

2 Vietnamese Boys Find New Home

Wayne has gained another touch of international flavor, as two Vietnamese boys have found a home and a local couple have ended their search for adoptive children.

Making all that possible are Nguyen-Tan-Phat and Nguyen-Tan-Dai, two young Vietnamese who are now the children of the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Schneider.

The boys are better known as Aaron Matthew and Marc Evan, the names their new parents gave them when they officially adopted them last week.

According to the new parents, Aaron, who will be three on May 14, and Marc, who will turn two in November, are just like any other children: They are always hungry.

The boys are sons of a Vietnamese woman who gave up control of the children so they could be put up for adoption. Their fathers were black American soldiers who were married to the Vietnamese while serving in the Army. One boy's father was killed, but nothing is known about the other father, according to the Rev. Schneider, assistant pastor at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

They were born in Giadinh, a suburb of Saigon.

Unlike the large number of Vietnamese children brought to the United States in recent weeks as the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese continued their southward advance on Saigon, the two youngsters have been in America for more than four months. They were brought to the United States by an international adoption agency about the middle of December and have been with the agency since then as efforts have continued to find them homes.

It was almost accidental that the Schneiders were chosen as their new parents.

The local couple, who have lived in Wayne since July, began their efforts to adopt a child in about November of last year. The Omaha adoption agency they were working with was unable to find them a child until one of the caseworkers began talking with a representative of the international adoption agency. As soon as the caseworker mentioned that the Schneiders were willing to adopt a child of mixed racial background, things started clicking.

On Tuesday of last week the couple received a telephone call informing them that two Vietnamese children were available. The couple quickly said they would accept them. Thursday they drove to Omaha to sign the papers necessary for adoption. Friday they received another telephone call, this one telling them they were to pick up the boys at Kansas City, Mo., on Sunday. Over the weekend the Schneiders drove to Kansas City.

The youngsters were flown to Kansas City from Seattle, Wash., and the Schneiders were waiting for them at the airport Sunday afternoon. By Sunday evening, all four were back at the Schneider home, just across the street from the Grace Lutheran Church on Logan Street.

By Monday the youngsters were playing in the Schneider home, tossing toys and taking naps. "I'm sitting about every time they turned around and doing everything else young boys that age do."

And by Monday night they were on television. A Sioux City television station came to Wayne Monday to televise the youngsters with their new parents and to interview local residents about their reactions to having two Vietnamese children join the community.

The Schneiders admit that the youngsters may have some difficult times as they grow up in a small, predominantly white community.

But their parents feel that the love and security they give the children will hide them over any rough spots.

And as soon as the youngsters start playing outside and flashing their smiles around, it's going to be difficult for other youngsters as well as adults not to accept them just like they do the kids down the block, the Schneiders note.

The youngsters have already learned several English words as they become more and more used to Americans, and Aaron is captivated by the Mickey Mouse afternoon television program shown daily over a Sioux City television station.

Their parents have already planned at least one significant event in the youngsters' lives: their baptism on May 11, which just happens to be Mother's Day.

The Rev. Schneider, 26, has been assistant pastor at Grace Lutheran Church since he and his wife Carolyn, 26, moved to Wayne last summer. Prior to that he was attending St. Louis Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., and they were living in St. Charles, a city near St. Louis. She is from St. Charles while he grew up in Girardeau, Mo.

The Schneiders, who have been married five years, have no children of their own.

NOW AT HOME with the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Schneider of Wayne are their two adopted Vietnamese children, Aaron, left, and Marc.

Hi-Raters 4-H Club Does Well in Contest For Young Speakers

Two members of Wayne County's Hi-Raters 4-H Club will represent the county in the district 4-H speech contest at Norfolk May 3.

They are Kris Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of rural Wayne, and Michael Rethwisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rethwisch, also of rural Wayne.

The two were named top girl and boy speakers in the county 4-H speaking contest held Tuesday evening at Wayne State's Student Union. Both received purple ribbons from the judge, Dr. Robert Johnson, member of the Wayne State College faculty.

Kris gave a talk titled "Mule Skinner Politics." Mike's talk was called "Forkchop Patriot."

They were among seven youths who participated in the senior division of the contest.

Also receiving purple ribbons in that division were Gail Grono, member of the Modern Misses 4-H Club whose talk was titled "Bicentennial," and Cindy Gnirk, member of Kid Power whose talk was titled "You Can Help."

Receiving blue ribbons in the senior division were Carol Baird, "You, 4-H and the Bicentennial," Modern Misses; Lynnette Gnirk, "Will You Parici pale?"; Kid Power; and Shirley Kiensang, "The Price of Glory." Hoskins club.

By winning the right to compete in the district contest, young Rethwisch duplicated his showing in last year's county contest.

A total of 30 young 4-H'ers competed in the junior division.

Winning purple ribbons in that age group were Karen Sandahl, Gingham Gals; Carla Berg, Helping Hands; Mike Gnirk, Kid Power; Marvin Hansen, Hot Shots; Diane Lindsay, Gingham Gals; Marcia Rethwisch, Hi-Raters; Steven Rethwisch, Hi-Raters; and Anita Sandahl, Gingham Gals.

Blue ribbons went to Kathy Gnirk, Kid Power; Hugh Jager, Pleasant Valley; Blaine Johs, See SPEAKERS, page 8

Allen to Continue Club's Tree Sales

Allen's Community Development Club will continue offering trees for sale during the rest of April, according to club secretary, Keith Hill.

Members agreed to continue selling the trees at Monday night's meeting, said Hill, pointing out that if sales don't increase the club will drop the project in May.

The club started offering the trees earlier this month in an effort to have Allen residents plant new trees to replace trees which have been cut down or destroyed by Dutch elm disease. Prices for the three foot tall trees range from $1 to $25.

Wayne County Leads State in Population Drop

The population of Wayne County declined from 10,400 in April of 1970 to 9,092 in July of 1974, according to temporary estimates developed cooperatively by the University of Nebraska Bureau of Business Research and the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

The drop in population, 12.6 per cent, was the largest experienced by any county in the state, according to the estimates.

By contrast, Stanton County experienced an increase in population almost as great as Wayne County's decrease, according to those estimates. The population in Stanton County grew from 5,758 to 6,449 for a 12 per cent increase.

Also experiencing population decreases, although less than Wayne County's, were Dixon and Cedar Counties, the figures show.

The population in Dixon County dipped from 7,453 to 7,037 for a 5.6 per cent decrease, and the population in Cedar County dropped from 12,192 to 12,025 for a 1.4 per cent decrease.

The estimates are provisional and are subject to error, according to an article explaining population changes across the state in the Bureau's April issue of Business in Nebraska. Estimating and interpreting the changes in the populations of counties is difficult, especially in small counties, because random fluctuations and quirks in the demographic indicators can occur, the article notes.

2nd Mock Tornado to Hit Wayne on Friday, May 2

Wayne will hold its second city-wide practice tornado disaster in 35 many years on Friday, May 2.

Ray Butts of Wayne, one of three men working to organize the practice disaster, said the mock tornado will strike the city sometime in late afternoon or early evening.

The time and site of the mock disaster will be kept from the public in an attempt to make the practice as real as possible, he said.

Several people will be in the building designated for the practice mock tornado strikes and will serve as injured persons who will need medical and hospital care, according to Butts.

All persons in the community, especially those with first aid or emergency medical training, are being urged to help with the practice disaster. Butts emphasized that people will be needed to remove the injured from the building and give them proper care.

Although only a few people will know when the mock tornado is to hit the city, everybody in the community should seek shelter as soon as they hear the siren warning them that a tornado is approaching, said Butts.

That warning in Wayne is three 30 second blasts of the siren, separated by 15 second periods of silence. The all clear signal is one 60 second blast.

After they take cover and hear the all clear signal, people should tune in the local radio station to receive information about where the tornado struck and what they should do if they are going to help those injured in the disaster, said Butts.

Last year's mock disaster involved a large number of people, including local Boy Scouts, fire

Lightning Cuts Power in City Early Tuesday

Two bolts of lightning coming within minutes of each other resulted in a power outage in Wayne Tuesday morning.

The first bolt of lightning knocked off one distribution line in the city, and the second bolt, coming about 10 minutes later, knocked off the intertie with Nebraska Public Power District, resulting in a power outage throughout the city, according to Bill Mellor, electrical distribution superintendent. The lightning struck about 9:30 a.m.

Portions of the west part of Wayne, including the schools, were without power for about two and a half hours because a safety device was damaged by one of the lightning bolts, he noted.

Most of the city was without power for only about five to 10 minutes before city employees were able to get electricity flowing through the distribution lines.

WS 3rd Term Begins Today

Third term classes begin today (Thursday) at Wayne State. Monday is the last day to register for daytime classes, but students attending only evening classes can enroll up to the first night of class meetings next week.

For night class registration, students should arrive at Hahn Administration Building by 6 p.m., in order to complete enrollment procedure.

Third term continues through June 13.

Summer session registration by mail is underway now. A registration day is scheduled June 17 for those who have not signed up in advance.

2nd Beef Days Is Here

If you like beef, you will want to make a point of visiting Wayne stores today (Thursday) through Saturday as local merchants hold their second annual Beef Days promotion.

Most stores will be giving away certificates good for at least two 14-ounce to 16-ounce T-bone steaks as well as free literature on how to prepare beef, what cuts to choose, which recipes work best and the like. Stores also will be giving away balloons to the youngsters.

Special attraction for the promotion, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in an attempt to focus attention on the importance cattlemen play in this area's economy, will be the drawing for a quarter of beef at 3 p.m. Saturday in front of the Chamber office at 108 W. Third St.

