

Predicted Shortage Shouldn't Affect 'Austere' WSC Budgeting

By JIM STRAYER

It's too early to tell, but a projected $40 million shortage in state revenues this year probably won't dictate sweeping changes in the budgetary process at Wayne State College, president Dr. Lyle Seymour said Monday.

Gov. J. Elton Friday told state college-board-of-trustees members that new Revenue Department projections on state income have been reduced, and said the budget he will present to the next legislature will be "very austere."

Seymour said Wayne State and the other three state colleges have traditionally approached budgets with austerity in mind. "If austerity means making a reasonable request within realistic restraints,"

Elton seemingly lent support to that statement Friday, saying the trustees of the four state colleges had always used a "reasonable, intelligent approach" to budgeting, and said he had "never seen a budget from this group that generally speaking was not a reasonable one."

Elton told the trustees the Revenue Department had initially projected $517 million in state revenues for fiscal 1976-77, which began July 1. That figure has been revised to $475 million, Elton said. The figure is based on a current sales tax rate of 2.5 per cent and income tax rate of 15 per cent of federal income tax liability.

Elton had said previously that an increase in the sales tax to three per cent was a virtual certainty, and predicted that the state will face a "severe cash flow problem" after the first of January.

With the state facing a possible $40 million shortage from initial revenue projections for this year, Elton said, "there's not going to be a great deal of money available in the next budget."

Wayne State College and its sister campuses at Kearney, Chadron and Peru must submit to the governor by Sept. 15 their budget proposals for fiscal 1977-78, which will begin July 1, 1977.

Seymour said the budget will be approached by the college pretty much as it always has been, with an eye toward being as close to reflecting a realistic projection of what the state can afford for higher education.

"We obviously want to get our fair share," Seymour said. "I would like to see the whole spectrum of higher education get a fair share of revenue available within the restraints of an economy based on agriculture. I think that within reasonable limits, money spent on higher education is a good investment which is returned to the state."

One really significant increase in expenses faced in preparing the WSC 1977-78 budget is the new electric rate structure recently adopted by the city council as the result of the first rate study ever completed by the City of Wayne.

The college rate hike amounts to about 102 per cent. For example, the amount of electricity used by WSC in 1975 would have cost $69,000 before the most recent rate hike. Under the new rate structure that cost would jump to $143,000.

The city council agreed not to make the new rates immediately effective for the college because money for the fiscal year of 1976-77 had already been allocated.

"City officials have been very aware of our problem in that respect and we appreciate their cooperation," Dr. Seymour said. "We will reciprocate by being energy conscious."

Preliminary steps have already been taken to reduce the amount of energy used by WSC based on a careful study of demand.

"We are looking for ways to drastically reduce our demand for energy," the college president said. "We have been working to make all of our people energy conscious and we plan to accelerate the program."

One bright spot in the WSC financial outlook is an apparent increase in the number of students planning to attend this year. So far, 126 new students, freshmen and students transferring from other colleges — have registered for the fall semester. Dr. Seymour said it is always difficult to judge what the situation will be regarding retention of students from the previous semester, but the number of new students indicates, total enrollment should be higher than last year.

One new faculty member will be added for a special education program, but basically the college will handle any influx of new students with faculty staffing at its current level.

Dormitory occupancy will also be increasing. Last year 918 students signed contracts to live in campus dorms. Seymour said 1,070 dorm contracts have been signed already for the fall.

The increased dorm occupancy will have a couple of significant effects. The higher occupancy will mean the college can continue to meet through dormitory revenues outstanding bonds of indebtedness incurred when new dorms were built during the enrollment boom years on the campus in the late 60s.

At the same time, higher occupancy means the college can provide better dorm facilities for students. Turner Hall will be reopened in the fall to help handle the increased occupancy, and rooms in that building have been refurbished, even to the extent of providing kitchens in some. The goal is to make dorm life more attractive and fun.

Turner Hall has been refurbished in other dormitories, some carpeting has been installed, and other improvements have been made.

"We're very encouraged by the increase in dorm occupancy," Dr. Seymour said. "As a result, our financial position is more secure. We will be able to meet the revenue bonds of indebtedness, and at the same time provide better opportunities and living conditions for our students."

That could prove important for the college, Seymour said. "How we handle our allocation for this year will establish our credibility for requests we will be making for next year."

Schools Retain AA Rating

Wayne County schools have retained their Class AA rating for another year, superintendent Francis Haun told board of education members during their regular meeting Monday night.

The school system first qualified for the top rating by the State Board of Education in 1971. Selection is based on overall curriculum, evaluation of staff, and facilities. Haun said the total number of teachers in the system with masters degrees played an important part in retaining the accreditation.

Evaluation was done by the State Accreditation Committee. Utilities will be costing the school system more this year according to reports. Haun presented to the board. Natural gas increased in price by eight per cent at the beginning of August. Haun said that will mean an overall increase of about $1,300 for the school system.

Higher prices under the City of Wayne's new electric rate structure will also mean increased costs for the school district. Haun did not receive from the city an estimate of costs under the new structure until after the budget for fiscal 1976-77 had been approved. That budget included $7,700 for high school electric bills, but the tab will be slightly more than $16,000, based on estimated usage. Budgeted amount for the Middle School and West Elementary School is $5,500. Estimated cost under the new rate structure is about $7,000.

Work is nearing completion on the new athletic field being built just south of the elementary school and the board took action Monday to arrange for seeding and sodding of the field.

Sloping areas will be sodded to help ensure growth and prevent erosion. Level areas, including the football playing field inside the new track, will be seeded.

