Project Success, a program of teaching techniques developed in the Wayne, Carroll schools and designed to help children with specific language disabilities (SLD), is beginning its fifth year.

Funded by Title III since its inception and in recent years also by Title I, it has now been awarded a grant by Title VI which will make possible an expansion of benefits into pre-school age groups.

The community council, composed of Wayne residents who support the project and serve on committees which further project development, held a quarterly meeting, Oct. 28. The 40 members present elected officers for the coming year.

Re-elected were chairman Mrs. Dorothy Ley and secretary Mrs. Robert Hagen, new vice-chairman is Gary Vopalinsky, audiologist with Education Service Unit 1.

Reporting on the present status of the program throughout the local schools were Wayne-Carroll superintendent Francis Haun, principals Loren Park and Richard Metteer, high school instructor Ron Nielsen, and Mrs. Beverly Scovill.

Haun spoke of the successful extension of the project into the 10th grade and Nielsen outlined the objectives of teachers in varying instruction to suit individual student needs.

Richard Metteer, principal of West Elementary and director of Project Success, explained how children who need help are identified by means of auditory and basic concept tests. He emphasized the vital importance of teacher training in language arts as developed in the lower grades.

Mrs. Beverly Scovill, director of the new "Predict and Prevent" program made possible by the Title VI grant, explained that the grant will provide help for handicapped children and urged that, as far as possible, such children be identified in pre-school years.

On the subject of coordination with other organizations, the speakers were Don Keck, head of the department of continuing education at Wayne State, and Larry Clay, Wakefield, director of ESU I. Keck described the weekend workshop in learning disabilities given at the college and attended by more than 300 area teachers. Clay reaffirmed the coordination of his unit with Project Success and stressed the importance of getting trained teachers into the classrooms instead of taking children out for special instruction.

In his closing remarks, Metteer listed nearby schools in Nebraska and Iowa, and some as far away as Texas and North Carolina, which have adopted the teaching methods developed by Project Success. Visitors from Illinois and Louisiana are expected to arrive soon to observe the Wayne project.

Title III funding makes possible the employment of staff members who go to areas all over the United States to train teachers in other schools. Nearby schools send teachers to workshops in Wayne for instruction. This teacher training is the most important feature of the project, according to Metteer.

Following the general meeting, sub-committees met to elect chairmen and secretaries for the coming year and to plan activities before the next meeting on January 26.

Survey Gives Idea of Planning Priorities

Town and rural members of the Wayne County joint planning commission differ somewhat on what they feel planning priorities should, and that is predictable, State Office of Planning and Programming consultant Jeff Poley said Tuesday night.

Poley based the statement on the results of a survey taken at the organization's October meeting. He will be leaving SOPP, emphasizing that the survey isn't scientific because of the small number of people sampled and because random selection wasn't used. But the results do reveal some interesting insights into attitudes toward planning among the commissioners.

For example, among planners living in towns, providing a comprehensive land use plan which allows for reasonable development in all categories of land use was seen as the most important of seven factors. Maintaining the quality of life which exists was second.

That indicates a desire to see towns develop and to maintain what is now good about them. Minimizing the cost of public services was seen as important, but was rated fourth in priorities among the seven factors.

Rural respondents' top two priorities revealed in the survey are to preserve agricultural lands in the county and to initiate land development policies which do not unreasonably restrict property owners' right to make land use decisions. That means, Poley said, that

State Governors Conference Set

A Nebraska Governor's Conference on state policy is set for Nov. 14, at Wayne State College and is open to the public.

Guest speakers will be former Nebraska governors Val Peterson, Dwight Burney, Frank Morrison and Robert Crosby. The dignitaries will form a panel to discuss "The Role of the Governor in Nebraska Government" at 10 a.m. and "The Nonpartisan Legislature as Seen by the Governor" at 3:15 p.m.

The conference is scheduled for Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center on the Wayne State College campus. The event is sponsored by the WSC Public Affairs Institute in cooperation with the Wayne Chamber of Commerce which will host the evening social hour and dinner. Dinner speaker will be Gov. J. J. Exon.

No admission will be charged for the conference.

Those who wish to visit with governors and their wives at the 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. social hour at the Wayne Country Club and at the dinner to follow at the commission will probably want to pursue a land use policy which will permit the most latitude in use of agricultural lands and avoid policies which could hinder agricultural uses. For example, Poley said, at

Wayne Driver Listed Critical

Eli Jones Jr. 24, of Wayne, was transferred in critical condition Monday from Providence Medical Center to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Sioux City.

Jones suffered head injuries when he was thrown from his car in an accident Saturday night.

According to State Patrol trooper Gerald Turgen, Jones was traveling south on Highway 57 about 8:30 Saturday night when his car left the road about four miles north of Carroll.

The 1966 Chevrolet went down a steep incline into a deep ditch, crossing over through a fence and broke off a utility pole.

Former NU Coach Will Give Address At Chamber Dinner

Applications are still available for tickets for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Farmers appreciation night, Nov. 15, chair man Ken Liska said Monday.

Former University of Nebraska basketball coach Jerry Bush will be the key speaker for the event. Master of ceremonies will be Creighton Knau, former WNAX radio personality.

Deadline for registering for the dinner is Tuesday, Liska said. He is urging anyone interested to apply as soon as possible because seating will be limited to 500. He is expecting a capacity crowd.

Application forms are available at participating merchants. Tickets and name tags will be mailed by the Chamber of Commerce office.

Several businesses are sponsoring a social hour from 6 to 7 p.m. at the city fire hall the day of the dinner.

State 4-H Leader Will Be Speaker

Associate state 4-H leader Kenneth G. Schmidt will be the main speaker tonight (Thursday) at the Wayne County 4-H Leaders Banquet, beginning at 7:30 at the Wayne State College student union.

John High of the Wayne First National Bank will be master of ceremonies for the event. Herb Niemann of Carroll will give the invocation.

County agent Don Spitz will present pins to 4-H leaders having completed two, five, ten, twenty or twenty-five years of service in Wayne County.

Mrs. Paul Dangberg will direct the Modern Misses 4-H song group in several selections.

More Names In Harvest Bee List

More names have been added to the list of neighbors who helped Glenn Granquist harvest corn Friday.

Included are: Werner Janke, Gary Slevers, Ray Reed and Randy Gathie. Also, Rollie Longe was incorrectly listed in the story in Monday's paper as Rollie Lente.

Granquist was discharged from the Veterans Hospital in Omaha about a month ago after having a finger amputated.

Wayne High Band Earns Another Superior Title

The Wayne High marching band gained its second superior rating in a week's time Saturday at the sixth annual Nebraska Marching Band Festival at Pershing auditorium in Lincoln.

The top rating followed a superior trophy gained the previous Saturday in district competition at Wisner. It is the fifth superior rating gained by the Pershing Festival in the past six years for the Wayne musicians, making the Blue Devil band the most consistent Class B band in the state.

"The word with other jurors is that we're the band to beat," Wayne band director Ron Dalton said.

He had commented after the Wisner Pilger contest that the Wayne marchers had plenty to work on in preparation for the state contest and a week of hard rehearsals ensued.

The trophy brought back from Lincoln is evidence that the work paid off. Dalton said the Lincoln performance, beginning at 4:10 Saturday afternoon, "was very impressive."

"There was much improvement from the week before," Dalton continued. "We sounded better and execution was sharper. I don't think the kids could have been much more excited about the contest. Pershing has its own kind of excitement."

A total of 4,500 high school musicians comprising 73 bands participated in the festival, the

Careful Where You Throw That Match

Wayne residents are being urged not to discard any lighted cigarettes or matches in open fields or in town during this dry season.

Fire chief Cliff Pinkelman pointed out that a burning cigarette might have been the cause of a fire Saturday evening about 10 in an alleyway on the 400 block between Fourth and Fifth Streets.

Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze that apparently started in some dry leaves and trash located on property owned by Dr. Walter Benhack.

"We are asking people to please be careful during the extremely dry weather," Pinkelman said. The chief added that burning leaves and trash in the city is against city ordinances and state laws.

Kiwanis, Lions 'Ton-of-War' Is Tonight

Members of the Wayne Kiwanis and Lions clubs will battle it out tonight (Thursday) in the third annual ton-of-war, beginning at 7 o'clock in front of the fire hall on the 100 block of Pearl.

Each club carries a victory into tonight's contest which will have a different twist this year. Instead of having a certain number of pullers in the tug, each club will have enough participants so that the combine weight for each side will total about 2,000 pounds.

The change in format has prompted clubs to call their tug a "ton-of-war." The losers will be pulled through a stream of cold water supplied by the volunteer fire department. The losers

Railroad Battle Starts Monday

An Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing is scheduled to begin Monday at the city auditorium regarding a request to abandon the rail line between Dakota City and Wayne.

The Chicago and North Western Transportation Company, owner of the line, is requesting the abandonment because they contend the line is unprofitable.

A federal administrative law judge will begin taking testimony at 9:30 a.m. Monday. The hearing is scheduled to continue through Wednesday.

Duane Gay, state Public Service Commission (PSC) representative has pledged the commission's full backing in opposing the abandonment of the rail line.

The PSC automatically opposes all abandonment requests in the state but railroads have been 97 per cent successful in attaining ICC approval for such requests in recent years.

The county committee is responsible for overseeing the administration of ASC programs. The importance of the committee was pointed out in 1974 when members were responsible for deciding who qualified for crop disaster payments following a drought which devastated many fields.

The committee has three members with one seat being up for election each year. Present members in addition to Johnson are Ralph Olson of Carroll and Norris Hansen of Winside.

4 Names on ASC Slate, Voting Deadline is Dec. 1

Over 1,500 Wayne County farm owners and operators will be receiving ballots in the mail to vote for membership on the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee.

Farmers nominated for the position include incumbent: Alden Johnson, Wakefield; Alfred H.E. Mangels, Winside; Fredrick Mann, Wayne and Walter Vahkump, Winside.

