It's Time to Order Trees

It's time for farmers to make plans for planting windbreaks and order trees for spring plantings, Wayne County Soil Conservation Service (SCS) director Arnold Marr said Friday.

Marr said research has shown that a good wind barrier on the north and west sides of farmsteads will reduce heating bills by about 30 per cent. Livestock are also better protected from winter winds, he added.

The county SCS office will assist with planning windbreaks, Marr said. The Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service makes available a cost-sharing program for establishing windbreaks. Both U.S. Department of Agriculture offices are located in the same building in Wayne.

Marr said the program administered by the ASCS pays about 70 per cent of the total cost of establishing a windbreak. He said it usually costs about $150 to plant a windbreak and with the cost-sharing program the price tag is reduced to about $40.

Trees can now be ordered through the SCS office. Price with cost-sharing is $14.50 a hundred. Marr said the supply of some species is limited so it is a good idea to order as soon as possible.

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will have a tree planting service available in the spring, Marr said. The service includes planting of seedlings and spraying herbicide for weed control. Arrangements for the planting service can be made through Marr's office.

Hot-Line Still Open to St. Nick

Youngsters anxious to meet Santa Claus on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day will have a chance to do so if their parents call the Wayne County Joycess.

The organization again this year is offering a hot-line service to the white-bearded man from the North Pole. Just call 375-4606 or 375-2199 for an appointment and St. Nicholas is sure to be there.

Cost to bring Santa from up North is $5 a visit.

Laurel School Bid Decision Expected Tuesday

The Laurel school board will decide Tuesday afternoon on the awarding of bids for construction of a new elementary building and gymnasium.

Last week officials received bids from so many firms that members decided to go over individual bids before making their decision public.

Ten Firms Put in Bids for Mechanical, Six for Educational Equipment and Five for Carpets.

Tuesday's meeting is slated for 1:30 p.m. at the city auditorium.

Study Group Is Examining Road Proposal

A committee of commissioners from two town boards is now studying cost comparisons of methods of surfacing a road between Randolph and Sholes.

The study committee was formed last week after Cedar and Wayne County commissioners and Randolph and Sholes town boards met in Sholes to discuss the possibility of the project.

Engineering consultants recommended three methods for paving the four miles of road: hot mix, concrete, and armor coat.

The two counties involved would each pay for about two miles of the project, for portions of the road within the respective counties. In addition, the two towns would share costs for portions of the road within their limits.

There now is no hard surfaced road providing access to Sholes.

Winside Schools Will Present Two Concerts

The first of two Christmas concerts by Winside school students will begin tonight (Monday) at 7:30, with the second concert to follow a week later, Dec. 20, at the same time.

Tonight's concert will feature vocal and instrumental music students in grades 7-12. Youngsters in grades kindergarten through six will star in the Dec. 20 presentation with vocal numbers, along with the fifth and sixth grade instrumental music students.

Both concerts will be in the grade school multi-purpose room.

Beef Improvement Is Meeting Topic

Beef improvement will be the topic of a meeting Tuesday at the Wayne City auditorium, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Cow-calf management specialist Jim Gosey from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension office will discuss practical application of cross-breeding and of performance testing to improve beef herds.

Wayne County extension agent said the meeting is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Promotion Offers Chance for Dollars

Wayne shoppers Tuesday night will have a chance to pick up some extra Christmas spending money.

The first Christmas Bucks drawing is scheduled then. Two prizes will be awarded, one worth $100 in Christmas Bucks, redeemable like cash at participating merchants. Second prize will be $50 in the Christmas coupons.

Tickets for the drawings are available from participating Wayne merchants. No purchase is required. On each Christmas Bucks drawing date, lists of numbers will be selected at random. The person reporting the number highest on the lists, which will be posted in stores, will win the $100 prize. The second highest number reported will win the $50 prize.

Drawings are scheduled for Dec. 14, 15, 17, 18, 21 and 22. A special $500 Christmas Bucks drawing is scheduled for Dec. 23.

In addition, stakes have been increased for the Birthday Bucks drawing each Thursday night. The consolation prize, for the shopper whose birth date comes closest to the date announced, will win $100 on Dec. 16 and Dec. 23, rather than the regular $25 consolation prize.

In addition to the open events, Wayne stores were also scheduled to be open for business on Sunday afternoons, 1-5, Dec. 12 and 19.

Most Wayne merchants will be closing at 4 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

Council to Seat New Members

A pair of new city councilmen will be seated at the Wayne council's regular meeting Tuesday night.

Joining the council will be Keith Mosley, who previously served on the council and replaced Ted Bahe, who has moved to Peru, and Sam Hepburn, who defied incumbent Ivan Beeks in the November general election.

The council will elect a president as part of the reorganization of the body.

A second hearing will be conducted at 8 p.m. regarding a community development block grant. The grant will request some $200,000 in federal funds for construction of a storm sewer in the Roosevelt Park district in Wayne. Regulations require that two public hearings be conducted before the grant application can be submitted. The first hearing took place at the regular council meeting. Discussion of alternatives for replacing the city landfill is also scheduled for the meeting. The landfill now in use is expected to be filled up by next summer and the council has been exploring options for replacement.

Several city officials Thursday visited Neligh to view a compactor operation there. The council is considering installing a compactor which would compress refuse into containers for transportation to the Norfolk landfill.

The other alternative discussed so far is arrangement for operation of a private landfill. The council has previously agreed for proposals for such an operation. The only one received was from Vernon Russell, a council member and owner of Wayne Refuse Service.

