Farmers' Favorite Spot at Allen Disappearing

It was an overcast day last Thursday when farmers gathered at Durant Brothers Implement in Allen — a popular meeting place to discuss cattle prices, farming methods and weather over a cup of coffee when fields are too wet to work. But the main topic wasn't about the weather or falling market prices. It was about the closing of the town's only farm implement store.

For 33 years brothers Harold and Irvin Durant have operated the John Deere outlet, serving a large area of northeast Nebraska. But all that came to an end Thursday, the brothers' last official day of business with John Deere.

Harold, 66, doesn't have any bad feelings about the company closing the business.

"I feel it's kind of bad for the community, though. The people depended on us," he said.

Harold plans to retire and find some secluded fishing spot. For Irvin, the story is different.

Irvin, 62, has a few years of work ahead of him before retirement. The only question on his mind is where he is going to get work at his age. He didn't know the answer to that question last week.

The Allen business isn't the only John Deere outlet being closed. Operators of one in Emerson is closing so they can form a partnership with several other Northeast Nebraska businessmen and build a new outlet near Jackson.

The Durant brothers had an offer to go into partnership with Harold said he is "too old to start a new business."

The only thing left for the brothers to do now is take inventory for the Dec. 21st closeout auction. Helping them with the final count is the only remaining full-time worker, Maurice Davenport, and Harold's son Dale.

When the implement business was in full operation five people were on the payroll, including Joe McAtee, who recently died.

and Phil Dietz, who has moved to Norfolk.

The brothers started their farm implement business in 1941 in a 25 by 40-foot former blacksmith shop. By 1949 they had expanded twice.

When the Durants received their notice last April that they would have to close, Harold wasn't too surprised.

"There'd been a lot of talk about closing the smaller (John Deere) Implement dealers between Wayne and Sioux City to create a bigger market for the larger stores. Now it's happened," he reflected.

4 Husker Teams Rated in Polls

Husker Conference teams continue their strong showing in the Omaha World-Herald prep football rankings this week.

Lyons, of the East Husker, joins three other Husker teams in Class B and C ratings. Lyons is rated ninth in C-2.

Two other East Husker teams, Scribner and West Point, are first and ninth in C-1. Scribner, which has been first all season "practically clinched the state championship (in Class C) with its 29-0 handling of Omaha Holy Name," said writer Conde Sargent.

Wayne, which will meet Scribner next Wednesday for the Husker title, moves up from last week's fourth spot to third. Coleridge, of the East Lewis and Clark Conference, advanced from seventh to fifth.

Pierce JVs Stop Laurel

Pierce High's junior varsity football team knocked off Laurel, 20-6, to end the Bears' season at 2-3 Monday night.

Freshmen Randy Blohm scored Laurel's only TD with about four seconds left in the game, grabbing a pass from quarterback Gordon Kardell and racing 20 yards for the score.

Laurel covered about 80 yards in its TD drive on three passes to Blohm, who entered the game in the closing minutes. Kardell threw a two-point pass conversion to Garth Paulsen.

The first half Laurel held Pierce to an 8-0 lead before the visitors scored a pair of touchdowns in the third period, said coach Tom Bell.

Wayne, Dixon County Voters Reject '300'

Wayne County voters Tuesday soundly trounced Measure 300, the state aid to public schools issue, while Dixon County voters turned thumbs down on the issue by a much smaller margin.

The issue appeared headed for defeat across the state early Wednesday morning.

Measure 300 was defeated in Wayne County by slightly more than two to one, 1,825 to 909, according to unofficial totals available Wednesday morning.

Dixon County voters defeated the issue by 1,284 to 1,131.

Measure 300 would retain LB 772, the state aid to schools bill passed over the governor's veto during the last legislative session. LB 772 would increase the state's share of aid to public schools from the present $55 million to an estimated $160 million over the next two years by increasing the state sales and income taxes. Many school districts would be able to lower their property mill levies as a result of the increased state aid, according to backers of the bill.

