Trio's Chant: We're No. 1!

THERE IS no doubt in the minds of three Winside High wrestling fans that their team is the No. one Class C squad in the state. The three, from left, Peg Langenberg, Lori Lienemann and Jan Jaeger, were among the large Winside following on hand Saturday night to watch Winside, led by state champions Bob Bowers and Dwight Lienemann, upset Wynmore Southern for the team trophy. For more pictures and results, turn to the sports page and to page eight of the first section.

Council Okays Hiring New Patrolman

Wayne's city council Tuesday night approved Mayor Freeman Decker's appointment of Warren Gallop to the police force as a patrolman.

Council voted 7-0 to approve the appointment of Gallop, who was recommended for the post by the civil service commission following completion of a test. Council member Carolyn Fitter was not present for the meeting.

Gallop, formerly of Winside and now of Wayne, is presently attending Wayne State College.

His presence on the force will bring the force up to seven members, according to police chief Vera Fairchild. Gallop was hired to fill a vacancy left by the retirement of Keith Reed at the first of the year. Reed had served on the force 18 years.

Also Tuesday night, the council agreed to keep the same price on season tickets at the municipal swimming pool.

Season tickets will sell for $20 for a family and $7.50 for an individual.

Councilmen also passed a resolution spelling out the council's intentions to house the Senior Citizens Center in the basement of the present municipal hospital once that building is vacated and the new hospital is in operation.

Members of the center had requested that the council put in writing what is planned as far as housing the center is concerned. The center is currently conducting a build or buy fund raising drive.

City administrator Fred Brink updated councilmen about the performance of the city's sewage lagoon, noting that the lagoon is meeting federal pollution requirements which will be in force in 1977. He said the lagoon is performing well, especially in winter months.

Set for 5 p.m. on March 7 was a public hearing on the request for a liquor license by Cityside, Inc., which will operate the Black Knight Bar and Lounge. The council's decision following the hearing will be passed on to the state liquor commission, which will decide whether to issue the license.

Council approved mayor Decker and attorney Budd Bernholt's presence in Lincoln to speak against a proposed legislative bill requiring cities to publish more information in council proceedings and to speak in favor of a proposed bill permitting cities to subsidize taxis for public transportation. The two, accompanied by administrator Brink, were to be in Lincoln Wednesday.

2 WH Gridders 'Yearbook' Picks

Two Wayne high football players, quarterback Marly Hansen and fullback Rod Hoops, will be included in this year's Prep All America Football Yearbook, according to athletic director Harold Maciejewski.

The seniors, who played on the 1974 101 Blue Devil squad, were nominated in December. Their nomination was based upon athletic ability, statistics based on performance, sportsmanship and personal leadership displayed during the season.

Sponsored by Coach and Athlete magazine, the yearbook is an annual publication. Nominations are made each year by high school coaches, sportswriters and college recruiters across the country. Nominees are included in the yearbook and are considered for Coach and Athlete's Prep All America Football See GRIDDERS, page 6

Miller Resigns AHS Position

Allen High School superintendent Gail Miller has resigned his position effective June 30.

Miller, who joined the Allen school system in July of 1971, handed in his resignation during a special board meeting earlier this month. No replacement has been named.

Miller told the Allen board last fall this probably would be his last year as superintendent. During the board's January meeting, members voted unanimously to hire Miller for another year.

Miller said he is undecided about further plans.

Bicentennial Committee Meets Friday

The 16-member committee named last week to head up the American bicentennial activities in Wayne will meet Friday evening at 7:30 at Morey Hall on Wayne State's campus.

Mrs. Roberta Wette, house-mother at Morey Hall and general chairman of local bicentennial activities, said the meeting is open to the public. Those attending may park in the parking lot just north of Morey Hall.

Purpose of the meeting is to start organizing activities and projects the community will undertake as its part in helping the nation mark its second hundred years of existence in 1976.

"There are an awful lot of questions. I have which I would like to get answered," said Mrs. Wette.

On the committee named by Mrs. Wette are Mrs. Ron Mau, Don Spitzer, Mabel Sorenson, Mathilde Harms, Mrs. Max Lundstrom, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Howard Witt, Dick Sorenson, Cleve Sharer, Monte Mc Laws, Charles Maier, Jocell Bull, Carolyn Fitter, Mary Kieper, Goldie Leonard and the Rev. Robert Haas.

Other committee members may be named in coming weeks, according to Mrs. Wette.

Mrs. Wette said she is still anxious to hear ideas for projects and activities the community could work on to help mark the centennial. Persons interested in working on those projects and activities may get in touch with Mrs. Wette or any committee member.

Deadline Near For Thone's Internships

Applications for graduating seniors who wish to compete for internships in the Washington office of Cong. Charles Thone must be received in his office by Monday.

From public and private high schools in the 27 counties of Nebraska's First Congressional District, five female and five male interns are to be chosen to spend the week of April 13-19 in Thone's office. Ten sponsors have agreed to contribute $200 each to underwrite most of the costs of the interns.

After the interns are selected, Thone plans to contact local civic groups in the students' hometowns to attempt to raise the balance of the trip's cost, less than $100, for each intern.

Thone said interns will tour the White House, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and George Washington's home in Mount Vernon, Va. They will meet with leaders in the Senate and House, talk to executive heads, attend congressional hearing and sessions, and participate in the work of Thone's office.

The 10 will be chosen on the basis of grades, extra curricular activities and demonstrated interest in government.

Application blanks have been sent to all high schools in the district. To be considered, a student must send in an application blank, have his school send his transcript and obtain three letters of recommendations. All items are to be sent to Rep. Charles Thone, Intern Program, 720 North 12th Street, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508.

Meetings Zero In On Fertilizer Use

Farmers in the Wayne area will be given tips on the most efficient use of fertilizers at two meetings scheduled for Monday.

The first meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. at the village auditorium in Carroll; the second at 8 o'clock at the city auditorium in Wayne.

Covered during the meetings will be cost estimates and amounts of fertilizer farmers should use for an effective fertilizer program for both dry land and irrigated crops.

Also covered will be information on what crops it pays to fertilize, how much fertilizer to apply, how to determine carry-over of fertilizer from the last crop year and common sense fertilizer arithmetic.

A question and answer session will be held after each meeting to give farmers an opportunity to see MEETINGS, page 6

'And Who Are You?'

