ered to hold public hearings to determine if control areas should be established. The state conservation and survey director, the state water resources director and the executive secretary of the state natural resources commission, form a panel to decide if a control district is needed and to provide guidelines for control. The NRD is then required to establish the control district and set forth regulations for water usage. Oltmans said better management of irrigation systems could also help alleviate some of the problems. Few of the irrigators who permit their wells to be monitored can tell the LENRD the rate at which they are pumping water. Rate of application depends on a variety of factors, Oltmans said, including type of soil. Applying water at a faster rate than is necessary not only needlessly depletes underground water supplies, it also means higher than necessary fuel or electricity costs for the farmer. Oltmans said the LENRD is planning to initiate a program to better educate the public about water usage in the region. The regular monthly meeting of the district's board of directors will be in Wayne Aug. 24. Oltmans said exact time and place have not yet been decided, but plans are for a panel of board members to discuss water laws, aquifers and water usage.

Water Rights Conflict Possible Locally If Extensive Irrigation Develops

By JIM STRAYER
Continued extensive development of irrigation in Wayne County might touch off a tremendous conflict over water rights, Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) manager Steve Oltmans of Norfolk said Friday.
Conflict most often arises when new irrigation systems pump the underground water level below the level of domestic wells.
About a dozen such cases have been reported in the 15 county LENRD so far this year, including a couple in Wayne County. Areas affected are usually from one to two miles in diameter. Areas in Wayne County are located south of Wakefield and south of Wakefield.
Oltmans said he is particularly concerned about further irrigation development in Wayne County because aquifers — natural — underground water storage "banks" — are generally not that rich locally.
Jerry Svoboda of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln conservation and survey division said the problem is especially acute this year because the region is in the midst of its third season with rainfall far below average. Oltmans said the problem in the area south of Wayne arose because three new irrigation wells were put into operation this year.
The question of household v. irrigation water can be relieved somewhat by drilling domestic wells deeper, but that can be costly and doesn't provide any long-term solution.

Oltmans said increasing heavy use of irrigation in Wayne County's marginal aquifers could result in "mining" of the water — the term used by resource specialists to describe situations where resources are used faster than they can be replenished by nature. Extensive mining of aquifers could result eventually in severe water shortages in the area concerned.
Conflict over water rights has resulted in law suits in some instances, including one case in Madison County. Final disposition of that case is pending, but the Madison Star-Mail reported Thursday that district court judge George Dirrick had ordered that a temporary injunction be continued against the owners of one irrigation well.
Vincent Dreeszen, director of the state conservation and survey division will conduct tests on the Donald Eisenmann well, pumping at a rate of 400 gallons per minute or less. If pumping at this rate interrupts the supply of domestic wells in the area, Dreeszen could order that pumping from the irrigation well be discontinued.
Oltmans, however, doesn't think court action will really solve the overall problem. "Filing a suit won't put any more water in the hole," he explained. "Any one who wishes to sue has that right of course, but I'm afraid if too many of these cases go to high courts, the courts will set some dangerous precedents regarding water usage."

For now, Oltmans said the LENRD is urging neighbors in areas where water shortages occur to work together to solve the problem. In some cases, that has meant irrigators have agreed to shut down wells on alternate days, so the static water level in aquifers can be sufficiently replenished so domestic wells can continue pumping.
The LENRD is conducting a survey program which will eventually show how much demand can be placed on aquifers without resulting in mining of water. Wells throughout the district are monitored throughout the irrigation season. Water level is measured before and after the season, showing how much current levels of pumping have lowered the water level. When the level is measured again the following spring, it shows what the capacity is for recharging the water supply, and will give some indication of how much water is available.
A long-range solution to the problem will probably have to come from the University, Oltmans said. "No doubt, water laws in Nebraska need to be improved."
The ground water control law now in effect, LB 577, does provide for controls in some cases. When it is requested, natural resources districts are empow-

McCollister Workers Plan Seminar
Wayne will be host Aug. 12 for a regional campaign seminar sponsored by Congressman John McCollister's senate-bid campaign committee for the candidates county chairman.
A series of similar seminars are being conducted throughout Nebraska, beginning today (Monday). The Wayne meeting will be the final one in the series.
Campaign coordinator Chuck Hagel will conduct the seminars. The purpose of the meetings is to bring John Yea's 12 county chairmen together for an in-depth look at campaign strategy and what we've got to do before Nov. 2," Hagel said.

Ups and Downs
A FAST RIDE on the roller coaster was one way to cool off and find some excitement Friday night during the Wayne County Fair. The annual free barbecue was held Friday, followed at 7 p.m. by the 4 H livestock parade, presentation of senior citizen awards and the Bob Sanders show.

Wayne County Fair Offers Something for All Tastes

Rain early Thursday morning turned the Wayne County fair grounds into a sloppy quagmire on opening day of the county fair, but that didn't seem to slow down any of the exhibitors who poured into the grounds to set up for the annual festival.
The big event on opening day, Thursday, was the annual junior rodeo which began in the fair grounds arena at 7 p.m. The show was marred somewhat when one of the riders was injured. But Kirk Nelson was treated and released after being taken by ambulance to Providence Medical Center in Wayne. Nelson was kicked on the right side of his face after being thrown from the cage he was riding. Dr. Willis Wiseman said Nelson's face was cut and bruised but that it didn't appear any serious injuries were sustained. Nelson is under observation as an out patient.
A group of youngsters spent a couple of hours Thursday night before they were able to work their way to the top in the annual greased pole climb. And following the rodeo events, kids tried to bring home the bacon in a greased pig catch. Complete results of the rodeo are listed elsewhere in this issue.
The Hi-Raters 4-H club won a purple ribbon and first place prize in the project booth competition, and finished first and earned a state fair berth in the theme booth contest. Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Rethwisch are club leaders. Other judging placings will be listed in separate stories.
Amy Finn, daughter of Mr.

