Stage Band Is Tuning Up

Tunes arranged by Maynard Ferguson—Buddy Rich—Woody Herman and other jazz musicians will be performed by the Wayne High School stage band Tuesday night, under the direction of Ron Dalton.

The sixth annual stage band concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre on the Wayne State College campus.

A light show and stage designs will be prepared by school art director Ted Blonderman again this year, assisted by Orville Hickerson of Wayne State College, and Wayne High student Jan Hahn.

A new dimension added to this year's concert will be a performance during intermission of the high school swing choir under the direction of Larry Stratman.

Swing band numbers will include "Don't Let the Sun Go Down on Me," "The Suncatchers," "Big Swing Face," "Walls of Jericho," and "That Lovin' Feeling."

The swing band includes 22 members and the swing choir, 12 members.

Tickets are available from any stage band member or may be obtained at the door. Price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Iowa Men Arrested In Theft

A Sioux City man has been released on bond and a Davenport, Ia., man is being held at Newton, Ia., in connection with the theft and re-sale of $30,000 in farm chemicals from Tri-County Co-Op in Laurel.

Hule Krana of Sioux City was released on $5,000 bond Thursday and Robert Balet of Davenport was in custody in Newton after the pair were arrested and charged with conspiracy and receiving and selling farm chemicals stolen in interstate shipment.

According to reports, the two allegedly conspired with an Extra, Ia., farmer, Francis Muhr, and Krana's son, Randy Muhr and Randy Krana are not charged in the complaint in which the FBI alleges that Muhr paid $4,010 for 90 cans of chemicals which would sell for $5,000 on the retail market.

On May 6, Muhr was arrested on state charges of receiving and concealing stolen property. The FBI accused Muhr of receiving about 360 containers of chemicals, some of which were identified as property of Tri-County Co-Op.

STUDENTS at St. Mary's Catholic School light the candles on cupcakes, arranged to form a liberty bell, while they sing patriotic songs honoring America's 200th birthday. The candlelighting ceremony ended a day-long program in which 52 students and their teachers, Mrs. Jim Seward, Mrs. Rod Bowder and Mrs. Donna Goeden, took part.

St. Mary's Bicentennial Pupils Prepare Pioneer Lunch

As the Bicentennial draws near, everyone seems to be getting into the spirit of celebrating, including students at St. Mary's Catholic School in Wayne.

Last Wednesday, the 52 students and their teachers spent the day preparing a typical pioneer dinner, performing and reciting patriotic skills, poems and essays, and holding an old-fashioned hoedown, or square dance, in the school's parking lot.

School principal Mrs. Jim Seward was in charge of planning the day-long celebration. Also helping with the activities were teachers Mrs. Rod Bowder and Mrs. Donna Goeden.

Festivities began with mass at the school at noon. While students in first and second grade were busy churning butter for their homemade-cornbread, fifth and sixth graders prepared the beef stew and spiced apple sauce. Cupcakes and homemade ice cream, served later in the afternoon, were the products of third and fourth grade students.

Dinner tables featured place mats, which were woven by the youngest students, napkins with flag nametags products of the third and fourth graders, and candies, the only source of light during the meal, dipped by the older students.

The afternoon program consisted of choral readings by grades one and two, skits by grades three and four, and a puppet skit by grades five and six. See BICENTENNIAL, page 6.

Economy Shifting Toward Service

In Wayne County, government figures show, there are more people engaged in providing services of various kinds than in producing goods.

More and more, with each passing year, the local area is shifting toward a service economy.

That is the trend, also, in most parts of the country. As a result, the United States has become the first nation in the world in which most of the working population is in service industries rather than in the production of tangible goods.

Nationally, according to the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Labor Statistics, almost seven out of every 10 workers have service-type jobs today -- in banks, schools, hospitals, stores, business offices, government agencies, finance, transportation, communications and the like.

In Wayne County, the latest figures show, approximately 64 per cent of the working population have service-oriented jobs. The other 36 per cent are in goods-producing occupations, which consist of agriculture, mining, construction and manufacturing.

This compares with 60 per cent in services and 40 per cent in production in 1970.

Elsewhere in the United States, 68 per cent are now in the service sector and 70 per cent in Nebraska.

The transition over the years to a service economy is attributed principally to automation, which has steadily reduced the number of people needed in production jobs. At the same time, however, it has opened up many new service-type opportunities.

The increased affluence produced by automation has triggered an ever-increasing demand for services as well as for goods, points out Victor Fuchs of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Besides creating new jobs it has provided "opportunities for small firms and non-profit organizations, thus insuring the proliferation of independent businesses at a time when large corporations are growing still larger by the absorption of small ones."

He finds that virtually all of the net increase in employment in the United States since 1947 has occurred in the service industries.

Cycle Missing

A 1975 Kawasaki motorcycle, valued at $2,300, was taken from a garage at 318 1/2 W. Second, according to Wayne police reports.

Owner Roger Victor reported that the cycle had been missing since sometime between Tuesday and Friday of last week. He described the bike as dark green.

Democrats Reveal County Delegates

Allen O'Donnell, Wayne County Democratic party chairman, has announced the list of delegates to the semi-annual party convention scheduled for June 3 at the Wayne County courthouse.

