Food Not Costly in Small Town—Survey

An Omaha television station's survey of food prices in Wayne, Wahoo and Omaha points out that there is little difference in the prices housewives have to pay for their groceries.

The survey showed that a week's supply of groceries could be purchased for $35.64 in an independent store in Wayne, slightly more than the $35.60 those identical items would cost in an independent store in a large city like Omaha.

The bill for those same groceries came to $33.81 when purchased in a chain store in Omaha and $34.47 when purchased in a chain store in Wahoo, the survey showed.

Picked by WOW TV to represent the independent store in a small town was Arnie's in Wayne. The survey of grocery prices at Arnie's was made Saturday afternoon.

Results of the survey, the first time the television station has compared prices in a large city with those in a small town, were aired Monday and Tuesday by the television station. The television station conducts monthly surveys of grocery prices similar to the survey conducted regularly by Associated Press in an attempt to keep the housewife informed about what's happening to the prices of groceries she has to purchase weekly for her family.

"The survey probably points out what's true in a lot of other businesses, and that is that you can save money by shopping at home," said Arnie Reeg, owner of the local grocery included in the television station's survey. "It's really gratifying to me, because we have to pay freight to get our groceries here from Omaha," said Reeg, noting that the total bill for groceries purchased in his store was almost identical to the bill at the independent store in Omaha.

Identical items were purchased in all four stores in order to get an accurate picture of how grocery prices compare between large cities and small towns, according to Reeg. Among the items purchased were six different meals and bacon, ground beef, rump roast, pork chops, chicken and cold meat—and numerous national brand products sold by all four stores, he said.

Helping conduct the survey for the Omaha television station was newscaster Ann Pedersen, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Pedersen, English teacher at Wayne State College. Miss Pedersen is a graduate of Laurel High School and the University of Nebraska Lincoln.

'Pork Days A Success'

"Everybody I've talked to is more than pleased with the promotion," said Wayne Chamber of Commerce manager Howard Witt in summing up last week's pork promotion in the city.

He said the businessmen as well as local and area residents were happy with the promotion, which concluded Saturday with the awarding of four pork loins to people whose names were drawn at random at the Chamber office.

Winning those pork loins were Thelma Young, Dennis Baier and Harold Thompson, all of Wayne, and Gerald Hale of Carroll.

In addition, numerous business places held individual drawings for free pork chops they gave away in connection with the week-long promotion.

Winners of most of those drawings are listed in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

"All in all, the promotion was a successful one," noted Witt, who said the Chamber's retail committee already has scheduled a similar promotion for January next year.

The pork promotion is the first of its kind in the city, held in conjunction with an Area Swine Day which the city hosted on Tuesday of last week. The Chamber's second annual beef promotion is scheduled for later this year.

Both promotions are an attempt by the Chamber and participating businesses to point out the importance farmers and leaders play in the area's economy, according to Witt.

City Council Tackles Ambulance Problem

By NORVIN HANSEN
Wayne's city council voted 7-0 Tuesday night to ask the Benedictine Sisters of Norfolk to put in writing what will be required of the Sisters in running the ambulance once they open the new hospital in Wayne.

The vote came after considerable discussion—and confusion—about who will operate the ambulance and what will be required of the Sisters as well as the city after the present municipal hospital closes and the new private facility begins operation. City administrator Frank Brink sparked the discussion when he told the council that he has been informed "point blank" that the hospital board will not continue operating the ambulance at a loss until the new hospital opens later this year.

He told the council that the hospital administrator, Mrs. Jim Thomas, informed him that the city will have to help finance the ambulance for the next several months because the hospital will not absorb the approximate $700 monthly loss being incurred now that the county no longer contributes toward operation of the ambulance.

The county—at one time the third party in the three party agreement for operating the ambulance—ceased contributing financially toward the ambulance operation at the first of the year.

Brink told the council that the ambulance "consistently loses money" and that the hospital is "not obligated to run it (the ambulance)." He said the council has several alternatives facing it now that the county no longer contributes toward the ambulance operation. Those alternatives include doing away with the ambulance, contributing toward its continued operation by the hospital or taking it over and running it as a city ambulance.

"We (the city) can not afford to run an ambulance service," he noted, adding that it appears the city will have to "subsidize" its operation for the next few months until the new hospital opens.

Brink's comments prompted surprised comments from councilmen Ted Bahe and John Vokoc, who agreed that it is difficult to understand how the hospital could suddenly cease operating the ambulance.

Those comments also prompted the council's decision to have Brink set up a meeting between the council and members of the hospital board, which oversees operation of the hospital, to see what can be worked out for running the ambulance for the next several months. That meeting has been set for 5 p.m. today (Thursday) in the council chamber in the city auditorium.

Several councilmen agreed that the problem of running the ambulance at the present time is a temporary one, but they noted that the problem could develop into a more serious one once the new hospital opens if responsibilities are not spelled out in writing.

"All I want to know is what they (the Sisters) expect from the city . . . do they want anything more than the keys to the ambulance?" said councilman Vokoc.

The city will turn over all assets of the present municipal hospital—including the ambulance—to the Sisters when the private hospital is opened.

But, apparently, nothing has ever been put down in writing as to how the ambulance will be operated and who will help finance its operation.

Also Tuesday night, the council voted 7-0 (councilman Vernon Russell was absent) to accept the low bid of $6,520.54 for three new sirens which will be installed around the city. Delivery of the sirens is expected within six to eight weeks.

Agreed 7-0 to have mayor Freeman Decker and possibly other city officials appear in favor of a bill introduced in the state legislature by Senator John Murphy of South Sioux which would permit cities of Wayne's size to subsidize taxis.

Voted 7-0 to hire an engineering firm to draw up plans and specifications for several street projects the council may wish to let for bids in coming months. The engineer also will draw up plans for a new street department building just north of the present one in the south part of the city.

