

WH Band To Play at Pancake Feed

The Wayne High stage band will perform at the annual Kiwanis pancake feed when members begin flipping flapjacks today (Thursday) at 5 p.m. in the city auditorium. Band director Ron Dalton and members of the band will play during the early part of the feed, slated to last until 9 p.m., according to project chairman Bob Jordan.

"Since the high school band is a quality band and plays very well, we thought people would be interested in listening to it during the feed," Jordan said during Monday's Kiwanis meeting. Tickets for the annual feed may be purchased from any member or at the door at $1.50 for adults and $1 for children. See FEED, page 6.

And Some of It's Pretty

IT'S EASY to make jewelry. All you need is a cookie pan, some plastic pill bottles or spoons, a hot oven and a little patience. The result: junk jewelry. Manufacturing Tuesday at the Senior Citizens Center in Wayne during a demonstration Tuesday afternoon was Gladys Slout, area home extension economist at the Northeast Station, who gets help in drilling holes in some of her handiwork from Bessie Peterman, right. Looking over some of the necklaces is Pearl Griffith. Recommended temperature of the oven, according to the home economist, is about 350 degrees.

Norfolk Firm Sets Cost of Rural Zoning

A Norfolk firm will do all the work necessary for zoning Wayne County for $8,750, according to county clerk Norris Weible.

Weible said the firm, Johnson Engineering Co., arrived at that figure after talking with county commissioners last week.

The figure is about half the total cost of the work estimated by state officials who have been discussing rural zoning with the commissioners over the past several months.

Weible said the lower cost probably reflects the firm's ability to complete the project without having to meet certain requirements which would be necessary if the county obtained federal funds through the state.

The firm agreed to complete maps of the county, conduct population, economic and transportation studies, and put together the county comprehensive plan book for that $8,750 figure, according to Weible.

However, Weible noted, if the county decided to go ahead with rural zoning, two-thirds of the total cost of the project could be financed by federal funds obtained if the county works with state officials on the project. That would mean the county would have to pay about $5,000 to complete the project, he said.

Commissioners are expected to discuss rural zoning again at Tuesday's regular meeting. They postponed any action on the subject at their last meeting in an effort to determine if a private engineering firm could be hired for less than it would cost the county to work through state officials.

City Councilman Objects to Speed Limit West of City

One Wayne councilman Tuesday night voiced opposition to the speed limit being recommended by the state on the west edge of Wayne.

Noting that 45 miles an hour is too fast for vehicles coming into Wayne on Highway 35, councilman Jimmy Thomas said that "it's too bad somebody has to get killed" before the state will lower a speed limit over a certain stretch of road.

Thomas pointed out that the city council has been discussing speed limits on the edges of the city with the state for about the past two years and it is time the city's wishes were listened to.

The state is recommending a 45 mile per hour speed limit from approximately the location of the Coryell Auto Co. west of Wayne to about the entrance to the Wayne High School parking lot.

It is also recommending speed limits on the other three high way entrances to and through the community, but those recommendations are apparently palatable to the council.

City administrator Fred Brink informed the council that it is unlikely the state will create a no passing zone from just west of the high school parking lot to west of Oak Drive as has been requested by the Wayne County SLAP committee. The group whose duty it is to work on eliminating dangerous traffic conditions in the county.

Brink noted, however, that the state may move farther west the sign which warns drivers that speed zones exist ahead.

But councilman Thomas said the state should start slowing down traffic as far west as the car dealership pointing out that trucks and cars traveling 45 miles an hour when they reach the high school parking lot are very dangerous.

The council took no further action on the subject pending possible changes in the recommendations from the state.

DALE GUTSHALL

Also Tuesday night, the council confirmed mayor Freeman Decker's appointment of Dale Gutshall to the hospital board.

Gutshall, owner of Dale's Jewelry in Wayne, will replace Adon Jeffrey, former banker who has retired and is no longer able to attend the board meetings.

Also serving on the board are O. K. Brandstetter, J. J. Liska, Felix Dorsey and Cal Cornstock.

In other action, the council learned from the city administrator that an increase in electrical rates is necessary if the municipal power plant is to cease losing money.

Brink said the power plant has been losing money for the past several years even though many people think it is a profitable business for the city.

"The theory of utilities is that they be self supporting," Brink commented. "Well, we don't have it here (with the municipal generating plant)."

Council took no action on the subject after Brink said he was not prepared to recommend specific rate hikes to make up for the financial loss being incurred monthly at the power plant. It is likely, however, that he will have his recommendations ready within the next few weeks.

Also Tuesday:

—Councilwoman Carolyn Filler volunteered to represent the city council in working with Mrs. Roberta Welle on the city's bicentennial activities. Mrs. Welle, chairman of those activities, has called a public meeting for 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 21, at the Woman's Club Room in the city auditorium to lay the groundwork for those activities.