All the candidates have previously served on ASC community committees, which were abolished under a reorganization effort.

Farmers in the county will receive the ballots by Dec. 21 and must return them by Dec. 1.

Scouts to Resume Paper Drive

Members of Boy Scout Troop 125 in Wayne next month will resume their paper drive in Wayne, Winside and Carroll.

Persons in those towns are asked to start saving their discarded newspapers now so that the Scouts can pick them up on Saturday, Dec. 6.

Earlier this year a fire at an Omaha paper plant, which recycles paper, halted further paper drives. The plant is in operation now.

In charge of next month's drive are Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Koch.

Fairchild was selected as the Nebraska-Iowa Outstanding Secretary. The local Circle K club, which is made up of students from Wayne State, was honored for its participation in the celebration of America's Bicentennial. Last month the group began painting the city's fire hydrants red, white and blue.

Sherry, also pointed out that the Wayne chapter will be honoring the Outstanding Farmer in this area on Nov. 24. A three-man committee will make the selection in the next week or two, he added.

Following Mrs. Merriman's talk, club president Dan Sherry told the group that club secretary Vern Fairchild and the Wayne Circle K chapter received

Deborah Oberg-Bruce Luhr United in Candlelight Rites

The marriage of Deborah Lynn Oberg to Bruce Luhr was solemnized in 7:30 p.m. candle-light rites Oct. 25 at the Wakefield Salem Lutheran Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oberg of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luhr of Wakefield.

The Rev. Robert V. Johnson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mike Johnson accompanied himself on the guitar in singing "Follow Me" and was accompanied by Joan Gustafson at the organ in singing "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." All of the wedding songs were sung by the bride and groom.

Also singing during the wedding and reception were The Gems, including Gloria Oberg, Mardelle Holm and Eleanor Johnson, all of Wakefield. Accompanied by Martha Mortenson, they performed "Become Perfectly One," along with several other selections.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE LUHR

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a princess-style gown of ivory silk organza over angel mist taffeta. The high regency neckline was trimmed with the same fabric design as the bodice. A wide Alencon lace ruffle edged the hemline of the A-line skirt which featured Venice lace appliques and flowed into a semicathedral length train.

The elbow-length veil of ivory illusion was edged with matching lace and held by a headpiece covered with Venice lace flowers. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses and red and white butterfly roses accented with white statice and greenery. Her ivory bridal streamers carried a removable corsage.

Maid of honor was Nancy Oberg of Wayne, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Carol Mills of Wakefield, Carol Haun of Wayne and Barb Luhr of Wakefield, sister of the groom.

nosages of red sweetheart roses accented with red and white miniature carnations and white statice with wine and ivory streamers.

Attending the bridegroom were Steve Luhr of Wakefield, brother of the groom, and Don Davis of Alexander, W. Va., and Dennis Oberg, brother of the bride, and Larry Fuoss, both of Wayne.

Flower girl was Dawn Osleigle of Tilden and ring bearer was Jonathan Hanson of Seaward. Candles were lit by ushers David Luhr of Wayne and Gerald Muller of Concord.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Oberg selected an ivory gown in floor-length with silver accessories. Mrs. Luhr wore a rose floral dress, also in floor length with silver accessories.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Alden Johnson of Wakefield served as hosts to the 250 guests who were registered by Deice Linafelter of Allen. Kevin Smith of Lincoln and Connie Viksten of Sioux City carried gifts.

Martha Lundin of Wakefield and Velma Luhr of Sioux City cut and served the cake and Lucille Luhr of Blair and Helen Muller of Wakefield poured punch. Mrs. Edna Gustafson of Wakefield and Sue Smith of Lincoln.

Waitresses were Michelle Hanson of Seaward, Connie Viksten of Wakefield, and Robin Mills of Wakefield.

The bride graduated from Wayne High School in 1972 and from the Nebraska Methodist Hospital School of Nursing at Omaha in 1975. She is employed at the Lutheran Hospital in Norfolk. The bridegroom, a 1971 graduate of Wakefield High School, is employed at Brophy Manufacturing Co. at Wayne.

The couple is making their first home at 105 N. Pine in Norfolk.

Manley Suttons Mark Anniversary Sunday

An open house reception honoring the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Sutton of Belden was held at the Belden Union Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon for 700 guests.

Friends and relatives attended from Boone and Sioux City, Ia. Burke, S. D.; Columbus, Harting, Laurel, Fremont, Springfield, Randolph, Carroll, Plain view, Osmond, Wakefield, and Hays, Neligh, Allen and Belden. Guests were registered by Dr.

and Mrs. R. P. Carroll of Laurel and gifts were arranged by the couple's grandchildren. Thank you notes were handed out by Lee Ann Witt of Columbus and Daren Sutton of Springfield.

The cake, baked by Mrs. Freda Swanson of Laurel, was cut and served by Mrs. Byron McLain and Mrs. Bill Brandow, both of Belden. Mrs. Pearl Fish of Belden and Mrs. Ray Anderson of Randolph poured punch. Mrs. Frank Sutton of Hartington, Tracy and Candy Sutton of Springfield and Mona and Denise Sutton of Fremont.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Robert Harper, Mrs. Robert Wobbenhorst, Mrs. Duane Krueger, Mrs. Gordon Criss, Mrs. Arnold Bartel and Mrs. Earl Fish, all of Belden.

A buffet dinner for 30 guests was held at Bobbie's Cafe in Belden prior to the open house and a supper followed at the church.

Manley and Orpha Sutton were married in 1935 at Elk Point, S.D., and have resided in Belden all their married lives.

Their children are Clair Sutton of Springfield, Denny Sutton of Fremont and Mrs. David (Karen) Witt of Columbus. There are seven grandchildren.

Fund Raising Projects Topic At Boosters

Wayne Carroll Music Boosters met Monday afternoon at the band room.

The organization is planning to sponsor a hunter's feed and chili supper with proceeds donated for new uniforms. The supper will be held prior to a basketball game.

Mrs. Marilyn Koch, chairman of magazine sales, reported that the drive will get underway this week and will continue for two weeks.

Entertainment included video tapes of the high school band performing during the district marching contest of Wisner and at the Pershing Marching Festival in Lincoln.

The meeting concluded with refreshments served by November committee members: Mrs. Charles Kudrna was chairman.

40 Attend Party at Senior Center

Orange and black streamers, witches, skeletons and pumpkins decorated the Wayne Senior Citizens Center Friday afternoon when 40 members and guests gathered for a Halloween party. Members of the decorating committee were Annie Rublig, Anna Swinney, Anton Pedersen and center director Joceli Bull. Games were conducted by Annie Rublig, Anna Swinney, Dick Horton and Anton Pedersen. Winners of game prizes were Rose Heithold, Dorothy Thun, Emma Soules, Henry Meyer and Ray Stewart of Wisner.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Edmonds of Wayne's First United Methodist Church were judges for a costume contest with Mary Kieper and Emma Soules receiving prizes for the most unique costumes; Lottie Longnecker, funniest; Virgil Chambers, scariest; and Pearl Griffith and Rena Pedersen who were dressed as the Bobsey Twins. The door prize was won by Nellie Brockman.

Lunch was furnished by Annie Rublig, Anna Swinney, Henrietta Frost, Virgil and Cordelia Chambers, Tena Bargholz, Mina Dunklau, Mary Eichenkamp, Mathilde Harms, Anton and Rena Pedersen, Pearl Griffith, Larry and Sadie Osower, Elsie Ehlers, Gladys Petersen, Dick Horton, Alma Splittgerber, Rose Heithold, Goldie Leonard, Dorothy Thun, Mary Fox, Anna Mohlfeld, Lillie Swinney, Nellie Brockman, Helene Meyer, Alice Dorman and Joceli Bull.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Start Shopping at Bazaar

Area residents beginning to think about Christmas shopping should keep in mind the Wayne Hospital-Auxiliary's fall bazaar, to be held Saturday at the city auditorium.

Couples Plan Celebration

Norfolk and Hoskins couples will observe their wedding anniversaries Saturday evening, Nov. 15, with a free anniversary dance at King's Ballroom in Norfolk.

90 Leaguers Attend Rally

Ninety Wallther League members from the Wayne zone, attended a fall rally Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside.

Public Invited To Attend Gospel Services

The Wakefield Christian Church is planning to hold special gospel preaching services, beginning Sunday, Nov. 9, and continuing through Wednesday.

Area Women Invited

Area women are reminded of the World Community Day services to be held this Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Wayne United Presbyterian Church.

REV. JACK SCHNEIDER, left, assistant pastor at Wayne's Grace Lutheran Church, and the Rev. John Upton, pastor, discuss plans for this Sunday's 50th anniversary observance at Grace Lutheran.

Grace Lutheran Church Marking 50th Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne will be marked Sunday with an all-day celebration. All local and area churches are invited to take part in the observance, according to the Rev. John Upton.

The celebration will begin with a 10 a.m. worship service Sunday morning. The Rev. E. J. Bernthal, former pastor at Grace Lutheran, will deliver the morning message. Rev. Bernthal is presently serving as co-pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church at Twin Falls, Idaho.

Special booklets, including the Sunday booklet, and the history of Grace Lutheran Church, will be handed out during the Sunday morning worship service. Commemorative plates, sponsored by the Ladies Aid, will be available during the program.

Former pastors include the Rev. Hopmann who served until 1936 when he was called to serve Emanuel Lutheran Church at York. His vacancy was filled by the Rev. Walter Brackensick on Oct. 18, 1936. He served until his death on Aug. 4, 1948. The Rev. E. J. Bernthal was called in January of the following year and was installed on March 20, 1949. He served as pastor until his calling in 1973.

Present pastor is the Rev. Upton and assistant pastor is the Rev. Schneider, who also serves as campus pastor at Wayne State College. Grace Lutheran's congregation presently numbers 735.

Alice Wells October Bride

In a double ring ceremony Oct. 25 at the Hoskins, United Methodist Church, Alice Wells, daughter of Mrs. Darlene Wells, became the bride of Kurt Brudigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Brudigan, all of Hoskins.

