County Bicentennial Flag Goes Up Sunday

Wayne County will receive its Bicentennial flag in ceremonies beginning Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Don Searcy, executive director of the Nebraska Bicentennial Commission will present the flag in ceremonies on the south lawn of the county courthouse in Wayne. A half-hour religious service will begin the afternoon's activities, followed by the presentation of the flag, and an address by Searcy.

The Treble Clef singing group from the Wayne United Methodist Church will perform, and the Winside High School band will play opening and closing numbers and a special selection.

County residents over 80 years old attending the ceremonies will receive special recognition, county Bicentennial chairman Mrs. Robert L. Jones said.

Mrs. Jones said public seating will not be available and advised persons attending to bring blankets or chairs if they wish to do so.

The Wayne community Bicentennial committee received a financial boost Thursday night. Matt Baier, president of the Wayne Poppy Pals 4-H club presented a $10 check to Wayne chairman Mrs. Roberta Wette. The money represents 20 per cent of the club's profits from sale of Bicentennial wind chimes and candles.

The Poppy Pals organization is one of the newer 4-H club in the county, with members ranging in age from eight to 11. The club voted at the Bicentennial committee meeting to undertake the decoration of veterans' graves in LaPorte Cemetery on Memorial Day.

Poppy Pals in addition to Baier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baier, are Mary Pat Dolata, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dolata; Stephanie Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peters; Blaine Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johns; Rodney Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter; Dawn Droecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Droecker; Randall Runquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Runquist; and Tiffany Wilke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Wilke.

Dairy Award Presented to Wayne Student

Ranee Kniesche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Kniesche of rural Wayne received the dairy showmanship award recently at the 1976 Little A.K. Sar-Born livestock showmanship contest in Lincoln.

The annual awards banquet was sponsored by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Block and Bridle Club.

Voters Going to Polls in State Primary

Wayne and Dixon County voters will be casting ballots Tuesday for a number of local, state and national candidates in Nebraska's primary election. One of the hottest issues in the two counties will probably be a $990,000 bond issue in Wakefield School District 60R. If the issue passes, the bond will finance construction of a new junior-senior high school building, which will be connected to the existing elementary school by an all-weather corridor.

Voters have previously turned down three bond issues which would have provided for additions to existing junior and senior high school buildings.

This will be the first year candidates for Wayne municipal offices have run in the primary election. A new Nebraska election law stipulates that candidates must run in the primary election if three or more are seeking the same office. The two candidates gaining the most votes will run in the general election in November. In cases where only one or two candidates file for the same office, they automatically advance to the general election.

Board of trustee members for villages are still chosen in the primary election. Only one of four Wayne city council positions will be on the primary ballot. Gary Noplen, sky and Martin Schmitt will challenge incumbent Darrell Fueslberth for the nomination, with the top two vote-getters facing each other in the general election.

In village election, John Gallop and Charles Jackson are seeking the two positions open on the Winside board of trustees. One candidate will be eliminated in Carroll where Lyle Cunningham, Terry Davis, Robert Hall and Ronald Otte are vying for three boards of trustee positions. Gerald Boatman, Eugene Swanson, Warren Bressler and Derwin Hartman are seeking the second ward councilman position in Wakefield. In Sholes, Anton Vlasak, G. H. Nelson and V. G. McFadden are running for three board of trustee vacancies.

Allen voters will select two trustees from a four-candidate slate: E. H. Mitchell, Gladys Tibbetts, Kurt Johnson and Sargeul Knepper.

Concord voters will have to write in at least one name in order to vote for each of the three village trustee positions open. Richard Kreamer and Fritz Fiech are the only candidates.

It will be a writ in election all the way in Dixon. Three trustee slots are open; no one filed as a candidate. In Hoskins, Herman Opfer, Don Watler, and Jimmie Patterson are running for two trustee positions. The Wayne-Carroll board of education will not be included in the primary election. A total of five candidates have filed for three at-large positions. Seven candidates would have necessitated a primary election.

In non-partisan elections, two Wayne men, Walter Moller and Frederick Mann, and Walter Thompson of Oakland, are seeking nomination to run for the State Board of Education Third District position. Merle E. Hansen, Kermit Wagner and Charles Krik are running for the University of Nebraska regents Third District post. Incumbent state Senator John "Bob" Murphy and Gil Fournier make up the slate for the 17th Legislative District, which includes most of Wayne and all of Dixon and Dakota Counties. Both candidates presumably will run in the general election unless either is eliminated by a write-in vote.

A slate of five candidates will seek the nomination for the 19th District, which includes part of Wayne County. Seeking the nomination to run for the seat being vacated by Unicameral veteran Jules Burbach of Harrington are Warren Patfield, Elroy Helner, William Hengstler, James Neal Christensen and Ted Hilman.

In addition to a slate of 11 presidential candidates, Democratic party voters will chose a senatorial candidate from See PRIMARY, page 10

Oregon Company To Locate in Wayne

A west-coast manufacturer will be joining other firms in Wayne's industrial park, Wayne Industries, Inc., president Kent Hall announced Thursday night. National Fiberglass Corporation, with headquarters in Hillsboro, Ore., Thursday afternoon completed negotiations for the purchase of five acres of property in the industrial site east of Wayne. The operation will be the company's ninth plant. Other manufacturing sites are located in several states, including Oregon and Texas.

National Fiberglass president Ernie Hermann of Dallas, Tex., and vice president O.W. Dawler met with Hall, city administrator Fred Brink and a Simpson's representative to complete the arrangements.

National Fiberglass will produce shower stalls, wash tubs and other fiberglass products. The Wayne operation will be the company's ninth plant. Other 24,000 square-foot steel building on the site.

Hermann said the Wayne plant will initially employ about 15 workers, with the number eventually leveling off at about 50. Hall said a high percentage of the workers will be women.

The fiberglass manufacturing firm first visited Wayne March 20, Hall said, and representatives have made a number of visits since then.

Hall, as president of the organization which works to attract industry to Wayne, has worked closely with the National Fiberglass representatives, and said he is very pleased to welcome the corporation to Wayne.