Russell has indicated he would be interested in operating a private landfill if the city would agree not to do so for at least 10 years.

Other agenda items include:

- Ordinance 858, dealing with dumping on city streets.
- Discussion of electric liability.
- Discussion of the Nebraska Municipal Power Pool. Wayne recently became the first member city to withdraw from the pool.

THESE DANCERS demonstrated forms of modern dance during a concert Thursday afternoon at Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center at Wayne State College. The physical education students and their instructor Baabie Wispe were responsible for choreography for the dance concert. The students are enrolled in a modern dance class.

United Way Nearing Goal

Only $1,050 away from reaching the goal, that's how close the United Way drive in Wayne is to completing this year's goal of $13,000.

The amount, board members learned Friday, represents nearly 100 per cent participation from residents, Wayne College faculty, city and county employees who have done more than their share to make this year's drive a success.

Drive chairman Dick Manley expressed optimism that the $13,000 goal could be reached if all the pledge cards from Wayne businesses and their employees are returned.

Energy Systems Host for Coffee

Energy Systems division of the Northern Natural Gas Co. on the Wayne State College campus will be host for the monthly chapter of Commerce coffee scheduled for Dec. 20.

All chapter members are invited to attend the monthly get together from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

Report on a Study of Property Acquisition for Installation of a Sidewalk between Villa Wayne and Bill's GW.

— Discussion of the proposed one- and six-year street plans.

— Discussion of sale of property at 208 West Third St. The city council has discussed selling the house and property, or selling the house but retaining the property. The Wayne Chamber of Commerce Wednesday passed a resolution opposing sale of the land because of its potential for development as a parking lot.

— Discussion of the city taxi cab operation. Mayor Freeman Decker at past meetings has expressed concern because of the amount of money lost on the cab service.

A special council meeting is scheduled for Wednesday morning from 9 until 11:30. Discussion of the one- and six-year street plan, and of a flood insurance study are agenda items.

Campaign Aimed at Child Abuse

The Nebraska Department of Public Welfare is initiating a campaign to make the public aware of problems with child abuse and neglect, according to Sarra Shafer, employee of Region IV, of the state welfare department.

She and Bernice Meredith of Multi-County Social Service Unit 141 (MCSU141) Thursday in an interview said they believe most people aren't aware of child abuse and neglect problems.

Region IV encompasses a 22-county area in Northeast Nebraska. MCSU-141 serves a six-county area.

Mrs. Shafer defined abuse or neglect as endangering a child's life or physical or mental well-being, or deprivation, such as leaving children less than six years old unattended in a vehicle, or not feeding that youngster or providing proper clothing.

Some forms of abuse, such as child battering, are apparent, she said, but other forms, such as emotional or sexual, or neglect to change diapers or take care of health needs are not always as easily identified. Many persons are not aware of the emotional abuse or neglect is a problem, she said, but those types of abuse can lead to later social or legal problems.

Child abuse is often cyclical, handed down from generation to generation, Mrs. Shafer said. Parents tend to raise children as they were raised.

The problem is not common among parents with low self-esteem, among those who are isolated without family or friends to turn to for advice or assistance, and among parents who don't receive "appropriate emotional responses" from their parents when they were growing up.

Wayne County Veterans Received $582,000 in Benefits During 1976

Wayne County veterans received $582,000 in benefits as their part of more than $135 million disbursed in Nebraska during fiscal 1976.

James Smith, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Lincoln reported that the state total represents an increase of $11 million over the previous year.

The largest portion, $52 million, represented disability compensation and pension checks to veterans, their dependents and survivors.

Of the more than $582,000 disbursed to Wayne County veterans, some $320,000 went for compensation and pension, $223,000 went for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $38,000 went for insurance and indemnities.

In Dixon County, $226,000 of the $411,000 total went for compensation and pensions, nearly $158,000 went for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $27,000 went for insurance and indemnities.

For the state overall, $36.2 million was provided for GI Bill educational and vocational rehabilitation programs and

Trade and Market Analysis Proposed

Wayne businessmen might be learning how to apply techniques used in identifying trade and market areas if enough of them decide to go along with a proposal made Wednesday at a Chamber of Commerce meeting by the associate director of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Bureau of Business Research.

Dr. Ed Hauswald said the program he would develop if businessmen approve would be designed to bring information available at his bureau into the community and teach local people how to use it to identify their business market areas individually and the community's trade area collectively.

"We've got much of this data in Lincoln and we would like to make it available. We don't have all the data necessary, but much of what we have isn't being used."

Hauswald said an increase in both the information relevant to markets and trade areas and the skills needed to use the information in determination and analysis of markets and trade areas would benefit businessmen in individual and group development programs.

If adopted, the program would involve a series of training sessions, probably six one-night sessions on alternating weeks. Businessmen would learn to use data supplied by the Bureau of Business Research to analyze market and trade area.

Data used in analysis includes population, employment, personal income and sales figures.

Hauswald said the bureau has undertaken similar studies itself in the past but the last couple of years have been leaning more towards the do-it-yourself approach. Overall objective is to increase the ability of businessmen to analyze trade and market areas, and to use the information in understanding why developments in local business are occurring.

Also, Hauswald said, if the proposal is adopted the project hopefully would become a continuing program, with his bureau providing up-to-date information to businessmen as they need it to update trade and market analysis.

