

CPA President: Digging Out Deductibles Is Tedious but Important

Digging up evidence of all deductible expenses incurred during the year can be the most time-consuming part of income tax preparation, but it's essential to get the standard deduction of 16 percent of adjusted gross income used, said Duane Thelan, president of the Nebraska Society of Certified Public Accountants.

And even if the standard deduction is used, Thelan said, most taxpayers will probably want to add up deductions first to find out which method is more profitable.

That's why it is wise to make a thorough search of records, whether using the long or short form, and regardless of who prepares the return.

Deductible expenses to look for include medical and dental, taxes paid, contributions, interest paid, casualty or theft loss, child care and disabled dependent care, alimony, and unreimbursed business expenses.

Deductible medical and dental expenses include more than doctor, dentist and hospital bills, Thelan advised. They include prosthetic devices such as eyeglasses, dentures and hearing aids; special equipment such as wheelchairs; medical travel; special foods that may be required; and many other costs.

Put aside all receipts or canceled checks that may relate to health care and thus may be medical deductions, then refer to the tax instruction booklet or ask your tax preparer about them, Thelan said.

Drugs and medicines are deductible only to the extent that they exceed one percent of adjusted gross income. After subtracting the one percent, add drug and medicine costs to other medical bills, which then are subject to another exclusion of three percent of adjusted gross income. The only health expense not subject to the three percent exclusion is one half of medical insurance premiums; up to $150.

Deductions for taxes are limited to those paid to local, state and foreign governments, and include taxes on income, real estate, personal property, sales and gasoline. If a later refund of any of these taxes is expected, take the tax as a deduction in the year paid and include it in income when the refund is received.

Do not deduct taxes paid to the federal government, custom duties, motor vehicle or drivers' license fees or taxes on alcohol or tobacco, Thelan said. Also leave out assessments for local improvements and transfer taxes on the sale of homes; they're not deductible, either.

Contributions are deductible only if made to qualified organizations, of which Internal Revenue maintains a current list in all its offices. Almost all of the better known charitable, religious, educational and service organizations are on the list. If a non-cash gift worth more than $200 is claimed as a deduction, a statement must be attached to the return describing the item, telling how it was acquired, stating the fair market value and the terms under which the contribution was made, and giving certain other information.

When computing the deduction for interest paid, don't overlook the interest charged on credit card accounts and time payment plans, or the "points" paid when buying a house, Thelan said. Also include any penalty imposed for prepayment of a mortgage. Interest charged for an income tax deficiency is another deductible item.

Personal property casualty losses— from storms, fires, floods, etc.—and those caused by theft, are deductible only to the extent that they exceed insurance compensation of $100 per loss.

The amount of loss can be figured either as the difference in value of the property before and after the event, or as the cost of restoring it to its previous condition.

If the loss was caused by theft, be able to show that the item wasn't lost or misplaced by obtaining a theft report from the police department.

To qualify for the maximum deduction— up to $400 a month for child-care or dependent-care costs, taxpayers must have incurred those costs so that they could hold a full-time job. Payments for the care of a child under 15 or an invalid dependent or spouse must have gone to someone other than a relative. If income plus that of the spouse exceeded $18,000, part of the deduction is lost, and when joint income reaches $27,000, it is entirely lost.

Alimony is a tax deduction to the payer and taxable income to the receiver. Child support is neither. If, after a divorce becomes final, the payer of alimony decides to be more generous, increases not ordered by the court are not deductible.

Major deductions for an employee's job-related expenses for travel, transportation, gifts and entertainment are taken as adjustments to income.

But costs of many other income-producing activities can be claimed as ordinary deductions, for example:

- Employment agency fees and other job-seeking costs are now deductible even if they fail to produce a new job.
- Dues to unions or professional societies.
- Books, subscriptions, tools and uniforms needed to perform work or to supervise investments.
- Safe deposit box rental for retention of securities, etc.
- Fees of tax and other financial advisers.

As mentioned earlier, if a document points to even the possibility of a deduction, put it aside and let a tax adviser decide, Thelan said.

Leader Preparing Easter Seal Drive

Mrs. Mathilde Harms of Wayne is again this year in charge of the Easter Seal Drive in northeast Nebraska.

