USDA Offices Relocated

Wayne County's three U.S. Department of Agriculture offices Wednesday moved into new offices on Logan St. between First and Second Streets. The Soil Conservation Service (SCS), Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), and Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) are all located now in the building which formerly housed the Corvair Auto-Company reconditioning shop.

The USDA gave approval for the consolidation earlier this year and contractors have worked through the summer to refurbish the building. Facilities include individual offices for the directors of the three agencies, plus a large open area for staff members.

The move is designed to provide one-stop service for USDA clients. SCS director Arnold Marr explained that quite often participation in a program ad-

Cats Kick Off Homecoming Fun Today

Starting today (Monday), students at Winside High will participate in a barrage of activities leading up to Friday night's homecoming ball with Lewis and Clark Conference for Allen.

The theme for this year's homecoming is "Advertising The Wildcats." Students in grades seven through 12 will prepare skills to be judged Friday during a pep rally at 2 p.m. at the village park, and displays which will be shown during half-time.

Candidates for this year's king and queen will be nominated Wednesday morning and crowned during half-time by last year's royalty, Barb Rizor and Bob Hoffman.

Today, students attending classes will be wearing their clothes inside out. Tuesday will be dress up when they will wear suits and dresses. On Wednesday everyone will wear T-shirts and hats and on Thursday they will wear clothes which clash in color. Friday is Red and White Day when students dress in their school colors.

Commercial Art Course Planned

Robert Schlimgen, dean of community services at Northeast Technical Community College in Norfolk, has announced that a six-week commercial art class will be held in Wayne, beginning Monday, Sept. 20.

The class, which is designed for beginning art students, is being co-sponsored by Northeast Tech and Wayne State College.

Mrs. Marie Hagemann, a professional commercial artist from Wayne, will teach the class. Sessions will run from 7 to 10 each Monday evening in room 142 of the Industrial Arts building on the Wayne State College campus.

The course includes drawing with pencils, pen ink, brush ink, slat and graded washes, wet brush and dry brush techniques. Registration will be held at the first class session. The fee is $10 tuition and $10 for materials.

Persons who have questions about the class are asked to contact Mrs. Hagemann at 375-2763.

Enrollment Up

The number of students attending classes in grades kindergarten through senior high is up this year at Allen schools, according to statistics presented to the Allen school board Tuesday night.

A total of 298 students have registered for the 1976-77 school year, an increase of six students over the previous school year.

One Fence Goin' Down

RURAL TELEPHONE users in Hoskins and Pierce soon will have their own private lines. A construction crew from Minnesota last week was nearing the end of laying 240 miles of underground telephone cable so that customers of Pierce Telephone Company could enjoy the new service in the near future. About a mile east of Hoskins workmen Thursday had to tear down part of a fence in order that the machinery could lay the cable.

Famous Plains Art Collection Will Be Displayed at WSC

Selected works from the famous Maximilian Bodmer collection, one of the most authentic pictorial records of the western plains and its Indian inhabitants, will be displayed in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Foyer at Wayne State College Sept. 15-22.

The collection has been hailed by art critics and historians as one of the most complete and accurate accounts of the middle west before the westward advance of the white settlers.

The Bodmer collection takes its name from Prince Alexander Philip Maximilian, a German naturalist and scientist, and Karl Bodmer, a Swiss-born artist with an eye for detail and delicate beauty. The two men journeyed with fur traders up the Missouri River from St. Louis to Great Falls, Mont., in 1833 and 1834.

Prince Maximilian recorded his findings in writing, while Bodmer sketched and painted the Indian culture and the landscape for the Prince. After his return to Germany, Prince Maximilian published a book, "Travels in the Interior of Northern America," with illustrations based on Bodmer's field sketches.

In the 1840s Maximilian placed all of his documents from the Missouri River trip, plus the 427 original Bodmer paintings and early reproductions, in the family archives near Koblenz, Germany.

The vast collection survived the ravages of time and two world wars in nearly perfect shape.

No other collection so accurately depicts the Plains Indians as they lived in the years before they were influenced by the advance of white civilization.

Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha, acquired the entire collection in 1962 and returned it to the middle west. The See FAMOUS, page 8.

City Loses in Dispute Over Ambulance Funds

District Court judge George Dittick of Norfolk Wednesday ruled that Wayne County is not liable for $7,000 claimed by the City of Wayne in a suit filed last September.

The petition filed by the city claimed that the money was due under an agreement for ambulance services signed Dec. 26, 1967, and extended yearly to Jan. 1, 1975.

Terms of the original agreement, filed with the petition, were that the City of Wayne would provide a vehicle and equipment and bear the costs of providing ambulance service for Wayne County, operated by the city hospital, no longer in operation.

According to a copy of the contract filed with the petition, the county agreed to place $1,000 a year in a depreciation fund to be contributed towards the purchase of a new ambulance when the need arose.

The initial contract, between the city, county and hospital board, was effective through May 1, 1968. Agreements extending the original contract were signed April 30, 1968, June 17, 1969 and July 20, 1972. An extension of the agreement filed with the petition dated Jan. 1, 1975 was signed by the chairman of the county board of commissioners, but did not bear the signatures of the Wayne mayor or president of the hospital board.

The city government last year decided to purchase a new ambulance and asked the commissioners for the $7,000 they believed was due from the county, but the commissioners disallowed the claim, and the city council voted to file suit.

Judge Dittick ruled Wednesday that the county was not liable for the claim because no contract was in effect after Jan. 1, 1975, and the ambulance was purchased after that date.

The city council agreed to accept a bid for a new ambulance on Jan. 13, 1976. Payment of $22,883.27 was made May 25. The city paid an additional $700 for equipment for the limousine-type ambulance, now owned and operated by Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Dugne Schroeder, a Wayne

County attorney who represented the city in the case, said it will be up to the city council to decide whether or not to appeal the decision. City officials should receive his recommendation on the matter prior to the regular council meeting Tuesday night, Schroeder said Friday, adding that he could not comment on his recommendation prior to the meeting.

A Norfolk attorney, C.J. Gatz, represented the county in the civil action.

Both attorneys were appointed by the district court to represent their respective clients in the case. Wayne attorney Budd Bornhoff serves as regular attorney for both the city and county. He had initially indicated he would represent the county in the case, but withdrew completely after the advisory committee of the State Bar Association recommended that he take such action.

Iowa Artist Will Unveil New Designs

Wayne business proprietors will have an opportunity Sept. 21 to look at the first batch of drawings completed by designer Al Nelson to serve as guidelines for facilitating of stores in the downtown business district.

About 30 building owners have contracted with the Iowa designer to provide designs for improving the appearance of their buildings, using techniques including brick, color staining, and highlighting of architectural features with contrasting colors.

Nelson will display drawings completed for some of the buildings during a noon luncheon at Les' Steak House.

Also attending the meeting will be Kenneth Scott of Osceola, a contractor experienced in completing the type of work outlined in Nelson's designs.

Scott will explain how his business operates, and will also be able to give store owners an estimate of the cost of completing refurbishing of buildings using Nelson's designs, and will answer any other questions about building renovation.

Nelson was invited to speak in Wayne earlier this year by the See IOWA, page 8.

City Council To Consider New District

The Wayne city council Tuesday night will consider a revised version of an ordinance to create a downtown improvement district.