lyn Roberts, Carroll, county county.
Flower competition results were:
Best dry flower arrangement, Mrs. Robert Porter, Wayne.
Best drawl marigolds, Mrs. Deann Helmers, Gambles.
Grain and cereals results were:
Tallest stalk of corn, LeRoy Gathje, Wayne. Largest sunflower head, Randy Flier, Wayne.
Outstanding green sample (wheat), Allen Spillinger, Wayne. Outstanding legume sample, Rod Koch, Wayne. Outstanding grass sample, Rod Koch, Wayne. Outstanding Corn Sample, Gilbert Kallman, Wayne.
Best lattle article, Mrs. C. H. Frevert, Wayne; Wayne County council.
Best over all crocheted article, Janell Gottlieb, Winside; J. A. McDonalds.
Best needle point, Mrs. William Holtgreve, Winside. Dale's Jewelry.
Best crewel, Mrs. Delores Runquist, Wayne; Sav. Mor Drug.
Mrs. Runquist's article will be entered in state fair competition.
Results in foods competition were:
Best eye bread, Mrs. Norman Wickman, Pender; county council.
Best canned beef, Mrs. Dennis Pius, Hoskins; Wayne Shoe Co.
Best plum jelly, Mrs. Virgil Chambers, Wayne; Ben Frank lin Store.
Best round cabbage, Mrs.

and Mrs. Pat Finn of Carroll had the champion market hog in the 4 H Swine competition Friday. It was a repeat performance for the 16-year-old 4-H'er, who had the grand champion last year, and the third win in recent memory for the Finn family. Brother Mike had the top market hog in 1973, and had the champion market pen of three shown Friday. Shelly Krusemat was champion and Trudy Hansen reserve champion swine showmen in the junior division. Dwight Anderson placed first in the senior division, with Mike Finn capturing the reserve honors.
It was almost a family affair for Mr. and Mrs. Victor Knies' cho's daughters when it came time to hand out dairy trophies during the 4 H livestock parade Friday night, Nebraska Dairy Princess Bessie Kniesche awarded four trophies to sister Rhonda, including reserve dairy champion, champion registered Holstein, best uddered cow, and senior showmanship.
Mike Sprouls showed the grand champion dairy animal Thursday afternoon, and received a second trophy for best cow in milk. Judy Bauermeister was the top junior showman.
Yaeluis from Wakefield and Carroll won the grand champion. See FAIR RESULTS, page 9

New Faces Planned for Businesses

More than two dozen Wayne business buildings will soon be on the drawing boards of artists who will design face-lifting projects for the structures.
Iowa artist Al Nelson met with Wayne businessmen Wednesday during his second visit to Wayne, and returned to his graphic arts company with pictures of about 28 buildings in Wayne's downtown business district. Those pictures will be used when Nelson and his staff design ways to provide a new look for the buildings.
Renovation of individual buildings isn't actually part of the task the committee was charged with by the council, co-chairman Roger Nelson explained during Wednesday's luncheon. The committee invited the Iowa artist to Wayne after several businessmen said they wanted to do something to improve the appearance of their buildings, but weren't sure exactly how to go about it, and wanted to make sure what they did was coordinated with renovation of other buildings in the area.
Response to Nelson's first presentation was so good that the second meeting was scheduled. In the interim, the committee had circulated a list for businessmen to sign if they were interested in having the artist draw up renovation plans for their building.
Nelson said he would probably be returning to Wayne in about six weeks with completed designs for buildings, although some plans will be returned sooner for owners who have indicated they want to proceed with renovation work as soon as possible.
While businessmen are making plans for improving their buildings, plans will also be moving ahead on the overall improvement project for the downtown area. To that night the city council decided to delay passage of an ordinance which would have set the boundaries for an improvement district, but agreed to first decide exactly what will be done within the district, find out what it will cost, and then present the plan to the public when the improvement district ordinance is again proposed.

Chief reason behind the action is the fact that property owners in the district would have only 20 days from the date that notice of the district was published to petition out of the district. Presenting complete plans and costs estimated within that period would not be feasible.
The city council will meet Thursday to begin making specific plans for new sidewalks, lighting, and other alterations in the district.
The council and the improvement committee will get together five days later, Aug. 10, for a noon luncheon at the Black Knight.
Roger Nelson said a pair of community development specialists, Arch Gustafson of the Nebraska Public Power District, and Tom King of Northern Natural Gas, will be arriving in

Home Extension Entries Receive Special Awards

The We Faw club had the top booth in home extension competition at the Wayne County Fair, earning a purple ribbon.
The Klick and Klatzer club and the Farm Fans both won blue ribbons. The Merry Mixers and Serve All clubs won red ribbons.
Special awards in arts and crafts went to the winners, and donors are as follows:
Best lattle article, Mrs. C. H. Frevert, Wayne; Wayne County council.
Best over all crocheted article, Janell Gottlieb, Winside; J. A. McDonalds.
Best needle point, Mrs. William Holtgreve, Winside. Dale's Jewelry.

Local Pair Will Receive UN-L Stipends

A pair of Wayne County misses are among the 40 young ladies to receive Luther Drake Scholarships to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Home Economics.
Lori Lesh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lesh of Wayne, and Sheryl Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of Carroll, each received $200 stipends from the Luther Drake scholarship fund. The awards are based on academic achievement.
Lori will major in foods and nutrition at the UN-L home economics college. She graduated in the top 10 per cent of her class, and was an intern for a week in Congressman Charles Thone's Washington office.
Sheryl is an active 4-H member and has received awards in county and state competition. She was vice-president of her high school class and was active in W-Club, band, pep club and annual staff. She will major in home economics at UN-L.

Wakefield Is Site Of Diabetes Clinic

Free tests for diabetes will be given at diabetes detection clinics at Wakefield on Monday and Tuesday and in Ponca on Wednesday.
The clinics, open from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., are being co-sponsored by the Dixon County home extension clubs and the Wakefield Health Care Center.
In Wakefield the clinic will be located at the care center, those wishing to visit the clinic should enter the south-hospital door, lower level, near the emergency entrance driveway. In Ponca the clinic will be held at the Legion hall.
Anyone may be tested. However, high risk people should make a special effort to be tested. They include relatives of known diabetics, the obese or overweight, people over 40 of age and women who have delivered babies weighing nine pounds or more. Testing will be done by registered nurses.
Persons wishing to be tested should report for testing from one and one-half to two hours after eating a heavy meal. The meal should include two or three servings of bread, potatoes, beans and a dessert such as cake or pie. The meal also should include a beverage, possibly coffee with sugar, milk or a soft drink.
Purpose for the diabetes test is for screening out persons with a higher than normal blood sugar level. The test involves pricking the finger to obtain a

AH Budget Up $40,000

"Delinquent property taxes amounting to nearly $50,000 are 90 per cent of the major reasons the $327 budget for Allen consolidated schools is going up, the school board pointed out during its budget hearing Monday night.
Superintendent Virgil Ferguson said the $327,480 budget is about $40,000 higher than last year. "We have less money to start the new school year," Ferguson said, "because people are behind in paying their taxes."
Budget increases also can be attributed in part to a loss of $27,000 in federal money to support the school's career education program, addition of two teachers to the staff, and fewer free-high tuition students enrolled for the coming year, Ferguson said.

