Symphony Preparing For Second Season

The second season of the Northeast Nebraska Youth Symphony will begin Feb. 27 at Norfolk Senior High with registration at 1:30 p.m. and rehearsal from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

PMc and Wayne to Honor City of Laurel, Dr. Tien

Wayne mayor Freeman Decker in conjunction with Providence Medical Center (PMc) has declared Feb. 26 as "Laurel Day" in recognition of the community's contribution to making the hospital a reality.

The hospital will sponsor an open house for Laurel residents on the special day. Guest of honor will be Dr. Nguyen Huu Tien who will begin his medical practice in Laurel July 1.

Representatives of the American School Band Directors Association and of Medalist Industries, Inc. made presentations to Dalton during the program.

Money raised through the dinner will help finance next year's foreign exchange student program. AFS sponsors foreign students attending Wayne High School.

This year's AFS student is Jo Jo Quijano from the Philippines, staying with the Rev. Kenneth Edmonds family, Mrs. Herbert Niemann, AFS president, said foreign exchange students are available to speak at club meetings and civic functions.

The AFS president added that a Wayne family has applied to be host for an exchange student next year. The name of the family will be announced later if the application is approved.

Rebecca's poster features a sleuth following a set of footprints and the legend "Eat Healthy Foods, They'll Always Track Down Cavities."

Kristy's poster features America's most famous smile, that of President Jimmy Carter.

Second quarter amounts are: Winside, 31, $23,250; Pender, 10, $6,875; Wisner, $8, $5,600; Wakefield, 11, $7,542; Wayne, 83, $51,250; Randolph, 19, $8,787; Laurel, 10, $4,286; Pierce, 4, $3,431; Norfolk, 38, $32,199.

Annual tuition rates for non-resident students are: Pender, $2,750; Norfolk, $2,150; Laurel, $2,000; Winside, $3,000; Randolph, $1,850; Pierce, $1,850; Wayne, $2,500; Wakefield, $2,750; Wisner, $2,800.

Some of the students included in first- and second-quarter totals did not attend for the entire period and adjustments in tuition payments were made accordingly.

KWSC Open House Scheduled

The public will have an opportunity to examine new radio and television facilities at Wayne State College next week at the open house offered by KWSC-FM radio station and Cable Channel 10 television station.

Scheduled for 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Thursday the open house is designed to "provide an in-depth look at the student-operated college radio and television stations," especially noting new color television equipment and radio studio equipment.

The open house is sponsored by Iota Beta Sigma, the honorary broadcast fraternity at Wayne State College. Members of the organization will conduct tours for the open house set in the basement of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center.

Airport Board Leases Property, Renews Contract

Wayne airport authority members meeting Monday night opened sealed bids for farming operations at the airport, renewed the agreement with the airport operator for another year and discussed proposed airport improvements.

High bid accepted by the authority for farming the ground adjacent to the runways was submitted by the Straight Brothers at $53.20 per acre.

ACP Plan Could Save Lives

Action by Wayne County farmers could save lives and prevent serious injuries to motorists, according to Ray Butts, Wayne County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Farm Bureau Youth Seminar Forms Mailed

The Wayne County Farm Bureau Feb. 28 will select representatives to attend the annual Citizenship Youth Seminar in Aurora March 30 and 31 and April 1.

The Wayne County Farm Bureau office has distributed questionnaires to rural sophomore and junior students in the county. The questionnaires must be returned by Feb. 28.

Purpose of the seminar sponsored by the Nebraska Farm Bureau is to foster a better understanding of Nebraska heritage and the unicameral legislative system.

A spokesman for the local Farm Bureau office said two or three students will be selected to attend the seminar. Students need not be from Farm Bureau member families to be selected.

Clinic Will Attract 30 High School Bands

Thirty bands from high schools in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota will be represented at Wayne State College Saturday for the Second Annual High School Honor Band Festival.

The day full of rehearsals and clinic sessions will feature a concert at 1 p.m. by the Wayne State Jazz-Rock Ensemble and other instrumental ensembles. Then at 7:30 p.m., the Wayne State musicians and high school band members will perform in the grand finale concert in Ramsey Theatre.

Both concerts are open to the public. Professor Hugh E. McMillen, director of the University of Colorado bands and head of the wind and percussion division in the College of Music there will serve as a special guest conductor for the festival with Dr. Raymond Kellon, professor of music at WSC.

Deadline Is Near For Assessing

With only seven working days left before the March 1 delinquent date, some 250 Wayne County residents are yet to have personal property assessed for taxing purposes, county assessor Doris Stipp said.

The number represents about 40 per cent of the total required to pay property taxes. Property must be assessed before March 1 or owners are subject to a 50 per cent penalty on taxes owed.

County treasurer Leon Meyer said the number of license plate renewals for February is some 600 below the same date for last year. Vehicle owners who have a "2" sticker on their license plates must renew registration before the end of February or be subject to citation for not having valid registration.

Chamber Announces Pie Contest and Home Show

Many Wayne merchants will display more cherry pies in their stores today (Thursday) through Saturday.

The Chamber has also announced that it will revive its popular Spring Home Show this year.

Scholarships Available for Music Students

Wayne State College announced this week that four-year music scholarships paying full tuition will be awarded to outstanding vocal music students in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota.

Students will be selected on the basis of performance ability, prior musical activity and academic achievement. Those selected, resident or non-resident, for awards will be granted full tuition, according to Dr. Cornell Runestad, head of the division of fine arts.

UN-L Professor Is Speaker for Reading Council

Dr. Gordon Greene of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will be guest speaker Thursday for a meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Council of the International Reading Association.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Birch Room of the Wayne State College student union building.

Green's presentation will be entitled "Adding Zip to Your Learning in Language Arts." Teachers, parents and students interested in improving instruction in reading are invited to attend.

Date Set for Winside Negotiations Hearing

The Nebraska Court of Industrial Relations has set March 4 as the date for the beginning of a hearing to settle contract negotiations for the current school year for the Winside School District, a court spokesman said Monday.

Judge Benjamin Wall, the court's presiding judge, will hear also at Winside teachers' filing briefs in the case. Briefs had not yet been filed when the court was contacted Monday morning.

The Winside board of education alleged in a petition filed in reply that an agreement regarding extra duty pay for teachers See NEGOTIATIONS, page 9

60 Attend Luncheon At Methodist Church

About 60 United Methodist Women met for a 1 p.m. luncheon at the church on Feb. 9. Mrs. Alvin Ehlers and Mrs. A.J. Atkins, were chairmen of the serving committee. The meeting opened with prayer and a poem, entitled "Love Is..." It was announced that World Day of Prayer will be held at the United Methodist Church on March 4 at 2 p.m. Church Women United are in charge of the program. A babysitter will be provided.

All officers and secretaries of work areas were reminded to attend officer training day at Madison on March 12.

The group voted to purchase supplies for the Morning Glories crafts group which is working on ceramic tree decorations for next year's Christmas Fair. Mrs. Roy Day urged all members to remember special baby memberships, which can be purchased for $5, and special men's memberships, for $25. Money from the memberships goes to missions.

Mr. Arthur Dugan was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Elary Rinehart, Mrs. Ivan Frese, Mrs. J.J. Liske and Mrs. Robert Sutherland. The history of Lent was explored. The Treble Clef Singers sang "He" and "Are Ye Able."

Meeting Held At Hartington

The Psi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday for a 9:30 a.m. brunch in the Lutheran Fellowship Hall at Hartington. Thirty-five members attended.

Following a business meeting, the program, entitled "Professional Commitment," was given by Mrs. Alice Johnson and Mrs. Hazel Rolston, both of Wakefield, and Dr. Mary Arlene Schultz and Mrs. Carol Edmunds, both of Wayne.

Mrs. Vera Diecker of Laurel reported on World Fellowship. Mrs. Anita Swanson of Coleridge encouraged contributions to the "golden gifts."

Next meeting will be at the Wakefield High School library on March 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Sutherland urged more members to call on area shut-ins.

Next meeting will be a 1 p.m. luncheon on March 9 with Mrs. Ed. Wolske chairman of the luncheon committee. Mrs. John Nigh will be in charge of the program, "Easter Through Music."

Winners Chosen at Arts, Craft Show

Between two and three hundred persons visited the annual Arts and Crafts show Saturday afternoon at the city auditorium sponsored by the Wayne Federated Woman's Club.

Cindy Bull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Bull of Wayne, placed first in the high school sewing contest. Mrs. Val Damme won in the adult sewing category. Both will compete at the District Arts Festival at Wisner on March 5.

Mrs. Fred Reeg was named alternate in the adult sewing division.

Included among students awarded blue ribbons in the school arts contest were: Kindergarten — Susy Luth, School District 57; and Sally Burmester, Sholes; First grade — Leslie Keating, St. Mary's, and Linda Greve, School District 33; Second grade — Ted McCright, St. Mary's, who won two blues; Third grade — Dennis Schatz and John Gubbels, both of Sholes; Fourth grade — Chris Wieseler, St. Mary's; Fifth grade — Paula McCright and Tommy Garvin, both of St. Mary's; Sixth grade — Sherrill Burmester, Sholes, and Cathy Wieseler, St. Mary's.

Blue ribbons were also won by seventh graders Mike Molen and Brenda Wessel of Wayne Middle School. Kim Kay of School District 57 received a blue ribbon in the eighth grade, and Julia Dorcey of Wayne High School received two blues in the ninth grade division. In the 10th grade, winners were Robert Fleer and Terry Hamilton of Wayne High, Lori Lange won two blues in the 11th grade. Ron Damme and Joe Kenny, seniors at Wayne High, also had blue ribbon entries.

More than 50 second-place ribbons were awarded, as well as a number of whites. Only blue ribbon entries will be taken to the District Arts Festival.

Woman's Club members won blue ribbons in different craft categories, including: Mrs. Val Damme, apparel; Mrs. William Hagerman, macrame; Mrs. Norbert Brugger, needlepoint; Mrs. Eleanor Heithold, crocheting and decoupage; Mrs. J.M. Strahan, crocheting; Mrs. Lucile Larson, crewel; Mrs. Martha Frovert, quilt; Mrs. Mabel Sorensen, afghan; Mrs. J.S. Johar, two blues in embroidery; Mrs. Chris Tielgen, china painting; Mrs. Henry Rehwisch, crafts from trash, and Mrs. Arline Ulrich, cake decorating.

