WHS Marching Band Wins Another Superior

Wayne High's 72-member marching band earned the highest rating possible in Saturday's Nebraska High School Marching Band Festival at Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln.

It marked the third year in a row and the fourth year in the past five that the local band has received a superior rating from the judges of the contest, the world's largest indoor marching event.

Wayne High's band, led by drum major Garry Stollenberg of rural Carroll, was one of only three Class B schools to receive superior ratings, according to band director Ron Dalton. Six other Class B bands received one minus ratings, the next rating below a superior mark, he noted. All nine bands received trophies for their showing.

Several Northeast Nebraska bands competing in Class C, including Wisner-Pilger and Plainview, received superior ratings. Class C bands receiving two's, the rating just below superior, included Laurel, Madison and Osmond.

A total of 61 bands competed in Saturday's 17th annual event. Wayne High has competed in 11 of the contests.

Wayne High's performance lasted six minutes and 27 seconds, three seconds under the limit, according to Dalton.

The performance was videotaped by high school vocal teacher Larry Stratman so it can be replayed over television sets at the high school. The videotape will be played "whenever possible and for anybody who wants to see it," said the proud band director.

Also attending the performance were six alternate marchers and a dozen sponsors.

Council Okays Hiring Seventh Police Officer

Wayne's city council Tuesday night approved Mayor Freeman Decker's appointment of M. H. Rager as a patrolman on the local police department.

The 8-0 approval of Rager, currently on the police force at Hartington, came after discussion of whether the police department needs to be increased from its present six men to seven. Several council members agreed with Decker that another patrolman is necessary to help fill the vacancy created by the retirement of assistant chief E. L. "Pat" Hailley several weeks ago.

Rager, 23, will join the local police force as soon as he can find housing in Wayne, according to police chief Vern Fairchild.

He has been on the Hartington police force since April.

Rager scored the highest among six men taking the civil service examination for the test, according to Decker. Only two of those six passed the test, he noted.

Decker told the council he will ask the local civil service commission to begin steps to test applicants for the sergeant's position which will become vacant on the police force when Keith Reed retires at the first of the year as anticipated. Reed, who has been on the force since January of 1957, has recently informed police chief Vern Fairchild that he plans to retire at the end of this year.

Also Tuesday night, the council agreed to spend up to $250 to help finance a community attitude survey which will be distributed in the city and to many rural families in November. It is expected to cost between $400 and $500 to have the state department of economic development compile the results of the survey, according to members of Wayne Industries, Inc., which has agreed to pay $250 toward the total cost of compiling the results.

Between 1,600 and 2,000 of the questionnaires will be distributed door-to-door in Wayne on Nov. 7. Honey Sundeby, Wayne County Jaycee and to rural families by giving them to students in rural schools close to the community.

Approval of the expenditure came on a 5-3 vote, with Ted Bahe, Carolyn Filter and Ivan Beeks voting against helping finance the survey. Vernon Russell, Leo Hansen, Darrel Fuelle, John Vokoc and Jimmie Thomas voted in favor of the expenditure.

Bahe said the city is currently giving money to Wayne Industries to help it in its search for new industries for the community and should not be asked to help finance such a survey.

Council members agreed during the night to hold a public hearing during their Nov. 26th meeting to determine whether local residents want the city to provide some type of public transportation.

"Council agreed to hold the hearing on a 5-3 vote after councilman Vernon Russell said he would 'hate to see' the city enter the 'transportation business.'"

Russell, Vokoc and Bahe voted against holding the public hearing during a council meeting because of the large amount of time they anticipate the hearing will take.

Also Tuesday night the council approved 8-0 to pay a $499 bill submitted several months ago by Consolidated Engineers Architects, a firm which recently moved from Wayne to Norfolk. The bill was for engineering work on a water line running to the industrial area east of the city.

—Voted 8-0 to approve a pension plan which will cover most city employees. The council has been considering passing a pension plan for the past

'Chest' Drive Passes Total Raised in '73

With about 300 cards yet to be turned in by volunteers, this year's Community Chest fund drive has already passed the total collected a year ago.

A total of $9,435 had been collected in the drive by Tuesday evening, slightly more than the $9,362 collected a year ago, according to drive secretary-treasurer Vern Hummel.

Drive workers hope to reach this year's goal of $11,550 so funds can be distributed to nine different agencies, including the local Senior Citizens Center and the city's recreation program. Last year's goal was $12,000.

Members of the board of directors which is overseeing this year's drive are urging volunteers who have not completed their calls to do so as soon as possible. Collections may be turned in to the drive captains, members of the board or either bank in Wayne.

The board Friday afternoon approved naming board member Marilyn Carhart to replace Mrs. Hummel when she retires at the end of this year as drive secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Hummel has held that post for the past 15 years in the community.

Rail Abandonment Won't Damage Area

The Interstate Commerce Commission has concluded that abandoning the railroad line between Wayne and Dakota City and between Wakefield and Crofton will not cause excessive environmental problems.

The pollution caused by the shift from rail to truck and other modes of transportation along the branch lines of Chicago and North Western Transportation Co. will not have a detrimental environmental impact, according to the ICC.

The two branch lines are among seven proposed abandonment projects which the ICC said would not adversely affect the environment. The other lines are those between Emerson and Thurston, Lyons and Tekamah, Irvington and Bennington, Norfolk and Winner, S. D., and Fairbury and Ruskin.

A legal notice on the ICC's ruling can be found along with the other legal notices published in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Thone, Dyas Plan Stops In Wayne

Both candidates for the seat in the House of Representatives from Nebraska's First Congressional District will be in Wayne tonight (Thursday).

Incumbent Republican Charles Thone will be campaigning in 21 communities in several Northeast Nebraska counties all day Thursday and will attempt to make his last stop in Wayne this evening, his campaign office in Lincoln said. He hopes to be at the Senior Citizens Center sometime Thursday evening, according to the office.

His Democratic challenger, Hess Dyas, also will be at the Center tonight, according to Allen O'Donnell of Wayne, county Democratic chairman.

O'Donnell said the scheduled stop for Dyas in Wayne was not confirmed until after Thone's office said Thone might be in Wayne.

IRVIL NELSON

'Bucks' Prize Edges to $600

Some Wayne area shoppers with a lucky birthday could win $600 in Birthday Bucks in this week's drawing in Wayne.

That's the grand prize which will be awarded tonight (Thursday) if a person is present in one of the participating stores who has a birthday matching the date drawn earlier at random.

If there is no grand prize winner again this week, a $25 consolation prize will be awarded and the grand prize will jump to $625 for next week's drawing. The consolation prize will go to the person whose birthday is closest to the one announced tonight at 8:15 in all participating businesses.

Last week, Irvil Nelson of rural Wayne won the $25 consolation prize when he was stopping in Gambles. His birthday was just two days away from the winning date.

