'74 Fund Drive Underway

Wayne's 1974 Community Chest fund drive was about one-quarter of the way toward its $11,450 goal by the middle of this week.

About $2,800 had been collected in the drive Wednesday morning, according to drive secretary, Vera Hummel.

She noted that the figure was only about $100 greater than it had been at Monday's kickoff breakfast but that volunteers had just started calling on people to see if they would contribute to help support the nine different agencies which will receive funds from this year's drive. The figure is expected to climb considerably within the next few days, she said.

Some 200 volunteer workers are now canvassing the community, explaining the functions of the Community Chest and seeking contributions from persons whose names they drew at Monday's breakfast.

Drive chairman Ernie Thayer told the workers at the breakfast at Wayne State's Student Union that the drive is a worthwhile effort which deserves their support as well as the support of the whole community.

He emphasized that workers should attempt to call on the people they are to seek donations from by the end of this week or early next week so the drive can be concluded as quickly as possible.

Workers are to turn their contributions over to their captains, who will then turn them over to members of the board of directors of the Community Chest. Captains may also drop off contributions at either the First National Bank or State National Bank.

A total of about $2,700 was collected in advance gifts efforts conducted by the Community Chest board. Advance contributions came primarily from business owners, managers and teachers in the Wayne-Carroll school system. Those people made their donations to the annual fund drive following an advance gifts breakfast and a see UNDERWAY, page 7.

Queen Hopefuls Named at WSC

Selection of candidates for queen moved Wayne State closer to Wildcat Days, a new name for the old tradition of homecoming, Monday through Saturday next week.

The eight queen contenders were chosen from 22 nominees by a panel of student senators and W Club members.

Petitions on Fluoridation Go Out Again in Carroll

Carroll residents are being asked to sign petitions to put the issue of fluoridation on the ballot for a special election.

The special election is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 20, according to village clerk Alice Rohde.

The village board Tuesday night tentatively set that date for the special vote and agreed to have petitions circulated to see if 20 per cent of the registered voters approve of holding a special election on the issue.

Carroll residents earlier had signed petitions to place the issue on the ballot.

Winside's village board is scheduled to discuss holding a special election on the issue during its regular meeting Monday evening, according to village Clerk Marion Hill. She said the board's legal advisor is currently in the process of advising the board on what would be the best way to solve the problem.

Weible said he has not heard from village officials at Sholes about what they plan to do about getting the issue before the public so the people can decide whether to fluoridate the town's water supply.

Voters in Wayne and Hoskins will decide during the general election whether to boost the fluoride levels in their water supplies. Like the other three communities in the county, petition circulators obtained enough signatures to require the governing boards to put the issue on the ballot. Governing boards in Hoskins and Wayne met the deadline for requesting the election commissioner to include the issue on the general election ballot.

A law passed by the 1973 legislature requires all communities in the state to boost the level of fluoride in their water supplies if the natural level is below a specified amount. Voters in the communities have a right to reject boosting the fluoride level if they vote it down in an election.

The natural level of fluoride in the water supplies in all five Wayne County communities falls below the cutoff point written into the state law. That means the levels will be hiked if the voters do not reject fluoridation at the voting booth.

Alternates are Beth Baier and Mike Meyer.

The 1974 king and queen will be crowned before Friday night's football game against Stanton at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium. Students at the high school will vote today (Thursday) on who they want to be this year's royalty.

Following Friday night's game, a dance will be held from 10 p.m. to midnight at the high school auditorium. The dance, featuring a musical group called Joker, is open to 1973 and 1974 graduates as well as all high school students.

Homecoming activities today include a snake dance starting at Third and Main at 6:30 p.m. Snake dance participants will wear their way to the practice football field south of West Elementary for a bon fire.

Fanfare of Band Day Nearly Here

The fanfare, rhythm, color and precision of marching bands comes to Wayne again Saturday afternoon when Wayne State hosts its annual Band Day.

For the 25 visiting high school bands, there's an incentive for extra special performance in the parade starting at 3:15 from the campus south on Main Street.

They will compete for four scholarships to be awarded to excellence in playing, marching and appearance. The bands are divided into two classes, one for schools with 225 or more students, the other for schools under 225. In each class, the Wayne Chamber of Commerce will award $30 and $20 scholarships to the winning bands, which then will choose a musician to use the prize for Wayne State's Summer Music Camp of 1975.

Wayne State's band also will march in the parade — but not for prizes — and in the halftime show of the Wayne State-Dakota State football game.

Prior to the game, bands will make a professional entry in front of the stadium, starting at 6:30.

For the halftime show, under direction of WSC conductor Jay O'Leary, the bands will play three numbers, "Military Escort," "Can Can" featuring twirlers in a dance routine and "The Entertainer" from the movie "The Sting."

Rehearsal of the halftime show is scheduled for 1 p.m., following lunch in the city auditorium for all bands, provided by the Chamber of Commerce, city of Wayne and the Wayne State Foundation.

Opportunities Center for Mentally Retarded Adults To Open Here Monday

About four or five mentally retarded adults will begin working at Wayne's new opportunities center when it opens on Monday, according to the center manager.

Ron Millage, workshop manager at the opportunities center at South Sioux City for about the past year, will direct the local center, located at the corner of Second and Logan Streets in the building formerly occupied by Wayne Cold Storage.

The building has been completely remodeled, providing about 6,000 square feet of space for workshop and assembly areas, classroom, office space and restrooms.

Millage, 35, said enrollment at the center is expected to increase to about 10 persons within the next two months and to about 20 or 25 persons by next July. The center is open to mentally retarded persons 16 years of age or older, he said.

Working with Millage as floor supervisor will be Donna Ohling, 22, of Pocaehontas, Ia. Miss Ohling recently graduated from Wankato State College at Mankato, Minn.

Mary Peterson, a social services worker who helps persons working in a similar opportunity.

$25 Prize Goes To Wayne Man

A Wayne man, Bob Dolata, won last week's consolation prize in Wayne's weekly Birthdays Bucks promotion. Dolata, who received $25 in Birthday Bucks, was in Sav-Mor Drug when the winning date was announced last Thursday evening. He was the shopper in one of the participating stores with a birthday closest to the date drawn at random earlier.

This week's grand prize jumps to $500 as a result of last week's awarding of the consolation prize. If the grand prize goes unclaimed again this week, another $25 consolation award will be given away and the grand prize will climb to $255.

The winning date will be announced at 8:15 this evening (Thursday) in all participating firms. All area residents are eligible to take part in the weekly drawings. No purchases are required, but a person must be present in order to win.

RON MILLAGE

Millage for mentally retarded adults at Bloomfield, will work at the local center about two days a week, according to Millage.

After enrollment at the center grows to about 12 persons, a classroom teacher will be added to the staff, Millage said. Another floor supervisor may be added to the staff after about a year, he added.

Expected to be moved into the center are several pieces of heavy duty machinery, including a power saw and power drill, and numerous hand tools.

Millage, who graduated from the University of South Dakota at Vermillion last year, said adults enrolled at the center will be taught general work habits as well as skills they will be able to use when they obtain jobs.

In addition, the adults will actually undertake assembling, manufacturing and other jobs for local businesses, receiving pay for their work while learning how to hold down steady jobs.

The opportunities center, like the one at Bloomfield, will be a satellite of the Northeast Nebraska Opportunities Center at South Sioux City. Funds for its operation will come from taxes levied in the seven-county Northeast Nebraska area, the State Office of Mental Retardation and the federal government. Some private donations are received and some revenue is generated by the jobs taken on by the center.