An improvement district ordinance was considered at the last council meeting but was found unsatisfactory because a portion of the downtown business area was not included.

Second reading of an ordinance to grant city administrator Fred Brink a pay increase is also scheduled for the meeting. Brink had asked that his pay be increased from $20,700 to $22,555. That request was amended to $21,900 after the council split on the vote and the mayor voted against the measure after suggesting the revised figure.

Also on the agenda is a report on the city's suit against the county over ambulance funds, discussion of a proposal to enclose an open storm sewer in the Roosevelt Park area, and a report by Brink on upgrading of the city electric plant.

'Way' Goal Is $13,000

Volunteers for this year's United Way campaign in Wayne will be gunning towards a goal of $13,000 when the fund-raising drive gets underway earlier next month.

The $13,000 goal and figures for each agency were agreed upon during a meeting of board members last week.

Receiving the biggest chunk of the money again this year is city recreation, $3,000. The Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts will receive $2,850; Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council, $2,400; Salvation Army, $1,400; Senior Citizens Center, $800; Red Cross, $100; Arthritis Foundation, $700; Florence Crittenton Home for unwed mothers, $200 and Cystic Fibrosis, $300.

Also figured into the goal are $400 for a contingency fund and $800 for administration.

Heading up this year's drive is local banker, John Nigh.

Dixon Girl Is Champion In State Crop Judging

Anna Borg of Dixon was the winner of 4-H crops judging competition at the Nebraska State Fair.

Anna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Borg, scored 574 out of a possible 600 points.

Wayne County youngsters were awarded a blue ribbon in sheep herdsmanhood at the fair.

In demonstration competition, Michelle Kubik of Wayne received a purple ribbon in the foods division for her "Be a Good Egg" entry.

Psychological Testing Can Help Students

By JIM STRAYER
Second in a Series

"We mainly look for alternative methods of education to match with the strengths of children who are having difficulties learning," said Larry Clay in explaining the function of the psychological testing department of Educational Service Unit (ESU-1).

Clay, who has been director of psychological testing since the service unit was formed 10 years ago, and the two current staff members, Tom Ketterling and Selma Flatmoe, are school psychologists. Clay explained, and have a different function than clinical psychologists.

Clinical psychologists work with behavioral or emotional problems, Clay said, while school psychologists deal with problems in learning.

A Nebraska statute, LB 403, requires that schools offer special education programs for the educable mentally handicapped, trainable mentally retarded and for children with normal intelligence but suffering from some type of learning disability.

It is the responsibility of Clay and his staff to determine if there is a need to place a student in a special program, and if so, to make recommendations about what the special program should include.

Clay's office, the department headquarters, is located at Wakefield; Ketterling's office is in Sioux City, and Miss Flatmoe's office is in Wayne. Together the three educational psychologists serve all schools in the six-county ESU-1 area.

Cases most often are referred to the psychological testing unit by teachers who perceive that a student is having difficulty with some phase of school. A referral form is submitted outlining the teacher's observations. Along with the referral request comes a parental permission form which must be signed by the student's parents before testing can be initiated.

Basically, testing is requested when achievement falls below the student's grade level, Ketterling said. Referrals are also received when it appears that a child is making a poor adjustment to the classroom or peers.

"We like to have children referred as young as possible," Clay said, adding that most students referred are in grades kindergarten through fourth.

After a teacher refers a student for testing and the parents agree, one of the psychologists works with the child in a one-to-one relationship.

OBSERVATIONS

Youngsters deserve praise

A few dedicated individuals can do quite a bit to benefit mankind, and that was certainly demonstrated on Labor Day.

There is no intention here to discount the many good works done by a variety of organizations, but it is noteworthy that several young people decided upon their own initiative to contribute their time and effort to help others.

TV influences behavior

Does the man of the family grow mellow and kindly after watching Pa Walton shepherd his offspring on "The Waltons"?

You wives of television sports buffs had better prepare yourselves.

The professional football season, those memorable weekends devoted to legalize mayhem, starts this week.

We want to warn you wives that if the study is true, after hubby watches Manny Sistrunk, Mean Joe Greene and Tom Tail Jones and other behemoths in armor, manhandle an opposing quarterback, you can expect him to get up from that easy chair and try the same on you.

Just a word of advice. There's a penalty for unnecessary roughness.

We could suggest one particularly appropriate penalty but we're afraid if we printed it — every husband in town would land on our necks.

Just use your imagination gals, just use your imagination.

Happy viewing! — From the South Sioux City Star.

Grandpa's Boy

Out of Old Nebraska

In the book "Conquering the Great American Desert" written by Everett Dick and published by the Nebraska State Historical Society are hundreds of incidents of frontier life.

While driving through the country about 15 miles northwest of Broken Bow on the evening of August 14th, it became quite dark and I found I had taken the wrong track and driven up to some old sod building.

I placed my feet close together, stretched my arms straight over my head and said, "Oh, God have mercy on me."

I suppose of course that it would kill me when I stuck the bottom but God had heard my prayer. I stuck in the mud and water which completely covered me over.

"The only serious injury I received was a badly sprained ankle, which gave me great pain. I also had a sore place on my back, which I found a number of days afterwards to be a broken rib.

"It (the well) was curbed in places with curbing about three feet square. There would be a place curbed for about four to six feet, and then there would be a place that was not curbed at all.

"I remained at that point the greater part of the next forenoon, calling often for help... So I took a piece of board and put some sand on it and got the point of my knife good and sharp and began cutting away the curbing and making one foot hole after another.

of the curbing. From there I would have been comfortable if my feet had not hurt me so badly. But I cut holes in the clay for my hands and feet with my knife and finally I got within sixteen feet of the top.

"I might there I had the worst hindrance I had met yet. It was round curbing four feet high and perfectly smooth on the inside. It was washed out around it until it was only held from dropping by a little peg on one side. I knew if I tried to go up through it, it was pretty sure to break loose and go to the bottom with me.

"Then I knelt down and thanked Al-mighty God for sparing my life, as I had prayed for him to do.

"But my trouble was not at an end yet. I was one and a half miles from a house with a foot I could not step on. I cut some large weeds and made out to hobble and crawl to the road, about forty rods distant, and there I lay until nearly sundown looking for a team that never came.

"Let this be a warning to all who may lead it to fill up all the old wells in their neighborhood, for we know not who the next may be. Also remember to trust in God, for he can save when no one else can.

"The pensions paid from 1967 to 1977 have increased from $38.10 to $18.99 billion.

I have personally written to Nebraska senators and representatives suggesting that they voluntarily cut back their salaries at least 50 per cent until the federal budget is balanced.

I'm greatly worried about our great grandchildren trying to get the country out of debt. We should try to do something about it now. — Jessie S. Morgan.

LETTERS U.S. Debts - Cause for Worry

Dear Editor: In my opinion the article in the September Reader's Digest entitled, "Let's Throttle Back the Federal Pension Gravy Train," by for Massachusetts Republican Congressman Hastings Keith should be read by everyone interested in trying to get the federal government out of debt.

Importance of United Nations weighed

Could this be the year that the United Nations is up for grabs or down the drain? The five-year term of Secretary General Kurt Waldheim terminates in 1976 and there will be a mad scramble for the prestigious but hardly powerful position the tall Austrian has struggled to make more effective.