About $7,000 will be added to the school district's treasury if the Unicameral comes through with a $2.5 million deficit appropriation during its next session. The money was supposed to have been disbursed as state aid to schools this year, but the state couldn't come up with the money. The possibility of allocating the money as a deficit appropriation has been discussed.

600 Participate In Free Blood

Over 600 persons participated in a blood pressure clinic sponsored by Wayne Kiwanis Club and Wayne County Home Extension Club Friday and Saturday at the Wayne County Fair.

The clinic was the first of its kind in the area and was designed to give persons an idea if their blood pressure was too high or too low, said Kiwanis Leon Meyer, one of two representatives who helped organize the clinic. Also helping was Anna Marie Krefeltes, area extension agent from the Northeast Nebraska Station near Concord.

The Nebraska Heart Association supplied all the testing forms and materials for as accurate a test as possible, Miss Krefeltes pointed out.

Selig Resigns

Wayne Force

Another police officer has resigned his position on the Wayne Police Department, the second to resign in the past month.

Sgt. Robert Selig, notified police chief Verry Fairchild Sunday that he would be leaving Aug. 22. He joined the Wayne force in November of 1974.

The 25-year-old Alexandria native and his wife, Kathy, intend to move to Kalamazoo, Mich., where Selig plans to continue his education.

Selig's resignation drops the number of full-time officers on the Wayne force to five. Earlier, LeRoy Janssen handed his resignation to become the second deputy sheriff for Wayne County.

ASCS Needs Irrigation Reports

The Wayne County ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) office is requesting all irrigators to report their irrigated acreage of feed grain crops. Ray Butts, executive director of the Wayne County ASCS office explained that the report is needed to establish equitable yields for the disaster program.

Payments can be made under the disaster program for exceptionally low yields and for extremely low market prices. Butts said no payments have been made under the program for low market prices as yet.

Low yield disaster payments have been made.

Disaster payments are not limited to drought conditions according to Mr. Butts. Hail and

Woman, Son Injured in Accident Sunday

A fatal Watkefield woman and her two-year-old son were hospitalized Sunday afternoon following a collision at an intersection three miles south and one east of Wayne.

Robert Benthack Monday said Mrs. Roger Hansen and her son, Bradley were both in good condition at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Bradley suffered a cut scalp and other cuts and bruises in the accident. Mrs. Hansen sustained several fractured ribs in addition to head cuts.

The driver of the other vehicle, Scott Niemann, 22, of Wayne was not taken to the hospital and apparently was not injured.

Wayne County sheriff Don Weible said Mrs. Hansen was eastbound on a county road near Niemann was southbound when their cars collided at an intersection at about 1:15 p.m. Both cars were total losses.

Sheriff's department and state patrol officers investigated a second mishap about 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Scotty Thompson checks damage on a car involved in a collision Sunday afternoon southeast of Wayne. Mrs. Roger Hansen and her two-year-old son Bradley were hospitalized following the mishap.

Lester McKibben, 77, of Norfolk, apparently suffered a heart attack while eastbound on Highway 35 just west of the fairgrounds road intersection.

The McKibben auto drove off an embankment on the south side of the highway, but Mrs. McKibben, a passenger, was not injured.

Dr. Benthack said the Norfolk man apparently died from a heart attack while driving. Weible said the death will not be recorded as a traffic fatality.

Val Peterson, former Nebraska governor and U.S. ambassador, is teaching a course called World Politics at North-east Technical Community College, co-sponsor of the class with Wayne State, Wednesday evenings from Sept. 15 to Nov. 17.

Continuing Education Schedule Is Available

A booklet describing continuing education courses at Wayne State College this fall is available now. Dr. Don Keck, director, said Tuesday.

Copies can be obtained from his office in Hahn Administration Building. Keck also is mailing the booklet to guidance counselors at public high schools of Northeast Nebraska and to students who enrolled in previous continuing education courses.

In recent years, courses in learning disabilities are conspicuous in the continuing education program. All of them this fall are being offered in other towns—three in South Sioux City, three in Columbus, two in Central City, one in Atkinson.

With one exception, all the LD courses are weekend workshops meeting on a Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday, then on a Saturday several weeks later.

The exception is a class in identification of specific learning disability problems which will meet in South Sioux City for eight Monday nights starting Sept. 13.

Two travel study courses in drama will be offered—one of them to Minneapolis, Sept. 22-26, the other to New York Dec. 27-Jan. 3. Both groups will see several plays.

Seven additional appointments to the Wayne State College faculty were announced Tuesday by President Lyle Seymour.

Fewer Visitors, More Exhibitors At County Fair

More people took part as exhibitors in this year's Wayne County Fair than last year, but attendance dropped off somewhat.

County agent Don Spitz said number of livestock in 4-H shows increased for all categories except swine. In fact, Spitz said, room for the livestock was somewhat limited, despite a new shelter completed last week before the fair.

Gate receipts indicate attendance was down, however. Fair manager Marilyn Koch estimated total attendance at from See FAIR, page 10.

Dr. Herbert Brenden, assistant professor of education; Dr. Marvin Beamer, director of residence life and assistant professor of education; Dr. William Fagan, assistant professor of business; Peter Black, assistant professor of sociology; Mrs. Margaret Hansen, instructor of home economics; Joy Verlinde, instructor of speech; and Claude Wispie, instructor of health, physical education and recreation.

Dr. Brenden has seven years of college teaching experience, three years as a graduate assistant, 18 months teaching in public schools. He earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Minnesota, master of arts in education and doctor of education degrees from Ball State University. He is married.

