City Traffic Accident Rate Probed by Safety Council

Persons who drive in the 100 block of West Third St. in Wayne probably stand a better-than-average chance of having an accident, especially if the streets are icy or they have something else on their mind. At least, that's what might be construed from some of the findings of the Wayne safety commission when members met Friday afternoon.

Chairman Ray Butts had reviewed reports of automobile accidents within the city since the beginning of 1975 and found what might be some trouble spots. The commissioner is concerned because of a dramatic upswing in the number of fender benders in Wayne during the past year and want to find if there is anything they can recommend to cut down on the accident rate.

As of Friday afternoon, 153 traffic accidents had been reported in Wayne since the first of the year, compared with 113 for the same period last year.

Not surprisingly, three of six hot spots uncovered by Butts are on Main St. Since Jan. 1, eight accidents have occurred on the street in the 700 block, seven in the 300 block and six in the 200 block. In addition to those and the teaching on West Third St., Butts found that three mishaps had happened at the corner of Sixth and Lincoln Streets.

Wayne Motorcyclist Suffers Fractures In Thursday Mishap

Norman Brown, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown of Wayne, was listed in fair condition Friday morning following a car-motorcycle accident Thursday night.

According to the report filed by Wayne reserve police officer Keith Reed, Brown was traveling east on Highway 35 at about 6:50 p.m. when his motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Robert Reinhardt, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Reinhardt of rural Wayne. See ACCIDENT, page 9.

buting causes for accidents, indicated on reports by investigating law enforcement officers. Failure to yield topped the list, being mentioned on 21 reports. Butts said that category includes drivers who ran stop signs or stopped and started again without looking, and failure to yield at uncontrolled intersections.

Icy roads followed closely, supposedly contributing to 20 accidents. Next were inattention and hit and run, with 12 each; obstructed view, nine; speed and drinking, four each; old age, five, and following too close, four.

Butts said officers had cited "old age" of drivers as a possible cause in five cases, three of which involved the same driver with two of those mishaps happening 15 minutes apart.

In addition, "unknown" was entered in the spot for contributing factors on 51 of the reports and Butts said he believes that in most cases, that means the same as inattention.

Commission members expressed concern over what they believe is a small number of traffic citations issued to drivers involved in accidents, in relation to the number of mishaps.

Dean Pierson proposed that the commission recommend to attend a one-night defensive driving course if they are involved in an accident and the investigation officer determines they are at fault. See SAFETY, page 9.

Administrators Discuss School Law, Evaluation at Fall Meet

About 90 northeast Nebraska school superintendents, Educational Unit administrators, and other educators met at Wayne State College Wednesday for the area association's fall conference.

Dr. Gene Lavender, Norfolk Public-Schools superintendent and 1975-76 association president, opened the all-day conference after a brief welcome by Wayne State College vice president, Dr. Ed Elliott.

Morning sessions were devoted to "Evaluation of Administrators," chaired by Wayne Carroll superintendent; Francis Haun and presented by Dr. Ralph Weaver and Joel Wedergren, superintendents from South Sioux City and Plainville, respectively; and "Responsibilities Under LB295: The Open Meeting Law," chaired by Robert Baker, assistant superintendent of the Norfolk Public Schools, and presented by Robert Pease and Waldo Johnson, superintendents from Wisner-Pilger and Wausa.

Luncheon was served, compliments of the Wayne State Foundation, and appreciation plaques were presented to Arnold Jakubowski, superintendent from Howells for his service as 1975-76 association president and to Loren Kamish, Wayne State College dean of student services, who served as secretary-treasurer of the association from 1967-74. Lloyd Sexton, superintendent from Fremont gave the luncheon address, focusing on his experience as a superintendent.

Following the noon luncheon, a presentation was made by Drs. Lyle Skov, Arnold Emry and Mary Arlene Schulz of the WSC education faculty, on the teaching techniques used for graduating students. Roy Williams, a senior from Vardigre, and Lanette George a senior from Gresham, described their "Micro-Teaching" experiences at the college, and showed videotapes of their teaching.

Concord Looking For Chairman, Village Clerk

Town board officials at Concord hope to name a new board chairman and village clerk Wednesday night during the board's monthly meeting.

Last month village chairman Duane Harder and clerk Mrs. Donna Nelson handed in their resignations. Harder told the board he is moving out of town and would have to give up the job as village mayor. Mrs. Nelson said her job as clerk for both Dixon and Concord Boards were too much work. She will, however, continue as clerk for the Dixon board.

According to Concord board member Jack Erwin, the position of clerk will have to be filled soon. If there aren't any candidates for village chairman by this week's meeting, the board may appoint an acting chairman who will keep the official elections next spring.

Harder has been village chairman for the last four years, according to Erwin. Harder's term of office is scheduled to expire in April. Other board members who terms end in April are Erwin and Fritz Bleh. Wednesday's meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Concord fire hall.

A full slate of activities is planned at Wayne High school this week in preparation for homecoming on Friday.

Homecoming queen candidates selected by the Pep Club are Becky Allen, Kathy Dranska, Jennifer Johnson, Mary Kovensky and Diana Atkins. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dranska, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kovensky and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Atkins.

King candidates chosen by the football squad are Dave Hix, Paul Mallette, Pat Dorcey, Rob Mitchell and Rich Workman. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Hix, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mallette, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dorcey, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Workman.