The bride was attended by LouAnn Jensen and Rose Jensen, both of Winside, and Debbie Brudigan of Hoskins. The bridegroom's attendants were Steve Sueli, Gene Jensen and Keith Sueli, all of Winside.

Guests were registered by Bev Ranspach and ushered into the church by Roy Rodgers of Clearwater, Larry Brudigan of Norfolk and Ronnie Wells and Jeff Brudigan, both of Hoskins.

A reception for 230 guests was held at the Winside city auditorium following the ceremony. Gifts were arranged by Joni Langenberg, Linda Langenberg and Carla Rebe.

The bride's mother chose a wedding dress with a long pastel green dress trimmed in lace, and carried green mums. The men wore white tuxedo jackets with black pants and black bow ties.

The bride is employed at Sherwood Medical Industries, Inc., and the bridegroom works for Daniels Construction, both in Norfolk.

Emerson to Host Legion Meeting

The Emerson American Legion Post and Auxiliary will be host Tuesday, Nov. 13, to the annual Dixon county meeting.

The post meeting will be at the Emerson Legion Hall and auxiliary members will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Following the 4 p.m. business sessions, both groups will meet at the Emerson High School for a seven o'clock banquet.

Sorority Offers 10 Scholarships

WAYNE STATE'S Brian Moeller (25) catapults over Northwestern defenders for a four yard gain, one of eight plays in the Wildcats' fourth quarter drive to Moeller's one yard touchdown plunge. Wildcats in the vicinity are backies Tom Elafros (45) and Rod Hoops (7) center Mark Anderson (58) and split end Maurie Minkten (80).

Raider Passing Whips Wildcats

It proved to be a correct prediction by Wayne State coach Del Slotenberg. He warned his football troops they would get their first real passing challenge from Northwestern Saturday at Orange City, Ia.

Devastatingly true.

No matter that Wildcat quarterback Dennis Young nine times, drove Raider runners for losses eight other times and limited Northwestern's usually strong rushing to 50 yards.

No matter that Wayne offense added up respectable yardage of 142 rushing, 126 passing, and challenged the goal line several times.

No matter that, for spectators, the game had to be rated as explosive, exciting, the victory in doubt until final seconds.

Northwestern's interception of a Wildcat pass on the Raider six killed a slashing Wayne attack less than a half minute from the end. And Wayne went home with its fifth loss, 14-7, victim of a record setting passing attack.

That 14 point total was the lowest Northwestern score in a 7 1/2 season averaging 28 points.

Now the Wildcats prepare for their season finale, at home Saturday afternoon, 1:30, against Black Hills State. The Yellowjackets will come with the haste of their second win — 21-6 over Huron Saturday — against seven losses, and with memory of their 14-7 loss to Wayne last year.

For the Wildcats, there will be several incentives. For one, Saturday is WSC Parents Day, and many football parents are coming. For another, the 4-5 Wayne record can either break even or slip to last year's 4-6. And still another incentive, the Cats can display for home folks the same brilliant rushing defense they inflicted on Northwestern, and there's reason to think Black Hills cannot match Raider passing.

Actually, it took a record performance by Northwestern's quarterback to beat Wayne. Young completed 22 aeriels, good enough for new game and season records. His season total is 128.

Young's 22 passes went for 294 yards, over 100 over the Raider average, but not a game record. Two completions went for touchdowns. The first, for nine yards to tight end Scott Dunlap, came late in the second quarter after a Wayne roughing the kicker penalty gave Northwestern first down at mid-field.

The second scoring strike was a 67 yarder, with Greg Beermink outfloting Wayne's deep defense. Dave Bomgaard's kicked points after both touchdowns.

Wildcat fortunes turned on Craig Siepick's interception at the Wayne nine. His return of 40 yards ignited a Wayne drive that included a dandy 14 yard end around by Maurie Minkten.

A Rick Benedetto/Minkten pass for 73 and several runs by Brian Moeller. His last went one yard to the end zone, and Kevin Mahlberg made the score 14-7 with a kick.

Later in the fourth, Northwesters reached the Wayne 11, third down. Then Wildcat defenders smeared Young for 10 minus yards, with 4:20 to play. In remaining time, Wayne mixed passing and running in a slashing campaign to the Raider 11 with 31 seconds left and no spectators leaving.

Disaster. Northwestern intercepted for the third time, and that was the game.

Wayne snared three Raider passes too. That roughing with furious Wayne pass rush prompted Northwestern observers to say their Raiders had not seen anything like it all year. The Raider rushing chart listed 34 plays, including quarter back sacks, and of those plays 17 went for losses. Still the score was 14-7 for Northwestern.

Wayne State to Host Women's VB Tourney

Wayne State's volleyball team will host to the Nebraska college women's tournament Friday through Sunday in Rice Auditorium, with defending champion Kearney State and Wayne seeded one and two in the 12 team field.

Doane and Hastings are seeded third and fourth. All four seeded teams have byes in first round play which all begins at noon and continues with 1:30 games. Second round games at 3 and 4:30 will match seeded teams against winners of the first round.

Action in the double elimination meet continues Saturday afternoon at 1:30, and the championship game is set for 3 Sunday. If that does not settle the title, another game will follow.

This year for the first time, the Nebraska Intercollegiate Women's Sports Council divided teams into a small college division — the 12 competing in this tournament — and a large college division, including the University of Nebraska, both Lincoln and Omaha.

The top two finishers in the small college division advance to the regional tournament of Kearney two weeks later. UNL and UNO automatically advance to the large college regional.

Wayne goes into the meet with a 16-5 record after the Wildkittens split two matches Saturday at home.

Wayne defeated Creighton University, 15-9, 15-10. Nebraska Wesleyan downed Wayne 15-9, 2-15, 15-7. Creighton defeated Wesleyan, 15-5, 15-12.

Monday at Springfield, Wayne defeated USD Springfield, 15-7, 15-4, but South Dakota State downed the Wildkittens, 15-7, 16-4. SDSU beat Springfield, 18-16, 7-15, 15-4.

Miss G. I. Willoughby, WSC coach, who is tournament director, announced these pairings for the meet here.

First round Friday at noon: Peru vs Creighton and Chadron vs Dana at 1:30. Concordia vs Nebraska Wesleyan and Midland vs College of St. Mary.

Second round Friday at 3: Kearney vs Peru Creighton winner and Hastings vs Chadron Dana winner at 4:30. Wayne vs Concordia Wesleyan winner and Doane vs Midland St. Mary winner.

Wayne Heads For District VB Tonight

Wayne High spikers tonight (Thursday) will try to bounce back from last week's second defeat of the season when the Blue Devils meet host Wisner Pilger in the first night of Class B district volleyball action.

Wayne carries a 13-2 record into the scheduled 8:30 a.m. match against the 3-7 Wisner club. Wayne's second loss came last week when the West Husker champs lost to East Husker division winner Hooper Logan View for the Husker Conference title.

The yellow color of the withered mistletoe branch was thought to be endowed with the power to discover buried treasure.

It's hard to pinpoint the cause for Wayne's loss, said coach Marvin Dalton. Wayne's serving percentage was down that game from its 90 per cent average to 82, she added. "Hopefully, our serving percentage will increase against Wisner," she pointed out.

Wayne and Pierce went into the seeding meeting with 13-1 records. But Pierce won the flip of the coin to be seeded first in the eight team district.

District action starts at 5:30, with Pierce going against West Point Central Catholic. At 6:30 Hartington Cedar Catholic and North Bend Central tangle and at 7:30 Logan View and Schuyler play.

On Saturday semifinals will be at 6 and 7 p.m., finals at 8:30.

Wakefield, Allen Spikers Advance in District Play

Two of the five area high school volleyball teams have advanced in district play this week.

Host Wakefield tonight (Thursday) goes against Randolph at 7:30 in the finals of Class C playoff action. Allen Wednesday night was scheduled to face top seeded Boemer in the second night of Class B district play at Rosalie.

Both Class C clubs, Winside and Laurel, have been eliminated still to see first round action in Class B. Wayne High The Blue Devils are slated to open district play tonight against host Wisner Pilger.

Number one seeded Wakefield Monday and Tuesday nights coasted to wins over Pender and Coleridge to advance 12-2 in the finals. Coach Ernie Kovar's girls Monday topped Pender 15-3 and 15-12 and Tuesday knocked off Coleridge in two sets, 15-4 and 15-9, for the club's 11 victory against six losses.

Junior Lynn Helm was the leading Wakefield scorer both nights. Helm blasted 15 points across the net against Pender and drove across seven against Coleridge.

Coleridge beat Laurel 15-10 and 15-7 Monday to advance against Wakefield. Both clubs were neck and neck the first game, tying the match several times before Coleridge broke a 5-5 deadlock and finally tied the win, 15-10.

Laurel's leading scorers were Paula Buss with five and Dian Reimer with three. Coach Carl Woodward's Laurel net finish is the season with a 1-10 record.

In the first night action in Class C action at Wakefield, Randolph defeated Wall Hill and Emerson Hubbard beat Ponca.

The girls' spikers played game at them, instead of playing Rosalie's bumpy game," said coach Steve McManigal, adding that his girls overcame an 11-6 third game deficit with their strong spiking to win the match.

In Class C district play at Norfolk Tuesday, Winside fell at Bancroft, 8-15, 16-14 and 5-15. Leading servers for Winside were Deb Albrecht with 16, Cindy Thomas with 13 and Jill Stenwall with 11.

The loss ends Winside's season record of 6-9.

Winside, Allen Land Eight on L-C 'Dream' Teams

Winside and Allen football teams placed a total of eight players on this year's Lewis and Clark Conference division teams.

Third-year all-conference selection Bob Hoffman leads the list of five Winside high players who have been named to this year's Clark dream team.

Joining the senior veteran on this year's squad are seniors Tyler Frevert, Brad Brockman, Brad Brummels and junior Neil Wagner.

carries for a 5.5-yard average. He also leads the Wildcats in scoring for the season with 36 points.