Americans have had a romantic, hopeful feeling about the UN, sad over its failures, encouraged by what peacekeeping assignments it has been able to fulfill but they hardly have expected miracles of the organization.

For years a churlish few have shrilled the slogan "get the U.S. out of the UN and the UN out of the U.S." But trouble lies ahead in the U.S. UN relations which no slogan, pro or con, will solve.

One of the difficulties is that we can no longer get our own way! As a recent Foreign Policy Association pamphlet notes the body began with 51 nations in 1945 and has grown to 144. Almost unfaithfully in the beginning, the U.S. could depend on a coalition of Latin America and western European nations to work its will. With more than 100 developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America now members, we are in the minority, sometimes isolated even from traditional democratic allies.

It doesn't follow of course that because we pay 25 per cent of the UN's regular budget — three quarters of a billion dollars for 1976-77 — we should have the right to dictate to everybody else where to get off or head in. (Before 1972, we paid more than 30 per cent of the UN budget) then the General Assembly authorized reduction.) But it doesn't follow either that we should be the target of cheap shots by an alignment of Arab and other nations opposing Israel, whose creation by the United States in 1948 the Truman regime was instrumental in achieving.

American resentment has been building on this score and it was this reservoir of wrath which Daniel Patrick Moynihan tapped when, as U.S. ambassador to the UN, he made frontal attacks on this anti-Israel bias, denouncing as well the terrorism of Palestine extremists. His attacks may have been excessive and they didn't solve anything though the reaction of the American public, according to his office, was overwhelmingly favorable.

It would be foolish if not a felony to dismantle the United Nations now, riven though it is with quarrels and power struggles. It remains the only institution in the world where these quarrels and power struggles can be discussed and debated in the open.

It seems fashionable and perhaps historically unavoidable as a legacy of colonialism for the poor nations to snipe now at the rich. What is needed most of all is a reassessment of values and a reordering of priorities. Look at the UN budget again: less than a billion dollars. Half the projected cost of one Trident submarine.

Weekly gleanings. News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

JAY MEYER, 21 of Wisner, suffered severe burns on his hands and narrowly escaped death when he came in contact with a live wire on a farm three miles northwest of Beemer. Meyer was helping Ernest Oswald on the Eldon Freymuth farm when the hopper on his cutter caught and severed an overhead 7,000 volt cable. Meyer ran toward the cutter and came in contact with the wire. He was knocked unconscious and rushed to the West Point hospital with severely burned arms and hands.

ADA FRUM of South Sioux City was elected chairman of the Dakota County Republican Central Committee. Mrs. Jean Mullenburg of South Sioux was elected first vice chairman and Kent Brophyil of South Sioux was elected second vice chairman.

SERVING AS the new district conservationist in Cuming County is William Hammitt. He will assist farmers in the county with conservation practices and administering cost share programs. Hammitt comes from North Platte where he was a soil conservationist.

THE IMPROVED 80 acres belonging to Henry Spenner was sold recently at the farm located one and one half miles north of Beemer. It was purchased by Leo Gentrup for $2925 per acre.

THE THIRD annual Cuming County Market Hog Show will be held in the Waton Pavilion at the fairgrounds on Thursday, Sept. 16. Judging and evaluation contest for 4-H, FHA and adult divisions will begin at 7 a.m. Live hog judging will begin at 7:30 p.m.

SOUTH SIOUX CITY now has a new city engineer-public works director all tied up in the same package with a $19,500 annual ribbon. The city council voted six to one to hire 29-year-old Terry Harvey, a University of Nebraska-Omaha and an Oklahoma State University engineering graduate. Harvey replaces John Laros, who was acting city engineer for 20 years until his recent resignation.

STRAYEr Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

Youngsters can sharpen their pencils and their wits for the Herald's latest contest. Last year school district 51 submitted Halloween stories and we picked the best ones for publication.

had so much fun making my selections and reader response was so favorable, that we decided to give every one a chance and have a Halloween writing contest this year.

There will be three categories in the contest: grades 3 and 4, grades 5 and 6, and grades 7 and 8. First and second place prizes will be awarded. Entries may be either short stories or poetry having to do with ghosts, goblins, spooks and all of those other creatures which contribute to the wonder of Halloween.

Imagination, originality and writing skills will be the basis for judging the contest.

Entries should be submitted no later than noon, Oct. 23, so the winning stories can be prepared for publication in the Oct. 28 issue of The Wayne Herald. Entries should include the writer's name, parent's name, address, telephone number, school, grade and teacher's name.

Mom Knew Best

Speaking of spooks: my baby brother just got out of the penitentiary last week. It's not as bad as it sounds, though. He worked there this summer, during the break in his music studies at Doane College. Still, his employment during the summer months proves that what Mom always said about him is true.

Expo Canceled

I was sorry to hear about the Chamber of Commerce canceling the Fall Expo, but it's certainly understandable. With school back in full swing now it's really difficult to find a weekend without scheduling conflicts. I wasn't in Wayne yet when the last exposition was held, but it sounds like fun so I hope the Chamber will revive the event in the spring.

Names Deleted

Space limitations necessitated leaving out of a story a list of organizations which contributed to the Dixon County diabetes clinics in August. They are the Wakefield Lions Club, Hanson Elevator, Young's Service, Loretta's Bar, Roeder Honey Farm, Allen Legion Auxiliary Unit 131, Merry Homemakers Extension Club, Allen Community Extension Club, Congregational Ladies Aid, American Legion Auxiliary at Newcastle, St. John's Lutheran Ladies Aid, Sacred Heart Doadilly Zoin Lutheran Church and Gospel Chapel.

Individual contributions came from Laurence Fox, Mrs. Clarence Pearson, and Garry Schroeder.

The Gremlins?

The fire gremlins have struck again. Margie and Gary had another flat over the Labor Day weekend. That makes seven or eight since she started here in late April.

Off the Hook

Wayne Hays is off the hook, so far as Congress is concerned. The House Ethics Committee said it had no jurisdiction over him following his resignation because he is no longer a Congressman. But he's pulling down a pretty fat pension, though.

Last I read, his case is still under grand jury investigation, but how much would you like to bet nothing comes of it?

Of course, Hays may not be guilty of anything — wouldn't want to convict anyone without a trial. But if charges that he used public money to pay his mistress are true, it amounts to just plain old stealing, call it fraud, white collar crime, or what you will.

At any rate, it's a safe bet that the crime rate would really soar if all a person had to do to escape prosecution was quit his job. It will be interesting to see if Hays gets off that easy.

Try This One

The cover of the Midwest Roto, a news supplement, features illustrated instructions on how to tie the double reversed cupid's bow slip shank. Tie it? Heck, I can just barely say it.

It doesn't just sound hard to tie, it really is. The instructions show seven steps in tying the knot, the last one looking like a plate of spaghetti, then says (continued next month).

You don't suppose they're putting me on, do you?

A rural West Point family solved the problem of overcrowded tennis courts. West Point Newspaper publisher Dick Lindberg reports in his column.

The inventive farm family painted boundaries on the floor of a concrete bunker silo, pulled some machinery across the open end and help stop stray tennis balls, strung some tennis court, and had their own private tennis court.

