Medicare Payments In County in '72 Go Past $234,000

Wayne County residents received $234,763 in Medicare benefits in 1972, the latest year for which county figures are available. Representative Charles Thone announced.

During that year, 21 million Americans received $8 billion in Medicare benefits, including 188,481 Nebraskans who received $59,192,000 in benefits.

There are two parts to Medicare. Part A covers hospital insurance for everyone 65 and over and pays a large part of the inpatient care, post-hospital extended care and post-hospital home health services.

Medicare's supplementary medical insurance covers those 65 and over who enroll voluntarily and pay required premiums. It pays for physicians' services, home visits without prior hospitalization, outpatient hospital services, therapy and for some medical equipment.

"In Wayne County, the total number of residents receiving Medicare benefits was 1,203 in the county, 1,199 people received $177,326 in hospital benefits in the supplementary medical insurance. 1,164 people in the county received $57,437.

Medicare has been of tremendous benefit to the elderly, helping not only to pay for expenses when illness strikes but also preventing serious medical problems through early treatment." Thone said.

NATALIE SKEAHAN Weekly Drawing Close to $900

Wayne's Birthday Bucks drawing scheduled for 8:15 p.m. this evening (Thursday) will be worth $875. A lucky shopper lucky enough to have his birth date match the date of drawing.

The grand prize (climbs to that total after the top prize going by without the top prize being claimed) in the weekly drawing. Winning last week's consolation prize was Natalie Skeahan of Wayne, who was working at Kuhn's Department Store when the winning date was announced in all participating businesses last Thursday night. The winning date, August 7, 1914. Had Mrs. Skeahan's birthday matched that date, she would have won the $850 grand prize instead of the $25 consolation prize.

Another consolation prize will be awarded this evening if the grand prize goes unclaimed for another week. If that happens, that week's grand prize will be worth $900.

Coupons awarded winners in the weekly drawings may be spent just like cash in any of the participating businesses. A person need not make any purchases to participate, but a person must be present in one of the participating stores in order to collect either the top or the consolation prize.

Commissioners Close Road

Wayne County commissioners Thursday voted to close a mile of County Road west of Carroll as requested several weeks ago by Paul Brader, who farms near the road.

No one appeared at the public hearing to object to closing the road.

The mile of road is the one just south of the intersection seven miles west of Carroll, according to county officials. Brader asked that it be closed because it is not used enough to justify spending money on main drainage.

The road will be closed immediately, but the right of way will remain public so that the commissioners can open it any time in the future, county clerk Norris Weible said.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners named Merlin Beiermann of rural Wayne as chairman of the county board for the coming year, filling a post held last year by Joe Wilson of rural Wakefield.

Beiermann defeated Wilson in the primary election and won a four-year post as a county commissioner in the November general election. Also winning a four-year post was Marcellus Floyd Burl of rural Winslow, who defeated opponents in both the primary and general elections. Commissioner Ken Eddie of Carroll was not up for reelection last year.

Commissioner also named Weible as the county board's secretary and The Wayne Herald as the official county newspaper. Named as the county physician was Dr. Robert Benckach of Wayne, who replaces Dr. Roy Matson. Dr. Matson died late in December. Dr. Benckach will serve on the county board of health along with county sheriff Don Weible and Fred Rickers, who were selected for another year on the board.

Approved Tuesday, Beiermann's first meeting as a commissioner, was a 25 cent an hour raise for all county road employees. The increase boosts their salaries to $2.75 an hour, according to the county clerk. County road employees will receive time and a half for more than 40 hours a week and for time they work on Sundays and holidays, he noted.

MERLIN BEIERMANN

The commissioners agreed to discuss county zoning at a public hearing at 3 p.m. next Tuesday to give residents an opportunity to comment on whether they think the board should go ahead with zoning all land in the county.

County zoning has come up for discussion several times in the past months and was the subject of public hearings at Winslow and Wayne. However, the board at that time decided not to go ahead with zoning.

Youngsters Invited To Story Hour at Wayne City Library

Youngsters ages three to seven are invited to attend story hour at the Wayne Public Library, being held each Saturday from 2 to 3 p.m.

