Salary Negotiations Settlement Reached

The Wayne-Carroll board of education Monday night approved a settlement for teachers' salaries for the current school year which includes a 5.56 per cent increase in base salary, and a total salary package increase of 6.3 per cent.

Negotiations had reached impasse last spring and a three-man fact finding committee was appointed. The Wayne Education Association Thursday night agreed to accept the committee's recommendations for a salary settlement, and the school board approved the agreement Monday night following a closed session.

Under the new agreement, teachers will receive a four per cent increase from base for each year of teaching experience, and a five per cent increase for each nine hours of college credit beyond the bachelor's degree. Under the old schedule they received four per cent for each year of teaching experience, and 5.5 per cent for each increment of graduate study.

Hogs are to be entered from 8 to 10 a.m. on the day of the show. A judging contest for adult and 4-H and FFA members will be held at 9 a.m., followed by the live show.

Local Students Above Average on ACT Test

A report by the American College Testing (ACT) Program indicates Wayne High School students are better prepared for college than Nebraska students overall, and are generally more pleased with their school system.

Under the new agreement, teachers will receive a four per cent increase from base for each year of teaching experience, and a five per cent increase for each nine hours of college credit beyond the bachelor's degree. Under the old schedule they received four per cent for each year of teaching experience, and 5.5 per cent for each increment of graduate study.

Rules and regulations may be obtained from association members or from the county extension offices or the counties listed above.

The group mean composite score for Wayne-Carroll students taking the test last year was 22.9. Group mean for all Nebraska students was 20.1, and the national average was 18.4.

The mean grade average for Wayne-Carroll students was 3.2, compared with 3.1 for Nebraska overall, and 3.0 nationally.

Awards and prize money will be presented at the association banquet to be held Nov. 6 at the St. Union of Wayne State College.

The test also surveyed what students think of their schools, and Wayne-Carroll students, in many, ranked their school higher than Nebraska students overall.

Of the local students taking the test, 27 per cent felt their high school education was excellent, compared with 16 per cent state-wide. Other comparisons, with the Wayne-Carroll student's response first are: good, 48, 47; average, 16, 25; below average, 2, 4; very inadequate, 6, 8.

The Chamber will also be host for lunch for all band students and their parents at the city auditorium. Chamber board representatives for Band Day are Steve Schumacher and Darrell Moore.

The percentages of Wayne-Carroll students satisfied and dissatisfied, respectively, with other aspects of school were: instruction, 60, 10; course offerings, 44, 35; grading, 65, 6; tests, 63, 3; gifted student assistance, 22, 27; adequacy of programs in career education and planning, 29, 25; guidance, 77, 5; school policies, 37, 32; library facilities, 86, 3; laboratories, 63, 3; special need assistance, 41, 3.

Comparable figures for the state overall are: instruction, 58, 13; course offerings, 52, 31; grading, 53, 18; tests, 50, 13; gifted student assistance, 39, 22; adequacy of programs in career education and planning, 36, 30; guidance, 53, 23; school policies, 36, 37; library facilities, 54, 20; laboratories, 45, 19; special need assistance, 29, 19.

Band Day Set for Sept. 24

Wayne State College will be host for 25 high school bands during its annual Band Day, scheduled for Sept. 24.

Board members discussed the possibility that the comparison between the two gifted student assistance items might indicate a need for further efforts in that area in the Wayne system.

A total of 64 Wayne-Carroll students took the test last year. This is the first time the comparison reports have been available, and superintendent Francis Haun said results can fluctuate widely from year to year, but the board hopes a trend will be revealed by comparing reports from subsequent years.

That night the bands will take part in pre-game performances, before the Wildcat tilt against Midland Lutheran College, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., and will combine to form a massed band, under Dr. Kelton's direction, at half-time.

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce will again provide a viewing stand for the band parade, along with three judges who will rate the bands. First and second place plaques will be awarded in each of two divisions of bands, based on size.

The board approved a new student's handbook, but tabled until the October meeting discussion of Pep Club and cheer-leader rules.

Oct. 25 Is Target for School Completion

Wakefield High School students could begin attending classes in a new building on Nov. 1 if a tentative completion date for the structure is met.

Committees were set up to examine kindergarten through 12th grade curriculum coordination in four areas: language arts, English, vocational trades, social studies and math and science.

Dr. Bennerotte said coordinating curriculum through all See SCHOOL, page 12

Wakefield superintendent Dr. Gary Bennerotte said the school board Monday night was informed the building contractor said the building should be substantially completed by Oct. 25.

Dr. Bennerotte said the move into the new building will probably take place on Oct. 27, 30. Teachers' convention is scheduled for Oct. 27 and 28, and students won't be attending

The new property valuation for the district is $9,972,410, compared with $9,089,000 last year. Mill levy for the current school year is $8.84, down about three mills from last year.

Work will continue to repair the rest of the system, he said, adding that some interruption of service could probably be expected when some cable to the reception tower is replaced.

Asked by Vakoc if customers would be compensated for loss of service, the director said probably not.

Dave Luff urged the council not to back down from its earlier stance, saying he didn't want to see the matter dropped because of a "snow job."

Engineering Authorized for Two Utility Projects

The Wayne city council Tuesday night authorized engineering for a couple of utility projects to serve anticipated development in the area north and east of Providence Medical Center.

Mayor Freeman Decker termed the service horrible. Councilman John Vakoc, calling for immediate action on the matter, said "as far as I'm concerned, the city (residents) is being ripped off every month," because, he said, they aren't receiving the full service they pay for.

Brink was directed to contact the cable company about the matter, but discussion resumed later in the meeting when a company technical director and new service technician showed up at the meeting. The director said negotiations are now underway for the Wayne operation to be sold by the RSE corporation to the Apollo division of the KEYS corporation, with the change of ownership scheduled tentatively to take place Jan. 1.

Included are an interceptor sewer line and a water line. City administrator Fred Brink said it appears that as many as four subdivisions could develop in the area. In addition, he pointed out, the sewer and water lines would also serve the city industrial development site.

Brink said industrial prospects, including one now considering Wayne, which would hire 250 people, have indicated their desire for city sewer service if they decide to build a plant. Extending city water to the site is also important to industrial prospects, he said, because it affects fire insurance rates.

The sewer line would extend from the sewage lagoon down railroad right-of-way property to Highway 53 near the State Department of Roads maintenance yards, and then north.

The sewer line would extend from the Providence Medical Center area east for 2,500 feet to a county road, and then south to meet an existing water line.

The project, with an estimated cost of $39,000, had been turned down at a previous meeting. Carolyn Fitter said the subject was brought up again because she had learned that councilman Jimmie Thomas, who abstained during the first vote on the subject, was legally entitled to vote.

Thomas and John Vakoc had abstained because of a possible conflict of interest. Vakoc Construction is building a new home for Thomas in the area which will be served by the electrical line.

City attorney Ken Swarts said no conflict of interest exists because the underground wiring will replace existing overhead wiring. A motion to go ahead with the project passed, with Thomas voting in favor, Vakoc not voting and Vernon Russett and Leo Hansen voting against.

Wayne residents should soon be getting better cable television reception, according to a representative of the cable company.

The council also gave approval for another utility project in the area; one which it had turned down before.

Installation of buried electrical line was approved for a segment of the city distribution system extending from about the corner of 10th and Pine Heights Road, east down 10th St.

Carroll Residents Observe 25th

An open house reception and dance honoring the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Baier of Carroll was held Saturday evening at King's Ballroom in Norfolk for 130 guests.

The event was hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Fitzke of Glenview and Mitchell Baier of Carroll.

Mrs. Jerry Griffith of Wisner registered the guests. Gifts and cards were arranged by Mrs. Gerald Grone of Wayne.

Friends and relatives attended the reception from Sioux City, Ia.; Volin and Vermillion, S.D.; Minneapolis and Lowry, Minn.; Carroll, Wayne, Laurel, Winside, Belden, Lincoln, Glenview, Pender, Wakefield, Pilger, Hoskins, Wisner, Randolph and Norfolk.

Among those attending the event were Mrs. James Ehlers of Sioux City, Mrs. Jerry Griffith of Norfolk, Evert Baier of Norfolk, Gerald Grone of Wayne and Darrel Baker of Pender, who were attendants at the couple's wedding 25 years ago. Candlelighters who were present for the reception were Stan Baier of Wayne and Vince Austin of Sioux City.

The anniversary cake, which was baked by Mrs. Merrill Baier, was cut and served by Mrs. James Ehlers of Sioux City and Mrs. Darrell Johnson of Laurel. Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Baker of Pender and Darrell Johnson of Laurel poured. Punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Evert Baier of Norfolk.

For her wedding day the bride wore a white floor-length gown of polyseer organza over satinet, designed by Mrs. Verdel Lutt of Wayne. The gown featured a ruffled neckline and sheer bishop sleeves gathered to lace cuffs. Alencon lace outlined the sheer yoke, empire waistline, front princess seams and deep hemline ruffle which extended into a chapel-length train.

Her waist-length, two-tiered veil of white illusion was edged in lace and attached to a band of Alencon lace applied with lace flowers and dotted with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of red sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were identically gowned in two-piece dresses of blue Quiana knit. The Rev. Thomas McDermott of Wayne officiated at the double ring ceremony. Sybil Haller of Broken Bow sang "Where Charity and Love Prevail" and "The Wedding Song," accompanied by Janna Rutledge of Wayne.

Late Fourth Quarter Surge Puts Cats on Top, 14-11

Del Stollenberg's Wayne State football Wildcats will be looking to make it two wins in a row as they make their way to Madison, S.D. for a Saturday game against Dakota State.

Wayne opened up the season with a 14-11 come-from-behind victory against Northern State Saturday evening at Memorial Field.

Freshman quarterback Rick Lade engineered a late fourth quarter drive that resulted in Bob Barry's one-yard plunge for paydirt with 2:13 left. Barry, battling an aching knee, logged 96 yards in 20 carries.

Southpaw Lade was called into service after second-string signal-caller Dennis Wilson was unable to lead the Wildcats across the goal line.

Starting quarterback Kevin Mahlberg received a back injury early in the second period. The latest X-ray report revealed a cracked rib, so his status for the Dakota State contest remains clouded.