3 WH Seniors Commended for Test Scores

Three seniors at Wayne High School have been named merit program commended students by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

Principal Donald Zells announced that the following students have received letters of commendation: Keith Lykke, Dennis Magnuson and Julie Stephens.

They are among 38,000 commended students named on the basis of their high performance on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). Commended students are in the upper two per cent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1975.

Although commended students ranked high on the PSAT/NMSQT, their scores were just below those of the 15,000 semifinalists who were announced in September. Commended students do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition.

Edward Smith, president of NMSC, said: "The high standing of commended students in the merit program shows their great promise, and their attainment in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. The commended students should be encouraged to continue their education."

To increase their scholarship opportunities, NMSC reports the commended students' names to regionally accredited colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the PSAT/NMSQT in October of 1973. The reports include home addresses, test scores and anticipated college major and career intentions of the students.

Carroll 4-H'er Wins Big In Ak-Sar-Ben Contest

A 13-year-old 4-H'er from Carroll who has a record going for gaining recognition when it comes to swine competition earned one of the top three titles in the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show's carcass contest.

Mike Finn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Finn, won the title for showing the top animal in the swine division of the show, according to Bob Volk, Ak-Sar-Ben assistant general manager.

"Mike's champion, market hog carcass came from a home-raised purebred Hampshire gilt which received a blue ribbon in live judging. The hog, which weighed 215 pounds, turned out a 145-pound carcass with 1.1 inch backfat, 6.2 square inch loin eye and a loin-ham percentage of 50.78.

The youngster was awarded a $100 premium from Ak-Sar-Ben for the champion plus an extra $15 when another of his Hamp-

New Film Projector Will Be Purchased If Goal Is Reached

What does the Community Chest do in Wayne that makes this year's fund drive worth while? Along with supporting such things as Boy Scout and Girl Scout activities locally, the Community Chest also contributes money to the Wayne Senior Citizens Center, a center for elderly people which has been in operation for just over five years.

One concrete result of a successful drive this year will be the purchase of a new 16 mm film projector, a purchase which will make it possible to show "all kinds of interesting and educational films" at the Center, according to director Joceli Bull.

Mrs. Bull, who has served as director since the Center opened at 316 Main in the summer of 1969, said the $745 the Center will receive if the $11,450 goal is reached will make it possible for the Center to have its own projector, enabling her to show more varied films to the people who use the Center. Mrs. Bull said she now has to borrow a film projector from the Wayne County extension office, causing problems in obtaining it at times and in transporting it back and forth.

If a film projector is purchased, films on everything from handicrafts to information on federal programs for the elderly can be shown to Center members, she said. Last year the Center used its money from the See NEW PROJECTOR, page 7.

CENTER DIRECTOR Joceli Bull will buy a new film projector with funds received from the Community Chest this year.

Coleene Miller, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller of Winside, received a third place trophy in novice solo.

Connie Hansen, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hansen of Wayne, won a fourth place trophy in novice solo and a second place trophy in advanced duet with Lynette Hansen, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Hansen of Wayne, who also received a second place trophy for the duet. Lynette placed fifth in novice solo.

Cats Finally Coming Home

At last, Wayne State's football team can enjoy a game on home turf. After their first four games on the road, the Wildcats will play here Saturday night, 7:30, in a game which also features Band Day.

The foe is a newcomer to Wayne's schedule, Dakota State College of Madison, S. D., coming to Wayne with a 3-1 record. The Trojans dropped their opener to Northwestern College, last year's NAIA national champion in the small-college division. Since then, Dakota State has beaten Bemidji State, Black Hills State and Huron. Wayne owns a 2-2 record after a frustrating loss of 27-7 last Saturday to Doane at Crete. It was frustrating because all four Tiger touchdowns resulted from turnovers — two of them following blocked punts, one after an interception and one after a lost fumble.

Wayne also got its touchdown as the result of a pass interception.

Otherwise, the game turned into a defensive stalemate, with both sides held to sub-par yardage; a season low of 174 total offense for Wayne and 190 for Doane.

Curiously, Doane threw only nine passes and failed to complete one after two previous games heavy on passes. Coach Del Stollenberg credited Wayne air defense with time effort in blanking the Tiger air game. But Wayne rushing defense, which has stood like Gibraltar for years, had trouble containing the Doane rush on goaline stands.

The first test came quickly. Doane slashed down field from the opening kickoff, finally stalled out, then had to punt. The ball landed somewhere around the Wayne nine, and what happened then is subject to argument. Officials ruled the ball hit a Wayne player, therefore was live, and Doane recovered.

Wayne players said later they thought the ball hit a Doane player first and therefore was dead. Whichever happened, Doane had possession on the Wayne nine and needed three plays to score on a two-yard plunge by Steve Schulz. Brad Balt converted the point.

On Wayne's next possession another disaster struck — interception. Doane was on the Wayne 17. A personal foul against Wayne, then a nine-yard run by Doane's Al Broussard ate up that distance. Another Balt kick made the score 14-0.

Lightning flashed again in a hurry. Wayne's next series ended in a blocked punt landing on the Wildcat 21. Doane scored again in five plays with Bo Gutzwiller, a little freshman quarterback, rimping around right end for five yards. The kick went wide this time.

Whatever happened during halftime changed the Wildcats. One veteran player reported later the coaches did not say much — "Mostly let us, think about our mistakes."

So the opening minutes of third-quarter play looked like the first quarter in reverse. Wayne charged ferociously, finally had to punt, and a Dean O'Hick set Doane back on the five. Three plays later, freshman cornerback Ray Wagner had his second key interception of the year for Wayne.

From the Tiger 22, Wayne scored on its fourth play, a Dave Miller to Ott pass in the end zone from the 17. Kevin Maht kicked the point. Later in the quarter the Wildcats reached the Doane 13, where Miller fired a pass straight to tight end Jerry Basye in the end zone — only to have it batted down by a Doane defender. Mary Wayne observers thought interference should have been called.

Fourth quarter action turned into another debate of penalties and turnovers. A blocked Wayne punt settled on the Wildcat four, and Al Broussard scored on the next play. Don Broussard kicked the score to 27-7. After that Wayne suffered an interception, and Doane lost a fumble.

Wayne Defense Honors Koenig's 1st 'Birthday'

By BOB BARTLETT

Friday night Wayne High defensive coach Don Koenig celebrated a birthday of sorts when the Blue Devils invaded Wakefield's football field. It was the first time Koenig had returned to his former coaching grounds as a coach since 1966 when he took over the head football job from Al Hansen, now head coach at Wayne High.

"I remember when I use to walk up and down the sidelines nervously chewing grass," Koenig reflected. Those days haven't changed much, with the exception that Koenig was on the opposite sideline, chewing grass as his defensive unit did its duties.

Friday's 27-7 win over the Trojans reflects the good job Koenig's defense did to stop the win-hungry Trojans. But even a better indicator is the final statistics — Wakefield gained only 48 yards rushing.

One area Wayne was weak in was pass defense, allowing 168 yards. Koenig probably is stressing this area's work as the Devils prepare for homecoming Friday night against Stanton. If they improve their pass defense and amount another stiff wall to stop the rush, the Devils will chalk up win No. five in their bid for a perfect season.

Victories by Wayne and Winside and losses by Allen and Laurel last week boosted my prediction record to 15-1. Winside stopped Hartington, 16-0; Allen fell to Ponca, 34-0, and Creighton squeezed out Laurel, 18-16.

Picks for Friday's games (winners in boldface): Winside at Wausa — Winside held Hartington to just 15 yards on the ground, quite a drop from the previous week when Hartington collected over 300 against Newcastle. The Cat defense should be ready for another tough Lewis and Clark battle.