For Wagner and Frevert, this year's selection is their second in two years. Wagner maintained his No. one center position. However, Frevert was switched this year to the defensive unit where he was picked as one of the four league-leading backs.

Wausa is the only one of the six division schools which has more than five on the all-conference team. The division-winning Vikings place six on this year's squad.

Unlike the previous two years when he was named to the defensive unit, Hoffman has earned a starting end spot on the offensive all-loop team. This season Hoffman led with 176 yards on 11 receptions to be among the leaders on his team and in the conference.

Also named to the offensive unit were Wagner at center, Brockman at tackle and Brummels at runningback.

During Winside's 7-2 campaign, Brummels was the leading rusher with 634 yards in 116

Two other Clark players who again received all-conference honors were Wausa quarterback Kim Johnson and Hartington High runningback Kevin Eickhoff. Both seniors last year were picked by coaches for the all-conference team.

Unlike the Clark division, coaches in the Lewis division didn't assign their all-conference players to an offensive or defensive unit.

Division winner Homer placed seven on this year's team of 22 players. Runnerup Ponca had five.

Allen landed three on this year's squad, including seniors Charlie Ferguson, Randy Genster and Robert Bock. All three are new to this year's dream team.

All three displayed hustle and desire, said coach Cliff Jorgensen. "They were a bunch of leaders," he added.

Although final season statistics were available, the coach pointed out that Ferguson was one of the team's top running backs. Bock was the leading tackler and Genster did a good job on the line.

The Lewis division did have

Out of Top 10

Wayne High's loss Friday to Hartington Cedar Catholic not only dropped the Blue Devils out of the running for the state high school football playoffs, but also dropped the locals out of the Class B top 10 weekly ratings, according to the Omaha World-Herald.

Last week the Devils were ranked sixth. This week Cedar is eighth.

WS Grads Die in 2-Car Crash

Funeral services were to be conducted Wednesday for two Wayne State College graduates, Martha Schrick and Janet Miller, who died following a two-car collision Saturday night.

Both women were star players on the Wayne State basketball team, and many of their teammates along with several college coaches planned to attend services for Miss Schrick Wednesday morning in her hometown, George, Ia., and for Miss Miller Wednesday afternoon in her hometown, Onawa, Ia.

Miss Schrick and Miss Miller, both 22, graduated from Wayne State last April. They had been coaching and coaching this fall at Eddyville, Ia., and Tokamah, respectively.

Miss Schrick, basketball star for three seasons, gained the honor of Wayne State's first Woman Athlete of the Year last February. She set a career rebounding record which stands in WSC women's basketball.

The fatal collision occurred about 11:15 p.m. Saturday, seven miles east of Oskaloosa, Ia., on Highway 92. The Iowa Highway Patrol reported that the Schrick car crossed the centerline and was in head-on collision with a car driven by Reynold Wats, Oskaloosa.

FINISHED the prep football season with 30 right selections against 11 wrong picks and two ties. Roughly that's about 73 per cent correct. Not the best in the world, but the percentage will have to stand until the basketball season starts next month. Then I can wipe the slate clean and start over again.

Thought for sure I was going to end the regular season Friday with my second straight week of picking all the games on the money. Two weeks ago I had all six right, but last week I only had three of five picked correctly. And both of those losses were surprises.

I had Wayne to win the West Husker title with a solid victory over Hartington Cedar Catholic and Wakefield to end its season on a winning note against winless Emerson Hubbard. Cedar halted Wayne's bid, 22-7, and Emerson gained its first victory, 24-15. A sidelight to Emerson's win, the victory was the Pirates' first in almost two and a half seasons.

The correct picks last Friday were Winside over Osmond; Laurel over Bloomfield and Walthill over Allen.

FOR THE most part, the prep grid season is over for area teams. The exception is Wayne. The Blue Devils were scheduled to face Oakland Craig Wednesday night at 7:30 at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium in a battle for the Husker Conference title.

Actually, the game doesn't mean anything. Both clubs finished second in their divisions. Wayne is 4-1 in the West and 8-1 overall while Oakland is 5-1-1 in the East and 7-1-1 overall. The division winners, Hartington Cedar Catholic and Scribner, are headed for the state high school playoffs.

I don't see how Wayne or Oakland players could be excited about this matchup. About the only people really involved in this game would be the referees. They'll be watching closely for those big personal fouls that get the clubs get their final chance to relieve some of the frustrations during the season.

Lewis and Clark Conference officials had the right idea about a loop playoff. They decided to drop Homer in the state playoff. Maybe next time Husker officials will follow suit.

BEFORE coaches pack away the football gear, might remind them to send me their individual and team statistics for the season so that I can do a roundup story on their club. If possible I would like to have the results by the end of this week or early next week.

I realize that some coaches will be busy selecting players for their all-conference teams. Laurel coach Bob Bozied will meet with the rest of the coaches in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference league on Wednesday, Nov. 12, to pick an all-conference team. No date has been set for the West Husker all-loop team to be selected. In that league are Wayne and Wakefield.

THIS WILL be a busy week for grid activity at Wayne State's Memorial field. Besides the Wayne Oakland contest Wednesday, Lincoln Plus X and Hartington Cedar Catholic will play there Friday at 7:30 p.m. in one of the Class B state playoffs. Then on Saturday, Wayne State will host Black Hills State for the Wildcats' final game of the season.

Saturday, as some might know, is Parents Day for parents of Wayne State football players. In addition to honoring the parents during the game, a special get-together for parents, players, coaches and other visitors will be held at Wayne Vets Club following the game. Hosting the gathering will be members of the Second Guessers club.

IT'S NOT too early for local residents to start thinking about men's city recreation basketball. According to recreation director Hank Overin, the first week of practice for players in A and B Leagues will be the last week in November.

All players interested in playing in the A league should meet at 7 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 24, at the city auditorium. Following a two week practice session, teams will be chosen for the Dec. 25 starting date.

The date and time are different for persons wanting to play in the B League. The first meeting is on Wednesday, Nov. 26. New players should meet at 7 p.m. at the city auditorium. In the B League will start on Wednesday, Dec. 15.

For those who might be confused, the A League involves more running than the slower B League.

Athlete Of The Week

JACOBMEIER KOVENSKY

When it comes to describing her players, Wayne High volleyball coach Mavis Dalton sums it up in three words: They're all equal.

When you see the Blue Devil spikers in action, they do look equal. The difference, however, is the game statistics.

Seniors Mary Kovensky and Susan Jacobmeier, this week's "Athlete(s) of the Week," this season have led the squad in two of the most important aspects of the game: spiking and serving.

Susan has averaged about 90 per cent of her serves across the net and Mary has had 116 spikes in helping to lead their team to a 13-2 record and the West Husker Conference championship.

The two time all-conference selections have been on Wayne's starting lineup the past three years. Mary starts on the front row and Susan works in the back row.

Last year, Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kovensky of Wayne, was named by her teammates as the most valuable player. Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jacobmeier of Wayne, last season was picked as the honorary team captain.

Courage Is—Doing what you are afraid to do. There can be no courage unless you're afraid.

Board Considers Policy Changes

The Wayne Carroll board of education Monday night reviewed proposed changes to board policy and dictated further modifications which will be considered for adoption at the next meeting.

Superintendent Francis Haun said the new policy is necessary to comply with state statutes which mandate due process for student and school employees regarding suspension or dismissal.

Basically, the new policies being considered state that any student or employee who is suspended, expelled or dismissed is entitled to know why the action is taken and must be granted a hearing prior to the action, if they request one. Prior to any hearing involving discipline that may result in suspension of a student, the superintendent must request a meeting with the student and parents or guardian in an effort to resolve the matter. At the meeting, the superintendent must inform the student and parents of the complaint and of his decision to act.

Also under consideration is a policy which would grant sick leave benefits for pregnancy. Under present policy, teachers accumulate 10 days of sick leave annually, cumulative to 70 days.

Board members Irv Brandt, Dale Stollenberg, and Milton Owens were selected as the team to represent the board in the present policy. Teachers also agreed, however, to explore the possibility of hiring an outside party to handle the negotiations.

In other action the board agreed to increase insurance coverage on school buildings and contents by 20 per cent.

Authorized purchase of two ovens for the school kitchen from Butler Manufacturing in Omaha. The company's quoted price of $1,960 was the lowest amount quoted among seven companies.

Authorized Haun to consult with the school attorney about recovering damages from Ford Motor Company for allegedly failing to deliver bus chassis on time to a coach company in Lima, Ohio.

Cast Is Selected For Wakefield Play

The cast for Wakefield High's Junior class play, "The Ghoul Friend" have been selected for the Nov. 21-22 production at the elementary school auditorium.

Students who will be appearing in the play will be Dan Byers, Ann Paulsen, Ann Muller, Brooks Myer, Kay Foote, Tamara Carlson, Kurt Dolph, Cindy Reher, Greg Simpson, Mary Kober, Jeff Peterson, Wes Lueth, Norman Slama, Jerry Echtenkamp, Kerry Fischer, Mary Ann Hansen, Denise Greve, Torri Sampson, Diane Minola, Deldan Bjorkland, Gerald Haglund, Greg Meyer and Robert Bellar.

The Green Willow Lodge at Lonesome Lake is the setting for the play. Business is bad for the lodge owners until everyone starts reading about the mysterious monsters at the lodge.

Creative Children Need To Be Encouraged

Some children seem to be born with an extraordinary amount of creativity. How else would you have thought of a light bulb or a steamboat, and how would we have great artists and musicians?

An important thing to think about is that your child might be one of these extra-creative people. But if this creativity isn't encouraged, it will become dormant and he will quit using it.

Studies have shown there is relatively little correlation between tested I.Q. or intelligence and creativity. So how can you tell if your preschooler is a creative person? Here are some hints. He will ask penetrating, thought provoking questions. He will see ordinary things in a different way. He will probably come up with a quantity of ideas. He will investigate a problem from many points of view.

