

Child Rearing Cost Hard to Measure

In Wayne County under present conditions, how much does it cost to raise a child from birth to age 18?
Most parents have no idea of the overall amount. They don't think of children in terms of dollars and cents. Beyond recalling that at certain stages along the line the costs were very heavy, they have never thought about their total expenditures.

A new analysis of such costs provides some answers. It is based upon studies made by the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Labor Statistics and other agencies.
The finding is that the amount spent by parents in rearing a child varies from family to family. In general, however, it is closely related to income.

In some families, the outlay in the 18 years is equivalent to as much as 3 1/2 years of earnings. After taxes, in others, as little as 2 1/2 years of earnings are spent. The average is slightly more than 3 years.

The studies show that where net income is in the $14,000 to $15,000 range, as it has been recently for the family in Wayne County, the outlay per child is approximately $44,800.

Other than that, the greatest demand comes in the period between 13 and 18, when youngsters eat more, require more expensive clothes and more money for recreation.

In most local families, food is a principal item of expense. With prices as they are now, the food bill to age 18 comes to about $13,500.

Another major item is clothing, which amounts to $4,480, on average, allowing for the fact See CHILD, page 10

Industrial Education Teachers Will Convene

Wayne State College will seem a beehive of activity in late October when a swarm of teachers and students will occupy the WSC campus.
Coinciding with the annual NSEA District III Teachers' Convention, the Nebraska Industrial Education Association (NIEA) will host a two-day convention Oct. 28 and 29.

D.E. Cattle, association professor of industrial education and president elect of the I.E. organization has invited over 800 high schools, expecting a 300-400 turnout of students and teachers.

Featuring industrial tours, special interests sessions, displays and social activities, the I.E. Convention will begin with a "borrowed" highlight of the NSEA Convention.

A speech by Will Rogers Jr. will push off the Industrial Education Convention. Speaking on "The World of Will Rogers," the son of the great humorist, will be featured from 11-12 p.m. in Rice Gymnasium.

James Metzger, of Topeka, Kans., will cap a Thursday full of activity with his speech, relating specifically to Industrial Education interests.

With the topic "The Best Is Yet to Be," Metzger will highlight a banquet set for 6:30, Oct. 28 in the North Dining Room of the Student Center.

Metzger is vice president and director of public relations for the Security Benefit Life Insurance Company with the Topeka home office.

Approximately 25 individual displays by industrial vendors and textbooks companies will be located in Bentback Hall of Applied Sciences, center of NIEA activity.

Under industrial tours, groups will leave via bus to such places as the Milton S. Waldbaum Company, Wakefield, the NuCor Steel Division of Nucor Corporation, Norfolk, and Dale Electronics Inc., Norfolk.

Special interest sessions will include the Jordan Millwork Company — window factors; American Auto Parts — oil filters; DuPont Refinishing Division and 13 other companies.

The public is invited to attend the NIEA convention. Currently Larry Konz, industrial arts teacher in Boys Town, is president of NIEA which includes teachers of industrial, art and vocational industrial education.

Elwin Fletcher of Norfolk High School is the District III Trustee for the organization.

Wayne County farmers are being asked to nominate candidates for the ASCS county committee ballot. ASCS executive director Ray Butts announced Tuesday.

The county committee election will be conducted by mail ballot from Nov. 26 to Dec. 6, Butts said.

Committeemen are responsible for managing government farm programs at the local level. "Committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals," in order to meet the needs of individual producers," Butts said.

Wayne County farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community, Butts added.

The seal up for election is now held by Norris Hansen at Winslow, completing his first three-year term. Committee members can serve three terms, Butts said, and Hansen is eligible for reelection.

Wayne Chamber Elects Officers

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce has elected officers for 1977.
President elect is Gerald Bofenkamp, who will take office in January.

Al Wittig was elected treasurer of the organization, and will also take office in January.

Post Office Will Close Monday

There will be no mail delivery Monday because postal workers will observe Veterans Day.
U.S. Department of Agriculture offices in Wayne will also observe the holiday on Monday.

City and county offices will be closed Nov. 11, the traditional date for observing Veterans Day. Wayne Chamber of Commerce manager Howard Witt said there has been no announcement by Wayne businesses regarding closing for either day.

The Veterans Day parade in Wayne will be Nov. 11.

ASCS Seeks Nominees

Butts said that in order to be valid, nominating petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing See ASCS, page 10

Improvement District Fate Still Hangs in Balance

Initial reports of a failure of a petition drive opposing creation of an improvement district in downtown Wayne may have been premature, city attorney Budd Bornhoff said Tuesday.

Broadcast reports indicated that the petition drive appeared to have failed. Bornhoff Tuesday said he had issued no statement regarding success or failure of the petition.

Apparently a reporter had drawn his own conclusions after looking at signatures on the petition, Bornhoff said.

The city attorney said he is now in the process of having an abstractor research titles to property allegedly owned by petition signatories. Without a report from the abstractor "it is too close to tell" whether the petition has passed or failed, Bornhoff said.

The city council passed an ordinance Sept. 14 creating the district. Legal notice of creation of the district was first published Sept. 23 and opponents had 20 days from that date to file a petition against the district.

According to the ordinance, if record owners of the front footage of the property directly abutting on one continuous thoroughfare or more within the district sign a petition opposing the district the ordinance will be repealed.

Included in the district are: —Main St. from First St. north to Fourth St.

—The east half of Main St. from Fourth St. north to Fifth St.

—The east half of Pearl St. from Second St. north to Third St.

—The west half of Logan St. from the westerly eight-foot-way line C. St. P.M. & O. railroad north to Third St.

—The north half of First St. from Pearl St. east to Main St.

—Second St. from Pearl St. east to Logan St.

—Third St. from Pearl St. east to Logan St.

Improvements allowed under the ordinance include paving, grading, curbing, guttering, construction and replacement of pedestrian walks, malls, landscaping, lighting, and other appurtenant improvements.

The downtown improvement committee, appointed by the city council as an advisory body, has emphasized in the past that all of those types of improvements are allowed under the ordinance in order to make the measure "proper and effective."

The only project recommended for action at this time is new sidewalks and construction of curb and gutter and ramps, if necessary, which would have to be completed at the same time sidewalks were installed.

Blood Bank Wants Donors

The Siouxland Blood Bank will be accepting donations Tuesday at Providence Medical Center in Wayne from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Donors must be in general good health, between 17 and 66. Nebraska law required written parental consent for 17- and 18-year olds.

Donors should have an adequate meal before donation, and must never have had hepatitis, jaundice or cancer.

Columbus Federal Manager Ready for Grand Opening

An Omaha native, Don Coughlin is busy preparing for the Nov. 1 grand opening of the Columbus Federal Savings and Loan branch office in Wayne.

Coughlin was employed by Equitable Savings and Loan of Fremont from 1973 until recently at the branch office in Blair.

DON COUGHLIN

He was hired in September by Columbus Federal to manage their new Wayne branch. Coughlin is a 1966 graduate of Cathedral High School in Omaha and a 1973 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Omaha, with a real estate major. He was an active member while in college of the U.N.O. Rho Epsilon real estate fraternity.

His wife, Carole Ann, is from Shenandoah, Iowa, and attended Northwestern Missouri State College at Marysville for two years. The Coughlins have a two and one-half year old son, Kyle. The family is now in Blair but will move into their Wayne home at 908 Walnut St. in the near future.

Coughlin said the Wayne branch office will be the third branch for Columbus Federal in addition to the home office. The branch will initially be housed in the Professional Building at 112 W. Second St. Construction of a new office building on Seventh St. will begin in the spring. The branch office will have one full time and one part time employee in addition to Coughlin when it opens.

Marchers Hope Steps Lead To Another Superior Rating

Wayne High will field one of 23 marching bands competing in four classes in the Fifth Annual Northeast Nebraska Marching Band Contest Oct. 23 at Wisner, Pilger High School.

The Wayne High band, under the direction of Ron Dalton, is scheduled to perform at 3:40 Saturday afternoon at the Wisner-Pilger football field. A total of seven bands including Wayne are entered in Class B.

Judging this year's competition will be William Mack, band director at Park Hill High School at Kansas City, Mo.; Ken Molzer, Papillon Public Schools band director; and Herman Reklitzke, associate director of bands at Park Hill High.

Awards presentations at 5:20 Saturday afternoon will follow the final band performance. Trophies donated by the Pilger Community Club, Pilger Community Improvement Club, and the Wisner Lions Club will be presented at the football field.

Wisner-Pilger band director Jim Johnson is contest director and Ted Huettlman will serve as announcer. The contest is sponsored by Wisner-Pilger High School and sanctioned by the Nebraska School Activities Association.

The Wayne High School band will also be taking part in the annual Nebraska Marching Band Festival at Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln on Saturday, Oct. 30.

The 1976 contest will be the 19th edition of what is billed as the nation's oldest and largest indoor marching band festival. Chairman Michael Veak, instrumental music instructor for Lincoln Catholic schools said he expects 68 high schools and about 4,500 musicians to compete in the festival.

The Wayne High musicians earned superior ratings — the top rating possible — in both contests last year. This year the Blue Devil musicians will be shooting for their sixth superior rating in the past seven years at the Pershing Festival. A superior rating this year would make it five in a row for the Wayne bandmen, maintaining their position as the most consistently superior-rated Class B school band in the contest.

Rolling Along to School

WINTER WAS a wee bit early when a couple of inches of snow covered the ground in many parts of Nebraska, Monday, but that didn't bother Chris Wiseman, six, son of Dr. and Mrs. Willis Wiseman, and Shawn Lindsay, six, son of Mrs. Donna Lindsay. The two youngsters took advantage of the early snow to begin work on their first snowman of the season, rolling a giant snowball on the way to school. The two inches of snow reported by Wayne's official weather observer Pat Gross contained .16 inches of precipitation and the clinging wet-white stuff was perfect for the task Chris and Shawn set for themselves. Elementary school principal Dave Luft said a half-dozen snowmen appeared quickly in front of the school. Gross said information for Wayne isn't available, but the Oct. 18 snow didn't set a record for the area. A trace of snow was recorded in Norfolk as early as Sept. 11 in 1951, and measurable amounts recorded there have included .01 on Sept. 28 in 1945 and .07 on Sept. 30, 1961.

Time to Register For 1976 Election May Be Shorter Than You Think

Time for registering to vote has almost run out for the 1976 elections, county clerk Norris Weible reminded Tuesday.

The final day to register to vote is Friday, Oct. 22. Registration can be completed in Weible's office in Wayne, in Hoskins with the village clerk at the Commercial State Bank, in Carroll at the Farmers State Bank, and in Winside at the village clerk's office.

Persons who should register include those who have registered previously but have since changed their name, those who have registered previously but have since moved to another voting precinct, and anyone 18 or older who has not previously registered.

Anyone wishing to vote but needing a lift to the polls can get a helping hand from the Wayne Lions Club. The club will be offering rides on election day, Nov. 2, to those without transportation.

Anyone needing a ride to the polls should call The Wayne Herald, 375-2600, and leave their name, address, telephone number, and the approximate time they wish to vote. The Lions Club will try to accommodate voters as closely as possible regarding time.

Anyone living in the county who will be absent on election day can cast their ballot at Weible's office during regular working hours through Nov. 1.

Persons with legal residence in Wayne County but living out of state can apply for an absentee ballot. Parents of students or persons in the military can apply for ballots for their children.

Deadline for application is Oct. 29. Absentee ballots must be notarized as having been cast prior to 8 p.m. on Nov. 2. Absentee ballots must be received by Weible no later than 10 a.m. on Nov. 4.

Wayne county residents unable to vote at their regular polling place because of disability can apply for a ballot through the mail at any time through Oct. 29 or can have an agent apply in person for a ballot in their behalf through election day. Disabled voter ballots must be returned by the time regular polls close.

Kraemer-Clausen Rites Saturday at Wakefield

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Wakefield, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Song." The wedding prayer and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Kevin Bengtson of Fremont. Organist was Suelien Sundell of Lincoln. The Rev. Ronald Mallory of Wakefield officiated at the double ring rites.

The wedding party included maid of honor Barb Kraemer of Kearney, sister of the bride, and best man Clay Nelson of Pender. Bridesmaids were Jackie Kraemer of Wakefield, sister of the bride, and Donna Hausmann of Fairfax, S.D. Groomsmen were Gregg Webster of Pender and Warren Stork of Lincoln.

Tracy Nilges of Pender was flower girl and Doug Kraemer of Allen was ring bearer. Candles were lighted by John Bessmer and Jim Koester.

The bride's formal gown of ivory polyorganza over angel mist tulle featured a V-neckline trimmed with a band of Venice lace. Seed pearls accented the Chantilly lace bodice and a satin ribbon and a band of Venice lace encircled the natural waistline. Her full bishop sleeves of Chantilly lace were caught at the wrist by a matching cuff. A wide band of scalloped Chantilly lace encircled the hemline of the circular skirt which swept into a chapel-length train.