They are: Bill G. Burris, Joceli Bull, Jerry Dorcay, Kathleen Victor, Susan Oglesby Daugherty, J.S. Johar, Loren R. Park, Shirley Fletcher, Henry Ley, William Hagerman, Nancy Hagerman, James Philor, Linnie Philor, Timothy Wacker, Herman Wacker, Rodella Wacker, Gary Hudson, Gene Fletcher, Rena Pedersen, Anton Pedersen, Doris Ley, Sylvia Eynon, Thomas C. McClain, David R. Ley, Dick Banister, Fanchen Banister, Lelia Maynard, Sandra Elliott, Kenneth M. Olds, Erin O'Donnell, Robert D. Jordan, Allen O'Donnell, Ann O'Donnell, Frank Prather, Robert A. LaPointe, John Dorcay, Richard Noyes, Julie Noyes, Myron Jenness, Gil Fournier, Jane Barlo, Bonnie Andersen, Sayre Andersen.

Power Rate Study Sparks Special Council Meeting

The Wayne city council will meet in special session Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss recommendations on city electric rates made by consulting electrical engineer Norman Armstrong.

Armstrong presented a preliminary report to the council April 27 indicating that rate changes necessary to bring charges in line with costs won't be as high as had been anticipated for most customers, but could be dramatic for some.

If it had been predicted, before the rate study was undertaken, that revenue from operation of the city electric system would have to increase by about 20 per cent, overall, in order to operate in the black.

Figures presented by Armstrong in April show the overall increase should be about 15 per cent.

Actual rate increases, however, will be less for some customers and considerably higher for others if preliminary recommendations are followed.

The biggest increase would be in the industrial rate. Wayne State College is the only customer now paying industrial rates, Armstrong said. If the college used the same amount of electricity it did in 1975, and paid current rates, the total bill would be about $69,000. The cost of providing that service is almost $143,000 according to Armstrong's report -- 107 per cent more than the amount charged.

A few residential customers can also expect a big bite, if Armstrong's recommendations are adopted. A consumer using about 2,800 kilowatt hours a month in a home not utilizing all-electric heating now pays $86 a month. The bill should be $104 a month if true cost of providing the power is reflected, Armstrong said.

Customers using very little electricity should also be paying more, according to the rate study. The minimum charge now for 11 kilowatt hours is $1.61 a month. The report recommends a minimum of $3.40 a month.

Home-owners with all-electric heat should also be paying more, Armstrong's preliminary report said. When the rate structure now in use was set up, special rates were applied to

Teacher, Two Cooks Resign at AH

Two cooks and a full-time teacher have told the Allen school board they will not be returning next fall.

They are Mrs. Myrna Gotch and Mrs. Carol Schroeder, who prepared meals, and Mrs. Susan Stingley, who taught sixth grade, according to superintendent Virgil Ferguson.

All three notified the board during Monday night's board meeting, Ferguson added. Mrs. Schroeder is retiring and Mrs. Gotch resigned for health reasons. Mrs. Stingley, who came to Allen last year, will be teaching at Laurel next fall.

Other changes in teaching assignments next fall include an opening for a half-day kindergarten teacher. The present kindergarten teacher, Miss Lola Erwin, will replace Mrs. Pat Von Minden, who will switch from second to third grade.

Also leaving the school system is Mrs. Lillian Davenport, who was teachers aid on the elementary level.

In other action the board voted to keep the free high tuition rate at $1,900 for rural students attending Allen next fall.

The members agreed to increase pay for substitute teachers from $20 to $25.

The board also:

- Offered to handle the Title I reading program for Waterbury school district if the district wants it and Allen receives federal money to continue the program.
- Rehired secretaries Mrs. Eva Durant and Mrs. Jo Van Buskirk.

all-electric homes to encourage greater sales.

That was in the days of relatively cheap electricity, however. In today's market, with energy prices at a premium, promotion rates are no longer practical, Armstrong said in April.

An all-electric home consuming 3,611 kilowatt hours a month now runs up a $68 bill. Armstrong's preliminary study indicated the tab should be $114.

Also on the agenda for the special council meeting Thursday is discussion of a civil court case filed by the city against Wayne County.

The city alleges the county owes it $7,000 under an agreement for ambulance services. City officials had contracted the Wayne County commissioners about the possibility of an out-of-court settlement.

WHS Students Will Exhibit Art Selections

A week-long Wayne High School student art show will be open to the public beginning today (Monday), according to art director Ted Blonderman.

Blonderman said students should complete setting up displays in the girls' gymnasium at the high school sometime this afternoon.

The art show will be open during school hours, from about 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., for the remainder of the week.

All art students in the school system will have their works on display, Blonderman said, and some pieces will be for sale. He estimated that about 200 art pieces will be shown, including painting, sculpture and craft work.

Municipal Band Will Reunite

Former members of the old Wayne Municipal Band will be reuniting at the instruments in preparation for a reunion in Wayne over Memorial Day weekend.

Wayne State College president Dr. Lyle Symour, reunion chairman, said invitations have been sent out and a number of out of state former band members as well as local former bandmen have indicated they will be attending the reunion to share nostalgic memories.

Under the direction of bandmaster Ford C. Reed, now deceased, the city band dominated the music scene in Wayne in the 1930's--so much so that the public school system didn't have a band program in those days.

Dr. Frank Gamble of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, instigated the band reunion, Seymour said. The weekend of musical nostalgia will begin Friday evening, May 28, with an informal get together at Les' Steakhouse in Wayne, beginning at 7 p.m.

Former bandmen, including several music professionals, will gather Saturday afternoon for a "rehearsal." Dr. Seymour said, and tentative plans include a Sunday afternoon concert in the bandshell in Brassier Park.

Reed had an extensive library of band music, Dr. Seymour said, and it is believed that at least part of that library is still in Wayne. He asked that anyone having any information about the collection to contact him.

