PSC Urges Fight for Railroad Branch Line

Nebraska Public Service Commissioner Duane Gay said at a Wednesday night meeting in Wayne that he doesn't want to "hold out any false hopes" about the chances of defeating a proposed abandonment of the Chicago and North Western Railroad branch line between Dakota City and Wayne, but he thinks there is a good chance of winning — if people in the area are willing to fight.

The Public Service Commission (PSC) automatically opposes all abandonments in Nebraska. An Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing on the matter will be held Nov. 10-12 in Wayne.

In recent years the ICC has generally granted abandonment on lines where fewer than 30 cars per mile of track were shipped per year. Totals for the Dakota City-Wayne line are: 1971—642, 1972—646, 1973—692 and 1974—600.

Those figures fall substantially below the 1,300-plus cars needed to meet the 34-car rule for the 40.3 mile track segment, but Jack Finnigan, chief counsel for the PSC, explained that the commission hopes to prove that shippers have stopped using the railroad because service is un dependable.

The C & NW will present testimony to show it would cost more to revamp and maintain the line than shipping records indicated would be profitable, Gay said.

He thinks that with information supplied by shippers, some of that testimony can be refuted. If the line is closed, Wayne will be the largest city in Nebraska without rail service and there has been considerable activity in industrial development in recent years, Gay pointed out.

"And it's not as if Wayne existed in a desert," Gay added. "There's definitely potential for rail service here."

Service is the key word, Gay said, contending that C & NW isn't interested in providing it. "I doubt if any shippers have been visited by a railroad solicitor in the past three years."

He also contends the railroad has intentionally let the line fall into disrepair and has discouraged shipping, in an effort to justify abandonment.

The commissioner said he has gone on record on numerous occasions as being "totally disgruntled" with the railroad. According to Gay, a C & NW spokesman said on one occasion that the railroad intends to eventually abandon all branch lines in Nebraska, operating only a mainline across the state.

The goal, Gay said, is "to make the most bucks for the least effort."

The commissioner disagrees with that philosophy, saying he thinks railroads are obligated to provide service as long as they can show a profit. Other railroads in the state make money on their branch lines, Gay said, citing the Union Pacific as a good example.

"They (Union Pacific) have an excellent track and rolling stock maintenance schedule and they solicit business on their branch lines. They provide service and make a profit."

In contrast, Gay said, C & NW has a history of allowing lines to deteriorate.

The main purpose of Gay's visit was to ask shippers to assist the opposition case by supplying information concerning what the potential for rail business is, and what the economic impact on the area would be if the track is shut down.

Gay said the abandonment would be farmers, Gay said. See RAILROAD, page 10.

Fall Friend

A PUMPKIN and a rake are perfect reminders of fall. And when combined with some old clothes and newspaper stuffing, a generous helping of imagination and a pinch of nostalgia, they become "Happy, the Pumpkin Man," friend of Cindy and Scott Brown, children of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brown of Wayne. Scott got the idea for his fall friend from a comic book.

Plenty of Water Now

PENDING THE results of state tests, Winside residents may be drinking water from a new well in about two or three weeks. A crew from Salmon Well Co. of Wakefield completed drilling the 177 foot well Tuesday. According to steel superintendent Ken Macke, preliminary tests show that the well can pump over 500 gallons per hour. Macke figures the well will pump about 750 gallons per hour if the outcome of the state tests show the water is safe to drink. Last month Winside officials learned that two of the town's wells were dry. That left the town with only one well, which has a dismal taste in its water. The new well is located south of the high school.

Home Economist Is Cited For Distinguished Service

Area extension home economist Miss Anna Marie Kreifels was announced as the winner of a 1975 Distinguished Service Award during the annual meeting of the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Association (NCEA) in North Platte on Wednesday. Miss Kreifels has been assigned at the Northeast Station near Concord for 11 years and was state extension director and specialist with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) state extension staff for the previous four years.

The extension specialist received her undergraduate degree at Peru State College and received an advanced degree at Colorado State College at Greeley. She has also completed graduate courses at several other universities.

Since being stationed at Concord, Miss Kreifels has helped organize the Northeast Nebraska Family and Community Affairs Council. Designed to help bring services of the Northeast Regional Mental Health Center to the counties in the area, the council has sponsored programs on alcoholism, drug abuse and family life. See KREIFELS, page 10.

Committee Picks Bicentennial Contest Winner

Marvel Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlson of Wayne has been chosen as the Bicentennial Seniors scholarship competition.

The Wayne competition is part of a nationwide scholarship program for high school seniors currently being conducted by the National Association of Secondary School Principals with funds from the Shell Oil Company.

Miss Carlson's winning composition consists of a "Bicentennial Minute" and a commentary discussing the relevance of this "minute for today and for America's future." She also scored high on the current events test.

The selection committee was comprised of Dan Sherry, Susan Daugherty, Brenda Wittig and Don Zells. Miss Carlson will now compete with other Nebraska high school organizations in the county. See BICENTENNIAL, page 10.

Baier Heads 4-H Council

Stan Baier of rural Wayne was elected president of the Wayne County 4-H council at a meeting Thursday.

