Bicentennial Ball Is Rollin'

American Bicentennial activities in Wayne will likely include development of a county-wide museum, and old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration and updating of the history of Wayne County.

Those were some of the major ideas probed during Friday night's initial meeting of the recently formed bicentennial committee.

The committee will next meet at the Woman's Club room at the city auditorium at 7:30 Friday evening. Also planned are meetings on March 21 and April 4 at the same time and same place.

Meetings are open to the public.

Mrs. Roberta Wette, house-mother at Morey Hall on Wayne State campus and chairman of local bicentennial activities, said after Friday's meeting that she was disappointed with the turnout, noting that more clubs and organizations should designate a member and have that person attend all committee meetings so the groups have a better idea of what the committee is working on.

The committee Friday night agreed to undertake activities and projects which would turn local bicentennial activities into county-wide ones.

High on that list is development of a county-wide museum, possibly at the site of the current museum on the east edge of Wayne but possibly at several sites.

Also being planned is a July 4th celebration in 1976 which would include everything from sack races to patriotic speeches. The celebration which could run several days, also might include a box social, "melloderamer," and other activities.

Another idea which likely will be developed in coming weeks is painting of a large mural on the side of one of the buildings in the downtown business district in Wayne. The mural would depict scenes of historical importance to this area of the state.

Discussed as projects and activities which might be undertaken in coming months were marking of various historical sites, and buildings throughout the county, development of the railroad depot in Wayne into a museum or other lasting facility, renovation of the LaPorte Cemetery southeast of Wayne and restoration of a country school, church and other buildings of historical importance, possibly moving them to one

Dalsgaard Wooing 'em at WSC

Mogens Dalsgaard, acclaimed Danish pianist, is spending a month at Wayne State College as musician in residence. In addition to coaching college music students, Dalsgaard will be performing in Wayne and for other regions throughout the state.

The public is invited to hear Dalsgaard in concert at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 9, at Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. No admission will be charged.

Dalsgaard will also appear with the college band during a concert at 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 16. The concert will be at Ramsey Theatre and is also open to the public at no charge.

Dalsgaard, 32, began music lessons at age seven, and at age 15 entered the conservatory in Copenhagen. He is the only professional pianist in Denmark to make his living through concert appearances.

So far this year he has presented 15 concerts in Europe. After leaving Nebraska and the United States he will return to Denmark to do some television work.

This is not Dalsgaard's first trip to Wayne State. His initial visit was in 1970, and he returned in 1971 and 1972.

Looking more like a student than one of Europe's leading pianists, Dalsgaard merges easily with the college community.

But when he sits down before the piano his associates are transformed into an awed audience and each practice session becomes an impromptu concert.

In fact, one of the listeners unexpectedly became part of a television program. The college station, KWSC-TV, had just finished a student interview with Dalsgaard, aired live on the city television system, when William Hagerman, of the broadcast faculty, suggested that the pianist play a half hour concert for television taping.

Certainly, the amiable Dalsgaard replied. Then he thought See DALSGAARD, page 5

Fire Ruins Trailer

Fire completely destroyed a mobile home being built in by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Burnham on Highway 29 northwest of Allen about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The fire, which may have started in the kitchen area, killed several cats and dogs belonging to the Burnhams, according to Allen fire department members, who fought the fire Wednesday night and again about 7:30 a.m. Friday after an explosion again started on fire. The trailer was located near Dixon County Feedlots.

Northeast Station Tabs Entomologist

John Witkowski has been appointed district entomologist of the Northeast Station near Concord, beginning his combination research and extension assignment today (Monday), according to Cal Ward, Station superintendent and district extension director.

Witkowski, a native of Beaumont, received his undergraduate degree and master's from the University of Nebraska. He has spent the past three years at Iowa State University as a research associate and has finished all requirements for his Ph.D. degree. Witkowski's extension See ENTOMOLOGIST, page 5

Frevert Kids Can Tell Their Own Lamb Story

RARE indeed are these five little lambs, all born to a ewe at the Alfred Frevert farm southeast of Wayne recently.