Of course, the season ended a little early this year. The family is already chopping silage and piling it in the bunker, but it was fun while it lasted.

Who's who, what's what?

- 1. WHO is the Wayne woman who is one of 17 Democrats named to a liaison committee for the campaign of Pauline Anderson to the First District Congressional seat?
2. WHAT is the number of Wayne County farmers who have filed for crop disaster payments?
3. WHAT is the date of the "Functions of the Free Press" conference to be held in Wayne?
4. WHAT is the budget for fiscal 1976-77 approved recently by the Wayne County board of commissioners?
5. WHO is the new Wayne National Guard recruiter?
6. WHO is the Wayne man making a prize-winning showing in State Tractor pulls?
7. WHAT will begin Sept. 14 at the Wayne High School?

ANSWERS: 1. Sylvia Eynow, vice chairman of the Wayne County Democrats. 2. Nearly 400. 3. Oct. 21 with the time and location yet to be determined. 4. Two million dollars. 5. Ken Wagner. 6. Doug Nelson. He has won both the Nebraska and Colorado State Fair championships in the $500 super stock class. 7. Adult basic education classes, offered free of charge on Tuesday evenings.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

A tiny fraction of all the vehicles in America just might fail to start on a given morning. Generally, the problem is a worn-out battery, a loose or dirty battery cable connection or even an empty fuel tank.

Take out the battery and fuel woes and that probably means only a few thousand cars are unable to get up and go. That's out of a total of more than a hundred million vehicles.

With cooler weather about to make its annual reappearance, the Automotive Information Council believes a few reminders might be helpful. Actually, a surprising number of motorists have some dated misconceptions of what to do when starting the engine.

Repeated pumping of the accelerator, for example, isn't necessary for a cold engine. One depression of the pedal is plenty. Starting a warm engine may require slight pedal pressure. When the thermometer plunges well below the freezing mark, it's a good idea to depress the accelerator twice with an interval of the mixture of air and fuel before startup.

These tips do more than help you get started. Actually, they will conserve energy. Those pedal pumps boost the gas consumption. Another point: Once the car starts, don't race the engine or allow it to idle for more than 15 seconds. Immediate driving warms the engine faster.

One of the more common results of improper-starting procedure is engine flooding. You will be able to smell gasoline. Just press the accelerator to the floor and hold it there while starting the engine. Let the engine run a few seconds to clear off the excess gasoline. One sure way to waste fuel is to keep the engine running while your car isn't moving. Turn it off. If it takes less fuel to restart the car than keeping it running when the car isn't going anywhere.

After you are on your way, it's still recommended that you keep accelerator play to a minimum. Remember: A steady foot saves you money, saves energy for your country and gives your passengers a much smoother ride. The driver who zooms from the signal light, hits the brake and stomps the accelerator again is wasting gasoline—probably gallons of it every week.

Homemakers
Teaching
Variety of Needlework
Skills

Looking for a good craft or hobby to help pass time on those long, cold winter evenings?
A series of heritage arts needlework courses will once again be offered to area homemakers during September through December, according to Anna Marie Kreifels, area home extension agent at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station near Concord.
A similar series of needlework courses were held throughout the area last spring. Miss Kreifels said several women have expressed interest in repeating the series.
Once again, the workshops will be taught by area homemakers skilled in a particular needlework craft, and are open to the public.
Individuals who wish to participate in one or more of the workshops must pre-register by writing or calling the person who will be conducting the workshop. Deadline date for pre-registration is Friday, Sept. 17.
Miss Kreifels said registration fee for the workshops is $1 for each session in the course. Supplies will be extra.

Workshops are:
Needlepoint — taught by Mrs. Ezra Jochens, rural Norfolk, 565-4216. The workshop will include five sessions, Oct. 19 and 26 and Nov. 2, 9 and 16, and will be held at the Hoskins Fire Hall, beginning at 1:30 p.m. The first meeting will be informational.
Tatting — taught by Mrs. Richard Körn, rural Wayne, 375-3615. Participants will attend three sessions, Oct. 12, 19 and 26 in Mrs. Körn's home, three and a half miles south of Wayne. Tentative time for the workshop is 8 p.m., however, an afternoon session will be considered. Supplies to bring will be discussed during pre-registration.
Candlemaking — taught by Mrs. George Olson, Winnebago, 385-2468. Sessions, beginning at 8 p.m., will be Oct. 4 and 6 in the instructor's home. Participants are asked to bring a candle mold and plastic flowers.
Knitting — taught by Mrs. Don Storm, Coleidge, 283-4904. Classes will be held Oct. 5, 7, 12, 14 and 19 and Nov. 2 from 7:30 to 3:30 p.m. at 315 Broadway, in Coleridge. Participants are asked to bring a six-inch measure, size four or five knitting needles, one skein and four-ply knitting yarn.

Crewel Embroidery — taught by Mrs. Eugene Kruse, Pender, 385-2480. The workshop will be held in the instructor's home, beginning at 1:30 p.m., and will include four sessions, Sept. 30, Oct. 14 and 28 and Nov. 11. Supplies include a crewel hoop, scissors and crewel yarn and needles.
Crewel Embroidery — taught by Mrs. Lucille Larson, 700 Pine Heights, Wayne, 375-1861. Two classes of eight sessions will be held. Stanley-Pinkelman Vows Spoken at Dixon Church

In an 11 a.m. ceremony Aug. 28 at St. Anne's Church in Dixon, Lorraine Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanley of Cozad, formerly of Dixon, became the bride of Kevin Pinkelman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pinkelman of Hartington.
Pink gladiolus, and yellow and white pompons decorated the church.
The Rev. Thomas Adams of Dixon officiated at the double ring ceremony. Monte Johnson of Laurel sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Follow Me," accompanied by Mrs. LeRoy Creamer of Dixon.

The couple's honor attendants were the bride's twin sister, Laurie Stanley of Sioux City, and Bruce Pinkelman of Hartington. Bridesmaids were Joy Bloom of Laurel and Laurene Gorter of Pipestone, Minn., and groomsmen were Richard Backman and Larry Schmidt, both of Hartington.
Ushers were Brian Pinkelman of Hartington and Pat Stanley of Ainsworth. Dennis Gother of Sioux City was lector.
For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length, empire-style gown of white crepe-backed satin styled with long sleeves, an oval neckline featuring a lace dickey and stand-up collar, and an A-line skirt. Her hooded veil was trimmed in lace and she carried a nosegay of pink and yellow roses.
Her attendants wore floor-length frocks of polyester crepe in pink, yellow and green respectively. The bridesmaids' gowns featured chiffon capes, empire waistlines and A-line skirts. They wore baby's breath in their hair and carried a single rose to match their dress.

