

Unicameral in Action Marvel, Seymour Disagree on Coordination of WS, NE Tech

By IVY HARPER
LINCOLN — Wayne State College and Northeast Nebraska Community Technical College in Norfolk came under fire last week by the Legislature's appropriations committee during an executive session.

During the closed session, senator Richard Marvel of Hastings said he questions whether there was any coordination attempts between the two colleges. Lyle Seymour, president of Wayne State, told the committee during its public budget hearing that "Wayne works closely with Norfolk."

Marvel asked for proof that the two colleges are working together, and Seymour cited graduate and teacher education programs.

Later, Marvel said, "I doubt whether any coordination is taking place. They all say that when you ask them," Marvel said, "but they can't give me any figures."

Discussion in the executive session centered around proposals for higher education coordination, but the committee did not take any action. The session was open to the press.

Marvel singled out Wayne and Norfolk as places where coordination could be accomplished easily and save taxpayer money and duplication of service, but he said voluntary attempts have so far been futile.

In an interview this week, Marvel said that he previously discussed coordination with officials of both Wayne State and Northeast Nebraska Community Technical College, but that "nothing will probably happen until the Legislature forces action."

"We can't do everything around here," Marvel said.

Marvel specifically criticized the industrial arts department at Wayne State, saying it could be moved to Norfolk, "but they (Wayne State officials) want it to stay on their campus."

Senator Glenn Goddard of Omaha suggested that perhaps the colleges at Norfolk and Wayne could be used as pilots in a coordination attempt.

Marvel said the committee has not discussed in depth the state college budget requests and that it won't get around to it until the first week in April.

Marvel proposed a plan similar to another one before the Legislature, LB 128, which would divide the state into six areas and make block grants to the combined junior colleges and state colleges in the area.

Marvel said he is hesitant about forming one coordinating body over all of Nebraska's 22 institutions of higher learning because he is afraid it would be like the University of Nebraska Systems Office.

He criticized NU systems because they are not coordinating anything.

There are still three distinct, separate campuses — UN-L, UN-O and the NU Medical Center in Omaha, he said.

Marvel repeatedly stressed the need. See MARVEL, page 5

Budding Musicians To Perform Tuesday

Orchestra students from Wayne's Middle School and members of the fourth grade beginning strings class will present their 11th annual string and orchestra program Tuesday night.

The 21-piece middle school orchestra grades five through eight and the 30-member fourth grade beginning strings class will perform under the direction of Mrs. Bonita Day. The program is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the high school lecture hall.

Beginning string students will play several folk tunes, including "I'm a Young Musician," "Merrily We Roll Along," "Au Clair de la Lune," "To Paroee" and "Tomato, Tomate Little Star." Other melodies will be played as solos.

TYLER FREVERT

Legion Post at Winside Picks 1975 Boys Stater

Robert Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoffman of Winside, has been chosen to attend Boys State at Lincoln in June by the Roy Reed American Legion Post 252 of Winside.

Alternate for Boys State is Tyler Frevert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenville Frevert of Winside.

Both are juniors at Winside High School.

Hoffman, who has lettered in basketball three years, was a member of the all conference team the last two years and was named to The Wayne Herald's all area basketball team this year. He lettered in football two years and was a member of the all conference team the last two years. He lettered in track as a sophomore and is a member of this year's track team. He belongs to St. Paul's Lutheran Church where he served as vice president of the Walthor League.

Tyler, also active in high school sports, is a member of the W. Club, band, stage band and swing choir, and serves as class treasurer. He is a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and is president of the Walthor League.

Juniors Elect Officials for Annual Event

Wayne High School juniors Thursday voted in their representatives to Wayne County Government Day, slated for the courthouse in Wayne on Tuesday.

The winners in the election will join juniors from Winside in a full day of activities aimed at acquainting them with local government by permitting them to see how county officials operate day in and day out.

Named to attend the activities from Wayne High: county assessor Bob Bergt, treasurer Rob Mitchell, probation officer Pat Gordy, superintendent of schools Diana Atkins, veterans service officer Bret Spence, judge Greg Owens, agricultural agent Julie Kay, clerk Kris Nedergaard, clerk of district court Paul Mallette, sheriff Jennifer Johnson, deputy sheriff Mike Sharer, attorney Ken Danz, welfare director Mary Kovenky, and commissioners Vincent Jenness, Tom Maier and Todd Hurbert.

Activities begin Tuesday with registration at 9:30 a.m., follow

Area Residents Invited To Seymour Inauguration

All residents of Wayne and the surrounding area are invited to attend the formal inauguration of Dr. Lyle Seymour as president of Wayne State College, according to the person in charge of inaugural activities.

The inauguration is scheduled for Friday, April 11, the last day of second term classes.

Mrs. Cornett Ruestad of Wayne said all activities that day, including the evening banquet, are open to the public. However, reservations are required for those wishing to attend the banquet, she noted.

Persons wishing to attend the banquet, which will be preceded by a social hour, may pick up tickets at either the Chamber of Commerce office or the Wayne State business office. Tickets cost $5 each.

The day's activities begin at 11 a.m. with registration at the Student Center. Assembling for the academic procession for the Student Center to Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center, where the actual inauguration will take place, begins at 1:30. Inaugural ceremonies will begin at 2:30 and will be followed by a reception in the foyer of the Fine Arts Center.

Following the 5:30 p.m. social hour at Wayne Country Club the evening banquet will begin at 7:30 in the south dining room at the Student Center.

Activities continue Saturday, with a breakfast for out of town guests at 9:30 a.m. at Redeemer Lutheran Church. A dedication ceremony will be held at 1:30 at the Walter Benhach Applied Science Building. Open house will be held at that building from 7 to 11:30 a.m.

The college's spring commencement is scheduled for Sunday, April 13.

Pay Talks Stalemated in Winside School System

Winside teachers and school board have reached a stalemate in pay negotiations for the 1975-76 school year.

As a result, both groups will name a representative to a three member fact finding committee in an attempt to settle disagreements over salary schedule and teacher insurance.

Both groups agree on the $7,500 base salary for the coming school year and on the four per cent pay hike for each year of teaching experience and the four per cent pay hike for each year of college credit beyond a bachelor's degree, said superintendent Don Leighton.

However, they disagree on deviating from the salary schedule to hire teachers and in increasing insurance coverage.

The teachers' committee has requested that the school district pay full single and full family insurance, a premium increase from about $6,800 to over $11,000, according to Leighton. The district presently pays full single and half of the family premium, totaling about $4,600 this year, Leighton said.

Last year, teachers and the board agreed on a $6,950 base salary with the same four per cent salary boosts.

2,974 Area People See 'Time to Run'

A total of 2,974 persons paid to see "Time to Run," a religious film shown at the Gay Theatre in Wayne for a full week recently.