Timber Survey Being Made

The Nebraska Department of Forestry has started a timber survey in northeast Nebraska, including timber areas on state and private lands.
The last survey of the timber resource was conducted in 1955. Timber acreage estimates have been made from aerial photographs. The estimates of timber acreage from the aerial photos shows a reduction of the total amount of timber acreage. Several counties in northeast Nebraska have a reduction of timber acreage of about 50 per cent. This is because of the constant change in land use.
Group samples are not being made by timber inventory crews at specific locations at each location information is recorded as to amount of timber, condition, age, size, and insect and disease problems.
The information from each location will be combined into a summary for each county. Field work on the timber inventory is to be completed in this part of the state by Sept. 15.

Police Check Reports Of Missing Property

Wayne police Thursday investigated two reports of missing property.
Marlin Shuttler told police police valued at $230 apparently were taken from his garage at 413 E. 7th St. No sign of entry was discovered.
Old coins and a 22 caliber pistol were taken from the home of Pablo Hudson at 521 Nebraska St., Agate. Method of entry was undetermined.

OBSERVATIONS

Giant step for improvement

Al Nelson of Red Oak, Iowa, took photos of about two dozen buildings before leaving Wayne Tuesday. Those photos will be used by Nelson and his staff of artists to come up with designs for facelift projects.

This is a giant step for Wayne's effort to rejuvenate its downtown business area, and those progressive-minded businessmen who are proceeding with the project are to be commended.

Assuming that projects to facelift the buildings will be completed after suitable designs are provided, 24 or so buildings with a bright, new look, retaining their own individual charm, will put Wayne quite a ways down the road toward having a business district which will be second-to-none in the state — or anywhere else as far as we're concerned. — Jim Strayer.

Murphy stand commendable

State Sen. John "Bob" Murphy of South Sioux City, Iowa, district includes most of Wayne County. He once again demonstrated his willingness to set forth ideas which more faint-hearted legislators might be hesitant about.

Murphy said the governor is charged by the state Constitution and statutes with enforcing all laws, and failure to do so is an impeachable offense.

And while he isn't interested in impeachment, he would like an explanation of where the governor gets his authority to disregard certain laws.

He broached the subject during the Legislative Council Executive Board meeting Thursday. The Ponca School District was to receive $8,000 appropriated by the Legislature to defray education expenses of wards of the court attending school in a county other than their own.

The Nebraska Education Department refused to disburse the money after Atty. Gen. Paul Douglas ruled the funding was special legislation and violated the state Constitution.

Murphy is arguing the Legislature cannot permit "piecemeal enforcement" of laws with officials basing their refusal based on an attorney general's opinion.

"We have to clarify once and for all what an attorney general's opinion amounts to," he said. "Some of them have proved wrong."

Sen. Murphy, as you may remember, guided a resolution through the last Unicameral session, committing Nebraska to joining other states in calling for a Constitutional convention. Some senators thought that was somewhat bold, and I suspect Murphy will get a similar reaction from some quarters to this question Thursday.

His latest actions demonstrate once again Sen. Murphy's willingness to take a stand, to support his constituents, and to forward an idea he believes in, and we commend him for his actions. — Jim Strayer.

Help appreciated

Dear Editor: For many years the Wayne County 4-H style revue and song contest have been held in the city auditorium where we always had the fine cooperation of Merion Ellis, custodian, and where we were usually "uncomfortably warm" due to Nebraska's summer temperatures. This year in the search for air-conditioned comfort, arrangements were made to hold these 4-H activities at Wayne State College.

Judging of style revue entries was done in the student center and the public revue and song contest were held in Ramsey Theatre in the fine arts building. By the time details were arranged and these events were staged we had received assistance from Wayne State College staff, secretaries, custodians, campus police, and even a few WSC students.

It's difficult for us to express our appreciation to all these people. Their help does indicate to 4-H leaders and 4-H members that the strength of a community is based on the willingness of people to help other people. We're proud to have Wayne State College in our community. Sincerely, Anna Marie Krefels, area extension agent, home economics.

Bremerton, Wash. To the News Staff of The Wayne Herald: I wish to compliment you on the publication of The Wayne County Souvenir Edition, marking the 200th anniversary of our nation.

I have read it from beginning to end and enjoyed every bit of it. So many of the historical facts, places and peoples' names are memorable.

I am now sharing it with a former Carroll resident, Alfred Helleweg. He and his family came to Bremerton in the early '40's during the war. Sincerely, Mrs. Walter Lofgren, (Dorothy Boeckenhauer).

Liked working in Recreation program

Dear Editor: I would like to thank all of you good people in Wayne for letting me work for the City Recreation program this summer and for five and one-half years. I worked with Hank on the basketball and football program while attending college in Wayne.

You people, especially the boys, are fortunate in having someone like Hank work with them from the third grade on, and you can tell because they have been winners in all three sports.

I'm leaving Tuesday for my school at Cedar Rapids to become head football coach and history teacher. I'm anxious to meet the faculty, students and citizens of Cedar Rapids and surrounding towns and make new friends, but no one can ever take the place of the friends you leave behind.

A special thanks to Hank, Glenda and family. — Dennis Paul.

STRAYEr Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

Tuesday night at the city council meeting I wag my spurs as a journalist. Every newspaper editor at some time or other gets called "wet behind the ears" and it finally happened to me. Sort of a little thing, you might say.