Dr. Beamer has four years experience as a residence hall director, one year of high school teaching and one year's college teaching. He received bachelor of science and master of science degrees in education from Illinois State University, a doctorate degree from Northern Colorado. He is married and has two children.

Dr. Fagan had nearly 30 years service in The Marine Corps before retirement as a colonel. Recently he has been director of external programs for Chapman College, Orange, Calif. He earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Oregon, master of business education from Stanford University, doctorate from U.S. International University, San Diego. He is married and has two children.

Black, a Peace Corps volunteer four years and college teacher one year, is near completion of a Ph.D. from California San Diego after receiving a master of arts there and a bachelor of science degree from Columbia University. He is married and has one child. See FACULTY, page 10.

Sunday Concert Signals Close of Music Camp

Camp Capers during the annual Wayne State College Summer Music Camp featured a number of acts including Dixon County youths.

Camp Capers is the annual variety show performed by students attending the camp.

Nationally renowned William Dawson, choral conductor and composer from Tuskegee, Ala., came to Wayne State the past week to direct the music camp honor choir. For the singers, it proved to be a demanding experience while Dawson drilled on details. Sometimes the choir uttered only one word before he signaled stop. He alternately chided, praised, frowned, smiled through rehearsals.

The first public test came Friday night. Result: a polished-sounding performance. More practice Saturday before the traditional camp finale, a 2:30 Sunday concert in the Fine Arts Center, featuring all the camp ensembles.

Dr. Van Minden of Allen and Jeff Hillier of Miles City, Mont., nephew of Dr. Sid Hillier of Wayne, sang a medley of songs accompanied by Molly Knerl of Ponca.

Susan, Lori and Karl Erwin of Allen had another vocal act, and Kelly Kardell of Laurel sang a solo. Also during the camp, Karl Erwin, last year's queen, crowned Brian Magwire of Spencer and Mary Heiland of Woodbury, Iowa, as camp king and queen.

Lori Von Minden, also from Allen, accompanied a trio which sang "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," and Karl Erwin was accompanist for several acts.

Police Chief Warns Against Phone Fraud

Wayne police chief Vern Fairchild is urging caution in responding to telephone solicitations for funds or advertising.

The police chief noted that while some worthwhile organizations use telephone campaigns for raising funds, many such solicitations later prove to be a complete hoax, or made by groups which oversell their sponsorship.

One type of solicitation being made in the Wayne area now is by groups asking businessmen to purchase advertising in publications supposedly sponsored by law enforcement agencies.

Fairchild said receiving solicitations by the Police Officers' Association of Nebraska are made in person, not by telephone. The organization is an association of municipal law enforcement officers.

Fairchild said a number of Nebraska businessmen has apparently committed them; selves recently to pay funds to organizations not properly identified in telephone solicitation. He advised anyone receiving such calls to ask the solicitor to come by in person.

Democrat Favors Registration

Democratic congressional candidate Pauline Anderson criticized her opponent Republican Charles Thone for his stand on a proposed postcard registration law.

"For many years, Democrats have been deeply concerned about the lack of public participation in the decision-making process, and this legislation is intended to break down the barriers created by restrictive state registration laws," Mrs. Anderson said.

She pointed out that in the 1960 election, with the largest voter turnout of modern times, 35 million people failed to vote, primarily, she said, because they weren't registered.

"The right to vote is what democracy is all about," Mrs. Anderson said, "and the reason why a universal voter registration law is a primary concern in the Carter campaign.

"The issue is not how county clerks file the postcards, as Mr. Thone seems to think. The issue is strengthening the democratic process and I hope the bill is enacted promptly."

While in Wayne during the Wayne County Fair, Mrs. Anderson also criticized Thone's vote against overriding a presidential veto of a public works bill.

"I think there are enough unemployed Nebraskans to be concerned about attitudes toward jobs. The Nebraska congressional delegation voting against the legislation is the same as saying Nebraskans should not participate in the program." See DEMOCRAT, page 10.

September Wedding

Making plans for a September wedding are Ruth Vahlkamp and Jerry Wurts of Lincoln. Miss Vahlkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vahlkamp of Winside, attended Wayne State College and graduated from the University of Nebraska. She is employed at Hy-Gain as a commercial artist.

Her fiance, who is the son of Mrs. Russell Halloway and the late Virgil Wurts of Aurora, attends the University of Nebraska and is also employed at Hy-Gain.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Outstanding Young Women Includes Local Wife, Mother

A Wayne woman, Mrs. Richard (Rebecca Deit) Keidel, has been selected for inclusion in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, the second such honor she has received.

Mrs. Keidel was nominated for the honor by Ed Elliott, vice president for academic affairs at Wayne State College. She was also chosen to appear in the publication two years ago.

Patricia Lee Rhoades, who taught last year in the business department at Wayne State College, has also been selected to appear in the 1970 publication. She recently moved to Chappell, Neb., and will teach at Hays State College in Kansas this fall.

Now in its 12th year, the Outstanding Young Women of America program recognizes young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, in their professions and in their communities.

From the list of about 7,000 fellow Outstanding Young Women of America, 51 state winners will be chosen, and from those 50, 10 national winners will be picked. National winners will be honored at the annual awards luncheon to be held this fall in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Keidel, 34, is the mother of two children, Jeffrey, nine years old, and Bethany, age six. The family lives at 1308 Douglas St., in Wayne.

They are members of the First-United Methodist Church, Wayne, where Mrs. Keidel serves as a Sunday school teacher and treasurer of United Methodist Women. She currently serves on the church's facility development committee, and, in the past, has served on the Council on Ministries and education commission, in addition to heading up the annual Christmas Fair sponsored by the UMW.