Polling Place Changed

Wayne County clerk Norris Weible Friday announced a change in one polling place in the county. Voters in the fourth ward in Wayne will vote in the new fire station on Pearl St., entering through the west door, which faces the post office on the opposite side of the street.

The old fire station had previously been announced as the polling place for fourth ward voters.

Weible also offered some advice to voters who will be casting their ballots in Nebraska's primary elections Tuesday. Voters should fold their ballots while still in the voting booth, Weible said, and should fold them small enough to drop through the slot in the ballot box.

Weible said failure to properly fold ballots can slow the voting process during periods of heavy balloting.

Weible added that voters should hand their ballot to an election official, rather than placing it in the ballot box. Election officials are required to determine that each voter is depositing the correct number of ballots. Ballots should be folded so the signatures on the back are visible.

Weible also said voters would be well advised to have in mind before entering the voting booth which national convention delegate they wish to vote for. Lists are lengthy and voters are allowed only five minutes in the voting booth, by law.

Other polling places in Wayne County are: Wayne first ward—Villa Wayne; second ward—National Guard armory; third ward—courthouse; Brenna precinct—District 57 school Strahan; District 51 school, Hunter—District 47 school, Hoskins precinct and village—Hoskins fire hall, Garfield—District 77 school, Sherman precinct and Sholes—District 76 school, Hancock precinct and Winside—Winside auditorium, Chapin—Winside American Legion hall, Wilbur—District 15 school, Plum Creek—Altana store, Leslie—District 28 school, Logan—Wakefield school, Deer Creek and Carroll auditorium. Wayne voters are in Nebraska's 19th Legislative District. All other Wayne County voters are in the 17th District.

Don't Forget To Vote

Sioux City Man Is Care Centre Administrator

Timothy Boyle assumed duties as Wayne Care Centre administrator May 3, replacing interim administrator David Boyle.

Boyle completed the Nebraska licensing examination with high marks, according to Marcia Mathies, secretary for the Nebraska Bureau of Standards. He has also completed a three-month training program with Boyle, Inc., which owns the nursing care facility.

A Sioux City native, Boyle received his bachelor of science degree from Creighton University in 1973, with a major in biological sciences. Following graduation he was employed at Bishop Clarkson Memorial Hospital and later at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Omaha, gaining experience in the cardiac pulmonary field, which he believes should be an excellent background for his present position.

His wife, Deborah, is an Omaha native. She also attended Creighton University where he graduated summa cum laude with a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics. Since graduation she has worked in the engineering department of Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The Boyles have purchased a home in Wayne and will be moving into it June 1.

Feds Approve Design Report For Highway 15

The Nebraska Department of Roads has received approval from the Federal Highway Administration for the location and design report of the proposed improvement of a segment of Nebraska Highway 15, beginning at 12th Street in Wayne and extending north about 10 miles.

Copies of the location and design study report are available for inspection at the DOR's District Office at 408 North 13th Street in Norfolk, and are also available by writing to the Public Hearing Officer, Nebraska Department of Roads, Box 94759 Lincoln, 68509.

Proposals previously released by the committee include new sidewalks, lighting and paving, and closing of some alleys.

An 8 p.m. public hearing is scheduled on a request for a Class C liquor license by Wayne Liquors, Inc., operator of the Bottle Shop. At 8:15, the council will discuss the occupying tax charged holders of liquor licenses.

The council will also hear a report from the Wayne County board of commissioners regarding an out-of-court settlement in a law suit in which the city alleges the county owes it $7,000 for ambulance services.

Councilman Ted Babe will report on the progress of his committee which is developing a proposal for a city-operated rescue squad.

The meeting, originally scheduled for last Monday, was postponed because two members were called out of town and board president Dr. Irvin Brandt was hospitalized.

A proposed foreign language program sponsored by Wayne State College will also be discussed.

Superintendent Francis Haun will recommend appointment of teachers for the 1976-77 school year, and board members will also consider for approval students eligible for graduation in commencement exercises May 24.

Consideration of tuition rates for next year will also be included on the agenda.

32 To Graduate At Allen High

Thirty-two students at Allen High School will receive their diplomas during commencement exercises Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

The Rev. Tom Adams, pastor of St. Anne's Church in Dixon, will give the invocation before the salutatorian and valedictorian give their speeches to the graduating class of 1976.

Following their speeches, superintendent Virgil Ferguson and K.R. Mitchell of Allen will present scholarships to the graduating seniors.

Graduation was scheduled for Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The Rev. H.K. Niermann gave the invocation and benediction and the Rev. David Newman gave the key address.

WSC President Notes Changes Observed During 23-Year Career

By JIM STRAYER
Dr. Lyle Seymour began his career at Wayne State College in 1953 but said his perceptions of the college have changed since he became president in March, 1974.

Even the perspectives of interim president as opposed to permanent-appointed president differ, Seymour said. He became interim president in 1973 upon the resignation of Dr. William Braddenburg. He was appointed president on a permanent basis in 1974 and was inaugurated a year ago in April.

Responsibilities and responses as permanent president differ from those of interim president, Seymour said. "It requires a different dimension of thought," he said.

Seymour joined the Wayne State faculty in 1953 as an instructor, rising through the ranks as department head, division chairman, dean of instruction and vice president for academic affairs, before his interim president appointment.

As interim president he thought he might return to the classroom, and said he still aspires to that some day. "I think all administrators who advance through the ranks look back with nostalgia at teaching as a very rewarding experience."

During his 23 years at the college, Seymour has seen a variety of changes take place. The two most obvious are growth in terms of physical plant and enrollment.

Over a dozen new buildings have been constructed on the campus since Seymour began his career, and many of the then-existing buildings are no longer standing.

Enrollment in 1953 was 625. In 1971 it reached a peak of over 3,000 before beginning a decline. About 2,000 students attended WSC during the 1975-76 school year, and Seymour said admissions office workers are optimistic about an increase in the fall.

Other changes during the past 20 some years are less obvious but vitally important, Seymour said. Like all institutions, Wayne State has changed to meet the needs of society.