Birthday Bucks awarded in the weekly drawings may be spent just like cash in any firm or store holding sponsor the drawings. There is no restriction on the number of times a person may win in the drawings, and no purchases are necessary to be eligible. However, a person must be present in one of the stores when the winning date is announced in order to win.

Local Youths To Play in Music Clinic

Michael Palumbo, orchestra instructor at Wayne State College, will conduct the fourth annual junior high orchestra clinic Saturday at Columbus High School.

Approximately 100 students from Norfolk, Fremont, Columbus, York, Beatrice and Wayne will participate in the clinic.

Wayne Middle School will be represented by Tim Maier, Maureen Anderson, Elizabeth Prather and Marvin Hansen. Violins: Jean Ann Carhart, viola: Janice Butts, Penny James, Stacy Jacobmeier and Jane Edmunds, flutes: Anita Sandahl and Signe Anderson, clarinets: Holly Rees, alto saxophone: Shauna Roberts and Brad Emry, trumpets: Bill Haas, trombone, and Sandra Jacobmeier and Sara Gavitt, percussion.

Orchestra director at the Middle School is Mrs. Bonita Day. Registration will begin at 9 a.m., followed with sectional and full orchestra rehearsals. Rehearsals will continue throughout the afternoon, and a 7 p.m. concert will be held that evening in the school auditorium. Parents and friends are See CLINIC, page 12

Republicans Have Edge in County As Election Nears

If voters stick pretty much to party lines, Republican candidates should fare quite well in Tuesday's general election in Wayne County, according to the latest voter registration lists at the county clerk's office.

Republicans outnumber Democrats by nearly two to one across the county as the election draws near.

A total of 3,101 Republicans and 1,602 Democrats were registered to vote by Friday's deadline, according to clerk Norris Weible. Only 253 Independents were registered in the county by the deadline, he noted.

The Republicans lead is smaller in the city of Wayne than it is on a county wide basis, however, with 892 Democrats and 1,362 Republicans registered.

Voters will go to the polls to help decide numerous national, state and area races as well as several school board races and the fate of several local issues.

Residents of Wayne, Hoskins and Wakefield will be voting on whether to boost the level of fluoride in their drinking water as required by state law come the first of the year.

The issue will be a confusing one for voters in all three communities because a "yes" vote is a vote against adding fluoride and a "no" vote is a vote in favor of adding fluoride. Voters in the third district in Wayne County will see a race for the county commissioner's seat now held by Floyd Burt of rural Winside in spite of Burt's being the only candidate on the ballot.

A write in campaign for Ed Walkins, also of Winside, has been started by his supporters. Walkins came in second in a three-way race for the Republican nomination for that job in the primary election this spring. Also seeking that nomination was Lawrence Backstrom.

The only other Wayne County commissioner's seat up for grabs will likely go to Merlin Beiermann of rural Wayne. A Republican who defeated incumbent Joe Wilson in the spring primary, he is the only candidate for the first district seat listed on the ballot.

Dixon County voters will see competition for all four seats on the board of supervisors which will have to be filled.

Voters in the Wayne-Carroll, Wakefield and Allen school districts will be offered choices for who they want to fill openings coming up on those boards of education. Winside's school board race, however, features only three candidates for three openings.

Area voters also will help decide the fate of the controversial Measure No. 300, the state aid to public schools bill, and three amendments to the state constitution.

In area and state elections, voters will help decide a variety of races, including the one for Carroll voters will decide Nov. 20 in a special election whether to boost the fluoridation level in the community's drinking water.

A total of 35 of an inch had fallen in Wayne by Tuesday, the first rain recorded in the city since Sept. 12 when .65 of an inch fell.

Although it was still raining lightly Wednesday morning, weather observers agreed it would take several days of that kind of precipitation to make a dent in replenishing underground moisture supplies after one of the driest summers and springs on record.

Less than eight inches of precipitation fell in Wayne during the June-September period, resulting in almost all crops suffering severely from drought. Precipitation during those months was 7.36 in June, .47 in July, 3.22 in August and 1.51 in September.

The 35 of an inch recorded by Tuesday was less than a drop in the bucket full of moisture necessary to make up for those dry months, crop watchers agree. If moisture doesn't continue during the latest rains or if considerable moisture doesn't fall during the winter and spring, farmers will be facing planting crops in extremely dry fields come next season, they note.

The light rain which fell over the Wayne area the first part of this week was the first precipitation recorded in Wayne in nearly seven weeks, according to the city's official precipitation recorder, Pat Gross.

'School Sure Has Changed!'

MULLING OVER a problem in Judy Zobel's freshman physical science class are "students" Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hansen of Carroll. Keeping an eye on what's going on is their five-year-old daughter, Ann. The Hansens were among between 130 and 200 parents who turned out for Wayne High School's open house Monday night. The event featured parents following through classes taken by their children attending the school. The large turnout pleased school officials, who said they may hold a similar event next year to help mark American Education Week.

LB 772 Pros, Cons Argued Here

By NORVIN HANSEN
An informational meeting on LB 772 — the state school aid bill — ended up in an argument between members of the State Department of Education and one of the strongest opponents of the bill Monday afternoon at Wayne High School.

After three members of the state department explained some of the language in the bill, S. H. "Zoke" Brauer, executive secretary of the Nebraska School Improvement Association, charged that they were presenting "half pictures" and "misrepresenting" how the bill will affect school districts if voters approve it in the general election Tuesday.

Monday's meeting at the high school lecture hall, which attracted about 50 persons, was the second in a series of 10 regional meetings scheduled this week by the state education department. School officials from several surrounding districts, including Allen and Wakefield, attended the meeting. Others came from as far away as Tekamah to hear the presentation by the state officials.

Brauer criticized the three state officials, noting that he was "amazed at what I'm hearing here. You're only presenting half pictures." Brauer said school districts such as South-Platte which will supposedly benefit by having their mill levies reduced under the law will actually end up raising their levies in order to qualify for additional state aid.

That will result in the "biggest yo-yo" in school district mill levies residents of this state have ever seen, Brauer said. State education department officials Al L. Christensen, Larry Vontz and Bill Trupp said Brauer was wrong in assuming this would happen. School districts which would have their mill levies reduced under the bill would not have to raise their levies because they would not need the money to operate, they said.

Brauer said it was unfair to hold a meeting in Wayne and to use schools from other towns in the state as examples of what the school aid bill would do to their mill levies. He said the state officials should have presented detailed information on how the bill would affect school districts in Wayne County.

The state officials said it is important which school districts are used as examples as long as they represent the various types of districts now in operation in the state.

Voters will decide Tuesday whether or not the new law will go into effect. The State Supreme Court ruled unanimously See LB 772, page 8

Winside 1 Game Away From West L-C Title

By BOB BARTLETT

Winside High has a good chance to stretch its football season from 10 games to 11 if the Wildcats can win one of their two remaining conference games.