She is a member of the Wayne Hospital Auxiliary and PEO, and has served as den mother for Cub Scout Pack 221, Den 1, and also as president of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Keidel is president of the hospital foundation, which was instrumental in establishing a new hospital in Wayne. She is also actively involved in project Preclude and Prevent, a program designed to identify pre-school children with development problems, and teach parents how to work with the youngsters in their home. Mrs. Keidel wrote a booklet which is available to other communities, outlining the program and its effectiveness.

In addition, Mrs. Keidel served as a volunteer aid for innovative program to help students with language disabilities, and currently serves on the community council which promotes community awareness for the Wayne developed program.

Mrs. Keidel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.H. Lyman of Hampton, Ia. She graduated from Keye Paha County High School at Springfield, Neb., and received her bachelor of arts in education degree from Wayne State College in 1962 and her master of arts degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 1970.

She and her husband were married in 1962, and both taught in the Omaha School system for two years. She taught junior high school in Lincoln for three years while her husband attended pharmacy college. The couple moved to Wayne in 1969 and purchased Sav Mor Drug in 1971.

Mrs. Keidel teaches in the English department at Wayne State College part of this summer. She is teaching advanced composition. She enjoys crewel embroidery, which she also taught at Wayne State, sewing, reading, cooking and bridge.

Weselohs Mark 59th Anniversary

About 125 guests attended the open house reception honoring the 59th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weseloh of Wayne, held Sunday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The event was hosted by the couple's children, Mrs. Leona Schindler of Harrington, Mrs. Caroline Cross and Mrs. Lois McAllister, both of Omaha, and Mrs. Ruth Kolb of Lincoln. Weselohs have 14 grandchildren, 22 great grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Elroy Brogrens Wed Saturday at Redeemer

Now at home at rural Hoskins are Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Brogren who were married in Saturday evening rites at the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Mrs. Brogren, nee Julie Hagemann, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hagemann Sr. of Wayne. A 1952 graduate of Wayne High School, she is employed at the Wayne Police Department.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brogren of Hoskins. He graduated from Wigsdale High School in 1968 and is engaged in farming.

Laura Hagemann of Wayne and Neil Brogren of Fort Calhoun, the bridegroom's brother, want the couple's honor attendants.

Bridesmaids were Theresa Sievers and Cheryl Hagemann, both of Wayne, and groomsmen were Rick Austin of Hoskins and Dennis Rautsch of Norfolk.

The wedding party also included Dawn Hagemann of Wayne as flower girl, Eric Brogren of Fort Calhoun as ring bearer, and Kevin Siedschlag and Barry Bowers, both of Winside, as candlelighters.

Ushers were Ervin Hagemann Jr. of Wayne, Ivan Koepke of Hoskins, Darvin Smith of McCool Junction and Don Molacek of Howells.

The Rev. S.K. deFreese of Wayne, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Karen Koepke of Hoskins sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Rae Kugler of Wayne.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown of nylon over crepe, which was fashioned by her mother. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline, long sheer sleeves with buttons at the cuffs, and a long train. Her finger tip veil was attached to a floral headpiece of blue and lavender stephanotis and baby's breath, and she carried blue and white miniature mums and white and lavender stephanotis with baby's breath and trailing ivy.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length dresses of white lacy with blue and lavender flowers, styled with cap sleeves, and carried nosegays of blue and white mums and baby's breath.

The men wore light blue jackets trimmed in black velvet, black trousers, blue ruffled shirts and black velvet bow ties.

After her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hagemann wore a floor-length dress of blue and lavender floral chiffon with a jacket.

McCormick of Dakota City and Yvonne Siedschlag of Norfolk cut and served the bride and groom's cakes, which were baked by the bridegroom's mother, Ann Brogren of Fort Calhoun and Lois Bowers of Winside. Punch was served by Kathy Nassu and Renee Molacek of Howells.

Waitresses were Jackie Gramberg, Joanie Bowers and Mary Bowler, all of Winside, and Renee Molacek of Howells. Ladies of the church assisted in the kitchen.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Colorado and will be at home after Aug. 9.

MR. AND MRS. ELROY BROGREN

Wayne Represented At Public Hearing

Mrs. Joceli Bull, director of the Wayne Senior Citizens Center, is attending a meeting in Lincoln today (Thursday) and Friday of the Nebraska Commission on Aging.

During the meeting, the commission will be reviewing grant applications for over $2 million in federal funds. In addition to reviewing the state plan for the delivery of services to the aged, the commission will inspect the plans of the state's six Area Agencies on Aging.

The meeting, which takes place at the Clayton House Hotel, is open to the public.

Late Surge Lifts Wayne To Victory

Wayne town team battles Newcastle tonight (Thursday) in the finals of the best-of-five series for a berth in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League post-season playoffs.

The locals scored a 5-3 come-from-behind victory over Newcastle Sunday night on a pair of runs in the seventh and one in the eighth to even the series at one apiece.

Newcastle hurler Scott Miller walked Mike Meyer and Bob Nelson to open the seventh. Meyer scored on a base hit by winning pitcher Lyle Blivens and Nelson crossed the plate on a sacrifice bunt by Steve Hix.

In the eighth Wayne loaded the bases when Larry Raabe walked and Mic Daehnke and Rick Ginn hit back-to-back singles. Miller walked Meyer to score Raabe from third.

Wayne built a 2-1 lead in the opening frame on a run-scoring fielder's choice by Mic Daehnke who scored Mike Creighton, and a single by Rick Ginn who scored Hix.