By NORVIN HANSEN

Mary had a little lamb, so the story goes, but the Frevert kids out southeast of Wayne have five little lambs, all born to the same ewe.

The kids also have a scattering of cats, a dog named Frackles and a pet deer named quite appropriately, Bambi.

The deer, a white tailed buck going on two years of age, has been their pet ever since they helped save it from dying when it was just a few days old, but the lambs are something new and quite likely something even more unlikely than a pet deer.

The five lambs were born at the Alfred Frevert farm on Feb. 20 to a Suffolk-Hampshire ewe which had been bred by a Suffolk ram.

Merlyn Nielsen, an assistant professor in animal science at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln School of Agriculture, says the probability of a ewe giving

Area Towns Get $5,000 From NPPD

The communities of Allen, Hoskins, Concord, Dixon and Waterbury have realized $5,018.75 as a result of agreements leasing their electrical distribution systems to Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) according to Ralph Beaman of Dakota City, member of the NPPD board of directors.

The annual payments made by NPPD under terms of the lease agreements. The payments were for the last half of 1974, he noted.

A total of 270 Nebraska cities and towns have realized $1,046,745 as a result of the agreements. Total payments for all of 1974 to the communities were approximately $1.9 million.

The money may be used in any way the communities wish. Payments to the area communities for the last half of 1974: Allen, $1,928.06; Hoskins, $1,434.59; Concord, $791.64; Dixon, $556.17; Waterbury, $307.87.

NPPD operates the electrical system and makes all additions and improvements to the property in maintenance service. NPPD pays the community 10 per cent of the adjusted gross revenues.

Readers Are Offered Free Classified Ads

If you want to buy, rent or sell something — but don't want to pay for a want ad — you better take advantage of a unique offer being made by The Wayne Herald.

You can advertise without charge for almost anything under the sun in a special 14,400-circulation combined-classified section which will be distributed in the Herald and two other area weekly newspapers on March 13.

Also inserting the tabloid classified section in that issue will be the Wisner News Chronicle and the Cedar County News at Hartington, giving advertisers an opportunity to reach more than 14,000 homes at no charge.

The offer to run free classified advertisements in that section does not cover classifieds already scheduled and paid for. It also does not cover display classified ads.

If you have some old clothes you want to sell, are looking for a used bike for your son or have a basement apartment to rent, just jot down that information on the form appearing on the full-page advertisement inside this issue of the newspaper.

There is no limit on how many classifieds a person may run in the special section, so you may jot down the necessary information on a piece of paper if you have already used that form.

However, you should get that task done right away, for deadline for receiving ads for the section is Wednesday.

Expo '75 Gettling Close

CHAMBER of Commerce Secretary Janet Hill plans an Expo '75 badge on George Fotinos, manager of Wayne's Jark & Jill, to help promote the March 14-15 event. The badges are being distributed to participating businesses and their employees today (Monday). More than 30 businesses and organizations will have booths at the Chamber sponsored event scheduled for the city auditorium. The Woman's Club room is being made available to raise and non-profit groups at no charge on a first come basis. Among activities planned during the two-day exposition is a style show and a cooking school.

AFS Host Family Wanted

Wayne's American Field Service chapter and the student AFS committee are seeking families interested in hosting a foreign exchange student for the 1975-76 school year.

Applications are available from Ken Carlson, guidance counselor at Wayne High School, and must be submitted to Mrs. LeRoy Simpson, president of the local AFS chapter, by Friday.

A bake sale has been scheduled this month to help raise funds for sponsoring another AFS visitor to Wayne, and a salad supper is planned for April.

This year's foreign exchange student at Wayne High School is Daniel da Silva from Brazil, who is spending the year with the Deard Hamm family.