Average Family Deducts $2,860 on Its Tax Forms

How closely do the tax deductions claimed by Wayne County residents on their federal income tax reports compare with those taken by people in other parts of the county?

What do tax deductions amount to normally, at each income level, for charitable contributions, local taxes, medical costs and interest payments? Such information, useful to taxpayers who are compiling their income and expense figures for the April 15th deadline, is supplied in a study made by the Commerce Clearing House, specialist in taxes and business law, on the basis of data obtained from the Treasury Department.

It shows that, in general, families throughout the county that have earnings equal to the Wayne County average have been listing deductions of about $2,860, which is equivalent to 24 per cent of their adjusted gross income.

Among families whose earnings are lower than the local average, the amounts that are deductible represent a larger percentage of their income. For those in higher brackets, on the other hand, the deductions are lower, percentage-wise.

The range is from 39 per cent of gross income, for those with very small earnings, to 18 per cent for those at the upper end.

Families in the local area with incomes of $10,000, for example, will have deductions of about $2,550 if they conform with the norm. Those at the $15,000 level will have $3,100 to deduct and those earning $8,000 approximately $2,350, according to the Commerce Clearing House report.

A breakdown of the deductions ordinarily taken by families with incomes equal to the Wayne County average are: for contributions, $354; for interest on loans and installment debt, $1,034; for local taxes, $1,030; and for medical and dental expenses, $442.

These figures are merely a See FAMILY, page 6

City-Wide Rummage Sale Set

A community wide rummage sale has been scheduled for Saturday, April 19, to raise money to help purchase equipment for the new hospital in Wayne.

The Wayne Hospital Auxiliary sponsored rummage sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the city auditorium. Heading up the project is Mrs. Orville Sherry.

Persons who have items they would like to donate to the sale may call Mrs. Wilmer Marra at home or at Marra Home Improvement Co. Marra has volunteered to store all items donated in the building; their firm formerly occupied on South Main Street.

Mobile Blood Bank Is Successful

REGISTERED NURSE JoAnn Dalcourt of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank checks the bag of blood being donated by Dennis Luff of rural Wayne during the stop in Wayne Tuesday of the blood bank's mobile unit. A total of 68 pints of blood were collected, one of the largest collections by a mobile unit in some time, according to officials. Local hospital officials who helped with the donations said they were very happy with the turnout Tuesday, the first time a mobile unit has visited the community since the hospital joined the Sioux City-based blood bank the first of the year. "We hope just as many or more donate the next time," said registered nurse Judy Yoehter of Wayne. The mobile unit will visit the city again in three months.

Pencil, Paper Reap $100 Dividend

Mrs. Robert Stalder of rural Wayne had to use good old-fashioned pencil and paper, but she used them well enough to win first place earnings at the Herald's Budget Buster contest.

Despite joshing from her husband that she wouldn't win anything in the contest, Mrs. Stalder worked past midnight Friday adding up all the savings a person could realize if he or she purchased every item advertised at special prices in individual advertisements in last Thursday's issue of the newspaper.

Her several hours of work reaped a nice dividend; $100 to spend as she chooses in those stores advertising in that issue of the paper.

Like most mothers — she and her husband have four children still at home — she opted to spend her earnings at two grocery stores in Wayne, Arnie's and Bill's GW.

Mrs. Stalder, whose husband is director of social services for Region IV Office of Development Disabilities in Wayne, says she checks advertisements in the newspaper each issue, making sure she saves money by shopping stores which offer items at the lowest prices.

surprisingly large sum of $40,545.59 had she bought every thing marked down from regular prices in those three sections of the newspaper and two inserts. Her total: $40,544.02.

At least six other people were pretty good at tabulating those savings, winning themselves shirt-pocket calculators valued at $29.95 each.

Those winners and the savings they figured they could realize in the advertisements: — Mrs. Roy Koeth, Wayne, $40,643.93. — Mrs. John Birkley, Wakefield, $40,665.86. See CONTEST, page 6

Local Women Get District Posts At Legion, Auxiliary Convention

New district auxiliary officers, named at the District III-American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary convention held at Hamer Sunday were Evelyn Thompson of Wayne, president; Irene Mueller of Thurston, first vice president; Marie Dorsey of Hubbard, second vice president; and Luverna Hilton of Wayne, secretary-treasurer.

Installing officer was past department president Mrs. Norinda Cox of Pierce, and chaplain for the installation was Mrs. Marie Von Minden of an. Legionnaires receiving district posts were Merle Von Minden of Allen, commander, and Bob Gahan of Oakland, vice commander.

Over 220 persons from Butte, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties attended the 43rd annual meeting, with auxiliary president Evelyn Thompson of Wayne and district commander Darrin Merry of Thurston presiding at the business meetings.

During the morning, women attended a school of instruction given by Mrs. Dennis Malone of Lincoln, department secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Malone presented the department president's message in the afternoon, in the absence of department president Mrs. Walter Kirchner of Sutton.

Speakers during the auxiliary's meeting included Mrs. Ed Norman of Crofton; Mrs. Lawrence Beckman of Battle Creek, a representative of the Norfolk annex; Mrs. Vi Bibow of Cedar Bluffs; department child and youth chairman, second member, Mrs. Ernest Swanson of Ceresco, department auxiliary emergency fund chairman, and past president party chairman, who also served as parliamentarian during the day; Mrs. Vern Hagedorn of West Point, department communication chairman, and Mrs. Merle Von Minden of Allen, education and scholarship chairman.

Pages at the convention were Mrs. Keith Owens of Carroll, Mrs. Gary Herbolshener and Mrs. Sharon Boatman, both of Wakefield, and Mrs. Charlene MacKivergen of Jackson.

Approximately $144 was collected during the auxiliary's Little Red Schoolhouse March and will be used for nurse's scholarships. The president's project, a bus with a lift for wheelchair patients, netted $27.40 and $31.50 was collected to be used for scholarships for veterans' children.

Area legion posts receiving special recognition during the afternoon were Floyd Gleason Post 131 at Allen and Irwin L. Sears Post 43 at Wayne for their outstanding work with children and youth during 1973-74.

The Allen post was also recognized for their distinguished service, and along with the Winside Roy Reed Post 252, received a three star citation by the department for meeting or passing the post's quota and four year average and its previous year's membership, and a two star citation for early membership accomplishments by reaching two of their previous membership goals by December of 1974.

The Winside post also received the annual Americanism citation for 1973-74 by the national headquarters.