The 11th game? The battle with the East division winner for the Lewis and Clark Conference title.

Friday night the Cats almost assured themselves of the West crown after nipping division front runner Coleridge, 7-6. Between 300 and 500 football fans surrounded the Coleridge field to watch the two teams, both undefeated in conference action, settle the question of who would represent the division.

However, Winside coach Doug Barclay is convinced that the next two games — Osmond and Winot at Winside — aren't going to be easy.

Friday Winside hosts Osmond, a team that could be under-rated, the head man admitted. In the Osmond Coleridge game earlier this year, Osmond was able to move Coleridge's defensive line quite effectively, assisting coach Mike Jones pointed out. Last week, Osmond defeated an improving Wynot club, 34-22.

Winside also was able to move the Coleridge line for the most part about the field the first half, but bogged down at the Coleridge nine in the first quarter and failing to score.

The Cats started that first quarter drive on their 40 after defensive back Tyler Frevert intercepted the first of two passes. In 10 plays Barclay's crew was inside the 10, only to be stopped on four successive ground plays.

Frevert's second interception halted Coleridge's scoring threat with about seven minutes left in the game. The league's No. one passer, quarterback Alan Benson, went to the air after scampering 17 yards to Winside's 47. Benson, receiving good protection all night, attempted to find an open receiver when Frevert, a junior, picked off his path loss of the night.

Winside was forced to give up the ball with about three and a half minutes left, punting from near its 30.

But, a fumbled punt return gave the Cats breathing room when Bob Hoffmann jumped on the loose ball at Coleridge's 41 with about a minute left.

Winside took advantage of Coleridge not having any timeouts to run out the clock and move on top of the division with a 3-0 mark. Coleridge, suffering its first loss of the season (7-1), dropped to second in the standings at 4-1.

Winside senior Gregg Lage, the game's leading rusher for the night, got the Cats on the scoreboard in the second period. Lage, who had 121 yards rushing and 67 in the air, collected his air yardage on a sideline pass line quite effectively, assisting coach Mike Jones pointed out. Last week, Osmond defeated an improving Wynot club, 34-22.

Winside also was able to move the Coleridge line for the most part about the field the first half, but bogged down at the Coleridge nine in the first quarter and failing to score.

The Cats started that first quarter drive on their 40 after defensive back Tyler Frevert intercepted the first of two passes. In 10 plays Barclay's crew was inside the 10, only to be stopped on four successive ground plays.

Frevert's second interception halted Coleridge's scoring threat with about seven minutes left in BRAD LANGENBERG, the Cats' second leading rusher with 49 yards, bulls his way through a tough Coleridge defense before Alan Benson (14) drops him.

Coleridge stopped the Cats' first march to the nine yard line. Winside mounted a second drive midway through the first period and marched from its 34 to Coleridge's 33. But a pair of 15 yard holding penalties and a fumble stopped the drive.

The game was plagued by numerous fumbles and interceptions, but Barclay attributed hard hitting as the reason for many of the miscues. Winside lost three fumbles and had one interception while Coleridge lost one fumble and had five passes picked off.

Barclay also pointed out that good front line and backfield blocking greatly aided the Cats.

Blocked Punts Aid Cedar In Victory Over Wakefield

Hartington Cedar Catholic turned two blocked punts into touchdowns and scored after a short kick inside Wakefield's 30 yard line to topple the Trojans, 30-8, Friday night.

Cedar quickly built a 16-0 halftime margin in the second quarter when the home team recovered a blocked punt in Wakefield's endzone for one TD, and then drove 28 yards to score following Wakefield's 22 yard punt from deep in territory.

Reserve kicker Al Jensen, a senior, wasn't to blame for the poor punts, said Wakefield coach John Torczon. "He had a lot of pressure on him tonight with our No. one kicker out of the game with a broken ankle. Plus Hartington was putting on a hard rush."

Jensen, forced to punt six times, replaced starter Scott Keagle, injured in the Stanton game two weeks ago.

"We spent the entire second quarter inside our 20 yard line while they were inside our 20 yard line while they were inside our 30," said Torczon.

In the first period Hartington drove to the one and three yard lines before Wakefield put up strong goal line stands in the third period. Wakefield again was forced into goal line play, holding Cedar at the one.

But late in the third, behind the running of Don Wieseler, Hartington marched 41 yards in nine plays — before Wieseler plunged over from the two for a 22-0 edge.

Midway through the fourth Wieseler again led a scoring drive, this time after the second blocked punt. Hartington recovered at the 45, and eight plays later Wieseler scored.

Wakefield was unable to sustain a drive after the second quarter when starting quarterback Mike Soderberg was taken out of the game with a strained knee, said Torczon. "When Soderberg left the game, we weren't able to get our passing game going. Otherwise it might have been a closer ball game."

Torczon praised his defense, noting that Hartington's two leading rushers, Randy Pinkelman and Wieseler, netted over 300 yards in the previous game. "Our kids refused to get down," he said, adding that Cedar only had 204 yards rushing and failed to complete a pass.

Leading rusher for Wakefield was Scott Mills, who gained 43 yards in setting up Wakefield's TD in the fourth period. Ken Dolph, replacing Soderberg, hit Pat Nicholson for a 10-yard scoring strike. "Pat made a super catch among three defenders," Torczon said. Chuck to their seventh win in eight games.

The big change in the Cats' front line came when sophomore Brad Langenberg was switched from end to tackle, replacing injured John Mangies, still recovering from a knee injury suffered before the Coleridge match.

"Brad only had one week to learn all the plays and blocking assignments as a lineman," said Barclay, noting that he did an excellent job of handling his opponent.

Senior running back Dwight Liemann also was tabbed for his blocking behind the line.

Other top Winside players were Bob Hoffmann with 12 tackles and Brad Brockman and Neil Wagner with seven each. Brad Brummels was the second leading rusher with 49 yards in 15 carries.

GAIL MILLER has a dream to make Allen the recreation center of Dixon County. But like most, dreams it will take effort and money.

The estimated $40,000 price tag doesn't discourage the Allen High superintendent, however. Miller figures with the help of state, local and federal money the project could be completed in less than a year.

Miller already has the application for federal and state aid in the fire. The federal government would pay 50 percent of the bill and the state and local governments would split the rest once federal officials give their okay.

Last spring Miller was hoping the federal government would give the nod, especially after the University of Nebraska completed preliminary blueprints. Both federal and state officials like the plans but were unable to allocate funds at the time, according to Miller.

Gail believes that if the okay comes to remodel the present football-baseball field into a recreation center, village as well as county residents will find the facility well worth the money.

Outlined in the plans is landscaping to include trees and shrubs. Also, Miller hopes to have a press box built which will include a refreshment stand on the ground level. Plans also call for restroom facilities, something the field doesn't have now.

The majority of land work will center on the present baseball field, mainly the infield and extension of the outfield. Miller hopes to have several new lights installed to improve visibility for night sports.