The result, he said, would be an increase in ability to identify determinants of trade areas, to analyze information and gain an understanding of the interrelationship among the national See MARKET, page 10

Farmers Reelect Hansen

Wayne County farmers reelected Norris Hansen of Winside to a second term on the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service county committee.

Hansen finished with 129 votes, narrowly edging out Dean Owens of Carroll who received 126 votes. Vernon Bghmer of Hoskins received 43 votes.

Ballots for the elections were distributed by mail with a Dec. 6 deadline for returning them to the ASCS office in Wayne. Votes were tabulated and the winner announced on Wednesday.

The three county committee members also selected officers Wednesday.

Ralph Olson of Carroll is chairman, Hansen is vice-chairman and Alden Johnson of Wakefield is a regular member.

The county committee is responsible for overseeing USDA programs in the county. For example, the committee meets to determine eligibility for crop disaster payments during years of drought or other disaster.

Winter Concert Will Feature 'Mardi Gras'

Students and are musicians will perform in Ramsey Theatre of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center Tuesday at 8 p.m. for the annual Wayne State College Community orchestra.

The concert is free, open to the public. Along with college students, musicians hail from surrounding communities. Included are performers from Norfolk, Meadow Grove, Battle Creek, Wakefield, and Wayne.

One highlight of the concert, according to Michael Palumbo, conductor and instructor of music at Wayne, will be the composition "Mardi Gras" described as a "symphonic fantasy."

This selection was written especially for Palumbo and his orchestra by Antony Garlick, professor of music at Wayne. Originally from England, Garlick came to Wayne in 1960.

He studied previously in the Royal Conservatory in England and Santa Cecilia in Rome. Actively composing, Garlick's compositions are now available under the "Seasaw" label.

Other selections include "Toccata and Fugue" an 18th century baroque piece by Eberlin, "March" from the English Folk Song Suite by Vaughan Williams and "Overture to the Music for the Royal Fireworks," a selection by Handel.

A favorite of Palumbo's is also phony No. 5," by William Boyce is written for strings, two oboes, two trumpets, and a timpani. This music is from the early classical period.

Allen Offering Night Course on Management

There's still time to sign up for a farm management and record keeping class to be offered at Allen High School.

According to instructor Daryl McChes, at least two more families are needed to attend the monthly meetings. So far four husband-wife teams have registered for the course which offers complete computerized farm analysis help.

Tonight (Monday) marks the first of 12 monthly meetings to be held at the high school's library. In addition to the meetings, McChes will make individual visits with each couple at their farms.

Cost for the course is $55.

Allen Concert Is Thursday

A Christmas program featuring members of the elementary and high school vocal and instrumental groups will be presented at 7:30 Thursday night at Allen High School's auditorium.

Five different groups of students will perform during the hour show under the direction of music instructor Miss Lorna Stamp.

A special slide presentation will be given while the students are performing. In addition to the music, band mothers will be serving refreshments.

In Lancaster County, where the Lincoln VA hospital is located, the VA expended $23.5 million, with $6.4 million for compensation and pension benefits, and $12 million for hospital and regional office operating costs.

Payments in Hall County, where the Grand Island VA hospital is located, totaled $10 million, with $7 million for hospital operating costs. Compensation and pension payments amounted to $1.7 million, hospital and regional office operating costs.

The remainder of the $135 million state total was obligated for GI insurance related costs, $559,474.

The VA has four facilities in Nebraska, including hospitals in Omaha, Lincoln and Grand Island, and a regional office

'We, the people' can change nation

It was almost unbearably hot and humid in Philadelphia in the summer of 1787. When the delegates to the Constitutional Convention closed the windows of Independence Hall they sweated, when they opened them they were distracted by street noises and pestered by flies.

Toward the end of the Convention, Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania was chosen to reduce the agreed-upon articles of the new Constitution to a smooth draft. Not long after he sat down to his task, there flowed from his pen one of the most surprising and powerful phrases in all our history, seven words of electric significance.

"We, the people of the United States..." Whatever the phrase may have meant to the framers of the Constitution, it has in the years since then, come to stand for the very essence of self-government. It has come to stand for the fact that all the vast and weighty machinery of government, all the pomp and dominion of state, all the powers and principalities derive their legitimacy, ultimately, from you and me.

For many years Americans acted in the spirit of that phrase. In fact, Europeans marveled at the readiness of groups of Americans to get together to pursue any public issue of common interest.

Then in the middle of this century we almost lost the habit. We almost resigned ourselves to the idea that the phrase, "We, the people," really meant the federal government.

The nation had become too big, too complex and was changing too fast for the individual to understand or feel that he could participate. The individual still suffers from that sense of powerlessness.

The best news — and the biggest political surprise — in recent years is the emergence of a new kind of hardhitting, relentless and successful citizen action to "make our system work." The citizens involved are from every walk of life — clerks and housewives, druggists and autoworkers, teachers and retired people. And they come from every part of America.

The targets are politicians who ignore the people, unresponsive bureaucracies, and behind-the-scenes betrayals of the public interest.

The re-emergence of citizen action comes in a form that is prepared to deal with bigness and complexity. It's a tough-minded, hardhitting new version of the very old American tradition. And before its through it's going to bring back the vitality of an era in American life in which individuals were not cowed and made to feel powerless by the intricacies of large-scale organization.

But we have a long way to go — "to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessing of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

These are great phrases, and the greatest of them all is "We, the people of the United States." Not we, the public officials of the United States. Not we, the certified experts in public administration. Just we, the people.