Daniel is the ninth AFS student to study in Wayne. Preceding him were Monika Plehn, Germany, 1973-74; John Theron, Tahiland, 1972-73; Rosa Mary Castillo, Venezuela, 1971-72; Abdallah Khwalid, Jordan, 1970-71; Teresia Urian, Philippines, 1969-70; Eghon Guzman Bustamante, Chile, 1968-69; Margo McKay, Australia, 1967-68, and Phadet Gawsombat, Thailand, 1966-67.

In addition to being active in the AFS program, Wayne High has also participated in the Americans Abroad program, a subdivision of the American Field Service where American students travel overseas to study for an entire academic year or for a summer.

Since 1970, Wayne High has been represented overseas by three students. During the 1970-71 academic school year, See HOST FAMILY, page 5

Parents of Wayne High School students will begin receiving an educational planning handbook today (Monday) to help them and their children make decisions regarding class registration for the 1975-76 school year, reports high school principal Don Zeiss.

The handbooks will be distributed today to students so they can deliver them to their parents. Those parents not receiving a copy of the handbook should telephone the high school.

Registration for the coming school year gets underway today for juniors, according to Zeiss. Registration will begin the following week for sophomores and the week after that for freshmen. Incoming freshmen will begin registering for classes about the end of March, Zeiss said.

NEN Speaks Out on Tech College Issue

By IVY HARPER

Northeast Nebraska was well represented last week when the legislature's education committee heard testimony on bills affecting the state's technical community colleges.

A small army from Norfolk came to support Aurora Sen. Maurice Kremer's LB344, which would keep technical colleges separate from the state college system and allow a mixture of local property tax funding and state aid.

Robert Dalton, a senior at Wayne State College, testified in opposition to LB344.

An intern with the state college board of trustees, he said he does not think it is fair for students at Norfolk to be paying almost half what students at Wayne State pay for the same courses.

Dalton stressed that he testified in his own behalf and was not speaking for the Board of Trustees.

He said, however, that even though the credit hours transfer, the quality of teaching at Wayne is higher.

Dalton posed two hypothetical questions to the education committee. He asked if it is sound economic practice to offer the same courses at Wayne and Norfolk.

He also questioned previous testimony from supporters of LB344, who said communities would accept absorbing the cost of the technical community colleges.

When told by Sen. Gerald Koch of Ralston that the people in Northeast Nebraska had voted several years ago in favor of transfer of credit, Dalton replied that it might be time to re-examine the issue.

NO DOUBT about it, being a father is an experience that can't be duplicated.

—How else — except with a first grade boy and a two and a half year old girl — could you:

—Hear this kind of comment while playing hide and seek: "You won't have any trouble finding us this time, dad. She just wet all over the floor."

—Try to sleep, four in a bed, with the two smallest ones seemingly unconcerned about taking up their share and more right out of the middle.

—Stay up with your boy until 12:30 a.m. watching King Koog battle Tyrannosaurus Rex and his robot replica, the first two of which are his special idols.

—Read over and over and over to your little girl the story about the two small girls who have, God forbid, jellybeans for breakfast.

—Search for your daily newspaper and find it hidden behind the bottle of soap underneath the kitchen sink.

—Be given a red and white paper valentine made in school and carrying this message in unique lettering, "I love you, Mom and Dad."

—Almost nightly be used as a horse, wheelbarrow pusher, fighting opponent and chair.

—Learn that a harsh word to a little girl doesn't get her to eat her supper like it did for your boy, but instead prompts a fearless crying spell.

—Set a record of 143 catches without a miss while tossing a small, blue football back and forth in the living room.

—Distastefully color a picture next to your boy and see the delight in his eyes when his mother judges his better than yours.

—Wonder why your son insists on sleeping with a mangy old Teddybear, a bean-filled mouse and a small pillow with a monkey's face on it while your daughter, with her bottom lip stuck out, tosses everything out of her bed.

—Be told by your boy while walking into the library that he has ended his four-year infatuation with dinosaurs and that now he is going to learn about "science."

—Be forced to give back to the librarian the book about how animals are born because you don't know how in the devil you would explain some of the things it graphically tells about.