For those who weren't fortunate to be here, the exact quote was, "I don't need a small-town editor who's still wet behind the ears to tell me how to vote on a project of this magnitude. I think he's way out of line and I think he'd better look at some facts himself and ask what is good for the community."

Some folks might take being called wet behind the ears as uncomplimentary, but I don't see it that way.

One definition Webster gives for "wet behind the ears" is "naive."

And I'll confess, I'm naive. Naive enough to believe in some of those old myths like freedom of the press and freedom of expression. So when I have a strong opinion on a matter of public interest, I just sit right down at the old typewriter and pound out an editorial.

I'm also naive enough to think people should understand that editorials are generally intended to be critical of ideas, not personalities.

I guess another thing I'm wet behind the ears about is what elected officials do. I thought part of their job was to listen to the opinions of people who live within the boundaries of the political subdivisions which they govern. Now, after all these years, I find I'm not entitled to my opinion.

Something else confuses me. The last time I was taken to task during a council meeting I was told that I hadn't done anything for the community but fear it down. So along comes this downtown improvement proposal, which sure doesn't sound much like fearing the city went to me. But when, in my own wet behind the ears way, I try to support it and urge things along with an editorial, I'm told to mind my own business.

I have to make a confession, though. I never did feel bad about that first editorial which I was told off about, especially when it helped the Herald win a state writing award. Now I know it probably makes me sound like a smart-aleck young upstart, but either way, I figure I probably don't need any small-town politicians to tell me how to write editorials.

I reckon I've belabored the point long enough and I don't want to bore anyone with my wet behind the ears prattlings, so I guess that will do it for this week.

Besides, I've got to write a couple of editorials yet today.

1976 Total

109

1975 Total

The traffic total for the week which ended at 7 a.m. Friday was only one higher than the total through the same period in 1975.

That accident occurred when a truck with trailer was turning a corner and oncoming traffic forced the driver to turn more sharply than intended, causing the trailer to hit a parked car.

With the traffic accident total this close to last year's, an accident-free week could probably mean that for the first time, the 1976 total next Friday would be lower than the 1975 total. If everyone takes a little extra care, we might achieve that goal yet.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Can you spare about 15 minutes? That's all it takes for a routine check of your car to make sure that some key parts are working properly, says the Automotive Information Council.

Brakes probably are the most important safety item on your car. If you can't stop, that's big trouble. You can do the brake check yourself. Accelerate to about 25 miles an hour, begin braking with a steady pressure on the pedal. The vehicle should slow to a complete stop as long as pressure is applied. Watch for any sponginess in the pedal. That's a sign of trouble.

Windshield wiper blades really don't need to be inspected. You will know replacements are needed when the rubber leaves a streak on the window. Actually, it's not a bad idea to replace the blades a couple of times a year if you drive in a four-season area.

Shock absorbers that have outlived their usefulness will be apparent in the way your car steers. A safer test — push down on each fender and see how quickly it returns to first position. It shouldn't bob more than a couple of times.

Tires are a familiar subject, but a lot of people do gamble on bad tires, cuts in the tread or sidewall. If front tires are not wearing evenly, the front end probably needs an alignment. When you check tire pressure to meet recommended specifications, do it after the car has been idle for an hour.

Some people, even those who wear seat belts, seldom think about the fabric fraying. These belts get a lot of use (usually) and are exposed to all kinds of temperature and sunlight. Look at your belts for any unusual wear and you might want to check the fringes to see if they're fraying easily. That fraying check is simple. Just wear your belts. Lights probably will take more time than any other check. Example. The best way to be sure tail lamps are working is to pull the switch, get out of your car and see for yourself. For a brake pedal light check, you may need another person to look while you step on the brake. A little help also may be necessary to check back-up lights, which glow when the transmission is in reverse.

Oh yes. Don't forget the fluid level in the windshield washer.

The horn? You may be checking it too often.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Cheri Fahrenholz Engaged to Steve Deck

Making plans for an October wedding are Cheri Fahrenholz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Fahrenholz of Pierce, and Steve Deck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Deck of Winside. The engagement has been announced by the bride-elect's parents. Miss Fahrenholz, a 1976 graduate of Pierce High School, is employed at Dale Electronics in Norfolk. Her fiancé graduated from Winside High School in 1974 and is engaged in farming.

60 at Courtesy For Bride-Elect

About 60 guests attended a bridal shower at the Wakefield Covenant Church last Monday evening for Ruth Bressler. Miss Bressler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Bressler of Wakefield. She became the bride of Don Myer Jr. Saturday evening, July 31.

Corsages were presented to the bride-elect by the bride and bridesmaids, the bride and bridesmaids, and grandmothers. Decorations were in the bride's colors, blue and white. Gail Gray greeted guests at the door. The guests signed their names in a scrapbook which was presented to the bride, depicting her past, present and future. Alice Borg was in charge of making the scrapbook.

Vivian Olson welcomed the guests and Rose Marie Peterson gave devotions, adding thoughts and comments for a Christian marriage. Nancy Carlson, Debbie Lundin and Linda Erlanson presented a skit and Darlene Viken gave the closing prayer. Kitchen hostesses were Mrs. Paul Byers, Gail Gray, Mrs. Marvin Felt, Mrs. Ari Borg, Mrs. John Viken and Mrs. Myron Olson.

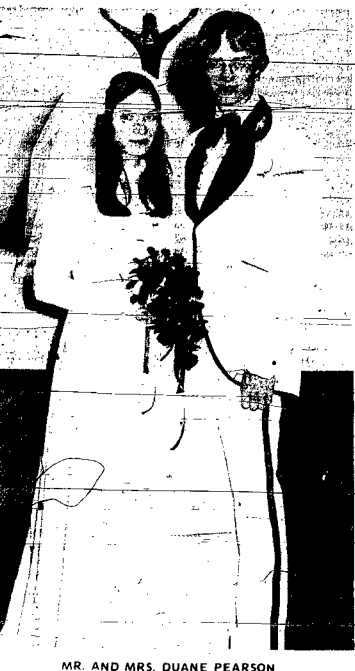

Breakfast Served

Sixteen residents of Villa Wayne, and five guests, met for breakfast Wednesday morning. The regular weekly meeting of the Villa "Toppers" Club was held Tuesday afternoon with 16 members and two guests, Julia Haas and Betty Pinkelman, attending. Refreshments were served by Ruby Bain and Ella Bleche. Luella Hansen was honored for her birthday last Friday evening, July 23, with 20 Villa tenants and a guest, Julia Haas, met for a potluck supper in the Villa recreation hall.