Miller hasn't left out Little Leaguers or girl softballers. Plans include converting part of the northeast end of the site into a diamond for them.

Some of the $40,000 would go toward improving recreation facilities behind the high school. The main items would be tennis courts, and playground equipment for elementary students. The tennis courts won't be for students only, he emphasized, but for the entire town and area. Miller pointed out the school would be the best site because part of the concrete floor already is completed.

Miller admits the recreation facility is a big dream — but well worth the effort.

WHEN Bill Wilson starts his hunter safety program Monday night at the National Guard Armory in Wayne he's hoping to fill the 16 pupil roster with several girls.

Wilson believes it's important for girls to learn about gun safety, and said if enough girls show interest in the course he might offer a course later in the year to explain about firearm safety in the home and field. Girls interested in taking such a course should contact Wilson.

THE NEBRASKA School Activities Association last week agreed to sanction high school gun shoots, a major breakthrough to include shooting competition in high school sports.

The NSAA will sanction shoots as long as high schools follow eligibility rules for athletes and give the association a 10-day notice before their shoots, said Noelyn "Butch" Isom of Allen High, who attended the NSAA meeting at Grand Island.

Isom, who started Allen's trap shooting team last spring, said the NSAA will advise shoots in its publicity sheet mailed to each school if schools give 10 days notice.

Isom said that with the cooperation of the NSAA and three national gun manufacturers, the possibility of high school shoots including the majority of schools in the state is "mushrooming." Remington, Pacific and Winchester have agreed to sell guns, ammunition and reloading supplies wholesale to high schools in order to further the sport.

"Butch" believes that with the kind of support Wayne, Allen, Bellevue, Scottsbluff and Ainsworth — the only schools so far that have shooting teams — will have plenty of competition in the future.

Devils Win West Husker Title

Although Wayne High has won its fifth West Husker crown in nine years under head coach Al Hansen, the Devils aren't overlooking their last conference opponent of the season, Harting on Cedar Catholic.

Wayne, playing its last home game Friday, will find the Trojans ready to play ball, said Hansen after his club knocked off Emerson Hubbard, 36-6, last week to claim the West Husker title.

Cedar will be gunning to knock the Devils, since 8-0, out of the top-of-the-table ranks with a strong running and air attack, he pointed out. In order for Wayne to stay unbeaten, the team will have to play heads up, said Hansen.

In the Devils' smearing of Emerson Hubbard, Hansen earned the bench, and second, third and fourth string players saw action for almost half the game. Result: a season high in total offense, over 500 yards, while the defense allowed the Pirates only 24 yards offensive.

Defensive line Blue Devils were balanced, with no one making over five tackles each. Strong tackling was the reason Emerson only had 18 offensive plays, Hansen said.

Offensively, Wayne gunned to a 20-0 first quarter lead as junior quarterback Paul Mallette threw a pair of six-pointers before reserve signal caller Monte Lowe bolted across the goal from one yard.

Hansen ran 24 yards to set up Wayne's first score before Mallette hit the senior on a 13-yard touchdown strike. The second TD aerial went to Earle Overin for two yards and a 13-0 lead.

Lowe's score boosted the margin to 19-0 before Hansen booted his second of three PATs to boost the lead to 20-0.

Junior Larry Creighton and senior Reg Godsey dropped Emerson's quarterback in the endzone just before the half to give the locals a 20-0 command.

Mallette and Jack Froehlich teamed up for the team's fourth touchdown early in the third. Froehlich took a 45 yard pass from Mallette to start the scoring drive before Mallette raced for 19 yards, with Wayne kicking at the door. From the fourth yard stripe, Mallette found Froehlich in the endzone for six points.

Creighton was responsible for setting up the Devils' final TD in the third period when he recovered an Emerson fumble on the Pirates' 25-yard line. After Wayne moved the ball to the five, Ritch Workman bulled over for the TD and Hansen scored his fourth extra point.

"The first string offensive unit only played the first three plays of the opening quarter before I put the reserves in," Hansen pointed out. The same was true in the second half, with the varsity seeing limited action in the third period.

Senior Rod Hoops led Wayne's second game with 79 yards in seven carries followed by Hansen with 47 yards in four rushes.

WS Spikers Drop Platte

The Wayne State varsity volleyball team defeated Platte College of Columbus here Tuesday night, but Platte's reserve squad would have won.

In varsity action, Wayne prevailed, 15-7, 15-5. The reserve game turned into a marathon before Platte won, 10-15, 15-9.

The Wayne varsity record now is 8-7; the reserve, 5-4. Wayne State will host Nov. 8-10 to the state women's volleyball tournament, sponsored by the Nebraska Women's Intercollegiate Sports Council. Defending champion University of Nebraska-Lincoln heads a field of 16 teams expected to compete.

Athlete Of The Week

GREGG LAGE Winside High School

A Winside-High athlete, Gregg Lage, becomes the first area prepster to earn his second Athlete of the Week award this season.

The 5-9 speedster gets the nod for the latest honors for his showing during Winside's 7-6 win over Coleridge Friday.

Lage scored the winning touchdown that boosted his club to first place in the West division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. However, scoring wasn't Lage's only accomplishment. All during the game the senior broke loose for crucial yards to keep drives alive.

For the night, Lage led the team with 121 yards rushing while collecting 67 in the air — the touchdown pass from quarterback Tyler Frevert.

Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lage of Pilger, has been a consistent runner in the Cats' last eight games, said head coach Doug Barclay. "Gregg has the determination to be a winner, and he proves it when he's on the field."

In Winside's first game of the season, Lage had three touchdowns as Winside trampled Tilden-Elkhorn Valley, 48-14. In that game, Lage had 77 yards rushing and 107 yards in the air.

Ranking high among nominees for this week's award is another two-time award winner, Tyler Frevert. Frevert's quarterbacking moved Winside into scoring positions several times during the night. He also was not on defense, stopping Coleridge's drives with two pass interceptions and several blocked passes.

'Please Pay Attention, Students'

TELLING HIS "students" about the freshman English class at Wayne High school is teacher Ronald Nielsen. The unusual class of parents was part of Monday night open house activities at the school. The open house featured parents following typical class schedules for students attending Wayne High. Principal Donald Zeiss said between 150 and 200 parents turned out for the event. He said he was "very happy and impressed" with the turnout. Also tied in with the observance of American Education Week at the high school was a dress up day Wednesday, with students requested to wear special clothes during the day.

NSEA Speaker: Decision May Let Teachers Move Forward

"It was a defeat, but not total." That was attorney Ted Kessler's comment Friday morning to teachers who attended the two-day district convention of the Nebraska State Education Association (NSEA) at Wayne State College.

Putting aside material he had initially prepared for the meeting, the NSEA attorney spoke to the group regarding the State Supreme Court's decision on the day before that any school board except Lincoln's and Omaha's does not have to slow just cause to fire a teacher.