—The council agreed to have a booth in the Chamber of Commerce's Spring Expo '75, a two-day event scheduled for March 14-15 at the city auditorium. The city will charge the Chamber normal fee for using the auditorium rather than letting the Chamber use it in exchange for a free booth as suggested by the city administrator.

—Sent to the planning commission the offer by Wilmer Marra to sell his building just south of the municipal power plant to the city. Marra has moved his business to his new facility to the industrial park just east of Wayne. The commission will recommend whether the city should purchase it.

Attorney to Draw Up Ambulance Proposal

Wayne's city attorney will draw up a proposed agreement stipulating how the ambulance will be operated and financed once the new hospital opens later this year.

The agreement will then be submitted to the city council and the Missionary Benedictine Sisters at Norfolk, who will run the new hospital, for their approval.

That is what was decided Monday by representatives of the Sisters, the local hospital board and the city council.

The meeting grew out of recent confusion among local city officials who expressed concern about the lack of anything in writing concerning how the ambulance will be operated once the municipal hospital closes and the new private facility opens.

"I'm very eager to get something in writing," noted mayor Freeman Decker during the meeting. He said if that is done it should stop some of the "misinformation and rumors" which are currently present in the city.

Sister Therese, administrator of the Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk, said the Missionary Benedictine Sisters had agreed previously to operate the ambulance if the city turns over its ambulance and contributes $7,000 a year once the new hospital is open. That agreement still stands, she said.

But whether that ambulance will be used outside of Wayne once the new hospital opens was not decided definitely.

Local Government Tab Each Year in County Is $386 Per Person

For residents of Wayne County, does the cost of local government run higher or lower than it does for people in other communities?

How much is spent locally, per capita, for all municipal and county operations and for all special services? How large is the local debt compared with the average in other areas?

A voluminous new report, just released by the Census Bureau, sheds light on these matters. It is based upon a detailed study of local finances, gathered from every county in the United States.

The study, titled Government Finances, is the first made since fiscal 1967. They are conducted every five years. For people living in Wayne County, the figures show, the total cost of local governmental operations came to $386 per capita.

In the rest of the nation the average was $511 per capita and, in the state of Nebraska, $436. It took a total of $106.5 billion to operate the various See GOVERNMENT TAB, page 6

Enrollment At WS Dips To 2,013

Figures from the Wayne State College registrar's office show that a total of 2,013 students are enrolled for the second term which began in January. That number will change as workshop registration figures are added to it throughout the term.

Total enrollment for second term last year was 2,455. Enrollment for first term, which ended in December, showed an increase over first term a year ago, jumping from 1,983 to 2,032.

Second term enrollment, which always shows a decline from first term enrollment, was down only four per cent this year. That compares with a 12 per cent drop from first term to second term a year ago.

Honor Student Missed

The name of Tim Koll, a senior at Wayne High School, was inadvertently left off the honor roll released last week by school officials.

Koll joins 34 other students who received grades between 3.0 and 3.5 (4.0 equals A) during the second nine weeks, according to school officials. A total of 120 students gained places on the honor roll.

The coronation will take place about 9 p.m. after ballots for the senior candidates have been counted. According to Mrs. Sue Brodersep, FHA chapter sponsor, FHA members will vote for the queen and FFA members will vote for the king when the See "SWEETHEARTS", page 8

'If Thefts Continue, Sleighing Barricades Will Be Removed'

Youngsters in Wayne won't be able to go sleighing safely if thefts of barricades continue, according to city administrator Fred Brink.

Brink said Tuesday that at least this winter three barricades valued at $75 each have been stolen from the two hills the city designates for youngsters to ride their sleighs.

"We're concerned about the safety of the kids," said Brink, but we're also concerned about our money." He said the city won't be able to afford putting up new barricades on the hills if the thefts continue.

Motorists are cautioned by the barricades on Sherman Street between First and Third Streets and on Walnut between Ninth and 10th.

Changing Role Of Family Is Talk Subject

Does your child call you by your babysitter's name? Are you going more and enjoying it less? Does a single career girl really work because she enjoys it?

These are some of the questions Mrs. Marie Annot of the University of Nebraska extension division will cover at a discussion seminar slated for tonight (Thursday) in the Birch Room at the Wayne State College Student Union.

The seminar is being sponsored by Wayne's American See FAMILY, page 6

Winside Buses Won't Run on Snowy Mornings

School buses at Winside will not run the morning routes when classes start late because of inclement weather, the school board decided during Monday night's meeting.

According to superintendent Don Leighton, when school is delayed because of bad weather, parents often will drive their children to classes rather than have the students wait for the bus.

Leighton added that often buses which go out on the routes don't pick up all young sters because some roads aren't cleared.

The board also reaffirmed the policy that when school is called off or students are dismissed because of inclement weather, scheduled activities such as sports will be canceled or postponed. The only exceptions would be district or state activities.