Last week's snow storm saw only three youngsters at Saturday's first story hour; however, more youngsters are expected to attend the weekly hour of stories and films, according to librarian Kathleen Tucker.

The children's sessions will run through March 22.

Late But Welcome

ALTHOUGH presented several months late, this plaque recognizes the many years of service contributed by Paul Rogge, left, to the volunteer fire department in Wayne. He was presented the plaque Sunday night during the firemen's annual supper. Looking on is fire department president Larry Haase, who took over last May a post that Rogge had held for the previous 10 years. Rogge, who joined the fire department about 1935, also served from 1947 to 1953 as fire chief. During his early years in the department, he helped organize the rural fire district by circulating necessary petitions.

Winside Farmer In SC Hospital

A rural Winside farmer injured early Thursday morning when his truck was struck by a bus was transferred from Wayne Hospital to Norfolk Saturday evening, and from there to St. Luke's Medical Center in Sioux City, Tuesday afternoon when he remains a patient.

Marvin Fuoss, who farms two miles north and one east of Winside, was working in a barn when the accident occurred.

According to a nurse at St. Luke's, he fractured his leg in three separate places, and is under observation and tests for possible internal injuries.

Injured in Wreck

A car pickup collision about a half mile south of Wayne on Highway 15 about 4 p.m. Monday resulted in three people being sent to Wayne Hospital.

Treated and released were Larry Kersten and Mrs. Lynn Fransen, both of Wayne, and a passenger in the Kersten vehicle, Sandra Edwards of Beatrice, was released later after treatment for a wrist fracture and lacerations.

Mrs. Fransen was northbound when she attempted to slow her car, causing her to lose control and hit the southbound Kersten pickup, according to investigating state patrolman Dave Headley of Wayne. Both vehicles were a total loss, he said.

Area high school stage bands, under their directors, who are expected to be present for the event are: Tompkins, Herman, Jim Chapman, Laurel, David McElroy, Neligh, Bev Rabe, Verdone, George Vondracek, Stuart, Mike VanWinkle, Gen. A. Tom Jaworski, Fremont, John Bowen, North Bend, Don Hubbs, Pender, Fred Sokol, and Wayne, Ron Dalton.

Fluoridation Foe: We Aren't Quitting

Although warned that fluoridation opponents in Wayne haven't given up, the city council will go ahead with installing equipment to boost fluoride levels in Wayne's water supplies.

Wes Plueger, one of the leaders of anti-fluoridation for its recent months, told the council during Tuesday night's regular meeting that efforts are underway to have a state senator introduce legislation which would repeal a law passed by the 1973 legislature which forces communities to boost their fluoride levels unless voters say otherwise.

Plueger urged the council to hold off on installing the fluoridation equipment because that would result in the city's water being "contaminated."

He noted that local people planning on having a special election to reverse the results of the November election in Wayne.

That election resulted in fluoridation being approved for the city by a narrow vote.

Two members of the council and mayor Freeman Decker noted that the council has no alternative but to have the fluoridation equipment installed and the water fluoridated as required by state law.

"We're trying to follow the advice of our attorney, and according to him we have no choice," said John Vakoc.

"We have no choice but to follow the wish of the majority of the people," until ordered to do otherwise," chimed in councilman Ted Bah.

"Fluoridation equipment is expected to be installed on four of the city's seven wells within the next few days, according to city administrator Fred Brink, and the city's water supplies should contain increased levels of fluoride by the first of February.

In other action Tuesday night, the council approved mayor Decker's appointment of veterinarian J. J. Liska to the hospital board to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of Lyle Secor, president of Wayne State College.

Mayor Decker had earlier announced that he would appoint veterinarian Ken Liska, brother of J. J., to that post.

The hospital board will go out of existence once the new hospital is completed on the northeast edge of Wayne. That construction project should be finished sometime within the next several months, according to the architect for the project.

Council voted 5-3 during the voting not to pay overtime to department heads.