The bride wore a fingertip veil of nylon illusion which was edged with Chantilly lace and attached to a matching Camelot cap accented by clusters of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of Robin Aby roses, baby's breath, ivy and streamers on a white Bible, which her mother carried at her wedding.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length hooded gowns of tango polyester knit fashioned in empire style. They each carried a single long-stemmed bronze mum with streamers.

The men wore dark brown tuxedos trimmed with black velvet. Their shirts were in ivory, with brown trim, and they wore black velvet vests and bow ties.

The bride's mother wore a mint green knit in floor length and the bridegroom's mother selected a soft blue knit, also in floor length. Both wore corsages of Robin Aby roses interwoven with carnations.

Theresa Pella and Becky Brommer, both of Lincoln, and Barb Lohmeier of Peru arranged gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Overt of Allen served as hosts to the reception which was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Jan Stork of Lincoln, sister of the groom, and Mary Baker of Wakefield, cut and served the cake, which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Wendy Hughes and Mrs. Karla Foust, both of Lincoln, poured, and Toni Paul of Chadron served punch.

Waitresses were Jani Erb, Jeanie Siebrandt, Susan Baker, Gwen Victor, Julene Bartels and Donna Kieckhafer, all of Wakefield.

The couple took a wedding trip to Vale, Colo. and will be at home after today (Thursday).

The bride graduated from Wakefield High School in 1974 and is employed at the Wakefield National Bank. The bridegroom, a 1973 Pender High School graduate, is employed as a welder at the Automatic Equipment Manufacturing Co. in Pender, where the couple will make their home.

Guests, registered by Mrs. Gwen Jorgensen of Omaha and Mrs. Jay Stokke of Lincoln, sister of the bride, were ushered into the church by Jay Stokke and Jim Koester, both of Lincoln, and John Bessmer and Dennis Kralke, both of Pender.

Mark 60th Wedding

MR. AND MRS. Levi Thompson of Wayne observed their 60th wedding anniversary Monday at the Wayne Care Centre, where they have resided since August of 1975. Rose Barnes and Levi Thompson were married Oct. 18, 1916, at the Catholic parsonage in Wayne. They farmed near Wayne until 1967 when they moved into Wayne. One daughter, Mary, died in 1922. A son, Walter Thompson, farms near Wayne.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Reception To Be Held

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Asbra of Allen will observe their 40th wedding anniversary this Sunday afternoon with an open house reception from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Allen Fire Hall.

The event, to which all friends and relatives are invited, is being hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Lee (Dorcas) Smithson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Asbra and Mr. and Mrs. Duane (Carolyn) Wilson, all of Council Bluffs, Mrs. Charles Asbra of Cactus, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Asbra of Laurel. There are nine grandchildren. No other invitations are being issued. The couple request no gifts.

Sunshine Circle Celebrates 50th Year

Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 12, ladies of the United Methodist Church in Allen met in the church parlors to mark the 50th anniversary of the Sunshine Circle.

Mrs. Bill Snyder served as mistress of ceremonies and opened the program with a reading from the church devotional, entitled "The Upper Room." She also read scripture verses pertaining to Sunshine and Love.

Mrs. K. Waylen Brown gave the opening prayer. The Rev. K. Waylen Brown, pastor of the Allen Church, was introduced and the group sang the circle's theme song, "Are Ye Able," accompanied by Mrs. Ray White Mrs. Barney Geiger read the history of the organization. Eight early members of Sunshine Circle attended the event and were presented a corsage. They were Mrs. Harry Warner, Mrs. Opal Wheeler, Mrs. Clarice Wilson and Mrs. Basil Wheeler, all of Allen, Mrs. John Huchings, Omaha, Mrs. Florence Emmons, Fremont, Mrs. Virginia Ferguson of Allen, TMT, and Mrs. Leona Birt of Wakefield, Westside.

Mrs. Rubec presented Mrs. LeRoy Koch with the county chairperson pin for 1977.

It was announced that an officers training meeting will be held Nov. 23 at the Northeast Station from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The meeting will be conducted by Anna Marie Kriefels.

Mrs. LeRoy Koch presented goals for 1977, which were adopted. It was announced that the council will purchase a tablecloth to be used at social functions.

Mrs. Duane Koester of Allen reported on the family life meeting held recently at Wayne. Guest speaker was Ron Daly from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Mrs. Larry Lubberstedt, health and safety leader, reported on the diabetic detection clinics held recently and on the swine flu clinics being planned in Dixon County.

Miss Kriefels reminded clubs to return the program planning worksheets to the Northeast Station before Nov. 16. She also reminded the group of the local dance-a-thons being sponsored by the Comprehensive Mental Health Center at Norfolk to raise money to continue the "hot line" service.

AAL Holding Halloween Party At Winside

The Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 1960 will hold a Halloween party this Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside.

There will be entertainment and prizes for all ages. A free will offering will be taken with proceeds earmarked for Camp Luther to help build a residence for the caretaker.

A short business meeting will be held and a cooperative lunch, in the Halloween mood, will be served.

Officers are Edwin Vahlkamp, president; Edward Oswald, vice president; and Mrs. Albert Jaeger, secretary-treasurer.

Local BPW Members Join In Observance

Members of the Wayne Business and Professional Women's Club are joining 170,000 working women this week who are celebrating National Business Women's Week.

The Wayne chapter is affiliated with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. Purpose of the organization since 1919 has been to establish equality for men and women in the family, job opportunities, school scholarships and education.

Mrs. Joceli Bull, president of the local BPW, said four members are planning to attend the District III BPW Conference this Sunday at the Old Mill Holiday Inn in Omaha. The meeting will include a young career women's speak off, reports from club presidents, and an address from the national president.

Local BPW members meet the fourth Tuesday of each month for a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting. Mrs. Bull said any working woman is invited to attend the meetings.

Guest speaker at the group's next regular meeting, Oct. 26 at the Black Knight, will be Alan O'Donnell of Wayne. His topic is "Personal Growth in Politics."

Meeting Held Friday

Winning card prizes at the Friday night meeting of the FNC Club were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer, Harvey Echtenkamp, Mrs. Irene Geewe, Mrs. Lavern Harder and Mrs. Laverne Wischhof.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Amos Echtenkamp. Minnie Weierschauer was a guest.

Next meeting, Nov. 12, will be at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Irene Geewe.

Wakefield NHS Has Installation

The National Honor Society of the Wakefield Community School held tapping ceremonies last Thursday afternoon.

New members, who were installed by Lynn Holm, Rene Wilson, Tamara Carlson, Brenda Oberg, Jackie Kraemer and Pam Nicholson, are Kurt Dolph,

Greg Simpson, Cindy Reher, Diane Minola and Ann Muller, seniors, and Sarilyn Sundell, Lisa Paul, Heidi Carlson, Larry Lundin and Kim Polen, juniors. The piano prelude was played by Susan Miller. The boys' octet sang "Man and His World," and Tim Prochaska played a violin solo. Brenda Oberg read a poem, entitled "Master's Touch."

A banquet was held that evening at the Up Town Cafe honoring the new members, honorary members and sponsors, Mrs. Alvin Sundell and principal B. C. Thompson. Superintendent Gary Bennerotte was a guest.

Guest speaker was Sullon Sundell, a former member of the National Honor Society from 1971 to 1973. Miss Sundell is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan College in Lincoln.

New officers, who were installed following the banquet, are Lynn Holm, president; Heidi Carlson, vice president; Jackie Kraemer, secretary; Lisa Paul, treasurer, and Sarilyn Sundell, historian.

Tuesday afternoon, National Honor Society members and Mrs. Sundell presented a program of the history of the NHS to members of the XYZ group of the Wakefield Salem Lutheran Church.

A mime box offering was taken and the Rev. John Upton presented the topic, entitled "What is Evangelism?" Seated at the birthday table were Mrs. Marvin Victor, Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Esther Stollenberg. November hostesses will be Mrs. Gilbert Kraliman, Mrs. Raymond Larson and Mrs. Raymond Langemeier.

If you're considering a change in your housing situation, help is now available from the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. A learn at home course, called "A House For You," has been prepared by the extension housing specialists at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The course can be obtained through Kathy Klahn, area home extension agent. The course consists of seven lessons, including housing choices; housing needs, wants, shapes and styles; evaluating floor plans; kitchen and work room planning; planning living areas, the house and the site, and financial and legal aspects of home ownership. After each lesson is completed, the participant will send in a postcard asking for the next lesson. Persons interested in learning more about housing can contact Kathy Klahn at the Cedar County Extension Office, Harlington, Nebr., 68739, by Nov. 1. The first lesson will be sent shortly afterwards.

'It'll Look Great'

SEVENTEEN MODELS, both male and female, took part in a hair cutting and styling clinic Monday at Hazel's Beauty Shoppe in Wayne. John Mangiameli, a member of the Hair Surgeons Institute and manager of the Fashion

Plans Underway for Hospital Bazaar

Plans are progressing rapidly for this year's annual hospital bazaar, sponsored by the Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary. The event is slated for Saturday, Nov. 13 at the Wayne city auditorium, beginning at 10 a.m.

Area residents who would like to donate towards the bazaar can do so by contacting the appropriate bazaar chairman. They are Mrs. Lyle Seymour, gifts; Mrs. Hazel Bressler, white elephant; Hattie McNuff, grab bag; Mrs. Robert Vakoc, candy; Mrs. Charles McDermott, food; Mrs. Jim Corbit, kitchen and Mrs. Ed Wolke, dining room.

A drawing for three hand-knitted stadium blankets will be held at 2 p.m. the day of the bazaar. The blankets were made by Mrs. Freeman Decker, Mrs. Carroll Peterson and Mrs. Jim Evans.

The auxiliary met Friday afternoon at the Woman's Club room with 22 members attending. Mrs. Mabel Sorenson gave the thought for the day. Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Wessel and Mrs. Jay Liska.

Mrs. Cal Ward reported that there are 100 paid-up members. President Mrs. Carl Lentz announced that four members of the Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary will be on cable TV on Nov. 1. It was also reported the Mrs. Hazel Bressler and Mrs. Lucille Larson will help with the blood bank on Oct. 26.

The Nov. 19 meeting will be held at the club room at 2 p.m.

Debra Polenske Honored

Bride elect Debra Kay Polenske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Polenske of Norfolk, was honored Sunday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower held at the Peace United Church of Christ, Hoskins.

Miss Polenske will be married Nov. 7 at 6:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church in Norfolk to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strale of Hoskins. About 50 friends and relatives attended Sunday's fête from Yankton, S.D.; Creighton, Stanton, Wayne, Norfolk, Winslow and Hoskins. Guests were regaled by Mrs. Raymond Walker. Blue and white were used in decorations. Mrs. Dennis Puls read a poem, entitled "The Mother of the Bride," and Mrs. Harold Brudigan conducted a contest. The honoree's mother poured. Assisting with gifts were Sharon Strale and Marilyn Strale. The bride elect was presented a corsage by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Raymond Walker, Mrs. Harold Bauermeister, Mrs. Katherine Asmus and Mrs. Arthur Leu, all of Norfolk, Mrs. Orville Anderson, Mrs. Harold Brudigan, Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Mrs. Lucille Asmus, Mrs. Kenny Frahm, Mrs. Marvin Kleensand, Mrs. Jerry Schwede, Mrs. Dennis Puls and Mrs. Harry Schwede, all of Hoskins, and Mrs. Dallas Schellenberg, Winside.

Bridal Shower

A miscellaneous shower honoring Nancy Pfanz of Belden was held in the Belden Bank parlors Sunday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. John Aschoff of Osmond, Mrs. Harold Korh Jr. of Norfolk, Mrs. Cornelius Schmidt and Mrs. Delbert Gubbels, all of Randolph, and Shirley Pfanz, Belden. Miss Pfanz and Mike Moser of Osmond will be married Oct. 30 at St. Michael's Catholic Church in Coleridge.

Women Attend Luncheon

United Methodist Women of Wayne met Oct. 13 with about 50 women for the 1 p.m. luncheon, served by the Morning Glories interest group. It was announced that a request was made from the finance committee for volunteers to prepare a dinner for the dinner, which was served Oct. 18, was Mrs. Melvin Wert. Methodist Men are sponsoring a box social this Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Each woman and girl is asked to bring a box marked, "teen ager or adult." The men and boys will bid on the boxes. A Bicentennial theme will be carried out. The United Methodist Women's conference has started a newspaper and Mrs. Virgil Lühr urged local UMW members to suggest names for the new publication. The Wayne unit was extended an invitation to attend guest day at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Oct. 20 at 2 p.m. It was announced that the annual meeting of the Nebraska UMW will be held this Friday and Saturday at North Platte. Local members who plan to attend are Mrs. Mildred Jones, Mrs. Alvin Ehlers, Mrs. Robert Sutherland and Mrs. Lester Hansen. Mrs. Don Cattle had charge of devotions. The program revolved around a film, entitled "Hunger in America," and the meeting closed with the Treble Clef Singers presenting "Fill My Cup Lord." The next meeting will be a 1 p.m. luncheon on Nov. 10. The meal will be served by the Sisters of Penitence. Mrs. Richard Kettel is in charge of the program.