Voted 7-0 to hike the charge for removing snow by city employees from $5 to $8 per truck load.

Voted 7-0 to cooperate with Wayne State College in accepting a student as an administrative intern. The city cooperated last year under the program. See COUNCIL, page 10

High Schools Compete in Play Contest

Over 35 area high schools participated in the District III one act play contest at Wayne State College Monday and Tuesday.

This was the first year the one act plays had been held separately from the district speech contest, and the first year all schools in the district had met at one location.

Superior ratings awarded in the contest were given to Wayne, "Marat Sade," and Wakefield, "The Acting Lesson."

Among those winning excellent ratings were Laurel, "The Room," and Allen, "Don't Wake Henry."

Hospital Foundation Has New Directors

Ernie Thayer, Robert Jordan and Steve Schumacher were named to the board of directors of the Wayne Hospital Foundation during the board's annual meeting Tuesday night.

Re-elected as board officers during the meeting were Mrs. Becky Keidel, president; Robert Carhart, vice president; Ken Olds, secretary; and Joan Lage, treasurer.

Mrs. Lage, who took over as treasurer and board member after the resignation of Adon Jeffrey last August, was named to another term on the board.

Named by the board to head a committee which is to seek pledges from new people to the community were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schumacher.

Olds noted that a total of $584,081.87 has been collected in pledges made during and shortly after the drive to raise funds to help construct the new hospital going up on the northeast edge of the city.

He said a total of $886,433.72 was pledged toward the hospital including $20,406.72 which was pledged after the formal drive closed.

A total of $389,994.11 was paid out for construction costs by the foundation during the past year, he noted.

Approved during the meeting was a resolution which backs the Benedictine Sisters of Norfolk, who will own and operate the new hospital, in their decision to terminate the services of the North Platte firm which had the plumbing contract at the hospital, according to Olds.

Olds said the firm's contract was terminated because of unsatisfactory compliance with the construction contract and not because the Foundation has run out of money as has been rumored.

Date Set for Winside Feed

The Winside Community Club will hold its annual pancake feed Feb. 14 at the village auditorium, club members decided during their meeting Monday night.

The Rev. G. W. Gottberg will be in charge of the program with the help of Floyd Burt and Dale Miller, according to club secretary Mrs. Greta Grubbs. The feed will run from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Police Crack Down On Errant Canines

Wayne police no longer will issue warnings to dog owners whose pets are running loose in the city, said police chief Vern Fairchild.

Beginning this week the department will issue violation tickets to all dog owners who have pets running at large, Fairchild pointed out.

In the past, officers have issued many warnings for dogs running loose, but this will cease because of increasing complaints of dogs running loose in town, Fairchild added.

A fine for a dog not on a leash can be as high as $300 plus court costs. Not included in the fine is the cost if a dog is impounded, he said.

Winter Retreat Is Slated for Retarded Adults

Mentally retarded adults from Wayne, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston Counties will be treated to a winter retreat at Rawhide Valley Camp in Sioux City on Saturday and Sunday.

The retreat is being made possible by donations totaling about $1,000 by employees of Iowa Beef Processors in Dakota City.

Activities will include a church service, snowmobile rides, bobsled rides, toboggan rides, handicrafts, checkers and bingo.

Those taking the winter retreat, similar to a retreat held in September, will begin arriving at the camp Saturday evening and will camp there that night. About 130 persons took part in the September retreat.

Sponsoring the weekend retreat is the Northeast Association for Retarded Citizens.

Persons who wish to take part in the retreat may send their names and the names of the people they will be responsible for to either Ken Sittman in Wayne or Jim Russell at Allen.

Herbicides Workshop Set

Farmers and others interested in the use of herbicides and the control of weeds are invited to a herbicide workshop Monday at the National Guard Armory in Wayne.

The workshop, first of two sessions, is scheduled for 1:30 to 3:30. The second workshop, same time and place, will be held the following Monday, Feb. 10.

Conducting the two sessions will be Russ Moomaw, district agronomist at the Northeast Station; Norbert Bogner of Stratton, district noxious weed supervisor; and Don Spitze, Wayne County agricultural agent.

Although designed mainly for farmers, the two sessions should appeal to herbicide dealers.

members of noxious weed control boards and others interested in the proper use of herbicides and the control of weeds, Spitze said.

Covered in the two sessions will be weed identification, noxious weed control, problem weeds, herbicide injury and recommendations for different herbicides, Spitze said. Answers will be provided for those seeking to control weeds and for those confused about why certain herbicides work or don't work in given situations, he noted.

The two sessions are meant to be taken together since material given at the first will not be repeated at the second, Spitze emphasized.

Profile Kicks Off New Series

Ivy Harper, a senior majoring in political science and journalism at the University of Nebraska Lincoln, this week files the first in a series of stories she will do on the Nebraska Legislature this session.

The story, a profile on Senator John R. Murphy of South Sioux City, begins elsewhere on this page.

The series, "Unicameral in Action," will be tailored for Northeast Nebraskans and will appear exclusively in The Wayne Herald.

200 People Attend Chamber's Annual Dinner

DAVE EWING, above, introduces Miss Nebraska and her dummy, Oliver, during Monday evening's Chamber of Commerce dinner at Wayne State's Student Union. Miss Nebraska, Sharon Sue Pelc of Johnstown, contributed her share of humor to go along with that of Ewing, master of ceremonies for the annual event.

About 200 people turned out for Monday night's Chamber of Commerce dinner, being treated during the evening by a pretty young ventriloquist whose script included jokes about local residents.

The ventriloquist is Sharon Sue Pelc of Johnstown, who reigns this year as Miss Nebraska.

But her humorous routine was nearly outdone by master of ceremonies Dave Ewing, whose dry humor and unpretentious manner drew numerous laughs from the audience.

Dr. Wayne Wessel, Chamber president for the past year, told the crowd that 1975 will be a good year for the community of Wayne because the Chamber has a competent president and board of directors and because the businesses in the city "are not standing still. They're building for the future."