Mrs. Stanley wore a pink double knit with a pink and yellow rose corsage.
Kathy Larson registered guests, and gifts were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stanley of Dixon and Mark Ebmeier of Laurel.
Mr. and Mrs. Ron Polkinhorn of Ponca and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Pinkelman of Hartington served as hosts to the reception for 120 guests held at the Laurel city auditorium following the ceremony.
Mrs. Frank Boeshart of South Sioux City and Mrs. Gerald Stanley of Dixon cut and served the cake. Mrs. Claire Gibson of Coleridge poured and Mrs. Pat Stanley of Ainsworth served punch.
Others assisting at the luncheon were Marie Schrieber, Phyllis Burns, Wilma Lind, Marilyn Creamer, Marilyn White, Gerry Roeder, Delilah Gother, Lorraine Taylor, Marietta Linn, Mary Gleason, Mary Boeshart, Olivia Galvin, Pam Johnson, Kathy Maxon and Lisa Schrieber.
Pinkelmans are making their home at Hartington. The bride graduated from Laurel High School in 1976 and from Nettleton Business College in Omaha in 1976 as a medical assistant. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wynot High School, is engaged in farming.

Deanery Honors Wayne Women

Two Wayne women, past presidents of the Rural Northeast Deanery Council of Catholic Women, were honored guests at the luncheon meeting on Aug 17 in South Sioux City.
Among those honored were Mrs. Edwin Kluge and Mrs. Joseph Rieken.
Mrs. Kluge served the group for four years during the 1950's and was cited for having promoted rural life during her tenure. Mrs. Rieken, immediate past president, served from 1972 until May of this year. Mrs. Rieken was recognized for several trips she made to Lincoln, prompting interest in current legislation.
The afternoon program included a history of the Rural Northeast Deanery, most of which was recorded by the late Mrs. F. S. Berry of Wayne.
The program also featured Mrs. Mark Kneiff of Newcastle, president of the Omaha Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. Kneiff reported of her recent trip to the Eucharistic Congress in Philadelphia, Penn.
Others attending from Wayne were the Rev. Thomas McCormick, spiritual moderator, and Mrs. Gerald Pospisil, Mrs. Dennis Lutt and Mrs. Tom Mau, officers of St. Mary's Guild.

Loofe Guides Walthill To 20-7 Win over 'Cats

Walthill quarterback George Loofe threw for one touchdown and scored another Friday night to lead his team to a 20-7 come-from-behind victory over Winside.

With nine seconds left in the first period, Loofe capped a long drive from deep in his territory with a one-yard plunge to narrow Winside's lead to 7-6. Aiding the Blue Jays sustained drive was a 60-yard bomb from Loofe to Russ Stansberry, who was hauled down at the 15-yard line. Loofe missed the PAT to keep Winside in front.

The tide turned with 6:50 left in the first half when running-back Jeff Bellar broke for nine yards to paydirt, ending a 55-yard drive. Again the air game proved to be the turning point in Walthill's second major drive. Randy Stansberry took a 26-yard aerial from Loofe to put Walthill into scoring position. Loofe missed the point after for a 12-7 Walthill lead.

Loofe uncorked a 16-yard touchdown pass to Don Archer with 5:05 left in the third period for an 18-7 Jay lead. This time the home team converted the extra-point play when Randy Stansberry ran in for the two points.

Cliff Tillema put coach Ron Peck's Wildcats on the score board with a 23 to go in the first period. Tillema went 19 yards for the score to end a 58-yard drive on six plays. Tillema also kicked the extra point through the uprights.

Tillema finished as the 'Cats leading rusher with 83 yards on 22 carries. Mitch Pfeiffer was second with 60 yards on 17 totes.

Now 1-1, Winside will try to get back on the winning streak Friday night when the Cats host Allen for their homecoming.

LATCHING ON to Wayne's second touchdown of the night is senior Mark Victor (86) as Blair defenders Shane Petersen (60) and Dave Patterson

(20) are too late to stop the play. Victor connected with Tom Ginn on a fourth and two situations from the Blair two-yard line for the tying score of the game in the third quarter.

Wayne Drops Home Opener

Blair TD Bombs Stun Blue Devils 21-20

By DAN VODVARKA

Blair quarterback Dave Clifford stunned Wayne with three clutch touchdown passes and led the invading Bears to an exciting 21-20 upset of the Blue Devils Friday night.

In three crucial situations, the 130-pound junior signal caller connected for scores to keep the Devils playing catch up all night.

The contest evened both Class B grid clubs at 1-1 on the year with Wayne playing host to Wisconsin Pilger this Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium on the Wayne State College campus.

Wayne out yardaged the invaders, gained more first downs and controlled the ball for most of the game, but came up short on the scoreboard.

Blair drew first blood with a 74-yard scoring march in the first quarter on eight plays. The crucial play in the drive came on fourth and nine on the Wayne 15 when Clifford lofted a pass just off the fingers of Wayne's Brad Emry into the hands of John Blobaum for the score. Doug Lemon split the uprights after all three Blair TD's in what proved to be crucial kicks.

Moments later in the first stanza, a mishandled Wayne punt by punter Kevin Murray gave the invaders the ball on the Wayne 19. The Devil defense dug in but on fourth and 11 from the 20, Clifford struck again as he laced right and then hit Mark Gutschow all alone in the middle for six points.

Down by 14, Wayne sophomore quarterback Tom Ginn came out throwing and drove Wayne to the Blair two-yard line before Mark Brandt fumbled away Wayne's first deep scoring threat.

Late in the half, Ginn again guined the Devil offense down the field and finally picked up some points as Mike Wieseler rammed the first 32 yards to paydirt. Ginn then hit Mark Victor in the corner of the endzone to make the score 14-8 at half in favor of Blair.

On Blair's first possession of the second half, Wayne's Kelly Hansen felt on a loose ball and the Devils were in business on the Blair 42. Thirteen plays later Ginn found Victor again in the same right corner of the end zone for a TD on a fourth and two play and the score was tied. The tie remained as Wieseler was stopped just inches short of the endzone on the PAT try.

The final two touchdowns of the game came lightning fast late in the third period.

Just two plays after Victor's TD, Blair had the ball on its own 21 with a second and nine. Again it was time for Clifford to strike as he dropped back and calmly laid a perfect pass to senior end Bob Leehy across the middle. Leehy had one step on the Wayne defender and that's all he needed as he sprinted 79 yards with the winning score.

Wayne closed the gap just 11 later as senior running back Brandt stunned the home crowd with an 85-yard runback of the following kickoff. A pass from Ginn to Victor on the PAT attempt was just off of Victor's finger tips and the scores stayed at 21-20 Blair.

Blair dug in in the final quarter and used field position to hold off the Devils. An interception of a Ginn pass on the 50 with 1:47 left in the contest by Blair's Brad Warrick sealed Wayne's initial defeat of the 1976 grid campaign.

Wieseler led the Devil ground game with 67 yards while Brandt had 40. Ginn finished a sparkling night for a sophomore as he connected for 148 yards and a touchdown hitting on eight of 16 passes and he had one pass intercepted.

"Really outstanding," was Wayne coach Ron Carnes view of Ginn's performance as he lauded the young quarterback's completion percentage and yardage.

On the other side of the coin, Carnes pointed to Wayne's mental mistakes, especially early in the game, as crucial in the loss. "Of course we were also not happy with our pass defense but it wasn't all the fault of the half-backs as our rush never did sack the Blair quarterback," Carnes pointed out.

"Although the contest was not a conference game, the loss did of course hurt Wayne's chances of getting into the prep playoffs at the end of the season. "The kids set their goals high this year and this is going to be a tough week in practice. We've got to be able to come back next week," Carnes commented.

