Special Election Planned For Liquor-By-the-Drink

Wayne voters will decide in September if they want to allow liquor-by-the-drink.

The city council Tuesday night set Sept. 23 as the date for the special election. The election was granted because a petition was submitted, signed by over 20 per cent of the registered voters in Wayne.

State statute requires that special elections be held when requested by 20 per cent of the city's voters. City clerk Bruce Merdhorst verified that enough valid signatures had been obtained to meet the requirement.

A proposal for paving Grain land Rd. apparently reached an impasse at a public hearing during the meeting.

Properly owners with land bordering the road had been invited to attend the meeting. Several owners addressed the mayor and council, but no consensus was reached regarding the creation of paving district. Further complicating the matter is the fact that property bordering one side of the road is not within the city limits. If proper owners in the city didn't agree to pay all costs of paving, owners on the other side would have to agree to pay or the city would have to bear part of the expense.

Mayor Freeman Decker summed up the hearing when he said, "It's my personal opinion that there isn't enough support to get a road paved."

The council took no action on the matter, but councilman Vernon Russell suggested the possibility that federal funds might be available for the project because it is designated as a secondary highway.

In the absence of fellow council members Jimmie Thomas and Ted Bahe, Carolyn Filter was able to delay action on three proposed ordinances which would set the deadline for payment of utility bills and make it mandatory that services be cut off when bills become delinquent.

A separate ordinance would deal with electricity, sewer and water bills. The ordinances all passed first reading, over Mrs. Filter's "no" vote, but she was able to prevent final passage by her negative votes concerning suspension of rules that would have allowed three readings in one night, rather than on three separate dates.

A three-fourths vote of the entire council is required to suspend the rule. With six members present, that would have been a unanimous vote.

Mrs. Filter said she objects to the mandatory cutting off of services because, she said, there are cases where individuals are attempting to pay the bills, but are temporarily unable to be cause of financial difficulties.

Allen School Board Hires Art Teacher

Kindergarten students in Allen will attend class through the entire 1975-76 academic year as the result of school board action Monday night.

The youngsters will attend a half day through each semester, a departure from past years when they attended all day for one semester.

Miss Lola Erwin of Concord has been hired to teach the class. Mrs. Esther Johnson was also hired to teach art and English.

School superintendent Virgil Ferguson said four art classes will be offered, to grades 7-12. Primary emphasis will probably be on beginning students, although some advanced techniques may be taught if enough interest is shown by students who participated in the last art program offered by the school, two years ago.

Also hired was Mrs. Darlene Roberts. She will continue in half time status as special education teacher.

School lunches will cost more this year. The board raised the price for student lunches from 45 to 50 cents. Adult lunches also went up a nickel, to 70 cents.

Board members discussed tentative plans for the new school sports complex made possible by a grant. Total cost will be $40,000 with half coming from federal sources, one-fourth from the state and one-fourth from the district.

Included are plans for a soft ball field, a tennis court, picnic tables, shrubbery and landscaping. The complex will be located on the present school grounds, south of the high school building.

The project includes adding lights, bleachers, restrooms and a concession stand to the present ball field.

The board also gave formal approval for application for continuation of federal funding under Titles I, II and III.

Included is a $27,000 grant for the coming year under Title III to continue the career education project. The program will be under the direction of Bruce O'Callaghan, who was high school principal last year. He will continue duties as guidance counselor.

County Mill Levy Is Up, Budget Totals $1,826,000

Wayne County commissioners Tuesday approved a $1,826,000 budget for fiscal 1975-76, up from last year's total expenses of $1,128,033.16.

Nearly all expenses went up except the county fair budget which dropped from $24,322.04 to $22,840. The mill levy for that item remains at .49.

Total tentative mill levy is 12.39, based on an estimated valuation of 42,801,410. County clerk Norris Weible said the actual valuation should be a little higher than the estimate.

The levy last year was 10.54, based on a $33,171,265 valuation.

An item by item comparison of levies with the 1974-75 tentative levy appearing first, shows: General fund, 1975 - 3.77, 1974 - 3.44; roads and bridge fund, 7.18, 4.56; county relief fund, .39, .41; soldiers and sailors relief fund, no levy, .05; county fair fund, .49, .49; noxious weed control fund, .21, .24; Wayne County improvement fund, .25, .25. Also, a 1 mill levy will be assessed during the current fiscal year for institutions or regional centers.

In addition to the operating budget, the county is required to have a cash reserve of $210,000 at the end of the fiscal year. Cash now on hand total nearly $912,000 and estimated miscellaneous revenue is $593,689. That leaves an estimated $531,161 to be raised through property tax.

Registration at St. Mary's Starts Sunday

All students who will be enrolled in grades one through six at St. Mary's Catholic School this fall are to register at the school either Sunday, Aug. 17, or Sunday, Aug. 24, between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. or from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mrs. Eloise Seward has been hired as principal for the 1975-76 school year. She is replacing Sister M. Jamesine who went to Bellevue.

Mrs. Seward, who is a native of Humphrey, will also teach fifth and sixth grades at St. Mary's. A graduate of Creighton University, she taught in Omaha for six years. Mrs. Seward's last teaching assignment was at Bel Air Elementary School in Norfolk, where she taught sixth grade the last three years.

State Fair Items Needed Aug. 27

Wayne County extension agent Don Spitzer said items to be entered in the state fair should be brought to his office in the court house on Aug. 27.

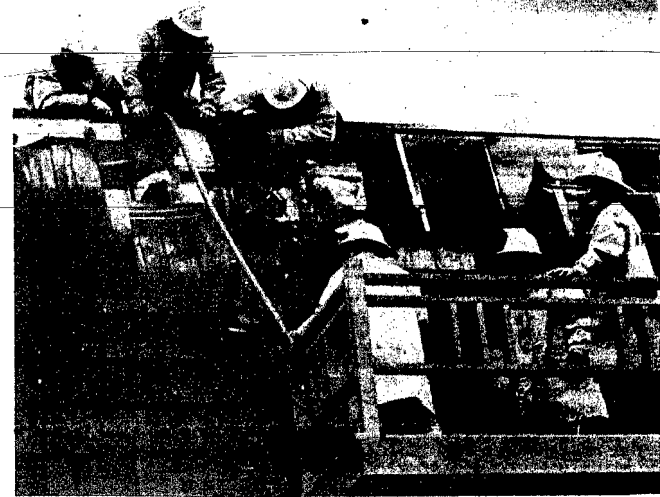

Spitzer and area home extension agent Linda Sanders will also be transporting the items back to Wayne County after entries are released.