In a special category, new this year, awards were given for the work of residents in care centers, who were not required to be club members. Receiving blues were Wayne Care Centre residents Loretta Luth, embroidered dresser scarf, and Theresa Baier for crocheted pot holders.

All blue ribbon winners will be entered in the competition at the District Arts Festival at Wisner March 5.

A short program during the local Arts and Crafts Show featured a trombone solo by Jay Hummel, who earlier won the Woman's Club music audition at Wayne High School.

Wayne resident Mrs. J.S. Johar, a native of India, demonstrated the draping of Indian saris. Mrs. Johar's models were Mrs. Alfred Koplin and Mrs. William Hagerman.

Drawing for door prizes and the serving of a silver tea ended the day's activities.

Chairman of the Arts and Crafts committee and coordinator of this year's show was Mrs. Alfred Koplin.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Jean Proett Engaged to David Gardner

Mrs. Joann Proett of Wayne and Maurice Proett of Lincoln announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Proett, to David Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Wakefield.

The bride-elect, a 1974 graduate of Wayne High School, is a senior at Wayne State College. Her fiancé graduated from Wakefield High School in 1971 and attended the University of South Dakota at Vermillion and Wayne State College. He is presently employed at the Milton G. Waldbaum Co. in Wakefield.
 No wedding date has been set.

Two From Area LPN Graduates

Mrs. Theresa Sievers of Wayne and Mrs. Juanita Thies of Winside are among the 24 students graduating from the practical nursing program at Northeast Technical Community College in Norfolk.
 They will receive their diplomas tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the Norfolk Junior High School auditorium. The public is invited to attend the ceremonies.

 Mrs. Sievers and Mrs. Thies have attended classes 40 hours per week during the 12-month curriculum needed to meet the Nebraska requirements for the Practical Nursing State board Examination later this spring to achieve License Practical Nurse status.

Workshop to Focus on Understanding Children

All interested persons are invited to attend a workshop, "Understanding and Communicating With Children," to be held Friday, March 4, at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station, near Concord.

Topics on the day's program will include active listening for parents, sorting out values, praise and encouragement, and courage to be imperfect. Those attending will have an opportunity to become acquainted with several methods for improving communication with children.

Anna Marie Kreitels, area home extension agent of the Northeast Station, said the workshop will be particularly interesting to parents of young children, school teachers, counseors, principals, Sunday school teachers, 4-H leaders and babysitters.

Workshop leaders will be Dave Hasselstab, M.S.W., and Wes Wingsell, Ph.D., mental health workers with the Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center. Both men have had Systematic Training for Effective Parenting groups in nearly 20 communities in northern Nebraska. They have also trained parent educators and pre-school staff and parents in procedures that enhance family relationships.

The workshop on March 4 will begin at 9 a.m. and close at 4 p.m. A registration fee of $3 per participant will be payable on March 4. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch.
 Pre-registration by Feb. 24 is requested. To pre-register, contact Anna Marie Kreitels at the Northeast Station, Concord. Telephone number is 584-2261.

Museum Open

The Wayne County Historical Society museum will be open this Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. Hosts will be Roberta Welte and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powers.

Groups who wish to tour the museum should call Wayne County Historical Society president Mrs. Lucile Larson, 375-1861, or Mrs. Sandra Bartling, 375-2737.

Mrs. Larson said period furniture suites are still needed, including a spool bed or a brass bed. Furniture in pale knotted maple and solid oak in ornate patterns is also being sought.

Newcastle, Allen Gals In D Finals

Allen and Newcastle girls will square off for the third time this season tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock when the Class D powers collide at Homer for the district title.

Both clubs, which are ranked among the top Class D teams in the state, hold a victory over the other in regular season action. Allen, which holds a 13-2 record and is ranked 10th in the state, posted the latest win a 31-20 victory over fourth ranked Newcastle.

Allen's bid for a berth in the district finals wasn't sewn up until late in the fourth quarter when Stacey Koester hit two free throws and Grace Luschen nailed down one for a 48-41 Eagle lead over Homer. The final score was 48-43.

The Knights were in front most of the game, taking a 10-6 lead in the first quarter and a 20-16 cushion at the half. The Eagles whittled the margin to two early in the third quarter but the Knights' leading point-maker, Julie Mercer, cashed in to boost the lead to 26-16.

Coach Steve McManigal went to the press, in the second half to turn the tide for Allen. Behind senior Lori Erwin who was high with 22 points, Allen knotted the score for the first time, 31-31.

Allen's scoring surge made the score 37-33, but Homer rallied to again tie the match, 39-39.

"The girls started believing in themselves and came out playing like a team," McManigal pointed out as one of two important factors helped the Eagles to win. The other factors, he added, was the support from the See NEWCASTLE, page 5

It's Getting Near District Time For Laurel Bears Gear Up with 76-66 Win

Usually you can tell when district time is getting closer at Laurel High School. It's during that time of the season the Bears gear up their cagers with some spectacular wins before the district grind begins.

A sample of just how potent the Bears can be was displayed Tuesday night when the Joel Parks coached Bears trampled over once rated Hartington High, 76-66.

How did the Bears do it? Just by using a five-man scoring front and a tenacious man to man defense which stopped the highly-talented about 16-2 Wildcat in their tracks.

Always in front, Laurel marched off to a 26-15 first period lead and stayed in front 44-33 at the half. Mike Martin, who led Laurel with 20 points, scored eight of his 12 points in the second quarter and got help from Cleve Stolpe with 10 of his 16 points in the first half to keep the visitors at bay.

Add to that scoring duo were 12 points by Tim Harrington and 10 each by Gordie Kardell and Bob Dahlquist.

"It (the win) was a superb team effort all the way, defensively and offensively," Parks pointed out about his 14.5 Bears.

Two weeks ago Hartington was ranked eighth in Class C, thanks mainly to the Cats one man show - 68 Dan Lucht. Lucht still posed as a problem for Laurel, tossing in 30 points despite the efforts of Dahlquist and Martin as they traded off defensive duties on the big man.

Laurel's man to man press covered the entire court, forcing Hartington to abruptly change its game plans. At one point in the third quarter, Laurel capitalized on Wildcat mistakes due to the press to chalk up a 14 point lead.

Friday night Laurel wraps up regular season play with a NENAC contest at Pierce. Then, on Tuesday night, Laurel travels to Class C district at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium where it will meet Wakefield at 5 p.m.

Cool Shooting Nets LH a Win In NENAC Play

Shooting a cool 49 per cent from the field Friday night, Laurel High ransacked Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference foe Plainview, 83-50, in the Bears' gym.

Laurel made good use of a full-court zone press in the first half to roll up a 42-24 halftime command, then stayed in front of the Pirates the final two stanzas for its 13th win in 18 games.

Three players scored in double figures for the Joel Parks coached Laurel quint. Cleve Stolpe, who also led in caroms with 12, flipped in a game-high 24 points while Tim Harrington netted 16 and Mike Martin scored 14.

Allen finishes strong. Allen junior high cagers ended the season with a pair of wins for a 6-2 record.

Friday the Allen quint got by Ponca, 36-32, and Monday night the area club blasted rival Wakefield, 49-13.

In both games, Frank Lanier was the high point man for Allen. Against Wakefield he had 16 and against Ponca he had 11.

Peck's Crew Goes after D Title Nine Wildcats Bolster Winside's Bid

If there were any doubts about how strong Winside would be in wrestling after the Wildcats dropped from Class C to D, those missings were erased Saturday when the Wildcats easily swooped up the district title at Spalding Academy.

The district team win, which is the sixth straight for Winside and the second under coach Ron Peck, was made possible by nine of Winside's 12 grapplers who placed among the top four individual weight classes and earned themselves a trip to the state tournament in Lincoln starting today (Thursday).

Winside, which was rated third in state last week, easily outdistanced fourth-rated Class D Elgin High, which came in second among the 14 teams competing.

The Cats totaled 210 points followed by Elgin at 161, Clear water with 118, Leigh with 106 1/2, Butte with 102 1/2, St. Edward with 83, Wolbach with 80 1/2, Lyons with 72, Sargeant with 69, Wynot with 67, Greeley with 63, Spalding Academy with 40 1/2, Niobrara with 25 and Elba with 5.

Leading the parade of Cal grapplers headed for state are five first-place medalists, one who took second and three who finished third.

Four grapplers who won their weights, seniors Kevin Cleveland (126), Brad Langenberg (145), Juniors LaVerle Miller (167) and Bryan Svoboda (185), will be making return trips to the state meet. Veteran Cleveland will be aiming for his second straight state win.

Other veterans who are going to the state meet for the second year are sophomore Tom Koll (132) who placed third this year, and senior Neil Wagner (155), who was squeezed out of winning his weight class by two points.

The remaining task force from Winside are freshman Rick Bowers, who was third at 98; sophomore Tom Anderson, third at 112; and sophomore heavy weight Mitch Pfeiffer, who won his division.

Winside's ranking as third in the state seems fitting because the Cats are third among Class D schools in the number of grapplers going to the Sports Center at the University of Nebraska Lincoln for the three-day meet.

Ahead of Winside are Harrison and Amherst with 10 each. Those two schools, plus Elm Creek, are the three teams Peck believes will pose the biggest roadblock in the Cats trying to obtain their second state team title in three years.

In his first year at the helm, Peck's team finished second in Class C during the 1975-76 season. The year before under Doug Barclay Winside grabbed the C title.

The main reason for the wide-spread scoring difference between Winside and Elgin was the number of grapplers each school had battling for points. Winside had 11 matmen when Elgin relied on eight matmen.

Not making the trip to state are Scott Mann (119) and Eddie Morris (138). No one wrestled at 105.

A sidelight to Winside's team victory was the wrestling of heavyweight Pfeiffer, who at 176 pounds, nailed Leigh's Loeffler in a 4-2. Going into that match Loeffler was rated third in Class D, carried an 18-1 record and weighed 255 pounds.

AH, Homer Clash

Pairings for the Class D boys basketball tournament at Wakefield have been released and Allen High will go against tournament favorite, Homer.

The Eagles take on the Knights at 6:30 p.m., Monday, right after the Winnebago Rosalie game which starts at 5 p.m. Capping the night will be an 8:30 p.m. game between Bancroft and Decatur.

Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m. victory plays the winner of the Winnebago Rosalie game and at 8:30 p.m. Semifinals are at 6:30 and 8:30. Thursday, finals are 7:30 p.m. Friday.