On the defensive end, Aaron Nissen led with nine tackles while Tom Nissen was in on eight stops and Rick Straight six.

Early Breaks Lift Trojans To 32-0 Blanking of Eagles

Two blocked punts and a fluke field goal attempt Friday night paved the way for a 32-0 Wakefield onslaught of host Allen.

The game featured all the makings of a close contest in the first half, despite the Trojans' 12-0 lead.

Wakefield went in front with 3:35 left in the first period when, on a fourth and goal from the one-yard line, quarterback Todd Swigart pitched out to running-back Dan Byers on a right end sweep for a 6-0 lead. However, speedy defensive linebacker Denny Uhl halted Wakefield's extra point attempt when he raced through the line to block a mishandled PAT attempt by senior Brooks Myers.

Wakefield got into close scoring territory by blocking a Uhl punt and downing the ball on Allen's six-yard line. The Eagles defense held for three plays before Swigart elected to skip buffing heads with Allen's inside line.

With about a minute left in the half Wakefield put another six points on the board when hard-charging defensive back, Dave Gustafson, got his hands on a Uhl punt and downed it at the 16-yard line.

On the next play Byers got his second of three touchdowns of the night by racing around left end and going into the endzone unscratched.

In an attempt to get the two-point conversion, kicker Myers faked the boot and raced around right in only to be stopped inches short by freshman Greg Carr and junior Rayme Dowling.

In the second half, Wakefield's offense inched down from deep in its territory to the nine-yard line of Allen before the ALLEN's leading ground gainer, Brent Chase (31) finds some running room early in the game behind his wall of blockers Rico Smith (74) and Steve Johnson (53). In hot pursuit are two Wakefield defenders, Dave Gustafson (30) and Carl Domsch (60). Watching from the sidelines, Allen mentor Cliff Jorgenson (below) outlines some players with one of his gridders.

Eagles' defense dug in and forced Wakefield to attempt a field goal.

But lady luck wasn't on Allen's side. Swigart lost the hand following the snap from center and was forced to toss the ball back to Myers. Seeing end Jeff Simpson open in the endzone, Myers heaved the pigskin across the goal-line for an 18-0 command. Allen's defense continued to charge the try for the extra points as Dowling blocked the PAT with 7:40 left in the third period.

"Wakefield put the icing on the cake with a pair of quick touchdowns in the second half. On their one drive of the night, the Trojans went 64 yards in 11 plays, including a pair of passes to Simpson for a sizeable gain and a 28-yard jaunt by Byers: A halfback pass from Byers to Simpson put Wakefield in front 24-0 before Myers kicked his first of two successful extra points for a 28-0 score.

Wakefield's final score came with 49 when Byers intercepted an Allen aerial and ran the ball back 52 yards.

"Allen's a much improved ball club from last year... they've improved everywhere," praised Wakefield coach John Torczon following his Trojans' second win of the young season.

The head man credited his defensive line which included Craig Nelson, Greg Simpson, Myers, Gustafson and Byers for containing Allen quarterback Todd Ellis most of the night.

On offense Byers and Myers teamed up for 108 yards. Byers led with 56 while Myers collected 52.

Junior Brent Chase was the leader for Allen with 51 yards. See EARLY, page 5

Cat Harriers Finish Strong At Chadron

"A good start!" — that's how coach and runners described Wayne State's cross country debut Saturday in the Chadron State Invitational.

The Wildcats scored 54 points to finish second behind Kearney State's 31. South Dakota Tech came in third at 74 and Chadron, with only four runners, did not score.

Chadron's John Cox won the individual first with a 14:57 time for 4.7 miles. Wayne's Dale Sobel came in sixth at 25:20, fastest of the Wildcats. Chip Hagerman, only five seconds back, had to settle for ninth, Don Rinehart, 25:32, was 10th; Bob Schliecher, 25:58, 14th, and Jerry Sanders, 26:13, 15th.

Next action for Wayne is scheduled Friday afternoon in a dual at Westman.

Pierce Favored To Repeat Title

In Winside Meet

Defending champion Pierce will be going for its third straight title when the undefeated Bluejays of coach Rob Andrew meet Emerson-Hubbard tonight (Monday) in the first of a two-day Winside Invitational volleyball tournament.

Pierce, which defeated Osmond last year for the title, will play in the final of four matches tonight.

Host Winside and Colbridge open play at 6:30 p.m., followed by the Osmond-Hartington, Laurel-Wynot and Pierce matches. The winners move up to semifinal play Tuesday night. Finals and consolation rounds also will be played Tuesday.

Each match will begin 15 minutes after the finish of the preceding match. Admission price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students in grades kindergarten through 12.

Iverson: Bears Need Confidence

Reigning confidence was the main goal for coach Dwight Iverson's Laurel volleyball team in preparation for the first round of the Winside tournament tonight (Monday).

"After the girls lost to Plain view they seem to have lost all of their confidence," Iverson pointed out after his team Thursday night lost its second match in a row, this time to Randolph.

The visitors took two straight from the Bears, 15-3 and 15-4, to drop Laurel's record to 1-2. The coach tabbed the play of junior Elaine Guern for her six spikes.

Randolph also won the reserve and freshman games. The B team staked a pair of 15-7 scores. No scores were available for the freshman match. Leading Laurel in the reserve game were Deanna Manz and Jan Cooper.

Tonight in the third tournament game Laurel faces Wynot. The winner advances to the semifinals rounds Tuesday night.

Fritz Named To Referee UN-L Tilts

A football referee from Wayne, Wes Fritz, is one of two new officials who have been selected to work University of Nebraska-Lincoln junior varsity football contests this fall. Fritz, who is an instructor at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, has refereed for the last 10 seasons, will be working with a referee from Omaha when UN-L meets Kansas State, Missouri and the University of Nebraska-Omaha. Fritz received the formal invitation, along with three other Nebraskaans, from UN-L head referee Bill Jennings to try out for two open spots on the four-man team during spring games. The 34-year-old local, who will work as a back judge, hopes that his new position will pave the way to becoming a member of the varsity officiating team. Fritz started refereeing football in the high school ranks in 1966. Three years later he began working college games in addition to high school. Working with Wes during college games are two other Wayne men, Ron Jones and Jim Paige, and Rich McGill, of Plattsmouth. A native of Delaware, Wes was an all-state center as a senior in high school in 1959. A head injury in his junior year at Southwest Missouri State forced Fritz to give up the sport.

Wayne Teams

Take a Pair From Winside

Two of three Wayne volleyball teams posted easy wins over visiting Winside Thursday night at the Blue Devils' auditorium. The varsity upped its season mark to 4-1 with 15-7 and 15-3 wins. Kelly Frevert led Wayne servers with nine points as coach Mavis Dalton cleared her bench. "All our girls played well," the coach said, adding that "we showed a better offense this time."

Wayne's reserves collected their second win to stay unbeaten, scoring 15-2 and 15-7 wins. Sandy Jacobmeter was the leading server with 11 points.

Winside's freshman saved the night for first-year coach Kathy O'Connor. The frosh scored their first victory with close 15-12 and 16-14 decisions for a 1-2 season record. The freshman really played well, the coach noted, pointing out that the victory was a team effort.