Voting against paying overtime to those employees were Vakoc, Bah, Vernon Russell, Carolyn Filler and Jim Thomas. In favor paying them overtime were Liska, Darrel Fuester and Ivan Beeks.

The subject came up because of the large amount of overtime put in by the head of the street department, Vern Schultz, and his employees in removing snow See FOE, page 5

Commission Bid for New Trial Overruled

District judge George Dittick of Norfolk last week in Wayne County district court overruled a motion for a new trial requested by Mike's Tavern as requested by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission in its dispute with a Wayne tavern.

The commission asked for the new trial after judge Dittick ruled in early December that the commission was wrong in not issuing a bottle club license to Mike's Tavern as requested. The tavern owners appealed to district court after the city approved the request and the commission rejected it.

The commission, which could now appeal to the state supreme court, is the group which makes final determination on whether to issue liquor licenses in the state.

Dr. Willis Wiseman, a 32-year-old physician at Torrington, Wyo., will move to Wayne next month to set up practice in the offices formerly occupied by Dr. Roy Matson.

A native of North Platte, Dr. Wiseman has purchased the practice of Dr. Matson, who died on Dec. 30 after nearly 30 years as a doctor in Wayne.

Dr. Wiseman, who noted that the new hospital currently under construction in Wayne helped influence his decision to move here, said he hopes to have his office open by the middle of February.

He and his wife, the former Karen Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Christensen of Wayne, are currently looking for a home to rent. They hope to move here about the first week in February, Dr. Wiseman said.

He said he has been considering moving from Torrington for several months, but he had not seriously thought about Wayne as a place to set up practice until the death of Dr. Matson.

"Like all young physicians, I've had offers from all over to go on kinds of places," Dr. Wiseman said in a telephone interview with The Wayne Herald.

But he decided on moving to Wayne because Dr. Matson's facilities were available, because his wife is a native of Wayne and because a new hospital is under construction here, he noted.

The communities of Wayne and Torrington are very similar except that Torrington has 11 physicians while Wayne currently has only two, according to Dr. Wiseman.

Both are county seats with about the same population. Torrington, county seat of Gosheen County, is located about 30 miles west of Scottsbluff. The county has a population of about 10,000 people.

Torrington has a Lutheran hospital with 45 beds, considerably larger than the 26-bed facility currently under construction on the northeast edge of Wayne. Additional construction, however, will boost the local hospital to 50 beds. Torrington is close to beginning construction on a new 55-bed hospital, according to Dr. Wiseman.

Dr. Wiseman went through high school at North Platte and graduated from medical school at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln in 1972.

Both are county seats with about the same population. Torrington after 4 years as an intern at Weld County Hospital in Greeley, Colo.

His wife, a 1963 graduate of Wayne High School, received her nursing degree from the University of Nebraska School of Nursing at Omaha in 1968. She worked as a nurse in Omaha and for Douglas County before she and her husband moved to Greeley.

The Wisemans have two small boys, Daniel, two and a half years old, and Christian, four and a half years old.

Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts from Pendola, Wayne and Winside are participating in the Neighborhood 16 Girl Scout cookie sales campaign this month.

Scouts, working in pairs, will begin their door-to-door sales Friday, taking orders for the six different varieties of cookies baked especially for the Girl Scouts.

Sales will continue through Jan. 26 and the cookies are to be paid for when they are delivered between Feb. 28 and March 9.

MRS. MARILYN TRIPPY

Former Wayne Woman Returns On Sabbatical

Mrs. Marilyn Trippy of Millbrae, Calif., returned to Wayne earlier this month to visit her mother, Mrs. Pearl Griffith, and to audit music classes at her alma mater, Wayne State College, as part of a one-year sabbatical.

Mrs. Trippy, music instructor in the San Mateo City Schools at San Mateo, Calif., the past 22 years, was granted the one year leave last June. She is required to complete nine units of academic work and three and a half months of travel related to music.

The music instructor plans to fly to Washington, D. C. Friday to attend several musical functions with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Kurland, and from there will go to New York where she will visit classes of the renowned Juilliard violin instructor, Louise Behrend. Federated Club Women Plan Day With State Legislators

The Wayne Federation of Club Women has accepted an invitation to observe Legislative Day at the state capital in Lincoln Jan. 23.

