

A learning centers workshop conducted by Gene Dolph, principal of the Westgate Elementary School at Lakewood, Colo., was attended by over 125 teachers from public, rural and parochial schools throughout Nebraska and Iowa.

The workshop, held Saturday at the Norfolk Junior-High School, was sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Council of the International Reading Association, and by Service Unit I and Service Unit 8. Theme for the workshop was "Individualize Instruction With Learning Centers."

Nearly 200 learning center activities were on display for use by teachers in their own classrooms. Slides and display materials were used by Dolph to demonstrate the construction and use of learning centers to individualize instruction for elementary age children. According to Dolph, learning centers encourage children to become more independent and self-directed in learning. In addition to providing interest, variety and sparkle.

In charge of planning the all-day event were Bernice Langberg and Mrs. Carol Butler of Norfolk, co-chairmen of the hospitality committee. Mrs. Alice Johnson of Wakefield, and Mrs. Wilma Roberts and Dr. Mary Arlene Schulz, both of Wayne, program committee; Mrs. Lois Dunklau, Mrs. Alice Korth and Mrs. Marj Ahlman, all of Pierce, publicity committee; and Mrs. Opal Timmer of Omond, Mrs. Marj Decker of Tilden and Mary Miller of Elgin, registration committee.

Members View Slides of Wales

Mary and Tom Roberts showed slides of their recent trip to Wales Friday afternoon following a 2 p.m. dinner luncheon of the OES Kensington held at the Masonic Temple.

Twenty members and a guest, Mrs. Suzanne Meadows of Jackmanville, Fla., granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Gormley, were present.

Chairman of the hostess committee was Peg Gormley, assisted by Roberta Wolfe, Norma Denking, Frieda Halbeck and Fests Thiel.

The next meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple Nov. 2 at 2 p.m.

Teachers attended from Wayne, Wakefield, Winside, Tilden, Norfolk, Elgin, Macy, Allen, Walthill, Decatur, Osmund, Council Bluffs, Ia., Thurston, Battle Creek, Pierce, Laurel, Sioux City, Concord, Humphrey, Pender, Hartington, Lyons, Royal, Brunswick, Stanton, Howells, West Point and Bartlett.

The IRA council will have its next program during the district III convention of the Nebraska State Education Association Oct. 24 on the Wayne State College campus. Dr. Nicholas Silvaroli of Arizona State University, a recognized authority in the field of reading methods, will be guest speaker.

Dr. Silvaroli has published the "Classroom Reading Inventory," an oral reading inventory to assess word attack and comprehension skills for children in grades one through eight.

Pitch prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lottie Schroeder and Mrs. R. H. Hansen Monday afternoon when the Monday Pitch Club met with Mrs. Herbert Green. Mrs. Lottie Schroeder was a guest.

Mrs. Julia Haas will host the Oct. 21 meeting at 2 p.m.

Midland Wins Harrier Dual

Midland College defeated Wayne State, 21-34, in a cross country dual Friday in a four-mile race at the state lakes near Fremont.

"It was an unusual order of finish: Midland placing the first three runners, Wayne the next three, Midland the next two, Wayne the last two.

Chip Hagerman led the Wildcat pack on fourth place time of 21:44, followed by Dale Sahl, fifth at 22:08... Andy Myrtle, sixth at 22:18; Roger Kuhlmann, ninth and Al Libbe, 10th.

The Mummenschanz trio focuses its program on human development from the cell of the primates, and on human communication, according to advance information.

"You can also look at what we do as purely abstract shapes," says Andre Bossard, one of the original members, "but most people associate our movements with animal or human behavior."

"Don't we all more or less wear masks?" asked one viewer in explanation of Mummenschanz's success all over Europe, "and isn't our foolishness hidden under so-called normality?"

It is said that the Mummenschanz mimes manage to take mankind from the cell to his return to the animal and do it with humor, gaiety, wit.

Emerson Girls Drop Winside

Winside High's "lack of consistency" hurt the Wildkittens' chances of knocking off a good Emerson Hubbard volleyball team, as Emerson trounced Winside's varsity, 15-8 and 15-2, Tuesday night at Winside.

"Emerson's a good ball club," said coach Don Leighton, "but we didn't play like last Thursday night against Wausa. If we don't play more consistent, then we're going to lose."

Winside falls to a 3-7 record.

Both the B and C teams also fell to drop their records to 2-4. The C team lost 6-15 and 4-15 before the B club dropped 15-11 and 15-4 contests.

her or be team taught. It also can be used as a special project.

