First to Pay Dues

CHAMBER of Commerce manager Howard Witt, rear, helps Roger Nelson, manager of Swan McLean Clothing, place his membership decal on the store's front door. Witt was the first Wayne business to pay its 1975 membership dues, according to Witt. And that's worth a picture any year.

Ikes Plan for Dinner

Wayne's chapter of the Izaak Walton League is planning a potluck dinner for members and their families on Monday, Jan. 13.

Scheduled for the Woman's Club Room in the city auditorium at 6:30 p.m., it will include some type of program, possibly a slide presentation, according to club secretary Norris Weisbe.

Working on the committee in charge of lining up that program are Arnold Marr and Marvin Brummond.

Two other club members, Glenn Walker and Harry Wert, are in charge of the club's annual membership drive which is now underway. Membership in the group costs $13 and entitles persons to use the club's lake facilities, northwest of Wayne, for picnics and fishing.

The club held its monthly meeting Monday evening above the firehall. Included in the meeting was a showing of "Highlands Fling," a film about skiing in Colorado.

Villa Wayne To Host Coffee

This month's Chamber of Commerce coffee in Wayne will be hosted by Villa Wayne at the corner of Dearborn and Fifth Streets in the east part of the city.

The coffee, open to all businessmen, will be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

The coffees are sponsored once a month to give business owners, managers and employees an opportunity to visit other businesses and firms to see their facilities and meet their employees.

2 Hospitalized After Wreck Near Hoskins

A rural Winside man, Floyd Koch, and a rural Emerson woman, Phyllis Wageman, were hospitalized in Norfolk Thursday after a head-on collision less than a mile southwest of Hoskins on Highway 35.

State patrolman Terry Rogers of Norfolk said Koch, 41, was charged with driving while intoxicated following the accident.

Rogers reported that Koch's northbound station wagon crossed the center line and struck the southbound car driven by Mrs. Wageman, 48.

Mrs. Wageman's husband, Charles, and their two children, Dean, 12, and Debbie, 10, were treated and released from Lutheran Hospital.

Rescue units from Hoskins and Norfolk took the injured to the hospital at Norfolk.

Mrs. Wageman remained in Lutheran Hospital and Koch remained in Our Lady of Lourdes Friday.

Both cars were completely demolished in the wreck, according to Rogers.

Tree Earns Fund Drive Total of $140

A $140 Christmas tree donated to Wayne's 1974 Community Chest fund drive by a local businessman earned the fund drive exactly that in Thursday night's auction — but it took four buyers to reach that total.

Don Pedersen of rural Wayne finally bought the tree for $30 after the two local banks and Stan Baier of Baier Auction Co. purchased it and then turned it right back to be sold again.

Ted Bahe of State National Bank and Bob Reeg of First National Bank purchased the tree for $40 each while Baier, who conducted the auction at no charge, paid $30 for it.

Pedersen got quite a bargain for $30, according to Neil Dinges, manager of McDonald's and donor of the tree. The artificial tree itself sells for $59 but the numerous decorations and lights boost its total value to $140. The seven and a half foot tree is the same as one given away in a drawing by the store.

The $140 earned in the auction leaves the drive about $900 short of its $1,450 goal, according to drive officials.

Leighton Not Source Of Some Information

Winside school superintendent Don Leighton was not the source of some of the information contained in Thursday's story on progress of salary negotiations with teachers Winside.

The story incorrectly reported that he told The Wayne Herald that the school board agreed to negotiate with teachers concerning teachers working on curriculum development and that the board requested information on teacher teachers on probation. That information was obtained from another source and not from Leighton.

State Seeking New Trial in License Case

An attorney for the state liquor control commission has filed a motion in Wayne County district court asking for a new trial following the ruling by the district judge that a Wayne tavern should be issued a bottle club license.

Assistant attorney general Robert Camp filed the motion in district court Thursday.

Judge George Dittrick of Norfolk is expected to rule on the request on Jan. 8, the next time he holds district court in Wayne.

Judge Dittrick ruled Dec. 4 that the liquor control commission was wrong in not issuing a bottle club license to Mike's Tavern as requested.

The request for the license, which would permit selling of liquor by the drink, had been approved by the city council in Wayne but was turned down by the commission early this year.