In addition, there were 150 persons who publicly committed themselves to Christ following the nightly showings, according to local workers in charge of bringing the movie to Wayne.

"I think everybody who worked with the show was pretty happy with the attendance," one of those workers said.

The full length film was produced by World Wild Pictures and was released by the Billy Graham Film Ministry studios. It is being shown throughout the Midwest.

Allen Club Slates Tree-Selling Project

To help replenish trees destroyed by Dutch Elm disease the Allen Community Development Club will be selling trees about the middle of April.

Nearly a dozen varieties of newly grown trees will be available to all Allen residents at Security State Bank in Allen, said Craig Williams, who along with Paul Koester, is in charge of the tree sale.

Prices will range from $1 to $25 for two to three foot tall trees.

Windows Broken

Fifty two windows valued at about $45, were broken at the Hoskins grade school Monday and Tuesday nights, reports the Wayne County sheriff's office.

Monday night vandals destroyed 17 panes, then returned Tuesday night to break 47 panes, the sheriff's office said.

6-Concert Tour Is On Tap for WS Musicians

Finally, $1,000 Prize Is Claimed

Finally, after five weeks, somebody won the $1,000 Birth Day Bucks prize in Wayne.

The lucky person: Ted Reed of Wayne. His lucky birthday: Feb. 16, 1913.

Reed walked into Shrader & Allen Hatchery in the southeast part of the city Thursday night about 8 o'clock and was surprised to find that the winning date drawn at random in the Wayne Retail Association promotion matched his date of birth exactly. He rushed across the street to his home, picked up his billfold and hustled back to the store to show Bob Allen his driver's license with his birthday on it.

Reed will be able to spend those $1,000 in coupons at any participating business as if they were cash.

As a result of the grand prize finally being claimed, this week's drawing will be worth $300 if the prize is not won by a Wayne shopper with a birthday matching the date drawn, a $25 consolation prize will be given away and the grand prize will climb to $325 next week.

However, the grand prize won't climb as high as $1,000 again. A ceiling of $500 has been placed on the grand prize.

The drawings, held each Thursday and announced in participating stores at 8:15 that evening, are open to all residents of the area.

No purchase or registration is required, but a person must be in one of those stores taking part in the weekly promotion in order to win either the grand prize or the consolation prize.

'South Pacific' Offers Comedy, Singing

discussion over a pair of rare teeth found only on the island of Bali Hai, gathered around Mary and Billis are three Navy Seabees, played by, from left, Tim Howell, Rick Mitchell and Larry Creighton. Bottom right, Mark Cramer, playing Emile deBeque, and two island youngsters, Jerome and Ngana, played by Ben Cattle and Connie Heiser, sing "Dites-noi."

Question: to tax or not to tax food items

Increases in the cost of family food bills have focused new attention on the question as to whether the current state food sales tax credit on food should be retained but perhaps increased in amount or whether food items per se should be exempt from the Nebraska sales tax.

This comment comes from Dr. Everett Peterson, extension economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, in an analysis of the question currently receiving attention in the Legislature. Dr. Peterson noted that the present $13 food sales tax credit is equivalent to an exemption of $520 worth of food per person, whereas an average individual now spends nearly $800 on food annually. Comparable figures for a family of four are $2,080 and $3,200, respectively.

Therefore, the average consumer outside Lincoln and Omaha will pay about $20 in sales tax on food this year with 2 1/2 per cent sales tax.

Under the 1967 Nebraska Revenue

Act, Peterson recalled, the food sales tax credit was adopted as an alternative to exempting food items from the sales tax. The credit either reduces the state income tax of the citizen or allows him to receive a refund if he has little or no state income tax liability. The present $13 credit is nearly double that allowed when the law was enacted.

The situation has precipitated arguments for and against the food sales tax credit, as well as lining up proponents and opponents of the concept of fully exempting food items from the state income tax. Peterson stressed that this exemption would not include non-consumable items such as paper towels and floor wax purchased at a grocery store or other outlets and non-food edible items such as candy and beer.

"If one argues that the food sales tax credit should effectively exempt average food purchases from the sales tax, then the present $13 credit per person per year is not adequate," Peterson stated. He cited the following arguments by proponents of an expanded food credit that the present system should be left intact, with an increase in the amount of credit per exemption:

1. It's more convenient for the customer and grocer because exempt and non-exempt items do not have to be sorted out at the check-out counter.
2. Low income families benefit proportionally more than high income families who buy expensive food items.
3. The present program costs less to administer than would one in which food is fully exempted.
4. The present or expanded food credit results in less increase in the general sales or income tax of Nebraska than would full exemption of food items, which would exempt luxury food items as well as necessities.

Peterson said the principal arguments against the food sales tax credit are:

1. Residents of Nebraska for less than six months do not receive the food sales tax credit.
2. Food sales tax credit must be adjusted periodically because of rising food costs.
3. A state income tax form must be filed to receive the food sales tax or refund even though no state income tax is paid. Failure to fill out such forms would most directly affect low-income persons who need the relief the most.
4. Food consumers in Lincoln and Omaha, who pay an additional city sales tax, find the food sales tax credit less adequate than residents of outstate Nebraska.

Peterson said some observers feel the food sales tax arrangement is not the best way to reduce the regressive nature of the sales tax. They propose that "food items" be fully exempt when the customer purchases his food rather than provide for a credit or refund from the state income tax.

The NU economist cited these arguments for an against "full exemption" of legitimate food items.

- For:
- Everyone receives the food exemption without having to fill out a state income tax form.
 - Because all "food items" are exempt, there is no relation to average food purchases.
 - Full exemption adjusts automatically to continuing increases in food prices.
 - Exemption is immediate; an individual does not have to wait until a form is filed to receive a credit or refund.

Against: —Higher income persons and families would benefit more than low income people as compared with the present food sales tax credit system, because expensive foods would be exempt as well as those staples purchased by low income families.

- Full exemption would mean increased costs in time and money to consumers and retailers because of the necessity to sort exempt and non-exempt items at the check-out counter.
- Revenue would be lost from tourists and other travelers who now pay a sales tax on food purchases in Nebraska and do not receive refunds; on the other hand, Nebraskans pay such taxes in most other states.
- The machinery necessary to provide for full exemption of food would reportedly increase costs of tax administration to state government.
- Full exemption of food items from the state sales tax would result in less revenue to state and city governments; this in turn would mean other revenue would be needed, such as an increase in the income and sales tax rates, and higher property taxes in Lincoln and Omaha.

OBSERVATIONS

Moving in right direction

If the rest of a county-wide law enforcement program can be held within reason, we think such a move may be one of the best investments taxpayers of Wayne county could make.