Master of ceremonies at a banquet held that evening was Lynn Jensen of Homer, post commander. Guest speaker was

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"...

There is no doubt that today we see the family unit being attacked from every side, torn apart and fragmented. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family, about listening, about the silences between people, the unspoken moments, and the moments of anger that don't really accomplish anything. TIME TO RUN openly offers the reality of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma.

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children... or your parents... or your when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!

Public Invited to Attend Life and Witness Course

About 65 persons, representing 21 churches in Northeast Nebraska, took part in the first session of a Christian life and witness course at the Wayne city auditorium Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Larry Ostercamp, pastor of Wayne's Evangelical Free Church, said the course is being sponsored by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusades in connection with the showing of "Time to Run," a feature-length film released by the Billy Graham Film Ministry studio.

The film is scheduled to be shown at the Gay Theatre in Wayne for one week, beginning March 12. Dean Sorenson of rural Wayne has been named executive chairman for the showing. Rev. Ostercamp was named counseling director by Sorenson.

Rev. Ostercamp, who is conducting the study, said the course is for the personal development of anyone wishing to take part in the interdenominational meetings and is being taught through tapes from the Billy Graham crusade organization.

According to the pastor, purpose of the study is to train persons for counseling, "although they are under no obligation to do so," he added.

The second session of the study will be held Sunday in the Woman's Club room, beginning at 3 p.m. Persons unable to attend the first session can come at 1:30 p.m. Sunday for a makeup session, said Rev. Ostercamp.

Counselors taking part in the course will be on hand at each showing of "Time to Run," scheduled twice nightly, to answer questions concerning the film or any other questions or problems individuals might want to discuss, he said.

Secret Sisters Revealed

Just Us Gals Club members held their regular business meeting with Mrs. Herb Echtenkamp Feb. 19. Ten members attended.

Secret sisters were revealed with a Valentine exchange and the club presented a thank you gift to Mrs. Betty Echtenkamp. Plans were made for a card party to be held in the home of Marguerite Hetfeldt.

Next meeting will be March 19 at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Spahr.

Philippines Are Topic at Club

Minerva Club members met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Howard Witt with 13 present.

Mrs. Ida Moses presented the lesson on islands, telling about the Philippine islands.

The Philippine Islands were discovered in 1521 by Ferdinand Magellan, who was later killed while trying to protect his possession. Of the 7,100 islands, only 11 are of major consequence, with the largest being Luzon.

Rice, coconuts and corn are chief products of the island where the average temperature is about 80 degrees. About 90 percent of the population is Roman Catholic.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Witt reported on the bicentennial organizational meeting which was held Friday at the Woman's Club room in Wayne.

Mrs. Verna Rees will host the 2 p.m. meeting to be held March 10.

WMS to Meet

Mrs. Ralph Headlee will be hostess to the Evangelical Free Women's Missionary Society's meeting set for this Monday. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Rethwisch to Host Club Tuesday

The March meeting of the Hillsdale Club has been scheduled for this Tuesday with Mrs. Duaine Rethwisch. The meeting had been set for 1:30 p.m.

Winside High Grapplers' Dream Comes True: State Title

A TEAM effort won Winside High its first state Class C wrestling trophy Saturday when the Wildcats topped Wymore Southern by two points. Helping the Cats to the first place trophy were, clockwise from center, Mike Anderson, Kevin Cleveland, Bob Bowers, coaches Carter, Peterson and Doug Barclay, Dwight Lienemann, Gregg Lage, Keith Suehl, Brian Wade and Monte Pfeiffer.

By BOB BARTLETT

It was a dream come true for Winside High School's wrestling team Saturday night when the Wildcats, paced by two state champions, won the state Class C team title.

The Wildcats, scoring 53 1/2 points, bettered perennial powerhouse Wymore Southern by two points to win the school's first state wrestling crown. It is likely the school's first state crown in any sport.

Senior Dwight Lienemann and junior Bob Bowers clinched the Cats victory when the pair won their weight classes in the finals of the two-day tournament at Lincoln.

Bowers beat Dave Plummer of Bridgeport, 8-2, in the finals to claim the 105-pound crown before Lienemann, wrestling at 167 pounds, closed the door on Wymore's chances of staking another state championship. Lienemann handed Ken Allen of David City a 10-0 defeat and chalked up an extra half point in team point standings for his major decision (beating an opponent by 10 points or more).

"I really felt the pressure going into the final match," Lienemann pointed out after he became the school's first undefeated grappler, finishing the season with a 32-0 record.

"I knew if we were going to win state I had to beat my opponent. There was no room for second," he said. Lienemann staged one of the meet's biggest upsets when he dethroned two-time state champion Rick Rosenquist of Raymond Central, 5-0, in the championship semifinals. Rosenquist's loss was the first in 49 matches over two years and the most points he gave up during the season.

The pressure began to build on Lienemann after the team's other entry in the finals, 138-pound Gregg Lage, lost a tough 1-0 decision to Don Wilcoxson of Shelton.

Kevin Cleveland was the only one of three remaining Winside wrestlers to advance from the first round. Cleveland took a 3-1 decision before losing by default in the quarterfinals. Cleveland was trailing in his second match when he developed stomach cramps.

Winside jumped to an early 15-12 Friday and stayed in command until the Saturday morning semifinals where Wymore and Winside began exchanging the lead.

Going into the finals, Winside held a slim three-point margin. After Bowers' victory, the Cats needed only one more win to take the team title.

Wymore, which also had three of nine grapplers in the finals, lost its first two matches to virtually rule out any chances for repeating its championship.

Nicholson Wins Third at State

Wakefield senior Pat Nicholson won third place in the 145-pound division of the state Class C wrestling tournament Saturday at Lincoln.

Nicholson, Wakefield's only entry, pinned his opponent in 4:40 of the consolation round as Wakefield finished 24th with nine points among 35 Class C teams.

In the first round, Nicholson drew a bye before pinning his quarter finals opponent in 3:40. After winning his next match, Nicholson lost to eventual state champ John Guinn of Plainview.

Wayne High finished in a three-way tie for 38th place among 45 Class B schools in the state tournament.

Wayne senior Ken Daniels (112) led the team's three entries with a first-round victory to score the Blue Devils' two points. Daniels pinned his opponent in 3:17, then lost in the quarterfinals, 6-2.

Both Randy Surber (105) and Don Nelson (155) lost in the first round.