Mike's Tavern, formerly known as Dick's Tavern, currently has a package liquor and an off sale beer license.

Manager of the tavern, Mike Loope, said he plans to enclose the southeast corner of the bar for selling package liquor to take out the rest of the bar with entrance gained through a door just north of the existing one. It will be used for selling beer and liquor by the drink, he said.

Hoskins Toy Maker Dabbles Right Along

By BOB BARTLETT

Frank Martin isn't any relation to Santa Claus, but try telling that to Hoskins youngsters.

The 83-year-old retired farmer spends much of his time repairing and making new toys for area youngsters all year around. Why? Because making and fixing are his hobbies.

For the past 15 years the Stanton County native has spent many days and nights thinking up ideas for new toys and ways to fix old ones.

"A lot of my ideas come from memories of when I was a youngster working with my dad," he said.

Those memories resulted in a toy threshing machine similar to the horse-drawn one he, his father and the rest of the family worked on during harvest time around the turn of the century.

Making the threshing machine took Frank about six months, but not all that time was spent in his basement workshop.

"I do the work whenever I want to day or night," he laughed.

Martin, who has lived alone since his wife died in 1970, likes to be his own boss when it comes to creating something out of wood. Sometimes he will scan newspapers and magazines for ideas, even cutting out different-shaped objects to use for outlining new wood cuttings.

Not too long ago Martin completed an eight-horse team of toy Clydesdales by using a pattern from a newspaper. But cutting the horses from wood was only part of the lengthy job of trying to make an authentic reproduction. Included are bits and pieces of shoelaces for reins, dabs of paint and other materials, all from scraps around the house or donated from friends.

Frank's work isn't limited to just Hoskins or Northeast Nebraska, though. Friends from across the nation send him money to make lamps out of popsicle sticks, for example. "So far I've made 18 lamps for people in California," he pointed out, adding that he has used a majority of 14,000 sticks he ordered.

HOSKINS toy maker Frank Martin looks over one of his horse-drawn wagons before placing it on display at Voss Implement Co. Insert, a threshing machine he designed from memory.

$100 Prize Timely for Lady Shopping, Moving

A Wayne woman will probably find Friday night's $100 Christmas Bucks prize especially useful.

Mrs. Mary Graef is in the midst of moving from the city, and that task on top of regular Christmas shopping should make the $100 in coupons even more useful than they normally would be.

Mrs. Graef held the ticket matching the first number on the list of 75 drawn at random and posted in participating businesses Friday afternoon. Her ticket, No. 187017, was given away by Fredrickson Oil Co. on the north edge of Wayne.

She may spend those coupons just like cash in any of the businesses or firms helping out on the annual promotion.

Winning last Monday's initial drawing in the promotion — one that was worth $500 in Christmas Bucks — was another Wayne woman, Mrs. Ron Von Seggern.

Another four $100 prizes will be awarded — on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of this week — before the final drawing for $500 is held next Monday, Dec. 23.

All the drawings are held in the same manner, with a list of numbers drawn at random posted in all participating businesses. Those with tickets matching those numbers have until 8 p.m. to turn them in at the Chamber of Commerce office at 108 W. Third St. The person holding the ticket matching the number highest on the list will win the prize.

4-H Cookbooks Still Available

About 200 copies of "The 4-H Friends' Cookbook" are still available at the Wayne County extension office.

The 300 page cookbook sells for $3 each and includes a variety of recipes by homemakers from across the state.

Included in it are sections on beverages, quick breads and yeast breads, cakes and frostings, casseroles, cookies and bars, desserts and holiday recipes, mixes, outdoor cooking, pies, salads, and salad dressing, soups and sandwiches, and meat, fish and eggs.

Some of the recipes are those submitted by area homemakers, according to the extension office.

Some 300 of the cookbooks were ordered about two weeks ago, but 100 have been sold or distributed to clubs in the county to sell as a money raising project.

FORMER Wayne High principal Deryl Lawrence, now with Wayne State College, sends along an interesting item after chuckling over last week's humorous piece about the word "man" in our language.

Thanks to him and writer Gaylord Morrison, you can enjoy this: "I contend that the English language is male dominated and it is past time that the society as a whole and English teachers in particular, become active eliminating this discrimination."