Athletes of the Week

Sheer determination is a definite characteristic of two area high school athletes who earn this week's "Athlete of the Week" honors.

Both Kelly Frevert of Wayne and Brent Chase of Allen possess that quality which their coaches point out is the one part of the athletes' character which stands out in competition. Kelly, who is a junior on the Blue Devils' volleyball team, last week did more than her share to give Wayne the leadership it needed to hand Harrington Cedar Catholic and tough Pierce back-to-back defeats.

KELLY FREVERT

Kelly's sharp defensive efforts enabled Wayne to stake 15-4 and 15-13 wins over Harrington Wednesday night of last week. She came back the following night with one of the best offensive performances, collecting 10 serve points to put down Pierce in two sets, 15-8 and 15-13.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Frevert of rural Wayne, has steadily improved throughout the season to rank as one of the top players on this year's 9-4 squad, coach Mavis Dalton said.

Allen junior Brent Chase consistently has been the offensive ground gainer for coach Cliff Jorgensen's Eagles. The 155-pound tailback against Coleridge gained 76 yards to once again lead Allen on the ground, and came back on defense with 16 solo tackles and 12 assists.

"He's got the good speed and the excellent quickness to make him a leader. But even more important is his attitude. He wants to play," Jorgensen said.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chase of Allen definitely is the workhorse on this year's 1-5 team. "We rely on him quite a lot because we know he can do the job," the coach pointed out.

The problem is that the Eagles' opponents recognize Chase as the mainstay in Allen's running game and therefore key their defensive strategy around the junior. To resolve that problem, the coach is hoping underclassmen will share of the load.

West Husker Volleyball Action

E-H, Wisner Battle Tonight

The first and second-seeded teams will square off tonight (Thursday) for the penultimate match in the West Husker Conference volleyball tournament at Wayne High.

Top-ranked Emerson-Hubbard, sporting only one loss, will tangle with Wisner Pilger, which has two losses, when the two teams meet at 8 p.m.

Prior to the championship bout, Wayne will meet fourth-seeded Madison at 7 o'clock for the consolation round of the eight-team tournament.

In the longest battle during Tuesday night's semifinal rounds, Emerson went three sets with a die-hard Madison club before claiming the match win, 16-14, 14-16 and 15-12.

The last set was the longest of the three Emerson built a 9-2 lead before Madison started to rally and close the score to 11-9. Aiding that rally were a pair of penalty points awarded to the Dragons after their coach protested two illegal time out calls by Emerson coach Carol Porter.

Emerson got the leadership it needed from junior Emily Lamp with 13 points and senior Wendy Koopman with 10 to finally overcome the stubborn Dragons. Leading Madison on the scoreboard were sophomore Diane Sunderman with 12 points and junior Diane Prochaska with 11.

In the second semi-final match of the evening, Wisner took the winning momentum away from host Wayne to record 15-8 and 15-6 victories.

Wayne took the lead at the beginning of each set, but failed to hold on as Wisner began to spike the ball into Wayne's backcourt for the points.

Wayne had the momentum going against third-seeded Wakefield as the Blue Devils posted the only upset of the tournament in the opening night Monday.

The locals trailed 9-4 in the first set and cut the lead to 11-9 before server Sydney Mosley tied the set at 12-all. Wayne went in front to stay 13-12 on an out-of-bounds play by Wakefield.

A strong spike by Kelly Frevert increased Wayne's lead to 14-12 before the locals claimed the win on another Wakefield out-of-bounds play.

Wayne was in complete control for the final set victory, 15-5.

The locals dragged out contest, fourth-seeded Madison finally got by a stubborn Columbus Lakeview team, 15-6 and 16-14.

It took Madison nearly an hour and a half to put away Lakeview, leading Madison's attack was 5-7 senior Cindy Reeves with seven points.

As expected Emerson and Wisner rolled past their opponents in the first night of action.

Behind the leadership of former Wakefield star senior Kathy Tullberg with seven points, Emerson defeated Stanton 15-10 and 15-6. And Wisner clobbered Harrington CC, 15-2, 15-10.

Wakefield To Move To L-C League

Beginning next school year, Wakefield High School will be long to a new conference.

School officials Monday received word from the Lewis and Clark Conference that they request to join the 13 team league was granted and that Wakefield will join in on conference activities as soon as next school year.

League secretary Dale Wamberg of Wausau High School said that in a mail ballot, 10 schools were in favor of the Trojans, joining the league. Wamberg declined to name the schools which vetoed Wakefield's entry.

Wakefield will join the six team West division which includes Winside, Osmond, Coleridge, Wynot, Harrington and Wausau. The addition of Wakefield is the second team to join the conference in a year. Earlier last school term, the league okayed the addition of Bancroft to the East division.

Wakefield superintendent Dr. Gary Bennerotte said he was happy the league allowed Wakefield to switch from the West Husker Conference. He pointed out that the new league particularly will be beneficial in sports programs. Bennerotte added that he is pleased with other programs such as drama and music which the conference offers.

Wayne State's next football, foe is something of a mystery. Black Hills State will entertain the Wildcats Saturday afternoon 2:30 Wayne time.

Wayne coaches have received one film of a 17-7 Black Hills win over South Dakota Tech, but no roster, no statistics of the Yellowjacket season.

Black Hills lost its first three games, 36-0 to Dickinson State, 14-12 to Huron, 28-20 to Dakota State. Then the Yellowjackets won their last three, 32-0 over USD-Springfield, 17-0 over SD Tech, 28-15 over Dakota Wesleyan.

That scoring adds up to 109 for Black Hills, 100 for opponents.

Wayne owns two wins over Black Hills, 14-7 at Spearfish in 1974, 23-14 here in last year's finale.

One statistic merits attention: Black Hills held Dakota State to 72 yards rushing. In two previous games, Dakota State had averaged 346 yards rushing, and its top gainer, Jeff Rodman, accounted for 224 of that total, ranking second in the NAIA. Dakota State, now with a 5-1 record — its only loss to Northern State, 49-24 — will be a Wayne home foe Nov. 13.

Coach Del Stollenberg, after viewing the Black Hills-Tech film, commented that the Yellowjackets showed a potent offense which could have won by more than 17-7. Like Wayne, Black Hills goes with a freshman quarterback.

For whatever it is worth, Wayne comes off an encounter last Saturday with "the best team Wayne has faced in years." That's Stollenberg's description of the University of Northern Iowa team which tagged a 38-0 loss on the Wildcats.

Despite the score, Stollenberg declared the Wildcats gave a good account of themselves. In fact, he said, the Cats played a "super" first half, stalling several Panther drives, recovered two UNI fumbles and intercepted a pass. Not until 1:49 from the half end did UNI push over a touchdown for a 7-0 lead. Then, in the third quarter, the Wildcats just ran out of gas.

Stollenberg said. Panther size, quickness and talent overpowered Wayne and ran up 24 points.

Quarterback Terry Allen, who scored the second quarter touch-down, did it again early in the third. Then leading rusher Neal Moses zipped for a pair of touchdowns from 45 and 41 yards the totaled 188 in the game, and finally kicker Mark Whitver booted a 31 yard field goal after Wayne defense stalled another Panther attack.

When Panther subs took over in the fourth period, things changed. In fact, Wayne caged the Panthers in their own half of the field — deep in their own territory most of the time — until the last minute.

Then disaster. A high center snap sailed over punter Mike Green, and UNI took possession on the Wayne 22. Three plays yielded UNI a touchdown by Mark Fulbright from two yards out. Whitver kicked his fifth point.

Had Green been able to get off a punt his normal distance, UNI would have remained far back in its own territory instead of deep in Wayne's.

UNO Halts Cats Wins

Five matches, — five wins. The winning streak began and ended last week for the Wayne State volleyball girls.

After two winning trips to Crete and Pittsburg, Kan., the Wildkittens came back home Monday, losing to a team they defeated once before — UNO — and winning over Briar Cliff, on the Wayne State schedule for the first time this fall.

Now it's home again no more for the Wayne spikers. Saturday the girls are off to the home of the defending state champs — Kearney. There they will face Ft. Hays, Hastings and the mighty Antelopes.

If this match is a repeat of the past, Wayne may outplay the best state defenders, in Omaha two weeks ago, the Wildkittens defeated Kearney in two out of three games.

In the latest Wayne State triple event, scores were 15-6, 15-11, UNO over Briar Cliff; 15-12, 13-15, 15-10, UNO over Winslow; and 15-12, 15-5 Wayne over Briar Cliff.

In action on Thursday of last week, the Wildkittens defeated Doane and Peru with scores of 15-13, 15-3; and 15-4, 15-8 respectively. Then came Saturday and

West Point Rally

Overcomes Frosh

Wayne-freshmen will try to end their season on a winning note Tuesday when the yearlings go after win No. three against visiting Hartington Cedar Catholic at Wayne State's Memorial Stadium.

The Blue Devils of coach Curt Frye lost their momentum in the third period against host West Point Central Catholic Tuesday when the home team took the lead and held on for a 16-14 victory.

The locals bolted into the lead, 8-0, when Hugh Jager scooped eight yards into the end zone and Wayne later collected two points on a safety.

A two-yard run by Rick Johnson gave Wayne a 14-0 lead just before the half.

West Point countered with a 70-yard kickoff return to narrow the gap to 14-8 at the half.

No Game

Wet weather Monday forced Winside officials to cancel their home reserve football game with Wausa. The cancellation ends the 'Cats season at 0-3.

Prep Picks: Cats Face Uphill Battles

By BOB BARTLETT

Winside High is the only area school among the five which still has a shot at tying for a league championship as the grid season rapidly comes to a close.

The Wildcats of coach Ron Peck sport a 3-1 league mark in the West division of the Lewis and Clark Conference, a half game behind front runner Osmond, 3-0.

To keep those hopes at least a share of a league championship alive, Peck's club will have to overcome two hurdles in the remaining weeks of prep ball.

The first hurdle is Friday at Coleridge, which at this point in the season has to take the role of spoiler since the Bulldogs have two losses in the league. If the Cats get past Coleridge, the following week they and Osmond put the whole season on the line when the teams meet in the season finale.

"For now, Peck isn't looking beyond the Coleridge contest. We expect that the game is going to be a battle up front... a physical contest on the line," Peck commented about Friday's away contest for his Cats.

Peck rates both clubs at even, adding that each has strong running attacks.

Meaning the quarterback position for the season week in a row for Winside will be converted runningback, junior Cliff Tillema, who took over for injured signal caller Jeff Carstens last Friday against Neligh, had trouble in the first half putting his learn on the scoreboard when mistakes hampered the Cats' scoring drives.

Peck figures his team will eliminate those mistakes for the Coleridge contest and make it a good "hard-nosed" battle.

Coleridge coach Mary Cherry goes along with Peck on his view that Friday's tilt will be a battle up front. "Right now, the way the weather is the team which makes the least mistakes will win," he observed.

Last week's prep picks had four right, one wrong. Correct picks included Wakefield over Stanton, Neligh over Winside, Creighton over Laurel and Coleridge over Allen. Wayne's 7-6 win over Columbus Lakeview spoiled a perfect week. My record stands at 20-12.

This week's selections (winners in boldface):

Winside at Coleridge — If Peck's crew can keep away from the mistakes, Winside should come out on top.

Allen at Bancroft — Bulldogs get the nod after their strong showing against Wakefield two weeks ago.

Wakefield at Hartington Cedar — Trojans are bigger and stronger than Wakefield.

Laurel at Wausa — Coach Joe Boyel's Bears will have tough staying against this Viking crew.

Wayne at Pierce (Monday) — Bluejays are going strong in the Class B district rankings with a 6-1 mark.

Backstop/ Bob Bartlett

WILL THE West Husker Conference survive the loss of Wakefield and Stanton? Or will their exit led the way for one or more of the remaining six teams in the league to bail out in search of another conference?

According to reports around the league, the answer is no to both questions.

The feeling is that the league, which will be composed of six teams next year unless there are some additions prior to the start of the season, will be as strong as ever. In fact, the feeling is that the league may even be stronger.

The reason: Both Wakefield and Stanton are Class C clubs in a league which is predominately made up of Class B teams. Losing the Trojans and Mustangs will mean for a stronger and more balanced loop.

There is talk in the wind that the West division may pick up a few teams in the future from the crumbling Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference. However the addition could be as far away as two years since West Husker members this week have signed two year contracts.