Spitzer reported a change in the list of state fair contestants from Wayne County. The Gingham Gals will not enter their prize winning theme booth in state competition. The Loyal Lassies, who finished second in the county contest, will send their booth instead.

FIREMEN RIP shingles off the home of Richard Carman Monday to get at a blaze started when lightning struck an aluminum chair lounge on the balcony shown.

Lightning is Blamed For Fire

Lightning was blamed for a fire Monday morning which damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carman, on highway 35, just west of the fair grounds road, west of Wayne.

Mrs. Carman said "a flash of light went through the whole house" when lightning struck the home about 8:15 Monday morning. It was about a half hour later, in an upstairs bedroom, that she heard a "crackling noise."

"I opened a vent in the bath room and smoke came pouring out," Mrs. Carman said. "Then I looked out a window and could see the smoke and called the fire department."

Wayne fire chief Cliff Pinkleman said the lightning apparently struck an aluminum chair lounge on a second floor balcony at the southwest corner of the home. He said the chair was almost completely melted down. From the balcony, the fire then burned through shake shingles rimming the roof, through a wood plate and into the space between ceiling and roof.

Pinkleman said the fire burned completely through the ceiling in only one spot, a corner of the bedroom. The roof sustained extensive damage in the area of the fire and the ceiling sustained some water damage.

A portion of the balcony rail was burned, Pinkleman said, but the floor wasn't damaged. The fire chief said damage was confined to the southwest corner of the home.

Electric circuits in the home may also have been damaged by the lightning bolt. Mrs. Carman said Monday it appears an intercom system might have been burned out.

Hoskins Levy Set at 44.65

The Hoskins village board Monday night approved the proposed budget of nearly $209,000, subject to one alteration.

The town will need to authorize a $20,000 bond for additional revenue to purchase a 20-acre plot east of town for a sewer lagoon.

The board had allocated about $10,000 for land acquisition but the land was appraised at nearly $30,000. The $20,000 bond would increase the mill levy, according to board chairman Herman Opfer. He said an increase in sewage use rates will raise revenues needed to retire the bond.

The new mill levy is 44.65 compared to 26.33 last year. Board secretary Shirley Mann said the increase was needed to retire a street paving bond in the amount of $10,860, over a 15 year period.

Thought for Today

"If we could read the secret history of our enemies, we should find in each man's life sorrow and suffering enough to disarm all hostility." Longfellow

How fortunate the man who has no enemies, for enemies are loathsome, contemptible creatures who betray our trust, covet our belongings and reject all reasonable proposals for peace.

When we know the adversary our enemy has seen, we may see our hatred change to compassion and understanding, and what more effective way to deal with an enemy?

When death occurs at some distant location, your first call should be to us. We can handle arrangements anywhere in the country and provide local responsibility to you.

EXTENSION NOTES
By Linda Sander

To the Parents of a Child About to Enter Kindergarten Suddenly school is to begin and the wonderful world of Kindergarten opens up for your five-year-old. It's a year that requires close cooperation between the home and the school. At no time in your child's school career is this dual need closer.

School success begins in a home where parents and children enjoy school together. The child's attitude toward school reflects the home's. To help your boy or girl enjoy school life be interested in daily reports and encourage a sharing of experiences. Learn what the school expects so home and school can have the same standards. Talk to your child about school in a positive way.

School success begins in a home where there is training in responsibility. Long before the child enters school, a child can be taught to do many things for himself. These things are to dress independently, listen when another talks, enjoy playing with age-mates, and putting away her clothes and toys.

School success begins in a home where attention is given to health. The physical well-being of a child is very important. You can teach him to attend to bathroom needs independently. You can provide time for vigorous outdoor and indoor play; and times for rest and sleep that fit school. You can secure a review of sight and hearing.

School success begins in a home where safety is a concern. You can teach him to say his name, address, and telephone number. Teach him to use a safe route to school or the bus stop. Teach him to refuse gifts and rides from strangers. Teach him to behave on the bus.

School success begins in a home where love and companionship make the child feel wanted and happy. Concerned parents read books aloud, discuss pictures, and let the child retell the story. Provide simple, family tasks to do. Answer questions truthfully to the child's own level. Concerned parents give praise for good deeds.

Together the school and home can help children learn how to live — not as adults tomorrow, but as the child they are today.

Allen Board Instructs Engineer to Proceed With Street Work

Allen village board members have instructed engineer Duane Upton, of Consolidated Engineers and Architects of Norfolk, to proceed with plans of creating a paving district.

Instructions came after learning that property owners involved in the four-block paving project approved the project, according to village board member Ken Linafetter. Probable date of paving is scheduled for late summer or early fall of next year.

During last Monday night's meeting, village board members set the budget for the 1975-76 fiscal year at $91,000, decreasing the mill levy by five and a half mills.

In other action, the board voted to extend appreciation to all residents of the village who helped during the elm tree removal project. Seventy trees were cut down and taken to the tree dump.

Wool is Versatile

Have you heard about the Make It Yourself With Wool Contest, but thought it was too hot to sew with wool in the summer? One of the most persistent misconceptions about wool is that it provides only warmth. While wool does provide the greatest warmth, it can also provide the reverse effect of comfort in hot weather, depending on the weight of the fabric.

The natural crimp of wool fiber gives wools a unique regulatory ability. The crimps in the fiber trap tiny pockets of air that serve to protect the body against chills in the winter and against temperature shifts throughout the other months. Wool is cool and comfortable on hot muggy days, without feeling clammy, sticky or wet.

Wool can be made in sheer, lightweight fabrics, such as spring, summer and fall dresses and blouses that are equally versatile under winter coats. They can lend magic to your wardrobes with their ability to make the transition from the heat of steaming summer streets to the chill of air conditioning.

The District 7 Make It Yourself With Wool Contest will be held in Norfolk on Friday, Nov. 28. Seamstresses from 10 though adult are eligible to enter wool in fabric and knitted or crocheted garments. Prizes will be awarded at both the district and state level.

Persons who would like more information or entry blanks for the contest should write Mrs. Muriel Meierhenry, Rt. 1, Norfolk, or Mrs. Gwen Weithe, 1900 Norfolk Ave., Norfolk.