Northern State was the first to dent the scoreboard on a 25-yard field goal by Nick Heupel in the second quarter. That margin stood up until halftime, although the Cats statistically dominated the first 30 minutes, permitting only 28 total yards.

Barry scored the first Wayne touchdown on a 16-yard burst in the third quarter. The jaunt culminated in a four-play drive that covered 37 yards.

The Wolves from Aberdeen came back on the very next possession to march 65 yards in nine plays, with a 12-yard run by Gabe Kampeka for the score. Bob Ford followed with the two-point conversion run.

Although the Wildcats out-gained Northern State by a 2-1 margin, mistakes kept the visitors in the game until the final gun. A fumbled punt at the Wayne five yard line led the first Wolf offense, several clipping penalties nullified generous yardage gains by Wildcat rushers.

Defensive coordinator Ralph Barclay was pleased with the defensive rushing effort that limited Northern State to 118 ground yards.

Duane Carlson, playing his first game at linebacker, accounted for 14 tackles while Bill Hughes and Greg Welch followed with 11 and 10, respectively.

The upcoming foes from Madison, S.D. will show an impressive attack, even though they didn't reveal it until the third quarter of their second game as they broke open a close contest to stomp SW Minnesota, 34-3. The win was the second of the young season for the Trojans.

Although they lost All-American running back Jeff Rodman to graduation, the Trojans have another highly-touted prospect, Ray Meinsen, who rushed for 135 yards last week. Quarterback Charlie Bliss also had a field day, competing 13-20 passes for 168 yards.

Kickoff time Saturday night is at 7:30. Wayne Station: KWSC will do the play-by-play.

CSIC ROUNDUP Dakota State Blitzes SW Minnesota, 34-3

It took four quarters of football to do it, but Dakota State College football coach Gary Buer thinks his offense has finally come around.

For three quarters Saturday against Southwest Minnesota, it was the same old story — fumbles, an interception and penalties stalled all but one drive and DSC led the Mustangs by a narrow 7-3 margin at half. Things were status quo through the third period, but the Buer offense came alive in the final stanza, scoring three times.

Add linebacker Mark Merrigan's 35-yard interception return for a touchdown and it was 34-3 Dakota State at the gun.

The offensive back standout was junior Ray Meinsen after coming up with a 135 yard, one touchdown day. Quarterback Charlie Bliss wasn't very far behind after throwing two TD strikes and completing 13 of 20 passes for 168 yards.

Kearney State 7, Wisconsin-LaCrosse 7
Kearney State scored late in the first quarter and host Wisconsin-LaCrosse scored mid-way in the last quarter as the teams tied 7-7 in the season opener for both teams.

LaCrosse fumbled three times, giving Kearney early chances to put the game out of reach. The Antelopes could cash in only once, though, Mike Cherry scored his first collegiate touchdown on a first-yard run to give the Antelopes a 7-0 lead with 42 seconds left in the first quarter.

LaCrosse scored mid-way in the last half after getting the ball on Kearney's 28 yard line. Quarterback Steve Olson punched into the end zone after major penalties called against Kearney kept the drive alive mid-way in the last quarter. Kearney missed four field goal attempts — two from far out.

NW Missouri 27, Pittsburg State 14

Crucial mistakes at the start of the second half cost Pittsburg State the ball game last weekend against Northwest Missouri State, 27-14. The Gorillas rambled for 15 first downs and 189 total yards offensively in the first half of the game but could manage only a 7:00 halftime lead.

Northwest Missouri State's offense led by junior quarterback Kirk Matthews turned two Pitt State fumbles into third quarter touchdowns. Matthews scored on runs of 34 and 25 yards in the quarter and notched his third TD of the night a 16 yard run with 7:41 left in the game.

Hansen's TDs Lift Wayne To 7-7 Tie

Senior runningback Kelly Hansen scored on jaunts of eight and 16 yards and racked up a total of 108 yards rushing Friday night to lead Wayne High in a 14-14 tie with host Blair.

Hansen put Wayne on the scoreboard with 1:30 left in the first quarter with a 16 yard blast to cap a 32-yard drive. Then the hustling back scored from eight yards out with 8:15 remaining in the half for a 13-0 lead. Al Nissen booted both PATs for a 14-0 count.

Behind the running of tailback John Jarosz and a 30 yard punt return by John Blobaun, Blair tied the score late in the third stanza.

Jarosz set up Blair's first score midway through the second quarter when he broke open for a 45-yard jaunt and bulled into the endzone from one yard out. Jarosz also scored the two-point conversion for a 14-8 Wayne lead.

A blocked Kevin Murray punt on the Devils' 30-yard line by Blobaun tied the game when he raced in the endzone.

For his rushing, Hansen was singled out by coach Steve Cline as the game's outstanding offensive player while Murray received the outstanding defensive award for his three quarterback sacks.

Pinkelman Again Powers Devils For Fourth Win

Powerhouse senior Peg Pinkelman served up all 15 points Tuesday night to lead Wayne High's once defeated varsity spikers to a two-set victory over host Randall Tuesday night.

After squeezing out a 16-14 first game win, Wayne came back in the second behind the serving of Pinkelman and the spiking of Lisa Nuss to dish up a 15-0 victory for a 4-1 record.

The junior varsity kept its win streak intact with a three-game win over Randolph to push the Devils' record to 7-0. Sandy Jacobmeier served up 14 points and Julia Dorcy played a good overall game after Wayne dropped the first game, 13-15, and came back 15-0 and 15-9.

Lori Burbach scored 11 points as Wayne freshmen posted their second undefeated win, 15-13 and 15-4.

WS Harriers 4th

An "encouraging performance" was how Wayne State cross country coach LeRoy Simpson termed his squad's fourth place showing in the Chadron State Invitational Saturday.

Black Hills State ran away from the rest of the field, scoring a perfect 15. Other scoring: Kearney State 59, South Dakota Tech 82, Wayne State 95, and Chadron State 114.

Wildcat stalwart Jerry Sanders led his teammates, completing the course in 24:46 for 14th place.

Assistant Don Rinehart noted that the competition was so stiff that Sanders' time would have won the race in last year's invitational.

Freshman Pat Vaik finished a fine 17th with an effort of 25:10, a noteworthy accomplishment considering the fact that this was his first meeting, Simpson said.

The Wayne harriers will compete at the W Club Invitational in Lincoln Friday.

West Husker Leader Emerson Captures Winside Meet

West Husker strong horse Emerson-Hubbard captured the Winside Invitational volleyball crown Tuesday night by defeating host Winside.

The Piratettes of coach Carol Porter took home the tournament trophy in two sets, 15-5 and 15-8.

Although the loss dropped Winside's record to 3-3, coach Kathy O'Connor pointed out that she was pleased with her team's effort, especially against West Lewis and Clark, favorite Osmond in the semi-finals.

The Wildcats "played extremely well against Osmond" by winning in three sets, 15-11, 4-15 and 15-9. "We were really up for the game. Everyone on the team who played had a good night. I couldn't point out anyone who was a standout," O'Connor said.

Good-size crowds followed the eight teams during the two nights of tournament play as Winside, Osmond, Laurel and Emerson advanced in first-round action.

Winside opened the tournament with 16-14 and 15-2 decisions over Pierce. Kathy Thomas and Brenda Voss led serving with eight points and Paula Hoemann was the top spiker.

In the second game, Osmond topped Wynot, 16-14 and 15-5. Laurel upended Coleridge in three, 4-15, 15-7 and 15-7, followed by Emerson's victory over Wakefield, 17-15, 7-15 and 15-4. Emerson advanced to the finals after struggling past Laurel in three sets. Bear coach Dwight Iverson's girls jumped off to a 15-5 first-game win, but lost momentum, 15-9 and 15-3.

Backstop / Bob Bartlett

State already owns a 34-3 opening win.

Bruggeman Tops

Hoskins race driver Gerald Bruggeman picked up first in the championship race Sunday night at Sioux Falls, making him the top driver in the point standings.

Bruggeman, who also won the fourth heat, thus far has 5,130 points for the summer while another Hoskins driver, Gene Brudigan, came in third in the standings with 2,470 points.

Brudigan was fourth in the championship event and second in the fourth heat.

High School: Friday — Winside at Allen, Harrington Cedar Catholic at Wayne, Norfolk Catholic at Laurel.
Freshmen: Today (Thursday) — Wayne at Pierce.

VOLLEYBALL
High School: Tonight — Harrington High at Wakefield, Stanton at Laurel. Monday — Allen at Bancroft. Tuesday — Laurel at Crofton, Wayne at Norfolk, Coleridge at Winside.

CROSS COUNTRY
High School: Friday — Wayne at Hooper Logan View triangular.

WINSIDE HIGH fans better prepare themselves Friday night for the second unveiling of Allen High's new mascot, of sorts.

Coach Cliff Jorgensen again will be parading to the middle of the field carrying the Eagle banner prior to the start of the annual Eagle-Wildcat clash. Jorgensen did it last week against Wakefield, and apparently it helped as the Allen club pulled a 14-8 upset.

Jorgensen doesn't believe that waving the Allen banner is any type of a magic wand, although the effect may seem a little magical at times. The main purpose he disclosed after the Trojan loss, is to get the fans cheering and to get the Eagle spirit high.

At the outset of the season, the third-year head man felt that the outcome of the Wakefield match would tell what kind of season is in store for his team. Allen stumbled in its first contest when Winnebago surprised the hosts, 16-14, creating all sorts of questions as to the Eagles' potential to produce a .500 season.

Now that the Wakefield victory is behind Allen, Jorgensen believes that his kids have established the confidence in themselves that has been lacking the past three to five years. "We've thrown off that losing attitude and now have a winning attitude," he said following Friday night's win.

LAST WEEK Ray and Dave didn't fare any better than picking winning prep teams. Our records were identical: 1-2-1.

Here's their predictions for the five area teams: Norfolk Catholic over Laurel, 24-12; Allen to top Winside in a close one, 14-12; and Wayne to demolish Harrington Cedar Catholic, 27-8.

A FUMBLE recovery by Winside's Mike Anderson turned out to be the game-saving play for Kearney St. Saturday when Anderson pounced on a loose ball on the 17-yard line to set up the game's first score against the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

With 42 seconds remaining in the first quarter, Kearney's Mike Cherry toled the ball into the endzone and Paul Waggoner booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

LaCrosse made the final score seven-all on a one-yard run with just over seven minutes in the ball game. LaCrosse intercepted a Loper pass to halt Kearney's scoring match with 32 seconds left.

