Progress reports are up-dated when conditions change. Reports are called in by field personnel to the districts. The districts consolidate these re-ports and passes them on to the public communication outlets. Vehicles stalled on the travel-ed roadway present a problem in snow removal work. If the vehicle in unoccupied, the road crews tow if to the shoulder. They take precaution not to damage the car or truck. If the vehicle is occupied the crews check on the physical well-being of the occupants and will take them to the nearest shelter if the situation calls for it.

there are also disadvantages that parents should watch for, says Chesser. Parents of only children also tend to lose perspective, she adds,' "and expect adult be-havior from children because they have no other children to compare behavior with." Too many expectations is another problem for some parents. "All the parent's unful-tilled aspirations for himself may fall on one child rather than be shared, which can be a real burden to the only child," she says.

anys. Above all, Chesser says parents should resist the temp-tation to fulfill every wish and demand of an only child. "If parents recognize and avoid the pitfalls of having an
