

Breakfast Earns Community Chest Close to $1,300

by HORVIN HANSEN
Wayne business owners and managers gave more than $1,290 to the Community Chest during an advance gifts breakfast Wednesday morning.

Twenty-three people donated a total of $1,292 during the breakfast, held to give an early boost to the drive to raise $11,450 and to give employees an opportunity to conduct drives within their own businesses if they wish.

Vera Hummel, secretary of the Community Chest, said the figures donated from the advance gifts breakfast could go even higher since another 14 persons took their donation cards with them and will likely turn them back in within the next few days.

The nearly 30 people who turned out for the breakfast at Wayne State's Student Union was fewer than the board of directors had hoped for. Most business owners and managers were invited to the breakfast along with many of the larger donors from last year's fund drive.

Although the number was small, the average donation given during the breakfast was over $40 each, giving board members reason to believe that the $11,450 goal can be reached if other businessmen follow suit and if individuals contacted by workers donate their fair share.

The actual fund drive, which board members hope can be completed in two weeks, will not start until Monday, Sept. 24 when a breakfast is held at the Student Union for all captains and their workers who will be making individual solicitations for funds. That breakfast is set for 7 a.m., with coffee and rolls served at 50 cents per person.

Shown during Wednesday's breakfast was a short film titled "The Turning Point" which had actor Cliff Robertson playing the role of a person who found himself in need of help from the United Way after the death of his wife and the loss of his job. Wayne's Community Chest is the same as the United Way campaign conducted nationally each fall.

That short film, which will be shown again at the Sept. 30th kickoff breakfast, is available to any civic organizations or groups in the community which would like to use it as part of a meeting program.

If Wayne reaches its goal of $11,450 this year, the money will be distributed in the following manner: $2,600 to the local recreation program, $745 to the local Senior Citizens Center, $2,000 each to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, $700 to the Red Cross, $1,400 to the Salvation Army, $550 to the Arthritis Foundation, $300 to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation and $150 to the Florence Crittenton Home in Sioux City, a home for unwed mothers.

This year's goal is slightly smaller than last year's $12,000 goal, a goal which was missed by a few hundred dollars.

day's breakfast that the Community Chest was organized several years ago in order to cut down the number of drives held in Wayne.

The annual drive "in effect saves the manpower for eight individual drives as well as the advertising and administration costs," he noted.

"If we can show that the businesses support the Community Chest, it will be easier to sell the drive to the general public," he noted.

Drive chairman Ernie Thayer said that few people can disagree that the Community Chest fund drive is a valuable function in Wayne each year. "Reaching that goal is a very important part of community spirit," he said.

Mayor Freeman Decker complimented the businessmen who attended the breakfast for their willingness to support community efforts such as the fund drive, noting that businessmen are too often asked to make contributions.

"I would hope that you would deem this as one of those worthy projects that deserve your full support. I encourage See COMMUNITY CHEST, page 5

Local Minister Latest to Win Birthday Bucks

A Wayne minister became the latest winner in the weekly Birthday Bucks promotion in Wayne when he won last week's consolation prize.

The Rev. Larry Ostercamp, minister of the Evangelical Free Church, collected $25 by being the shopper in a participating business with the birthday bucks closest to the date drawn at random earlier. At Wayne Shoe Co. at the time the winning date was announced, he received Birthday Bucks coupons which may be spent just like cash in any participating firm.

This week's grand prize climbs $25 to $450 as a result of the grand prize going unclaimed again last week. That amount will be given away tonight (Thursday) if a person is present in one of the cooperating firms whose birthday matches the date drawn at random. The date will be announced at 8:15 p.m. If the grand prize is not claimed, another $25 consolation prize will be awarded and next week's grand prize will climb to $475.

LELAND FOOTE

Local Resident Named to Head Bank in Iowa

Leland Foote, vice president and agricultural officer at First National Bank in Wayne, will take over as president of Manning Trust and Savings Bank in Manning, Ia., on Oct. 14.

Foote, who has been associated with the Wayne bank for about the past eight and a half years, said he and his family will move to Manning as soon as housing is available.

A native of Genoa, Foote moved to Wayne from Plainview where he had been a vocational agriculture teacher. He holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and is a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Foote, 43, has been active in Chamber of Commerce events, heading up the appreciation banquet given for area farmers the past two years. He has been president of the local Lions Club and is currently a Lions deputy district governor. He also was president of the St. Mary's See PRESIDENT, page 5.

'Corn Appraisals Running Between 10-16 Bushels'

Yield appraisals on corn in Wayne County are running between 10 and 16 bushels to the acre, according to Ray Butts, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Butts said Wednesday morning that quite a few fields in the county to rate feed grain yields for farmers who will receive low yield disaster payments had appraised about 100 fields by earlier this week, Butts noted.

The four appraisers working in the county to rate feed grain yields for farmers who will receive low yield disaster payments had appraised about 100 fields by earlier this week, Butts noted.

Some 1,100 of 1,232 farmers in the county who had signed up for the feed grain program will likely benefit from the low yield payments, Butts said. Those farmers who did not sign up for the program are also eligible for payments, according to Butts.

Payments are 46 cents a bushel on corn and 44 cents a bushel on grain sorghum for farmers who will harvest less than half their normal yield because of this summer's drought, Butts said. Payments also are available for low yields on barley and wheat.

Butts noted that the appraisers will not have to appraise all fields of farmers who apply for the payments since much grain will be measured after farmers have stored it in a bin or crib.

However, those farmers who are cutting corn or sorghum for silage will have to leave strips standing in the fields so their yields can be appraised.

Butts noted that farmers have to come into the ASCS office in Wayne to make application for the low yield payments even though they reported their averages after planting last spring.

Working about the past two weeks as appraisers are Duane Creamer, Carroll, Ron Ring, Wayne, Dennis Luff, Wayne, and Dale Stoltenberg, Carroll.

In a related development, the Wayne County commissioners Tuesday approved a resolution amending a previous request that the county be considered a disaster area because of the drought. The amended resolution asks that the approval also be given because of frost and hail damage earlier this month.

That amended resolution will be turned over to the governor along with a report from the local Farmers Home Administration office, according to county clerk Norris Weible.

The governor in turn will give the request to the secretary of agriculture for his decision on whether to declare the county a disaster area. If that approval comes, farmers in the county would be eligible for low interest loans.

WS Teachers Tab Choices to Faculty Senate

The faculty of Wayne State College elected members of the Faculty Senate Monday, following adoption of a new constitution last week.

The School of Arts and Sciences elected Sayre-Anderson, who has been Senate president the past year, and Bruce Domatzky for one-year terms, Russell Rasmussen and Cornel Ronestad for two years.