Wayne club members, along with Federated Club Women from across the state, will travel by bus, arriving at the state capital around 9 a.m. where they will be greeted by Governor J. James Exon. Following a brief preliminary they will attend the morning session of the Unicameral for two and half hours to watch and listen as state senators conduct business of the state.

During the luncheon hour, the women will be able to meet personally with their state senators to ask questions and discuss matters concerning Nebraskans. The afternoon will reconvene at the state capitol where they will attend one of the various committee meetings in session.

At 3:30 p.m., the visitors will be guests of Mrs. Pat Exon at the Governor's Mansion where they will view the famous Doll's Room. Women will board buses around 4 p.m. for their return trip home.

Four 38 passenger buses will originate at Neigh, Wya., Norfolk, and South Sioux City and will stop at several towns enroute to pick up passengers. Women will board the bus through Wayne at 5:30 a.m. A breakfast stop will be made at Fremont and tentative plans call for a supper stop enroute home. Cost for persons boarding at Wayne is $10.25 for round trip transportation.

Persons who do not belong to a Woman's Club and who would like to attend Legislative Day should contact Mrs. Bradley at Howells or Mrs. Predeohl at Wayne for bus reservations.

Mrs. William Hasebrook of West Point, NFWC state legislative chairman, initiated the idea of Legislative Day which was accepted by the state executive board of the NFWC and endorsed by Governor Exon and the state legislators. There are approximately 54 clubs with about 2,500 members in District III NFWC, which covers northeast Nebraska.

'Don't Eat to Your Heart's Content'

Many people take the expression "eat to your heart's content" too literally. Mrs. Eric Thayer registered dietitian at Wayne Hospital, said Wayne Kiwanians Monday.

Overindulgence can increase the possibility of coronary, especially if a person doesn't eat the right kinds of foods. Mrs. Thayer pointed out. "Often people eat out of habit," she said, explaining that people eat food containing too much sugar and fats, resulting in fats gathering in the blood and causing heart attacks.

To reduce chances of heart attacks, people should watch their blood pressure and regulate physical activity, stop smoking, watch their weight and follow a good diet, she pointed out.

"People eat and live the way they do because of habit," she said. "If we led a more simple life, perhaps we would eat more simple foods."

Because of today's hectic pace, many people don't pay attention to eating proper foods or exercising, Mrs. Thayer said. But if people would take time out to look at what and when they eat, perhaps they would prevent some heart attacks, she said.

Doctor

Dr. Wiseman has decided to set up practice in Wayne. He noted that the committee is still seeking doctors who would be willing to move here. That committee has followed up numerous leads in recent months, he noted, but most of the leads have been fruitless. He said he hopes that once Dr. Wiseman gets established in the community he may decide to urge another young doctor to come to Wayne to help him in his business.

Women Cagers Drop KSC; Men Falter

Wayne State's women basketballers marked up another big win Tuesday, but the male Wildcats cagers came upon very hard times indeed.

For the second time this year, the coeds downed Kearney State, this time by 82-58 in Rice Gym. The 24-point margin was the slimmest in five victories, possibly because coach G. L. Willoughby began substituting early in the first half and seldom used more than two or three regulars at one time.

The Wildcats now own a winning average of 35 points. At Hastings Tuesday night, 35 points was the margin of the men's 106-71 loss. Most Broncos jumped out to a 14-2 lead before Wayne achieved a first half lead.

KS Grapplers

Clip Wildcats
Kearney State wrestlers pull out a rare win over Wayne State Tuesday at Kearney as the Wildcats struggled with a persistent problem — injuries and sickness.

With four regulars missing, Wayne lost by 27-16. Winners for Wayne: Jim Meyer at 124 with a 6-0 pin; Morris Alldrum with a 12-1 major decision at 158; Herb Harris on a 4-6 decision at 167; and Mike Riedmann, 8-1 decision at 177.