No matter how accomplished our public servants are, the inner mystery of democracy will always involve that old and good idea: "We, the people."

You and I and others like us, acting in our own communities across the nation, can pull this fragmented society together again. We can recreate an America in which we speak to one another in trust and mutual respect, sharing common objectives, working toward common goals. We can return this nation to a path of confidence and well-being.

You and I can do these things. No one can do them for us. — John Gardner, former HEW Secretary.

STRAYEr Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

It almost chokes me to admit it, but President-elect Jimmy Carter has done something with which I whole-heartedly agree.

He has asked the Charlie Daniels Band to play for the inaugural. The CDB is a country-rock band and should provide a slightly different musical fare than is usually found at such an occasion. Charlie is making a concession for the President-elect; he said he will wear a tux for the event.

Polster Interesting
The presentation by polster George Gallup Jr. last week was one of the most interesting recent events in Northeast Nebraska.

Gallup's insights as to the mood of the American people and regarding the 1976 Presidential election were revealing and educational.

The polster also presented an interesting proposal. He believes the time is ripe to inflate a national youth service program. Young people spend one year serving the nation, either in the armed forces or in agencies designed to improve social and economic conditions.

Gallup said surveys have shown that a majority of young people would be willing to serve the nation in some capacity and he thinks the national service program could help alleviate a host of problems in the United States.

Sounds Good, but...
Sounds good on the face of it, but if it were to follow the precedent of many other government programs, I can't help but think it would eventually increase federal expenditures far out of proportion of any benefits derived. That perhaps is a bit cynical but too often we have seen programs which sound good at the beginning end up costing much and accomplishing little.

Good Idea
One Nebraska newspaper publisher sponsored a unique dinner following the election. He bought steaks for candidates who lost, and about 70 other people turned out for the event.

The idea was to say to the losers that although their bids for election were unsuccessful they were due some thanks from the public for participating and helping the democratic process work.

President Ford, by the way, expressed his regret at not being able to attend.

The Hard Way
Dad always did say I had to learn everything the hard way. Guess I proved him right again last week. I told Jim Marsh I would weigh Holiday Heralds to see how many in a pound. Couldn't get the scale to work. Kept piling on more papers and I still couldn't get the pointer on the arm to line up with the balance mark. Then I figured out that I had too much, not enough weight!

That was embarrassing enough, but it was even worse when Jim stomped over, discovered I had the scale set on one ounce instead of one pound, made the adjustment and did it himself.

Unbelievable
You're not going to believe this one. Dick Lindberg, West Point Newspapers co-publisher, said in his column that deceased Illinois welfare recipients received form letters informing them their benefits have been cut off because they are dead.

The letter reads: "Your assistance benefits will be discontinued. Reason: It has been reported to our office that you expired."

An official of the Illinois Welfare Division says she is merely following Department of Health, Education and Welfare regulations which require notification of recipients who lose their benefits. She says the regulations make no exceptions for deceased persons.

Don't pick the question of whether or not those who want to dispute the decision are allowed to appeal.

'Know-how' helps with winter driving

In the eyes of police officers who must keep traffic moving during winter storms, a little extra "know-how" can avoid prolonged and costly delays this winter.

Traffic tie-ups not only inconvenience all motorists, a police spokesman has warned, "but they often hopelessly block the movement of crucial emergency services as well. And it makes little difference whether local motorists or out-of-state cars are involved."

The spokesman was Glen D. King, executive director, International Association of Chiefs of Police, and a director of the Safe Winter Driving League head, quarters in Chicago.

King is adding the resources of IACP to a national effort to insure that all drivers have the know-how to overcome adverse weather conditions — winter driving precautions that have been recommended by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and that have been endorsed by IACP. They include:

See that your car has a tune-up and thorough mechanical check.

Make sure defrosters and windshield wiper blades can clean snow or wet snow off your windshield. Replenish antifreeze fluid in windshield washers.

Use good tires with good treads. Have brakes checked for equalized braking. Don't become overconfident about your winter driving skills. Plan for periodic rest stops — don't cover too much territory in one sitting. Check weather and road conditions along the way. Stop and wait when either become uncertain.

Anticipate situations that call for reduced speed — intersections and your own turning maneuvers, for example.

Increase following distances when surfaces are slick. Use extra care in signaling other drivers who seem to be following too closely and who may be unable to stop.

Keep your gas tank reasonably full at all times. Keep your exhaust system, battery and emergency equipment in dependable condition.

Safely check your trunk. Emergency gear should include a glass scraper-brush; booster cable; flares or emergency lights; a shovel; sand, rock salt or traction mats; a tow chain or strap; extra windshield washer fluid; blankets; and tire chains.

If you must drive during severe snow and ice conditions, tests by the National Safety Council have demonstrated that reinforced tire chains far outperform any other traction equipment. They provide from four to seven times the pulling ability of regular tires for climbing ice grades or pulling through deep snow.

"Remember," King concluded on behalf of all IACP members, "thorough preparation and a healthy respect for winter's hazardous driving situations are two important elements in safe and enjoyable winter trips."

Out of Old

The early 1930's are remembered as the years that Oklahoma and Kansas blew into Nebraska and Nebraska went north to the Dakotas. Though thousands of Nebraskans suffered through these terrible times, few personal accounts have been written about them.

There are hundreds of accounts of various Nebraska blizzards, but few people have recorded events during the black blizzards. One interesting exception found in the library of the Nebraska State Historical Society was written by Mrs. Edna Robert. It was published in Chase County History, Vol. IV (1971).

