make the disaster application, he emphasized.

Irrigation Is Big Plus For Farmers

Irrigation could be worth $69.7 million extra to Nebraska farmers raising corn for grain this year, according to Dr. William Splinter, chairman of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Agricultural Engineering.

That is a conservative estimate based on the presumption that the production forecast for the state on Aug. 1 stands up and using a conservative on-farm price of $3 per bushel, he said.

Corn production on three million irrigated acres has been estimated at 102 bushels per acre for a total of 306 million bushels, he said.

Dryland corn production is estimated at 28.7 bushels per acre, 73.3 bushels less than irrigated corn, a total of 219.9 million bushels difference for the three million irrigated acres if it were not for irrigation, Splinter said.

However, the added yields are not all profit, he pointed out. Continuous irrigation during hot, dry July and August not only was costly in fuel and labor, it put a severe drain on ground water supplies in some areas, he said.

Such heavy use of ground water points up the importance of water conservation practices developed by Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources engineers. Splinter pointed out.

One of them has been widely adopted and saved much water this year, he said. That is reuse systems, which are pits in which the water running off fields is collected and then pumped back into the irrigation pipes, he said.

Another system, which is waiting on commercial production of a new valve invented by Paul Fischbach, NU extension irrigator, is automated surface irrigation, Splinter said.

Automatic control of gravity irrigation sets in the future will enable farmers to control the use of water more closely through use of the programmed soil moisture depletion technique, he said. This technique puts enough water into the soil to grow top crops, but leaves room for any rain that might fall, thus avoiding too much irrigation and keeping nitrogen from being leached out of the root zone, Splinter explained.

Farmers in the Custer Public Power District are on their second year of using scheduling techniques, mostly with center pivot systems, he said. Their primary object at the start was to schedule irrigation during the time of day when electric power demand is lowest, thus reducing the peak power demand on which rates are based, he said.

The programmed soil moisture depletion technique can be adapted now to center pivot systems, Splinter pointed out.

Wide adoption of such water saving practices will be even more important to Nebraska as the number of irrigated acres continues to grow, he said.

Irrigated acres in Nebraska went from five million in 1973 to 5.25 million this year and can be expected to continue to grow at the same rate or more into the foreseeable future, he said.

Such a growth in demand for irrigation water can result in some areas running out or having use strictly regulated by law unless all possible conservation practices are adopted, Splinter said.

WHS Grad Is Named 'Outstanding'

A 1970 graduate of Wayne High School, Gregg Jager, has been selected for inclusion in Outstanding Young Men of America for 1974. According to the chairman of the board of advisors for the national award publication.

Jager, 22, is a shop foreman at an implement dealership in Ravenna. A graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis. He has been employed at Ravenna for just over two years.

GREGG JAGER

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jager, who farm three miles north and four and one quarter miles west of Wayne.

Now in his 10th year, Outstanding Young Men of America is an annual biographical compilation sponsored by leading men's civic, service and professional organizations. The awards volume features the accomplishments of approximately 6,300 young men of exceptional abilities and achievements from across the country. Criteria for inclusion in the publication are service to others, professional excellence, business advancement, charitable activities and civic and professional recognition. The young men chosen are between the ages of 21 and 35.

Nominations for the awards publication are made by civic organizations, Jaycee chapters, college alumni associations and military commandants.

The 1974 edition of the publication is scheduled for printing and national distribution in November.

'Leaf Spots Seldom Serious'

Leaf spot diseases of shade trees frequently cause the home owner worry and concern, and while these diseases are conspicuous and falling leaves in mid-summer are disturbing, the damage they actually do is rarely as serious as the symptoms would suggest.

There are many different leafspot diseases of shade trees but those described here are the most common in Nebraska, according to the University of Nebraska extension service plant pathologists.

Elm Black Spots: This fungus disease may occasionally cause premature defoliation in wet seasons. Infected leaves turn yellow and show noticeable coal black spots scattered over the upper surface of the leaves. The disease will attack all elms, but is especially more severe on Siberian elms.