Macklem, and Don Edwards, associate dean of the college of engineering and technology at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, developed the course along with four graduate students during a three-week period this summer. Among the graduate students was Mike Jones, science teacher at Winside who will direct the course for Winside High students.

Macklem selected four graduate students teaching at different schools across the state to help get a cross section of public and parochial schools. Other schools to test the program this year are Pierce High, Grand Island Central Catholic High, Seward High, Mars Junior High in Omaha, Tri-County High at DeWitt, O'Neill High and possibly a Lincoln high school.

"If the program is successful in the pilot schools the first year and across the state the following year, the program could go nationwide, according to Macklem.

Despite Close Losses Bears Still Determined

By BOB BARTLETT

Laurel-High football coach Bob Bozied admits his team is young, but he doesn't offer that as an excuse for his team's 14-10 loss to Neligh Friday.

"The kids are determined and willing to stay in there, which is what it takes to be a winner," Bozied said after his team dropped its third Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference match against a solo win.

The Bears have been just a few points away from knocking off NENAC kingpins. They lost to Creighton, 18-16, and to former front runner, Plainview, 12-8. Of the two, Creighton (2-1) has the best shot at the title, ranking third in the standings behind undefeated Pierce (4-0) and O'Neill (3-0).

Bozied believes if his Bears could have put together two good halves instead of a strong second half like they have been doing in recent games, they would be right in the thick of the title race.

Because his team isn't among the loop leaders doesn't mean Laurel is going to take a back seat to anyone, however. Bloomfield will find that out Friday night when the Bees travel to Laurel.

Last week Bloomfield lost to Creighton, 14-6, which should give some indication of how tight the outcome of Friday's game might be. Laurel's on home turf, though, so I'm picking the Bees.

Another area game that will be close is Wayne at Madison. Although Madison suffered its first loss Friday, 16-6, to Harrington Cedar Catholic, the Dragons are only one game away from sharing leadership in the West Husker Conference with the Blue Devils.

No matter how close, Wayne gets the nod.

For the first time in three weeks, two of my predictions proved wrong. Besides Laurel's loss, Homer humbled Allen High during the Eagles' homecoming, 35-0. Otherwise, Wisner-Pilger beat Wakefield, 35-0, Winside nipped Wausa, 6-0, and Wayne destroyed Stanton, 47-14, giving me three right out of five picks.

Thus far in the season my record stands at 18-3, or 86 per cent.

This week's picks (winners in bold face):

Winside at Ponca — The Wildcats got a good scare from Wausa last week, which should tell coach Doug Barclay's crew that any team on any given day can put in their bid to knock off the Cats. Winside will come back this week, though, in a strong win over Ponca.

Allen at Newcastle — This could be a long season for coach Ron Wecker and his Eagles. Newcastle is the favorite.

Wakefield at Columbus Lakeview — If the Trojans start passing they could give the Vikings a good game, but Lakeview is the choice.

Junior High

Tops Winside For 4th Win

Brad Emry scored a pair of touchdowns and Jeff Zeiss added the final six-pointer as Wayne's junior high beat Winside, 20-8, at Winside Tuesday night.

Emry scored on runs of 25 and four yards to give the locals a 12-0 command in the first half before Zeiss zipped 13 yards in the third period for a 20-0 lead.

Quarterback Tom Ginn scored the only two-point conversion on a keeper after the third TD.

Winside's Mitch Pfeiffer capped a long drive in the final period with a three-yard plunge before going up the middle for the extra points.

Leading rushers for undefeated Wayne (4-0) were Emry and Zeiss with 99 and 46 yards. Mike Niemann, Jay Stollenberg and Ginn finished with 19, 15 and 15 yards, said coach Hank Olson.

"We underestimated Winside's ability," Overin noted, adding that the game was a lot closer than the score showed. Wayne wasn't able to start substituting until the second half, he said.

Ricky Johnson and Dave Schwartz were tabbed as Wayne's leading defenders. Schwartz had two unassisted tackles and seven assists, all in the second half, while Johnson had three unassisted and six assists. Clark Blakemann had five assists and one solo.

For Winside, now 0-2, Pfeiffer again was the leader with 17 tackles. Todd Greunke had 11, and Jon Langenberg and Paul Robert's each had six.

Greunke and Pfeiffer each sacked Wayne's quarterback once while the defense recovered three fumbles and had one interception, said coach Mike Jones.

18 Turn Out For Swim Team

Prospects for Wayne having a winter swim team look good, but team members will have to wait until early November, before they can begin practice.

According to team manager Doug Krecklow, problems at the college has forced changing the proposed Oct. 21 starting practice date to Nov. 11.

