Local Lady Wins Herald's Baby Contest

Mrs. Don Sherbahn of Wayne correctly matched 19 local businessmen with their baby pictures to win the top prize of $50 in The Wayne Herald's Baby Week Contest in last Thursday's issue of the newspaper.

She received $50 in Birthday Bucks, good for purchases in any business, helping sponsor the weekly drawings in Wayne.

Mrs. Melvin Schroeder, also of Wayne, matched 17 of those baby pictures with their present day counterparts to win the second place prize of $25 in Birthday Bucks.

Winning the third place prize by matching 16 of the baby pictures was Mrs. Ed Niemann Jr. of Wayne. Her prize was $15 in Birthday Bucks.

Mrs. Sherbahn correctly identified the baby pictures of Phil Griess, Joe Nuss, Gerald Bofen kamp, Roger Nelson, Chuck Garhart, Bob Sherry, Larry Johnson, Jack March, Bob Reeg, Bud McNeill, Harold Surber, Clarence Kuhn, Maurice "Red" Carr, Al Wittig, Les Luff, Mel Elston, Bill Reeg, Mern Mordhorst and Steve Schma cher.

The contest, one of the most popular and most talked about ones ever sponsored by the newspaper, drew entries from readers in and around Wayne, Winside, Carroll, Laurel, Concord, Wakefield and Wisner.

For those contestants who didn't do as well as the top three winners — and for other still puzzled about what baby pictures belong to whom — a full page inside this issue matches the businessmen with their early photographs. You'll find that explanation on page eight of the second section.

Commissioners Name 3 Men to Planning Group

Wayne County commissioners Tuesday appointed three more members to the county's joint planning commission, the group which will be responsible for zoning the entire county.

Named to the commission were Bill McQuistan Jr. of rural Pender, Lloyd Behmer of rural Winside and Neil Sandahl of rural Wakefield.

They join commissioner appointees Stanley Hansen of rural Carroll and Frederick Mann of rural Wayne.

Also on the commission will be Mern Mordhorst of Wayne, Art Behmer of Hoskins and Phil Olson of Carroll, who have been appointed by the governing boards of those communities to represent them in the rural zoning activities. Not named yet is a person to represent the village of Winside.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners named Earl Duering of Winside to the county ration board to replace Fred Brader of Winside, who declined appointment. Duering joins chairman Merlin Beiermann of Wayne, Howard McClain of Carroll, Herman Opler of Hoskins, Wernse Mann of Winside and county clerk Norris Weible of Wayne.

Commissioners gave agricultural agent Don Spitz permission to obtain estimates for remodeling work he wishes undertaken in office in the courthouse. The work would provide additional office space necessary for the area home economist who now uses the county agent's office during stops in Wayne.

WS Cites Doctor for Outstanding Service

Wayne State College bestowed its Distinguished Service Award on Dr. Walter Benthack, Wayne physician, at spring commencement Sunday.

The award, given periodically, honors recipients for exceptional service to education and the public.

Dr. Benthack, who has practiced medicine in Wayne more than four decades, served on the state college governing board from 1939 to 1945.

Saturday the college dedicated its new applied science building named for Dr. Benthack. Also announced at commencement were three awards given by the Wayne State Foundation. The Excellence in Teaching award of $250 to Allen O'Donnell, associate professor of political science. The Senior Excellence awards of $100 each to Brian Stollenberg of Carroll and Mark Mendez Vigo of O'Fallon, Ill., formerly of Bellevue, where he graduated from high school in 1971. The two recipients ranked at the top of their graduating class.

WS's Newest Building Officially Open

Dr. Walter Benthack symbolically received the keys to a special building Saturday, the key to Wayne State's newest center of learning, the Benthack Hall of Applied Science.

In a brief dedication ceremony, witnessed by about 300, the longtime Wayne physician responded to remarks by Henry Ley, Wayne member of the State College Board of Trustees, who in turn has received the keys from Densil Christiansen, representing the Christiansen Construction Co., of Pender, general contractor.

Dr. Benthack expressed his appreciation to the college and the trustees for the honor of having the building in his name: "I don't understand why, but sometimes honors fall on the just and the unjust."

Dr. Benthack served on the college governing board from 1939 to 1945.

Dr. Niel Edmunds, dean of the School of Professional and Applied Studies who presided during the ceremony, expressed pleasure in the number who attended and toured the building.

They found demonstrations and displays, explained by students, in all the rooms, housing classes in home economics, woodworking, machine technology, auto mechanics, crafts, drafting, graphic arts, and child development.

IT'S OFFICIAL now: Benthack Hall of Applied Science is part of the Wayne State facilities. In dedication ceremonies Saturday, Dr. Walter Benthack, left, accepted the keys to the building from Henry Ley, member of the governing board.

College Board Nixes Idea for Tuition Change

A Wayne State proposal to reduce tuition for out-of-state students was denied by the governing board Saturday during a meeting at Wayne.

Henry Ley, board member from Wayne, said the college wanted to conduct a pilot study for two years during which resident and non-resident student tuition would pay the same tuition rates. The purpose: to attract more out of state students.

Tuition is now $15.50 a credit hour for Nebraska residents and $27.50 for out-of-staters.

Ley said college officials estimate it would take about 250 additional students to make up the loss of non-resident revenue tuition. There would be added revenue, however, in other areas — dormitories, food services, bookstore among them.

Ley said that if there was no gain of students, Wayne State would lose about $100,000 by elimination of the non-resident tuition differential. However, he said college personnel feel confident Wayne could gain quite a number of students in a short time.

The two-year pilot plan was requested because, Ley said, time is short to attract out-of-staters for next fall. Wayne State asked that the board support a request to the Legislature for funds the second year in case there is a deficiency during the first-year trial.

When the Wayne plan came to vote, five trustees opposed and two approved, Ley and G. W. Egermayer.

WHS Junior Ties for 2nd In State Event

Jo Tomrdie, a junior at Wayne High School, tied for second in interpretation of poetry during Friday's state high school speech contest at Kearney State College.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tomrdie of Wayne, she was the only one of the Wayne High students in the contest to make it into the finals.

Wayne High students competed in the top class during the contest, going against speech students from the Omaha and Lincoln schools as well as other large schools in the state, according to speech teacher Sue Daugherty.

Also participating in the contest were Phil Koeber and Deb Wolske, in duet acting; Mike Schmidt, in interpretation of prose; Lisa Tooker in interpretation of poetry; and the cast of "Dob Wolske," Mike Schmidt, Mark Cramer, Lori Lesh, and Janet Spitzgerber in interpretation of drama.

The students received superior ratings during the district contest at Wayne State College earlier in the year, qualifying them for the state event.

A 1961 Wayne High graduate, Michael Karel, saw his Garden County High School speech students from Oshkosh win first place in the lower class during the contest.

Karel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Karel of Wayne, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska Lincoln.

Items Needed For Saturday's Rummage Sale

Wayne area residents are being urged to clean out their garages, basements and closets in order to find items for the Wayne Hospital Auxiliary rummage sale Saturday.

The group will hold its rummage sale Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the city auditorium.

"We will take almost anything as long as it is clean and usable," said Mrs. Orville Sherry, chairman of the rummage sale. Especially needed, she said, are clothing, toys, light fixtures, sporting equipment, magazines, books, used furniture and the like.

Persons who would like to donate items to the sale may either take them to the former "Mama's Home Improvement" building at 220 S. Main today (Thursday) or to the city auditorium Friday.

Also needed are persons to help with the sale.

Individuals who would like to help with the sale or who would like to have donated items picked up may contact Mrs. Sherry.

Helping her with the sale are Mrs. Dick Keidel, publicity chairman; Mrs. Wilmer Marra, chairwoman of collections; Mrs. Ed Wolske, chairman of the noon lunch; Mrs. Clifford Johnson, chairman of sorting and pricing; and Mrs. Cal Ward, chairman of sales and personnel.

Saturday's lunch, which will be served by the hospital auxiliary in the Woman's Club room at the city auditorium, will include sandwiches and desserts.

Money raised during the sale will be used for a memorial for the doctor who served the Wayne area for nearly 30 years before his death late in December.

Raising money for a memorial to Dr. Matson should interest everybody in Wayne and the surrounding area, according to Mrs. Sherry.

Kindergarten Event Friday at Hoskins

Kindergarten Roundup at the Hoskins Public School will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Mrs. Jeredine Luebe's room.

Straw-Sprouting Singer

10 WHS Students Gain All A's for 3rd Quarter

Ten students at Wayne High School maintained perfect 4.0 grade averages during the third quarter grading period, according to high school officials.