Concerning installing citizen band radios in school buses, the board decided to wait for further information before making a decision.

Also postponed until a later date was discussion of making See BUSSES, page 6

Showdown on State's Higher Education Set for Feb. 24

LINCOLN — A showdown on higher education in Nebraska is set for Feb. 24 when two legislative bills with exact opposite philosophies on the subject are scheduled for public hearing.

LB 128, introduced by Robert Clark of Sidney, would make Nebraska's technical community colleges totally state supported while Aurora's senator Maurice Kremer's LB 344 would leave control at the local level.

Clark's bill would abolish the state board of technical community colleges. The board was created in 1973 when 15 technical schools were merged and six colleges were created.

Clark said his bill stemmed from a state supreme court ruling last year that the use of property taxes for financing two-year colleges is unconstitutional.

The constitution stipulates that all Nebraska colleges be under the same trustee board governing Wayne, Peru, Chadron and Kearney Colleges, Clark said.

The junior colleges want funding by property tax, he said. "That's for public school systems, not for college systems."

Clark's proposal assumes that the two-year colleges would justify programs, construction and budgets and receive state appropriations after review.

The technical colleges currently set their budgets with review and some coordination by the state two-year college board. About 30 per cent of their income comes from local property tax sources with no state allocation for construction.

Under Clark's bill, the legislature would set budget totals for each technical school as it does for the colleges and the University of Nebraska system.

Clark said he thinks a better system would result if his bill were passed.

To handle the schools, he said, the state college-office staff would have to be increased. It is now virtually a one-man operation under Dr. Edwin Nelson, he said.

His bill defines state college as an institution offering two-year, four-year or graduate academic educational training or service programs.

Clark said his bill would provide administration which "would avoid unnecessary duplication of facilities or programs."

Kremer's bill would leave operation to an area board but also would leave room for state aid, if necessary. He said he was aware that some of the technical colleges offer academic courses, but he said liberal arts and teachers colleges also offer technical courses.

"The problem is coordination," Kremer said. "We've been arguing for years about what to do." Last year's supreme court decision declared the technical colleges to be state colleges, he said, and his bill makes them local public institutions. Kremer hinted that his bill would not help in coordinating higher education, but he said he introduced it at the See SHOWDOWN, page 6

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Lessons Planned on Fabric Flammability

You wear clothes and your children wear clothes, every day and every night. And fabrics do burn; some rapidly, others more slowly.

In 1975, nearly 5,000 persons may die from burns associated with ignited fabrics and clothing. That number could be reduced if more people knew about flammability.

During February, home extension club lesson leaders and other interested organizations in Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Wayne and Thurston Counties will learn about fabric flammability, she notes.

Leader training sessions will be held for representatives of any interested group or club on an equal and nondiscriminatory basis. Such leaders should notify Anna Marie Kreifels at the Northeast Station at Concord if they plan to attend one of the meetings so packets of lesson materials can be prepared.

Leaders will learn how fiber, design and construction of fabrics affect their flammability characteristics and they will have an opportunity to test some fabrics for flammability factors. The session will give these representatives information that they in turn, can present to their club members.

Training for the lesson, "Fabric Flammability and Clothing," will be held.

Feb. 24 - 1:30 p.m., Court house annex, Dakota City.

Feb. 25 - 9:30 a.m., North-east Station, Concord; 1:30 p.m., Fire Hall, Hoskins.

Feb. 26 - 1:30 p.m., city auditorium basement, Hartington.

Feb. 28 - 1:30 p.m., United Methodist Church basement, Walthill.

Nissens Marking Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Nissen of Winer will observe their silver wedding anniversary Saturday, Feb. 22 with a dance at King's Ballroom in Norfolk.

Tough Tourney Action

Devil Cagers Win West Husker Title

By BOB BARTLETT
Offensive rebounding and strong second and third quarter defense led Wayne High to its first West Husker Conference basketball crown Saturday night as the Devils whipped Wakefield, 65-53, in tournament finals at Wakefield.

Seniors Jack Froehlich, Bob Keating and Earle Overin poured in 53 points and Froehlich and Keating dominated the boards in the Devils' 13th win in 16 games.

Overin led teammates with 21 points—his third straight night of 20 or better. Overin hit 11 the first half to lead Wayne to a 29-23 cushion before Froehlich took over second-half scoring with 12 of his 20. Keating had six points each half.

Froehlich scored often on tip-ins as he and Keating grabbed most of Wayne's 20 offensive rebounds. "Jack did as much scoring on offensive rebounds as he did from the floor," said coach Bill Sharpe.

The real difference in the ball game was offensive rebounds. According to our charts, we had 20 while Wakefield had 10," Sharpe said.

Defensively, Froehlich and Keating finished with 26 of the team's 45 rebounds. Froehlich had 17, Keating nine.