Kessler qualified his remark by saying the decision could be the basis for legislation recognizing what is needed in this area.

Kessler indicated he felt the court's action was not out of line; they applied the law, he said. It is necessary, according to Kessler, that the law state that teachers can only be fired because of just cause.

Those teachers would have the rights they've been saying they have for several years," said Kessler.

Kessler contends that Legislature has recognized now that dismissal from a public job can mean career termination.

"Hopefully," he concluded, "we will be able to move forward, not just for our own interests, but for the interests of education."

Registration at the convention reached 800. Featured speakers in addition to Kessler included Dr. Douglas Alder from the Utah State University, and Peter Citron, Omaha World Herald columnist.

Dr. Alder is professor of European history at Utah State University and is a recognized authority on history and social science instructional methods at secondary and college levels.

Dr. Alder's topic for the initial Thursday morning session was "Are We Too Concerned With Method?" His second talk was entitled "Is the Subject Really Boring?" He also held a seminar on the problem of "Where Are Our College Social Science Majors?"

Dr. Alder feels the greatest amount of learning takes place when the student is doing the thinking and talking. He contends that the standard model of course presentation, where the instructor feeds knowledge, tests and grades, and where the student is expected to absorb a certain amount of specific data to be used at a later time, is being challenged.

Alternative methods offered by the speaker included the seminar, with teachers serving as resource guides and critics, but with students being responsible for gathering and interpreting data.

Another Alder alternative is individualized instruction, which has recently become popular and which involves considerable emphasis on student response to teacher prepared material.

The Rogers' method calls for student designed, student tested student graded courses; and can apparently be very effective according to the instructor's ability to handle such a plan and according to the school's support in the course.

Dr. Alder mentioned team-teaching, engaging other teachers in the course.

"There is no reason," said Dr. Alder, "why students and colleagues can't be involved."

Simulation is still another method to more effectively involve students in a course. This method involves role playing and may be adapted to a variety of courses other than social sciences. The important thing, reminded the lecturer, is debriefing, whereby the student consolidates the learning done during the simulation.

Dr. Alder also outlined a method similar to the Rogers method, but more involved, which he has used with honor students.

In his concluding remarks, the educator noted, "It is the teacher's job to set a structure which will encourage students to outgrow it if they want to."

Allen Spotlights Former Marshal

The Allen village board and former board administrators awarded retired town marshal E. H. "Jack" Mitchell with a plaque for his 10 years of service to the community last week.

Mitchell, who received the award during a special appreciation dinner Friday night, was commended by the board for his dedication after he took over the job in 1964. He retired Oct. 1.

On hand to present Mitchell the award was LeRoy Roberts, board chairman at the time Mitchell was hired.

In reflecting on the past 10 years, Mitchell said he never had to use his revolver at any time, not even when he was a deputy for two years under Vernon "Doc" Ellis in 1952-53.

A lot of incidents have happened when Mitchell was the town marshal, but the one that sticks out in his mind occurred several years ago.

"I was in front of a store (on a Saturday night) when I picked up a bunch of kids. I wanted to throw them in jail, and take them to court Monday morning, but first I had to check it out with the justice of the peace," he said.

Mitchell couldn't find a justice of the peace at that time so "I acted as the justice and fined them $14 each and let them go."

Voters Offered Nostalgic Party

Nebraskans can attend a pre-election political party in their own home Friday at 8 p.m. when the Nebraska ETV Network presents a unique "Political Party" across the state.

Complete with candidates for state and national offices, voting tips, nostalgic turn-of-the-century political decorations and rally music, the "Political Party" program could serve as the focus of neighborhood get-togethers on the pre-election weekend, says an ETV official.

Joel Fowler, senior producer of public affairs for the Network and producer of the special political candidates programs, said the "program-is" an exciting potpourri of election season USA. We have planned everything from visits from candidates and their families to instructors on how to vote and explanations of the amendments on the ballot.

ka ETV viewers will be entertained with appropriate skills and old-fashioned stump rally music all in the style of the 1910's and 1920's, according to Fowler.

Bill Davidson, Lancaster County election commissioner will present tips on voting procedures and an explanation of the ballot amendments will be given by members of the Nebraska League of Women Voters.

Concord Library Result of Community Involvement

By BOB BARTLETT

It's been over two weeks since members of the volunteer staff at Concord's new library have seen one young girl browsing through the shelves for a book to read.

One of the staff members, Mrs. Glen Magnuson, especially was hoping to see her. Her reason? The book the little girl checked out is overdue.

"It seems the little girl may be the first person to draw an overdue fine since the small library opened in August," according to Mrs. Magnuson.

However, the staff isn't worried about the book. After contacting the Concord youngsters last week, Mrs. Clarence Pearson found out Brenda simply forgot about the due date.

Other Concord residents and area people taking advantage of the town's library may not be so lucky, she pointed out. The 200 books the library received from the Lewis and Clark Region Library Center in Norfolk are on lease before the village has to return them in exchange for a new set of 200 books. Therefore, if any are late in returning, a fine may have to be levied to pay mailing costs.

Mrs. Magnuson, who is secretary of the Concord betterment Club, said the club decided to start a library during its January meeting for two reasons: to serve the community and to enter the project in the Nebraska Community Improvement Project contest.

"But the idea needed a lot of community effort to bear fruit. That effort came from Lane Johnson and Roy Stolter, who cleared a section of the firehouse for the books to be stored; from Earl Hughes, who donated shelves from his drug store; and from many residents who spent hours cleaning, painting and fixing the shelves and library facilities.

But Mrs. Magnuson hopes the community effort doesn't stop there. "We have a large assortment of interesting reading books such as To Kill a Mockingbird, To Sir With Love, plus 50 Readers Digest condensed books and various periodicals," she pointed out. "The library is here. I hope everyone takes advantage of it."

The library is open every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon so both youngsters and adults can come in and check out books. Organizers decided to stay open from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesdays so children could stop after school and pick up a book if they might need one for a book report. Mrs. Magnuson added Saturday afternoon the facility is open from 2 to 4 p.m. so adults as well as children can

Several times in past years the community has attempted to start a library, once housing books and other materials in the local drug store. However, little community response prompted the backers to drop the idea. Mrs. Magnuson and a host of others in the community hope history doesn't repeat itself.

Mrs. Magnuson said the list of those who helped is so long she didn't want to name any for fear she would forget some. She noted, however, that one man behind the new library move is Roy Stolter.

"He's the one who started pushing the idea in January and helped to get things organized through the book loan," she smiled.

Monday that it is proper to let the voters decide the fate of the bill, upholding a Lancaster County district court decision which rejected a bid by the Nebraska State School Boards Association to keep the issue off the ballot and permit it to go into effect without a vote of the people.