Greg Schroeder led the Warriors' attack with a pair of touchdowns. Schroeder went 10 yards with 9:44 left in the opening stanza to put his team in front 6-0. The PAT was good. The 175-pounder broke away for 51 yards and the final score of the night with just over three minutes left in the third frame the PAT failed.

Quarterback Rocky Thompson also connected for two touchdowns, both in the second period. Thompson unleashed a pair of scoring losses to Curt Order, one covering 22 yards; the second nine yards. Laurel was never in scoring motion the entire night, commented coach Joe Boyle.

The Yardstick:

WH Harriers

Halt Stanton In Dual Meet

Wayne High harriers opened their cross country season Thursday afternoon with a decisive 14-24 thumping of visiting Stanton. Led by senior Don Ley, the Blue Devils claimed four of the top six finishes over the two and a half mile jaunt at the Wayne Country Club. Ley grabbed first place with a time of 14:59. He was followed by senior SI Prather who was third with a clocking of 16:20. Fourth place went to Jeff Backstrom, 16:40, and sixth went to freshman Kurt Powers, 17:54. Senior Mike Rethwisch finished with a time of 19:28. "I can't tell a lot about the team from the first meet," observed coach Harold "Mac" Maciejewski about this year's team which has seven runners. Also out for the squad senior Byron Wacker and junior Clint Nelson. Ley, Backstrom and Rethwisch are the returning lettermen, whom Mac believes can help mold a respectable team by midseason and by the time the West Husker meet rolls around next month. Tuesday afternoon the Devils head to Coleridge for a dual meet. The rest of Wayne's schedule:

September — 24, at Crofton Invitational; 28, South Sioux City, Coleridge at Wayne.
October — 1, at Bloomfield Invitational; 6, at West Husker meet at Stanton; 14-15, at Class B district at Plainview; 23, at state meet in Kearney.

Chamber Gives Away Car

MRS. ALBERT Karlberg of Wakefield was the winner of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce "Back to School" car, given away as part of the Chamber's latest promotion.

Mrs. Carl L. (Louise) Eldred

Mrs. Carl L. (Louise) Eldred of South Lyon, Mich., died Tuesday in a nursing home in Pontiac, Mich. She was 82 years old. Burial was Friday morning in the Pierson, Ia., Cemetery.

Born in Pierson on July 11, 1894, she was the daughter of George and Lucia Butler McGraw. She attended Morrisville College, Sioux City, and was a graduate of Wayne State, Teachers College.

She married William E. Jenkins in Pierson on June 12, 1917. The couple lived in Wayne after their marriage for quite a few years. Jenkins was a Wayne banker.

They later moved to Detroit, Mich., where she taught in several private schools. Jenkins died in Detroit in 1965. She was married to Carl Eldred on Aug. 31, 1974, in Detroit.

Survivors include her widower, Carl of South Lyon, one son, Joe E. Jenkins of Pontiac, one daughter, Mrs. William (Hope) Straith of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., one brother, George McGraw of Alta Vista, Calif., three sisters, Helen Wheelock of Sioux City, Dorothy Bogue of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Elizabeth Anderson of Wilmette, Ill., and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Inez Fisk

Funeral services for Mrs. Inez Fisk, age 71, of Norfolk were held Thursday morning at Mount Olive Lutheran Church, Norfolk. She died last Monday in a Norfolk hospital. Burial was in Trinity Lutheran Cemetery, Huskies.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Green, she was born Jan. 30, 1905, in Huskies. She married Merrill Fisk May 18, 1926, in Sioux City.

She was a member of Mount Olive Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Missionary League, the American Legion and the V.F.W. Auxiliaries, all in Norfolk.

She is preceded in death by her husband, one brother and two sisters. Survivors include two sons, Dean of San Francisco, Calif., and Wallace of Atchinson, Kan., two sisters, Ada Becker of Norfolk, and Mrs. Fred Norval Brummels of Huskies.

Donald Harold

Funeral services were held last Thursday in Youngstown, Ariz., for a former Wayne businessman, Donald Harold. He died Aug. 31 in Sun City, Ariz., where he and his family were living following his retirement as president of Credit Service Company of Minneapolis.

He and his brother, Russell Harold, at one time owned a dry goods and grocery store in Wayne in the building now occupied by Kuhn's Department Store. He had been a member of the Wayne Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his widow, Evelyn, one son James, a sister and two grandchildren.

Shane VanAuker

Shane VanAuker, the eight year old son of the Eugene VanAukers, Iowa City, Ia., died Thursday in an Iowa City hospital after he accidentally hung himself on a porch Monday.

Funeral services were to have been held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Lutheran Church in Randolph.

Grandparents of Shane are the Wayne VanAukers and the Alvin Weyriches, both of Randolph. Mrs. Richard Wadding, Wayne, is an aunt of the deceased.

Mrs. Willers Hosts Senior Citizens September Meeting

"Living with a Chronic Disease" will be the topic of an Arthritis Public Education Forum to be held Tuesday, Sept. 21, at Northeast Technical Community College, 801 E. Benjamin Avenue in Norfolk.

The program scheduled 1:30 p.m. in Rooms B102-3, is designed to teach the arthritic person what arthritis is, what can be done and how to live with it. The afternoon session will provide workshop opportunities in motion techniques.

Dr. J. Kenneth Herd, chairman of the medical advisory committee for the Nebraska chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, explains that most arthritis for which patients are treated is of unknown cause, tends to be chronic, involves many parts of the body besides the joints, and threatens people more often in their productive working years. Patients with arthritis need long-term care from a variety of skilled personnel to cope with the illness and the extra burdens placed on daily living.

Okays Renting

The Winslow town board Monday night okayed the renting of the village auditorium to the high school at a cost of $20 per season, said village chairman Dallas Puls.

'Silage May Be Best Route for Farmers'

Farmers wondering what to do with corn suffering from drought might consider chopping it up for silage, said an extension beef specialist. Experiments have shown that drought silage is worth between 85 and 100 per cent of normal corn used for feeding calves, noted Vernon Krause of the Northeast Station near Concord. To determine what makes good silage, Krause said, any corn yielding less than 15 bushels per acre likely would be considered drought silage. The problem most farmers face when deciding whether to use damaged corn for silage is pricing. Prices vary on corn yield and when a farmer intends to buy or sell. To figure the best way to go, Krause pointed out, that the price of drought corn in the field can be calculated by subtracting the lower feeding value of drought corn (85 per cent) a 15 per cent fermentation loss, $1.20 per ton for storage costs, and $5 per ton for harvesting costs. Drought silage at 35 per cent dry matter is worth about $8.45 standing in the field if normal silage (35 per cent dry matter) is worth $20 per ton out of the field. If normal silage is worth $30 a

Antique Stove Theft Reported

An antique copper-clad wood burning stove was discovered missing Monday from a vacant farm home located southwest of Wayne, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's department. The farmer who leases the farm from a Norfolk woman noticed tracks into the farmstead and found that a door to the house had been forced open and the cabinet stove taken. The owner valued the stove at $500.

What a Surprise

THREE FORMER leaders of Scout Troop 175 were surprised at a recent troop auxiliary meeting when each received an appreciation plaque recognizing long service to scouting. The recipients, from left, were William Kemp, Dallas Havener and LeRoy Middleton, each with 10 to 12 years in various troop and cub pack offices. Havener was scoutmaster until recently. Kemp and Middleton both assistant scoutmasters. Dr. J.S. Johar, auxiliary president, presented the plaques. Several scouts received a large number of merit badges and skill awards.