What do you do when you find out your child is creative? The point is not to draw a line between very creative children and those who don't seem to be. The important thing is to encourage creativity and free thinking in all children so they develop this part of their personality.

How can this be done? When your child comes up with an unusual suggestion to a problem, instead of telling him that won't work, why not ask him questions about how he thinks his idea could work or suggest some things in support of his idea.

Even if you don't agree with your child's ideas, let him express them. From this he will know free thinking and new ideas are O.K.

Taking time to answer questions is another big help. Sometimes children have an endless supply of questions. The way you answer those questions may make the difference in whether your child is inquisitive and interesting or if he just takes life as it is, no questions asked.

If your preschooler colors a cow red and you tell him this is wrong and cows are black, he will be getting the message that one must always do things just as they are done now and never try something new.

Think about the dozens of opportunities you have every day to encourage your child's creativity.

Nearing Goal

The 1975 Wayne Community Chest fund drive is rapidly closing in on its goal of $12,900.

OBITUARIES

Thought for Today

"If you count all your assets you will always show a profit."

Robert Quillen

It is not hard to deduce that Quillen is a better philosopher than an accountant. He was, of course, speaking of us as individuals rather than of businesses.

For anyone who feels that his life is a disappointment ... that he is a failure ... it may be helpful to prepare a "balance sheet." When all the assets are counted ... friends, the love of those close to us, our health (even if not perfect) and the thrill of just being alive in this interesting world ... it always shows a profit.

We believe that a funeral service should be a beautiful experience. It should help the bereaved as a first step toward adjustment to the loss.

Halloween Winners

WINNERS OF The Wayne Herald Morning Shopper Halloween costume contest Friday were clockwise from front, Marnie Bruggeman, Walter Otte, Darrin Barner, Karl Schultz and Denise Townsend.

'76 County Fair Date Set

The Wayne County Fair will be held a little earlier than usual in 1976, secretary-manager Marilyn Koch said Monday.

Because of a scheduling conflict with the Dale T. Thomas Shows midway company, the Wayne County Fair and Agricultural Society Sunday set dates for the 1976 fair for July 29-30-31 and Aug. 1.

Koch said that's about a week earlier than the fair has been scheduled in past years.

The fair society will do most of the planning for the four-day event during December and January.

Stage entertainment should be arranged for by the end of January, Koch said, and committees will be appointed to begin in the spring to organize the tractor pull and demolition derby events.

Commissioners Approve Hiring Of Appraiser

Wayne County commissioners met Tuesday with Duane Lovegrove a state approved property appraiser regarding the listing of commercial property for the valuation effort now being conducted in the county.

The commissioners agreed to let county assessor Mrs. Doris Slipp decide if she wants to retain Lovegrove's services or have listers now working on rural property list commercial property.

The commissioners also met with representatives of the Wayne County Historical Society and visited the Rollie Ley home.

The Ley family has agreed to give the home to the historical society for use as a museum if the commissioners will agree to designate one-tenth of a mill annually for operation and upkeep.

The commissioners have indicated they want to see more county-wide participation in the society before they will consider appropriating the funds.

A new flag pole for the LaPort cemetery, about six miles southeast of Wayne, will be purchased by the county.

The commissioners recognized the work done by Mrs. Cliff Johnson, representing the historical society, the Teen Supremes Club and Wayne Monument Works, in cleaning up the cemetery and restoring the headstones.

Creative Children Need To Be Encouraged
Some children seem to be born with an extraordinary amount of creativity. How else would anyone have thought of a light bulb or a steamboat, and how would we have great artists and musicians?

An important thing to think about is that your child might be one of these extra-creative people. But if his creativity isn't encouraged, it will become dormant and he will quit using it.

Studies have shown there is relatively little correlation between tested I.Q. or intelligence and creativity. So how can you tell if your preschooler is a creative person? Here are some hints. He will ask penetrating, thoughtful probing questions. He will see ordinary things in a different way. He will probably come up with a quantity of ideas. He will investigate a problem from many points of view.

What do you do when you find out your child is creative? The point is not to draw a line between very creative children and those who don't seem to be. The important thing is to encourage creatively and free thinking in all children so they develop this part of their personality.

How can this be done? When your child comes up with an unusual suggestion to a problem, instead of telling him that won't work, why not ask him questions about how he thinks his idea could work or suggest some things in support of his idea.

Even if you don't agree with your child's ideas, let him express them. From this he will gain free thinking and new ideas are O.K.

Taking time to answer questions is another big help. Sometimes it seems children have an endless supply of questions. The way you answer those questions may make the difference in whether your child is inquisitive and interesting or if he just lazes life as it is, no questions asked.

If your preschooler colors a cow red and you tell him this is wrong and cows are black, he will be getting the message that one must always do things just as they are done now and never try something new.

Think about the dozens of opportunities you have every day to encourage your child's creativity.

Board Considers Policy Changes

The Wayne-Carroll board of education Monday night reviewed proposed changes in board policy and dictated further modifications which will be considered for adoption at the next meeting.

Superintendent Francis Haul said the new policy is necessary to comply with state statutes which mandate due process for student and school employees regarding suspension or dismissal.

Basically, the new policies being considered state that any student or employee who is suspended, expelled or dismissed is entitled to know why the action is taken and must be granted a hearing prior to the action, if they request one.

Prior to any hearing involving discipline that may result in suspension of a student, the superintendent must request a meeting with the student and parents or guardian in an effort to resolve the matter. At the meeting the superintendent must inform the student and parents of the complaint and of his decision to act.

Also under consideration is a policy which would grant sick leave benefits for pregnancy. Under present policy, teachers accumulate 10 days of sick leave annually, cumulative to 70 days.

Board members Irv Brandt, Dale Stollenberg, and Milton Owens were selected as the team to represent the board in teacher negotiations. The board also agreed, however, to explore the possibility of hiring an outside party to handle the negotiations.

Cast Is Selected For Wakefield Play

The cast for Wakefield High's Junior class play, "The Ghoul Friend," have been selected for the Nov. 21-22 production at the elementary school auditorium.

Students who will be appearing in the play will be Dan Byers, Lori Paulson, Ann Muller, Brooks Myer, Kay Fote, Tamara Carlson, Kurt Dolph, Cindy Reher, Greg Simpson, Mary Kober, Jeff Peterson, Wes Lueth, Norman Slama, Jerry Echtenkamp, Kerry Fischer, Mary Ann Hansson, Denise Greve, Terri Sampson, Diane Minola, Deldean Bjorkland, Gerald Haglund, Greg Meyer and Robyn Bellar.

The Green Willow Lodge at Lonesome Lake is the setting for the play. Business is bad for the lodge owners until everyone starts reading about the mysterious monsters at the lodge.

Communications Workshop Set

A contemporary communications workshop, geared to the interests of students, teachers and other individuals interested in the theatre, film production, broadcasting, music, communications and other related areas, is planned for Monday and Tuesday at Wayne State College.

Workshop sessions will begin at 1 p.m. Monday and at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Tuesday. Participants are encouraged to come when they are able and stay as long as they wish, participating in the production of electronic music, modern dance, air-supported environments, computer and control systems for visual-sound programs and experimental film and video.

A formal presentation, set for 8 p.m. Tuesday evening, is designed to be entertaining as well as informative.

The program will be conducted by Don Evans, associate professor in fine arts and director of the Media Experimentation Center at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. Evans' multi-media work interrelates all the arts through contemporary means of communication. He will be conducting informal discussions, presenting works in progress, completed films and audio excerpts from multi-media works and general aesthetic and technical demonstrations.

All sessions will be held at the Education Building auditorium on the Wayne State campus. No admission will be charged. The general public is welcome.

The Evans presentation is sponsored by the WSC Visual Arts Club. Further details are available from club sponsors Ray Repligte or J. Marlene Mueller.

OBITUARIES

Oakley Reed

Oakley Reed of Vacaville, Calif., died at his home Sunday morning at the age of 73 years. Funeral services are pending in California for the former Winside and Carroll resident.

Survivors include his widow, Elsie of 120 Isle Royale, Vacaville; two sons, Jason of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Gene of Denver, Colo.; one daughter, Mrs. Don (Dottie) Wacker of Winside; seven grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Charles Chapman

Mrs. Charles Chapman died Oct. 26 at the Pierce Manor, where she resided at the age of 85 years. Funeral services were held Thursday at the Zion Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

The Rev. Jordan Arlt officiated and pallbearers were Gurney, Lorenz, Art Olson, Robert Olson, Guy Anderson, Ralph Shadley and Bill Thøndel. Burial was in the Swedish Cemetery, northwest of Hoskins.

Anna Olivia Lesden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lesden, was born Oct. 5, 1891. She was married to Charles Chapman Feb. 22, 1911. The couple lived on a farm north of Hoskins until 1954 when they retired and moved to Lincoln; and then to the Pierce Manor.

She is preceded in death by her husband on March 19, 1974; one son, Walter; one daughter, Ruth Haase; one brother, Ivor, and one sister, Esther Olson. Survivors include one son, Roy of Lincoln; two daughters, Mrs. Alyce Olson of Cucamonga, Calif., and Mrs. Esther Sandlin of Sparks, Nev.; 11 grandchildren, and eight great grandchildren.

Herman Eickhoff

Former Wayne resident, Herman J. (Red) Eickhoff of Bellevue, Wash., died Monday at Kingston, N.Y., at the age of 65 years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eickhoff, he was born Jan. 16, 1910 at Wayne, where he graduated from high school and college. He was band director at Wisner high school for a number of years, before moving to Washington in 1943, where he was also a band director. He was married to the former Laura Louise Holmes.

Preceding him in death were a brother, Fritz and a sister, Mrs. Charles (Margaret) Simons. Survivors include a son, Kenneth of Bothell, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Don (Sonna) Alexander of Auburn, Wash., and Mrs. Gerald (Barbara) Hermand of Bellevue, Wash.; nine grandchildren, and three sisters, Mrs. Elmer (Ida) Johnson of Hawarden, Ia., Mrs. Kate Campbell of Sioux City, Ia., and Mrs. Ted (Anna) Kuhl of Emerson.