"Have not women demonstrated their competencies in various vocations, from transcribing manuscripts to the lifting of womanhood covers? Reports are in from Womahatten, N. Y., to Womanchester, England; from Womanchurlia to Womambaba, Canada, that females can not only womanure your fingernails but they can woman their posts in the highest womananagerial positions of womanufacturing. It is womanandatory that they be given the opportunity to womanuever and womanipulate everything from dressing the womanankins in the store windows to repairing the womanifold on the automobile. They are even willing to do such womanual labor as spreading womanure on the fields.

"If God is willing, She will answer our prayers to this womananifestation."

THAT letter from those two coaches down Omaha way who complain about how UN-O's girls got beat on the basketball court at Wayne State prompted one of the male teachers to chuckle: "Welcome to the wonderful world of equality."

If women want to play like men, they better start learning what it feels like to get beat like they do. And sometimes they get beat pretty badly.

A TIDBIT gleaned from one of the numerous magazines that somehow end up on my desk: The Lord's Prayer has 56 words. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 297. The Declaration of Independence has 300. But the government order setting the price of cabbage has 26,911.

WAYNE STATE received a nice plug in the December 8th issue of Magazine of the Midlands, Sunday supplement to the Omaha World-Herald.

The magazine carried a one-page article and pictures on the college's annual Elizabethan Christmas dinner. The dinner, started by Dr. Cornell Runestad in 1972, concluded a four-evening run Sunday night at the college. It is representative of a big banquet which might have been hosted by an English nobleman in the 16th century.

A JOKE making the rounds in Wayne last week had to do with the woman who went into the State National Bank to conduct some business. The woman dropped something on the floor, bent over to pick it up and received a pat on the back by the teller, mechanical Santa Claus who makes his rhythmic bows by the teller's windows.

The guy I heard it from said that if one of the men who work at the bank had been standing by he might have ended up with a black eye.

SOME 61 more proposals to discharge into public waters in the state have been approved tentatively by the State Department of Environmental Control. Among them is a proposal by Wayne Rendering of Wayne to discharge into Logan Creek on the east edge of the community. Comments on that proposal will be accepted until Thursday.

YOUNGSTERS in the Wayne area might try to forget their parents to turn on Nebraska Educational Television Monday, Dec. 23, for special Christmas program of puppetry.

"A Wet Paint Christmas," featuring the puppetry of Lincolnite George Churley, is scheduled for 8 p.m. that evening and will be repeated the following afternoon at 3:30. It includes musical numbers, a holiday drama and cooking up of some special holiday goodies. More than 100 Lincoln children participated in the original "Wet Paint" 10-program series that was broadcast this spring.

FANS of John G. Neihardt will be happy to hear that the Neihardt Center at Bancroft has moved another step toward reality. Groundwork was started last week on the new Nebraska Historical Society building.

Plans call for completing the building in 240 days. A large part of the building will be circular, emphasizing the Hoop of the World, a symbol which appears in Neihardt's poetic works. Included in it will be a glass enclosure containing sacred artifacts along with a reference library. Also included will be a long ramp designed with colored glass cupolas of violet, blue, green, orange, yellow and red for a Flaming Rainbow effect (Flaming Rainbow was the name Neihardt gave the Sioux Indians).

The research room will house audio visual equipment enabling visitors to hear the late poet recite from his works and see actual films of his personal interviews.

Thoughts for today

MONDAY—Real faith never goes home with an empty basket. Romans 10:12. So faith comes from hearing and hearing by the word of Christ.

TUESDAY—Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy. I Corinthians 13:8. Love is patient, love is kind and is not jealous.

WEDNESDAY—Too little to save, too much to dump. There is no such thing as a free lunch. II Thessalonians 3:10. If anyone will not work neither let him eat.

THURSDAY—Some spend time counting the cost of following Christ when they should consider the cost of not following Him. Isaiah 55:8. Seek the Lord while He may be found.

FRIDAY—A mule makes no headway while he's kicking. neither does a man. Romans 7:5. But because of your stubbornness and unwilling heart you are starting up wrath for yourself.

SATURDAY—Count ten before you speak, and if you're very angry, a hundred. Proverbs 15:1. A hot tempered man stirs up strife, but the slow to anger pacifies contention.