Area residents need only register in participating stores to be eligible for the numerous individual drawings and the Chamber-sponsored drawing on Saturday afternoon.

Linda Sander, area home economist at the Northeast Station near Concord, and the Northeast Nebraska Feeders Association helped gather all the free literature which will be given away in stores during the promotion.

Heading up the promotion are local businessmen Gene Cornelt and Roger Nelson.

Area residents looking for ways to save on their shopping expenses will find a host of special deals in advertisements inside this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Norfolk Church Scene of Bohm-Lage Wedding Vows

Cyndee Bohm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bohm of Norfolk, and Leslie Lage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lage of Carroll exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony April 12 at the First Christian Church, Norfolk.

The Rev. James Landrum officiated and Leslie Lage was the bride. Annette Samuelson of Omaha, cousin of the bride, and Cindy Moritz of Norfolk were bridesmaids and Lynda Bohm of Norfolk, also a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride attended at the wedding in a white gown of Luan Bohm of Norfolk, sister of the bride. Annette Samuelson of Omaha, cousin of the bride, and Cindy Moritz of Norfolk were bridesmaids and Lynda Bohm of Norfolk, also a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride appeared in a formal-gown of white organza over angel mist taffeta, fashioned with a scoop neckline edged with a wide ruffle of Chantilly lace and seed pearls, high rise waistline accented with lace appliques and white apple blossoms accented with stephanotis and white ribbon streamers.

Her attendants wore floor-length frocks of blue, yellow, green, pink and lavender floral polyester crepe, styled with scoop necklines, empire waistlines and full gathered skirts with a deep ruffle flounce.

Matching ruffle edged the neckline and cuffs and they wore wide-brimmed hats with ribbon trim to match the color of each gown. They each carried a basket of pastel daisies.

MR. AND MRS. LESLIE LAGE

Decorations were in orange and white, colors chosen by the bride for her May 17 marriage at the Carroll Methodist Church to Mike Creighton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Creighton of Wayne.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Winshire High School and was employed for three years at Dale Electronics in Norfolk. The couple took a wedding trip to Denver and are making their first home near Wayne.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Workshop to Focus on Women in Management

A three-session workshop on "Women in Management" will be conducted at the Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College (NNTCC) in Norfolk May 5-7.

The workshop is being sponsored by the University of Nebraska Lincoln extension division and NNTCC.

Sessions are designed to help meet the needs of women who want a career in management and to serve organizations which seek a management development program for women.

Participants in the workshop may also enroll in the independent study course, "Principles of Management for Women," and earn three hours of university credit upon completion.

Instructors will be Dr. Henry Albers, professor and director, and Carmen D. Mattes, staff assistant and instructor at the UNL College of Business Administration, and Donna Polk, equal employment opportunity representative from the State Department of Labor.

Complete information is available from the University Extension Division, 511 Nebraska Hall Lincoln, Neb., 68508, telephone 472-2171.

Rev. George Francis Gives Sermonette

Thirteen Wayne Senior Citizens Center members were present Friday afternoon for the sermonette, "Bread of Life," by the Rev. George Francis of Theophilus and Wesleyan Churches.

Rev. Francis told the group that even though we are all of different denominations, we have one doctrine which is "doing the will of God from the heart."

The next sermonette and sing a long will be May 16.

Mrs. Bull Hostess For April Meeting

Pitch provided entertainment for members of the Just Us Gals Club who met April 16 with Mrs. Wally Bull.

Card prizes went to Mrs. Clara Spahr, high, and Mrs. Wally Bull, low.

Mrs. Clara Spahr will host the group at 2 p.m. May 21.

Shower Is Held Sunday At Carroll

A bridal shower honoring Marsha Johnson of Carroll was held Sunday afternoon at the Carroll United Methodist Church.

Forty-five guests, registered by Mrs. John Owens, were present for the let's Cinda Owens assisted with gifts and Mrs. Perry Johnson and Mrs. Martin Hansen received prizes in games.

Decorations were in orange and white, colors chosen by the bride for her May 17 marriage at the Carroll Methodist Church to Mike Creighton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Creighton of Wayne.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Winshire High School and was employed for three years at Dale Electronics in Norfolk.

Allen Senior Picked for $400 Floral Scholarship

A senior at Allen High School, LeAnn Lubberstedt, was recently chosen as the recipient of a $400 scholarship awarded by the Nebraska Florists Society.

LEANN LUBBERSTEDT school's choir, girls glee, swing choir, Pep Club, paper staff, annual staff and FHA. She has served as cheerleader and class officer and was chosen for WHO'S Who Among High School Students.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lubberstedt of Dixon, she was chosen because of her desire to learn the floral trade, her ambition to advance as a florist and on the recommendations of her teachers and other florists.

Miss Lubberstedt, who is employed at the Wayne Greenhouse, will be attending the Floral Technology and Design School in Kansas City, Mo. for six weeks, beginning Sept. 15.

This year at Allen High School she entered the horticulture divisions of the district vocational agriculture contest held at Allen in March, where she received a blue ribbon, and the FFA convention at Lincoln the first of April, receiving a red ribbon.

Her team received blue ribbons in both events. She is also active in the

will be used for a memorial to the late Dr. Roy Matson, who served the Wayne area for nearly 30 years before his death late in December. Mrs. Orville Sherry was chairman for the day long event. Helping her were Mrs. Dick Keidel, publicity chairman; Mrs. Ed Wolke, chairman of the noon lunch; Mrs. Clifford Johnson, chairman of sorting and pricing; Mrs. Cal Ward, chairman of sales and personnel, and Mrs. Marra, chairman of collections.

Cancer Chairman Says Films Available

April is cancer crusade month and Mrs. Rudy Longe of Wakefield, public education chairman for the Wayne County unit of the American Cancer Crusade, reports that several films on cancer are available free of charge to individuals or organizations who want to show them. Among the films, which can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Longe at Wakefield, are "The Marjella Bayh Story," concerning Mrs. Bayh's mastectomy and recovery, and a film on silene cancer and the Pap test, narrated by Virginia Graham and Lucille Ball and her daughter Lucy.

The public education chairman said there has been a lot of national publicity on breast cancer since the recent mastectomies of Mrs. Gerald Ford and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller and the American Cancer Society has several good films and literature on proper instructions to detect breast abnormalities.

Tee Off Event Set for May

Wayne County Club Ladies will hold a tee off luncheon and style show Tuesday, May 6 beginning at 12:30 p.m. at the Country Club. Models will display fashions prior to and in closing the 1940's. Those planning to attend should contact Mrs. Terry Luft by May 1 for reservations. Tickets are $15 each. About 120 are expected to attend.

A new anatomical breast teaching model, "Basti," is now available and can be used in action oriented programs, said Mrs. Longe. The model enables women in the audience to participate and understand the proper instructions in self examining techniques. The American Cancer Society is following up this year's programs with commitment cards, said Mrs. Longe, adding, "showing a film is good but getting action is better."

Volunteers for the Wayne unit began their cancer crusade in Wayne's residential district early last week. Business representatives and rural volunteers began their crusade the first of April.

This year's county crusade chairmen are Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Fred Gilder, sleeve, both of Wayne.

Mrs. Bichel Hostess To LaPorte Meeting
Mrs. Carl Bichel was hostess to the April 15 afternoon meeting of the LaPorte Club. Seven members attended and answered roll call with a joke. The May 20 meeting will be at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Harry Wert.

Rain Drowns WS Diamond Debut

Wayne State baseball players sang another verse in the same old song about rain Tuesday, and coach Larry Schultz declared, "We must be the only team in the country that hasn't played a home game yet!" They were scheduled to play Midland here Tuesday, until rain submerged the home debut.

Jerry Frerichs and Randy Miller in the opener and from Tim Denham, Jim Kopecky and Thorn in the nightcap. The split left both Wayne and Chadron with 6-10 records, Wayne 7-2 in conference and Chadron 1-1.

Creighton moved on to an 8-4 decision. Steve Russell started, Darrell Winger relieved in the second, Steve Kellen in the sixth. Winger took the loss. Creighton ace Gary McCabe had a no-hitter and shutout through two outs of the nightcap seventh. Then Frerichs smashed a home run for Wayne's only score.

Jr Hi Track Buffs Win, Lose at Wisner

Wayne's junior high girls and boys track teams split with Wisner-Pilger clubs during Monday's duals at Wisner. The girls overpowered their hosts, 129-74-42, while the boys lost by 172-88-19.

Workman, Laura Lessmann, and Deb Brown ran a 39.4, and the 880 team of Jacobmeier, Lessmann, Lisa Magnuson and Rochelle Friend finished in 2:07. Finishing second in the 440 relay in 1:07.7 were Stacy Jacobmeier, Shelly Davis, Megan Owens and Denise Mendle. The same four finished third in 2:23.7 in the 880 relay.

Hansen's 13 in the 100 yard low Emry won the high jump with a 4-10 leap. Powers broke Brian Magnuson's 880 yard record of 2:30 set in 1972 with a time of 2:28.8. Jeff Zeiss collected wins in the 60-yard low hurdles in .69 and in the 50-yard dash in .66.5. Also winning was Rafael Sosa in the 40 yard dash in 1:05.7.

Wayne's 440 and 880 yard relay teams finished second. The 440 team of Jeff Dion, Stuart Nissen, Kurt Powers and Zeiss lapped the track in 57.9. The 880 squad finished in 2:03.8. Names for the squad weren't available.