Mrs. J. Russell-Johnson of Wayne is in charge of reservations for the Saturday night dinner, tentatively scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Vef's Club. Everyone should try to bring pictures, anecdotes and other band memorabilia to share with their fellow former band members, Seymour said.

Mrs. Warren Summers of Wayne is in charge of housing arrangements for the weekend.

WSC Graduate Receives UN-L Advanced Degree

Dale Nurnberg of Norfolk received his masters degree in business administration May 8 from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Nurnberg was one of the first nine graduates of the UN-L business college executive program leading to a masters degree.

A 1963 Wayne State College graduate, Nurnberg is married to the former Marily Gutshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gutshall of Wayne.

Winside, Wakefield Set Commencement Stages

Winside High School seniors will be receiving diplomas in graduation exercises scheduled to begin tonight (Monday) at 8 p.m.

Phil Witt, a Winside graduate now working for Sioux City television station KMEG, will be guest speaker.

School superintendent Donovan Leighton will announce the graduates, who will receive diplomas from school board president Robert Koll, guidance counselor Lee Johnson will make scholarship awards.

Wakefield High School seniors will be graduated Wednesday evening in ceremonies at the city park.

A total of 33 students will participate in the commencement ceremonies, being conducted outside this year, for the first time.

The graduation activities will take place in the school auditorium in case of inclement weather.

Baccalaureate services for the class were scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the auditorium.

Wayne mayor Dr. Freeman Dackor will be guest speaker at commencement, which will be presided over by school superintendent Muri Bell.

Guidance counselor Kathleen Conway will present scholarships at the commencement exercises. The Steve Wilkerson Scholarship will be presented by American Legion post commander Dean Boeckenhauer.

Principal B. C. Thompson will announce honor students. School board president Marvin Borg will present diplomas to the graduates.

Dixon Voters 'Reelect' Young To Town Board But Term Not Up

Dixon voters are apparently satisfied with the jobs being done by village board chairman John Young. They tried to reelect him before his term expired.

Three positions on the board were up for grabs in the election Tuesday. No one had filed for the board seats, however, so voters were faced with the task of writing in three names.

Young ended up on top among six write-in candidates, gaining 17 votes. The only problem is, Young is chairman of the village board, and his term doesn't expire for two years.

Lowell Saunders received seven votes, trailing behind Marvin Nelson, with 10 votes, and Robert Dempster, with eight. Dempster, like Young, is also already on the board, with two years to go before his term is up.

Lawrence Fox and Leo Garvin received five votes each.

According to Deputy Secretary of State Ralph Englert, the village board will have to appoint a member to fill one of the three vacancies.

Englert explained that the Dixon County clerk will have to issue a certificate of election to Young, but it won't be valid because he is already on the board.

Nelson and Dempster will also receive certificates of election and will be seated on the board. With Young ineligible to be elected, one position will remain open.

The logical step might seem to give the job to the fourth man on the list. That is not allowed under state election laws, however. (That probably wouldn't alleviate any confusion anyway, because Saunders, the fourth man, would be ineligible, like Young. That would leave a tie between Fox and Garvin to be resolved.)

Englert said the village board will have to appoint a member to fill the vacancy. That is, if anyone wants the job.

NTCC Will Offer Upholstery Class At Middle School

Northeast Technical Community College (NTCC) at Norfolk and the Wayne public schools will sponsor an upholstery class in Wayne, beginning June 4 in the Wayne Middle School shop.

Mrs. Doris Koepke of Pitger will instruct the course, which will include furniture frame repair and upholstery methods.

The class will meet weekly for 14 sessions. The meeting time for the remainder of the course will be decided upon by students at the first meeting. Tuition is $15. Materials used will be available for purchase by the student.

Further information can be obtained by contacting the NTCC community services division at 371-2020, extension 230.

Top Award Winners

ALLEN HIGH seniors Jeff Creamer and Kari Erwin Wednesday carted off the top music awards as well as the Athletes of the Year nominations during the school's awards program. Jeff and Kari will have their names inscribed on the National Choral plaque for their participation in vocal music. Kari also will have her name inscribed on the John Philip Sousa plaque for her participation in instrumental music. For more stories on Allen's award winners and honors program, turn to pages 4 and 6.

OBSERVATIONS

Voter turnout not good

A little less than half the registered voters in Wayne County made it to the polls on primary election day.

Actually, that isn't a bad turnout as American elections go, but it isn't good when you realize that a majority of the people didn't participate in choosing their governmental representatives. (And remember, we're only talking about registered voters, not eligible voters.)

Wayne's foreign exchange student for this year, Allain Gullot-Plingue said in an interview during his stay here that voting is required in Belgium. Citizens who don't vote can receive a summons and fine, much like a traffic ticket.

Americans would probably be hostile to that idea. It would be regarded as an infringement on personal freedom.

But we can't help but wonder how concerned people are about freedom when they don't exercise one of the rights of citizens to participate.

So, what do you say? The general election is coming up in November. Let's see if Wayne County can't do a little better than it did in the primary. — Jim Strayer.

Better late than never?

The responsibility of citizens for their government doesn't stop at the ballot box, and last week's Wayne city council meeting was a case in point.

A few months ago when the council set the occupation tax for liquor license holders at the maximum amount allowed by law, opposition wasn't apparent, a point which council member Jimmie Thomas made during the Tuesday meeting.

Thomas made the point after license holders showed up in force to protest the tax — after most of them had received the license and paid the fee.

The council has indicated they will review the matter before licenses are due for renewal. We have no quarrel with that. The fees may indeed be too high for a business in a small town. But we echo Thomas' question: Where were they when the issue first came up?