2 Wayne Grapplers Pack Bags for State

Young but strong underclassmen Terry Hamilton and Kirk Echtenkamp will be representing Wayne High in the state high school wrestling tournament in Lincoln.

The pair finished in the top four in individual weight classes during the Class B district tournament at Boys Town, resulting in their winning tickets to the state meet.

Echtenkamp came away with the biggest prize - a first place medal in the 119 pound weight class, by beating last year's district champion at that weight, Arevalo of Boys Town, 4-3. Taking second place in 98 for Wayne was Hamilton, who fell to another Boys Town opponent, Hodge, by 17-1.

Hamilton goes into first round action today (Thursday), carrying a 13-8 mark while Echtenkamp enters with a 19-5 record.

Coach Don Koenig praised both for their efforts and pointed out that both have been leaders throughout the season. The coach added that he had hopes of Kelly Hansen making it to state, but that swollen glands forced the 138 pounder to drop out.

In the first day of action, Hansen won both matches, but the following day he lost his first round and dropped out of competition due to a sore throat.

Taking fifth for Wayne was Ward Wacker in 126.

As a team, Wayne again finished in strong fashion. The Blue Devils collected 70 1/2 points to land ninth out of 14 teams in a tough district loaded with talent.

Arlington edged out Boys Town for the team title by scoring 162 points to BT's 152 1/2. Other teams and how they finished: North Bend, 115 1/2; Blair, 102 1/2; Hooper Logan View, 99 1/2; Wisner Priger, 96; Schuyler, 95 1/2; Wahoo, 90 1/2; Wayne, Omaha Ryan, 55 1/2; Omaha Paul VI, 46 1/2; Elkhorn, 44; Omaha Cathedral, 42 1/2; and Creighton, 32.

Johnson: Outlook Dim for Fishing Prospects in Nebraska

With spring just around the corner, many anglers are eagerly awaiting warmer weather in anticipation of another summer on Nebraska's rivers and lakes. What does the year hold for fish and fishing?

"We are facing a grim situation and I am alarmed," said Jim Johnson, Game and Parks Commission fish management supervisor.

Johnson is alarmed because of extremely low levels in almost all areas of the state. And without water, fish have a hard time existing.

At some of the bigger "hotspots" in the state, the situation is not good. Last year, most reservoirs were drawn down to very low levels, and with little precipitation since, either in Nebraska or in the mountains to the west, the reservoirs have not returned to normal levels. Continued drought and heavy demands on water spell trouble.

"I doubt if we will lose the entire cold-water fishery (trout) this year, but if the dry conditions continue, we could sustain some significant losses at Lake McCone," Johnson noted.

The problem facing the biggest impoundment in the state is primarily three-fold, according to Johnson. First, the drought and resultant poor runoff has reduced inflow. Second, increased demands on surface and groundwater supplies in the drainage above the reservoir have further depleted the supply.

"Compounding these problems is the fact that lakes have not returned to normal levels. This reduces the volume of water in the lake, and with drawdowns this summer, the water level in the lake is lowered further at a much faster rate."

At Box Butte reservoir in the northwest part of the state, the situation is even worse. "Because of severe drawdowns, the past couple of years, we have already lost most of the sport fishing value of the lake," Johnson pointed out.

In southwest Nebraska, things are equally bleak along the Republican as Johnson feels the fishing at Swanson and Enders reservoirs will get worse. "That is if water demands remain the same. However, it looks as if these demands will increase."

Biologists rated Lake Minatire and Swanson Reservoir as the two best walleye fisheries in the state. Last year the water was so low at Swanson that anglers couldn't get their boats on the water to fish, and the same is expected this year unless the rains come. Johnson feels that the very low levels there could have adverse effects on the walleye as well as other species.

Harlan County Reservoir, for those who haven't seen the lake recently, might be hard to recognize. Last year, the U.S. Corps of Engineers said the lake was two feet above normal at the start of the irrigation season. Following the season, the lake was 14 feet below normal.

It presently is 12 feet below normal level and prospects do not look good for its gaining much before the hot summer months are upon us again.

The Corps is presently digging canals to facilitate boat ramp usage, but a spokesman said: "Unless we get water soon and a lot of it, we will not have access to the lake, at least for larger boats."

Again, compounding the problems there are low levels in impoundments in the drainage system above the lake. Enders, Swanson, Red Willow and Medicine Creek are all low and they must be filled, too. That takes a tremendous amount of water.

"Well irrigation at the headwaters of Red Willow (10 feet down last fall) and Medicine Creek (21 feet down) may, in the future, reduce the level in those lakes as it apparently already has at Enders and Swanson," Johnson said.

In eastern Nebraska there are no large impoundments, but there are many smaller lakes and farm ponds. These too, are in trouble due to drought conditions, according to Johnson.

At Conspoga Lake near Lincoln, for example, 20 inches of ice combined with water levels already four feet below normal, have reduced the available fish habitat, confining the fish in a much smaller volume of water.

This leads to losses because of a reduced forage base, which means the predator fish are in less than ideal condition, and disease and stress among others. Many spawning areas are left high and dry also.

Fish losses have already developed at West Twin Lake west of Lincoln due to a shortage of water, and Johnson expects Killdeer Lake may also winter-kill before ice-out this spring.

At Pelican Lake and Island Lake in the Sand Hills, there is only about a foot and a half of water below the ice. Big Alkali has winter-killed, as has Duck Lake, which was stocked with muskellunge to use as brood stock for releases elsewhere in the state.

Farm ponds throughout most of the state are at critically low levels or nearly dried up. Those with water have heavy ice cover and once that begins to melt and refreeze, which usually reduces clarity of ice, sunlight may be cut off and winter-kills will almost certainly result.

"We have been lucky, from the stand-point that there haven't been heavy snows this year, for almost all farm ponds will have suffered even heavier losses," Johnson went on.

The streams and rivers did not fare well this past summer, either. In north-east Nebraska, for example, 21 streams, and rivers were lost to sport fishing and will take years to recover; that is, if there is water available for recovery.

In southeast Nebraska, the Little Nemaha River and Turkey Creeks in Saline and Richardson Counties suffered fish losses because of drought and irrigation withdrawals. All three were very good catfish producers.

Wisner Hands Wayne Gals 40-29 Defeat

Wayne's cold spell from the floor turned out to be the downfall of the Blue Devils Tuesday night as invading Wisner Pilger, ranked 10th in the state in Class B.

Benefit Nets $22

Over $22 was raised for the March of Dimes Sunday during a benefit basketball game at the city auditorium between Wayne Volunteer firemen and members of Delta Sigma Pi fraternity.

In an overtime period, the Sigs won 56-54 when Bill Carlson sank the winning bucket with 10 seconds to go.

A basket by Ron Fink of WFD tied the score at 50 all with 15 seconds left in regulation time. An attempt to win the match by the Sigs fell short when Howard Peters' desperation shot fell off the front of the rim.

No date has been set for a rematch.

B. topped the locals, 40-29.
Wayne mustered only six points in the first half — two in the second quarter — and Wisner put up 20 in a sluggish first two quarters — which were marred by "too many" Wayne turnovers, according to coach Curt Frye.
Wayne	13	10	10
Wisner	4	2	11

Wayne, now 10-6, takes a break until Monday at 5:30 p.m. when the Devils take on Blair in the first round of the Class B district tournament at Wisner.
Jolene Bennett's last second shot went through the hoop to give Wayne a well deserved 26-24 win over Wisner reserves. Added to that feat, Bennett also finished as the scoring leader with 11 points.

"That entire first half we were crippled by turnovers and we let their press bother us," Frye pointed out.

Wayne got its offense in gear in the second half as scoring leader Peg Pinkelman, with her 18 points, allowed the hosts to outscore Wisner in the last two periods.

Wayne's offense in the second half was as strong as its defense. Peg Pinkelman, with her 18 points, allowed the hosts to outscore Wisner in the last two periods.

Hartington Boys, Wildcats Travel to Kansas To Wrap Up Conference Play

Hartington boys' and Newcastle girls' emerged as the winners of the Lewis and Clark Conference titles in a pair of playoff games Saturday night at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium.

Dan Luch scored 26 points and Kelly Stockwell contributed 13 to lead the Wildcats over Walnut Hills, 73-60.

Leading scorer in the girls' game was Julie Zerbe with 18 and Randy Slansberry with 12.

In girls' action, Val Zerbe poured in 21 points as the Red Raiders wiped out Osmond, 45-34.

Wildcats Travel to Kansas To Wrap Up Conference Play

It's back to Kansas this week for Wayne State Wildcats. Now the two pairs are cagers, following a Wednesday home game with Midland, a non-conference affair which could, however, have impact on Wayne's post season NAIA playoff chances.

A women's game scheduled for Wednesday night between Wayne State and South Dakota State was canceled.

The 7:30 men's game matched a 15-10 Wayne record against 2-19 Midland, a 113-85 loser to Wayne in December.

The Wildcats will close their Central States Intercollegiate Conference schedule this week-end when they take a 7.5 record against Washburn Friday at Topeka, then go to Emporia State Saturday.

Washburn occupies the bottom of CSIC standings at 2-10 while Emporia remains where it has been all seasons, at the top with a 9-3.

Wayne defeated both of them at home, 79-60 over Washburn, 100-84 over Emporia.

But a pair of losses last weekend, 107-83 at Missouri Southern and 76-65 at Pittsburg, dumped the Wildcats into a fourth place tie with Missouri Western, also a double loser — to the same teams. Going into the weekend, Wayne and Western shared second place while

Wildcats Travel to Kansas To Wrap Up Conference Play

Kearney and Pittsburg shared fourth. Now the two pairs are reversed.

Missouri Southern, leading all the way through a close first half, ignited a second-half spurge when Russell Bland hit 24 of his 38 total points to give Wayne its worst flogging of the year.

Although Laurel has beaten Crofton at the beginning of the season, coach Ev Jensen believes that the Warriors are a much-improved ball club from that first meeting between the two schools.

Crofton has shown just how much better the team is by posting two straight 30-point victories in district play.

Laurel, which had a bye the first night, took a 23-10 halftime lead against Wakefield and ran off 10 unanswered points early in the third quarter to put the game away.

Cheryl Abts tallied 19 while Cindy Shaer totaled 10 for Laurel high's.

Laurel Girls Advance To C Finals

Laurel girls breezed past Wakefield 56-30 Tuesday night during the second round of Class C girls' district basketball play at Wausa.