It appears Wayne will remain in the league, although officials are considering an offer from the strong Central Ten Conference, which includes such power houses as Schuyler, Crete and York, to name a few.

Right now it is doubtful Wayne will make the transition, mainly because of traveling distances.

Next year Wakefield will join the West division of the Lewis and Clark, bringing the total number of teams in that division to seven to balance with the seven teams of the East division.

As of this week, Stanton remains in a state of limbo. The Mustangs are looking into four leagues and, according to sources, are leaning towards the Mid-States loop.

Stanton officials hope to make their decision as early as next week.

AFTER MONDAY'S brief snowfall, there were a number of persons commenting that this is the type of weather you'd expect to see for a basketball game. Apparently that season isn't too far off. Tuesday I received in the mail a ball schedule from Kearney State.

GOING THROUGH the NAIA District 11 football report, the Wildcats of Coach Del Stollenberg have moved up in the defensive teams charts, but slipped in offensive statistics.

Wayne State is fourth out of nine teams on defense, giving up a total of 273 yards.

Homer Grabs Lead in VB Over Allen

Host Allen took it on the chin Tuesday night in a showdown match with Homer in Lewis and Clark Conference volleyball action.

Entering the match, both teams were undefeated in the east division of the loop with Homer sporting a 4-0 conference mark and Allen at 3-0.

It didn't take Homer long to settle things, however, as the invaders hustled to a 15-7, 15-8 win in the varsity match. Janette Jensen led the winners with seven serving points while Lori Erwin was high for Allen with four serving points.

"We just didn't spike well and they seemed to keep us on defense all night," Allen coach Steve McMinnigal explained.

Now at 3-1 in the loop and 5-3 overall, Allen will travel to Walthill tonight (Thursday) as the Eagle spikers close out their regular season schedule. Walthill is also at 3-1 in the loop standings.

In the JV match Tuesday, Allen failed to dump their counterparts from Homer 9-15, 15-12 and 15-13. Lisa Wood was credited with a dozen serving points for Allen while Stacy Coster had 11. The Allen reserve are 3-1.

Homer won the freshman match 15-6, 15-6 to push the Allen frosh to 0-3 to the year.

Kearney Reigns As NCC Champ

Kearney State regained its Nebraska College Conference cross country championship here Friday with five runners finishing in the first seven places. The Antelopes scored 23 points.

Host Wayne State, the defending champion, placed second with 47 points. Chadron State was third at 67. Peru State did not compete.

Kearney's Carl Stromberg clocked 26:44 on the five-mile course — good time considering the frigid wind of about 25 miles an hour.

Tim Maseberg of Chadron and Jerry Sanders of Wayne battled to the wire for second place. Maseberg edging in with 27:01, Sanders, just ahead as one second behind, but actually much closer.

The next four places belonged to Kearney runners Shane Fruit, 27:05, Mark Palmer and Randy Hanson tied at 27:15, Dick Cameron, 27:26.

Dan Wehant and Bob Schierer of Wayne placed eighth and ninth, teammates Dale Sahl and Chip Hagerman scored in 13th and 14th positions. Al Lilibe and Andy Myrlue came in 15th and 16th, out of the scoring.

One In Twenty

One out of every 20 preschool children has a vision problem, the most serious being "lazy eye." The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness warns that without early professional help for the affected "lazy eye," it may not develop properly and might not be diminished permanently.

To make sure your child is not suffering from lazy eye, write for the free "Home Eye Test For Preschoolers" from The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 55, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

SSC Triumphs Over B Team

Host South Sioux City rolled up 27 points in the first half, then added 27 more points in the final two quarters, to dump Wayne JV's 49-6 Monday.

"It was just a day our kids didn't seem to like the weather (snowing) and South Sioux did," reflected coach Duane Blomkamp after his club ended the season with a 3-2 record.

Brad Emry scored Wayne's points on a 40 yard return following a fake punt. The try for two points failed, leaving the first quarter score at 8-6.

People who are afraid of losing their vision can be reassured by this statement from The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness: Half of the blindness that occurs is preventable, given the right medical attention and proper safety precautions.

ART STUDENTS Holly Woerman and Jacque Ditman show some of the art displayed at their senior art exhibition which runs through Oct. 29.

WSC Seniors Present Art

"Contemporary Expressions" is the title applied to the combined art show of Holly Woerman and Jacque Ditman, both seniors at Wayne State College.

Displaying accumulative works from their college careers, the show is a requirement for all senior art majors at Wayne State in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery. The show will run until Oct. 29.

It is open to the public. Sculpture is the main medium for Mrs. Woerman, the former Holly Tongas of Bancroft.

Her selection also includes works in watercolor and print making. Art is also displayed through the craftsmanship of a multi-colored quilt by Mrs. Woerman.

Holly's husband is Gale Woerman. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Myron H.J. Tongas of Bancroft. With plans to teach, Holly will graduate in May from Wayne State with a 50-hour art major.

The artwork of Mrs. Ditman includes mostly painting plus crafts, pottery, and "a little bit of everything" according to the Wayne State artist.

Her favorite work is "Flowers No. 2," a diagonally shaped painting of a bouquet of flowers. A Wayne resident for 10 years, Mrs. Ditman is formerly of Winside. Her husband is Richard "Dick" Ditman of Wayne.

They have two children, Kelly, seven and Jodi, nine.

Mrs. Ditman will graduate from Wayne State in December with a 50-hour art major, and plans to teach.

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery is located on the second floor of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. The show is available for public viewing from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

County Appoints Health Planning Council Members

The Wayne County board of commissioners Tuesday appointed Herman Opfer and Berniece Fulton to the Northern Nebraska Health Planning Council.

The commissioners also acted to change the date of their next meeting to Nov. 1. The regular Tuesday meeting date would have fallen on election day.

John Shult, assistant director of the Mid Elkhorn Council of Governments attended the commissioner's meeting to explain a new community development program.

The program makes available through the Omaha Housing and Urban Development office $2.6 million for development in non metropolitan areas of Nebraska.

foreign correspondent, U.S. Congressman, a tank commander in WWII, government administrator in California and Washington, movie actor, lecturer and TV host and commentator.

He developed a small newspaper into the largest weekly in the West, was active in politics, a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, joined the army, led the campaign for Pres. Truman, and played his father in the Warner Bros. "Story of Will Rogers."

A host for the "Good Morning Show" for CBS, Rogers was also chairman of the California State Park Commission, and has been actively involved in Indian affairs.

After Rogers' take off speech Thursday, Dr. Robert N. Manley, head of the division of community development of Selection Research, Inc., will follow-up on Friday with "Listen to the Land."

Well-known in the Midwest for his lectures on Western history and folklore, Dr. Manley's address will deal with "the history of Nebraska as you travel across it."

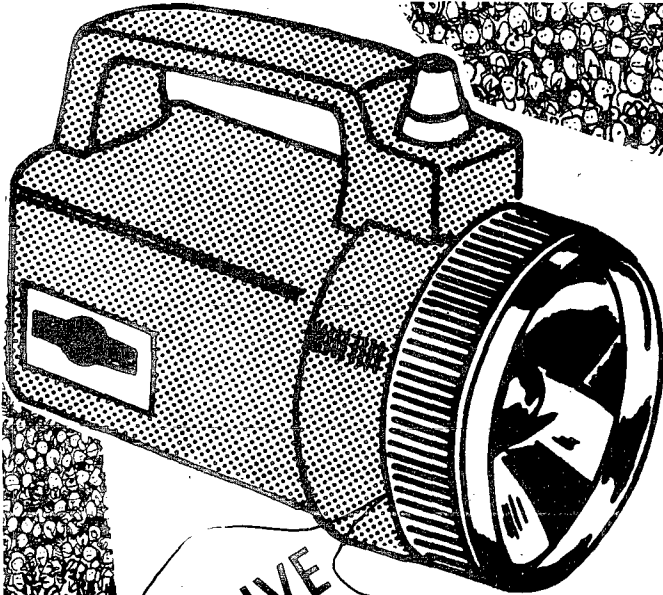

Awards for Manley include six letters in athletics at Elmhurst College. Mr. Epiphany is aware for outstanding high school teaching. Students Professor at UNL. Service to Man-Kind Award for the Lincoln Nebraska Gateway Sertoma Club in recognition of their work in the area of child adoption. The latter refers to the adoption of four racially mixed children by Manley and his wife.

Dr. Manley was a high school coach for nine years, and earned a masters and PhD and taught history at UNL and was chairman of the division of social sciences at the Hiram Scott College in Scottsbluff, Nebr.

Education television work buses Dr. Manley. Three of his television series are used in Nebraska schools and one series "Rails West" received the Ohio State University ETV award as the best series in the social sciences. The same series received a citation for excellence from the Association for state and local history.

Manley has published several articles for area history magazines.

Dr. Gene Bigelow, president of District III of the Nebraska State Education Association estimated that more than 1,000 teachers would attend this year's convention. He said the number of sectionals is higher than previous years and exhibits are up, too.

Candidate Make Whistle Stop at Kiwanis

Heading into the final two weeks before elections, incumbent senators John Murphy and John McCollister made their whistle stop tours at the Wayne Kiwanis Club Monday.

Murphy, who is the 17th District representative in the Nebraska Unicameral, outlined some of the issues he voted on and why he voted, the way he did.

The representative from South Sioux City introduced a resolution last year which would petition the U.S. Congress to balance its budget each year. If not, the states by a two-thirds vote could call a constitutional convention to help change the spending ways of Congress.

Murphy went on to say that Congress needs to curb its deficit spending which is drawing $40 billion in interest alone. Roughly figuring, he said the debt amounts to $3,000 per person. "It's not my intent to leave this legacy to my children," he reasoned.

On the subject of state aid to education, the senator said he voted against the measure because he felt that Wayne and smaller communities in this area wouldn't gain from the bill.

As the bill stands, school in districts outside of major cities in the state would receive a good sized share of aid, but at the same time would have to come up with another big share to meet their operating expenses.

The bill originally was designed to help provide equal education for all in the state, but it isn't doing the job, Murphy noted. A big share of the tax dollars from property owners in Wayne isn't staying in the city's school system, instead it is going to some school in Omaha or Bellevue, he said.

Murphy noted that his voting record has created some hard feelings. Bankers from Omaha, particularly, are upset by Murphy's veto of a bill to allow branch banking in other parts of the state.

Allowing such a bill wouldn't do the business or residential communities any good, Murphy explained, pointing out that Omaha branches want to come in communities and take their money back to Omaha.

On the subject of taxation, McCollister said he favors a reduction in the number of tax dollars leaving the state.

The two issues he's been concerned with while in Washington the past six years are agriculture and small businesses, McCollister told the audience.

McCollister: Government Should Work To Develop Foreign Market for Grain

Republican senatorial candidate John Y. McCollister said during a campaign visit in Wayne Monday that the "whole force and power" of the federal government should go into efforts to develop markets for wheat and feed grains.

Better transportation is vital to grain marketing, McCollister said, adding that the government should take steps to ensure that grain can reach seaports. Not enough has been done in this area in the past, he said, citing what he termed the failure of the Interstate Commerce Commission to do anything with the Rock Island Railroad.

The railroad is a major carrier of grain to gulf ports, McCollister said, but is now in a poor position to carry out that task.

A recently passed grain inspection bill should guarantee foreign customers that will receive a quality product, the candidate said.

After the grain gets to the port, it must move, he continued. "We cannot let labor unions dominate shipping. That causes extra cost, which comes out of the farmer's share of the price paid for his grain."

In order to open foreign markets there should be some limits to tariff and non-tariff trade barriers, McCollister said. Also, the candidate would like to see negotiations for access to foreign markets handled more by the Agriculture Department and less by the State Department.

McCollister said work should also continue to expand domestic markets. He is emphatically opposed to any type of strategic grain reserve. "That's why we had 95 cents a bushel corn in 1970. Everytime the market began to respond to demand, commodity credit grain was used to depress prices. Stored surplus holds down grain prices. That's part of the Democratic platform."

Regarding the cattle industry, McCollister said "I'm grateful to President Ford for mandatory quotas under the Beef Import Act, but I want to do the whole job."

If the government would "get out of the beef business," McCollister said, the market would straighten itself out.

Imported beef should be required to meet the same standards as domestic beef, he said, and more effort should be made to close loopholes which allow imported beef to enter the U.S. not subject to import quotas.

Turning to the economy in general, McCollister said "The cost of government hangs like an ax over the economy."

Government costs consume 40 per cent of the Gross National Product, McCollister said. Expenditures should be cut across the board, he said.

The candidate said he doesn't see how his opponent, Omaha mayor Ed Zorinsky, can say he favors cutting government costs and balancing the budget, and then, "within three or four sentences, support a public works employment bill."

That program would cost $3.7 billion, McCollister said, with most of the money going to big cities where the unemployment rate is high. "Nebraskans would get to pay for it," he said.