In 1953, the college essentially prepared teachers, Seymour said. That is a noble accomplishment, he added, and educational teachers is still an important dimension. But the college has changed with the times to meet the needs of the people of Nebraska. Wayne State College now offers a number of programs not related to teaching, including medical technology, industrial management, community counseling and business administration.

"We still want to prepare the best teachers possible for Nebraska," Seymour said. "But we are now more attuned to serving the general public."

That is evident, not only in the regular academic curriculum, but in the number of workshops and seminars on a broad spectrum of topics sponsored by WSC. College-community relations have also broadened, Seymour said. "The days of ivory tower educational institutions doing their own thing are gone."

College faculty and staff members are strongly represented in community organizations, and representative in the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, college members participate actively in community affairs, Seymour pointed out.

"Not too many years ago, if it would have been unheard of for a college member to serve on the city council or the school board."

Dr. Irvin Brandt is currently president of the Wayne-Carroll board of education.

Looking ahead, Seymour said higher education institutions across the nation are under scrutiny and one of their most important roles is restatement of the fact that they are viable, important forces of social awareness and change. They must stay in touch with changing social needs.

"If we don't do that, public higher education is dead."

That would mean the end of the road for a process started by Thomas Jefferson, Seymour said. Jefferson supported moving away from the idea of inherited power and authority, basing the movement on the concept that everyone needs an education.

Employability of graduates is an important factor in education, he continued, but education should also provide the ability to appreciate and enjoy life, to do something with one's life in addition to work.

"I have a built-in bias, of course," the WSC president said, "but technical schools have found that to be true and have added enrichment courses to their programs."

A formal, four-year education gives the individual an opportunity to learn more about the world, its problems and cares,

Some people today are asking if we can really afford that. I'm not really sure we can afford not to, ultimately."

"I'm not implying that everyone should have a four-year education," he continued. "But there are reasons why that is a valid idea."

Another change observed by the WSC president is the stop-out, rather than drop out, concept. Stop-out students attend college for a couple of years, then leave for a period to pursue other interests before returning to complete their education. In most cases, stop-out students are more interested in their education when they return, Seymour said and earn higher grade-point averages.

The Wayne State College summer international program, with students living and studying abroad, is actually designed as a mini stop-out program, Seymour said. An important aspect is that foreign educators, not Americans, deliver lectures. Students are exposed to different cultures and ideas and return with a brand-new point of view, Seymour said. # OBSERVATIONS

What about responsibility?

A Beverly Hills bar may have poured the shot heard round the world recently, resulting in a court case which could cost the bar owner $2 million.

That is the amount the jury awarded an actor for injuries received for damages resulting from his being hit by a drunken driver. Under California's dram law, the judgment against the bar owner, not the driver. Dram laws make bar owners responsible for the actions of patrons who become inebriated in their establishments.

Nebraska does not have a dram law; Iowa does. We hope that type of legislation is never introduced in our state. It represents another loss of individualism.

Not the loss of an individual right — everyone is quick to scream about that. The loss is in individual responsibility. Too often today, society tends to forget about that part of freedom.

That type of thinking is dangerous. Rights and responsibilities go hand in hand. Relieve individuals of their responsibilities, and it becomes a little bit harder to defend rights when they are endangered.

We don't question the settlement for damages, but the California law is a bad one. Any person who suffers damages from the actions of another is entitled to compensation, but any individual who is legally, mentally competent should also be personally liable for his actions. Placing the responsibility for sobriety on bar owners doesn't make sense. This nation's experience with prohibition proves that if someone wants to get smashed, they will do so despite the law.

(And if you think this argument condones alcohol abuse, talk to an alcoholism counselor. They will tell you that the first step toward rehabilitation is the individual's acceptance of responsibility for his own actions.)

A National Licensed Beverage Association spokesman has called for the repeal of dram laws the U.S., and we agree. Nebraska doesn't yet have such a law, and we want to see it stay that way. — Jim Strayer.

STRAYER Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

By Jove, I think we've got it. The hang of our new photographic process, that is. So we will resume our policy of giving away pictures which appear in The Wayne Herald — with the exception of mug shots which we will retain for our files.

The new prints are half-tones, not the glossies most of us are accustomed to. We will, of course, still accept orders for reprints.

Also on the Bicentennial scene: Winside's Bicentennial flag presentation a week ago was well organized, and well attended, despite Nebraska's uncooperative weather.

From the number of Minute Man awards distributed, it's easy to see that the event was truly a community project.

County Flag Raising

Coming up: The county will raise its Bicentennial flag Sunday (May 16). The key word here is county. I hope no one will regard it as a Wayne city event because it is scheduled to take place at the courthouse in Wayne. It's a county project and people from throughout the county should be interested.

Grain and feed dealers still have time to register for a workshop on aflatoxin scheduled for May 13 in Norfolk at the Villa Inn. University of Nebraska plant pathologists will join USDA specialists in presenting talks on mycotoxins in grain, the 1975 aflatoxin scare, and proper use of black light in detecting aflatoxin.

Registration forms are available from Diane Foster, 235 A Kevin Hall, University of Nebraska, Lincoln 68583.

Pump 'Em Up

Before starting out on vacation this summer, check the inflation of your car's tires. According to the Tire Industry Safety Council, underinflation by four pounds of air pressure will cut tread life by 10 per cent; and underinflation by 12 pounds can cut 40 per cent. Underinflation cuts gas mileage, too.

Follows Wayne's Lead

The village of Sutherland became the third Nebraska town to approve a capacity purchase agreement, leasing its electric generating plant to NPPD, and following in the footsteps of the City of Wayne, the first Nebraska community to sign such an agreement.

I was very pleased to hear Thursday that National Fiberglass Corporation has decided to locate a plant in Wayne. Employment created by the manufacturer will be a boost to the area's economy and the entire community will benefit.

Wayne Industries deserves congratulations for their effort in working with the firm during the past two months while company representatives were reaching a decision about the new location. Wayne has much to offer industry and I doubt if the newest addition at the Industrial park will be the last.