If you're a father, you can add your own juicy tidbits. If you're not, you might not appreciate these.

WAYNE'S new physician, Dr. Willis Wiseman, got to meet 40 businessmen and local residents at Wednesday afternoon's coffee at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dr. Wiseman jokingly noted that it's a mere coincidence that his office will be closed Wednesday afternoons. Somebody else added that a lot of other businessmen have the same coincidence the same afternoon. That's the weekly event that leaves wives home with the kids while husbands are out supposedly hitting a little white ball up and down grass-covered areas that serve as exercise spaces for golf carts.

WAYNE area residents were plenty responsive the first time they had a chance to donate blood during a visit to the community by the mobile unit of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank.

Nearly 70 pints of blood were donated last week, and people were turned away because the workers had to get the units to Sioux City for processing. The 67 pints of blood that were donated topped the single-day donations at both Laurel and Wakefield, according to officials.

Next stop for the mobile unit will be at the Wakefield hospital on April 1 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The unit will be back in Wayne in three months.

STATE SENATOR John Murphy of South Sioux City didn't pull any punches recently, according to one of his columns he sends up.

While he was talking with a federal official from Washington, D.C. recently, the official noted that the government couldn't just "pump $90 million into Nebraska without some kind of regulation and control."

Sen. Murphy reminded him that "before they had pumped it into the state they had in fact pumped it out. This is a fact too often overlooked not only by Congress but by many others who refer to the taxes we send to Washington as 'federal funds' as though they bloomed like cherry blossoms along the 'Potomac!'"

Right on, John.

WHO WILL control our farms and food in the future is a question that will be examined in a series of three half-hour programs on the Nebraska ETV Network beginning later in March.

The Nebraska farming picture today and its possible future image will be outlined against a backdrop of scenes ranging from urban sprawl in Omaha to "picture book" country churches, abandoned farmsteads and mammoth farm machines moving across the land.

The series will air on all ETV stations at 10 p.m. March 18, 25 and April 1, with repeats at 7:30 on March 20, 27 and April 3.

Thoughts for Today

Thursday — Worry drains the body of its energy and power. Psalms 37:7 — Rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him.

Friday — If you trust you do not worry; if you worry you do not trust. Psalms 37:5 — Trust in the Lord and do good; so shall thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

Saturday — To know God is to know peace of mind. Isaiah 46:12 — There is no peace, saith the Lord unto the wicked.

Sunday — If you must whisper, whisper a prayer. Philippians 4:6 — But in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

Monday — When you try to carry your burdens without God's help you disappoint Him. Matthew 11:30 — For my yoke is easy and my burden is light.

Tuesday — Never take a pen in hand without a prayer. Lamentations 2:17 — Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart.

Wednesday — Said the robin to the sparrow. "I should really like to know why these anxious human beings rush about and worry so."

Said the sparrow to the robin. "Friend, I think it must be that they have no heavenly Father. Such as cares for you and me."

In the Public Interest

By Walter Pincus, executive editor of The New Republic

Over the past 20 years as Congressional power has steadily diminished, the size of Capitol Hill's bureaucracy has almost quadrupled. Its operating budget has skyrocketed from $42 million in 1954 to its present $328 million.

Recognizing that federal programs themselves have expanded the growth would not be criticized if it had been accompanied by a more effective performance. But the opposite has occurred. Many of the increased staffs and the myriad subcommittees and select committees that have sprung up represent a kind of empire building. Others are publicity vehicles for individual senators and congressmen. A few provide a base for continual campaigning back home. Some do actually perform full time useful service.

The subcommittee boom has had a debilitating effect. Meetings compete with the member's time and often result in legislation whose main purpose is to justify continued operation of the subcommittee. Jurisdictional disputes among the committees have multiplied. Senate Majority Leader Mansfield and House Speaker Albert have both put forward suggestions for meeting the problems of rising prices and rising unemployment. Both plans have merit. But aside from delivering their speeches, where are these two Congressional leaders going to go? Will they harness Congressional energy? Will the House Democratic Caucus or the Senate Policy Committee be brought into a leadership picture?