It's no secret that small communities such as Winslow, Hoskins, Carroll and Sholes find it difficult to half criminal activity and acts of vandalism. Small towns are simply unable to afford the men and equipment that would require.

However, if the whole county is willing to support county-wide law enforcement, some of those headaches might evaporate.

Additional men and equipment would be needed for the county sheriff's department, but the cost of those men and that equipment in the long run might be considerably less than the present outlays by the individual towns for law enforcement and the losses they incur through crimes and vandalism. In addition, the effectiveness of the law in the rural areas of the county might be increased as a natural result of having more men patrolling the county regularly.

It seems to us that if such a program becomes a reality in this county, city officials in Wayne and the county commissioners should take another hard look at the possibility of consolidating the offices of the sheriff and the Wayne police department. It seems ridiculous to be operating two separate offices when one would do the job. Besides savings realized by halting duplication of employees, equipment and the like, the taxpayers would be offered a more efficient setup for their tax dollars.

Certainly, it would take an initial investment to expand the facilities of the sheriff's office at the courthouse. But, like the initial investment which would be necessary for a county-wide law enforcement program, the savings might easily pay off that investment in a few short years. — Norvin Hansen.

An age-old story: the man to fear is the tax collector

By the National Geographic Society

As one long-suffering citizen put it after looking at his shriveled bank balance on April 15: "A taxpayer is a person who doesn't have to pass a civil service exam to work for the government."

Those comforted by the adage that misery loves company can take heart — taxation was just as bad and sometimes worse in the good old days. The people of Lagash, an important city-state in ancient Sumer, overthrew their ruler 36 centuries ago for a new king who promised to reduce taxes and dismiss the tax agents.

But things apparently weren't much better a thousand years later. A contemporary cuneiform writer groused on a clay tablet: "You can have a lord, you can have a king, but the man to fear is the tax collector." Egypt's pharaohs gathered fortunes through direct levies and tribute. After dividing land among his people, Ramesses II (Great) (1279-1213 B.C.) set up a special tax scale based on the share each farmer received.

Three thousand years later levies on land still were a sore spot. The American author, Charles Dudley Warner observed, "The thing that is most generally raised on city land is taxes."

At various times and places, taxes have been levied on almost everything that people need or desire, including salt, tea, coffee, wine, furs, clothing, houses — even on water and grass consumed by animals.

Peter the Great of Russia taxed beards to promote the clean-shaven look. England's Queen Elizabeth I boosted wool production and her tax take by ordering all males to wear "a woollen cappe on Sondales and Holy days."

As cars are taxed today, so in the past were Roman chariots, coolie-drawn carts in the East and English hackney cabs.

At one time, Chinese inspectors at "squeeze stations" spaced along the highways extracted multiple tolls not only on merchant goods but on the belongings of ordinary travelers.

Throughout history people have met their taxes with all kinds of payments — everything from token bouquets of roses to a handful of peppercorns, vipers' teeth, hens, chesses, and veils.

In the United States, modern hard-liners bombard the Internal Revenue Service with things like the shirts off their backs and tape bandages which supposedly show how much it hurts. One man included a handful of bottons with his return. "You got the shirt last year," he explained. Mark Twain was even more direct when he answered this riddle: What is the difference between a taxidermist and a tax collector? Twain's answer: "The taxidermist takes only your skin."

'Have taxpayers been asked about girls' sports?'

Wayne

Dear Editor: I would like to comment on Sally Gavit's letter in the March 13th Wayne Herald. She voiced her opinion concerning basketball for girls.

I don't feel that asking some girls whether they want the school to offer basketball is really worth too much. Have they asked the taxpayers how they feel?

I commend Wilbur Giese for saying that until enough interest is shown the school should wait with offering it.

I would like to know if there is money available to start such a program. The reason I am interested is that I was informed the other day that the shop facilities at the high school are too small about there is no money available to enlarge them.

Each year many boys are not able to take shop because they do not have room. I feel more adequate shop facilities would be money spent much better than adding a basketball program for girls. In courses such as Metals I and Auto Mechanics, boys can receive training they can use the rest of their life. Enlarging the shop facilities so that all the boys who want to take shop could do so would make more sense than the big project the school board was contemplating, not too long ago (additional paved parking lot, baseball field, arbor/torium, etc.). — A Taxpayer.

'Beef industry very important to this area'

Wayne

Dear Editor: How important is the feeding of beef to choice grade in our area?

From 1968 to 1974 cattle piced on feed in Wayne County went from 105,000 to 64,000 head, a decline of 41,000 head. These cattle were probably sold for an average of $400 per head. This would result in a drop of $16.4 million. Most economists claim that every dollar in cattle sales directly generates an additional $5 to $6 of business in agri-business and agri-associated business.

The total business loss in Wayne county that this drop represents is $83 million. These dollars mean profits for our businesses and jobs for our people. We must promote the sale of choice steaks in the United States and around the world. — Merle Steler.

PEOPLE

Easter Services Planned At Carroll Churches

Carroll churches will be observing Holy Week and Easter Sunday with special worship services.

Maundy Thursday services and communion at the United Methodist Church have been set for 8 p.m., according to the Rev. Jim Scovill. The 6:30 a.m. Easter morning sunrise service will be conducted by the All Faith Youth Breakfast will be served following the sunrise service.

Family Supper Held
Twelve families attended the annual covered dish supper of Club 15, held March 7 in the Woman's Club room.

Cards were played for entertainment with prizes won by Frederick Janke, Mrs. Robert Foote, Ervin Hagemann and Mrs. Eldon Roberts.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jack Langemeier April 16 at 2 p.m.

Gunnar Swansons Observe 40th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Swanson of Laurel observed their 40th wedding anniversary at the Laurel city auditorium March 16. The event was hosted by the couple's children.

Approximately 210 guests attended the open house from Laurel, Concord, Wayne, Hartington, Kearney, Lincoln, Wakefield, Wynot, Randolph, Humphrey, South Sioux City, York, Carroll, Thurston, Cole ridge, Wisner, Allen, Newcastle, Dixon and Norfolk.

Guests were registered by Rick Hellbusch of Humphrey and gifts were arranged by Lynette and Renee Hellbusch of Humphrey and Kerry and Jewell Asbra of Laurel.

Among guests honoring the couple was Oscar Pearson of South Sioux City, an attendant at the couple's wedding 40 years ago.

Gerald MacDonald of York was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program and gave several humorous readings. Lynette Hellbusch presented two piano selections.

A mock wedding was performed by Roger Heitman, Walt Nielsen, Archie Lindsay, Gay Hartman, Leland Johnson, Clayton Hallen, Jim Joslin, Bernice Asbra and Steve Linn, all of Laurel, Roland Hellbusch of Humphrey and Dave MacDonald of Lincoln.