In addition, 36 other youths earned grades averaging between 3.5 and 3.9.

All 46 students gained a place on the school's high honor roll for the grading period.

A total of 72 other high school students gained averages between 3.0 and 3.49 to earn a place on the school's regular honor roll.

Earning all A grades during the third nine weeks were freshman Charles McClain; sophomores Kathy Haas, Jonie Isom and Ron Koch; juniors Susan Jacobmeier, Lori Lesh and Mike Schmidt; and seniors Judy Korn, Kim Kugler and Carol Wilke.

WAYNE HERALD
FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE TO AGRICULTURE
1974

Distinguished Service

For the second consecutive year The Wayne Herald has won one of the two top awards given annually by the Knights of Ak Sar Ben to newspapers in Nebraska.

The Herald won Ak Sar Ben's Service to Agriculture plaque and $100 check Saturday during the annual Nebraska Press Association convention in Lincoln.

Last year the newspaper won Ak Sar Ben's Community Service plaque and $200 check for its extensive coverage of the energy crisis as it affected the community of Wayne.

The $100 will be spent on something which will benefit the agricultural community. Last year, the $200 prize which the newspaper received was used to purchase fire extinguishers for buildings at the Wayne County fairgrounds.

In addition to winning that top award, the newspaper came away from the convention with two first place awards in the association's annual Better Newspapers Contest.

The personal column written by Herald editor Norvin Hansen was named the top personal column among weekly newspapers, marking the second year in a row that Hansen's "A Closer Look" has been singled out for that honor.

Also winning first place was the Herald's entry in the best use of color competition.

Taking second place in the contest, open to all newspapers in the state except the Omaha and Lincoln dailies, was the Herald's entry in the best advertising idea competition.

The Herald won third places in the contest in the general excellence and the best editorial categories.

In selecting the Herald for one of two Service to Agriculture awards given away during the convention, judges cited the Herald for "its well rounded coverage" of agricultural activities throughout the year. Judges said the newspaper covered the agricultural scene with "a large number of staff-produced features and See HERALD CAPTURES, page 5"

Allen, Wayne Shooters Place in Norfolk Meet

Allen High trapshoot coach Noelyn "Gutch" Isom guessed it would take 800 hits out of 1,000 attempts to win Saturday's fifth annual Cornhusker Regional Trapshoot at Norfolk. He wasn't far from wrong.

A Casper, Wyo., club broke about 900 blue rocks out of 1,000 to capture the high school division. Isom's team, which figured to be a little contender, finished seventh, while last year's defending high school champ, Wayne High, came in 10th.

"The competition was a lot tougher than what I thought it would be," Isom said.

Allen's A team broke 823 of 1,000 rocks. Todd Koester led the quintet with 179 hits in 200 attempts, followed by Shawn Persinger with 176, Ric Chase with 172, Brad Chase with 161 and Vic Schultz with 128. Wayne landed 10th spot with a score of 793 x 1,000. No other information was available.

Allen's second team finished 17th out of 27 entries. The quintet of Paul Snyder, Loren Book, Doug Smith, Dave Rahn and Tod Ellis scored 727 x 1,000. Snyder broke 172 rocks, Book 161, Smith 139, Rahn 136, Ellis 119.

Allen's girls team, only girl team at the meet, won the trophy for the second consecutive year. The five-girl team of Diane Witte, Peg Taylor, Chris Young, Cathy Smith and Kathy Malcom finished with a score of 493 x 1,000. Witte's 119 placed her third in the individual category. Others scoring for Allen were Taylor with 109, Young 101, Smith 88, Malcom 76.

Other individual shooters for Allen were Pete Lundin, who broke 162 rocks, Stan McAfee 149, Colleen Blohm 118, Roxie Moore, score not available.

Wildcats Capture Triangular

There was great joy in Wayne State trackville Saturday. The Wildcats won an outdoor triangular with Dordy and Worthington Colleges in Sioux Center, Ia.

First in 11 of 20 events and a dozen lesser places lifted Wayne to 79½ points, ahead of Dordy's 64½ and Worthington's 53.

It has been several years, while WSC track was in the doldrums, since the Cats won a meet outdoors, coach LeRoy Simpson noted. And he saw an encouraging fact in the number of Wayne performers earning firsts.

Only Don Rinehart got a double, with a 24 flat in the 220 and 32 in the 440. The other firsts were spread among these: Mike Caughlin, 800 dash in 1:03; Andy Myrutes, 880 in 2:04.7; Rod Unger, javelin with a 148.2 toss; Jerry Kruger, high jump at 4-2, and Cliff Switzer, triple jump at 40-2½.

Wayne garnered firsts in all four relays, 440, 880, mile and two-mile.

An unusual fact in this meet: it included both a three-mile and a six-mile run. Dordy's Ken Schour won both, but Wayne took all the other places in both. Al Libbe finished second in the three-mile, Dale third and Roger Kuhlmann fourth. That came midway through the meet after Kuhlmann and Schour had placed second and third in the six-mile opening race.

Simpson said Wayne performances were pretty good considering conditions: chilly and windy, with water on the track in places. All that plus less than ideal practice conditions this so-called spring.

Trio Leads Wayne High

Junior Mary Kovensky and freshmen Lisa Nuss and Sydney Mosley garnered wins in Wayne High's losing track dual at Wisner-Pilger Monday.

Nuss went 4-6 in the high jump, Mosley leaped 14-11½ in the long jump and Kovensky finished the half mile in 2:46.4 to aid Wayne to 27 points. The hosts chalked up 69.

A trio of second-place finishes shows the girls are improving, said coach Linda Teach. Julie Kay took second in the discus with a toss of 77.7 and second in the shot put with a heave of 28.6½, and Stephanie Dorcy was second in the 80-yard low hurdles with a time of 13.5.

Every one of the girls is equalling or bettering previous times and performances, said Teach.

Wayne's 880-yard relay team of Janet Baier, Linda Costello, Linda Anderson and Susan Jacomeier narrowly lost its bid for first, finishing in 2:06. Scoring thirds were B. B. B. in the shot, 26.7; Baier in the 100-yard dash, 13.3, and Susan Kethwisch in the 880, 3:06.3.

Stanton Meet Moved

Stanton's invitational track meet has been moved to today (Thursday) at Wisner-Pilger. It was slated for Tuesday at Stanton. Both Wayne and Wakefield will enter the all-day meet, scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

Athlete Of The Week

DICK CHAPMAN
Wayne High School

Like most athletes, Wayne High's Dick Chapman has a formula that makes him a winner almost every time he gets on the track. It's called hard work.

Hard work has already paid off for this week's "Athlete of the Week," who has collected first place finishes in the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Wisner-Pilger and Columbus Lakeview Invitational.

The senior, who holds the school record of 1:10 in the 100-yard dash, has a 1:01 as his best this year. "I'm not aiming for a certain time. I just want to break 1:01," Chapman said.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Chapman of Carroll, Dick is in his fourth year participating in track. He has played football in his junior and senior years.

"Dick is one of the fastest sprinters on the team," said coach Al Hansen. Using superlatives like "super" wouldn't be out of line, Hansen added.

Girls Go All Out at W-P

BECAUSE wet weather forced Wakefield High to shift its first annual girls invitational track meet to Wisner-Pilger Monday, more than one meet was held at the Gator track. Besides the 14 teams involved in the Wakefield meet, Wayne and Wisner girls battled in a dual. Some of the scenes from both meets: Lori Erwin, Allen, breaks the tape in an 880 yard heat to qualify for the finals; Sandra Luschen, Wayne, leaps in the long jump; Mary Kober (left), Wakefield, races in the finals of the 80 yard low hurdles; Lisa Nuss, Wayne, grimaces in the high jump.

Wakefield, Pender Share Meet Title

Wakefield and Pender girls tied for first in Monday's first annual Wakefield High invitational track meet, but a flip of the coin gave Pender the top trophy.

"This is the second time we have tied for first place and lost the flip," said coach Ernie Kovar. Last year Wakefield tied Laurel for first at Emerson-Hubbard's meet but lost the coin flip.

Both clubs ended with 61 points, followed by Emerson with 55, Battle Creek 52, Winside 27, Laurel 26, Newcastle 23, Osmond 18, Allen 14, Ponca 10, Stanton 10, Coleridge 4, West Point 4 and Harrington High 0. Bad weather forced the meet to be moved to Wisner-Pilger.

Underclassman quipped Kovar's team to firsts in the 440-yard relay and 80-yard hurdles. The 440 squad of sophomores Cheryl Nelson, and Mary Kober, and freshmen Joy Myers and Robin Mills set a school record with a 53.8 finish in the 80-yard low hurdles. Kober ran a 12.1.