SUNDAY—When the Word of God is preached, the people take up the work of God. John 4:28. They said therefore to Him, what shall we do that we may work the works of God? Hazel Sorsten Thorsen

'UN-O' defeat was poor sportsmanship'

Dear Editor: On December 7, at Wayne State College, we were witness to the poorest exhibition of sportsmanship ever displayed by basketball coaches of a prestigious institution.

The University of Nebraska at Omaha's women's basketball team suffered its first defeat of its season last Saturday 106-55. A defeat is to be taken with grace but to be totally humiliated is an entirely different situation. Wayne State's basketball coaches instructed their players to press the entire game even though UNO was behind by more than 20 points at the half. They also played their starters until six minutes remained in the game, while being ahead by only 40 points. With two minutes remaining, being ahead at UNO by a doubled score, Wayne's brilliant (?) coaching staff sent in their leading scorer to break the century mark. These types of coaching decisions should not be tolerated.

This commentary should not be looked on as an excuse for a defeat but as a critique for absolutely intolerable and humiliating degradation of another athletic team. Let it be understood that Wayne State's girls did play a fine basketball game and that on this December 7 defeat was nearly unavoidably for UNO. The sportsmanship shown by their coaches is inexcusable. A total disgrace should be felt by the entire Wayne State Athletic Department. If this is an example of character that is to be displayed by college athletics, then we are shocked and appalled as well as deeply saddened. Hopefully this is not an example of things to come from illegitimate athletic competition in the future.

Both being coaches, we find ourselves totally disgusted.

Danya Linneman
Todd Dawson

(Editor's Note: The coach of the Wayne State team, G. I. Willoughby, said Linneman and Dawson are incorrect in saying that starters played until six minutes remained and that a starter was sent in to break the century mark. All 14 girls on the team played in the game and a starter was put back in with minutes remaining. Noting that her team should be congratulated on a fine game rather than being criticized for running up the score, she said the complaints by the two coaches are "petty" ones. The Wayne State team did set a scoring record in the victory, breaking the record set the night before by Kearney State in Wayne State's 82-49 win.)

'Vote is encouraging'

Dear Editor: Was very happy to see the fine people of Winside reject the addition of poisonous sodium fluoride to their good water. They chose to keep and preserve their freedom of choice guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States. — Wes Pfeleger.

(Editor's Note: Winside voters rejected fluoridation by a 109-25 margin in Tuesday's special election.)

VOTERS in Pierce County school district No. 15 have given overwhelming approval to a $90,000 bond issue for construction of a new school at Mador.

The vote in the special election was 116 in favor, six against. Only about 30 voters failed to take part in the election, held on Tuesday last week.

NEARLY 100 vehicles brought in recyclable materials Dec. 7 for the biggest turnout of the year in the monthly ecology project at Wausa.

More than 4,000 pounds of newspapers were brought in during the three hours the collection point was open. Also brought in were large amounts of glass, metal, aluminum, magazines and other items.

The sponsoring group, Keep Wausa Beautiful Committee, plans to use profits from sales of the recyclable materials for a community project.

DONATIONS to help restore Ponca's old blacksmith shop were about $100 below the $3,000 goal by last week.

FROM Cuming County Democrat publisher Dick Lindberg's "Nearby News" column in Thursday's issue: "The only thing I don't understand about Christmas, the kindergarten wondered, 'is how they get the turkey to eat all that dressing.'"

And from his wife's "Small Talk": "Then there was the wife who was in a tizzy because she couldn't find her Christmas card list. 'And I have! The slightest idea who our friends are!'"

RANDOLPH'S Lions Club sponsored a free glaucoma clinic at the city auditorium Sunday afternoon. Glaucoma is a leading cause of blindness, but it can be treated if detected early enough.

FIRE completely destroyed the one-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey in Neigh early Tuesday morning.

Most of the family's furniture and clothing were lost in the fire, although furniture in the master bedroom, the washer, dryer and freezer may be salvaged.

The fire was discovered about 12:30 a.m. when Mrs. Bailey was awakened by a cracking sound and what she thought was an explosion. She and her two children escaped unharmed. Her husband, a state patrolman, was on duty at the time in Norfolk.

A bedroom at the Bailey home received extensive damage in a July 27 fire, and remodeling of that portion of the home had just been completed.