One area where the Second District congressman does favor increased spending is defense.

"If we don't change in the next five to eight years, we could be in serious difficulty," McCollister said, adding that he supports both the B-1 bomber and Trident missile programs.

Soviet Union military expenditures exceed those of the United States, McCollister said, and a much larger proportion of their money goes for hardware, while 60 per cent of the U.S. military budget goes for personnel costs for all-volunteer forces.

The Soviets have also placed great emphasis on civil defense preparedness which could mean that war might not be as unthinkable to them as we have been led to believe, he said.

Energy is also a crucial issue for the nation, McCollister said. He favors decontrol of natural gas and oil production. Along with that, he wants to enact a windfall profit tax, with credit for increased exploration.

At the same time, the use of coal should be promoted, McCollister said, and he is opposed to federal strip mining controls.

Low sulfur coal obtained through strip mining is less expensive than high sulfur coal obtained through deep mining, he said, and it costs 30 per cent more to build a plant which burns high sulfur coal and meets standards.

Congress should establish once and for all standards for nuclear energy plants. Now, he said, the same problems have to be resolved each time a plant is built.

It takes 10 years to complete a nuclear plant in the United States because of those complications, while Germany and Japan take less than five years.

McCollister also registered his opposition on a number of other issues. He said he opposes school busing, gun control and wage and price controls.

He advocates mandatory prison sentences for conviction of using a gun while committing a crime.

Wage and price controls, he said, don't solve economic problems.

Many psychologists say that what goes on in your head can be affected by what goes into your mouth. People who eat the right amounts of fat find they like are more likely to be alert, vital and in a good frame of mind.

One way to help your family feel fine is to feed them foods such as sweet, unspiced Grandma's Mollies, in milk as an after-school snack, or in sandwiches, in place of jelly.

Covenant Women Have Program

The Wakefield Covenant Women held their October meeting using the theme "How Did Your Garden Grow?" The harvest time, with thoughts on reaping what one sows and giving to more of the bounties than one even plants, was also brought into the program.

Mrs. Merlin Bressler read from Ga. 6: 7-10. The hymn "Thanks to God" and "Praise Your Blessings" were sung by the group. Four garden vegetables stressed the value of planting the right things. Peas, squash, turnips and lettuce were the vegetables.

The rows of "p's" were preparation, promptness, poise and prayer given by Mrs. Myron Olson. Three things one must "squash" in life are gossip, criticism and indifference, as told by Mrs. Art Borg.

Mrs. Malcolm Jensen spoke of the three brands of "p's". They were to be unselfish, loyal, let us love one another, let us be truthful and let us be thankful.

Mrs. Bressler spoke on the importance to "turn up" for church, turn up with a smile and turn up to serve.

Thank offering banks were presented at a table having a cornucopia filled with many of the foods now being gathered for winter's use.

Hostesses serving lunch were Mrs. Gordon Bard, Mrs. Allen Salmon and Mrs. Fred Salmon.

Ignitz Spenner will host the November meeting at 2 p.m.

BUSINESS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Roberts have ended 40 years in business at the same location in Wayne but their name will remain active in local business circles. Two couples purchased Roberts Feeds and Seeds effective Oct. 14, but will continue to use the Roberts name. New owners are Mr. and Mrs. Mark Griesch, who moved to Wayne from Arvada, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Otte of Wayne.

Roberts said the business will continue to offer the same line of products. Roberts first rented the building at 106 Pearl, moving in June 20, 1936. He and Mrs. Roberts operated a dairy route business from the location until October 1959 when they purchased the building.

The Roberts purchased cream, eggs and poultry and added a line of feed, seed and chemical to their new business. They marked their 40th anniversary in business at the same location in June. Roberts said he and his wife will spend some time in Phoenix, Ariz., this winter, but plan to maintain their residence in Wayne.

OBITUARIES

John Boeshart Funeral services for John Boeshart, age 87, of Laurel will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at the United Methodist Church, Laurel. He died Tuesday at the Park View Haven, Coleridge. He was preceded in death by his wife, James Mabel, and pallbearers are George Boeshart, Dean Boeshart, David Anderson, Dennis Boeshart, and Rodney Monk, and Larry Boeshart. Burial was in the East View Cemetery, Allen. The body will lie in state at Wilste, Moratory, Laurel, from Wednesday afternoon until time of services. John Charles Boeshart, the son of John Phillip and Sarah Sebern Boeshart, was born Sept. 9, 1889, in Glenwood, Ia. As a young boy he moved to northeast Nebraska with his family. He married Edith Mitchell on Jan. 21, 1914, in the home of the bride's parents north of Dixon. The couple resided in the Dixon area until 1946, when he retired and moved to Laurel, where he was a carpenter and was employed at the Laurel Sales Barn. He is preceded in death by his wife in 1973, one son, John, one brother, and two sisters. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. George (Mildred) Monk of Carroll, Mrs. Clifford (Ardith) Anderson of Laurel; two sons, Earl of Dakota City, and Ray of Abilene, Tex.; 16 grandchildren; 16 great grandchildren; one brother, Frank Boeshart of Coleridge, and four sisters, Mrs. Guss (Ruth) Smith of Sebastopol, Calif., Mrs. Mary Lipp of Billings, Mont., Mrs. Jim (Annie) Kingston of Allen, and Mrs. Gus (Rachel) Schutte of Cody, Wyo.

Henry C. Falk Henry C. Falk, age 84, of Hoskins died Tuesday night in a Norfolk hospital. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Methodist Church, Hoskins, with the Rev. B. Roy Brown officiating. The body will lie in state from 3 to 9 p.m. Friday at Howser Mortuary, Norfolk. Burial will be in Hillcrest Memorial Park Cemetery, Norfolk. Henry Falk, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Falk, was born June 1, 1892, south of Hoskins. He was baptized and later confirmed in the Evangelical Church, Hoskins. He attended school in Stanton county. He was united in marriage to Anna Louise Ulrich on May 27, 1915. They moved to a farm west of Hoskins where they lived until 1945. They then moved to Hoskins, where he was engaged in the plumbing, heating and welding business. In 1975, the couple moved into the new home which he built in Hoskins. He was an active member of the Hoskins United Methodist Church, where he held many offices. He made several woodwork articles and contributed these to the church. He was preceded in death by one son, Reuben in 1954; one brother and five sisters. Survivors include his widow, Anna; two sons, Harold of Hoskins, and Dr. Laurence Falk of Moorhead, Minn.; one daughter, Mrs. Myron (LaVern) Walker of Hoskins; eight grandchildren; 13 great grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Paul (Esther) Patterson of Portland, Ore.

Pastor Reviews Luther's Life At Aid

Improvement
that the decision to initiate any projects in the improvement district, if it is successfully created, would be in the hands of the council. The downtown improvement committee acts only as an advisory body. City administrator Fred Brink said Tuesday that if the district is successfully created and if the council approves the proposed sidewalk project, the first step would be to have an engineering study made. Engineering consultant Bruce Gilmore has made a cursory examination of the area involved, Brink said, but a detailed engineering study has not been ordered. Improvement committee member Robert Garhart said the committee had been informed by the city that if the sidewalk project is eventually initiated, 20-year financing with favorable interest rates could be made available to property owners.

Child
that hand-me-downs are some times available. Beyond these, there are the outlays for recreation, medical and personal care, housing, transportation and the like. Based upon current costs, the total expenditure by Wayne County parents for the 190 or so local youngsters who turn 18 each year, adds up to approximately $8,531,000.

Wildcats
Curiously, Wayne had ball possession more times in every quarter than UNI did. For the game, Wayne logged 33:19 minutes in control, UNI 26:41. The Panthers worked faster when they had control, and they did not give much ground when Wayne has possession. Result: The Wayne rushing net of four yards ranks as the lowest in anybody's memory.

Mrs. Emil Tarnow was just to St. Paul's Ladies Aid last Thursday afternoon with ten members attending. Rev. Carl Broecker reviewed the life of Dr. Martin Luther and discussed Reformation. Mrs. Bill Hansen conducted the business meeting with all joining in the LWML pledge and song. The altar parament committee reported the paraments were completed. The Lutheran Family and Social Services will meet Nov. 4 at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Church three with Mrs. Eugene Helgren, chairman, will serve lunch. Group three will entertain at the Wakefield Care Center Dec. 20. The president announced the LWML fall rally will be held Oct. 19 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Newcastle, with registration beginning at 9:30 a.m. Group one will serve the noon luncheon for the Wayne zone.

Attend Open House
Mrs. Roger Hansen and Brad. Mrs. Louie Hansen, Henry Tarnow, Mrs. Vern Carlson, the Dennis Carlsons, the Emil Greves, the Arnold Hammers, the Bill Korffs, Mildred Lundahl, the Benton Nicholsons and Pam, the Rudolph Kays and Marvin Brudigam were among the relatives from this area attending the open house reception Sunday afternoon honoring the John Barnes of Bloomfield on their Golden Wedding anniversary which was held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Bloomfield.

to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible voters in the county and must be received by Butts office no later than Nov. 1. Nominating petitions have already been mailed to Wayne County farmers. Butts said: The ASCS office can be contacted for further details regarding the nomination process and eligibility requirements for office holders. A farmer may circulate or sign nominating for as many candidates as he chooses. Butts emphasized the importance of the ASCS committee election. "Farmers should petition for and elect individual they feel would do a good job as an ASCS committeeman. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASCS committees is necessary to good administration of farm programs."

Unicameral, Regents square off in fight over control

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN Who won the power question?

Was it the University of Nebraska or the Unicameral?

The Lancaster County district court gave the technical points to the university. But the Unicameral wound up on top.

Judge Samuel Van Pelt said in the Nebraska Constitution is a phrase that should settle most questions. It says the NU Board of Regents does, in fact, govern the university system. But it can do so only under the guidance of the Unicameral.

"If the framers of the constitution intended for the Board of Regents to have a free hand in the government of the university, the phrase 'under the direction of the legislature' could and should have been deleted in its entirety," the judge said.

In short, Van Pelt said the only thing the Unicameral has no choice in is whether or not to establish the Board of Regents. Beyond that, it can limit or add to the power the regents have.

The regents, in their lawsuit, did question specific controls placed on them. Most involved controls through another state agency.

Those involved whether the Nebraska Department of Administrative Services could require anything of the regents, whether the State Personnel Office had any salary controls and whether the governor could approve or deny acceptance of gifts and bequests to the university worth more than $10,000.

Van Pelt, noting the regents are officers created by the constitution, said the Unicameral cannot delegate any controls over the regents and the university to another state agency.

On the other hand, the Unicameral could issue direct orders on salaries to the regents and could retain the authority to approve or reject gifts and bequests.

By vesting such controls in other agencies, the judge said the Unicameral was acting outside its scope.

Who Controls Money?
A big remaining question involves money control.

Van Pelt said the Unicameral retains the final say in the use of all tax money.

But whether that includes tuition or not remains a question, Van Pelt said. The regents have control over cash funds and singled out for mention only student fees.

Veteran state Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, whose interests have long been centered in education, said the cash fund portion of the decision really makes little difference to him. He said up until recently the Unicameral really wasn't interested in cash funds anyway.

Overall, Warner said he was pleased with the decision.

Why?
"I think this firmly re-establishes that the legislature has the ultimate responsibility," Warner said.

As to the actual impact of the decision, another Unicameral veteran, Richard Marvel of Hastings, said he could see nothing significant.

Marvel is chairman of the appropriations committee.

Warner said he agreed with that and said about the only real change the decision will bring about is procedure in imposing controls on the university system.

"I have never been in favor of delegating that responsibility anyway," Warner said.

Some prescription drug consumers claim they are being ripped off at the drug store because they, many times, must pay for the name of the drug rather than the drug itself.

As a result, those consumers, especially those on fixed incomes, want legislation that would allow pharmacists to substitute cheaper but equal drugs for brand names.

"There is only minimal potential for savings, but increased potential risks to people's health," said Oswald Broome, a University of Minnesota economist who has worked in health care economics.

In other words, he said "the savings will be insignificant."

The idea of drug substitution legislation is being considered by the Unicameral's Public Health and Welfare Committee.

Reg Higley of the Nebraska Health Department has turned over to the committee a proposed bill that would allow druggists to make substitutions. It would also allow doctors to prohibit it in some cases and allow the druggist to refuse to make a substitution.

Higley said he could not promise any real savings in drug bills with the legislation.

"I can't guarantee a savings. If there is, it will be passed on," he said.

Brownlee said any such legislation would be a disappointment to its sponsors. What they wish to accomplish can be attained by voluntary cooperation among pharmacists and physicians without a change in the law.

He said at most there would be a three per cent consumer savings.

But even that would be eaten into by an increase in health insurance costs. In fact, Brownlee said insurance costs would increase eight times over current levels.

Higley said the reason for that increase is the danger that a pharmacist assumes the role of a physician in making substitutions.