The bill is designed to shift much of the burden of supporting public schools from property taxpayers to sales and income taxpayers. It will increase the amount of state aid given to school districts across the state from the present $55 million to between $140 million and $160 million when fully funded two years from now, according to state officials.

That increase would require a hike in the state sales tax from the present 2.5 per cent to 3.5 per cent and a hike in the state income tax from the present 11 per cent to between 14 and 16 per cent, state officials estimate.

The additional state aid pumped back into school districts from those increased taxes would permit many school boards to lower their mill levies, according to officials.

The bill will appear on Tuesday's ballot as "Referendum Measure No. 300."

A vote "for" the referendum is a vote in favor of LB 772, a vote "against" the referendum is a vote against the bill.

A sample ballot containing the referendum appears elsewhere in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wiltse

"Nothing is really work unless you would rather be doing something else."

James Barrie

Unfortunately, few of us are so lucky as to work at an occupation which we would rather be doing than anything else. This means that for most working people, their work is work indeed.

Every gainful occupation has some elements of nobility. In some way, every job involves the creation of goods or services, the betterment of mankind, even if only remotely. Concentration on these aspects might keep a dreary job from seeming quite so dreary.

We serve all faiths, creeds and fraternal organizations with sensitive, perfectly appropriate ceremonies.

Fluoridation

Program Held

On Radio, TV

Wayne residents interested in learning more about what fluoridation of water will do if voters approve it in Tuesday's election were offered an opportunity to get some of the questions answered Wednesday night in a special Wayne State College television radio program.

The hour program, over Channel 10 for homes hooked up to cable television and over FM radio at 91.9 on the dial, was scheduled for 9 p.m. It was to include a panel discussion featuring proponents and opponents of fluoridation, and viewers and listeners were to be given an opportunity to telephone in any questions they had about fluoridation.

Wayne is one of several communities in the area which will decide whether to boost the level of fluoride in their water supplies in Tuesday's general election.

Also voting on the issue will be Hoskins and Wakefield, Winslow, Carroll and Shutes are expected to vote on the issue in special elections prior to Jan. 1 when the state law requiring communities to boost their fluoride level takes effect. The law does not affect communities which reject fluoridation in an election. The fluoridation issue will be somewhat confusing when voters go to the polls Tuesday. A "yes" vote will be a vote against fluoridation; a "no" vote will be a vote in favor of fluoridation.

Danish Visitor at WSC Talks About Scandinavia

Danish educator and member of Parliament Robert Pedersen came back to Wayne State College Monday and in a series of talks commented on life in Scandinavia.

He took time from duties as a member of Denmark's delegation to the United Nations to visit Wayne for the second time in four years. Previously he had assisted Wayne State officials in organizing the Nebraska-Scandinavian Summer Institute, which spent part of its time at the Herning Folk High School, where Pedersen was director.

Answering a student question about Denmark's economy, Pedersen said it is in about the same plight as America's with inflation about 10 per cent.

But Denmark has taken one major anti-inflation step, he said. The government has persuaded trade unions to freeze wages for two years.

He asked the question, "Do you suppose George Meany would persuade AFL-CIO unions to do that?"

As for the future of the European Common Market, Pedersen said he thinks the Atlantic Union is more important because it includes the United States.

SS Advising: Report Moves

People getting monthly social security payments should notify the Social Security Administration now if they plan to move soon, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

"Prompt notice will help assure delivery of your social security check to your new address without delay or interruption," he said.

A move can be reported on the change of address form printed on the back of the envelopes in which social security checks are delivered, or it can be reported by calling, writing or visiting any social security office, he noted.

The report should include both your old and new address — including ZIP codes — as well as the social security claim number that appears on your social security checks, he said.

Any school district showing a density greater than provided in this subsection shall not qualify for such percentage increases.

(3) For each school year after 1976-77, the minimum support figures provided in subsection (1) of this section shall be increased by seven per cent per annum.

(4) To be eligible for aid under this section, (a) each Class II, III, IV, or V school district must levy a tax equal to the qualifying mill levy as defined in subsection (5) of this section; (b) each Class I school district must levy a tax equal to three-sevenths of such qualifying mill levy, except that a Class I school district which is part of a Class VI school district offering instruction in grades seven to twelve must levy a tax equal to two-sevenths of such qualifying mill levy; and (c) each Class VI school district must levy a tax equal to four-sevenths of such qualifying mill levy, except that a Class VI school district offering instruction in grades seven to twelve must levy a tax equal to five-sevenths of such qualifying mill levy. The State Department of Education shall provide each school district with information necessary to enable the district to comply with this subsection. Such information shall be supplied by February 1, 1975, and on or before February 1 each year thereafter.

(5) (a) The qualifying mill levy for the 1975-76 school year shall be twenty mills, and (b) for 1976-77 and subsequent years, the qualifying mill levy shall be the mill levy that would be required if the total cost throughout the state of the local burden, as defined in section 4 of this act, for the second preceding school year were to be raised by a uniform mill levy based on the property valuation applicable to such school year.

(6) (a) From the minimum support figure calculated pursuant to section 7 of this act, each district shall subtract the operating funds obtained from (a) the state under section 6 of this act; (b) the qualifying mill levy prescribed in section 7 of this act, but operating funds received from that portion of the local tax levy which exceeds the qualifying mill levy shall be excluded from this computation; (c) the insurance tax fund; (d) state appropriation; (e) educational service unit payments; and (f) all receipts from local and county sources except local district taxes. The resulting amount shall be the amount to be paid to each school district as equalization aid.

(7) If the funds provided for distribution under the provisions of section 7 of this act are in excess of the amount required, the excess funds shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of this act.

(8) The amount provided by section 5 of this act for allocation under this section shall be reserved for allocation by the State Board of Education to those school districts experiencing hardship occasioned by an abnormal increase or decrease in enrollment in any one school year. Any allocation under this section may be made only upon application to the board and a showing of hardship, and shall be for one year only. Any amount not allocated under this section shall be divided and allocated under sections 6 and 7 of this act.

(9) For the purposes of making the computations required in subsection (1) of this section, the average daily membership shall be that reported during the immediately preceding school year.

(10) (1) The amount provided by section 5 of this act for allocation under this section shall be reserved for allocation by the State Board of Education to those school districts which (a) furnish transportation for their pupils, (b) provide a special program for gifted children, or (c) provide a special program for culturally or educationally deprived children. It is the intent of this section that the state pay one half the cost of such transportation and one half the excess cost of special programs. To qualify for funds under this section, such special programs must be approved by the State Board of Education. Criteria for the classification of gifted and culturally and educationally deprived children shall be established by the State Board of Education.