Misunderstanding over what the occupation tax would be was cited by one proprietor as a reason for concern at the time. That seems pretty flimsy, because the proposal was explained in detail at council meetings before final action was taken.

We're not criticizing anyone for coming to the council with a legitimate complaint, in fact, we encourage it. But it would have been much simpler, and possibly less expensive for the parties involved, if they had stepped forward the first time around. — Jim Strayer.

STRAYEr Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

It was a long night Tuesday with the city council and election stories to write for the next day. A minor mix-up stretched it out a little bit.

All the election results for Wayne County were in, except for the fourth ward in Wayne. County clerk Norris Welbie and myself decided to check it out and found the polling place dark and locked.

Actually, ballots and the counting book had been delivered to the courthouse earlier, but a new election board member wasn't aware that the book had to be checked in. A last phone-call cleared up the mystery and the tally board was quickly finished. It delayed the final returns by only about a half-hour.

Recreation Committee

State Senator Bob Murphy is one of eight legislators who were scheduled to meet in Ponca Saturday and visit the state park there.

The Ponca Community club is advocating extending the park season, adding some cabins and improving the waterfront.

Regulation Costly

About 63,000 federal regulators are paid $2 billion in salary and expenses every year according to a Forbes Magazine article reprinted in the Sun Oil company newsletter.

A Goodyear executive said that in 1974 his company spent over $30 million complying with government regulations — the equivalent of salaries for 3,400 factory workers.

fyre figures federal employees shuffle 10 billion pieces of paper a year in reports from businesses. Filing those reports costs business $18 billion a year.

And government interference can be even worse when different agencies don't know what others are doing.

Contradictory Rules

One company was required to lock exit doors for security reasons, under terms of a defense contract. That didn't help it to an OSHA inspector, however. He said it violated safety requirements and imposed a fine.

For what it's worth: If a pair of house flies mated today, and if their descendants all lived and reproduced normally, their offspring would cover the earth several feet deep in four months.

One pair of flies can increase to 1.8 million pairs in six generations or 12 weeks. The common house fly is capable of carrying typhoid, cholera, amoebic dysentery, leprosy, tuberculosis, and plague, to mention a few. This major pest is, truly cosmopolitan, existing wherever man has established himself.

Beef Month

May is a special month, one which shouldn't go by in this part of the country without mention. It's National Beef Month and producers certainly deserve credit for giving Americans the world's finest beef.

Belated Honors

Some World War II vets might be interested in knowing about a May 29 dinner of the Flying Tigers and the 14th Air Force Association in Sioux City May 29.

Former Flying Tiger Walter Beggs of Sioux City said the association is looking for former service men who served in China during World War II. If interested, they're in line for a decoration earned 20 years ago but never received.

Out of Old

Nebraska

The principal guide for shoppers in Nebraska territorial years was the same as it is today — the newspaper. In comparing the advertising sections of 1850's and 1970's papers, the modern paper comes out much the better, displaying ads with eye appeal and occasionally ads that are fun to read.

But the bargain hunters of a century ago may have been more avid readers of their papers — most of them weekly four-page sheets — since that might have been the only current reading matter they had. An interesting afterthought can be spent visiting the microfilm room of the Nebraska State Historical Society in Lincoln, where old newspapers are filed. Often a person will find himself reading the curious old ads as well as the "news."

merchants, from Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Eastern towns; personals.

All this "ads" up to 18 of 32 columns of advertising. And what were the subscribers reading elsewhere in the paper? Not all of it by any means was "home" news. This was the "hand-set" era when all types and characters had to be set individually. Publishers of necessity ran many columns of "boiler plate" — feature material cast in metal which could be used without occupying a typesetter for hours. Sometimes whole pages of such material were printed out of town and shipped in; this was called "ready print". A reader was fortunate if one-third of his paper in the 1850's was news about his home town and his acquaintances.

The News, J. Sterling Morton's paper, in 1958, was published by Thomas Morton who was assisted by an office force including editor Milton W. Reynolds. J. Sterling Morton was then in Omaha as secretary to the territorial government.

And what was the big news that week in Nebraska City? Skip the front page "boiler plate." Page 2 carried a two-column story on the proposed St. Joseph to Council Bluffs Railroad, which was to serve Nebraska City at a station four miles away across the river. Several Germans had started a brewery which the editor did not feel competent to comment on he said, because he had not yet been "furnished a complimentary barrel." Wagon trains were leaving for Sale Lake City to supply the Army. Corn "looked healthy" and promised 75 to 80 bushels per acre.

School thanks bank

The Wayne school system would like to thank the State National Bank for making the Washington, D.C. trip possible. Participating students, Don Zeiss, Susan Daugherty, Ron Carnes, Twilla Wilf, Kathy Fink.

Olympics successful

May we take this method to show our appreciation to the many people involved in making the 1976 Special Olympics such a success.

The Olympics bring together people of different walks of life who have one thought — the success of the Special Olympics in Wayne for the young athletes who cannot participate in the regular outlets in sports.

We are grateful to them all — students, teachers, businessmen, anyone who gave of his time or money. — Gertrude Vahlkamp, special education teacher, Wayne Middle School.

Mayor offers congratulations

Please accept my belated congratulations for the fine honors bestowed upon you by the Nebraska Press Association. They were all well deserved.

Incidentally, I would be remiss if I did not commend you for the fine coverage you give to the activities of the Wayne City Council. — F. B. Decker, mayor, City of Wayne.