The School of Professional and Applied Studies chose Gary Hudson and Steve Sayre for one-year terms, Mrs. Eena Adams and Morris Anderson for two years.

The short terms are intended to establish a rotation, with half the members staying on in each future election.

Oral Cancer Clinic Slated for Wayne

A free oral cancer detection clinic is planned for Sunday, Oct. 13, at the city auditorium in Wayne. The clinic is for Wayne County residents and surrounding areas.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Wayne County cancer unit and Dr. Gordon Shupe clinic. Dr. Wayne Wessel will examine local dentists and an oral surgeon from Omaha for the clinic.

There have been a number of oral clinics in other counties in Nebraska, prompting the Wayne County unit to sponsor one to encourage and dedicate the public on the value of a routine oral examination. Patients are informed of possible dental needs and referred to their own dentists.

WILD BERRIES and a sunflower create a pleasant fall picture as summer wanes into fall. The photograph was taken in a field near Wayne earlier this week.

High Costs, Money Scarcity, Leading to Improvements on Present Homes

Home improvement is the order of the day in Wayne County. Because of the high cost of new housing, the scarcity of mortgage money and economic conditions in general, many local families who had been thinking about buying new homes have apparently given up the idea for the present and are turning to sprucing up their present ones.

As a result, they have been putting a record amount of money into alterations, additions and repairs.

The figures indicate that their expenditures for such purposes came to a total of $1,018,000 in the past year. This is distinct from their normal month-to-month operating expenses.

The estimate is based upon sampling surveys that were conducted in all parts of the county by the Department of Commerce and upon data from industry sources. The finding is that the average amount spent by home owners in Wayne County's regional area during the year for upkeep and improvement was approximately $341 per dwelling unit, as against $366 nationally. In 1970, by way of comparison, only $291 was spent for similar purposes locally. Part of the increase was due to inflation, however.

For some home owners — those who went in for major repairs and improvements — the outlay ran much higher than average. Others, who may have done considerable overhauling a year or two earlier, did little this time.

ESU Test Center for Hearing in Operation

A WINDOW separates the two sound-proof rooms where audiologist Gary Vopalensky, left, and the client are seated for the hearing test.

Educational Service Unit 1, which serves public and parochial schools in a six-county area of Northeast Nebraska, has opened a new office in Wayne. Located in the Education Building on the Wayne State College campus, the satellite office will serve as an audiology testing center which features one of the few acoustical sound-proof hearing suites in Nebraska. Similar units are located in Lincoln and Omaha, according to audiologist Gary Vopalensky.

The 10 ESU 1 therapists will continue to test students in their own schools through use of portable audiometers as in the past, but students whose tests indicate hearing handicaps will be able to come to the ESU 1 office in Wayne for further testing. The more technical audio equipment here can determine if a hearing problem does exist, to what extent it exists, and where the problem area is. Then a remedial program can be developed by the unit to alleviate the problem.

If tests at the Wayne office indicate the problem can be corrected by medical procedures, the client is referred to his family physician for further help.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Joycelyn Smith

Substitute Honey for Sugar?

The ever-increasing price of sugar has developed interest in substituting honey for sugar in recipes. Situations differ, but it's not considered economical to substitute honey for sugar unless you have a surplus.

At the grocery store today one cup of sugar costs approximately 15¢ while one cup of honey costs approximately 46¢, more than double what sugar costs.

Honey can be substituted for sugar in most recipes, but the resulting product may vary somewhat.

When substituting honey it is necessary to adjust the amount of liquid in the recipe. One cup of honey contains about 1/4 cup water. Therefore, deduct 1/4 cup liquid for each cup of honey used in a recipe. Sweetness of one cup of sugar and honey is comparable so no adjustment is necessary for taste.

Honey's tendency to absorb moisture presents problems, particularly in frostings, confections, and crisp cookies. Since the amount of moisture absorbed tends to make baked products temperamental, the amount of flour used in any recipe in which honey is substituted for sugar may have to be changed. This has to be done by experimenting, adding a little at a time until the desired consistency of batter is achieved.

Be sure to consider cost and product results before substituting honey for sugar.

Volleyball Teams Clip Randolph

All three Wayne High girls volleyball teams chalked up wins Tuesday night, defeating Randolph at the WH gym. The varsity, with Kris Nedergaard serving 14 points for the night and Susan Jacobmeier playing a fine defensive game, topped the visitors in three games, 15-3, 12-15 and 15-10. "Susan recovered as well when they were thrown at her," coach Mavis Dalton pointed out after her team earned its third win against one defeat. Both the freshmen and reserves remained undefeated, each winning their fourth straight game. The freshmen, under the strong serving of Lisa Nuss with 11 points for both games, played the best 15-13 first game before blanking the visitors, 15-0. The reserves, however, had to go three games before they could claim their fourth win. Wayne won the first 15-13, then dropped the second, 8-15, before racking up another 15-13 victory. "It was a rough night for it didn't think they would pull it out the last minute," the coach added.

Allen Varsity, Reserves Fall in Opener to Ponca

Allen High's varsity volleyball team opened its season with a loss, falling to Ponca Tuesday night at Ponca. Both clubs had one win each in the best of three games, Allen 15-10 and Ponca 15-7. When Allen took an 8-3 lead in the last set. But the lead was short lived as the hosts came back to win, 15-8. "I'm afraid we were relaxed a little too much," said Allen's first year head coach, Steve McManigal, after his club shot into the lead. Despite Allen's loss, McManigal pointed out that his club played well considering Ponca's experience. "We'll come around with more experience," he added. For the first game, sophomore Lori Erwin led the club with eight serve points and 12 spikes. The B team fell in two matches, 15-6 and 15-7, while the C team won the first, 15-13, and lost the second, 15-2. Sophomore Lori VonMinden served 11 points.

Wakefield VB Teams Still Hot

CINDY JOHNSON

Wakefield's volleyball teams remain undefeated after their last Bancroft and Wisner Pilger Monday and Tuesday night. The varsity, sporting a 5-0 record, ripped Wisner 15-3 and 15-10 Tuesday with good serving from seniors Les Gardner and Les Utecht, scoring eight and seven points respectively. Sophomore Renee Wilson served 10 points in the reserves' three-game victory. The Trojans won the first, 15-6, dropped the second, 8-15, before beating Wisner, 15-0, for its fifth win. A struggling freshman match, coach Ernie Kovar's girls fell in the first game, 5-15, before winning two straight, 15-8 and 17-15. The freshmen stand at 2-0.