Mrs. Natalie Smith of Hoskins underwent surgery last Thursday in a Sioux City hospital.

All-Weather 78

Goodyear's "All-Weather 78" tire is built with polyester cord that's tempered in an exclusive process for optimum strength and resilience. The wide 78-series tread is "reversed molded" - a technique borrowed from race tire production. In reverse molding, the contour of the tread surface is slightly concave as it comes from the mold - so that when the tire is inflated, the tread makes full, flat contact with the road. The rib tread is well grooved, providing plenty of traction edges for decisive grip. In every detail, the "All-Weather 78" gives you honest quality, at a price that's in step with the time.

Sportsbeat

By Bob Bartlett

Bob Bartlett is on vacation this week and Dan Vodvarka is filling in on the sports desk and writing this column.

With Bob getting ready to go on vacation and helping cover the fair, I was nominated to cover (by listening to the radio) the York Wayne State Class B Legion Baseball Tourney opener last Friday night.

It was a rather strange experience indeed after following a group of kids through sports for two years in York and then having to cover them as the "home team's opponents."

By now the story is an old one of course as York slipped by 1.0 and finished by winning the state tourney on Monday. For Hank Overin and his Wayne ball players it was a long ride and a tough journey with two one-run losses.

Probably the only thing harder than winning one state championship is winning that same crown two years in a row. The second year everybody is looking to knock off the champs. The win Friday night obviously lifted York as the new champs sailed on the rest of the way and won the championship game 9.0 over Cozad.

The only team in the state tourney I didn't get to see play this year was Cozad. Central City fell to York twice during the regular season and I watched Wayne in the district tourney.

The difference in the tourney was pitching. Central City and Wayne for the most part could count only two strong starters and Cozad (with a 9.0 loss in the finals, obviously also ran out of pitching after a couple of games.

But York, with a four-man pitching rotation, never had to use its fourth starter. Jim Butterfield, who won the first four games he pitched in this year and once won both ends of a twinbill this spring in relief at Beatrice.

For Wayne it was the end of another very successful year of baseball. There is no way a 22-1 record can be scoffed at. For York it was the end of a strange sports' year that saw York High teams move into Class A for the first time and the York Legion teams muster two Midget squads and moved into Class B for the first time.

LOOKING FORWARD to football, the National Collegiate Athletic Association authorities met this week in Chicago to talk about sex equality in college sports and the rising cost of intercollegiate sports.

With the football season just around the corner, the athletic directors and coaches of big time college teams have been screaming about new women's programs cutting into budgets and ruining football and basketball on the level it is today.

A recent editorial in The Sporting News, however, pointed out that the problem is not women getting a fairer share of the money.

"The big threat to college football isn't the sex equality mandate," Sporting News said. "It's a top heavy structure which at some schools includes a dozen or more football coaching aides, over 100 football players on scholarships at all times, huge traveling squads, plush athletic dorms and elaborate recruiting dragnets."

"The Big Eight Conference recently dispensed its 1975 'football prospectus'. It informs us that Oklahoma's football staff consists of a head coach and 14 lieutenants whose duties are compartmentalized as follows: assistant coach, chief scout, recruiting coordinator, offensive coordinator, offensive line (two coaches), offensive backs, receivers, kicking, defensive coordinator, linebackers, defensive line, defensive secondary and freshman coach."

The editorial continues that Nebraska ships by with only 12 assistant coaches and no team in the Big Eight has less than nine assistant coaches. "The Big Eight gridiron kingdoms probably are no bigger than those at most schools where selling football tickets and lading TV gray are matters of the gravest concern."

"The NCAA conclave in Chicago will produce a lot of moaning over where the money's coming from to finance women's sports, but it also could result in some significant slashing where it's needed — the gridiron empires," the editorial concluded.

"If the price of winning football games is not allowing proper women's sports programs to exist on the college level, then maybe the price of winning is too high."

Tennis Tourney Is Rescheduled

The tourney is for Nebraska tennis players living north of Highway 30 and east of Highway 281. Deadline for entering the tourney is August 22 with a $2.50 entry fee for singles and a $2 fee for doubles per person.

Players may enter a maximum of two events. Divisions in the tourney will have a minimum of four entries and a maximum of 16 entries.

Swimmers Win Home Finale

With a comfortable win over West Point Saturday morning in Wayne, the Wayne Swim Club assured itself at least a .500 dual meet record this summer.

Saturday the local swimmers dunked West Point 241-203 to bring Wayne's dual meet mark to 5-4 on the year. The swimmers under coach Scott Driscoll finished up their 10 meet schedule with a dual meet at Wausa Tuesday night.

A total of 11 double winners led the Wayne charge as Ken Daniels, Kevin Koenig, Lesa Barclay, Peg Pinkelman, Doug Marr, Cindy Linder, Allen James, Missy Stoltenberg, Rod Porter, Dave Hamm and Julie Kay all collected two victories each.

Wayne won 12 of the 16 relays in the meet.

Driscoll also said that he would like to thank Paul Setton of Randolph for his help in running all the home swim meet this summer and assisting with the team.

NEN Playoffs Get Underway

Newcastle and Homer survived the first round of action in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League playoffs Sunday.

Newcastle grabbed a 1.0 advantage in its best of three series with Dakota City with a 9-8 win Sunday. Homer, meanwhile, knocked off Pender 8-3 to grab a 1.0 lead in that series.

Action continues Thursday (tonight) with Homer at Pender and Dakota City at Newcastle.

The two winners of the present series will meet for the loop championship in another best of three series.

Berkenpas Keeps NEN Batting Title

Merlin Berkenpas of Homer 484, held off the challenge of his closest rival, Greg White of Newcastle, 457, to win the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League batting title. It was the second straight batting championship for Ber-kenpas.

The two held a wide edge over Joel Hemmingson of Decatur, 415 and Mike Green of Dakota City, 400, the loop's only other 400 hitters.

Homer was the team leader with a strong 313 mark.

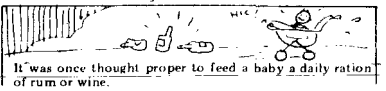

White finished with the most hits, 32. Bart Kneiff of Newcastle and Dave Gehring of Homer each scored 22 runs.

The home run title went to Gerald Jacobson of Homer with five. John Zuygart of Pender had two triples, and Tom Brazzell of Dakota City hit nine doubles.