He said there is no doubt but that some drugs made by a particular manufacturer cannot be duplicated.

Judges Free in Sentences
The Nebraska Supreme Court has reaffirmed its stand that a judge, in handing down a criminal sentence, does not have to feel or be confined to much of anything.

In two separate cases, judges were charged with error in that a dismissed charge was mentioned by the judge as he pronounced sentence and that another considered the impact of the state's new "good time."

A good time law determines how much is taken off a prison sentence for good behavior.

Even though the charge was dismissed, the supreme court said the judge had every right to consider the fact that it was dropped due to plea bargaining and not for a lack of evidence.

"The law is well established in this state that a trial judge has a broad discretion as to the source and type of evidence he may use to assist him in determining the kind and extent of punishment."

In both cases, defendants claimed their sentences were illegally stiff because the judge considered matters not brought on in court.

OBSERVATIONS

Vote 'Yes' for No. 8

Amendment 8 which will appear on the ballots for Nebraska voters Nov. 2 would fix the salary of each member of the Unicameral at $675 a month. It's an amendment which should be approved.

Opponents argue that although the current monthly salary of $400 is low, it does not remain so when applied to the actual time spent during the entire year on legislative business.

Opponents also argue that most members of the legislature depend on their business or profession activities for their basic income. Therein lies a good reason to vote in favor of raising the salaries of legislators.

With salaries set at their current level, many otherwise qualified people are prevented from running for the legislature, particularly younger people with growing families.

The proposed increased salary certainly can't be considered a princely sum by today's standards, particularly one considers when the expenses incurred by legislators in travel and in maintaining residence in Lincoln during the legislative session. But the higher salary might make it possible for some people to file for election who could not otherwise consider it. That could mean more choice for voters, and possibly better representation.

Meat is housewife's bargain today

The average American housewife is getting one of her best bargains in our inflation-burdened economy when she goes to the supermarket meat counter, but it is difficult for her to accept that fact.

According to statistics compiled by the American Meat Institute and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the percent of average per capita disposable income spent for meat in 1960 was 4.9 percent, of which beef represented 2.66 percent and pork 1.7 percent. In 1975 the percentage of disposable income per capita spent for meat by the average consumer was 4.13 percent of which 2.57 percent was for beef and 1.4 percent was for pork.

Those figures on percentage of per capita income to the average housewife are not highly appealing. She may readily admit that her family's income is probably three times greater in dollar terms than it was in 1960. She doesn't take the time to recall that the new car that the family bought in 1960 for $2,600 probably compares to a 1975 model that sets them back around $5,700. If the family had a serious illness, she knows that hospital care is at least 400 percent higher than it was in 1960.

But there at the meat counter, she looks at the price of a roast and says to herself, "How can all those stories about cattle feeders losing $50 to $100 per head on every beef animal they market these days really be true?"

The figures may not comfort her but they may give her more insight into what has gone on and the effects of inflation. At least they will demonstrate that the beef producer is responsible for only a very small portion of today's retail price of meat.

In 1960, the average price for cattle during the year was $26.75 per hundred weight (cwt). (26.75 cents per pound live weight). The retail price per pound for beef at the supermarket that year was 81 cents per pound. In 1975, the average price for cattle was $36.71 per cwt and the average retail price for beef was $1.46 per pound.

In other words, the price of cattle was 25.6 percent higher in 1975 than it was in 1960 but the retail price of beef was 80 percent higher. That reflects a big increase in the "spread" between the farm gate and the retail market but in comparison to the increase in the price of automobiles, farm machinery, clothing, hospital care, building supplies and services, etc. the increase is modest.

And in fairness, the consumer should be a bit cautious about the tendency to point a finger at the retailer and charge that he is taking exorbitant profits. Some do take unfair advantage and there undoubtedly is too much lag between a decline in the price of cattle and hogs and lower prices at the meat counter. But, most of that "spread" is made up in higher labor costs to keep up with inflation — higher transportation costs, higher energy costs for fuel, lights and refrigeration, higher taxes, to pay for more inspections and government regulations. The extra costs are "built in" all along the line.

Consumers would do well to remember too that the price of meat would be much higher if cattle and pork producers were not vastly more efficient at producing more and better meat today than they were in 1960. And packing plants have streamlined their operations for greater productivity in no other nation in the world can consumers buy the quality of U.S. beef and pork for comparable retail prices, either in dollars and cents or in percentage of income. The achievement of the U.S. meat industry is a story to tell with pride rather than apology. — M. M. Van Kirk, Nebraska Farm Bureau.

Federal employes' union flexes muscle

Top officials at the Labor Department recently caved in to union demands that will effectively exclude consideration of outsiders to fill most job vacancies at the Washington headquarters.

According to the agreement, the department will fill "all positions in the bargaining unit" by employees in the bargaining unit," excepting only "entry level positions or positions that have a special skills requirement not available within the unit" and jobs for which fewer than three qualified candidates can be found within the Department.

"Qualified," in Washington bureaucraticese, is usually the lowest of three classifications of job suitability. The top rating is "best qualified," next is "highly qualified," then just plain "qualified." In other words, it would be most unlikely that three "qualified" applicants couldn't be dredged up from within the "bargaining unit" for nearly any job vacancy.

There's nothing wrong with policies that favor promotion from within — either for a government agency or a private firm — as long as the object of such policies is to get the best qualified person for the job. But that is clearly not the case here. The obvious intent of this new Labor Department procedure is to give present members of the "bargaining unit" an unfair advantage over outside applicants who might well have better qualifications. Indeed, it appears that the department is not even going to advertise future job vacancies to the general public.

The Labor Department officials who agreed to these conditions have abdicated their responsibility to the public on two counts. First, they have tacitly acknowledged that they will no longer conduct the widest possible search for the best possible applicants for job vacancies. This cheats the taxpayer as well as outside applicants with superior qualifications. Second, they have permitted a union — the American Federation of Government Employees — to treat public jobs as its own private property.

The whole episode is a reminder if any is needed — of the danger of union employeism. In this case, the union didn't even have to threaten to strike to get what it wanted. It merely threatened to picket the Secretary of Labor, W. J. Usery, when he attended a Labor Day musical at the Kennedy Center. One wonders what they could have gotten for themselves by a full-fledged (illegal) STRIKE.

And come to think of it, a long strike by federal employes — especially those in Congress and the regulatory agencies — might be just what the country needs. — Richard Leshner, U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Petition leader Dislikes publicity

Wayne Evelyn Hendrickson and I canvassed downtown with the petition which was printed with the full particulars of Ordinance No. 845 — we did not mislead anyone as said on radio KTCH. The results of the petition were brought to Bruce Mordhorst to be recorded and then given to the mayor and council. This was confidential. It was a vote from a legal notice. What business does KTCH have getting the results before the mayor and council could review it? Who in the city office gave out this legal or confidential information? This I don't like. It is news at a proper time (after received by mayor and council).

As I said before, I and Mrs. Hendrickson want Wayne to improve, but it should be done in the right way. I did it, remodeled and replaced sidewalk where needed. There is nothing wrong with the street lights. They are not outdated. Lower them and you will have all the bugs on you in the summer time, the streets, brick streets, I think, are the cheapest maintenance pavement you can have. They fluctuate or move with the frost in the winter. Concrete and asphalt will buckle and crack with heat or frost. Let's let the street on Main be, other towns changed and are sorry. — Andrew Manes.

On the downtown improvement: I don't think the people were informed right by KTCH radio of Wayne and Mr. Storck's editorial about Ordinance No. 845, Dist. 76. It was mentioned about sidewalks only. Nothing was said about the rest of the ordinance — grading, curbing, guttering, construction and replacing of pedestrian walks, mall, landscaping, and other necessary improvements. Now this is the description given in the legal notice published in The Wayne Herald; this is the real thing not just sidewalks. I think sidewalks should be replaced where needed and not tear up good walks so they can put in new walks. This was not specified in the paper or by the radio, the property owner should be careful, this ordinance did not say how much money would be spent; if it was open contract, no limit, we may as well give them our check books and let them spend what they want. Mr. Storck doesn't mind this as he is out in the country, out of our high taxes.

There will be no final decision given until the mayor and city council act on this ordinance, they are the ones to decide, and not Mr. Storck.

Social security disability payments generally cannot start immediately after people apply for them because the law requires a five-month waiting period according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

Social security pays monthly disability benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and not expected to be able to do any work for a year or more. Payment generally starts with the sixth full month of disability. "The first check generally arrives early in the month after that," Branch said. "During the waiting period," he said, "examiners get your medical records from the doctors, hospitals, and other institutions that treated you for your disability. You pay for getting those records, if there's any charge.

Later, additional medical information may be necessary, and you may be asked to undergo additional tests and examinations," he said. "The government pays for those." Medical decisions on whether or not people are disabled under the social security law are made by doctors and other disability experts in the Nebraska state agency in Lincoln. Work requirements are also checked during the waiting period. "To be eligible for disability benefits," Branch said, "most workers need at least five years of work under social security in the 10 years before they became disabled. For workers disabled before age 31, the requirements scale down to as little as one and one-half years, depending on age. "Your social security earnings record is kept under your name and social security number in Baltimore," he said. People disabled since childhood can get social security disability payments without waiting when a parent starts getting social security retirement or disability benefits — or dies after working long enough under social security.

Severely disabled people who haven't worked long or recently enough under social security to get disability benefits may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments. The SSI program administered by social security, makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are disabled or blind or 64 or over. "There's no waiting period under the SSI program," Branch said. "Payments start when eligibility is determined. In some cases, SSI disability payments may be made to people while they're waiting for an eligibility decision."

People can get more information about the social security disability program and the SSI program by calling or writing any social security office. Branch said. The Norfolk social security office is at 1310 Norfolk Avenue. The phone number is 371-1595.

Barbara Winter of the Norfolk office will be at the Wayne senior citizen's center Tuesday from 9 a.m. until noon.

Women's Society Meets

Immanuel Women's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Lena Ulrich last Wednesday afternoon. Hostess was Christine Lueker.

Attending as guests were Mrs. Reuben Puls, Mrs. Andrew Andersen, Mrs. Don Klein, Mrs. Ida Bronzynski, Mrs. Raymond Walker, Mrs. Jack Swigard and Mrs. Erwin Ulrich.

Mrs. Walter Fenske opened the meeting with an Autumn prayer, followed with group singing of "America the Beautiful." Roll call was answered with a scripture verse. Cheer cards were sent to the Rev. OBITUARIES

Tena M. (Bruce) Davenport

Tena M. (Bruce) Davenport died Sunday in Los Gatos, Calif. She was 89 years old.

Funeral services were to have been held Wednesday morning at Wilste Mortuary, Wayne, with the Rev. H.K. Niernmann officiating.

Survivors were Charles Paulsen, Robert Wobbenhorst, Alfred Biddelstahl, Earl Bass, Ernie Swanson and L.J. Mallatt. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery.

Tena Davenport, the daughter of John D. and Bertha Papenhansen, was born in Hamburg, Germany, on Aug. 30, 1887. As a small child she came with her parents to the U.S., where they settled on a farm near Laurel.

She was united in marriage to Alex C. Bruce on Oct. 20, 1909. He preceded her in death on Feb. 7, 1941.

She then moved from Laurel and divided her time between Iowa and California, where she worked in hospitals. She moved to Long Beach, Calif., and was married to Perry F. James in 1952. He also preceded her in death in 1957.

She continued to make her home in Long Beach and was married to Lloyd P. Davenport in 1967. He died in June of 1973 and she moved to Sunnyvale, Calif., to live with her daughter.

She was preceded in death by her husbands and one brother. Survivors include one son, Alvin J. Bruce of Tekamah; one daughter, Eunice A. Seymour of Pioneer, Calif.; four grandchildren; nine great grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Mae Weaver of Jefferson, Ia.

Bertha Grove

Funeral services for Bertha Grove, age 97, of Orchard, were held last Thursday at the United Methodist Church in Orchard. She died last Monday morning in the Plainview Manor.

The Rev. Melvin Shafer officiated and pallbearers were Erv Erd, Gurney Drayton, Gerald Maple, James Clifton, Eloit Blackmore and Kenneth Bridge. Burial was in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

Bertha Ellen Grove, daughter of William and Melvina Eyer Geerts, was born Sept. 19, 1879, in Ashland. At the age of three she came with her family in a covered wagon to Antelope Co., where she had since made her home.

On Jan. 4, 1899, she married Phil Grove. The couple made their home on a farm in Pleasant Valley until 1918, when they moved to Orchard. Her husband died in 1944 and she continued to live in Orchard until entering the Plainview Manor four years ago.

Survivors include three daughters, Deann Grove of Wayne; Carrie Wilson and Esther Dempster of Orchard; five grandchildren; 21 great grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Winnie Kirby of Royal and Mrs. Minnie Watson of Eugene, Ore.; several nieces and nephews and many friends.