Maple Tar Spot: Hard and red maples are often attacked by this disease but the most severe infections occur on soft maple. Tar spot first appears as pale yellow to green spots on the upper leaf surface. Later these spots enlarge, become raised, and turn black. Heavy infections can cause early leaf cast.

Tulip Tree Leafspot: Tulip trees, white and Lombardy poplar, and cottonwoods are attacked by this disease. Small, circular, reddish brown spots with dark margins characterize this disease. The spots usually increase in size until most of the leaf is infected. Early defoliation will often follow.

Walnut Leaf Spot: Walnuts are very susceptible to leaf spotting organisms. These cause irregular dark brown spots on the leaves. Walnuts infected early in the growing season may be seriously damaged by this disease.

Secondary Leafspots: Late in the season, several secondary leaf spots may occur on shade trees. These occur only when leaves have passed their peak growth or are suffering from scorch or nutritional deficiency.

Most of the fungi that cause leaf spots on shade trees survive the winter in fallen debris, the pathologists note, and for this reason thorough fall raking is an effective way of eliminating the source from which the disease originates.

CARROLL VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS
September 7, 1974
Carroll, Nebraska
The Board of Trustees for the Village of Carroll met in regular session on the above date with the following members present: Joy Tucker, Howard McLain, Ken Eddie, Dennis Rohde and Lyle Cunningham. The meeting was conducted by Chairman McLain.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The following bills were presented for payment by the Clerk:
The Wayne Herald $20.16 and $47.97
Olids and Swarts 10.00
League of Nebraska 125.00
Municipalities 3.99
Good Housekeeping 2.40
Alice Rohde (mileage) 2.40
Wayne County Public Power 191.06
Wayne Skeigas, Inc. 40.30
Harry Nelson 50.00
Walter Reithwisch 100.00
Lena Reithwisch 100.00
Ray Junch 295.00

A motion was made by Lyle Cunningham and seconded by Dennis Rohde that all bills be allowed. A roll call vote was taken with all members voting yes.

Chairman McLain reported that Lysstad's Exterminators of Norfolk are taking care of the rat control program at the city dump.

Cunningham and Rohde reported that three fire hydrants have been purchased. Cunningham will install these. A discussion followed on locations for the new hydrants. It was the general consensus of opinion that they should be used to replace the hydrants in town that most need to be replaced.

New business.

A discussion of a countywide police protection system was the first item of new business. If and when such action can be set up, the board is in favor of its creation.

Lighting for the town's ball park was discussed. Money for the assistance of the league in getting lights, has been appropriated from the Revenue Sharing Fund. When the lights are installed the money will be made available to Merlin Jenkins, the treasurer of the league, to help pay for these lights.

The motion was made by Cunningham and seconded by Rohde that since there was no further business the meeting should be adjourned. All members voted yes. The next regular meeting will be at 8 p.m. on October 1, 1974.

Inexperienced Lakeview Crew Working with Good Attitude

"We're in a rebuilding year with little experience and no depth," commented Coach Fred Kobza about his 1974 Lakeview grid squad. The Viking mentor has 43 out in the varsity program, including nine seniors and two junior lettermen.

454 yards on the ground last season, while adding 126 on 11 receptions and returning seven kickoffs for 104 yards.

The addition of senior Rick Thomas and junior Bill Shanle gives the backfield a pair of 5.1 sprinters.

"With little experience and no depth we will be forced to go both ways which is not good," noted Coach Kobza who added, "our attitude is really good and they worked hard all summer and showed up in good shape."

Only two veterans are holdovers from a glossy 7-1-2 season that included a share of the Husker Conference Championship. Seniors Kelly Saalfeld, 6-3, 215, and Vern Fittje, 6-0, 210, anchor the line.

Additional top line prospects at the moment are Tim Koch, 6-3, 190; Darrell Rickert, 6-0, 175, and Rocky Plettner, 5-10, 175. "We're somewhat smaller than in the past, but we may be able to balance out our line with some weight, speed and quickness," said Kobza.