Mosley, Nuss Lead WH at Girls Meet. Wayne High's girls track team scored eight points in Saturday's 14 team Schuyler invitational to finish in a tie with North Bend for 10th place. Freshmen Sydney Mosley and Lisa Nuss scored Wayne's points. Mosley finished third in the long jump with a leap of 15'6, and Nuss was fifth in the high jump with a 4'6 mark. Schuyler won its meet with 63 1/2 points, followed by Omaha Cathedral 52, Columbus Lakeview 50, Arlington 44, 51, Edward 34, Omaha Marian 31, Tekamah-Herman 26, David City 21, Columbus Scout 13, Wayne 8, North Bend 8, Wisner Pilgr 7, Fremont Bergan 7, 1, 3 and Wahoo 2. Denesia Resigns Secretary Post. After 16 years on the Wayne Baseball Association board, Charles Denesia has resigned, members were notified during Monday night's meeting. Denesia, who has served as association secretary most of those 16 years, pointed to other commitments as the reason for his stepping down. No one was named to replace Denesia on the board during Monday's election of officers, said action secretary Jean Nuss. Re-elected president and vice president were Ivan Creighton and Nuss. Bob Bartlett will take over as treasurer, replacing Ted Bahe, who will continue on the board. Two Wayne men, Jerry Hix and Les Lull, were added to the association board, bringing total membership to 13. More than 600,000 persons were enrolled in February in work and training programs administered by the Manpower Administration of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Athlete Of The Week. DICK CHAPMAN, Wayne High School. An athlete doesn't usually receive The Wayne Herald's "Athlete of the Week" award two times in a row, but Wayne high sprinter Dick Chapman is an unusual athlete. The senior earns the honor for the second straight week because he continues to be the Blue Devils' leading point gatherer. Last Thursday he won the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Earlier this season he ran a 10.1 100 yard dash that erased the school record. But Chapman's time wasn't recorded in the school books only, and this week he was listed among the Omaha World Herald's weekly best performances for all state high school 100 yard sprint men. According to coach Al Hansen, Chapman's best in the 100 yard dash is tops in Class B in the state so far this season. In addition, Chapman is a member of the 880 yard relay team which, according to The Norfolk Daily News, has the best time in Northeast Nebraska, 1:35.9. Alternating on that team are Rod Hoops, Jack Froehlich, Mark Brandt and Marty Hansen. Chapman is the son of Mr and Mrs Rex Chapman of Carroll.

Trojan Golfers 2nd in Triangule. Wakefield High golfers shot a nine-hole round of 187 to finish second in Tuesday's triangular at Harrington. John Polen fired a 42, Kerry Bressler a 45, Alan Johnson a 49 and Steve Postpissil a 51. Harrington Cedar Catholic won the meet with 174; Harrington High was third with 202. "We improved by 25 stroke over Monday's first time out," said Wakefield coach Lyte Trullinger. The Trojans lost Monday: dual to Stanton, 205-212. Bressler had 47, Polen 51, Johnson 51 and Bennett Salmon 63.

WHO SAYS fast-pitch softball is dying? Look at Wakefield, Wayne, Hoskins and Winside and you will see that the sport is far from dead.

Winside and Hoskins are entering teams in the newly formed Northeast Nebraska Softball League. Hoskins will field two teams, Winside one. Other towns in the league are Hadar, Stanton and Norfolk.

According to league commissioner Ron Unger of Norfolk, the new loop is a branch-off of Norfolk's fast-pitch league, which has had trouble getting playing fields in Norfolk because of the increase in the number of slow-pitch teams.

Fast-pitch has nearly died in the big city. Last year Norfolk had 40 slow-pitch teams compared to only two fast-pitch, Unger said.

The new league isn't limited to just eight teams. There is still time to meet Friday's entry deadline. For more info, call Unger in Norfolk.

WAKEFIELD will again have an eight-team fast-pitch league. Making up that loop will be five teams from Wakefield, two from Wayne and one from Emerson.

The league is limited to eight teams, same as last year. In charge of the league are Fred Nicholson, Dave Rouse and Larry Olson. The schedule should be available within the next week or two for play slated to start about the third week in May, weather permitting.

ALTHOUGH Wayne will have two teams in Wakefield's league, the city recreation department will not have a men's slow-pitch softball league this summer. The present recreation lineup of girls softball, boys baseball and the team will take up most of the playing time at the city ball park, according to recreation director Hank Overin.

Carroll men aren't sure if they will field a team to compete in a slow-pitch league. According to Dennis Rohde, a team meeting will be held in the near future to decide if the town will have a team.

IT'S OFFICIAL: Bill Morrison, high school wrestling coach at Oakland-Craig the last four years, will be a graduate assistant coach in wrestling and football at Wayne State for the 1975-76 school year.

"We're pleased to have Bill," said WS football coach Del Stoltenberg. "Bill is a welcome addition to our staff."

A FREE baseball umpires clinic will be held May 4 at the American Legion Club in Hastings beginning at 1 p.m. The clinic, sponsored by the Nebraska American Legion, is open to all persons interested in officiating baseball.

Instructor for the afternoon session will be George Hametz of Lincoln. Hametz has 30 years of officiating experience, including umpiring in the College World Series, American Legion World Series, national regional tournaments, state Legion tournaments and several semi-pro leagues.

Among subjects to be discussed will be rule changes for the 1975 American Legion season, which includes the new "limited" substitution rule, protective equipment and uniform, proper positioning and addition of the Class C Legion program.

WS Netmen Take Two

Wayne State chalked up two tennis wins here Monday with a 7-2 decision over Nebraska Wesleyan, then a 5-4 squeak past Dana.

Wesleyan was on the schedule Monday, but coach Wes Fritz asked Dana to come too, making up an earlier rained-out meet. It probably was the first time Wayne had ever played two meets in one day, as far as anybody can remember.

Three Wildcats won singles matches in both meets — Dan Rose, George Shuck and Jeff Garrison. Shuck and Garrison also teamed for a pair of doubles victories.

Saturday at Vermillion, Wayne lost to the University of South Dakota, 8-1, making up a rain-out.

Another makeup was scheduled at Yankton Wednesday, the first of four straight days in action. South Dakota is scheduled here today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. Then Wayne plays at Concordia Friday and hosts Yankton Saturday, 10 a.m.

The NAIA district tournament is calendared for Monday at Doane College.

Distance Runners Pace LH at O'Neill

Distance runners scored the majority of Laurel High's 11 points during Friday's O'Neill invitational.

Freshman Dave Lindgren placed third in the two mile in 10:54 and fourth in the mile in 5:01. The two mile and mile relay teams placed third and fifth. Lindgren's time in the two mile broke the school record of 11:03 he set at Plainview this year.

Running on the two-mile squad were Phil Dalton, Mike Dalton, Don Diederker and Monte Johnson. The foursome finished in 9:01.5. On the mile relay team were Phil Dalton, Diederker, Johnson and Lindgren. They clocked 3:53.7.

In the field events, Warren Hanson placed fourth in the discus with a heave of 132.11. Laurel finished in a tie for seventh with Bloomfield in the 12 team Class 1 division. O'Neill won the meet with 53 points.

RITCH WORKMAN taps in a short putt at the seventh hole during Monday's triangular golf meet with West Point and Pender.

City Baseball Starts Saturday

Recreation baseball starts Saturday at the Wayne ball park for youngsters in grades second through high school.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., boys in grades second through fourth will practice until 11 a.m. every Saturday. Rest of the schedule:

- 11:30 p.m., fifth-sixth grade boys; 12:15 p.m., fifth-sixth grade girls; 2:15 to 3:30 p.m., seventh-eighth grade girls; 3:30 to 5 p.m., high school girls.

Practice for seventh and eighth grade boys will start May 12 after they finish junior high track, said recreation director Hank Overin.

Recreation practice will continue until May 24 when the summer schedule goes into effect, Overin said.

In case of rain, the Middle Center will be open from 1:30 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, Overin noted. The Center is now open from 4:55-5 p.m. on weekdays.

Wayne Captures Golf Triangular

Wayne High golfers nudged West Point by one stroke to capture Monday's triangular at Wayne.

Kirk Wacker and Si Prather shot scores of 47 for nine holes, after Tom Johnson and Rich Workman had 43's. The Blue Devils shot 170 while West Point had 171 and Pender finished with 199.

Wayne's reserve squad took its first win in dual play, beating West Point in another close match, 203-207. Pender didn't field a reserve squad.

Vince Jenness shot a 46 to lead Wayne's reserves. Norman Brown fired a 47 and Doug Pierson and Kevin Marks recorded 55's.

About 65 guests attended an open house reception in the home of Mrs. Anna Andersen at Winside Saturday in honor of her 90th birthday.

Great granddaughter Mary Bowder registered the guests who attended from Bridgeport, Plymouth, Laurel, Norfolk, Wayne and Winside. Mrs. Tom Iversen of Norfolk cut and served the birthday cake. Mrs. Lester Grubbs poured and Mrs. Jim Bottelfsen of Plymouth served punch.

Sunday guests in the Howard Iversen home to honor Mrs. Andersen were Ola Brogren, Dalton; Mrs. Herbert Schuessler and Lisa and Mrs. Chris Maas, Potter; Ardelle Schuessler, Lincoln; the Raymond Andersens, Bridgeport; Mrs. Dora Stahl, Mrs. Francis Samuelson, Mrs. Mary Kahler and the John Morrises, all of Wayne; the William Iversens and Jayson, Wahoo; Dora Jensen, Fremont; the Wallace Kahlers, Osmond; the Dan Hoffmans, Louis Brogrens, Terry Brogrens, Edwin Bro-grens, Tom Iversens and the Don Siedschlag family, all of Norfolk; Jim Bottelfsens, Plymouth; the Bill Brogrens and Eroy, Hoskins, and the Lester Grubbs, Mrs. Rosie Hoffman, Hans Brogrens; the Rod Brogren family and Mrs. Dennis Bowers and family, all of Winside.