Wessel pointed to the numerous progress awards handed out in recent weeks as proof that businesses are making efforts to remodel, relocate and add onto their business "pages" to make See DINNER, page 8

Unicameral in Action Senator Murphy: Goldwater Always Has Been My Man

By IVY HARPER
LINCOLN — Apathy is a dirty word to Sen. John R. Murphy.

To prove that he is not apathetic, the South Sioux City Irishman ran for the Nebraska Legislature in 1968, lost, but ran again in 1972 and won the right to represent the people in the state's 17th district.

And that's why Murphy leaves his 400-acre hill farm each Sunday to live five days out of the week in a one-room efficiency apartment at the Century House at 1201 J Street.

Murphy and his 48 colleagues come to the Nebraska state capital to make laws. Or, in Murphy's case, to not make laws.

His philosophy on government: "The less rules and regulations, the better." Murphy believes there are too many rules in local, state and national government, and he plans to "try in every way I can to get rid of some."

When Murphy, known around the Statehouse for his sense of humor, heard that a reporter wanted to do a profile on him he said, "A profile, that's my worst side. My profile shows my four chins and my big nose."

It is because of his sense of humor and friendliness that the unicameral groups fight to get on his committee, according to his secretary, Beverly Bogner.

Rusty Reno, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln graduate and page, said, "Murphy's the nicest senator to work for. Everyone likes him."

And a colleague with opposite political views, Sen. Steve Fowler of Lincoln, said, "He's conservative as hell, but he's a likable guy."

Murphy agrees on both those points. He considers himself a friend to each senator. And his favorite politician is Barry Goldwater.

"Barry Goldwater always has been my man. He's direct. I detest Rockefeller, Scranton and Lodge."

Blue Devils Keep Win Streak Alive

Wayne High wrestlers maintained their nine-year winning streak over Wakefield Tuesday night, turning back a strong Wakefield bid, 33-24.

Wayne grapplers jumped to a 24-0 lead on pins by Kirk Echtenkamp, Randy Surber, Byron Wacker and Ken Daniels before senior Reg Godsey put the Trojans away with a pin in the 185-pound class.

Echtenkamp and Surber disposed of their opponents in the second period as Echtenkamp stopped 98-pound Bill Newton in 3:54 and Surber pinned 105-pound Terry Borg in 3:44.

Wacker (112) and Wakefield's Brian Newton were tied at 2-2 in the second period before Wacker nailed his foe with 53 seconds left in the match. Daniels had a 2-0 lead before he stopped Lyle Borge in 1:02.

Godsey had the second-fastest pin of the night, with a time of 1:26.

Wakefield stormed back mid-way in the dual with four decisions and a pair of pins. Chuck Scherer (145) and Merrill Hale (Hwt) pinned their opponents.

Cats Pin Osmond, 67-0

Two more school records fell during Winside High's wrestling dual against Osmond Tuesday night.

The Cats chalked up a scoring record with a 67-0 victory—the most points scored in one meet and the first time Winside has shutout an opponent.

All but two of Winside's wrestlers won by pins or forfeits.

Although Tuesday's match was one of the team's best performances, coach Doug Barclay said Osmond was not up to full capacity for the dual. Several wrestlers were sick, he noted, adding that Osmond had been wrestling for only three years.

WS Records Fall in Basketball Tripleheader

Wayne State's basketball tripleheader with Westmar Tuesday produced a batch of records and a curiosity.

The curiosity: Wayne won all three games by margins of 28, 28 and 29. And it might be called a curiosity repeated: the junior varsity played with only five men for the second straight game and scored over 100 both times.

The records: A season high score in men's basketball, 109 (Westmar, 80). John Redmond's 32 points set a team high for the season, and his 15 field goals (25 attempts) also a season high.

For the women, Connie Kunz, a man, posted a season high on the team at 24 points.

And on the junior varsity, Lennie Adams shot 29 points, matching Dave Plattgraf's record output in the previous game, at Kearney.

The male varsity's 48 field goal total was a season record.

The women started proceedings with a 71-46 romp past the same team that perpetrated the only Wayne loss this year, a 68-62 decision at Le Mars, Ia, a week and a half ago. This time the Wildkittens got down to business quickly and led by 39-27 at the half. Substitutes got liberal time in the game and went on a late romp. A bit over five minutes from the end, Wayne led by a scant 42-37.

The win put Wayne at 9-1 for their 2 p.m. game Saturday at South Dakota State University.

The men's junior varsity, not to be outdone, went to work just like the women and finished with a 101-73 verdict, the same 28-point margin. Adams got his chance to score big—after playing only with the varsity in recent games—because Dale Walde was sidelined with a broken nose.

Bears Trample Randolph, 90-60

Joel Parks' dream of a perfect basketball game is to have four players score 20 points each and another four hit five each for a 100-point win.

Tuesday night Laurel came up 100 points short of that goal.

The Bears, now 2-2 in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference, blasted host Randolph, 90-60, to march to their 11th win of the season.

Five Laurel players scored 10 points or better as Parks' club broke away from an 18-16 first quarter deficit to take a 39-30 halftime lead.

Although Laurel, 11-5, only had one player, Sterling Stolpe, hit 20 points, Parks said he'd rather have balanced scoring to reach the 100-point mark. Mark Anderson was second high with 16 while Scott Hueltig had 13, Brad Erwin 12 and Greg Pippitt 11.

"We decided that we were going to play better defense the second half by stopping Randolph from going to the middle," Parks explained about the sudden switch to Laurel's scoring surge the last two periods.

Once again Laurel shot over the 50 per cent mark, hitting 35 of 69 attempts for 51 per cent. Randolph shot 55 times, making 23 for 41 per cent.

Laurel's junior varsity climbed to their 10th straight win by knocking off Randolph 54-41.