This marks the fifth year in which Mrs. Harms has organized the area campaign. She is busy now contacting volunteers in towns and rural areas, to help with the drive in their neighborhoods.

Mrs. Harms explained that the leader in each neighborhood will receive a contribution packet. After making their contribution, the leader takes the packet to their nearest neighbor. That procedure is repeated until everyone in the neighborhood has received the packet. The last person on the list then takes the contributions to a local depository.

The State National Bank will be the depository for funds collected in Wayne. Mrs. Harms said, by Friday she had signed up about 70 neighborhood leaders for the campaign in Wayne, and said she expected to complete the recruiting by Saturday. The list of names would then go to Nebraska Easter Seal headquarters in Omaha, where the neighborhood contribution packets will be prepared for mailing to leaders.

Wayne volunteers should be receiving the packets soon, Mrs. Harms said, and plans are for the Wayne campaign to be completed by the end of February.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Harms will be lining up leaders for other northeast Nebraska communities, including Wakefield, Pierce, Laurel, Carroll, Pender, Randolph, and Pliger, and the surrounding rural areas.

Packets should be received by campaign leaders in those areas around March 1, and the campaign should be finished by the end of March, Mrs. Harms said.

Winside Tot Burned

A one-year-old Winside youth, Trevor Hartman, received second degree burns about his neck and the front of his body Tuesday evening when he pulled up a cup of hot coffee over at his home.

Trevor, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen "Tuffy" Hartman, was taken to the Norfolk Lutheran Hospital. He will remain there about another 10 days undergoing treatment.

Legislation Could Alter Service Unit Operation

A bill now before the Nebraska legislature could drastically alter the relationship between school districts and educational service units (ESU), members of the Wayne community council were told Thursday night.

Harry Mills, director of ESU-1 which serves Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Knox, and Territory counties, explained that LB 726, introduced by Ralston Senator Gerald Koch, would reduce from one to one-half the unit's mill levy, and would force school districts to contract with the unit for services, which would be paid for by the schools.

ESU-1 now receives a one mill levy, and provides many services to contracting schools free of charge.

Mills said Friday that he opposes the legislation and is certain that educators in the 25 kindergarten through 12th grade schools in ESU-1 do also.

A number of services provided by the unit are mandated by state law, including speech therapy, psychological services, aid for visually handicapped, and courses for trainable mentally retarded children. The one-mill levy now paid by taxpayers in the service unit covers the expenses of those and other services.

Services not required by state law but provided by the service unit include a film library and visual aids.

If Koch's bill passes, schools would have to contract with ESU-1 for services, but would have to pay for them. The bill would leave the unit a one-half mill levy. Mills said. The revenue generated by the levy would be used solely for administrative expenses.

The bill would also change the method for selecting members of the service unit governing board. Now each county elects one member and four members are elected at large, giving the six-county unit a 10 member governing board.

LB 726 is approved as written, members of all school boards within the district would hold a convention to select service unit board members from among their own ranks.

Mills said he is opposed to that provision of the legislation. School board members have a big enough task without also having to serve on the service unit governing board, Mills said.

The alternate selection process could result in more populous counties or districts selecting the governing board, Mills said, adding that he believes the taxpayers should have the right to vote for members of the governing board.

Post Office Copier Plugged in Again

The copying machine in the Wayne post office has been plugged in again.

Post offices across the nation had been ordered to disconnect the machines effective Dec. 31. Wayne postmaster William Giese received a letter Friday morning authorizing renewed service by the copier.

Giese said he had been informed that he will receive a sign to post near the machine advising patrons with a large volume of copying to seek the services of a professional printing shop.

Postal service regulations prohibit placing copiers in post offices when similar services are available from private companies located within 500 feet.

Regulations also prohibit undercutting prices charged for copying by private businesses. Cost per copy at the post office is 15 cents.

Wayne Senior Wins Regents Scholarship

A Wayne High School senior will receive a four-year university of Nebraska Regents Scholarship.

High school guidance counselor Ken Carlson announced Thursday that Michael Schmoldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Schmoldt, has been selected for the award.

The Nebraska Regents award 100 of the four year scholarships to Nebraska students each year. Selection is based on high school scholastic record and results of the American College Test (ACT), used as an entrance exam by the university.