OPEN HOUSE was held Sunday of the new Randolph Fire, Joint and Rescue Station. The project, a joint effort of the City of Randolph and the Randolph Rural Fire Protection District, was recently completed after the bids were let about a year ago. Total cost of the project was $82,458.00.

CONSTRUCTION of a new junior-senior high school building on a new site was recommended to the Madison Board of Education in a report presented to the board at its monthly meeting last week. The report is the end result of a survey conducted for the board of a team from the department of educational administration at the University of Nebraska. Principal reason given in the report for a new building was the condition of the present high school building, which was completed in 1914.

Traffic Scoreboard

1976 Total

The gap between the number of traffic accidents in Wayne for 1976 compared to the same period in 1975 is narrowing, but drivers are apparently still having problems when backing out into traffic lanes.

Effective 7 a.m. Friday, 84 traffic mishaps had occurred in Wayne since the first of the year. The total on the same date in 1975 was 81.

Two accidents were investigated by Wayne police last week. One fender-bender happened when a vehicle backing from a driveway collided with a vehicle parked on the street.

The other accident occurred when a driver turned a corner too sharply and sideswiped a parked vehicle.

1975 Total

The difference in the number of accidents between 1975 and 1976 has been closing steadily, and if Wayne drivers stay on top of things and take a little extra care the current figure could slip below the one from a year ago.

Weekly gleanings...

SALARY negotiations between the school board and the teachers in the Pender school system have been completed for the 1976-77 school year. The board of education Monday evening approved the new salary agreement, which includes a schedule with a base salary of $7,900. The current schedule has a $7,400 base salary.

DR. H. S. TENNANT was honored recently for 50 years of medical practice at the annual Nebraska Medical Association meeting in Kearney.

OVER 200 persons were present May 9 for the groundbreaking ceremonies at St. John's Lutheran Church in Pilger. The ceremony was for a new $28,000 classroom addition to the church. Congregational chairman Frank Sramek turned over the first spadeful of dirt under the supervision of building committee members Henry Wichman, John Goeller and Clifford Koch. The Rev. Willard Kasulike officiated.

Joan Schnoor

Engaged to David Baier

Making plans for an Aug. 14 wedding at Mount Olive Lutheran Church in Norfolk are Joan Schnoor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerle Schnoor of Norfolk, and David Baier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baier of Wayne.

The engagement has been announced by the bride-elect's parents. Miss Schnoor, a 1972 graduate of Randolph High School and a 1973 graduate of Northeast Technical Community College at Norfolk, is employed at Norfolk Medical Arts. Her fiancé graduated from Wayne High School in 1972 and from Northeast Technical Community College in 1974. He is engaged in farming near Wayne.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Lecture to Focus on Declaration

On Wednesday evening, Dr. Charles Hepburn will address the Wayne County Right to Life chapter on the past and present interpretation of the Declaration of Independence.

Dr. Hepburn, currently the chairman of the social science department at Wayne State College, has been an American colonial scholar since his student days at Stanford University, and is a nationally known authority on the makers and the meaning of the Declaration.

His appearance before the Right to Life committee is one of a series of lectures he has scheduled throughout the country as a project endorsed by the National Bicentennial Committee.

In view of the recent Supreme Court decision about abortion, a question and answer discussion following Hepburn's presentation will focus on what inalienable rights mean to present-day Americans.

Also on the agenda for Wednesday's meeting is the discussion of a Right to Life Bicentennial parade project, and a discussion on abortion facts and fallacies.

The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting at the Wayne Woman's Club room, located in the city auditorium.

Merry Mixers Exchange Plants

Nine members attended the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Merry Mixers Home Extension Club, answering roll call with a plant or bulb exchange.

Mrs. Frederick Mann was hostess, and guests were Mrs. Laurine Beckman, Mrs. Chris Tietgen and Mrs. Dennis Luft. Mrs. Luft presented a craft lesson on macramé.

Tuesday's meeting marked the group's final meeting of the season. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Harvey Mohlfeld Sept. 14.

Local Pastor Attending Major National Meeting

Northeast Nebraska Presbyterians will be represented at a major national meeting in Baltimore, Md., this month.

Selected to represent the Nebraska Presbytery at the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church have been the Rev. Robert Haas, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church in Wayne, layperson Bill Brown of Ponca.

They will be among the 700 persons who will make major policy decisions for the 2.7 million member denomination. The General Assembly is the church's national governing body.

The General Assembly will be asked to approve position or study papers on economic justice and environmental limits, United States food policy, problem pregnancies, occult and psychic activities, the ordination of avowed homosexuals, and the establishment of a national minimum salary for ministers.

The national body will also make a final decision about church organization in this region. It will be asked to approve a plan to realign the presbyteries within the region. The plan has been approved by the Synod of Lakes and Prairies, a six-state body including Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota. If the plan is approved, the synod's 23 presbyteries will be reduced to 16.

Hekrdle-Hargrove

Making plans for an Aug. 7 wedding at Wayne are Donna Hekrdle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hekrdle of Leigh, and Dwight Hargrove of Omaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brooks of Kanaksee, Ill. The engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Hekrdle, a 1970 graduate of Stanton High School and a 1976 graduate of Wayne State College, is employed at the Region IV Office in Wayne.

Her fiancé, a 1970 graduate of Westview High School in Kanaksee, attended Wayne State College. He is employed by Mutual of Omaha as a claims adjustor.

250 Attend Social At Redeemer Church

The mother-daughter social, held at Redeemer Lutheran Church Wednesday night was attended by about 250 persons.

Decorations, in red, white and blue, reinforced the Bicentennial theme, and featured flags at the tables.