Keith Wacker, son of Mrs. Marcella Wacker of Winside, recently was discharged from the Army after three years of service.

Wacker, who was stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo., before being discharged, received his basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and AIT schooling at Ft. Polk, La.

His wife is the former Kathy Pfeiffer of Winside. They have one son, Cory, about two.

It is not hard to deduce that Quillen is a better philosopher than an accountant. He was, of course, speaking of us as individuals rather than of businesses.

For anyone who feels that his life is a disappointment ... that he is a failure ... it may be helpful to prepare a "balance sheet". When all the assets are counted ... friends, the love of those close to us, our health (even if not perfect) and the thrill just being alive in this interesting world ... it always shows a profit.

We believe that a funeral service should be a beautiful experience. It should help the bereaved as a first step toward adjustment to the loss.

Nearing Goal
The 1975 Wayne Community Chest fund drive is rapidly closing in on its goal of $12,900. As of Wednesday morning, 71 per cent of the goal had been collected, according to drive secretary Marilyn Carhart. Total contribution so far has been $9,130.

Drive captains and their workers, who still have cards out, are urged to turn in their cards as soon as possible. The cards may be turned in at First National Bank or State National Bank, or to Mrs. Carhart.

Despite Loss, Whites Take Football Title

Despite an upset win by the Gold team, the White seventh and eighth grade football team won the season title Tuesday night.
The White club finished the season with a 3-1 record while the Gold team was second at 2-2 and the Blue club finished at 1-3.
Hugh Jaeger scored all three Gold touchdowns to lead his team to a 22-14 victory. With five minutes remaining in the first half, Jaeger broke free on a 70-yard scamper for his team's first touchdown and an 8-6 score. Quarterback Kevin Nissen tossed a two-point pass to Steve Bowers to tie the game at eight all at the end of the third period.
Just before the half, White runningback Bryan Aguirre scored from 30 yards out and added the extra points for an 8-0 lead.

After a series of fumbles deep in White territory, Jaeger scored the Gold's go-ahead touchdown in the fourth period and Steve Sorensen added the two points for a 16-8 command. After stopping the Whites, the Golds scored in the fifth period. Jaeger's 60-yard run off tackle for a 22-8 score. Jaeger finished the night with over 200 yards rushing.
The Whites narrowed the lead late in the fourth on an eight yard touchdown run by Jerry Morris for the final score of 22-8.
Outstanding players: Golds, Jeff Brandt, Troy Friend, Aaron Schuff, Steve Koll, Nissen, Jaeger, Sorensen; Whites—Rob Harmer, Pat McCright, Todd Heier, Brett Frevert, Morris, Aguirre.

The Northeast Nebraska Health Service is providing this symposium in order to assist the general public in health related subjects pertinent to the times. Students, teachers and the general public are urged to attend. Student registration is $2, adult registration is $5. A noon luncheon will be served at the Ramada Inn for $2.50.

Organizations Preparing For Honey Sunday Sale

Thousands of volunteers across the state will be busy Nov. 16, selling honey as part of the annual Honey Sunday drive.
Locally, Jaycees, H. clubs, Lions Clubs, church groups and other organizations will be assisting with the drive.
Mrs. Wilbur Habrock of Emerson is chairman of the four county Honey Sunday effort for the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC).
ARC's are voluntary organizations devoted to improving the welfare of mentally retarded persons. Mrs. Habrock explained.
The goal is to give every retarded person an opportunity to develop, to their fullest potential.
At the community level, ARC units help obtain services for the retarded. Local examples are the Rehabilitation Services Workshop and Human Developmental Services, both in Wayne.
At the state level, ARC units work for legislation affecting education and well being of retarded persons and oversee coordination of local programs. November is Mental Retardation Month in Nebraska and Honey Sunday is the major fund raising effort for state ARC's.
Jars of honey will sell for $1.25 this year, up from $1.00 last year. Mrs. Habrock said the increase brings the price in line with that charged by other state ARC's.
Last year about 3,000 jars of honey were sold in Dixon, Wayne, Thurston and Dakota counties. Mrs. Habrock hopes to reach about 3,500 in total sales for the four county area this year.

WE NEED WAYNE HERALD CARRIERS IN LAUREL & WAKEFIELD

If you are between the ages of nine and thirteen and would like to earn extra money delivering papers on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons — fill out the form below and mail it to The Wayne Herald (P.O. Box 71)

Recipes

Chocolate Angel Pie
1 pkg. (4 oz.) sweet chocolate
2 T. water
1 T. vanilla
1 envelope whipped topping mix
1 baked 8-inch Meringue Nut Shell, cooled

Combine chocolate and water in saucepan. Heat over very low heat, stirring constantly, until melted and smooth. Cool until thickened, add vanilla. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package. Fold chocolate mixture into whipped topping. Spoon to meringue shell. Chill about 4 hours before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Meringue Nut Shell. Beat 2 egg whites, 1/4 each salt and cream of tartar until foamy throughout. Gradually add 1/2 C. sugar and continue beating until mixture will form stiff shiny peaks — about 10 minutes. Add 1/2 t. vanilla and 1 C. chopped pecans or walnuts. Spread on bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie pan. Bake at 250 degrees for 40 minutes; turn off heat and cool in oven for 1 hour or overnight.

Strawberry Fluff
1 pkg. (8 oz.) marshmallows
2 T. water
1 pkg. (10 oz.) quick thaw strawberries
2 T. lemon juice
1 t. grated lemon rind
1 envelope whipped topping mix.

Heat marshmallows with water over medium heat, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted. Remove from heat and add strawberries, and stir gently until berries are separated. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package; fold into strawberry mixture. Pour into paraffin glasses or dessert dishes. Chill about 4 hours. Makes about 4 cups or 8 servings.

Pudding Deluxe Dessert
1 pkg. (3 1/2 oz.) vanilla, coconut cream, or banana cream pudding and pie filling
1 pkg. (3 oz.) gelatin, any flavor
2 1/2 C. water
1 envelope whipped topping mix

Combine pudding mix, gelatin, and water in a saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil and is thickened and clear. Remove from heat. Chill until slightly thickened. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package; thoroughly blend into the pudding mixture. Spoon into sherbert glasses or a serving bowl. Chill until firm — about 2 hours. Makes about 4 C. or 6 to 8 servings.

The mill levy in that type of town will usually be high. Poley said because more street and sewer and water lines must be installed and maintained. Scattered residential development around the town means more cost for the county which must maintain roads and provide police and fire protection. Poley said.

Following the demonstration, Poley introduced Dave Wright, who will replace him as SOPP consultant to the county planners. Wright will assist the planning commissioners in developing a comprehensive land use plan for the county, to guide development over the next 20 years.

present testimony to show that it could cost more to revamp and maintain the line that shipping records indicated would be profitable.

Gay said he thinks some of that testimony can be refuted if the line is closed. Wayne will be the biggest city in the state without rail service and the commissioner thinks the potential for profitable operation exists. Other railroads in Nebraska operate branch lines at a profit and Gay said he doesn't see any reason why Chicago and North Western can't do the same.

In addition to trying to refute railroad figures regarding the economic history and potential of the line, the PSC also will present testimony regarding the economic impact to the area if rail service is lost.

Gay has warned that the fight to save the line won't be easy. "But if we can't win this one, we can't win anywhere in Nebraska."

Discussion continues on tax legislation

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN—Representatives of state agencies met one after another to discuss the budget and the Legislature's Budget Committee the spending cuts Gov. J.J. Exon has proposed.

But many of the agencies said they could, though it would mean cutting the services they provide the public, survive the three per cent reductions in the Exon sponsored LB 6.

After listening to hours of such testimony, the members of the committee convened for an executive session to talk things over among themselves.

Sen. Leslie Stull of Alliance, referring to the witnesses who said they could get by with three per cent fewer state tax dollars, suggested they be given the opportunity.

"I think it is our duty to cut those who say they can stand it," Stull said. "I don't see how we can give anyone more than he wants."

Sen. Harold Simpson of Lincoln said earlier, during a break in the hearings, that he was keeping track of the agencies which said they could get along with less money. The list, he said, would come in handy during the regular session when the same agencies would be back before the budget writers, asking for appropriations for the 1976-77 fiscal year.

Sen. Douglas Bereuter of Uta said he would support cuts in this year's budget, but he didn't agree with the governor's proposal to make the reductions on an across-the-board basis.

The Exon Bill, LB 6, calls for three per cent reductions in the tax fund spending authorizations for the fiscal year ending June 30. That would amount to about $6.9 million.

Bereuter said it wouldn't work to try to amend the bill to call for one per cent or two per cent reductions, because the governor, through his line item veto power, could cut the figures back again to the three per cent level he has recommended.

Bereuter said he would rather be selective.

Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney said he would have backed a three per cent across-the-board reduction before the appropriations became final, that is, during the regular 1975 legislative session.

But Clark said, based upon the complaints agencies made in their testimony before the committee, it wasn't fair to reduce spending authority in the midst of a year.

The witnesses had a variety of complaints, but State Fair Manager Henry Brandt had one of the more interesting problems. Much of his appropriation for this fiscal year, he said, was budgeted for premiuns to be paid at the fair to 4-H and other champion exhibitors. Now that the fair is over, Brandt said, the cut is hard to make.

Brandt said the only alternative is to take it out of salaries, something many of the witnesses said.

Parole Board member Gene Neal said the cut for his agency should be taken out of the clerical staff already was overworked and underpaid.

The Library Commission said it would have to reduce service to the blind and physically handicapped and scale back the Nebraska Public Library Clearing-house operations if it lost three per cent of its funds.

State representatives would have to stop attending local commemoration activities, Bicentennial Director Don Searcy said.

The technical community colleges and state colleges said class sizes would have to increase.