Laurel at Neligh — The Bears are stronger than their 2-2 record might indicate. Although Neligh has lost some close games (12-6 to Winside and 6-0 to Atkinson-West Hill before being bombed 26-0 by Pierce), Laurel should earn its third victory.

Homer at Allen — It's homecoming for Allen, which should be enough to charge up the Eagles for a victory.

Wakefield at Wisner-Pilger — The Trojans displayed a good passing attack and a strong defense in holding Wayne twice near the goal. If they play like that against the Gators, they could win. But the game is at Wisner, so the home team gets the nod.

2 Days Left To Register for PP&K Contest

Only two days remain — today (Thursday) and Friday — for local and area youths to sign up for the 14th annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest to be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium.

So far an estimated 100 youngsters have registered, said Roy Hurd of Workman Auto, which is sponsoring the program in cooperation with the local Lions Club.

The top three finishers in each of the six age divisions (eight through 13) will receive their trophies during halftime of the Wayne State-Dakota State football game Saturday night.

Winners will advance to zone competition at Fremont the following Saturday. Winners there go to the district meet at Omaha Oct. 19. The next step before the finals at the Super Bowl in January is the regional contest at Kansas City.

Any youngster accompanied by a parent or guardian may register; there is no registration fee.

Each participant will receive a free tips book which includes a complete set of rules, conditioning exercises and punting, passing and placekicking tips by leading NFL specialists in these skills.

Homer Nips Allen

Allen High's junior varsity football team dropped its second contest in as many starts Monday night, a 22-8 loss to Homer.

Mike DeBorde tallied the Eagles' only points when he scored on a five-yard run in the third period before quarterback Don Kliver passed to DeBorde for the two-point conversion.

ROBERTS ERWIN

Newcastle Nips Allen High Girls

Newcastle eliminated Allen High's girls volleyball team from the eight-team Newcastle tournament Monday night, but not without a "good struggle," said coach Steve McManigal.

"We played as a team and never gave up," he pointed out about his varsity club, which lost its second match in three outings.

The hosts took a 17-15 first game before the Eagles tied back with a 15-13 win. The two-point difference continued in the third game, where Newcastle emerged with a 15-13 victory. McManigal pointed out that juniors JoAnne Roberts and Kari Erwin helped spark the team with good serving and spiking.

Roberts led the club with 17 serve points in three games, including 10 points in a row the second game. Erwin mustered 12 spike. Eight-five per cent of Allen's serves went over the net, McManigal noted. Bumping also was good, with 28 or 35 bumps setting up scoring points.

WH Rips Norfolk in Volleyball

Wayne High's varsity volleyball team made it a two-match sweep over Norfolk High Tuesday night.

Led by juniors Susan Jacobmeier and Mary Kovensky, the girls took the first game, 15-13, before bombing the visitors, 15-2. Last week, coach Mavis Dalton's club won just the first match at Norfolk.

Both Jacobmeier and Kovensky had 13 spikes each. Jacobmeier had 25 bumps and Kovensky had four good trips, Mrs. Dalton added.

Wayne now stands 5-1 for the season. Also boasting a 5-1 mark are the reserves after they went three games to down Norfolk.

The visitors won the first, 9-15, before Wayne staged 15-7 and 15-10 victories. Joan Hochstein led the reserves with 10 serves.

In freshman action, Wayne lost, 3-15 and 10-15, to drop its record to 4-2.

Wayne resumes action next Thursday night against Wisner-Pilger.

While continuing to serve youth of rural America, 4-H is expanding into urban areas as well. And affiliated 4-H members can be found in the nearly all major cities.

Junior High Plays Here

Wayne's junior high football game with Norfolk Catholic has been rescheduled from 5 p.m. today (Thursday) to 7 p.m. at Wayne.

The locals will be going for their third win without a defeat after blanking Schuyler, 24-0, and Randolph, 20-6.

Athlete Of The Week

MARK BRANDT, Wayne High School

Seniors have dominated this year's "Athlete of the Week" honors this fall, but Wayne High's Mark Brandt ends that string.

Only a sophomore, Brandt joins the ranks of some of the top prepsters in Northeast Nebraska for his efforts against arch-rival Wakefield Friday night.

The 154-pound speedster blew holes in Wakefield's defense all night, running for 157 yards in 19 carries. Although he never scored in that game, he was partly responsible for two of the Devils' four touchdowns in their 27-12 victory. Quick and alert is how Wayne coach Al Hansen describes Brandt, one of his fastest backs. Mark has always been reliable on the run option, Hansen added.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Irv Brandt of Wayne, the soph. has had plenty of Teachers to learn the running game from. Runners like seniors Rod Hoops and Marty Hansen and junior quarterback Paul Mallette, who possess the speed to make the Devils' rushing game one of the keys to their 4-0 record.

Brandt wasn't the only member of the Wayne club to be up for the award. Defensive lineman Gary Hansen made 27 tackles against Wakefield to rank high on the list.

Another defensive star in last week's games was Winside junior Bob Hoffman with 15 drops.

Sportsbeat

By Bob Bartlett

JILL STENWALL isn't unhappy playing on this year's Winside High volleyball team. But if she had her druthers, she'd include football on her high school sports schedule.

Not flag football or powder puff brand. Straight, hard-nose high school type, with plenty of tackling.

Jill, a junior, isn't afraid of playing in what is considered a boys sport. Fact is, the idea that some sports are mainly played by boys entices her to try 'em out. "I don't want to beat a boy at his sport. I just want to see what and how much I can do in comparison to a guy," the 16-year-old said.

But two things kept her from going out for football. One was conflicts with playing on the volleyball squad. The other was the Nebraska Schools Activity Association's ruling that prohibits girls from participating in contact sports with boys.

This ruling has been around for quite some time, said Bob Pease, one of six members of the NSAA's board of control. The problem is, the superintendent at Wisner-Pilger High School pointed out, the ruling is in direct conflict with federal government guidelines which state a school must provide equal facilities for both girls and boys.

Pease said the guidelines don't spell out if a school should allow a girl to play in a contact sport with a boy, but they say that, if a school doesn't provide adequate facilities for a girl, the school's federal funds could be cut off.

Pease hopes the conflict can be resolved in a year or two.

But for now Jill is serious about playing football. Even head football coach Doug Barclay doesn't think it's a bad idea to have her try out next year.

The boys would be willing to let her try, Barclay pointed out. They respect her not so much because she's a girl but because she has proven her ability and determination in other sports, he added.

Last year Jill ranked second in the state in girls shot put with a heave of 42.6, and she was third in the discus in Class C during the state girls track meet.

In my lifetime I would like to try every sport I can that's available," said Jill, noting that one of her goals is to try out for junior Olympics and later the U.S. Olympic team.

Jill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stenwall of Winside, got interested in sports in her freshman year at Winside when she went to the state track meet. Although she didn't place in the shot, she became determined to rank the following year.

ADDITIONS: Today (Thursday) the Second Guessers will hold its weekly meeting at the Black Knight Lounge. Everyone is welcome to attend the noon dinner. Cost $15.52.

Winside area girls community who are out of high school have a chance to play volleyball every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the high school gym. Direct questions to Kathy O'Conner at the high school.

Wayne County Club will be site of this year's Husker Conference cross country meet next Wednesday, Oct. 9. At least 10 schools are expected to be at the meet, said athletic director Harold Maciejewski. He hopes to have a complete list of the teams entering by Friday or early next week.

Winside Takes 3rd at Osmond

Winside High's volleyball team finished third in the four-team Osmond Invitational Tuesday night, beating Niobrara in two games.

The Wildkittens scored 15-10 and 15-2 wins on "a lot better team spiking," said coach Don Leighton after his girls won their third game against six losses.