SPORTS

Frosh Press Stops Laurel

A rattling fourth quarter press by Wayne High's freshmen cagers held Laurel to six points while the locals scored 12 and managed a 35-33 win Monday.

Kevin Murray and Vic Sharpe scored eight points each to lead the Devils in their seventh win in 14 games. Marco Garlich finished with seven, Jeff Backstrom six, Steve Bodensiedt four and John Keating two.

"It was a four point ball game most of the way," said Wayne coach Duane Blomenkamp. Wayne took a 16-13 edge at the half, before Laurel went ahead 27-23 going into the final stanza. Dale Lindgren led Laurel scoring with 13 points. Mike Martin had 10, Bob Dahlquist five, Toby Cunningham three and Gary Kessinger two. Laurel ends its season with a 7-4 record.

Athletes of the Week

High school wrestlers once again grab the spotlight for this week's "Athlete of the Week" award.

Both Winside High state champions, Dwight Lienemann and Bob Bowers, receive the recognition for the second consecutive week after they won their weight divisions in Saturday's state tournament to lead the school to the state Class C team title. Last week, both were among award winners who won first in district action.

Lienemann became the school's first grappler to go undefeated as he won the 167-pound title with a 32-0 record. Teammate Bob Bowers (105) finished with a 28-2 season record.

Being in the state tournament isn't anything new to the Winside champs. Last year, Bowers finished second in the 98 pound division, Lienemann third in the 167 pound class.

Wayne Splits Action Against CC, Lakeview

Wayne High cagers will enter Class B district play against winner Pilger at 8 p.m. Tuesday at North Platte with an 18-4 record after splitting home games Saturday and Tuesday nights.

Hartington broke Wayne's 12-game winning streak Tuesday night when Cedar won the battle at the free throw line, sinking 17 of 27 attempts for a 57-53 upset.

Led by Dirk Uhing, Cedar went ahead to stay in the last minute of the game, hitting four consecutive ones and one attempt after senior Marty Hansen hit two free throws to put the locals ahead, 53-51. Uhing finished with 23 points.

Although the Devils bettered Hartington CC from the field, 38 percent to 35, the visitors outrebounded the Devils, 39-32.

The difference in the ball game was offensive rebounding, especially in the first half. "I said Duval coach Bill Sharpe. We got back real bad on the offensive boards. They had nine rebounds while we only had one."

Leading 16-11 going in the second period, the Devils hit only eight points the next frame to trail 22-24 at the half.

Senior Bob Keating led Wayne with 14 points while Earle Overin had 12 and Hansen 10.

A strong second and third-quarter defense was the key to the Devils' 57-53 victory over Columbus Lakeview Saturday night.

Wayne held the visitors to seven points the second period and 12 the third while the offense poured in 34 points.

Keating and Rick Mitchell led the Devils' third quarter 20-point attack with six points each while Jack Froehlich scored four. Keating finished with 14 points to top Wayne scorers.

Wayne's defensive strategy was to "log up the middle and concentrate on (Rick) Thomas and (Darnell) Richert." Sharpe pointed out. The Lakeview pair rebounded for 39 points.

The locals cleared 43 rebounds to 27 for Columbus. Keating pulled down 13, Froehlich 10 and Mitchell seven.

Offensively, the Devils made 21 of 52 attempts for 46 per cent while Lakeview hit 20 of 64 tries for 31 per cent.

Wayne's reserves also split their contests to end the season with a 10-5 record. They beat Hartington, 71-60, after losing to Columbus, 63-54.

Laurel-Hartington High Rematch Getting Closer

Northeast Nebraska Class C cage powers Laurel and Hartington High are one step closer to meeting each other again. Both high-scoring clubs opened with victories in first-round district action Monday and Tuesday nights at Wisner-Pilger.

Laurel breezed past Wynot Tuesday, 70-40, while Hartington escaped upset-minded Winside Monday, 63-43. In the clubs' first meeting, Hartington took a 79-76 overtime decision at Laurel.

However, both clubs must get by semifinal foes tonight (Thursday) if they are to collide in Friday's final. In the first game tonight, Hartington takes on Coleridge, a 78-48 winner over winless Allen Monday, and Laurel faces Emerson-Hubbard which nipped Wakefield by 70-61 Tuesday.

Free throws decided the outcome of the Emerson-Wakefield game, with Emerson connecting on 11 of 18 attempts in the last period to knock the Trojans out of district play.

Senior John Lempe sealed the Pirates' victory in the closing minutes when he hit four of five free throws and nailed a basket to break a 61-all tie. Led by junior Scott Keagle, 19 points, for the night, Wakefield took a 12-16 first-period lead before Lempe, who finished with 23, led Emerson to a 35-33 halftime edge. Keagle, who missed most of the second half with four fouls, gave Wakefield a brief 61-59 edge before fouling out.

Wakefield finished the season with a 15-6 record. Laurel had a much easier task in conquering Wynot in Tuesday's first matchup.

Although the Bears got off to a slow start — leading 29-12 at the half — they came back with a 41-point second-half to claim their 17th win against six defeats.

Senior Mark Anderson pumped in 12 points, Sterling Stolpe 11 and Greg Pipitt 10 to lead the Bears.

Winside and Hartington battled in a five-point game until midway in the fourth period when Hartington took a 17-point command after Winside's Bob Hoffman fouled out. It was the Wildcats' 12th loss against five wins.

Junior Tyler Frevert kept the Cats in range the first half, scoring 16 of his 26 points as Winside trailed 29-24 going into the third period. Frevert pumped in 10 points the first quarter as the area team rallied to a 14-12 deficit before Hartington's top point-maker, Pete Tipton, put his club ahead, 19-12, at the end of the period. Tipton finished with 21.

Allen failed to break into the win column this season, falling to Coleridge in Monday's second game.

Senior Don Kluger hit 16 points to lead teammates. Allen finished the season with a 0-17 record.

WINSIDE JUNIOR Bob Hoffman looks for somebody to pass after a Hartington High player stops him from taking a shot in district action Monday night.

Jr Cagers Post Third-Best Record

Wayne's eighth grade cagers Monday became the third best team in city junior high basketball history when the locals notched their 13th win by beating host Laurel, 41-26.

The squad chalked up a 13-1 mark to finish behind the 13-0 1970-71 team and the 25-2 1965-66 team.

Brad Emry led the locals with 14 points in Monday's win. Dave Schwartz and Don Straight had eight each while Sean Wills finished with five, Mike Niemann four and Tom Ginn two.