Committee chairmen have never been directed to hold hearings on draft legislation at the direction of leadership. That kind of action is alien to the House and Senate, but it should not be. Congressional committees ought to be requested to take their hearings, particularly those dealing with the economic crisis, out of Washington for part of the time. Unemployment and a public jobs program ought to be studied in the cities most hit by the economic downturn. And hearings should be held before the people who are intended to be the beneficiaries of such federal programs.

Quacking responsibilities and servicing the personal needs of constituents has become a way of life on Capitol Hill. Using that approach, 90 percent of the incumbents are regularly returned to office. It's that congressional attitude that led to the imperial presidency, and it's time to change that.

Protect the Elected

Recently, a county commissioner said: "I would not want to be a county commissioner if we didn't publish those warrants every month. I want people to know who we spend their money with, and what we spend the money for. If they don't have a chance to know every month, then I want no part of being a county commissioner. I don't want to be in on anything where people have a chance to be suspicious."

It so happens that this particular county official was not from Nebraska. But, he put his finger on one of the most important aspects of "to whom, for what and how much" publication.

Dr. Charles R. Allen, director of the Oklahoma State School of Journalism and a University of North Dakota graduate, said: "Honest public officials heartily acclaim the published statement in a newspaper as the best and most practical way to show their constituents that they have exercised good business acumen in handling of funds entrusted to them."

Dr. Allen further stated: "Adverse criticism, when it is based upon guesswork or malice, is obviously unfair to the public servant who is exercising his duties with care and unselfish interest. His protection from those who seek to prejudice voters against him is a public reporter's case in such a manner that its completeness will disprove unkind and unfair contentions."

As your local newspaper, we support Dr. Allen's views in the publishing of proceedings and legal notices. It is the public's right to know.

Women Learn About Fabric Flammability

Some clothing is made of material which doesn't really burn. Rather, it melts and drips, eating holes into the skin and flesh of the person unlucky enough to be wearing it. Other fabrics are difficult to start on fire or don't burn quickly once they start on fire. Still others burn easily and rapidly, so rapidly it is hard to extinguish the flames. Those and other facts about the flammability of fabrics were presented to extension club leaders during a series of sessions at Concord, Hoskins, Hartington, Walthill and Dakota City last week. Purpose of the sessions: to spread the word about the dangers of fabrics catching on fire. Nearly 5,000 people likely will die this year from burns suffered from fabric and clothing fires, according to Anna Marie Kreifels, area home economist at the Northeast Station near Concord who conducted the sessions. Women who took in the sessions learned about the burning characteristics of a variety of fabrics, including nylon, wool, rayon and linen, as well as the burning characteristics of different types of weaves. In addition, they were able to test burn fabric samples to see what happens when they catch fire and to learn to recognize the different odors they give off when burning. Many women attending the sessions at Concord expressed surprise at how quickly and easily some fabrics start burn.

MR. AND MRS. TODD MANSKE

Anniversary Error

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Roberts of Wayne were honored for their 48th wedding anniversary at a surprise gathering held Feb. 22 at the Carroll city auditorium. A recent edition of The Wayne Herald incorrectly reported that the event was held at the Women's Club rooms in Wayne. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Howell Roberts of Millard and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Keehne of Carroll.

LAST WEEK'S sessions on fabric flammability conducted by Anna Marie Kreifels for area home extension club leaders attracted considerable interest. Top, Miss Kreifels watches as Mrs. LeRoy Korch of Concord smells a burning piece of cloth held by Mrs. Paul Rahn of Allen, Neb., who demonstrates how a certain type of fabric burns.

Villa Tenants Club Meets During Week

Nineteen members of the Villa Tenants Club met Tuesday afternoon. Lunch was furnished by Bessie Davidson and Emma Franzen. On Wednesday morning, the Rev. Kenneth Edmonds of Waynes First United Methodist Church conducted a Bible study for about 15 Villa residents.