Winside opened the meet against Hartington Cedar Catholic with a 15-2 win on "good setups and hustle," Leighton noted. But Winside lost the momentum in the next two games, falling 11-15 and 4-15.

Against Niobrara, senior Patry Mann was credited with good spiking while junior Cindy Thomas had 10 straight serve points in the second win.

Osmond won the tournament, beating Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Randolph JVs Down Laurel

Freshman running back Dave Lindgren ran for a pair of touchdowns and scored both two-point conversions in Laurel High's losing effort to Randolph's reserve football team, 31-27, Monday at Laurel.

Lindgren, who carried the ball seven times for 116 yards, scored both TDs in the third quarter before sophomore Gordon Kardell raced 35 yards in the fourth for the Bears final tally.

Randolph took a 19-0 first half lead after a poor showing by Laurel, said coach Tom Bell. Lindgren then got the team on the board with his 26-yard romp to cap Laurel's drive in seven plays. The two-point try was good. Lindgren scored his second TD on a run from the five. He connected his second two pointer following Kardell's score.

Mike Dalton was the Bear's leading defender with eight unassisted tackles and four assists. Laurel, 0-3, takes on Hartington Cedar Catholic's reserves Oct. 14 at Hartington.

Punts Hurt Eagles' Game Against Ponca

Four of Allen High's seven attempted punts turned into Ponca scores Friday night as the Indians bombed the Eagles, 34-0.

Allen, kicking into a stiff wind, saw one pig go for three yards while another neffed a minus two yards. The Eagles also had one blocked and another punt fumbled.

Varsity punter senior Paul Snyder, still hobbling from a leg injury, saw limited action, kicking only one punt good for 43 yards.

Ponca's Bob Curry scored four TD's, two of them on runs of 84 and 53 yards, to help lead the home club to a 28-0 halftime margin.

Allen, 1-3, was led by Doug Kliver with 26 yards rushing in 12 carries. Don Kliver led tacklers with eight stops. Friday night is homecoming for the Eagles. They host conference foe Homer.

Reds, Golds Tie at 12-12

The Red and Gold teams played to a 12-12 tie in the opening city recreational football game at fifth and sixth graders Tuesday night at the Wayne ball park.

Chip Carr put the Reds on the board with a 65-yard scamper in the first quarter before Mike Shock came back in the second period on a 35-yard end around to tie the ball game at 6-6 at the half. Both PATs failed.

Carr broke the tie in the third period on a 45-yard run up the middle to give the Reds a brief lead, but Pat McCright knotted the game in the fourth with a 40-yard end around play. Again both PATs failed.

Although Doug Proett, for the Gold team, did not score any points, he had a pair of 20-yard runs and a 35-yard dash to lead the teams, said city recreation director Hank Overin. Brian Fleming did a good job for the Reds, getting numerous first downs as a fullback. Overin added.

The National 4-H Service Committee, as its name implies, truly is a committee. The roster of officers, directors and members include public spirited leaders of business, agriculture and education.

Junior High Primes Up

ALLEN'S JUNIOR HIGH football team knotted its first win of the season Monday afternoon, dawning Homer, 24-14. Gregg Carr, a seventh grader, scored two Allen TD's plus a pair of two-point conversions when he took over the quarterback duties from starter Earl Gotch (top photo). Gotch sided in the team's two-point conversion with a pass to Kevin Kraemer (80) after Kraemer scored. Allen's next game will be Monday at Winnebago.

Midland Tops Wayne Lowe, Wieseler Score 5 TD's in JV Win

The Wayne State women's volleyball team lost a varsity game to Midland Tuesday, but the Wayne reserves won their match at Fremont.

Midland's varsity prevailed, 15-5, 15-4, and the Wayne reserves won their match at Fremont.

Midland's varsity prevailed, 15-5, 15-4, and the Wayne reserves won, 15-3, 15-8.

The year's action began Saturday at Chadron. Wayne varsity defeated Black Hills State, 15-3, 16-14, and the reserves beat Black Hills, 15-0, 15-7.

Chadron State whipped Wayne's varsity, 15-10, 15-10, and the Wayne reserves, 9-15, 15-10, 15-2. Chadron also beat Black Hills in both varsity and reserve.

Wayne volleyballers will play Platte College Friday night at Columbus before opening at home Saturday against Creighton University, starting at 1 p.m. in Rice Gym.

Wayne High's junior varsity spotted Hartington Cedar Catholic eight points the first quarter Monday before the Devils opened up their five touchdown scoring flurry to whip the home team, 34-8.

Reserve quarterback Monte Lowe passed for a pair of six pointers and crossed the goal on a two-yard quarterback sneak and Mike Wieseler dashed for two touchdowns in leading Wayne's attack.

Lowe hit Dave Hix for 50 and 15-yard aerial TDs to spring Wayne into the lead after Wieseler scored in the opening quarter to cut Hartington's lead to 8-6. The PAT failed.

The first Lowe-Hix pass made the score 12-8 before the pair combined for another aerial on the two-point try and a 14-8 command.

Wieseler scored his second TD on a four-yard run to finish Wayne's drive from their 25. Ritch Workman nailed the two-point conversion.

With Wayne in front 22-8 in the third period, Lowe hit Hix for 15 yards and the team's fourth TD. Then Lowe sneaked across from two yards out after Workman broke loose from Wayne's five and raced to Hartington's five-yard line to set up the final TD. The last two PATs failed.

"This is the first real reserve win," said coach Ron Carnes, adding that his past two ball games have involved mostly sophomores against other opponents' sophomore teams.

"It was a tough game the first half but our team really played well on offense and defense in the second half," he said.

Defensively, Larry Creighton and Brian Frevert led the team with eight tackles each. Seven of Creighton's were solo tackles. Rick Straight and Paul Lindner had seven drops.

Wayne's junior varsity takes a week off before hosting West Point Central Catholic, Oct. 14.

'High Moisture Milo Is Promising Feed'

Harvesting and feeding high moisture milo may be the answer for cattle feeders faced with expensive grain and roughage and uncertain milo harvesting conditions.

University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension beef specialist Paul Guyer suggested that cattle feeders should be able to cut costs and obtain greater feed efficiency this winter using high moisture milo.

Guyer cited research at Kansas State University where finishing yearling steers fed milo harvested at about 25 per cent moisture produced superior feed efficiency and average daily gains over field-dried milo.

Feeding high moisture grain will normally improve feed efficiency by 10 to 15 per cent over dry milo," Guyer pointed out. "Also, harvesting high moisture milo offers these additional advantages: reduces chances of weather damage, eliminates need for drying and permits earlier field work or grazing."

The major disadvantage of high moisture storage is that the milo is limited to livestock feeding and cannot be marketed as cash grain, Guyer told.

KSU researchers compared different methods of storing high moisture and dry milo. After ensiling the high moisture grain for at least three weeks it was fed in identical rations to 825 pound steers.

The three methods of storing high moisture milo were: milo ensiled whole in an air-tight upright silo; treated with a chemical grain preservative and stored whole in a metal grain bin, or rolled and ensiled in an upright concrete silo.

The other storage methods used in the feeding trials were reconstituted dry milo rolled and stored in concrete silos, or dry milo stored whole in a metal grain bin.

The most efficient cattle were those fed high moisture milo stored in either an air-tight upright silo or chemically preserved in a metal grain bin, Guyer said.

Dry milo rations produced the least efficient and slowest gaining cattle of the five storage methods. Intermediate gains and feed efficiency were achieved by cattle fed high moisture milo or reconstituted milo from upright concrete silos.

