Blood Pressure Clinic Planned

The Wayne Kiwanis Club and Wayne Home Extension organization again this year will sponsor free blood pressure tests during the Wayne County Fair. The tests will be offered Friday and Saturday, July 29 and 30, from 5 to 9:30 p.m. Volunteer nurses will conduct the tests and Kiwanis and Home Extension members will take care of administrative chores. Similar tests have been conducted at the annual Kiwanis pancake feed this year and last year at the fair. Dr. Ken Liske is Kiwanis chairman and Mrs. Larry Nichols is Home Extension chairman for the event.

Rainfall Below Average

Precipitation in Northeast Nebraska was below normal in June, according to the Conservation and Survey Division of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The region received an average of 3.81 inches of rain, .95 of an inch below the 29-year average, or only 80 per cent of normal.

Precipitation amounts varied between weather observation stations in the district. Wakefield received 4.15 inches of rain, but the amount was .38 of an inch below normal for the location.

Norfolk received 5.04 inches, .16 of an inch above normal. Elsewhere, precipitation fell to as low as 2.48 inches recorded at Hartington, 2.14 inches below normal, while Oakdale came out best with 5.52 inches, .82 of an inch above normal.

Despite the below-normal June rains, however, the Northeast region is still 20 per cent above normal for the April-June quarter. Total rainfall for the period was 13.16 inches, 2.16 inches above the 29-year average.

Average daily temperatures recorded at Norfolk and Wakefield were slightly above average. The average temperature for the month at Norfolk was 72.8 degrees, 2.9 degrees above the 25-year average. Average daily maximum was 84.2 degrees and average daily minimum was 61.3 degrees. The high at Norfolk, recorded June 10, was an even 100 degrees. Low was 50 degrees.

Wakefield was slightly cooler, but not enough that most folks probably noticed the difference. The high there was 97 degrees and the low was 46 degrees.

Average daily maximum at Wakefield was 85.2 degrees and the average daily minimum was 59.4. Average temperature for the month was 72.3 degrees, 2.2 degrees above normal.

Pre-Trial Order Sets Timetable In Emphasis Suit

A trial date for a civil case in Wayne County district court involving Emphasis, Inc., stockholders and officers will not be set until after Jan. 1, 1978, according to a pre-trial order issued by judge Eugene C. McFadden.

The order, received in Wayne County district court on July 13 following a July 6 pre-trial conference, requires that discovery of evidence in the case be completed by Dec. 1.

A further pre-trial conference may be scheduled after completion of discovery and amendments to the pleadings. Amendments will be completed by Jan. 1, 1978, according to judge McFadden's order. A trial on the matter will be scheduled for sometime after New Year's day.

At stake in the case is some $150,000 allegedly invested by Wayne residents to provide capital for starting an Emphasis, Inc., plant in Wayne.

The suit, filed by Mr. and Mrs. Lester "Dick" Wacker and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Manes, all of Wayne, alleges potential investors were assured money paid for stock in the company would be held in escrow until the Wayne plant was in operation. According to a pleading in the case file, the money was released for use in the company's general operation after its original plant in Fremont was destroyed by fire.

Tavern Owners: Those Coors Suds Won't Last Long In this Town

By BOB BARTLETT

The arrival of Coors beer in Wayne is expected to make a big splash in most taverns, but the wave of converted consumers may just be a small trickle.

That's the opinion of a few tavern operators in Wayne who were asked how well the Colorado-based hops will sell in town.

Dee Pfanz of El Toro, Al Mohlfeld of Big Al's Place and Alice Mersny of Alice's Country Tavern all concede that Coors probably will sell big for a while, but predict that like Omaha, it will show a marked drop-off once the newness wears off.

"Bud (Budweiser) is the largest selling here," Mohlfeld pointed out, "so it (Coors) will have to do awful good to knock out Bud," but I don't think it will."

Mohlfeld thinks Coors will sell good when students return this fall to Wayne State College, and sales will continue for a while, but so will sales of other brands of beer, he noted.

The problem facing most Northeast Nebraska tavern owners is getting the brew. The distributorship for this area is based in Norfolk, but so far, facilities aren't available to store the "Colorado Cool Aid." As a result, beer drinkers may have to wait until September to purchase Coors in Wayne.

No matter how long it takes, Mrs. Pfanz doesn't believe Coors will hurt the sales of the Toro's faithful Pabst Blue Ribbon, Budweiser or Miller Lite drinkers.