As a result the Bears play in the final game tonight (Thursday) against an improving Crofton club. Game starts at 7:30.

Allen Pair Land Loop Accolades

Two key players on Allen High's girls basketball team, were recognized for their scoring and playing by being named to the first team of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

The pair, sisters Lori and Susie Erwin, Saturday morning were elected among the top five players in the six-team conference and were presented their awards that evening during the halftime of the Hartington High/Walhill conference playoff game at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium.

Lori, a senior, led the Eagles with 22 points and 13 caroms while Susie, a sophomore, netted 11 points and pulled down five rebounds a game.

"Susie helped to make the press go this year, and Lori helped to control the boards," coach Steve McManigal pointed out about his two stars.

Also making the first team were juniors Val Zerbe and Shell Chase, both of league-winner Newcastle, and Julie Mercer a senior from Homer.

Earning second team honors were senior Janelle Jensen and Junior Donna Pearson, both of Homer; junior Shelly Daugherty of Newcastle; junior Julie White of Ponca, and senior Lynn Lene-wolf of Winnebago.

Allen senior Grace Luschen was named to the honorable mention squad.

Allen had a much easier time Monday night with first-round opponent Winnebago. Led by Lori with 24 points, the Eagles pulled away from a 12-8 first period lead to win going away, 42-30.

Erwin hit 23 per cent of her shots from the field and cleared 10 of the team's 33 caroms.

High point leader for Winnebago was Colleen Lene-wolf with 20.

New Arrivals

SOME NEW ARRIVALS joined kindergarten through fourth grade students at District 51 school on Tuesday. The new playmates were soft and down-covered — part of a science project. The youngsters have been keeping a careful eye for the past three weeks on an incubator supplied by Schrader and Allen Hatchery of Wayne. The first of 22 chicks had broken free of its shell when the students arrived Tuesday morning and the youngsters spent the rest of the day welcoming the baby chicks and caring for them. Tom Sievers (above) keeps a careful vigil on the eggs in the incubator while Kelly Dorcey (right) gently examines one of the new arrivals. Both youngsters are kindergarten students. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sievers and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dorcey. Ruby Peterson is K-4 classroom teacher at District 51.

Auxiliary Meets At Vet's Club

Sixteen members of the American Legion Auxiliary for their regular monthly meeting Feb. 7 at the Vet's Club. Mrs. Charles Sieckmann was pianist in the absence of Mrs. Pearl Griffith.

Thank you notes were read from Virginia Walton for Valentine centerpieces at the Norfolk Veterans' Home, from the Nebraska Children's Home Society for the $5 Christmas gift, and from the family of Alden J. Durlklu. A letter was read from Mrs. Irene Mueller of Thurston, District III president.

The Americanism report was given by Mrs. Norbert Bruggner. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Henry Schmitz, Mrs. William Fredrickson, Mrs. Harry Swinney, Mrs. Lottie Longnecker and Mrs. Linda Grubb. Next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Vet's Club on March 7.

Community Club Plans Guest Day for March

Allen Community Extension Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Wilson. Twelve members and one guest answered roll call by telling something nice about the person to their right.

It was announced that guest day will be observed at the March meeting. Because of a conflict with the date for the United Methodist Church annual $5 banquet, the March meeting date will be announced.

At Friday's meeting, members are encouraged to observe Bake and Take Days, slated for March 25-26. The lesson, "Enriching Your Relationships," was given by Mrs. Ernest Stark and the guest, Mrs. K. Waylen Brown.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Alvin Rastede and Mrs. Wilson.

OBITUARIES

Amelia J. Schroeder

Amelia J. Schroeder, age 85 of Winside, died Saturday in her home. Funeral services were to have been held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Peace United Church of Christ south of Hoskins.

The Rev. Galen E. Hahn officiated and burial was in the Immanuel Cemetery southeast of Hoskins. Pallbearers were Marvin Schroeder, Ruben Strale, Lawrence and Glen Hillen, Marvin Siebrandt, and Craig Meterhenry.

The daughter of Conrad and Wilhelmina Winter Schroeder, she was born Feb. 26, 1891, on a farm southwest of Winside. She attended the Apex rural public school from grades one to eight and was confirmed April 16, 1905, at the Immanuel Reformed Church near Hoskins.

A member of the Peace United Church of Christ, she was also a member of Women's Missionary Society and the Hoskins Garden Club. She was a resident of rural Wayne county all her life.

Preceding her in death were three sisters. Survivors include one brother, Fred Schroeder; one sister, Lena Ulrich of Winside and several nephews and nieces.

Rosie Margaret Hoffman

Rosie Margaret Hoffman, age 87, of Winside, died Monday in the Pierce Manor. Funeral services were to have been held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside.

The Rev. G. W. Goldberg officiated and pallbearers were Frank Weible, Fritz Witt, Marvin Ruschman, Bill and Edwin Brogren, and C.O. Witt. Burial was in the Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside.

Born Sept. 23, 1889, she was the daughter of Chris Ruschman of Winside. She married Gus Hoffman in 1910 and they farmed in the Winside area their entire lifetimes.

She was preceded in death by her husband in 1957; one son, one daughter, four brothers and two sisters. Survivors include two sons, Russel of Winside and Bill of Norfolk; three daughters, Mrs. Merlin (Bernice) Plett of Norfolk, Mrs. Gus (Loretta) Perse and Mrs. Wilfred (Verna) Miller, both of Hoskins; four grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.

Grant Mann

Funeral services were held Monday morning in Newton, Ia., for a former Winside resident, Grant Mann, age 43. He died Friday in his home in Newton.

The son of the Rufus Mans, he had served for a time in the military.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Rufus Mann of Whittier, Calif.; his widow; three children; two stepchildren; one brother, Gary of Whittier; two sisters, Julie of Whittier and Vicky of Florida; two uncles, Andrew Mann of Winside and Fred Mann of Concord; and two aunts, Mrs. Hubert McClary and Mrs. Norman Carr, both of Winside.

Laurine Frances Eby

Funeral services for Laurine Eby, age 63 of Laurel, were held Wednesday morning at the United Presbyterian Church in Laurel. She died Monday at Providence Medical Center.

The Rev. Douglas R. Potter officiated and burial was in the Laurel Cemetery with committal services by Miriam Chapter No. 175, Order of the Eastern Star. Pallbearers were Ernest Williams, Ray McClain, Roy Thomas, Earl Bass, Milo Johnson and Armin Slark.

Laurine Frances Miller, the daughter of Frank and Dorothea Adamson Miller, was born Aug. 4, 1913 in Coleridge, where she grew up and graduated from high school.

On Sept. 10, 1937, she was united in marriage to Glenn Eby in Coleridge. The couple lived on a farm north of Laurel until moving into town a few years ago.

An active 4-H leader, she was also a member of the United Presbyterian Church, Women's Society and the Miriam Chapter No. 175, OES.

She is survived by her widower, Glenn of Laurel; one son Dennis of Beatrice; one daughter, Mrs. Don (LuAnn) Kraemer, and one granddaughter, Kristin Kraemer, both of Norfolk.

Dorothy Theresa Winch

Funeral services for Dorothy Winch will be held today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. at the United Presbyterian Church in Wayne. She died Monday in Wayne at the age of 71 years.

The Rev. Robert Haas will officiate and pallbearers are Ray Menuey, James Winch, Russell Tiedtke, Harry Hart, Thomas Anthony and Arnold Zach. Burial is in Greenwood Cemetery.

Dorothy Theresa Winch, the daughter of Joe and Lottie Goh was born in Sioux City Dec. 30, 1905. After graduating from high school, she taught school in Homer for a number of years.

She was united in marriage to William Winch in Pierce. They lived in Homer in California before moving to Wayne. She was a member of the VFW Auxiliary and the Presbyterian Church.

She is preceded in death by her parents and her husband. Survivors include one brother, Ed Sell of Big Timber, Mont., and several nephews and nieces.

Scout Leader Honored

A SET OF fireplace utensils was presented to Ray Replogie Sunday night by Wayne Boy Scout Troop 174 for his years of service to the Scouting program. Replogie has been active as a scout leader for eight years, including five years as scoutmaster of Troop 174 before it merged with 211 in the new Troop 174. Replogie has been assistant scoutmaster since then. A professor of fine arts at Wayne State College, Replogie worked during the summer months for a number of years at a boys' camp in Minnesota as a crafts counselor and later as assistant director. He said he became interested in Scouting through his work experience at the camp. The gift was presented to Replogie during a dinner in his honor at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne. The dinner was the troop's final event for Boy Scout Week.

Wayne Student Is Director Of 'Trinity Western Report'

Virgil Kardell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kardell of Wayne, has been named director of "The Trinity Western Report," a weekly radio program. The "Report" is a 15-minute program of news and information from Trinity Western College. It is currently aired on two stations, KLYN-FM, a 1,000-watt FM quadrasonic station in Lynden, Wash., and KARI, a gospel radio station in Blaine. Both stations cover the Vancouver and Lower Fraser Valley listening area with a potential audience of three million.

Kardell is a first-year student in communications at Trinity Western. Along with his involvement in the radio program he also has a part in the spring drama production, "The Servant of Two Masters." He is responsible for the production of the radio program including assigning reporters, doing interviews, editing and putting the actual program together.

The "Trinity Western Report" which usually includes music from the college and sports reports, has been on the air since October 1976. Christian leaders who have appeared on the program include Richard Wurmbrand, D. Bruce Lockerbie, Sen. Ray Perrault, and Joseph Bayly. The program is produced by the communications department of Trinity Western College and is designed to give qualified students the opportunity to be involved in an actual on-the-air production.

Negotiations

The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the court chambers at 1342 M. St. in Lincoln.

Bandmaster

(Continued from page 1) Dalton became band director at Wayne High School in 1969 following one year teaching at Wayne Middle School. He received his bachelor of fine arts degree from Wayne State College is currently working on his master's degree. He is a member of a number of professional organizations.

During the past five years the high school marching band has earned superior ratings consecutively at various contests. In concert competition, the Wayne High band has consistently been rated superior in the District Music Contest since 1958. Solo and small ensemble entries have recorded 91 superior and 27 excellent ratings at the district contest over the past eight years.