A total of 18 youngsters attended the first meeting Monday night, he said, with another 10 who could not make it also showing interest.

Krecklow said he hopes to have the team in shape for a meet in Omaha near Thanksgiving.

Bands Parade ('Whew!') Without A Hitch

A SPRINKLING RAIN faded away long enough Saturday afternoon to permit the Wayne State College Band Day parade to go off as scheduled, allaying fears by organizers that the event would be rained out like it was a year ago. Bad weather, however, did throw a kink into activities planned for the evening, with the halftime show called off to cheat members of 25 different bands out of a chance to strut the stuff they had practiced earlier in the day. Scenes from the parade, clockwise from top right: Bundled up with a blanket are, from left, Chris Pfleger, Jean Probst and Ann Ellis, all of Wayne; Laurel High drum majorette; Patty Stark twists around to see if her band should move on; Scott Noden of Bellevue, grandson of Mrs. J. B. Johnson of Wayne, points to some of the activity; volunteers serve some of the approximate 1,400 bandmen; instructors, sponsors and teachers who turned out for the free lunch after the parade; Wayne High's band marches through the business district; Kari Erwin, Allen High drum majorette, leads her school's musicians in the parade. State Aid

1976-77. If it goes into effect, it would trigger an additional state sales tax of one per cent and an additional personal income tax of four or five per cent beginning the first of the year, according to supporters.

State aid to schools started in 1967, was at $25 million last year. Under LB772 it will grow to 72 million during 1975-76 and then to an approximate $144-$160 million the following year when the bill is fully implemented.

According to superintendent Francis Haun, the bill would result in a drop of about 20 mills by 1976-77.

Figures compiled by Moller reveal that Wayne County schools would receive $624,713 in state aid in 1975-77 while the county would pay out approximately $346,300 in sales and income taxes.

Moller said he compiled those figures from the latest information available concerning income taxes paid in the county in 1971 and the net taxable sales registered in the county last year. He noted that the income tax figures are three years old but that they are the latest ones available. He said he doubts if they could change enough to drastically alter the amounts the schools in the county would receive in state aid.

Moller told the board that LB 772 has some definite advantages for schools in the county if only the information and figures can be explained to the general public.

Moller's figures reveal that Dixon County schools would receive $920,346 in state aid in 1976-77, some $799,700 more than the county would pay out in sales and income taxes.

A cassette and film strip from the Nebraska State School Boards' Association on LB772 is available at the high school. The film runs about 14 minutes and may be used by any groups wishing to view it in an attempt to better understand the law, according to superintendent Haun.

Also Monday evening the school board listened to a Motorola representative explain two-way radio systems which the school could purchase for school busses.

Curt Harvey of Sioux City told the board that a base station, antenna, radios for three busses and other necessary equipment could be purchased for $4,184.50. The equipment would enable bus drivers to call into the school in case of an emergency while transporting students to or from school or special events.

Also Monday night, the board:

- Accepted low bid of $640 for one year's refuse service to the three schools in Wayne. The bid, $300 under one submitted by Mrsny Sanitary Service, was from Wayne Refuse Service.
- Approved having Haun obtain professional help in studying what might be done to add sports facilities near the high school and in studying how to increase parking space and improve traffic near the high school.

Approved naming president Irv Brandt, Margaret Lundstrom and Morris Sandahl to the committee which will negotiate with the teachers on next year's salary schedule.

Reviewed dates for open house at the four schools. Those dates: Carroll Elementary School, Oct. 21 from 7 to 9 p.m.; middle school, Oct. 29 from 7 to 9 p.m.; high school, week of Oct. 27; West Elementary, next spring.

Polo, as played in Gilgit, Pakistan, resembles a series of cavalry charges up and down a long and narrow, 200-year-old field. Enthusiasts play an anything goes except biting game, the National Geographic Society says.

Winside Board Okays $60,000 Paving Contract

The Winside town board has awarded a $60,000 contract for curbs, gutters and paving in an approximate three and a half block area to Norfolk Concrete Finishers, Inc.

The work is slated to begin in less than two weeks, said board chairman Dallas Puls after the board okayed the work during Monday night's town board meeting.

During the meeting the board appointed John Gallop to fill the unexpired five-year term of Mrs. Beatrix Prince, who resigned.

On the average, American hunters shoot from 4 to 12 million waterfowl each year and more than 7 million deer.

Winside School Plans Reroofing For T&I Building

The Winside school board voted Monday night to seek new bids for reshingling half of the school's trades and industries building.

According to superintendent Don Leighton, the total cost would have been about $800 for the entire roof, but the board decided to take new bids to have the south side reroofed. Leighton estimated the cost should be between $400 and $500.