Mrs. Wayne Tietgen and daughter, Jeanne, presented the flag, followed by group singing of "Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. Les Luft extended the welcome. Group singing of favorite national anthems, led by Mrs. Terry Luft and accompanied by Mrs. Terry Bartling, was followed by tributes to daughters by Mrs. Alma Luschen, and a tribute to mothers by Mrs. Gordon Jorgensen.

Recognized during the evening were Mrs. Oscar Hoeman, oldest mother (83); Mrs. Arnold Anderson, tallest woman; Mrs. Ed Nissen, oldest dress (116 years); Terri Lynn Test, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Test, youngest daughter, and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, attending from the farthest distance. Mrs. Melvin Johnson and her daughter, Mrs. Jim Luschen, were winners of the mother-daughter look-a-like contest.

Mrs. Luft served as narrator for a skit, entitled "Remember When?" The program ended with a special prayer by Mrs. S. K. deFroese and the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Darrel Rahn gave a short business report on the LCW and a salad luncheon was served.

Villa Residents Guests at Club

Villa Wayne Tenant Club members were guests at the Monday evening meeting of the Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club, held at the Villa Wayne recreation hall.

About 40 attended the meeting, including Evelyn Wamberg of California, who is visiting Mrs. Minnie Helkes, Grace Raebel of Iowa, a guest of Mrs. Bessie Davidson, and Alice Hoeman of Michigan, who is visiting with the Eged Gildersleeves and Mrs. Julie Surber.

Bunco was played and luncheon was served by the Klick and Klatter Club. Winning bunco prizes were Stella Liska, Doris Ward, Esther Van Slyke and Alice Boyce.

The regular Tuesday meeting was not held at the Villa because of the election. On Wednesday, the Rev. Doniver Peterson of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was at the Villa to conduct Bible study on John, the ninth chapter.

Eight Members Bring Pictures

Sunny Homemakers Club members met Thursday in the Emille Reeg home. Eight members answered roll call by bringing a picture of their mother. Mrs. Lucy Gramberg was a guest.

The group opened the meeting by singing "Bless Be the Tie That Binds." The birthday of Lena Reeg was observed and the meeting closed with the club song.

Cards were played with Dorothy Danchberg receiving the prize. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Next meeting will be June 10 with Mrs. Emil Danchberg at 2 p.m.

Music-Booster Calendars List Winside Events

Winside Music Boosters have announced that a community calendar is being offered for sale through May 21.

The calendars, which cost $2 each, run from September of 1976 to August of 1977 and include school activities as well as Winside community events.

A limited number of calendars are available and persons who would like to order one are asked to contact Mrs. Dennis Greenke, 286-4895, or Mrs. Robert Jensen, 286-4858, before May 21. Proceeds for the calendar sales will go to the Music Boosters organization.

The calendars will be delivered during August.

JE Members Meet

JE Club members held their Tuesday afternoon meeting in the home of Mrs. Harvey Reibold with one guest, Mrs. Edith Williams. In cards, it was Mrs. Ida Myers and Mrs. Harry Schulz.

Mrs. Camilla Liedtke will host the May 25 meeting, set for 2:30 p.m.

Church Honors Pastor

Immanuel Lutheran Church Northwest of Wakefield recently held a farewell reception to honor the Rev. and Mrs. Albert W. Gode. They were also honored at a farewell given by the Wayne Circuit at South Sioux City.

Pastor Gode, who will be 79 on May 31, is retiring with 54 years in the Missouri Synod. He has been at the Wakefield church the past 15 and a half years.

Pastor Gode attended Concordia College in Milwaukee, Wis., and graduated in 1921 from Concordia Theological Seminary at Springfield, Ill. He was ordained that year and inducted into office at Sarcoxie and Monett, Mo., where he taught school.

Through the years he has served churches in Missouri, Maryland, Illinois, Wyoming and Nebraska. His longest pastorate was in Nebraska and Illinois where he ministered over 15 years each.

Godes have two children, Daniel who lives in Auxvasse, Mo., and David, who is a parochial school teacher in Jefferson City, Mo. A daughter, Esther, died in 1948.

Godes plan to move to Norfolk. The Rev. Ronald Hoiling, pastor at St. John's Lutheran church in Wakefield, will serve as vacancy pastor at Immanuel.

Laurel Falls Short of Trip To Golf Meet

Laurel High's golf team missed winning a ticket to the state Class C golf meet Thursday by just one stroke during the 14-team district playoffs at Wayne Country Club.

The Bears of coach Joel Parks toured the 18-hole course with a 365, good for fourth place. However, only the top three teams and five individuals qualify for the trip to state.

As expected, always tough Norfolk Catholic finished way ahead of the group with a sizzling 344. Plainview was second with a 363 followed by Neligh with a 364. Following Laurel were Stanton, 368; Bassett-Rock County, 391; Atkinson-West, 388; Wakefield, 391; Bloomfield 418; Orchard 421; Emerson-Hubbard 458; and Tilden Elkhorn-Valley 463. Scores weren't available for Hartington High and Springfield.

All four Laurel golfers had consistent scores. Gordie Kari dealt led with an 88, followed by Scott Huelg with a 91 and Todd Anderson and Gary Schultz each shot a 93.

Wakefield coach Lyle Trullinger almost had one of his players earn a trip to the state meet. Senior Kerry Bressler fell two strokes short of a playoff for fifth. He finished with an 85 to tie with two other players for sixth, but settled for eighth place after the flip of the coin.

Also shooting for Wakefield were Todd Swigart with 94, John Aiken with 101 and Steve Pospil with 111.