Numbers performed during the concert were "Villabella" by Kenneth Williams, "Declaration Overture" by Claude T. Smith, "Tanglewood Overture" by John F. Taylor, "Prelude and Rondo" by David Heisinger, a medley "I Write the Songs" arranged by Jay Chaff-aw, selections from "Wiz" arranged by Bob Lowden, "Sea Songs" by R. Vaughan Williams and "God of Our Fathers" arranged by Claude T. Smith. A reception for Dalton followed the concert in the high school commons area.

Wayne Woman Wins $25 Prize

Mrs. Fred Reeg of 821 Main St. in Wayne is the latest winner in the weekly Birthday Bucks promotion sponsored by participating Wayne businesses.

Mrs. Reeg won herself $25 in Birthday Bucks because her birth date was the closest to the winning date drawn at random and announced Thursday night.

Last week Mrs. Bill Kaup of Kaup's TV Service drew the winning date of May 9, 1900. Mrs. Reeg's birthday is Feb. 27 of that year.

If her date would have matched the winning date, Mrs. Reeg would have $600 in Bucks, which can be spent just like cash in participating Wayne businesses.

Jenness: First Five Minutes Are Critical

"We have the advanced life support equipment, but it's no good unless someone is there within the first five minutes to keep the victim alive until we arrive," Miron Jenness of the Wayne told members of the Wayne Lions Club Tuesday night.

Jenness, who is a driver for the ambulance service operated by Providence Medical Center, was referring to cases where heart beat and breathing stop—drowning, electric shock, suffocation, asphyxiation, and most often, cardiac arrest.

Unless basic life support measures are applied within the first five minutes after heart beat and breathing stop, there is little chance of saving victims. The ambulance has advanced life support equipment but it seldom possible to respond to a call within five minutes, he said.

Because of that fact Jenness, along with Dr. Robert Sutherland and Bernice Fulton at Wayne State College, have initiated training program in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). All three are certified to teach the course by the American Heart Association.

During the Lions Club meeting Jenness presented the film "A Life in Your Hands," dramatizing the effectiveness of CPR training programs in California and Washington communities.

Jenness hopes to eventually train enough people in Wayne County to ensure that someone with CPR training will be available to provide life saving techniques when needed until an ambulance can arrive. Hospital, law enforcement and rescue workers have been the first to benefit from the local classes, Jenness said, but classes should become available to the public in March. Anyone interested in making arrangements for CPR training for their organization or as individuals should contact Jenness, Sutherland or Mrs. Fulton.

Lion Charles Maier presented the Master Key award at the meeting for having recruited more than a dozen new members. Chris Tietgen received a special award for his success at selling Turkey Tickets.

John Haase, chairman for the annual Lions Club St. Patrick's Day dance, reported that tickets for the March 19 event will cost $2-40 if purchased in advance, $3-81 at the door. The Bob Haberer band will be playing for the dance at the Wayne National Guard armory.

Social Security Earning Limit Has Been Raised

People under 72 can work and earn more and still get their social security benefits, according to Kale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

"In 1977 people can earn as much as $3,000 and get their full social security retirement or survivors benefit," Branch said. "The yearly earnings limit for 1976 was $2,760. The increase keeps the amount in line with increases in general average wages."

For earnings over $3,000 in 1977, social security benefits will be reduced by $1 for every $2 earned. "But no matter how much people earn for the year," Branch said, "they can get their full social security benefit for any month in which they neither earn over $250 nor do substantial work in their own business." The 1976 monthly earnings limit was $230.

Different rules apply to disabled people who are getting social security disability benefits. "And people 72 and over will continue to get their full social security benefits regardless of their earnings," Branch noted. "People who earn over $2,760 and get benefits in 1976 must send a report on 1976 earnings to social security by April 15, 1977."

The social security tax rate remains the same in 1977—5.85 percent of covered wages paid by employees and employers, 7.9 percent of covered self-employed income.

The earnings and contributions base—the amount on which social security contributions are made—will be the first $16,500 of covered earnings for the year, starting in January. The 1976 base was $15,300.

Since benefit amounts are based on average earnings covered by social security, the increase in the wage base means that while some people may pay more in social security taxes, they will be entitled to higher payments later.

Medicare Available at Old Rate

People who didn't sign up for Medicare medical insurance when they first became eligible or who have cancelled the protection once can enroll now through March 31 at any social security office, according to Dale Branch social security district manager in Norfolk.

Medicare medical insurance is offered automatically to people age 65 and are eligible for social security benefits and to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to monthly social security disability benefits 24 consecutive months or more. Nine out of 10 people eligible are enrolled in the program according to Branch.

"But some people decline the protection when they're first eligible," he said. "And some sign up once and cancel later." They can enroll in the first three months of any year.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses and is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues. The basic premium is $7.20 a month through June 1977. It will be $7.70 a month for the 12-month period starting in July 1977.

"People who decline Medicare medical insurance and delay signing up for more than a year pay a higher premium," Branch noted. "People who sign up and cancel later can re-enroll only once."

Medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance, which is funded by social security contributions from workers, employers, and self-employed people.

"People 65 and over who are not eligible for social security or railroad retirement benefits can apply at any social security office and get Medicare hospital insurance by paying a premium," Branch said. "The basic premium is $45 a month through June 1977. It will be $54 a month for the 12-month period starting in July 1977. People who buy hospital insurance must also sign up for the medical insurance," he said.

People who have worked long enough under social security or the railroad retirement system can get Medicare if they have permanent kidney failure. Their wives or husbands or children also can be eligible for Medicare if they have permanent kidney failure.

"Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The Norfolk social security office is at 1310 Norfolk Avenue. The phone number is 371-1515."

Barbara Winter of the Norfolk social security office will be in Wayne at the Senior Citizens Center on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wittse
"Certain thoughts are prayers. There are certain moments when whatever the attitude of the body, the soul is on its knees."
Victor Hugo

It is not necessary to be in an attitude of prayer to communicate with God. It has been said "There are no atheists in foxholes" and probably more heartfelt prayers have been said on battlefields than in churches.

The desire to utter a prayer... of supplication or of gratitude... may come at moments when the traditional attitude of prayer is impossible. It's comforting to know that God understands and hears our thoughts as a prayer, whatever the position in which we happen to be.

We can provide a comforting funeral service within the financial means of any family. Let us explain the financial options available.

Winside Wins 3

Winside girls teams took three games from Stanton Saturday.

The seventh grade team got by 12-4, the eighth grade walloped Stanton, 37-4, and the freshman soared to a 22-3 victory.

Marci Thomas led the frosh with 10 points, Laurie Gallop and Robyn Wick had 12 and 10 respectively in the eighth grade win and Darla Janke scored 10 points for high in the seventh grade contest.

Yes, there is such a thing as an 'expensive' funeral. Any funeral is expensive if the cost means undue hardship to those who survive.

Many clients have talked this matter over with us frankly and they have found that the problem can be solved without detracting from their natural desire to pay a fitting tribute. Complete information is yours for the asking.

Rural Students Will Compete in Spelling Bee

About 50 students from Wayne County rural schools will compete Friday in the annual spelling contest, scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. in the North dining room of the Wayne State College student union.

At that time, seventh and eighth grade students from 17 rural schools will take a written spelling test. About a dozen finalists will be selected from results of the written test and will then compete in an oral contest until all but the top spelling student has been eliminated.

The winner will receive a $25 savings bond from The Wayne Herald and a trophy provided by the Wisner pharmacy. In addition, the Stanton Bookstore will donate a copy of the book "Nebraska" to the school of the first place winner.

The First National Bank in Wayne will provide a $10 cash prize for the second place winner. The Wayne Book Store will contribute a dictionary for the third place winner.

The State National Bank in Wayne will contribute $15 for prizes for runners up in the oral contest. Other prizes and contributors include: Gibson's Discount Center, marking pencils; Northwestern Bell, pencil sharpeners; Cal Comstock of Wayne County Public Power, $5; Wittig's Food Center, cash prize.

Hobbies Displayed at Woman's Club

Twenty-two attended the Friday afternoon meeting of the Carroll Woman's Club held in the club room. Guests were Mrs. Wes Drolet of Denver, Mrs. David Garwood of Kearney and Mrs. Wayne Hankins.

Theme for the day was "Creativity," and all members brought articles for a hobby display. Mrs. Otto Wagner and Mrs. Edward Fork were program chairman and arranged the display. Each member told about her hobby or creation and showed that she had brought.

Mrs. Esther Batten conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Lynn Roberts read minutes of the January meeting and Mrs. Merlin Kenny gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Edward Fork led the group in singing "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "America" accompanied by Mrs. Leo Jordan. Mrs. Roberts read several thank you notes for Christmas boxes from the club.

The club voted to again co-sponsor a representative from Carroll to Girls State in Lincoln in June. Helping sponsor the youth will be the American Legion Auxiliary.

Plans were made to sponsor a Fun Night for the public at the city auditorium. Tentative date is March 12. Committees are Mrs. Martin Hansen, Mrs. Robert I. Jones and Mrs. John Swanson, entertainment; Mrs. Otto Wagner and Mrs. Charles Whitney, advertising; Mrs. Lynn Roberts, prizes and Mrs. Merlin Kenny, Mrs. Ervin Wittler and Mrs. Robert Johnson, lunch. Committee chairmen will select club members to help them.

Serving at Friday's meeting were Mrs. Lloyd Morris, Mrs. Frank Cunningham and Mrs. T.P. Roberts.

Next meeting is set for March 10. Theme will be "Expansion" and roll call will be a travel interest. Mrs. Milton Owens and Mrs. Lynn Roberts will be program chairman, and hostesses are Mrs. Charles Whitney, Mrs. Ellery Pearson and Mrs. Ervin Wittler.

Even the Price of Money Is Increasing

"It takes money to make money," and nobody is more aware of that old saw than the United States Government.

Rising prices of paper, ink and just about everything else have sent the cost of printing paper money soaring. That's one reason the government started making $2 bills again. It can print fewer bills and still produce the same number of dollars.

Twenties are even better bargains. A dollar note wears out in about 18 months; but a twenty can last as long as five years, because it gets less use.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D.C., prints seven kinds of bills for general use — $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. The $2 bill is not a new idea. The bills first appeared in 1776, but the government did not make many twos so people never got into the habit of using them. Production was stopped in 1965.

To encourage people to circulate the new $2 bills, the government is turning out 400,000,000 a year. As the twos become more popular, fewer ones will be printed. If everything works out as planned, officials think they can save about $27,000,000 in printing costs during the next five years.