"Our sprinters and relay people have come a long way since the Columbus meet about two weeks ago," Kovar said. Mills was second in the 100-yard dash with a time of 12, and Nelson came in fourth in the 220 in 29.4 to bolster Wakefield's showing in the sprints.

In the 440, Wakefield claimed fifth and sixth with Myers' 1:05.7 and Mary Prochaska's 1:06.4. In the 880, Kerry Fischer of Wakefield took fourth in 2:38.3.

The 880 and mile relay teams placed third. The mile foursome of Myers, Prochaska, Lynn Holm, and Kay Foote finished in 4:25.5, and the 880 squad of Mills, Holm, Kober and Angie Rouse finished in 1:57.2.

Winside's fifth-place showing wasn't bad, considering the Wildkittens topped five other Lewis and Clark Conference foes, said coach Jim Winsh. "We'll find out for sure how good more of the conference teams are at Tuesday's Osmond invitational," he said.

Junior Jill Stenwall led the Cats with wins by throwing the discus 113-7½ and heaving the shot 39-4¼. Those marks could be tops in Northeast Nebraska and may rank among the state's best, Winsh said.

Laurel got scoring strength in the relay events while Allen took first in the long jump and got help in the running events.

JoAnne Roberts led Allen with a leap of 15-6 in the long jump. Leading Laurel were the mile relay team of Patti Stark, Kelly McCoy, Debbie Olson and Kathy Maxon, and the 880 squad of Maxon, Stark, McCoy and Julie Hirschman. The mile team finished second in 4:25.5, the 880 team fourth in 1:59.8.

Winside Thinclads 3rd at Plainview

Class B powerhouse Albion captured Monday's Plainview-triangular, scoring 122 and two-thirds points to Plainview's 72 and one third points and Winside's 56.

Winning events for Winside were seniors Dwight Liemann, Wayne Smith, Lage and Mann, second in 9:20.3; Lage won the two-mile in 9:59.2; Liemann won the 120-yard high hurdles in 1:16.4; Anderson captured the discus with a toss of 122-1, and Mann won the 880 in 2:09.8.

"We'll be able to score more points in the sprints and field events once we're able to get outdoors to practice," said Winside coach Carter Peterson.

Winside had four finishers in the shot put: John Mangels, second at 45-5¼; Scott Glassmeyer, third at 40-1; Bob Hoff, fourth at 39-5½; and Mike Anderson, fifth at 39-5¼.

Also scoring: Lage, second mile, 5:01.9; two-mile relay team of Jerry Allemen, Wayne Smith, Lage and Mann, second in 9:20.3; Mann, third in 4:58.2; Terry Lühr, third in two-mile, 10:37; Liemann, third in 120-yard low hurdles, 2:25.1; Hoffman, fourth in discus, 117-11; Tyler Frevert, fourth in triple jump, 35.7; Dean Janke, fourth in 180-yard lows, 1:23.

Coeds Take Pair From Nebraska

Wayne State women gave a double lesson in softball to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln here Saturday, 13-0 and 8-3. That lifted their record to 4-2 going into a single game this afternoon (Thursday) at Midland College.

Wayne's Mary Gerken blanked UNL with a one-hitter in the opener, and she cracked two hits herself, among eight by the team.

Suzi Scheef gave up four hits, while her mates hit six in the second game, including a pair by Julie Jones.

Next week the Wayne gals will play four straight days: at Kennedy College Thursday, then home Wednesday with Midland, Thursday with UN-Omaha, Friday with Kearney State. All are doubleheaders except singletons with Midland both times.

Wayne seeks revenge over Kennedy, which won a pair here last Thursday, 7-5 in 10 innings and 5-2. Gerken pitched all the way in the first game. Scheef all the way in the second.

Board Will Back City-Town Team

The Wayne Baseball Association has agreed to help finance the city's town baseball team this summer.

During Monday night's meeting, players told the board they hope to collect $500 by Monday. It is expected to take $1,400 to operate the team, said manager Terry Luff.

Luff said Wayne intends to stay in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League. No date has yet been set for the league's organizational meeting, according to league secretary Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Retirement Savings Can Now Be Tax Deductible

Under the new law passed by Congress, a person can save and deduct 15 per cent of his or her annual wages (or earned income if self-employed), up to $1,500 each year. The annual amount set aside in an Individual Retirement Account is deductible from gross income in figuring income taxes. Interest earned by an I.R.A. is tax free until it's paid out, too.

Any taxpayer is eligible. Incidentally, each married person's income is treated separately — each can set up his or her own plan. Furthermore, an employer can contribute to an employee's I.R.A. plan, and can even set up an account for employees not otherwise covered.

LAUREL HIGH track coach Tom Bell may have a long wait if he hopes the javelin event is included in Nebraska's high school track program. The javelin was prohibited in high school competition several years ago, according to Nebraska School Activities Association executive secretary Les Chamberlin, and may not return to the high school track scene.

If Bell could add the javelin to Laurel's track program, he might enhance his chances by sending more athletes to the state track meet in May. Why? Because Bell has enough credentials in the sport to be a qualified instructor.

Before taking his first coaching assignment at Laurel this school year, the Homer City, Penn., product was one of the top javelin throwers among the nation's small colleges.

During his junior and senior years at Dakota Wesleyan College in Mitchell, S.D., Bell ranked among the top eight finalists in NAAIA small college national meets.

As a junior in college, he set his best mark of 239.4. "If I would have thrown my best in my senior year, I would have won the national NAAIA title," Bell said. Last year his 222-foot mark earned him sixth place out of 40 entries.

Ironically, Bell didn't intend to go out for track while in college. He wanted to play football, and he found a spot on the line, playing fullback one season.

But after four years of throwing the javelin in high school, Bell had to try it again.

Today, about 25 states include javelin throwing in high school competition. It was eliminated in Nebraska because a student was injured.

"Throwing the javelin gives more kids a chance to compete in another event," Bell said. Having more track people competing in more events is part of Bell's coaching philosophy. "I want to go to as many meets as possible and have the kids participate in as many events as possible," he said.

"Track is an individual sport as well as a team sport," he added.

A PAT on the back goes to the Wayne-Carroll school board for moving toward building an all-weather track near the West Elementary School. The

In other action concerning Wayne State, the board approved contract with Nebraska Book Co. Broughton Food service to continue operating the campus book store and cafeteria, respectively.

Herald Captures

The Herald was one of seven newspapers in the state to win two first place awards in the Better Newspaper Contest. Also winning a pair of top honors were the Scottsbluff Star-Herald, Hastings Tribune, Holbrook Observer, Crawford Tribune, Wymore Arbor Star and Bellevue Press.

The Herald's total of five awards in the contest placed it right behind the two top winners the Scottsbluff Star-Herald and the North Platte Telegraph, which won seven and six, respectively.

"We are proud to have done so well in the competition, for it proves that the Herald is filling its responsibility to provide quality news and photographic coverage to its readers," said publisher J. Alan Cramer.

The Ak-Sar-Ben Service to Agriculture award is especially pleasing, he said, because the newspaper is vitally aware of the importance agriculture plays in this area's economy.

Loaf Breaking to Help Feed World's Hungry

The Rev. K. Wayne Brown, pastor of the United Methodist and Springsbank Friends Churches, at Allen, has announced a loaf breaking to be held Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

For the past month some 50 families of the churches have been saving money in "Love Loaves" (styrene containers shaped like loaves of bread). The loaves will be brought to the Methodist church Sunday to be broken, with the funds going to feed the hungry in disaster areas of the world.

A film, titled "Africa, Dry Edge of Disaster," will be shown Sunday night at the Methodist Church in connection with the love loaf breaking. The public is invited to view the film at 8 p.m.

Produced by the World Relief Commission, the film shows the effects of long and widespread famine afflicting six sub-Saharan countries, the Sudan and Ethiopia — a drought-stricken belt extending from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean.

Little or no rainfall for the past five years, coupled with the Sahara Desert shifting at a rate of 35 miles a year, has brought severe drought to these areas.

Allen, Wayne Shooters Place in Norfolk Meet

Allen High trapshoot coach Noelyn "Burch" Isom guessed it would take 800 hits out of 1,000 attempts to win Saturday's fifth annual Cornhusker Regional Trapshoot at Norfolk. He wasn't far from wrong.

A Casper, Wyo., club broke about 900 blue rocks out of 1,000 to capture the high school division. Isom's team, which figured to be a title contender, finished seventh, while last year's defending high school champion, Wayne High, came in 10th.