RONALD BOYLE, 20, of Jackson died early this morning, Dec. 7, when the car he was driving collided with a pickup driven by David Armstrong, 20, of Ponca on Highway 12 about one mile west of Newcastle. Armstrong was given emergency treatment at a Sioux City Hospital and released.

PRANKSTERS opened the gates at the Pender sale barn recently and thoroughly mixed together six consignments of cattle. About 440 head of cattle were involved. The sales company has offered a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of whoever was responsible.

"Life's perhaps the only riddle that we shrink from giving up."

Independence, Kan., News

governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. The people are the masters; the politicians are the servants. The politicians have no powers except as they are granted by the electorate. The government has no funds, except as the people permit themselves to be taxed. If these basic truths appear too often to be forgotten, the fault lies with the electorate. And the correction lies in an alert, informed and articulate citizenry. If you think we should have a strong and prosperous America, don't ask your political representatives. Tell them why. If you believe economic decisions should be made on a basis of economics, and not on politics, don't ask the politicians. Tell them. If you are convinced we need productive jobs for Americans, don't hesitate. Tell them. If you fear continuing inflation, proliferation of the federal deficit, and political spending are weakening the country, don't be silent. Tell 'em. For whatever you believe is necessary for our survival as a proud and prosperous country, speak up. Don't ask! Tell them where you stand."

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

On-Board Computer
An on-board computer to control automobile functions and problems may be a reality in the next decade. Research scientists from auto manufacturers and independent component and systems suppliers are working on what is considered one of the greatest challenges facing the automotive engineer—practical application of electronics to the automobile.

The possible functions considered by the engineers cover a range from a moisture detector that would automatically turn on the windshield wipers and a radio transmitter to be used in the case of an accident or other emergency to an automatic tire pressure monitoring and pressure control system.

While development of solid state electronics in the computer and aerospace industries over the past decade has been most impressive, the major stumbling blocks to automotive electronic systems have been cost and the extreme environments in which cars operate. For example, would you consider pulling your TV set on a sled over salted snow-covered roads at 60 miles per hour?

Large-scale integrated circuits are now available containing the equivalent of over 10,000 elements such as transistors, diodes and resistors on a chip the diameter of a pencil eraser. This super miniaturization offers a potential opportunity to combine a variety of vehicle and driver functions into one single on-board computer. Such a computer will diagnose itself and indicate to the driver whether or not it is capable of performing its required functions and, with a little more sophistication, a self-repair capability in some circuits could be considered.

One major step in the evolution of the on-board computer is electronic fuel injection, already available on some cars, to provide a precise control over air-fuel ratios for improved fuel economy and emission control. Other electronic systems already available on some of today's cars include wheel lock and traction control, electronic ignition, cruise control, automatic door locks and theft deterrent systems, and computer diagnostic systems.

OBSERVATIONS

Ideas, ideas, ideas

Now that the community of Wayne has an official chairman to direct local bi-centennial activities, it should start coming up with ideas to suggest to her.

Here are a few we would like to throw out for the community to consider:

- Create an avenue of flags by designating a block in which to display flags from countries around the world.
- Build a special flower-and-shrubbery display at one of the city's parks, possibly at Bressler Park since it is the largest and most centrally located.
- Plant hundreds of flowers on both sides of the street for a block or more.
- Paint red, white and blue stripes on portions of the large light poles lining Main Street.
- Pick a large hillside visible to many people and build a huge American flag out of red, white and blue flowers or out of some durable materials.
- Hire a talented teacher or student at the high school or college to design an original piece of sculpture, and then construct and erect it with money raised through donations.

— Solicit donations of valuable antiques which emphasize this area's heritage and arrange them for permanent display in a park or other public place.

— Have somebody design and put together a large mural depicting some of this country's heritage, and display it in the city auditorium, the new hospital or some other place.

— Start a fund drive to raise money to clean up, fix up and restore the existing county courthouse.

These are just a few ideas which should be considered. No doubt there are hundreds more ideas among them that are ones which we should tackle as our contribution to helping the United States celebrate the second hundred years of its existence.

As we noted above, now it is time for other people to start clicking off ideas. Just jot them down and send them to Mrs. Roberta Weite at Mory Hall on Wayne State's campus. We are certain she will be more than happy to learn some of the ideas other people have. — Norvin Hansen.