In other action the board approved buying a $1,000 copying machine and a new slide for the playground, estimated at $400.

'Don't Guess, Soil Test!' DON C. SPITZ Wayne County Extension Agent

Fertilizer is costly and it's likely to get even more expensive in the future...

One way to do this is take a soil test. Don't guess - soil test! Fall is the best time to take soil tests...

Deep samples may need to be taken to determine the nitrogen carry over...

In non-irrigated fields, 50-70 per cent of the nitrate is found in the top two feet...

Soil samples should be made from soil taken from five to 10 places in the field...

Non-irrigated fields should be sampled at least three feet down, irrigated fields four feet...

If sampling tools allow only two feet, that's better than no sample...

A nitrogen recommendation will not be based on a nitrate test of a surface sample only...

More information on soil testing is available at the Wayne county extension office.

Getting A Head Start

MEMBERS OF Winside High's music boosters started laying out patterns and cutting material last week for 52 red and white dresses to be worn by the school's chorus at the Lewis and Clark Conference vocal clinic Nov. 4 at Winside. According to president Mrs. Adolph Meyer, the high school girls started collecting money for the project last year. Working on the materials are, clockwise from left, Mrs. Warren Marotz, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Dennis Grounke and Mrs. LeRoy Ruback.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Anna Marie Kreifels

Washable Woolens
 Some of this season's woolens are washable, but make sure you check for the Superwash mark and read labels for washing recommendations. Stains should be treated promptly, for stains from liquids can sometimes be avoided by blotting the liquid immediately. When stains such as coffee or tea do occur, treat with clear cold water applied to the underside of the garment. Sponge, blot and rub gently. For removal of greasy stains use a cleaning solvent to remove the spot before laundering.

Some stains such as chocolate, ice cream and candy are combination stains containing both greasy substances and water soluble substances. For these, first remove the greasy film by using a solvent, then sponge off remaining food spots with cool water and a mild detergent. After stains are removed, wash the garment as directed on the label.

Wool garments should be separated from other items when sorting wash loads. Separate dark and light colors, fragile and bulky items. Close zippers and other fasteners to avoid snagging. Turn garments wrong side out and use the gentle wash cycle. Wool releases soil quickly so only a short wash cycle is necessary. Check manufacturer's recommendations for drying wool garments. Some can be machine dried while others need only normal air drying.

If touch-up pressing is needed, use a warm iron in a press and lift motion. Do not move the iron in a sliding back and forth motion. Protect the right side of your wool garment with a press cloth to prevent the over-pressed, shiny look.

Survey on Education Is Slated
 A sample of households in the Wayne area will take part in the federal government's annual survey on education to be taken the week of Oct. 14-18 by the Bureau of the Census.

Interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten.

Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

About 50,000 households across the country, scientifically selected to represent a cross-section of American households, take part in this monthly survey. All information provided the Bureau is confidential by law and can be published only as statistical totals in which no individual or household can be identified.

Still Time To Enroll for Geriatrics III

Area residents wishing to take the Geriatric III course which will be offered at Wayne High School this fall may enroll up to the first class meeting on Oct. 21.

The course will consist of three-hour classes each Monday night for 10 weeks. Completion of this and the two previous courses will enable a person to be licensed by the state as a geriatric aide, according to Mrs. Mary Fisher of Wayne, who will teach the course.

Fee for enrolling in the course is $12.

Drivers Lose Right to Drive

Two Wayne area drivers, Terry D. Nelson, 17, of Carroll and Larry D. Wagner, 17, of Winside, had their driver licenses revoked in September under the state's 12-point revocation system, according to the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

The two were among 155 persons who lost their licenses to drive last month. That compares with 135 revocations in August and 117 in September of last year.

you can help conserve energy!

Energy conservation must become a way of life for all of us. We are doing all we can to develop and deliver enough clean burning natural gas to our residential customers.

You can help by being sure you are cooking your food, heating your water and drying your clothes in the most efficient manner.

The new gas appliances, because they are more efficient, use less energy, thus cost less to operate.

purchases of new equipment. He noted that the council would have to commit itself to setting aside $20,000 at budget time for the next two years to boost the figure to the estimated cost of the equipment requested by the department.

Also during Tuesday night's meeting, council gave Brink authority to spend up to $5,000 on a used bus for the city's recreation program.

The approximate 54-passenger bus would replace one which has been used for several years and which is now worth little on the market, according to Brink.

Council gave 8-0 approval for Brink to find and purchase another bus after councilman Vernon Russell noted that the bus could be used to take elderly persons on trips out of town scheduled by the Senior Citizens Center.