Trojan junior Scot Keagle, who led teammates with 21 points, kept Wakefield in the game the first half with 14 points. Keagle, who shot 60 per cent, also collected 22 rebounds, 14 of them the first half.

"We certainly don't have to hang our heads," said Trojan boss Joe Coble. "We gave it our best. I'm awfully happy to be 13-4."

Wayne led by 15 points in the third quarter before Coble's crew cut it to nine with about four minutes left in the game.

Sharpe then replaced some reserves with starters to secure the right to play East Husker champ Scribner for the Husker title Tuesday night at Wayne High.

In consolation action, Columbus Lakeview wiped out Wisner-Pilger, 66-49. Lakeview held a 30-point cushion at one point.

Wayne led by 15 points in the third quarter before Coble's crew cut it to nine with about four minutes left in the game.

Kearney Quint Subdues Wildcats

Seldom have Wayne State and Kearney State cagers battled so close for so long a time as they did here Tuesday night. The lead changed 20 times from late first half until the Antelopes pulled out a 96-90 win — and with it a conference championship.

For Wayne's Wildcats it had to be the season's supreme frustration after a comeback put them on top for a good portion of the second half.

Now 12-7, Wayne retains little possibility of a post season district playoff berth, barring major collapse of other contenders. Kearney stays very much alive at 17-4, along with three others, all victors Tuesday — Hastings 17-4, Doane 13-5 and Midland 13-6.

Kearney finished its Nebraska College Conference campaign at 6-0, matching last year's championship record. Two years back Wayne and Kearney tied for the title, and Kearney won it out right three campaigns ago.

The Antelopes parlayed hot shooting of 57 per cent to subdue a scrappy Wayne quint which outrebounded the foe, but man aged only 45 per cent field accuracy, a bit under average.

Wayne's stubborn board work, however, took its toll as dependable Rick Anderson departed with fouls 7 1/2 minutes from the end, and John Redmond followed him out at 1-25. They scored 16 and 21.

Charlie Henderson kept the Wildcats alive with a spectacle of 30 points — 11 of 19 field shots and eight straight at the free throw line. It was one point shy of his career peak last year.

Fans who remember the Wayne Kearney game a year ago can argue whether that one or this one strained the heart worse. In the 1974 battle Wayne surged from far back to forge a tie in the final seconds, only to have Tom Kropp make it 80-78 for Kearney on a long shot with seconds to play.

This time, Kearney took an early lead, but never more than eight points, most of the time less, until the Wildcats climbed on top by six about 9 1/2 minutes from intermission. The half ended with Kearney again ahead, 51-50.

crowd of the year — about 1,600 — savored a feast of Antelope. Though Kearney rallied, the Wildcats stayed on top or even until late minutes. But after Anderson fouled out, the Antelopes went ahead to stay at 84-82 with 5:20 left.

Kearney's Kropp did not have to save the game late this time, because he had done enough earlier — 25 points. Mark Christensen lashed in 20, Gary Keller 17, Loren Killian 14, Carlos Dillard 10.

In the preliminary, Kearney's JV also came out victorious, 107 to 94, over Wayne's six man squad, led by Reggie Balderson, who hit a season high at 25. It was the third loss in a row for the junior Wildcats after seven straight wins, including one over Kearney.

Wayne jayvees lost to Platte College Saturday at Columbus, 73-68, after holding leads up to nine points in both halves. Platte rebounding superiority — especially in the late going — turned the tide, coach Tim McCarthy said. Andy Kaptain led the Cats with 27 points.

Friday, Wayne's varsity continues conference play at Chadron State. Last week Chadron came near upsetting Kearney before bowing 77-74. The WSC cager cagers also will play Chadron.

Prep Picks:
Devils Going Strong

Wayne High cagers could march into the district tournament with four more wins added to their record if they continue to play inspired ball like they did during the West Husker Conference tournament last week.

The Blue Devils sparked both an offense and defense to win the second annual tournament. Offensively, Wayne has balanced scoring so an opponent can't expect to win by stopping one player. Earle Overin, Jack Froehlich, Bob Keating and Marly Hansen all can hit double figures. Defensively, the same four plus Rick Mitchell and Gordon Emry are key factors in stopping an opponent's scoring attack with a man to man defense.

Frevert Carves Scoring Record With 36 Points

Junior Tyler Frevert set an individual scoring record for Winside High Saturday night by pouring in 36 points in the Wildcats' 78-37 win over Beemer.

Frevert scored 20 the first half en route to clipping the old mark of 35 set by Larry Redel in the 1964-65 season. It was Winside's fourth win against nine defeats.

Frevert wasn't the only Wildcat to score in double figures. Another junior, Bob Hoffman, was close behind with 27 points as the pair combined for a total of 63 points.