Third Time Will Decide

Coaches Were Right: Wayne, Wakefield Clash

By DAN VODVARKA

Two old Northeast Nebraska rivals will go at each other again Tuesday afternoon on the Wayne diamond and this time the stakes will be high.

Wayne and Wakefield will meet for the third time this season to decide not only which is the better of the two clubs but also which team will advance to the Class B state tourney in Lincoln on May 24.

Thursday afternoon, Wakefield made it to the final round of action by rallying to nudge Bancroft 3-2 in eight frames in the semi-finals. Wayne then used its home field advantage to trip Allen 8-2 and continue in the tourney.

Earlier this year, Wayne dumped Wakefield 15-2 in Wakefield with the help of seven Wakefield errors. But two weeks ago, Wayne returned the favor by committing eight errors on its home field and dropping a 7-1 decision, Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Wayne the two teams will attempt to settle the issue for this year.

Wayne coach Mike Mallette said he will send Paul Mallette to the mound Tuesday to face Wakefield. Wayne will enter the contest with a 12-2 mark while Wakefield is now at 10-2.

Wakefield coach Joe Coble said he was undecided about his starting pitcher in the finals. According to Coble it will be either Brad Jones, Dan Byer, Doug Starzl or Mike Soderberg starting for Wakefield.

"The four kids are all about equal," Coble pointed out. "We'll just have to decide which player will hurt our defense the least by going to the mound."

"I'll be disappointed if it's not a real good ball game as both teams are relatively even," he said. While Coble acknowledged that Wayne would have an edge in pitching, he also pointed out that Wakefield was hitting at a .311 pace as a team for the season.

Wayne enters the finals with a .309 team batting average.

Mallette leads the team with a .500 average while Doug Carroll is hitting at .447. Tom Ginn at .412 and Aaron Nissen at .405. Mallette and Dave Hix are both 6-1 on the year as pitchers.

Wayne struck early Thursday afternoon and had the invaders from Allen down 4-0 before Allen ever got to the plate.

After Hix drew a walk and Nissen and Carroll both singled to hit the bases, Vic Sharpe rapped out a two-out single to put Wayne on top 2-0 in the first frame. Ginn followed with a two-run double to center field and Wayne was on top to stay.

Although Allen pushed across single runs in the third and fourth frames, the Eagles never really threatened Wayne's lead as Wayne pitcher Hix recorded a dozen strike outs in six frames and Mallette struck out the side in the seventh in relief.

Wayne put the ball game far out of reach with a four-run fourth as Mallette singled in two runs in a frame that saw all three Allen errors committed.

Shawn Persinger got the only hit off Hix as the Eagle singled to start off the fourth frame and scored Allen's second run. Losing pitcher Jeff Creamer singled in the seventh off of Mallette for Allen's only other hit of the contest. Allen closed its season with a 3-7 mark.

Catcher Dave Gustafson's sacrifice fly to left field scored shortstop Mike Soderberg to give the Trojans a 3-2 decision over Bancroft in eight frames.

The Bulldogs took a 1-0 lead off pitcher Tim Wegner's run-scoring double which drove in third baseman John Tietz in the

Kober's Quick Reaction Nails Down First in 100

Coaches sometimes are known for their descriptive phrases when one of their athletes have an outstanding performance.

For instance, Wakefield track coach John Torczon came up with one Thursday while describing his 100-yard dash sprinter, senior Mark Kober, as Kober broke the tape in a time of :10.1 during the Class C district at Norfolk.

"That was just pure guts," Torczon pointed out after Kober struggled back from a poor start to break ahead of the pack just before the end.

For that effort, Kober won himself not only first place but also a berth in this year's boys state track meet at Omaha Burke High School.

Kober would have had a good shot at breaking the 10-second barrier if it weren't for his faulty start, the coach noted. He was just too anxious, Torczon said, adding that Kober had his feet too far apart when he jumped out of the starting blocks. To regain his balance,

Kober put his hand on the track surface and outraced the field. The senior also will be competing in the 220 after he picked up a second first-place finish with a time of :22.8. Joining him will be fellow Trojans Scott Keagle and Scott Mills. Keagle, who holds the top mark in the Class C high jump at 6-5, made it only 5-10 to land second place and go to state. Mills got second in the triple jump with a leap of 43-1/2.

As a team, Wakefield got fourth out of 13 teams with 49 points.

Runners from Winside, Laurel Head to State

A pair of Winside High runners and a miler from Laurel will head for the boys state track meet at Omaha Burke High School Friday and Saturday.

The trio qualified for the state trip Thursday after they placed among the top two in their events during Thursday's Class C district at Norfolk High's oval. Winside's steady pointmaker, senior Dave Mann, won the 880 and teammate Cliff Tillema got second in the 220. For Laurel, Mike Dalton placed second in the mile.

Mann, who has been the Wildcats' leader in the 880, mile and two-mile, won the 880 with a time of 2:03.3. His strategy of using the front runner to block the wind paid off in the third turn of the second lap where he broke away.

The biggest surprise for coach Jim Hafferty and his Winside crew was Tillema's record-setting pace in the 220. He clipped the old school mark of :23.4 by one-tenth of a second off Randy Jacobsen's time.

Laurel's Dalton was expected to be a strong finisher in the mile, according to his coach Alan Rainbolt. His best this year is 4:47 and he'll have to do that if he wants to qualify. Rainbolt pointed out Dalton ran in 4:31.4 in the team standings. Winside finished sixth with 29 points and Laurel finished last with 12 points in the 12-team meet.