Other officers are Mrs. J.J. Liska, vice president; Mrs. Harold Wittler, secretary; and Gerald Pospisil, county extension board representative.

In addition to those four adults, the 4-H council also counts four teenagers in its membership: Cindy Bull, Linda Anderson, Dwight Anderson and Les Thomsen.

The council makes administrative decisions for the 4-H organizations in the county.

Weible Completes Certification Class For County Sheriffs

Wayne County sheriff Don Weible, Friday, completed the three week sheriff certification course at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center in Grand Island.

All county sheriffs in the state are required to complete the certification course and have been sheriff since 1958.

Courses taught during the training session included sheriff's role and responsibility, criminal investigation, constitutional law, criminal law, rules of evidence, search and seizure, and civil process. The 16 county sheriffs participating in the course also qualified with firearms and studied jail management.

WSC To Host Army College Faculty Team

The Wayne State College Institute of Public Affairs will host representatives of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College on Oct. 27.

Representatives of the Army school will present a panel discussion on Army concerns and matters for the students and the general public.

The team of faculty members from the Army college will address the specific topic of "National Security and Today's Army" and will accept questions from the audience. The discussion will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the Birch Room of the Student Union and is open to the general public.

Fund Drive Over $4,000

As of last weekend, $4,501.50 had been collected in the Community Chest fund drive, according to Mrs. Marilyn Carhart, campaign secretary. The amount represents about 15 percent of the total contributions expected, she added.

Final results will be announced after all workers have turned in their reports. Tuesday, Oct. 28, is the final day of the drive.

Goal for this year's drive is $12,900 or about $1,400 over last year's goal.

Nine board members, 55 team captains and about 200 workers have been involved in the campaign which got underway Oct. 14.

Funds raised in the campaign will go to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, cystic fibrosis research fund, arthritis foundation, Florence Crittenton Home, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Wayne recreation program and Senior Citizens Center.

Wayne School Board Lets Bid For New Football-Track Field

The Wayne-Carroll school board Thursday voted unanimously to accept a bid totaling $100,800 for construction of a new track and football field.

The bid, submitted by Christiansen Construction, includes a $92,600 base bid and $8,200 for surfacing the track.

Otte Construction of Wayne submitted a $98,646 base bid and $8,055 surfacing bid for a total of $106,700.

Both contractors had previously submitted bids which the board rejected as too expensive. The project will be financed from monies accumulated in a sinking fund. School superintendent Francis Haun said the fund should total about $106,000 at the end of the current fiscal year.

Christiansen's initial base bid was $108,600; Otte's was $110,404. Surfacing bids were the same.

The school board decided that they must stay within the budget dictated by the projected sinking fund total. At an Oct. 6 meeting, members agreed to seek bids from the two compa-

Engineers Receive City Specifications

Wayne city administrator Fred Brink said Thursday that bid specifications for three items being considered for purchase by the city have been mailed to Bruce Gilmore and Associates, city engineer consulting firm.

Specifications for a police cruiser will be evaluated by the firm. Fire truck specifications will be reviewed. Original fire truck specifications were found to be unacceptable and revised specifications will be reviewed by the firm.

The engineering firm will also receive specifications for an industrial tractor for an examination of estimated costs. Authorization has not been given by the city council to advertise for bids on any of the above items.

Brink said Gilmore's firm has also been retained to complete a study to determine what problems will be encountered in modifying the city sewage lagoon so it will be able to meet Environmental Protection Agency standards by 1977.

Brink said he expects the identification process to begin sometime this week.

Council approval has been given to proceed with the first phase of a three-part project. The second phase, if the council gives approval after problems are identified, would be to come up with a design to correct the problems. The third phase would be to proceed with construction.

Road Hearing Is At Student Union

State Department of Roads (DOR) officials will meet tonight (Monday) with the public to outline the design for a proposed improvement project for Highway 15 north of Wayne.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne State College Student Union. DOR officials will explain the proposal in detail. Design features include resurfacing to a point near the intersection with Highway 116, and widening to four lanes for about one mile north of Wayne.

Wide Variation Noted In Corn Yields But Harvest Generally Considered Good

Pinning down an average figure for crop yield in a county is never easy when the harvest is in mid-season and that task appears to be more difficult that usual this year because the number of bushels taken off an acre varies widely. "Yields are running from real poor to real high," county extension agent Don Spittle noted Friday. He said yields might range from 60 to 100 bushels an acre, on the same farm.

Some fields are producing as low as 40 bushels an acre while others are well over the 100 bushel mark. A major contributing factor to the wide variations has been spotty rain patterns which have prevailed throughout the summer. Some fields have experience fairly good rainfall while another a half-mile away remained parched. Overall, Wayne county fields are drier than usual, because of very little moisture during the latter part of the season.

Gene Fletcher, manager of the Feeders Elevator in Wayne said yields have been running from 40 bushels and up in the northern part of the county, to the 80-90 bushel range, moving into the southern portion where overall rainfall was heavier.