Dale Martinson of league winning Homer took the pitching honors. He fanned 90 hitters while compiling a 7.1 record. Leading hitters, 48 at bats:

Defending Champs Ousted Early

Last year Wayne was the last team to leave the Class B American Legion Junior state baseball tourney with the championship trophy in hand. This summer the tables were turned as Wayne was the first team to bow out of the state tourney in Sidney.

Saturday night, Cozad dumped Wayne 5-4 to end the defending state champs in two one-run games. Wayne lost the opening game of the 1975 tourney 1-0 to York.

Sunday night Cozad eliminated Centraj City 5-4 in nine frames.

Wayne's loss to York in the opening round proved to be the key game of the tourney as York rolled on after Friday night to easily win the state championship in three games.

On Monday night, York stopped Cozad 9-0 to end the tourney and inherit Wayne's crown. The winners got a two hit performance from Greg Hager. York finished with a 28-9 record.

Nebraska City won the Midget B crown Monday night in Sidney by stopping Ord 3-2.

A four-run explosion in the bottom of the second inning sparked Cozad to its 5-4 win over Wayne.

After getting only one hit against York the night before,

Wayne jumped all over Cozad starter Steve Hunke in the top of the first.

Paul Mallette led off with a first pitch double to the center field fence. After working Hunke to a 3-2 count, Gordie Cook then unloaded a 300-foot home run over the rightfield fence to put Wayne on top 2-0. Wayne got two more runners on base in the first frame but Hunke settled down and struck out the final two batters.

Cozad jumped on Wayne starter, Dave Hix in the second after a strike out. Lance Paulson hit a ground rule double, Larry Dodge walked and Terry Fuqua doubled in one run. Joe Welch then singled across two more runs and Hunke doubled to bring the score to 4-2.

Wayne manager Hank Overin then made a pitching change as he brought Earle Overin to the mound for the first time in nearly two months. Overin suffered a shoulder injury early in the season and has been at shortstop ever since.

Overin cooled the Cozad rally and gave up only two hits in relief. Unfortunately for Wayne, one of the Cozad hits came home to haunt the losers.

With two out in the fourth, Welch tripled for Cozad. Hunke then hit a ground ball to Mallette at second but the Wayne second baseman failed to field the ball cleanly and Hunke was safe at first as Welch scored.

Hunke held Wayne to only two hits in the final four frames to take the win and move his pitching record to 10-1 on the year. Wayne finished the 1975 Legion season at 22-4-1 while Cozad was 25-4 after Sunday night's game with Central City. Against Central City, Hunke hit a run scoring double in the ninth.

Hunke finished the game with seven strike outs Saturday night and he walked one Wayne batter. Cozad stranded six runners while Wayne left seven men on base.

Wakefield Legion

Captures Tug-of-War

The tug of war team from Wakefield's Legion Post 81 won its third straight title Saturday afternoon at the Wayne County Fair.

The seven-man team topped a field of 11 other teams during the first annual event Saturday afternoon to take home the $60 prize and a plaque.

The Legion team, made up of Dean Beckenhauer, Randy Larson, Lyle Beckenhauer, Alan Johnson, Lowell Johnson, Larry Baker, and Jim Busby, was a victor in puts at Wakefield and Ponder earlier this summer.

Taking the second-place prize of $40 was Ron's Bar of Carroll. On that team were Rod Cook, Bill Brader, Mike Hank, Darrel Hahn, Mark Erahn and Steve Jorgensen. Brader, who suffered a knee injury in an earlier pull, was replaced by LeRoy Barner in the finals.

Receiving the $30 prize for third was Wayne Sale Barn. On that team were Alan Hammer, Al Wieseler, Merlin Topp, Ron Daring, Nole Bennett and Mike Wieseler.

Also competing were The Valley Squire Bar, Les' Steak House and Lounge, Cooper Feed, Iron Men, Feeder's Elevator, L & A Bar, Alice's Country Tavern, Otte Roofing and Schmidt Trucking.

Stock Drivers

Kept Busy

Two Wakefield racers were busy last weekend on the North east Nebraska stock car tracks.

Sunday night at Riviera Race way in Norfolk, Dennis Crippen of Wakefield won his heat race and the A Feature in the Hobby Stock division. He also drove in the Late Model class and was second in both the heat and feature races.

Lyle Ekberg of Wakefield placed third in both his heat race and A Feature in the Late Model class Sunday.

On Friday at Hartington, Ekberg won his heat race and took the Late Model feature race white being second in the trophy dash.

Fish Hitting At Goose Lake

Surveys of fish populations recently completed by the Game and Parks Commission at Goose Lake Wildlife Area indicate good populations of crappie and bullheads are available to fishermen.

According to Lee Rupp, district fisheries manager in north east Nebraska, rumors were that the lake suffered a severe winter kill this past year and that no fish existed in the lake. As a result, anglers were not using the lake. The recent surveys, however, indicated good populations of crappie in excellent shape, averaging 3 1/2 pound as well as bullheads up to 14 inches in length.

Goose Lake is a 200 acre, shallow, sandhill lake located 22 miles south and 4 miles east of O'Neill in Holt County. Since it is shallow, the lake does occasionally winter-kill to varying

Hansen's Toe Helps Knot Shrine Bowl

Marty Hansen's toe played an important part in the North's 7-7 tie with the South in the 1975 Shrine Bowl football game Saturday and the Wayne Carroll High school grad almost pulled the game out for the North in the late going.

Before a crowd of around 22,000 in the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium, Hansen booted an extra point with 10:06 left in the game and then tried a 32-yard field goal with 2:45 left. The kick, however, was low as the 1975 Shrine Bowl game went into the record books as the second tie in the series' 16 year history.

In "near 100 degree temperatures, neither team scored until the fourth period. Then Randy Foster of the South hit Tim Hager on a 34-yard touchdown pass with 11:54 left. Minutes later the North got on the board when Bill Gogan scored from seven yards out.

Hansen started the game as a split end for the North and caught the only complete pass of the day for his team. Ord quarterback Gogan and Hansen teamed up for a 26 yard completion.

Hansen plans to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Now Among The 'Giants' Kucera Returns To Wayne

After six years absence, Bruce Kucera returned to Wayne this week.