The Viking backfield will have some speed with senior Paul Muhle who posted a 4.9 in the 40 dash. Muhle gained

Season "Looks Good" to Emerson-Hubbard Coach

Although he is fielding thirteen lettermen this year, Emerson Hubbard Coach L. "Hack" Philby sees the 1974 75 Pirate Football Team as being able to handle the job. "With improvements on the offensive line," says Philby, "and with an excellent back field situation since Steve Lange at quarterback has become familiar with the task the season looks good."

"Ideally," notes Philby, "we'd like to have a balance between a running game and passing game, but our personnel determines what must be done. This year with our good backs we'll be more concerned with a running attack; depending of course on how well our line can handle the defense."

"Last year's record wasn't the best (2 wins, 7 losses)," admits Philby, "but it was the first year in the Husker Conference where the competition improved considerably from the previous year. As far as we are concerned the competition is good for us. I don't feel we'll have to take the back seat to any team in the conference if our boys are mentally ready."

Returning lettermen for the Pirates this year are D. J. Hassler, Doug Erickson, John Lempke, Gary Vraspir, Steve Lange, Perry Henderson, Kevin Hansen, Scott Sorensen, Dan McGowen, Steve Bowder, Phil Stenwall, Alan Fuchser and Max Loetscher.

Looking at the upcoming season and the fifty-one freshmen and sophomores playing football this year Philby and Assistant Coach Tim Casey will tell you "the future looks good... but we're not going to ignore this year.

Hartington, Columbus Lakeview and Wayne will be the teams to beat in the Husker Conference and we'd like to do just that."

Good Luck Hartington CC Trojans!

15 Starters Return to Lead Hartington CC Trojans

With seven offensive and eight defensive starters returning this year, the outlook is bright for Coach Gary Dunn's Trojans. Returning offensive starters include Dan Hoelsing, center, Al Steffen, guard, Dave Schmidt, tackle, Tom Schieffer, quarterback, Jody Kathol, back, Bill Pinkelman, back, and Jon Wieseler, back. Returning starter, Al Steffen, will probably miss the first two games due to a late summer hernia operation, but could be ready for the third game. Defensive starters returning include interior linemen, Dan Hoelsing and Dave Schmidt end, Bill Pinkelman, linebackers, Jon Wieseler and Loran Wortmann, and defensive backs, Jody Kathol, Dan Noecker and Tim Leise. Defensively, Cedar Catholic should be much stronger than last year with these returning eight starters even though All Conference linebacker Fred Steffen and All-Conference defensive tackle Gene Scholt have graduated. All Conference defensive end Bill Pinkelman and middle line backer Jon Wieseler will lead the defense with two returning linemen and a complete and sound secondary all returning. Others working hard to break into the defensive unit include Mike Hochstein, Scott Hochstein, Emery Heine, Collin Becker, Tim Bruning, Ray Steffen and Steve Bruening. The offense will be different this year for Cedar Catholic in that the backfield should be the strong point this year. For the past two years this has been the apparent weakness for Cedar Catholic. Pleasantly for them, this has changed. Leading the candidates for the spots vacated on offense by graduation are linemen Galen Kathol, Rich Lange, Ed Steffen, Dan Noecker, Dollin Becker, Loran Wortmann, Al Hoelsing and Emery Heine. Backs that are contending are Tim Leise, Frank Hochstein, Ray Steffen, Scott Hochstein, and the four returning starters. Placekicker Jody Kathol is also returning this year. Last year he not only was a consistent PAT kicker, but also kicked two field goals.

Coaches Roundup

Head Coach Gary Dunn is in his sixth season as football coach at Cedar Catholic High School. He and his staff of assistant coaches including Dick Fitzgerald, offensive back coach, Ray Weier, reserves, and Tim Fjellested, defense are enthusiastically looking forward to the 1974 season. With a majority of his starters returning the season could easily be reversed from the record of 37 for 1973. Coach Dunn believes that Cedar Catholic will be a strong conference champion candidate.

1973 Record

In its first year as a member of the West Husker Conference, Cedar Catholic ended with a 37 record. Cedar had been a young team with the entire backfield new in 1973, and returning as veterans in 1974.