Against Bancroft, Wakefield notched two more match victories for the varsity and reserves. Senior Cindy Johnson, setting up good plays and "limiting" the opponents, added the Trojans to 15-3 and 15-7 victory wins Monday at Bancroft. Kovar pointed out. Then in the reserve games, junior Tamí Murphy served 14 points in the 15-13 and 15-7 wins to lead the Wakefield club. There was no freshman game.

WS Harriers Place Third

Wayne State's cross country team finished third among three in a meet Monday at the University of South Dakota. The Coyote runners won the first five places to post a perfect score of 15.

That left Wayne and USD Springfield to battle for second, and Springfield claimed that with 65 points. Wayne scored 70 Morningside did not show up. First Wayne runner to finish was Andy Myrtue, a freshman from Holstein, Ia., in 14th place. Behind him were Roger Kuhlman, Chip Hagerman, Dale Soht and John Solano.

Devils Ranked No. 2 by W-H

It's been a long time, but Wayne High has finally made the top 10 in Class B high school football ratings. The Devils are 2-0 after Friday's 28-14 beating of last year's top contender, Blair.

Ahead of Wayne is Lincoln Plus with a 1-1 mark. Writer Conde Sargent puts the Thunderbolts in front of the Devils because the Lincoln team blasted Omaha Northwest, 39-0, last week after dropping its opener, 20-10 to Class A-Lincoln High.

Sargent bills Friday night's game as one of the top Class B games in the state. The Gators dumped Columbus Lakeview in their West Husker Conference opener last Friday, 26-0, making them a loop contender.

Although the Devils are physically ready for the second home match of the season, they will be minus three varsity players. Two senior starters, fullback Rod Hoops and tackle Larry Creighton are ineligible for Friday's contest because of low grades. Defensive end sophomore Mike Wieseler is out for two weeks with a broken finger he suffered Friday.

WS Rips Yankton

Freshman quarterback Kevin Mahlberg of West Point passed for three touchdowns, to three different receivers, as Wayne State blanked Yankton, 30-0, in a junior varsity football game Monday at Yankton.

Mahlberg aerially crossed the goal line in the hands of Stan Simpson of Ogden, Ia., John Schmitter of Ewing and Randy Slaybaugh of Coon Rapids, Ia. Ken Nadrchal of Dodge accounted for another touchdown by rushing, and Joe O'Neill of Avoca, Ia., scored on a punt return.

Varsity coach Del Stollenberg, who watched while graduate assistant Terry Christensen directed the JV team, said he would mention several defensive players for good work: Duane Carrison, Hooper, Mark Campbell, Oakland, Ia., and Dave Carper, Scribner.

Stollenberg said he thought the team — mostly freshmen, with a few sophomores — turned in a creditable job overall. One shortcoming was the lack of extra points.

The Wayne JV has another game scheduled here at 4 p.m. Monday against Midland College's junior varsity. After that, one more contest is on the JV slate, with the Chadron State JV Oct. 21, to be played at Bassett at 7:30 p.m.

Still Time
There's still plenty of time for Wayne area youths to register for the 1974 Punt, Pass and Kick contest.

The contest, conducted by the Wayne Lions Club and sponsored by Wortman Auto, will be Oct. 5 at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium.

Youngsters eight through 13 years of age, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register at Wortman Auto. There is no registration fee.

Athlete Of The Week

GREGG LAGE
Winside High School

Describing Winside's Gregg Lage as tops in every high school sport he participates in wouldn't be too far from wrong.

The senior is the state's top Class C mile and two-miler, among the state's top five wrestlers in his weight division and is one of the leading rushers and receivers on the Wildcat football team.

Proof of how Lage, this week's "Athlete of the Week," excels in football came Friday night when he scored three touchdowns in Winside's 48-14 pasting of Tilden-Elkhorn Valley. For the night he totaled 77 yards on the ground and 107 yards in the air, a feat which coach Doug Barclay calls "legendous."

In the team's opener against Neligh of the Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference, Lage scored both TD's in that 12-6 victory.

Beginning this week, the "Athlete of the Week" award will feature a paragraph or two about athletes who rate an honorable mention. On that list this week are Wakefield's Mike Soderberg and Scott Mills, and Wayne's Paul Mallette. All three guided their clubs to victories.

Mallette fired two touchdown-passes in the Devils' 28-14 win over Blair; Soderberg and Mills each scored a touchdown in a 3-7 win over Allen. Mills, who led rushers with 112 yards in 13 carries, also had four extra points, including a two-point conversion.

Pierce advanced to the finals after downing Laurel, 15-2 and 15-10 in Monday night's opening rounds. Then the Bluejays fell dropped host Winside, 15-8 and 15-6. Emerson went three games

WS Refuses to Fold Despite 41-21 Defeat

Wayne State gridders, bent on reversing last week's misfortune, have another formidable task ahead facing Midland College Saturday night at Fremont.

Twice victorious Midland has proved it knows where the enemy goal is. The Warriors whipped Peru State 31-12, then Simpson 21-7.

For Wayne the problem will be to crank up its usually stingy defense and stop Midland's offensive line.

Last Saturday at Aberdeen, S. D. Wildcat defenses yielded more than 400 yards to a fired up Northern State team. Few teams in the last decade have done that to Wayne.

Coach Del Stollenberg noted a couple of reasons for the Northern performance. For one, the Wolves had lost a game they likely should have won the week before. For another, it was Gypsy Day (homecoming) at Aberdeen, and the Wolves had something to prove for a crowd of some 5,000. They did, with a 41-21 triumph.

But Stollenberg also observed that Wayne offense traveled a bit over 300 yards and refused to fold under determined Northern defense. The Cats, down 14-0 in the first quarter, rallied for a touchdown by fullback Brian Moeller early in the second period. He capped a 70 yard campaign with a four yard plunge, and Dean Oil kicked the point.

On the following kickoff return, Northern lost a fumble on its own 42, and there was Wayne, in fine position. But not long. On the next play, a Wildcat pass fell into Wolf hands, and three plays later Northern's Wayne Geary romped 58 yards to score. The kick failed, and that ended first half scoring at 20-7.

The Cats had another promising drive going before interception until a second interception blew it. Then Wayne defense stymied another Northern assault.

Wayne fumbled only once in the rugged battle, but that one turned the ball over to Northern, and the next play went for a touchdown on one of the few (few) Wolf passes. It covered 48 yards, Vern Jark to Tim Hider. Geary ran a two point conversion.

Another turnover, by interception, set Northern toward a second TD of the third quarter, with Greg Ford powering the last three yards for his second touchdown of the game. His point kick was good.

Wayne still had plenty of fight and raced 74 yards from the ensuing kickoff. Key plays were a pair of passes from Rick Bene delto to Maurice Mintken for 71 and 29 yards, reaching the Northern 12. Fullback Dan Jones churned out nine yards, and Moeller bulled in for his second TD. All last year he scored only once while leading Wildcat rushing.