The winner tonight will advance to the playoffs against Homer. The best of three-game series is expected to start Sunday night.

Wayne Coach Suffers Attack

Wayne High football coach Allen Hansen is in stable condition at Providence Medical Center following a heart attack Friday afternoon at his home.

Hansen, 48, was taken to Wisconsin Clinic where it was diagnosed that his chest pain was a heart attack and he was immediately rushed by ambulance to the hospital.

According to his physician, Hansen's condition won't be completely known until test results are available by the end of this week.

Wayne Victory Is First over Area Club

Juniors Level Wakefield for Berth in Area Meet

By BOB BARTLETT
Wayne Juniors scored a first of the season Saturday night. And in the eyes of coach Hank Overin that was the team's best.

The locals polished off an alert

Wakefield squad, 4-1, in the finals of the American Junior Legion tournament at Coleridge and earned a spot in the four-team area tournament at Wakefield. The area meet starts tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 when Wayne meets Scribner. That game will be followed at 8:30 by the Dodge-Pender matchup.

The only way Overin described his club's first win over Wakefield in four starts, this season "the team's best play of the year." The locals committed only one miscue and with a stout defense and the four-hit pitching of righthander Paul Mallette he allowed Wakefield to score only one run. Meanwhile, Wayne took advantage of three costly Wakefield errors, including one in the opening frame to take a 1-0 lead.

Mallette, who walked, stole second and advanced to third on a sacrifice fly by Monte Lowe, beat the throw to home on Dave Hix's attempted bunt. The ball bounced to pitcher Mike Soderberg, but the throw to catcher Dave Gustafson bounced out of his glove.

Wayne took charge in the fourth frame with three runs off a single error and a passed ball to forge a 4-0 margin. Center fielder Mike Sharer opened with a walk and moved to second on Mike Manes' sacrifice bunt. A passed ball put Sharer on third before a squeeze bunt by Randy Park scored Sharer as the throw by Soderberg missed Gustafson. Park later scored on a base hit by third baseman Gary Munter. Munter scored on a passed ball after he went to third on a single by Bob Keating.

Wakefield put one run on the board in the fifth when center fielder Scott Mills singled and later scored when catcher Manes dropped the ball in a chasedown between third and home.

Twice Wayne had chances to blow the game wide open when the Juniors had the bases loaded in the third and seventh frames. With one out in the third, Wayne loaded the sacks on back-to-back singles by Keating and Mallette and a walk by Lowe. But Soderberg thwarted the scoring attempt with one strikeout and the infield recorded the last out on a throw from second baseman Wes Lueth to first baseman Chuck Wageman followed right fielder Aaron Nissen's infield ground. In the seventh with one away, Lowe opened with a single followed by Hix's double and a walk to Nissen. Soderberg again came through with a pair of strikeouts.

Mallette whiffed a total of 14 of the 25 Wakefield batters he faced in the seven-inning final.

Wakefield Midgets Win Tourney Crown

Wakefield Midgets unnerved Coleridge hurler Brian Smith for five runs in the third inning, then went on to post an easy 14-4 victory for the District 3 Class C title at Coleridge Saturday night.

Smith had been heaving strikes the first two frames to help keep his club in front 1-0, but made one mental mistake in the top of the third to completely turn the tables.

Wakefield had runners on first and second when Smith fielded a grounder. Instead of throwing to first for the easy out, he hesitated before he overthrew third base to score one of five runs in that frame.

"Their pitcher looked better when they were scoring," said Wakefield coach Paul Eaton, "but in the third he wasn't real effective." Eaton pointed out that going into the final game, Wakefield already had played the toughest team in the tournament, Wayne. Wakefield won that match, 2-1, after taking a forfeit win from Coleridge on Sunday.

Center fielder Jono Kline was the power hitter for Eaton's crew Saturday. He drilled a pair of doubles and connected on two singles, and also scored three runs.

Pitcher Brad Jones, who relieved starter Dean Sharpe after Coleridge scored its first run in the second frame, got credit for See WAKEFIELD, page 5.

After opening the state Class A men's slow pitch softball tournament Saturday with a 6-5 victory over a Lincoln team, Mike's Tavern of Wayne suffered two straight setbacks and was knocked out of the 32 team double elimination tournament at Bellevue.

Mike's dropped a pair of games to teams from Bellevue, 16-4 and 10-0

Trubey: We're Ready to Meet the South

North head all-star basketball coach Ken Trubey of Ord and assistant Dentey Borgen of Columbus feel their team is ready to play in the Nebraska Coaches Association basketball doubleheader tonight (Thursday) and Friday night in North Platte and Lincoln.

The North Stars ended training camp Wednesday following a week's practice at Wayne State. For the Stars and coaches the training camp ended on a happy note as they defeated a group of Northeast Nebraska players 80-74 Tuesday night. Creighton Prep all-star Ted Parks led the North with 16 points. Wallhill's Jay Bellar was next with 14.

The win left Trubey and Borgen pleased with the North's defensive play as the Yankee all stars will need a top defensive effort to stop the South's inside play. "We were going against a physical group of players Tuesday night," Trubey said.

The two coaches also felt the North's offensive play was improved. Trubey and Borgen were concerned about their squad's "team effort." Following a Sunday evening scrimmage, but Tuesday's scrimmage erased some of the doubt.

"Our shot selection improved, which is an indication that we played together better as a team," Borgen said. "We didn't run our full court offense as well but I feel that has to do with the muscular opposition we were playing," he added.

In order for the North to improve its 4-3 series edge over the South tonight, Trubey believes the Yanks must take advantage of its quickness. He said the South holds a muscular height advantage.