Moisture content of corn is lower than normal, running from a high of around 18 per cent down to a 13 per cent low Fletcher said that because of the low moisture level, virtually all of the farmers he has talked to are picker-shelling this year.

The low moisture content means a savings in drying costs, according to Wayne Grain and Feed bookkeeper Dean Schram, particularly for farmers who are planning to feed their grain this winter.

Schram said corn can be kept in the bin for feeding at 15-16 per cent moisture content, although it must be dried to the 13 per cent level before the germination period in the spring.

At other sites around the county, Dwight Bruggeman, manager of the Hoskins Elevator Co. reports corn yields ranging from 50 to 100 bushels an acre. He said the harvest is just getting started in his area.

Dan Bauer, owner of Bauer Elevator in Sholes, reports picking about half done in his area with about 60 bushels average, running to as high as 100 bushels an acre.

George Voss, owner of Winside Grain and Feed, said Friday he had received corn from only one farmer, averaging from 70 to 80 bushels.

Right now, Voss said, his storage bins are filled with soybeans, which most farmers are done harvesting. Yields throughout the county have been reported generally to be at about 20 bushels per acre average. Moisture content for beans has also been low but not low enough to cause many problems with shattering.

Agricultural Soil and Conservation Service executive director Ray Butts said the corn harvest is probably a little below normal this year but is much better than last year when, many farmers didn't even bother to harvest their drought-stricken field.

Spittle said corn borer is a major problem this year. First-brood borers ridged stalks in some fields and when second-brood borers were dry and when brisk winds, produced significant damage.

Even worse is damage caused by second-brood borers which weaken the corn ear shank causing substantial loss due to ear droppage. In fact, one farmer reported to Schram that he is probably leaving more corn on the ground this year than he picked last year.

According to a survey of major corn-producing counties in Nebraska, Dixon County has suffered the heaviest corn-borer damage with Wayne County running a close second. Reports from some farmers indicate estimated losses are in

See CROP YIELDS, page 10.

WORK DAYS are mighty long for farmers, especially when it's harvest time. Here, Paul Danberg of rural Winside runs corn in the waning afternoon sunlight. Danberg said Friday afternoon that he was getting about 40 to 50 bushels an acre from this particular field.

Councilman responds to editorial

The following article was written by Wayne City Councilman Ted Bahr in response to editorials presented by KTCH radio on Oct. 16 and in The Wayne Herald on Oct. 17.

Bahr read the article at the city council regular session Tuesday night. He stated that he represents his opinions, only, and is presented here in the public interest and in keeping with the Wayne Herald's policy of encouraging responses to editorial opinion. — Jim Strayer

The KTCH editorial stated that the city council has left a feeling of mistrust in the minds of the people. The Wayne Herald editorial stated that the City Council had made a social blunder while considering a salary increase for the city administrator. Both editorials stated that the city council may have illegally held a closed session on the subject and did not use correct operating procedures.

The editorials also stated that the City Council had made a social blunder while considering a salary increase for the city administrator. Both editorials stated that the city council may have illegally held a closed session on the subject and did not use correct operating procedures.

The purpose of the closed meeting was to aid the city council in a final determination of the city administrator's salary to be included in an ordinance. The salary of the city administrator is set by the city council. The salaries of the department heads of the city of Wayne are evaluated and set by the city administrator. The salaries of other city employees are set by ordinance and merit raises are determined by the various department heads after an evaluation of the employees performance is made. This evaluation of the employee is not available for the public inspection, however, the salary of each city employee is made public information. The employee evaluation was followed by the city council concerning the administrator's salary.

The new public information law restricts the councilmen from purposely meeting together to discuss and finalize any council business except through the use of a closed meeting during an open meeting which had been publicized. Therefore the closed meeting procedure was correctly used in order that an individual's rights may be protected.

The duties of the city administrator require that he maintain the necessary trust and authority due the office. Any personal conflicts or allegations, which be false or truthful, which may have entered into this discussion during an open meeting may have been damaging to the office of the administrator and its effectiveness. I might add at this time that no personally conflict entered into the closed meeting, however this was an unknown factor at the time of the decision by the city council. I would like to assert to the people of the City of Wayne we were not attempting to hide anything which had occurred; but as the question, at the time, was a matter of salary, the discussion would necessarily turn to the ability and capabilities of the city administrator to effectively run his office as so stated and required by our ordinances. I do not believe any salary negotiation, requiring the discussion of an evaluation of the working abilities and requirements of the office, should be part of a public meeting. The new public information law requires that any closed discussion which the city council has concerning an evaluation of these abilities and that job must occur during a public meeting in order that the council may go into a closed meeting.

A partial list of the duties of a city administrator for the city of Wayne is as follows:

1. He shall supervise the sanitation, water, sewer and electrical departments

2. He shall, in addition, be the chief zoning official of the municipality.
3. He shall serve as public relations officer of the municipality and shall endeavor to adjust all complaints filed against any employee, department, division or service.
4. He shall cooperate with community organizations who's aim and purpose is to advance the best interest of the municipality.
5. Information and reports deemed necessary by the administrator shall be prepared by the department heads under his supervision.
6. He shall act as the agent of the mayor in the discharge of his duties of superintending and control of all of the officers and affairs of the municipality.