Designing a bill is a complicated and expensive process. Machines and skilled artisans cut the designs for each series of bills into steel plates. Most of the detail work is done by hand. Several engravers work carefully on a plate, each cutting part of the design. One may specialize in faces, another in lettering.

Workers then use the engravings to make plates for printing presses. The money comes off the presses in sheets at the rate of 722,720 bills an hour, and is printed on special paper impregnated with tiny red and blue threads to make counterfeiting difficult.

Paper goes through the presses three times before it becomes money. One press prints the backs of bills. Later, it prints the fronts, or faces, of the currency. Finally, another press adds serial numbers, letters, and seals.

The new money to local banks for circulation.

Printing money in the United States was even more complicated and expensive in the past. About the time of the Civil War, banks relied on specialized firms to print their currency. The security measures were worthy of Fort Knox. The engraving of just a single "vignette" — the little image or portrait adorning a note — often took four months of the presses contains 32 bills and is carefully checked for flaws. An Inspector may examine as many as 4,400 sheets in a working day.

The bills are trimmed down to size in a cutting machine and zip out in neat stacks of 100 bills each. An electric eye checks the stacks to see that all the currency has been properly cut.

At the end of the line, another Inspector counts the bills to make sure every package holds 100 of them. After a final check for damaged bills, they're ready for shipment to Federal Reserve Banks which in turn distribute

Deluxe Hash Browns

- 1 large package frozen Hash Browns
- 1 can Cream of Potato Soup
- 1 can Cream of Celery Soup
- 1 small carton Sour Cream
- Salt, Pepper and Onion to taste
- Green Pepper to taste (optional)
- Parsley Flakes
- Paprika

Place hash browns in 9x13 pan. Mix other ingredients together and pour over. Sprinkle paprika and parsley flakes over top. Bake uncovered in 300 degree oven for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Mer. Herman Oetken
Wayne, Nebr.

One Dish Meal

- Use Frying Chicken (leave whole)
- 6 to 8 small or medium size Potatoes (leave whole or quarter)
- 6 Carrots
- Several small Onions
- 1/2 cup Cooking Sherry
- 3/4 teaspoon Minced Garlic
- Salt and Pepper to taste
- 1 teaspoon Flaked Parsley
- 6 Tablespoons Butter or Oleo

Use 3 tablespoons shortening and rub chicken after you have patted the chicken dry. Put chicken into roaster and put in oven at 325 degrees. Put remainder of shortening in skillet, and add salt, pepper and minced garlic. Put potatoes, carrots and small onions into skillet and saute for 1/2 hour. Add Sherry to saute mixture and continue cooking 10 minutes at low heat. Arrange sauted mixture around chicken, pouring juice over top. Continue cooking until done.

Mrs. Walter Bleich
Winside, Nebr.

Macaroni Salad

- 1 7-oz. package Macaroni
- 2 cups diced cooked Shrimp, Chicken or Ham
- One-third cup Diced Celery
- 2 tablespoons Pimento, chopped
- 1/2 cup finely chopped fresh Green Onion and tops

- 3 hard cooked Eggs, sliced
- 1/4 cup shopped Sweet Pickle
- 1/2 teaspoon Salt
- 1 cup Mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup commercial Sour Cream

Cook macaroni according to direction on package. Drain. Marinate shrimp, chicken or ham in French dressing. Add celery, pimento, onion, eggs and pickles. Combine salt, mayonnaise and sour cream. Pour over salad and toss lightly to mix. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Yields 6 servings.

Mrs. Walter Bleich
Winside, Nebr.

Potato Pancakes

- 3 large Potatoes, raw
- 1/2 cup Flour, sifted
- 1/4 teaspoon Salt
- 2 Eggs, beaten
- 3 teaspoons Baking Powder
- 1 cup hot Milk

Peel potatoes and grate them. Drain off water. Add eggs, sifted dry ingredients and hot milk. Drop batter by tablespoons on a hot greased griddle and brown on both sides. Serve hot with butter, applesauce or orange jelly.

Mrs. Walter Bleich
Winside, Nebr.

Pan Dessert

- 1 cup Flour
- 1/2 cup Butter
- 1/2 cup Nutmeats, chopped
- 1 8-oz. package Cream Cheese
- 2 cups Whipped Topping
- 1 cup Powdered Sugar
- 2 boxes (3 3/4-oz. size) Instant Butterscotch Pudding
- 3 cups Milk
- 1 teaspoon Vanilla

Mix flour, butter and chopped nutmeats together. Place in 9x13 pan and pat firmly. Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Cool well. Mix creamed cheese, 1 cup whipped topping and powdered sugar together and spread on crust layer. Mix butterscotch pudding in milk. Beat and add vanilla. Let stand about 3 to 5 minutes, then spoon over second layer. Spread 1 cup whipped topping over top and sprinkle with chopped nutmeats. Chill. Cut into squares to serve.

Mrs. Herman Oetken
Wayne, Nebr.

Jam Cake

Cream together:

- 1 cup Sugar
 - 1 stick Butter
- Blend slowly:
- Sugar-butter mixture
 - 2 Egg Yolks
 - 1/2 cup Blackberry Jam
 - 1/2 cup Walnuts or Pecans
 - 1/2 cup Crushed Pineapple
 - 1/2 cup Buttermilk
 - 1/2 teaspoon Soda
 - 1 1/2 cups Flour
 - 1 teaspoon Cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon Ginger
 - 1 teaspoon Allspice
 - 1 teaspoon Nutmeg

Fold in 2 egg whites (beaten). Bake in 2 well-greased, 8-inch cake pans at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. I have also used a large bundt pan. Frost with caramel icing.

Lelia Helgren
Columbia, Tenn.

Caramel Icing

- 1 1/2 cups Brown Sugar
- 1 cup Butter
- 3/4 cup Flour
- 1 cup Heavy Cream
- 1 teaspoon Vanilla

Mix brown sugar and flour. Cream with butter. Add cream. Place in double boiler and cook until thick. As butter melts, it will get thin, but keep cooking until thick. Add vanilla. Cool. Spread on cake.

This is a Southern favorite, made especially for winter holidays.

Governor maintains 'tough' stance on state budgeting process

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN — Gov. James Exon has again taken a tough stance on state spending.

In his annual budget message to the legislature, he urged caution when approving appropriations, even though "present indicators show that Nebraska's overall economic recovery is now occurring at a somewhat faster pace than in the nation as a whole."

He told the lawmakers the general picture for 1976 was good and is expected to improve this year but there is "a most serious question mark about our No. 1 industry, agriculture."

Agriculture, Exon said, has been hit by three maladies simultaneously — drought, low prices and steadily increasing costs of production.

He warned that if conditions are unfavorable, he will advise the legislators in the spring of "any necessary alterations in my budget recommendations."

"If revenue predictions are not holding then, further painful reductions might be necessary in capital construction and other areas," he said.

It appears for the first time Nebraska will have a total budget, including revenue from all sources, of more than $10 billion next fiscal year.

Exon trimmed $37 million from agency and department requests for operations and state aid, recommending total general fund expenditures of $473 million — up $36 million or eight per cent from the current year.

To that he added $29 million for a six per cent reserve, $7.3 million for minimum capital expenditures and $6 million for increased food tax exemptions, bringing total general fund obligations and reserves to $515 million.

Exon reminded the lawmakers new spending measures calling for appropriations for more than $80 million have been introduced. That figure, coupled with the $37 million he asked to be eliminated from agency requests, "shows that you have a total of at least $117 million to reduce," he said.

If the legislature goes along with the governor's proposals, 52.3 per cent of the money will go to subdivisions of state government; 24.4 per cent to the University of Nebraska and the four state colleges; 23.3 per cent to all other services and operations of the state.

Exon said the 18 per cent increase requested by the University of Nebraska was "excessive." He recommended a 6.5 per cent hike to $100.8 million. The university asked for $112 million.

The governor expressed strong dissatisfaction because the University of Nebraska Medical Center has not produced more physicians for rural practice.

In an attempt to solve the problem, he proposed placing $1 million of the medical school's budget request in the hands of the regents "to be expended only upon satisfactory demonstration by the school to the regents that current trends will be reversed and how they propose to accomplish same."

The governor advised the senators all state-generated funds paid out to governmental subdivisions and not spent by the state itself are in separate bills this year to point up where the money goes. "Hopefully," said the governor, "this might help quell that great hue and cry that fills these halls each year at this time when trumpeted demands that state coffers must be tapped again and again, more and more, from the magnificent and mysteriously endless pot of gold that majestically pours forth from the big tall building in Lincoln."

Community Colleges

Sen. Howard Lamb of Anselmo wants the technical community colleges to continue as an important part of Nebraska's higher education system. But he does not want to have them partially supported by local property taxes and is sponsoring legislation which would abolish the colleges' authority to levy up to 2.5 mills for operational and construction purposes.

Lamb's bill had both strong support and opposition during a public hearing before the Legislature's Education Committee.

The Anselmo lawmaker said his desire is to have the colleges continue as a "dynamic part of higher education" but with the state furnishing financing for them, just as it does for all other postsecondary educational institutions.

Last year, the community colleges received about $13 million from the state and $10 million from local property taxes. Opponents of Lamb's bill said the current system of financing is working so well it should not be changed.

They seemed to fear the funding Lamb proposed could lead to at least partial loss of local control of the schools.

Gordon Schemp of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Association of Community College Trustees, told the committee: "One of the real advantages of the technical colleges is that they are geared to local needs."

Lamb said he was not concerned that local control would be lost. "Under this bill the technical colleges would take the money from the general fund and go home," he said. "The local governing board would then make the decisions regarding how the money would be spent."

Sunset Legislation

Nebraska lawmakers have been cautioned that so-called "sunset" legislation is more likely to cause greater government accountability than cut to an appreciable degree the number of state agencies.

The warning came from Rosalie Schiff, a spokesperson for Common Cause of Colorado, where the "sunset" concept was initiated.

She said enactment of such legislation should result in improved legislative oversight of government agencies, as well as a better attempt by them to be more accountable to the public.

Under a sunset law, agencies are automatically terminated if not renewed by a specific date after legislative review.

One of the bills introduced this year in Nebraska proposes abolishment of every agency in state government not reinstated by the legislature before July 1, 1980.

In Colorado, according to Ms. Schiff, legislators have encountered considerable pressure from lobbyists to retain agencies slated for legislative review.