Mrs. Lowell Werner

Mrs. Lowell (Lucy) Werner, age 55, of Los Angeles, Calif., died last Monday in a Los Angeles hospital. Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church, Millard, with the Rev. Harvey officiating.

Lucy Jane Brown Werner was born July 29, 1921, in Paulina, Ia. She married Lowell Werner in Paulina on June 21, 1946. The couple resided in Wayne until January of 1957 when they moved to California.

Preceding her in death were her parents, one brother, William, and one sister, Margaret. Survivors include her widower, Lowell; two brothers, James of Atwater, Minn., and Robert of Milwaukee; three sisters, Eva Kay Werner of Boys Town, Helen Moser of Kingstey, Ia., and Mary Libke of Pierson, Ia.

On-the-Farm Testing is Focus Of NSIF Annual Gathering

The National Swine Improvement Federation will examine on-the-farm testing as its general theme during the group's annual meeting Dec. 15 in St. Louis, according to Dr. Irv Omtved, the group's secretary-treasurer.

The theme will be the subject of an opening day symposium, said Omtved, chairman of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln animal science department. He said speakers will include Fred Haley, a swine breeder from Canton, GA., who will describe his testing sites, program and philosophy; Lauren Christian of Iowa State University in Ames, who will emphasize application of basic theory to performance testing, and Vern Wiese of the Wiese 4-Star Farm of DeWitt, Ia., who will describe his testing and merchandising program for three breeds.

Also speaking will be Tom Socha, manager of the Nebraska SPF Accrediting Agency, who will discuss his experiences involving whole herd testing with 70 cooperative farms, and Don Hazlett, a spotted swine breeder from Marion, Ind., who will speak on his testing program.

Lt. Marvyn Garner of Des Moines, executive vice president of the National Pork Producers Council (NPPD), will deliver a keynote address at an evening banquet.

A panel discussion will follow on how much supervision is needed in on-the-farm testing, led by Glenn Conatser of Lata yette, Ind., secretary of the American Yorkshire Club.

The program will feature a morning address, Dec. 7 by Dr. O.W. Robison of North Carolina State University in swine growth patterns "to shed some light on the most desirable weights for performance testing," Omtved said.

He said participants will also consider revisions or modifications to the federation's Guide Lines for Uniform Swine Improvement Programs, which will be released Nov. 1.

The guidelines, designed to outline procedures for measuring and recording swine performance and achieve greater uniformity of terminology and methods of measuring performance traits, have been compiled during two years of committee meetings, he said.

Omtved said participants will meet in six committees to discuss central testing station procedures, merchandising performance testing, nutrition and health, on-the-farm testing procedures, record standardization and use and reproductive performance.

Individual committee reports will be delivered to the entire conference Dec. 7 before the group's annual meeting later that morning at the Holiday Inn West, site of the conference, he said.

Omtved said the federation currently has 34 members, two associate members and a 15 member board of directors representing swine improvement organizations, swine breed associations and the NPPC.

He said conference registrations are due Dec. 1, and said a complete program and registration form is available by writing him at room 203 Marvel Baker Hall, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

A Pork Production College is going to be held at the University of Nebraska North Platte Station at North Platte on December 13-15.

Some of the topics that will be covered include swine selection, breeding, boar breeding and reproduction, swine health, diseases, housing, marketing and many others.

Anyone interested should pick up an application blank from the Extension Office. Registration is limited to the first forty applicants.

source of heat and cooling looks very practical.

Another reason for soil testing in the fall is that you have time after the results and recommendations are received to plan your program for the year. This may mean applying some fertilizer in the fall. Some fertilizer dealers offer fall discount.

Buying fertilizer in the fall may also have some tax advantages.

Cropping and history sheets and soil boxes are available at the extension office.

Mulch Will Help Save Moisture

Any farm management practice to preserve or accumulate soil moisture is worth considering for the 1977 crop year, according to Dick Wiese, extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"Fall soil moisture in non-irrigated agriculture is very low because the previous crop absorbed all the moisture it could from soils," he said. "Alfalfa fields are the driest of all with moisture levels removed to a six foot soil depth."

The picture is further complicated because September rains were below normal in most of the state. "Moisture recharge will require 12 to 18 inches of rain," he said.

Clean tillage should not be done in the fall. Mulch left on fields will help hold moisture and will shade soil surfaces to reduce evaporation, he said.

Wiese suggests that farmers leave all crop fields rough to catch snow and to absorb late fall or early spring rain. A rough soil surface reduces rain fall or snowmelt runoff and helps recharge soil moisture. Farmers should allow alfalfa and grass pasture growth to recover so more snow and rain can be absorbed.

"A good fall regrowth will result in better and earlier growth next spring, because plants will be in better condition after the low winter temperatures," he said.

Sierra Group Asks Candidates To Meeting

Area political candidates have been invited to speak at the Tuesday meeting of the Elkhorn Valley Sierra Group.

Executive committee members include Iris Wachorn of Carroll and Mary Pat Finn, now of Norfolk, formerly of Carroll.

The group will meet Tuesday in conjunction with the National Wildlife Federation in the Commercial Savings and Loan building in Norfolk, with the meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Corn Production Same
 Corn production, as of Oct. 1, was forecast at 482.6 million bushels, the same as on Sept. 1, according to the Nebraska Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Total production would be four per cent greater than the 1975 crop. Yield was forecast at 78 bushels per acre, down seven bushels from last year. This compares with the 1975 average yield of 82 bushels and the record level of 104 bushels achieved in 1972. Acres reported for grain total 6.2 million, five per cent above last year's harvested acres and the largest since 6.5 million acres were harvested for grain in 1960.

Dryland corn production was forecast at 29.6 million bushels, down 34 per cent from last year. Yield was forecast at 34 bushels per acre, down 17 bushels from 1975. The yield compares with the 1975 average of 50 bushels and the 1972 record high of 85 bushels. Farmers intend to harvest 2.65 million acres of dryland corn for grain, 20,000 less than last year.

Irrigated corn production was forecast at 394.0 million bushels, seven per cent above 1975 and 25 per cent above 1974. Yield is forecast at 111 bushels per acre compared with 112 bushels in 1975 and 107 bushels average of 113 bushels and the 1972 record high of 124 bushels. Farmers intend to harvest 3.55 million acres, nine per cent above 1975.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Gladys Stout

PUMPKINS HAVE MANY FACES
 Pumpkins not only have many faces on Halloween but also have many faces on the table.

How many other vegetables turn up in so many different dishes? Pumpkin soup, bread cake, pie, souffle, custard, ice cream, preserves, pickles, tarts — the list is almost endless.

Pumpkins is an excellent source of vitamin A and by itself is not high in calories.

The easiest way to cook pumpkin is to cut it in half lengthwise remove seeds and pulp and place it cut side down with a little water in a pan. Bake in the oven until tender. Scrape out the pulp and go from there to your favorite recipe.

Pumpkin is easy to store. It keeps well in a cool, dry place. To freeze, prepare as for cooking, cool quickly and pack into containers, leaving one half inch head space.

To cook pumpkin, add boiling water to the hot pulp to make the pulp a little thinner than needed for pies. Pour into jars leaving one inch head space. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart (1/2 teaspoon per pint). Adjust caps. Process pints one hour and five minutes, and quarts one hour and 20 minutes at 10 pounds pressure in a pressure canner.

Squash is a near relative of pumpkin. It comes in colors from cream to yellow to green to orange and in many shapes and sizes. In most recipes you can substitute winter squash for pumpkin or pumpkin for squash and not know the difference.

Squash may be frozen and canned just like pumpkin.

To bake squash for a vegetable cut in half, remove seeds and pulp, place cut side down in a pan with a little water and bake at 400 degrees until nearly done. Turn and add a little margarine, salt and pepper and finish baking uncovered.

Sorghum Grain Same as September 1
 Production of sorghum grain was forecast at 98.4 million bushels, the same as last month but five per cent below last year. Yield per acre was forecast at 48 bushels, 7 below last year. This compares with the 1975 average of 58 bushels per acre and the record of 75 in 1969. Acres for harvest at 2.05 million are nine per cent above 1975.

Soybeans Down
 Soybean production was forecast at 21.6 million bushels, down five per cent from last month and 35 per cent below last year. This would be the smallest production since 1971.

The forecast yield of 21 bushels was six bushels below last year, seven bushels below the 1975 average yield, and 11.5 bushels below the record level achieved in 1969 and 1972. Acres for harvest at 1.03 million are 16 per cent below 1975.

Other Crops
 Dry bean production is forecast at 2.0 million hundredweight (cwt) eight per cent above 1975 but five per cent below 1974. Sugar beet production is forecast at 1.5 million tons, down 14 per cent from last year's record production. Fall potato production is forecast at 1.1 million cwt., down 12 per cent from last year.

Crop Loan Rates Increased

Acting Secretary of Agriculture John Knebel has announced the loan rates for 1977 crop wheat, feed grains and soybeans and said that they would also be immediately applicable to the 1976 crops.

The loan rate per bushel is raised from $1.50 to $2.25 for wheat and from $1.25 to $1.50 for corn. The soybean loan rate remains at $2.50 per bushel.

Loan rates per bushel for other feed grains are increased proportionately based on the feed value of corn, as follows: sorghum, $1.19 to $1.43; barley, $1.02 to $1.22; oats $0.06 to $0.72; rye, $1.00 to $1.20.

Knebel said that the change in loan rates is being made now to give farmers' timely assistance in the orderly marketing of their year's record crop of wheat, already in the bins, and the projected record corn crop, as well as large crops of other feed grains. He cited the competitive pressure on established U.S. export markets brought about by Canada's huge wheat crop and to better than-expected grain crops in the Soviet Union.

In addition, during the peak of the grain harvest season there has been a serious barge transportation problem, caused principally by the unusually low water levels.

Farmers who wish to secure loans or adjust present loans at the new rates for 1976 wheat and feed grains can do so by going to their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASC) Office or Agricultural Service Center. Additional disbursement for loans already written on these crops will be available retroactively to those farmers who want to change now to the new rates.

The new loan rates for Wayne County are: wheat — $2.30 bu.

grain sorghum — $2.37 cwt.; barley — $1.14 bu.; oats $2.72 bu.; rye — $1.13 bu. and corn — $1.47 bu. The soybean loan rate stays at $2.41 bu.

RYU Group Plans Good Neighbor Party

The Northeast Rural Urban Youth Group met Oct. 9 at the Dixon auditorium for volleyball.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Pearson and their two daughters.

After the volleyball game, a business meeting was held. Plans were made for the annual Good Neighbor Party. The party will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday evening, in the Laurel auditorium. The theme for this year is, "Keep on Trucking." The evening will be spent square dancing.

All single persons 17 to 30 years of age, regardless of race, color or national origin are invited to attend.

EOT Members Tell Favorite Season

Members of the EOT Club met with Mrs. John Gathje last Thursday. Co-hostess was Mrs. Dale Clausen. Fourteen responded to roll call by telling their favorite season of the year.

Mrs. Ron Sebade conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Melvin Magnuson reported on the last meeting. It was announced that Mrs. Dale Clausen will host a family party this Saturday, assisted by Mrs. Gathje.

Mrs. Cyril Hansen, Mrs. Dale Clausen and Mrs. David Sievers received birthday gifts. The lucky number prizes went to Mrs. Dale Clausen and Mrs. Ron Magnuson.

For the program, Gail Jaeger of Winslow gave a demonstration on cosmetics.

Mrs. Melvin Magnuson will be the Nov. 4 EOT hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ron Magnuson.

Voters Meeting
St. Paul's Lutheran voters meeting was held Oct. 12 at the church fellowship hall. The Rev. C. W. Gottberg opened the meeting with prayer. Edward Fork presided and Gilmore Sals gave the secretary's report. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Robert Peterson.

It was announced that the children's Christmas program will be held Dec. 23 at 7 p.m. Trustees will be in charge of purchasing and sacking Christmas treats.

A letter was read from the Rev. James Weyland of South Sioux City, Wayne circuit counselor.

The meeting closed with prayer.

15 Visit Randolph
Fifteen members of the Carroll Woman's Club went to Randolph Friday where they visited the Colonial Manor and presented residents with a program and luncheon.

Mrs. Emma Davis, Carroll Woman's Club member who is now residing at the Colonial Manor, was presented a plant by Mrs. Robert I. Jones on behalf of the club.

Chairman for the afternoon program were Mrs. Leo Jordan and Mrs. Robert I. Jones, who presented each resident with a smiling face sticker. Mrs. Jordan accompanied for group singing and Mrs. Jones gave a reading, entitled "Grandpa's Sunday Afternoon Nap." Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. Edward Fork sang "Peggy O'Neill," accompanied by Mrs. Fork at the piano. Mrs. Fork also accompanied herself while she sang two German songs.