Bruce, who lived in Wayne while attending fifth and sixth grades, played high school basketball at North Platte. His highly successful senior year with the North Platte Bulldogs earned him a berth on the North All Star team currently practicing on the Wayne State campus.

The big 6-8 Kucera recalls, "Wayne State was a power when I lived here. I was impressed by the big name players. I saw 'em play at Rice Auditorium, and I thought those 6-9 and 6-8 guys were giants. But now I'm 6-8 and I'm playing on the same floor they did."

Kucera and his eleven other teammates from across the north of Nebraska have been practicing three times a day on that famous floor, trying to sharpen their skills to beat the South All Star team practicing at Kearney. The North has taken tour in a row from the Rebels in the annual tilt to be staged again Friday, August 15, in Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium.

Kucera's biggest assets as a player are his good speed and ball handling as well as his ability to shoot outside. Although he is the tallest player on the North squad, he admits, "I don't like playing the inside. Coach Morrison has been trying to make a post man out of me, but he's trying to try and play forward."

The coach Bruce referred to is North Head Coach Jim Morrison of Howells. He, along with asistant coach Ed Coleran of Spalding Academy, is directing the North team through practice. So far, the team has concentrated on defensive drills and footwork, and has been gradually testing their offensive skills.

Kucera has to prepare for the drills ahead of time, as tendonitis in his knees causes a few problems.

Then, after working out with the rest of the group, the North Platte star commented on his team.

"This is a pretty close-knit group. The players get along well even though they haven't known each other very long. On the court, they're pretty good—they always give encouragement to the other players. The guards can really handle the ball, and our tall players should really be able to use their height to the team's advantage."

Part of the success of the players getting along so well is due to the hospitality of Wayne. The All Stars stay in dorms on the Wayne State campus and meals are provided by various local groups or eaten at a Wayne restaurant. And, Bruce notes, "Everybody seems pretty friendly here."

The North All Stars were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its Monday meeting.

Coach Morrison introduced his assistant coach, Ed Coleran of Spalding Academy, and all the players.

Of the squad, he said, "I have never been associated with such a fine bunch of young men. They have great talent, and they're working hard."

In the answer to the inevitable question, "who will win?" Morrison delivered a masterful prediction. "Is there any question?" He did decline to forecast the score, however.

Morrison noted that this game is governed by several special rules because of the short time each team has to practice. For one, man-to-man defense is required. There will be a 30 second clock—"to make the game more interesting for spectators."

Another requirement: each team must be divided into six player units, one to play the first quarter, the other to play the second. After the half, however, coaches may use any combination.

BRUCE KUCERA shows two young cagers the finer points of setting and using a screen during the Mini Camp held Monday on the Wayne State College campus in connection with the South All Stars basketball training camp. The twelve all star prep cagers took time out from their daily drills to help teach area youngsters some cage fundamentals. Monday's turnout was a record for the annual camp as 105 youths registered for the 7 1/2 hour session. The Mini Camp drew youths from over 15 towns including Lincoln, Millard, Wynot and Howells.

She said she voted against suspending the rules so more time would be available to consider that provision of the ordinance. Russell voted against suspending the three reading rule, delaying on the ordinance to create a downtown improvement district.

The city has hit a snag concerning plans to start a municipal taxi service for a 90-day trial basis. City attorney Budd Bornhoff said he had been visited by a representative of the Nebraska Public Service Commission (PSC), who said the city must submit a request to the commission before the taxi service can be initiated. Bornhoff said the representative was unaware of a statute passed this year authorizing municipalities to provide taxi service.

A PSC attorney later contacted Bornhoff, saying that as he interprets the statute, city operated taxi lines must still make application to the commission. The city attorney and administrator Fred Brink were directed to investigate the matter further.

Bornhoff pointed out that if the city is required to apply to the PSC it will also be required to do so to end taxi service and to make changes in rates. He warned that, under those circumstances, it would be difficult to "get out of the taxi business."

The council authorized Brink to advertise for bids for an ambulance and for a fire truck with a 75-foot aerial ladder.

Brink was also authorized to come up with a tentative plan for dedication ceremonies for Victor Park.

In other action the council: —Approved mayor Decker's appointment of LeRoy Janssen to fill a vacancy on the city police force. Janssen graduated from the two-year police science course at Norfolk Technical Community College and from the basic-officer training course at Grand Island. He is presently a security officer at the University of Nebraska-Omaha. The appointment is effective Sept. 1.

—Gave their approval for a sign to be erected by Wayne State College on Main St. between 12th and 13th Streets.

—Granted a razing permit for a building at 109 W 7th St., with a $100 bond, to be posted. The council denied an application at the last meeting to move the building to a residential area. Bornhoff was directed to prepare an ordinance with guidelines for setting bond for razing permits. The present ordinance provides for a bond but sets no guidelines.

—Approved transferring $7,000 from the airport fund to the recently created airport authority.

—Directed Brink to obtain plans for a voting system for the council chambers. Council members would vote by throwing a switch. No votes would be revealed until all members had voted.

Brink said a letter from North Platte about the system said the council there had found that members voted more in accordance with their own opinions, rather than following the lead of other members. Plans for the machine cost $50. Estimated cost of installing the system would be $4,500 if the council decides to do so.

OBSERVATIONS

Fair was big success

The 1975 Wayne County Fair ended and by all standards it was a big success. A time when the success was clearly visible was Friday night, during the barbecue and the LeRoy Van Dyke show which followed. If the packed grandstand wasn't convincing evidence of the fair's attraction, folks near the top of the stand could turn around and survey the ever-flowing parking lot and be assured that the night was a success.

As usual in an undertaking of the magnitude of the fair, it was the people behind the scenes who made it work, especially fair secretary-manager Marilyn Koch and his wife.

Rumor has it that Marilyn has a twin brother he hasn't told anyone about and that's almost believable. It seemed a person could see Marilyn taking care of details at one event, depart for another activity and find Koch already there working on something else.

The 4-H programs of the fair also went smoothly, including some activities new this year. One of the most notable was the 4-H livestock sale, held Sunday afternoon, instead of following the fair by a couple of weeks.

The sale was well-organized; livestock was moved in and out of the ring quickly. Support from local businessmen was apparent during the bidding and from the number of contributors to the pool to provide premiums for dairy and breeding exhibitors who do not take part in the auction. This was another innovation in this year's fair and response was tremendous.