Brian Johnson and Gordon Kardell fired in 12 and 10 points to lead the Bears.

Terry Stinger and Robert Frey combined to walk away with three first place trophies each. Taking two first place awards was Mike Niemann, also of Wayne.

Stinger won the 296 340 and 341 400 cc stock classes and the 296 340 cc modified division. Frey finished first in the 401 440 and 441-650 cc stock classes and 341 440 modified.

Niemann won both junior events.

Taking second in the 0-295 cc stock was Brad Schwarzen of Wakefield.

In the women's division, Mary Janke of Winside finished second, followed by Claudia O'Neill and Nancy Niemann, both of Wayne.

A total of 72 entries competed in the races.

All the other four junior Wildcats scored well. Pfaltz, graff 23; Dale Meyer 22; Joe Curl 15, Reggie Balderas 12. The result: Wayne stayed unbeaten in seven contests, Friday at 5:15 the jayvees will have a home chance to beat Briar Cliff again, before the varsity game with Briar Cliff.

The varsity, like the women against Westmar, has an account to settle with Briar Cliff, having lost an 86-72 game in Sioux City in December.

Wildcat performance against Westmar should set up a fine rematch with Briar Cliff. The Cats pounced in a hurry on the Westmar Eagles and had a 9-0 lead within less than two minutes. For a time late in the half they slackened the pace, letting Westmar close to 29-25 before climbing to a 51-41 halt.

By that time Redmond had 15 points, but he added 17 in the second round while Charlie Henderson was reaching 22, and same as Westmar's top man, Paul Sneller.

Both teams shot well, each hitting 55 per cent from the field. Wayne scored a neat 76 per cent job at the charity line, but Westmar did better, 91 per cent on 10 of 11.

In other sports action for Wayne State this week, the wrestlers have a double dual scheduled at home Saturday, 1 p.m., with Chadron State and Dana, if Dana is able to muster enough grapplers. The Vikings had to cancel a dual here last Thursday. Wayne had a dual with Westmar scheduled here Wednesday night.

Also at 1 p.m. Saturday, Wayne and Regis College swimmers of Denver will swim a dual in the college pool.

The women's basketball team will entertain Midland Monday night at 7, a rescheduling of a postponed Jan. 12 game.

Parking altered for home tilts

Parking in Wayne High School's parking lot will be altered for Saturday night's home contest against Schuyler.

Drivers are requested to enter the lot and follow directions to park automobiles facing south beginning at the far west end of the lot and proceeding east, according to principal Donald Zwick.

This should provide additional spaces and more ease in entering and leaving the lot, he said.

WS Records Fall in Basketball Tripleheader

Wayne State's basketball tripleheader with Westmar Tuesday produced a batch of records and a curiosity.

The curiosity: Wayne won all three games by margins of 28, 28 and 29. And it might be called a curiosity repeated: the junior varsity played with only five men for the second straight game and scored over 100 both times.

The records: A season high score in men's basketball, 109 (Westmar, 80). John Redmond's 32 points set a team high for the season, and his 15 field goals (25 attempts) also a season high.

For the women, Connie Kunz, a man, posted a season high on the team at 24 points.

And on the junior varsity, Lennie Adams shot 29 points, matching Dave Plattgraf's record output in the previous game, at Kearney.

The male varsity's 48 field goal total was a season record.

The women started proceedings with a 71-46 romp past the same team that perpetrated the only Wayne loss this year, a 68-62 decision at Le Mars, Ia, a week and a half ago. This time the Wildkittens got down to business quickly and led by 39-27 at the half. Substitutes got liberal time in the game and went on a late romp. A bit over five minutes from the end, Wayne led by a scant 42-37.

The win put Wayne at 9-1 for their 2 p.m. game Saturday at South Dakota State University.

The men's junior varsity, not to be outdone, went to work just like the women and finished with a 101-73 verdict, the same 28-point margin. Adams got his chance to score big—after playing only with the varsity in recent games—because Dale Walde was sidelined with a broken nose.

Newcastle Dumps Allen

Allen Eagles shot well the last three quarters against Newcastle but couldn't overcome an eight-point first-quarter deficit Tuesday night as Newcastle won 56-48.

Plagued by fouls the first period, Allen coach Bryan Brede was forced to take out his leading scorers, Don Kluever and Dave Dunn, early in the game. Kluever picked up his third personal in the first period and Dunn had four before the end of the half.

Allen trailed 12-4 after one period of play before the club started to rally behind senior Brian Hirschert. Hirschert nailed eight of his 22 points the first half.

Newcastle only scored three field goals in the first period compared to two for us, but it was the free throws that made the difference," Brede said.

Senior Scott Miller led Newcastle with 26 points, most of them from 15 feet out. Allen, winless in 10 games, goes to Ponca Friday night.

Allen's junior varsity lost a one-point decision to Newcastle, 26-27. Todd Koester had 13 points.

Winside Masters Osmond

After two straight losses by a total of four points, Winside High finally turned the tables, taking a 51-49 double overtime victory over Osmond Tuesday night.

Junior Tyler Frevert, who led the Wildcats with 24 points, sank the winning points on a 20-footer to give Winside its third win in 11 outings.

Winside jumped into a 45-43 lead in the closing seconds when junior Bob Hoffman scored two of his 14 points, but Osmond sent the game into overtime. In the first overtime Hoffman and Terry Luth scored to keep coach Korlin Luth's club in the running.

Turnovers had to be the biggest factor in the game," said an elated Luth. "We only had six while Osmond made 16. That's the best ball control we had all year long."

Monday night Wausau's Gary Gunderson destroyed Winside's hopes of a one-point victory when he hit a last-second shot from the corner to drop the Cats, 54-53.

Again Winside's Hoffman and Frevert sparked Hoffman hit a seppion high 28 while Frevert pooled in 14 as Winside led until the closing seconds.