The anniversary cake, baked by Freda Swanson of Laurel, was cut and served by Minnie Ebker of Wayne and Betty Anderson of Concord. Pat MacDonald of York and LeAnn Bayer of Kearney poured and Ann Pearson of South Sioux City served punch.

Waitresses were Karin and Dennis Fegley and Lathan Asbra, all of Laurel. LeAnn White, head of Lincoln, LeAnn Bayer of Kearney and Loren Hellbusch of Humphrey.

Assisting in the kitchen were Evelyn Janssen, Lucille Heitman, Helen Anthon, Layla Finley and Lillian Hirsch, all of Laurel.

Swansons were married March 17, 1935, at Concord, and Mrs. Everett Roberts will host the Pla Mor Bridge Club at their next meeting, April 2 at 7:30 p.m.

'All Youngsters Are Unique'

ALL CHILDREN are different, and parents should learn to appreciate those differences rather than comparing their youngsters to others. That's one of the points area home economist Linda Sander of the Northeast Station near Concord made during a Wayne County home extension leader training lesson titled "The Impressionable Years" which she gave in Wayne Friday morning. Eighteen women turned out for the session, listening to what the home economist had to say about children and learning more about children thanks to the cartoon characters' personalities and a session during Mrs. Sander's talk. Similar sessions also were given in Coleridge, Watthill, Dakota City and at the Northeast Station earlier in the week.

Teen-Agers Invited to Learn Clothing Selection

Linda Sander, area home agent at the Northeast Station, near Concord, has scheduled a mini-course, open to all area teen-agers, 13 years and older, on "Clothing Selection."

Topics to be covered during the course will include fabrics, fiber content, clothing care, color selection and coordination, and styles.

Teen-agers do not need to be a member of 4-H to enroll in the course which will consist of two evening sessions. Meetings will be held April 8 at the Chamber office in Wayne and April 15 at the McDonald's store in Wayne. Neil Dinges, manager of McDonald's, will be showing various garments and styles for boys. Both meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Persons interested in attending the session should send their name to Linda Sander, area home agent, Northeast Station, Concord Neb., by April 4.

Auxiliary Meets Friday

Twenty-four members of the Wayne Hospital Auxiliary and a guest, Mrs. John Witkowski, met in the Woman's Club room Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Edna Casper gave the thought for the day, entitled "Today is Ours," and read two poems, "Let My Heart be Filled With Love" and "Friendship." In keeping with the Easter theme, Mrs. Mathilde Harms read a poem, entitled "The Oldest Easter Message." Goldie Leonard read "The Old Country Store."

Mrs. Orville Sherry reported that Marra Home Improvement at 220 S. Main will be open April 5-18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to store articles for the auxiliary's rummage sale, set for April 9. It was announced that the date for the annual fall bazaar has been changed from Nov. 15 to Nov. 8.

Hostesses for Friday's meeting were Mrs. Mildred West, Mrs. W. A. Wollenhaupt and Mrs. Alex Lisika.

The group will not meet in April. Next meeting has been set for May 16 at 2 p.m. in the Woman's Club room.

Guest Day Is Friday

Wayne Federated Woman's Club guest day, postponed from Jan. 10 because of the bad weather, has been rescheduled for this Friday.

The program will include a review of Carl Menniger's book, "Whatever Became of Sin." Reviewer will be Mrs. C. F. Maynard.

The meeting has been scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Woman's Club room.

Winside Trackmen Aiming to Keep Up Winning Trend

Championship teams seem to be the trend this year at Winside High School. First, the football team won the Lewis and Clark Conference, then the wrestling squad won the Class C state title.

Now, Winside's track club will try to make it three in a row, going after the conference title as well as the state plum.

LAGE

These teams by coach Carter Peterson may come true if his sprinters can keep up with the already improving distance runners and field personnel.

"When you get into the distance runs in Northeast Nebraska, (Gregg) Lage's name is going to be there — even in the state," said Peterson about his returning state mile and two mile champion.

Lage, who played on this year's football team and arrested at state, should be among the top Class C runners again this year, according to Peterson. His performance of course will be an important factor in the team's showing in dual and invitational meets, said Peterson, but so will performances by another pair of conference contenders Mike Anderson in the shot put and discus, Dwight Lienemann in the high and low hurdles, both also played football and wrestled.

Last year Anderson, a 225 pound senior, heaved the shot 44 feet and spun the discus 139 feet. "Mike has the potential for 50 feet in the shot and 150 feet in the discus," Peterson said.

Two others who figure strong in the shot are senior John Mandorski and junior Bob Hoffmann.

Questions still remain who will compete in the triple jump, pole vault 100 and 200.

Ten of Winside's 32 boys out for track already have some experience at indoor meets, which should prove valuable, Peterson noted.

Besides those mentioned, junior Dave Mann is showing promise in the 440 and 880 yard run. Peterson said last year Mann finished seventh in the state competition with a time of 2:21.2. He has finished the 440 in 54.

Kolter veterans making up this year's squad (event in parenthesis) — Terry Hawkins (800, mile), Neil Wagner (880, 2 mile) and Roger Wells (400, 800).

Peterson figures senior Terry Lühr will help his team in the distance runs. Lühr, who didn't participate last year, is doing well in indoor meets, Peterson noted.

AHS Pitchers Plentiful; Question Mark Is Infield

Allen High's baseball team will be long on pitching experience this season but short on infield savvy when the Eagles open against Wakefield April 1.

Coach Robert Moore has four hurlers vying for a starting spot, including senior veteran Paul Snyder. Also in the running are senior Loren Book, junior Jeff Creamer and sophomore Brad Chase.

The third-year head man figures Allen's pitching staff has to look good, since most of his hurlers saw action last year's team and in Legion ball.

If Moore can find the right combination behind the plate, he figures Allen will have a salty battery. The graduation of catcher Neil Blohm left a big gap in Allen's battery, Moore pointed out. However, Moore expects the team to take shape if Book, senior Don Kliver or sophomore Kevin Hohenstein show promise at catching.

When not behind the plate, Kliver will be in the outfield with veterans Dave Dunn and Doug Smith, both seniors. Also seeing duty in the outfield will be freshman Rayme Dowling.

Freshmen Tod Ellis, Gary Brownell and Lin Smith appear to be making up the infield nucleus along with junior Lindy Koester and possibly Dundy.

"It's a big question mark right now who will play infield. I'll just have to wait until we practice outside," Moore said.

Expected to lead Allen's hitting corps are last year's top hitters, Snyder (360), Kliver (300) and Book (225).

Winside Matmen Win Neligh Meet

Winside's junior high matmen broke their string of second-place finishes in tournament competition Thursday night with a victory at the Neligh invitational.