"Coors tastes a lot like Oly (Olympia) beer," and a lot of people went back to their regular brands after tasting Oly, she said.

There are some arguments that Coors delivered in Nebraska is a pasteurized beer, and like milk, it must be kept cool at all times. For that reason, Mrs. Mersny explained that she won't be able to handle Coors because she doesn't have the walk-in cooler space to store it.

If Coors isn't pasteurized she said she'd be able to sell it as soon as it arrives in town. However, she doesn't expect prolonged sales to bother her faithful Blue drinkers.

Got Another One

PLAYING BASEBALL with a water balloon can get a bit messy as the photo above demonstrates. It was part of the action in the "Almost Anything Goes" contest at the Winside Old Settlers Picnic. The object was to see how many balloons pitchers could get in the bucket, held by a catcher, without breaking. But the opposing team supplied a batter to prevent the missiles from reaching the catcher, and the results made quite a splash. Kim and Kent Damme (below) with help from their mother, line up for Wednesday's kiddie parade, dressed up as television characters Granny and Jethro.

Farm Team Wins 'Anything Goes'

A farmer's team rolled, slid, batted, pushed and hopped its way to victory Thursday afternoon in an "Almost Anything Goes" contest at the Winside Old Settlers Picnic.

It was the first time the Old Settlers sponsors had organized such an event, adapted from a television game show, and chairman Charles Jackson said the success this year guarantees a return for the 1978 festival.

The Winside Community Club team finished second, followed by a squad from the Winside school, with the Winside firemen finishing last.

The "Roaring Twenties" was the theme of the picnic Wednesday and Thursday and the celebration provided a variety of activities for those attending.

A kiddie parade Wednesday afternoon was the first event, with the theme of cartoon and television characters. Winners in the theme division were: first — Holly and Chad Sebade and Heidi and Angie Hapsen as the Flintstones; second — Debbie Stevers and Terry Rutenbeck as Micky and Minnie Mouse; third — Kim and Kent Damme as Granny and Jethro from the old "Beverly Hillsbillies" television show. Winners in the pet division were: first — Scott Behmer; second — Connie Siedschlage; third — Missy, Loralee, and Matthew Jensen.

Speaker for the Aug. 12 commencement exercises at Wayne State College will be Francis Hau, superintendent of the Wayne Public Schools the past 13 years.

The ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m. at the Willow Bowl, weather permitting. Eighty students are scheduled to receive degrees, 46 bachelor of arts and 34 masters.

Hau's topic, "Back to Basics," will focus on effective teaching in the face of declining enrollment problems confronted by Nebraska public schools. Articles dealing with declining enrollment have been written by Hau for the Nebraska State School Board Journal, "Board Policy and RIF," published October, 1976, and "Declining Enrollments," co-authored by David Hutcheson, published April, 1977.

Hau received his bachelor of arts degree from Yankton, S.D., College in 1950; his masters degree from the University of South Dakota at Vermillion in 1956, and a specialist degree from the University of South Dakota in 1968. He is currently working on a doctorate in education at the University of Nebraska.

He began his career as an English and science teacher in Freeman, S.D., following a stint in the Korean War. Before coming to Wayne in 1964 he had served as high school principal at Coleridge and district superintendent at Coleridge and Ainsworth.

Carroll Farm Home Struck By Lightning

The Lonnie Fork farm home one and one-half miles south of Carroll suffered minor damage Wednesday night when it was struck by lightning.

According to reports, the bolt struck the edge of the roof, tore some shingles loose, burned a six-inch hole in the ceiling plaster, and loosened a door casing.

Some fuses were burned out by the lightning but the house wiring apparently was not damaged and no fire resulted from the bolt.

Crazy Towns Exist — In Fantasy

Can you imagine a city where no one ever talks, simply because no one ever taught them how?

Or a town where people use umbrellas to shield themselves from the sun because they think sunshine will melt them?

How about a place where people hop around all day, merely because they only use half of their pants?

These crazy towns do exist. Not in real life, of course, but in a whimsical children's musical entitled "Bumperton, Hopping, Snickerville."

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Players will present the children's fantasy in Wayne, under the auspices of the newly formed Wayne area chapter of United Cerebral Palsy of Nebraska.

The performance will be from 11 a.m. until noon at the city auditorium on Aug. 6, in conjunction with the Dog Days promotion. Tickets will cost $1 and will be sold in advance and at the door. Proceeds will be used to purchase orthopedic equipment for cerebral palsy victims.