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"...

There is no doubt that today we see the family unit being attacked from every side, torn apart and fragmented. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family, about listening, about the silences between people, the unspoken moments, and the moments of anger that don't really accomplish anything. TIME TO RUN openly offers the reality of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma. I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

MARK ANDERSON celebrates Laurel's district win by tearing down one of the nets following Friday's 87-72 victory. Helping the Bears post the win is Greg Pippitt.

Tippering in another two points. Trying to stop the Laurel junior is Hartington's Kevin Erickhoff.

Looking Strong

Laurel Fans' State Cry Ringing Out

By BOB BARTLETT
Laurel High fans haven't changed their chant of a year ago: "Three down, one to go, let's take state."
Rightfully so.
For the second consecutive year and the fifth time in six years Joel Parks has coached in Bear territory. Laurel has won a Class C district championship by sweeping three games. This time a sweet taste of revenge.
Led by senior Sterling Stolpe with 25 points and 11 rebounds.

Laurel evened the score with Hartington High Friday night in the district finals at Wisner. Parks, blasting one of Northeast Nebraska's top clubs, 87-72.
"I was hoping the kids would have revenge for this game," Parks said after his Bears paid Hartington back for a 79-76 double overtime decision during regular season.
Revenge doesn't stop with Hartington High, though. This week Laurel will face Banroft for a regional title and the right to play in the state tournament March 13-15 in Lincoln.

Winside Hosting 8-Team Jr High Grappling Meet

Eight teams will participate in Saturday's junior high wrestling tournament at Winside High School.

Besides Winside, other teams include Wakefield, Randolph, Stanton, Wynot, Plainview, Norfolk Catholic and Scribner. The afternoon session begins at 1:30, the evening session at 6:30.
Admission prices are $1 per session for adults or $1.50 for both sessions, and 50 cents per session for students or 75 cents for both sessions.
Proceeds will go to the Winside Community Club, sponsor of the annual event.

Last year the Bears dumped Wausa for the district title, then lost by 55-42 to West Point in the regional to end their dream of a state championship.

Allen Legion Plans Feed

Allen's American Legion post will hold a pancake and ham supper Saturday, March 8, from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Legion Hall to raise money for the summer softball and baseball programs.
Tickets, which may be purchased from Keith Hill, are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children through the eighth grade.

here have we won a regional ball game. I want to change that," Parks emphasized.
After the first quarter Friday night, however, it looked like the Bears weren't going to make it to the regional. Hartington jumped to a 70-14 lead heading into the second period as senior Pete Tipton and 67 sophomore Dan Lurtz combined for 14 points.
Making things even worse, Laurel picked up five fouls less than two minutes into the game.
However, Laurel chipped away at Hartington's 76-16 lead early in the quarter when the Bears went to a full court press. Free throw baskets and a free throw while junior Greg Pippitt, second high with 21, hit a pair of baskets and four free throws to help turn the game in Laurel's favor, 42-35, at the half.
Both Lurtz and Tipton picked up their third fouls in the second stanza to sit out most of the quarter.
"Greg played a solid inside game while Sterling took the ball to the hoop," Parks reflected after his club's 17th win in 24 outings.

Laurel opened up with three straight baskets in the third period to carve out a 48-35 margin, then took a 52-39 command before roaring to a 74-40 victory over Emerson Hubbard in semifinal action.
Laurel, finishing with 46 per cent shooting the first half Thursday night, Laurel took a 38-20 command before roaring to a 74-40 victory over Emerson Hubbard in semifinal action.