Paced by six winners Winside stormed past three other teams with a record 102 points. Host Neligh finished second with 91 points while Plainview had 66 and Elgin Pope John had 39.

Leading Winside were winners Rick Bowers (72), Tom Anderson (64), Tom Kall (104), Randy Willis (120), Eric Vanhkanen (136) and Mitch Pfeiffer (144).

Aggressive action highlighted Winside's wrestling, said coach Doug Barclay. The club never trailed.

Finishing second were Joedy Brummels (112), Todd Gruenke (128) and Boyd Rempher (152). Jay Kocik took third.

Brummels almost became Winside's seventh first place winner before losing a 3-1 decision to two-time AAU winner Tony Day of Neligh.

Tonight (Monday) at 7 Winside raps up its season with a home dual against Wayne.

Hot-Scoring Team 1 Heads for Playoffs

Twenty-point efforts by Bill Workman and Ken Liska plus Sid Hillier's 16 point powered Team 1 into the playoff finals of city recreation B league basketball Wednesday night. The trio led their team to a 62-51 conquest of Team 3.

The season champs jumped to 34-17 halftime command and held off Team 3's second half surge for the right to meet Team 4 for the playoff title at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. Leading Team 3 were Bob Reeg and Ron Fink, who finished with 15 and 14 points.

In the first game Wednesday, Team 3 will battle Team 2 for third place in the playoffs.

Last week Team 2 escaped with a 51-49 victory over winless Team 5. Norvin Hansen and Hank Overin poured in 14 and 13 points while teammate Mark Lowe hit 10 to lead double figure scoring for the winners. Top scorers for Team 5 were Dennis Spangler and Don Sherman with 18 and 15 points.

Other scoring: Team 1 — Chris Luenders 5, Jerry Graef 1; Team 3 — Steve Schumacher 8, Jack Manske 8, Gene Casey 4, Harold Wilde 2.

Team 2 — Bill Woehler 8, Terry Kumm 4, Sam Schroeder 2. Team 5 — Steve Hix 8, Perry Backstrom 8.

NENAC Tabs Laurel Cagers for Loop Honor

Surprises seem to keep popping up when it comes time to picking the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference all-loop team each year.

Last year Laurel High won the loop title, but failed to place any on the top five quint. This year the Bears finished third in the standings and had two players named to the first team.

Named to first five during a coaches' meeting Wednesday night at Creighton were Laurel seniors Sterling Stolpe and Mark Anderson; Tim Sivesind, O'Neill Scott, Fredman, Creighton and Mike Murphy, Neligh.

"Sterling was our leading scorer on a well-balanced team with a 13-point average," said Parks, noting that Stolpe was the deciding factor in several important games. Anderson, Parks went on, averaged almost 10 points a game and was a strong defensive player, often assuming the responsibility as floor leader.

Making the second team were Mike Gooden, Bloomfield; Scott Settle, Pierce; Steve Erwin, O'Neill; Cary Kruse, Randolph, and Randy Kool, Crofton.

Receiving honorable mention were Doug Ketselen, Bloomfield; Kim McCrady and Jim Clouston, Plainview; Jim Wachter, Pierce; Ross Udey, Neligh; Dwight Rossbach, Randolph, and Mike Jackson, Crofton.

Marvel, Seymour Disagree

for some type of coordination to save money. He said the situation in all of the colleges will get worse in the years ahead because of predicted decreases in college enrollment.

The total state college system budget currently is $19 million, of which $10.6 million comes from general fund.

The state college board of trustees has requested $21.4 million for the entire system, of which $13.8 million would come from general fund.

For its continuation budget, Wayne State has requested $4,395,082, and the governor has recommended $4,261,953 for Wayne State's continuing budget.

Under its new and expanding program budget, what Wayne has requested parallels what the analyst office recommends except for Wayne State's Nebraska European Institute program.

The program includes travel-study institutes in Scandinavia, Spain, Great Britain, Germany and France.

Wayne State has requested $35,315 for this program, but the fiscal analyst has recommended nothing "because of the general philosophy that programs to be included should relate to direct instruction."

But the fiscal analyst has recommended the same amount Wayne State has requested for women's athletics, special education, continuing education and instructional equipment.

Senator Rupp would not let the state college presidents discuss faculty pay improvements because of the proposal awaiting final action before the Legislature which would give all state employees five per cent increases plus about $500. Added to that would be two per cent for merit and one per cent for discretionary raises.

The board also is asking restoration of legislative payment of utilities for the dormitories, now financed out of student fees, which also financed construction of the residence halls.

The cost would be about $378,359. In addition, the board is asking for reduction of non-resident tuition to resident rates (from $27.50 per credit hour to $11.50). The fiscal impact of the trustees' proposal is $315,002.

The fiscal analyst recommends the financing remain as it is now — non-residents continuing to pay the higher tuition and that utilities for revenue bond buildings continuing to be paid through user fees.

The proposal to reduce non-resident tuition was initiated by J. Alan Cramer, publisher of The Wayne Herald.

He could not attend the public hearing because of a conflict, so Seymour addressed the appropriations committee for him.

MAKING UP this year's swim team are (not in order) Julie Ellis, Tracy Stoltenberg, Allen James, Lisa Barclay, LaVonna Sharpe, Peg Pinkelman, Penny James, Cindy Lindner, Jeff Edmonds, Jeremy Edmonds, Shelly Gildersteeve, Kevin Joch, Greg Noyes, Randy Pinkelman and coach Doug Krecklow. Errors Aside, Cats' Pitching 'Good'

Despite some defensive errors, Wayne State's pitching is looking good. Friday, Wayne bowled twice, 13.8 and 14.0. Wayne's starting battery of John Zygwart and Nick Danze got into trouble in the bottom of the third in the first game when Oklahoma collected nine runs.

Wayne selected Oklahoma's bats most of the game when reliever Steve Kellen, a freshman, took over in the third. The Cats attempted a comeback in the fifth and sixth frames with seven runs, getting circuit hits from Randy Miller and Jerry Frerichs.

In the second game, pitcher Jim Mergen sent the distance, giving up six hits in the Cats' 4-0 defeat.

Thursday, Wayne ran into American Christian College at Tulsa, Okla., losing, 16-5 and 3-1. No other information was available.

Wayne catapulted into 1975 baseball Wednesday by playing outcasts for the first time and garnering 31 and 87 wins over KSU.

In the opener, junior hurler Bob DeVaul of Pocatohos, Ia., went the route and gave up only three hits, all in the third inning when K State scored its one run.

Wayne jumped on the hosts with three first-inning runs, chasing starter Les Sutton after one out. Three batters walked. Randy Miller of Omaha doubled in two runs, and a passed ball scored the third. Thereafter, Wayne got three more scattered hits. Both teams went errorless.