Alternate candidates who will crown the king and queen during ceremonies before Friday night's football game are Kris Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Negergaard, and Brian Frevert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Frevert.

Wednesday will be a big night leading up to a climactic Friday night Pep Club members will paint store windows in downtown Wayne with slogans and a pep rally will begin a 7 p.m. in the business district. Following the tradition from past years, students will do a snake dance from the business district to the football practice field for a bonfire rally Thursday night. Students are

Wayne Petition Is Filed In Action Against County

A suit was filed in behalf of the city of Wayne Tuesday against Wayne County, according to district court records.

The petition filed by attorney Duane Schroeder, contends that under a contract signed in 1967, the county must pay the city $7,000 towards purchase of a new ambulance and equipment. Schroeder was retained by the city after being consulted on the matter. Attorney Budd Bornhoff will represent the county in the case. He is also city attorney but accepted the position with the reservation that he would represent the county in cases involving both the city and county.

According to the suit, the county, city and Wayne Hospital Board entered into a contract on Dec. 26, 1967 whereby the ambulance service for the county would be rendered by a city ambulance. In return, the petition says, the county agreed to place $1,000 a year in a depreciation fund to be paid when the ambulance was replaced. The contract was extended several times until it was terminated Jan. 1 of this year.

The city has purchased an ambulance to be operated by the Providence Medical Center and a claim was submitted to the county. The board rejected the claim Sept. 2 on the grounds that the contract is not valid because Providence Medical Center did not exist when the deal was made and is not a party to the contract. Bornhoff has advised the commissioners he doesn't believe the county can disburse the funds because the medical center is privately operated and governmental subdivisions can't spend money for private purposes.

The county has until Nov. 3 to file a reply to the suit. No hearing date has been set.

Still at Work

AN AUTUMN sun peeks through part of a water well drill assembly as workmen from Salmon Well Co. at Wakefield continue their search for water in Winside. As of Thursday, workers had drilled 80 feet with still no signs of water. According to street superintendent Ken Macke, the drilling was the second in less than a week. An earlier test drill went 160 feet. Several weeks ago two of the town's wells went dry, forcing officials to use water from a well which has a diesel fuel smell. As a result, a lot of Winside residents have been importing their water from neighboring farms.

Beautician Plans Men's Night After Move To City Building

Arrangements are not yet complete but city administrator Fred Brink said Friday that the city has agreed to lease space now occupied by city offices to Hazel Mau for relocation of her beauty shop.

The city administrator and city clerk treasurer offices and the city billing department will move into new quarters in the old Wayne Hospital building as soon as remodeling is complete. Brink said no timetable has been set for the move but he hopes to make the transfer within the next two weeks.

Mrs. Mau said extensive modifications will be required before she can move her business. Hazel's Beauty Shoppe, to the new location at 220 Pearl, in the south wing of the city auditorium building. She has submitted plans for approval by state cosmetology and health officials. Modifications required before Mrs. Mau can move her shop, now located at 321 Main St., include additional electrical wiring, lighting and plumbing. See BEAUTICIANS, page 9.

ASC Committee Is 'Opportunity To Help'

Wayne County farmers are in the process of filling out forms mailed to them last week asking for nominations for the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee. In a departure from recent years, the election will be conducted by mail, between Nov. 21 and Dec. 1.

In the past, voters elected members to a community committee within their precinct. Community committees convened to elect the county committee. The community committees have been eliminated, making Wayne a one-community county for ASC election purposes.

Three members comprise the committee. The seat up for election is now filled by Aldan Johnson, a Wayne County farmer with rural Wakefield address. Other members are Ralph Olson of Carroll and Norris Hansen of Winside.

Reflecting on his term on the ASC board, Johnson said he would like to be re-elected. He said he has enjoyed the job because it offers an opportunity to help his fellow farmers. "That's what we're here for," Johnson and his fellow committee members were especially busy last year, overseeing the administration of the crop insurance payment program which received a large number of applications because of drought conditions.

Johnson, who became a commitment in 1968, said the amount of work required has declined since he took office. Then, Olson said, the nation had a surplus of grain and the government held large grain stocks. Committeemen were busy administering programs for set aside acres. That's all changed now with emphasis being placed on full production. The result has been less work for the ASCS committee, Olson said.

Still, he feels the group serves a vital function in providing liaison between state and federal governments and individual farmers.

"Some things, people wouldn't accept if it weren't coming from local people," Olson said. "We make things work smoothly."

He explained that he thinks individuals wouldn't readily accept, for example, decisions on who qualifies for disaster payments, if the judgments didn't come from their neighbors.

Johnson agreed, saying he thinks the committee is important because it provides for some local control over farm programs.

Board Will Review Assignments

Wayne-Carroll school board members Monday night will review teacher assignments at their regular meeting Monday night at 7:30 at the high school building.

A credentialing standards require the board to officially review teacher assignments. The board will also review the opinion of the school attorney regarding a suit to collect damages on the school boiler. A new boiler had to be installed, apparently because of an error when the original unit was put in.

The board will also appoint a project director for a Title VI program and review Ron Wreid's bid for citizen band radios for school buses. According to superintendent Francis Haun, specifications were sent to all dealers in the district and Wreid was the only one to submit a bid.

Agricultural economist predicts changes

In this Bicentennial period, a great many people, especially those on the nation's farms and ranches who are most affected, are asking the questions, "Can the family farm survive until the year 2000, let alone be around until the next centennial?"