School Board Approves Boosts in Valuations For Insurance Purposes

The valuation of all buildings and contents in the Wayne-Carroll school system will be increased for insurance purposes.

The school board Monday night approved a five per cent increase for the four buildings and their contents to bring them more in line with their replacement value in case they are destroyed.

The valuations of the four buildings will be increased from their present total of $2,331,525 to approximately $2,447,000. Valuations of contents of the buildings will be hiked from the present $169,700 to approximately $178,000.

Present valuations of the four buildings: Carroll Elementary, $88,725; West Elementary, $516,075; Middle School, $509,250; high school, $1,217,475. Present valuations of their contents: Carroll Elementary, $8,000; West Elementary, $37,800; Middle School, $42,000; high school, $81,900.

Also Monday night the school board approved taking bids on a new bus which will replace a 1965 bus which currently has about 110,000 miles on it.

Superintendent Francis Haun said the current budget contains $11,000 earmarked for a new bus, which he hopes would be delivered in December.

In other action, the board postponed action on changing the school policy concerning early graduation plans which require that three students this year will qualify for graduation after completing all required hours in just six semesters rather than the usual eight.

Most members of the board agreed that students should be required to attend school for at least seven semesters — through half of their senior year — except in rare instances where the board would be allowed to suspend that requirement.

Action is expected to be taken on revising the graduation policy, which now requires just the completion of the required number of hours, at the board's next meeting on Dec. 2.

Board members also reviewed results of a study of activities in the school system, possibly the first detailed look at a school's complete slate of activities in Nebraska, according to Haun.

The study resulted in a 23-page report to the board covering everything from the goals for an activity program to faculty participation in co-curricular activities.

Working along with Haun on the project were Harold Maciejewski, Marie Mohr, Verne Mills, Beverly Merriman, Shirley Hamer, Bill Sharpe, Earl Tooker, Ted Blenderman, Kendall Carlson, Mavis Dalton, Susan Daugherty, Carol Edmunds, Ron Dalton, JoAnn Rouse, Allan Hansen and former high school principal Deryl Lawrence.

in both Wayne and Dixon Counties sided with apparent landslide winner J. J. Exon, incumbent Democrat, and his running mate, Gerald Whelan.

Exon-Whelan received 1,515 votes in Wayne County compared to 1,157 for the Republican team of Richard Marvel-Anne Batchelder and 98 for petition candidate Ernest Chambers.

In Dixon County, Exon-Whelan picked up 1,539 votes compared to 905 for Marvel-Batchelder and 48 for Chambers.

In the much closer race between incumbent Republican Charles Thone and Democratic challenger Mess Dyas for the First Congressional District seat, Wayne County voters gave Thone a 1,690,1091 edge. Thone carried Dixon County by a slimmer margin, defeating Dyas by 1,422 to 1,130.

In the closely watched attorney general's race, Republican Paul Douglas outdistanced Democrat Frank Morrison in both counties, winning 1,591,098 in Wayne County and 1,249,125 in Dixon County.

Voting for the other candidates on the state ticket:

Secretary of State: Republican Allen Beermann, 1,914 in Wayne County, 1,665 in Dixon County; Democrat Catherine Dahquist, 784 in Wayne County, 879 in Dixon County.

Auditor of Public Accounts: Republican Ray A. C. Johnson, 1,639 in Wayne County; 1,308 in Dixon County; Democrat Richard Larsen, 897 in Wayne County, 1,036 in Dixon County.

State Treasurer: Republican Frank Marsh, 1,758 in Wayne County, 1,450 in Dixon County; Democrat Kurt Rasmussen, 838 in Wayne County, 965 in Dixon County.

Wayne County voters opposed two of three proposed amendments to the state constitution while Dixon County voters rejected all three.

Voters in Wayne County turned down the amendment which would add students to the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, 1,391-981, and the amendment doing away with having the governor approve each order, resolution or vote taken by the legislature, 1,127-1,048. Dixon County voters rejected those amendments by 1,180-876 and 976-834 votes.