Ron Gadeken led Laurel, now 3-5, with seven points. Rusty Gade and Don Dalton had six each. Paul Guern four and Mark McCorkindale three.

Saturday night Wayne won the second annual Hartington junior high tournament by knocking off the hosts, 45-22. Straight and Wills poured in 12 each, Schwartz nine, Emry six, Ginn three and Dennis Carroll and Mark Gansbom two each.

Also Saturday, Allen, now 6-4, toppled Wakefield for third place, 49-32. Allen's Darwin Kluger, named to the tournament team, tossed in 20 points. Nick Mitchell had 10, Bart Gotch five, Mark Creamer and Greg four each, and Rich Stewart, Gary Karlberg and Kevin Kraemer two each.

Doug Starzl of Wakefield, also named to the tournament team, pumped in 18 while Tom Preston had six, Randy Harding-four, and Mark Hitz and Lowell Kaufman two each.

Wayne opened the tournament Thursday with a 39-31 win over Allen. Niemann led with 12 points while Schwartz finished with 10. Also scoring were Emry and Ginn with six each, Al Nissen and Wills with two each, and Straight with one.

Kluger led Allen with 11 followed by Creamer with nine, Mitchell with eight, Carr with two and Gotch with one.

Allen got back in the win column Friday with a 35-33 win over Emerson Sacred Heart. Again Kluger was the leading scorer with nine points while Gotch had eight, Creamer seven, Mitchell four, Rich Stewart three and Carr and Kraemer two each.

Friday the locals nipped Randolph, 30-25, to get into the final. Schwartz and Emry had eight each while Wills had five, Straight four, Ginn three and Niemann two.

Wakefield, 3-8, lost to Hartington, 58-30, Thursday, and beat Coleridge, 28-26, Friday. Starzl led in both games with 11 and 18 points.

Kiwanians Receive 25-Year Pins

Seven members of Wayne Kiwanis Club were honored for at least 25 years' membership during the club's 52nd anniversary dinner Sunday night at Wayne State College's Student Center.

Receiving 25-year pins were B. J. Brandstetter, Adon Jeffrey, William Koerber, Henry Ley, Paul Mines, Willard Witte, and Kenneth Olds.

Ley is the longest active member, joining Kiwanis in December of 1945. Right behind him are Jeffrey with 28 years, Witte and Brandstetter with 27 years, Mines with 26 years and Olds, who was past lieutenant governor of division four with 25 years.

Over 80 people from clubs in Wayne, Fremont, West Point and Norfolk attended the annual dinner. "This is the kind of dinner that helps to motivate people," said Bud Hoppel, lieutenant governor of division four in the Nebraska-Iowa district.

Hoppel, of Norfolk, pointed out that the number of people attending the dinner can be an inspiration to continue the organization's slogan, "We Build."

Club president Gene Bigelow noted that Sunday's attendance was one of the largest groups ever to attend a club anniversary.

Following the dinner members and guests were invited to the Fred Dale Planetarium for the program called "What's Your Sagittarius?"

HENRY LEY, left, receives a 25-year membership certificate from Kiwanis president Elton Dan Sherry as one of seven Wayne members to be honored Sunday night for 25 years or more of service in the organization.

"I was greatly influenced by one of my teachers. She had a real 'not so much for a teacher' so much for a person as for steady betterment... she demanded not excellence so much as integrity."

Edward R. Murrow

The greatest teachers are those who can inspire a thirst for knowledge and a desire to achieve. Perfection is a goal beyond the reach of most of us but everyone can, through the application of a little effort, improve at a steady pace, however slow that pace may be.

That teacher is most successful who can inspire students to do their best with the talents they have, even though their achievements may never be noteworthy.

We serve families of all faiths and creeds with dignity and good taste.

The ability to hear different sounds varies widely between different animals. For example, an alligator can hear frequencies only up to 4,000 cycles per second, while most humans can hear up to 20,000 cycles per second. And bats can hear sounds as high as 98,000 cycles per second.

Yup, $1,000 Prize Is Still Unclaimed

That $1,000 prize is still up for grabs in Wayne's weekly Birth Day Bucks promotion.

Last week, another $25 consolation prize was awarded in the weekly drawing, the result of a shopper not being present with a birthday matching the date drawn at random and announced in all participating stores at 8:15 Thursday evening.

Winning last week's consolation prize was Emil Vahlkamp of Wayne, who was shopping at Wittig's Super Valu when the date was announced. His birthday, Oct. 29, 1898, was closest to the winning date of Nov. 10, 1898.

"Since the grand prize went unclaimed again last week, it remains" at $1,000 tonight (Thursday). If it is not won again this week, another $25 prize will be awarded and the prize will be offered again next week.

Once that grand prize is claimed, however, the top prize will drop to $300 for the following Thursday's drawing. Then it will climb by $25 each week it is not won until it reaches a ceiling of $500. Of course, each week there is no grand prize winner, a $25 consolation prize will be awarded.

Coupons given away in the weekly drawings may be spent just like cash in any participating firm or business. No purchases are necessary to take part in the weekly drawings, no registration is required and there is no limit on the number of times a person may win

IRS Q & A
Q. Is the interest received by my tax refund in 1974 subject to income tax?
A. Yes. If you receive a tax refund that includes interest on the amount refunded, the interest must be included in your gross income in the year received.

Q. How much can I deduct for the mileage I drove for business purposes using my own car?
A. For 1974, the standard mileage rate has been changed. If you used your car in business, you may deduct 15 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use, and ten cents for each mile over 15,000. For other purposes such as moving expenses, medical expenses, and charitable contributions the rate has been increased to seven cents a mile.

Q. How can I have my tax refund credited to next year's tax?
A. An overpayment of income and social security taxes entitles you to a refund, unless you indicate on your return that the overpayment should be applied to your next year's estimated tax. If there is an overpayment of tax, you should indicate on lines 25 and 26 of Form 1040, or on lines 24 and 25 of Form 1040A, the amount you want refunded and the amount you want credited against your estimated tax. On your initial declaration of estimated tax on Form 1040-ES, you may choose to have the overpayment applied entirely against your first payment or have it spread evenly against each installment of your 1975 tax.

Today, thoughts on LB 403, family farms, chasing rabbits

Murphy: It's tough to pinpoint the true culprit

By John Murphy
State Senator
17th District

Consideration of bills on General File continued this week and we are now getting into more controversial issues. As we do, we begin to get a better insight into the character and personality of the new members. They appear to be a group of sincere and dedicated people who will serve Nebraska well.