Traffic total still rising

The gap between the total number of accidents in Wayne so far in 1976 compared with the same period last year, narrowed slightly this week, but is still seven ahead.

The '76 total as of 7 a.m. May 7 was 82, compared with 75 at the same time and date last year.

Wayne police officers investigated two accidents this week. Both involved drivers who were backing out of parking spaces.

"Maybe we should consider removing reverse gear from all vehicles in the city," police chief Vern Fairchild quipped.

Seriously, there really isn't much reason for this type of mishap. It's common sense to check carefully before backing out. It just takes that little extra bit of effort.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Other than a strange noise from his own vehicle, nothing irritates a driver more than the blast from the horn of another car.

The horn may be a critical part of your automobile but it is a part that most of us would like to eliminate. Since that is impossible, it makes the work of the engineer that much more difficult. He tries to make the sound as pleasant as possible but still sufficient to get your attention. In these days when so many cars have radios and air conditioners operating with closed windows, the sound has to be a little stronger.

Actually, the horn of today is more subdued than many early versions that squeaked or ooga-boogahed. But those old horns of solid brass were items of beauty to be admired, as much as a hood ornament or a shiny wheel cover.

Today's good horns are heard but not seen. Most owners haven't the slightest notion of the locations of the horns. Some are in the engine compartment and others are under the front end. Be careful on a horn hunt. If someone should decide to sound off during your search, the sound can split your ears at 120 decibels. That level is well above the threshold of human pain.

A lot of research and testing is going on today, says the Automotive Information Council. A horn engineer can identify the make of an automobile by the sound of its horn. Some of the more expensive cars have a triple tone while the smallest economy jobs do the job with a single horn.

If you are a music lover, the beep in a single horn is in the key of "F". Occasionally, your horn will be off-key because the battery might be weak or the horn has been damaged. Horns do have a long life even though their "voices" may change as they age. Some horns have been tested 350,000 times without missing a beep. The standard test is 50,000 which is well above the normal use of all drivers.

What do you do to lurr off a self-blowing horn? Check the owner's manual for the location of the fuse that's passing the juice to the horn. Pull it. It's better than trying to jerk the wires.

Nebraska

Nebraska pioneers did not always have doctors available to help the sick or injured. Often they turned to home remedies or patent medicines which advertised cures for a wide variety of ills. The pioneer settler might also provide himself with books of medical formulas from which he could compound his own nostrums. One such book purpose book in the Nebraska State Historical Society Library is "Dr. Chase's Recipes or Information for Everyone" (1870).

"Recipes" are divided into categories: Spleen, medical, shoe and harness, painting, blacksmithing, baking, cooking, and so on. It contains formulas to treat everything from ague, catarrh, cholera, and rheumatism to whooping cough. Some recipes have notes on efficiency; some have editorial asides. Witness:

"Dr. Kittredge's Remedy for Rheumatism and Stiff Joints. — Strong camphor spirits 1 pt.; neat-foot, corn, bear, or skunk's oil 1 qt.; spirits of turpentine 1 pint. Shake the bottle when used, and apply 3 times daily, by pouring on a little at a time and rubbing in all you can for 20 to 30 minutes. The old Doctor recommends this as a sure cure for chronic rheumatism, sprains, stiff joints if the bones have not actually grown together; and as remarked in connection with its ingredients, he has been a very celebrated Physician for many years; but like many other men with superior minds, oh how fallen. Rum, and its advocates, have got a most fearful account to balance."

One of the more interesting concoctions is "Toad Ointment" — For sprains, strains, lame back, rheumatism, caked breasts, caked udders, &c. Good sized live toads, 4 in number; put into boiling water and cook very soft; then take them out and boil the water down to 1/2 pt., and add fresh churned, unsalted butter 1 lb. and simmer together; at the last add tincture of arnica 2 ozs. This was obtained from an old Physician, who thought more of it than of any prescription in his possession: Some persons might think it hard on toads, but you could not kill them quicker in any other way."

A majority of the "cures" were made from plants. A typical formula is for "Alternative, Very Strong. — Poke, mandrake, yellow dock, sassafras, blue flag, roots, and bark of the roots, galic wood raspings, and sweet elder flowers, of each 4 ozs.; caraway seed 3 ozs.; bruise the roots, and put to the whole, alcohol 1 qt., and water to cover all handsomely, let stand 3 or 4 days in a warm place as the last recipe above, making every day the same except to pour off 1 in. Instead of 1 pt. as the first, of spirit; then boil the waters to 1 qt., adding 4 lbs. of sugar with the qt. of spirit tincture. The dose being only 1 tablespoon 4 times daily as above. But if that amount should make the bowels too loose, reduce the quantity, and if that amount does not act upon the bowels at all, increase the dose to keep the bowels solvent. This may be used in the most inveterate diseases of long standing.

syphilis not excepted."

"Alternative liquid remedies were used to slowly change bodily conditions. Typical of patent "bitters" containing alcohol was Dr. Chase's "Alternative, Tonic, and Cathartic Bitters. — Best rye whiskey, and water, of each, 1 qt.; best unground Peruvian bark, colombo root, and prickly-ash berries, of each, 2 ozs.; prickly-ash, black cherry, and poplar bark, of each, 1 oz.; poke-root, mandrake-root, and cloves, of each, 1/2 oz.; all to be the dry articles, and 1/2 to be pulverized before putting into the spirits; shake every day for a week, by which time it will be ready for use. Dose—One to 2 tablespoons at morning and evening meals. I needed something of just such a nature, and it worked so admirably that I gave it to others. It has given such entire satisfaction, that I am now at the tenth edition, giving it a place to do a greater good than if kept from the world."

Dr. Chase provided formulas for liniments and ointments. One was "Green Mountain Salve. — resin 5 lbs.; Burgundy pitch, bees-wax, and mutton tallow, of each 1 lb.; oil of hennock, balsam of fir, oil of origanum, oil of red cedar, and Venice turpentine, of each 1 oz.; oil of wormwood one third oz.; verdigris, very finely pulverized, 1 oz.; melt the first articles together and add the oils, having rubbed the verdigris up with a little of the oils, and put it in with the other articles, stirring well; then pour into cold water and work as wax until cool enough to roll. A gentleman near Lancaster, O., obtained one of my books having this recipe in it. . . He told me he had sold over four thousand rolls of the salve, curing an old lady of rheumatism in six weeks."