When the nation was formed 200 years ago, 90 per cent of the population was engaged in farming. Today less than five per cent of the population is engaged in farming and probably 70 per cent of the population is so far removed from the realities of food production that they just can't comprehend what it is all about. A Nebraska urban dweller asked the question recently, "Just why should the family farm that everyone talks about be saved anyway?"

Today's capital investments in farming and ranching have become so great and overwhelming that for all practical purposes only young people with favorable family connections dare to venture into the highly competitive field of production agriculture and hope some day to make it "on their own." That's fact, not fantasy, and something that 95 per cent of the population doesn't seem to understand. Don Paarlberg, the USDA's director of agricultural economics, was asked recently, "What types of institutional changes can we expect in the future?" And here were his answers and they are logical in the light of what is taking place.

The family farmer will slowly give up his historic role of supplying all production inputs — land, labor, capital and management. Agricultural production will require farms so large — and so much land, capital and managerial skill — that single persons will be unlikely to supply them all.

In commercial agriculture, the nearest thing to the family farmer will be a farm operator who lives on the land with his family, rents his farm, borrows his money and hires his labor. He will make his own decisions on combining these inputs and contracting for both inputs and output.

Besides those farms that produce most of our crops and livestock, there will be part-time farms, combining the production of food and off-farm jobs with rural living.

For the first 200 years we flocked to the city. But in the next 200 years, we will probably look to the country as a place to live. Rural areas will be able to provide most of the public services that were formerly found only in the cities.

Some of these predictions are already taking place. The rampant inflation of the past three years has accelerated the trends. Political decisions by government in the form of price controls on food in 1973 to satisfy consumer interests and the latest example of George Meany and "Big Labor" dictating export terms for the farmer's products to gain union advantages have done more to hasten destruction of the family farm than anything that has occurred in the past 25 years.

The alternatives to the "family farm" which have distinguished the nation's first 200 years are not appealing: 1. Government-managed and controlled agriculture, even a license to farm as some politicians have suggested. 2. Large corporate farms owned and controlled by big business with the operators and workers unionized and controlled by "Big Labor." The prospect for consumers in either case is less food at higher prices. — M. M. Van Kirk, director of information, Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

STRAY Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

SUNDAY marked the beginning of three week-long special observances. October 5-11 is Newspaper Week, Fire Prevention Week and 4-H Week.

At work and an editorial elsewhere on this page address the first two subjects. I've saved 4-H Week for myself.

Most of my impressions about 4-H were gained since I moved to Wayne, especially while covering the Wayne and Dixon County fairs. I think the real strong points of the organization are participation and variety.

FROM WHAT I've observed, the cornerstone of 4-H is learning by doing. It isn't an organization where there are a few active people and hosts of hangers-on. Naturally, some youths take on more projects than others, but everybody is active.

That is made possible because of the variety of subjects covered. My first thoughts of 4-H are of livestock projects and that's a vital part of the program. But for those youngsters with other interests, there are plenty of projects they can get into. Sewing, singing, electricity, horticulture, public service, leadership development, entomology and a list too long to name are areas of interest embraced by the 4-H. The scope is evident when it is realized that 17 per cent of the 7.2 million U.S. 4-H'ers now come from larger urban and suburban areas.

IN CASE ANYONE missed it, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said last week he was surprised to discover that there are farmers in Washington, D.C. In fact, 240 residents of the district claimed $2.65 million in farm losses in 1973.

Vanik concluded, as you probably have by now, that the bulk of the farm owners must be absentee farmers — "gentlemen farmers who have never gotten their feet muddy."

IF YOU HAVEN'T received a copy of the Wayne Attitude Survey, pick one up at either of the banks in town or at the Chamber of Commerce office. The report is well written and analysis of the survey is excellent. It's well worth missing a couple of police shows some evening to go through the survey and find out what people think of their town. It's a good reflection on the quality of life here.

Our "Attaboy" award for the week goes to Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman. He said Wednesday he would not enforce federal sanctions against states that have no motorcycle helmet law.

The Nebraska Unicameral last session passed a helmet law under threat of losing almost $7 million in federal funds, but a temporary injunction has held it in abeyance while the issue is pending in court.

Coleman said he could cut off the funds only if the U.S. Transportation Department was threatened with a lawsuit for failure to impose the sanction.

Out of Old

Nebraska

The people who settled Nebraska, whether from the Eastern United States or European immigrants, found it necessary to adapt their way of life to the conditions they found on the plains. One aspect of this adaptation was the need to invent new methods and new machines.

Several major inventions including the windmill and barbed wire played important parts in the opening of the West. Nebraskans invented a number of farm implements, household and business items.

The late 1800's and early 1900's saw a variety of agricultural tools and implements designed and manufactured in Nebraska. One of the most widely used of these was the husking hook, used in the hand husking of corn by farmers everywhere until the introduction of the mechanical-corn picker. This hook replaced the husking peg, a hard wood peg held in place in the palm of the right hand with a leather thong loop over the thumb and used to thrust into the end of the corn husks to separate them. This husking hook, which separated and stripped open the husks was considered by some to be a major improvement. It was invented in 1890 by W.F. Lilly of Rockford, Neb. Lilly cut the first husking hook from an old scoop shovel for his father-in-law, George F. Richards who had lost his right thumb and was unable to hold a husking peg.