The above partial list of duties of the city administrator, no matter who it may be, require that the administrator maintain the necessary authority and respect due the office in order that he might carry out said duties to the best of his ability, for the best interests of the community. Any action, either on purpose or unintentionally, taken by the city council which may deter his efforts to perform those duties or damage his effectiveness would be costly and damaging to the performance of the city offices of the municipality.

and to the people of the city of Wayne.

The editorials also concerned the methods by which a public body may or may not hold a closed meeting. The facts are as follows: The city followed the necessary procedure in holding his closed meeting. Any public body may go into a closed session if they first meet the procedure requirements and if they have a good reason for doing so. To go into closed session, the public body must:

1. Meet in an open meeting has been properly publicized. This was done.
2. A motion must then be made to go into closed session and that motion must pass by a majority vote of the public body. This was done.
3. The minutes of the open meeting must show the reasons stated for the closed session, the vote of each member on the question, the time when the closed meeting commenced and concluded. This was done.
4. No formal action may be taken in the closed session. No action was taken.
5. The public body must return to open session before taking a vote on the question discussed during the closed session. This was done.
6. Only the matter stated in the minutes, as being the reason for entering into closed session, may be discussed during that time and if at any time the discussion turns to other matters any member of the body may challenge the continuation of the closed session and that challenge can be over-ruled by a majority vote. Any such challenge must also be recorded in the official minutes of the meeting. This was done and no such challenge was made by a member of the council.

The new law specifically states that closed sessions may be held for the following purposes:

1. Strategy sessions with respect to collective bargaining, real estate purchases or litigation.
2. A discussion regarding deployment of security personnel or devices.
3. Investigative proceedings regarding allegations of criminal misconduct.
4. If it is clearly necessary for the protection of the public interest or for the prevention of the needless injury to the reputation of an individual and if such individual has not requested a public meeting a public body may go into closed session.

It is this fourth reason, in my opinion, that the council chose as the purpose of the closed session and that was for the protection of the public interest and was the public interest alone. — Ted Bahr, Wayne city councilman, Third Ward.

OBSERVATIONS

Title not wanted

Wayne stands to gain a title that no one should really want, if the Chicago and North Western Railroad is successful in its bid to abandon the branch line between here and Dakota City.

Loss of service on the 40 some miles of track would make Wayne "The Largest Town in Nebraska Without Rail Service" — a dubious distinction, indeed.

Public Service Commissioner Duane Gay, of Columbus, and PSC staff members met with shippers Wednesday night in preparation for a three day Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the matter, slated to begin Nov. 10 at the main floor of Wayne city auditorium. Gay's main point was, "Don't give up without a fight." It's a good one.

Railroads have been pretty successful in recent years when requesting abandonment of lines and Gay said part of the reason is that people in communities just give up. Sure, railroads are big and have lots of money and batteries of lawyers. That is exactly why everyone's help is needed in this fight. Gay and PSC staffers are gathering information regarding the economic impact to the area if rail service is lost. Farmers will probably be hardest hit, because, in many cases, it will cost more to ship their grain by alternate methods and more to ship in most of the products they use.

The area depends heavily on agriculture as an economic base. Let's face it. Less dollars in farmers' pockets means less dollars for everyone else.

In addition, loss of rail service could retard the expansion of a growing industrial base in the area. Industrial prospects invariably ask about the availability of railroads and while rail service's only one of a multitude of factors considered, absence of it is one less point in our favor.

Everyone has a stake in the ICC hearing and Gay made it plain that any information will be shared. Anyone who can provide facts regarding the impact of abandonment, regardless of how unimportant they may seem when viewed alone, is urged to contact the commission. Every little bit will help in building the case. — Jim Strayer.

STRAYER Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

I RECEIVED a bonus when attending the Public Service Commission meeting in Wayne Wednesday night. In that it provided an opportunity to renew some old acquaintances and make some new ones.

I wasn't too surprised to see Bill Ainsley at the hearing. He's Channel 8 television's newsman for northeast Nebraska and was there for the same reason I was.

Bill was stationed in Albion at the same time I was editor of the Albion News and we passed a good share of last winter learning to play chess, along with city administrator Steve Lind. Bill told me Albion is one of six finalists in its class for the Nebraska Community Improvement Program. That's gratifying for both of us because we were on the NCIP steering committee there, although we both left before things really got rolling. (I've heard a vicious rumor that the latter fact was a big plus in the judging, but then, you know how rumors are.)

I WAS A LITTLE more surprised to see Wayne Bud, an economist with the PSC. Wayne and I were classmates a few years back — more than we like to remember, at Fairbury Junior College, now Southeast Technical Community College.

I'm not all that good at remembering names and faces but I recognized Wayne immediately. He's a little fellow — about like the late Dan Blocker who played

"Hoss" on the old "Bonanza" TV series — and did yeoman service in the FJC line when the school still had a football team. If memory serves, it was one of the top junior colleges in the nation in those days.