"On the afternoon of May 22, 1933 we had what was known as the 'Black Day' and it will be long remembered. By 4 p.m. there was complete darkness that seemed velvet black. Car lights could not penetrate it and everything made of metal was charged with electricity. Barbed wire fences showed a spark of light at the point of each barb. Farmers told of seeing light at the tips of cattle horns and horses' and mules' ears. It was not safe to use the telephone. Cars refused to start. All growing crops, especially wheat, were severely damaged by 'Electric Burn,' as it was called."

"Mrs. Elen Finch. . . was buried in the Imperial Cemetery that afternoon and car lights were used in the darkness. The services were shortened and all soon left the cemetery. Mr. R. Lufers, the mortician, said it probably prevented an accident as he found, the next morning, that the wind had blown some of the windmill down and parts were lying off-aloft on the grave. A boy, farming the Max Hoffmeister land near by, could see the glimmering light in the cemetery. With all the unusual phenomena of nature happening at his time and now this light, he thought it could be the resurrection and he wanted no part of it. He turned the team loose and took off on foot on the dead run."

"We lived in Champion at this time and had a potato cave large enough to drive a truck down into it. All the people in this little town hurried to the cave as none knew what the darkness might bring. My husband and I stayed outside and picked up chickens and little pigs and put them in the barn until the darkness drove us into the cave.

"We left the cave around five in the evening as it was getting light and the sun tried to shine. The wind ceased and the atmosphere had a pink cast. Red dirt was falling from above. It must have been carried a long distance. I held out my hands and as I remember if the dirt seemed coarse and rough. New varieties of weed seed were carried in by these

OBSERVATIONS

Plan is worth a look

Not many people showed up Tuesday night for the public hearing on the proposed Wayne County comprehensive and those who did attend didn't offer much in the way of testimony.

The attendance record could be an indication of many things, one probably the fact that roads were icy that night.

At the same time, it could mean people aren't interested in the plan, have confidence in the men on the planning commission and aren't concerned about it, or aren't really aware of it.

In one sense, the plan doesn't present any reason for a great deal of concern, because it is not regulatory in nature. However, it will hopefully provide some guidelines for future development in the county and because of that it should be a subject of interest.

Apparently not too many people have taken time to look at the proposed plan. It admittedly is a bulky document because of its nature as indicated by the title — "comprehensive."

It is designed to serve as a guide for the next 20 or 30 years and it might still behoove people to take a look at it, or at least those portions which concern them. Copies are available at the Farmers State Bank in Carroll, Voss Implement in Hoskins, the Winside State Bank, and at the county clerk's office. Those complete copies can be checked out. In addition, copies of individual chapters are available at the county clerk's office.

It appears that the joint planning commission and State Office of Programming and Planning have done a good job in compiling the plan. It sounds like a good idea for county residents to know what is in it. — Jim Strayer.

'In Touch' Series Begins This Week

"In Touch," a program series designed to share key ideas on ways couples can enrich their relationship, begins this month on ETV.

The program, developed by Dr. Ron Daly, extension family life specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, and his wife, Donna, is part of the UNL Cooperative Extension Service program, "Enriching Family Relationships, Impact '77."

During the four one-half hour shows, specific skills will be demonstrated with which couples can improve and expand upon their relationships. Working as a team, Daly and his wife reinforce these skills with three other couples. They explore typical ways couples react to one another, common behaviors which block relationship growth, the importance of sharing, and the need for positive reinforcement in a relationship.

In each program, film clips will be shown of couples who participated in Home Extension Club workshops conducted by Daly in counties throughout the state.

The program will be shown at 8:30 p.m. on Dec. 16, 23 and 30, and Jan. 6. ETV will repeat the shows on the Sunday following.

Carroll Lady Soon to Be 99

"My eyesight and hearing aren't so good anymore, otherwise I'm pretty well," smiles Mrs. Mary Morris of Carroll.

Mrs. Morris, who came with her parents and nine brothers and sisters to Wayne County in the late 1800's to settle on a farm southeast of Carroll, will celebrate her 99th birthday this Friday. She was born Mary H. Warrh on Dec. 17, 1877, in Washington County.

Mrs. Morris attended Wayne Normal School and taught rural school for seven years prior to her marriage to C.H. Morris in 1904. At that time she was teaching a country school four miles west of Carroll.

The couple lived poorest of Carroll. When her husband died in 1963, Mrs. Morris continued to live on the farm with her son, Harold, who is 72. Mrs. Morris and her son moved into Carroll last month, following a farm sale.

Looking back, Mrs. Morris recalls that at the time of her marriage she belonged to Carroll Methodist Church and her husband was a member of the Welsh-speaking Zion Congregational Church, located west of Carroll.

Mrs. Morris says many times she and her husband traveled by horse and buggy to the Methodist Church, afterwards stopping at the Congregational Church so Mr. Morris could attend the Welsh service.

Being a teacher, Mrs. Morris was asked to teach Sunday school at the Congregational Church, and was the first to introduce the English language to the Sunday school students. Mrs. Morris still attends services at the Congregational Church regularly. She is a chapter member of the Congregational Womens Fellowship and has held various offices. She was also a member of the Carroll Project Club for several years.

Mrs. Morris still has a large collection of buttons, which she began as a hobby. Her husband, who raised sheep which he sold for national honors, collected different types of barbed wire as a hobby.