Going into the heavyweight finale, Wayne still could have won with pin, but Kearney heavy Bob Fuerrer managed a 2-33 pin on Kevin Kane, who is back after a year's layoff.

Saturday the Wildcats go to Yankton for a triple dual with Yankton, Dana and USD Spring field.

Saturday at Maryville, Mo. Wayne ran into another power-packed tournament (third of the year) and salvaged seventh among eight teams in the North-west Missouri State meet.

Only placers for Wayne: Meyer or at 154 and Kane at heavyweight.

Team scoring: University of Nebraska at Omaha, 139; defending champ Southern Illinois dropped to second at 127; Missouri, 80-7; Westmar, 71-9; Peru, 43; Kansas State, 42-9; Wayne, 20-2; Northwest Missouri, 13.

OBSERVATIONS

Sigh(s) of relief

We were relieved when we learned a few days ago that a young doctor had purchased Dr. Roy Matson's practice and will open his offices in Wayne about the middle of February.

Probably more relieved were Dr. Robert Bentback and his father, Dr. Walter Bentback, who have been snowed under with extra patients since Dr. Matson died late in December.

Although nobody would probably have admitted it publicly, the situation in Wayne following Dr. Matson's death was close to critical as far as physicians were concerned. The Bentbacks certainly were unable to take on all those patients of Dr. Matson, not to mention keep up with their patients at the same time. That meant hardships for some of Dr. Matson's patients, for they had to go to doctors in surrounding communities for treatment.

Once the new physician is established in Wayne, however, the doctor situation here will be back to what it was before Dr. Matson's death. That's not an ideal situation, for there should be two, three or even four more doctors in Wayne, but at least we are no longer worse off than we were before Dr. Matson's death.

Hopefully, the decision by Dr. Willis

A worthwhile project

Area farmers and landowners are being offered an opportunity to improve their land and help Nebraska wildlife at the same time.

The Game and Parks Commission is cooperating with the state forester and the Nebraska Nulgrowers Association in assembling and distributing packets of 24 tree and shrub seedlings representing eight different species. Species in the packets include black walnut, butternut, hazelnut, golden currant, serviceberry, Nernaha plum, autumn olive and Nanking cherry. Each packet could form a fine little orchard of nut and small fruit-bearing plants that would be valuable to wildlife as food, nest sites and cover, according to the commission.

Cost of each packet is $7.50, with distribution limited to one packet per farm, ranch or acreage. The packets will be mailed in April.

Landowners wishing more information about the project or application forms may write to Tree Packet, Box 4486, Lincoln 68504.

With the continuing decline of good cover for wildlife in Northeast Nebraska, we think landowners and farmers have a responsibility to replace that cover so small mammals and birds can continue to thrive in this part of the state. You can't buy much for $7.50 nowadays, but it seems to us that $7.50 spent on this project would be more than worthwhile. — Norvin Hansen.

That is reassuring

As spokesmen for many, many other people, we would like to say thanks to the numerous people and businessmen who went out of their way to make sure nobody suffered unreasonably from Friday's storm which struck and nearly paralyzed this area.

We won't begin to mention individual people or businesses, because we would certainly leave somebody's name out. It will have to suffice for us to offer a blanket vote of thanks to all those who helped.

Numerous families in and around

Wayne offered their homes as places to stay for students, travelers, salesmen, truckers and others who were stranded by the storm. Businesses went out of their way to help, offering meals and places to stay for those unable to get out of the city because of the storm.

Although we will probably never learn about all the examples of friendship which were extended during and after that storm, it is reassuring to know that the people in and around this community do respond when conditions demand it. — Norvin Hansen.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Montrose, Calif., Ledger
'It was discouraging, even for optimists, when the United States wrote off a few billion dollars 'loaned' to India to feed the starving people, and even more discouraging when Madame Gandhi (the peacemaker) used the money to develop an atomic bomb. People wondered, 'Why can't we have charity begun at home?'

Matson memorial a very good idea

Dear Editor
With great interest and in agreement with you did I read your article in the Wayne Herald of having money given in Dr. Roy Matson's name and to have something in the new hospital named after him. I think this is a splendid idea. Dr. Matson was truly wonderful man and this is the least we can do in his memory.