The scholarship pays all tuition during a four year undergraduate study program. The last Wayne student to receive a similar award was James Stevenson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevenson, in 1971.

Schmoldt has been active in drama speech and debate throughout his high school career. He recently shared honors with classmate Phil Koerber for best individual performance in the East and West Husker Conference one-act play competition.

Also a member of the high school German club, Schmoldt toured Germany last summer

In announcing that the copier could be back in operation, Giese said the service is offered mainly as a convenience for customers, echoing remarks he made when ordered to curtail service.

Better Babysitting Is Goal of Clinic

Area youths are invited to take part in a babysitting clinic to be held at Redeemer Lutheran Church social room in Wayne, according to Linda Sanders, area home extension agent.

After school sessions will run for four consecutive Monday afternoons, beginning Feb. 9 from 4 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Sanders said all youngsters in the Wayne area are invited to attend the clinic, adding that a H members enrolled in the child development project will especially benefit from the program. Youths who attend all four sessions will receive a certificate saying they have completed the program.

The clinic will be conducted by Mrs. Verdel Lutz, county child care leader, and will include such topics as responsibility of babysitters, toys, fire safety, and first aid

Holiday Won't Slow Assessors

Offices in the Wayne County courthouse will be closed Feb. 12 in observation of Lincoln's Birthday, county assessor Doris Stipp said, but special tax assessors will be available in Hoskins that day.

The assessors will help residents prepare property tax statements. Nebraska has self-assessment for personal property, Mrs. Stipp explained, and owners are responsible for ensuring that all taxable property is assessed in accordance with the determined actual value.

Special assessors are available every working day at the courthouse, which will also be closed Feb. 16 for Washington's Birthday.

The assessors will also be available in Carroll on Feb. 9, in Sholes on Feb. 10, and Winside on Feb. 11.

Household goods and personal effects are exempt from assessment and taxation when not used for financial gain.

However, the following items must be assessed, Mrs. Stipp said: boats and motors, airplanes, motor vehicles, stock cars, snowmobiles, golf carts, go-carts, motorcycles, motor scooters, farm machinery, live stock, feed, income-producing household furniture, fur-bearing animals, bees, poultry, tools used for profit, hay silage, and all types of irrigation equipment not assessed with real estate property.

Business equipment and fixtures must be declared on a business assessment schedule and merchandise inventories must be declared on a supplemental form. Details regarding inventories should agree with figures reported on federal income tax returns, Mrs. Stipp said. Custodians of leased or consigned property are responsible for assessment.

Teacher Negotiations Will Begin Wednesday

Wayne-Carroll School board members and representatives of the Wayne Education Association will meet Wednesday night to set up a timetable and establish working rules for faculty negotiations.

In their January meeting, the school board agreed to negotiate salary schedule, extra duty pay, income protection, sick leave and medical insurance.

The two latter items had not been incorporated in the WEA negotiation request but were added to the list because of their relation to income protection plans.

The WEA had proposed negotiating an agreement which would have guaranteed faculty members first chance at jobs which become vacant. The school board rejected the item on grounds that existing board policy and administrative procedures already guarantee due process in reviewing teacher candidates and in the election of teachers.

School board president Dr. Irv Brandt will be chairman for the board negotiating team, which also includes Milton Owens and Dale Stoltenberg.

Brandt said the first meeting after the agreement has been signed additional items for negotiation can be added only by mutual consent.

Taxpayers should bring their 1975 tax schedule or other records which show the year and model of machinery, Mrs. Stipp said. If the information is not available, owners should know the purchase price so items can be assessed according to a depreciation schedule.

Motor Vehicle Registrations During January Reach Record

More than 4,200 hundred motor vehicles had been registered with the Wayne County treasurer's office by Friday, the last working day for the office in January.

Treasurer Leon Meyer said the number is a record for the county for motor vehicles registered by the end of January.

A change in Nebraska law is probably responsible for the unusually high number of January registrations. Vehicles purchased after Jan. 1 will be registered upon purchase and hence after will be registered during the same month. The change is designed to spread registrations throughout the entire year.