Stollenberg pulled a surprise on the conversion attempt. He sent in third string quarterback Brad Hahn, a handy southpaw passer. So Hahn ran the extra points, less than a minute into the fourth quarter.

Hahn directed Wildcat offense from then on. But before he had the chance, Northern ground out another drive all the way to the Wayne three — where a fumble fell into Wayne hands.

Hahn, on the sixth play there after, found Mintken wide open, and 65 rousing yards later Mintken reached the end zone safely. A Hahn pass for two points was intercepted. Score with 8:20 left 35-21, and the Wildcats still saw hope.

However, Northern, still using its starting backfield, produced another touchdown, on the ground for 70 yards, with Ford scoring a third time, from a yard out. He missed the point kick. In the first quarter Ford had reached the end zone for Northern's second TD on a 31 yard run, following a 22 yard touchdown by Steve Schulte.

Score by quarters:
Wayne 0 7 0 14-21
Northern 14 6 15 6-41

Trojan JVs Hit Bears

Tim Rouse's pair of touchdowns and a two point conversion led Wakefield's reserves over Laurel Monday night, 27-16.

Rouse scored on punts of 30 and two yards before quarterback Jono Kiene fired an aerial for a two-point play after the last touchdown.

Wakefield held a 14-8 lead at the half after Laurel sophomore Cleve Stolpe raced 57 yards in the first quarter to give the home team a 6-0 lead. Stolpe, who also led the defense with three interceptions then scored a two point conversion.

The second half saw Wakefield punch across two touchdowns on a 60 yard pass from Kiene to Brook-Myers and on Kiene's dash from two yards out. Laurel scored again in the fourth quarter when Gordon Kardell scored from the 20 yard line. Todd Anderson ran for the two point play.

Wakefield coach Joe Coble pointed out that his club played an "exceptional game," considering limited practices. He cited defensive players Jim Allin, Dave Gustafson and Craig Nelson as doing a fine job.

Gustafson dropped Laurel's signal caller four times on pass attempts while Allin stopped the Bears' triple option.

Prep Picks: Winside, Allen Tangle At Cats' Homecoming

Homecoming activities get off to an early start this season when Winside hosts Allen Friday.

The Wildcats will be sporting their away (dark) jerseys to give the home fans a chance to see how sharp the uniforms are. Unlike the home jerseys, the red uniforms have the names of the players printed on the backs. "We don't have the names printed on the white uniforms because most of the parents and fans know who the players are," coach Doug Barclay explained.

It really doesn't matter what color the uniforms are for this match because it's going to be Winside all the way. Their big front line (averaging 210 pounds) strong running and sharp throwing should give the team its third win of the season.

Allen's Eagles came off a rough 3-7 beating at the hands of Wakefield last Friday, losing their top two quarterbacks in the process.

Strpler Paul Snyder and second string Jeff Creamer exited the game in the second half with minor injuries. Although the pair is expected to be ready for the Wildcats, it still goes with Winside.

Last week's predictions were right on the money. Wayne ripped Blair, 28-14; Winside clobbered Tilden-Elkhorn Valley, 48-14, and Laurel lost to Plainview, 12-8. Those wins keep my record at a perfect 8-0.

Wisner Pilger at Wayne — Although coach Al Hansen figures the Gators to be the second toughest team in the West Husker Conference, second isn't good enough to beat the hard charging Wayne club. Hansen's pick for the loop's second toughest club.

By Bob Bartlett

AREA HIGH school volleyball competition seems to be improving from teams I've seen this year.

Wakefield, darkhorse in the West Husker Conference, showed some of its might last week in routing out Emerson-Hubbard, Wayne, after only a year in the sport, also looked good in winning its last two games.

As you might expect, coaches aren't singling out many individuals because both Ernie Kovar of Wakefield and Mavis Dalton of Wayne agree the game is a team sport. The jobs of setting up, bumping and spiking take teamwork — it's not a one-gal show.

Most high school matches are on Tuesday nights so that might eliminate some scheduling conflicts. Although you may think you have plenty of time to see a game, don't keep putting it off. The season ends in October for most clubs.

For Wayne and Wakefield a showdown may come when both enter the Husker Conference tournament at Madison Oct. 21-24. Until then the clubs will be going their own ways so you better see them in action now.

The same goes for three other area teams — Laurel, Winside and Allen. Winside and Allen belong to the Lewis and Clark Conference. Laurel to the Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference. As of Monday Laurel and Winside were sporting 0-4 and 2-1 marks, respectively. Tuesday night Allen was slated to open its season at Ponca under new head coach Steve McManigal.

THE ATHLETIC PROGRAM at Wayne State is taking shape early in the year, reported head coaches during last week's Second Guessers meeting.

New basketball coach Jim Seward says he has 35 out for conditioning before actual practice starts Oct. 6. Among top prospects are two from Seward's former employer (Northeast Nebraska Community Technical College), John Redmond and Andy Kaplan.

Last year Redmond was a third team All-American in the junior college ranks. Redmond made all-conference in Nebraska and was highly-ranked among players in Nebraska, Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado in rebounding and scoring. A 6-5, 200-pound junior, he averaged 23 points a game and 17 rebounds.

Although only 6-1 and 180, Kaptain was second in team scoring at Norfolk with 14 points a game. Both players are from Illinois — John from Kankakee, hometown of another outstanding Wayne State star, Ron Jones, and Andy from Elgin.

Seward also has recruited several other Nebraska junior college players, Ray Downs and Rex Pressler, 6-6 and 6-4, come from Norfolk Platte Junior College, 6-6 Rick Anderson comes from Nebraska Western at Scottsbluff.

And Seward is high on these talented freshmen: 6-9 Dale Walde, brother of WSC star Neil, Denison, Ia.; Lenie Adams, West Point; Joe Curl, South Sioux City; Dale Meyer, Sioux City Heelan; Mark Riewer, Neligh; Bob Otto, Lincoln Northeast; Duane Isenberg, Davenport, Ia.; and Mike Bell, Des Moines.

"With our size and talent, we'll be looking for the 15 foot shot or better. We've got good rebounding strength and power inside," Seward said.

SPEAKING of Second Guessers, last week's turnout rose from 27 to 35. Hopes are that figure will continue to increase. If you want to join, you're welcome. There's no membership fee — just show up at the Black Knight Lounge (upstairs) Thursdays at noon.

Chest

(Continued from page 1) you to meet your goals and encourage you to have your employees meet theirs," he said. Community Chest board members are in the process of finding five people each who will serve as their captains in this year's drive.

Each captain in turn will find five workers who will go out to ask individual citizens for donations to this year's drive.