Brink pointed out, however, that purchasing another bus would not mean the city is not still considering purchasing a vehicle to transport Center members within the city.

In other action Tuesday, the council:

- ✓ Voted 8-0 to have the city attorney draft an ordinance which would permit city police to issue tickets carrying penalties for parking violations. Police can now issue warning tickets, it was brought out at the meeting, but are unable to enforce them because no ordinance exists. Police chief Vern Fairchild told the council before its vote that "we're starting to look a little bit ridiculous (for not being able to enforce parking restrictions) and if it keeps up, I'm going to tell my men not to issue warning tickets."
- ✓ Learned that the city has received approval for a grant to help pay the approximate $9,766 cost of three new fire sirens which will be spotted in the city to help warn residents in times of emergency. The city would pay half the cost, according to Brink, and federal or state funds would pay the rest. He noted after the meeting that the sirens have not been ordered as was reported by a former councilman at a public gathering several months ago.
- ✓ Learned that the city's fuel supplier is cutting the cost of gasoline and diesel fuel three cents a gallon during the month of October. Allocations during the month will be 100 per cent of the gas consumed in October two years ago, and 110 per cent of the diesel fuel consumed during the same month two years ago.
- ✓ Approved placing four-way stop signs at the intersection of Dearborn and East Sixth Streets. Vote was 8-0.
- ✓ Voted 8-0 to do away with utility benefits for city employees and to hike the wages $13 a month for those formerly receiving the benefits.
- ✓ Tabled until the next council meeting the ordinance which would establish a pension plan for city employees.
- ✓ Opened bids from persons wishing to rent city land on the south end of Pearl Street, east of the sewage lagoon and at the city airport. Merlin Otte submitted low bid of $35 an acre per year for land at the airport and Robert Boeckenhauer submitted low bid of $36 an acre per year for land on the south end of Pearl. The city administrator is to break a tie between Boeckenhauer and Virgil Kardell for land east of the sewage lagoon. Both submitted bids of $30 an acre.

TSC Store Is Sold

Sherry's TSC Store in Wayne is now under new management after being purchased by Trac Supply Co., a national chain with more than 200 stores across the country.

Managing the store is Ellis worth Voog, 49, who took over the latter part of last week from former owners Orville and Halie Sherry.

Voog farmed in the Center-ville, S. D., area all his life until joining the Chicago-based chain in a store at Sioux Falls about a year and a half ago.

Voog said the store will be operated just like it has in past years, but he said that in time the stock offered might be changed as more items are added.

Voog said he and his son, Michael, 15, will move to Wayne as soon as housing is available. He also has four other children.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherry said they have no plans for the immediate future except to take it easy for the time being. The Sherrys, who operated the local store since they were married in 1946, are currently waiting for a new home to be built on the south-west edge of Wayne.

Orville had been in business in Wayne since 1939 when he and his brother, Dan, also of Wayne, opened a cream station across the street from where the present store is located.

The Sherry brothers slowly expanded their business, moving into feed and seed for area farmers. They were the first to purchase a carload of fertilizer in Northeast Nebraska in about 1948.

Orville was in business with his brother until 1964 when Dan sold out his part of the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherry became associated with TSC when they purchased a franchise in 1970, according to Mrs. Sherry.

Sherry came to Wayne from Neligh to attend college. He and his wife, a native of North Carolina, met while they were in the service in the South Pacific in World War II.

They have three children, Edward of Sioux Falls, and Lee and Jan, both students at Wayne State College.

Gibson's Get New Manager

A native of Clarinda, Ia., is the new manager of Gibson's Discount Center on the east edge of Wayne.

He is Dennis Townsend, who took over operation of the store on Friday from former manager Gary Persinger. Persinger has been transferred to Fergus Falls, Minn., to manage a Gibson's Store there.

Townsend, 29, was co-manager of a Gibson store in Thief River, Minn., for about 14 months before moving to Wayne. Before going to Thief River, he was a manager of a store in Hampton, Ia., a position he took after working as a manager trainee at Winona, Minn. He has been with the chain store for about four years.

DENNIS TOWNSEND

First National Names New Ag Representative

Former Wayne resident Dale Stoltenberg has been named agricultural representative for First National Bank in Wayne, according to president Ernie Thayer.

Stoltenberg, who moved from Wayne to a farm near Carroll last May, will replace Leland Foote, who takes over as president of the Manning Trust and Savings Bank in Manning, Ia., on Monday. Stoltenberg will assume his new post in about one week, he said.