On it went, while across the rotunda, in the East Chamber, the Revenue Committee was meeting on another of the Exon special session bills.

That bill, LB 4, proposed changes in the formula the State Board of Equalization is to follow when it sets the 1976 calendar year sales and income tax rates later this month.

State tax commissioner William Peters said the aim of the Exon administration is to maintain the 2.5 per cent state sales tax and 12 per cent (of federal liability) income tax rates not only next year but the year after that.

He said it could be done. If spending were kept in check—a reference to what was going on before—the Budget Committee—and if the board could set the 1976 rates without having to include a five per cent overlevy and consider the impact of future obligations. Those are the provisions of LB 4.

Sen. Frank Lewis of Bellevue, unsuccessful during the last regular session with the same plan, suggested amendments to put the Legislature in charge of rate-setting and to make the 1976 rates 2.5 per cent for sales (no change) and 13 per cent for income (up one percentage point from the current level).

Under questioning, Lewis said he wouldn't object if the state sales tax were jumped to three per cent and the income tax to 14 per cent.

Back in the Budget Committee's post-hearing huddle, Bereuter was saying it is "ridiculous" to expect the 2.5 per cent and 12 per cent rates to hold another year. He said three per cent cuts now may be proposed by the Exon administration to help ease the way for deeper cuts in the 1976-77 fiscal year.

Resource development wanted

Given our growing problems with shortages and embargoes, an all-out effort to locate and develop our own mineral resources seems like the obvious thing to do. It comes as a considerable shock, then, to learn that we are in fact moving in the opposite direction.

Unbelievable as it may seem, an area larger than 25 of the 27 states east of the Mississippi is no longer accessible even for mineral exploration, much less mining. And most of the restrictions were imposed very recently in 1968.

These lands were withdrawn from productive use under a bewildering variety of programs—ranging from the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act to the Wilderness Act.

In principle, there is certainly nothing wrong with preserving public land with unusual scenic or recreational value. I support that wholeheartedly. But surely there must be reasonable limits. The Federal Government has gone hog wild in the preservation game, largely, I suspect, because each individual move in that direction looks praiseworthy, while nobody has bothered to step back and see what it all adds up to.

Second, most extractive industries do not disfigure or otherwise harm the land on (under) which they operate. In those cases where there is a potential for damage, the damage can be prevented (or repaired) without a total ban on mining. It is just plain silly to suggest that the tiny entrance to an underground mine "ruins" a million-acre forest.

Finally, the companies that do the work bear the cost (and risk) of exploration and development—not the taxpayer. In the case of lands governed by the leasing laws, private companies usually bid competitively for the right to develop specified resources in the tracts at auction. The money they pay goes into the Treasury, but there's no guarantee the minerals will cover the cost of the lease.

And we'd better do it soon. There are now 119 bills to establish wilderness areas in 25 states pending before the Senate Interior Committee—Richard Leisher, U.S. Chamber of Commerce, president.

Meat industry challenges findings

For years the American meat industry has fought a defensive—and basically ineffective—battle against charges that linked some meats with certain dietary aspects of the nation's number one health problem—heart disease.

The low key battle by the meat industry has not been by choice. It was a matter of the industry not having the guns to enter into full-fledged skirmishes with the leveling charges, primarily the American Heart Association and certain medical researchers.

That may all be changing. This week I received a 12 page release from the National Live Stock and Meat Board, the industry's principal spokesman, in the controversy, called a "Background status report" on the situation.

But the report is significant. I believe, because it represents a new, harder hitting campaign for the meat industry in the controversy. It doesn't start out quite that way, however. In fact, there's at most a conciliatory note offered by William C. Sherman, director of nutrition research for the meat board, early in the report when he says:

Which ever way the research pendulum swings, our industry wants the answers. Either our products are a good and healthful as ever or we will modify them. Then, however, came the zinger from Sherman. "But there isn't enough evidence to cause radical modification at this point."

From then on, the report attempts to build a case that there isn't enough evidence to cause any modifications, let alone radical ones.

For example, Sherman argues that although many investigators have tried to demonstrate a correlation between the incidence of cardiovascular deaths and the intake of various dietary components, especially total fat and saturated fat, they often do not give appropriate recognition to the many other differences in the mode of life in these areas.

Noteworthy of these differences, Sherman maintains, is that most people in non-industrialized nations (1) engage in hard physical labor for a livelihood, (2) face limitations in their total food supply and (3) have little more than minimum levels of calories and protein needed to support life.

From recent studies, Sherman says, "the level of physical activity, exercise or fitness seems to be a main factor which consistently appears to be of importance." For example, one study found a two-to-four times higher incidence and greater severity of coronary heart disease in bus drivers who sit all day than in bus conductors whose occupation required much walking and climbing.

(Those kinds of findings jump out of a report being read by an editor who sits behind a desk most of the day.) The most impressive study used by the meat board to prove its case is called the Framingham Study, which involved more than 5,000 men and women over a 20-year period. The study, which was concluded in 1970, found a "positive" correlation between cholesterol in the blood and the development of heart disease in the group. But there was "no suggestion of any relation between the development of heart disease and the intake of any of the dietary factors under investigation."

Such an attitude overlooks the meat board's contention that "lifestyle" has more significance as a heart disease risk factor than diet.

And that is the center of the meat board's case. It doesn't say diet, occupation and smoking aren't important factors to be considered in heart research. But it does contend that none of these factors "showed as significant a correlation with heart disease as the degree of Americanization of lifestyle."

Anyone who thinks this new approach by the meat board will end the controversy doesn't know how medical research works. There will be further studies and more research and there will be new interpretations of old studies and research. That's how it should be. Both the meat industry and those who disagree with it are aiming for the final goal: A healthier population.

With continued research and study and the resulting debate and controversy there will be answers found for the questions surrounding heart disease. And when those answers are found, mankind will be able to look forward to a substantially longer life because if heart disease can be eliminated, the average life span can be increased by an estimated 8 to 10 years. By comparison, the elimination of cancer would extend life by about 2½ years.

That's a goal worth arguing about. The public wins regardless of which side is right.—Charles W. Walk, Mansfield City, Ia., Globe Gazette file.

One track mind.

In the 1860's, Americans wanted to put their young country on the right track.

Today, over 9½ million Americans are helping to keep this country together by buying United States Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where they work.

Get on the right track. Look into our specially designed Bicentennial Series E Bonds. And buy them where you work or bank.

Take stock in America. 200 years at the same location.

New E Bonds pay 4 1/2 interest when held to maturity of 5 years. If you work for a company that has a Payroll Savings Plan, you can buy E Bonds through it. If you don't, you can buy them at any bank, credit union or savings and loan association. E Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Wakefield News

30 Attend Halloween Party

Thirty Junior High and High school young people from the Christian Church enjoyed a hay-ride and Halloween party last Sunday evening at the Merle Ring home.

On Saturday evening, the same group traveled by church bus to Norfolk to attend another Halloween party, hosted by the Norfolk Christian Church youth group.

Weekend Guests
Luverne Borg, Watsonville, Calif., and Kay Grimes, Sedalia, Colo., spent from Friday to Monday with Mrs. Myrtle Bressler. Luverne is retired after serving 26 years in the Army, seven in Germany, three in Bolivia and three in Japan.

They were entertained Saturday evening at the Biltmore in Sioux City by the Dick Iversons. The James Kventenskys, Omaha joined them.

The Borgs held a gathering Sunday at the community hall. Sioux City, Omaha, Dixon, and Wakefield towns were represented.

Celebrates Birthday
The Melvin Lundins and Mrs. Al Rakow helped Rick Olson observe his birthday Saturday.

Sunday dinner guests in the Myron Olson home will celebrate with the Steve Oswalds and Amy, the John Vikens and John Jr. and the Dennis Carlson family.

Lincoln Guests
The Carl Ohlquists, Lincoln, spent from Wednesday to Saturday visiting in the Oscar Carlson home.

Mrs. Fred Lundin entertained the Lincoln guests, the Elmer Carlsons and Mrs. Al Rakow for Friday dinner. All enjoyed an oyster soup supper, following corn picking at the Elmer Carlson home.

35th Anniversary
The Jerome Pearson entered tained last Tuesday at a supper at the Uptown Cafe in honor of the Elvis Olson's 35th wedding anniversary.

Other guests were the Russell Parks, the Jack Parks, Mrs. Esther Park and Mrs. Ruth Lempe.

Supper Guests
Thursday evening supper guests of Mrs. Ernest Packer were the Kenneth Packers and the Levinus Packers, Cambridge, Minn.

Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Packer were Frances Turner, Mrs. Ethel Hanson, Sioux City and Irene Barnting.

Attend Services
The Marvin Felts and Merlin attended memorial services for their brother in law, Kenneth Erickson in Omaha Saturday. His wife passed away one and one half years ago.

The Felts visited in the Gene Erickson home, while in Omaha and en route home, they visited Mrs. Felts' brother, Carl Anderson in the Lyons Nursing home.

Naomi Circle
Naomi Circle of the Covenant Church met last Wednesday in the Art Borg home. Co hostess was Mrs. Esther Converse. Mrs. Melvin Hanson was the leader. Thirteen members were present.

Observe Anniversary
The Gordon Baras observed their wedding anniversary by spending Saturday and Sunday at Minden. They also visited the Kenneth Fischers at Grand Island.

Sunday evening, they were in the Jim Stout home. The Steven Steeles and daughter of Norfolk were also present.

Family Reunion
A family reunion was held in the Wesley Anderson home in Wausa Sunday.

Parents Invited To Visit WSC
Saturday is Parent's Day at Wayne State College.

The event has been planned by the WSC students to give their parents the opportunity to tour the campus, meet the faculty, take in the planetarium show, stroll through the Willow Bowl and enjoy the day with sons and daughters.

Tours will run continuously from 10 a.m. until noon. A Jupiter program will be presented at 10:30 and again at 11:30 at Dale Planetarium in the Carhart Science Building.