Numerous other activities come to mind easily — the barbecue, the demolition derby, the tractor pull, open class contests and on and on. It is impossible to name all the events and the people responsible for them. The fair was a great success and everyone who contributed deserves a big "Thank You." — Jim Strayer.

Hearing on sex discrimination slated

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN — Sex reared its head at a legislative study session recently.

Sex discrimination was the topic, one of the two male members of the Judiciary subcommittee had expected they could dispose of without controversy.

Prior to the meeting, it had been assumed by Sens. John DeCamp of Neligh and Wally Barnett of Lincoln that the purpose of the resolution directing their study was to make sure the language in Nebraska's statutes didn't discriminate against either sex.

In other words, when the laws say "he," they should also add "she." References to men, should be amended to add women, if appropriate. And vice versa.

But, with a push from Sen. Shirley Marsh of Lincoln, the third member of the committee and the sponsor of the resolution, they decided the study needs to go deeper than that.

Actually, they had indications before the meeting that more than some word changes would need to be considered. The legislative research staff had prepared a brief list of examples of laws which might be considered discriminatory toward one sex or the other.

The list prepared by Ron Bowmanmaster included such laws as a requirement that a husband provide support for his wife but not that wives support husbands, a provision that girls may get married at 16 but boys must be at least 18, and a homestead exemption for a veteran's widow, but not a widower.

"Those, Mrs. Marsh said, are the kinds of things she had in mind when she offered a resolution calling for a "comprehensive review" and an "intensive study."

The subcommittee, after hearing testimony from several women who said the current laws discriminate against them, decided to schedule a full-scale hearing for Sept. 4 with the full judiciary committee on hand.

Since some of the laws were written to protect women, the senators said they expect attempts to change them might cause some controversy.

Observers who recall the emotions roused by the Equal Rights Amendment discussions in recent years said they were sure there would be controversy.

SE offered Pershing
The University of Nebraska has offered the Pershing College facilities, which were given to NU by Beatrice community leaders, as a gift to Southeast Nebraska Technical Community College Area.

All southeast tech would have to pay, according to the offer made NU President D.B. Varner, is a reimbursement of the direct expenses of the University of Nebraska Foundation which has held title to Pershing the past year.

The Southeast board had considered the matter earlier, but it appeared then the cost would be much greater. A new look was ordered when the offer of Pershing as a gift was received.

The board has indicated it isn't interested in four campuses — it now operates at Lincoln, Millard and Fairbury — and it appeared acceptance of Pershing could mean closing Fairbury.

Budget due early

The legislative budget chairman has promised an early delivery — possibly the earliest in the history of the Legislature — of appropriations bills next session.

Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings said it is his goal, to have the bills budgeting expenditures for the 1976-77 fiscal year ready for introduction on the first day of the session.

To do that, he said, the legislative fiscal staff would have to prepare its spending recommendations by November. The budget committee, then, would conduct its public hearing on expenditures by agencies in December and make its decisions early enough to have the bills drafted before Jan. 7.

The need for the pre-session deliberations, Marvel said, is dictated by the 60-day limit on the 1976 session. In the 1975 Legislature, the budget committee didn't get its last bill introduced until the 76th day of a session limited to 90 working days. (It actually adjourned on the 89th.)

Another reason for getting the budget work done early is Marvel's need to spend more time at Nebraska Wesleyan University where he is chairman of the political science department. He will be teaching 12 credit hours both semesters in the coming school year and he said this would force him to budget the time he can spend on the state budget.

Safety program aims at alcohol

The drinking driver continues to be a problem on Nebraska's roads, according to John L. Sullivan, Governor J. James Exon's highway safety representative and director of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Studies have shown that about half of the deaths caused by highway accidents are alcohol-related. The fact that a driver had been drinking was cited as a contributing circumstance in 59 fatal and 1,079 injury accidents in 1974, Sullivan said, adding, "All in all, the fact that a driver had been drinking was cited as a contributing circumstance in 2,119 accidents in 1974."

At the American Medical Association's recent convention this year, a second danger in drinking and driving was noted according to a July issue of the "Highway and Vehicle Safety Report."

The report said that at this year's convention, papers were presented showing that alcohol "dramatically" increases the effects of traumatic injury. Dr.

William E. DeMuth Jr., of the Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine, said experiments with animals indicate that the unintoxicated body is much more able to tolerate injuries to the central nervous system and heart.

Dr. DeMuth reported that, in comparative testing, even moderate levels of alcohol have been shown to be fatal. He added that treatment of bleeding, shock and all other aspects of patient care are "severely complicated" by alcohol intoxication, the "Report" said.

Sullivan noted that alcohol is not only a contributing factor in motor vehicle accidents; it contributes in pedestrian accidents as well.

In the first six months of 1975, drinking was cited as the pedestrian's apparent condition in 25 accidents in Nebraska, five of which were fatal.

"In 1974, drinking was cited as the pedestrian's apparent condition in 53 accidents, three of which were fatal. "Alcohol will continue to be a major problem on our highways as long as drivers and pedestrians continue to believe they can drive or walk just as carefully when they have been drinking as when they haven't," Sullivan said. "It isn't that we're asking people not to drink. It's that we're asking them not to drive when they drink."

"We're asking hosts to take the responsibility for their guests and not let anyone who is intoxicated drive in that condition."

"Drivers who are intoxicated take their lives and the lives of others into their hands whenever they are on the roads. Driving is a dangerous enough business without increasing the odds against getting home safely."

"During our August and early fall campaign to cut Nebraska's fatal accidents we'd like everyone to be more aware of the dangers of alcohol," Sullivan concluded. "The theme of this year's campaign is YOU BET YOUR LIFE — STAY ALIVE. We hope everyone can do just that."

Thoughts for today

"A Letter to God"

Dear God,
I'm sorry you made Sunday where you did. You see, it's like this: we could attend church more often if Sunday came at some other time. But you chose a day that comes at the end of the week, when we're all tired out.

Saturday, as you know, God, is the one time we feel we should enjoy ourselves. It's usual after midnight when we get to bed. It is almost impossible to get up Sunday morning. You chose the very day we want to sleep late.

Then there are the dishes to wash, the house to clean and things that just have to be done.

I mean no disrespect, God, but you must realize you have picked out the day on which we have the biggest dinner. And the church has set the time of worship at the very time we must be getting dinner ready. Then, Sunday is the day when company comes, too.