(2) Of the amount reserved for allocation under this section, not more than (a) one half shall be used to reimburse each school district for one half the costs of operating an approved transportation program, but if the amount so allocated is insufficient to provide the percentage reimbursement provided in subsection (1) of this section, the State Board of Education shall apportion the amounts available among the qualifying districts so that the sum granted each district shall represent a proportionate reduction from the sum it would otherwise receive, and (b) one-fourth shall be used to reimburse each school district for one half the costs of operating an approved special program for gifted children, but if the amount so allocated is insufficient to provide the percentage reimbursement provided in subsection (1) of this section, the State Board of Education shall apportion the amounts available among the qualifying districts so that the sum granted each district shall represent a proportionate reduction from the sum it would otherwise receive, and (c) one-fourth shall be used to reimburse each school district for one half the costs of operating an approved special program for culturally and educationally deprived children, but if the amount so allocated is insufficient to provide the percentage reimbursement provided in subsection (1) of this section, the State Board of Education shall apportion the amounts available among the qualifying districts so that the sum granted each district shall represent a proportionate reduction from the sum it would otherwise receive.

(3) Should the amount provided for allocation under this section be in excess of the needs shown in subsection (2) of this section, the excess funds shall be distributed under the provisions of section 7 of this act.

(4) During the 1974-75 period, no school district shall introduce any program which has not previously existed in the district, except upon unanimous vote of the school board or board of education of a majority vote of the voters of the district voting on the proposition. Such prohibition shall not apply to any exemplary or innovative programs which are totally funded by federal funds.

(5) Payments under this act shall be made in four approximately equal installments, one on September 30, one on January 15, one on March 15, and one on May 15 of each school year. The September 30 payment shall be an estimated payment. The first such payment shall be made on September 30, 1975.

(6) (1) The amount provided by section 5 of this act for allocation under this section shall be reserved for allocation by the State Board of Education to those school districts whose state aid received under sections 6 and 7 of this act is less than thirty-five per cent of their respective current operational expenditures.

(2) The additional aid provided for by subsection (1) of this section shall be provided to any school district only if (a) its mill levy exceeds the qualifying mill levy by twenty-five per cent or more, (b) its current operational expenditure for average daily membership for the second preceding school year exceeds the minimum support figure for the school year in question by more than ten per cent, (c) the school district offers instruction in grades kindergarten to twelve, (d) the district's average daily membership for the immediately preceding school year is greater than fifty, and (e) the district's pupil to teacher ratio is greater than twelve to one.

(3) The State Department of Education shall establish rules and regulations for the distribution of the funds provided for in this section. In establishing such rules and regulations, the State Department of Education shall consider the criteria established in subsection (2) of this section and such factors as (a) valuation per pupil, (b) local effort, and (c) other sources of assistance available.

(4) The State Department of Education shall adopt such rules and regulations as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Such rules and regulations shall be adopted pursuant to Chapter 84, article 9.

It is the intent of this section that the state pay one half the cost of such transportation and one half the excess cost of special programs. INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION NOTICE FINANCE DOCKET No. 24804 CHICAGO AND NORTH WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY ABANDONMENT BETWEEN WAKEFIELD AND CROFTON IN DIXON, CEDAR AND KNOX COUNTIES, NEBRASKA

FINANCE DOCKET No. 24803 CHICAGO AND NORTH WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY ABANDONMENT BETWEEN EMERSON AND THURSTON, DAKOTA AND THURSTON COUNTIES, NEBRASKA

AB 1 (Sub-No. 26) CHICAGO AND NORTH WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY ABANDONMENT BETWEEN DAKOTA CITY AND WAYNE IN DAKOTA, DIXON AND WAYNE COUNTIES, NEBRASKA

The Interstate Commerce Commission hereby gives notice that by order dated October 7, 1974 it has been determined that the proposed abandonments of the lines of railroad of the Chicago and North Western Transportation Company (C&NW) between Wakefield and Crofton, Emerson and Thurston, and Dakota City and Wayne, all in Nebraska and comprising a total distance of 97.5 miles, if approved by the Commission, does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), 42 U.S.C. 4321, et seq., and that preparation of a detailed environmental impact statement will not be required under section 4332(2) (C) of the NEPA.

It was concluded, among other things, that the environmental impacts are not considered significant because traffic over the lines has been at a low volume and prospects for substantial increased demand are speculative, alternate means of transportation are available including rail service over the lines of the Burlington Northern line, and the increase in traffic created by diversion to motor carriers will not result in a significant increase in energy consumption nor a significant degradation of the areas of quality or noise levels. Adverse effects which might occur as a result of the proposed action are recognized as including destruction of the few remaining wildlife habitats along the rights-of-way and a possible limitation of economic or industrial development in the area.

This determination was based upon the staff preparation and consideration of an environmental threshold assessment survey, which is available for public inspection upon request to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Office of Proceedings, Washington, D. C. 20423; telephone 202-343-2086.

Interested parties may comment on this matter by the submission of written comments to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423, on or before Nov. 15, 1974.

George Phelps of Wayne, local representative for Investors Diversified Services (IDS), has announced that his company has begun sale of shares in a new mutual fund IDS Bond Fund.

Phelps said the investment objectives of the fund are to maintain a high level of current income over the longest period of time and to conserve the value of the investment. In seeking these objectives, IDS Bond Fund will invest primarily in marketable debt securities — corporate bonds, U. S. government securities and non-rated debt securities.

Cheryl Hall, registered pharmacist at Sav-Mor Drug in Wayne, attended a meeting of central Nebraska pharmacists in Grand Island Thursday evening.

They are Steve Gramlich and Janet Splittgerber, who received pins before an estimated crowd of 300 Thursday. Wayne County agent Don Spitze, in presenting the awards, also gave Gramlich the Ak-Sar-Ben award for active participation in 4-H.

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

New 4-H Club
It's always a pleasure to organize a new 4-H club such as the one I recently helped organize in Wayne. The organizational leader is Mrs. Evan Wecker and assistant leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dolata and Mr. Wecker.
This club will offer projects in sewing, cooking, homemaking, electricity and possibly some other areas. Ten to 12 youngsters have indicated they wish to join. I'm sure that the new leaders of this club would welcome additional members. Any one between ages of 8 to 18, regardless of race or creed, interested should contact one of the leaders or the extension office.

Linda
Linda Sander helped me organize the 4-H club. Who is Linda? She is the new area home extension agent stationed at the Northeast Station at Concord. The area home extension program has been reorganized and now Linda will be the area agent assigned to work with 4-H in Wayne and Cedar Counties. Linda also will be responsible for some adult programs in an area basis.

Linda will be having a one day a week office in the extension office in Wayne. Anyone interested in visiting with Linda should contact the office for an

Station's Pork Research To Benefit From Program

Pork production and processing will be the focus of an extra $25,000 per year appropriated to the Department of Animal Science through the new University of Nebraska "Areas of Excellence" program.

The NU animal science department is one of six areas receiving additional funds over the next three years to meet specific goals drawn up by the respective faculties.

Built into the program is both formal and informal evaluation of the teaching, research and extension activities of the animal science department.