A new acquaintance I was pleased to make was that of Public Service Commissioner Duane Gay. I've talked to him by telephone on numerous occasions but it was my first opportunity to meet him in person.

The commission opposes all railway abandonments in Nebraska and Gay is sincere about fighting the one here.

WAYNE DETECTIVE SERGEANT Ron Penick asked for assistance regarding a letter received by the department last week. Jan Snook of Chadron lost a sleeping bag in Wayne on Aug. 18 and is offering a reward for its return. According to the letter, Snook dropped a bright blue, dacron filled bag "at the 110 intersection, across the road from a church where I had stopped to get a drink of water" and "it was picked up by a party in a light colored station wagon."

The reward name is on the bag and a reward plus shipping costs are offered. The party who picked up the bag can contact the Wayne police department or write to: Jan Leon Snook, Box 1152, Chadron, Neb. 69337.

COOL COUPLE problems I'm hoping our readers can help to solve. We haven't been able to take pictures of Birthday Bucks winners recently and we'd appreciate it if the winners would stop in so we can get a shot. Also, our supply of "Do you Remember?" items is depleted and we'd like to replenish it.

The front-page feature has been well received and we would like to continue it. Items should be sent to: Editor, Wayne Herald, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

I'M STILL HOLDING on to the column and letter sent by Halc O'Malley, complimenting a banker in particular and Wayne in general for hospitality and courtesy shown an out-of-towner. Might be a nice memento for the party involved.

I'M WITH ARTISTIC talent might want to enter a Bicentennial contest being sponsored by the Beneficial Management Corporation. First prize is a $1,000 savings bond. The rules are too long to publish or give over the phone so anyone interested can ask to see my copy at the Herald office. Entry deadline is Dec. 15.

New meaning for long word

Remember being asked at a young age: "What is the longest word in the English language?" The answer was and is Antidisestablishmentarianism. This seemed useless information at the time, but perhaps it is time to revive the word. A good case can be made for being an antidisestablishmentarian.

This was brought forcefully to mind recently in an interview with, of all people, Eldridge Cleaver, which was published recently in "Polling Place" magazine and reprinted in other papers. This widely-read radical author and Black Panther now wants to return to this country if he can work out his parole violation problems. He has visited Russia, Cuba, Algeria, China, North Vietnam and North Korea and learned the hard way that the personal freedom which he values most highly is available in the United States and not in these other countries. Moreover, he now wants to strengthen the most establishmentarian segment of the U.S. — the military! Why? Because he can see the need for defense against people who want to destroy the United States.

So Mr. Cleaver no longer is a disestablishmentarian — meaning one who opposes an established order. While Mr. Cleaver did not give his new views on all of the various establishments, the schools, the churches, the families, the governmental units, the press, political parties, and other stabilizing factors of our society — perhaps it is time for all of us to spend less time knocking the American system and more time making it work better. It's time to become active antidisestablishmentarians! — Neligh News and Leader.

Nebraska Economic Activity Dropped Slightly in June

Overall economic activity in Nebraska declined slightly in June after a slight gain in May. Even so, June's physical volume of activity was only 2.5 percent below that of the same month in 1974.

Construction improved somewhat in June, to a level about equal to that of a year ago. It had been one to three percent below previous year levels for most of the past 12 months.

In its monthly publication, "Business in Nebraska," the State Bureau of Business, Reporting at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln reported that the agricultural sector improved in June, both in dollar and physical volumes. Physical volume rose to a level only six percent below that of last year.

In June, state-wide retail activity -- as measured by the dollar volume of net taxable retail sales deflated for price level rise -- fell to a level about four percent under that of a year ago.

Contributing to the dollar volume rise was a large increase in agricultural prices, up an average of 32 percent over June 1974. May 1974 to May 1975 increase had been about 20 percent.

Manufacturing fell slightly from May to June 1975, although the decline was not as great as from May to June in 1974. Manufacturing activity remained at a level about 10 percent under that of a year ago.

ALL WAS joy along the Wakefield sideline (top) when Jerry Echtenkamp picked a tipped Stanton pitch out of the air and rambled 61 yards for the Trojans' second score of the night against the invading Mustangs. The touchdown provided the points for Wakefield to gain a 14-14 tie. Early in the contest (right) Wakefield's Tim Rouse (10) goes up for a Mike Soderberg pass while a Stanton defender shadows the play. The pass fell incomplete.

Jr. High Rips WPCC by 24-8

Wayne's junior high football team scored on its first two possessions Wednesday en route to a 24-8 victory over visiting West Point Central Catholic. Runningback Jeff Zeiss galloped 71 yards on an end sweep and Rick Johnson went 43 yards up the middle to put the locals in front 12-0 going into the second period. Zeiss, who collected 111 yards on six carries, bolted 23 yards for Wayne's third touchdown of the game as coach Duane Blomenkamp's club built an 18-8 halftime command. Stuart Nissen capped Wayne's final scoring drive with a one yard plunge in the fourth quarter. Finishing as Wayne's second leading rusher was Johnson who had 97 yards in 11 carries. "West Point is a hard hitting ball club," Blomenkamp noted after the visitors took away Wayne's outside running game following the junior high's first score. Johnson and Dan Mitchell were the top Wayne defenders as each finished with nine stops. Tim Thomas and Doug Hummel had eight and six stops. Wayne goes after its fourth win against no defeats and a tie on Tuesday, Oct. 28, when the locals host Schuyler.