The Sept. 30th kickoff breakfast is being held for all captains and all their workers. Each worker will select five cards during that breakfast so they can talk to people individually and ask them to donate money toward this year's goal.

Business owners or employers who did not attend Wednesday's advance gifts breakfast may contact one of the board members or the secretary if they wish to make an advance donation or if they wish to conduct the fund drive in their own business.

Serving on the board are Ken Swails, Marilyn Carhart, Jan Liska, George Phelps, Laura Franklin, Norvin Hansen, Joan Potts and Bob Reeg.

Serving as assistant chairman of this year's drive is Bill Workman.

Improvements

(Continued from page 1) Nationally, the Department of Commerce reports, no less than $18.9 billion was expended in the past year for the upkeep and improvement of residential properties. This was $1.4 billion more than in the prior year.

As for properly owners in Wayne County, how did they spend their $1,018,000 portion of this total?

In general, a breakdown of the overall figures shows about 57 per cent of the expenditures was for additions, alterations and major replacements.

The other 43 per cent was for maintenance and repairs. By far, the biggest item in this category was house painting, interior and exterior. It was followed by plumbing, roofing, heating and air conditioning.

Work Still Going On

AN AFTERNOON SUN silhouettes workers and glances off steel panels, creating unusual optical effects in this photograph of construction at the site of the new John Deere dealership east of Wayne. Workers are nearly finished with erecting the 120 by 180-foot steel building, a process that was set back several days when a strong wind damaged work already completed.

Community Effort at Dixon

SHOVELING heavy concrete may be a man's work, but 11-year-old John Roeder (right photo) doesn't seem to care. When it comes to helping to build his community, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Roeder of Dixon is ready to work. Monday afternoon he and several Dixon residents helped pour the floor for the addition to the town's auditorium. According to village chairman John Young, work on the structure, which will house the village clerk's office and other equipment, will continue next week after St. Anne's Church holds its dinner in the auditorium Sunday night. Helping Monday were Bill Garvin, Marvin Nelson, Russell Ankeny, John Roeder and Duane Harder, foreman.

Pig Co-Op Aims to Help Growers

Pig growers across the state have encountered adversities such as the weather, disease and high prices in their attempts to make pig raising a profitable business, but now a group of area farmers have combined to eliminate some of those adversities.

The group, Greater Northeastern Pig Cooperative, Inc., is aiming to be in full production by late October, board chairman Howard Fleer said during his talk at Monday's Kiwanis meeting in Wayne.

The Cooperative started two years ago last April when 33 farmers from Pender, Beemer, Wisner, Pilger, Laurel and Wayne County pooled resources to construct the estimated $500,000 project southwest of Wayne.

HOWARD FLEER, left, chairman of the Greater Northeastern Pig Cooperative, Inc., discussed the Coop during Monday's Kiwanis meeting. Fleer was the guest speaker of Kiwanian, Dr. Ken Lisika, right.

Fleer explained that a pig cooperative and the cost for a pig operation for a person just starting farming is very high. Membership, he pointed out, is open only to farmers. "We are not allowing any businessmen to buy a share," Fleer said.

Some 12,300 shares have been sold to the 33 members, and Fleer is hoping that by the end of the year each member will receive one 40-pound pig for each share.

The operation consists of two buildings, 38 by 41 feet and 25 by 41 feet, with one being used as a farrowing house and the other as a nursery. When the feeder pigs reach 40 pounds they will be distributed to the various members for fattening. The present plan is to breed five sows daily. Fleer said the cooperative will purchase its York-Hampshire sows from St. Paul and its Dorac boars from De Witt.

Prior to Fleer's talk, two club members were cited for their perfect attendance. Vern Fairchild and Bob Bartlett received two and one year awards, respectively.

White elephant sale chairman Steve Schumacher reported that the club netted about $276 from last Thursday's annual sale, slightly above last year's $203.

Victims of the system?

In some circles, it's "in" to be down on the system. After years of thought and action we still believe that the system is a good one—that it works for your good.

We're referring to our economic system that runs on profit—the system that has provided America with the highest standard of living in the world by far. (Four out of 5 families own TV sets,

3 out of 5 own their homes, and 1 out of 3 own 2 or more cars.)

We've lived with this truth so long it has become trite. Some people just take for granted the system that has put men on the moon. Some seem bored by abundance. Others are attacking the profit system with false arguments. Our system isn't perfect. It does have its faults. But it deserves to be judged on its record.

In a nationwide public opinion poll, a majority of people interviewed said they believe that business profits average 28% of sales after taxes. They are wrong. The fact is that over the past 20 years profits have averaged about 5% on sales—or 5 cents on a dollar. We all profit from profits.

Test Center

(Continued from page 1) last year, over 1,000 of the 17,000 students tested in the six-county area have hearing problems. A county and state-funded operation, ESU 1 works out of three offices to provide schools with facilities they could not afford to provide on their own, said Harry Mills, director. Served are schools in Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Thurston, Dakota and Knox Counties. ESU 1 provides testing and rehabilitation programs for students with speech, hearing or visual handicaps and psychological problems. The unit employs several nurses. Curriculum modifiers work with teachers to provide programs for gifted students as well as students with learning disabilities, for whom traditional teaching techniques are inadequate. A vocational counselor works with school counselors to set up work-study programs for high school and junior high school students. The unit also has a library of 625 films for schools to use.

The first ESU 1 office was set up in Wakefield in 1967 following a survey to determine and evaluate needs. Harry Mills had conducted that survey the year before.

Satellite offices are located in South Sioux City at the Lewis and Clark Elementary School, and now in Wayne. About 40 are on the entire staff.

Working from the Wayne office are Floanne Hadd, director of language, speech and hearing services; Gary Vopalensky, audiologist; Cathy Stake and Jane Prochaska, speech clinicians; Mrs. B. J. Hirt, curriculum modification; Diana Wilson, who will work with mildly handicapped; Jennifer Immel, who will work with emotionally disturbed; Mary Kidwiler, who will work with visually handicapped; Lois Joslin, nurse, and Mrs. Evan Williams, secretary.

Vopalensky, the audiologist at the new Wayne office, received his BAE from Wayne State College in 1972, majoring in

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wilse
"Don't fight with the pillow, but lay down your head and kick every worry out of the bed."
Edmund Vance Cooke

These words discourage us from taking our troubles to bed. In the light of a fresh new day troubles often appear much less frightening, less insurmountable.

There is perhaps little if anything magical about a new day insofar as lessening the impact of our troubles is concerned. However, it is a certainty that, if we allow ourselves to fret and fuss over personal worries through a long night, we will find ourselves in a poor state of mind to cope intelligently and efficiently with our problems when time for action comes with the new day.