In the fourth quarter Winside had a chance to put the game away, but missed 11 foul shots. Poor free throw shooting also spotted the difference in the Cats' upset bid against Hartington Saturday.

Hartington's Pete Tiplon hit 24 points to lead his team to a 29-25 halftime lead. But a stout Winside defense, led by Frevert and Bryan Denklow, limited Tiplon to only five points the last two quarters.

Frosh Fall In Tourney

Columbus Scotus wiped out a four point Wayne lead late in the third period before knocking the locals out of the eight team Schuyler freshman basketball tournament, 65-57, Monday.

Wayne's Marco Garlick and Vic Sharpe ripped the nets for 23 and 20 points with shots under the basket until Schuyler's zone defense cut down the pair's effectiveness the last period.

"We just ran into a team that got hotter than a pistol in a quarter," said Wayne mentor Duane Blomenkamp following his team's fifth loss in nine games.

Garlick also led the team in rebounds with 17 caroms. Sharpe had eight.

Wayne trailed 24-23 at the half before Scotus started its surge with about two minutes left in the third period. Four minutes in to the last period, the winners led by 15.

Also scoring for Wayne were Steve Bodensstedt with six, Kevin Murray with four, John Keating and Jeff Backstrom with two each.

Other teams have been doing it to us all season long. Now we're doing it to them," said Laurel head basketball coach Joel Parks after the club shot 55 per cent to smother Wakefield, 78-33, Saturday night.

For the first time in 15 games, Laurel broke the 50 per cent clip something the last four of five clubs have done in handing the Bears four of their five losses.

Bears Smother Wakefield, 78-33

Other teams have been doing it to us all season long. Now we're doing it to them," said Laurel head basketball coach Joel Parks after the club shot 55 per cent to smother Wakefield, 78-33, Saturday night.

For the first time in 15 games, Laurel broke the 50 per cent clip something the last four of five clubs have done in handing the Bears four of their five losses.

Led by senior forward Sterling Stolpe, Laurel burned the hoop for 61 per cent the first half to take a 38-18 command. Stolpe, who had 14 points, hit eight straight points to put the Bears in front 8-0. Two and a half minutes elapsed before Wakefield finally scored.

"Our game plan was to shut off Wakefield's inside plays," Parks pointed out after his team notched its 10th win. That plan worked both halves, with Wakefield's top scorers, seniors Scott Keagle and Don Myers, combining for only eight points.

Senior Tim Anderson started at forward for the first time this season to give the Bears added height in the front court. Anderson, 6-3, pumped in 10 points.

Elgin Pope John came in third with 88 points, followed by Tekamah Herman reserves with 53. Oakland Craig with 51, Norfolk Catholic with 46, South Sioux City reserves with 27, and Lyons with 13.

Winside's Bob Bowers (105), Keith Suelth (112), Monte Platt (118), Brad Brummetts (128) and Grego Laqr (138) paced the Wildcats in wins in the lower weights. Winning in the upper classes were Dwight Lienemann (167), Brian Wade (185) and heavyweight Mike Anderson (167). Lienemann hit the three.

SNOW FLURRIES didn't stop more than 200 spectators and 50 entries in the Wayne County Jaycees' snowmobile races from gathering at the Wayne County fairgrounds Sunday. For some, the weather meant finding a blanket and, as in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans of Wayne, and umbrella. First time around the track was a little slippery for some drivers, but most competitors soon adjusted and the races picked up momentum in the larger classes of snowmobiles. One Wayne driver who quickly learned how to weed his way through the traffic and around the track was Bob Frey, right.

Johnson Leads Trojans

Wakefield senior Alan Johnson couldn't have picked a better time to make his three field goals Tuesday night. Johnson's first two baskets tied the Trojans with Pender 58-all to send the game into overtime. His third basket helped Wakefield gain a 64-63 victory.

Prep Picks: 'Confidence Makes A Winner'

Most high school basketball coaches agree it takes a good defense to win. For Laurel High's Joel Parks, though, there's more to winning than defense. "So much of the game is confidence. You have to have it if you're going to be a winner," he reflected after Saturday's lopsided 78-33 win over Wakefield.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Joycelyn Smith

Snack Right!
Each year we Americans pop into our mouths over $2 billion worth of potato chips, pretzels, nuts, corn chips, puffed snacks, crackers, spreads and other snacks.

To say all snacks are "bad" would be like saying there is only one way to cook potatoes. Snacks can make a contribution to the daily food pattern in energy, protein, vitamins and minerals, depending on what kinds of foods are being eaten and how they're being used.

For example, is the beverage a substitute for a more nutritious one like milk, or is it a part of an already good meal pattern like an apple at 8 p.m. while watching TV?

What about the higher calorie snack foods like doughnuts, pastries, candies, and soft drinks? Are they forbidden?

No, as long as (1) they do not replace those foods that are needed by the body, such as meat, milk, fruits, vegetables or breads; (2) the added calories do not contribute to a weight control program, and (3) they do not interfere with the appetite for the next meal.

Be imaginative. Eat and serve nutritious snacks that fit into the overall daily meal pattern.

Irene Walters, Ten were present. Mrs. Raymond Prochaska presented the lesson.

Mrs. Andrew Sorenson has returned home, after spending three weeks in Minneapolis with her daughter Miss Margaret Sorenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sandahl of Lincoln were Sunday dinner guests in the Francis Fischer home. They also visited other relatives and attended the open house of the Wakefield Health Care Center.

'Help Is Welcomed In Spreading Word On Income Program'

Social security welcomes help in getting information to people who may be eligible for supplemental security income, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled. The program is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

"We've been making payments for over a year," Branch said. "Supplemental security income has been publicized in newspapers and on radio and television. There have been special campaigns to reach people who may be eligible. But we're still concerned that there might be people who don't know the program and could be helped by the payments."

"If you know people in need who are 65 or over, or blind or disabled, please tell them about supplemental security income," Branch said. "And please suggest that they call or write any social security office to get more information."