Previously, all owners had from Jan. 1 until the end of February to register vehicles. Because of the change, owners this year were allowed to register during either January or February, but next year will have to register in the same months.

That means owners registering in January paid vehicle taxes for 12 months, while those registering in February will pay for 13 months. Apparently, a majority of Wayne County drivers opted to register early and pay the smaller amount, even though it will mean registering early next year.

Meyer said he expects to register a total of about 6,200 vehicles before the Feb. 29 deadline.

hicles by surprise because Meyer received only 3,000 stickers for January and had to order more.

Nebraska based its staggered registration system on a similar system in Idaho.

Tuition Total Is $168,000

Non-resident tuition payments for the first semester of the current academic year have been made to all but two schools expected to submit claims to Wayne County superintendent Fred Rickers said Friday.

Because semesters ended later at Wayne High and Norfolk High, claims have not yet been submitted for tuition payment for Wayne County students attending those two schools from other districts.

The total amount paid to seven schools which have submitted claims is $108,211.54.

Nearly half that amount—$51,229.58—went to the Winside school district, where 38 non-resident Wayne County students are attending. Winside charges $1,375 for non-resident tuition. Cost per pupil is estimated at $1,336.03.

I'm glad to see that a lecture by Charles Berlitz has been rescheduled at Wayne State. Hopefully, the third time will do it.

Berlitz is the author of "The Bermuda Triangle" about an area in the Western Atlantic where ships, planes and people disappear at irregular intervals, leaving no clue to their fate.

The book makes fascinating reading and is well-documented, although I must confess to being a bit skeptical about some of the happenings reported in it.

On the other hand, I couldn't help being suspicious when the lecture was cancelled a second time. The author was ill on one occasion and a blizzard prevented his appearance on the other. If the third date is also cancelled, I might just start wondering if someone, somewhere doesn't want Berlitz spreading the word about the mysterious triangle.

Pierce's Opportunities at The Line Overcome Blue Devils in Overtime

By DAN VODVARKA
Pierce paraded to the free throw line 44 times Friday night to stick Wayne 59-54 in overtime at the Wayne High auditorium.

With the host Blue Devils holding a 24-18 edge in the field goal department, Pierce took the ball game by hitting on only 50 per cent of its free throws. But free throws almost did the winners in during the final four minutes of the fourth quarter.

During the final minutes of regular time Pierce missed on seven straight one-and-one free throw situations and Wayne rallied from nine points down in the final two and a half minutes. Paul Mallette hit a 15-foot jumper with the clock running out to send the game into the extra period.

In overtime, however, the invading Jays again found their shooting eyes as they hit four straight free throws and a fielder to take a quick six-point lead and ice the win.

Wayne, now 4-7, was scheduled to travel to Schuyler Saturday night before beginning West Husker Conference action against Emerson-Hubbard on 8 tonight (Monday) in Wayne.

Wayne finished the game by hitting on 24 of 68 shots from the floor for 33 per cent while Pierce hit at a 47 per cent clip. Pierce held a 41-38 edge on the boards but also lead in turnovers 21-13.

"If we are going to have a decent record this year, we're going to have to beat the teams we should—and we should have beaten Pierce," Sharpe noted.

Throughout the contest, Pierce's big six-foot-seven center Curt Retzlaff controlled the inside and bothered Wayne's shooting. Retzlaff used his hands to put down 17 rebounds and flip in a dozen tallies.

The invaders grabbed the lead in the early going and only trailed once in the ball game. With 3:42 to go in the first half, Dave Hix hit a jumper to put Wayne on top 22-21 for the only time in the contest.

Unfortunately for the sluggish Devils, Hix's bucket was the last points of the half as Pierce scored six straight points and lead 27-22 at half.

The baskets must have looked like bad news to Pierce's Brad Luebe as he came out for the second half. Luebe swished three quick fielders to open the third quarter and within a minute the invaders suddenly held an 11 point advantage. That lead grew to 14 points at one time before Wayne rallied to narrow the margin to 41-38 on a Mallette bucket with 1:29 to go in the seasaw third period.

Wayne's load of fouls started to take its toll in the fourth period as Hix, Mallette and Lowe all had four fouls with over six minutes left in the fourth period and coach Sharpe went deep into his bench for fresh cagers.