The local cerebral palsy chapter completed plans for sponsoring the performance during a meeting Wednesday morning at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. Included were chapter chairman Janice Predeohl, Mrs. Dorothy Kabisch, Carol Dohrman, Marcie Thomas, Beverly Ether and Eleanor Edwards.

Scholarship List Grows

Six more Nebraska students have received scholarships to attend Wayne State College.

Included are: A 1974 graduate of Pender High School, Ronald Morse, is the recipient of a $150 Eleanor Bentback Ingram Scholarship.

Morse is a member of the college Biology Club, has served as secretary and vice president of LDJ, the physical science honorary, is a student member of the college evaluation committee; will be a chemistry tutor this fall, and has aided in judging several area science fairs.

He graduated this spring from South Sioux Community High School and plans to study business administration and physical education at Wayne State.

Driver Injured

A rural Wayne man was injured early Friday morning in a one-car accident west of Wayne. OBSERVATIONS

An appropriate slogan

Farm Safety Week begins (Monday) under a proclamation signed by President Carter, and extends through Sunday.

The theme this year is: "Safety is a Good Investment."

The slogan obviously makes sense for everyone, but it is, perhaps, especially appropriate for a promotion designed to encourage awareness of safety among American farmers.

Why? American farm families collectively have a tremendous responsibility — feeding our nation and others. It's a responsibility which has been faithfully shouldered year in and year out despite natural and economic adversity.

Farmers are part of a minority which has been decreasing in numbers. In recent years because of changes which have dictated larger farms and fewer operators. Loss of life and limb is always personally tragic, and loss of the expertise necessary to feed a nation is tragic to all of us, on another scale.

According to the National Safety Council, agricultural work-related accidents last year claimed the lives of nearly 1,900 persons, and caused about 180,000 disabling injuries.

Also, some 5,400 farm residents were killed and 500,000 disabled in work, home, recreation, and traffic accidents during the past year.

Economics have taken a heavy enough toll on the number of farm families in America. That, perhaps, is unavoidable, a condition of changing times. But accidents can be prevented.

So come on, Mr. Farmer. We know it's a busy time of the year for you. But give just a little extra thought to safety this week. It might prevent an accident, and we need you. — Jim Strayer.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

The electric car is bound to come back and it won't need a cord that stretches from Kalamazoo to Kansas City, says the Automotive Information Council. Considerable corporate, government and private research funds are going into electric and the most optimistic outlook for the debut date is late in the next decade.

Interest in electric cars is especially high now because of the energy crisis. Some opponents contend we ultimately will be transferring the consumption of energy from the vehicle tanks to the utility generating plants.

Meanwhile, the researchers report that the electric vehicle is still limited by the size, weight and range characteristics of batteries. So, the quest focuses on the development of higher energy density batteries such as durable lead-acid units. Under research are zinc-nickel and lithium-iron sulfide batteries.

This surge of interest in electric cars recalls an era when a few of them silently cruised urban avenues. There weren't many; they were expensive and didn't go very far without a recharge. The Henry Ford Museum claims it has the oldest electric car in captivity on display in Dearborn, Mich.

Perhaps not so surprisingly, this 1899 vehicle was built under the direction of Thomas Alva Edison. The great inventor did not gain his fame in the automotive world.

According to the museum, however, the inquisitive Mr. Edison wanted to determine if an electric car was feasible. Edison "retired" the car in that first year and brought it back into experimental service in 1905. The second time around, he introduced a new type of storage battery using nickel plates and alkaline electrolyte in place of the conventional lead and sulfuric acid.

Edison had developed a great friendship with the first Henry Ford. Together, they developed a 1913 battery powered car that never came close to production because of its low speed and poor range.

Though electricity was Edison's great love, Henry Ford once recalled: "Although Mr. Edison was called the wizard of the electrical world and everyone thought that electricity was the coming thing, he actually encouraged me to go on with my second car which was gas powered."

STRAY'er Thoughts

By Jim Strayer

Jeff's Cafe is going to have to tighten its belt this week. Herald manager Jim Marsh is going on vacation, and I'm predicting a 15 per cent drop-off in coffee sales.

Fair Time

It's that time of the year again, folks. By the end of the week, I suspect, Marilyn Koch, Don Spitz, and myself will be ready to head for the showers. The Wayne County Fair starts Thursday, and it looks like a great lineup again.