Wayne County voters favored by a slim margin, 1,126-1,115, the amendment which would change the starting date of the legislature in January. Dixon County voters rejected that proposal by a 1,085-832 vote.

Athlete Of The Week

JACK FROEHLICH,
Wayne High School

On the defensive front line, end Jack Froehlich is just another Wayne high player going after the ball carrier. That's the way it should be.

But Froehlich, this week's Athlete of the Week, isn't just another player once he springs loose from his defensive opponent. He's hungry for a fumble-producing tackle.

Friday night the senior did just that when he downed Hartington Cedar Catholic's punter in the Trojans' endzone. Froehlich even recovered the ball after the fumble.

That tackle and fumble recovery proved to be one of the big plays that helped preserve the Devils' perfect record of nine wins, 15-9.

Jack, however, likely wouldn't take all the credit for the fumble and recovery. Other teammates instrumental in the play were Mike Wieseler, Gary Hansen, Rick Straight, Rod Hoops, Rick Mitchell, Mike Meyer and Steve Brandt, part of the eight man rush that helped cause the fumble.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin "Bud" Froehlich of Wayne, Jack has been one of the leaders on Wayne's defense this year, helping stop end sweeps many Wayne opponents are forced to use once Wayne's defensive front line buckles down. Last week he again was among top defenders with four tackles and 11 assists.

All-Saints Day Is Celebrated

At St. Mary's

All-Saints Day was celebrated last week at St. Mary's Catholic School when first through six grade students dressed up as saints. Some of the students chose saints whose name they were given at births; others chose saints they especially admire.

Represented at the festivities were popes, bishops, evangelists, old Testament figures and women saints, ranging from Joan of Arc, soldier of France, to Mother Frances Cabrini, an American saint.

One of the most original costumes, John the Baptist, was worn by a first grader who carried his own head made from plaster of Paris. A costume procession was held from the school to the church where each student told three things about the character he portrayed, followed with prayer and singing of the liturgy.

'Kids, Monsters Enjoy Spook House'

"I don't know who had more fun—the kids or the Jaycees!" That was the comment of Mrs. Pat Dolata, one of the women in charge of the Mrs. Jaycees' Haunted Chamber which attracted more than 580 youths and adults during the three evenings it was open last week.

Mrs. Dolata said many youngsters went through the spook house several times, proud of their enjoyment of the flashing lights, gruesome story and scary characters who roamed about the spook house.

But she said the Mrs. Jaycees and the members of the Wayne County Jaycees who dressed up in costumes ranging from Frankenstein to a ghost may have had more fun than the youngsters.

Proceeds from the spook house will go to provide Christmas gifts for underprivileged youngsters and for people at the nursing home in Wayne, she noted, as well as being used for other activities sponsored by the Mrs. Jaycees and their husbands.

About 240 people went through the spook house on Wednesday evening last week, the largest turnout during the three nights. Some 225 youngsters took in the spook house on Halloween, and some 120 went through it the first night it was opened.

Jaycees who donned costumes and haunted the spook house included John Rebersdorf as Count Dracula, Bill Walters as the headless Ichabod Crane, Bob Woehler as the mummy, Chris Leuders as the monster with chains, Bob Dolata as Frankenstein, Glenn Hood as Igor, Dale Preston as the scarecrow, Bryan Reinhardt as the ghost, Bill Woehler as the live mummy and Bob Meyer as the hand out of the coffin.

In addition, Ron Temme donated way for the money scramble held Halloween evening, Roger Madden did art work for the spook house and Rodney Reeg donated use of a flatbed truck.

AN ANGRY Frankenstein (known to some as Bob Dolata) has a straw fight with youngsters during the money scramble at the Mrs. Jaycees' Haunted Chamber Thursday night. Getting the worst of it is Igor (Glenn Hood to most people).

Mrs. Dolata said many youngsters went through the spook house several times, proud of their enjoyment of the flashing lights, gruesome story and scary characters who roamed about the spook house.