This same salve formula is found in the Thesaurus of Proprietary Preparations by A. Emil Hiss, Ph.D. (1898), indicating it may have had some efficacy. Not all Chases remedies required pharmaceutical components. According to Dr. Chase, "William Howell, a farmer living about six miles from Jackson, Mich., says he had a fever sore on his shin for twenty years, sometimes laying him up for months, and at one time preparations were made to cut off the limb, but an old man, in New Jersey, told him to: Scrape a fresh turp and apply it every 4 hours, night and day, until healed, which cured him. And he feels assured, from using it in other cases, that all will be pleased with it who have any occasion for its use. Apply if oftener. It becomes too offensive."

Coaches Agree Wayne, Wakefield Bancroft Are Teams to Beat

Defending champion Wayne High starts its bid for another Class B district baseball title today (Monday) when the Blue Devils face Homer in the eight-team playoffs at the city ball park in Wayne.

Coach Mike Mallette's Devils are seeded first with a 10-2 record. They play Homer at 4 p.m. The playoffs start at 2 with fourth-seeded Allen taking on Macy. Wakefield, which is seeded second, takes on Cedar Rapids 2 p.m. Tuesday, followed by third-seeded Bancroft colliding with Leigh.

The winners advance to semifinals Thursday. Finals will be played at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 18, with the winner going to the Class B tournament at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln field.

A look at the teams in the district and coaches' comments:

Allen

Coach: Robert Moore.

Record: 2-6. Wins over Homer. Lost to Hooper-Logan View, Bancroft and twice to Wayne and Wakefield.

Pitchers: Seniors Jeff Creamer, Shawn Persinger and sophomore Tod Ellis. Backups are freshmen Darwin Kliver and Mark Creamer. All throw right-handed except for Kliver.

Hitters: Senior Randy Gensler, junior Kevin Hohenstein and sophomore Brent Chase, all hitting about .300.

Coach's Comments: The district championship is up for grabs. Wayne and Wakefield have the best records but we have played them to close games.

Bancroft

Coach: Gordon Fliche.

Record: 7-3. Wins over Allen, Leigh, Logan View, Macy, Wayne and twice over Homer. Losses are to Wakefield and Wayne.

Pitchers: Sophomores Tim Wegner and Terry Bargmann. Both righthanders throw fastballs.

Hitters: Senior Terry Anderson and junior LaMont Pagels hitting near .400.

Coach's Comments: Wayne, Wakefield and Bancroft should be in contention for title. We played Wayne to a 1-0 ball game in district last year. We'll be ready for them this year.

Cedar Rapids

Coach: James Landwehr.

Record: 0-2. Both losses to Brainard East Butler.

Pitchers: Seniors Rick Kolm, Andy Koziol, Tom Matya. All righthanders. Best pitches for Kolm and Koziol are curves; Matya throws fastballs.

Hitters: Kolm .350 and Bill Robinson is .325.

Coach's Comments: This is the first year for us. Our team is composed mostly of seniors.

Homer

Coach: Mark Schweer.

Record: 1-6. Have beaten Wakefield and lost twice to Wayne, Bancroft and Allen.

Pitchers: Junior Dave Jenkins and sophomore John Steen. Both righthanders.

Hitters: Juniors Brad Harris, .400; Kevin Chambers, .333; Jenkins, .333; Paul Tighe, .238.

Coach's Comments: Wayne is probably the favorite to win, but a lot of schools including Homer have a shot at the title because the district is pretty well evenly matched.

Leigh

Coach: Wayne Worfel.

Record: 0-4. Losses are to Wakefield, Bancroft and twice to Ulica-Centennial.

Pitcher: Senior Tim Reichmuth, righthander. Throws mostly screwballs.

Hitters: Reichmuth, junior Rolly Svo-boda, both in low .300's.

Coach's Comments: Teams to beat are Wayne and Wakefield.

Macy

Coach: Steve Ames.

Record: 0-1. Lost to Bancroft.

No other information available.

Wakefield

Coach: Joe Coble.

Record: 8-2. Wins over Wayne, Logan View and twice over Allen, Bancroft and Leigh. Lost to Wayne and Homer.

Pitchers: Junior Dan Byers, sophomore Brad Jones, freshman Doug Starzl. All righthanders. Jones leads the pack with 4-0 mark. Byers and Starzl are 2-1.

Hitters: Senior Tim Roese, .423; Byers, .440; senior Mike Soderberg, .419.

Coach's Comments: Lot of people are figuring it will be Wakefield and Wayne in the finals, but you can't forget Bancroft. Based on tournament experience and pitching, I'll have to go with Wayne as the favorite. The pitching of (Paul) Mallette and (Dave) Hix definitely gives them (Wayne) the advantage.

Wayne

Coach: Mike Mallette.

Record: 10-2. Wins over Wakefield, Bancroft and twice over Allen, Boys Town, Homer and Logan View. Losses to Wakefield and Bancroft.

Pitchers: Seniors Paul Mallette, Dave Hix, both 5-1. Sophomore Vic Sharpe. All are righthanders.

Hitters: Mallette, .484; junior Doug Carroll, .433; Hix, .364; junior Aaron Nissen, .355.

Coach's Comments: We'll need to shpre up our defense and learn to relax. Overall, I feel we're pretty sound on the mound. Wakefield and Bancroft are definite contenders. Team to look out for is Homer.

Allen Sending Two To State Girls Meet

Allen High will be sending two athletes to the Class D state high school girls track meet Friday and Saturday at North Platte.

The two who qualified at the district meet at Tekamah-Herman last Friday were sisters Lori and Susie Erwin, with Susie winning an event. Lori also placed second in the long jump to qualify in that event.

Lori, a junior, will be running the mile after she won that event with her fastest time ever, 5:37.8. That's about 10 seconds off her best mark. She also went 15.2½ in the long jump for second.