The Norfolk social security office is at 1310 Norfolk Avenue. The phone number is 371-1595. Friends or relatives can call or write for people unable to do so on their own, according to Branch.

The amount of the monthly supplemental security income payments people get depends on other income they might have. Eligible people with no other income at all get $146 a month for one person and $219 for a couple.

POLLUTION IS A MENACE TO ALL AMERICANS ...
NOT JUST THOSE IN THE "WRONG" NEIGHBORHOODS

Out of sight, out of mind. Perhaps ugly scenes like this are never viewed by most of us but they do exist. They are a menace, not just to those who live or work in the vicinity of polluted areas, but to all of us. You can't isolate something like pollution . . . it spreads its insidious filth through every level of society, contaminating our air, water, and land today and threatening disastrous consequences for generations to come. We must all mobilize against the elements that contribute to pollution — beginning with the empty beer can tossed out of a car window, to the conditions that permit rat-infested slum areas. Our environment is a precious heritage . . . let's preserve it for ourselves and for future Americans!

Hoskins to Study New Sewer Plans

Hoskins' town board hopes to meet with representatives of a Columbus engineering firm in the near future to discuss plans for the town's new sewer system.

Earlier this week, the Columbus firm met with officials of the Environmental Protection Agency to get the federal government's okay on one of three proposed plans for new facilities. The plans include a lagoon or one of two mechanical systems, according to a board member.

During Monday night's board meeting, members learned that last year's estimate of $50,000 to build a new plant could now be as high as $150,000. If that is the case, an official noted, chances are the town will have to forget about building a new sewer for the present time.

The town had intended to build new facilities last year until the EPA rejected its plans because they didn't meet EPA standards, according to the board.

After new plans were submitted, the federal government refused to pay 75 per cent of the cost because the price had gone beyond the original $50,000 figure, the board said.

OBSERVATIONS

Your ideas are needed

We are pleased to be able to offer our readers that profile of Senator John Murphy which starts on the front page of this issue of The Wayne Herald.

As you probably read, the article is the first in a series which a University of Nebraska-Lincoln journalism student will do for this newspaper as the legislature meets this session.

In coming weeks, the student, Ivy Harper of Lincoln, will write other stories which should be of special interest to our readers in Northeast Nebraska. Among them will be one and possibly more on what's happening in the state legislature which will affect Wayne State College and, consequently, this part of the state.

We wish to thank the Gannett Newspaper Foundation for making the grant to the NU School of Journalism so it is possible for the NU students to work with newspapers and radio stations around the state in an attempt to better inform their readers and listeners about legislative activities. And we wish to thank those responsible for selecting The Wayne Herald as one of the eight newspapers which are cooperating in the project.

Whether or not the project is successful will depend upon those students, their teachers and their advisors. If the students can produce stories which are interesting and informative — as we believe Miss Harper's first story is — the project will achieve its goal.

However, the students and those who are working with them as well as representatives of the foundation making the project possible will not know how successful they have been unless you — the readers — tell us what you think of the stories. As the weeks go by and you begin to form an opinion on what Miss Harper is doing, take a minute to give us a call or drop us a letter. We will pass your comments along to everybody involved in the project. — Norvin Hansen.

Senators consider changes in state's rape laws

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN—A legislative hearing room was crowded with women last week as the Judiciary Committee listened to three hours of testimony about a bill which would make major changes in Nebraska's rape laws.

The witnesses filled the chairs and many sat on the floor as they waited for their turn to explain why they felt the bill sponsored by Senator Wally Barnett of Lincoln ought to be adopted.

The committee held the measure for further study and possible amendment. Barnett's bill, LB 23, would change the name of the crime to sexual assault and would, as it stood at the time of the hearing, allow convictions on the basis of the victim's testimony.

Current law requires that corroborating evidence—bruiques, for example—be offered by LB prosecutors, but the supporters of LB 23 contend that this means a rape victim would have to be beaten before she could prove there had been a sexual assault.

There is a tendency, according to the witnesses speaking on behalf of the Barnett bill, for men to assume a woman is lying about an alleged rape. A fear of this on the part of women victims, they said, has resulted in a refusal of some women to report an attack to police.

Also inhibiting women from reporting assaults, the committee was told, is the present admissibility of evidence concerning the alleged victim's past sexual conduct.

The Barnett bill would restrict attorneys defending a rape suspect from inquiring into the sexual history of the victim. The witnesses testifying on OB 23 said the possibility of embarrassing questions about their personal lives during the public trial discourages many.

The bill also reduces to a minimum of one year in prison the penalty for what would be called sexual assault.

There were objections to that by some opposition witnesses, one of whom said the minimum penalty should be five or 10 years. Supporters said there was a better chance of conviction if the penalty weren't too severe.

There were objections, as well, to the argument that corroborative evidence shouldn't be necessary any longer for a conviction.

Special Ed Funds Sought

The chairman of the Legislature's Education Committee is on record as saying the state has a moral obligation to provide full funds for a program designed to make sure handicapped children get schooling.

Senator Frank Lewis of Bellevue, a former teacher, commented after a hearing in which his committee and the Budget Committee listened to testimony about the funding of a 1973 statute.

Under the program, the state promises to pay 90 per cent of the extra costs necessary to provide education for handicapped children. The 1974 Legislature appropriated $8.7 million for this purpose, but that appears to be nearly $3 million short of what it will take to cover all the state's obligations.

The hearing last week was on the state education department's request for the supplemental money to finish this fiscal year.

The state justice department has issued an opinion that the education department can't assume it will get the supplemental appropriation and must prorate its remaining money.

Among the school officials who testified were some who said they hadn't received the full second quarter payments and others who said their school districts hadn't received a second payment at all. The law calls for four equal payments during the fiscal year.