With the aid of the hook Richards was again able to husk corn. Realizing that this hook would be of real value, as it made corn husking a quicker, simpler operation than with the use of the husking peg, Lilly experimented with different shaped hooks and patented his invention. Husking hooks were produced by a number of companies and distributed widely through the mail order, however, Lilly never realized a financial success from his invention. The collections of the Nebraska State Historical Society include a number of examples of the "Lilly corn husker" manufactured by different companies.

Another well known implement is the land roller invented by Mads Anderson, a Danish immigrant in 1908. The land roller was designed to break the crust and pack loose soil to prevent moisture loss on fields being prepared for seeding. The Western Land Roller Company was formed and the first rollers manufactured in York, Neb. in 1911 sold for $35 apiece. The next year the manufacturing was moved to Hastings where it still produces a variety of farming implements.

A less well known invention of the same period is the Robinson Wire Reel. An advertising brochure in the Museum Collection states that this device for taking up and putting down of barbed wire consisted of a wood frame to be mounted on the wagon box, a shaft for holding a reel and a crank operated guide which moves so as to make the wire play evenly over the spool. This reel was manufactured by J.M. Robinson and son of Hastings, during the 1890's.

A number of other agricultural inventions were produced in Nebraska, some of which were manufactured for a short time and little is known of them. The Omaha Hay Press, a stationary baler which produced round bales of concentric layers of hay, was manufactured by the Martin and Morrissey Company of Omaha about 1897. The Griffiths Automatic Shovel, a machine to be attached to the binder to produce shocks of grain mechanically, was invented by L.W. Griffith during the early 1920's.

Today's inventive Nebraska farmers continue to seek new and easier ways of doing things.

Handicapped veteran Wants cards, calendars

Kent, Wash.

Dear Editor: I am a handicapped veteran. Living on a small pension. My vision and hearing are slowly leaving me. The doctors say they can do nothing, so I have made hobbies to keep busy and fight off periods of mental depression and despondency, which seem to plague me most of the time.

While I am collecting antique valentines and old post cards, I am also collecting rare old calendars and advertising cards, in hopes of writing a book about the items I collect, and earn enough from it to get off this small VA pension and have medical care, which the VA is unable to afford me, so my hobbies have a dual purpose.

Living on limited funds, I depend on friends and others for the items I collect, and was wondering if any of your readers had any antique valentines, old post cards or rare old calendars they do not want, because I would be happy to have any they may care to send me and be glad to get them.

Thank you for your time and kind consideration in reading my letter. Leon Thompson, 1211 Chicago Street, Kent, Washington 98031.

Fire prevention reminder

In 1954, the peak year of the polio epidemic, there were 3,145 deaths from that dread disease. Vaccines have virtually eliminated that threat, but there is an epidemic in our nation that causes nearly 12,000 deaths every year and there is no vaccine, and never will be, to stop the epidemic.

This epidemic is death by fire, and as we approach National Fire Prevention Week, October 5-11, special emphasis should be placed on this great American tragedy. The large majority of these victims died needlessly as most fires could easily be prevented.

Polio alarmed the nation "because it struck so hard at children; yet so does fire. Children, and persons over 60, are chief victims of fires and most of these die in dwelling fires which could be prevented.

Many home fire accidents are caused by children playing with matches or cigarette lighters, or children wearing loose-fitting flammable clothing while they are near stoves. Just think how easy it would be to prevent fires from these causes.

Panic is another great cause of fire deaths. Running while clothing is burning only fans the flames, but how often we hear of this type of tragedy. Or people walking to the threat of fire often rush blindly into the fire instead of seeking escape through a window.

How many homes in our community are potential death traps because of poor wiring or overloading; careless smoking habits which kill thousands each year; misuse of flammable liquids; or other easily preventable causes? Probably more than one realizes.

Fire prevention in your home or business should be a constant, every day effort. With Fire Prevention Week being observed this week, isn't this a good time to start a continuing program of protection for your loved ones and your possessions? The best time to stop a fire is before it starts. — Don Zimmer, Pierce County Leader.

OBSERVATIONS

Council action questioned

The Wayne city council may have stepped out of bounds legally at their regular meeting Tuesday night and certainly appear to have violated what should be considered common sense operating procedures.

The faux pas was made while considering a request made by city administrator Fred Brink for a salary increase. A majority of the council members balked at discussing the matter in public and a motion was made to go into closed session.

Just what constitutes legal grounds for a closed session is still a confusing question throughout the state because of new restrictions set forth in a public disclosure statute passed during the last session of the Unicameral.

City attorney, Bud Bankoff reviewed the law and said he didn't see any legal justification for an executive session.

Closed sessions apparently are allowed to protect an individual's reputation and the council decided that Brink's reputation needed protecting. The administrator said he didn't care to have a closed proceeding. John Vakoc was the lone councilman voting no on the motion.

We don't pretend to have any legal expertise and make no judgment concerning the legality of the session. That's a question for lawyers and the courts — one we will probably never know the answer to because it is doubtful anyone will challenge the action taken.

But it doesn't seem prudent to hire a city attorney and then ignore his professional advice when it doesn't suit your wishes. The danger is that such actions will become progressively easier until someone does decide to challenge an action taken following a closed session. Perhaps on a crucial matter where time is important and the city stands to lose by having a case tied up in court.