Mrs. Morris said she helped her husband with his sheep project as much as possible, and only last year, went out in the middle of winter to bottle feed lambs when her son was ill. Besides Harold, Mrs. Morris has another son, Donald, who resides in Wichita, Kan. A daughter, Mrs. Virgil (Wilva) Brewer, lives in Falls Church, Vir. Another son, Oberlin, died in a car accident in 1963, one month before her husband's death. The Morris also raised Mrs. Morris' niece, Gwilla Jones, whose mother died when she was a year old. Gwilla resides in Maryland.

Mrs. Morris has a sister in Salem, Ore. and a brother who makes his home in Aberdeen, S.D.

MRS. MARY MORRIS of Carroll still remains active at 98 and plans to stay that way when she turns 99 next Friday. Mrs. Morris was born Dec. 17, 1877 in Washington County and came with her family to Carroll in the late 1800's.

Oops! All Band Alumni Invited

An article in Thursday's Wayne Herald concerning the recent Wayne Carroll Music Boosters meeting incorrectly reported that all band instructors at Wayne High School during the past nine years would be issued a special invitation to attend a Mid-Winter Concert at Wayne High on Feb. 13.

Ron Dalton, band instructor at Wayne High, will be presented an award that evening from the American School Band Directors Association. Dalton was recently named national Outstanding Young Band Director of the Year.

Thursday's Wayne Herald article should have read that all band members at Wayne High School will be invited to attend the Mid-Winter Concert, during which Dalton will be honored.

Dalton joined the Wayne School system as band director nine years ago, following his graduation from Wayne State College.

Mrs. Cletus Sharer announced during the Booster meeting that a total profit of $2,108.67 was made from recent magazine sales. Thursday's Wayne Herald incorrectly stated that total sales were $2,108.67.

Cats Score 1 Point in Last Stanza

Frigid Shooting Chills Winside's Hopes

By DAN VODVARKA

Frigid shooting from the field and the line during the fourth quarter did Winside in Friday night as invading Wynot rallied for a 46-40 win.

Sitting on top of a 39-32 lead at the end of three periods, Winside's offense went as cold as the Nebraska winter weather outside and the Wildcats only mustered a single point during the final eight minutes. The loss capped the Sam Colvin coached Cats to 0-3 on the year. Wynot, meanwhile, moved its record to 1-2. The contest was Winside's first contest in the Lewis and Clark Conference west division this winter.

Using a full court press the whole game, the invaders tightened their press at the beginning of the fourth quarter and it began to pay off. In the opening minutes of the final quarter, Wynot ran off eight unanswered points to take a one-point lead. With about 4:00 left in the contest, Winside closed the gap to 42-40 as Bob Petersen hit a free throw but the point proved to be the Cats' only score for the quarter and Wynot went on to ice the contest with buckets by Kevin Promes and Larry Schulte.

In a contest marred by 48 fouls, only two of the game's ten starters finished the action as four starters from each ball club left the game with five fouls.

Wynot finished the contest with a 36-31 edge on the boards and both ball clubs had trouble hanging on to the ball as Wynot committed 29 turnovers and the hosts were guilty of 25 miscues. The losers hit on only three field goal attempts in the second half compared to 12 field goals for the Blue Devils.

Promes led the winners with 14 tallies while Kirk Schroeder and Marc Klug each had 10 points for Wynot. For Winside it was senior Wayne Smith with 14 points and Skip Deck with eight.

The contest opened with both ball clubs having their hottest quarter, Winside led after the first eight minutes, 16-15, on a last second, 45-foot jump shot by Deck that found nothing but net as the first quarter buzzer sounded.

Helped by some good free throw shooting, the hosts pulled away to a 28-20 lead at halftime and at one time during the third quarter owned a nine-point advantage before the lid went on the host's basket in the final stanza.

The JV contest was also a thriller as Wynot sid past the young Wildcats 37-35. Bruce Smith led the losers with 15 points.

Tuesday the Cats will travel to Osmond to face a tough Lewis and Clark foe.

Koll's 36 Points Are Not Enough Against Cards

Senior Tim Koll sank 10 buckets, was six for eight at the free throw line and pulled down 13 caroms. Friday night in Wayne's losing battle against host South Sioux City, 71-47.

Despite the lopsided score, coach Bill Sharpe said his Wayne club had shown a lot of improvement following his opening loss to Blair and with more playing experience could be a better club.

Koll was the attendant for both teams, drawing praise not only from Sharpe but from Cardinal coaches for his playing and 26 point total.

South Sioux pulled out to a 14-6 first quarter lead and never relinquished the margin throughout the rest of the contest.

The Blue Devils remained close to the home team in shooting from the field, hitting 40 percent of their shots compared to 46 for the Cardinals.

Seeing varsity action for the first time were Mark Brand and Tom Ginn, who were hampered by injuries prior to the start of the season.

The only major injuries Wayne suffered was to Vic Sharpe who reinjured his knee in the final stanza of the junior varsity match.

Tuesday night both Wayne teams will be in action again, traveling to Laurel.

Cold Shooting Stops Wakefield

Both Wakefield's varsity and reserve clubs hope to get on the winning track Thursday night after suffering two setbacks each last week.

The latest loss was to visiting Emerson-Hubbard gals Thursday when senior Jackie Wraeger contributed 22 points to Emerson's 47-31 win over the Trojanettes.

Wraeger hit 14 points in the second half to keep her team in front as Wakefield's second half rally fell short.