'Poor old Wilbur Mills'

Poor old Wilbur Mills seems to have embarrassed his fellow legislators to the point where they think that he must be mentally aware. They have been successful in getting him to enter a hospital to check for lost screws.

It seems to us that this is a very poor precedent for congressmen to set. Once you start hospitalizing them for mental problems you may develop real trouble in the future.

On the floor of the house of senate, such a mass rush to the hospitals could also drive up the cost of medicare.

It's not real clear whether Wilbur's problem is that he likes girls or if it's just that he is willing to admit it in public.

The networks have been polling the people in his home state of Arkansas and also his fellow congressmen. The results show that the people who elected him are much more understanding than are the people who work with him.

People in a backward state like Arkansas, never having had the opportunity to associate with the white types who are attracted to Washington, still think that it is OK to be attracted by the opposite sex. They tend to understand and to forgive old Wilbur.

Not so the Washingtonians. In that enlightened area they have been able to subdue the impulses that many of us still think of as natural.

If they were to sit around and consider the old fashioned boy — girl relationships, how would they get time to ponder such gems as OSHA regulations, pollution and ecology, the population explosion, agricultural regulations, etc. By Joe Fleck, publisher of The Madison Star Mail.

Confections Make For Sweet Christmas Tree

You can have your candy and eat it too by using favorite confections to decorate your Christmas Tree this year.

Decorating your tree with confection and other edibles is a way of making double use of holiday sweets while adding a warm, old-fashioned touch to your whole home during the holidays.

When guests drop in to share the joys of the season, they can sample their favorite confection — right off the tree! Simply keep a reserve of assorted candies on hand and replace them as they are snared away.

According to the National Confectioners Association there are over 2,000 varieties of confections in every size, shape, color and flavor, so let your imagination and taste take over, and you're bound to create a sweet tree that's sure to please.

Hard candies like sour balls, candy sticks, canes and lollipops are easy to turn into colorful ornaments. Tie a length of thin string or yarn around each confection and tie the end of the yarn around the tree branch.

For large ornaments, tie up a bundle of candies in thin mesh fabric and use yarn or string to attach to the tree.

Candy corns, gumdrops, jelly beans and licorice will sparkle sweetly on your tree when they are clustered together in squares of transparent wrap. Place an assortment of confec-

Donor, Buyer, Seller

WAYNE'S 1974 Community Chest fund drive got a $140 boost, thanks to these three gentlemen and the two banks in Wayne. Stan Baier of rural Wayne, kneeling, auctioned off this free to rural resident Don Pedersen, right. Thursday night on Main Street. The $140 tree was donated to the Community Chest by McDonald's manager, Neil Dinges, standing next to Pedersen. Pedersen bought the tree for $30 after Baier bid $30 and turned it back for sale, the same thing representatives of the First National Bank and State National Bank did after they purchased it for $40 each. The $140 makes this year's fund drive about $900 short of its $11,450 goal.

Going Both Ways at Winside

NINE Winside High cheerleaders who led cheers during the Wildcats' football season are leading yells during wrestling and basketball. Leading the cheers are, from left,

WSC Cage Squads Score Big Victories

Wayne State's two basketball teams differ in more ways than being male and female. Scoring, for one.

The guys have a habit of making nervous wrecks of their coaches and spectators - like Friday night in an 87-86 win over Dakota Wesleyan at Mitchell.

In contrast, back on the home court Friday the gal cagers posted their third rout of the season, 75-37 over the J.F. Kennedy junior varsity.

Wednesday night at Crete the male cagers lost to Doane by 72-52, a score that betrays earlier moments of tension.

That one-point margin over Dakota Wesleyan climaxed a close struggle which Wayne led most of the time until a famine put the Wildcats down nine points six minutes from the end.

Some of Rick Anderson's 26 points - a team record this season - contributed to heroics which regained the winning margin. John Rdmond scored 17. Andy Kaplan and Rex Pressler 12 each.

Coach Jim Seward shuffled his starting quint to find a stronger combination after two losses. Sophomore Kaplan, freshman Lennie Adams and Pressler joined regulars Anderson and Rdmond for the start.

Wayne coaches agreed the Wildcats put up the best performance of the 53 season to beat "the best team, and beat coached team, we have played."

Wednesday night against Doane, the Wildcats started out hot, vaulting to 9-2. Then they wilted, trailed by 42-33 at the half, fought back to close scores several times, then let the talented Tigers pull out a 10-point win.