Trojan, Devil Grapplers Place in Loop Tourney

A Wakefield grappler and two Wayne wrestlers placed in the Husker Conference tournament at West Point Saturday.

Senior Pat Nicholson won the 155 pound class to lead the Trojans to eighth place among the 13 teams at the meet. Wayne, which finished ninth, was paced by 119-pound Alan Ekberg, who finished third, and 155-pound Don Nelson, who took fourth.

Defending champion Tekamah-Herman scored 9 1/2 points to win the title as four of the team's six grapplers in the finals won their weight classes. West Point and Wisner-Pilger tied for second with 77. Others placing: North Bend Central, 75; Hooper-Logan View, 61; Scribner, 49 1/2; Pender, 39; Lyons, 27 1/2; Wakefield, 28; Wayne, 19; Oakland-Craig, 13; Columbus-Lakeview, 9; Stanton, 2. Not participating were Emerson-Hubbard, Madison and Hartington-Cedar Catholic.

Nicholson decided Tekamah's Dan Farber, 10-3, in the finals to collect the 155-pound crown.

request of those interested in keeping technical community college control at the local level.

Both Kremer and Clark said the public hearing will show how the public feels about the two different proposals.

To keep technical community colleges in operation during the 1974-75 school year, the appropriations committee has introduced a bill providing them with $5.97 million.

The money would be used to replace property taxes the schools lost because of the supreme court decision. The amounts the technical college area boards would receive: Western, $470,138; Mid Plains, $556,812; Central, $1.3 million; Northeast, $745,700; Southeast, $1.38 million; and Metropolitan, $1.5 million.

county, township, municipal and district governments in the country and provide the public with services in the fields of health, welfare, roads, sanitation, housing, police and fire protection, education and the like.

The $106.5 billion outlay represented an increase of $47 billion in a period of five years.

In some communities, the amount spent for local governmental operations was adequately spent for local revenues. In many others, however, more was spent than was taken in.

The figures for Wayne County show that the direct expenditures, $386 per capita, were offset by general revenue receipts equivalent to $349 per capita.

Some $272 of this revenue came from local taxes and charges and the remainder from federal and state sources. In order to finance expenditures for capital improvements and provide residents with necessary services, many communities have been forced to go deeper into debt.

Wayne County's outstanding debt is placed at $251 per capita in the report. Nationally, the debt of local governments averaged $580 per capita. Throughout Nebraska it was $419.

Feed

Proceeds from the feed will go to the club's youth fund.

Following the pancake feed, Kiwanians will prepare for the club's anniversary dinner Feb. 23 at Wayne State's Student Center. Dan Sherry is in charge of the dinner, set for 6:30 p.m.

During Monday's meeting, Kiwanian Dale Gulshall pointed out the progress of American watchmaking.

Although people still use watches powered by springs, more and more people are buying watches that are run by different power sources, the owner of Dale's Jewelry said.

During the meeting, the board authorized Leighton to continue applying for a state grant to help the school expand its learning disability program. According to Leighton, the grant would be for about $3,000.

The board also accepted the resignation of music teacher Mrs. Bonnie Siefken.

Wayne Woman Has to Settle For $25 Prize

It's too bad Mrs. Robert Boeckenhauer wasn't born on Jan. 3, 1909 instead of Dec. 25, 1908.

If she had been, the Wayne woman would have won $950 in last week's Birthday Bucks drawing rather than $25.

She was the shopper in one of the participating businesses in Wayne with a birthday closest to the winning date drawn at random, and as a result she won the consolation prize.

Also as a result, this week's grand prize climbs another $25, to $975. It will be given away to the shopper present this evening at 8:15 whose birthday is the same as that announced in all participating stores.

If the grand prize goes unclaimed again this week, another $25 prize will be awarded and the grand prize will climb to its limit of $1,000. It will remain at that figure until won, and then it will start over again at $300.

Birthday Bucks awarded in the weekly drawings may be spent just like cash in any participating business. No purchases are required to participate, and there is no limit on the number of times a person may win.

Fire Damages Car

A fire about 10:30 a.m. Saturday damaged a vehicle owned by Carol Hill of Hastings.

ministrator of the local hospital and now associate administrator at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital, didn't give city attorney Budd Bornhoff a direct answer when Bornhoff asked him if the ambulance would be used to service the Norfolk hospital, which the Missionary Benedictine Sisters operate.

The sisters "devote themselves to helping others... if somebody asked us to come, yes, we would come," Thomas said.

Bornhoff noted during the meeting that if local tax funds are used to help finance the ambulance, state law prohibits it from being used to serve others.

Thomas did say that the ambulance has only been used about 12 times in the past several years to transport patients from other hospitals.

Those 12 times were "serious cases," according to Sister Therese, who noted that she didn't anticipate the ambulance being used outside of Wayne any more frequently than that once the Sisters open the hospital in Wayne.

"The best preparation for tomorrow is to do today's work superbly well."