Meanwhile, Susie will run in the 880 after she came in second with a time of 2:35.3—one-tenth of a second better than Lori who placed third.

Another Allen girl was placed, but isn't eligible to go to the state meet, is Sharon Peterson. She got fifth in the 440 with a clocking of 1:07.6. Only the top two finishers in the individual events may go to the state meet.

As a team, Allen finished fifth out of 13 with 34 points. Winning was Homer with 100. Beemer was second with 66½ followed by Bancroft with 49½, Waterloo and Newcastle had 48 each. Allen, Brownell-Talbut with 18. Decatur with 15, Cedar Bluffs with 10, Prauge with 5, Rosalie and Winnebago with 3 each. Snyder, Macy and Nebraska City School for the Deaf failed to score any points.

This Time Mosley Will Have Company

Sydney Mosley is off to the state high school girls track meet again. But this time the Wayne High sophomore won't be going alone.

Mosley, who went to state last year in the long jump, won that event with a school record leap of 17.7½ during Wednesday's Class B district at Wisner Pilg-or. This year she'll have two traveling companions, Lesa Barclay and Lisa Nuss qualified for a trip to North Platte by taking second in their events. The top two winners in each event are eligible to go to the state meet.

Barclay will be competing in the shot put after she tossed the ball 34.4. Nuss went 4.3½ in the high jump for her ticket to state.

"Actually I expected all three to qualify for the state meet," said a pleased coach Dick Meiler. He added that he had high hopes his 440 relay or 880 relay teams might get a chance to go, but Pierce and Columbus Scotus were "just too strong."

Hooper Logan View girls won the team title with 90 points.

Right behind were Pierce with 80, Columbus Scotus with 67, Wisner with 51, Columbus Lakeview with 50, Wayne with 46.

Hartington Cedar Catholic with 13, and West Point with 12. Mosley didn't stop picking up ribbons at the long jump. She also was tied for fifth along with teammate Chris Brink in the high jump with a leap of 4.6. See THIS TIME, page 8

Eight Area Girls Form 'C' Nucleus

Eight female athletes from three area high schools will compete Friday and Saturday at the Class C girls state track meet in North Platte.

The athletes are Jill Stenwall and Gail Grone of Winside High, Anita Eckert and Patti Stark of Laurel and Wakefield's 880 relay team of Mary Kober, Lisa Paul, Robin Mills and Cheryl Nelson.

All eight either look first or second in their events to earn a berth in the annual state meet.

For two of those athletes, Stenwall and Eckert, the trip west will be worth twice as much. Both placed in the shot put and discus to get two chances to earn medals at the state meet.

Stenwall, who won both her events, goes into the state meet with one gold medal to her credit after she won the shot during last year's meet. And if she continues to perform as she has in the past, then coach Jim Winch's top performer could bring home one and maybe two golds.

Currently, she is the top girl in the state in the shot put and discus with tosses of 44.9% and 136.5. Her foss in the discus this year is the second best ever recorded.

At the district meet Wednesday in Norfolk, Jill won with a heave of 44.5% and threw the plate 122 1/2. Eckert was right behind at 33.1% and 93.6 1/2.

Grone tied for second in the high jump at 4.8 with a girl from Dodge.

In the mile, Stark ran a 6:03 for first and Wakefield's 880 quartet circled the track in 1:55.9.

For Wakefield coach Ernie

Kovar, the 880-relay was his team's last chance for a trip to state. His hopes of sending more personnel faced in the day warm-up, especially after his 80-yard hurdles veteran, Kober, tripped going over a hurdle towards the end.

Kovar wasn't alone in the frustrating battle to send more troops to state. Winch suffered the same fate in the 220 where senior Sheryl Petersen took a bad spill just before the line and finished last.

Petersen was ahead of the pack as she completed the last turn. She started pouring on the speed in what coach Winch said was her best performance of the season. But Petersen misjudged where the tape was and started to bend over about nine feet from the end. When she discovered her mistake, Sheryl lost her balance.

The meet was a little late in completion time after it was decided that the 440 relay event would have to be run again because of exchange violation. Winch, who is the meet director, called the Nebraska School Activities Association in Lincoln for ruling. As it turned out, district winner Pender won again.

The Pendragons finished with 77 1/2 points while Emerson Hub. See EIGHT GIRLS, page 10

Wakefield Reverses Role In 7-1 Upset of Wayne '9'

Sports

Wayne High goes into the first round of the Class B district playoffs this week with one more loss than coach Mike Mallette expected to get.

The Blue Devils will face Homer today (Monday) at 4 p.m. in the second game of the day, with a 10-2 mark after splitting games with Wakefield and Bancroft last week.

Wakefield was the latest culprit to hand the Devils a setback when coach Joe Coble's up-and-coming Trojans shocked the hosts for a 7-1 decision Wednesday on Wayne's home field.

The following day Wayne got back on the win trail with a narrow 3-1 victory over visiting Bancroft.

"We just didn't have any outstanding games," Mallette pointed out after last week's action. Wayne committed a total of eight miscues against Wakefield to play one of its worst games of the season. On the other hand, the coaches noted that Wakefield probably had its best outing.

The first time the teams met in this season, Wayne had little problem in posting a 15-2 decision when the Trojans were plagued by errors and mental mistakes.

As far as hitting goes, both teams were smacking the ball about equal. The Trojans were on top, nine to seven, but those two extra hits didn't make the difference in the final score. Mallette noted.

Sparking Wakefield's eighth win in 10 starts was senior center fielder Tim Rouse who banged a pair of singles and a double and scored four runs.

Rouse opened the game with a single and later scored on Dan Byers' hit to first for a 1-0 Wakefield lead. Rouse started Wakefield's scoring action in the thirds when he doubled, advanced to second on a throwing error by Wayne catcher Larry Creighton and scored on second baseman Wes Luefh's one-bagger. Byers, who walked, scored the second run by Wayne in a wild throw by Wayne hurler Paul Mallette for a 3-0 Trojan lead.