Tennyson Class Aired On NETV

Anyone for Tennyson? That's the title of a new multi-media poetry course being offered by Wayne State College in cooperation with the Nebraska Educational Television Network (NETV). The on-the-air course will include 20 half hour television programs scheduled from Saturday, Sept. 25, at 8 p.m., through February 6. Programs will be repeated Sundays at 10 p.m. The introductory course for two credit hours at either the senior or graduate levels is based on a public television series in poetry first distributed nationally in the spring of 1976 by the Public Broadcast Service.

Featured each week are the First Poetry Quartet, a group of young performers and guest stars ranging from Vincent Price to Valerie Harper. A special pre-course program will feature George Plimpton with "Limericks, Epigrams, and Occasional Verse", Sept. 22 and 24.

It is sponsored by the Wayne State Foundation and the Fine Arts Division. Hours during which the collection can be viewed are: 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday. At 8 p.m., Sept. 21, Miss Mildred Gossman will present a slide presentation concerning the origin of the entire collection in the Fine Arts Building, room 17.

Through "Anyone for Tennyson?" the student should learn to appreciate the beauty and vitality of poetry studying works of such poets as Shakespeare, Millay, Dickinson, Tennyson, Whitman, and Cummings.

Persons who wish to register should contact Don Keck, director of continuing education, Wayne State College, Wayne, Ne 68787. Questions may be directed to Janet Schmitz, assistant professor of the humanities department at 375 1834. Cost for Nebraska residents is $56 and $80 for non-residents. This includes tuition, text cost, study guides and other materials. Deadline for registration is September 20.

DETROIT — Contemporary elegance is evident from all angles of the 1977 Sedan (top) and Coupe de Ville, Cadillac's most popular models. Dimensionally, the De Ville, Brougham and Limousine models have undergone major exterior changes while interior compartment roominess remains basically the same. Prominent exterior dimensions for these cars are: Wheelbase — De Ville, Brougham, 121.5"; Limousine, 144.5"; Length — De Ville, Brougham, 221.2"; Limousine, 244.2"; Width — De Ville, Brougham, Limousine, 76.4"; Height — De Ville, 56.2"; Brougham, 57.1"; Limousine, 57.3". In addition, Cadillac engineers accomplished dramatic weight savings in many areas of the new models through the use of advanced computerized technology and durable, lightweight materials. All 1977 Cadillacs, except the Seville, are powered by a new 425 cubic inch (7.0 Liter) V-8 engine. The Seville is equipped with its proven efficient 350 CID (5.7 Liter) V-8 Electronic Fuel Injected engine.

At room temperature mercury is a liquid but it will not wet your fingers if touched.

Psychological

(Continued from page 1) Tests are administered to determine the level of achievement in academic skills such as reading, writing, mathematics and spelling. Skills such as auditory visual perception and visual motor are also tested.

The educational psychologists may also administer other, informal tests they think are desirable, then spend time observing the child in classroom and playground activities.

Testing and observation is designed to identify the student's strengths and weaknesses. Based on findings, the psychologist conducting the tests will then consult with the teacher, explaining where learning problems lie, and making recommendations for methods the teacher can employ to help the student. Pinning down the exact reason for a learning problem isn't always possible. Miss Flatmoe said "But we're more interested in identifying the problem, and alleviating it than we are in identifying the cause."

After a special education program has been recommended for an individual student, the school again has the responsibility of obtaining the parent's permission to begin the program.

State law also requires that children in special education programs be tested at least once every 36 months. Clay said reevaluation is usually done more often than that, to determine if the student's achievement level has increased enough that he or she can reenter the mainstream educational program.

Also, an appeal process is available to parents who feel their children do not belong in a special education program. Clay said he doesn't recall any instances of appeal action in ESU1, because parental permission is required to begin special education programs. Special education doesn't necessarily mean a special class. Remediation recommended by the service unit psychologists can mean perhaps a couple of 20 minute weekly sessions with a speech therapist, or application by the teacher of methods which will emphasize the student's strengths as an aid to learning.

Miss Flatmoe gave an example from a case file. A nine-year-old student (not identified by name or school) was referred by her teacher. The student has already been in a special education program but has reached a plateau of achievement and the teacher believed a new program was needed so the achievement level could be raised.

Verbal and performance tests were administered to determine academic achievement. A visual motor test was also given. A verbal vocabulary test was given to determine language proficiency, unimpacted by a previously identified speech problem.

In using testing and observation, Miss Flatmoe recommended that the student regularly see a speech therapist, that the teacher encourage the student to verbalize, that the teacher demonstrate ideas with real objects when speaking to the student, and that practical application should be emphasized in teaching academic skills.

Testing isn't restricted to children with learning problems. Students are also referred for testing to determine if they are gifted, either with superior intellect or a special talent. Few schools now have programs for gifted students (Wayne is one which does), but where such programs exist, the psychological testing unit can make recommendations for accelerated programs.

That is the purpose behind the testing, Clay said. To help students, whether they have learning problems or special skills, to develop to their full potential.

Business Owners

Taking a Look

At Improvements

In Iowa Communities

About 35 Wayne business proprietors were scheduled to visit a pair of Iowa communities today (Monday) to take a look at the results of downtown improvement projects and to talk informally with business owners about the projects.

A chartered bus, sponsored by the First National Bank and The Wayne Herald was scheduled to leave at 8:30 a.m. for LeMars and Red Oak, Iowa. Red Oak is headquarters for Al Nelson, who is designing building renovation projects for a number of Wayne businessmen.

Wayne Herald managing editor Jim Marsh said the bank and newspaper are sponsoring the trip to give local businessmen an opportunity to see what renovation has done for the business districts in other communities.

The chambers of commerce in both communities have been notified of the tour, but no formal presentations are planned. Instead, individual Wayne businessmen will have an opportunity to talk with people in LeMars and Red Oak who own the same type of businesses to get their personal views on what downtown improvement has meant to them.

One in every four school children has a vision problem, according to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Make sure your child's eyes are checked and get necessary treatment.

Mondale Plans

3-Day Visit

To WS Campus

Clarence Mondale, director of the division of Experimental Programs at George Washington University will be on the Wayne State campus Wednesday through Friday as a consultant for the National Endowment of the Humanities.

His third visit to the Wayne State campus, Mondale has been reviewing the curriculum of the Wayne State Foreign Language Department and assisting in the implementation of an interdisciplinary concentration in Humanities. This involves a program of studies devised by the student, a substitute for a minor or second major.

During his three-day stay here, the consultant will study interdisciplinary courses entitled "Western Culture" and "American Culture," meet with the Experimental Programs Committee, and speak at the scheduled faculty meeting Thursday at 4 p.m.

Mondale will return in December for his final visit.

Census Bureau Seeking Data On Immunization

Local representatives of the Census Bureau will conduct a survey in this area during the week of Sept. 20-27, to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases.

Richard Burt, director of the Bureau's regional office in Denver, announced.

The immunization survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year and provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps. The information is needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention.

These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.