William Osler

The person who achieves greatness in any field usually does so by working his way up the ladder, doing his assigned chores at every level "superbly well."

There are few things more fruitless than holding back... doing less than our best because we may feel that today's work is not worthy of our fullest efforts. We are preparing for tomorrow when we do today's work to the very best of our ability.

We can provide a beautiful memorial service to match the financial circumstances of any family. We invite anyone to stop in and ask us about any aspects of funeral services, including costs. No obligation.

'Last Secret' paints grim picture of Western diplomacy

By RON HENDREN
WASHINGTON - In 1945, Pyotr Mordovkin, a Russian in custody of the Allies, killed his wife, his three children and himself rather than submit to forcible repatriation in the U.S.S.R.

Russians who had put on German uniforms and fought against their homeland. Government documents show that at the Yalta Conference in 1945, President Franklin Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in a bargain with Stalin, agreed to turn over to him all "Soviet nationals" who fell into the hands of Allied armies then advancing from the west.

firmly for westerners the fate of these two million. Solzhenitsyn shared Siberian work camps with many of them, and his "Gulag Archipelago" (still banned in the Soviet Union) vividly describes how the returnees were either machine-gunned immediately or were sent to suffer in slave labor camps.

portrays battle-hardened British soldiers dying as they clubbed men, women and children to force them to board trucks bound for "home." Pyotr Mordovkin killed his family rather than let them board one of these trucks.

their own wartime propaganda about "our glorious Soviet allies." So anxious were they to honor the Yalta accord that over 1.3 million people were handed over in the first two months alone, and years after Churchill had warned of an "Iron Curtain" descending upon Europe, we were still hunting down and turning over fodder for Stalin's camps.

Stalinist policy. There surely is a special place in heaven for the peace-makers and every American must surely pray that detente works. But at the same time, we must be careful to see that too much of our moral and political soul is not extracted in return.

State tax rates may soon be under review

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN - Those tax rates the State Board of Equalization set last November may soon be under review. State tax commissioner William Peters has said his staff is preparing revenue projections and measuring the results against obligations state government is expected to face during the 1975 calendar year.

to be obligated in the 1975-76 fiscal year. Probably, those changes - if there actually turns out to be any - will be made by the legislature. It's possible for the state equalization board to reconvene if Congress makes significant changes in the income tax base, but most observers consider a legislative bill a more likely avenue for changing sales and income tax levies.

link the two, so neither would get out of hand if individual rates were low (or high), corporations would have relatively low rates, too, he said. Knudsen testified for the Nebraska Research Council and the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry. He had participated eight years ago in the drafting of the sales and income tax laws.

Knudsen said it was better for the board - not the Legislature - to do the rate setting. Tax commissioner Peters, appearing for the governor, said it is the Exon administration's position that it would be better for the legislative branch to handle the rate chores, as is done in all other states.

OBSERVATIONS

Guest editorial:

Action needed to control underground water

The need for conservation and establishment of some control over Nebraska's vital underground water resources is too urgent to be compromised and delayed into the indefinite future. LB 101, the bill introduced by the public works interim study committee this session, has been held by the public works committee after its public hearing for purposes of extensive change and amendments in order to overcome wide spread opposition to many of its key provisions.

background as yet applies to the state's underground water resources. Until the 1930's these resources were relatively untapped for irrigation purposes and the need for their conservation and protection went relatively unnoticed. With a few exceptions, the public hearing showed general agreement that there are areas of the state where development of pump irrigation is exceeding underground water recharge capability and some system of control and allocation must be applied or there will be insufficient water for any of the users no matter when they put down their wells.

Feb. 8, 1945: Wayne county's 50 rural road districts were, by action of county board Tuesday, consolidated into three which correspond with the commissioner districts. War Dads will dedicate the new service roll at the courthouse grounds Saturday. A speaker will be secured and the band will play if the weather permits.

Wayne firemen were called out early Sunday morning to extinguish a fire at the Ernest Muhs home. Thoughts for today
THURSDAY - Hate is like a boomerang which will hit you harder than the person you throw it at. Matthew 5:44: Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you.

THE GRASSROOTS OPINION
Gresham, Nebr., Gazette
I get all steamed up about the way things go in all parts of our political houses and realize that we must wake up, take more interest, push our neighbors, you know those who are always saying, "What good does it do to vote?" We can't damage it! That's a bunch of hogwash. We are all important so start getting politically minded right now!