In the top of the fifth, Rouse again fired up the Trojans when he was safe on first on an error on third baseman Rod Turner. Rouse scored his third run of the afternoon on shortstop Mike Soderberg's single. Teammate Doug Starzl was next up to the plate and he connected for a single before both came home on a pair of Wayne miscues.

The locals clipped the score to 5-1 in their half of the fifth when right fielder Vic Charpe singled and scored on shortstop Dave Hix's flyout to right.

In the top of the seventh, Rouse singled and later came home for the final 7-1 count.

"I'm sure we didn't see Wayne at its best," Coble said, adding that "I don't want to take anything away from our kids, though. We played one of our best games this year."

Wakefield put together a strong pitching, hitting and defensive show. Sophomore pitcher Brad Jones notched his fourth win against no defeats, struck out five and walked two.

Besides the strong hitting by Rouse, Wakefield also got help from Soderberg who ripped three singles in three times at the plate.

All season long I felt that we have a good defensive ball club, not only did we play errorless ball but also had some outstanding plays in the outfield, too," he added.

Some of those standing plays included nifty grabs by Wakefield outfielders who, with their backs to the wall, jumped high enough to steal what coach Mallette thought were sure home runs.

Wayne still had its share of errors against Bancroft Thursday, committing five, but the Devils hung on late in the game for the 3-1 victory.

In the top of the seventh with two away, winning pitcher Dave Hix loaded the sacks on two walks and an error charged to center fielder Aaron Nissen. Hix walked the third batter on the roster, LaMont Pagels, for the Bulldogs' only run before their cleanup hitter Steve Plambeck stepped up to the plate. Plambeck, however, popped up to second baseman Randy Park who caught the ball to end Bancroft's rally.

Wayne ended the scoreless match in the bottom of the fourth when first baseman Doug Carroll singled and scored on Hix's single.

The home team added a pair of runs in the fifth when Hix stole home and Nissen scored on Mallette's single.

The win and loss for Wayne gave Mallette and Hix 5-1 records each.

Three trackmen from Wakefield High and a shot putter from Wayne won their events Thursday during the eight events West Husker Conference track meet at Wisner-Pilger.

Seniors Mark Kober and Scot Keagle each collected a pair of first place medals to lead coach John Torczon's Trojans to fourth place and Randy Davis of Wayne won the shot to guide Wayne to seventh place.

Kober flashed a :10.2 clocking in the 100 and went :23.8 in the 220. Keagle went six foot in the high jump and tossed the discus 131 5/2.

Davis, who two weeks ago broke 40 feet, heaved the steel ball 47.7. "Randy is just learning the game," said a happy coach Al Hansen. "If he would have been out for the sport last year I'm sure he would be throwing over 50 feet now."

Scout Leader: Girls Make It All Worthwhile

By SUE STOLEN
WSC News Service

As the morning sun came slowly creeping over the top of the hill and flooded the peaceful sleeping valley, the quiet woods suddenly became filled with the jingle-jangle of an out-of-place, unruly alarm clock.

With the peal of the bell, 16 ruffled heads popped out of cozy sleeping bags and three rather sore, tired Girl Scout leaders rolled out of the sack to face their first full day of camping in the woods.

The first two-night campout for Troop 191 of Wayne began late Friday afternoon, April 30, when the 16 junior scouts and their three leaders left Wayne and started their adventure.

Piling girls, sleeping bags and various other essential paraphernalia into the cars of recruited parents, the troop left for its destination, Stone Park in Sloux City.

Arriving at the Girl Scout Camp of the Hills around 6:30 p.m., the troop spent a fun-filled weekend learning new skills, playing and doing lots of hard work.

Responsibilities for the week end were divided among three different patrols and girls in each worked hard gathering wood, fetching water, cooking, and cleaning up.

An overnight isn't an overnight without the old standbys like hiking, singing, and roasting marshmallows over a huge bonfire, and Troop 191 managed to include all of these activities in its busy schedule.

As the too-short weekend came to a close, three very tired Girl Scout leaders and their rambunctious charges piled into cars and headed back to Wayne.

For the bone-tired leaders, the entire weekend of bugs and cold and a dash of rain was well worth it when one first-year Girl Scout asked the magic question, "When do we go on our next overnight?"

The two-night excursion was just one of its many activities for the past school year. Led by Barb Peterson, Sue Stolen and Wendy Hedquist, the girls met each week at the United Methodist Church, planned a meager daughter tea, hosted the district junior luncheon at Wayne State College and held a successful troop cookie sale bringing in over $200 for the troop treasury.

The troop is open to any fourth, fifth, or sixth grade girl in the Wayne area.

Election Laws Not What They Used to Be

The Founding Fathers would be astonished to learn that about 150 million Americans will be eligible to vote in the Presidential election this November.

At the nation's beginning that wasn't the idea at all - giving the vote to every man. Let alone to women, blacks, and citizens, only 18 years old.

The way they saw it when George Washington was President, a man had to "have a stake in society" to have a say in choosing the new nation's leaders. He had to own property or prove he paid taxes.

And he had to be "free, white, and 21." Nobody gave a second thought about letting women vote. The brand new Constitution said nothing about voting rights, only that it was up to the states to decide.

Now, five amendments to the Constitution later, election day in the United States finally means up to the way Alexander Hamilton and James Madison theorized things should be, writing in the Federalist Papers in the early 1800's.

Who are the electors of the federal representatives? They asked. Not the rich, more than the poor, not the learned, more than the ignorant nor the haughty heirs of distinguished names, more than the humble sons of obscure and unpropitious fortune. The electors are to be the great body of the people of the United States.

At that time, the only people with voting rights, the property owners and taxpayers, were 50 to 75 per cent of the adult male populations, according to records. Some like the Federalist Gazette of Annapolis, felt there was cause for alarm.

"The truth is," said the paper on Aug. 9, 1800, "the people of Maryland have become too saucy and are really beginning to fancy themselves equal to their superiors."

After a presidential reception, Martha Washington blamed the greasy handprints on the wall paper on uninvited "filthy democrats." As more got the vote, civilized Americans joked over enfranchising "bipeds of the forest" and slurred the new "common Congressmen" at the Capitol.