Harrington's Last Shot Lifts Laurel to Victory

A driving layup by senior Tim Harrington with nine seconds left gave Laurel a sweet 62-60 victory over host Harrington Cedar Catholic Friday night.

Harrington, who led Laurel scoring with 14 points, broke Cedar's man-to-man press following a three-point Harrington conversion with 15 seconds left to tie the match at 60-60.

For coach Joel Parks, the win was his team's second against no losses and the second close match. In their first outing, the Bears got away with a 49-42 win over Norfolk High despite poor shooting from the field.

Friday night the Bears conquered poor shooting by ripping the nets for 53 per cent compared to 38 for Cedar. But the difference in the game was rebounding — only 18 for Laurel, 43 caroms for Harrington.

"Someone we're going to put them (rebounding and shooting) together and really play a good game," Parks reflected.

Cats Combine Hustle, Muscle for 98-80 Win

Combining hustle and muscle, Wayne State basketballers disrupted Doane College's usual finesse game Wednesday and dumped the defending Nebraska NAIA champion Tigers, 98-80.

Thus the Wildcats climbed to 4-0, the first time any Wayne cage team has gone that far unbeaten since the 1967-68 NAIA district winners went 6-0 before losing.

The Cats had a chance to match that 6-0 mark before taking a pre-holiday break. They were scheduled against Missouri Western at St. Joseph Saturday, then a Tuesday game with Midland at Fremont.

Coach Jim Seward hoped — and expected — the Missouri Western outcome would start a long string of surprises to upset the sages who picked Wayne to finish last in the eight-team Central States Intercollegiate Conference.

Seward said awhile back he feared that meant the Missouri Western simply did not know much about Wayne State basketball. Seward added that he and assistant Rusty Parker, having scouted several CSC teams, think they are good but not great — "and we think we're as good as any of them."

The Wildcats displayed their quality in shacking Doane, especially in the first half, which ended with a 56-32 Wayne advantage. As usual, Seward used nearly everybody in the first half, getting two benefits from the rotation: it kept fresh troops in the hectic pace, and it kept Doane readjusting defenses.

By intermission, three Wildcats already were in double figures, Lennie Adams with 12 on a perfect six for six field goal effort, Ed Gogan with 11 and Wayne Robinson, 10. Adams continued his onslaught for a game-high final of 24 — his Wayne career high in three seasons. He also got 14 rebounds, for a team season high.

Wayne's high-speed offense took a toll in field goal accuracy — on both teams. The Cats shot 39 per cent on 30 of 77 attempts. Doane did little better, 40 per cent on 33 of 82.

The pace took another toll, in fouls. Officials whistled Doane for 38, and Wayne cashed 38 of 51 free throws while Doane hit 14 of 22.

In fact, free throw accuracy is providing most of Wayne's winning margin. The Cats are 71 per cent at the charity line, a marked contrast from the mediocre 59 per cent which cost several games last year.

Eagles' 10-point Leads Fade

By BOB BARTLETT

Tim Wegner scored nine points, including four straight buckets, and Terry Bergmann hit eight of his 14 points in the final stanza Friday night to lift Bancroft to a come-from-behind 63-61 barnburner over host Allen.

With less than 40 seconds left in the game Bergmann tied the contest of 40-40 with his shot under the basket, then seconds later put his club out in front to slay with a pair of free throws to make the score 62-61. The final shot came on Wegner's first of two charity shots to give the Bulldogs their first win in three starts.

For the Eagles, the loss was their second in three starts. If there's a bright spot in the defeat, Allen put the most points on the board than any other Eagle team has in the past two seasons.

Leading the parade of Allen shooters in double figures was junior Tod Ellis who filled in 15 points. Behind him was senior Denny Uhl with 12 and sophomore Mark Creamer with 10.

"It's obvious that our youth and inexperience were definite factors in the final outcome of the game," said coach Jim Koontz, "but in no way would I find fault with our players. They put out a great effort, and to me the best team didn't win life ball game."

The youth and inexperience didn't show midway through the first period when the Eagles snapped Bancroft's man-to-man press defense and scored 10 quick points for a 15-5 lead. Bancroft whittled the lead down to 15-9 going into the second period when the Bulldogs of coach Robert Hovey got the leadership of senior LaMont Pagels with 17 points for a 28-26 ball game.

In the second half Allen again shrugged off youth and inexperience to once again force 44-40 lead at the end of the third period and up that margin to 54-44 late in the final stanza. Bul Bancroft's press started to take effect in the remaining minutes, causing Allen to give up the ball and allow the visitors to creep back into the ball game with less than a minute left.

Wegner fired up Bancroft's rally with eight straight points for a 58-52 Allen lead. Bergmann made two baskets for a 58-56 score before scoring leader Pagels sank his 25th point for a 60-58 ball game.

Bancroft came into Friday's game with a 73-point scoring average, losing its first two contests by a total of four points.

Allen quickly halted Bancroft's notorious fast-break with a simple, but effective, 2-1-2 zone defense and a tough offense to match.

The Eagles mastered the boards, 52-35, as Bart Gotch pulled down 14 caroms, Tod Ellis 12 and Uhl 11.

Turnovers hurt the Eagles midway through each half, enabling Bancroft to erase the leads. However, the Bulldogs finished with 25 giveaways, four more than Allen.

The difference in the score can be reflected by the shooting at the free throw line. Both teams had 22 chances: Bancroft made 13 while Allen made 11.

"We still have a lot of people who don't believe that Allen has improved. But our kids have and they can play ball. Coaches in our league better believe that Allen is for real," Koontz pointed out.