A graduate of Carroll High School, Stoltenberg, 38, received both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Both degrees were in agronomy. He worked for NU while studying for his master's degree, then joined a farm management firm. He was with that firm for six years before leaving that job earlier this year and taking over a family farm north of Carroll.

Stoltenberg said he and his family will move back to Wayne when housing is available. He and his wife, Norma Lee, have three children, Dianne 18, Verlyn, 16, and Beth, three.

A member of the Wayne Lions Club for the past six years, Stoltenberg served as secretary for the organization all six years before giving up that job several months ago. He serves as financial secretary of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Teachers To Talk at NSEA Confab

Presentations by Wayne High School teacher and three teachers at Wayne State College will be among those awaiting science teachers who attend the Nebraska State Education Association district convention at Wayne State Oct. 24-25.

Main speaker for the convention will be Peter Citron, enter-tainment columnist for the Omaha World-Herald.

Special meetings scheduled for science teachers will include year for land at the airport and Robert Boeckenhauer submitted low bid of $36 an acre per year for land on the south end of Pearl. The city administrator is to break a tie between Boeckenhauer and Virgil Kardell for land east of the sewage lagoon. Both submitted bids of $30 an acre.

Car Pickup Collision

A pickup driven by Eugene Haberer of Hartington backed into a car operated by Harold Hanson of Wakefield about 9 a.m. Monday in a parking lot on the 100 block of Main Street. Hanson's car was parked at a m. a car pulling out of a parallel parking stall struck the right side of another vehicle heading south on the 100 block of Pearl. Carol Martin, 210 East Eighth, was driver of the car that struck a vehicle driven by Lejean-Peterson, 314 W 10th.

Youths Off to Fremont

Mills: Man Needs to Be Aware of His Environment

There is a need for environmental awareness if man is to preserve the quality of the environment, said Verne Mills at Monday's Kiwanis luncheon.

Mills, science teacher at Wayne High, told the gathering that 80 years ago pioneers were very much aware of the environment because man depended on the environment. However, today man is "insulated" and is "not forced to think about it (the environment) beyond the super-market," Mills said.

During a six-week course on the environment this summer, Mills and nine Wayne High students studied the area environment. To see how man is treating his surroundings, in a slide presentation, Mills showed Kiwanians parts of the Logan Creek and other streams in the area.

The students — Marty Butts, Marvel Carlson, Lee Anne Fote, Kevin Hansen, Lori Lesh, Robin Mosley, Ann Rees, Tim

FRANK TEACH

Wert and Cathy Winkelmann — discovered that "significant amounts of raw sewage reach the Logan Creek." Thus, most area of Logan Creek and its tributaries included in this study must be considered to be open sewers presenting potential health hazards," they said in a seven-page report.

Mills stressed that the report wasn't meant to criticize anyone but was the result of study conducted by the students to better understand the environment and how man can help meet its need.

Mills added that the study was conducted in a careful manner, but it may not have been completely scientific.

Prior to the presentation, Frank Teach, student activities coordinator at Wayne State, was inducted into the club.

The Kiwanis board, including new members Bill Workman, Denver Pederson and Dick Kidel, has agreed to conduct a popcorn sale this year instead of the annual peanut sale to raise funds for club activities. Members also agreed to challenge the Lions Club to another rope pull to raise funds for the local Community Chest.

Fall, Winter Time to Ready Garden

Fall and winter is a good time to prepare the seedbed of home gardens, whether planting is to be done now or in the spring, says University of Nebraska extension horticulturist — Dr. Brent Hoodley.

New soil prepared now will have time to freeze, thaw and mellow by early spring. A clean, well-pulverized seedbed is a "must" for good gardening. Gardeners should spade, hoe and rake until not one clod or stick or stone remains.

If available, barnyard manure or another source of organic matter can be broadcast over the garden before the rows are formed, then worked into the soil, says Dr. Hoodley. This provides a slowly available source of plant food, and conditions the soil. Keep the garden clean, because weeds and grasses use up valuable plant food and moisture, he notes. Mulch bare soil as erosion may be a problem during the winter.

BUSINESS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Gene "Swede" Fredrickson of Fredrickson Oil Co., north of Wayne recently returned from a 12-day Mediterranean cruise which he won during a B.F. Goodrich sales promotion.

Fredrickson was one of 82 fire dealers who won a trip during the 10-month contest.

Claus to Participate in KSU Open House

John Claus of Wayne, a student in veterinary medicine at Kansas State University at Manhattan, will participate in the student planned activities of KSC's Veterinary Medicine Open House Saturday.

The public will have an opportunity to inspect the new facilities and watch K-State veterinary students demonstrate latest equipment and techniques in the medical care of different kinds of animals.