State Guard Gone

Governor J. J. Exon has decided to phase out the State Guard, a military unit established in 1968 so there would be troops of some sort left in the state in the event the National Guard was called to active duty.

That was a much more likely possibility in 1968 than it is today. Exon said, and the $100,000 it takes to operate the State Guard each year could be spent more profitably for something else in this period of economic uncertainty.

State Adj. General Francis Winner said the 100 persons on the State Guard rolls would be put on inactive status.

'WS is bicentennial-minded'

Wayne State

Dear Editor:

Your editorial in the Thursday, January 23, Wayne Herald concerning the success of O'Neill in his bicentennial efforts is the last of several comments to appear in the editorial section of The Wayne Herald urging Wayne on to greater efforts to commemorate the second century of our independence. I commend your efforts and especially those of Mrs. Welte. But I would like to point out that Wayne State College, which also represents the community of Wayne, has been doing a considerable amount for the bicentennial on a state-wide basis.

Dr. Charles Hepburn, chairman of the division of social sciences, has been endorsed by the Nebraska American Revolution Bicentennial Commission to deliver a series of lectures to public groups throughout the state on the subject of the fundamental principles of liberty expressed in the American Declaration of Independence. Dr. Hepburn will lecture without charge, has given 70 of these lectures since October in cities and towns in Nebraska. His schedule for this spring is filling up fast with applications from high schools, colleges and civic groups. Enclosed you will find a typical "packet" dispatched to organizations within the state describing the lecture.

Dr. Hepburn is also chairman of the Nebraska American Revolution Bicentennial Oral History Project, which has as its first goal the structuring of a file on all existing magnetic tapes containing material of use in oral history. Dr. Monte McLaws of the Wayne State social sciences department is also actively engaged in this work.

The taped records will help us preserve the spoken memories of those who built this state, and will be a depository for use by generations of future Nebraskans.

Dr. Hepburn also chairs the Wayne State Bicentennial Committee and is a member of the state-wide college committee of the Bicentennial Commission.

Dr. Charles Maier of the science department at Wayne State College has applied to the Nebraska Bicentennial Commission for endorsement of his work toward cataloging the various trees and shrubs of Nebraska and publishing the results in book form. Dr. Maier is well along in his work on this promising project. With such a valuable book in hand both tourists and native Nebraskans will gain a higher appreciation for the beauties of our state.

Your expressed concern that Wayne has not yet organized a community-wide Bicentennial project appears justified. However, it would be incorrect for citizens to conclude that Wayne has not yet made a contribution to the cause of recognizing the nation's 200th birthday. — Allen O'Donnell, associate professor of political science.

Editor's Note: We were aware of the work Dr. McLaws is doing, but we were unaware of the other activities of those at the college mentioned by Dr. O'Donnell. We appreciate his bringing their work to the attention of the public, for it is worthy of recognition. Mrs. Roberta Welte, mentioned in the letter, is the housemother at Wayne State who has accepted the job of honorary chairman of bicentennial activities in Wayne.

'In Washington' FDA ups levels of lead, mercury in nation's food

By Ron Hendren

WASHINGTON — The clock is ticking away with only weeks left before new and controversial (but little-noticed) Food and Drug Administration regulations go into effect that will permit higher levels of foreign substances in the nation's food supply.

The FDA is the government agency charged with making sure that the food we eat and the drugs we take don't increase business for the medical and undertaking professions. But the new regulations make me wonder if the FDA shouldn't be forced to register on Capitol Hill as a lobbyist for these two businesses.

After announcing that "poisonous and deleterious" ingredients are an inevitable by-product of food production and cannot be removed "without disrupting the food supply," the FDA proposed higher official tolerance levels for lead in evaporated milk, mercury in fish and aflatoxin in peanuts, corn and grains.

Where the FDA got the notion it is authorized to be concerned with economics and not health still escapes me, but my confusion notwithstanding, the new regulations will go into effect automatically in early February unless the agency sees reason to hold public hearings. So far they have not, and only Ralph Nader's Health Research Group has protested.

For those of us who are rusty on our high school chemistry, it is worthwhile to go back and look up things like aflatoxin. It sounds like the name of a Kentucky Derby winner, but aflatoxin is a chemical substance that has reportedly caused cancer in every laboratory rat given it. Dr. Sidney Wolfe, a Nader associate, calls it "one of the most potent" cancer-causing substances known.

The new, higher levels of lead in evaporated milk are proposed because lead seeps in from the sealings on cans. That seems like a reasonable excuse, but lead poisoning damages the central nervous systems, kidneys and blood cells of children. Lead poisoning can also kill them, and today millions of American babies spend a good part of their early lives on a diet consisting primarily of evaporated milk.

Mercury contamination is caused by industrial waste dumped in the ocean. Suffice it to say that mercury poisoning can cause blindness, insanity and death. The expression "mad as a hatter" was coined because men who processed materials used in hats inhaled large amounts of mercury.

If all this is not sufficiently disturbing, the proposed new regulations also permit other contaminated foods to be sold if taking them off the market would disrupt food supplies, whatever that means. One detail was omitted: no standards were set to insure that such food is fit for human consumption.

The regulations, bad as they seem, comprise only one more in a long list of revelations which are proving that all the horrible things happening to us in the supermarket don't take place at the cash register.

The FDA has also approved the use of Red No. 2, a food coloring derived from coal tar. Red No. 2 makes cherry pie look cherrier and meat meatier, but laboratory experiments conducted by the FDA itself show that it also may be toxic to unborn babies.

Despite the FDA go-ahead on Red No. 2 Nabisco and General Mills have stopped using it. General Foods is going ahead.

Another example: refusing to ban the use of a cancer-causing chemical fed to beef cattle to make them grow bigger and faster. Recently some 71,000 cattle went to market carrying this substance in their bodies.

Still another: refusing to ban the use of certain anti-perspirant sprays, even though inhaling fumes from them can cause fibrous growths in the lungs.