Wrestlers Needed For Jr High Team

At least two wrestlers are needed to fill weight classes on Wayne's junior high team, according to coach Steve Hix.
Positions open are 75 and 90 pounds.
Hix pointed out that boys in seventh and eighth grades from Carroll and Wayne can participate in the program. "If any boy from Carroll wants to try out but doesn't have a ride home, there will be a bus leaving Wayne at 4:45 p.m.," he said. Practice is held at 4 p.m.
Monday through Friday at the middle school.
Wayne opens dual action March 11 against visiting Schuyler at the high school auditorium, then travels to the Pender tournament March 15.
Some top prospects signed up for the team: 68-Larry Hank, 80-David Doeschner, 85-Robbie Lage, 95-Rick Johnson, 100-Robert Fleer, 105-Clark Blake-man, 110-Bob Kenny, 115-Dustin Ruback, 120-David Hamm, 125-Terry Biggerstaff, 135-Dan Straight, 145-Scott Kay, 150-Dan Mitchell.

Laurel had four men in double figures. Mark Anderson 14, Pippitt 11, Scott Huetig and Jan Erwin 10 each.
The Bears missed only three of 18 free throws the first half as Emerson committed 11 fouls. The second half Laurel was 12-17 from the line.
In other action Thursday, Hartington downed Coleridge, 59-49, behind Tipton's 27 points.

Redmond Makes NAIA All-Stars

John Redmond, Wayne State's leading scorer and rebounder, won selection on the Nebraska NAIA district all-star basketball team last week, and two other Wildcats are on the second team.
The annual choice of coaches from nine NAIA colleges included Tom Kropp of Kearney for the third year, Mario Peart and Paul Thomas of Hastings for the second time. Filling out the six-man dream team are Mark White of Midland and Loren Killion of Kearney.
Redmond is a 6-5 junior from Kankakee, Ill., who came to Wayne this year after gaining junior college All-American honors at Northeast Tech. He led the Wildcats in scoring and rebounding all season and finished the campaign with a 7.2 point and 9.3 rebound average.
Redmond also claimed the highest game score, 32, until the finale Wednesday when Charlie Henderson, a Florida product, soared to 38 against Peru. NAIA coaches already had made a second-team all-star choice of Henderson.

Henderson's burst capped his senior and second year at Wayne with 16 field goals, a team season high. He finished a 22-game performance with 338 points, 15.4 average.
Rick Anderson, junior from Chicago, also gained an all-star second 16 a m accolade. A smooth, agile ball handler and clutch shooter, Anderson finished second in total points for Wayne, 341, but trailed Henderson in average, 14.5 for 24 games.

Reeg's 30 Points Sets Loop Record

Bob Reeg poured in 30 points — 16 the last period — to set a city recreation B league basketball record while the victors while Dennis Spangler had 22 for the losers.
The winners jumped to an 18-5 first period lead before putting the game away with a 22 point effort the last period. High scorer for Team 4 was Wayne Wessel with 16.
Upset minded Team 5 was one basket short of its first victory, falling to Team 2, 52-51.
Dick Sorenson pumped in 22 points to lead the victors while Dennis Spangler had 22 for the losers.
Going into the final week of season play, Team 1, idle last week, holds down first with a 6-1 mark, followed by Team 4 with a 5-2 record. Team 3 at 4-4, Team 2 at 3-4 and Team 5 0-7.
Wednesday night Teams 1, 5 play at 7-30, Teams 2-4 at 8-30.

Wayne State's Best

ATHLETE OF THE YEAR honors at Wayne State belong to Stan Lewis and Martha Schrick, by selection of coaches and Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. The annual awards were presented by Byron Klebe, president, and Gloria Hulme, Phi Sig Sweetheart, at halftime of the Wayne-Peru basketball game Wednesday night. Fraternity members selected the winners, including a woman athlete for the first time — from coaches' nominations.

Police Blotter
 A car operated by Edwin McCruth, 121 W. Sixth, backed into a vehicle driven by Luella Bose, rural Wayne, about 3 p.m. Friday on the 100 block of West Third.
 About 2 a.m. Friday a hit-and-run accident was reported when a vehicle struck the Grace Bible Church on the corner of 10th and Logan Streets. The church sustained minor damage.
 Thursday night about 10 o'clock a vehicle driven by Rodney Hoops, 408 W. Seventh backed into a car operated by Sidney Brewer, Deerfur, in a parking lot near Seventh and Main.