There was agreement by both outstate and urban senators on the general idea that the state's water resources must be conserved. There was very little forthright opposition but there was no sense of urgency and the bill fell victim to inertia. The public hearing has brought the points of controversy into focus. There is a need for sound compromise, but LB 101 should not be compromised to death nor should it be shelved for years and years of "interim studies." If that happens, the "water acute" classification in which the treatment and cure will be much more damaging and restrictive. - By M. M. Van Kirk, director of information, Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

GRANDPA'S BOY

WAY BACK WHEN

By Brad Anderson

FRIDAY - Treat your husband as you did when you were sweethearts. Tell him that you love him. Proverbs 12:4: A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband. SATURDAY - Love is the key that opens hearts, that puts smiles onto faces. 1 John 4:19: We love him. Because He first loved us. SUNDAY - Preachers who are mightiest in their closets with God are mightiest in their pulpits with men. 1 Corinthians 13:8: For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. MONDAY - In the home children learn either to hate or to love other races. 1 John 4:7: Beloved, let us love one another for love is of God. TUESDAY - Kind words are the music to the world. Psalms 19:14: Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord. WEDNESDAY - When a small boy saw a Bible, not too recently dusted, lying on a shelf in his home, he asked his mother what it was. "It's God's book," she said. "Well," the boy replied, "don't you think we should return it?" "If nobody seems to read it here," his mother said, "Study to show thyself approved unto God."

Teachers to Get Help in Career Planning

Area high school counselors and math and science teachers will be converging in Wayne Wednesday, Feb. 19, for a Science-Engineering-Technology Guidance Program, sponsored jointly by Wayne State College and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Engineering and Technology. The program, to be preceded by a 7 p.m. supper at Les' Steak House, is scheduled to be held at the Warner-Rodgers Lecture Hall in the Benthack Hall of Applied Science. Careers, problems, demands and educational paths to be considered in the areas of science, engineering and technology will be discussed, and a three-projector show, "Creating a Better World," will be shown. Questions from the visitors will conclude the evening.

Purpose of the program is to give area teachers background information to use in helping students with career planning. Instructors from all Northeast Nebraska area high schools have been invited to attend. Dean Metz, WSC coordinator for the program, and other members of the WSC faculty and administration will be on hand for the evening.

The Bob Hansens attended the Nebraska Spotted Show and Sale in Fremont Saturday. Bob showed the champion bred gilt.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Anna Marie Kreifelts

Life Insurance: How Much, What Kind?
How much life insurance does a breadwinner need? Many educators suggest that a person with a family to raise and educate probably should have insurance, or other death benefits, equal to about six or seven times his annual salary. This amount would meet basic needs of most young families in the event of death of the breadwinner. In addition to cash for final bills, typical needs include income while children are growing up, a fund to pay college expenses and a source of income for later years if the surviving spouse has no prospect of retirement benefits. What kind of insurance? Basically there are two types — term and whole life. With term insurance you pay only for life insurance protection. Whole life policies combine insurance protection and savings. Young families often can budget enough insurance dollars to provide the suggested (six to seven times annual salary) coverage. Because the costs of term insurance are lower than costs of whole life, term insurance is the only way many young families can afford as much protection as they need. For example, a $100,000 term policy might be purchased at age 30 at a cost of less than $200 per year. The same outlay for a whole life policy would probably buy less than $14,000 in immediate family protection. Educators suggest that insurance dollars be spent mainly for family protection, and a savings investment program be kept separate from your life insurance program.

Rural Native To Play in Concert Tour

Joy Rethwisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Rethwisch of rural Wayne and a sophomore at Dana College in Blair, will take part in the 1974-75 concert tour by the college's 45 piece band. Miss Rethwisch graduated from Wayne High School in 1973. The band, directed by Dr. Wayne Wise, will present 11 concerts in Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri from March 6 to March 12.

Miss Rethwisch, an elementary education major, will appear with the band in a series of daytime high school concerts and six evening performances at selected churches of The American Lutheran Church. Those evening performances will be given at Sterling and Avoca in Nebraska; Dodge City, Concordia and Overland Park in Kansas, and Kansas City, Mo.

Called "Celebration in Sound," the band's church program is actually a worship concert and features a variety of sacred music including a group of well known hymns. A completely separate program, including selections from classical band literature, marches, show tunes and novelty numbers, will be presented in the high schools.

The Dana band will present its annual home concert on March 16.

Livestock Market Subject for ETV

The livestock market — a subject of much debate and discussion on the national and state level — will be explored during a special four-program series, "1975 Meat Marketing Conference," to be broadcast the last two weeks of February and the first week of March on the Nebraska ETV Network.

The programs were videotaped during a conference held in Lincoln, January 16-17, which drew top-level government and industry officials and educators to discuss problems and solutions about marketing livestock. The conference was sponsored by the Nebraska Livestock Development Committee, University of Nebraska and Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service.

The special programs and broadcast dates: "The Livestock Situation," Tuesday, Feb. 18, 6:30 p.m.; "Marketing Efficiency," Sunday, Feb. 23, 4 p.m.; "Marketing Techniques," Tuesday, Feb. 25, 6:30 p.m.; "What Can We Do?," Sunday, March 2, 5 p.m.