COMING OFF the bench to help out the Devils Friday night was Vic Sharpe (32) as he struggles for a rebound with teammate Tim Koll (50) and Pierce Blueways Curt Retzlaff (43) and Brad Luebe (25).

Wayne finished the game by hitting on 24 of 68 shots from the floor for 33 per cent while Pierce hit at a 47 per cent clip. Pierce held a 41-38 edge on the boards but also lead in turnovers 21-13.

Bears 'Have To Work' For Win over O'Neill

Parks credited his players with a good solid ball game although the Bears had problems hitting the bottom of the hoop. Laurl hit on only 33 per cent of its shots the first half but finished the game 28 of 68 from the floor. "We played well enough to win," he pointed out.

Laurl finished the night with a 32-37 edge on the boards with Greg Pippitt getting nine rebounds. The Bears also forced O'Neill into 16 misses, while committing only eight turn overs.

Verlin Redlinger led the losers with 18 points while Pippitt had 21 points for Laurl. Jon Erwin had 16 and Brad Erwin 14.

Earlier in the year Laurl walked the cover O'Neill but Friday night it was different as the invaders stayed close throughout the contest.

"We blew O'Neill out the game early the first time we played. Parks explained, "but this time they controlled the tempo of the game and didn't try and run either. They were disciplined and took a good shot selection as they actually out shot us from the floor."

Coach Kathy O'Connor said she was pleased with her team's performance, but pointed out that the one area her girls will have to work on is to reduce the number of turnovers. Against O'Neill 12 11 10 20 — 57 Laurl 17 17 18 20 — 60

Ingredients Just Right For Spicy WS Victory

When you add our crisp play execution, aggressive rebounding, above average field shooting, that equals a Wayne State victory over Briar Cliff, 86-76.

It was spectacle Thursday night in Rice Auditorium for the largest—and lustiest—crowd of the year, about 1,400, as the Wildcats held momentum a decisive share of time. For Wayne fans, this had to be No. one of the season in old-fashioned excitement.

It didn't start that way. Briar Cliff's Chargers, coming in with a 12-5 record and several key wins over strong Iowa opponents, zipped up to a 12-5 lead within 5 1/2 minutes. A key to Briar Cliff success in that period was sensational shot blocking by Mack Jones. A few of those blocks impressed Wayne partisans as goal-tending, and later on a couple of them were called that way.

After that, 12-5 lead, however, Wildcat gunners found the range and within 2 1/2 minutes went ahead to stay on Lenzie Adams's three-point play for 17-15.

Fresh End 10-Year Drouth; Face Scotus in Meet Finals

Wayne High freshman cagers Thursday night ended what has been a 10-year drouth for local clubs to get into the finals of the Schuyler Invitational.

Behind the scoring of Brad Emry and Tom Ginn, Wayne downed North Bend, 55-33, to become the first fresh club to make the finals since Wayne won the tournament in 1966. The locals' Thursday night at 8:15 will take on Columbus Scotus for the tournament title.

Emry and Ginn scored 20 and 19 points to lead Wayne to its fifth victory in nine games. The pair, along with Al Nissen, chalked up 29 of the team's 52

Ponca Capitalizes on Allen Miscues

By BOB BARTLETT

Wipe out the second quarter and Allen might have chalked up its second straight win of the season.

That was the consensus of Allen High's coaching staff Friday night after arch rival Ponca knocked off the Eagles, 57-23, in a Lewis and Clark Conference battle at the Allen auditorium.

"We just lost our poise and started to hurry our shots," said Allen mentor Jim Moonitz about his team's play in the second period.

Using a press defense, Ponca took advantage of Allen's miscues in the second to break away from a 16-12 first quarter lead to post a 33-19 halftime advantage, which was too much for the inexperienced Eagles to cope with.

The closest the Eagles came to Ponca was early in the fourth stanza when Allen whiffed the lead to 40 points, 43-33, on a driving bucket by senior Jeff Creamer. Ponca soon countered with three unanswered buckets to get in control of the game once again.

Both clubs' scoring in the second half was about equal. Ponca tallied 24 and Allen had 23. Both teams also were about equal on the boards, with Allen having a slight edge, 44-41. In the turnover department, Ponca had 32 to 31 for Allen.