"The competition was a lot tougher than what I thought it would be," Isom said.

Allen's A team broke 823 of 1,000 rocks. Todd Koester led the quintet with 179 hits in 200 attempts, followed by Shawn

Persinger with 176. Ric Chase with 172. Brad Chase with 161 and Vic Schultz with 133. Wayne landed 10th spot with a score of 793 x 1,000. No other information was available.

Allen's second team finished 17th out of 27 entries. The quintet of Paul Snyder, Loren Book, Doug Smith, Dave Rahn and Tod Ellis scored 747 x 1,000. Snyder broke 172 rocks. Book 161, Smith 139, Rahn 136, Ellis 119.

Allen's girls team, only girl team at the meet, won the trophy for the second consecutive year. The five-girl team of Diane Witte, Peg Taylor, Chris Young, Cathy Smith and Kathy Malcom finished with a score of 493 x 1,000. Witte's 119 placed her third in the individual category. Others scoring for Allen were Taylor with 109, Young 101, Smith 88, Malcom 76.

Other individual shooters for Allen were Pete Lundin, who broke 162 rocks, Stan McAfee 149, Colleen Blohm 118, Roxie Moore, score not available.

Wildcats Capture Triangular

There was great joy in Wayne State trackville Saturday. The Wildcats won an outdoor triangular with Dordt and Worthington Colleges in Sioux Center, Ia.

First in 11 of 20 events and a dozen lesser places lifted Wayne to 79½ points, ahead of Dordt's 64½ and Worthington's 52.

It has been several years, while WSC track was in the doldrums, since the Cats won a meet outdoors, coach LeRoy Simpson noted. And he saw an encouraging fact in the number of Wayne performers earning firsts.

Only Don Rinehart got a double, with a :24 flat in the 220 and 52 in the 440. The other firsts were spread among these:

Mike Coughlin, 100 dash in 10.3; Andy Myrtue, 800 in 2:04.7; Rod Unger, javelin with a 148-2 toss; Jerry Kruger, high jump at 6-2, and Cliff Switzer, triple jump at 40-2½.

Wayne garnered firsts in all four relays, 400, 800, mile and two-mile.

An unusual fact in this meet: it included both a three-mile and a six-mile run. Dordt's Ken Scheur won both, but Wayne took all the other places in both. Al Liebbe took second in the three-mile, Dale third and Roger Kuhlmann fourth. That came midway through the meet when Kuhlman and Schur had placed second and third in the six-mile opening race.

Simpson said Wayne performances were pretty good considering conditions: chilly and windy with water on the track in places. All that plus less than ideal practice conditions this so-called spring.

Trio Leads Wayne High

Junior Mary Kovensky and freshman Lisa Nuss and Sydney Mosley garnered wins in Wayne High's losing track dual at Wisner-Pilger Monday.

Nuss went 4-6 in the high jump, Mosley leaped 14-11¼ in the long jump and Kovensky finished the half mile in 2:46.4 to aid Wayne to 27 points. The hosts chalked up 69.

A trio of second-place finishes shows the girls are improving, said coach Linda Teach. Julie Kay took second in the discus with a toss of 72.7 and second in the shot put with a heave of 28.6½, and Stephanie Dorcey was second in the 80-yard low hurdles with a time of 1:13.5. Every one of the girls is equaling or bettering previous times and performances, said Teach.

Wayne's 880-yard relay team of Janet Baier, Linda Costello, Linda Anderson and Susan Jacobmeier narrowly lost its bid for first, finishing in 2:06.3. Scoring thirds were Teri Bigelow in the shot, 26-7; Baier in the 100-yard dash, 13.3, and Susan Nettwisch in the 800, 3:06.3.

Stanton Meet Moved

Stanton's invitational track meet has been moved to today (Thursday) at Wisner-Pilger. It was slated for Tuesday at Stanton. Both Wayne and Wakefield will enter the all-day meet, scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

Athlete Of The Week

DICK CHAPMAN
Wayne High School

Like most athletes, Wayne High's Dick Chapman has a formula that makes him a winner almost every time he gets on the track. It's called hard work.

Hard work has already paid off for this week's "Athlete of the Week," who has collected first place finishes in the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Wisner-Pilger and Columbus Lakeview invitational.

The senior, who holds the school record of 10 in the 100-yard dash, has a :10.1 as his best this year. "I'm not aiming for a certain time. I just want to break :10," Chapman said.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Chapman of Carroll, Dick is in his fourth year participating in track. He has played football in his junior and senior years.

"Dick is one of the fastest sprinters on the team," said coach Al Hansen. Using superlatives like "super" wouldn't be out of line, Hansen added.

Girls Go All Out at W-P

BECAUSE wet weather forced Wakefield High to shift its first annual girls invitational track meet to Wisner-Pilger Monday, more than one meet was held at the Gator track. Besides the 14 teams involved in the Wakefield meet, Wayne and Wisner girls battled in a dual. Some of the scenes from both meets: Lori Erwin, Allen, breaks the tape in an 880-yard heat to qualify for the finals; Sandra Luschen, Wayne, leaps in the long jump; Mary Kober (left), Wakefield, races in the finals of the 80-yard low hurdles; Lisa Nuss, Wayne, grimaces in the high jump.

Wakefield, Pender Share Meet Title

Wakefield and Pender girls tied for first in Monday's first annual Wakefield High invitational track meet, but a flip of the coin gave Pender the top trophy.

"This is the second time we have tied for first place and lost the flip," said coach Ernie Kovar. Last year Wakefield placed laurel for first at Emerson-Hubbard's meet but lost the coin flip.

Both clubs ended with 61 points, followed by Emerson with 55, Battle Creek 52, Winside 27, Laurel 26, Newcastile 23, Osmond 18, Allen 14, Ponca 10, Stanton 10, Coleridge 4, West Point 4 and Hartington High 0. Bad weather forced the meet to be moved to Wisner-Pilger. Underclassmen guided Kovar's team to firsts in the 440-yard relay and 80-yard hurdles. The 440 squad of sophomores Cheryl Nelson and Mary Kober, and freshmen Joy Myers and Robin Mills set a school record with a :53.6 finish. In the 80-yard low hurdles, Kober ran a :12.1.

"Our sprinters and relay people have come a long way since the Columbus meet about two weeks ago," Kovar said. Mills won second in the 100-yard dash with a time of :12, and Nelson came in fourth in the 220-in :29.4 to bolster Wakefield's showing in the sprints. In the 400, Wakefield claimed fifth and sixth with Myers' 1:05.7 and Mary Prochaska's 1:06.4. In the 800, Kerry Fischer of Wakefield took fourth in 2:38.3.

The 880 and mile relay teams placed third. The mile foursome of Myers, Prochaska, Lynn Holm, and Kay Foote finished in 4:25.5, and the 880 squad of Mills, Holm, Kober and Angie Rouse finished in 1:57.2.

Winside's fifth-place showing wasn't bad, considering the Wildcatters topped five other Lewis and Clark Conference foes, said coach Jim Winsh. "We'll find out for sure how good more of the conference teams are at Tuesday's Osmond invitational," he said.

Junior Jill Stenwall led the Cats with wins by throwing the discus 113.7½ and heaving the shot 39-4¼. Those marks could be tops in Northeast Nebraska and may rank among the state's best, Winch said.

Laurel got scoring strength in the relay events while Allen took first in the long jump and got help in the running events.

JoAnne Roberts led Allen with a leap of 15-6 in the long jump. Leading Laurel were the mile relay team of Patti Stark, Kelly Magok, Debbie Olsen and Kathy Maxon; and the 880 squad of Maxon, Stark, McCoy and Julie Hirschman. The mile team finished second in 4:25.5, the 880 team fourth in 1:59.8.

Winside Plainclads 3rd at Plainview

Class B powerhouse Alblon captured Monday's Plainview-triangular, scoring 122 and two-thirds points to Plainview's 72 and one third points and Winside's 56.

Winning events for Winside were seniors Dwight Llenemann, Gregg Lage, Mike Anderson and Dave Mann.

Lage won the two-mile in 9:59.2; Llenemann won the 120-yard high hurdles in :16.6; Anderson captured the discus with a toss of 122-1, and Mann won the 800 in 2:09.8.

"We'll be able to score more points in the sprints and field events once we're able to get outdoors to practice," said Winside coach Carter Peterson.

Winside had four finishers in the shot put: John Mangels, second at 45-3¼; Scott Glassmeyer, third at 40-1; Bob Hoffman, fourth at 39-5¼, and Mike Anderson, fifth at 39-5¼.