Wayne's basketball continued a dizzying pace with the win. Kennedy's reserves that night seem a mismatch, but fact is, the Kennedy varsity was national AAU champion last year, and the reserves represent a next generation to succeed the talented champs.

However, Wayne girls had no problem. All 13 played, and scored. Led by Connie Kunz, mann's 23 and Martha Schrick's 13.

For three games, the Wildkittens have totaled 267 points to 133 by opponents.

The gal cagers are idle now until Jan 9.

Male cagers, after their Saturday game at Springfield, S.D., are taking a break until the Christmas Holiday Tournament Dec. 26-28.

In the second game, Randy Shaw, Darrell Doescher and Don Sherman also scored in double figures in helping Team 4 rally. The trio finished with 15, 12 and 10 points.

AH Girls Host Homer Tonight

Allen High basketball coach Steve McManigal will find out how his girls' team does in its season debut against Homer tonight (Monday).

"We're not sure what's going to happen, but we'd like to develop something in the way of experienced basketball players for the next year or two," McManigal said.

McManigal, the first area coach to field a girls team, hopes to develop a running game during the three-game season planned thus far. He has 14 girls out for the season who might have the speed to give his club a fast-breaking game.

Following tonight's home game, Allen will travel to Emerson-Hubbard Jan. 27 and to Newcastle Feb. 13. McManigal said he hopes to find more schools interested in playing girls basketball.

Game time tonight is about 8 p.m., right after the junior high team plays two games against Homer.

Winside's Press Key to 1st Victory

Winside's full court press and the hot shooting of junior Tyler Frevert and Bob Hoffman led the Wildcats to their first win of the season Friday night, 56-37 over Wynot.

The Wildcats' full court press caused the visitors to turn the ball over a total of 33 times and allowed Frevert and Hoffman to score on quick inside plays.

Both scored eight each in the first period as Winside bottled to a 21-12 lead at the end of the first quarter. "We played well as a team on defense," said coach Korlin Lull, pointing out that his team went into the second half leading 33-8.

Hoffman, second in scoring with 12, led the Wildcats' offense with 15 as Winside controlled the offensive boards with 14 rebounds and grabbed 29 on defense.

"We probably could have scored 100 points if I would have left the varsity in the game, Lull said. He relaxed the press midway in the third period.

As a team, the Wildcats (1-3) shot about 40 per cent from the floor with Frevert leading the squad with 22 points. Kevin Marolt also scored in double figures with 10.

Wynot, without all conference scorer Dennis Burbuck, was led by Dave Hans with 12 points. Burbuck, 6-3, suffered a broken leg during the football season.

Defense also was the key to Winside's junior varsity taking its first game in three outings.

'Football Safer Today Despite Injuries'

Wayne State defensive football coach Ralph Barclay doesn't agree with a recent television show that claimed at least 85 per cent of all high school football players suffer injuries.

The figure is closer to 100 per cent, he told an audience of almost 200 at the Winside High's football banquet Wednesday night.

"I'm sure that at one point or another during the high school season a football player is injured, including those who might have a sprained thumb," he pointed out. However, he added, there's a difference between an injury and a serious injury.

Barclay pointed out that athletes today are safer than ever because coaches are better trained to treat injuries, know how to pick proper equipment and teach their players how to play better.

Barclay said his speech was not aimed at players, but at school administrators, coaches and parents whose children are involved in athletics.

It's up to school officials to hire a competent coach, he said, and it's up to the coaching staff to make sure they are giving their players the best equipment for the sport. Parents should be aware of their child's health, he noted.

During the banquet, sponsored by the Winside Community Club, Lewis and Clark league president Don Vanderheiden of Osmond presented the Winside Team 1 used a strong defense to stage a 53-52 victory, allowing Team 4 only two points in the second quarter.

Both Dennis Paul (Team 1) and Breck Giese (Team 4) were top scorers with 20 each.

Stolpe's Free Throws Ice Victory

Sterling Stolpe's pair of free throws in the closing minutes against Hartington Cedar Catholic proved to be the difference in Laurel's 41-40 win Friday night.