I am sure some good citizen (or citizens) of Wayne will go ahead with this. I will gladly contribute money to this worthy thing when it gets organized. — Theima Hattig.

Thoughts for today

THURSDAY — We forget that Jesus Christ is the same today when He is sitting on the throne, as He was yesterday when He trod the pathway of our world. Matthew 24: 1, 2 and the Lord. I change not.

FRIDAY — God's presence in the final is much better than exemption from the final. Isaiah 42: 2: When thou passest through the waters I will be with thee.

SATURDAY — Have thy tools ready, God will find thee work. If Timothy 2:15: Study to show thyself approved. It is a workman that needeth not to be ashamed.

SUNDAY — God loves a cheerful doer as well as a cheerful giver. Luke 4: 18, 19: For whateer ye measure ye deal out to others, it will be dealt to you in return.

MONDAY — It is easy to tell one lie, but hard to tell just one. Proverbs 19: 9: All he that speaketh lies shall perish.

TUESDAY — A Bible stored in the mind is worth a dozen stored in the bottom of one's trunk. 11: 2: Study to show thyself approved unto God.

WEDNESDAY — 'I've always preached that the poor were welcome in this church,' said the minister. 'Now I see by the offering, the past few Sundays that they've been coming.' Luke 6: 28: Give and it shall be given unto you.

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN — The senators all showed up for the start of the 1975 Legislature — all 50 of them.

Only 49 can vote at any one time, but there were 50 persons present for last week's opening ceremonies who claimed their right to sit in one of the big leather chairs in the legislative chamber.

Two of them said they represented the 48th District, a portion of Scotts Bluff County which includes Scotts Bluff, Terrytown, Gering and Mitchell. William Nichol was sitting in the leather seat on the floor, and Terry Carpenter was in a chair under the balcony off to the side.

Carpenter, whose two decades in the Legislature often were spangled with controversy he had inspired, may have been right, but he was still in the center of the action.

It was his challenge of Nichol's apparent election that was causing a good share of the tension during the first of the 90 scheduled working days of the 1975 legislative meeting.

The Carpenter claim that some members of the legislature intended to cast for him had been rejected by election officials hovered over the first session and affected many of the events.

First, it caused the election — as the statutes provide — of a credentials committee. Even though the statutes say the committee should be elected, it has been appointed by the presiding officer in recent years because its function is basically ceremonial. The committee gets the election results from the secretary of state and reports them to the legislature.

This year, that committee seemed to have extraordinary importance and the membership was chosen by secret ballots. There was some fussing about whether rookie senators could serve or whether senators just re-elected could be members.

When it was over, the five-member committee didn't perform anything more important than the ritual duty it always has in the past. Then came the election of the legislative leadership. J. W. Burbach of Crofton was named speaker, defeating Harold Simpson of Lincoln, Leslie Stull of Alliance and Herbert Duis of Gottenburg in two ballots. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha was elected chairman of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council, outpolling Jerome Weyer of Waverly, Omaha; John Savage won the other

'Chuck' Takes Japanese Culture To NU Campus for Study Period

A young Japanese who has called Wayne his home town for the past year is now helping a little bit of oriental culture blossom on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

He is Tetsuaki "Chuck" Yamagami, 22, who has been living with the Dick Sorensen family northwest of Wayne since January of last year.

A native of Okinawa, he and 61 other Japanese trainees were called Wayne his home town for the past year is now helping a little bit of oriental culture blossom on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

The program, officially, the Japanese Agricultural Training Program, is sponsored in the United States by the National 4-H Club Foundation. It started at NU in 1967 with 35 trainees.

During their stay at NU, the Japanese students will be concentrating on the area of beef, dairy, swine and poultry production. The non-credit short course will involve the student in an in-depth study of animal agriculture from production to utilization.

In addition to examining U.S. agriculture, the trainees will also be exposed to the American culture in a variety of ways. Often the students become involved in student organizations and share their culture with community groups.