Also scoring: Lage, second mile, 5:01.9; two-mile relay team of Jerry Allaman, Wayne Smith, Lage and Mann, second in 9:20.3; Mann, third in 40-1; Scott Glassmeyer, third at 40-1; Bob Hoffman, fourth at 39-5¼, and Mike Anderson, fifth at 39-5¼. Also scoring: Lage, second mile, 5:01.9; two-mile relay team of Jerry Allaman, Wayne Smith, Lage and Mann, second in 9:20.3; Mann, third in 40-1; Scott Glassmeyer, third at 40-1; Bob Hoffman, fourth in 39-5¼, and Mike Anderson, fifth in 39-5¼. Also scoring: Lage, second mile, 5:01.9; two-mile relay team of Jerry Allaman, Wayne Smith, Lage and Mann, second in 9:20.3; Mann, third in 40-1; Scott Glassmeyer, third at 40-1; Bob Hoffman, fourth in 39-5¼, and Mike Anderson, fifth in 39-5¼.

Board Will Back City Town Team

The Wayne Baseball Association has agreed to help finance the city's town baseball team this summer.

During Monday night's meeting, players told the board they hope to collect $500 by Monday. It is expected to take $1,400 to operate the team, said manager Terry Lutt.

Lutt said Wayne intends to play in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League. No date has yet been set for the league's organizational meeting, according to league secretary Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield.

Retirement Savings Can Now Be Tax Deductible

Under the new law passed by Congress, a person can save and deduct 15 percent of his or her annual wages (or earned income if self-employed), up to $1,500 each year. The annual amount set aside in an Individual Retirement Account is deductible from gross income in figuring income taxes. Interest earned by an I.R.A. is tax free until it's paid out, too.

Any taxpayer is eligible. Incidentally, each married person's income is treated separately — each can set up his or her own plan. Furthermore, an employer can contribute to an employee's I.R.A. plan, and can even set up an account for employees not otherwise covered.

LAUREL HIGH track coach Tom Bell may have a long wait if he hopes the javelin event is included in Nebraska's high school track program. The javelin was prohibited in high school competition several years ago, according to Nebraska School Activities Association executive secretary Les Chamberlin, and may not return to the high school track scene. If Bell could add the javelin to Laurel's track program, he might enhance his chances by sending more athletes to the state track meet in May. Why? Because Bell has enough credentials in the sport to be a qualified instructor.

"Before taking his first coaching assignment at Laurel this school year, the Homer City, Penn., product was one of the top javelin throwers among the nation's small colleges.

"During his junior and senior years at Dakota Wesleyan College in Mitchell, S.D., Bell ranked among the top eight finalists in NAAIA small college national meets.

"As a junior in college, he set his best mark of 239.6. 'If I would have thrown my best in my senior year, I would have won the national NAAIA title," Bell said. Last year his 227-foot mark earned him sixth place out of 40 entries.

"Ironically, Bell didn't intend to go out for track while in college. He wanted to play football, and he found a spot on the line, playing fullback one season.

"But after four years of throwing the javelin in high school, Bell had to try it again.

"Today, about 25 states include javelin throwing in high school competition. It was eliminated in Nebraska because a student was injured.

"Throwing the javelin gives more kids a chance to compete in another event," Bell said. Having more track people competing in more events is part of Bell's coaching philosophy. "I want to go to as many meets as possible and have the kids participate in as many events as possible," he said.

"Track is an individual sport as well as a team sport," he added.

A PAT on the back goes to the Wayne-Carroll school board for moving toward building an all-weather track near the West Elementary School. The asphalt track is one thing many high school track teams need this year, with wet weather hitting two or three times a week. Actual work on the track hasn't been approved by the board yet. Estimated cost is $35,000.

NOTE To league bowling secretaries: Make sure you tell us about league winners so we can get pictures. Let us know before the league ends so we can get a picture of the winning team and the same night the squad is crowned league winner.

THE Wayne County Club is considering starting a junior golf league this summer. No final decision will be made until possibly the May meeting, according to a club official.

Loaf Breaking to Help Feed World's Hungry

The Rev. K. Waylen Brown, pastor of the United Methodist Episcopal Church, Friends Church, at Alton, has announced a loaf breaking to be held Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

For the past month some 50 families of the churches have been saving money in "Loaf Loaves" (styrene containers shaped like loaves of bread). The loaves will be brought to the Methodist church Sunday to be broken, with the funds going to feed the hungry in disaster areas of the world.

A film, titled "Africa, Dry Edge of Disaster," will be shown Sunday night at the Methodist Church in connection with the loaf breaking. The public is invited to view the film at 8 p.m.

Produced by the World Relief Commission, the film shows the effects of long and widespread famine afflicting six sub-Sahara countries, the Sudan and Ethiopia — a drought-stricken belt extending from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean.

Little or no rainfall for the past five years, coupled with the Sahara Desert shifting at a rate of 35 miles a year, has brought severe drought to these areas.

'Productivity Is Key to Fighting Inflation'

ROGER NELSON

"Government control to hold down inflation is asinine. The answer to holding down inflation is in industry itself, through productivity," said Cecil Emrich of Norfolk, board member of the Federal Reserve Land Bank in Kansas City. Speaking to Wayne Kiwanians Monday, Emrich cautioned that increased federal spending isn't the answer to this country's economic problems. "Federal spending is going to create more money problems," he said, referring to the federal debt; in order for the government to get out of debt, it will have to increase interest rates, but that will not help the economy, he said. The federal reserve system can fight inflation or recession in three ways, Emrich noted. It can increase or decrease the discount rate charged member banks for short term loans, change the reserve money requirements for member banks, or buy and sell government securities, he explained. Of the three, buying and selling government bonds is the most effective, he said. "By buying bonds, we are putting more money into the economy. By selling, we are taking more money out of circulation. However, the federal reserve system doesn't run the economy, Doug Dowling of Wayne was released Sunday from Wayne Hospital after being held for observation following a one-car accident Friday morning about eight miles west of Wayne. Dowling, who was alone in the car, was turning west on Highway 35 near the junction of Highways 98 and 35 when his car went over an embankment. Dowling suffered multiple abrasions, according to his physician.

Married Women Should Report Name Changes

Women getting married should remember to tell the Social Security Administration about their new name, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk. In order to correct her social security card and keep her earnings record accurate and up-to-date, a bride should report her new married name. Then survivors and Medicare protection for herself and her family. A new bride can call, write or visit any social security office to get her name changed on her record. "Or she can use a form available at any post office and many employe and personnel offices," Branch said. People who change their name because of divorce or for business or other reasons should also notify social security.

SS Man Plans Stop

Mike Zeorlin of Norfolk social security office will be at the Senior Citizens Center in Wayne on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. to help local area residents with questions or problems they may have. Zeorlin noted that when social security makes a review of the benefits paid to a person drawing supplemental security income, the person is sent a form titled "Report of New Information in Supplemental Security Income Claims."

Area Students Can Get Work At Youth Camps

Wayne area youths are being offered an opportunity to apply for summer jobs at youth camps at McCook, Chadron and Lincoln, according to Wayne High guidance counselor Ken Carlson. Carlson said the deadline for completing application forms, available at his office, is May 1. The summer jobs at the camps are being made available through the U.S. Department of Interior. They are designed to improve the quality of public lands and waters through conservation work, provide employment and social mixing among young people, and build-up in youth an awareness of environmental needs in the state. Students accepted for the program would work at one of the three camps. Employment is available in most cases, board and room transportation to and from the camps is also provided.

Mike Zeorlin of Norfolk social security office will be at the Senior Citizens Center in Wayne on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. to help local area residents with questions or problems they may have. Zeorlin noted that when social security makes a review of the benefits paid to a person drawing supplemental security income, the person is sent a form titled "Report of New Information in Supplemental Security Income Claims." The form should not be returned until the person has new information to report, such as a change of address or receipt of income or resources not previously reported, he said.

Ikes May Send 4 Youths to National Meet
Wayne's chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America (IWL) Monday evening approved sending four Wayne High school students to an environmental action conference in Des Moines later this year if the chapter is allowed to send that many.

The four youths are Joni Isom of Carroll, Marvel Carlson of Wayne, Ann Rees of Carroll and Tim Wert of Wayne.

There is a good chance that all four youths will be able to attend the conference, scheduled during the IWLCA national conference July 10, 12, even though the whole state of Nebraska may be limited to just four representatives, according to chapter secretary Norris Weible.

Only 100 youths from across the nation will be permitted to attend the conference, he said, but the local chapter is trying to obtain allotments from states which will not send representatives.

It will be several weeks before the local chapter learns whether all four youths will be able to attend, Weible noted.