In many cases, the legislature authorizes a particular agency to issue rules and regulations which set for the actual implementation of the law.

A piece of 1973 legislation, LB403, is causing extreme difficulty. This bill mandated that local school systems would provide education for the physically or mentally handicapped, and that the state would provide a portion of the cost.

Unfortunately, some two or three years after the original concept of this bill was introduced, we are still without an approved set of rules and regulations. Even so, the state has begun the distribution of funds to cover this program.

As with most government mistakes, it is difficult to pinpoint the true culprit. In this case, we are somewhere between the Department of Education, which is responsible for preparing the rules and regulations; the Attorney General's office, from which approval of the final draft form is required; the Department of Administrative Services, which has made payments without proper authorization; and the legislature, which was not definitive enough in its funding requirements.

JOHN MURPHY
STATE SENATOR

Last week, senator Richard Lewis of Holbrook, a former Bellevue school teacher, rose on the floor and demanded that we enact an emergency these services describe as being catastrophic. The bill will require further clarification to more concisely define the source of these funds as they relate to previously authorized commitments.

Once again, it becomes evident that our lives are controlled more by the rules and regulations issued by various agencies of government than they are by the enactment of a specific law. I have said many times that serving in the legislature is extremely interesting. I might also add it is extremely difficult on many occasions.

Van Kirk: Inflation has robbed Americans cruelly

By M. M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information
Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation

Consumers should note that taxes and not food prices showed the greatest increase in 1974 and yet the spotlight throughout the year has been on the increase in family food budgets.

According to a report by the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, food prices rose 11.9 per cent in 1974, a drastic increase attributable to the ravages of inflation. But taxes increased by 25 per cent. The committee reports that housing costs increased by 13.5 per cent and transportation by 14.3 per cent, just to give some additional comparisons.

For middle and upper income families, social security taxes rose 21 per cent in 1974 and personal income taxes (including federal, state and local taxes) went up 26 per cent. Lower income families saw their income taxes rise 31 per cent during the year.

While consumer prices for all goods and services in 1974 were up 11 per cent, retail meat prices averaged only two per cent higher for the year. Steadily declining prices for farm products while the forces of inflation continue to mount—should finally impress consumers that food prices do not cause inflation but are the result of inflation. Farm prices experienced the third monthly fall in a row as of January 15 and the parity ratio (the difference between what the farmer pays for his goods and services and what he gets for his products) fell to 72 (it had reached a high of more than 100 points briefly in August 1973).

Consumers have frittered away the time in the battle of inflation by "chasing all the wrong rabbits" and sighting in on food prices, high interest rates, building costs and all the results of inflation rather than keying on the basic cause—continued deficit spending on the part of the federal government.

Members of Congress have been voting for increased social security benefits and larger health and welfare benefits and financing them with borrowed money. Now both the Administration and Congress have embarked on a new spending spree as a cure for recession that they frankly admit will require anywhere from $50 to $100 billion in new federal deficit borrowing in a single fiscal year. That can mean only one thing—new high powered fuel to add further to inflationary woes.

The value of the dollar will be further eroded and at a faster pace; the costs of all production including agricultural production will increase; private industry will have to compete for needed capital against increased governmental borrowings.

The tax burden will continue to increase despite the talk about federal tax cuts. Social security funding must be kept solvent. State government here in Nebraska faces a certain need to increase tax rates—the argument is only over how soon it must be done. Local school and governmental taxes will be increased simply to meet inflationary pressures.

Inflation has robbed the American people cruelly, yet they seemingly do not understand how it has all come about. Right now, it costs the American family $171.80 to buy the same goods and services that $100 purchased for them in 1967.

Booth: Family farm can survive without formaldehyde

By Arch Booth
President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Jefferson wanted the U.S. to remain a nation of small family farms. Alexander Hamilton insisted we were destined to become a major industrial power. Hamilton was right, of course. Nevertheless, we have retained a sentimental attachment to the family farm down to this day.

Now some people believe the family farm is threatened; that new developments in agriculture may make it as extinct as the passenger pigeon. Personally, I think this fear is ridiculous. I'd give anybody odds that the family farm will be around as long as America remains a free country, economically and politically, because the independent farmer is both a profit of what free men can accomplish and an important bulwark of that freedom.

But farming will continue to change, as does everything else in this world. The proportion of our food produced by the smaller family farms may well decline. However, such a change would not necessarily spell hard times for the family farms. Rather, it would be a reflection of world food demand so high that meeting it will require the best efforts of all of America's agricultural enterprises—large and small.

As demand increases, pressure for greater efficiency will also increase. Larger farms—incorporated or not—may prove more cost-effective in the production of some additional commodities. But by any reasonable measure, really large corporations do not now directly produce a very large share of U.S. farm production. However, some people become alarmed by any trend toward larger farms—so alarmed that there have been attempts, at both the state and federal level, to prohibit farming by large corporations.

Although such legislation is usually couched in terms of "preserving the family farm" (like a bug in a bottle of formaldehyde?), what it really amounts to is a plea by some for special protection from their competitors. Small farmers are not unique in seeking legislated protection from competition—many other businesses, large and small, believe that they deserve similar treatment, for a variety of reasons.

Even though the reasons may oc-asionally have some validity, protection from competition seldom serves well the economy at large, the consumer or, ironically, even those who request it.

The fact is, much of the toughest competition for the small family farm today comes from larger, more efficient family farms. Many of these larger farms may be corporations technically (for tax and other advantages), but they are still held and operated by members of one family (of more than 21,000 corporations in farming, 92 per cent are closely held family units). And most of them don't suffer in comparison to anyone when it comes to efficiency.

Yet much of the legislation being drafted to keep large corporations out of farming would cause problems for these "family corporations" and even for unincorporated, small family farms. Some of the potential dangers:

- Family-held corporate farms with substantial nonfarm investments could be forced out of farming.
- Mortgage money might become difficult for all farmers to get if lending institutions could not hold an interest in the land by mortgage.
- Large agribusiness firms probably could not supply dealer credit in return for a lien on the property sold to a farmer, or for inputs produced to produce a crop.
- Contracts with large processing corporations would not be available.
- The family farm as an institution has survived and prospered for hundreds of years. It can survive and prosper for a few hundred more without the formaldehyde treatment.

OBSERVATIONS

How about the other towns?