Two common grain preservatives, ammonium isobutyrate (AIB) and propionic acid, have been equally effective in preventing spoilage of the high moisture grain with no effect on feed value or palatability when used at recommended levels.

KSU researchers also found that silage or pellets made from milo stover (stalks) were equal to good quality native hay as roughages in finishing rations, Guyer reported.

Planetarium Popular Place At Wayne State

Several weeks ago the director of Wayne State's Dale Planetarium invited organizations and schools to arrange special showings of sky shows.

Since then, Carl Rump reports, he has presented programs to these groups:

Fourth graders from the Wayne Carroll school system; Scouts from Royal, who also used the college's telescopes; Wayne County School Districts 47, 57 and 60; and Norfolk Jefferson School sixth graders.

Rump said he invites other groups to arrange special programs by writing or calling him at Carhart Science Hall. Several shows that he has presented in past years are available.

The regular twice weekly show for fall 1974 will begin Oct. 16 and continue on a Wednesday Sunday schedule through Nov. 24. The topic: UFO's: Fact or Fantasy.

Work Underway On Highway 57

Culvert installation, bridge widening and construction of a new bridge has begun on Highway 57 from Carroll north nine miles to Highway 20.

Traffic will be detoured, beginning at Carroll and running one mile west and then nine miles north to Highway 20.

Midwest Bridge and Construction Co. of Norfolk has the $223,579 contract for culverts. Missouri Valley Construction Co. of Grand Island has the $144,423 contract for the bridge work.

September 1975 is the estimated completion date, according to Fred Johnson of Harting ton, project manager.

2 Injured Slightly In 1-Car Accident

Two Wayne youths received minor injuries in a one-car accident a mile west and three-quarters of a mile south of Wayne last week.

Treated and released from the hospital in Wayne following the accident Tuesday about 6:55 p.m. were the driver, Marshall Russell, and his passenger, Richard Reed.

The car, which belonged to Richard and Keith Reed, was a total loss, according to the sheriff's office.

The accident took place when Russell lost control of the car on the gravel, the sheriff's office said, and the car went into the west ditch and rolled over once. Damaged in the accident was fence belonging to Jerry Dorcay.

Mulligan Stew, the acclaimed 4-H television series on nutrition, has enrolled nearly 4.5 million boys and girls to-date across the country, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

Center

Community Chest to make several purchases, including an addressograph machine for addressing the Center's monthly newsletters, a tape recorder and other office materials, Mrs. Bull explained.

Also purchased from money which the Center received from last year's fund drive were nine dozen coffee cups.

Mrs. Bull emphasized that she requests only enough money from the Community Chest each year to purchase something which is "really needed at the Center." Community Chest officials appreciate that kind of request, she noted, because they can see that the money is being used for a good purpose.

Membership at the Center, which is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., has grown considerably since 1969. The first few months there were only about 35 members, Mrs. Bull said, but now more than 400 people belong.

All members are not able to take part in Center activities regularly, she noted, but approximately 300 come to the Center at least monthly.

And when they come, a host of activities await them—Spanish classes twice a week, quilting and knitting sessions, bridge classes, monthly sermons, a sing-along, dances, handicraft lessons, talks by persons seeking office, bingo, cards, pool and the like.

The Center also has its own band, the Bobbles and Bubbles, which performs there regularly and which makes monthly trips to the nursing home in Wayne to entertain persons living there. The band recently played at nursing homes in Laurel and Wisler to show those elderly residents that music can be made from instruments made out of things found around most homes.

Is the Center serving a purpose in Wayne? Yes, according to Mrs. Bull.

"The members feel a need for companionship, and they find it when they come here," she says. "They need to have somebody to talk to about the happy things that happen to them and about the sad things."

The Center is also instrumental in a more concrete way than providing companionship. The Center is directing a meals on wheels program which makes it possible for elderly people to eat hot meals at noon even though they are unable to leave their homes. Three volunteers and substitute help deliver the meals daily after they are prepared by Wayne State College food personnel.

Members of the Center are also offered occasional trips outside the city on chartered busses. The longest trip made to date was one to Abilene, Kans., to see the Eisenhower complex. Other trips have been made to Lincoln, Ponca State Park, Omaha, Sioux City and West Bend, Ia. The trips are fun as well as educational for the members, Mrs. Bull noted.

presentation at the high school earlier this month.

Thayer said that the advance gifts should give workers a good push in order to meet or exceed this year's goal.

Following are the amounts the nine different agencies will receive if this year's drive reaches its $11,450 goal.

Wayne recreation program, $2,600; Senior Citizens Center, $745; Boy Scouts, $2,000; Girl Scouts, $2,000; Red Cross, $700; Salvation Army, $1,400; Arthritis Foundation, $550; Florence Crittenton Home at Sioux City, $750; and National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, $300.

Drive officials have emphasized that the united effort to raise money for several different agencies one time during the year means that the agencies won't be conducting separate drives throughout the year.

The united effort saves on manpower, administration and advertising, according to board president Dr. Sid Hillier, and means that local residents may make just one contribution rather than several during the year.

Carroll Farmer Wants to Close County Road

A Carroll farmer is expected to get signatures on a petition to have a mile of county road closed west of Carroll because the road is seldom traveled.

Paul Brader is seeking to close the mile of county road north of the intersection one mile south and seven miles west of Carroll, according to Wayne County clerk Norris Weible.

Weible said the subject was discussed during Tuesday's county commissioners meeting.

He noted that the commissioners agreed to consider closing the road if Brader obtains at least 10 signatures of persons living within 10 miles of the road.

The commissioners would have to hold a public hearing before they could close the road, according to Weible.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners agreed not to enter into an agreement to use state funds in repairing bridges near the Leland Herman farm east of Wayne and the Harry Heine-mann farm southwest of Wayne.

The commissioners earlier had attempted to obtain state funds for the projects, Weible said, but they decided against using those funds because of the specifications which would hike the cost considerably. The commissioners will be able to do the work with local funds for a total cost under what it would be if government money were used, Weible explained.

Approved Tuesday by the commissioners was spending about $25,000 in federal revenue sharing funds for purchase of a used maintainer for Ken Eddie's district. The maintainer has already been purchased, according to Weible.

Reporting to the commissioners about a meeting with state civil defense officials in Lincoln last week was T. P. Roberts of Wayne, county civil defense director.

Ready to Hike

WAYNE STATE president Lyle Seymour, left, helps cut a ribbon to start Saturday's Hike for Hope. The hike 10 miles south of Wayne and back by approximately 70 people earned the Phi Mu sponsored event about $2,400 in pledges, according to hike chairman Kathe Kardell. Money will go to the U.S.S. Hope, a medical mercy ship which travels throughout the world.

'Wayne County Needs More Doctors'

There is a "definite need for more health care professionals, especially physicians of all types," in Wayne County and four other Northeast Nebraska counties, according to a group which is attempting to draw up a comprehensive health care plan for the five county area.

Drawing that conclusion is the District 11 Health Planning Committee, a group composed of hospital and nursing home administrators, nurses, physicians, government and welfare representatives, and persons who are concerned about health care.

The committee has been meeting regularly in an effort to draw up a comprehensive health care plan for the district, one of five multi-county areas included in the 21 county region served by the Northern Nebraska Health Planning Council (NNHPC) located at Norfolk.

At the first meeting of the committee members determined health care needs of Wayne, Stanton, Madison, Pierce and Antelope Counties.

Later, top priority was given to health manpower problems in the district, says Alan Mytty, NNHPC executive director.

Specifically cited was the need for physicians of all kinds, registered nurses, dentists and para professionals," Mytty noted.

Second highest priority was given to the public health education services, including preventive health services, physical and mental health education, venereal disease education and diagnosis and family life education.