Mrs. Robert Johnson reported on the last meeting and Mrs. Merlin Kenny gave the treasurer's report.

It was announced that the group's next meeting will be Nov. 11 at the club room for the annual Thanksgiving dinner, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Planning the dinner will be Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Earl Davis, Mrs. Merlin Kenny, Mrs. Martin

Hansen and Mrs. Esther Batten. Mrs. Ralph Olson and Mrs. Lloyd Morris are on the program committee.

Teachers Meeting
St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school teachers met Oct. 10. The meeting opened with prayer led by president Carl Peterson. Mrs. Robert Peterson read the secretary's report.

"Birthday Celebration" has been chosen as the theme for the Christmas program. A report was given by superintendent Arnold Hansen. It was decided that each teacher will be responsible for purchasing Christmas gifts for their class.

Consolation Winner Is So Close

A Wayne woman, Lillian Anderson, missed winning the grand prize in the weekly Birthday Bucks promotion by only nine days.

Mrs. Anderson was born on May 19, 1914; the winning date was May 10. As a result, she picks up the $25 consolation prize.

Had her date matched the winning date Mrs. Anderson would have won $550 in Birthday Bucks which can be spent just like cash in any participating Wayne business.

Tonight (Thursday) some lucky shopper will have a chance to win the prize now worth $575, if he or she is present in a participating store when the winning date is announced at 8:15.

Mrs. Anderson was in Wittig's Food Center when the winning date was drawn by Mrs. Donna Luft of Les' Steak House.

I am Merle Hansen, candidate for Regent, District 3, a 56 year old farmer from Newman Grove. I am seeking this office because I feel the average taxpayer needs better representation. Regents supervise the spending of 1/4 of our state tax dollar.

The incumbent has the worst attendance record of any Regent. He has failed to attend nearly 1/3 of the Board meetings the past 2 years and did not function at all on important committee assignments. He campaigned six years ago to "cut wild spending", but when elected used his vote to raise the budget from $64.5 million to over $250 million. Why were raises recently given to $30,000 a year administrators who never go near a classroom while student services were cut? Was it necessary to spend $100,000 of taxpayers money to lobby for more taxpayers money?

A Regent must be more than a rubber stamp, he must work at the job, get to the meetings and watch spending, constantly asking: "Does money spent really foster teaching and learning?"

HANSEN FOR REGENT

Paid for by Hansen for Regents Committee, Ralph Ritchey, Norfolk, Chairman; Robert Warwick, Meadow Grove, Treasurer.

State Birthrate Shows Decline

During the years since 1970, births per thousand total population have been below any previously recorded both in Nebraska and the nation.

Age specific birth rates (births per thousand females in a five-year age group), according to the bureau's estimates, showed a decline of 27.6 per cent for females in the peak childbearing years (ages 20 to 24) from 1970 to 1975.

Other fertility measures estimated by the bureau, which more fully account for the changing size of the childbearing female population, confirm the downturn. The general fertility rate (GFR), or number of births per thousand women aged 15-44, has shown much greater declines than have total births because of the increasing number of females entering childbearing ages. The GFR at the national level was 87.1 in 1970 and declined 23.4 per cent to 66.7

by 1975, while for Nebraska the decline was from 87.1 to 71.5 (17.9 per cent).

currently postponing childbearing cannot be known for several years.

General fertility rates in 1970 showed wide variation among counties within Nebraska, ranging from rates of over 100 in the northeast counties of the state (Cedar, Dakota, and Thurston counties) to rates below 60 in other counties.

Furthermore, the estimated increase in Nebraska's metro female population has been more than twice that of the non-metro areas so that the decline in metro births per thousand childbearing females has been even more dramatic (26.3 per cent from 1970 to 1975 compared to a non-metro decline of 8.7 per cent).

Demographers are not in agreement concerning whether current low fertility rates will continue or whether they are only temporary. Should low fertility rates persist, however, the bureau report points out that the consequences for Nebraska's future population may include slower growth, fewer young persons, and an increasing proportion of aged persons.

Legislative Races

Warner is now the dean of the Lancaster delegation, a position he probably never thought he'd reach. In his 14 years, Warner has scored so many achievements and has wrought so much responsible good for Nebraska he rates among a select company of legislators. We support his election in May and November.

Other incumbents who The Journal thinks have earned good words — for different reasons —

In northeast Nebraska, a special salute is due the reelection efforts of J. R. Murphy of South Sioux City, a man who combines physical courage, personal integrity and brains along with an unbudging mind set.

Omaha Debate Draws Fire

World-Herald Lincoln Bureau Room 2 Executive Building
Freshman State Sen. John Murphy of South Sioux City said Wednesday he feels the Legislature could do with a little bit less legislating about Omaha.

He's Applauded
Murphy drew applause from fellow outstate senators when he said:
"I thought when I came to Lincoln I was going to participate in the State Legislature. But since I've been here we've increased Omaha's school (building) tax 50 per cent, decided the Omaha city councilmen should be elected by districts and considered other Omaha legislation.
"I haven't had the privilege of living in Omaha and that puts me at a disadvantage. Maybe the State Building Commission should jack up this chamber and slide it to Omaha so we'd be closer to our work."

Chalk Up Another

Remember that aborted trip to Washington, D. C., the Nebraska Legislature voted itself to confer with President Nixon concerning the problems.

We never reported this before in the Star but State Senator Bob Murphy of South Sioux was one of only seven or eight state senators who said they wanted no part of it. Of course, the trip never came off.

Does His Homework

Sometimes we take our dedicated lawmakers for granted.
Speaking editorially recently, the Lincoln Evening Journal said the following about our own State Senator John R. "Bob" Murphy of South Sioux:
"There may be no member of the current Nebraska Legislature more conscientious and dedicated to his public labors than the very brainy Dakota County Irishman. Operating with a physical handicap that would daunt lesser men, Murphy is recognized as a Senator who does his homework, in depth."

We think those words from the Lincoln newspaper are worth sharing with those in Dakota County.

Murphy Hard-Nosed?

DICK HERMAN, the statehouse reporter for the Lincoln Star, recently referred to our own Sen. Bob Murphy as the "hard-nosed Irishman," after Murphy had the audacity to challenge the renowned Terrible Terry Carpenter.
Murphy jumped on Carpenter for alternately berating and chiding the legislature, jumping into bed with Exon and then jumping out.
I'm told some veteran lawmakers came up to Murphy after that incident and said something to the effect, "Good going. He (Carpenter) is without a doubt considered the most fiery person in the Legislature. He must have been somewhat shocked when a verbal blast emanated from a freshman member of that body."

Murphy Takes On 'Sleeping Giant'

Lincoln (UPI) — South Sioux City's Sen. John Murphy set the stage for a takeover of Congress unless that body moves to erase the national debt.
"For 200 years the people have had a sleeping giant in their constitution," Murphy said. "It says you can control Congress."
He referred to a provision allowing states to petition Congress to call a constitutional convention. Murphy wants the congress on its own motion, refuse to put in the states a proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the national debt.

A resolution calling for a constitutional change to require a balanced federal budget received 26-13 second round approval in the Nebraska Legislature Tuesday.
The resolution, LR106, has sparked days of intense debate. It was offered by South Sioux Sen. John Robert Murphy.
Nearly two hours of debate preceded the vote, with Sen. John Cavanaugh of Omaha and Frank Lewis of Bellevue pulling out all stops in an effort to kill a section that would call for a constitutional amendment.

There may be no member of the current Nebraska Legislature more conscientious and dedicated to his public labors than the very brainy Dakota County Irishman. Operating with a physical handicap that would daunt lesser men, Murphy is recognized as a Senator who does his homework, in depth.
He is as passionately committed to leaving his grandchildren a country not burdened with debt and IOUs of political clowns as a born-again environmentalist is about leaving his grandchildren a livable landscape.

the speaker of the Legislature, State Sen. Richard Proud, journeyed to Washington as was originally proposed.
It was nice to see that Senator Murphy had his feet on the ground when the state senators started talking about a massive migration to Washington — at taxpayer's expense.

Just another of the growing number of feathers in the cap of this area's state senator

Budget Bill Is Increased By $287,694

By Dana Parsons

There were floor amendments for the first time this session Friday in the 1973-74 operating budget. The Legislature raised the ante by $287,694.

The largest of the four riders attached to LB 982 was sponsored by Sen. John Murphy of South Sioux City, who got 26-0 approval for $118,000 to provide utilities for Wayne State College.

Perhaps the sharp-knifing involved Terry Carpenter and hard-nosed freshman John Murphy of South Sioux City. Murphy announced he for one, doesn't trust Carpenter at all. He landed on Terrible Terry for alternately berating and chiding the Legislature, jumping into bed with Exon and then jumping out in response. Carpenter accused Murphy of uttering an "absolute lie" postulating Carpenter's motives relating to Hiram Scott College.

Another Feather

ANOTHER feather in the Legislative cap please, for Senator John Murphy who has attained the chairmanship of a Nebraska Legislative committee in only his third year in Lincoln.

Murphy beat the challenge of Senator John DeCamp of Neligh and then Sen. Herb Duis of Gothenberg in a head-to-head confrontation, 25 to 24.

Duis is especially well known around the Legislature. In fact he was also a candidate for Speaker.

Both DeCamp and Duis have considerably more legislative experience than our Robert.

Statehouse Letter By Dick Herman

One lobbyist of acquaintance considers Sen. John R. Murphy, South Sioux City, "a dangerous man." The lobbyist succinctly explained: "Murphy reads the bills." That translates into an understanding guy who knows what's going on and asks embarrassing questions. Nasty fellows, those.
In the dull labor of digesting potential legislation and related horror stories, Murphy has some aid, however. It comes from the attractive, sparkly blonde who has been Mrs. Murphy for 25+ years and whose daily presence makes the Nebraska legislative chamber a much cheery place.
In a special way, Murphy is a lucky man. He acknowledges the fact.

Omaha World-Herald Editorials

Let's Hear It for Murphy
At a hearing on a bill to enlarge the Omaha City Council by 12 members, it was left to a state senator from South Sioux City to present the most forceful statement on behalf of Omaha.
Sen. John Murphy moved to kill the bill in the Urban Affairs Committee, saying it was "absurd" for the Legislature to try to dictate how many councilmen Omaha should have.
It is not reassuring to note that Omaha senators have shown little leadership in opposing legislative attempts to interfere in a matter that should be decided by the people of Omaha.
Perhaps they need to hear from their constituents. Or perhaps they need to take lessons from Murphy of South Sioux City on how to look out for Omaha's interests.

Senators: Watch Your TV Tactics
Wayne, Neb.
Our state senators should remember what happened to Joe McCarthy when he acquired television exposure in 1953. His support waned rapidly with his delaying tactics and quibbling.
Our Sen. Murphy tells it like it is. We are of different political persuasions, but if every state legislature had a majority of candid and capable members like Murphy, this country would make progress a lot faster.
Aaron Butler.

Later in the day, Murphy was sitting in the Urban Affairs Committee during a discussion on a bill to change the way Lincoln elects its city councilmen. "I'm already a member of the super board of Omaha," Murphy said, "and I don't want to become a member of the super board of Lincoln."
The colorful rookie senator from South Sioux also had a blunt comment on what he thought his fellow Urban Affairs Committee members ought to do with the Lincoln bill.
"Committees need more guts and ought to do the job," Murphy said, "and ought to do this session."

He Said It
LT. GOVERNOR Gerald Whelan discussed the Nebraska Legislature in an article prepared by him for the Nebraska Legislature, a publication of the Nebraska Press Association.
From comments in the article it is clear that Whelan considers South Sioux's John R. "Bob" Murphy as one of the most articulate in the state senate.
Sample the following quote from the Whelan article:
"Few senators possess great oratorical skill. The Chambers, the Lewises, the Cavanaugh's, the Murphys and a few others will compare well with any senate in the country."
An article appearing in a Lincoln newspaper, Whelan said he admires those who are skillful at it. He nominated Sen. John Cavanaugh of Omaha, Frank Lewis of Bellevue and John R. Murphy of South Sioux City as "three who how how to attain a goal" in the Nebraska Legislature.

Finalists
Finalists in The World-Herald's "Love Is" contest covered a lot of territory in their definitions. Here are a few examples:
Love is...
—Kissing your dog on the mouth without wiping it off. Debra Adams, Red Oak, Ia.
—Going hunting at 4:30 a.m., because the guys couldn't make it. Ruth Bahr, 2320 South 74th Street.
er that doesn't fit. Debra Firman, 9477 Wirt Street.
—Remembering with laughter the disasters. Joe Ann Lawson, 5115 Emmet Street.
—When daddy kisses mommy on the nose and she smiles. Dianna Detore, Mound City, Mo.
—Campaigning for him, though you'd rather he weren't in politics. Mrs. John Murphy, South Sioux City, Neb.