Locally owned and operated, we identify closely with this community which we serve with dedication, dignity and good taste.

DETROIT—The 1975 Cadillac Fleetwood Eldorado series again features both Coupe and Convertible models and utilizes rectangular headlights, as on the standard Cadillac. A newly styled grille on these popular front-wheel-drive cars is highlighted by larger rectangular openings and bold-vertical fins. A new fixed rear quarter window has been added to the Coupe, providing a larger glass area than in past models. The rear wheel openings are new on the 1975 Eldorados and no longer feature a cover.

The 1975 Cadillac Calais Sedan (below), along with the Sedan de Ville, features a new fixed rear quarter window, offering a larger rear glass area. Calais interiors for 1975 are highlighted by the new plaid "Morgan" cloth, which complements the 21 exterior paint colors and 14 padded vinyl tops.

All 1975 Cadillac models incorporate valuable fuel economy-oriented engineering advancements as standard equipment, such as a lower ratio economy axle, several engine refinements, GM specification steel belted radial tires and an "economy" setting for the Climate Control unit.

Republican: U.S. Congress is defacing value of dollar

by CHARLES THONE, Republican Candidate for U. S. Congress
If a citizen were to cut a dollar bill in half with a scissors, he could be arrested for defacing U. S. currency. The majority in Congress, I suggest, ought to be arrested for defacing the value of every dollar in America.
As President Ford prepares for his summit meeting September 27-28 on inflation, I am urging him not to lose sight of our most urgent task. This job is to end wasteful deficit spending and balance our federal budget.
I am again urging that $10 billion dollars be cut from the federal budget for this fiscal year. This can be done by eliminating foreign aid, keeping the total number of federal employees from growing and by modest cuts in the defense budget. There certainly should be no return to wage-price controls, which can only temporarily hold back inflation, not cure it.

Inflation is caused by an increase in prices due to an increase in buying power that runs beyond the supply of goods. In times past, an increase in buying power was answered with an increase in production.
Today, industry finds it difficult to catch up with demand for several reasons. In 1973, 39 per cent of the personal income in the nation went to pay local, state and national taxes. This leaves too little capital available to pay for industrial expansion.
Also, too much of our money is going to people who are not productive. Welfare costs have risen from $24 billion to $113 billion in a decade. Food stamps cost the federal government $34 million in 1965 but will cost about $4 billion this year.

Inflation is also a matter of expectations. If a labor union thought that economic conditions were going to be stable, it would ask for only modest wage increases. If a manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer thought that inflation was going to end, he wouldn't be raising prices. When the federal government continues its deficit spending, however, labor and management know that inflation will continue.
Inflation, of course, is a complicated matter. Even if all the governments in the world followed sensible economic policies, we would still have some rising prices. The world is rapidly using up its conventional sources of energy. Therefore we would have had price increases in petroleum even if the Arabs hadn't quadrupled the price of their petroleum. Also, as the standard of living rises around the world, the cost of food must go up.

But the main ogre in unleashing inflation is federal spending. If took the U. S. government 185 years to reach the point where it was spending $100 billion per year. It took only eight years to go from $100 to $200 billion per year. It was only four years between the first $200 billion budget and the first $300 billion dollar level of federal spending. I don't think it was many years ago when I didn't know that a trillion is the next unit above billions. Now, if we keep going in our present trend, we will have a trillion dollar annual federal budget by 1990.

The leaders of the House and Senate have informed President Ford that they are going to "fight" inflation by having Congress in session after the November elections. There are some things Congress could do to help. I'm concerned, however, that Congress is liable to fan the fires of inflation.
The American people must rise up and let Congress know they want federal spending cut. Otherwise, the way Congress may "help" fight inflation is by passing bills like the one to spend $4 billion more for "make-work" government jobs.

Dyds: one of our nation's greatest needs is federal tax reform... there is too much welfare for the wealthy

Thone: our most urgent task is to end wasteful deficit spending and balance our federal budget

Democrat: Average guy deserves a fair tax break

By HESS DYAS, Democratic Candidate for U. S. Congress
As I travel through the First Congressional District, I am convinced that one of our nation's greatest needs is federal tax reform. Little, if any, meaningful tax reform action has taken place in recent years.
There is new impetus for tax reform, and it adds emphasis to the long-range requirement of making our tax system more fair. The way it is now, there is too much welfare for the wealthy. A Congressional committee study has indicated that of an estimated $77 billion of federal tax loopholes, $60 billion benefit the most wealthy 20 per cent of the population.

Tax reform means, among other things, closing up loopholes the wealthy can use to avoid paying taxes. When these are closed off, some of the tax burden shifts away from the average taxpayer. As the tax burden eases somewhat, there will be less demand for large wage catch-ups with inflation. The more moderate wage catch-ups will contribute to the fight against inflation.
I see an urgent need for tax reform: I feel the average American taxpayer deserves a fair break. And this is why

I'm proposing the following series of tax reforms:
1 - A tougher policy on minimum income tax payment, to see to it that the wealthy don't avoid paying taxes. That means an end to the present welfare for the wealthy through tax loopholes.
2 - Eliminating tax breaks for American industries building factories in foreign lands.
3 - Changing social security taxes to make them more equitable and progressive. We should consider eliminating the income ceiling to which the tax is applied, adopting standard exemption of some earnings and adopting progressive tax rates.

4 - Eliminating the preferential tax treatment of capital gains income.
5 - Eliminating the tax exempt status of state and local bonds. If we wish to have federal subsidy for state and local government capital expenditures, we should do it in a way that doesn't just benefit the rich.
6 - More stringent treatment of hobby farm tax deductions, which bid up the price of agricultural land.
7 - Ending the depreciation allowances in excess of cost for the production of gas, oil and minerals.

8 - Stopping the use of the income tax as a tool for social engineering. The tax system should not be used to promote various social programs; the result too often is to the benefit of the wealthy and the detriment of other taxpayers.
More details on this and other campaign issues are available from my headquarters at 1330 O St., Lincoln. My more lengthy position paper on tax reform is the second in a series of issue papers I am issuing prior to the November 5 general election. I, for one, believe the voters have a right to know where I stand on the issues.

OBSERVATIONS

It will be confusing

The worst thing about that fluoridation issue which is going to face voters in Wayne come the November general election is that it will be confusing, so confusing that there is bound to be a host of people who vote one way when they really wanted to vote the other way.
Here's what it will say on the ballot: "An ordinance to prohibit the adding of fluoride to the water supply of the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska."
In other words, a "no" vote will be a vote against the ordinance and a vote in favor of adding fluoride to the city's water supply. A "yes" vote will be a vote in favor of the ordinance and a vote against adding fluoride.
Sounds simple when it is put into plain words, but it's going to confuse a lot of people when they walk into the voting booth and start marking their votes fairly quickly so they don't have to spend an hour or so completing the ballots.
The issue is going to go on the ballot in those exact words because, according to the city attorney, state law requires it to be worded in the same way as it was on the petitions, circulated to get it on the ballot. If the wording had been differently on the petitions, it would be worded differently to come the general election, he explains.