Mrs. Andersen was born in Douglas County April 19, 1885 and moved to Wayne County in 1891. She moved into Winside with her family in 1917.

Hosting the weekend celebration were her children, Raymond of Bridgeport and Mrs. Howard Iversen of Winside, with whom she resides. There are seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Birthday cakes were presented by the Ola Brogren family, the Dennis Bowers family and Bill Brogrens.

POCKET MONEY PARTS

Less than $150 a year

Valley Water Drives are the kings of low cost center pivot operation. Owners get the same big yields as the owners of expensive center pivots and operate and maintain them for peanuts.

It's been going on for better than 20 years. Because it's water driven and mechanical, parts are simple, costing from a few cents to a few dollars.

The actual drive train rarely, if ever, wears out, so you don't pay for expensive components. You don't need costly electricians. Farm workers make needed adjustments and repairs. When you buy, you'll save up to $9,000. No wonder it adds up to more profits in your pocket.

THE WAYNE HERALD

Andersons Marry Saturday At St. Paul's Lutheran

The altar of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne was appointed with two spiral candleholders with artificial greenery and pink carnations and two pedestal baskets of pink gladioluses, daisies and carnations and baby's breath for the Saturday evening wedding of Debbie Soden and Roger Anderson, both of Winside.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Soden and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Anderson, all of Winside.

The Rev. Paul Reimers of Wayne officiated at the double ring ceremony. Wedding music included "The Wedding Song" and "Follow Me," sung by Mrs. Paul Reimers and accompanied by Mrs. Jack Krueger of Wakefield.

Guests were registered by Denise Erickson of Lincoln and ushered into the church by Ed Lienemann of Stanton, Craig Pivomitzky of Lincoln and Jack Lutt of Winside.

Flower girl was Julie Reimers of Wayne and ring bearer was Burkley Brown of Fremont.

Mafron of honor was Mrs. Jack Lutt of Winside, and bridesmaids were Ellen Miller and Pat Kohle, both of Norfolk, and Mrs. Ed Lienemann of Stanton. Canticles were lighted by Tom Anderson of Winside, brother of the groom, and Dean Stalnaker of Norfolk.

The bridegroom's attendants were Craig Steinhauer of Battle Creek, Don Anderson, brother of the groom, and Steph Carlson, both of Winside, and Gary Soden of Crete, brother of the bride.

For her wedding day the bride chose a traditional gown of white organza over angel mist which was edged by a wide Cluny lace ruffe. Scallops of seed pearls were repeated on the long, lace-sleeves with Cluny lace ruffe at the wrists.

The princess style gown was accented by a full, bell skirt which swayed into a semi-cathedral length train, and was adorned by venise lace flower appliques and bordered by a wide ruffe of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip mantilla of nylon illusion was edged with the same Cluny lace trim and was held by a lace framing crescent headpiece with scalloped pearl design.

The matron of honor wore a floor-length gown of pink polyester knit with a high rise waistline and spaghetti straps, styled with a sheer pink chiffon cape featuring butterfly sleeves and a rolled, high collar which tied in back. She wore a white imported Swiss straw picture hat with pink grosgrain ribbon trim. The bride's hair was styled identically to the matron of honor's and they wore pink hats with white grosgrain ribbon trim.

The bridegroom's tuxedo jacket and shirt were white and his attendants wore pink tuxedos with pink ruffled shirts.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Soden chose a pink floral floor-length gown with gold accessories.

Joe Weible of Omaha and Mrs. Dean Krueger of Winside arranged gifts for the reception which followed in the church parlors and Mr and Mrs Bill Pivomitzky of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson of Hoskins greeted the guests.

Mrs. Walter Fleer Jr. of Hoskins and Mrs. Maurice Stalnaker of Norfolk cut and served the cake, and Mrs. Willis Meyer and Mrs. Keith Erickson, both of Wayne, poured Carol Fleer of McCook and Joleen Stalnaker of Norfolk served punch.

Waitresses were Donna and Renee Anderson, Rhonda Anderson and Pam and Paula Hoeman, all of Hoskins, Beth Baier of Wayne, DeAnna Kerber of Granville, Ia, and Mrs. Dale Krueger, Mrs. Lyle Krueger, Mrs. Arline Zoffka and Mrs. Clarence Pfeiffer, all of Winside Ladies of St. Paul's LCW assisted in the kitchen.

The newlyweds left for a trip to California and are making their first home at Hoskins. The bride, a 1973 graduate of Winside High School and a 1974 graduate of Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College at Norfolk, was employed at Lincoln General Hospital in Lincoln. The groom graduated from Winside High School in 1971 and is employed at Northeast Building Supply Co., in Norfolk.

Cattle Value Dips $20 Billion in '74

The value of all U.S. cattle and calves dropped some $20 billion last year, according to agricultural economists.

A year ago, all cattle were valued at $4 billion, but by past January their value had dropped to $2 billion, meaning cattle herd assets are now only about one half what they were a year ago.

This sharp drop in value means cattlemen now have less equity in their cattle operations than they did a year ago, points out Dr. Al Wellman, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist. Consequently, Wellman said, producers have less collateral on which to borrow operating funds for 1975.

In January the average head value of cattle and calves dropped to its lowest level in seven years when it hit $159 January a year ago, cattle value was up to $321 per head, Wellman recalled.

"The drop in equity took place even though cow numbers increased 2.3 million head, which means higher beef production in 1975 and beyond (unless culling is maintained at a very high level). It is expected, for example, that the 1975 calf crop will exceed the 1974 calf crop by nearly 1.5 million head," he noted.

The economist said one bright spot is that the number of beef heifers being held for herd replacement did not increase as fast in 1974 as it did in 1973 when they increased by 790,000 head. In 1974, they increased by some 653,000 head.

Population —

the drop in Wayne County's population, according to the article.

"Since 1970 enrollments at Wayne and Peru State Colleges have declined substantially, contributing to the decreased population in Wayne (12.6 per cent) and Nemaha (9.5 per cent) Counties," according to the article.

New Water Line Going Down

WORKERS for the Norfolk construction firm began installing a new water line along Pearl Street in the south portion of the city on Monday. The new line will create a loop in that part of Wayne, improving fire protection in case of a break in the water line, according to city administrator Fred Brink. Installed on Clark Street south of the city's power plant in coming weeks will be an "automatic water salesman," a coin operated device which will permit persons to drive up, insert a quarter and receive a specified amount of water.

WH Lawn Damaged by Car

OFFICIALS at Wayne High School are asking for the public's help in determining who was responsible for damage to the west lawn of the high school over the weekend. Somebody drove a car over the lawn at least twice, damaging some of the grass so badly it probably will have to be resodded, according to the high school principal Don Zeiss. Since the lawn will have to be repaired with local tax money, school officials hope somebody will come forward with the name or names of whoever was responsible. Zeiss said

With Rains Continuing, Planting Time Ticks By

Nebraska's usual spring wea- ther is running about a week behind schedule, which puts the soil temperatures below normal, and the farmers waiting on the sidelines for planting time.

Ralph Neild, University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural climatologist, reported soil temperatures as collected at the NU Field Laboratory near Mead.

Over eight million acres of corn, sorghum and soybeans are usually planted between April 26-June 7 in Nebraska. The soil temperature averages about 55 degrees at planting depth when corn is first planted, but Neild warned that emergence is slow and stands may be reduced if corn is planted at lower soil temperatures.

Sorghum and soybeans require warmer temperatures and usually are not planted until about May 7, when the temperature has increased to at least 60 degrees, Neild said.

"Early planted corn may require as long as two weeks to emerge while a planting in late May may be up in six days. Colder or warmer than normal weather will delay or shorten the time for emergence," he noted.

The 30-day weather outlook for April 16-May 15 is for normal temperatures and above normal precipitation. Long term records show that on the average there will be 10 days during the 42-day planting period when 10 inch or more rain may be expected. The likelihood of rain increases from April through June. The chances of six consecutive dry (10 inch or less) days decreases from four years in 10 in early April to only two years in 10 in early June, explained Neild.

Soil temperatures and other planting information will be released during the planting season as part of a cooperative service to agriculture by the Federal Weather Office serving Nebraska and the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Scholarships Offered To Area HS Seniors

Again this year, the Wayne County Jaycees are offering two $150 scholarships to seniors at Winside and Wayne High Schools.

The scholarships may be used at any college or university this fall.

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of scholastic rating in high school and financial need.

Application forms are available at both high schools. Deadline for applying for the scholarships is May 10.

OBITUARIES

Chester Schuler

Chester E. Schuler of Wayne, formerly of Laurel, died Friday at Sioux City, Ia, at the age of 76 years. Funeral services were held Monday at the United Methodist Church, Laurel, with the Rev. Robert Nebon and the Rev. Eldon Schuler officiating.

Serving as honorary pallbearers were Greg Schuler, Peter Bianchini, Jr., Marc Lawrence, DeMonte Haglund, Stanley Haglund and Russell Marshall. Active pallbearers were Gary Anderson, William Jensen, L.J. Mallatt, Boyd Boyesen, Alan Schuler and Vernon Goodsett. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery with military rites by Laurel Post number 54 American Legion.