Allen's loss to Bancroft was the first in league play against a team which some East Division mentors in the Lewis and Clark Conference feel is the top team in the division.

Tuesday night Allen takes its 1-2 record to Newcastle.

Allen Girls Breeze Past Winnebago

Senior Lori Erwin tossed in 23 points and junior Stacey Koester dropped in 11 to lead Allen girls to their second win against no losses, 54-19 over visiting Winnebago Thursday night.

The Eagles had little trouble conquering Winnebago, jumping off to a 26-11 halftime lead and pouring in 28 points in the final two quarters.

Allen also mastered the boards, pulling down 58 caroms. Erwin grabbed her share with 17 and Koester had 11.

Tonight (Monday) Allen faces its stiffest test in conference play when the Eagles host Homer.

The Bears built an early seven-point lead in the first period and held on for a 33-28 halftime score. Late in the first period, Laurel had another seven-point advantage until thefts and free throw conversions by the home team wilted the Bears' margin.

Harrington was one of four players in double figures. Bob Dahlquist had 12, Cleve Skops 11 and Gordon Kardell 10.

Laurel's reserves pushed their winning streak to 44 games with a 58-54 decision over Harrington. No other scoring information was available.

Wakefield Rally Falls Short

Wakefield's second half rally came up five points short Friday night as favored Wisner Pilger turned back the Trojans, 45-40, in a West Husker Conference game on the Gators' court.

Trailing by 13 at the half, coach Joe Coble's Wakefield clan unraveled a poor first half offensive showing and geared up with a patient but effective scoring drive in the last two periods.

Senior Val Johnson popped in 13 points to lead Wakefield while Brad Jones and Jono Kline added 10 each in Wakefield's first loss of the season.

"This is the first game they played with a purpose and they played as a team together," Coble reflected about his first encounter in conference play.

The coach added that his "kids became of age in the second half" learning to play a patient ball game and make Wakefield's offense work.

Wakefield's game strategy at the outset was to slow down the pace against a fast-breaking Wisner team in hopes of cooling off Wisner's torrid shooting. Instead, Wakefield got into a run-and-gun match, allowing the host to run up 14 points in each frame for a 28-15 halftime lead.

Wakefield's junior varsity chucked up their third straight win against no defeats by nipping Wisner's reserves 49-47.

Hang Up Some Memories

Why not start a "memory tree" for Christmas? It's easy to do, and, as years go by, the family Christmas tree will become even more precious and beautiful. Each year add an ornament that represents the most outstanding event of the year. A gold band recalls a wedding, or a small car reminds the family of the purchase of their first car. A baby shoe marks a birth in the family, and a scroll honors a new graduate. This year, with all its nostalgia, is as good as any to start a "memory tree." How about hanging a special souvenir for the year of the Bicentennial?

Art Club Offers Stocking Stuffers

Christmas shoppers buying items from the Wayne State College Christmas Art Sale can serve a triple cause.

Artwork is ideal for stuffing Christmas stockings, you'll be "green" backing a special program concerned with art second grade and, you'll provide a group of not-so-rich artists with some coins for their Christmas needs.

Such are the claims of the Wayne State Visual Arts Club members, who are sponsoring a Christmas Art Sale Thursday on the WSC campus.

According to Marlene Mueller, Visual Arts Club sponsor, commission money from items sold will be placed in a special account by the club to back a special cultural program during second semester.

Sprinkler System Needed for Winside

Members of Winside school board learned Monday night that the school will have to purchase an automatic sprinkler system for the kitchen.

The state Fire Marshall's office ordered the school to buy the system following a recent inspection, said superintendent Don Leighton. No cost has been determined.

Members were in favor of continuing the state high school football playoffs, but felt general changes are needed to make the playoffs more meaningful and practical. Final decision on the fate of the playoffs will be made later this month by the Nebraska School Activities Association.

Deadline for filing the report, required by Nebraska law, is Jan. 1. The law applies to any farmland operated by a corporation.

Norfolk Wins See-Saw Battle

A 19 point explosion in the third period put Wayne in the driver's seat against Norfolk, at least "that's what" most fans thought. But the visitors turned in their own scoring spree in the final stanza, pumping in 24 points to hand the Blue Devils a 51-39 whipping.

Wayne tied the game at 11 all with 5:41 left in the second period when Jolene Bennett converted the first of two free throws, but the Devils were unable to put any more points on the board during the remainder of the period.

Leading Wayne from the floor was junior Sydney Mosley with 18.

Thursday night the Devils go after their first win when they host Laurel.

Market

economy, local economy, and specific businesses, and to determine markets relevant to business decision making.

The program Hauswald hopes to develop would include a number of communities across Nebraska, particularly county seat towns which now do not receive the type of information he was talking about.

Then, if enough support for the program is demonstrated by Nebraska businessmen, an actual grant application will be made requesting financing for the project.

Hauswald said that if the program is initiated there would probably be a nominal fee for businessmen taking the market analysis classes.

He also indicated that his bureau would welcome assistance from business and economy experts from agencies other than UN-L. He said, for example, he planned to contact the Wayne State College business department and explain the proposal.

For now, Hauswald said, the important factor is learning how much support there is among businessmen for the proposal.

"We need an indication, a reaction to the program. That is the basis for supporting the proposal if a grant application is submitted."

Hauswald said he believes chances of receiving a grant to finance the program would be good "if we get a groundswell of people in favor of it."

'Previews of Progress'