"Because of their height advantage we must use an effective fastbreak," Trubey said. "Hopefully some offensive miscues will result letting us score some quick points."

Laurel Juniors Take on Wynot in Class B Meet

Laurel's Juniors will take a 19-3 record into the second night of the American Legion Class B area tournament at O'Neill tonight (Thursday) when the winners of the Ralph Bishop League face Wynot at 8:15.

Coach Bob Weisenberg's club drew a bye in the first round of the five-team tournament which opened Tuesday night. Other clubs in the tourney are O'Neill, Hartington and Albion.

Jeff Creamer likely will start on the mound for Laurel. He'll get the support of the club's leading hitters Brian Blatchford, Brad Erwin, Gordie Kardel and Cleve Stolpe, all of whom are hitting close to .300.

Backstop/Bob Bartlett

LAST WEEK'S district Class C American Legion Midget tournament at Coleridge has left a bad taste in the mouths of at least three area coaches. Their complaint of tournament officials designing the brackets in favor of their home team can be justified by a quick glance at how the tournament was set up. In the top bracket were teams from Emerson, Wayne and Wakefield. In the bottom half of the six-team meet were Laurel, Randolph and Coleridge.

Clearly, the bottom half was made up of the weaker of the six clubs while the top half had the strong teams. As it turned out the tournament two stronger teams, Wayne and Wakefield, were forced to battle it out in the second night of the tourney. Coleridge, which drew a bye the first night, got by Laurel the second night to earn a ticket into the finals.

Although Coleridge lost to Wakefield in the finals, Wayne coach Hank Overin along with Wakefield owner Paul Eaton and Laurel coach Bob Weisenberg intend to file a complaint with state officials about the way the teams were placed.

If they would have seeded teams according to records, the way most tournaments are set up there wouldn't have been any complaints, Overin pointed out.

Why weren't teams seeded in the tournament? District director Jay Drake was unavailable for comment, but he was quoted as letting Overin that the tournament teams weren't seeded according to records, because "records don't mean anything." Drake said that tournament held at Wayne usually have Wayne either the first or second seeded team, and as a result Wayne usually stays in the tournament longer. He wanted to eliminate a Wayne Wakefield final.

TO HELP resolve the possibility of that problem creeping up next year in other district tournaments, Hank has a proposal to completely drop district tournament in favor of area meets.

His proposal: Lump the 34 Class C teams across the state into three area tournaments with eight teams each and one area tourney with 10 teams. Make it double elimination and advance the winners to the state meet.

The purpose is to reduce the number of games Class C teams have to play, compared to Class B and A teams have to play in order to qualify for the state tournament.

If all goes well, Hank hopes to present this idea to Legion officials for their consideration prior to tournament time next year.

RUNDOWNS: Play in the Ralph Bishop League baseball and softball leagues is nearly complete and some of the division winners have been named.

In softball, Winside won the 18 and under category, Wayne won 15 and under, and Wayne and Winside 13 and under teams tied for first place.

In baseball, Wakefield won Little League and Wayne won Ponies, and Wayne and Emerson tied for first in Pee Wees.

Food Entries Add Flavor To Fair

Wayne County 4-H youngsters displayed their talents as cooks during the county fair. Forty-two of the youngsters had food entries selected to go on for state fair competition. Lori and Barbara Gnirk and Kay Woodman qualified for the state contest with their peanut butter cookies. The same trio will also enter their one egg cakes in the competition in Lincoln.

In cookies for a hike contest, state fair exhibitors will be Karl Wittler and Marilyn Strate, Michelle Kubik, Anita Sandahi and Kay Woodman qualified in the breakfast quick bread contest. Quick loaf bread winners were Gloria Splitteger, Dianne Puls and Lisa Peters. Roxane Rhode will enter the state fair with her meal planning card project.

An international touch was added by Gwen Victor's baked food from another country entry which earned her a trip to Lincoln, and Carol Baird's teens entertain party plans entry won her the right to compete at the state fair. Anita Liska won in the food in pioneer days contest. She also won in the jar of fruit or vegetable contest.

Shirley Kleinsang, Megan Owens and Sheila Gramlich won the baked yeast product contest, and Becky Glassmeyer and Judy Temme will round out the county's state fair food entries in the quick dinner division. Ribbons awarded during the

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wittse
"There can be no substitute for the age-old commonplace qualities of truth, justice, courage, thrift and sympathy with the feelings of others."
Theodore Roosevelt

The world has changed remarkably since Teddy Roosevelt uttered these words. Changing technology, especially, has altered our way of life, our moral codes, the size of our world.

Yet, through trial and failure, people are learning that there are no substitutes for these basic qualities. They built our present world and they will build us an even better one. We will give them a chance.

We have no "standard" service. Our service for every family is tailored to meet their specific needs, no matter how unusual they may be.

Wiltse Mortuaries

Wayne, Laurel and Wesside

INVENTOR James Frager of Fairfield was at the Wayne County Fair, demonstrating his "reverse-a-ball" toy. Idea for the toy grew from a project to come up with a device to demonstrate rotation and orbital motion to his science class.

Just Playing Around

Fairfield science instructor James Frager started out to design something to principles of orbit and rotational motion and ended up going into the toy business.

Frager spent two days at the Wayne County Fair demonstrating his "reverse-a-ball" toy, which he hopes will take the place of the yo-yo in the toyland hierarchy.

The science teacher's invention consists of two different sized sponge rubber balls, connected by a string which is threaded through a wooden tube.

The tube serves as a handle, which is held static in one hand. The small ball is allowed to swing like a pendulum.