The son of Leslie E. and Margaret May Buffington Schuler, he was born April 17, 1899 at Charter Oak, Ia. He grew up near Belden. He served in France during World War I and returned to farm near Belden with his father until his marriage, March 8, 1927 to Lulu F. Moseley at Wayne.

The couple spent many years in Laurel as well as Springfield, Ohio, Plainville, Conn., and Moraga, Calif., returning to Laurel in 1970. Since the fall of 1974, they have lived at 507 Wayside Lane in Wayne.

He was baptized into the Baptist Church at Springfield, Ohio and was presently a member and deacon of the Grace Bible Church in Wayne and was a member of the American Legion.

Preceding him in death were a grandson and a brother. Survivors include his widow; three sons, Leland at Springfield, Ohio, Pastor Eldon of Wayne, and Gunnar Sgt. Kenneth of Iwakani, Japan. Three daughters, Mrs. Clarence (Janice) Anderson of Imperial, Calif.; Mrs. Gloria (Gloria) Bianchini of Arlington Heights, Ill., and Mrs. Deryl (Betty) Lawrence of Wayne, 17 grandchildren; three great grandchildren; three brothers, Delbert of McCook, Loyd of Wayne and Marion of Fremont, and three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Jiraneck of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Ruby Schuler of Laurel and Mrs. Bessie Kinne of Sidney.

Jesse Brownell

Jesse Orin Brownell of rural Wakefield died Friday at the Wakefield Health Care Center at the age of 76 years. The son of Henry and Hattie Walker Brownell, he was born in South Dakota on Jan. 31, 1899.

On July 28, 1924, he was united in marriage to Edna Lindberg at Wakefield. He was a member of Salem Lutheran Church.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Salem Lutheran Church, Wakefield, with the Rev. Robert Johnson officiating. Pallbearers were Alfred Nelson, Wilbur Peterson, Marvin Jensen, Norman Slama, Lue Henschke and Robert Osterberg. Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, one son, James of Milwaukee, Wis.; two grandchildren; two brothers, Mac of Allen and Jay of California, and two sisters, Mrs. Roy (Leona) Gotch of Dakota City, and Mrs. Nellie Ellis of Allen.

Mrs. Felix Patefield

Funeral services for Mrs. Felix Patefield of Coleridge were held April 16 at the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Coleridge with the Rev. Robert Neff officiating. She died April 14 at the Osmond Community Hospital at the age of 83 years.

Pallbearers were Eugene Smith, Roger Smith, Rodney Jensen, David Patefield, Danny Patefield and Randy Patefield. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery.

Nina Rose Patefield, daughter of Walter Winfield and Isophene Beason Weston, was born July 11, 1891 at Audubon, Ia. On Nov. 26, 1913, she was united in marriage to Felix Patefield at Provo, Utah. From 1917 to 1950 the couple lived north-east of Laurel, later retiring to Coleridge.

Death by her husband Aug. 17, 1966, a granddaughter, four brothers and a sister. Survivors include three sons, Oscar of Coleridge, and Warren and Milo, both of Laurel; two daughters, Mrs. Garold (Fiorene) Jewell of Dixon; Mrs. Merlin (Vera) Smith of Audubon, Ia.; 16 grandchildren; 14 great grandchildren; one brother, Albert Weston of Perry, Ia., and a sister, Mrs. Mae Finch of Everett, Wash.

15 Attend Monday Mrs. In Bob Jordan Home

Fifteen members of the Monday Mrs. Home Extension Club held their regular meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Bob Jordan.

The lesson, "Between Parent and Teen age," was given by Dr. Harm G. Ginetl. Members held a plant exchange following the meeting.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Darrell Moore at 8 p.m. May 19. Roll call will be "How Do You Store Your Legal Documents?"

The group was urged to attend the spring tea at Hoskins, scheduled for May 16, and to watch "The Backyard Farmer" and "The Thin Edge," two programs scheduled to be shown on Nebraska's Educational Television Station.

Mrs. Moore reminded members that April is cancer crusade month and stressed the importance of receiving a Pap test. The names of Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Darrell Rahn were submitted for county office.

Mrs. Rahn introduced two new books, entitled "How to Increase Your Child's Basic Learning Ability" by Leslie J. Nason and

Food Stamps Issued Worth $32,594 to Residents of County

The total dollar value of food stamps issued in Wayne County during the 12 months ending March 32,594, according to Thelma Mueller, director of the county welfare office.

She reported that the total value of food stamps sold in those 12 months came to $17,269.25, while the total value issued as a bonus amounted to $15,324.75.

The average number of persons receiving food stamps each month in the county during the past year was 77, she said.

April marks the sixth year since food stamps were first offered residents of Wayne County.

Food stamps are not to be the only method of buying food, according to the county welfare director. They are to supplement or increase the buying power for households on the program, enabling them to have a more balanced, nutritious diet, she said.

Ikes Start Trees Growing

MEMBERS of Wayne's Izaak Walton League braved Saturday's chilly weather and muddy conditions to plant 40 young trees at the club's lake northwest of Wayne, and at two other locations near the lake. The other areas are the triangular-shaped plots of land at the mile crossings north and southeast of the lake. Helping Dick Baier plant one of the trees is young Brad Rother.

Land Use Topic for WS Seminar

Dr. Paul Gessaman of the agriculture, economic department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will be the key note speaker during Friday's land use seminar at Wayne State College.

The seminar, which had originally been scheduled for WS on April 2, will begin at 9:30 in Hahn Administration Building.

Theme for the seminar is "Developing Wise Land Use Policies."

Topics expected to be discussed include preserving our natural heritage, preserving agricultural lands, maintaining environmental quality and developing major public and private facilities such as shopping centers, power plants, waste disposal plants and the like.

Among those who will have a part in directing the discussions during the meeting will be Fred Brink, Wayne city administrator and Cal Ward, superintendent of the Northeast Station near Corn Creek. They will serve as resource persons.

Discussion leaders will include Lowell Johnson a farmer near Wakefield, and Wayne county agricultural agent Don Spitze. Among the speakers for the discussions will be Arnold Marr, district soil conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service office in Wayne, and Vern Mills, Wayne High School science teacher and member of the board of directors of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District.

The seminar is one of seven scheduled around the state this spring in an attempt to give Nebraskans basic information on one of the nation's most valuable resources, the land.

Participants will be asked to present their views on present and future land use policies.

Sponsoring the seminar, which is expected to last until about 4 p.m., are the University of Nebraska, state and local agencies, and colleges across the state.

Friday's agenda includes Dr. Gessaman's at 9:30 a.m. group discussions from 10:15 to 11:45, lunch from 11:45 to 1:15 p.m., discussion groups from 1:30 to 3, and reports and recommendations from discussion groups from 3 to 4.

The seminar is open to the public, with no pre-registration required. A small charge will be made to cover the cost of materials and the luncheon.

Fire Chiefs Offering $200 Scholarship

Seniors at Wayne High School are eligible for a $200 scholarship being offered by the Nebraska Fire Chiefs Association, according to high school guidance counselor Ken Carlson.

The scholarship will be awarded to a high school senior who will be enrolled in a course in fire science next fall, he said.

Details concerning the scholarship are available from Carlson.

Cards of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK our many friends and relatives for their thoughtfulness on remembering us on our 30th wedding anniversary. Thanks for the many cards, gifts, telephone calls and flowers we received. These few words can not say it all. I mean to us Aldon and Agnes Serven. a24

I WOULD LIKE TO THANK everyone for the cards, calls and visits while I was in the Lutheran Hospital and since my return home. A special thank you to Pastor Gottberg for his visits and prayers and also to doctors Adams and Hande and the nursing staff for their wonderful care. It will long be remembered. Donald Backstrom. a24

I WISH TO THANK all my friends and relatives for all the beautiful cards, flowers and gifts that were sent to me while in the hospital. Also for their visits. I want to thank Dr. Bob and Dr. Walter Benhack, the nurses and Pastor Schneider. I also want to thank all my friends who brought food to me when I returned home and the neighbor ladies who are helping me. Thank you all. Sincerely, Martha Biermann. a24

I WISH TO THANK The Wayne Herald for the $50 in Birthday Bucks I received in their recent Baby Look-A-Like Contest. Mrs. Don Snerbahn. a24

Extension Club Meets Wednesday

By Mrs. Louis Hansen 287-2346

The Serve All Extension Club met in the home of Mrs. Paul Everingham last Wednesday afternoon. Nine members were present and Mrs. Kenneth Everingham and Eric were guests. Mrs. Norman Haglund conducted the business meeting which opened with all joining in the extension club song. Members answered roll call by telling of some incident that happened in childhood that left a lasting impression. Mrs. Rudy Longe, reading leader, suggested reading "The Last Two Million Years" published by the Reader's Digest. Mrs. Lawrence Carlson, health leader, reminded all of the cancer fund drive and cancer check ups. The annual Spring Tea will be May 16 at the Hoskins Public School with registration from 1 to 1:30 p.m. Committee for sandwiches if Mrs. Roger Han-

And it is still standing

GOING ON eight months after fire struck this house at 414 Walnut Street in Wayne, the gutted remains still stand. As is clearly evident, the structure is dangerous — pieces of broken and burned wood could fall on small children playing around the house, a child could fall through a floor and become trapped, somebody could throw a lit cigarette on the porch and start the whole thing burning once again. We have not studied the city codes which might pertain to such a structure, but we find it difficult to imagine that they allow an owner of such a building to let it remain standing for such a long period after a fire gutted it. The city council discussed this house at a meeting about a month ago, apparently after somebody complained about the danger it presents, but little or nothing has been done about it. We think it is time something is done. After somebody is injured will be too late.