Big Backfield

Things appear a little different as the football squad

works out this year. The backfield for the Trojans are physically bigger than the linemen that will be doing the blocking up front for them.

Full back Bill Pinkelman stands 6'2" and weighs 215 pounds, fullback Jon Wieseler is 6'1" and weighs 185 pounds, quarterback Tom Schieffer is 6'3" and weighs 190 pounds, and the smallest of the backs is halfback Jody Kathol that is 5'10" and 175 pounds. This is something different for the Trojans who usually rely on the big linemen and the smaller backs.

The 1974 Madison Dragon Football Squad

Ernst: Players Must Work to Chalk Up Successful Season

Coaches are notoriously reluctant to forecast results, and Dragon Football Coach LeRoy Ernst is no exception.

Coach Ernst was not too happy with the showing of his squad during the annual soap scrimmage and he told the Star Mail that the outcome of the season depended upon the ability of the team to improve.

"We have some very good material, but they need a lot of polishing," Ernst said. "If the players are willing to hang in there and keep trying, we can get the job done."

The 55 men, including 14

lettermen, who are out for the team this year are very encouraging. Ernst said that he was not familiar with many of the teams that his squad will meet. He added that the type of ball played by the opponents had a definite bearing on the number of games that could be won.

The Madison Dragons appear to have taken on fresh spirit with the coming of Coach Ernst. The squad finished the 1973 season with a record of two wins, six losses and one tie. For the 1972 season, the tally stood at two wins and seven losses.

Trojans' Attitude Key to Successful '74 Grid Season

By Lefty Olson

The Wakefield Trojans must counterbalance a lack of size and inexperience with a good attitude and an eagerness for contact if the Maroon are to repeat the winning season of a year ago.

With 18 lettermen returning there would appear to be no shortage of experience, however that group includes only five who return from the defensive or offensive starting lineups.

Leading the returnees is defensive end Chuck Lindstrom, who will be seeking a fourth monogram. Other seniors returning are Pat Nicholson and Chuck Leonard, both from starting berths; and these 1973 squad members, Al Jensen, Ray Jensen, Loran Victor, Ken Dolph, Doug Schwarten, Randy Kahl, Lee Echtenkamp and Tom Hattig.

Scott Mills and Merrill Hale, both starters as sophomores, lead the junior lettermen. Others are Tim Rouse, Mike Soderberg, Steve Greve, Baxter Brown and Scot Keagle.

An additional letterman picked up by way of transfer is sophomore Mike Myers. Myers, a promising candidate, played his frosh year at Verdigre.

Hale is the heaviest athlete at 215 pounds. The weight chart then drops sharply, as Keagle and Ray Jensen will be the only other starters scaling more than 175 pounds.

Coach John Torczon, starting his fourth year at Wakefield, does call this his quickest team, and he expects that speed to offset some of the lack of size.

With so many new faces in the starting lineup, Coach Torczon labels the team's progress as "slow." An open date the first football weekend was expected to aid the Trojans' preparation for its Friday night opener at Allen.

Junior Mike Soderberg will be taking over the quarterbacking, replacing graduated brother Doug. The other backfield spots are in doubt with seniors Pat Nicholson, Loran Victor, Doug Schwarten, and Randy Kahl, and juniors Scott Mills and Tim Rouse battling for positions. Kahl and Mills have been slowed by minor injuries.

Continuing the offensive lineup, Baxter Brown appears to have won the center spot. Other interior line positions are scrambled with Ray Jensen, Al Jensen and Chuck Lindstrom, seniors; Steve Greve and Merrill Hale, juniors; and sophomore Mike Myers bidding for the jobs.

At end Ken Dolph and Scot Keagle have the most experience.

Although many of those starting offensively will also share defensive duties, there are some exceptions. Chuck

Leonard and Lee Echtenkamp, both seniors, will devote most of their time to defense. Two promising sophomores, Dan Byers and Dave Gustafson, likely will gain most of their early time with the defenders.

The kicking game has Al Jensen and Doug Schwarten with practiced toes. Jensen will be seeking his fourth letter, gaining an early start with his kicking ability. Scot Keagle will be handling the additional assignment of punter.