By pulling the string at the right time, the small ball can be made to rotate. That probably doesn't sound too impressive in print, and Frager admits that one of the chief obstacles faced in promoting his creation is the difficulty in learning how to operate it from package instructions.

It just about has to be demonstrated to be understood. I've been traveling around this summer showing how it works, and it's usually a hit after people see what to do with it.

Frager thinks the key to really big-time success would be television promotion, and that just might happen. He said he is now in the process of negotiation with a national company to manufacture and distribute the items.

Breaking into the toy business isn't easy, he revealed. The initial investment has been expensive. He has spent about $2,000 so far in pursuing a patent for the toy. Having a patent pending is the ideal situation in the toy industry.

Frager said. After a patent is granted, other manufacturers know exactly what they can and can't copy.

"It's a real cut throat business," Frager said. "Someone is always trying to steal your ideas, and the profit margin is low."

The inventor will return to the classroom this fall, but he's been bitten by the toy bug. He has four, or five other toy ideas now he would like to promote, and one just might become a fad to rival the hula hoop. What are those ideas?

The inventor isn't saying much about that just yet.

They almost take your breath away, don't they?

Let's face it. It's not everyday you see an ad that offers you you-know-what. Matter of fact, this is maybe the first and only day.

But, it's true. Every two words of it.

It's really all very simple. We have a remarkable thing called the Bankers Travel Card. It's a discount card, good at many, many places of business throughout the United States and Canada.

Eat things, drink and rent things, buy things, and as you go to pay the bill, just show your Bankers Travel Card.

Then presto. Just like that the bill goes down 10 percent. Sometimes even 20 percent.

Our booklet, "The Bankers

it. And you'll notice the card is equally good for both traveling to Florida on vacation and traveling around town on a shopping spree.

And how do you get this incredible card?

That's easy.

Just waltz right into our bank and ask.

We'll tell you how and it's easier than you think.

What's the catch?

One catch.

You can't get one of these cards just any place.

But you can get one at our place. That's why we call it our "trump" card.

Now let's catch our breath and say those two words one more time.

"Free money."

Good Management Vital to Irrigation

The apparent stabilizing effect of irrigation on Nebraska's strong agricultural economy may be endangered unless proper management techniques are developed and used.

This warning was leveled at participants on the third annual Summer Irrigation Tour through southwestern Nebraska July 26-27. The bus tour was sponsored by the Nebraska Water Conference Committee (NWCC) and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Ninety-five persons viewed irrigation developments from Lexington to Grant and heard discouraging reports of at least isolated cases of declining ground- and surface-water supplies and water tables.

"We're getting reports of ground water supplies declining consistently from one to three feet annually," said Dr. Les Sheffield, UN-L irrigation development coordinator and tour organizer.

"We're also hitting some wells that are not producing up to their original capacities because the very dry summers are putting a lot of stress on wells and we're increasing the number of wells," he said. "We can't continue to increase irrigation at the current rate without getting into more serious problems in ground water depletion."

The number of wells drilled annually has nearly doubled since 1970, from 1,616 to almost 3,000, according to UN-L Extension irrigationist Paul Fitchbach, and reached a statewide total of 46,483 by 1975.

Dr. Sheffield said center pivot irrigation is emerging as the predominant system, with an estimated 75-80 per cent of the approximately 30,000 new irrigated acres in 1975 served by center pivots.

Although solutions offered ranged from "just good down to earth common sense" to more sophisticated proposals, all speakers on the tour stressed better water management and the need to recognize water as an exhaustible natural resource which should be treated as such.

"During five stops in the Grant area, four participants were greeted with varying degrees of alarm regarding irrigation's future from area businessmen."

Ron Patrick farms 1,400 acres southwest of Grant, including 72 acres of irrigated corn through use of a telephone-operated center pivot system called Pivotrol. He said he is "quite concerned about irrigation's future in our area."

"We've had to lower several pumps because we started pumping air since the drawdown on the water table is so great," he said. "I believe we as irrigators should get together and start doing something."

Favoring local, management and solutions to the problem, Patrick said options include limiting the number of wells drilled, putting flow meters on wells to determine the amount of water being pumped and using soil probes. "The most important thing we can encourage at this time," land is under irrigation from the Dawson County Canal, owned and operated by the Nebraska Electric Power District.

Harold Stevers, Dawson County extension agent, said ditches in the area maintain what he termed a stable water level for about 3,000 wells. The water is taken from the Platte River near Cozad.

But he noted Lake McConghy may be at its lowest mark in history, and is "reaching the dangerous level."

"I imagine that only six of my 45 seed corn customers have soil probes and I think that's a ridiculous situation," Patrick said. "A felt probe can't go out and kick his toe in the dirt to find out when he's got to irrigate. He's got to know what's three feet down."

Wayne Kaps, president of Sargent Irrigation Inc. of Grant, said his company has doubled the number of wells drilled annually since 1970, and he predicted that rate would continue.

"The thing I see is that we have an abundance of water leaving the state," Kaps said. "If we could save the water leaving the state, we could irrigate Nebraska from now on."

Dr. Sheffield said that in the Platte basin, one million acre feet of surface water annually enters the state while 7.1 million leaves Nebraska. He said 15.5 million acre feet enter from Nebraska and Iowa while 23.4 million depart.

Tom Tiehen, owner of a Circle Irrigation Inc., a Valley center pivot developer with outlets of Imperial and Grant, said his business has increased 40 per cent annually since the early 1970s and it is "hard to put a finger on the problems caused by increased irrigation in the area."