Mrs. Jaycees dressed up to include Dee Rebersdorf as the old hag, Nancy Reinhardt as the witch, Ellen Walters as a gypsy, Margie Meyer as the old woman at the door, Mary Woehler as the washer woman, Lana Keeg as the mystic lady, Diane Zach as a gypsy, Pat Dolata as the story teller and Judy Woehler as a gypsy. Norma Preston was in charge of the youngsters dunking for apples.

Mrs. Dolata said former Wayne resident Kermit Andrews of Blair deserved a thank you for donating the use of the empty building at 419 Main St. for the spook house.

She also noted Bryan Reinhardt was voted to receive the "Valiant Effort Medal" for spending several dollars to buy a sheet and scissors so he could dress up for the event. She said she made the purchases and fixed his costume before realizing that there were plenty of old sheets available.

Allen Board To Vote on Street Program

The Allen village board will discuss its one year and six year street improvement programs before its Dec. 2 board meeting, village officials decided Monday night at their monthly board meeting.

The hearing, set for 7 p.m., includes plans for oiling 14 blocks of streets, but whether all 14 blocks will be oiled depends on bids, officials pointed out.

During Monday's meeting, members voted to study a blanket insurance policy to cover the village's property and equipment. Presently, the town has individual policies.

Marra: New Plant May Be Expanded Soon

There's a strong possibility Marra Home Improvement Co. of Wayne might have outgrown its new facility east of town.

Owner Wilmer Marra told Wayne Kiwanians Monday that anticipated increased sales of steel doors and windows, which the company manufactures and sells, warrants expansion of the new plant located in the city's industrial area.

Marra bases his projected increase in sales on the fact that he already has many orders to fill right now.

12 High Schools Slated to Attend L-C Vocal Clinic

Students from all 12 Lewis and Clark Conference schools are expected to attend the loop's vocal clinic Tuesday at Winside High School.

doors and windows, I would have to expand," he said.

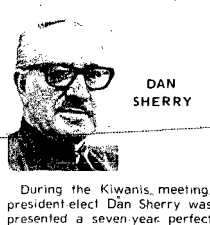

As it stands now the limited availability of steel will keep increasing sales on the retail level, he said.

The new plant, scheduled to open next week, will employ five people for window and door construction in about a year's time.

Marra, who came to Wayne 24 years ago with "two men and a truck," started with an insulation business before expanding his work to building steel doors and windows seven years ago.

During the Kiwanis meeting, president-elect Dan Sherry was presented a seven-year perfect attendance award for not missing a meeting.

In developing countries, children under two are found to be ill 30 per cent of the time.

Wayne will host two agricultural meetings this winter, one aimed at swine producers and one aimed at area leaders interested in who will control agriculture.

The first meeting, Jan. 21, is one of three area swine days scheduled for January.

Local Resident Hospitalized After Mishap

A Wayne resident, Deborah Kruse, 21, was hospitalized in Wayne for several hours Saturday morning for treatment of injuries received in a one-car accident early Saturday morning southwest of Wayne.

She was driving west in a car belonging to Thomas Moore Jr. of rural Wayne when the car went out of control on a gravel road five miles south and almost a mile west of Wayne, reports the Wayne County sheriff's office.

Her car crossed the road and went into the south ditch, rolling about two times and landing on the wheels, the sheriff's office said. There were no passengers in the car with her.

Also Saturday, the county sheriff's office investigated a two-vehicle accident on the crest of a hill four miles east and nearly two miles south of Wayne.

Involved in that mishap were vehicles driven by Milton Spencer, 56, of Omaha and Connie Hammer, 18, of Wayne.

The vehicles met on the crest of the hill, striking each other on the sides and resulting in extensive damage to both vehicles, said the sheriff's office. The Spencer vehicle was a 1974 pickup with less than 200 miles registered on the odometer.

No injuries were reported in the mishap.