Making Pickles, Dried Goods is Program Topic

Making pickles and desirable dried foods will be the topic of discussion on the University of Nebraska program, "Backyard Farmer RFD," to be aired this Wednesday evening. The 30-minute show, which begins at 7 p.m. over the Nebraska Television Network, will be moderated by Joanne Nill, home economics extension editor with the UNL Department of Agricultural Communications. Teresa Shaffer, extension food and nutrition specialist at the University of Nebraska, will demonstrate procedures for making pickles and drying foods during the first half of the program. During the second half of the show, Mrs. Nill will moderate a panel of experts, answering questions sent in by the viewers. Panel members include Teresa Shaffer, Don Steingeger, extension horticulturist, and Vi Darn Kroger, area extension home economist for Jefferson, Saline and Seward counties.

Buck-Pearson Vows Spoken

MR. AND MRS. DUANE PEARSON

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne was the scene of the wedding July 17 uniting in marriage Jean Marie Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Buck of Tilden, to Duane Dale Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Dale Pearson of Wakefield. The Rev. Thomas McDermott of Wakefield officiated at the double ring ceremony and Diane Schreiber and Steve Placek, both of David City, sang "For All We Know" and "The Wedding Song." Organist was Mrs. Winton Wallin of Wayne. Other wedding music included "Trumpet Volunteer" and "Colour My World."

Ushers were Wesley Buck of Tilden and Tim Garvin of Dixon. Guests were registered by Katherine Buck of Tilden. The bride appeared at her father's side in a floor-length, empire-style gown which she fashioned of white polyester knit. The dress featured a lace bib and high mandarin collar, long sleeves ending in lace cuffs, and a detachable train. She wore a three-tiered nylon lace veil caught to a lace headpiece trimmed with pearls and rhinestones, and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a light blue and white tulle frock of Fremont and Gordon Mohr of Orchard. Bridesmaids were June Pearson of Colorado Springs, Colo., sister of the bride, groom, and Kath Kopelky of Columbus. Groomsmen were Warren Gallop of Winside and Mike O'Hara of Lincoln.

The bride's attendants wore sleeveless sundresses of polyester and cotton in yellow, pink and blue, fashioned with empire waists, shoulder ruffles and a long sash in back. They wore white picture hats with bands to match their dresses, and carried nosegays in blue, pink and yellow.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and white ruffled shirt, and his attendants wore white tuxedos with ruffled shirts to match the bride's dresses. The bride's mother wore a light blue and white tulle frock in polyester with brown accessories. Mrs. Pearson wore a sleeveless dress of light pink polyester with a sheer floral jacket and white accessories. Both wore white rose bud corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fischer of Wakefield greeted the 150 guests who attended the reception afterward in St. Mary's School basement. Gifts were arranged by Nadene Wiese of Osmond and Karen Hatt of Central City. Mrs. Joe Sullivan of Meadow Grove, Mrs. Charles DeCamp of Tilden and Mrs. Dean Salmon of Wakefield cut and served the cake and Mrs. Virgil Pearson of Wayne and Mrs. Harvey Taylor of Concord poured Mrs. Bob Galvin of Tilden and Patti Pearson of Logan, Ia., served punch. Ice cream was served by Mrs. Gordon Mohr of Orchard and Mrs. Mike O'Hara of Lincoln. Waitresses were Lorrie Garvin and Cynthia Garvin, both of Dixon, and LeAnn Salmon of Wakefield. The bride, a 1974 graduate of Elkhorn Valley High School in Tilden, is a senior medical technician student at Wayne State College. The bridegroom graduated from Laurel High School in 1971 and from Wayne State College in 1975 with a bachelor of science degree in chemistry and earth science. He plans to teach at Norris Schools in Firth, Neb., this fall. The couple traveled to Yellowstone National Park and are now at home in Lincoln.

300 Planning to Attend Carroll Alumni Reunion

All students and former teachers of Carroll High School have been issued an invitation to attend the Carroll alumni reunion Saturday, Aug. 14. The reunion is the second to be held since Carroll High School closed its doors in 1958. The event will begin with coffee and cold drinks at the Carroll park from 3 to 5 p.m. Dinner will be from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Carroll auditorium, followed with a program and dance. Guest speaker will be Warren Saks of Lincoln. Mrs. Wayne Kirtlime of Carroll is chairman of the program. Committee in charge of planning the reunion is Gilmore Saks of Carroll, president; Eleanor Edwards of Wayne, vice president; Charles Dornosa of Wayne, secretary, and Mrs. Zita Jenkins of Wayne, treasurer. Miss Edwards said nearly 300 reservations have been received from as far away as Hawaii and New Jersey. Persons who have not yet made reservations are asked to send them to Mrs. Zita Jenkins at 1010 First Ave., in Wayne.

Wakefield Youth Going to Africa

A missionary emphasis program was held at the Wakefield Covenant Church recently honoring Steve Bressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Bressler of Wakefield. Steve is leaving this month for Zaire, Africa as a short term missionary for one year. His duties will include assisting missionaries in maintenance and electrical works. The program included personal remarks by Steve and a trumpet solo by Kevin Bengtson. Debbie Lundin sang "To Be Used of God." A love offering was taken for Steve, followed by lunch. Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Holm, Mrs. Albert Anderson and Mrs. Paul Bengtson.

WATER BATH FOR TOMATOES

Last summer a great deal was said about "new" varieties of tomatoes being lower in acid content than the older varieties. The U.S. Department of Agriculture food scientists say this isn't true. Today's tomatoes are similar in acid content to most older varieties. Rather than being low in acid, these tomatoes are higher in sugar which masks the tart, acid flavor to which we are accustomed. Red, white and yellow tomatoes are all similar in acid content. Tomatoes of any variety that are overripe — too red and too soft — should not be canned or used to make any other related product such as juice, soup, paste or sauce. Canned tomatoes that show any signs of spoilage, such as mold or flat sour, should not be used. "When in doubt, throw it out!" is the best policy. Care and cleanliness in canning are the best precautions against spoilage in tomatoes.