A special event this year will be the presentation of a Pioneer Farm Family Award to the Darrell Puckett family of West Point. Their Wayne County farm has been in the family for 100 years. It will be the first time such an award has been made in several years, according to Koch, County Fair manager. Marilyn said a number of Pioneer Awards should be forthcoming in the next few years.

New Event

An addition to the agenda is the pickup pull, scheduled for Saturday. Sounds like some marvelous machines will be entered in the competition and it should be exciting.

The tractor pull this year won't be sanctioned because of a scheduling conflict, but there should be plenty of interest in the event. Koch said he expects the contest to attract mainly local drivers who will have a chance to compete for the $1,700 in prize money, so plan on coming out to the fair to see what your friends and neighbors can do. Or even better, crank up your own tractor and try yourself.

Help Welcome

The annual barbecue, always a favorite, is scheduled for Friday. Anyone who can lend a hand cutting wood to fire the pits will be more than welcome tonight (Monday) at the fairgrounds. Cleanup at the fairgrounds is also scheduled tonight.

Coverup

You've probably all heard by now about the great coverup in Houston, Tex. A Moonie leader, Patrick Hickey, admitted that he pasted cardboard dresses over pictures of nude women painted on the windows of several adult bookstores and lounges.

According to reports, the cardboard clothing fit perfectly. Wonder how much observation went into obtaining the right measurements.

New Happenings

Lot of things are happening in Wayne. Dirt work is underway for the new transfer station, the downtown improvement project is getting started, and several cubes of brick were just unloaded at the fire station for an addition to house a new fire truck.

Ribbon Winner

Jennifer Utech's name was omitted from the list of district dairy show ribbon winners received by the Herald. She received a red ribbon for her Holstein grade junior calf.

Twenty-two members and former members attended the 25th anniversary tea and meeting of Club 15, held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Fredrick Janke. Roll call was answered with each telling something they remember as a club member. The club history was read. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Fredrick Janke and Mrs. Alvin Meyer, the only charter members who still belong to the club. They poured and served the anniversary cake which was decorated in the club's colors of yellow and purple.

3 Emerson Hurlers Couldn't Stop Midgets in 15-Run 6th

By BOB BARTLETT
Trying to describe the Midgets' victory Friday night is like trying to put together a 1,000-piece puzzle in 15 minutes. Where do you start?

For Wayne, the start was in the top of the last inning where the locals scored 15 runs on 11 walks, three hit batters, two hits and five Emerson errors. Final count: Wayne 22, Emerson 10.

The win wasn't as lopsided as the score indicated. The home team had to struggle from an 8-7 deficit after five frames to nip the fired-up Emerson crew which looked to be an easy mark at the outset of the game.

Coach Hank Overin's team, which already owned 23-1 and 7-6 wins over Emerson in Ralph Bishop League play, charged at the beginning of the game to take a 2-0 lead. But that margin only held up one and a half frames before Emerson took over with its timely hitting combined with several Wayne errors and mental miscues.

A throwing error to third by hurler Tom Ginn gave away allowed Emerson to score its first of three runs in the second inning. Emerson got another run on a passed ball before leadoff hitter Remy Bell got off a run-scoring double for a 3-2 Emerson lead.

From that point on, the third game of Class District American Legion tournament at Coleridge was a see-saw battle.

Wayne, in its half of the third, tied the game at three apiece on Dave Schwartz's line-shot down third base to score Ginn from second.

In the fourth, Emerson punched across three runs for a 6-3 ball game when right fielder Loren Murray dropped a flyball to score Jeff Utemark from third and Ginn gave up a bases-loaded walk to Tod Pfanz. Before Emerson scored its third run, Overin called on Dennis Carroll to switch from his shortstop position to the mound. "But Ginn still a little shaky," muttered an infield grounder to allow Emerson's Stacey Dazil to score.

Ginn did have some bright moments to help spark his club to storm from behind. He made a spectacular diving catch near third on a hard hit by left fielder Randy Fuschler, then fired the ball to third for a double play in the two-run fourth inning.

In the next frame, Ginn was responsible for two of three outs when he tagged out Pfanz between second and third, then batted down a hard-hit bouncing grounder before he flipped the ball to second baseman Schwartz for the force out.

Wayne's four runs in their half of the fourth whitened the margin to 8-7 in favor of Emerson. With two away, leadoff hitter Jeff Zeiss singled and scored on Carroll's triple to the 3rd-floor center field fence. Carroll later came home on a passed ball. A pair of walks by Emerson's Jeff Philby put the locals in great scoring shape, especially when Philby couldn't find the handle on a high one-hop grounder by Mark Gansbom to score two more Wayne runs.