In the nightcap, junior south paw Pat Hall of Estherville, Ia., went five innings for Wayne before yielding to another Estherville product, senior right hander Jim Mergen. At that point, Wayne led, 8-7, but Mergen found himself in a predicament no outs, runners on first and third. A walk loaded the bases.

Honors Nordstrand

The Wayne State Faculty Club honored dean Norman Nordstrand Thursday night at its annual recognition reception. Nordstrand will be stepping down from his administration duties at the end of this academic year.

A member of the WSC faculty since 1966, he has held numerous positions both as an administrator and teacher. One of his major accomplishments was development of the college's extensive international education program.

Speaking in tribute to Nordstrand were WS president Lyle Seymour and Val Peterson, former U.S. ambassador who was closely associated with Nordstrand for several years in the diplomatic service.

The Faculty Club also elected officers for the 1975-76 year: Dr. Russell Rasmussen, president; Clifton Ginn, vice president; and Dr. Mary Arlene Schultz, secretary. Treasurer, Dr. Maria Grovas and Dr. Hilbert Jobs, who arranged the recognition reception.

Tickets for the social banquet will be available for the next two weeks, according to Mrs. Runestad, and should be purchased as quickly as possible because of limited seating capacity. Four hundred tickets are being made available for the banquet. Only a few invitations will be sent out in Wayne. Mrs. Runestad pointed out they will go to Henry Ley, present member of the board of trustees of the state colleges, past board members and members of the board of directors of Wayne State Foundation. Others will go to state officials and representatives of colleges and universities in the Midwest, she noted.

2nd Guessers Name Workman President

Bill Workman has been named president of Second Guessers for the 1975-76 term. It was announced Thursday during the club's weekly meeting.

Workman, who served as program chairman this term, succeeds Cal Comstock, who steps down after heading the Wayne

Named to replace Workman as program chairman was Bud Froelich. Serving as club treasurer will be Darrell Heier, taking over for college athletic director Dr. LeRoy Simpson

Ponds Suffer From Winter Fish Kill

Spot checks of farm ponds in Northeast Nebraska by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission indicate that many ponds may have suffered a winter fish kill due to lack of sufficient oxygen.

Low amounts of dissolved oxygen in most ponds can be attributed partly to reduced water level due to last year's drought, according to Lee Rupp, district fisheries supervisor in Northeast Nebraska. To safeguard from an oxygen shortage, Rupp went on, ponds should be at least 10 feet deep over one quarter of their area.

Low levels of oxygen in ponds also can occur when sunlight is shut off from plant life beneath the surface, either because of long periods of cloudiness or an accumulation of snow on the ice, Rupp said. Without sunlight the oxygen yielding processes stop and plants die, he said.

In addition to the loss of an oxygen source, death of plants poses another threat to fish. When plants begin to decompose, they use up oxygen in the process, lowering the amount available to fish, Rupp explained. This makes ponds with a high accumulation of vegetation usually more susceptible to winter kill, he noted.

A Farmer's Creed

I believe a man's greatest possession is his dignity and that no calling bestows this more abundantly than farming.

I believe hard work and honest sweat are the building blocks of a person's character.

I believe that farming, despite its hardships and disappointments, is the most honest and honorable way a man can spend his days on this earth.

I believe farming nurtures the close family ties that make life rich in ways money can't buy.

I believe my children are learning values that will last a lifetime and can be learned in no other way.

I believe farming provides education for life and that no other occupation teaches so much about birth, growth and maturity in such a variety of ways.

I believe many of the best things in life are indeed free: the splendor of a sunrise, the rapture of wide open spaces, the exhilarating sight of your land greening each spring.

I believe true happiness comes from watching your crops ripen in the field, your children grow tall in the sun, your whole family feel the pride that springs from their shared experience.

I believe that by my toil I am giving more to the world than I am taking from it, an honor that does not come to all men.

I believe my life will be measured ultimately by what I have done for my fellowman, and by this standard I fear no judgment.

I believe when a man grows old and sums up his days, he should be able to stand tall and feel pride in the life he's lived.

I believe in farming because it makes all this possible.

NOT JUST THOSE IN THE "WRONG" NEIGHBORHOODS

Out of sight, out of mind. Perhaps ugly scenes like this are never viewed by most of us but they do exist. They are a menace, not just to those who live or work in the vicinity of polluted areas, but to all of us. You can't isolate something like pollution . . . it spreads its insidious filth through every level of society, contaminating our air, water, and land today and threatening disastrous consequences for generations to come. We must all mobilize against the elements that contribute to pollution — beginning with the empty beer can tossed out of a car window, to the conditions that permit rat-infested slum areas. Our environment is a precious heritage . . . let's preserve it for ourselves and for future Americans!

Twenty members of the Elderly Care Club met Monday evening at the Hoskins Fine Hall with Mrs. A. Bruggeman and Mrs. Carl Wittler in charge. Pitch prizes were won by Katherine Asmus and Edwin Meierhenry, high, and Mrs. Arthur Behmer and George Wittler, low.

Next meeting will be April 2. Committee in charge is Mrs. Walter Fenske and Mrs. George Wittler.

Janice Krenz spent the weekend in the Henry Krenz home, New Ulm, Minn.

Lynn Rebers, Chambers, spent last weekend in the Clinton Reber home. Clarence Schroeder were Friday evening guests to honor Lynn's birthday. The birthday cake was baked by Carla Reber.

Mrs. Adolph Sautz, Plainview, Mrs. Ella Buchanan, Osmond, Mrs. Irene Fletcher, Mrs. Vernon Behmer and Mrs. Evelyn Krause were no-host dinner guests Monday in the home of Mrs. Wendell Rohrberg, Osmond, for the hostess' birthday. Mrs. Irene Fletcher baked the birthday cake.

Mrs. Harry Alfrey, Ligonier, Ind., Mrs. Rose Walker, Norfolk, Ann Scheurich and Mrs. Irene Tunink were Wednesday afternoon visitors in the Clarence Schroeder home.

Business notes...

Winside resident Larry Lewis, an insurance representative with Combined Insurance Co. of America, has received an award for outstanding sales and service to the public.

Lewis won the Pearl Award in the W. Clement Stone International Sales and Management Achievement Club for his work in the company's health income protection insurance program. The international club is named after the company's founder and board chairman.

The Combined group of companies specialize in non-cancelable accident and health insurance protection and life insurance. Lewis joined Combined in August 1973 as a representative.

Deadline Nears For Taxpayers

Less than a month remains for Nebraska taxpayers to file their 1974 federal income tax returns. "Even though taxpayers are filing returns earlier this year than in the past, nearly half of Nebraska's expected returns are yet to be received," said Everett Louny, district IRS director for Nebraska.