In another accident investigated by the sheriff's office, a car driven by James Lanphear, 16, of Hoskins and belonging to Rob Langenberg, also of Hoskins, struck a parked car on a Hoskins street early Sunday morning.

There was extensive damage to the parked car, belonging to Gene Wagner of Hoskins, and minor damage to the car driven by Lanphear.

Thought for Today

By Brian McBride

"It is one's duty to make the most of the best that is in him."

Duncan Stuart

In a free country such as ours it is everyone's privilege to achieve as much as his talents and ability will allow. Of late, we have seen many younger people who elect to "do their own thing." Too often, this involves dropping out of school and doing as little as possible.

The concept that it is everyone's duty to use his abilities to best advantage is not too difficult to defend. We owe much to our parents, to friends, to neighbors whose tax dollars support our educational system. To do less than our best is to waste the opportunity others have bought for us.

Many people gain peace of mind by specifying, in advance, their desires regarding their own memorial service. Please us for further details.

It is necessary for producers who are to earn payments to report to the ASCS office when all harvesting operations are completed, said Butts, who noted that the producers' bins and cribs will then be measured to determine total production. A few fields are left to be appraised. Butts stated, but they should be completed this week if the weather is favorable. The appraisers will be busy measuring cribs, bins and fields as soon as the appraising is completed, he noted.

This and That...

Irrigation in Wayne County
There's increasing interest in irrigation in Wayne County, so this year I'm starting a Top Profit Irrigation Program.

I've taken yield samples in 16 different fields and I'll collect field production information and costs on each field. These costs will be computed so each field will have costs per acre and per bushel as well as net profit per acre.

Yield per acre in the 16 fields I sampled ranged from 32 to 143 bushels per acre, averaging 103 bushels. One of the most interesting parts of this program will be the profit per acre. In other words, is irrigation paying off. I'll publish this information later this winter and have a public meeting on how to increase profits from irrigation.

Lice Control
If you're feeding cattle, you can't afford to feed lice. Heavily infested animals can lose as much as one-fourth pound per day. That's the same as losing one 300 pound animal if you're feeding 100 head of cattle heavily infested with lice.

Early fall spraying controls louse population best. Haircuts are still short so spraying is easier and the louse population hasn't had a chance to build up. Don't wait to control lice in the winter, for freezing temperatures often prevent spraying.

Here are a few insecticides effective against lice: Co-Ral, Korlan, Delnav, Lindane, Toxaphene and Ruelene. For more detailed information on lice control you can pick up a bulletin from the extension office "Insect Control Guide for Beef Cattle in Nebraska."

Here are some points to remember about spraying for lice.

1. Use a sprayer that will develop enough pressure to penetrate the animal's haircoat (200-400 pounds per square inch).
2. Spray all the animals in the herd. Get complete coverage of each animal sprayed, for untreated or poorly treated animals cannot be reinfected the entire herd.
3. Use a hand gun with a nozzle that puts out a coarse spray which penetrates considerably better than a fine mist spray.
4. Treat no more than eight to 10 animals at a time so the spray operator can treat all animals thoroughly.
5. Remove any producing dairy cows from beef herds before spraying. Most insecticides approved for use on beef animals cannot be used on dairy animals. Treat dairy animals with insecticides registered for that use.
6. Observe the waiting period prescribed for the insecticide used.

Buckle up for safety!

Gavit: Order Trees Now While Selection's Good

This year almost two million trees and shrubs are available for distribution in Nebraska through the Clarke McNary program, administered through the state forestry office beginning Nov. 1.

County extension agents are the local persons to contact about the program, announced acting state forester Dick Gavit.

Seedling trees will cost $11.75 per hundred, including the cost of the seedling, mailing charge and tax. Evergreen varieties available are red cedar, Rocky Mountain juniper, Scotch pine, Ponderosa and Austrian pine, and Colorado blue spruce. Tall broadleaf tree varieties listed are Siberian elm, hackberry, honey locust, cottonwood, silver maple, and black walnut. Medium trees are green ash, Russian olive, and northern red oak.