It is too bad the issue is going to be confusing when it comes time to vote on it, for a lot of people are going to end up voting against something they want and a lot of other people are going to end up voting for something they don't want.
Just remember this when it comes time to cast your ballot on this issue in November: If you favor boosting the fluoridation level in the city's water supply, cast a "no" vote on this issue. If you oppose boosting the fluoridation level, cast a "yes" vote. Then just hope that everybody else will know what they are doing when they come to that issue on their ballots. — Norvin Hansen.

Judge's nod needed to finish ambitious state road program

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN — The ambitious highway program announced recently by the state roads department includes many projects which won't get built unless a judge agrees.
Some $36 million the department is counting on to help finance the projects listed in its fiscal year 1975 program is tied up by federal government impoundment.
The state has gone to court to try to get the money freed loose, and a hearing is scheduled for next month in U. S. District Court in Lincoln on the suit.
But the state officials are so sure they will win in court that they have added the $36 million into the funds they expect to be available during this fiscal year and announced road projects based on the availability of those federal dollars.
The money was impounded as part of administration policies to stem inflation. By keeping money allocated by Congress from the states, the reasoning goes, government spending will be reduced, aiding in the fight against inflation.
Several states have protested that they should be allowed to have the money allocated to them. Missouri and Iowa have successfully taken the issue to the courts. Their victories have encouraged Nebraska officials.
Inflation has been a factor in the preparation of the fiscal 1975 program in another way. State officials say the costs of construction projects, have doubled since a year ago in many cases.
Prices of asphalt, cement and steel have been climbing dramatically, according to state officials. They say asphalt which used to be sold at a dime a gallon now costs 40 cents.
Because of the impoundment and the effects of inflation, about half of the construction jobs originally scheduled for last year didn't get done.
A study of those projects held over until the 1975 fiscal year program shows that it will cost nearly $26 million more to do the work this year than it was expected to cost in the 1974 fiscal year.
State officials say that is strictly because of inflation. The engineering and design of the construction projects hasn't changed since last year.

Uncertainty about federal funds (during the time of controversy about tourism signs and highway safety program) delayed the preparation of the 1975 construction program.
The program covers a period starting July 1, but it wasn't distributed until about 2 1/2 months later. State engineer Thomas D. Doyle, director of the roads department, said his staff couldn't put a program together until they had more definite word on the availability of federal funds. It wasn't until early August, he said, that they got directives about obligation authority.
But Doyle says a copy of a tentative program for the 1975 fiscal year was filed before the end of June—although he said it wasn't announced publicly because it was "very speculative."
The most expensive project on this year's list is a holdover from the 1974 program — reconstruction of U. S. 34-281 between Doniphan and Grand Island.
That project carries a $5.8 million price tag. It was on last year's schedule as a $3 million job.
Another expensive project took a big price jump. The 1974 program carried an estimate of $2 million for work on 11 blocks of the North Expressway in Omaha, but the 1975 schedule lists the cost for the work at $4.3 million.
There is heavy emphasis on work on primary highways, reflecting the near completion of the Interstate highway in Nebraska. I-80 is all but finished now and the only major work remaining is on the Missouri River Bridge between Sioux City and South Sioux City, an extension of I-29.
The switch from Interstate to "regular" highways means a difference in the use of state revenues. The matching formula for the Interstate was 90-10, with the federal picking up the heavy end. The formula — still with Washington supplying the bigger portion — is 70-30 for other types of highway work.
Nebraska will be one of the first states in the nation to complete its interstate, but Nebraska's basic route was across the flat terrain of a river valley and (except for the South Sioux bridge) Nebraska only had one interstate to work on. Most other states had at least two.

One tuition price for all

The Board of Trustees for Nebraska State Colleges has decided to push formally for an idea that has been kicked around several months — charge out-of-state students no more tuition than Nebraskans pay.
Besides being unique (no other state maintains such a tuition structure) the plan has merit.
The four state colleges need more students, both to fill out classes and to occupy and pay for dormitory rooms. They also need — or at least could benefit from — the diversity of backgrounds and educational experiences that students from across the state's borders could bring.
In the long run, cutting non-resident tuition might not cost the state a significant sum. Theoretically, enrollment should increase, offsetting at least in part the reduced income. And out-of-state students attracted by lower tuition undoubtedly would spend money in the communities where the colleges are located — Peru, Wayne, Kearney and Chadron — helping the local and state economies.
But initially the experiment can be expected to cost the colleges something. So the trustees will ask $315,000 from the Legislature for a four-year test of the plan.
The lawmakers should respond sympathetically to the request. What the colleges badly need, besides additional students, is imagination and new ideas. A sure way to discourage innovation is to douse a bright idea with cold water immediately.
If the senators approve the plan, however, it ought to be understood that they and the colleges are also taking on an implied commitment. That is to provide at Chadron, Kearney, Wayne and Peru a quality of education, as well as a price, that will draw students from other states. — From The Lincoln Journal.

By 1972 the picture had changed drastically. Divide Old-Peony Plants
Now is a good time to lift and divide old peony plants that have lost their vigor.

Use a spade to loosen the plant from the soil. You can tell where the natural divisions of the plant crown are if you wash the soil away with water.

Carefully cut the plant apart but avoid breaking and loosening many of the thick fleshy roots. These roots are food storage organs of the plant and are necessary for rapid development of the new plants.

Each division should contain three to five eyes. This size division can be planted in your landscape. Small divisions (one to three eyes, with small roots) should be planted in your garden for one or two seasons before using in a permanent location.

Peonies need well drained soil, growing best in slightly raised beds that provide good drainage. Plant where they will receive full sun, for shade reduces plant vigor and bloom. Plant your peonies with the uppermost eye not more than two inches below the ground surface. Deep planting will delay or even prevent flowering. Water well after planting to settle the soil around the roots. Peonies do not send out new roots in the fall.

The first year you should mulch your peonies with two to four inches of straw. Removing tops at ground level will reduce disease.

Drouth Silage

The feeding value of drouth-damaged corn is almost equal to normal corn silage per pound dry matter. This high feed value is due to the low fiber content and high sugar compared to corn which matures normally.