Next in importance, Mytty said, is area wide home health care—an alternative to institutionalization, and more utilization of nurse practitioners.

The fourth need, according to Mytty, is for more services for the aged and handicapped, including transportation systems. Other needs include better models for rural health systems, dental and medical care for the "near poor," better integration of allied health services, alcoholism services for teenagers, better utilization of existing health care services, and family mental health counseling on the local level and day care centers.

To meet the need for more physicians, a manpower planning effort has recently been undertaken by the State Bureau of Comprehensive Health Planning, which will be working closely with the NNHPC and the district committee in determining exactly what manpower problems exist and developing strategies to solve the problems, according to Mytty.

In order to provide better public health education services, the committee has recommended locating and utilizing local resources to educate the community on health related issues and concerns. This can be done, Mytty said, by taking advantage of community colleges, teachers, health workers and existing health education services.

The NNHPC is currently conducting a feasibility study to determine what kinds of community health services would be best for the five county area as well as area wide health care is concerned. Results of the study will be made available to the committee to help it determine the best solution, Mytty noted. Possible solutions include hospital-based programs or county or multi-county departments.

Recommendations to meet the need for more services for the aged and handicapped include a plan to provide appropriate housing, a comprehensive home health service designed to reduce costs and the development of outreach programs supported by elderly persons, said Mytty.

In order to solve the problems identified by the committee, members are seeking cooperation and assistance from persons living in the five county area. Persons who would like to help or who would like more information are asked to write or call Mytty at the Northern Nebraska Health Planning Council at Norfolk.

The National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, provides program services, information services, publishes National 4-H News magazine and operates a supply service offering some 1,450 4-H emblemized items.

Decker Names 'Tuesday Lions' 'Service Day'
 Wayne mayor Freeman Decker has proclaimed Tuesday as World Lions Service Day in Wayne "to enhance public awareness of the importance of services by the Lions."

B. J. Hirt, president of the Local Lions Club, said members of the club will perform acts of service on that day to emphasize to local and area residents that the purpose of the organization is to serve others.

In his proclamation, mayor Decker drew attention to the more than 27,700 Lions Clubs in existence in the world. He noted that the World Lions Service Day commemorates the 57th anniversary of Lions International, which now has clubs in 147 countries and geographical areas.

The president of the international organization, Johnny Balbo, has called on all Lions Clubs to meet to perform special services for their communities on next Tuesday.

Enrollment in 4-H educational programs increased 31.6 per cent last year as compared with previous years. In addition, the number of locally organized 4-H clubs and groups increased 9.3 per cent while the number of volunteer 4-H leaders jumped 10.2 per cent during the same period.

Epidemics could come again

In Atlanta, Georgia, the immunization division of the Center for Disease Control has issued statistics that can only be viewed with alarm. Last year, only 60.4 per cent of the nation's children between one and four years of age had been immunized against polio, a drastic decrease from 1963 when 83.1 per cent were immunized. Only 61.2 per cent had been immunized for measles and 55.6 per cent for rubella, or German measles.

Nebraska immunization levels have improved and exceed the national average, but we should heed this national trend and not let this happen in Nebraska.

The steady decline in national immunization statistics over the past 10 years has frightening implications. It accounts for the fact that polio continues to strike a small number of children each year in the United States and that measles outbreaks have become more and more frequent.

Even more disconcerting, however, is the grim warning from immunization experts that we could once again experience widespread epidemics of childhood diseases in the United States. This possibility should be enough to convince any parent to make sure his children are immunized.

Perhaps people have forgotten the polio epidemics of the 1950s, when thousands of children were permanently crippled. Perhaps people have forgotten that measles once claimed hundreds of lives each year. Perhaps people have forgotten the rubella epidemic of 1964, which resulted in 30,000 miscarriages and serious disabilities in 70,000 babies.

It is time to remember — and time to act. There is no reason, aside from negligence, for epidemics to take place, bringing with them a tragic toll in death and human misery. Polio, measles, rubella and other childhood diseases can and must be prevented. Parents of unimmunized children, and those who are not sure whether their children are fully vaccinated, should check with their doctor or local health department without delay.

Cartoon joins paper

Readers of The Wayne Herald who pay attention to what is on the society page will notice a new cartoon here this week.

The cartoon, called "Hilly Home-maker," is the first of four which will be run during the next few weeks on that page, compliments of the extension division at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Each of the cartoons will deal with a different aspect of the what and why of home extension clubs in an effort to create a greater awareness of the clubs across the state. Those clubs serve a very useful function in communities across Nebraska, and we hope the cartoons will help tell the extension club story to those who don't know very much about the purpose of the clubs.

A pleasant surprise

If you get a chance, stop over at the home of the new opportunities center which will open in Wayne next week. You will be surprised at the fantastic job workers did in remodeling that building at the corner of Second and Logan Streets into something which will be a showcase for this community.

The building has some 6,000 square feet of space, most of it devoted to assembly and workshop areas; it also has a small classroom, an office for the director and restrooms.

When the machinery and other equipment is moved into the building, it will be quite a nice addition to Wayne. More important, however, it will be the site where some valuable work and training will be going on.

The opportunities center will be the place where local and area mentally retarded adults will be taught how to go out into the world and compete for jobs with more fortunate persons. They will be taught simple things, such as how to punch a timeclock daily, how to carry out their duties while on a job and the like. Some of them also will be taught other things, including how to operate heavy machinery such as power saws or power drills. They also will learn how to work with tools so they can use them on jobs they might land when they leave the center.

The director of the opportunities center says plans are underway to hold an open house at the center within the next few weeks. When that takes place, make a point to get over there for a tour. You will be pleasantly surprised at both the change made in that old building as well as the work being done with the adults who are clients of the center.

Proud's act upstaged by Exon, Meyer

CAPITOL NEWS

Lincoln — It was now you see it, now you don't for a special legislative session last week.

Speaker Richard Proud, during the few hours he served as acting governor, issued what he called a proclamation that called the Legislature to a special session October 7.

The Omaha senator said such a session was essential because of an emergency situation. The state's nine per cent usury rate is drying up mortgage money and hurting the economy.

Proud was governor for a day because the elected governor, J. J. Exon, was in Rapid City attending an Old West Trails meeting on regional tourism and the lieutenant governor, Frank Marsh, was in Wisconsin attending a meeting of the National Council of Community Service to International Visitors of which he is a vice president.

When Exon and Marsh both are beyond the state's boundaries at the same time, the legislative speaker becomes acting governor.

Proud scratched out his proclamation in ballpoint on a yellow legal pad and said it was official.

Not so said attorney general Clarence Meyer.

Meyer summoned the press to his office and announced that Exon (who had contacted the attorney general by telephone from South Dakota) had authorized him to release his opinion.

Meyer said an acting governor doesn't automatically have all the powers of an elected governor and that, under the circumstances, couldn't call a special session.

And Meyer said, even if Proud did have the authority to call the session, Exon had the authority upon his return to cancel the call.

That's just what Exon did the same evening, just as soon his plane touched Nebraska soil.

The criticism which greeted Proud's suggestion from almost every side wasn't unexpected by the speaker. He said he was braced for that reaction.

About the only official whose opinion was solicited who had good words for Proud was Senator Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, who like Proud, is trying to take over Exon's job (Marvel, however, seeks to do it through the elective process — Exon's Republican challenger).

Marvel expressed concern about the effects of the usury rate and said a special session might be the answer.

Proud said he hadn't conspired with Marvel, as Exon claimed in his response, but he had told the gubernatorial candidate about his plans just before they became public.

Exon used the occasion for some political barbs, claiming, for one thing, that the hierarchy of the Republican party had staged the special session affair.