OBSERVATIONS

Criticism isn't warranted

Businessmen in and around Wayne are often criticized by some people for not appreciating the importance of the farmer and feeder plays in the economy of this part of the state. We think that criticism is unwarranted.

Local businessmen throughout the city will be bending over backwards to show their appreciation today (Thursday) through Saturday during the second annual Beef Days promotion.

The promotion is the third in the past year which the Chamber of Commerce and agriculture and those involved in it. Those promotions include the first annual pork promotion and the first annual beef promotion.

We think that people who criticize local businessmen for what they think is a lack of appreciation of agriculture would be hard put to find one businessman to prove their points. And if they could find that one businessman, he would not be representative of the rest of the business community.

Certainly, local businessmen hope to make this week's three-day promotion a profitable one. They would be foolish to back it if they thought otherwise. But who can criticize them for that? No farmer or feeder plants seed in the earth or buys cattle to feed without hoping to make a profit in coming months. They are running a business, just like the merchants up and down main street, and if they don't make money, at it, they won't be in the business very long.

But as well as hoping to make a profit, local businessmen are looking at the beef promotion as a way to improve relations with the people living in the rural areas around Wayne. They want to show the farmers and feeders that they are appreciated and that their business is what enables local merchants to keep their doors open.

Local businessmen also are backing the beef promotion in an attempt to help area farmers and feeders. The amount of beef that will be given away will be relatively small, of course, but even that small amount will help. The beef industry is going to have to get out and promote its product, and it certainly won't look unkindly on such small promotions as this one when that time comes. — Norvin Hansen.

You should shop before surgery

Dear Editor: Shopping for surgery sometimes when they do buy or not to buy, is possibly the most important act and decision a person makes all year and possibly all his life. This April 20th being the 11th anniversary of surgery which caused me to be afflicted with paraplegia and subsequent frustration and miseries as opposed to being very active and agile, I feel compelled to make a comment. Too many people put their utmost faith and trust in a doctor's recommendation for surgery without asking why the procedure is needed. In 1972 it was estimated that four million out of 17 million operations performed were needless. There is a segment of surgeons in the United States who are too anxious and willing to put prospective patients under the knife. Except in a situation of life or death, there is usually ample time to seek out a second opinion. The cost of a consultation is small when compared with the cost of an operation and the risks involved. SOS — second opinion (b) scalpel. — Was Ignorant, Now Sorry.

Thoughts for the day

Does The Monkey Know?
Three monkeys dining once in a coconut tree were discussing some things that they heard true to be. "What do you think? Now listen, you two; here, monkeys, is something that cannot be true: That humans descended from our noble race! Why, it's shocking — a terrible disgrace."
"Whoever heard of a monkey deserting his wife, leaving a baby to starve and ruin its life? And have you ever known of a mother monkey to leave her darling with strangers to bunk? Their babies are handed from one to another, and some scarcely know the love of a mother."
"And I've never known a monkey so selfish to be as to build a fence around a coconut tree. So other monkeys can't get a wee taste, but would let all the coconuts there go to waste. Why, if I'd put a fence around this coconut tree, starvation would force you to steal from me."
"And here is another thing a monkey won't do, seek a cocktail parlor and get on a stew. Carouse and go on a whoopee, discharging his life. The real madly home and beat up his wife. They call this all pleasure and make a big fuss."
"They've descended from something, but not from us!"

Senators lean toward hike in food tax credit

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN — It appeared last week as if the Legislature preferred an increase in the food sales tax credit to repeal of the tax on food at the grocery counter. The lawmakers amended a bill originally aimed at repeal so that it now reads that the credit would be increased from $13 per Nebraska to $16. The way the credit works, a sales tax is paid on food items, along with everything else at the grocery store. Then a refund is made through the income tax so that each person is returned a certain amount at the $13 now, but the way the bill the Legislature doesn't change its mind — to cover what was paid as sales tax on food purchases. A $16 refund would represent — at the 2 1/2 per cent state sales tax rate — the tax paid on $640 worth of food, while the current refund represents only the tax paid on $520 worth of edibles. The increase, of course, is to cover the effects of inflation of grocery prices. The refunds are made on a per-person basis. In other words, a family of five would get a refund of $65 (five times $13) at the present rate, but if the bill is passed, the family would get $80 back, representing $3,200 in grocery purchases. The refund is to cover only the sales tax paid on food — not the total grocery bill. Grocery purchases these days include work clothes, mops, shoe strings, razor blades, soap powder and many other things which aren't food.

The argument against the refund system — as stated by Senator Ernest Chambers of Omaha, who introduced the bill to repeal the tax at the counter and do away with the refunds — is that the burden falls heaviest on the poor, the elderly and the less educated. They are the least likely to file income tax returns and, while the food tax credit can be received without an income tax return, he said many of the people in the categories he mentioned wouldn't know about that. So, Chambers argued, they wind up paying the tax at the counter — and not receiving the refund. One quirk in the tax refund law is that there is no method for returning the one per cent city sales tax paid on food purchased in Omaha, Lincoln and Bellevue. Representatives of those cities said they would lose the revenue from taxes paid on food if the state were to repeal the tax at the grocery counter. In Omaha's case, about $3 million is involved. Chambers said what he called "legislative brass" sent by the Omaha municipal government to "ambush" his repeal bill in an attempt to preserve the food tax. Other Omahans, however, said the $3 million in lost revenue would have to be made up with higher city property taxes and that the elderly and the poor would get stuck. Chambers has said he isn't giving up on his attempt to cut out the tax at the grocery counter. He has promised to work "in front of the scenes, behind the scenes and wherever I can" to accomplish his purpose. Papio Bill Killed A bill designed to take the state out of recreation development in the Papio Creek flood control project on Omaha's outskirts has been killed by the Legislature's budget committee. The bill was sponsored by Senator James Dickinson of rural Omaha, who joined other persons in Douglas and Washington Counties in complaining that rich farm land was being sacrificed for the reservoirs in the flood control project. Omahans and others downstream on the Papio, however, said there is a serious threat of floods which could cause heavy human and property losses. 40 Ag Groups Unite A coalition representing 40 agricultural and agribusiness organizations testified before the budget committee last week about the need for a plant sciences facility at the University of Nebraska. The witnesses said it was the largest number of cooperating agricultural groups ever assembled in support of a legislative proposal. The farm groups want a building which could cost up to $14 million, money they said would be returned many times over through the years with increased yields from Nebraska's croplands. The witnesses said they would be willing to have the state income tax increased, if necessary to finance the construction

WAY BACK WHEN

30 years ago
April 19, 1945: Wayne College and training school joined Tuesday in Arbor day ceremonies and in the planting of a white fir tree dedicated to servicemen and women. The tree was placed by the student council near the junction of driveways southwest of the science hall. Greensburg, Kan., Kiowa County Signal
"Apparently the Russians aren't going to sell our wheat back to us at a huge profit. At least that's the latest report out that we have read. That would be a pretty good trick to sell us back our wheat that they haven't even touched yet and make about a 100 percent profit. And we Americans are supposed to be such sharp wheelers and dealers. The U.S.A. bought Alaska from Russia for less than two cents an acre and I suppose they want to get even."

Time for a new look at U.S. foreign policy

By RON HENDREN
WASHINGTON — Shielded for three decades beneath the American military umbrella, the European community now wants reinsurance that the fast-moving tragedy of Southeast Asia will not precipitate a wholesale American withdrawal from world affairs. The British government, in fact, has requested that a regularly scheduled NATO foreign ministers meeting next month be turned into a full-fledged summit conference. The reason: to receive guarantees that America will honor its NATO commitments. The British were explicit in expressing their fears that the United States may act like Mark Twain's cat, which, having once sat on the lap of a foreigner, never again sat on any stove, hot or cold. About the same time that the British request was cabled to Washington, one of England's most influential journals, The Economist, published an editorial voicing fears about what the American people would learn from their disappointment in Indochina. The editorial, interesting mostly for its errors. The Economist noted that the United States is now "tempted by generalized despair about its foreign policy" and that this temptation "must be resisted." The editors correctly called us a "rattled and divided country." They also expressed the hope that Americans will continue to pursue "a policy designed to support those countries where the ideas of liberal and pluralist politics have taken root, or where the conditions exist in which they might take root. Bravo and well-pat. But The Economist then goes on to make two false assumptions. First, it declares, "There has been a large element of ideology in American policy for the past 40 years." In fact, the only element of Soviet power after 1945 brought the issue of ideology into the center of world politics. The United States could have decided the issue of ideology by retiring within its own frontiers. False. We had another alternative. We could have defined our ideology differently. America's post-war ideology was, as defined by The Economist: anti-communism. In the name of high school, competing in the District III music contest Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Wayne Volunteer firemen were summoned to the Mrs. Anna Holst farm southeast of Wayne Thursday morning when a fence-row fire blazed out of control. Bill Woelker, Wayne, gave firemen and rescuers an anxious time Wednesday afternoon as they worked to free him from a sewer ditch cave-in near his home. 10 years ago

April 22, 1965: Everyone in the area is invited to Concord Sunday. The population of the town is expected to multiply several times over as open house is held at the new C. D. Haskell building on the University of Nebraska northeast station land. A loud explosion that could be heard over a mile away

Again, false. Mainland China is as different from the Soviet Union as the organizations of its society as the United States. It is a pluralistic society alive in its own right. The two powers are lumped together on one side, with Spain, the U.S., et al., on the other. Just as the United States need not have shaped its foreign policy as a negative reaction to the Soviet Union, so too, it need not have seen the world as it did — as inhibited by two hostile socialist systems. Having made these two false assumptions, The Economist provides the wrong prescription: "The lesson of Vietnam is not that it was not worth a substantial expenditure of American effort to keep the possibility of a pluralistic society alive in southern Vietnam. It is that to keep on increasing the expenditure while the possibility was diminishing did so much damage to America itself." This is attractive, but unfortunately it is incorrect. The lesson from Vietnam — and from Portugal, Chile, South Africa, Spain and Greece — is that successful foreign policy can no more be formulated out of fear than successful negotiations can be conducted from weakness. We have based our society upon a number of sound and good ideals and because of an uncontrolled and to some extent poorly reasoned fear of communism, we sold ourselves and our ideal short in many corners of the world. We are in a period of reassessment. And if we reassess our foreign policy on the basis of fear, what we want to offer the world as well as a realistic notion of what we have to fear from communism, we will have much less cause for concern about our own future, and our European allies will have no cause for concern about theirs, at least insofar as United States support is a factor.