Also Monday evening, the local Ikes agreed to meet at 9 a.m. Saturday to plant trees and shrubs at their lake site northwest of Wayne and in three triangular shaped pieces of ground on three mile intersections near the lake. The plantings will provide additional cover for wildlife in the area. L.

Shown during the evening was a film titled "The Cure," a story about fishing in Canada. Showing the film, made available through a fishing tackle company, was Weible.

Weible reported during the meeting that the local chapter now has a membership of 104.

Young Resident Of Wayne Wins 'Bucks' Prize

Wayne's latest Birthday Bucks prize has been awarded to a young Wayne woman.

She is Pam Sinderup, 19, who won the $25 consolation prize when she was shopping in Bill's GW last Thursday evening. Her birthday of Feb. 18, 1956 was less than a week away from the winning date of Feb. 24, 1956. Because the consolation prize was awarded in last week's drawing, the drawing tonight (Thursday) will be for $350 in coupons good for purchases at any participating businesses. If the grand prize goes unclaimed tonight, another $25 consolation prize will be given away and the grand prize next week will be worth $375.

All area residents are eligible for the weekly drawings. No purchases or registrations are required, but a person must be present in a participating business when the winning date is announced each Thursday evening at 8:15 in order to win either the grand prize or the consolation prize.

The awards are $250 each and are donated by the Nebraska Clinicians' Group, a group of Medical Center faculty members. The funds will provide spring quarter tuition for the recipients.

Theories on future of tech colleges are heading for collision in Lincoln

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN—Two theories on the future of the technical community college system apparently will be colliding on the floor of the Nebraska Legislature.
 The education committee has sent to the floor a bill sponsored by Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora. It proposes returning the two-year colleges to a local control system in which property taxes provide a portion of the funding.
 The budget committee, however, has voted to put the schools permanently under the state's financial wing.
 The colleges technically are state institutions now, by virtue of a state supreme court ruling last year which held that the institution serve a state function. The court said, since that's true, it is unconstitutional for them to receive property tax support. The state is constitutionally prohibited from using the property tax. Kremer's bill, LB344, would put authority on the area boards and have state funds — generated basically from sales and income taxes — provided as aid, much the same way as state tax money is sent to aid elementary and secondary schools.

 The budget committee, however, voted 5-4 last week to have the two-year schools financed strictly with state funds. In a budget combined with that of the four-year state college at Wayne, Kearney, Chadron and Peru.
 The budget committee's decision, coming as it did at a time when chairman Richard Mavesel was saying the committee would be looking for ways to reduce the state's tax fund expenditures, raised a few eyebrows.
 Complete state funding — aside from the revenues from tuition and federal sources — will mean a bigger drain on the sales and income taxes.
 Ultimately, the full Legislature will have to choose which direction the two-year schools will go.

Rape Bill Advances
 The Legislature last week gave 37-0 first-round approval to LB 23.
 From that, it would seem that LB 23 is another of those no-problem measures which move across the legislative board without causing a ripple.
 Nope.
 Before it underwent major surgery through amendments, LB 23 was one of the most controversial bills of the 1973 session. The 37-0 vote, however, shows the basic intent of the bill — modernization of rape statutes dating back to 1887 — wasn't controversial.
 The provision which caused the most difficulty dealt with homosexuality. It would have legalized sodomy if it involved consenting adults in private.
 That was something homosexual organizations, some church groups and others had been lobbying the Legislature for. They maintained that such sexual behavior was a private matter with moral and ethical considerations, but not something that should be called a crime.

 The lawmakers, however, weren't buying. They voted 29-6 to eliminate that provision.
 Other provisions the senators thought went too far were removed, as well, and LB 23 became acceptable.
 In its "stripped-down" form, the bill changes the term rape to sexual assault and establishes two degrees of the crime.
Church-State Dispute
 A provision in a bill dealing with child abuse was "stricken" last week after the attorney general's office said the clause could jeopardize federal funds.
 At issue was the so-called "Christian Science Amendment" to LB 20.

The amendment would have given legislative endorsement to treatment "by spiritual means through prayer alone" in cases involving children who might otherwise be considered neglected or abused.
 Senator Shirley Marsh of Lincoln, sponsor of the bill, had fought to keep the amendment attached, while Omaha senator Ernest Chambers, making the church-state separation argument, was the most vocal opponent.
 Mrs. Marsh, however, agreed to have it removed after the state justice department opinion that the amendment didn't meet federal requirements and federal funds could be lost.
 The bill provides that protective services agencies, as well as police, can handle cases of alleged child abuse. Douglas County is the only one with such an agency now, but Mrs. Marsh said others would be established elsewhere in the state.

OBSERVATIONS

Our goal remains the same

We are certainly very proud of the Ak-Sar-Ben service to agriculture award which The Wayne Herald won during the annual awards ceremony in Lincoln Saturday evening.
 We will be the first to admit that our coverage of agricultural activities in this area of the state is not perfect. It is far from that, but at least we know that others feel we are making a commendable effort in trying to report agricultural events in pictures, news stories and feature stories.
 Although that award was one of the two top plums given away at the annual convention of the state press association over the weekend, we are equally proud of the other awards we won — the two first places for the best use of color and the best personal column, the second place for the best advertising idea, and the two third places for the best editorial and general excellence.

 That tells us that we are at least coming close to our goal of offering our readers and advertisers a newspaper that is one of the best among the many weekly newspapers in the state.
 It is no easy task to put out a newspaper once or twice a week which covers news and events in the area in such a way that people are going to enjoy keeping up on what's going on. But that's our goal, and we plan on working at reaching it during the coming year just as hard as we did in the past year. — Norvin Hansen.

A Congressman speaks to the voters

Thone: It's time to reform federal taxes

By CHARLES THONE
 First District Congressman

Urgently needed federal tax reforms would also make Nebraska income taxes fairer.
 For example, the Nebraska revenue department recently revealed that Nebraska had 100 people with incomes of $100,000 or more in 1973 who paid no state income taxes. The Nebraska income tax law provides that each person pays the state a percentage of what was paid in federal income taxes. Any per cent of zero is still zero.
 I am pushing for a federal law providing for a very stiff minimum tax on high incomes — regardless of the number of deductions or credits those people might have. This would also insure that no wealthy Nebraskan — or residents of most other states where state income taxes are based on the federal income tax — would escape paying a share of the tax burden.
 We need reform that gives real relief to the great middle class who have been either ignored or gored by recent federal actions. We need tax reform that gives a break to parents who are helping their youngsters obtain higher education. We need tax reform that provides a deduction for workers' travel to and from work. We need tax reform that closes more loopholes for the rich.

 The ordinary working men and women — the people who pay the great majority of federal taxes — are getting sick to the teeth both with breaks for those who pay little or no taxes and with the loopholes for the wealthy. The recent tax cuts for 1974 and 1975 provided a 238 per cent reduction for the poorest people, an slashes of 103 and 51 per cent for those in the next two categories just above that. For the great middle class who cough up the bulk of the federal income, however, the reduction was only the range of 15 to 28 per cent.
 I have introduced legislation to allow parents who are supporting sons or daughters in college or other educational institutions beyond high school to get a tax break for the investment. Our present law gives the impression that America has strange values. A professional man can get a deduction for the cost of wiring and dining his clients, but parents can't get a dime's worth of consideration for their investment in educating the next generation.

There is the same kind of irony in the fact that a corporation can call it a non-taxable business expense to send its executives to a convention in Hawaii or Puerto Rico, but the ordinary working man has no tax deduction for the cost of transportation to work. I am hopeful that such a deduction can be written so that it will also help us conserve energy. Those who use public transportation and those who are in car pools could be given bigger income tax deductions for their travel between their homes and their employment than the person who drives alone along the bus route.
 We have closed one of the loopholes that make the American tax payer I voted for the bill that recently became law, eliminating the depletion allowance for the big petroleum companies. There are many other reforms that are needed to kill tax breaks that don't contribute to our nation's productivity.
 The House Ways and Means Committee where all tax reform measures must originate, began hearings on general tax reform early in 1973. I think it is high time that they produced some legislation on which the Congress can act.

'In Washington'

Time to recognize Cuba?