1. Use ripe, firm tomatoes.
2. Wash thoroughly.
3. Cut out blemishes.
4. Wash and sterilize jars and lids.
5. Process in hot water bath for recommended time for size of jar.

The "new" tomatoes can be processed like the "old" varieties and will make a nutritious addition to next winter's meals.

Wayne Man to Be Ordained at Grace

The public is invited to attend ordination services at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on Sunday, Aug. 8. Larry J. Larsen, a native of Wayne, will be ordained into the office of the holy ministry of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. The Rev. John Upton, pastor at Grace Lutheran, will conduct the 7:30 p.m. service. Larsen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Larsen of Wayne, graduated from Wayne State College in 1969. He taught English for two years at Norfolk-Catholic High School and one year at the Elkhorn Valley Public Schools in Tilden. In 1972 he entered Concordia Theological Seminary in Springfield, Ill., and graduated in the master's of divinity program in May of this year. In 1974, Larsen studied at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., the world's only college of liberal arts for the deaf. He served a year of internship at Rogate Lutheran Church in Clearwater, Fla., and is presently enrolled in the national workshop of total communication which is being held at Montana State University in Bozeman, Mont. Larsen has received a call to be a pastor to the deaf in central Illinois. Ordination will be installed to service at Peoria, Ill., and on Sept. 12 at Christ Lutheran Church of the Deaf in Jacksonville, Ill.

Wool Contest Entries Sought

Persons who knit, sew or crochet are being sought as contestants in the National Make-It Yourself With Wool Contest. The district contest will be held Nov. 27 in Norfolk. Winners from each district will go to the state contest in Scottsbluff where they will have a chance to win a sewing machine or a "trip to the national competition in Monterey, Calif." The national winner will go on a 15 day tour of Mexico.

Wayne Church Schedules Bible School

The First Church of Christ, 208 E. Fourth St., in Wayne, has scheduled Bible school classes for Sunday, Aug. 8 through Aug. 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. daily. Classes will be held at the church. All area youngsters, three years of age and older, are welcome to attend. The Rev. Mark Weber, pastor of First Church of Christ, said there will be no charge for adults. Activities will include a missionary speaker, singing, lessons and crafts. If the earth's surface were smooth, it would be covered with water to a depth of nearly 3 miles. If only one polar ice cap were to be melted, it alone would feed all the world's rivers for 800 years.

Juniors Blank Coleridge On Combined One-Hitter

Center fielder Mike Sharer drove in two runs on an in-the-park home run and pitchers Paul Mallette and Dave Hix tossed a one-hitter to lead Wayne Juniors to a 10-0 blanking of host Coleridge Wednesday night in the first round of the District 3 Class C American Legion baseball tournament. The victory advanced the locals to the finals Saturday night against Wakefield, which of Coleridge lost the ball. As a result, right fielder Aaron Nissen, who walked to first, and Sharer spotted home. Catcher Mike Manes followed after he doubled and scored on Randy Park's base hit for an 8-0 lead. Earlier, Mallette singled, advanced on a sacrifice and ground out by Dave Hix before he scored on a balk by Coleridge's Bob Arduise. Sharer, who hit in all three times at bat, drove in runs in the fifth and seventh innings on a pair of singles.

Although pleased with the win, coach Hank Overin and Mallette expressed disappointment because the team didn't actually get much defensive playing time. Mallette and relief hurler Dave Hix fanned 17 of the 23 batters they faced. Mallette went five frames, whiffing 11 before Hix finished up with six strikeouts. As a result, Wayne fielders didn't see much action. "We don't know how good our defense is when we go against Wakefield," Overin pointed out. Offensively, Wayne's hitting continued on the upswing with nine connections. The Juniors scored once in the first and second frames and added two more in the third with the help of seven bases on balls.

Area Tourney Is Thursday

The winner of Saturday night's District 3 final between Wayne and Wakefield will advance to the four-team area tournament at Wakefield starting Thursday night. The District 3 representative will play the winner of District 15 at 6:30. That game will be followed by the contest between the winners of District 8 and 16 at 8:30, said tournament director Don Rouse. If District 15 doesn't have a representative, Rouse said the District 3 will meet the runnerup in District 16. Finals of the double elimination tournament will be Monday, Aug. 9, or the following night if needed.

Fun of Derby Driving Keeps Pair Going

The number of entries in this year's annual Wayne County Jaycees demolition derby continues to grow. And the reason for its continued growth, at least in the eyes of one driver, is that driving in a demolition derby is fun at the Wayne County Fair. Mike Jones and his mechanic Tom Daugherty, both of Wayne, agree that they want to try it a second straight year to see how well they can do. To get started, a driver usually needs a sponsor to help defray the costs which usually run between $30-$50, depending on the type of car he buys and the amount he pays for it. Sponsor being Jones, his father in law, Bob Merchant, owner of Merchant Oil in Wayne. The idea of a derby of this type is to damage the other drivers' cars so they are not operable and at the same time keep yours going. The last car still moving is the winner. From his limited experience, Jones has learned that the heavier the car the better. Daugherty added that perhaps one of the best cars to have on the track is a station wagon. "They have more area to take the punishment," he noted. To prepare a car for the derby, both have stripped the chrome and excess molding from the body and moved all the glass and windows. The next step is take out the back seat to make room for a gas tank and move the battery from the engine compartment usually to the front seat area to prevent damage to the battery during impact. Of course, a seat belt and helmet are most safely precautions for all drivers. Jones' strategy on the track is to be defensive. Although it's a rule that drivers have to have continuous action in order to keep in the competition, he pointed out that a driver can be defensive by keeping out of the way of oncoming cars. If you're going to get hit, it's best to take a glancing blow to minimize damage, he advised. An important key to staying in the race is to protect the front end from being hit. Usually a driver will have a hard time restarting a car if there is major damage to the engine area. By getting in an early heat, Jones hopes to place high in his heat in order to qualify for the finals. If so, he'll have time to make any major repairs to so his car will run smoothly. Daugherty believes he'll have all the equipment necessary to mend the car for the finals, if they make it that far. On hand will be an air compressor, water, hydraulic jack, air chisel plus other tools. For Tom, getting the car ready to run involved checking the timing on the engine, replacing the starter switch, moving the battery inside and flushing the cooling system in case there might be any obstructions that could cause over heating during the race. Daugherty's advice to his driver is to hit his opponent at an angle, going for the fenders and fenders. Mike said he'll take that advice plus a few tips he learned last year. Mainly, stay in the middle of the arena if possible to prevent getting knocked out of bounds.