WHICH QUARTERBACK to choose? That's the problem again facing head coach Del Stoltenberg as he prepares his Wayne State Wildcats for game No. Two Saturday night at Dakota State College.

After last Saturday's come-from-behind 14-11 decision over visiting Northern State of South Dakota, you'd think the coach would have his mind made up. Problem is, all three signal callers who saw action did such a good job that Del wants to wait until later in the week to make his decision.

The coach is leaning towards last week's starter senior Kevin Mahlberg, but a back injury Mahlberg suffered against Northern may put him on the sidelines. As for the performances of his two freshmen, Denny Wilson and Rick Lade, the coach noted that both did a good job.

Mahlberg did a pretty good job. Stoltenberg noted, moving the team fairly well except for those fumbles. About Wilson, it was pointed out that he was a little shaky but did show that he could run with the ball. Lade, who directed Wayne to the winning touchdown, "showed a lot of poise under a lot of pressure."

Anyway you look at it, Wayne State will face a potent Dakota State club when the Cats travel to Madison, S.D. Dakota

HERE'S WHAT Dakota City coach Gary Buer thinks about WS: "They're a senior dominated team, very physical and possess pretty good speed. They run out of the 'I' formation and use a group of punishing running backs to ram it down your throat. They haven't shown anything real fancy."

He added that "they run a variety of defenses and blitz uncontrollably" and have been known to throw everything, including the kitchen sink at opposing quarterbacks.

ONE ADDITION: Last week when Linda Janke received a $200 check from Red Carr and a watch from the Bowling Proprietors Association for rolling a 286 game, I forgot to mention that the watch was purchased by Val Kienast, owner of Melodee Lanes where Linda shot her all-time high game.

WINSIDE'S Paula Hoemann uses her fist to blast across the net another unreturnable play Monday night when the Wildcats chalked up a pair of victories over rival Pierce in the first night of the Winside Invitational volleyball tournament. The Cats went on Tuesday night to take second.

Allen Spikers Even Mark

Allen High spikers evened their record at 2-2 Tuesday night with a three-game victory over host Ponca of the East Lewis and Clark Conference.

Coach Gary Troth's Eagle girls dropped the first set 13-15, but came back with scores of 15-11 and 15-7. Pam Brownell led scoring in the first and second games with four and seven points respectively. She also was the top spiker, pointed out Troth, who added that "she did a real good job in the second and third games that really kept us in it."

The coach remarked that Allen's floor play also showed improvement. "We didn't make quite as many dumb mistakes, especially towards the end of the game."

Also helping Allen to pull off the victory was LeElla Keil, who came off the bench.

The junior varsity is still looking for its first win. Tuesday night Allen lost three games, 9-15, 15-12 and 13-15. Julie DeBorde was credited with a good game.

The C team lost its first match of the season, 4-15 and 7-15. Bumping game was basically pretty good, but Allen had trouble serving, Troth noted.

WS Spikers Open Wednesday

The Wayne State volleyballers will open up the 1977 schedule at Lincoln Wednesday, Sept. 21, with matches against Nebraska-Lincoln and Creighton.

Coach Berniece Fulton will make final cuts on her 35-girl squad shortly before the season opener.

Seven veterans will return to the lineup, but Fulton feels that "rebuilding" is the word in 1977.

EXTENSION NOTES

By Kathy Kuhn

WHAT IS FIBER?
Our grandmothers called it roughage. Today we're hearing more and more about fiber. The terms are actually one and the same.

The increased interest in fiber is due to research showing that fiber may help to reduce the incidence of such diseases as appendicitis, hemorrhoids, diverticular diseases, and cancer of the colon.

Fiber, a complex carbohydrate, is found only in cereals, fruits, and vegetables. It cannot be digested because it is resistant to the digestive enzymes.

Fiber absorbs moisture; thus adding bulk to foods as they pass through the intestinal tract. The fast "transit time" can supposedly remove harmful substances before they can cause disease. This also prevents it from developing into fat in the body.

In this country, fiber from cereals and grains consumed by Americans has decreased by about 50 per cent and fiber from fruits and vegetables has decreased by about 20 per cent. Therefore, while it may be beneficial to increase your fiber intake, it would not be wise to go to extremes. An excessive intake could mean the loss of important nutrients since it is not absorbed into the body.

The United States Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs advises that 40 to 45 per cent of the diet be fibrous in nature. This simply means include more whole grains, nuts, raw fruits, and raw vegetables in your daily meals and continue to eat a variety of foods.

The Carroll Woman's Club held their first meeting of the season Thursday at the club room with 20 members attending. Guests were Mrs. J.C. Woods and Mrs. Harold Loberg and Kathy.

Tax Revenue Expected To Top $500 Million

Net general fund tax receipts for Nebraska are expected to exceed $500 million for fiscal year 1977-78. Separate forecasts prepared by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Nebraska Lincoln and the Nebraska Department of Revenue, predict that total net general fund receipts will, for the first time, surpass the half-billion dollar mark. Net receipts for fiscal year 1976-77 were $444 million.

In the September issue of Business in Nebraska, a comparison is made between tax forecasts prepared independently by the Department of Revenue and the Bureau of Business Research. For fiscal year 1977-78, the Department of Revenue predicts net tax receipts to total $529.6 million, while the Bureau of Business Research anticipates $512.3 million in tax receipts. Department of Revenue forecasts exceed the Business Bureau's projections by $17.3 million, the major point of divergence being projected gross sales and use tax receipts. The article included tables showing the predicted monthly flow of general fund receipts for each set of forecasts. General fund receipts are forecast for eight categories of taxes: sales and use tax, income tax, corporate income tax, liquor tax, cigarette tax, pari-mutual tax, insurance premium tax, and miscellaneous tax.

Expenditures for fiscal year 1977-78 have been set at $498.8 million. Nebraska's overlevy rule requires that estimated net general fund receipts and ending fund balance exceed spending appropriations by not less than three per cent and not more than seven per cent. Forecasts were prepared assuming a 3.5 per cent sales tax rate and an 18 per cent state income tax rate. Assuming these new tax rates and 100 per cent spending of total appropriations, the Department of Revenue anticipates an overlevy of $30.8 million, or 6.2 per cent. The Bureau of Business Research expects an overlevy of $13.5 million, or 2.7 per cent. Establishment of the new tax rates by the Board of Equalization was influenced by forecasts prepared by the Revenue Department.

The article points out that agencies and individuals involved in revenue forecasting should consider the volatility of Nebraska's farm sector. If farm prices remain depressed, farm income will decline and this will have an adverse effect on the non-agricultural sectors of Nebraska's economy. Sales tax and income tax receipts could fall below expectations if relief for the agricultural sector is not forthcoming.

Mrs. Helen A. Siefken, 58, of rural Wayne, was treated for a fractured ankle, and released. Robert L. Roth, 25, of Bancroft, had not been released Tuesday afternoon. No information on injuries was available.

According to the sheriff's department report, Mrs. Siefken said she was southbound on Highway 15 about a half mile south of Wayne, when Roth's vehicle, north bound, crossed the center line. ## May Records Show Decline In Real Output

Real output in Nebraska declined in May according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The Bureau's index of physical volume for the state recorded a 0.5 per cent drop for the month, following a 1.0 per cent increase in April. The May decline was the first monthly decrease in real output in Nebraska since January, 1977, and only the fourth month-to-month decline in the past year.

A fall in agricultural activity in the state led the decline, although nonagricultural output in Nebraska also registered a moderate downturn in May. Responsible for the decrease in nonagricultural output was the continued decline in the distributive trade section, which more than offset gains experienced by the construction, manufacturing and government sectors in Nebraska.

BUSINESS NOTES

Five beauticians from Hazel's Beauty Shoppe attended the Wickstrom's Educational and Trade Show in Omaha Sunday and Monday. They were shown the new Solar Cut, which has more width and length, by Bill Wampler and Tony Ross.

Those attending were Hazel Mau, Jean Mau, Sue Paysen, Diane Koepke and Diane Miller.

William Dickey of the First National Bank in Wayne was among those attending the 33rd annual session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison Aug. 14-27.

The school is sponsored by the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations from 16 Midwestern states. About 1,500 bankers were enrolled this year from 45 states and Puerto Rico.

To be listed as a graduate of the school, a banker must attend three of the annual two-week sessions at UW-Madison and satisfactorily complete extension problems between the resident sessions. A faculty of about 15 instructors this year included bankers specializing in a number of fields, practicing lawyers, business executives, economists and members of about a dozen universities and college faculties.

Dr. Herbert Prochnow, former president of the First National Bank of Chicago, is director of the school.

Writing in "Business in Nebraska," William Gerdes noted that real agricultural output for the state fell 1.7 per cent in May. Although month-to-month changes of this magnitude are not uncommon for activity in this volatile sector, they do exert a strong influence on measures of overall economic activity in the state, according to Gerdes.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, cash farm marketings in Nebraska totaled $308.7 million in May, a level significantly below the $364.1 million posted in April but above the level reported in March.

The construction industry was the bright spot in the state's economy in May, with a price-adjusted level of activity 0.5 per cent above the level recorded in April.

For the first five months of 1977, real construction activity was 34.9 per cent above levels recorded for January through May of last year. Strong showings in the construction industry were noted in Nebraska City, Alliance, North Platte and Lexington.

The manufacturing and government sectors in Nebraska also registered small gains for the month. The distributive sector, on the other hand, continued its slide for the fourth consecutive month.

Underscoring the softness in this sector were continued declines in both distributive sector employment and in price-adjusted retail sales. Nebraska retail sales for the first five months of 1977 were 1.1 per cent below price-adjusted levels for the same period last year. Despite sagging retail sales in the state, several cities showed high levels of retail activity in comparison to May, 1976. They were O'Neill, Hartington, Lexington, Nebraska City, Seward and Falls City.

Need Extra Cash? BBucks Contest May Be Answer

How would you like to have $750 or $25 to spend in Wayne businesses?

Either one of those amounts could be yours if you're lucky enough to have your birthday drawn at random tonight (Thursday) and announced as the winning date.