The unique aspect about the work study program is that it is basically self-supporting according to Clayton Hoover, acting head of the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

After a one-month English course when they arrived in the U.S. in July of 1973, the entire group of Japanese students worked in large groups in the Lincoln area of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Iowa.

After the two-year work study program is completed, the trainees return to Japan. However, several of the students from past groups have returned to NU to work toward degrees in agriculture, Hoover said.

Area Couple Attends 2nd Ag Confab

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Schroeder of rural Wakefield were among some 80 outstanding young Nebraska farm and ranch couples selected to participate in the second annual Nebraska Agricultural Progress Conference.

The conference was held Sunday through Tuesday at Lincoln. The Schroeders produce feed grains and livestock on their farm near Wakefield.

The conference was designed to "Expose our young farm and ranch families to current conditions and trends in the many facets of agriculture," according to Glenn Kruescher, state agriculture director. Couples were selected, with the help of county agents, ASCS directors and others, for exhibiting capabilities in management and production, making farm and land improvements and assuming leadership in community and agricultural activities, he noted.

Among the speakers during the conference were two award winning farm editors, Bernard Brenner, UPN farm editor in Washington, D.C., and Richard Krumme, managing editor of Successful Farming magazine.

Panel discussions and work shops during the conference touched on agricultural legislation, estate planning and taxes, news, media relations, using agricultural extension services, agricultural statistics and the University of Nebraska's role in agriculture.

Ten members and four leaders of the Kid Power 4-H Club met Jan. 6 in the Kim McCallison home. Kay Woodcock, president, called the meeting to order.

Members discussed the cookbooks they have sold and Mrs. Ed Gnirk presented Lori Gnirk with a gift for selling the most books. The group decided to hold a sleigh ride party Jan. 17 at the Kay and Ellen Woodcock home. Games were played and lunch was served.

Lower Elkhorn NRD Cites Benefits Of Windbreaks in Wayne Area

There are several reasons for the success or failure of newly planted windbreaks in Northeast Nebraska but the primary reason appears to be weed-control during the first several years of the new windbreak.
Primarily, the cultivation method of weed control lacks the timeliness for good effectiveness. Consequently, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will be providing additional tree care for one, two or three years as desired by the cooperator.
The first year, planting and a forty inch band of weed control will be provided at the rate of twelve cents per tree. The second and third year's weed control will be at the rate of 6 cents per Tree per year. There will be a minimum pull-in charge of $20.00 per cooperator.
The subsequent treatments will be in the fall for several reasons: 1) a better opportunity for winter snows to take the herbicide into the soil, 2) lingering snow drifts and soft ground will not hamper application as in the spring.

Interest in windbreak plantings has increased considerably this year and several species are either sold out or in short supply. It would be wise for anyone interested in tree planting for 1975 to contact their county extension agent as early as possible to insure delivery of the trees desired.
The local Soil Conservation Service will assist in planning your windbreaks, determine numbers of trees needed and help with the planting care package that best fits your needs.

Planting and one year's weed control: 12c per tree
Planting and two year's weed control: 12c + 6c = 18c per tree
Planting and three year's weed control: 12c + 6c + 6c = 24c per tree

Numerous requests for information on obtaining pumping permits have been received at the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District office.

If a permit to pump from a stream or river or registering an irrigation well is desired, contact the Department of Water Resources and a permit application will be returned to you by mail.

NRD's do not have authority in the field of wells or pumping permits. That responsibility is given to the Department of Water Resources, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Summer Institute Pleasant Thought As Snows Swirl

A pleasant departure from the wintry days of January is looking forward to summer, but have you considered including a month in France in your summer plans?

The Nebraska-European Institute to France, being offered by Wayne State College, makes it possible.

The educational institute, set for July 1-30, is designed for non-students and students alike. Knowledge of the French Language is not required. A core course in French civilization will be offered in both English and French.

The institute offers from one to six hours undergraduate credit. Graduate credit can also be arranged for. The $865 fee includes round-trip transportation from Chicago, tuition, board and room, all scheduled tours and service charges.