Workouts Continue For North Cagers

The North basketball all-stars arrived in Wayne, Thursday, to prepare for the Nebraska Coaches Association basketball all-star doubleheader Aug. 5 and 6 in North Platte and Lincoln. This is the eighth year for all-star basketball in Nebraska and also the eighth consecutive time that the coaches association has selected Wayne to host the North All Stars. "What keeps the North Stars returning to Wayne? According to Nebraska Coaches Association public relations director Larry Faust, Wayne is continually selected because of the community's hospitable and friendly reception of the North players. "Everyone in Wayne goes out of their way to see the players arrive well received," Faust said. "The community always has special activities planned for the team." The team has already been guests of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce at an evening buffet Thursday evening and treated to the roast beef barbecue at the Wayne County Fair Friday. North head coach Ken Trubey of Ord has found time to run his team through three a day drills both Friday and Saturday. A scrimmage against area Wayne players was scheduled for Sunday night at Rice Auditorium. Trubey is counting on the North's quickness and team play to offset the South's muscular height advantage. "The North is not without height though, as Trubey has 6'7" Jon Parker of Lincoln High and 6'8" Dave Powell of Omaha North to work with. Also included on the North team are Ted Parks and Chris Salerno, both members of Creighton Prep's 1976 state championship basketball team. "Because the North hopes to utilize its quickness, Trubey has had the North concentrate on running a fast break offense during the first three days or practice sessions," Trubey said. "The North will begin to work on defense Monday. "I want to be sure we have our offense down before turning to defense," Trubey said. "In games like this, defense usually takes care of itself but does need some work."

The North will be tested by another group of area competition Tuesday night in Rice Auditorium. The scrimmage will start at 8:00 p.m. and is open to the public free of charge. This is the first year the coaches association has expanded the annual all-star event to two games. The Yankee squad will leave Wayne Wednesday afternoon for Thursday's game in North Platte. The following night the two teams will clash again in Lincoln. The North holds a 4-3 series edge.

NORTH ALL-STAR Chris Salerno of Creighton Prep drives on Randy Mroczek of North Platte St. Pat's during second day workouts in Wayne. The North team had three practice sessions Friday and will do the same Saturday.

Date Set for Fifth Annual Tennis Meet

After nearly a two-month lay-off, tennis tournament action is scheduled to resume next month at Wayne State courts. The Amateur Tennis Tournaments, formally known as the Wayne County Jaycees tourney the past four years, will be divided into eight junior and eight adult divisions and will be played two separate weeks, according to tournament director Tom Roberts. The junior tournament runs Aug. 12-14 and the adult meet runs from Aug. 19-21. The 16 divisions are seven more than have been held in previous Wayne tournaments. Roberts said, in order to give more persons a chance to play, the age brackets in the junior division include: Boys singles, 12 and under; 13 through 14, 15 through 16, 17 through 19, boys doubles, 15 and under, 16 through 18, girls singles, 18 and under, and girls doubles, 18 and under. In the adult tournament, the categories are: Mens singles, 20 through 25, 26 through 31, 32 through 37, 38 and above; women's singles, 19 and above; mens' doubles, 19 through 29, 30 and above; and women's doubles, 19 and above. A player may enter a maximum of two events providing he lives in an 85 mile radius of Wayne. Entry fees are $20 for mens' doubles, $19 through 29, 30 and above, and women's doubles, 19 and above. Entry forms may be obtained only by mailing a stamped, self-addressed envelope to either Roberts or Wes Fritz, Box 140, Wayne State College, Wayne, Ne. 68187. No telephone entries will be accepted. Checks should be made payable to Fritz.

- Toe tappin' music by the Mastersounds 11 a.m. - 2 p.m.
- Free noon luncheon
- Win some delicious pork in our boar weight-guessing contest

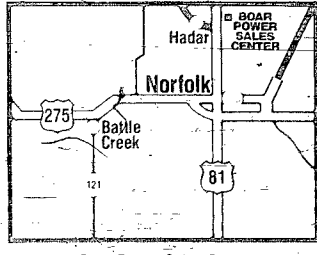

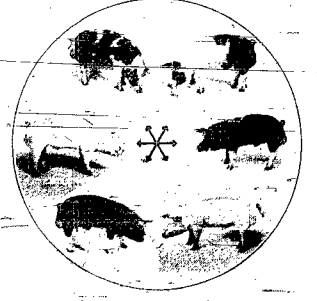

We're having a Grand Opening and you're invited... Friday, August 6, from 8-00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. There'll be toe tappin', foot stompin' music from 11:00 a.m. 'til 2:00 p.m., a free noon luncheon, refreshments and you can tour the newest of the Boar Power Sales Centers, a brand new way to select boars for your herd.

You'll have a chance to win a delicious ham in our weight-guessing contest. All you have to do is guess the total weight of the boars in each of the five pens at the Sales Center. The persons who come closest to getting the exact weight of each pen will win a delicious ham, and there'll be a special door prize drawing for a console stereo with AM/FM radio.

You'll see the boars through large picture windows that separate visitors and customers from the boars. This prevents the spread of disease, a common problem with conventional boar buying.

You'll see a big selection of the BOAR POWER breeds: One of them is right for mating with your sows for big litters of pigs with maximum crossbred vigor.

Everyone is welcome, so plan to attend our Grand Opening August 6. Bring the family to see the boars and enjoy the music, the food and the fun.

Notice of the meeting was given in advance thereof by posting the designated method for giving notice, as shown by the certificate of posting notice, attached to these minutes. Notice of this meeting was simultaneously given to the Chairman and all members of the Board of Trustees and a copy of their acknowledgment of receipt of no...