How does that take place? Every Thursday night participating Wayne merchants offer those amounts in the weekly Birthday Bucks promotion.

To be a winner, a shopper must be present in a participating business when the date is announced at 8:15 p.m. If the shopper's date matches the date drawn, he wins $750 in Bucks which can be spent just like cash. If his date is the closest to the winning date, he wins the $25 consolation award.

Last Thursday night Arlen Tietz of Wayne won the $25 prize when it was discovered his birth date of Nov. 15, 1931 was the closest to the winning date of Oct. 25 of the same year. Tietz was in Les' Steakhouse at the time the date was announced. Drawing the winning date was Ken Jarvis, the new manager of Gambles store.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wiltse

"What is old age? It's 15 years older than I am..." Bernard M. Baruch

The wisdom of Baruch's observation will be most apparent to those who have achieved full maturity. To the youngster in his teens, it seems that everyone is 15 years older and has arrived at that stage known as "old age."

As we grow older, we realize that the passing years take less of a toll than young people imagine. The man of 50 will tell you he feels like 21 again. And, when we see any "older," 15 years older than we, we're thankful that we have so many good years ahead before "old age" arrives.

It's not always easy to make arrangements in advance of need but it does provide great peace of mind for many. Can we be of assistance to you?

Number of Years' Income to Purchase Median Price Home

In relation to average income

Homes cost less today than they did in 1890

The prices of new homes in relation to average income have been dropping steadily since 1890. In that year it took almost 10 years of income to pay for the average new home. By 1940 that dropped to 5 years' income. By 1975 (the last year for which complete figures are available) it had dropped to only 2.8 years' income. And think of the extra convenience in new homes built today compared with 1890.

More and more people are recognizing that now is a good time to buy a home. More and more people are coming to Columbus Federal for home loans.

Best way to beat inflation

The Parable of The Chewing Gum Man*

It was common knowledge among his colleagues that William Wrigley, Jr. attributed the success of his chewing gum empire to constant and forceful advertising.

Once he was traveling to California on the famous but now extinct Super Chief with a young accountant from his firm. As they were reviewing the figures for a quarterly statement, the young man said, "Sir, Wrigley's gum is known and sold all over the world. We have a larger share of the market than all of our competitors combined. Why don't you now save the millions you are spending on advertising and shift those dollars into the profit column for the next quarter?"

Wrigley thought for a moment and then asked "Young man, how fast is this train going?"

"About sixty miles an hour," replied the young accountant.

And Wrigley asked, "Then why doesn't the railroad remove the engine and let the train travel on its own momentum?"

Moral: Cut your promotional dollars and you cut your own steam. Keep your momentum going with a regular advertising program in

Local Owners Spent $1.3 Million For Home Fix-Up During 1976

To what extent are homeowners in Wayne County going in for alterations, improvements and additions to their properties these days? How much are they spending per year in that direction?

According to government figures, they are putting more money than usual into such refurbishing. That is the trend, also, in most other parts of the country.

The findings are that owner-occupants of one-family homes in the United States spent a total of $18.9 billion in 1976 for upkeep and improvement.

That was about 39 per cent more than the $13.6 billion expended in 1974, when a similar survey was conducted. Much of the increase is attributed to the higher cost of labor and materials.

In Wayne County, an estimated $1,303,000 was spent for such renovations in the past year, based upon a survey of residential properties in its regional area.

That was at the average rate of $472 per local housing unit. It compares with the $352 per unit in 1974.

Not included in these figures are the normal, every-day household operational expenses.

The findings are based upon regional data compiled by the Department of Commerce through a sampling survey covering all sections of the country and upon statistics from other sources.

For some homeowners — those who went in for major alterations and improvements — the outlay ran much higher than average. Others, who may have done considerable overhauling a year or two before, did less this time.

In general, according to a breakdown of the overall figures, about 72 per cent of the expenditures were for additions, alterations and major replacements.

The other 28 per cent was for maintenance and repairs. The biggest item in this category was painting, followed by plumbing and roofing.

Much of the $1,303,000 spent in Wayne County went to local merchants selling building supplies and equipment as homeowners, to keep down costs, undertook many of the repair and remodeling jobs themselves.

Protection Against Insects Important

Depressed grain prices are causing a lot of interest in on-farm storage this year and those producers interested in storing their 1977 crop need to carefully follow several steps in order to keep their grain free of insect damage.

According to John Witkowski, Extension entomologist at the Northeast Station near Concord, stored grain damaged by insects has lower nutritional value, lower test weight, lower germination and thus lower market value.

The primary insects that attack whole grain in Nebraska are the rice weevil, granary weevil, lesser grain borer, and culicella. Insects in the bin that mainly feed on cracked grain and flour include the flour beetles, saw-toothed grain beetle, flat grain beetle, and dermestids.

According to Witkowski, the first thing to do before putting the grain into the bin is to thoroughly clean it out and of course never put new grain on top of old grain. When cleaning pay particular attention to removing all old grain and repair cracks and crevices to prevent reentry of both insects and rodents. Make sure the roof is in good repair so rain and snow can't get in.

Also, don't store grain with high moisture content. Take a sample to your elevator and have the moisture content checked. Moisture content of corn should be less than 15 per cent. Moisture content of other grains should be less than 13 per cent for safe storage.

After the bin has been thoroughly cleaned, spray all inside and outside surfaces with a residual spray of either malathion or methoxychlor about two weeks before storing grain. Wear protective clothing and use a compressed air garden sprayer and spray surfaces to the point of runoff. Initially check the label for correct dosages and possible use restrictions. Note: In bins where Indian-meal moths have been a problem, do not use malathion because this insect is resistant to it.

Dry, insect-free small grain or shelled corn can be protected from most insect damage by using malathion as a "grain protectant". Again, note that Indian-meal moth has developed resistance to malathion. The grain protectant is applied to the grain before or as it goes into the bin. But remember that forcing heated air through grain treated with malathion will reduce the effectiveness of the malathion.

After binning is completed, level off the grain and "cap out" by treating all the grain surface with a protectant.

The grain protectant "cap out" acts as a barrier, preventing insects from entering the mass and from feeding on the surface grain. And each time the surface grain is disturbed, such as when probing for moisture samples, the barrier is broken. Retreat disturbed areas. If Indian-meal moths are suspected use 0.3 per cent piperonyl butoxide rather than malathion.

For more complete information on stored grain insects contact a county extension agent and ask for NebGuide G-73-44 entitled "Insect Control in Stored Grain" written by LeRoy Peters, district Extension entomologist, South Central Station, Clay Center.

Number of Self-Employed Locally Above Average

How strong an urge does the average Wayne County resident have to become self-employed, with a business of his own?
How many men and women, locally, have taken that step and are now their own bosses, for better or for worse?
According to the Labor Department, embarking on such a course can be risky, rewarding or disastrous, depending upon a number of factors. The mortality rate among new businesses is very high.
However, the hazards involved do not seem to faze would-be entrepreneurs. Each year an additional number of them take the plunge.
They put whatever savings they have and whatever money they can borrow to make the big move. Some succeed, some don't.
Many of those who have set out on their own in the last few years had been out of work for a long time and had become tired of waiting for jobs to materialize.
In Wayne County, the latest figures indicate, the proportion of the working population that is self-employed has been on the rise since 1970.
Approximately 1,150 men and women in the area now derive their chief income from their own business, profession, farm or trade.
They are the storekeepers, the doctors, the farmers, the barbers, electricians, gas station operators and the like.
What this means, in terms of the total number of employed people in Wayne County, is that to 30.5 per cent of them are self-employed.
The proportion is somewhat greater, it is found, than in many parts of the country. In the West North Central States it is 14.2 per cent and, in the State of Nebraska, 17.4 per cent.
Throughout the nation as a whole, in line with the overall increase in the population, there has been a growth in recent years in the number of non-farm businesses. Offsetting this rise, however, has been the decline in the number of farm operators.
The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that there are now more than 7.8 million people in the United States who are self-employed, compared with 6,827,000 in 1970. It is an increase of 14 per cent.

SPEAK UP TO AVOID A CATASTROPHE!

Many of you will recall that the Department of Roads proposed the widening of Highway 35 (7th Street) through Wayne last year. The proposed widening was opposed by the majority of property owners along an adjacent 7th street. Nearly 80 per cent of the property owners along 7th street signed a petition opposing the widening and called for a further study of a truck by-pass in lieu of widening 7th street. Despite the opposition of 7th street property owners, the City Council has again recommended to the Dept. of Roads that highway 35 be widened.

This matter affects more than the people owning property fronting on Highways 35 and 15. It vitally affects nearly every citizen in Wayne because of the type of materials being transported through our town on these highways is highly dangerous to the entire town. TAKE A LOOK AT THE MESSAGE CARRIED ON THE SIDES OF THESE TRUCKS. YOU WILL SEE THE FOLLOWING WARNINGS POSTED ON TRUCKS GOING BY 2 SCHOOLS AND THE COLLEGE:

"KEEP CLEAR — EXPLOSIVES"
"STAND CLEAR — FISSIONABLE MATERIAL"
"FLAMMABLE MATERIAL — GASOLINE"
"ANHYDROUS AMMONIA"
"DANGER — COMPRESSED GAS"

We have had one tanker truck filled with Anhydrous Ammonia overturn near South Main. If its tank had ruptured, we would have had to evacuate all residents along Logan creek. We have had the fire department put out a truck fire in front of the First National Bank. We have had trucks slip on icy streets and break off 2 power poles on 7th Street. ANY TRUCK CARRYING EXPLOSIVES, FISSIONABLE MATERIAL, ANHYDROUS AMMONIA, NAPHTHA OR COMPRESSED GAS IS A POTENTIAL HAZARD TO OUR SCHOOLS AND ALL OF OUR CITIZENS IF IT IS INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT IN TOWN. IF YOU DO NOT THINK IT CAN HAPPEN, JUST READ THE PAPERS AND YOU WILL READ ABOUT THE EVACUATION OF OTHER TOWNS FROM ACCIDENTS INVOLVING TRUCKS TRANSPORTING THESE TYPES OF MATERIALS.