Attorneys are hired as advisors by governmental bodies and councilmen have the right to accept or reject advice. Such was the case recently when the council sought another opinion concerning $7,000 which the city alleges is owed by the county to help pay for a new ambulance. Upon consultation with a second attorney, the council decided to proceed with litigation.

Tuesday night was a different situation. Bornhoff's last answer when asked if closed sessions should be held on the grounds of protecting Brink was "I can't see it, but the council can proceed as it wishes." It did.

If a definitive answer had been sought, the situation would be different, but the council members, excluding Vakoc, made what is essentially a legal interpretation. Hopefully, they won't make a habit of that, because when laymen dabble with the law they are bound to get caught sooner or later. — Jim Strayer.

Problems With Patterns? Consultant Offers Help

Jean Wassom, fitting and styling consultant for Sunburst Patterns, will introduce the newly developed Sunburst Pattern system with 90-minute instruction classes at the Amber Inn meeting room in Wayne on Tuesday, Oct. 14.

An experienced seamstress, Mrs. Wassom has been traveling a nine-state area presenting the new technique to women sewers who have difficulty in fitting patterns.

According to the consultant, too much time is spent on altering a pattern, yet without a good fit. Many intelligent home seamstresses are unable to get satisfactory garment fit without spending many frustrating hours on alterations, she notes.

To help overcome this problem, Mrs. Wassom will introduce the Sunburst system of drafting patterns which enable the seamstress to shape the pattern to individual body requirements as it is being drafted working with a complete collection of basic patterns and current fashions.

The system enables persons measuring from the thinnest up to 65 inches around to obtain an accurate size, said Mrs. Wassom, who has a particular talent for fitting the stout person.

Local and area women are invited to attend her program in Wayne. Class times begin at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. A lecturer's fee will be charged, and drafting materials will be for sale at the class.

Wausa Riddles Winside's Homecoming

By BOB BARTLETT
Wausa quarterback Kim Johnson and end Gary Skalberg teamed up for a pair of touchdowns, then Johnson kicked a 15-yard field goal Friday night to give the Vikings a 15-0 win over Winside.

The victory puts Wausa on top of the six-team Clark division in the Lewis and Clark Conference, with a 3-0 league mark while Winside, which was tied for first place, drops to 2-1 in the top and 3-2 overall.

Skalberg, who was ranked second in the conference in receiving with a 15.7 yard average per catch, caught touchdown passes of 22 and 24 yards to put his club ahead 12-0 in the third period of Winside's homecoming game.

Both Wausa's touchdowns resulted after Winside miscues gave the Vikings good field position. Early in the second half, Wausa's Paul Bloomquist pounced on a Winside fumble on the Cats' 43-yard line where opportunistic Wausa began its first march.

Johnson, who mixed his passing and running plays, found his favorite receiver in the open seven plays later for a 22-yard touchdown play with 8:19 left in the third quarter. Johnson, who also kicked extra points, missed his first attempt when it went wide.

Five minutes later coach Shannon Dittmer's crew had another six points set up when Curt Seagren jumped on top of another Winside fumble. This time at Winside's 34. On the first play from scrimmage, Johnson and Skalberg put their club ahead, 12-0. The run for two points also failed.

Johnson and Skalberg connected on an 18-yard aerial in the last seconds of the game to put the ball on Winside's seven-yard line. With just seven seconds left, Johnson's field goal split the uprights for Wausa's final count.

"We have stop their passing game or we'll be in a position. Winside coach Ron Peck admitted before Friday's game.

In the air is where the Vikings picked up their yardage as Johnson had eight completions on 18 attempts for 130 yards. Winside's defense, which is No. two against the rush, proved itself in that department as Wausa was a minus seven yards on the ground for the night.

Although the conference loss hurt Winside's chances for repeating as division champs, Peck is hopeful that conference for Hartington High can beat Wausa. However, Wausa will have to suffer two divisional losses if Winside is to have a chance to repeat. A conference ruling prohibits a division champion to repeat if it is tied with another team for first place.

Winside, which collected 73 yards on the ground, was led by

Seniors Earn Guessers' Best Athlete Awards

Two senior football players step into the spotlight as the Second Guessers' athletes of the week.

They are linebacker Mike Reidmann of Wayne State and quarterback Paul Mallette of Wayne High, who received last week's awards during Thursday's weekly meeting.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reidmann of Omaha, Mike led Wayne State defenders in stopping a powerful Doane offensive team. Reidmann finished the game with three tackles and nine assists to help Wayne come from behind to top Doane 25-14 and rack up the Vikings' second straight victory against two losses.

Mallette, who has won the Herald's weekly "Athlete of the Week" award, earns the Guessers' honor after directing the Blue Devils to a 3-0 record.

For those three games, Mallette has thrown for three touchdowns and scored five on runs. He held a 3.2 yard running average and has hit 45 per cent of his passes.

Mallette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mallette of Wayne.

Each week the Second Guessers honor the outstanding athlete of the week from Wayne High and Wayne State. The weekly meetings are held every Thursday noon at the Cornhusker Cafe.

Randolph Frosh Nip Wayne, 16-8

Wayne High's freshmen football team return home Thursday to face their fourth opponent of the season, Norfolk High.

The frosh, 0-3 going into the game, suffered their third set back last week when Randolph got by Wayne, 16-8.

The locals trailed 16-0 for three quarters before an 81-yard gallop by Brad Emry put the Devils on the board. Don Straight ran in for the two points for the final score.