Stolpe, who finished five for five at the line and scored a total of 13 points for the night, "battled" in his final two points with 2:17 showing on the clock before coach Joel Parks' crippled defense stopped Cedar from regaining the lead.

had no choice but to play a man-to-man defense against the taller opponents if we were to win."

But Laurel's press proved costly in the early going. Stolpe, Erwin and Pippitt were benched early in the second period when they picked up their third foul.

All three were assigned to stop Cedar's big men, 6-5 Gary Wieseler, and Dick Uhing and Paul Stevens, both 6-3. "And they did their job," Parks pointed out, noting that Stevens was high point man for Cedar with 13 points while Uhing and Wieseler only scored eight each.

The Bears carved out a 12-7 first quarter lead and continued to lead by six in the second period until hit with foul trouble.

"That's when Cedar began scoring and took a two-point lead going into the half," Parks said. Parks credited senior Mark Anderson with an excellent floor game in the second half as both clubs deadlocked with eight points each in the third quarter. Anderson ended with six points for the night to finish third in scoring.

"The kids hustled their tails off. They didn't give up," Parks said.

Laurel's Junior varsity boosted its record to 2-0 with its 42-37 win.

The Bears got balanced scoring from Brian Johnson and Steve Thompson with 12 each. Gordon Kardell tied in nine.

Working Together

WHAT MAY be a first for Northeast Nebraska happened during Monday's Wayne-Hartington Cedar Catholic freshman basketball game. Mr. and Mrs. John Mortimer of Wayne teamed up to officiate that game. According to John, a Wayne State College student, both love the sport and have participated in it. His wife, Roxanne, played girls' ball in Iowa during high school. Prior to Monday night the couple officiated several scrimmages. Both believe there shouldn't be any problems working together, but in the event they should happen to disagree on a call, the head referee would decide. And that's John.

Winnabago Dumps Allen

Winnabago got double-figure scoring from its front court plus control of the defensive boards to race past Allen, 55-29, Friday night.

Dean Hunter led Winnabago with 14. Jay Blanchard had 14 and Kevin Lonewolf scored 10 as the balanced Indians gave Allen its second loss in two starts.

"Winnabago used a good fundamental game to beat us," said Allen coach Robert Moore. "They dominated the play and we couldn't buy a basket."

Allen trailed 4-14 going into the second period with seniors Paul Snyder and Don Fluver scoring. Both finished with six points.

Senior Brian Hirschert led the Eagles with 12 points, most of them coming in the second half. However, Winnabago's defense, which grabbed about twice as many rebounds as the visitors, halted any Allen threat to break the 35-20 third quarter lead.

Winnabago mounted its strongest play of the night in the final stanza, pouring in 20 points while limiting Allen to only nine. The winners started with a tight man to man defense in the first half to build a 23-12 first half margin. Then the Indians switched to a zone defense the remainder of the game.

"We're capable of playing better ball," Moore pointed out. "When going to have to do better if we want to end the season respectable."

Winnabago also was victorious in the reserve match, dropping Allen, 35-26. No other information was available.

At least once a year many persons suffer from asthma or hay fever.

The Nebraska Medical Association (NMA) reports these ailments originate from a variety of causes ranging from emotional to allergic responses to the environment.

Physicians are able to treat asthma easily and with little inconvenience to the patient. During the past twenty years, hormone treatment of asthma, and the use of cortisone-like preparations have given patients valuable relief. In addition, there are various medications which provide relief for asthma sufferers when used under the strict supervision of a physician.

The NMA says most asthma and hay fever tends to become more severe and complicated, the longer it persists. Your family physician can prescribe treatment and recommend the necessary diet habits, and remedies for relief of hay fever and asthma.

The NMA recommends that individuals consult their physician for further information about asthma and other bronchial ailments.

Car Dealer Shows Off New Facilities

THE PUBLIC got an opportunity to see just what the new Coryell Auto Co. facility looks like on the west edge of Wayne during the car dealer's grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday. In addition to specials on cars and maintenance, they were offered an opportunity to register for the free carload of groceries, (right), which were given away Saturday. Greeting Cal Comstock of Wayne at Tuesday night's pre grand opening is owner Roy Coryell while Mrs. Coryell talks with another local car dealer, Ed Wolke and his wife. (right) Coryell Auto occupied the building near the corner of Second and Logan from the 1930s until moving to its new location a few weeks ago.