Okay, you other communities in the Wayne area, how about getting something started so you can help mark this country's second hundred years of existence?

We don't know what will take place in Wayne as far as bicentennial activities and projects are concerned but at least this community will do something. Several ideas are being kicked around. Among the most intriguing: restoration of the county courthouse in Wayne, collection of letters from and to immigrants who helped settle this country, preservation of country schools and churches, and restoration of the depot in Wayne.

We hope one of those ideas—or one yet to be suggested—takes root and gets support from everybody in the community. We intend to do everything we can to see to it that happens.

Meanwhile, what about the other small towns around Wayne? Those in Wayne County are certainly welcome to join this community in marking the nation's bicentennial, for a combined effort pooling talents and resources from all the towns in this county would likely reap better results than if just one community tried to do something. And those small towns up Dixon County way could certainly get together to help mark the bicentennial.

All it takes is a core of hard-working people interested in getting something done. We think we have a few of those people in Wayne. We would like to think similar people live in Hoskins, Winside, Carroll, Sholes, Laurel, Concord, Dixon, Allen and Wakefield. — Norvin Hansen.

Wayne

Dear Editor: We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas for treating the Wayne High School varsity basketball team, all-conference football members, coaches and wives to a steak dinner Monday evening. We want them to know that we very much appreciate this gesture of kindness. — Wayne High athletes, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Don Koenig, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carnes.

I'm getting tired of police criticism

Wayne

Dear Editor: I am a resident and taxpayer of the city of Wayne, and also one who believes in the outstanding job the police department is doing. I guess you could say that I am pro-law.

I am getting a little tired of reading letters from people who call the police, give little information (if any) about a problem, don't leave their name, phone number or give the police any hope of getting in touch with them later, and then have the gall to write to you because their problem hasn't been corrected!

The other day I went to the police station and picked up a little information. These facts are available to any person who wants to take the time to look them up.

In the year of 1974, the police department had 1,223 complaints or requests for police services; cleared 59 out of 115 criminal complaints; covered 151 accidents; handled 34 speaking engagements covering topics such as drug abuse, shoplifting, traffic safety and bad checks, to name a few; issued 2,115 parking warnings; issued 532 traffic warnings; had 248 arrests on charges ranging from speeding, drag racing, reckless driving and drunk driving to shoplifting, petit larceny, forgery and failure to shovel snow.

This doesn't tell everything that our police department does or what it did. These are only a few items that I thought would interest you. As I said before, these facts are public records and can be seen by any one who cares to look.

I'm not saying that there isn't room for improvement. Nobody is perfect. All I'm saying is if you have a complaint, the police need your cooperation as much as you need their service.

I've worked with the police department before, and I'll probably continue to do so. With the help of the people of Wayne, I'm sure any complaint will be handled in the most efficient, legal way possible. — A Citizen Who Cares.

Budget-writing headache facing senators

CAPITOL NEWS LINCOLN — The legislative budget-writing process is beginning in earnest now.

The two documents which the appropriations committee will use in drafting its recommendations to the full legislature have been submitted.

The first came from legislative fiscal analyst Eldin Ehrlich and his staff, who reviewed agency budget requests for the 1975-76 fiscal year and, based upon their studies of needs, suggested spending totals.

Then, with appropriate fanfare, came Gov. J. Exon's recommendations. His are required by constitutional directive and were accompanied by bills which would, if adopted, change his recommendations into appropriations.

The committee, headed by Senator Richard Marvel of Hastings, has begun holding hearings on the major agencies, taking testimony on the dollar levels suggested by Ehrlich and his crew on one hand and the governor on the other.

The governor's budget message included a 28-minute address to the legislature in which he said:

"I am forced, in order to assure the state's solvency, to ask that you forthwith enact a 13 per cent income tax, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1975. If it is the legislature's desire, I will introduce a bill for this purpose."

Exon, in discussions earlier with newsmen, had said he had tried to prepare budget recommendations which would fit within the dollar boundaries of the existing tax rates—2.5 per cent on sales and 10 per cent on income tax. He said those efforts soon proved to be "preposterous."

Neither could he devise a budget which met the state's needs, as the governor sees them, with an 11 per cent, or a 12 per cent personal income tax. Under the law which stipulates that the sales and income taxes raise as nearly equal as possible amounts, the only tax rates which can be adjusted is the income tax. A change in the sales tax would make too much of a swing.

Enrich, when he made his figures available earlier, said the 10 per cent income tax wouldn't be enough for his recommendations either.

It appeared the legislature was resigning to the need for an adjustment—upward—in the income tax. Exon used his speech as another opportunity to promote a switch in the rate-setting authority. I now rests with the state board of equalization, which is headed by the governor. The other members are the auditor, treasurer, secretary of state and tax commissioner (the only other Democrat, besides Exon, in the current lineup).

The board sets the rates for each calendar year by Nov. 15 of the previous year. The 1974 income tax rate, set in the fall of 1973, was 11 per cent, down from 13 per cent. It was endorsed by the three Republican members over Exon's objections. Then, last fall, the Republican majority once again overrode the governor. He wanted to keep 11 per cent, but the GOP members held out for 10 per cent.

In his budget speech, Exon complained about the "yo-yo approach" to tax rate setting and said some of the financial problems could have been avoided if rates hadn't been lowered in the past.

Now, he said, even a retroactive 13 per cent income tax leaves "little leeway and future substantial deterioration of Nebraska's economy or a recurrence of drought this summer, could produce serious revenue problems."

Exon, who has been forecasting economic gloom for many months, told the senators there are "major economic time bombs that are ticking away in Nebraska that cannot be brushed aside just because we are confident of our future."

The legislative branch should be doing the tax rate setting in Nebraska, as it does in all other states and the federal government, Exon said.

"The Nebraska legislature, for reasons best known to itself, has maintained it should appropriate but not tax. Besides not being workable, the system encourages spending because those setting the budgets, in effect, rely on others to shoulder the responsibility for tax rates," Exon said.

He added: "If the legislature wishes to wait until Nov. 15 each year to set tax rates (one of the arguments the lawmakers have used is that setting the rates in the spring for the next year prevents the use of the latest economic information), you could agree to reserve your last legislative day each year for the purpose. Another workable solution would be for the legislature to set tax rates for the current year, the first day it meets in January."

One of the most controversial features—budget chairman Marvel immediately called it "ridiculous"—on the Exon budget proposal deals with the University of Nebraska, which the governor said should get a lump sum of $71.6 million to spend as it sees fit.