Besides receiving refund check faster, early filers have another advantage this year, said Louny. "We will be able to handle any possible rebates faster on returns already received and processed." Louny gave these suggestions for an accurate return: "Even though taxpayers are filing returns earlier this year than in the past, nearly half of Nebraska's expected returns are yet to be received," said Everett Louny, district IRS director for Nebraska.

Taxpayers can receive free tax help by either contacting their nearest IRS office or calling the toll-free telephone number listed on the front cover of the tax return.

Policy on Weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutting underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Easter Lamb

by Sandy Bloom, Midwest Roto Food Consultant

The first stirring of spring is in the air, and this atmosphere can be reflected at the Easter table with a delicious change-of-pace meal featuring a flavorful lamb cut.

After a winter of beef or pork meals, your family will welcome the change. Genuine spring lamb has a delicate, yet distinctive, flavor that combines with fruit, vegetables and a variety of seasonings in a pleasing way.

Fine quality lamb is normally available on the market all year round . . . not just in the spring. It can be used in so many imaginative recipes that it can figure in meal plans frequently without losing the family's interest.

It's economical!

Lamb Chops with Vegetable Dressing

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 4 loin lamb chops, 1-inch thick | 2 tablespoons chopped canned pimiento |
| 4 thin slices onion | 1 teaspoon paprika |
| 2 tablespoons margarine | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup sliced celery | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 cup sliced mushrooms | 1/4 cup bouillon |
| 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs | Salt and pepper |
| 1/4 cup chopped parsley | |

Cut slits in lamb chops. Insert onion slices in slits. Heat margarine in skillet; add celery and mushrooms and cook until tender. Add crumbs, parsley, pimiento, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and bouillon; mix well. Turn into shallow baking pan. Top with chops. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Bake at 300 degrees for about 1 hour or until chops are tender.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks

- | | |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 4 lamb shanks, 1 lb. each | 3 tablespoons sugar |
| Flour | 2 tablespoons vinegar |
| 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine | 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce |
| 1 cup water (about) | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1/3 cup chopped onion | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce | |
| 1/4 cup water | |

Lightly dust lamb shanks with flour. In a large Dutch oven melt 1/4 cup margarine over medium heat. Brown lamb shanks on all sides. Reduce heat. Gradually add 1 cup water. Cover and simmer about 1 1/2 hours or until tender. If necessary, add water during cooking to maintain simmering liquid. When shanks are fully cooked, remove from liquid and cool. Cover and refrigerate until ready to grill.

In a medium saucepan, melt remaining 1/4 cup margarine. Add chopped onion and saute until tender. Stir in tomato sauce, 1/4 cup water, sugar, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Bring mixture to a boil; reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Cool slightly; chill until ready to use.

Remove lamb from refrigerator about 20 minutes before grilling. Cover each shank with barbecue sauce. Use any remaining sauce to moisten meat while grilling. Grill shanks over medium heat until thoroughly heated and crisp. Makes 4 servings.

Lamb Curry

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 1 lb. diced shoulder of lamb | 1/2 cup milk |
| 3 tablespoons margarine | 1/4 cup lemon juice |
| 1 large onion, sliced | 1/2 cup flaked coconut |
| 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of celery soup | 1 1/2 tablespoons curry powder |
| | Cooked rice |
- Melt margarine in large skillet.

Cook lamb and onion over medium heat until lamb is browned on all sides. Add condensed soup, milk, lemon juice, coconut and curry powder. Cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve over cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Lamb Curry

Roast Leg of Lamb

Lamb and Vegetable Bake

- 1 lb. boneless lamb, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 envelope dry onion gravy mix
- $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- Dash pepper
- 1 cup water
- 2 medium potatoes, cut in $\frac{1}{4}$ inch slices
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen green beans, thawed

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place family size oven cooking bag in 2-inch deep roasting pan. Add lamb. Combine flour, gravy mix, salt, monosodium glutamate, and pepper; stir in water. Pour mixture over meat. Top with potato slices and green beans. Secure bag with twist tie and make six half-inch slits in top. Cook for 1½ hours or until tested tender. Makes 4 servings.

Chinese Barbecued Lamb

- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 - 3 tablespoons orange juice
 - $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon allspice
 - 3 tablespoons brown sugar
 - 1 small clove garlic, finely chopped
 - 2 lbs. 1-inch cubes lamb shoulder
- Combine all ingredients and chill 1 to 2 hours, turning occasionally. Arrange lamb on skewers. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat for five to seven minutes. Turn and broil about 5 to 7 minutes, or until desired degree of doneness. Brush with soy sauce mixture during broiling period. May also be done on outdoor grill.

Roast Leg of Lamb

To roast a leg of lamb, place it fat side up on a rack in an open, low-sided pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Insert a roast meat thermometer. Roast at 325 degrees according to the following schedule:

Weight	Approx. Roasting Time	Internal Temperature
6 lbs.	3 hours	175° (medium)
	3½ hours	180° (well done)
8 lbs.	4 hours	175° (medium)
	4½ hours	180° (well done)

Gourmet Seasoned Sauce

- 1 can (12½ oz.) chicken consomme
- 1 can (2 oz.) whole mushrooms
- 1 bay leaf, crushed
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon water
- 2 tablespoons red currant jelly
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground rosemary
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup raisins
- 1 cup dairy sour cream, optional

Pour chicken consomme and juice from the mushrooms into a small saucepan. Add bay leaf. Heat to boiling. Combine cornstarch and water. Stir this mixture into the sauce. Heat until sauce thickens and boils. Add currant jelly, rosemary, pepper, and raisins. If desired, fold in 1 cup of sour cream. Serve hot over slices of roast leg of lamb.

How well are you managing your middle years?

By Walter Duckat If you are between thirty-five and fifty, you are in your middle years. As you approach the forties, and the grey in your hair increases and steps that must be climbed seem to grow taller, you perceive the grim passage of time.

He who deals wisely with the passage of time, pursues activities that will enable him to function both physically and emotionally at the optimal level. To learn how well you are managing your own middle years answer the items in the following questions that best describes you, then turn to the scoring section for your score.

1. Are you more than fifteen pounds overweight? Yes No
2. Do you believe that marriage offers more satisfactions than irritations? Yes No
3. In view of the great unrest among youth, do you consider childless persons fortunate? Yes No

4. For the most part, are you satisfied with your vocation? Yes No
5. Are weekends and vacations mostly pleasurable occasions? Yes No
6. Have you developed a circle of friends whose company you enjoy? Yes No
7. Do you pursue any hobby that you relish? Yes No
8. Do you regularly devote some time to keeping fit or looking more attractive? Yes No
9. Is some of your time devoted to communal or humanitarian activities? Yes No
10. Have you developed the ability to endure the disappointments and reverses of life with a reasonable amount of acceptance? Yes No
11. Do you still strive to cultivate your skills, intelligence and personality? Yes No
12. Are you trapped by the problem of keeping up with the Joneses? Yes No
13. Do you suffer from bouts of depression? Yes No
14. Do you usually find unexpected situations or unconventional ideas upsetting? Yes No
15. For the most part, do you view life optimistically? Yes No
16. Do you find yourself increasingly interested in non-material or spiritual matters? Yes No

We've got the combination.