V.A. - Q & A

Q. As a veteran's widow, I was drawing Veterans Administration pension until I remarried. Since my second husband died recently, can I get back on the VA pension roll?

A. Yes. Under current law, a formerly eligible widow may regain her pension if the subsequent remarriage ends in death or divorce—provided her income and net worth do not exceed income limitations.

Q. I am an 18-year-old son of a veteran who has an 80 per cent service-connected disability. Am I eligible for Veterans Administration educational benefits?

A. No. Only children of veterans who suffered permanent, total disabilities or deaths from service-connected causes, or children of military service personnel missing in action or prisoners of war for more than 90 days are eligible for educational benefits.

BLACKED-IN areas show best available tornado shelter areas during a tornado emergency. Drawing of tornado shows increase in wind force on right side as a result of tornado travel.

Scientists Refine Tornado Rules for School Buildings

Where is the best place for school children to hide if a tornado starts rumbling down on their school building?
 It is in a large multi-purpose room or the restrooms? Is it in the narrow corridors or the regular classrooms?
 Thanks to a team of seven university professors, school administrators—and other institutional officials—are being offered some potentially lifesaving refinements to the National Weather Service safety rules for shielding school children against tornadoes. Their recommendations are based on numerous on-site inspections of schools damaged or destroyed by tornadoes during the past few years.
 Their key finding is that the worst effect of a tornado on a school building is a savage blast of wind from the portion of the rotating funnel augmented by the tornado's forward speed. Since most tornadoes come from the southwest, this means the blast usually will come from the southwest, and that schoolrooms on upper floors facing south and west usually will be hardest hit and most dangerous to occupy. The safest places in a school with no basement usually will be interior corridors on the lowest floor that open to the east and north.
 If the school has a basement, that remains the safest place of all.
 Previously, it had been thought that a possibly greater effect than wind was the explosion of air trapped inside a building when the low-pressure "eye" of the tornado passed overhead, causing all of the walls to fall outward and the roof to blow off. Actually, it seldom happens that way, says the team. In their investigations, walls and windows on south and west sides of schools were most often pushed in, not out, while a north wall sometimes would fall outward.

 As the accompanying illustration shows, the wind force of a powerful, fast moving tornado may be 100 miles per hour stronger on the right side than on the left.
 Combining this knowledge with the fact that 90 per cent of all major U.S. tornadoes come from a direction somewhere between south-southwest and west-southwest, you get a guide by which school administrators and others can select, in advance, the portions of buildings that are likely to be safest, and those most dangerous, if a large tornado makes a direct hit.
 The researchers said the principal effects of the peak tornado winds are, in order of importance: first the disintegrating pressure against walls, windows and doors; second, the devastating effect of missiles propelled by the wind; third, the collapse of high portions of buildings, such as chimneys, into lower parts which would otherwise suffer little damage; and last, the explosive pressure differential when air pressure inside a building is momentarily higher than outside. They said school buildings designed to meet usual code requirements seldom fail because of explosive decomposition, but usually because of some combination of the other three.

 The analysts reported that time and time again they found tornado-devastated schools with south and west walls knocked inward, and that shattered window glass frequently was imbedded in interior walls of south-facing rooms, illustrating the extreme danger of remaining in such areas. Windows on north-facing rooms were often intact.
 They cautioned that large rooms with free-span roofs are particularly dangerous because of the likelihood of roof failure, and subsequent showering of debris on people huddled below. They said roofs on gymnasiums, cafeterias and auditoriums fail because of aerodynamic "lifting" by winds passing over the roof plus "ballooning" from within caused by intruding air through openings in an exterior wall—a dynamic duo of destruction.
 Other places to be avoided besides rooms on the windward side and rooms with broad roofs are areas with lots of glass, corridors and spaces likely to become "wind tunnels," and areas with load-bearing walls. "All buildings have one or more of these undesirable features," they wrote. "Pinpointing them is helpful in predicting portions that will be most severely damaged."

The "wind tunnel" effect occurs in corridors and spaces in line with the tornado's travel. Glass, gravel, dirt and all kinds of debris will actually move horizontally through these tunnels. So it's vital for people caught in such locations to sit, crouch or lie flat and cover their heads. Better still, avoid using corridors with openings that face south or west. Interior corridors facing north are usually safest, followed by those facing east. Also stay away from doorways that open to the south or west-facing rooms. If it's necessary to occupy a corridor with a door facing an approaching tornado, stay well back from the door.
 The warning against load-bearing walls applies to rooms where roofs and floors depend on walls for their support. If the wall collapses, the roof or floor also falls—a very dangerous combination.
 Reversing the coin, the report lists "good features" for tornado shelters, in order of importance, as a place on the lowest floor, under a short span ceiling, in the interior of the building; in a room with framed construction rather than load-bearing walls; it recommends six square feet per person in the shelter area.
 The researchers say that if a tornado hit the school pictured in the accompanying illustration, some persons occupying some of the locations would be injured, but most likely there would be few if any deaths.

22 EMTA Students End Study, Training

Twenty-two members of Wakefield's Emergency Medical Technician Ambulance class ended their 24-week course Thursday night with graduation ceremonies.
 According to the instructor Bob Robertson of Walthill, the group logged 72 hours of classroom participation and 10 hours of in-hospital training. Wakefield's class included rescue personnel, registered nurses, nurses aids, federal inspectors, a hospital administrator and a special investigator for the Nebraska State Patrol. Sessions dealt with emergency medical care, including cardiac pulmonary resuscitation, fractures, poisons, drugs, emergency childbirth, the lifting, handling and moving of patients, and the removing of persons from buildings and automobile accidents. The group also touched on driving an ambulance and communications.

Graduating Thursday night were Jerrald Robertson, Walthill; Verlyn Anderson and Sherif Luedtke, both of Concord; Jane Ausfin, Marian Creighton, James Keating, Marilyn Millage, Charles Thomas and Barbara Wortman, all of Wayne, and Deloy Benne, Michael Benson, Beverly Herbolzheimer, Gerhart Herbolzheimer, Larry Jantsch, Weldon Karlberg, Ray Lund, Robert Mavis, Donald Miller, Mark Miller, Dallas Roberts, Kenneth Salmon and Merlin Schuitz, all of Wakefield.
 Robertson pointed out that Wakefield's class brings the total to 3,300 who have graduated from the state course.

Seniors Win WS Scholarships

Thirteen high school seniors each won $60 scholarships for their talent in a mathematics contest sponsored Monday by Wayne State College.

Winners in the senior math division were Milon Mackey of Bancroft, first; Cindy Niedfeldt, of Columbus Lakewood, second; and Jackie Hunke of West Point Central Catholic, third.

The scholarships, provided by the Wayne State Foundation from the A.V. Reed Scholarship, were awarded for study at Wayne State.

The first annual contest attracted 316 students from 45 schools, competing in four divisions. The test in each division included 40 problems prepared by the Wayne State mathematics faculty.

Winners in the other three divisions:

Algebra I — Kevin King of Ewing, first; Beth Ann Potter of Laurel, second; Mark Cloyd of Blair, third.

Geometry — Richard Hejsek of Burwell, first; Daniel Da Silva of Wayne, an exchange student from Brazil, second; Doug Lemon of Blair and Arthur Meister of West Point Central Catholic, tied for third.

Algebra II — Stefan Hogedahl of Wakefield, an exchange student from Sweden, first; Lori Baumann of West Point Central Catholic, second; Lewis Groteluschen of Schuyler, third.

All winners received a book of mathematics tables, provided by the Wayne College Community Committee.

Antelope rely mainly on their keen eyesight to warn them of danger. Their vision is roughly equivalent to that of a man using eight-power binoculars.

Business notes...

Richard Keidel, registered pharmacist and owner of Sav-Mor Drugs in Wayne, is one of the several hundred people from across the state who are expected to attend the 92nd annual meeting of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical Association at Columbus Friday through Saturday.

Mrs. Keidel also is expected to attend the meeting, which will include a talk by Bob Wolf, pharmacy consultant in the Kansas City regional office of Health, Education and Welfare. Also speaking will be Gary Schmitz, president of the Omaha Pharmaceutical Association, and Dr. Randall Stehle, who is associated with the Pharmacy Research Unit of The Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Highlight of the three-day meeting will be the presentation of 53 year certificates to 11 pharmacists in Nebraska and one in Iowa who hold active Nebraska pharmacy registration and who received their original license in 1925.