The game broke wide open in the stretched-out sixth frame when Emerson's bats broke the string with a single.

Wayne's biggest outpour of runs came in the four-run fifth inning where the locals connected for five hits.

Singles by Tom Ginn, Mark Gansbom and a punt by Brad Schwartz, loaded the sacks for Wayne before Jeff Goeden hit into a fielder's choice to short and scored Ginn on the late throw to home.

Catcher Dan Mitchell unleashed a two-run single for a 5-0 Wayne count and scored on Carroll's base hit with two away.

Coach Hank Overin praised Coleridge's playing, noting that its defense was good for a young club. The slow throwing of Coleridge's Feilhaber hampered the Midgets' hitting. Overin pointed out "because it threw our timing off."

The locals took a 2-0 lead on single runs in the first two frames. Carroll, who walked and stole second, scored on Gansbom's base hit in the opening frame. Jeff Zeiss banged a run-scoring single in the second to score Mitchell who waled and advanced on a fielder's choice by Murray.

Coach: They Have Good Pitchers, but We've Got Defense

Wakefield, which posted four straight wins in districts including an 11-1 sweep of tourney favorite Thurston, will take on Sorensen's Standard of Grand Island in the fifth game of the tournament.

The area club will enter the meet with a 13-6 overall record as of Friday and with enough good throwers to hopefully stay in the 25-team, double-elimination tournament.

Susan Miller, who threw all four district games, heads the pitching staff for Olson. Also on the throwing roster are Jackie Lueft and Schwartz.

"We're going to meet a lot of tough, fast pitchers, but we've got a real, real strong defensive club," said Wakefield's last-pitch softball coach Jennifer Olson as she noted Friday the team's chances in the state tournament in Grand Island Friday.

Wakefield swept the district tournament at Emerson by trimming Homer, 17-7; nipping Emerson, 5-1; handing Thurston its first loss, 11-1, and blanking Emerson in the finals, 21-0.

Kober led Wakefield bats against Homer with a pair of triples and two singles. Murphy came up with a two-run base hit in the fourth in her team's 5-1 win over Emerson. Kober's triple and Lisa Paul's two-bagger in the four-run, fourth inning nailed down the win Thurston. In the final match, Schwaren unloaded a triple, double and two singles.

Laurel Midgets Blast Randolph For Final Berth

Laurel used a 12-run scoring attack in the last two frames Friday night to blast Randolph Midgets 13-3, and move into the finals of the Class C District American Legion tournament at Coleridge.

Coach Bob Weisenberg's club pounced on a pair of Randolph hurlers for five runs in the fifth off four hits and an outfield error to shake off a 3-1 deficit and take the lead 6-3.

Winning pitcher was Paul Guern, who gave up six hits. Laurel and Wayne were scheduled to play in the finals Sunday night at 6 o'clock.

Eaton's Juniors Face Favorite Ord in B Meet

Paul Eaton's Wakefield Juniors will have their hands full in the second round of the Class B American Legion baseball Area tournament at O'Neill at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday when they take on tournament favorite Ord.

An ant that's so small you can barely see it is the thief ant (Solenopsis fugax). Workers of this species are sometimes as small as .059 of an inch.

Ord, which should get by Albion in the first match Tuesday, carries an impressive 19-2 record into five-team tournament and has two salty pitchers who are expected to carry their team to the championship bracket of the double-elimination meet.

Fresh from winning the Ralph Bishop League, Eaton's crew has its own impressive record of 20 wins against 10 defeats — the second best record in the tournament. Albion follows with an 11-10 mark while O'Neill is 7-9 and Wynot is 5-9 going into the meet.

Eaton's hoping that Ord will suffer a loss to prolong the meet to five days and thereby weaken Ord's throwing staff.

Wakefield's mound staff includes Brad Jones (10-3), Dean Sharp, Doug Starz and Rick Guy.

Wakefield Midgets will not be going to districts this season because there aren't enough players to field a team, Eaton said.

Using players from the Pony League, Wakefield Midgets did finish the season with a 10-4 record in the Ralph Bishop League.

Time to Get Guessers in Gear

With the college and high school athletic seasons fast approaching, Second Guessers' president Cap Peterson says it's time to get club activities in gear.

Once again Dan Gardner of Wakefield will direct the organization of the booklet which is used to help raise funds for the Guesser's programs. Proceeds from last year's drive went to help pay for a new weight room, Wildcat Room and handball courts at Wayne State College, as well as sponsor the annual sports banquet.