State GOP executive secretary Glenn Wilson hotly denied that.

The most common reaction to Proud's sudden announcement was one of disbelief. As newsmen called officials, they were almost always met with, "You're kidding," when they explained what Proud had done (or, as it turned out, tried to do).

Proud, however, wasn't plowing new ground.

In researching their answer to Exon's query about the legal aspects of the situation, attorney general Meyer and his deputy, Gerald Vitam, came across an 1872 state supreme court decision which dealt with almost identical circumstances.

It was the president of the senate — one Isaac Hascall — who had called a special session during a brief ascendency to the governorship. When the permanent governor returned to Nebraska soil, he issued a fresh proclamation canceling Hascall's.

The supreme court judges said the governor, William H. James (who actually was secretary of state, but was serving as governor because of David Butler's impeachment), was perfectly within his rights in rescinding Hascall's action.

The judges a century ago weren't too sure about whether Hascall had the authority in the first place to issue the call. But Meyer wasn't wobbly on that score at all in 1974. Meyer said an acting governor has only as much power as he needs to meet whatever emergencies develop during his tenure as chief executive.

The usury situation may be a problem, Meyer said, but it wasn't the sort of emergency which threatened to bring down the state before 9 o'clock that night, when Exon returned.

Meyer said the ruling was designed to prevent an absurd situation in which a governor dared not even cross the state line without the possibility of irrevocable damage being done to his administration.

Student Clubs

Attracting qualified young people into careers as auto service technicians is being helped by and industry — support of national student organization called Vocational Student Clubs of America (VICA).

Composed of some 7,000 local clubs, each associated with a high school or college program, VICA is helping overcome the negative image sometimes associated with many trade and some technical careers. One aspect of the program, a U.S. Skill Olympics, is the culmination of local, state and regional competition in 30 general and skill areas, including auto body and auto mechanics and diesel mechanics.

These events are co-sponsored and underwritten by the industry with support ranging from car dealers sponsoring teams of students in local events to auto manufacturers and trade associations underwriting students' traveling expenses, cost of conducting the Olympics, necessary tools, equipment prizes.

The Olympics often leads directly to a career. Last year, the winner of the auto mechanics class was hired on the spot by an auto manufacturer as an area parts and service manager.

In addition to promoting high standards in trade ethics, workmanship and safety, VICA clubs teach business procedures, develop group planning abilities and emphasize respect for the dignity of work. Industry involvement is vital to the local clubs. Car dealers, for example, participate in the program by serving on committees to evaluate instructional programs and students, and address the clubs on technical subjects and industry job requirements and opportunities.

The success of VICA is evident by countless numbers of students who have developed pride in their trade and confidence in themselves.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Attn: N. M., Independent Review of Energy
"There's a universe made up of energy that is ours for the using, if — if we can break loose from our myopic obsession that the way to do everything is to have government appropriate another billion or two and create yet another bureau. That way is what has brought us within flinching distance of disaster."

Students 18-22 getting social security checks should report changes in their earnings, school enrollment and marital status to social security officials, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

Over 650,000 students 18 and over get monthly social security payments because a parent gets disability or retirement benefits or has died. Students can continue to get payments to age 22—or slightly beyond for undergraduates—as long as they remain full-time students and unmarried, he noted.

Changes in total yearly earnings from part-time or temporary jobs can also affect social security payments to students, he said.

"If you're a student getting payments and know your earnings for 1974 will be over $2,400, you should report that to social security," he said. "Otherwise, you might get benefits you'll have to pay back later."

Social security payments are reduced by $1 for every $2 earned over $2,400 in a year. No matter how much they earn for the year, people can get their full social security payment for any month in which they neither earn $200 nor do substantial work in their own business.

Transfers from one school to another should also be reported to social security by students getting social security payments, according to Branch.

"If you have questions about social security payments to students 18 and over, you can get answers by writing, visiting or calling any social security office," he said.

VA Q&A

Q — How much can I pay for a home purchased with a loan guaranteed by the Veterans Administration?

A — As much as you can afford. However, there is a limit on the amount of guaranty the VA can issue — 60 per cent, up to a maximum of $12,500. Also, the loan cannot exceed VA's appraised value of the property.

Q — I bought a car six years ago with a grant from the Veterans Administration. Will the VA replace the car's worn-out adaptive equipment?

A — Yes. The VA will pay for installation, maintenance and replacement of adaptive equipment, but the car grant is a one time benefit.

Clinic Slated for Wayne For Spotting Oral Cancer

A free oral cancer detection clinic is planned for Sunday, Oct. 13, from 1:30 to 5 p.m. at the city auditorium in Wayne.

The clinic, for all residents of Wayne County and surrounding areas 18 years of age and older, is being sponsored by the county cancer unit and the Dr. Gordon Shupe dental clinic. Local and area dentists and a pathologist will assist Dr. Wayne Wessel of Wayne.

The Nebraska division of the American Cancer Society and the Nebraska Dental Association have co-sponsored a number of similar oral cancer surveys in other counties in Nebraska.

Oral cancer, although accessible and easy to detect, accounts for about five per cent of all cancer deaths, according to medical experts. However, it does not often alert the victim by pain, they add.

Smoking is a big cause of oral cancer, they note, but other forms of irritation can cause it. Other causes include over-exposure to the sun, ill-fitting dentures, jagged teeth and improper diet, they note.

Doctors and dentists warn people to be on guard for such pre-cancer conditions as excessive bleeding of the gums, canker or cold sores that are slow to heal and leukoplakia or whitish patches in the mouth or on the tongue.

The low survival rate of oral cancer victims can be raised dramatically through early diagnosis and prompt treatment by routine oral examinations, medical experts note.

The Wayne County cancer unit encourages all residents to attend the clinic. Patients will be informed of possible dental needs and referred to their own dentists.

Allen to Offer Driving Course

A four-week defensive driving course will be offered in Allen now that enough people have registered, said Ken Linafelter, member of the Allen Community Development Club.

The club, which is sponsoring the course, has more than the needed 25 people signed up, but there is still room for more applicants, Linafelter pointed out.

The course, which will be given four Wednesday nights in March, will be conducted by the State Patrol. Cost is $5 per person and $3 for each additional family member taking the course.

Those interested in taking the course may register at Anderson's Pharmacy.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Joycelyn Smith

Many good apple varieties are good for all purposes. Tart, firm apples are generally best liked for cooking, sweeter apples for eating raw.

Nebraska apples now in season are the Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Grimes Golden and Jonathan. All but the Delicious are recommended for pies and sauce. The Jonathan is recommended for baking whole.

In some areas, windfalls and culls are sold at bargain rates. To make sure you have a real bargain, stop and consider how you will use the fruit. Bruises and skin breaks mean waste. Apples damaged in this way are poor risks for home canning. Use them when making jelly, apple butter or cider.

Skin russeting ordinarily does not affect apple quality. When planning to buy apples in large quantity, it is best to buy a few at first to see whether they have the flavor and texture desired.

Apples are noted for their good keeping qualities. However, it does take care to hold them at their best in home storage. For short storage, a few days to two weeks, keep firm apples in the refrigerator. If plenty of cool or cold storage space is available, whage the temperature remains the same and the air is rather moist, apples can be stored for several months. But remember, tart firm apples become less crisp and snappy if stored through the winter.

This and That...

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Dutch Elm Disease
I have had a number of calls the last couple of years from home owners inquiring whether the American elm tree can be saved from the Dutch elm disease. The answer to this question is a qualified no.

In most cases there is simply nothing that can be done to stop this disease from killing our American elm trees.