Several times coach Duane Blomkamp's club was inside Randolph's 10 yard line, but each drive was stopped by a fumble.

Randolph took an 8-0 lead the first quarter after blocking a Wayne punt at the 15 yard line. Six plays later the hosts were on the scoreboard. Randolph's final score came in the third, capping a 75 yard march.

Emry was Wayne's leading rusher with 150 yards in 15 carries. Top defender was Dave Hamm with a total of 18 stops.

Randolph took an 8-0 lead the first quarter after blocking a Wayne punt at the 15 yard line. Six plays later the hosts were on the scoreboard. Randolph's final score came in the third, capping a 75 yard march.

Defensively, senior Bob Hoffman had 11 stops for Winside's top tackler. Brad Brockmann finished with two quarterback sacks. Although defensive end Monte Pfeiffer only had two tackles, coach Peck pointed out the senior "broke up a lot of passes."

Billed as the top divisional battle of the season, Friday's match lived up to that reputation as both teams went scoreless in the first half.

Winside's defense ranked second against the rush, twice thwarted Winside scoring attempts. Winside's defensive safety Bryan Denklauf intercepted a Johnson aerial on Wausa's 79-yard line. After a 12-yard gallop by sophomore Cliff Williams, Winside moved to the 10 yard line where Wausa's defense dug in.

Pushed back to the Vikings' 22 yard line, Winside was forced to go to the air on third down and go to go. On a reverse play, end Hugo Bleich took the ball from quarterback Tyler Frevert and aimed the ball for another end, Bob Hoffman. Hoffman, who was in the endzone, reached out only to have the ball miss his finger tips. Winside's attempted field goal by Tillema missed.

Winside's deepest penetration came in the closing minutes of the first half when the Cats moved to Wausa's one yard line before a motion penalty put the Cats back at the six. That penalty sparked Wausa's offense into again stopping Peck's club and forcing Winside to attempt a field goal. But again Tillema's kick was wide.

Laurel Jr. High Runs Over Pierce by 30-0

Shannon Hopkins Wednesday became Laurel's scoring machine for the season game as the junior high football team ran over Pierce, 30-0.

Hopkins scored three touchdowns including a two point conversion that helped to lead the undefeated junior high team to its third victory.

Hopkins put his club ahead 14-0 in the first period on a pair of touchdowns and the conversion. The first scoring play came on a 60-yard punt. He followed with scoring play with a seven yard burst. Hopkins' final TD was in the fourth period when he raced 30 yards.

A fumble on Pierce's half yard line stopped Laurel's scoring threat in the second quarter. However, defensive lineman Jeff Anderson caught Pierce's signal caller in the endzone for a safety.

In the third period quarterback Clark Axson galloped 65 yards on a sweep to give Laurel a 27-0 command going into the final period. Following Hopkins' six pointer in the fourth, Mark McCormick added the two point play.

"This is the best game our defense has played," said coach Alan Rainbolt, noting that his defense held Pierce to only one first down.

Besides Anderson's play on the line, Rainbolt singled out linebacker Randy Dunklau as also doing a fine job. "The whole defensive line played well," he said.

Homer Baffles Allen Defense For 47-0 Win

Homer inched closer to front runner Ponca of the Lewis and Clark Conference Friday night with a 47-0 trouncing of visiting Allen.

The Knights, which are 7-0 in the league and 14-0 overall, trail Ponca by two points on the board the first period as the hosts capitalized on two of three Allen fumbles and turned them into scoring plays.

In the opening kickoff, Allen tumbled the ball on their 30-yard line. Several plays later Homer had a touchdown. Homer took advantage of another Allen miscue to set up a 43-yard touch down pass to keep the Knights' momentum moving.

The remainder of Homer's touchdowns were on the ground as the Knights amassed 269 of their 339-yard offense on the ground. "We need something to get us going," said Allen coach Cliff Jorgensen after his club suffered its fourth straight loss in five games. "Maybe the kids can get up for homecoming. I sure hope so," he added. Friday night the Eagles host Newcastle.

Allen's offense collected a total of 119 yards. Senior Steve Shortliff led Allen chargers with 43 yards.

Commission Offers Habitat Plantings

Seed, trees and shrubs will be available free to rural landowners or operators from the Game and Parks Commission for habitat plantings next spring.

Two different tree-shrub bundles will be offered. One will contain 100 cedar and 100 ponderosa pine trees. The other will be a mixed bundle of 200 trees and shrubs, including 50 cedars, 50 ponderosa pines, 50 choke cherries and 40 American plums.

To obtain these bundles, the landowner or operator must sign an agreement, promising to maintain the trees and shrubs for at least 10 years and to protect them from grazing or other destructive practices.

Sweet clover seed will also be offered in 50-pound lots for habitat plantings, enough for a five-acre plot. Clover may be planted as a pure stand or seeded with oats for use in a crop rotation system. The agreement, with regard to the clover, requires protection for only one year, but two year protection is highly recommended.

The tree-shrub bundles and seed will be available only to rural landowners and operators, and they retain all control as to whether to allow hunting on lands included in the agreement. To obtain the offerings, applications should be made before Feb. 1, 1976, to the nearest Game and Parks Commission district office in Alliance, Bassett, Norfolk, North Platte or Lincoln. Requests will be honored on a first-come, first-served basis, as materials become available. Some substitutions may be necessary on the species of trees and shrubs. Shipments will be made directly to the landowner or operator.