Although Ponca beat Allen from the field, 36 per cent to 28, Koonitz pointed out that the last time the two clubs met Ponca walked away with a 52-35 win.

"The kids have come a long way since that game. I'm happy with the way they performed to night," Koonitz said.

Junior Denny Uhl had one of his best games of the season, converting three fielders and 11 of 13 from the line for 17 points.

Senior Shawn Persinger continues to be the Eagles' leader on the boards as he hauled down 15 carrots. Vernal Roberts was second with 10 rebounds.

Defensively, Persinger was responsible for holding down one of Ponca's leading scorers, Kirk Malbus, who made 12 points. Junior Kevin Harder led the Indians with 15 points.

The 13 Eagles travel to Wait Hill Tuesday night. Ponca also was victorious in the JV game, taking a 51-28 contest.

Cats Travel to Wausa In Loop Finale

Wausa takes its 6-3 record in the Lewis and Clark Conference in Wausa Tuesday night when the Wildcats will play their final loop game of the season.

A win for coach Korlin Luff's Cats could secure them of at least a tie for second in the Clark division.

Friday night Winside racked up win No. five in the league this year when the visiting Cats snuffed out Coleridge, 59-47.

Seniors Bob Hoffman and Tyler Frevert ripped the bottom out of the nets for Winside, scoring 22 and 20 points respectively. Frevert was the scoring power in the first half as he put in 10 points Hoffman took over in the last two quarters where he tallied 14 points.

"We had a lot of turnovers which made it a bit easier for them than it should have been," Luff pointed out about Winside's 28 miscues. Coleridge led with 31.

Neither club was particularly hot from the field. Winside was four percentage points better from the field than Coleridge, which finished with a 31 per cent scoring average.

The game was a six point contest until about the middle of the third quarter when Winside began to pull away in the final game, which put Winside at sophomore Cliff Tilleria into early foul trouble with three personal fouls.

Wausa's reserves scored a 33-20 victory to give Winside its eighth loss in 10 games. Dan Burk's man was the gun for Win with 11 points.

Defensive Switch Is Key to 27-17 Laurel Victory

A switch in the second quarter from a zone defense to man-to-man turned the tide for Laurel girls Tuesday night as the area cage team overcame host Hartington High, 27-17.

Down by 5-3 going into the second period, Laurel made the defensive adjustment to stop Hartington from scoring while the Bearettes popped in nine points for a 12-5 halftime lead.

One of the keys to Laurel's fifth win in seven games was the defensive play of Jean Erwin. Erwin carried Hartington's leading pointmaker, Tammi Herbolshelzer, and held her to only six points.

Erwin also was the leader on rebounds, grabbing seven of the team's 28.

Roxann Gade was Laurel's scoring leader with 12 points. Top scorer for Hartington was Marsha Brummer with 10.

Both Laurel's varsity and reserves teams will be in action again Tuesday night when they travel to Bloomfield.

The JVs Thursday racked up their fourth win against three losses in a 22-4 beating of Hartington. Nancy Galvin led Laurel's balanced scoring with six points.

Coble: We Didn't Play Smart Basketball

West Point's fourth quarter stall tactics took its toll against Wakefield Friday night as the Cadets came from behind to claim a 40-35 victory.

Down by one point going into the fourth quarter, West Point began to slow the game down, throwing coach Joe Coble's crew out of its tempo of playing and resulting in Wakefield turnovers. West Point took advantage scoring a bucket and a free throw for a three point lead and held on to hand Wakefield its second straight loss and sixth of the season in 12 games.

"We didn't play very smart basketball tonight," said a disappointed Coble. "When you're playing against a zone defense you've got to take what a zone gives you we didn't," he added.

The Trojans failed to take advantage of their two scoring leaders, seniors Scott Keagle and Garry Roeber. In the first half Keagle, who plays the post, only got the ball seven times in the game converting five. And when Wakefield needed the pair in the second half, both along with teammate Tim Rouse were on the bench with three fouls each.

"We've got to use Keagle more often if we're going to win ball games, Coble pointed out. "Anytime you hold a team to 40 points, you should win."