The Clerk reported that, pursuant to the order heretofore entered by the Board, Notice has been published in the Wayne Herald and Board of Trustees would hold a meeting at this time and place for the purpose of considering the levy of special assessments to pay for street improvements in Street Improvement Projects Nos. 2 through 16.

The Chairman then stated that the Board was in session for said purpose and all persons interested would be heard. The following written objections None. The following appeared in person or by agent or by attorney and were heard: Lena Miller, Ted Hoeman, Ervin Albrecht, George Voss, Arline Ziska, Amanda Dimmel, Evelyn Schreiner, Louise Schuelz, Elsie Longacker, Carpenter & sister (representing Lucile Vrients), Nellie Thompson, Miriam Galtier, Thompson, Helen Witt, Guy Stevens, Barbara Stenwall, Frederick Witt, Vincent Bourdoux.

All persons who desired a hearing having a been heard, the Board having considered the recommendations of the engineer in charge of said improvements and the members of the Board having heretofore separately inspected the proposed improvements and the real estate abutting upon and adjacent thereto, Trustee Mann offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CHAIRMAN AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF WINDSIDE, NEBRASKA:

1. The Chairman and Board of Trustees find and determine that the Board has heretofore designated this time and place for considering and levying special assessments upon the property, specially benefited by the improvements, for Street Improvement Projects Nos. 2 through 16 to pay the cost of constructing said improvements at the time and place of holding this meeting for said purpose has been duly given as provided by statute by publication in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper published in Wayne County and of general circulation in said county, for more than four weeks before the time designated herein for holding this meeting, said publication being made in the issue of said paper published on June 17, June 24, July 1, July 8 and July 15, 1976, that the Chairman and Board have at this session heard all persons who desired to be heard in reference to the special benefits or damages therefrom by reason of the construction of said improvements and with reference thereto have considered the advice of the engineer in charge of the construction of said improvements.

2. The Chairman and Board find and determine that no lot or parcel of land in said Street Improvement Projects Nos. 2 through 16 has been damaged by the construction of said improvements; that the amounts of benefits specially accruing to each lot and parcel of land in said projects by reason of the construction of said improvements exceeds the amount assessed against each lot or parcel of land to pay the cost of said improvements. The benefits are equal and uniform and the assessment shown on the schedule heretofore set out are according to front footage of the lots or real estate within the Projects.

3. There are hereby levied and assessed upon the several lots and parcels of lots in Street Improvement Projects Nos. 2 through 16 special assessments to pay the cost of constructing said improvements in the amount shown on the schedule set out in the schedule before the column headed "Special Assessments" as follows:

Concord News Association Prepares Scrapbook

The Concord Bicentennial Association and Bicentennial Committee met last Monday evening at the Firehall with six members present. The secretary's and the treasurer's reports were read. A motion was made to pay bills for the Community July 3 picnic, the game prizes, the ice cream, the fireworks, the pipe for the flag pole, the typing of the articles for the Concord Historical Book.

A suggestion was made that the group make a summary of its Bicentennial activities and a scrapbook be made for the year. An invitation was read for the State Awards Festivities, which were to be held July 30 in Lexington. The club will sell Historical Booklets at the County Fair.

Roy Stohler brought a sample of the size of the words for the Concord Plaque, which will be posted soon.

The next meeting will be Aug. 30 at 8 p.m. at the Firehall.

awards for the top market steer and heifer during 4-H judging Friday afternoon. Blaine Nelson, 14, of Wakefield claimed the market steer award with his Simmental Heifer cross Blaine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Nelson. The top market heifer award went to 11 year old Shawn Nieman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Nieman of rural Carroll.

Another Wakefield youth took home honors in two categories. He was Les Thomsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thomsen, who won his third straight commercial breeding beef award and earned his second straight senior showmanship award.

The junior showmanship honors went to 10-year-old Chad Janke who showed his cross-breed steer. Chad's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Terry Janke of rural Winside.

Sixteen-year-old Jerine Krajcek of rural Hoskins swept three of the top five honors in 4-H sheep judging Friday afternoon at the Wayne County Fair. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krajcek displayed the top pen of three market lambs, cross-breed champion and earned herself the senior showmanship award.

Winning the top market lamb award was Roger Sans, 16, with his Hampshire Suffolk Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilmore of rural Carroll. Results weren't available for the wool champion.

The junior showmanship award went to Carla Stelling for her cross-breed lamb. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stelling of rural Wakefield. This is the first year Jerine has competed in the Wayne County Fair. For the past eight years she and members of her family participated in the Sarpy County Fair.

A member of the Spring Branch 4-H club, Jerine said the key to winning is "a lot of hard work and choosing the right kind of sheep."

Helping her with her winning pen of three were her sister Julie, and brother Jim. Friday was a special night for Wayne County senior citizens. All fair goers aged 70 or older were admitted free. Special awards were presented between the livestock parade and entertainment by Nashville singer Bob Sanders to the oldest man and women in the audience.

That turned out to be the Wayne County Bicentennial king and queen, crowned during Wayne's Bicentennial celebration early in July. Fair board president Leland Herman presented special plaques to George Baird, 89, and Mabel Savidge, 91.

Complete listings of ribbon placings in the various events which took place Thursday and Friday were not available by press time Saturday morning, but will appear in subsequent issues of the Herald.

Free money.

You just read the two strongest words in the English language.

Travel Card Directory", lists just exactly which establishments do business by

They almost take your breath away, don't they?

it. And you'll notice the card is equally good for both traveling to Florida on vacation and traveling around town on a shopping spree.

Let's face it. It's not everyday you see an ad that offers you you-know-what. Matter of fact, this is maybe the first and only day.

And how do you get this incredible card?

But, it's true. Every two words of it.

That's easy. Just waltz right into our bank and ask.

It's really all very simple. We have a remarkable thing called the Bankers Travel Card. It's a discount card, good at many, many places of business throughout the United States and Canada.

We'll tell you how and it's easier than you think. What's the catch?

Eat things, drink and rent things, buy things, and as you go to pay the bill, just show your Bankers Travel Card.

One catch. You can't get one of these cards just any place. But you can get one at our place. That's why we call it our "trump" card.

Then presto. Just like that the bill goes down 10 percent. Sometimes even 20 percent.

Now let's catch our breath and say those two words one more time.