The Dept. of Roads will cooperate with any city desiring a By-Pass for truck traffic. They have done so at South Sioux City, Beatrice and Terrytown in recent months. True, the city must share in the cost, but who can deny the benefit of eliminating the hazards to our schools and residents? Consider the high cost of jury trials to condemn every property along 7th street for this widening? This cost will also be shared by the city and the County. WHO CAN COUNT THE DOLLAR LOSS IN CITY PROPERTY VALUES IF 7TH STREET IS EMASCULATED LIKE THE PROPERTY ALONG HIGHWAY 275 IN WEST POINT? THE TAX VALUES MUST DROP IF THE WIDENING IS UNDERTAKEN. WHAT WILL THE SPEED LIMIT BE IF THE STREET IS WIDENED? MANY CARS AND TRUCKS NOW EXCEED THE LIMIT AS THEY GO BY BOTH SCHOOLS. THE STATE WANTS TO INCREASE THE PRESENT SPEED LIMIT TO 45 m.p.h. IF THEY WIDEN THE STREET TO 4 LANES. WHOSE CHILD WILL BE KILLED GETTING TO EITHER THE PUBLIC SCHOOL OR ST. MARY'S SCHOOL?

WE NEED YOUR HELP — NOW!
The Dept. of Roads has scheduled a hearing on road projects affecting Northeast Nebraska, including the widening of Highway 35. IT WILL BE HELD AT THE NATIONAL GUARD ARMORY, O'NEILL, NEBRASKA, 7:30 p.m. ON TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20. WE NEED REPRESENTATION AT THAT MEETING OR THE COUNCIL AND THE DEPT. OF ROADS WILL SAY THAT WE IGNORED OUR OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT OUR VIEWS. WE NEED YOUR HELP NOW!

HERE IS HOW TO HELP
We have 3 cars available for the trip to O'Neill. Call us and let us know that you will either go or furnish transportation for others.

SEND THIS FORM TO DAVE EWING, BOX 132, WAYNE, NEBRASKA. OR CALL 375-3385 or 375-2518 IF YOU WISH TO EXPRESS YOUR VIEWS TO THE DEPT. OF ROADS ON SEPTEMBER 20.

TO: The Department of Roads, Lincoln, Nebraska AND TO: The City Council, City of Wayne, Nebraska

I (or we), the undersigned, own property located at _____ (fill in your address) in Wayne, Nebraska, and I (or we) oppose the widening of 7th Street (Highway 35) through Wayne, Nebraska. I (or we) support consideration of a truck by-pass. I (or we) believe that the present environmental impact statement does not consider noise pollution, air-pollution, diminishing property values, the loss of many trees, and the hazards to all citizens from cars presently trucked through the central parts of Wayne on both Highways.

Water System Grant Formula Changed

A more liberal formula for determining the amount of grant funds, supplementing loans available for improvement of rural community water systems affected by drought, has been put into effect in Nebraska by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), the agency's State Director, Leonard Hanks.

Dixon and Wayne counties have been made eligible for FmHA emergency loans and grants under a drought assistance program to help communities having diminished water supplies, resulting from drought conditions, in designated drought areas. Applications for project assistance must be made in time for loans and grants to be approved by Sept. 23.

Hanks said the revised regulations will enable FmHA to apply a formula on grants similar to that used by other federal agencies that help to finance drought emergency water system projects. In calculating a community's ability to repay an emergency loan for water system improvement, FmHA previously has taken into account existing indebtedness only for water facilities. The new formula lets FmHA take into account the applicant's existing indebtedness for all purposes. This is expected to increase the grant portion of FmHA funding of many projects.

The new regulation also provides that some projects, previously not eligible for grant assistance, may receive FmHA grants to up to 20 per cent of total eligible project development costs, if they are needed to safeguard public health and safety. A larger proportion of grant funds, up to 50 per cent of eligible costs, may be provided if justified through the formula for determining the community's ability to repay a loan.

Application of the revised formula has been made retroactive to May 6, except where loan and grant funds have been delivered to the borrower. Financing of projects previously approved but not yet funded will be adjusted to the new formula, Hanks said.

In addition to the Sept. 23 deadline for approval of loans and grants the drought emergency program imposes an April 30, 1978, deadline for completion of projects. Communities of up to 10,000 population may be included in the service areas of water system receiving FmHA loans and grants. Loans are made for terms of up to 40 years, at an interest rate of five per cent.

particular instances where they said joints sawed in the sidewalk were not done properly. Vakoc said it is his understanding that sidewalk adjacent to the fire station and True Value Hardware will be replaced because of improper slope.

The council directed Brink to authorize an improvement project on Main St. where it was formerly crossed by railroad tracks. A proposal for a street improvement in the area was previously rejected because it would have required advertising for bids and there would not be enough time to complete the project before the Department of Roads begins to overlay Main St. with asphalt paving.

The street improvement had been proposed to correct a problem created when the railroad tracks were removed. Patching done on the street has created a hump in the road which prevents proper drainage. The council Tuesday night decided to remove a 12-foot section on either side of the street, replacing it with new curb and gutter.

During an annual review of the city administrator's salary, Carolyn Filter pointed out that Brink has received $5,700 in raises over a three year period and said Brink last year had said he would not seek another raise.

Brink replied that at that time he had not anticipated an eight per cent increase in the cost of living, nor that he would now be deeply involved in a quarter-million dollar downtown improvement project.

Vakoc said he believes the salary for some city positions reaches a maximum level which shouldn't be exceeded, and said he probably will not vote for a salary increase. He suggested that the city examine the possibility of increasing Brink's spendable income by taking advantage of some tax shelters allowed by law.

Mosley said the matter could not be decided immediately but added the council needs to come up with a recommendation. "I think Mr. Brink earns every penny he gets."

Mayor Decker claimed at least 20 people at Wayne State College have higher salaries than Brink without comparable responsibility, in his opinion, and also said that many school administrators are paid more than the $21,900 Brink is now receiving.

He appointed Mosley, Darell Fuelberth and Leo Hansen to a committee, directing them to return to the next meeting with a recommendation.

"The most useful virtue is patience."

$25 Winner

The First Weekly Winner of The Wayne Herald's Football Contest Was:

Mrs. Ed Krusemark
R. R. 1 — Wakefield, Ne.

Mrs. Krusemark was correct on 13 of 20 picks, but the Tie Breaker decided the final outcome. She predicted Wayne State a winner 21-12 (leaving her 8 points of the actual 14-11 score). Tied with Mrs. Krusemark were Jim Winch, Winside (with Wayne St. 21-8); Dean Schram, Wayne (Wayne St. 6-13); and Michael Kelly, Wayne State Student (Wayne St. 12-27).

There were five other entries with 12 of 20 picks, so the competition was quite close. The Washington State upset of Nebraska and Allen's upset of Wakefield, coupled with the Wayne vs. Blair tie and the Madison vs. Neligh tie gave almost every entry an automatic four misses, so this kept the scores relatively low for the first contest.

We thank all who sent their entries in and encourage them along with the rest of our readers to GET THOSE ENTRIES IN!
The second weekly contest deadline is tomorrow September 16th at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Ed Krusemark will redeem her $25.00 gift certificate at one of those fine participating merchants.

Payment Period Changed For Farm Facility Loans

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has today announced it is changing the Farm Facility Loan repayment period from the current five years up to a maximum of eight years.

The department said lengthening the repayment period and increasing the number of annual installments will help lessen the cash flow problems of farmers obtaining loans.

According to a USDA spokesman, a longer repayment period is needed because of recent changes in the program which increased the maximum loan amount from $25,000 to $50,000, allows storage needs to be based on two year's production rather than one, and decreased farmers' required downpayments from 30 per cent to 15 per cent of the cost of structures and equipment. The effect of these changes will be to substantially increase the size of the average loan.

By increasing the number of installment payments, each installment payment will be smaller, thus allowing farmers more flexibility and lessening the possibility of delinquent or defaulted loans, according to the Department.

The Farm Facility Loan Program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) through its county offices. From 1949 through 1976 the program loaned over $1 billion to assist farmers in building farm facilities with storage capacity of over 2.4 billion bushels.

masters degree will now receive a $10,260, compared with $9,882 last year. A teacher at the top of the salary schedule (13 years of experience, and a masters degree plus 27 hours) will receive $15,989 annually, compared with $15,431 under the old schedule.

The new contract also increases the school district's contribution toward family medical insurance from $14.63 a month to $30 a month. Premiums for single person coverage will continue to be paid full, but at $13.31 a month rather than the previous $12.50 a month.

Cost of the total settlement is estimated to be $767,292 compared with $721,546 for last year's salary package.

Three changes made on the extra duty pay schedule are: varsity band, from value 2 to value 1, a $100 annual increase to $1,050; baseball coach, from value 3 to value 2, a $100 annual increase to $800, and vocal music, from value 4 to value 3, a $100 increase to $550 a year.

In other action Monday night the board:
—Reviewed a report on the American College Testing Program, comparing the performance of Wayne-Carroll students with that of students in Nebraska overall.

—Agreed to have parent-teacher conferences for all grades during American Education Week in November.

—Was informed that all student records from 1956 to the present time have been micro-filmed. The film and equipment was furnished by Educational Service Unit-1.

—Continued a review of the North Central Association accrediting report issued following an evaluation last year, and discussed some areas of interest for further review.

Committees including board members, faculty and district residents will examine salary matters, specifically to promote better understanding of the existing schedule, examine the concept of extra duty assignments and salaries, and examine the concept of providing alternatives for rewarding teachers other than the traditional basis of longevity and education.

A curriculum committee will look into areas including athletics and staffing, fine arts, publications to make the public more aware of district activities.

Committees will also examine the district's math program, social studies program, and coordination of curriculum through all grades.

—Approved the appointment of Mrs. Sue Larson as first grade teacher in West Elementary School. The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ken deFreese of Wayne, Mrs. Larson is a 1961 Wayne High graduate and in 1945 was graduated from Wayne State College with distinction.

She previously taught in Akron and Algona, Iowa, and last year was a teacher's aide in the Wayne-Carroll learning disabilities program. Her husband, Don Larsen, farms in the Wayne area.

—Reviewed an energy audit by the State Energy Office. The report recommends a number of changes in lighting to save electricity. Other energy saving steps recommended include weather stripping for some doors, shutting off of pilot lights on gas ranges in the home economics room during the summer months, and installing combination windows on the Middle School.