It wasn't easy making a coffee that looks and smells like ground roast and tastes fresh-perked. But we did it. Taster's Choice 100% freeze-dried coffee. And for you decaffeinated drinkers, Taster's Choice Decaffeinated with the green label, 97% caffeine-free. Nice combination.

We look, smell and taste like ground roast.

Family Lives in 107-Room "House"

by Grover Brinkman

Spinning back the clock two years and taking inventory, Charles and Loretta Walters found they had seven children, a ceramics shop and a sizeable collection of antiques. What they didn't have was enough living space for the family and assorted possessions. The need was desperate.

Today, conditions have drastically changed!

Their new home happens to be a 107-room "house," just off the main street in the Southern Illinois town of Breese. There are bedrooms galore, even for grandmother and the various overnight guests the children bring home.

The fact that their new home looks strangely like an aging hospital bothers the Walters not one bit. For that is exactly what the building was used for, until the Walters purchased it just weeks before the headache ball was being moved in to demolish the 76-year-old structure no longer in use as a medical facility.

Old St. Joseph Hospital, its crosses emblazoned on its brick front, had been unused for four years when the Walters found it. A new, much-larger hospital recently completed north of Breese made the old building obsolete.

The hallways on the ground floor, where uniformed nuns previously pit-patted up and down the corridors, seeing to the wants of patients, is now filled with jabbering, happy children, ceramics and assorted property.

The chapel has been turned into a gift shop featuring samples of the ceramics the Walters and their employes produce. The sacristy houses a big Christmas tree that is a permanent fixture, decked out with various types of craft items the children make.

The old first floor kitchen has been turned into a paint room. The laboratory is the coffee room, and the X-ray lab is a storage area. What once were doctor consultation rooms are now piled high with greenware. And one might not believe this, but the operating room is now a classroom.

One first floor office is rented to a woman for use as a doll hospital. A shop at the entrance sells quilts. The business office is given over to hobby material. There is plenty of room for everything.

The Walters family reside on the second floor, where a waiting room at the top of the stairs is their living room. Mr. and Mrs. Walters have a suite of rooms at one end of the hall. The children, Juanita, 17; Gwendolyn, 16; Jeffrey, 13; Roderica, 10; and Alexander, 3, each have separate rooms on the same floor. So has Cynthia Rice, 15, a cousin currently visiting them.

Two of the family's seven children are no longer at home. Woody, 21, lives in Virginia, where the rest of the family resided until moving to Southern Illinois in 1969. Sylvia, 19, is attending Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The children's grandmother, Mrs. Verna Walters, lives on the third floor as well, in what was once the hospital's nursery. And the kitchen, unlike most culinary facilities, is on the third floor!

"My mother-in-law is priceless," says Loretta Walters. "She's an admirable cook, and spends her spare time keeping us buttoned up."

Where the nuns once had their cafeteria a work room now flourishes. What once was the huge kitchen for the entire hospital now is the laundry room for the Walters. Mr. Walters cares for two coal-fired boilers that supply hot water and heat for the large building. A former machine repairman in the Navy, he now realizes how much that training will come into good use, keeping the plumbing and heating systems operable. Currently, Walters has a full-time job as a stove assembler in a plant at Belleville, 25 miles to the west.

Mrs. Walters says the utility bills are bearable, and living in the huge old hospital building isn't more expensive than in an ordinary home.

Mrs. Walters says she doesn't get excited too easily, but recently she had a bad moment. A van pulled up and a young man raced up the walk with a package in his arms. It was a blood delivery.

Juanita Walters smiled as she told about her escort bringing her home from a school function, seeing the huge building, presuming she lived in an orphanage.

"What can you expect when you live in a 107-room house?" Mrs. Walters asked, and everyone chuckled.

Get rid of stains detergent alone can't budge.

There are a lot of stains detergents just can't get out. You know that.

But did you know that if you pre-soak your laundry in Axion, and then wash it in your regular detergent, most of those stains will come out as easily as ordinary dirt?

And that's not all. Axion can give you cleaner laundry right in the wash cycle, too.

Tests have shown that adding Axion to your regular detergent right in the washing machine gives you laundry that's cleaner than you can get from any detergent alone.

There you have it, Axion can help make your laundry stainless and clean. All you have to do is use it.

Nothing's more creative, more rewarding, or more basic than baking. And baking's both fun and an economical way to feed your family. Fleischmann's Basic Oatmeal Dough is a whole new way of baking that starts with just one simple, nutritious recipe.

Follow it exactly and you've got old-fashioned oatmeal bread. Give the dough a twist and you'll get rolls. Add walnuts, and pretty soon you'll be serving your family walnut bread.

It's that simple. Why not open a package of Fleischmann's® Yeast and start with the basic recipe. Then, divide it up to make one or more of these tempting ideas. But don't stop there. Because creativity's the whole idea behind this basic recipe. Experiment. Design. Let your imagination go wild. And pretty soon you'll find there's no more fun than baking, especially if you're baking with Fleischmann's Yeast.

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1 c. flour, 1½ tsp. salt and 1 package undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

Combine 1½ c. water, ¼ c. milk, ¼ c. molasses and ¼ c. margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120°F-130°F). Add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 egg, 1 c. steel cut or old-fashioned oatmeal, and ½ c. flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough flour (3½-4 c.) to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch dough down. Proceed according to directions below for desired shape or shapes.

Round loaves: Divide dough in half. Shape each half into a smooth round ball. Place on a greased baking sheet. Flatten slightly. Cover, let rise until doubled, about 1 hour. Bake at 400°F. about 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheet and place on wire racks to cool.

Rolls: Divide dough in half; divide each half into 12 equal pieces. Form each piece into a pencil-shaped 9-inch roll. Hold one end of dough firmly and wind dough loosely around; tuck end underneath. Place on a greased baking sheet. Cover, let rise until doubled, about 1 hour. Bake at 375°F. about 15 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheet and cool on wire racks.

Walnut bread: Divide dough in half. Knead ½ c. chopped walnuts into each half. Roll each half to a 8 x 12 inch rectangle. Shape into loaves. Place in 2 greased 3½ x 4½ x 2½-inch loaf pans. Cover, let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour 15 minutes. Bake at 400°F. about 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and place on wire racks to cool.