"I feel very strongly that we can be considerably more conservative in water use for irrigation," he said. "Conservatively, we could cut down 30-40 per cent on water used and still receive approximately the same yields as we do now, and that's quite a savings."

At a stop on the second day at Melt Farming Co. southwest of North Platte, secretary-treasurer Ernest Melt said he thinks irrigation's future is virtually unlimited if good management practices are followed.

"I think we can expand our irrigation facilities to be really real good," he said. "It's really going to be an economically progressive thing. I think we just need good down to earth common sense and a realization of the problems that might develop."

During the NWCC banquet July 26 at Oqallala, Dr. Martin Messingale, vice chancellor of the UN-L Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, pledged the institute to a continuing role in development of the state's more than 5.4 million irrigated acres.

"We must pay more attention to harvesting and using that scarce rainfall that occurs in this state," Dr. Messingale said.

"We must look carefully at water recharge and the transfer of water between basins."

The watchword of the future will be effective and efficient use of water," he said.

Among water use programs on which Dr. Messingale said the institute will concentrate are: automatic gated pipe, where water is fed to crops through holes in a large pipe laid at the ends of rows and which he said has "tremendous potential in the future"; watershed models, percolation and soil moisture Computer Network (AGNET).

"At the present rate of expansion, I am told that Nebraska could become the most irrigated state in the nation within the next 20 years," he said. "I think there is tremendous potential that may be limited only by our imaginations."

USDA Announces Sorghum Loan Rate

County loan and purchase rates for 1976 sorghum as issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture reflect the national average loan rate of $2.13 per hundredweight, an increase of 25 cents per hundredweight from 1975.

Adjustments were made to county loan rates to more nearly reflect the area-to-area changes which have occurred in freight shares and in sorghum prices received by farmers. Compared to 1975, county loan rates for 1976 in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas were increased 21 cents per hundredweight and in the North and South Atlantic states and north central and remaining south central states they were increased 25 cents per hundredweight. In the other states, they reflect the 25 cent increase in the national level.

The 1976 crop county loan rates are for sorghum grading No. 2 or better, except mixed sorghum.

Itemizing Will Speed Payments for Medicare
Submitting medical bills that are not itemized can delay payment of claims under the medical insurance part of Medicare, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

"If the patient uses the 'payment-to-you' method of medical insurance payment," Branch said, "the claim cannot be paid unless an itemized bill of services from the doctor or other medical provider is submitted with a properly completed Request for Medicare Payment form."

Medicare medical insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of people covered by the program. Claims are handled two ways — by the "payment-to-you" method or the "assignment" method.

"The patient is required to send in an itemized bill of services only if the payment-to-you method is used and the doctor or supplier does not complete Part II of the payment form," Branch said. "If the patient and doctor agree to use the assignment method, the doctor sends in the claim and Medicare payment is made directly to the doctor."

An itemized bill from a doctor must show the date, place and description of each medical service involved — as well as the charge for each service. It must also show the patient's Medicare claim number exactly as it is shown on the card — including the letter at the end.

In the payment-to-you method, the patient sends in the claim with the itemized bill of services. Medicare payment is made to the patient — either before or after the bill is settled with the doctor.

Claims are sent to the health insurance organization that handles the medical insurance claims, Medicare. Mutual of Omaha, Box 456, Downtown Station, Omaha, Nebraska 68101.

"Help in preparing Medicare claims is available at any social security office," Branch said.

Medicare medical insurance is offered to people 65 and over who are eligible for social security or railroad retirement benefits, to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to social security or similar railroad retirement disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more, and to many people under 65 with permanent kidney failure.

The protection is funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues.

54 Give Blood

Top Beef Animals Show in Open Class

Champion and reserve champion Hereford bulls were shown in open class beef competition at the Wayne County Fair by Horvale Farms of Wayne, which also had the top Hereford heifer. Robert Patefield had the top shorthorn heifer and Donna Patefield the reserve champion. Treasure Valley had the champion Black Angus bull with Black Harvest Angus showing the reserve champ. Black Harvest had both the champion and reserve champion heifers in breed. Angie Schula of Wayne had the lone Red Angus entry, a spring heifer. Charlo Farms of Winnebago had the only Limosine entries: a junior bull calf, a junior heifer calf, and a pair of calves entry. Other results were: Treasure Valley Farm had the only two entries in Black Angus competition for bulls over two years old, and the only senior yearling entry. Black Harvest Angus Farm had the only three entries for junior yearling, as well as the only summer yearling. Cathy Sachau of Allen had the only late summer yearling entry. Treasure Valley and Black Harvest finished one-two in open class of three bulls. Treasure Valley was first in pair of bulls with Black Harvest having second and third place.

Rockets to Ropes, It's All 4-H

One of the strengths of the 4-H program is the variety of projects offered to young people and that point was illustrated by the number of Wayne County 4-H'ers who qualified as state fair exhibitors in a wide range of projects during the county fair.

Chris Vakoc and Jodie Frese qualified in the garden vegetable category.

Sheila Gramlich will display her electricity project, Mike Finn, Jim and Ken Loberg will exhibit their welding projects, Duane Leicy will demonstrate his rope projects and Tod Greunke, Curtis Carstens, Dallas Hansen and Mike Gnirk will all show woodworking projects at the state fair.

Also qualifying for state fair competition were Mike Rethwisch, entomology; Tom Flier, forestry; Don Straight, photography; Sandy Utecht, safety; Kevin Hansen, weeds; Dianne Puls and Lynette Hansen, child care; and Marcia Rethwisch, Kay Woodman, Sandy Bowers, Shirley Kleensang and Jeff Baier, all in native Nebraska products.