Public power subcommittee won't hire outside consultants

CAPITOL NEWS

LINCOLN — Problems associated with Nebraska's public power system keep cropping up.

A legislative subcommittee appointed to delve into difficulties of the various power entities has decided not to ask the Unicameral Executive Board for additional money to hire outside consultants to monitor a statewide study.

But the subcommittee also decided not to dissolve itself.

During a recent joint meeting with the Legislature's Executive Board, Sen. Richard Lewis of Holbrook said he would not request more funds. Only a week earlier, Lewis, chairman of the subcommittee, advised a press conference he would ask the board to approve the hiring of consultants for the next five months at an estimated cost of $100,000.

But during the joint meeting, the Holbrook lawmaker said he believes the subcommittee should discuss the matter some more and should confer with the Public Works Committee.

It has been Lewis' view that the legislature must retain qualified technical help to keep an eye on what a power industry task force is doing. Without the benefit of such expertise, Lewis said, it would be difficult for the legislators to make meaningful decisions about problems afflicting the electrical industry.

Power officials, testifying during the meeting divided on whether outside consultants should be hired.

Max Kibirkz of Columbus, chair of the industry task force, said he doesn't believe outsiders are needed at this time. He admitted employment of consultants prodded the power groups into action but said they should now be given a chance to work out their differences.

Phil Michaels, task force vice chairman, testified he believes the senators need the help of experts in analyzing recommendations from the industry.

After the meeting with the power study subcommittee, several Executive Board members didn't hide how they feel about a final report submitted by Adam Kubik of Syracuse, N.Y., a consultant hired to make a $50,000 preliminary report for a state power study.

Sen. Jack Mills of Big Springs labeled Kubik's report a "fiasco" and Sen. Douglas Bereuter of Urica said it was "unprofessional."

Grain Storage

Gov. J. James Exon has called on federal officials to solve what he believes may be the worst farm storage crisis in 20 years.

In a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, the governor noted Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service regulations ban reimbursement to farmers for shipping costs on corn, oats and soybeans but allow such costs for wheat, barley and sorghum.

In his telegram Exon said, "Such policy does not make any sense and must be corrected immediately, especially considering the critical storage situation facing many producers as the corn and soybeans harvest begins in approximately 10 days."

The governor said the probability of record or near-record production of both corn and soybeans coupled with a "massive carryover" in storage of previously harvested crops will certainly create the worst storage crisis since the 1950s.

Exon reminded Bergland that local elevators cannot accept storage of their customers' fall crops.

He expressed the hope that USDA would attempt to find out what storage space national and international grain companies might have to alleviate the problem.

Copies of his telegram were sent to members of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Education Finances

Where the money comes from to support public schools and how it is spent are two items that come in for considerable debate every time Nebraska lawmakers discuss state aid to schools.

Sen. Orval Keyes of Springfield said the reason citizens consistently vote down

He has a bill, LB 192, making that proposal awaiting debate in the next legislative session. The measure has a provision for an adjusted gross income tax and could be drafted so that just state aid bills must be ascertained.

He held a joint meeting of the Legislature's Revenue and Education committees. "We've got to learn whether the people want to go back to financing schools 100 per cent with the property tax or whether they want something else."

The apparent success of petition efforts to repeal the 1977 state law that would increase state aid to schools by $60 million over a three-year period was cited as a reason why a study of school financing should be made.

Sen. Frank Lewis of Bellevue, chairman of the Education Committee, said the study should investigate how tax money is being spent for transportation, sports and state-mandated programs.

Lewis said if program costs are identified, the people who believe educational expenses ought to be trimmed will have some specific choices.

He added that a plan that would come up for discussion would propose a ceiling on the property tax rate with the state picking up expenses that exceeded each district's ability to raise funds.

During the meeting, Sen. George Burrows of Adams renewed his suggestion that a local income tax be utilized to replace the school districts' portion of the about everyone would make some contribution to the financing of schools, Burrows said.

Under the plan, taxes paid by individuals would remain with the local school districts but corporate income tax revenue would be funneled into a state fund to help those districts with low-income or high per pupil expenses.

Burrows maintains the property tax bears no relation to a taxpayer's ability to pay.

Phares Files

Former North Platte mayor is officially in the campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

He stopped by the secretary of state's office recently to file the documents signaling his entrance into the race.

The 37-year-old businessman announced last March he would be a candidate. Since then, he told a news conference, he has visited all parts of the state and has talked with "all kinds" of people.

Phares said everywhere he traveled he found "a high level of interest in the 1978 campaign," and added that "the potential for new life and enthusiasm for the Nebraska Republican party is present, just waiting to be tapped."

In general, he said, Republicans have been "lousy salesmen" of their philosophy of government.

"If we are to survive, we must reach a new and clear understanding with the voters," he said.

Phares said if he is elected, the people would probably note a change in the style of leadership for the state. He said he would attempt to use the governor's office to bring people together to focus on solving problems.

Phares would also "like to pick the governor's office up and move it around the state." By that, he explained, he meant holding periodic meetings in out-state communities.

Phares said he filed early for the nomination "to remove any doubt about the seriousness of my intentions."

Critical Audit

The office of State Auditor Ray A.C. Johnson issued a report recently that was critical of the State Education Department's system of monitoring vehicle usage, keeping vacation and sick leave records and maintaining inventory control.

The report said six per cent of the vehicles were costing more than 20 cents a mile to operate.

Other criticisms were that vacation and sick leave records at the Cozad facility and at the Nebraska School for the Deaf in Omaha were not accurate.

The report covered the period from July 1974 to the end of June 1976.

OBSERVATIONS

Statement too sweeping

We normally don't devote much time to commenting coverage by other local news media, but a number of readers have raised a question about an article recently published by a local broadcaster, so some clarification apparently is called for.

A photo layout (credited to the same broadcaster) on Wayne's downtown improvement project appeared last week in a daily newspaper. An article released in printed form by the same broadcaster claimed it was the first photo coverage the project had received by any newspaper.

Actually, that sweeping statement is a bit too broad. The Wayne Herald carried a front page picture July 28 of the project getting underway. Because one picture of sidewalks being removed looks pretty much like the next, we haven't felt it necessary to follow up with further photographic coverage.

Not that it isn't tempting. It would be handy to step out the front door a couple of times a week and take a few more photos of the construction work, but we have chosen instead to focus on fresh photographs, rather than beating a dead horse.

It is, perhaps, proper here to correct a misconception which might have arisen from the text which accompanied the photographs provided by the broadcaster. The story said the downtown improvement project would be financed through a bond election. The city clerk assured us that such is not the case. The city will issue various purpose bonds to pay for the work, but a bond election is not required. Presumably, if an election were required, the project would not have been started until afterward because a negative vote would result in financing being unavailable.

We have no way of knowing whether the claim that the downtown improvement project had not previously been covered photographically was an oversight or a deliberate attempt to discredit this or other newspapers. Hopefully, the former is the case. It serves no useful purpose for competing news media to take pot shots at each other. In fact, we believed that such a situation would be detrimental to the community, and a disservice to our readers. In keeping with that belief, we will not comment further on the subject in this column. — Jim Strayer.

Change needed in 1902 irrigation law

The 1902 Reclamation Act provision which limits to 160 acres the amount of land one farmer and each member of his family may own if he receives irrigation water from a federal water project is obsolete and unrealistic in 1977 and the U.S. Congress should repeal it.

Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus has announced new rules to enforce the 1902 provision and has said it would go far to break up the "giant corporate farms" and "save the family farms."

Actually, Andrus' action primarily results from a court action brought by a group called "National Land for the People." The law is on the books and until it is removed, impractical as it may be, the courts can order its enforcement.

"Saving the family farm" has become a rallying cry for all shades of social and political do-gooders who have had little or no experience or practical knowledge of farming. The law in question doesn't say "Tenneco" or even "corporations" . . . it says a farmer and each member of his family. It doesn't say just those farms in San Joaquin Valley in California. . . it applies to all land under reclamation projects.

It matters not that the 1969 Census of Agriculture showed that farms with corporations with more than 10 shareholders accounted for only six-tenths of one per cent of the total acres of cropland harvested compared with 3.2 per cent by corporations with 10 shareholders or fewer and 78.4 per cent for individual or family farms.

The University of Nebraska Department of Agricultural Economics ran a survey on information collected by the Nebraska secretary of state's office under a 1975 law which required annual reports to be filed by corporations owning or controlling farm land in the state. The survey indicates that farm corporations in Nebraska account for a relatively small part of the state's agricultural production and the vast majority are family-type corporate structures.

The steady increase in the size of Nebraska farms and ranches is not because corporate giants are gobbling up the land but because farmers have been forced by inflation and increased costs of production to increase their operations. Some choose not to expand, sell out, and look for easier and more assured ways of making a living.

In 1902, a 160-acre irrigated farm was all that one family could handle efficiently. Sugar beet growing, for example, involved a vast amount of hand labor and horsepower (the live variety). There were no multi-row beet planters or harvesters, mechanical thinners, herbicides for weed control, monogerm seed, etc. There were no siphon tubes, grated pipe or other modern water distribution devices. The same situation applied to potatoes and other irrigated crops.

As the years went by and modernization progressed, farm families found they could handle more irrigated land and needed to expand to keep up with higher costs of production and improve their living standards. Even now, there are practical limits on what one farm family can profitably manage efficiently but those limits are not in the 160-acre category.

But apparently, according to the rules the Secretary of Interior proposed, a North Platte Valley farm family owning and operating 320 acres "under the ditch," would be told: "You can only have water for 160 acres. You must either sell the other 160 acres or put it in the name of some other member of your family."

This in itself is an invitation to subterfuge. It is illogical and uneconomic and will do nothing to improve the efficiency of that farm's operation. It certainly will not reduce the cost of food production for consumers and it probably will contribute nothing to keeping "family farms" in operation. Worse, it is probably the opening move of an ill-advised political scheme to overturn property rights, redistribute all land, and achieve government control over all agricultural production.

Congress should stop this thing in its tracks by revising the 1902 statute. — M.M. VanKirk, Nebraska Farm Bureau.

School bells mean extra caution needed

September is the month bats, balls, gloves, tennis rackets, skateboards, and skis are replaced by books, pens, notebooks, and homework assignments.