By Ron Hendren
WASHINGTON — A quick survey of some 20 representative American newspapers reveals that all but two support a normalization of trade and diplomatic relations with Cuba.
 Public opinion polls show that a majority of the American people want a warming up towards our 90-mile-away neighbor, and more politicians seem to be trucking to Cuba for pictures with Fidel Castro than are lining up to pose with Gerald Ford.
 What seems to be taking place, as Henry Kissinger crosses the 's and dots the 's on plans for his upcoming Latin American tour, is a fundamental shift in the popular attitude toward our little island neighbor.
 If all happened very quickly, in fact, Cuba's disappearance from the list of controversial political issues here in the United States took place faster than the collapse of the South Vietnamese army and almost as fast as the Secretary of State's fall from grace.
 And that is why, in light of the present low state of his prestige, Kissinger's ambivalent attitude toward Cuba is puzzling. Everybody except him seems to have seen the grass, so far he remains aloof and Hamlet-like, postponing a decision on what to do about Cuba.
 Perhaps recent failures have made him gun-shy. At this writing, step by step diplomacy in the Middle East has been abandoned, the governments of South Vietnam and Cambodia have all but fallen, Portugal is lurching leftward, Cyprus remains divided, Greece becomes more anti-American every day, Chile lives under a repressive dictatorship and Thailand wants U. S. troops to leave.
 Cuba could provide Kissinger with the coup he needs to re-group his forces, but instead the Secretary has taken the low road to more criticism. America's silence at the November meeting of the Organization of American States last year resulted in a continuation of the economic embargo against Cuba even though we will over a majority of member nations favored just the opposite. Only the United States and three other nations (each governed by a pseudo-fascist military dictatorship) opposed the "opening" of Cuba.

 One is led to the conclusion that Kissinger's planned "consensus building" visit to our Latin neighbors is misnamed, inasmuch as the consensus by all accounts is already there.
 Surely the man who designed detente and the Nixon trips to Russia and China cannot believe that it's wrong to deal with communists. As for the Castro threat to the rest of Latin America very few — if any — experts will argue that Cuba poses any kind of threat, direct or indirect, to the domestic stability of its neighbors.
 For all his brilliance and finesse, Kissinger seems locked into the same error that hurt him so badly in Southeast Asia: putting his and America's prestige behind an outdated policy opposed both by the American people and the rest of the world.
 The advantage of America taking the lead in normalizing relations with Cuba are manifold. Both the Cuban and the American people would benefit economically from renewed trade relations. Our diplomats, politicians and academicians could study the economic advances made under Castro (despite the emotional rhetoric about Marxism, Castro has put much of the Alliance for Progress to shame).
 Countries like Argentina, Canada and England already are trading with Cuba. Bluntly put, these sales are taking jobs away from Americans.
 America has had the good sense, with Kissinger's help, to come in from the cold to our east and to the west. It is time for us to come in from the cold at home.

Such must have been the thinking of the thief who drove off with the automobile of Russell Tiedtke, smashed it, and left the car sitting by the ditch. — A two-inch snow greeted Wayne citizens Wednesday morning. The snow covered the ground in the early morning hours but melted quickly in the day's sun. — Chere Houdershed and Alan Cramer, both of whom earned superior ratings in the district speech contest, will participate in the fine arts festival in Lincoln. — Stanley Gamble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gamble, has accepted a position as a chemical engineer in a nylon plant in Virginia.

Thirty nine high schools in Northeast Nebraska will send some 2,500 students and teachers to Wayne April 21, 22, and 23 for the annual District III music contest.

THE GRASSROOTS OPINION

Accumb, Miss., Enterprise-Journal
 "There are some problems which the public knows little about but which affect people personally. An example is the devaluation of the dollar. Now it is being said that food prices have been affected by the dollar devaluation. Certainly this would mean that dollar devaluation is close to people personally. But the monetary system is a specialty. Only the specialists understand it. It is comparable to a surgical problem. No one would argue with his surgeon about how he should perform an operation. And by the same token few of us are in a position to argue with the economic specialists, even if the problem is personal."

Thoughts for today

THURSDAY — God gave us all years in order to release inner tension; tears are a safety valve. John 11:25; Jesus wept.
FRIDAY — If we really believe God loves us, we will tell others. 1 Chronicles 16:23; Sing to the Lord, all the earth. Proclaim good tidings of His salvation from day to day.
SATURDAY — Success in marriage is more than finding the right person; it is a matter of being the right person. Hebrews 13:4; Let marriage be held in honor among all. —
SUNDAY — I've heard church people say: "I'm not the praying kind. My life is too full now. I can't spare the time. My husband won't go, so I'll stay with him. It's my only free night off. None of our crowd attend. Some one might call it a waste of time. Are these the real reasons? Exodus 20:8; Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy.
MONDAY — The branches that bear the most fruit have the lowest. John 15:2; "Every branch in me that does not bear fruit, He takes away; and every branch that bears fruit, He prunes it, that it may bear more fruit.
TUESDAY — Tarry at the promise till God meets you here. Psalms 124:4; The words of the Lord are pure words.
WEDNESDAY — A minister asked the little girl what she thought of her first church service. "The music was nice," she said, "but the commercial was too long." Proverbs 22:4; Train up a child in the way he should go.

Now you don't have to choose between serving your Country and continuing your education.

Over 800 colleges and universities and the United States Army have developed a bold new concept in continuing education. Project Ahead. It lets you enlist in the Army and start college at the same time.

Here's what college administrators in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota say about Project Ahead.

Dr. Ronald W. Ruskens, Chancellor, University of Nebraska at Omaha
"The U.S. Bill has for years enabled veterans to earn college education at little or no cost. Now Project Ahead adds a valuable new dimension to these benefits. An individual can now choose his alma mater when he enlists and start building credits toward his degree while he is in the Army."

Dr. Lyle E. Seymour, President, Wayne State College
"Project Ahead has a lot to offer to young men and women who are interested in a college education but who choose not to begin full-time studies immediately. Project Ahead college provides important guidance and record keeping services to make sure that those participating in the program take the right steps toward their degrees."
Dr. Brendan J. McDonald, President, Kearney State College
"In over three years, this service can increase an individual's ability to succeed in college. Veterans on most campuses generally perform better academically than other students. Project Ahead is an added plus. Now, the veteran will return to full-time studies having already completed some of the rigorous college courses."
Dr. Thomas H. Thompson, President, Morningside College
"Project Ahead is a unique combination of educational opportunity and experience which is being put into effect as well as through college courses. At the same time, participants can develop a college attitude and be applied to ward their degree upon return to their home colleges and universities."

Dr. Robert H. DeZonia, Commissioner of Higher Education, South Dakota
"Project Ahead is by no means a free ride. Because while you're working toward a college degree, you'll be serving your country. You'll be a soldier full time. A student part time. You'll train hard. You'll work hard. And you'll find that at through a few years in the Army isn't the easiest way to earn a college education, it may be the most rewarding."

Sharp Dairy Producers To Offer Tips During 4-H Dairy Camp April 25-26

Four H'ers who turn out for the 4-H dairy camp at the Northeast Station later this month will be given some tips by a family of top dairy operators.

Present to talk to the youths will be the Warren Nelsons of rural Randolph. The Nelsons recently sold their herd that averaged 18,945 pounds of milk and 681 pounds of butterfat per year. At the time of the sale, the Nelsons had the highest rolling herd average in the state.

Tips from the Nelsons is just one of the things planned for the two day program April 25-26. Phil Cole, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension dairyman, will talk about cow behavior and some of the reasons cows respond to management like that of the Nelsons.

Because of the economic pressure on the dairyman, Don Kubik, district extension dairy specialist at the Northeast Station will discuss economic adjustments which will help the dairyman hang on this year.

Cal Ward, superintendent of the Northeast Station and district extension director, will talk about the potential in Northeast Nebraska for agriculture and how the experiment station and extension try to aid agriculture reach that potential.

This past year milk prices, imports, legislation and advertising have been given much publicity, and Gene Ebel, field supervisor for Mid America

Dairyman, will visit with the 4-H'ers about the market situations and what might be ahead in 1975.

The 4-H'ers will share ideas in a session aimed at discussing sick tricks they can use at home to get the job done better.

To conclude the camp, those attending will have the opportunity to tour the Jack Lange-meier dairy farm southwest of Wayne about 1:15 p.m. the final day of the dairy camp.

The Langemeier dairy operation, described by Kubik as an excellent physical plant which has good management, is located six and a half miles south and one mile west of Wayne.

The camp is open to 4-H dairy club members 12 years of age and older in Northeast Nebraska. It begins at 5 p.m. Friday, April 25.

Rehm: Inoculate Legume Seeds

Little things may mean a lot in crop production, Northeast Station agronomist George Rehm, reminds farmers that proper inoculation of legume seeds is one little thing that can mean more production in 1975.

If properly inoculated, legumes (clover, alfalfa and soybeans) can manufacture all the nitrogen needed from nitrogen in the air. As a result, no nitrogen fertilizer will be needed for these crops.