By the Civil War, universal male suffrage was the law, except for slaves. Even the boys in blue could vote, unlike at least one group of Yankees during the Revolution who were told they couldn't vote because they "had no will of their own." Their muskets persuaded the election judges otherwise.

Despite the Emancipation Proclamation, blacks were not enfranchised until the 15th Amendment was ratified in 1870. Five years later, Tennessee enacted the first Jim Crow law separating blacks and whites in public places, and in 1890 poll taxes and literacy tests were enacted to disfranchise thousands of blacks. The 24th Amendment finally banned the poll tax in 1901.

Women got the vote in 1920 in the Wyoming Territory. Elsewhere the suffragettes, as they were soon calling themselves, began their long battle for enfranchisement.

They faced such arguments as "If women were allowed to vote, they would crowd all men out of the office and men would be obliged to stay home and take care of the children." In 1910 a suffragette was "one who has ceased to be a lady and has not yet become a gentleman."

In 1920 women won the vote with the 19th Amendment - and a comment: "The greatest thing that came out of the war (World War I) was the emancipation of women, for which no man fought."

The 23rd Amendment enfranchised citizens of the District of Columbia in 1961, and 10 years later, the 26th Amendment lowered the voting age to 18.

Today people of American territories or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico cannot yet vote.

Five years later, Tennessee enacted the first Jim Crow law separating blacks and whites in public places, and in 1890 poll taxes and literacy tests were enacted to disfranchise thousands of blacks. In fact, in 1820 one Founding Father, John Randolph, darkly predicted that secret ballots would turn the United States into a "nation of scoundrels."

celebration has been expanded to include another program, Mrs. Wette said. Originally planned for July 3-4-5, an exciting program July 2 is also now planned.

The Bicentennial show will include a style revue, tentatively to be sponsored by county extension clubs; the Wayne County Jaycoes board judging contest, and the crowning of a county Bicentennial king and queen.

Mrs. Wette said the Bicentennial committee will be seeking the oldest residents of each community in the county as candidates for the Bicentennial royalty titles, with the king and queen being crowned during the July 2 program.

A community sing and other entertainment is also in the planning stages for the opening Independence Day event. Mrs. Wette said any individuals or organizations wishing to participate should contact her.

She said she is also looking for sponsors for game booths tentatively planned to be set up in the city auditorium Saturday, July 3, and Monday, July 5.

A parade is planned for July 3, with Gerald Hix in charge of arrangements. A combined church service, a horse show, the cutting of the Bicentennial birthday cake, and fire are planned for July 4, and the Wayne County museum is scheduled to open July 5.

see a completely different perspective. The WSC faculty is better prepared to educate now than in 1953, Seymour said. There is a higher level of advanced degrees and backgrounds are more varied.

He added that the support staff at the college which maintains the physical facilities is also a vital part of the educational system.

The Nebraska State College system—WSC, Kearney, Peru and Chadron—has a combined enrollment of 10,000 students, making it an important part of higher education in Nebraska.

Seymour said the state legislature would hard this year to present a realistic approach to meeting the needs of state colleges, and has provided for those needs.

"The year ahead is important for state colleges," he concluded.

with 377. Pender with 393, Tekamah Herman with 401 and Emerson Hubbard with 471.

Also shooting for Wayne were Si Prather with an 88, Bob Bornhoff with 90 and Jon Ley with 96. Mark Gansbom shot a 105. "I was a little disappointed in the results," Maciejewski noted "I was counting on (Rich Workman for his experience to lead the team, but he's sick," the coach added.

Maciejewski said the problem on the team is the lack of experience. He hopes the team can improve on that situation before it goes into district play Friday at Albion Saturday. The Devils were scheduled to play Norfolk Catholic in a nine-hole match at Wayne Country Club. Today (Monday) the Devils host Norfolk High.

Wakefield coach Lyle Trullinger said he was pleased with Bressler's play, especially the last two holes in the playoff. "He played well under pressure," he coach noted.

Also scoring for Wakefield were Tod Swigart with 90, John Viken with 100 and Steve Possil with 103. Wakefield's third player was Bennett Salmon with 111.

Today, Wakefield travels to Stanton for a triangular before the Trojans head to district at Wayne Thursday.

among Hess Dyas, Lenore Elchison and Edward Zorinsky. Blair-Richendier and Donald Jensen are seeking the Democratic nomination for Third District Public Service commissioner. Pauline Anderson is the lone Democratic candidate for Nebraska's First Congressional District. No Democratic candidate filed for the Wayne County Second District board of commissioners slot.

Republicans have only two presidential candidates to choose from—Gerald Ford and Ronald Regan. Electors from both parties will indicate the candidate of their choice on the presidential preference ballot and will vote national convention delegates.

Richard Proud and John McColister are the two GOP senatorial candidates. Incumbent Duane Gay, Carol Pirsch, Forrest Barker and Stuart Handberg are the Republican candidates for the Public Service Commission. Incumbent Charles Toney is unopposed in the primary election to select a GOP candidate for the First Congressional District race. Incumbent Kenneth Eddie is seeking reelection as Wayne County commissioner.

Weary

ONO turned things around for a 9-0 whitewash of the Wildcats in the nightcap. May batters reached three Wayne pitchers for nine hits. Jim Kopecy started, yielded to Neil Blohm in the first, and Bill Schultz took over in the fifth.

Again in Omaha Friday, Wayne dropped a 7-4 decision to Creighton in the opener and lost another second-game blank, 6-0. Errors played a key role in both, especially the first when the Wildcats bled four times. Joe Hendricks went all the way in losing the first game. Rod Hegge started the second, got relief from Darrell Winger in the fourth.

Creighton games were a rescheduling of two postponed dates. While they put on an already busy week, coach Larry Schultz said he agreed to the date simply to keep the Wildcats in tune for NAIA district play off starting Thursday.

The playoffs are what the season is all about, Schultz declared. A win there sends the champion to Area 3 competition, where the prize is a national tournament shot.