Root Worms

I've had numerous reports of root worm damage even though the corn was treated with an approved insecticide. This was especially true of early planted corn. It's possible that for corn planted before May 15 the insecticide will have to be applied at cultivation time.

Smut in Corn

An unusual amount of smut has been noted in corn. This won't hurt livestock that are fed the grain or silage from this smutty corn. In fact some people find young, immature smut balls rather tasty when fried, in a cracker or bread crumb batter.

Wayne, Cedar County Hog Raisers Are Tops

Swine producers from Wayne and Cedar Counties showed the top animals in the Northeast Nebraska Market Hog Show at Laurel on Monday.

Pat Finn of Carroll had the top purebred animal in the show, held at the sale barn in Laurel and judged by Keith Gilster, an extension livestock specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Finn's Hampshire was placed just ahead of the Spotted swine showed by Rex Hansen, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen of Wakefield.

Hansen, now attending the University of South Dakota at Springfield, also showed the third-place animal in the purebred division, placing just ahead of the Hampshire showed by young Mike Finn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Finn.

Winning all four top places in the crossbred division of the show was Leroy Wolfe of Cedar, ridge.

The show attracted 84 swine producers from Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston Counties, several more than turned out for the show held last year.

A total of 18 purebred swine producers took part in the competition, 66 in the crossbred division.

Results of the animals taking part in the carcass competition will be released next week, according to Bob Fritschner, swine specialist at the Northeast Station near Concord. The animals have been sent to a Fremont packing company for slaughter and carcass rating, he said.

DOUG NELSON of rural Wayne continued his winning role in tractor pulling contests by winning the 7,000-pound class in the recent state fair. What made his victory unusual was his entry — a 5,000 pound tractor.

USDA News

Corn Forecast Down

Nebraska corn production as of Sept. 1 was forecast at 348.8 million bushels. If realized, this would be 36 per cent below last year's record crop. Yield per acre is estimated at 75 bushels, one bushel less than August 1 and 16 bushels below 1973.

The estimated crop of 303 million bushels is down two per cent from last year. The indicated yield of 101 bushels is one bushel below average and down 17 bushels from 1973. The drought corn production estimate was 18.8 million bushels, which is only 1/3 of last year's crop. The yield this year was down one bushel from 1973 at 28 bushels. Rains beginning early in August ended the drouth but much irreversable damage had already occurred particularly to the drying corn. Also had quite extensive had damaging both irrigated and non-irrigated corn during August. Some freeze damage occurred the morning of Sept. 1 which still could affect final yields.

Soybean Forecast Unchanged

The soybean crop is forecast at 20,000,000 bushels, same as last month but 45 per cent below last year's record production. Indicated yield is still estimated at 20 bushels, 10 bushels below last year's average. Soybeans have greened up, bloomed and podded immediately following the rains, but maturity is later than normal. Frost on Sept. 3 hit upper leaves and pods, which will have a detrimental effect on yields in some areas.

Rural Wayne Man Keeps On Luggin'

The first time Doug Nelson entered a tractor pulling contest he was a winner. That was in 1966 when he beat a neighbor at the Dixon County Fair.

Doug has won numerous firsts since, but the biggest win of his career came during this year's Nebraska State Fair when he drove his 5,000-pound tractor to first place in the 7,000-pound class.

Winning the event with a tractor 2,000 pounds under weight is unusual, but to Doug, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nelson of rural Wayne, the victory isn't hard to believe. It resulted from a combination of using his head and having a little luck.

Most of the heavier tractors entered in the 7,000 pound class had trouble getting enough traction to complete the 300-foot course because of the type of surface and the width of the tires, Nelson said. The bigger machines had trouble digging into the earth for a solid grip, often times spinning out. After careful examination, Doug figured his narrower tires and his souped-up diesel engine would be enough to pull the 30,000-pound sled down the runway.

"The crowd was really cheering me on," Nelson recalled. "All I did was put her through the gears and we were off."

Nelson figured that the heavier tractors did not have their weights adjusted correctly for both the front and rear ends of the tractor. Otherwise, he said, they might have pulled a lot better.

"The idea is to take a good look at the track and figure within 70-75 pounds of the total weight needed to balance the tractor," he said. "Most of the tractors in Lincoln were too heavy in front," he explained as the reason for them spinning out.

Nelson's 3010 John Deere is the second one he has used in pulling contests. When he bought it in 1969, the engine rated about 60 horsepower. Now it's up to 300 horse.

Nelson changed it to a dual injection system to add more horsepower. "When I did that, I could just about win everything in Nebraska," he said. Proud of that are his 30 victories out of 34 contests.

"But as the season progresses everybody keeps tuning their's up. Now here at the end of the season I'm just another competitor," he smiled.

The first time Nelson started down the track in his present tractor he was pulling in second of his eight gears. "Now I'm pulling in seventh or eighth gear. Just about every year I've added a bigger turbo-charger, bigger fuel pump, added propane and she keeps going faster and faster all the time."

To give a better idea of the power needed to pull the 30,000-pound sled, Nelson pointed out that the tractor running in eighth gear would pull a 10-bottom plow about a foot in the ground. "When you start taking off with that thing in eighth gear, which is road gear, it takes a heckuva clutch and a lot of torque," Nelson added.

Doug started with a gas-powered 400 John Deere before switching to diesel. "With a gas engine you can win a drag race, but with a diesel you can win tractor pulls," Nelson pointed out.

"There's a lot of guys winning with gasers, but at the majority of tracks a diesel will outlug and outpull a gas engine because it has more torque."

Of course, Nelson's entering tractor pulling contests would not be possible if it were not for a couple special people — his parents. Both the tractor and his father. "He's the whole foundation... the whole thing," Nelson smiled.

'Have Records When Applying For Benefits'

Many people still contact the social security office to file for benefits without necessary documents, according to Dale Branch, manager of the Norfolk social security office.

In order to receive payments on time you should have the necessary documents ready to submit, he noted. Documents needed vary according to the type of claim filed, but in all cases the social security card or number is needed.

In most cases, evidence of last year's earnings and an estimate of this year's earnings is needed, he said, and if a retirement claim is being filed evidence of age must be submitted.

If a survivor's claim is being filed, children's birth certificates and the marriage record are needed. School attendance information is needed for students age 18-23, and medical information and past work history is needed when a disability claim is filed, Branch noted.

While you file for the new supplemental security income payments, information about earned and unearned income is needed. Information about resources such as value of living quarters, value of automobile, amount of savings and bank accounts, value of stocks and bonds and any other resources will be requested, he said.

Branch noted that persons in the Wayne area with questions about benefits may talk with a representative of the Norfolk office on Tuesday when she stops at the Senior Citizens Center in Wayne. He will be available from 9 a.m. to noon.