Coach Torczon, who concentrates his pre-season duties with the linemen is assisted by Joe Coble, who has the backfield responsibility, and Dennis Chipman is handling the freshmen. Chipman is a newcomer to the coaching staff, having previously been an assistant at Lewellen.

Wakefield To Miss Husker All-Stars

The Trojans must fill the shoes of three Husker West all-stars. Gone are quarterback Doug Soderberg, half-back Keith Siebrandt, and defensive back Doug Fischer.

Others graduated from the 1973 Trojans, 63 for their best mark in nearly ten years, were end Larry Siebrandt, linemen Loren Hammer, Don Lindstrom, Sam Utech, Roger Gustafson, and Randy Bargholz; backs Jerry Munter, Kevin Bengston and Steve Sorenson.

Soderberg and Sorenson both are taking a crack at the college game. Soderberg enrolled as a football candidate at Kearney State and Sorenson took the jersey of the University of South Dakota at Springfield. Sorenson's career was momentarily halted, however, by a broken leg in the first practice week.

Trojan freshmen coached by Dennis Chipman are working out apart from the varsity and have their own schedule.

The frosh reported for fall drills include Lyle Borg, Paul Dahlgren, Verdel Ekberg, Val Johnson, Craig Nelson, Bill Newton, Tim Prochaska, Dean Sharp, Chuck Sherer, Jeff Simpson and John Viken.

Wayne High Blue Devils' Biggest Asset Is Depth

Depth at every position will be one of Wayne High's biggest assets this season when the Blue Devils open play in the West Husker Conference.

Coach Allen Hansen has 21 lettermen with speed and versatility shaping both of offense and defense.

The offense especially will be adept at moving the ball as effectively on the ground as in the air. The four main horses in the backfield — alternating quarterbacks Marty Hansen and Paul Mallette, and backs Rod Hoops and Mark Brandt — bring in the speed, averaging 4.9 seconds, or better, for the 40-yard dash.

Both Hansen and Mallette are strong end-around runners. Hoops is the top choice for the up-the-middle plays as the 6-2, 195 pound senior bolts out of the fullback position.

The other back, sophomore Brandt, also has the strong characteristics of a fullback, but has the added quick moves which could make him the best open field runner on the squad.

But running isn't their only specialty. All four are top pass receivers, giving coach Hansen probably the best chances for breaking open the passing game.

Quarterback Hansen, a senior three year letterman and all-conference back last year, has the best throwing arm of the two signal callers, especially on the long plays. But don't underestimate Mallette's ability, Hansen warns. The junior two-year letterman is quick on rollouts and best at the quick pass-over-center plays.

A look at the offensive front line shows Wayne won't have the heaviest line in the loop, but it probably will be one of the strongest.

The five-man front starts off with one of the top center prospects for all-conference honors — 6-1, 195-pound senior Mike Meyer. Meyer's the heaviest on the line before the weight tapers to 188 and 174 for senior guards three-year letterman Rick Mitchell and Don Nelson. Tackles Larry Creighton, the only junior on the starting line, and Gordon Emry, a senior, come in at 172 and 182 respectively.

Probably starting ends will be seniors Earle Overin and Jack Froehlich.

Backup personnel on the line include: ends, Steve Brandt, Dave Hix; tackles, Dennis Magnuson, Dave Sherry; guards, Mike Manes, Greg Noyes; center, Brian Frevert.

Second unit backfield players include: Dick Chapman, Mike Wieseler and Ritch Workman, with Rob Mitchell and Pat Dorcey third on the list.

That mostly-senior offensive team will double for the most part on defense — shaping up another strong unit.

Some changes include senior veteran Gary Hansen as nose guard. Frevert and Steve Brandt get the starting nod as linebacker and half-back.

Altogether Hansen has 50 players out. Seniors and sophomores number 18 each while there are 14 juniors.

Coaches Corner

There's no doubt in the minds of Wayne High football followers that their team has to be one of the top choices to win the West division of the Husker Conference.

But coach Allen Hansen believes that there are other teams in the division that have an equal shot at the title.