Back to school time is an exciting time — so much so that children and teenagers may forget about safety.

There are approximately 56 million boys and girls aged five through 17 in this country. And there are so many opportunities to prepare these boys and girls for responsible behavior in a mobile society. Most schools have courses that instruct elementary children in pedestrian, bicycle and bus safety. Later traffic safety education courses deal mainly with preparing teenagers to be responsible drivers.

However, although children and teenagers are exposed to safety courses, adult drivers, by the mere fact that they have driver licenses, have certain responsibilities to school children. Their major responsibility is to be prepared to compensate for youthful error.

Children may walk in large groups. They may be engrossed in conversation or may even be roughhousing. Often they are not following pedestrian safety rules. Therefore, drivers should, especially around school areas, drive slowly, keep an eye on children walking on the sidewalks and crossing streets, and be prepared to stop quickly.

Many children in towns and cities ride their bikes to school. Cyclists are to ride on bicycle paths if there are any. Otherwise, they are to ride single file with the flow of traffic. They are responsible for knowing the rules of the road and obeying them! However, in spite of a new emphasis in schools on bicycle safety, accidents do occur.

In Nebraska in 1976, pedalcycles were involved in 379 accidents. The five to 19 age group comprised 80 per cent of all pedalcycle accidents. Forty-one per cent involved children in the 10 to 14 age group.

Because bicyclists are so susceptible to injury, if they are involved in an accident with a car, motorists should take special care to give them plenty of room to maneuver. Motorists should never shove close by a bicyclist while passing. Nor should they honk their horns at cyclists unless it is absolutely necessary. The sound of a horn may frighten or distract cyclists and cause them to lose control of their bikes.

Many children in rural areas ride a bus to school. There were 98 school bus accidents last year in Nebraska. Four of these were fatality accidents, 30 were injury and 64 were property-damage-only accidents.

Drivers are required by law to stop whenever meeting or overtaking a school bus that has stopped to take on or let off children, and the stop arm is extended. Drivers should also yield the right of way to school buses whenever possible to prevent accidents.

Another means of transportation to school is the motorcycle. Many teenagers are increasingly using this form of transportation. Last year motorcycles in Nebraska were involved in more than 1,256 accidents. Twenty-seven of these accidents were fatal. Motorists should remember that motorcyclists have the same right-of-way privileges as auto drivers. They also are entitled to a full traffic lane just as a car.

Lastly, motorists may sometimes need to be cautious of teenage auto drivers. Some of them, because of driver education courses, are better drivers than many adults. However, some, because of their inexperience, may deal recklessly with their newly acquired privilege of driving. In 1976, almost 25 per cent of all accidents in Nebraska involved teenagers. Sixty-two teenagers between the ages of 15 and 19 died. More experienced drivers need to be alert and, as always, drive defensively, especially around school parking lots and intersections.

Back to school time, as stated before, is an exciting time for children and teenagers. As drivers, make it a safe time — a time of heightened awareness of safety precautions. — Nebraska Highway Safety Program.

The Eastview Cemetery Board met Sept. 2. It was announced that the purchase of an addition to the West of the present cemetery has been completed.

An old fence has been torn down and land has been plowed in preparation for the new addition. A work day is planned in the near future. Volunteers are needed. Plans are to have lots ready for sale this fall at a cost of $75 per lot.

Serving on the cemetery board are Bill Snyder, president; Gaylen Jackson, vice president, and Keith Hill, secretary-treasurer. Other board members are Bill Kjer, Ken Linafelter, Basil Trube, Pete Allen, Sylvia Whitford, Phyllis Swanson and Wanda Van Cleave.

Club Takes Ride

SPOTLIGHT ON WEEDS

Leafy Spurge

Description — Leafy spurge is a persistent deep-rooted perennial which reproduces by seeds and roots. The stems are eight to 36 inches tall and are stiff and woody at maturity. The main stem may be surrounded by eight to ten secondary stems giving a clump-like appearance.

The bluish-green leaves are long and narrow with smooth or slightly wavy margins. The small flowers are borne on a short stalk above two large showy heart-shaped bracts which are generally mistaken for flower petals. Three seeds may be produced in each flower which literally explodes on maturity throwing the seeds as far as fifteen feet. The seeds may remain visible for at least five years.

Seeding plants generally do not flower the first year. Some roots may penetrate to depths of twelve feet. The reddish-brown roots produce a multitude of pink buds which are capable of producing new plants up to three feet away from the mother plant. Sections of roots as short as one-half inch may give rise to new plants. All parts of the plant contain a milky sap which may cause severe irritation to human skin.

Control — In pastureland use one quart of 2, 4-D plus one pint Banvel in early bud stage in spring or late fall. A spring treatment followed by a fall retreatment may be necessary with bad infestations.

Leafy spurge in cropland can generally be eradicated by two years of continuous cultivation. The infested areas should be cultivated three to four inches deep every time the leafy spurge is three to four inches tall (maximum) or about every two to three weeks depending on growing conditions.

Cultivation should continue from early spring to freeze-up in the fall. Care should be taken so that small pieces of roots are not carried to uninfested areas. Cultivation should be done on hot days whenever possible as roots will be killed if exposed to temperatures of 86 degrees Fahrenheit or more for several hours.

Special remarks — Leafy spurge is a very persistent weed and may take several years of vigorous effort to control.

Tight Grain Storage Situation Causing Some Anxiety in State

Nebraska is anticipating another bumper grain crop this year — but that eagerness is mixed with anxiety due to the state's tight grain storage situation.

With storage bins still containing grain from last year's crops, many producers may need to consider long-term storage of their crops, and with that may come insect, fungus, and moisture problems in the stored grain.

One of the many problems of long-term grain storage is that it won't keep at normal market moisture contents, according to Dr. Thomas L. Thompson, professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"Corn is normally marketed at 15 1/2 per cent moisture, but it won't keep long-term at that level—it will have to be dried at 13 per cent," he said. Normally corn at 15 1/2 per cent moisture can be held during the fall and winter months with proper aeration, but if it is going to be held for longer periods, it has to be dried to a lower moisture content.

The specialist pointed out that the moisture content in the bin must be uniform. If there are kernels at 15-16 per cent and others at 11 per cent, this is not equivalent to all of the kernels being at 13 per cent—the 15-16 per cent kernels may start to deteriorate.

One of the keys to successful storage is aeration. Aeration is used to cut down moisture migration, caused by temperature differences in the bin. Aeration, however, is a slow process. If the air temperature were to drop by 10 degrees and stay that way, it would still take a full week to cool down the grain in the bin with a normal aeration rate of one-tenth cubic feet of air per minute per bushel of grain.

"The main objective of aeration is to keep the grain cool. During the fall after harvest and in the event of a problem, the farmer must keep the fan running — even in the rain — because the safety factor is so small," Thompson said.

"Proper aeration is more important than ever with the new larger grain bins, which are as large as 60 foot in diameter. Heat transfer from these bins is much slower than from a smaller 18 foot diameter bin. Aeration is the main means of cooling the grain in these large bins," he said.

In order to preserve the grain, Thompson said he would strive for a grain temperature of 40 degrees F. during the winter months, and 60 to 70 degrees F. during the summer. Condition of the grain should be checked weekly.

Temperatures below 55 degree F. restrict insects and storage mold development, according to Dr. David L. Keith, UN-L Extension entomologist, and Dr. David Wyson, UN-L Extension plant pathologist.

"Sanitation is one of the most important factors in storing insect-free grain long-term," Keith said. Many bins will have insect residues that will contaminate the stored grain.

Several steps must be followed to keep grain free of insect damage, said Dr. Leroy L. Peters, district Extension entomologist at the NU South Central Station.

The first step is cleaning and repairing bins. Peters stressed new grain should never be put on top of old grain. All of the old grain must be vacuumed out, and the bin completely cleaned. He said all holes must be

Wranglers

The Wranglers 4-H Club met Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station with 12 members present.

The club discussed applying for awards and finishing up record books. Thank you notes were passed out to be sent.

Doug and Dan Koester gave a demonstration on "Cuts of Meat." It was announced that record books must be completed and given to LeRoy Koch or Sandy Pettit by Sept. 21.

The next meeting will be achievement night, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station.

plugged so birds and rodents cannot get in and the roof repaired so snow and rain cannot get in, but keeping screened aeration holes open.

After the bin is thoroughly cleaned, the inside and outside surfaces should be sprayed with malathion or methoxychlor about two weeks before storing grain. Removable doors, false partitions, etc. must also be sprayed.

Peters said that Indian-meal moths have become resistant to malathion, so if they are a problem, methoxychlor or pyrethrins should be used as a bin spray.

Dry, insect-free small grain or shelled corn can be protected from most insect damage by using malathion or pyrethrins as a grain protectant. Only premium grade malathion should be used, formulated specifically for use as a grain protectant. The insecticide must be applied before or as it goes into the bin. Drying grain with heated air forced through grain treated with insecticide will reduce the protectant's effectiveness, Peters said, so the insecticide should be applied after the grain has cooled.

After binning is completed, the farmer should level off and "cap out" by treating all the grain surfaces with a protectant. The grain protectant "cap out" acts as a barrier, preventing insects from entering the mass and from feeding on the surface grain. Each time the surface grain is disturbed, such as when probing for moisture samples, the barrier is broken and must be retreated with a grain protectant. If Indian-meal moths are a problem, use pyrethrins as a "cap out" treatment instead of malathion, or use Vapona resin strips.

The Vapona strips are thin, plastic strips impregnated with the insecticide dichlorvos. Peters said. When these strips are hung in a closed area, they give off vapor that kills flying insects. To be successful, the entomologist said, the area to be protected must be a closed area that is not ventilated. Air exchange reduces the concentration of the fumigant to the point that it will no longer kill.

Disability Total Reaches 382,000

More than 382,000 adults who were disabled in childhood are getting social security payments, according to Dale Branch, Social Security district manager in Norfolk.

Monthly benefits are paid to disabled adult sons and daughters or workers getting social security retirement or disability payments — and of deceased workers who worked long enough under social security.

"The benefits are paid to people whose disability began before age 22," Branch said. "Usually they haven't been able to work long enough under Social Security to get benefits on their own work record."

They get about $53 million a month in social security payments, he said.