Just About Like Old Times

MR. AND MRS. Al Reeg of Wayne got a special treat from their son Rod and his wife Sunday when the couple marked their 25th year of marriage - a ride around town in a 1925 Model T. The couple marked their 25th anniversary Wednesday but held the formal observance Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The Reeg's son and his wife had been planning to give the couple a ride in the antique car for several weeks but were afraid they would learn the secret. They didn't, and the son came out just long enough for a nice spring ride about the community.

Needs A Little Help

POOR OLD Uncle Arnold Gormeyer, center, played by Loren Trude, needs all the help he can get from Larry Wilkens, played by Pete Lundin, and Aunt Roberta Gormeyer, played by Trudy Mattes Peters, to fight his many allergies during the Allen High School's senior class play, "The Solid Gold Chevrolet." Uncle Gormeyer especially needed help after he announced the sale of his business, which upset family members. Meanwhile, Uncle Elwyn Buford, left photo, played by Tony Brown, argues about his role of city clerk, pointing out how important he is to the growth of the city. The three-act play, under the direction of Robert Moore, was presented Friday and Saturday at the high school auditorium.

Birthday Bucks Drawing Climbs

Wayne's weekly Birthday Bucks prize is worth $25 tonight (Thursday)—the result of another week going by without the grand prize being claimed. Winning last week's $25 consolation prize was Glenn Sumner of Wayne, who was shopping at Kaup's TV when the winning date of Nov. 3, 1972 was announced in all participating businesses. Sumner's birthday is Oct. 12, 1929. Sumner's winning the consolation prize last week marks the first time since the promotion began that somebody has won it more than once. Sumner also won $25 in the drawing in June of last year. Although no purchase or registration is required to participate in the weekly drawings, a person must be present in one of the participating businesses when the winning date is announced at 8:15 p.m. to win either the grand prize or the consolation prize. Birthday Bucks given away in the weekly drawings, open to all area residents, may be spent just like cash in those stores and firms making the drawings possible.

Potpouri of Garden Tips
Common Kentucky blue grass should receive 4.6 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn each year. Improved strains such as Mexican Windsor require 6-8 pounds. If quick release forms of nitrogen are used (example: ammonium nitrate) never apply more than 1 1/2 pounds of actual N per 1,000 square feet at a time. Slow release type of fertilizer has advantages over fast release type.

Keep the mower blade sharp and properly adjusted. A dull blade bruises and tears grass, causing yellow color. Cutting blue grass with the blade set 2-3 inches high is one of the best methods of preventing weeds.

Radish seed mixed and planted with slow-germinating vegetable seed such as carrot, beet and onion will help mark the row for early weed control. When the radishes are harvested the space will be used for enlarging roots of the other crops.

Large onion sets are most likely to produce plants with seed stalks. It is a good idea to sort and plant larger onion sets separately to be used for fresh green onions and allow the smaller ones to grow into bulbs for storage.

Cattle on Feed Down
Nebraska cattle feeders were fat tending 960,000 cattle for slaughter market on April 1, down 30 per cent from last year but equal to a month earlier, according to Doug Murfitt, state statistician of the state federal division of agricultural statistics.

It is best to prune early spring flowering shrubs immediately after blooming. Their flowers develop from buds produced on branches that grow in the summer. These flowering branches will be lost when shrubs are pruned in the fall or winter.

When a candle flames irregularly, melts a lot of tallow, and burns up too fast, some people say there is a thief in the candle.

The Dixon Belles 4H Club met April 14 in the Dale Stanley home in Dixon. Denise, Dianne and Debbie White were in charge of games.

President Anna Borg called the meeting to order and pledges were given to the flags. Secretary Adele Kessinger called the roll, which was answered with happiness. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Summer activities and 4H camps were discussed and plans were made for a trip to Bancroft in July. Anita Eckert gave an illustrated talk on photography. Demonstrations were given by Alice George on the correct way to make hems. Dianne White on her favorite all American food and Colleen Mackey on meat platter plagues. The group practiced judging. Toni Stanley served refreshments.

Next meeting will be May 17 at 8 p.m. in the Jerome Mackey home with Colleen as hostess. Toni Stanley will have games. Colleen Mackey, news reporter.

The Blue Ribbon Winners 4H Club met April 16 in the Merlin Kenny home with 10 members present.

Becky Owens presided and gave a report of the camp that she attended at the Northeast Station, near Concord, April 11-12, where the group was taught the care and different breeds of beef animals.

The group discussed the new fair plans, including the auction to be held at the fair grounds. Projects for the year were also discussed.

The next meeting will be May 21 in the Dean Owens home. Greg Owens, news reporter.

Helping Hands
Fourteen members and leaders, Mrs. William Holtgrew and Mrs. Adolph Meyer attended the April 19 meeting of the Helping Hands 4H Club in the Donavon Leighton home. Guests were Mrs. Donavon Leighton and Kathy. Mrs. Al Schlueter and Mrs. Eugene Cole.

Lori Meyer, vice president, opened the meeting and Della Holtgrew led the flag salute. Discussions were held for a skating party, community service and float for the Old Settlers' parade. Members filled in their year books.

Demonstrations were given by Kim Leighton on the difference between cake flour and all purpose flour. Kelly Leighton on how much flour will a measuring cup hold. June Meyer on cooking with milk, and Carla Berg, wonderful world of kids. Lunch was served by Kim and Kelly Leighton and Kim Schlueter.

Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. on June 7 in the Lester Grubbs home. It will be a special beginning sewing workshop. Carla Berg, news reporter.

Sholes Country Kids
The Sholes Country Kids 4H Club met April 15 in the Charles Junck home with 17 members present. Roll call was to recite the 4H motto.

Junior officers were elected. These officers will assist the regular officers in conducting a meeting in preparation for holding regular officer jobs. Jane Gubbles was elected junior president; May Sue Sohier, vice president; Danny McFadden, secretary-treasurer, and Larry Sohier, news reporter.

Quizzes were held concerning livestock and gardening. Mrs. Hans Bauermeister conducted a quiz in the food project. Mrs. Melvina Dowling explained different sewing machine parts.

The next meeting will be May 8 in the Murray Leicy home.

SLAP Group Meets Today

New officers will be elected during a meeting today (Thursday) of the Wayne County Selective Localized Accident Prevention (SLAP) committee.

The meeting, slated for noon at the Black Knight Steakhouse, will also include a discussion of the possibility of changing the committee's name, according to chairman Ray Butts.

Ending his one-year term along with Butts is secretary Fred Brink. Former vice chairman, Robert Nissen, county road superintendent up until late last year, has not been a member of the committee since resigning his county post. Butts noted, a person will be named to fill that vice chairman's post at today's meeting. Butts said.

Members of the committee in addition to Butts and Brink are Joe Dorcay, Kurt Otte, Al Wittig, S. C. Thompson, Orville Sherry and Dean Pierson, all of Wayne.

Dear Friends:

Reflect back with us twenty five years.

It will be twenty five years ago May 1st that we started our business in Wayne. We had been assured by several local businessmen that this community was a good place to live and do business. And we're so convinced of that now as they were long ago.

We rented our first building in 1950 from Bernie Meyer, now occupied by Karels. After two years, we rented the building now occupied by the Vet's Club. Upon the sale of that building, we moved our office to the home we built and are still enjoying at 210 Sherman Street.

The business kept growing, so the warehouse we had purchased at 220 South Main Street in 1969 was remodelled to accommodate an office and display area.

Additional warehouse space was again needed, and parking of our trucks and equipment was becoming more of a problem, so the decision to expand sent us looking for wide open spaces.

In the spring of 1974, we began construction of our new place of business which is located in the Industrial site east of Wayne on Highway 35. Now that it is completed, we invite you to our 25th Anniversary Open House.

Sincerely yours,
Wilmer and Luella Marra

Grant to Aid Laurel Police

Laurel has been awarded a $6,900 grant to hire an additional full-time policeman, said Terry Bailey, director of the Tri-County Council of Governments.

The grant, announced during last week's Tri-County meeting, will pay a policeman's salary up to January 31, 1976, Bailey pointed out. "We are hoping to get about $4,900 from the state crime commission to continue an officer's salary until the end of the fiscal year of July (of 1976)," he said. At that time, funding of an additional officer may be included in Laurel's budget, Bailey noted.

Gerald Mallatt is Laurel's only full-time policeman.

Learning the Latest About Welding

MEN FROM Northeast Nebraska and Western Iowa learned some of the latest techniques in welding during a weekend workshop at Wayne State College. The workshop, which attracted high school teachers, Wayne State students and area welders, included demonstrations as well as displays of equipment available to welders. Persons from Denison, Ia.; Sioux City, Coleridge, Laurel, Osmond, Winslow, Wayne and David City attended the workshop.

held Friday night, all day Saturday and Sunday afternoon. Displaying equipment at the workshop were Monroe Welding Supply of Sioux City and Island Supply Welding Co. of Norfolk and Grand Island. Watching one of the instructors weld metal is one group of those who turned out for the workshop. At right is Stan Morris, owner of Morris Machine Shop in Wayne.

HEALTH TIP
FROM THE NEBRASKA MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Bursitis, one of mankind's more painful and disabling ailments, is an inflammation of the lubricating sac around a joint, says the Nebraska Medical Association.

The lubricating sac is located at various places in the body where joints or tissues touch or rub. Without this cushioning sac, there would be friction.

Bursitis can affect many places in the body, but most often occurs in the shoulder, elbow, or knee. In almost every case, the ailment follows an accustomed strain or overuse of an extremity.

The association says the best way to avoid bursitis is to begin physical activity of a strenuous nature slowly, allowing the joints time to become accustomed to the work or activity you are performing.