Shrub varieties include lilac, honeysuckle, American plum, autumn olive, red stem dogwood, cotoneaster, chokecherry, Nanking cherry, Ginnala maple, skunkbush sumac, and winterberry, noted Gavit. Tree orders are taken from Nov. 1 until the end of March.

PIG Offers 'Slide Rule' for Shopper

Shoppers will no longer have to guess about which cut of pork is the best value when making their weekly shopping decisions. The Pork Industry Group (PIG) has developed a handy guide to pork cuts complete with cooking instructions for a wide variety of both smoked and fresh pork cuts.

Cost per serving is the important consideration which consumers should make in determining value of meat cuts, according to PIG officials. Since some cuts are boneless, they offer more serving per pound and in many cases could cost less per serving even though their cost per pound is greater than their bone-in counterparts, they note.

The new shopping tool gives the number of servings which can be expected from various cuts of both boneless and bone-in pork products. With this information, the consumer can easily use the "slide-rule" feature of the guide to figure the cost per serving.

A boneless smoked ham, for instance, will yield five servings per pound versus three-and-a-half servings per pound for a bone-in smoked ham. This guide will quickly show the consumer that a boneless smoked ham at $2.09 per pound costs less per serving than a bone-in smoked ham at $1.49 per pound. Complete cooking instructions for practically all cuts of pork are shown on the reverse side of the guide.

Copies of the Pork Buying & Cooking Guide are available at 50 cents each from Pork Industry Group, Department P, Box 11168, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

It's As Easy As 1-2-3

SHOOTING blue rock isn't difficult. All you need are a hut in the ground and a thrower like the local Izaak Walton League has at the airport, a volunteer like Jerald Kohl to set the rocks on the machine and a couple shooters like Glenn Walker (right) and Mert Hillon. Hitting the pigeons on the fly, however, is a completely different matter.

Eighteenth century ladies sometimes cinched their waists in so tightly they suffocated.

Self employed?

Ralph "Mr. Keogh" Palmer
Investment Account Executive
(402) 558-6400

Let me tell you how to accumulate a retirement fund that is 100% Tax-deductible!

Available at Commercial Federal

It's insured safe—IRS-approved—gives top returns and continued growth—won't fluctuate like stocks and mutual funds—saves tax dollars!

Now, if you're self-employed, you can set aside tax-free dollars for your retirement. Under the Keogh Plan, every dollar contributed to the basic plan, for you (and your eligible employees), up to the maximum permitted,* is 100% tax-deductible. And the earnings accumulate tax-free! No income taxes are payable on either the principal or earnings until cash is withdrawn from the fund... usually at a lower rate when you retire.

25-year example, in 40% tax bracket, adding only $2,500 per year

1. Tax-free dollars
2. After-tax dollars
3. Retirement Fund accumulation

$62,500

$37,500

$134,485

When full earnings compound continuously without tax deductions, the extent of growth is almost unbelievable! Let's say you add $2,500 to your fund each year for 25 years. You'll have deposited $62,500. BUT YOU'LL HAVE $134,485, at the current CompuDaily* interest rate of 5% per annum, compounded continuously.

—more than TWICE what you've put aside! And in the 40% tax bracket, your fund grows to more than THREE TIMES the "spendable dollars" you've put aside! Even more, in higher-rate Savings Certificates.

Add the maximum, $7,500, each year for 25 years, and you'll deposit $187,500—only $94,500 of which, in the 50% tax bracket, is "spendable dollars." But you'll accumulate over $403,454—more than FOUR TIMES what you've saved in after-tax dollars at current CompuDaily rates.

Don't wait another day to get full details on this amazing plan. Drop a card to Ralph "Mr. Keogh" Palmer, Commercial Federal Savings, P.O. Box 1103, Omaha, Nebraska 68101 or use the coupon below for complete information.

*The maximum, under the recently passed Pension Reform Law, is $7,500 a year or 15% of earned income, whichever is less.