The tour will stop in Amsterdam to spend one night and for an afternoon of sightseeing before going on to Paris for the academic portion of the institute. Classes will run from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. daily, leaving afternoons free for visits throughout the French capital city. Weekend tours are scheduled to surrounding areas, including the Palace of Versailles, Mont St. Michel and the city of Reims. Still other excursions will be offered as options.

Applications or requests for further information should be directed to Dr. Rafael Sosa at Wayne State College before March.

Keating Is Manager For Insurance Co.

Jim Keating of Wayne, chairman of the 1975 Heart Fund campaign in Wayne County, was incorrectly listed as being manager of Triangle Finance in Wayne, Keating, who headed up last year's campaign, is district manager for Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. of Nebraska. The district he is responsible for covers 19 counties in Northeast Nebraska.

This year's Heart Fund campaign will be conducted during February throughout the nation.

Open House Attracts Students, Teachers

An open house held at the Wayne State College Carhart Science Building Thursday evening by the Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science attracted about 120 students and teachers from area high schools attended.

The program is held annually to help high school students prepare their work for the Junior Academy of Science fair held each spring, said Harland Pankratz, WSC biology instructor who was in charge of arrangements.

College instructors involved in the open house included Dr. Hubert Johs, who gave a calculator demonstration, Jewell Shrock, who presented a study skin preparation demonstration, and Dean Metz, who gave an energy simulator demonstration. The visitors viewed a planetarium showing narrated by Carl Rump, and watched a computer demonstration by Maurice Anderson.

Various college students were on hand to help high school students with chemical analysis, dissecting techniques, soil testing techniques and working with fruit flies.

Students were present from Humphrey St. Francis, accompanied by their instructor Sister M. Bronsila, Humphrey public school instructor Donald Munger, Elkhorn Valley, instructor James Nykodym, West Point Central Catholic, instructors Sister Antonia Diederick and Margaret McNamara; Madison, instructors Jim Deaver and John Miller; Beemer, instructor Terry Munson, and Wayne Carroll, instructor Robert Porter.

A Storm's Aftermath

AN EARLY MORNING sun casts long shadows and wind whips drifting snow into the air Saturday in the aftermath of Friday's snow storm, the first real storm of the winter to blank the Wayne area. The photograph of a car blocked on a Wayne State street north of the administration building shows four inches of snow fell on the area with temperatures dipping to three degrees below zero over the evening. The wind chill index dropped to minus 55 degrees behind winds that gusted to 45 miles an hour.

IRS Says Hand-Out W-2 Forms Early

Employers can help employees obtain faster tax refunds by issuing W-2 forms or equivalent earnings statements as early as possible, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

"Although the deadline for issuing W-2 forms is Jan. 31," said Everett Loury, IRS District Director for Nebraska, "employers can help their employees file returns earlier and obtain refunds faster by issuing W-2's well before the deadline."

Taxpayers who file returns in January can expect to receive their refunds four to five weeks after filing, Loury explained.

"On the other hand," he said, "the taxpayer who files during such peak periods as late February, late March or April may have to wait as long as eight weeks for a refund."

Loury explained that because the workload at IRS Service Centers is lighter early in the filing season, returns are processed faster.

As in previous years, an employee filing his return for 1974 must attach a W-2 form from each employer. Each form should show earnings, uncoupled tax withheld and social security information.

The IRS expects to issue some 64.8 million returns this year, totaling about $31.6 billion.

At least once a year many persons suffer from asthma or hay fever.

The Nebraska Medical Association (NMA) reports these ailments originate from a variety of causes, ranging from environmental, allergic responses to the environment.

Today physicians are able to treat asthma easily and with little inconvenience to the patient. During the past twenty years, more treatment of asthma and the use of corticosteroid preparations have given patients valuable relief. In addition, there are various medications which provide relief for asthma sufferers when used under the strict supervision of a physician.

The NMA says most asthma and hay fever tends to become more severe and complicated, with longer periods. Your physician can further inform you on the necessary diet habits, and other measures to relieve hay fever and asthma.

The NMA also reminds that individuals consult their physician for further information about asthma and other bronchial ailments.