Rehm emphasizes that farmers should check to be sure that the inoculant used is designed for the crop they are planting. The crop or crops for which the inoculant can be used are usually listed on the package containing the inoculant.

Many legume seeds can be purchased that are pre-inoculated. However, if this pre-inoculated seed is stored in either very cold or very hot conditions, the bacteria may not survive. To be safe, it would be a good idea to inoculate the pre-inoculated seed, he said.

For best results, the bacteria in the inoculant must stick to the seed. Farmers in past years have found that such materials as milk, a mixture of sugar and water, or plain water will help the inoculant stick to the seed. Rehm added.

Local transit drivers, operators and conductors and employees of certain state or local seasonal recreational facilities are among government employees exempt from overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Pender Man Stockman of Year

A Pender man was named as the Northeast Nebraska Live stock Feeders Association Stockman of the Year during Saturday's annual banquet at Wayne State's Student Center.

He is Eldon Stuart, who owns a stock hauling firm in Pender. Stuart, who was born and raised in the Wisner area, started his trucking business in 1958. "To show our appreciation, we are honoring such a man who has been a great help to the cattle industry," said Tom Gustafson of Wakefield, past president of the association.

The award was presented following a talk by guest speaker Dr. LaVern Freeh, head of the office of special problems and assistant director of the agricultural extension service at the University of Minnesota.

Freeh, in his topic titled "Humor Helps Us Handle It," said people too often use hate to get things done. Humor has a role in life, he said. "We can accomplish much more through humor than profanity or hate," he emphasized.

Freeh admitted there is nothing humorous about today's stock market prices. But, he pointed out, cattle feeders have learned that by "sticking with it" they can beat the current market slump.

Also recognized for her contribution to the association was Mrs. Brenda Gustafson of Wakefield, who has written articles for various newspapers and magazines.

Twenty 4-H Leaders Honored at Banquet

Twenty Dixon County 4-H leaders were recognized for their years of service during last week's 4-H leader recognition dinner at Ponca.

Honored for 10 years of service were Mrs. Deryn Gregg and Mrs. Darrold Harder, both of Ponca. Receiving honors for five years of leadership were Mrs. Jack Erwin, Mrs. Robert Fritchen and Mrs. Arden Olson, all of Concord; Marvin Hartman, Dixon, and Mrs. Jim Warner, Allen.

Recognized for two years of service were Ernest Swanson, Wayne; Joe Ankeny, Dixon; Mrs. Marvin Echtenkamp, Mrs.

Norman Meyer and Francis Muller, all of Wakefield; Mrs. Wendell Breisch, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ehlers, Mrs. George Lohse and Mrs. Jerry Thomas, all of Newcastle; and Mrs. Bruce Book, Mrs. Willard Green and Ed Watchorn of Ponca.

Arnold Peterson, farm service director for WOW TV in Omaha, was honored as one of five Nebraska 4-H alumni. Peterson, who was a Dixon County 4-H member from 1926-32, was presented a plaque by Ernest Swanson as part of the Olin Chemical 4-H alumni recognition program.

Dixon County Junior Leaders The Dixon County 4-H Junior Leaders met April 4 at the Nebraska Station near Concord. The meeting was called to order by Clayton Hartman in the absence of president Anita Eckert. Thirteen members were present and Toni Breisch and Vern George joined the group.

Roy Stohler reported that some of the older junior leaders may be able to go on the Citizenship Short Course to Washington D. C. this summer with the Burk County Junior Leaders. Five members were planning on attending the Junior Leaders Conference at Wayne on April 5. A lunch committee was assigned for the remainder of the year. The Stohler family served lunch.

The next meeting will be June 4 at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station near Concord. Cathy Sachau, news reporter

Cutting Weed Control Costs Here are some suggestions from the University of Nebraska weed scientists for reducing herbicide costs which I'd like to pass on to you.

1. Use band treatments. Banded herbicides require one third to one-half the rates of broadcast treatments. Also 10-inch bands save 30 per cent over 14-inch bands.
2. Treat only fields where weeds are most prevalent.
3. Use band treatment on most of the field; broadcast treat the ends where weed populations are usually higher.
4. Use the cultivator. This may save on herbicide but not necessarily on production costs.
5. If your weed population is down, you may get by with treating in alternate years.
6. Compare herbicide prices and methods of application.
7. Consider postemergence applications where they can be used without loss of weed control and yields. 2, 4-D treatment for broadleaf weed control could be less costly than preemergence control.
8. Use herbicide combinations to get wider weed control with less herbicide.
9. Use lowest suggested rate for your soil type, especially where weed infestations are light.

More Cost Cutters
1. Crop rotations are excellent weed control methods.

2. Combine weed control methods, such as crop competition, mechanical and chemical control, and crop rotations.
3. Control weeds in all crops to prevent buildup of weed seed in the soil.
4. Hand weed to keep weeds from becoming established in fields.
5. Plant weed free seed.
6. Practice weed prevention such as cleaning combines, composting manure before spreading and feeding forages free of troublesome weeds.

Not all of these ideas will be practical on any given farm, but I'm sure every farmer can use one or more of these ideas on his own farm.

Demonstration Slated

A demonstration of reduced tillage farming operations will be held Tuesday at the Don Hansen farm south of Wayne.

The workshop will begin at 5:30 and will run until dark at the Hansen farm 10 miles south and three quarter mile east of Wayne.

The next meeting will be June 4 at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station near Concord. Cathy Sachau, news reporter

Lucky Lads and Lassies 4-H Club held their April 5 meeting in the Waylen Brown home. Thirteen members and four leaders were present.

Roll call was given with the name of a tree. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Kristie Knepper and the 4-H pledge by Robb Linafelter. Visitors were Susan O'Callaghan, Jody Jones and Jocelyn Smith. New member is Brian O'Callaghan.

The business meeting was conducted by the vice president, Lisa Wood in absence of the president, Marisa Gladwin. The film was shown by Jocelyn Smith, Home Extension agent on "Good Outposts of a 4-H Demonstration." Demonstrations were given by Lisa Wood on container sizes and price comparison and by Michelle Brown on putting together a sewing kit.

The next meeting will be May 3 at 1:30 p.m. in the Jim Warner home. Robb Linafelter, news reporter.

LEASE A VALLEY

Go for bumper crops this year. Bank-rate money.

With Valmont you don't need to wait to get the benefits of center pivot irrigation. Bank rate money is available to you; even for long-term leases up to 14 years.

You handle all your equipment financing at one place - including pump, power units, lead-in, even insurance, installation and optional equipment. With a Valmont lease there's no big first year down payment either. And you're in the best position of anyone to make an offer and own it when the lease expires.

Think like this: Leasing could free your capital and conserve cash. In today's inflation, leasing makes real sense - you pay as you go in tomorrow's cheaper dollars. It can also improve your tax picture - it's fully deductible.

Let us hear from you. VALLEY.

TAKE A NEW LOOK AT THE OLD WAY OF FARMING.

Protein costs are going up causing pressure on livestock feeding profits. That's why greater emphasis is being placed on the feeding versatility and protein value of alfalfa.

By selecting a Sexauer Alfalfa for your specific growing conditions and following sound management practices, you'll gain increased alfalfa quality and tonnage. Sexauer Alfalfas start off fast in the spring, recover fast after each cutting and have large leaves with finer stems for higher protein value. And high quality protein alfalfa reduces the need for added protein supplements to feed. This means greater profits for your feeding operation.

The only additional work in planting Sexauer Alfalfas is harvesting the increased yields!

And the little extra you'll pay for the Sexauer Brands will be returned to you in increased yields over the common varieties of alfalfa.

This spring plant the protein producers... Sexauer Alfalfas.

 On door-to-door sales of $25 or more a Federal Trade Commission rule gives you the right to cancel the sale within three days.

The salesman must tell you of more a Federal Trade Commission rule gives you the right to cancel the sale within three days.

As a consumer, you should make certain the contract is dated and shows the name and address of the seller. The contract should carry the following statement near the buyer's signature: "You, the buyer, may cancel this transaction at any time prior to midnight of the third business day after the date of this transaction. See the attached notice of cancellation form for an explanation of this right."

If you cancel, the seller must within 10 days refund your money, return any goods or property traded in, cancel and return $25 in documents that you've signed, and tell you if he'll pick up or let you keep anything left with you.

Door-to-door sales which are not covered include total sales under $25, orders placed at the seller's address, telephone orders, sales made entirely by mail, real estate, insurance or securities sales, and some home repairs sales.

You, the consumer, should be familiar with the "three day cooling off period" rule and how it protects you.