West Point only had one man in double figures. He was Alan Pappas with 12 points. Wakefield's reserves did not pace a win for area fans. Led by Brad Jones and V.I. Johnson with 10 points each, the JVS dropped West Point, 45-35 for their seventh win against four losses Tuesday at 6:30 the varsity

This Community of Ours Is Not Perfect

... but we don't make it better by hauling a lot of our trading money across country to the traffic-traumatized crime jungles that smugly call themselves our "area shopping centers"

Our necessary but necessarily rapacious big cities have ghosted out a lot of once-thriving smaller communities by siphoning off their lifeblood (trading money) with the cooperation of the victims. After a community has city-shopped itself out of good sources of daily and emergency needs, good neighbors, good schools, good jobs and property values and other nice things, it is a little late to do much about it. Let's start stopping this development here. Now.

NRD Seeking Wildlife Acres

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (NRD) board of directors has approved payment totaling over $25,000 for some 1,500 acres enrolled in the district's "Lands for Wildlife" program.

Landowners receive $25 per acre each year for acres set aside and planted in crops such as alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, vetch or native grass. The goal is to convert some cropland acres to wildlife cover.

The payment is $27.50 per acre each year if public access is allowed on a three-year contract.

Farmers can apply for the program at the county Soil Conservation Service office, Wayne County SCS director Arnold Marr said about 300 acres in the county are now enrolled in the program, and he would like to see more.

Increased crop production has reduced wildlife habitat, Marr said. "SCS directors have surveyed the state by air," he said. "They were aghast at how little cover there is for wildlife."

The Lower Elkhorn NRD initiated the program, which is now also available in the Lewis and Clark, and Middle Missouri NRD's.

Landowners can sign up for the program now through March. Contracts for the wildlife acres are for three years, and no grazing is allowed, according to Lower Elkhorn NRD assistant manager Glenn Spreeman.

Spreeman said most landowners participating in the program are choosing cropland that needs building up to improve the soil, either by the addition of organic matter or nitrogen, by planting a legume.

Further details are available and county SCS offices.

some things just don't make cents saving does

It appears to us that fewer and fewer things are making good sense these days. Things come and go so fast that generally it seems we don't even begin to understand something before it's on its way out again. We do know one thing that continues to make real sense . . . or cents . . . depending on how you look at it. Depositing your money in a savings and loan institution will make so much cents for you that it's senseless not to give it a try.

Senator Frank Lewis of Bellevue, would allow school districts with more than 5,000 students to withdraw from existing service units and form their own units. Mills said the legislation would not affect any school districts in ESU-1.

Friday, Mills also outlined the services which school superintendents indicated their districts would contract for during the next school year.

All 25 of the kindergarten through 12th grade districts indicated they will contract for psychological testing and speech therapy. Twelve schools will contract for resource teachers for learning disability programs.

Also, 10 schools will contract for programs for trainable mentally retarded students, and seven will contract for services for visually handicapped students.

Mills said he will present to the ESU-1 governing board proposals for two additional services which could be provided for schools. Under one program, the unit would lease four or five "memory" typewriters. Five schools would have an opportunity to use the machines for six weeks in business classes, followed by another five schools for an additional six weeks. The 30 schools would then evaluate the experience. It would be up to the board to decide if it would be worthwhile to continue providing the machines, which record typed information for later retrieval.

The other service which Mills will propose to the governing board is microfilming of student records. South Sioux City, the largest school in the ESU-1 district, has requested the service to facilitate storage and safe keeping of records. Several other schools have also expressed interest, Mills said. Records for 2,400 students could be recorded on one film, Mills said.

Tuition

cost of $1,100 per semester. Randolph received $14,000 for 16 students. Non-resident tuition there is $1,750 per semester. Pending charges $1,125 per semester for each non-resident student. The school district received $11,750, for 11 Wayne County students.

Laurel received $9,000-$11,000 for each of nine students. Wakefield received $12,375 for 11 students, at a tuition rate of $1,125 per semester.

Pierce received $3,956.96. Five Wayne County students attended there. Tuition rate is $250 per semester.

Answering questions on the air will be Judy Greenwald, a drug counselor from the Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Health Center at Norfolk. The phone number for Mrs. Greenwald's question and answer session will be 375-2207.