And you must think about my husband. He is so busy all week that Sunday is the only time he has to get the work done in the yard and the car cleaned up. You wouldn't want him going to church in his old clothes or coming with a dirty car, would you?

I'm telling you these things, dear God, because I want you to see that sorry, it is not our fault that we are not able to get to church on Sundays. We would like to go, and need to go, but it must be clear to you that the real reason we can't go is because you have chosen the wrong day. If you will pick another day we shall be glad to go to church and Sunday school and to be more faithful.

Sincerely yours,
Would you
Hazel Sorenson, Thurston, Nebr.

Regents Raise Cost Of Testing Tractors

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents recently passed a resolution directing that fees on tractor testing be raised, and according to Dr. Louis Leviticus, engineer in charge at the tractor testing laboratory, the self-supporting lab as usual will just break even.

By state law, all tractors offered for sale in Nebraska must have a stock model tested by the agricultural experiment station. Fee schedules have increased as inflation and the state of the economy dictated. The Board of Regents is authorized by law to establish the fees. Another reason prices were raised, Dr. Leviticus said, is that most of the testing equipment is old and needs updating. With the testing lab's load getting heavier and heavier it may be necessary to hire more help. Each tractor takes about 400 total man-hours on the average for an actual test time and run in a period of about 45 hours.

Twenty-eight tractors have been by law to the lab this year. Eighteen are scheduled for this fall and 10 next June. Leviticus said it would be easy to schedule five or six more, if demanded. The cost of the tests depends on the size of the tractor tested. The fee schedules have been increased from the previous $1,200 to $1,800 plus an amount based on the size and number of pistons.

For example, a small engine, 50 horsepower model with four cylinders previously cost $2,133 to test. Now that test will cost $3,196.

A tractor with 100 horsepower and small bores will now cost $4,232 and the same horsepower with large bores, $4,795. At the previous time it would have cost two-thirds of the figures shown.

The "monsters," as Leviticus call those 200 horsepower engines, will range anywhere from $6,000-$8,000, to test.

New innovations in testing are being proposed now, he said. The test station may, in the near future, test the lift capacity and the speed of the hydraulic lift system.

Also included may be the testing of driver comfort. "We are finding that the heat inside a cab generated from sunlight coming through the window is stronger than that experienced by a man sitting out in the open. Things like air conditioning need to be checked out," Leviticus said.

American tractors up to this point have been large, he said. Several models with more than 200 horsepower were tested this year. Next spring, however, 10 tractors below 100 horsepower already are scheduled for testing.

Bergts Attend London Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bergt of Wayne were among 150 feed dealers and wives who attended the Allied Mills 1975 president's marketing council in London during July.

Bergt, proprietor of Feeders Elevator, Inc., in Wayne, was presented a trophy for contributions to livestock and poultry during the past year.

Sod Webworms Harmful Now

Sod webworm larvae may be present from early spring in your lawn until fall but most serious injury will occur from mid-June until September. They will attack most lawn grasses, according to Bob Roselle, extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The first sign of sod webworm damage is usually irregular brown spots on the lawn. If infestations are severe, areas of turf may become completely brown. Continued feeding will kill grasses, especially during the summer heat and drought stress.

Adults — greyish-tan "millers" about one half to three quarters of an inch long do not feed on grass, but the larvae are the main culprits. They feed on grass leaves near the soil level, hiding in soil or thatch during the day. They may spin silken webs, and as they grow, form silken tunnels close to the soil surface.

Awards Well Deserved

HENRY KUGLER, left, and Hans Rethwisch were honored Friday night during the Wayne County Fair for their dedicated service and participation in the annual fair. Presenting plaques to each, fair board secretary Marilyn Koch pointed out that Rethwisch has served as fair superintendent for about 30 years. Kugler was cited as a "loyal" commercial exhibitor at the fair for about 50 years.

Planting Date Said to Affect Wheat Yield

With another good wheat crop in the bin for 1975, Nebraska wheat producers are making plans to seed the 1976 wheat crop. And University of Nebraska-Lincoln agronomists stress that observing the recommended optimum seeding date for a given area will, year in and year out, produce the highest average yields.

Duane Foote, extension agronomist and secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association, said winter wheat yields can be affected greatly by the seeding date, because of the influence of the growing season, the threat of the Hessian fly, and the incidence of some diseases related to date of planting.

Against the proven benefits of planting on a recommended date, farmers must evaluate their particular farm situation and decide on the most practical planting date, Foote recognized. Moisture conditions and the use of wheat for pasture will influence the decision and farmers with large acreages must spread the work over a considerable period.

In general, seedings planned for late in the season run greater risks of unfavorable weather, but problems associated with seeding too early are usually greater than those arising from planting too late, Foote continued.

The optimum seeding date for winter wheat varies from about Sept. 1 in some areas of the Nebraska Panhandle to about Oct. 1 in the southeastern part of the state, he said. University of Nebraska field studies have shown that optimum seeding dates are related to elevation in the Panhandle.

Higher elevations have lower nighttime temperatures which slow the growth of the wheat seedling, so earlier planting dates are necessary to establish a stand. Late dates of seeding are recommended at lower elevations where night temperatures are higher to prevent excessive growth in the fall.

Later dates are suggested moving eastward across Nebraska because of the longer growing season in the fall and allow for Hessian fly-safe dates. The exact fly-safe date, by county, is published each year by the UN-L department of entomology.

Hessian fly appears to be on the increase, Foote said, in urging wheat growers to not only heed recommended seeding dates in eastern and central Nebraska where Hessian fly is a problem, but also to select varieties that have resistance or tolerance to the insect.

Some newer varieties with bred-in resistance or tolerance to Hessian fly also have more seedling vigor, which makes early planting less important to establish a stand, Foote said. But he noted other reasons for avoiding early seeding.

"The highest amount of root and crown rots occurs on wheat planted too early in western Nebraska. Planting too early also depletes soil moisture reserves because of excessive fall growth. Early planting dates also increase the potential for wheat streak mosaic in areas where the disease may be a problem," Foote reported.

Foote summarized the optimum range of dates of seeding for three broad areas of Nebraska: western Nebraska — Sept. 1-15; central Nebraska — Sept. 25 to Oct. 5. A six-year trial revealed Sept. 25 to be the optimum planting date at Imperial, while a 24-year experiment at Lincoln showed the optimum range to be the last week in September.