Applications should be submitted as soon as possible, but no later than Jan. 31.

BREAKING DOWN the west sidelines for 65 yards on the second play of the game is Wayne's Rich Workman (23). On the left: the Wayne bench cheers while on the right the Tekamah defense tries to catch Workman. The play was no good, however, as Wayne was caught on a penalty on the play. Note Wayne's hardworking center Brian Frevert (55) trailing the play and looking for a block. Frevert led the Wayne offensive line in opening big holes for the Devil running backs all night.

Devil Defenders Smother Tekamah 28-0

By DAN VODVARKA
Last week's open date in the Wayne High football schedule apparently made the Blue Devil defensive unit all the hungrier as the host Devils stunned Tekamah Herman 28-0 Friday.

At Memorial Stadium on the Wayne State College campus, the Devil's defense completely closed the door on the invading Tigers as Wayne got its second shutout of the year. After four ball games, the Devil's tough blue line has allowed only 13 points and no touchdowns on the ground.

Friday night it was tough going all the way for the invaders as they failed to gain even 100 total yards. The win left the Devils at 4-0 on the year while Tekamah falls to 1-4. Next Friday it's home coming for Wayne with Madison invading.

With people like Paul Lindner, Doug and Rick Straight, Les Thomsen, Larry Creighton and Randy Davis plugging up the middle all night, the invader's offense never really got going. Tekamah's deepest threat of the night came in the fourth quarter when the Tigers drove to the Wayne 31 but on third down quarterback Rick Lade was sacked by Wayne's Thomsen and Davis and the threat was over.

Plagued by penalties in the early going and throughout the contest, Wayne's offense didn't get moving until late in the first quarter. Then the offensive drive was sparked by a defensive gem. With 3:18 left in the first stanza, the Tigers' Bob Tobin fumbled and Doug Straight was on the ball for the Devils on the visitor's 34. Six plays later Wayne quarterback Paul Mallette found Mark Brandt in the end zone for 20 yards and the touchdown.

The scoring play came on a fourth and 10 situation. It didn't take the Devil defense long to get the ball back as early in the second period Tim Koll fell on a fumble and Wayne was back in business. This time Mallette and company got the ball on the Tekamah 47 and drove to paydirt on 10 plays with Mike Wieseler going the final two yards for the score. Vince Jenness again converted for the hosts and Wayne was on top 14-0 with 8:09 left in the half.

With 5:23 left in the half, Wayne started its weekly pre-halftime scoring drive. For the fourth time in as many games, the Devils drove during the final moments of the first half to score and open a good lead at the mid-break of the contest. Friday's scoring drive before half took just three minutes and covered 80 yards in 13 plays. The top play of the drive was a Mallette to Monte Lowe pass for 26 yards on third and 25.

Lowe snatched the pass while falling backwards in between three defenders. A Mallette to Brandt scoring strike of 13 yards capped the drive and Mallette threw to Dave Hix for the double PAT.

At halftime Wayne had a total of 198 yards to Tekamah's 29 yards. The Tigers had four first downs, the first half and three more on penalties as Wayne drew 20 yards in penalties in the first half alone.

Bothered by a sour right knee, Mallette sat out the second half as Lowe took over at quarterback for the Devils. Wayne's only scoring drive of the second half came in the fourth quarter when the Devils drove 63 yards to score with 7:18 left in the game. Rob Mitchell rambled in from seven yards out for the first score of the game.

"We looked real good often sively when we drove without penalties," Wayne coach Al Hansen said after the game. "We felt they were weak between the tackles and our straight dives and isolation plays worked good right up the middle," he commented.

Hansen praised his defensive unit and the play of Wieseler finishing up with 61 yards on the ground on 13 carries. Brandt led the Devil offense with 87 yards on 13 carries and 31 yards and two touchdowns on two pass receptions.

On defense, Creighton led in tackles from his defensive end position with a total of 10 stops. Thomsen and Lindner were both in on eight stops and Doug Straight with seven tackles.

The Wayne coach said Mallette strained his knee in the second quarter on a pass play. After two weeks off, the Wayne head coach said he felt his offensive's timing would be better.

"Next week (against Madison) we can't be making as many mistakes," he commented.

Injuries Halt Wakefield's Bid for Homecoming Win

Injury-plagued Wakefield was hobbled by visiting Wisner-Pilger Friday night as the Gators stopped the Trojans' bid for a homecoming victory. Jono Kline was again at the controls for the third straight game. Kline took over for starting signal caller Mike Soderberg, who also is hampered by a knee injury.

Labeling his team as the "walking wounded," Torczon pointed out that his club will get back on the winning trail.

No final rushing or tackling charts were available but Torczon said that in addition to runs by Myers and Rouse, runs by Mark Kober and Dan Byers helped. On defense, the head man pointed out Steve Greve, Dave Gustafson, Myers, and Rouse as doing a good job.

Greve and teammate Gale Ludwig scored Wisner's final touchdowns. Ludwig went eight yards to cap a 65 yard march.

Although Pierce stopped Laurel's ground game for the most part, Laurel's air game remained strong as the visitors collected 136 yards. Leading Laurel's aerial march was Erwin with three reception for 99 yards.

Laurel's Late Scoring Drives Beat Pierce

Laurel scored 10 points in less than a minute of the final quarter Friday night to come from behind a 10-0 tie.

The victory put coach Bob Bozied's Bears at 3-2 in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference. Next on the agenda is Friday's home meeting with rugged O'Neill.