WS Cagers Rip Peru

Slaughter House Five aptly describes the Wayne State basketball quint that slaughtered a batch of records Wednesday night in Rice Gym.
 Actually, the number five more correctly should be 13, because every Wildcat cager got into the game — in both halves — as Wayne set, an all-time school scoring record of 127 points to 60 by Peru State.
 The 67-point margin probably is a Wayne record, too, and seldom, if ever, has Wayne reached 65 points in the first half.
 The previous game high of 123 occurred in 1970 when Wayne humbled Hastings, 123-73, in the NAIA district playoff finals. That was a more prodigious feat, accomplished against a talented Bronco team, whereas Peru in this year's game used eight freshmen among 11 players.
 A couple of Wayne season records are new, thanks to Charlie Henderson's 38 points and 16 field goals against Peru. The senior from Tampa, Fla., hit a remarkable 16 of 22 field shots (73 per cent) and 6-6 free throws.
 Coach Jim Seward began substituting who's left in the game after Wayne forged a 22-2 lead. By halftime, at 65-23, every Wildcat had played and all but one scored. By game's end all had scored.

 Henderson's 38-point assault is more notable considering that he played only about half the game: Wayne finished with a 15-9 record and 4-2 in the Nebraska College Conference, good for second behind 6-0 Kearney. Chadron was third at 2-4, Peru fourth at 0-6, and 3-22 over-all.
Midland Wins Track Dual
 Best over-all performance of the year — that sums up a Wayne State track dual Thursday, even though the Wildcats lost to Midland, 89-54, at Fremont.
 Five Wildcats gained firsts — a rarity in this rebuilding year for Wayne track.
 The winners: Jerry Kruger in the high jump, 6-2; Stan Simpson in the 60-yard intermediate hurdles, :08.3; Ed Brogie, long jump, 21-3/4; Cliff Switzer, triple jump, 40-6; and Don Rinehart, 440 dash, :54.1.
 Coach LeRoy Simpson happily noted that Wayne swept all three places in the triple jump and scored two of three places in six other events.
 The meet ended Wayne's indoor season. Attention turns now to the outdoor campaign as weather gives some relief from sub-freezing temperatures.

 he should have somebody to talk to on the show. Hagerman surveyed the student audience for a volunteer and selected piano student Laura Hansen of Omaha.
 Flustered at first, she agreed, and Dalsgaard sailed into a half hour of playing, punctuated by comments on the composers — all as if he had been long planned. Miss Hansen contributed some comments and questions too.

 The money turned over to the cities and towns by NPPD at this time does not include the annual five per cent in-lieu-of-tax payments required by Nebraska statutes.
 In addition to the money realized, the agreements between NPPD and the state's cities and towns also provide for a one-third discount on the electricity consumed by corporate agencies within corporate limits.

Start Growing Those Whiskers

A beard contest has been added to this year's Old Settlers Days activities in Winside. The annual three-day celebration starts July 23.
 The contest is open to everyone, said Charlie Jackson, chairman. Those entering have until July 24 to register with Jackson. Cash prizes will be awarded the winners.
 "We haven't decided how many categories there will be as yet," Jackson pointed out, noting that the idea of the beard contest is to tie in with the theme of this year's grand and kiddie parades, the American bicentennial.
 The Winside Community Club, which is sponsoring the contest, voted last week to hold the annual Easter egg hunt at 1:30 p.m. on March 29 at the town park. The hunt is open to all pre-school through fourth grade youngsters in Winside, said Don Leighton, club president.

 Dr. Allen Burkhardt, member at large of the Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College board, said he doesn't think the Norfolk college is taking students away from Wayne State.
 Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney, sponsor of the LB128, which would merge the technical and state college systems, said that unless his plan is adopted another court suit will follow.
 The technical colleges became a major legislative issue last year when the state supreme court ruled they were being