Wheat and Soybean Stocks Up

July 1 stocks of all wheat at 8.7 million metric tons were 29 per cent above a year earlier, according to the Crop Reporting Board. Soybean stocks of 9.8 million metric tons were 5 per cent above July 1, 1974.

Stocks of the four feed grains (corn, oats, barley and sorghum) totaled 35.9 million metric tons, 24 per cent below July 1, 1974. Decreases from a year earlier for individual feed grains ranged from 21 per cent for corn to 47 per cent for sorghum.

Corn in all storage positions on July 1, 1975 totaled 1,146 million bushels 21 per cent less than a year earlier and 41 per cent less than July 1, 1973. This is the smallest quantity of storage on July 1 since 1952.

Farm holdings, at 801 million bushels, are down 25 per cent from a year ago while off-farm holdings, at just over 345 million bushels, are down 9 per cent. These are the smallest July 1 farm and off-farm holdings in more than 20 years.

Indicated disappearance from all positions during April-June was 1,062 million bushels, down 25 per cent from the 1,418 million bushels for the same period of 1974. This disappearance is the lowest since 1971.

Sorghum grain stocks in all positions on July 1, 1975 totaled 95 bushels, down sharply from the July 1, 1974 level of 178 million bushels and 57 per cent below the same date in 1973. Off-farm stocks were down 47 per cent from last year and accounted for 69 per cent of the total stocks. Sorghum stored on farms was down 45 per cent from July 1, 1974.

Total disappearance during the April-June quarter was 114 million bushels, compared with 202 million bushels during the same period last year.

Old crop oat stocks in storage on July 1, 1975 totaled 164 million bushels, compared with 255 million bushels last year and 410 million bushels on July 1, 1973. Farm stocks at 119 million bushels were down 21 per cent from a year ago while off-farm stocks were down 37 per cent.

Disappearance during April-June was 144 million bushels compared with 181 million during the comparable period last year.

HEALTH TIP
FROM THE NEBRASKA MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

A fever indicates something is wrong. The Nebraska Medical Association says a fever causes the body to produce more heat than it gives off.

There are several causes of fever, the most common being disease or infection. Fever effects may range from mild discomfort to convulsions and possible brain damage. Physicians recommend you drink plenty of fluids to keep your body's water balance high and seek proper care to determine the origin or reason for the fever. The individual should get plenty of rest and eat easy to digest foods with proteins and vitamins. Aspirin may assist in reducing a fever.

The association urges you to make your fever patient as comfortable as possible. Immediate care is very important to the well being of the patient until cause and cure can be established.

HOT LUNCH PROGRAM

The hot lunch program will be in operation Monday, Aug. 25. The price will be 40¢ per meal for students grades 1-6 and 45¢ per meal for students grades 7-12. Meal tickets can be purchased for 10 meals at a cost of $4.00 or $4.50 respectively before school on Wednesday.

Bus information has already been sent to the school patrons. If you have children that will be riding the bus and did not receive the information, parents should contact Supt. Don Leighton.

STUDENT INSURANCE

Student insurance policies are being made available to you as a service to help you meet the costs of school injuries. The school is not liable for the cost of treatment of school injuries, but by offering a group plan, parents are given an opportunity to buy a good accident plan at a very low rate.

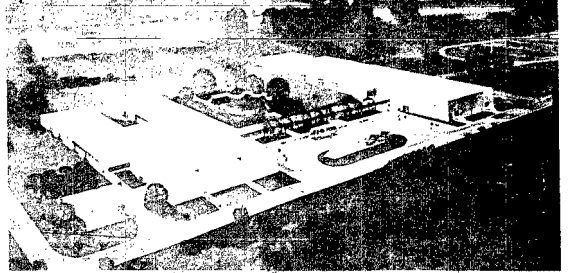

The two plans available are the Schooltime Accident Plan and the 24-Hour Plan.

Plan I — Schooltime Plan: Grades K-6, $4.00 Grades 7-12, $6.50
Plan II — 24-Hour Plan: Grades K-6, $16.50, Grades 7-12, $22.00

DRIVING

All students will register their cars and supply additional information on their motor vehicle. You may not drive your car to school unless it is registered.

There will be no driving of the cars during the school day without permission from the administration and from the parents.

Students are expected to drive in the proper manner and reports of careless and reckless driving before and after school will be sufficient reason to discontinue your driving privileges to school.

PHYSICAL

The high school students who plan to participate in sports or take part in physical education should have a physical examination. You cannot participate without a physical. Get these physicals out of the way prior to school. You can pick up the doctor's forms at the school office.

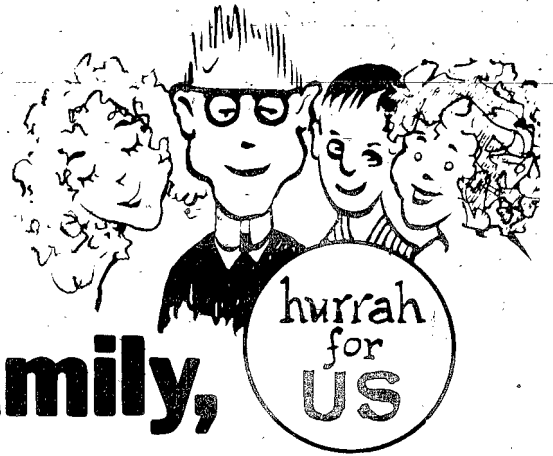

STUDENT ATTIRE

Students are expected to come to school dressed in the proper manner. Such things as grooming and attire are of concern.

Kindergarten students must have a physical. All 7-12 students not participating in athletics must have either a complete physical and an okay to participate in physical education or a notarized permit from the parents giving their permission.

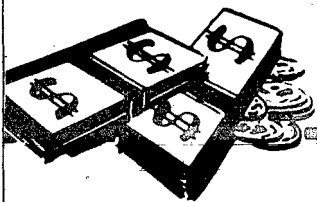

Who is No. 1 with you?

YOU and your own family, of course

Such an attitude may be called selfish, and some folks squeam about selfishness. Outwardly, at least.

But others practice it regularly by trading at home where each dollar they spend gets about the same goods as anywhere else, plus 33¢ worth of upkeep for their own community. And normally it stays around to buy $4 or $5 worth of goods and $1 or $1.50 of community services for neighbors and themselves before it has to leave for Washington, Detroit, Japan or Arabia.