The KSU College of Veterinary Medicine Open House started in 1957. K-State was the first veterinary school to have an independent open house for the public.

75 to 85 degrees for about two weeks after harvest to harden the shell. If the weather is warm, you could do this by putting them in small piles in the field. Cover the piles to avoid freezing and avoid bruising or scratching the skins. Onions can be stored in unheated storage rooms such as attics or closets. Remove tops, put onions in a shallow box or tray with ventilated bottoms and cure or dry outdoors in a shed for three to four weeks. Then place them in storage at 32 to 26 degrees and 70 to 75 per cent humidity. You can store onions in mesh bags hung from the ceiling of the vegetable storage room.

Corn Smut
I have been asked whether corn with smut in it can be cut for silage and fed to livestock.

Corn forage affected by smut is apparently harmless to livestock. There is no need to remove smut from the corn forage as it is being fed or ensiled or in removing smut from corn left standing in the field. Smut found in grain-sorghum does not appear to be injurious to livestock either.

Pig Skins
A new use has been found for pig skins. The Burn Treatment Skin Bank in Phoenix now processes pig skin into biological dressings called Xenographs. Interest in the pig skin was stimulated by its ready availability and similarity to human skin.

Used as a temporary dressing, the pig skin reportedly decreases wound pain, limits bacterial growth and facilitates movement of the involved joints. To insure quality split-thickness grafts, dressings are prepared from five to six-month-old hogs yielding healthy hides. Skins are thoroughly cleaned, inspected and processed according to the form desired and packaged.

Garden Seed Beds
Now is a good time to prepare seed beds for next summer's home gardens.

New soil prepared now will have time to freeze, thaw and mellow by early spring. A clean, well-pulverized seed bed is needed for good gardening. You should spade, hoe and rake until not one clod or stick remains.

If available, barn yard manure or another source of organic matter can be broadcast over the garden before the rows are formed, then worked into the soil. This provides a slowly available source of plant food and conditions the soil. Keep the garden clean, because weeds and grasses use up valuable plant food and moisture. Mulch bare soil as erosion may be a problem during the winter.

Storing Vegetables
For successful storage, first use well-matured, high quality vegetables. Be sure your storage room has the correct moisture and temperature conditions. Frequent sorting and removing of decayed or damaged vegetables will help preserve your supply.

Harvested vegetables are still living organisms and continue to grow in storage. If growth is rapid, food stored in the vegetables soon will be used, the quality will be lost and the vegetables will break down and rot. Proper temperature and moisture control will retard growth and prolong storage life of vegetable.

Not all vegetables require the same conditions for successful storage. They can be divided into the following three groups: Warm-dry for squash and pumpkins, cool-dry for onions, and cool-moist for root crops, potatoes, cabbage and apples.

Furnace rooms or upstairs storage usually are warm and dry with humidity ranging from 15 to 30 per cent and temperatures of between 50 and 60 degrees. Before placing pumpkins and squash in storage be sure that they are fully matured and cured. Keep them in a heated, well-ventilated room at

WS Goals Report Now in President's Hands

A Wayne State College goals report compiled by the Committee on Committees from information gathered by eight separate subcommittees, has been submitted to college president Dr. Lyle Seymour.

About 80 committee members have been working on the goals study since its inauguration in February of 1973, according to Charles Stelling, chairman of the Committee on Committees.

The study was begun in advance of state legislation which requested such a study.

Information was gathered from school officials and residents throughout North and South Dakota, as well as from college faculty and students.

According to Dr. Seymour, suggestions made by committee members are now being considered by the college administration, and approved recommendations which are managerial in nature can be implemented immediately. Recommendations which require policy changes will have to go through the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges for approval, he said.

The goals report listed three general priority recommendations:

- Strengthen and broaden liberal arts program.
- Strengthen applied and professional education programs, and
- Improve instructional process, personnel and service to students.

Specific recommendations ranged from enlarging program offerings and improving campus life to promotion of the college.

The report recommended new majors and interest areas, such as psychology and special education, and suggested expansion in areas of projected need, such as medical services, communication and recreation.

Suggestions to improve student conditions included military freedom, longer visitations and liquor-in dorms and student union.

Many recommendations were aimed at making the public better acquainted with the college. Such recommendations included development of promotional materials, inclusion of WSC students and parents in recruitment activities, and instilling departmental career days for high school students, counselors and parents.

It was recommended that an international house (one dorm) be developed in which students from European countries be housed while pursuing undergraduate education. According to the goals report, within three years a working agreement should be reached which would provide for the continuous education of 100 to 200 foreign students in the liberal arts areas and fields of education.