Lunch will be served at the cafeteria from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Free tickets will be provided parents who wish to take in the Wayne State football game with Black Hills State that afternoon at 1:30.

Attending were the Reynold Andersens, Wakefield, Mo., Dorothy Keller of New Jersey, the Steven Andersons and Kaythe, of Tennessee;

Kenneth Anderson, Omaha, Sally Anderson, Des Moines, the Dennis Kronbergs and David, Crofton, and Elaine Anderson, Ponca.

Entertain Guests
The Harvey Henningsens entertained guests at Les' Steak House last Tuesday for dinner. Attending were the Bob Bakers and Lana of Indiana, Ervin Baker, the Bud Henningsens and the Kenneth Bakers.

Marks Birthday
Visitors Sunday in the Alfred Nelson home in observance of the Charles Mallums, former Weston family, Sioux City, the Laurence Nelsons, the Berneal Gustafsons, the Harold Oberg and Mrs. Hilma Oberg.

Supper Guests
Last Tuesday evening supper guests in the Patterson sisters' home were Cliff and Evelyn Linden of California, Mrs. Violet Young and Mrs. Sharon Croasdale, Tommy and Leigh.

Celebrates Birthday
Friends and relatives spent Tuesday afternoon of last week with Ruth Collins in observance of her birthday. A cooperative lunch was served.

Daughter is Married
Nancy Mallum, daughter of the Charles Mallums, former Wakefield residents, was married Nov. 1 to Don Williams. The couple will live in Sacramento, Calif.

Steven Bressler, Don Myers and Janice Gray left Thursday for Chicago to visit friends.

Mrs. Clara Nelson spent from Saturday through Thursday with her daughter and family, the Tom Johnsons, Albion.

The Art Mallums and the Bill Oelken family spent Saturday in Lincoln, visiting the Dennis Mallums.

Mrs. Don Kober and Mary accompanied the Len Krangers, Dakota City, to visit the Don Kobers in Charles City, Ia over the weekend.

Mrs. Harry Wendel accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Carroll Moore, Watloo, to Wakefield Saturday. Mrs. Wendell is spending a week with Mrs. Martha Johnson and other friends. They were Sunday supper guests in the Allan Salmon home.

Mrs. Lydia Heyden was in Sioux City last Wednesday to visit her brother in law, Ed Heydon, who is a patient at St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Geneva Griggs returned home after spending several months in California, Arizona, Iowa and Omaha.

The Bob Bakers and Lana of Indiana returned home Saturday after spending several days in the Kenneth Baker home and visiting with other relatives and friends.

Employee Wins $25 Bucks Prize

An employee of Sav-Mor Drug is the latest winner in the weekly Birthday Bucks drawing. She is Mrs. Nancy Niemann of Wayne, whose birthday on Aug. 20, 1928, came the closest to the winning date of Sept. 24, 1938 drawn at random last Thursday.

As a result, she won the $25 consolation prize. Employees and shoppers are eligible to enter the weekly drawing held at 8:15 Thursday nights. No registration or purchases are necessary. But a person must be present in a participating Wayne business at the time of the drawing to win either the consolation prize or the $500 grand prize.

Air Drying Best Method According to Engineer

High prices for LP gas, short gas supplies and increased production make air drying in bins the most acceptable way to dry grain of 21 percent moisture content or less, a University of Nebraska extension agricultural engineer advised this week.

Next meeting will be Nov. 18 in the Fredrick Temme home. News reporter, Marvin Hansen.

ETV Program To Focus On Water Regulations

Much discussion is being generated in Natural Resource District (NRD) hearings and other water user gatherings regarding regulations on ground water runoff, regulations slated to go into effect on November 27.

Behind the discussion is LB577, Nebraska's Ground Water Management Act passed by the 1975 Legislature, which requires the state's 24 NRDs to put the regulations into effect this month.

Dean Axthelm, University of Nebraska Extension water resources specialist, reminded registrars this week that collect calls will be accepted from those with questions regarding LB577 during an hour-long television show the evening of November 10. The show, to be pre-recorded for telecast over the Nebraska ETV Network beginning at 8:30 p.m., is designed to help answer questions by registrars and land owners.

A panel of four water experts will take questions by phone and answer them while the show is on the air. Viewers from throughout the state are urged to call collect, 402-472-3126. This represents a change in the telephone number listed in an earlier news release. Axthelm added

The state Legislature recently made some changes in regard to the brucellosis vaccination program.

The major change is the age of the animal. Beef heifers must be vaccinated between two and ten months of age, and dairy heifers are to be vaccinated between two and six months of age.

Other provisions require that only an accredited veterinarian may vaccinate the animals, the vaccination must be reported to the Bureau of Animal Industry, and the vaccinated heifers must be identified by an ear tattoo, except in the case of registered cattle.

Brown Needles On Evergreens
Each year I get some calls on evergreen needles turning brown or falling off. Don't worry because fall is the season for evergreens to shed their older needles.

The needles that turn brown and naturally fall off are from two to four years old. These needles are located nearest the center of the trees. The younger green healthy needles are located on the outside or at the ends of branches.

This needle browning is an apt time for only a short period of time as the rain or wind will knock these needles to the ground and the trees will again appear normal.

Geranium Care
Geraniums that have grown too tall, have lost most of the leaves near their bases and are generally unattractive to have around should receive extra attention.

The best way to improve geraniums is to cut them back severely. Cut back to about three to five inches above the soil surface. If there are side branches down this low cut them back to about two inches from where they grow out from the main stalk.

After you have finished this operation all that will be left is the bare stub with no leaves, but if you care for the plant it will grow back healthy. It is important to hold back water during this period.

Don't throw away the top growth that you have removed. You may be able to root these pieces and increase the number of plants that you have.

Divide Peonies After Top Freezes
As soon as the tops of peonies have frozen it is time to lift and divide roots.

Peonies need good surface drainage, full or at least three-fourths - sunlight and a site with good air circulation.

Botrytis blight is always worse where little air movement exists. If you suspect blight, remove the tops when the peony plant has frozen back. Don't compost the refuse if you have a blight problem.

As for planting depth, the uppermost bud or eye should not be more than one inch below the surface. After planting and watering, mulch the root with a weed-free material.

Compost pile

I have mentioned several times in this column about making a compost, but it's so important I'm going to repeat the instructions.

Grass clippings, garden refuse, leaves and ornamental trimmings are an excellent material for a compost pile.

One way to make a compost pile is to place alternate layers of organic matter and soil in a pile four to five feet wide and not more than five feet high. The soil layer should be two to three inches thick and the organic layer six inches thick.

Add to the soil one-half pound of complete fertilizer, such as 5-15-15 and one-half pound of superphosphate per square yard of soil used.

Moisten each layer as it is placed in the pile. After four to six weeks, turn the pile by cutting down from one end in thin slices and pile it in a new place.

Repeat the process a month later and by next spring the

Tests Show Sandbars Can Be a Problem

"Sandbars are not the number one problem we'd in the state, but when it's bad, it's very bad," reports Russ Moomaw, Nebraska district extension specialist.

In the north central Sand Hills area of the state for example, it is a major problem on a rather small percentage of the corn acreage, but very objectionable because of its spiny nature. Field sandbar is "in the southwest area of Nebraska also. Moomaw says, and it has long been a problem in the North Platte Valley.

Protecting Roses
Most winter injury to roses comes from the alternate freezing and thawing of the soil during warm spells in late winter. A mulch will prevent the soil from freezing too deep and will also act as an insulator.

At least 12 inches of mulch such as saw dust, garden soil or vermiculite make excellent mulch. Leaves may also be used if you make a cylinder 12 to 18 inches in diameter.

Wait until the soil has partially frozen before applying the mulch. Apply the mulch after the roses have been exposed to temperatures of about 25 degrees for several days and have dropped their leaves.

Egg Producers To Vote On Support Assessment

Egg producers will vote Nov. 3-28 on whether to assess themselves five cents per 30 dozen cartons of eggs to support poultry advertising and research programs.

"Consumers will benefit from this revenue by more nutrition information and from improved products without seeing an increase in retail prices," said Dr. Earl W. Gleaves of the Poultry and Wildlife Sciences Department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Gleaves said producers will vote by mail on the Egg Research and Consumer Information Act, which recently won congressional and presidential approval. Should industry and egg producers approve the Act, up to $6 million could be collected, depending on the number of producers participating in this voluntary program.

Neighbors Help Winside Farmer

Neighbors and friends gathered at the Richard Miller farm near Winside last week to pick corn for Miller who recently returned home from the hospital.

Furnishing combines to pick corn were Norman Deck, Kevin Marotz, and Lester and Steve Deck. Trucks were provided by Myron Deck, Doorn Krueger and Dale Deck and corn was parked by Douglas and Scott Deck and Leo and Howard Voss.

Helping to bale hay for Miller were Vernon, LaVerle, Brent and Kyle Miller, Chester and Curtis Marotz, LeRoy, Brian and Larry Ruback and Dean Janke and Dean Jr.

Women providing food for lunch were Mrs. LeRoy Ruback, Mrs. Chester Marotz, Mrs. Norman Deck and Mrs. LeRoy Damm. Lunch was served by Mrs. LeRoy Ruback and Linda, Mrs. Chester Marotz and Mrs. Vernon Miller.

cluster of burs. Seed spikes bear clusters of ten to thirty burs which are 1/4 to 1/2-inch in diameter with one to three seeds per bur. When eaten by livestock, these spiny burs easily stick into their flesh and can cause mouth infections.

Sandbar emerges with the corn and so competes with the corn plant during its most vulnerable early growth period for water, minerals and other vital plant nutrients. Because it is a low growing plant, it does not

Both of these classes meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

The third course in the series, "Gun Safety for Women," had its first meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, and will meet again Tuesday, Nov. 11 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Garden Tractor Reported Stolen
A John Deere garden tractor Sunday was reported stolen from the Carroll cemetery, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

The tractor, said to have been stolen sometime within the past week, was stored in a shed. A padlock on the shed door was cut according to the sheriff's office.