Laurel '9' Wraps Up Play

Laurel town team will wrap up regular season play in the Tri-County Amateur Baseball League this week with a pair of home games.

Tonight (Monday) Laurel is scheduled to meet league leader Crofton in a makeup game. Laurel, which is second in the league with a 10-3 record prior to Sunday night's game with Wausa, postponed an early meeting with Crofton due to scheduling conflicts.

Wednesday night Laurel takes on O'Neill. All home games start at 8:15 p.m.

In the teams' last meeting, Laurel downed O'Neill 9-3 on the hitting of Nick Danze, John Schroeder and Rod Erwin. Danze connected for a double and three singles to tie in four runs. Schroeder singled three times and Erwin hit a bases-empty home run.

Ken Benson started on the mound for Laurel before Jeff Creamer, an Allen product, finished up the last four frames.

Boys Baseball

Wayne 13, Laurel 0 — Steve Overin struckout 10 Laurel batters to record his third no-hit of the season Tuesday. Overin led Wayne's 10 hit attack with a two-run homer in the first frame to help clinch the team's ninth win against no losses.

Little League

Pony League

Wayne 2, Laurel 0 — Tim Pfeiffer faced only 17 batters in five frames to chalk up his first no-hit shutout and the club's eighth win. Pfeiffer finished the game with 11 strikeouts. Wayne scored both of its runs in the top of the fifth on singles by Pat McCright and Eric Brink.

MICROWAVE CANNING — A NO NO

One shortcut modern homemakers should not take is using the microwave oven to can foods. A few older microwave appliance cookbooks included directions for canning. However, most of these manufacturers are no longer recommending their ovens for canning because many hazards have been found to be involved.

For example, closed jars of food have exploded or broken while being heated in the microwave oven. This is one of the reasons it is not safe to can in a conventional oven either. Metal canning lids also cause problems in microwave ovens. Metal reflects the cooking waves rather than allowing them to pass through which stops the microwave cooking action. Food processed in a microwave oven may not reach uniform internal temperatures. It's important when canning foods, such as fruits, vegetables, and pickles; for them to reach a high, even internal temperature for a specified time. Because microwave cooking occurs as energy waves penetrate food, a consistent temperature throughout the food is not guaranteed. The energy distribution may not be even, causing food in one part of the jar to be hot while another part may only be warm. Fruits and pickles should be processed in a boiling water bath canner. Low acid foods, such as vegetables, need to be processed in a pressure canner because the temperature inside the jar needs to get higher than boiling. Above boiling temperature for the required period of time is necessary for killing bacteria spores in food that could cause the deadly botulism toxin.

WAYNE COUNTY WATER-LEVEL DATA

Conservation measures to use with irrigation systems to reduce soil losses. 1. Plant row crops on the contour. 2. Use a reduced tillage system which leaves residue on the surface. 3. Apply irrigation water at the intake rate for soils on your farm (generally one-third to one-half inches per hour in Wayne County). There are approximately 80 irrigation wells in the county, of these 64 are center pivot systems.

INTERPRETATION OF DATA

An average water-level decline of 2.28 feet from Spring of 1976 to Spring of 1977 is not surprising considering the lack of precipitation during 1976. Total precipitation for 1976 in Wayne County ranged from 17.06 inches at Winside to 18.66 inches at Wakefield. These amounts are about 7 to 9 inches below normal. Thus recharge to the groundwater reservoir was below normal and pumpage of groundwater to replenish soil moisture was above normal.

It would be difficult at this time, with the short period of record available, to determine what effect irrigation pumping has on water-level trends. Undoubtedly, the declines in water-levels observed from Spring to Fall are in part due to irrigation pumping; and the rises in water-level for most wells from Fall to Spring are due to normal recovery after cessation of pumping. Continued data collection will provide much better information regarding long-term trends in water-levels.

'Heaven Knows—Anything Goes'

THERE'S A GIRL in there, somewhere, but it's hard to tell. Rolling inner tubes with a person inside was one of the challenges for four teams in the "Almost Anything Goes" contest during the Winside Old Settlers Picnic. It was almost too much for the "driver" in the blind wheelbarrow race (above). He was required to give directions so his teammates could weave the one-wheeler in and out of a row of pylons. Slalom style. Charles Jackson, (in back, with microphone) said Old Settlers celebrants can most likely look for an even bigger and better anything go "Almost Anything Goes" next year.