Under the Social Security law, people are considered medically disabled when they have a severe physical or mental impairment and are not expected to be able to do any substantial work for a year or more.

Disabled people under 65 get Medicare coverage after they've been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months.

Disabled people may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments if they have little or no income and limited resources. About 2.1 million blind and disabled people get over $238 million a month in federal SSI payments. The program, run by the Social Security Administration, also makes monthly payments to people in financial need who are 65 or over.

People can get information about childhood disability benefits and SSI by calling or writing any social security office.

Corn Borers Are Big Problem This Year

The 1977 growing season has produced one of the largest infestations of European corn borers in recent years. The second brood borers are severe in many eastern and central counties, and will account for hundreds of bushels of ears on the ground at harvest time.

This word comes from Robert Roselle, Extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, who said weather conditions favored the corn borer this year, resulting in an early flight of both first and second brood moths. There is strong evidence of a third brood, which is a rare occurrence in Nebraska, he added.

"Second brood moths are attracted to the later maturing corn; however, with the emergence of these moths two to three weeks earlier than normal, nearly all corn was attractive to them," Roselle said. "Eggs were deposited over a long period of time, and survival appears to be higher than average."

Second brood borers weaken stalks, causing them to break during strong winds. They also attack the ear shanks, causing ears to drop to the ground after they start to dry. Harvest losses can be high in heavily infested fields.

Chemical control of second brood borers is rarely feasible, except on seed corn and popcorn fields. The cost of controls would, in most cases, be greater than the return, considering that there would need to be two or three applications, Roselle said.

"The best method of reducing harvest losses is to harvest infested fields early, and dry the corn. The fields most heavily infested can be cut for silage, as corn borers do not affect the feeding qualities of the silage," Roselle advised farmers to examine their fields now, and if some are heavily infested, farmers should consider picking these fields first and drying, or making silage from them. "Fields with the lowest numbers of borers can be harvested later with less risk of field losses," he said.

To determine which fields are the most heavily infested, Roselle recommended splitting stalks and counting the borers inside.

"Borers are flesh to gray color with dark spots and a dark head. Split several stalks in several locations in each field. If there are only one or two borers per stalk, field losses likely will not be serious. When numbers approach six or more borers per stalk, early harvest is desirable. Some stalks may have as many as 15 or more borers per stalk, and these would be candidates for silage," Roselle said.

The entomologist pointed out that borers overwinter in corn stalks, as well as other plants. The number that winter successfully may be high, but stalk cutting and disking will reduce the numbers that emerge as moths.

Weather is the main factor that determines how many will infest corn, he said. Favorable conditions in June and August may result in record numbers; unfavorable conditions can result in high natural mortality, he said.

Conditions Good for Fall Weed Treatment

Current weather and moisture conditions could result in a "mixed bag" in effective weed control measures going into fall and winter, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension weed control specialist said this week.

John Furrer said excellent rains around the state have resulted in good soil moisture, which along with cooler nights favor good growth on biennial and perennial weeds.

"Write October normally is considered prime time for controlling weeds through the application of 2,4-D, Bavel, Tordon and Roundup the advanced growing season may make it ideal to spray now, Furrer said.

However, there's a possible catch; spraying too early may leave enough time this fall for dropped weed seeds to germinate and establish themselves in late fall after herbicides have controlled one crop, the UN-L specialist cautioned.

Weeds that can be controlled by fall spraying include field bindweed, musk thistle, leafy spurge, hemp dogbane, and Canada thistle.

In reference to Tordon, Furrer reminded farmers that Nebraska has a state label for Tordon for use on musk thistle. Tordon is designated as a restricted herbicide, and after Oct. 21, an applicator must be certified to use Tordon, he said.

Crop producers also should check on Pennycress this fall, Furrer said.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Wayne County Weed Control Authority has dedicated itself not only to noxious weed control, but also to the prevention of dissemination of noxious weed seed. The Director of Agriculture has determined that noxious weed seed may be disseminated through the movement of machinery and equipment, grain and seed, hay, straw, nursery stock, fencing materials, sod, manure, and soil as well as articles of similar nature. Methods of treatment have also been prescribed by the Director and may be obtained from the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

With the harvest season approaching very rapidly, please keep in mind the provisions of the law requiring owners of harvest equipment to clean prior to movement to another field. This machinery and equipment being used in the harvest of crops should be treated or cleaned as follows:

1. Removal of all material from the tops and sides of all parts of the machine by sweeping and the use of forced air and water.
2. Opening the lower end of all elevators returns, and measuring devices and removal of all noxious weed seeds and seedlings from shakers, sieves and other places of lodgment.
3. Run the machine empty for a minimum of five minutes, alternately increasing and decreasing the speed.
4. Follow the manufacturer's detailed instructions for cleaning the machine.

These treatments should be performed while the article or the machine itself is still on the land in which it became infested if at all possible. This will not only prevent spreading noxious weed seed from one field to another, but also from one landowner to another.

For treatment methods, of all other articles and questions, please contact the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

Here is a simple way to store small quantities of root crops such as carrots and potatoes. Get a clean garbage can, plastic or metal, big enough to hold your crop. Outside, dig a hole in the ground large enough to hold the container. The hole can be vertical or horizontal, into a hillside. The top of the container, should be several inches deeper than the level of the ground after putting the container into the cave-and filling it.

Insert a one and one-half-inch galvanized pipe from ground level to the top of the barrel. This ventilates the container. Finally cover the produce with burlap and straw that is four to six inches thick when settled. Styrofoam can be substituted for the burlap or straw.

Friday dinner guests of the Myron Walkers were Mrs. Mildred Smith, Huntington Beach, Calif.; Roy Walker, Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. Don Madson, Lincoln, and Ann Scheurich.

The Walter Strates flew to Cincinnati Sept. 1 to visit Mrs. Strate's brother and family, the Jim Kuderars. While there they attended the national slow pitch softball tournament at Hamilton, Ohio. Strate's daughter, Marilyn, is a member of the Winn Power girls team which placed 13th in the national contest. Monday's edition of The Wayne Herald incorrectly reported that Marilyn was Strate's granddaughter. Strates returned to Hoskins Sept. 5.

Planting Madonna Lilies

If you want madonna lilies to blossom next summer you should plant in September.

Lily beds need good drainage and lots of sunlight or they'll produce weak stems and soft flowers. But don't plant near house walls, walks, drives or other objects that reflect sunlight or heat.

Incorporate compost or peat-moss into the soil at a rate of one part humus to two parts soil. Scatter a handful of balanced fertilizer over each four square feet of bed area and work it in.

When planting, make a hole large enough for roots to have room to spread. Bulbs may be planted in groups, two or three per hole. Space the holes 12 to 18 inches apart. Dusting the bulbs with a fungicide such as Arason before planting is a good idea.

Madonna lilies should not be covered more than one or two inches. Place a marker beside each bulb to mark its position. Water immediately after planting and continue this practice.

Falling Leaves

Shorter days — not colder temperatures — are the main reason trees lose their leaves each fall.

Trees that are kept warm artificially will still lose their leaves as the days shorten. On the other hand, trees lighted artificially for the same amount of time each day will retain their leaves long after temperatures have dropped to wintry levels.

When the days of autumn shorten, a chemical change takes place in the leaf stalk where it joins the twig. The substance binding the cells break down, and the leaf eventually falls to the ground.

to animals, he said. Toxicity symptoms in livestock may include loss of appetite, weight loss, diarrhea, bleeding, unthriftiness and/or nervousness. Since there is no rapid and simple test to determine if the grain is toxic, feeding trials with two to three animals for 10 to 14 days is the only reliable test for toxicity, Doupnik said.

To prevent or reduce mold growth and mycotoxin formation, Doupnik recommends: —Allowing crops to mature in the field to a certain moisture range: shelled corn (23-25 per cent); ear corn (25-30 per cent); small grains including sorghum (12-17 per cent) and soybeans (10-16 per cent). —Pointed out, however, that this is not always possible due to unfavorable harvesting conditions such as this year's severe corn borer and potentially severe stalk rot damage. —Adjusting harvesting equipment for minimum cracking and maximum cleaning. Studies have shown that much of the mold growth and mycotoxin formation is associated with cracked kernels and debris. —Dry all grain to a safe moisture level within 48 hours. If not possible, dry to 18-20 per cent, then aerate. —Cool after drying and maintain dry storage conditions. —Continue to aerate stored grain where feasible, but make sure moisture is not introduced.

It's Hot Work

Firemen usually work hard to extinguish a blaze as quickly as possible, but Wayne and Wakefield volunteers found Sunday that burning a house down under controlled conditions can be hard work — and excellent training.

The exercise took place on the Jack Beeson farm, three miles east and three-fourths north of Wayne. A two-story wooden frame farm house was burned to clear the way for a new home.

Volunteer firemen, 15 from Wayne and three from Wakefield, took part in the exercise under the direction of Les Luckert of Seward and Dutch Sitzman of Wayne. Luckert is a senior instructor with the Nebraska Fire Service, responsible for training fire fighters throughout the state. Sitzman is area instructor for Northeast Nebraska.

The first exercise was a ground floor arson type fire prepared by the two instructors. The Wayne and Wakefield volunteers gained experience working inside a burning building with an air pack and mask, and after extinguishing the blaze learned arson investigation fundamentals.

They later fought a second story fire and in addition to using self contained breathing equipment gained experience in fighting structural fires, using steam action to clear smoke and gasses from the building, Luckert explained.

The senior instructor then directed the operation of burning the house so debris fell into the basement, and minimizing the chance of flying embers igniting other fires.

VOLUNTEER fireman received some valuable training Sunday during the controlled burning of a frame house northeast of Wayne. (Clockwise, from upper left.) Three fire fighters spray down the ground floor to keep the blaze from getting out of hand, while others control the second story fire from the ground (top, center) and from a ladder, using a wide angle spray. A volunteer fireman checks the mask on his breathing equipment (right) to make sure he has a tight fit before entering the burning house. A burning window inside the house frames a fireman on the other side. Firemen also got practice in using ladders (center). In bottom left photo, senior fire instructor Les Luckert (left) and area fire instructor Dutch Sitzman (third from left) critique the performance of local firemen during the exercise. A piercing nozzle (left, center photo) is used to notch-through shingles and spray water inside the burning structure.