Trojan Defenders Shine in Deadlock

By DAN VODVARKA
Wakefield's defense came through with almost all of the big plays Friday night as the host Trojans tied Stanton 14-14. The West Husker Conference clash saw the hosts' defense score twice and then hold Stanton on a crucial fourth down play late in the fourth quarter. With fourth and one on the Wakefield 25 and 1:25 left in the game, the Wakefield defense dug in and held to secure the tie. On the crucial play, Trojans Dave Gustafson and Pat Brown halted Stanton's Joel Moritz for no gain. Wakefield drove with the ball in the final seconds but ran short of time. The tie leaves Wakefield at 2-1 on the year and 0-2 in the loop while Stanton has the same overall record and is 1-1 loop mark. Next Friday night the Trojans host loop leader Hartington Cedar Catholic. The Trojans played Friday night without their head coach John Torczon. He is in the hospital with back problems. Torczon obviously left assistant coach Joe Coble and the defense in charge. After a scoreless first quarter, Wakefield struck first when Brooks Myers jipped a Mike-Mercy pass and Kurt Dolph picked off the ball and rambled 26 yards for the score. The PAT was no good and the hosts led 4-0. Stanton took the following kickoff and started a drive. But after entering Wakefield territory, Mustang quarterback Mike-Mercy was hit on a pitch play by Scot Keagle and Jerry Echtenkamp caught the ball in midair. Echtenkamp found an open path to the goal as he rambled 61 yards for the score. A Mike Soderberg to Keagle pass was good for the double PAT.

Stanton	0	5	6	11
Wakefield	0	3	0	14

Late in the half, Stanton on its first scoring drive going. The Mustangs marched 57 yards on 11 plays to score with 48 left in the half. Curt Holt went the final five yards for the score on a pitch play. In the first half, Stanton's Joel Moritz carried for only 13 yards. In the second half it was a different story. The 155 pound senior running back exploded for 60 yards during the third period and figured in most of the Mustang's yardage in the second half.

The Mustangs started quickly after halftime as they returned the second half kickoff to the Wakefield 47 and drove to tie the score. Joel Moritz scored the TD on a five yard run and had 38 yards on the ground in the drive. He also got the double PAT that tied the game.

The touchdown came with 8:07 left in the third quarter and from that point on the defenses dug in. Moritz continued to ramble between the 20 yard lines when the Mustangs had the ball but on the big plays the Wakefield defense held.

Leading the Wakefield defense were Greg Simpson, Steve Greve, Pat Brown and Keagle. Wakefield's only real offensive explosion of the game came early in the second quarter when Myers broke 68 yards for a touchdown. The Trojans, however, were called for clipping on the play and the touchdown was not allowed.

Coble praised his defense unit after game. "We got some good plays from our defensive ends Keagle and Simpson and from the secondary," Coble noted. The Wakefield offense never really had time to move the ball during the second half. Coble pointed out:

"Stanton ran the ball right at us and ate up the clock. With out defense on the field much of the time, our offensive game plan never got a chance to develop, he said.

Fumbles, Interception Halt Laurel Gridders

Seven fumbles and an interception Thursday stopped Laurel's senior High football team at Cateridge as Laurel fell, 14-6.

Laurel's top runner Shannon Hopkins ran 70 of his 130 yards for Laurel's only score in the third period. "Our defense played a real good game. It's just that the defensive unit had to play most of the time which hurt us," said coach Alan Raitt-boll. Leading the defense were Randy Dunklau and Mark McCorkindale.

Thursday the 12 Laurel club ends up its season at Randolph.

Allen Spikers Carry 4-0 Mark Into Tuesday's Division Tilt

Allen High's volleyball victory Thursday night over Newcastle set the stage for the Lewis division championship battle this week between the Eagles and Homer.

Holding a 4-0 record in the Lewis and Clark Conference, Allen travels to once-beaten Homer Tuesday night for the division title and the right to play against the Clark division winner in the conference playoffs on Monday, Oct. 27.

Allen streaked to its fourth win with 15-10 and 15-4 set wins to its overall record to 5-3. JoAnne Roberts' strong serving in the second half of both sets kept coach Steve McManigal's girls in front during Allen's final home season of the game. The game, which was scheduled for Tuesday night, had to be rescheduled because of a mixup in dates for referees.

Allen built a 9-1 lead in the first set, but Newcastle carved out four straight points on Allen errors to whittle the lead to 9-5 before McManigal called time out to regroup his team. Roberts, who finished the first set with nine serve points, pushed Allen's margin to 12-5 before Peg Taylor and Cathy Smithaced the final three points.

"At times we played our best, but sometimes the girls would get in too much of a hurry and make errors," McManigal said.