The long and short of it is that the FDA's proposed new regulations, combined with the list of past irresponsibilities, make a strong case for the charge that those whose duty it is to protect us from food and drug dangers are not doing their jobs.

MONDAY — It may be all right to put up a bluff, but be careful you don't fall over it. Proverbs 16:18 — Pride goeth before destruction and a haughty spirit before a fall.

TUESDAY — The man who bows the lowest in the presence of God, stands the straightest in the presence of sin. Proverbs 16:17 — The highway of the upright is to depart from evil.

A Look at County's Grain Production

By Don Spitze
Wayne County Extension Agent

Planning what crops to plant is always a problem, and this year with high production costs, erratic market prices and uncertain moisture conditions it is even more difficult. Therefore it's even more important that farmers have as much information as possible to base their plans on.

For these reasons I'm summarizing some work done by Russell Moomaw, district extension agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

1970-1974 Average Oat and Barley Yields in Northeast Nebraska

OATS
Variety	Yield
Burnett	67 bu. per acre
Cayuse	84 bu. per acre (4-year average)
Jaycee	64 bu. per acre (4-year average)
Kota	67 bu. per acre
Neal	63 bu. per acre
Otte	72 bu. per acre (4-year average)
Trio	65 bu. per acre

BARLEY
Variety	Yield
Beacon	54 bu. per acre
Custer	58 bu. per acre
Nordic	54 bu. per acre
Primust1	58 bu. per acre

It's very difficult to make estimates of net returns of various crops that can be grown in this area because of uncertain weather and market conditions.

From information we have it would appear that corn and grain sorghum are the most profitable crops, followed by soybeans. Oats, barley and spring and winter wheat are considered less profitable. Soybeans and grain sorghum usually are more profitable than corn in a dry season. Wayne County has always been a big oats producer. Barley, especially for the livestock producer, would be a profitable substitute for oats. Spring wheat does not appear to have the yield or return potential in this area.

'Same Fertilizer Likely Available In '75 As in '74'

Fertilizer availability for 1975 will be much the same as last year, predicts a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension agronomist.

However, Richard Wiese said the situation may not seem as bad because growers already have been through one year of shortage and allocation.

Expanded irrigation likely will increase crop acreage in the state, he said, and a new enthusiasm for fertilizing crops such as alfalfa should result in a steady demand.

He also predicted a greater amount of imported fertilizer this year.

"Major companies know the growers want the fertilizer and they (the companies) will buy on the world market at competitive prices," Wiese said. "There also should be a better acceptance of prices this year."

He said major companies probably will try to get extra supplies on the world market during 1975, where he predicted anhydrous ammonia will sell for $380-400 a ton higher than the domestic price.

The outlook is better for other fertilizers, he said, adding that there could be a surplus of phosphorous. He said nitrogen supplies could meet demand by 1980.

Wiese cautioned growers not to forget that nitrogen still gives them the biggest return for their money.

"We can always afford nitrogen," he said. "About 50 bushels of corn per acre can be attributed to nitrogen alone."

An iron nail is sometimes driven into the ground where an epileptic has fallen in a seizure, thus pinning the demon to the ground.

Ak-Sar-Ben Gives $190,000 to Fairs During Past Year

During 1974, Ak Sar Ben provided financial aid in excess of $190,000 to Nebraska county fairs through matching improvement grants, premium money for 4-H and FFA exhibitors at all fairs, and proceeds from a state admissions tax, and licensing fees during the 1974 racing season. The report was made at the 66th annual meeting of Nebraska Association of Fair Managers in Lincoln today.

Harold Youngren, Ak Sar Ben's Director of Information, said the 1974 Ak Sar Ben aid brings the total Ak Sar Ben contribution to Nebraska county fairs since 1954 to over $3.3 million, according to Harold Youngren, Ak Sar Ben director of information.

More than $300,000 collected as state tax on admissions and licensing fees during the 1974 Ak Sar Ben race meeting was earmarked for the state's county fairs. A total of $1.7 million has been earned for the fairs in this category since 1954.

Another area that the Teen Supremes will be working on is radio. A group of 4-Hers hope to initiate a radio program very soon, Mike Jacobsen, KTCH radio manager, has agreed to conduct a training session on how to prepare and conduct a radio program. Members of the radio team include Dwight Anderson, Les Thomson, Janet Spiltzger, Laura Hagemann, Cindy Bull, Laura Haase and Linda Anderson.

At our next 4-H Council meeting plans will be made for other programs that will make our 4-H program bigger and better than ever.

There's no margin for feeding error today!

Let us help you get maximum nutrient value from your Grains and Roughages

With the cost of feeding ingredients at an all time high, livestock men can't afford "nutrient waste" and still hope to make a profit. These are "full cycle" feeding programs and "broad spectrum" programs that really work!

Currently, many feeders are getting maximum value from every bushel of grain and from their roughage supplies with Occo's time-proven combination of mineral and live cell yeast feed programs. If you want help in wringing all the nutrient value out of your roughage and grains, give me a call. We have a wide variety of mineral and yeast products that will fit into your way of feeding.

We are looking for sales representatives to handle our existing accounts and expanded line of protein, mineral, yeast and complete feed products. Age not a factor. Thought for Today

By Rowan Wittse

"The humorous man recognizes that absolute purity, absolute justice, absolute logic and perfection are beyond human achievement and that men have been able to live happily for thousands of years in a state of genial frailty..." Brooks Atkinson

A quick perusal of news stories, today or any day, will convince anyone that the world is far from perfect. The headlines herald a seemingly total breakdown of law and order.

Yet, in spite of ubiquitous human shortcomings, we seem to achieve slow but sure progress toward a better society...enough to keep a disconcerting observer in good humor.

We can conduct services in any church, any cemetery desired by the family. Our own lovely chapels are, of course, always available. Wiltse Mortuaries are owned and operated by members of the Wiltse family.