A second bill proposed by Gov. J. James Exon and the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee, calls for review of 31 regulatory bodies in state government between next year and 1983.

Any new agency formed after the bill became law would be terminated in six years unless specifically renewed by the Unicameral.

Idle Cash

Diversion of more of the state's idle cash to Nebraska banks was strongly urged recently by spokesmen for the Nebraska Bankers Association.

Several University of Nebraska faculty members also gave the proposal their support.

But Donald J. Mathes, state investment officer, said the state would be better served if the current system of handling the surplus money were retained.

The conflicting testimony came before the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee during consideration of Bellwood Sen. Loran Schmitt's LB 258.

agricultural, commercial and industrial borrowers, the economies of areas where the loans were made would be stimulated.

Dr. Wayne Dobson, a professor of banking, said another benefit would be expansion of the tax base.

Under arrangements made on a voluntary basis, surplus money in sums of $100,000 has been invested in certificates of deposit in 362 banks.

Approximately $36 million is so invested but the bankers association believes this could be increased to as much as $100 million.

Robert Harris, executive manager of the association, said its members are convinced the state is "sacrificing valuable dollars by allowing its idle funds to be invested away from Nebraska."

He noted the Schmitt bill would require banks to pay one per cent above the average rate for 90-day U.S. Treasury bills and the $100,000 initially offered each bank would be fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Mathes said the State Investment Council believes $50 million to $60 million is the maximum that could be fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Personal property tax called unfair

Each session of the Nebraska Legislature brings an attempt to abate the Personal Property Tax Exemption Law of 1972 and the current session is no exception.

LB 107 introduced by Omaha freshman senator David Newell proposes that state tax funds rebated to the counties to reimburse them for personal property tax exemption revenues be pegged at $40 million, the current budget level which represents a 50 per cent exemption under the 1972 law. It is designed to "freeze" the exemption at that point. Under provisions of the 1972 law, the personal property tax exemption for 1977 is to reach its maximum limit of 62.5 per cent.

Senator Loran Schmitt of Bellevue, chairman of the Agriculture Committee and a farmer and cattle feeder who is serving his ninth year as a legislator, is completely familiar with the ramifications of the personal property tax issue and its legislative history.

This was a part of the understanding in 1967 when the Legislature enacted the present sales and income tax law. In the general election of 1966, the voters of Nebraska not only rejected the state income law passed by the 1965 Legislature, but approved a constitutional amendment which prohibits the state from levying a tax on property, leaving the property tax as a source of revenue to local schools and political subdivisions of government exclusively.

As a part of the 1967 tax reform, the Legislature in addition to enacting a combination state sales and income tax, repeated the head and poll taxes, the tax on intangible property, the tax on household goods and certain miscellaneous property taxes. Removal of the tax on personal property, however, had to await a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in 1970, which permits the Legislature to exempt classes of personal property as it may determine.

While most Nebraskans have not filed a personal property tax schedule since 1967, farmers and businesses have continued to file schedules and pay property taxes on their equipment, livestock and inventories. The principle recognized in 1967 and when Amendment 10 was passed in 1970, is that the personal property tax is unfair and uneconomic because it bears no relation to earnings and ability to pay. A farmer or businessman by the nature of his vocation, must own vast amounts of personal property to make his living.

If a farmer's crops are destroyed by hail, flood or drought, he still must pay a personal property tax on the combines, tractors, plows, discs and all the other equipment which he must own to produce a crop. A rancher or cattle feeder may have lost $100 per head on the cattle he marketed, but he still owes a personal property tax on them if he owned them on assessment date.

If the farmer or businessman made a profit on his year's operation, then he pays a state income tax just like all other Nebraskans. And he pays a sales tax on all the equipment he buys which far exceeds that paid by the average wage earner in the course of a year. He pays all the taxes that everyone else pays, plus the personal property taxes on which he is still subject.

The 1972 Personal Property Tax Exemption Law was a compromise as the most likely bill which could get through the Legislature, and survive a governor's veto. Inflation has taken a heavy toll since 1972 and disrupted many of the revenue and expenditure estimates made at that time. But the principle that the personal property tax is unfair because it taxes the tools needed to make a living and show a profit is as valid now as it was in 1967 and in 1972. — M. M. Center employes' Make appeal

Norfolk
Dear Editor: We are appealing to every citizen in the State of Nebraska to help us save the Norfolk Regional Center owned, operated and paid for completely by you, the taxpayers.

A move is being made by the politicians in Lincoln to turn the State Regional Center over to the Nebraska Veterans Home. Do you want the mental patients, who are not ready to be back into society, back into your community or in nursing homes where your dear ones are located?

Help us save the Regional Center, so that we may continue to help those who need these types of services which we have given so many, many years and are willing to continue. We have dedicated our lives to keep this center a place of help for the mental patient and one every one can be proud of.

We urge each of you to write to Gov. Exon and the state legislators to insure that state property used by the Norfolk Regional Center will not be turned over to the veterans. — The Concerned Employees of the Norfolk Regional Center.

OBSERVATIONS

Approval urged for plan

With all the hoopla in the legislature this year over water, it is encouraging to see efforts being made locally to more efficiently utilize underground water.

The Wayne County Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) development group last week voted to ask for approval of a plan which should result in more efficient use of water. The project would focus on monitoring of soil in irrigated fields to ensure that water is applied at the right time.

That probably won't result in application of any less water during dry years. In fact, test results last summer showed it is tough just to keep up with need for moisture during drought years. Monitoring fields and building up the soil profile before planting, however, did result in greater yields for the same amount of water. That still is conservation.

During years of normal rainfall, monitoring of fields could result in less water being applied. Avoiding over irrigation will also save energy.

Wayne County agends Don Spitze was mainly responsible for the irrigation test which generated the ACP proposal. He deserves credit for the test, and the ACP committee for recognizing its value. We hope the state ACP committee approves the plan. — Jim Strayer.

Taxpayers
Must Figure Deductions

For the first time, taxpayers filing the Short Form 1040 will have to figure their standard deduction and exemptions, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The need for the added computations stems from the Tax Reform Act of 1976 which provides for a tax table to be used by all taxpayers having taxable incomes of $20,000 or less, the IRS explained.

To determine taxable income for 1976, individuals subtract the standard deduction, and the number of exemptions to which they are entitled, times $750, from their income. The tax table for 1976 and future years is based on the individual's taxable income and marital status, the IRS said. Previously, those who filed Form 1040 used tables that took into account the standard deduction and number of exemptions to which the taxpayer was entitled.

The IRS said that single persons are entitled to a minimum standard deduction of $1700, while married couples filing joint returns may take $12,100. The maximum standard deduction is 14 per cent of total income to a top of $2,400 for single persons, and $2,800 for married individuals filing joint returns, according to the IRS.

Experiment Station Director Predicting 122 Bushel Corn

Nebraska's precarious geographical position on the "margin of the corn belt" requires an ongoing research program if the state is to remain competitive in corn production, according to Dr. Howard W. Ottosen, director of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Agricultural Experiment Station.

He made the remarks in Kearney last week during the fourth annual meeting of the Nebraska Corn Growers Association.

Ottosen forecast a 122-bushel an acre corn production by 1987 — 148 bushels on irrigated land and 81 bushels on dryland — compared to the 1975 average of 84 bushels an acre.

But he warned that there currently still "is a lot of room for improvement because base (corn) material that produces well in other corn belt states just does not bring forth the best results here."

and nutritional value.

"We need lines that are more heat and drought tolerant," he said. "The Nebraska experiment station has developed several lines used to make hybrids at a good rate for the past several years, and hybrids from those lines have been yielding at good levels."

Ottosen said 14 inbred lines were released by the station in 1975, and two inbred lines and two new hybrids were released in 1976.

He said another aspect of the station's corn research program is genetics, which he said has a "narrow base" in the state and currently is too susceptible to disease and insects.

"We now are using quite a large amount of material introduced from other countries, particularly South America and Central America, in an effort to broaden the genetic base in an attempt to cut down losses from environmental hazards," Ottosen said.

He said work also is continuing on nitrogen fixation, fertilizer management, irrigation efficiency and water management, tillage practices and improving the protein content of corn.

"Much of the yield gain that can be realized in the next few years will depend upon more effective application of current technologies, such as establishment of proper plant populations, effective weed control, moisture conservation, fertilizing for a reasonable yield goal based on a soil test and the use of the best available hybrids," Ottosen said.

"Research investment is the major factor that will determine yields a decade from now and beyond," he said.

Seed Growers Can Try New Oat Variety

Nebraska certified seed growers will be able to get seed of a new oat variety in the spring of 1978, according to Dr. John Schmidt, University of Nebraska-Lincoln small grain breeder.

The improved variety "Bates" has been cooperatively released by the Missouri and Nebraska agricultural experiment stations, he said.

The Nebraska station has only enough seed for the Foundation Seed Division to use for increasing the variety this year, he said.

Bates is a spring type oat that fills well and has a medium green colored vegetative growth.

At heading, the panicles are relatively light green in color and when ripe the panicles and straw are a deep yellow color. Kernels are slightly dark in color and moderately plump and heavy.

Compared to Oteb in a series of tests, grain percentage was three per cent higher, oil content 1.5 per cent higher and protein content three per cent lower.

Bates has been superior to Oteb in Missouri in grain yield as well as crown rust and smut resistance.

Barley yellow dwarf virus resistance has been as good or better and they are similar in plant height, straw strength, and maturity.

Bates was developed at the Missouri station and tested in both Missouri and Nebraska, Schmidt said.

Weight Class Added For Pig Exhibit

In an effort to lessen the disparity between heavier and lighter pigs, another weight class has been added for the third annual Nebraska Feeder Pig Show to be held in Columbus Thursday, Feb. 17, according to Dr. William Ahlswede, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension swine specialist.

The one-day show, to be run in conjunction with the fourth annual Feeder Pig Exposition which starts a day earlier, will feature three weight classes instead of the usual two, he said.

Trophies will be awarded the top five-pig pen in each class instead of to an overall winner, Ahlswede said, with $50 being given each first place pen.

He said the recently set weight classes will be 30-39, 40-49 and 50-60 pounds. Between 60 to 70 pens, each consisting of five feeder pigs farrowed on their exhibitor's farm or firm, are expected for this year's show, he added.

"The classes were getting a little too big," Ahlswede said explaining the change in an interview. "There's a large size difference in even a 30 pound spread, and we found that light pigs were at too much of a disadvantage."