A blocked punt on Pierce's five yard line by junior Cleve Stolpe set up Laurel's go-ahead drive when the team of Laurel players caught a Pierce runner in the endzone for a safety.

Pierce then elected to punt the ball, but Laurel's Mark McCoy was waiting in the wings to grab the ball and race 64 yards to score. The two-point conversion was good when quarterback Gordon Kardell hit Mike Dalton in the endzone.

McCoy, who led rushers with 26 yards, put the Bears in front 6-0 in the third period when he scrambled two yards for the score. Senior defensive player Jon Erwin recovered a Pierce fumble on the five yard line to set up Laurel's first scoring play. Three plays later Laurel scored. The two-point attempt failed.

Pierce jumped into the lead 7-6 when running back Mark Webster went three yards to cap a 40-yard drive that was aided by several Laurel penalties and Brad Luebe kicked the PAT.

"We missed a few good passes that might have scored for us in the first half," Bozied said. "But we played a lot better in the second half," he added.

Bozied pointed out that Laurel's running game, which was limited to 45 yards, "was hurt by the losses of lineman Mike Martin and Dan Nelson. However, senior right tackle Todd Cunningham and sophomore guard Clyde Matthews "did a superb job" filling in, Bozied said.

Steve Thompson led Laurel's defense with 15 tackles, followed by Roger Kvols with 13. Also credited for a good job was Brad Johnson and Erwin.

Leading Wakefield's defensive unit was Kevin Woodward, said coach Dennis Chipman.

Wayne Spikers Roll Past South Sioux City

After a sluggish start Thursday night, Wayne High's volleyball team knocked off Class A South Sioux City in two sets to up Wayne's record to 8-1.

Senior Mary Kovensky led the Blue Devils in the opening set of varsity action as Wayne came from a 9-5 deficit to win 15-11. Kovensky served seven straight serve points to help tie the game at nine all. The locals breezed past the visitors the second set, 15-7, after taking a quick 9-0 lead.

"The problem with that first set is that our girls were tired from the Osmond tournament," said coach Mary Dalton. Tuesday night the varsity won the four team Osmond meet. "The girls tonight didn't play the same as they did in the Osmond meet," Mrs. Dalton added.

The coach pointed out after the game that her team expected a good battle from South Sioux especially after SSC won the Newcastle tournament on Tuesday.

Leading the varsity scoring for the night was senior Susan Jacobmeier with nine points.

Wayne's only loss of the season was to Pierce in the season opener for Wayne. However, coach Dalton is confident her girls can give Pierce a better match when the teams play in district competition.

Tuesday night the varsity will be going for win No. nine when Norfolk returns to face the Blue Devils at Wayne.

Both Wayne's freshman and reserve volleyball teams won their sixth matches against one defeat.

Senior Juni Isom led the reserves with 11 serve points as Wayne stopped South Sioux 15-10 and 15-11.

The frosh went three sets to claim their victory. Wayne won the first set, 15-4, dropped the second 10-15 and won the third 15-10. Top scorer was Peg Pinkelman with 11 points. "All around Peg did a good job. She really hustled," the coach said.

Windsie High's only entry in cross country competition this year chalked up his second first-place finish last week.

Senior Dave Mann won the Plainview triangular with a time of 14:31 to top runners from Plainview and Hartington Cedar Catholic Monday.

"This isn't Dave's best time, but he'll improve before the district meet," said coach Carter Peterson. Mann's first win was two weeks ago when he ran against Wayne and Cedar Catholic.

DO YOUR PART PREVENT FIRES!

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department KNOWS Where the Next Fire Will Start!

No, They Aren't Smarter than Other People. But They Know that in Most Cases Fires Start in One of These 9 Specific Places or Ways!

1. MATCHES LEFT NEAR CHILDREN
(Don't Leave Them Where Children Can Get Them)
2. JUNK IN CELLAR, ATTIC, OR CLOSETS
(Now is the time to get rid of it)
3. ORDINARY EXTENSION CORDS ON IRONS OR HEATERS
(Ordinary lightweight cords are not meant to carry heavy loads such as an iron or electric heater demands)
4. OVERLOADED ELECTRIC CIRCUITS
(Have your electrician install more outlets for you)
5. FRAYED ELECTRICAL CORDS
(Replace them when they're frayed. Electricity is a wonderful servant, but you must play by the rules)
6. SMOKING IN BED
(Just one word — DON'T)
7. CHIMNEYS THAT SPARK
(If it sparks, it needs to be cleaned or fixed)
8. CIGARETTE CARELESSNESS
(Squash out cigarettes every time and use safe ash trays)
9. INFLAMMABLE CLEANING FLUIDS
(Check the bottle before you buy to make sure cleaning fluid is non-inflammable)

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 5-11

Checklist in Case of Fire . . .

1. If a fire breaks out in your home, get out fast — with your family. Fire can spread faster than you can run.
2. If you find smoke in an open stairway or open hall, use another preplanned way out. Teach your children how to use the phone to report a fire.
3. Make sure children can open doors, windows and screens to escape routes.
4. Make sure your family knows the quickest and safest ways to escape from every room in the house.
5. DON'T fight a fire yourself.
6. If you are trapped in a smoke-filled room, stay near the floor, where the air is better.
7. DON'T jump. Many people have jumped and died — without realizing rescue was just a few minutes away.