Renting a Farm Building

From time to time I receive a question on what to charge for renting a farm building such as a hog house.

There is no one answer for it is a decision between renter and landlord but a good guide for rental rates is 10-12 per cent of the original cost of the building. There are other considerations and discounts which need to be applied. The renter will probably undergo some inconvenience in using a rented building. For example, it may not be of an efficient design and he will have to travel to and from the facility to haul feed and care for the animals. The owner may experience some inconvenience too. The final rate will be a decision between the two parties involved.

Feeding Beef Cows Before Calving

Up to 70 days before calving, all the feeding that is necessary is to limit the loss of weight to 50-75 pounds. But during the 70 days before calving and also after calving, more emphasis should be placed on getting an adequate amount of energy, protein, phosphorus and vitamin A into the cows feed.

Protein Supplements

If you have plenty of rough age bred cows will not need special energy supplements before calving. Protein will usually be needed to supplement stalks and stubble after most of the grains and leaves have been eaten.

Satisfactory protein supplements will include five pounds average alfalfa hay and one pound of range cake. Liquid supplements can be used, but the non-protein nitrogen in these is not efficiently converted to protein or low quality roughage rations. You must prevent over consumption of liquid when snow covers the forage.

Need for Phosphorus

Phosphorus will be needed for cows on low quality forage with about two to three grams daily in most herds.

This can be furnished with the protein if the supplement feed contains as much as 1.5 per cent phosphorus. It can also be supplied in a mineral supplement.

Normal recommendation is a 10-12 per cent phosphorus supplement consumed at the rate of approximately one pound to 30 head daily or one pound per cow per month. Sometimes it is necessary to mix phosphorus with salt and eliminate other sources of salt in order to get this prescribed consumption.

Vitamin A

If you don't feed the current rates have during the last third of pregnancy, you should provide an average of at least 70,000 International Units (IU) of Vitamin A daily. This can be added to the protein supplement and can also be added to the salt or salt mineral mixtures. The cow will need about 600,000 IU's per month. On the average the cow will consume about one pound of salt per month so you should add about 2,000,000 IU's per pound of salt.

Area Farmer Attends Confab On Conservation

Glen Olson, a farmer between Wayne and Wakefield and a member of the board of directors of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District, was among 7,000 conservationists participating in the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) convention in Denver last week.

NACD delegates passed several resolutions during the convention held Sunday through Thursday. Among them was a resolution to work for and support federal land use legislation that recognizes local concerns economic as well as environmental values the importance of agriculture to the well being of our nation, the rights and responsibilities of private property ownership and holding federal intervention in state land use jurisdiction to a minimum.

NACD also approved a resolution to improve America's pastures and rangelands. NACD advocates development of a long term program to emphasize pasture and range improvement on a federal, state, and private pasture and rangeland. Senator Gale McGee, Democrat from Wyoming and graduate of Wayne State College, received the NACD distinguished service award for his contributions to conservation and American Agriculture. In his speech to the convention, Sen. McGee praised soil conservation districts for their leadership in promoting the concept of wise land use and conservation of our natural resources.

Tax Quiz

How old are?
If you are 65 or older, you are eligible for certain benefits which can save you tax dollars. The Internal Revenue Service has developed the following quiz to test your awareness of these benefits. Answer each statement TRUE or FALSE.

- Taxes can be withheld from company pensions by the payer of such pensions.

Answers to Quiz:
1 — F (If you had gross income of $2800 or more, you may have to file); 2 — T; 3 — T; 4 — T (A taxpayer may elect to have taxes withheld by giving the payer an IRS Form W-4); 5 — T (An employer is required by law to withhold and pay social security taxes even though the employee may be receiving such benefits.)

100 Turn Out For Farm Bureau Pancake Feed

Just over 100 people turned out last week for the pancake feed hosted by the Wayne County Farm Bureau at the Legion Hall in Wakefield.

Members of Farm Bureaus in Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Pierce, Madison, Stanton, Cuming and Thurston Counties attended the feed.

Each county gave an update on membership and it was noted that both Wayne and Stanton Counties have reached their membership goals. The area has to gain 743 more members to reach its goal.

A Wayne County quartet composed of Lauren and Maurice Boeckenhauer, Ron Ring and Brian Kair, accompanied by Mrs. Milton Offer, entertained during the evening with a medley of songs. Several others also performed during the evening, and several prizes were awarded.

Chisel-Plow Reduces Erosion

THE chisel-plow is one of several methods of reducing soil erosion in Northeast Nebraska, according to Arnold Marr, soil conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Wayne. As evident in this picture, the method results in a protective residue of cover on soil planted to corn. This surface residue protects the soil from heavy rains, helps in moisture absorption and cuts down on rainfall runoff, according to Marr. With the limited supply of subsoil moisture in the Wayne area this year, farmers might be wise to try reduced tillage farming, according to Marr.