He said the Feeder Pig Exposition will feature three half-days of informational meetings and a trade show.

Opening day presentations will include morning discussions on sows and boars, Ahlswede said. Dr. Larry Blitney, UNL agricultural economics professor, will speak on cost differential, firm or farm will be limited to two pens, he said.

Following the show, all hogs will be sold to and fed out by a cooperating pork producer, Ahlswede said, performance records and carcass evaluation on each pen will be collected and returned to the exhibitors, he said.

"I think the show has been of interest to our producers largely because the pigs are fed out and people exhibiting them know how well their oia did, both in gain and carcass value," Ahlswede said. He said the show committee and buyers combine forces to collect the data at market time.

Norfolk Is Site For Farm Forum

A series of eight special Farm Forums sponsored by the Chicago Merchants Exchange in cooperation with University of Nebraska agricultural economists will include a session at King's Ballroom in Norfolk Tuesday.

The educational programs are designed to explore with Nebraska producers, growers and agricultural lenders the hedging aspects of and opportunities in future markets. Noting price uncertainty in farming operations and the growth of outstanding farm debt, to $101.6 billion in 1976, planners say the Farm Forums will allow producers, lenders and experts "to meet face-to-face to explore together the myth, mystery and facts about futures hedging."

There is no charge for attending the forums or for lunch, but registration is encouraged to facilitate planning. Pre-registration should be directed to Chicago Merchants Exchange, 444 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago, IL 60604.

The forums for livestock producers start at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3:15 p.m.

UNL participants include Dr. Al Wellman, livestock marketing specialist and Dr. Lynn Lulgen, marketing specialist, and Dr. Earl Gleaves, poultryman.

he said today's hybrids "can be substantially improved" in yield response potential, drought stress tolerance, disease and insect tolerance and resistance.

Calf Hutches Gaining Popularity

Calf hutches have been around since the late 1950s but are really just beginning to catch on because of exceptional results reported by producers from all over the country, district extension dairy specialist Don Kubik said.

A calf hutch is an individual call house, usually four-by-four, by eight-feet with no floor.

There are only a few simple rules to make the hutch system work:

- Only one calf per hutch.
- Keep dry bedding under calves.
- Locate on well-drained area.

Move between calves except when the frost is in the ground. Then let the bedding build up.

Place calves in them as soon as they nurse the first time and are dried off.

Feed only colostrum, whole milk or a high grade milk replacer. The calves in hutches need more energy to keep warm.

Kubik said the reasons the hutches are so effective in raising calves are low cost of about $40 per unit, easy cleaning, because they can be moved and bedding cleaned with a loader, calves are isolated so the spread of disease is minimum, and only the required number of hutches need to be built so the size is right for every dairyman.

The only disadvantage, Kubik said, is the inconvenience to the person feeding the calves. It requires getting out in the weather to tend the calves. However, the dairy specialist said, "Producers using them are the first to tell you it is well worth it because of the very low death loss in this system."

Anyone who needs additional calf housing or is having calf losses in their present calf program should consider calf hutches, he continued. For more information on where to see this system in use or building plans, contact the local county agent.

Survey To Measure Farm Expense

The Nebraska Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will interview a cross section of the state's farmers this month as part of a nationwide survey to determine 1976 farm production expenditures according to director Jack Aschwege.

Along with questions concerning outlays for equipment and services and other production needs, some farmers also will be asked about marketing patterns for corn, soybeans, wheat and grain sorghum, as an aid to accurately estimating farm income.

Other producers will be queried about pesticide usage on crops and with livestock. Aschwege said responses will be kept confidential.

The reporting service director said farm production outlays need to be monitored if there is to be a reliable measure of how well farmers are doing compared with other groups in the nation's economy.

In 1965, U.S. farmers paid out nearly $27 billion to produce crops, livestock and poultry. Expenditures averaged more than $29,000 per farm, nationally, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said.

The major expenditure was for feed, accounting for more than $12 billion, followed by rent at $8 billion, livestock and poultry purchases at more than $7 billion, and fertilizer, lime and soil conditioners at $6.8 billion.

Pork Producers To Meet Tuesday At NE Station

The basis for improved litter size, and reducing foot and leg problems in swine will be topics of a pork producers' meeting Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Dr. Dwane Zimmerman, professor of animal science from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will discuss the basis for improved litter size in swine.

Dr. Zimmerman is widely known for his research in reproductive physiology of swine. Bob Fritschen, district swine specialist, will present information on how to reduce "foot-and-leg" problems in swine.

The meeting is co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska Extension Service and the Northeast Pork Producers Association. All pork producers and related industry associates are encouraged to attend. Lunch will be provided.

This and That...
from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

Any crop will recover or utilize applied fertilizer nitrogen more effectively when the time of application coincides with growth and demand for nitrogen.

In 1967, 68 and 69 tests were run in this area to see if the condition could be corrected by fertilization, tillage, or a combination of both.

Without fertilizer application, neither heavy nor light disking increased yields in any of the three years. Yields from plots which were disced were not greatly different from plots which received no treatment.

The disking did not increase yields, instead it cut the root worm system of the bromegrass and allowed the weeds to grow. An increase in weed growth was not observed in the fertilized non-tilled plots.

Frozen Water Pipes

There have been reports of more than the usual number of frozen water pipes. What is the reason for this?

It may be more than the extreme cold. It could be a soil moisture factor.

Due to very dry conditions, many soils have shrunk away from foundations, forming cracks up to five feet deep and leaving the water service pipes exposed to open air. Care must be taken in closing the cracks, however, as filling them with soil or other solid material may lead to foundation or basement cracking due to intense pressures created when soil wets and swells in the spring.

Best results can be achieved by insulating the surface area near the foundation with straw, leaves, or other organic materials.

Former Carroll Man Vice President of Livestock Exchange

Ken Graves was elected vice president of the Omaha Live Stock Exchange in January.

Graves, a former Carroll resident and graduate of Carroll High School, is the son of Mrs. Irvin Graves of Fremont He has been associated with live stock firms in Omaha for 20 years and is a hog buyer for the O.K. Firm.

His wife is the former Lois Landanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landanger of Winslow. The couple have four children.

Fertilizing Oats

The best way to determine fertilizer needs for oats is by taking a soil test. If a test hasn't been taken a good basic recommendation for 60 bushel oats is 60 pounds of nitrogen and 30 pounds of phosphate per acre.

The rule of thumb for nitrogen on oats is one pound of nitrogen for each bushel of oats.

Beware of Fraud
 Don't be a "patsy" or a "pigeon", a "sucker" or any of the other names applied to someone who just can't resist one of those "deals" that sounds too good to be true. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is!

There are always a few "sly" individuals around who make their living by cheating others. They usually pick as their targets the elderly and those who can least afford to lose money. In some areas citizens lose more money to con artists than they do through robberies and burglaries.

One common scheme that works against the elderly and others is referred to as the "bank examiner" scheme. This particular fraud is so common in Nebraska that some savings institutions are enclosing flyers with statements warning customers of the possible danger.

The general pattern is for the victim, usually an elderly person, to receive a phone call from a man who identifies himself as a bank examiner. He solicits the victim's assistance in apprehending a "dishonest" teller in a bank, first by getting the victim to withdraw savings and then handing it over to the crook to be counted. Afterwards, both the "examiner" and the money disappear.

Another scheme practiced in Nebraska is called the "pigeon drop". In this case, and elderly person, usually a widow, is approached by a young person of the same sex with a story about finding a substantial sum of money.

So, beware! If a deal sounds just too good to be true, it probably is. This is especially true, if the person is a stranger.

Call the police, Chamber of Commerce, Better Business Bureau or anyone to report the "deal". You will save yourself a headache and help to protect other intended victims.

Why not save for sunny days too?

Saving for a rainy day is an old and worthwhile tradition, and we at Columbus Federal encourage it. But we also encourage you to put something aside for the good days—those times in your life when you can see a dream come true or make living easier—your sunny days.

And once you start saving, it's predictable that there will be more sun than rain in your future.

Retirement Days . . .
 You look forward to their coming—with a slower pace of life, more leisure time to enjoy hobbies and to relax. And when you have savings working for you at Columbus Federal, retirement days can be as rewarding and enjoyable as you always hoped they'd be.

Home Ownership Days . . .
 The day you move into the house you saved for—the home you and your family can call your own—is truly a sunny day. Regular deposits to Columbus Federal savings account plus our liberal method of computing interest can help you acquire your down payment quicker than you think. The joys and benefits of home ownership are many. Equity builds up; interest and real estate taxes are income tax deductible; and the house itself can be an excellent hedge against inflation.

Special Days . . .
 Recreation, relaxation, convenience—we all strive for those things which can make our lives fuller and more enjoyable. A vacation trip, a major labor saving device, or a new car are all meaningful goals which can be achieved through a daily interest savings account at Columbus Federal.

Women 'Discover Gifts'

The Wakefield Covenant Women began their meeting last Wednesday with the singing of "It's Just Like Jesus". Mrs. Francis Muller presented the lesson "Discover Your Gifts," using Scripture verses and visuals to explain the talents of teaching, helping, faith, administering, exhorting, giving, showing mercy, evangelizing, and pastoring.

The assembly was then divided into three smaller groups to discuss the question, "What Is My Part?" The groups were led by Mrs. Joe Anderson, Mrs. Clarence Holm and Mrs. Paul Byers.

Mrs. Merlin Bressler sang the hymn "Saved to Tell Others," and the birthday song was sung for Mrs. Elmer Fleetwood and Mrs. Malcom Jensen the program closed with the singing of "Give Me Thy Heart."

Hostesses serving a red and white lunch were Mrs. Joe Erickson, Mrs. Leonard Converse and Mrs. Paul Everingham.

The March meeting will be a work day.

Firemen's Auxiliary
The Firemen's Auxiliary met last Tuesday evening at the fire hall. Eighteen members and two guests were present.

A thank you and $10 was received from the Charles Peters family. A memorial plaque for the firemen and auxiliary will be purchased with the money.

The group will play bingo with the residents of the nursing home on March 4.

Mrs. Brad Schwarten is chairman for the dinner for the district convention. Committees were set up for the slagette to be held April 29.

Mrs. Dean Ulrich and Mrs. Dennis Rodby are on the nominating committee.

Mrs. Short Kay and Mrs. Art Doescher served lunch.

The next meeting will be March 8 at 8 p.m.