In the second set, Allen jumped to an 8-4 lead before Roberts, who collected eight serve points the final set, served the remaining points. Leading Allen spikers were Karl Erwin with three.

ALLEN SPIKER Peg Taylor backhands a return hit to a Newcastle player during second set action in Lewis and Clark Conference competition at Allen High.

Penalties Plague Devils In 27-0 Lakeview Shutout

Stymied by over 100 yards in penalties Friday night, Wayne High's offense untracked in the final period to score three touchdowns en route to the Blue Devils' third-straight shutout, 27-0, over host-Columbus Lakeview.

Wayne was slapped with 105 yards in penalties—the second largest amount of yards which have been assessed against the Wayne "11." Against South Sioux City in the season opener, Wayne was lagged with 114 yards.

The offense was credited with nine of the 11 penalty plays, said coach Al Hansen. "With all those penalties it made it hard to tell how long Wayne's touch down drives were," he added.

In capsulated form, here's Wayne's scoring in the second quarter: Rob Mitchell went nine yards for the score and Vince Jenness booted the first of three successful PATs. In the fourth, Mike Wieseler went one yard for the second TG; quarterback Paul Mallette threw a 25 yard strike to Mark Brandt in the endzone, and reserve runner Brian Haun ran 37 yards to cap Wayne's scoring.

The win over West Husker Conference for Lakeview pushed its Wayne's league mark to 3-0, two games behind Idle Hartling ton Cedar Catholic which is 5-0 overall. Wayne is undefeated in six outings.

Wednesday night the Devils will be going after their fourth conference win when they host the league's last place team, Emerson Hubbard. The Emerson game will be the second of four contests in 14 days for the Devils. On Monday, Oct. 27, Wayne hosts Pierce and closes its season on Friday, Oct. 31, in what now appears as the division battle at Cedar Catholic. Junior runningback Mark Brandt posted his third game with over 100 yards rushing. Brandt, who led Wayne runners, had 123 yards in 22 carries as Wayne rolled up 265 yards on the ground. Wieseler was second with 67 yards in 12 lates and Mitchell had 41 yards in 10 carries. Brandt also led in receptions with four completions for 49 yards while Monte Lowe had three catches for 31 yards.

Wayne's defense also sparked as the locals' limited offense powered Lakeview to only 66 yards for the night. The Vikings collected 47 yards rushing and 19 passing. Halting the ground plays may were Wieseler with 11 stops, Pat Lindner and Les Thomsen with seven each and Mitchell with six.

Laurel Upsets Creighton, 18-12

Quarterback Brad Erwin threw two touchdown passes and runningback Mark McCoy scored another Friday night as underdog Laurel knocked off highly-rated and previously undefeated Creighton, 18-12, on Creighton's home field.

The loss drops Creighton out of a first-place tie with Plainview, 6-0, in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference while fourth-place Laurel ups its record to 4-2.

Laurel struck quickly in the opening period when Erwin spotted end Mike Dalton for a 39-yard scoring pass to cap an 82-yard drive with over eight minutes remaining. Aiding the big drive was Gordon Karstell to Jon Erwin aerial for 47 yards.

The Bears pushed their lead to 12-0 with 8:19 left in the half when McCoy scored on a 19-yard keeper. The 66 yard scoring drive again was aided by Laurel's passing attack when Dalton grabbed a 20-yarder from Erwin to put the ball on Creighton's 34-yard line.

With about a minute and a half to go Creighton got on the scoreboard when quarterback Darwin Falter snuck in from one-yard out to make the score 12-6. Laurel had Creighton stopped on a third and long situation, but a pass interference call against the Bears put the ball on Laurel's 15-yard line.

Laurel's offense wasn't done scoring yet. With about 20 seconds left, Erwin teamed up with Greg Pippitt for a 12-yard strike, which put the Bears in front 18-6 at the half. Settling up the insurance touchdown was an Erwin to McCoy pass which covered 52 yards. As in two previous attempts, the try for the two-point conversion failed.

Hoffman, Brummels Combine For Winside's 6-0 Victory

One of Winside's top defenders, Bob Hoffman, and the Wildcats' leading rusher, Brad Brockman, combined their talents Friday night to give Winside a 6-0 victory over host Neligh.

Hoffman intercepted a Neligh pass in the third period and returned it 30 yards to the Warriors' 16 yard line. On a third and four yard play, Brummels took the ball in to give Coach Ron Peck his fifth victory against two setbacks.

Both teams generated a lot of offense. Peck pointed out, but failed to do much scoring.

Twice Winside held the ball inside Neligh's 15 yard stripe but was stopped from scoring by a fumble and a penalty. Brummels dropped the ball on the 12 yard line where Neligh recovered and a motion penalty pushed the Cats back from the 13 to Neligh's 18 where Winside's offense stalled.

On Neligh's fourth down play, in the first half, the home team drove to Winside's 17 only to have Wildcat senior Tyler Frevert intercept a Neligh aerial.

"The team made a super effort tonight," Peck said, adding that the big difference in the outcome of the game were four of his offensive players who "just outthru them." The coach lapped Neil Wagner, Brad Brockman, Hoffman and Brummels who "made some tremendous hits."