Veterans of the American Revolution and their dependents received government benefits until 1911, according to the Veterans Administration.

No Doubts Here

WAYNE runner Monte Lowe readies to slide into home plate Thursday just before Allen catcher Denny Uhl nabs the throw to home. Lowe, however, was safe to score one of the locals' eight runs and give the Blue Devils a ticket to Tuesday's final Class B district game against Wakefield. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Dates Are Set For NEN Tennis Tourney in Wayne

Dates for the Northeast Nebraska Bicentennial Amateur Tennis Tournament in Wayne have been set for Thursday, May 27 through Saturday, May 30.

There will be 10 divisions, including three for boys, four for men, two for women and a mixed doubles, according to tournament director Tom Roberts.

The categories are Boys, 14 and under, 15 through 34, 35 through 44, 45 and over and doubles, women and girls, singles and doubles, and mixed doubles.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in each division and the consolation round in men's 19-34.

The tourney, which will be held at Wayne State College, is open to all players who live in a boundary north of Highway 30 and east of Highway 281 in Nebraska.

A player may enter a maximum of two events, Roberts noted. Costs are $2.50 for singles and $2 per person for doubles.

Entry deadline is 6 p.m. Friday, May 27. Make checks payable to Wayne Tennis Club and mail to Roberts at 512 Valley Dr., Wayne, Ne. 68787.

Playing times will be announced after entries are received and seedings and pairings are made. First round playing time will be in the Wayne Herald and The Norfolk Daily News. Youths will play during the day and adults in the evening, where possible.

"No one will forfeit if he or she can't make a certain time. We'll just change the time," Roberts said.

Assisting Roberts with the tournament will be Chuck Cooper.

top of the second. The visitors pushed the lead to 2-0 in the top of the fifth when Wegner, who advanced to first when he was hit with the ball, walked home with bases loaded.

Wakefield put its offensive show together in its half of the second to tie the match at two-0. Six Wakefield batters went to the plate and each got a hit. Center fielder Tim Rouse started the action with a double, followed by back-to-back singles by Wes Lueth, Dan Byers, Soderberg, Doug Starzl and Gustafson.

Both Rouse and Lueth were thrown out at third and home but Byers and Soderberg scooted home for the runs.

Teacher 'Surprised' by Service Award

Retiring third grade teacher Mrs. Viola Bartling was caught by surprise Wednesday when superintendent Virgil Ferguson presented her with a plaque for her "Outstanding Teaching Service," during the school's annual honors convocation.

Mrs. Bartling, who ends a 29-year teaching career at the end of the present school system, said she was completely unaware of what was going on when Ferguson called her to the front of the stage.

At first she thought she was supposed to read the list of students from her class who had perfect attendance during the school year. But "Mr. Ferguson told me to wait a minute—we have a surprise for you."

Mrs. Bartling has taught second and third grade at Allen for 11 of those 29 years. The rest of the time she has taught in schools in Wayne and Dixon Counties.

Mrs. Bartling's award was one of the highlights during the morning program. Other awards presented were:

FHA—Pam Brownell, LeElla Kell, Cheryl Koch, Sue Lanser, Kandance Rahn, Katherine Rahn, JoAnne Roberts, June Stapleton, Lori Von Minden.

Attendance—James Johnson, Kin Morgan, Laville Danker, second grade, Kevin Malcom, Jay Jones, 3rd grade; Derwin Roberts, Keith Karlberg, Deanna Hansen, 4th grade; Todd Jewell, Kelly Kraemer, Judy Taylor, 5th grade; Keith Roth, 6th grade; Randal Smith, 7th grade; Gregory Carr, Kregg Rahn, Joni Kraemer, Lisa Wood, 8th grade; Bart Gotch, Charlene Roth, 9th grade; Donald Bock, LeAnn Wood, 10th grade; Grace Luschen, Kandance Rahn, 11th grade; Kathleen Bahr (four years of perfect attendance), Steve Shortt, Vic Schultz, 12th grade.

Outstanding Pep Club—Karl Erwin.

Music—9th grade: Pam Brownell, Mari Clough, Mark Creamer, Susan Erwin, Bart Gotch, Lori Malcom, Richard Stewart; 10th grade: Todd Ellis, Barbara French, Steve Johnson, Terri Jones, Dan Koester, Cheryl Koch, Sue Lanser, Kaye Linateller, Colleen Roeder, Mark Hansen, Vince Kayanough; 11th grade: Brad Brown, Lori Erwin, Mary Jo Ludwig, Stan Malcom; 12th grade: Kathy Malcom, Laurie Osbahr, Kandance Rahn, Mark Rubick, Lori Von Minden, Jack Warner, Kris Young; 12th grade: Jeff Creamer, Karl Erwin, Charles Ferguson, Joy Kjer, Lori and Keesha Hansen, 1st grade: JoAnne Roberts, Vic Schultz, Diane Witte.

PROUDLY displaying the award she received for her teaching at Allen is third grade teacher Mrs. Viola Bartling, who will retire from teaching this year.

Lawn Tips Offered

By now your lawn should be green and growing. The first or second application of fertilizer in your lawn program should be complete, depending on your maintenance program.

In the eastern part of the state, crabgrass control should be applied by now. Central and western portions of the state should apply these materials before the 10th of May.

Broadleaved weeds should be treated with a suitable granular weed killer or low volatility spray before your neighbors start planting tomatoes.

At the price of a water, you will want as deep a root system on your turf as possible going into summer. One way to do this is by raising the height of cut another inch. This will increase the depth of rooting in your lawn.