Faculty families were encouraged to live and — or office in dormitories, making themselves more accessible to students.

Better utilization of dormitories was advised, with suggestions for hosting more area, state and national meetings. Establishment of an Admissions Committee or Ambassadors Club was recommended for students interested in providing campus tours, publishing a newsletter for prospective students and acting as a sounding board for admissions and other offices.

Committee members encouraged annual high school and community counselor seminars and visitation days for high school principals and counselors to visit former students who are freshmen at the college.

According to Dr. Seymour, plans are already operational which will satisfy some of the recommendations.

A Speakers Bureau is being planned, and a request will be made in the 1974-77 budget for a public relations person. Both recommendations were included in the goals report.

A director of adult and continuing education has been named to the staff this year, which falls in line with the committee's request for expansion in the area of adult education.

A request to expand in the special education area is included in the 1974-77 budget, according to Dr. Seymour, and a review is being made in the area of student advisement, also recommended by the committee.

A copy of the goals report has been distributed to the faculty, said Dr. Seymour, noting that some recommendations must be carried out through specific departments or on an individual basis.

Honor Society Welcomes Seven New Members

Seven new members were inducted into the Wakefield National Honor Society Oct. 1. Total enrollment in the organization, which was reactivated in 1963 by Mrs. Walter Muller, is 87. Sponsor is Mrs. Alvin Sundell.

Welcomed as new members were Dennis Byers, Lee Echtenkamp and Steve Lühr, seniors, and Deborah Domsch, Lori Magnuson, Scott Mills and Steve Pospisil, juniors.

An initiation banquet was held that evening at the Wakefield Cornhusker Cafe. Dennis Crippen, Wakefield High School math instructor and honorary member of the National Honor Society, spoke to the group about their obligations as members of the Honor Society.

A special quartet of Honor Society members, Cindy Johnson, Joan Gustafson, Jana Dahlgren and Nancie Carlson, sang a specially composed song for the National Honor Society to the tune of "Davey Crockett." Guest soloist was Cindy Johnson.

Officers for the 1974-75 school year are Ken Dolph, president; Scott Adkins, vice president; Jana Dahlgren, secretary; and Cindy Johnson, treasurer.

National Guard Boosts Delay Of Active Duty

The Nebraska Army National Guard may now delay entry of new recruits into basic training for up to 270 days.

The new delay program is designed for high school seniors, destined for graduation or young people who have already graduated. The program allows the new guard member time to graduate from high school, should they elect to join while they are seniors, or to establish a base of higher education such as a semester of college before they leave for their six-month active duty training period.

According to Maj. Bill Whitney, Army National Guard recruiting and retention officer in Nebraska, the new 270-day delay program is marked improvement over the old 180-day delay.

"It allows more time for a young person to get his or her affairs in order before going to their six-months training," said Whitney.

According to Whitney, the Nebraska Army National Guard is presently at 98.2 per cent of its authorized strength.

Frosty Morn Hides Killer

Frosty autumn mornings are delightful in Nebraska, but their beauty conceals a potential killer, according to the Nebraska Department of Roads.

Frost on bridge decks can be deadly traps for the motorist who fails to use proper caution when approaching or crossing bridges. The decks freeze quicker than road surfaces and remain slick longer after rain.

The critical period for frosted bridges is two hours before sunrise to approximately two hours after.

The DOR urges all drivers to heed warning signs at bridge approaches and to reduce their speed well before entering the bridge and to cross it cautiously.

Financial Aid Available for Vo-Tech Bound

Ken Carlson, Wayne High guidance counselor, urges parents of high school seniors to contact him if financial assistance will be necessary for their students to attend a vocational, technical school or college next fall.

Many federally funded financial aid programs are available to members of the class of 1975, he noted. They include low interest loans at three per cent interest and federally guaranteed loans at seven per cent, grants and work study programs in vocational-technical schools and colleges.

Scholarships, based upon scholastic ability are also available for vocational technical schools and colleges, according to Carlson. Most financial assistance, whether scholarships or loans, is determined in part on parent income.

Two financial aid forms are available in the guidance office — the parent confidential statement and the family financial statement. One of these forms should be completed this fall if a student will need financial assistance to attend a school next fall, Carlson notes.

In addition to these forms, each vocational technical school and college has its own financial aid form that must be completed also, Carlson notes. An application for admission to the school must be completed before the school can give serious consideration to the applicant for financial assistance.

Finally, colleges require either the American College Test or the Scholastic Aptitude Test to be completed for admission to the school, according to Carlson.