Wagner finished the game as Winside's leading defender with 13 tackles. Hoffman had 10, Brockman nine and Brad Langenberg eight.

Brummels was the top rusher with 52 yards in 10 carries while Pfeiffer had 21 yards in 12 carries.

Winside returns home Friday to face Coleridge in a Clark division battle which starts at 7:30 p.m.

Coleridge Goes To the Air to Rip Allen, 32-8

Coleridge went to the air Friday night to score three of its five touchdowns over visiting Allen en route to the Bulldogs' 32-8 victory.

The win lifted Coleridge's record to 3-4 while the loss dropped Allen's record to 2-5.

Coleridge put 18 points on the scoreboard the first half and two more seven point plays the final half before Allen tallied its only score late in the game.

Eagle quarterback Shawn Persinger rifled a three-yard pass to freshman Rich Stewart in the endzone for Allen's score.

"Their passing game hurt us a lot," Allen coach Cliff Jorgensen said, noting that Coleridge continued to get big aerial gains of 36, 53 and 28 yards to tear apart his defensive secondary.

Allen's defense was crippled late in the second period when halfback Raymie Dowling exited the game with a possible hip pointer. It was not known late Friday night if the veteran would be able to play in this week's game against Bancroft.

Ley Paces Devils At District Meet

Junior Jon Ley paced Wayne High's cross country team in Friday's Class B district meet at Albion with a time of 15:53 over the two and a half mile course.

Ley was 28th among 40 runners who represented eight schools. Teammates Jeff Backstrom was 32nd, John Rehwisch was 37, John Keating 39th and Clint Nelson was 40th. Backstrom finished in 16:21 while Rehwisch was clocked in 17:45 Keating 18:27 and Nelson 19:05.

Gene Will of Columbus Scous posted the best time with a 13:04 showing. Winning the team trophy was Crofton O'Neill with second followed by Scous.

The top three teams and top six runners are eligible to enter the state meet this Friday at Kearney.

Laurel VB Teams Drop Two Matches

Bloomfield's volleyball teams Thursday night took a pair of matches from Laurel in Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference play at Bloomfield.

The hosts won the varsity match in two sets, 15-3 and 15-6, to hand Laurel its 10th loss against no wins.

Bloomfield reserves went three sets to take the match, 15-6, 14-6, and 15-6. The loss drops Laurel's record to 1-6.

Chemical control of the borers is very erratic. Spitz said effective control depends on proper timing, and the county agent said the time period is narrow.

Looking ahead to next year, Spitz said surface and sub surface soil moisture content is extremely low. Generally rains in October and November help build up moisture supplies for the next growing season but that hasn't happened so far this year.

Spitz recalled that similar conditions prevailed last fall adding that only abnormally heavy spring rains brought soil moisture up to a decent level in time for a fairly good growing season. "If we don't get some more rain this fall, we're going to need heavy rain again in the spring to bring the moisture level up to where it should be," Spitz warned.

said, because they both buy and sell volume commodities.

Rail shipping isn't always the most economical way to ship grain, but depending on destination, truck rates can be five to six cents a bushel higher, according to local elevator owners, and the added cost is passed on to the farmers in lower grain prices.

Green, leafy vegetables such as collard, kale and broccoli have a good calcium content.

Gene Fletcher, owner of Farmer's Elevator in Wayne, has estimated that dry fertilizer could cost as much as $12 a ton more if rail service is lost.

The PSC will devote all its resources to the case, Gay pledged, but information from shippers or former shippers is vital.

Railroads have been 97 per cent successful in abandonment requests, according to figures supplied by Norman Higginson of the Center for Rural Development at Wallthall, but Gay cautioned the public not to give up.

Citing the potential he believes exists in the area, Gay said, "If we can't win this one, we can't win anywhere in Nebraska, except Omaha."

The commission recently defeated a proposal to abandon a line in the Omaha area, basing their case on the contention that rail service is vital to commuters.

The railroad will present testimony to show it would cost more to rebuild and operate the line that could possibly be realized in profit in a reasonable number of years, Gay said.

State track inspector Lester Fletcher is walking the entire length of the 40 1/2 mile line and will attempt to refute the figures on the cost of repairing the line, based on his findings.

Testimony and figures supplied by shippers will have a two fold purpose at the hearing. One will be to show that the economic losses to the area will outweigh the loss to the railroad. The second will be to show the potential for rail traffic.

Gay said he hopes many of the shippers will be willing to testify at the hearing. In addition, PSC economist Wayne Budt, present at the Wednesday meeting, will compile a report from shipper supplied information as an expert witness. He will present testimony on both what the economic impact to the area would be if rail service is lost and what the potential for shipping would be if the railroad would provide what the commission and shippers feel is adequate service.

"We can only present the case you help us build," Gay said.

An article prepared by Norman Higginson points out an irony in the abandonment request. His studies reveal that in 1881, the residents of La Porte left their town and moved to another location, calling their new town Wayne.

Reason for the drastic move? They believed locating the town adjacent to the Chicago and North Western railway being built would be a great advantage to their city.