Exon said the money for the university, about $14 million less than the board of regents had requested, was so tight that it wouldn't be fair to tie the regents and administrators down with specific spending instructions.

Instead of setting dollar amounts for each campus and for individual programs within each campus operation, as the appropriations bills have been doing in recent years, Exon said the lump sum could be divided as the NU officials think best.

Marvel has been the father, so to speak, of the program approach to budgeting, tying agencies, especially the university, down so the money would be used as the senators wanted it used.

The budget chairman said that to abandon that program approach might create constitutional problems on grounds that the legislature would be delegating—to the regents and administrators—the appropriation function exclusively granted to the legislative branch.

Although they weren't pleased with the amount of money in the Exon budget, several regents went on record as favoring the lump sum approach.

Tots 'Teaching' Child Development Students at WSC

Twelve youngsters are enrolled in the new pre-school program at Wayne State College.

Bright-eyed and eager, they arrive on campus two afternoons a week to spend a couple of hours with the 18 WSC students enrolled in the college's child development class.

They don't know it, but these enthusiastic youngsters are teaching as well as learning.

The complete child development lab in the newly completed Bentback Hall of Applied Sciences made this class and the pre-school experience possible, according to Mrs. Eena Adams, assistant professor in home economics.

The lab is equipped with typical nursery school fixtures, an adjoining observation room with one-way window and lots of patience and understanding.

Enrolled in the pre-school program this term are (with parents' names in parentheses) Ryan Shaw (Randy), Gregory Schmidt (Howard), Patty Brock-

300 Students at WS Career Day

The first annual career day for the Wayne State applied arts department attracted some 300 students from about 30 high schools Thursday.

The visitors learned of opportunities or careers in home economics and industrial arts, and ways to prepare for them in WSC courses.

Dr. LaVera Roemhildt and Randall Shaw of the applied arts faculty, serving as co-chairman of the event, considered the attendance excellent—more than expected.

Cattle Prices
I don't have any crystal ball on cattle prices, but here are some interesting observations from Phil Henderson, extension economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"Each dollar increase in the price of slaughter steers would tend to raise the price of 700-pound yearling steers by about $1.55 to $1.60 per cwt. and the price of 400-500-pound calves by about $2.20 to $2.75 per cwt. Each 10 cent reduction in the price of corn has the potential of increasing the price offered for 700-pound yearlings by about $.70 per cwt. and for calves, approximately $1.75 per cwt."

Dr. Henderson goes on to say, "The likelihood of cheaper feed grains seems greater than that of substantial improvement in prices of slaughter cattle. Some

Nitrogen Hidden in Soil Offers Farmers Savings

Wayne area farmers looking for ways to cut crop production costs for 1975 might find some help by looking below the soil surface.

This help, according to George Rehm, district agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord, may be in the form of carryover nitrogen. Because of dry weather, all the nitrogen fertilizer applied in 1974 may not have been used, leaving some for the 1975 crop, he said.

This remaining nitrogen is called carryover nitrogen and will vary from field to field. Five fields in both Cuming and Thurston Counties were sampled last fall and carryover nitrogen was measured. Carryover nitrogen ranged from 10 to 170 pounds per acre in Cuming County and from 36 to 100 pounds per acre in Thurston County, according to Rehm.

Rehm pointed out that all the carryover nitrogen is not available for the 1975 crop. However, the carryover nitrogen measurements can be used to adjust nitrogen fertilizer needs for the 1975 crop.

For example, if a farmer had only 30 pounds of carryover nitrogen per acre and wanted to grow 80 bushel corn, he would need to apply 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre, according to Rehm. On the other hand, if a farmer found 170 pounds of carryover nitrogen per acre and wanted to raise 80 bushel corn, he would need to apply only 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre, he noted.

At today's fertilizer prices, this difference in nitrogen need could mean a savings of from $10 to $17 per acre, said Rehm. A measurement of carryover nitrogen can also mean a savings in nitrogen needed for oats and small grains following corn, he added.

It's also important to point out, said Rehm, that nitrogen does not accumulate in the surface soil. Tests show that the majority of carryover nitrogen occurs below eight inches. Therefore, it's important to collect soil samples from a depth of eight to 24 inches. If farmers take the time to collect samples, there is a strong possibility farmers will be able to save some money for crop production in 1975, Rehm said.

Materials needed for sampling soils as well as easy-to-follow instructions are available at the Northeast Station or local county extension offices, Rehm concluded.

Stainless Steel or Porcelain?
Stainless steel sinks are very durable. They are not easily dented and will not break or chip. They are stain resistant and not affected by acids or alkalis. They do water spot, but this can be easily wiped off.

Metal pans and utensils may mark stainless steel, but marks do not show as much and can be scoured off. Scouring will not scratch stainless steel.

You will find stainless steel sinks are probably more expensive than others, however.

Porcelain-enamel is a glass-like substance fused to steel or cast iron. Many improvements have been made on porcelain enamel in recent years.

The surface is smoother so it is more resistant to stains than if used to be. It can be marked by metal utensils and kettles, but these marks can be scoured off. Baking soda or a mild cleanser are recommended for cleaning. Coarse scouring powder used too vigorously or too often will damage the glaze. Acids that remain on the porcelain will etch the surface and also make cleaning more difficult.

A sharp impact may cause the porcelain to chip or crack and patches are not very satisfactory. There are different qualities of porcelain enamel and poorer qualities will chip more easily.

Of course if you want colored sinks, porcelain enamel would be your choice. The coloring materials are fused into the enamel and will never fade or wear off.

HEALTH TIPS

What do you do with a runny nose, watery eyes, sore throat, cough and muscle ache?

In children, those symptoms can be the beginning of almost any communicable disease, according to the Nebraska Medical Association. Sometimes these same symptoms indicate an allergy.

However, at any age, these may be the first signs of influenza. If the symptoms persist, it may mean involvement of the breathing tubes, lungs, sinuses and, sometimes, the ears with infections which may prove serious.

The association says that cold symptoms should not be ignored, especially if a fever persists. Practicing good health habits such as getting plenty of rest and drinking plenty of liquids can help alleviate a common cold.

Many colds must simply run their course, reports the association. However, the cold victim should take as much care as possible so a common cold does not become a more serious illness through neglect of good health practices. If symptoms persist for more than three days and are accompanied by a fever, call your physician.