The University's swine research activities at the Northeast Station near Concord will benefit from the new program, according to Station swine specialist Bob Frischen.

He said the program will permit the Station to bring in experts on various aspects of swine production to comment on what is being done at the Station.

According to Dr. Frank Baker from conception of the pig to the consumption of the pork it produces. Goals include raising more pigs per sow, increasing the pig's efficiency in converting feed into pork, finding the environment that best suits pig performance, improving management methods, developing high quality pork that meets consumer demands, reducing pork processing costs, and developing new products from pork.

LINDA SANDER
Area Agent
Now Spending
Tuesdays Here

Linda Sander, new area extension agent in home economics at the Northeast Station, is now spending one day a week in the Wayne County extension office in an effort to help local and area residents.

She is now serving Wayne and Cedar Counties, specializing in lessons and workshops on housing, home furnishing and all areas of family life.

She will usually spend Tuesdays in the Wayne County extension office, visiting with leaders of home economics clubs, answering questions and helping area residents, and 4-H'ers with problems they may have. Persons who would like to meet with her on her day in Wayne County should write her at the Northeast Station near Concord or telephone her when she is here to make an appointment.

Anna Marie Kreitel, another area extension agent at the Northeast Station, will be working with home economics clubs in all five counties in the Northeast Nebraska district. She also will continue to give lessons, training and advice in clothing for 4-H'ers and adults, and she will continue working in the areas of health and consumer education.

The Northeast Station's third area extension agent, Joycelyn Smith, will give all lessons and training in foods and money management, and she will be working with 4-H'ers primarily in Dakota, Thurston and Dixon Counties.

There are approximately 263,500 rooms in Holiday Inns throughout the world.

'Carryover Fertilizer Means Money Saved'

Carryover fertilizer from 1974 will mean that area farmers can save money on their 1975 fertilizer costs, reports George Rehm, agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

A recent survey of some corn fields in Cumby and Thurston Counties showed that carryover nitrogen ranged from 10 to 170 pounds per acre. This carryover nitrogen, reports Rehm, is a major factor in making nitrogen fertilizer recommendations for grain crops in 1975.

For example, with only 10 pounds of carryover nitrogen a farmer would need to apply 125 pounds of nitrogen per acre to produce a 100 bushel corn crop in 1975. If the farmer had 170 pounds of carryover nitrogen and wanted to grow 100 bushel corn, he would need to apply only 60 pounds of nitrogen in 1975. Since the cost of nitrogen is at least $13 per pound, the difference in nitrogen recommendations based on carryover represents a cost difference of at least $8.45 per acre, according to Rehm.

The agronomist is quick to add that carryover fertilizer will not be the same for all farms or for all fields on any one farm. In order to get an accurate test for carryover nitrogen, he noted, soil must be collected from two depths (0.8 in. and 8.2 in.). This is not as difficult as it might seem because the deep sample is needed only for fields that will be used for small grain, grain sorghum or corn in 1975, he added.

Although the soil is dry, the agronomist reports that farmers who've collected deep samples this fall haven't had any trouble. With field work ahead of normal, this fall would be an excellent time to take samples for 1975, he noted.

Farmers who want to get a jump on next year's fertilizer cost can pick up the soil sample boxes, easy to follow instructions and information sheets at the Northeast Station or local county extension offices, he concluded.

Majority in Wayne County Don't Remember Bitter 1930's

With inflation continuing unabated in Wayne County, as it is elsewhere throughout the country, local residents are wondering whether a recession, or what is worse — a depression — is on the way.

The term "depression" is meaningless to most local people since they never experienced one personally. There hasn't been one in the United States since the 1930s. Two-thirds of those now living in Wayne County were not alive then or were too young to remember it.

To the other one-third it brings back some bitter recollections. It was a time when industry ground almost to a standstill and when millions of workers lost their jobs.

Might it happen again? The consensus among the experts is that it is most improbable because of economic

We agree with Charley Thone that the major cause of inflation is wasteful, reckless deficit federal spending. In his less than 4 years in Washington, he has voted to reduce federal spending by many billions of dollars. He has also voted against wasteful new programs that would mandate federal spending for years to come. In Nebraska's First Congressional District, we're fortunate to have an honest man of moral integrity representing us. Charley Thone works hard and knows how to cut red tape in the federal government. Don't Fall for Work-At-Home Schemes

No babysitting costs; no gas or car expenses; and you have the pleasure of working in your own home. But look out! "Work-at-home" or "earn money at home" schemes can be a pitfall.

Many firms who provide a chance for homemakers, shut-ins or elderly to work in their homes addressing envelopes or doing similar jobs are legitimate companies which rely on this service. But a few firms are out to bilk the consumer.

These schemes have one thing in common: they require you to buy something before you can begin work. The schemes aim their ads at persons who have excess time, who need money, and who have family obligations or health problems which keep them from holding a part-time job.

"Work-at-home" ads are often found in newspapers and magazines, but sometimes you receive them in the mail.

There are also schemes offering to pay you for skills or items that can be made at home, such as aprons, neckties or baby booties. In this scheme you're asked to buy instructions and materials. What the ad does not tell you is that you might have to sell the items yourself.

How do you avoid involvement in these schemes? Be on guard when the promoter promises huge profits or big earnings; when he never offers earnings testimonials but never identifies the persons so you can check with them; when he requires money for instructions or merchandise before telling you how the plan operates; when he assures a guaranteed market and a huge demand for your handiwork; and when he tells you no experience is necessary.

2 Mistakes Reverse

Names in Pictures

Negatives for two pictures which appeared in last Thursday's issue of The Wayne Herald were turned around, resulting in the identification of persons being reversed.

The two pictures were of the Gary Longe family's second set of twins and of the elk shot by Dee Luft of rural Wayne. Correct identification in the pictures is opposite of what is said in the information underneath the pictures.

Brush Fire Does No Damage Friday

Wayne volunteer firemen helped extinguish a fire in a grove of trees on the Bob Nissen farm northwest of Wayne Friday evening.

The fire at the Nissen farm four miles west and two and one-quarter miles north of Wayne started when sparks from a burning barrel of trash flew into leaves and brush in the grove, according to fire chief Cliff Pinkelman.

The fire broke out about 8 p.m. but was extinguished before doing any damage, he said.

Vote For "300"

- BECAUSE -

It's Good For the Taxpayers of Wayne-Carroll School District

- Compared with the present state aid law, Wayne County Property Taxpayers should receive a reduction of $53,389 in local property taxes in 1976-77 if Measure 300 is endorsed.
- Estimates based on proposed funding levels indicate that by 1976-77 Wayne-Carroll School District could lower property taxes by 19 mills if Measure 300 is endorsed.
- If Measure 300 is not endorsed, inflation could force property taxes far beyond present limits.

It's Good For the Children of Nebraska

- A tax base with revenue coming from a combination of income, sales, and property tax will insure a broadened base with equalized opportunity for children.