For instance, Hartington Cedar Catholic. Hansen believes the Trojans again will be strong this year with Columbus Lakeview also in the running to repeat as division king.

"We're looking forward to both contests this year since Hartington (Cedar Catholic) and Columbus (Lakeview) will be here," Hansen said.

Last year the locals dropped both contests in close contests. Lakeview came from behind to nip Wayne, 15-12, and Hartington beat the Devils, 17-12.

Hansen added that he's not taking any team in the West division lightly. "They're all tough," he nodded.

Hansen, in his ninth year at the helm, is hoping the first two contests against South Sioux City and Blair will sharpen the team before its West Husker opener with Wisner-Pilger Friday.

Again helping Hansen this year will be Don Koenig and Ron Carnes. Carnes handles the offensive line and Koenig tackles the defense.

W-P Gators Plan to Improve '73 Grid Record

The 1974 West Husker football season gets underway Friday and for the Wisner-Pilger Gators, they can only think of improving last year's 1-6-2 record.

Seventeen lettermen return to bolster the 50 man squad and it's among these 17 lettermen that Coach Bob Rabe and his staff hopes to put together a successful campaign.

Defense could be the strong point of the Gators where 9 starters return off last year's squad that allowed 155 points. Leading the list of defenders is Kent Meyer, a stocky 190 pound middle guard that was leading tackler last year in tackles with 100. The senior from Pilger will again anchor the line, doubling at guard on offense.

Last year's runnerup letter returns for his final season but for Danny Kane, his position may be different. He played linebacker last year and may be moved to a cornerback on defense. Kane figured in on 95 stops last year. He will be called on to share quarterback duties with Brad Grahleer, in addition to anchoring the defensive secondary.

Other defensive standouts returning are Rod Kindschuh, Bill Tannehill, Tom Donner, Bruce Hansen, Dennis Schultz, Steve Heller, Tom Podany and Clark Schmidt.

If the line play improves on offense, opponents may see only the heels of speedy Craig Stueve this fall. The quick senior halfback led the Gators in total offense last year, picking up 566 yards in 100 carries. He also returned 13 kickoffs for 356 yards and picked up 108 yards returning 10 punts. Stueve led the Gators in scoring last year with 42.

Stueve will be joined in the backfield by Rod Kindschuh and Bruce Hansen at running backs with Danny Kane and Brad Grahleer at quarterback. Pushing for starting berths are lettermen Mark McGill and Grant Broekemeier.

The Gator front line is the big question mark for the coaching staff. Coach Rabe has named Bill Tannehill at center, Kent Meyer and Tom Donner at guards, Dennis Schultz and Steve Heller at tackles, Mike Heller at tight end and Jeff Greves at split end. While many of these players have experience, many of the positions are new this fall and it may take a couple games under their belt before they really function together properly. Depth, according to Rabe, could present a problem should injuries occur.

Mark Nosal, a senior let terman, was lost last week when he suffered a broken leg during a practice session. He was counted on to play a defensive position this fall.

Mark McGill will handle the kicking with several Gators trying out to handle punting chores. The kicking game was one of the Gators' strong points last year, handled by graduated Tim McMaster.

There are a lot of "ifs" for the green and white this fall. "If" the line play improves over last year, the Gators could score more points, especially with the experienced speed of Craig Stueve toting the ball. And "if" the defense is as strong on the field as it is on paper, the Gators will present a formidable task for opponents this 1974 football season. And if these "ifs" come true, it could be a banner year for the Gators.

Assisting Coach Bob Rabe, who is in his second year at Wisner-Pilger, are Gerald Kassir, Doug Nollette and Norm Weber.

Mustangs Look For Good Season

Although he is new to Stanton this year, Head Coach Ken Cornwell is looking for big things from his Mustang squad. He says he realizes that he has only four seniors on the squad, but there are 12-lettermen and that kind of experience should stand the team in good stead.

Last year's 6-3-1 record is something to shoot at, and the new mentor is "ready to go."

The only problem right at the moment is senior tackle and linebacker Rick Siefken who is suffering from a poison ivy infection, but he will be ready to go before the conference competition begins.