In Wayne, as well as in other towns and farmsteads in the county, most of the elm trees have either been killed, are dying or will soon get the disease. It doesn't look like many of the trees will survive this disease.

Because of the importance of this disease I would like to repeat a recent article written by the University of Nebraska plant pathologist on Dutch elm disease in Nebraska.

"Dutch elm disease, the most destructive disease known to the American elm, continues to spread westward in Nebraska and the United States.

"The first appearance of Dutch elm in Nebraska was in 1960. The disease has since spread to 90 of the 93 Nebraska counties. At present, only Banner, Thomas and Hooker counties have escaped the Dutch elm disease.

"Will this disease continue to spread? Yes so far as we know the disease will probably occur wherever American elms are grown.

Since the disease is carried by certain bark beetles, long distant transmission is simplified. For instance, Denver, Colo., is now experiencing an outbreak of Dutch elm disease and Boise, Id., reported the first occurrence west of the Rocky Mountains in 1970.

"Can Dutch elm disease be prevented? No, not entirely. A rigorously followed program involving sanitation, prompt removal of diseased trees, prevention of root grass transmissions and spraying will slow down this disease. It will not completely prevent its spread. The high cost involved in such a prevention program limits its feasibility. Each city, town and village will have to examine its resources and tailor a program to fit local circumstances.

A comprehensive slide set series on veterinary science will be available this fall from the National 4-H Service Committee. Planned with the aid of the Cooperative Extension Service with a grant from The Upjohn Company. 26 slide sets are being produced.

"What about 'miracle drugs' or 'cures' for Dutch elm disease? Presently there are no scientifically proven products on the market which consistently cure or arrest Dutch elm disease. However, in some tests a fungicide called Benomyl has arrested disease development. Caution should be used in purchasing any of these miracle products, not only to avoid unnecessary cost.

"What can you do to prevent a similar occurrence in the future? When replanting, select a wide variety of locally adapted trees. Unfortunately, many cities and towns overplanted the American elm. A mixed planting of trees will not allow one disease to be so severely felt.

Spring is the ideal time to be planting trees in this area. One of the problems many people have is deciding which type of tree they would like to plant. We have a new bulletin in the extension office on broadleaf trees. This is a bulletin which explains and has colored pictures of all the recommended broadleaf trees for this area. I would suggest anyone that is considering purchasing trees for next spring drop in to the extension office and obtain this bulletin. "Broadleaf Trees for Nebraska"

Brown Needles

Don't worry if your evergreens are dropping needles. Fall is the season for evergreens to shed their needles - older needles, that is. As needles turn yellow or brown the trees tend to look sick.

The needles that turn brown and naturally fall off are two, three or four years old. These needles are located nearest the center of the trees. The younger green healthy needles are located on the outside or at the end of the branches.

This needle browning is apparent only for a short period of time as the rain or wind will knock these needles to the ground and the trees will again appear normal.

If upon inspection of the ground under the trees you notice young needles or needles that are only partially brown, you may have a disease or insect problem. Bring a sample of these needles to me at the extension office and I will try to determine what disease is affecting your evergreen trees.

LENRD Awards Banquet Scheduled

The annual awards banquet of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will be held at Stanton on Nov. 25.

The board of directors of the Lower Elkhorn NRD selected Stanton as the site for the event during a meeting at Scribner on Thursday last week. Time and location of the banquet will be announced later.

During last week's meeting, the directors toured the Scribner Air Base project, a project which will include a floodwater retaining structure and a series of let down structures to control a drainage and siltation problem affecting Highway 275 and a railroad bridge. Set to begin immediately, the project is a coordinated effort by the NRD, Department of Aeronautics, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, state roads department and local landowners.

The NRD's watershed and flood control committee report on progress in the Maple Creek Flood Control Plan now that land-rights maps have been completed on 10 of the 28 structures recommended, and the board accepted the committee's recommendation that the NRD share 50 percent of the cost of a floodwater retaining structure for the City of Hooper up to $13,750.00.

The comprehensive planning and program committee updated the board on progress on the Maskettehine Flood Control Project near Stanton. Land acquisition is scheduled to begin the first week of October as planned.

Topography and ground control work has been completed on the Willow Creek site near Pierce, and studies on percolation and foundation material are to be completed by the October board meeting.

The final vote to get Norfolk's Riverfront Development off and running was made when the board agreed to share in half the total cost of land acquisition with the City of Norfolk. Application will now be made to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and the Game and Parks Commission.

Area members on the board include vice chairman Harold O'Brien of Prager, secretary Richard Alexander of Prager

Werner Mann of Winside, Fred Sulman of Wakefield and Verne Willis of Wayne.

Life Expectancy At All-Time High In Wayne County

Life expectancy for the average resident of Wayne County, has reached an all-time high.

A child born today to local parents has excellent prospects of living to the middle of the 21st century, even if there is no further improvement in the span of life.

A child's life expectancy at birth is now 71.1 years, according to the Institute of Health Insurance. This compares with 59.7 years in 1930 and 68.2 in 1950.

Since the turn of the century, according to the Institute, longevity has increased more than 24 years for the average person. Most of the gain was realized in the period between 1900 and 1950 when infant mortality was sharply reduced and when antibiotics and other drugs conquered many of the infectious diseases.

The added life span is reflected in the rising proportion of people reaching the retirement age of 65 and beyond.

In Wayne County, some 570 men and 690 women, equivalent to 12.2 per cent of the total population, are now in the 65 and over bracket, the latest Census Bureau figures show.

Many of them are continuing to lead an active life rather than retire. Approximately 43.7 per cent of the men in that age category are still in the labor force.

By way of comparison, in the United States there are 24.8 per cent and, in the state of Nebraska, 31.8 per cent.

By the same token, life expectancy beyond age 65 is greater than ever. For men it is over 13 years and, for women, nearly 17.

With the longer life span, the likelihood is better than ever that a Wayne County couple, recently married, will be alive and able to celebrate their silver anniversary together. If they are in their early 20's the odds are 8 to 10 in their favor.

Scientists at Stanford University and elsewhere envision a major increase in life expectancy in the near future due to revolutionary developments in biology.

They predict that "the availability of artificial organs will lead to production lines, both for the devices themselves and for their installation in human beings."

"Millions of them will be implanted before the end of the century, carrying man toward a 100-year life expectancy."

Erwin, district officers, will help plan the convention.

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wiltse

"Pray that you may extend your vision beyond your own narrow circle."
William Cowper

There is a tendency among people to be concerned solely with where THEY are and where THEY are going, with little or no interest in the course of others in limiting our horizons to strictly personal considerations we lose sight of the vast opportunities that lie beyond our narrow scope, opportunities born of a communication of ideas and customs.

By branching out, we find that we can be helpful to our neighbors and in return we can gain much from their experiences. It is only through reaching beyond our own small world that we are able to live a rich and abundant life.

We are proud of our enviable reputation for sympathetic and considerate assistance rendered to those who come to us at a time of great emotional stress.

The women were among close to 200 volunteers who turned out for Monday morning's kickoff breakfast at the Student Center on Wayne State's campus. The two week drive for funds for nine different agencies began Monday with a $2,700 jump on the goal. VA Q & A Q — What is the Veterans Administration's attitude toward charges that the Vietnam-era veteran is not getting a fair shake?
A — Vietnam-era veterans make up 24.2 per cent of the U.S. veteran population, and 30.3 per cent of VA's $13 billion-plus annual budget is spent in their behalf. While small bands of veterans claim wholesale alienation for the young veteran population, nearly five million of these veterans are pow at work in the civilian labor force and millions more are in training. In fact, 2.6 million Vietnam veterans have trained at college level under the GI Bill — topping the 12-year record of the World War II program.
