City Council Accepts Bid For Storm Sewer Project

A short, but snappy Wayne city council meeting Tuesday night produced approval of purchase for a new police station wagon and the acceptance of a bid for the Roosevelt Park storm sewer project, which came in under the engineer's estimate.

However, the council chair vacated by Fourth Ward Councilman Jimmie Thomas remained vacant as Mayor Freeman Decker said the two individuals offered the position had turned it down. He reiterated his feeling concerning citizens who will not hold public office because it might hurt their personal business.

A Dodge Mopaco station wagon won the approval of the council for a new police station wagon. The bid was submitted by Chrysler Center of Wayne. The low bid was $5,387.50.

The bid by Chrysler Center was among those opened at the council meeting Jan. 10. All of the bids were taken under advisement as City Administrator Fred Brink checked them to see if they met the specifications.

He said the Dodge met most of the specifications and it was the low bid submitted. He pointed out that it is difficult to purchase a vehicle made especially for police. "You have to decide on what you want, then build your own police vehicle package."

The Roosevelt Park storm sewer went to Midwest Bridge and Construction company of Norfolk. The base bid was $135,621.20 with rock bedding bid of $2,000.

The bids were opened and read by Bruce Gilmore of Bruce Gilmore and Associates, consulting engineers from Columbus. Gilmore recommended the council accept the Midwest bid. According to the bid, work will

'Looking for This?'

"THE AMAZING KRESKIN" does it again! Just prior to going on stage at Ramsey theater at Wayne State College Tuesday night, he was welcomed to Wayne by Wayne Chamber of Commerce President Gerald Bofenkamp (right) who looked for the "key to the city" when Kreskin turned it up. The popular entertainer had an overflow audience gasping as he "picked" their minds. Kreskin topped the performance by finding his check under a protective arm pad on a pair of crutches. Kreskin said finding the check is the most firing part of his act. And well it should be, for if he hadn't found it he would have performed free of charge. Kreskin came to Wayne from Akron, Ohio and running slightly behind schedule because of the devastating snow storm through the Midwest.

Driver Crashes Into Ditch

A 16-year-old Wayne youth was treated for bruises he received Monday when the pickup he was driving lost its brakes and rolled into a ditch.

Elbert D. Moore was taken to Providence Medical Center following the one-car mishap which happened about 8:30 a.m. Monday. Three and one-half miles south of Wayne on Highway 15.

Moore told sheriff's officers he was traveling north on Highway 15 when the car in front of him, put on its brakes. He said he hit his brakes and found he didn't have any. He took the ditch rather than plowing into the rear of the car ahead of him.

The 1973 pickup was a total loss. It belonged to John Kay of rural Wayne.

Step Up Grain Plan

Farmers will be eligible to participate in the grain reserve program for Barley, Oats and Wheat sooner than expected.

Alden Johnson, Chairman of the Wayne County ASC committee, explained that producers do not have to wait for their loan maturity date. 1976 and 1977 crop barley, oats and wheat under loan can be placed in the 3-year reserve program on March 1.

Producers who do not have a current loan may still obtain one. 1976 crop barley, oats and wheat loans must be requested before the end of February and 1977 crops before the end of March. Those who have purchase agreements would have to convert to a loan by these dates, Johnson stated.

Annual storage payments will be paid in advance for grains in the 3-year agreements. The rate is 30 cents per bushel a year for barley and wheat and 15 cents per bushel for oats. Johnson explained that 1976 and 1977 crop corn and grain sorghum are also eligible for the 3-year grain reserve when their current loans mature.

Under the program, feed grain farmers can repay the loan, set the commodity and keep earned storage payments when the National average market price reaches 125 percent of the current national loan rate or when the grain reserve agreement expires. USDA will notify farmers when this release level is reached, Johnson said. USDA will call in all loans when the market price hits 140 percent of the current national average loan rate. For wheat the release level is 140 percent and the call level is 175 percent.

Chest Board Agrees To Three New Members

After a lengthy discussion, board members of the Wayne Community Chest agreed to expand the present membership from 9 to 12.

The vote came during a noon meeting Friday when Board President Dick Manley presented the idea, saying that the addition of three more board members would spread out the work load of the annual drive.

Manley said during the report meeting that adding members to the board, could help the drive complete the goal set each fall.

As of last week, members learned that the amount collected thus far is about $1,200 shy of the 1977 goal of $14,000.

Board Secretary Marilyn Carhart said the $12,819 received represents about 92 percent, and that there is still hope that contributions trickling in will surpass $13,000.

Friday's meeting was the last for board members Dave Ley, Kay Swerczek and Sandy Elliott. Ley and Swerczek completed their three-year terms and Elliott finished the last term left vacant by Neil Dinges.

Not-So-Funny Thing at the Forum

A GROUP of interested citizens listen to remarks by Rosalind Meier, director of Region IV services, Wayne. The topic was public relations in regard to the center. It was just one of the many areas covered in a Public Forum format Monday night where citizens could express their views about the work at the center.

Mrs. Meier said one of the most difficult tasks in her job is educating the public about the services at the center and the clients who use them. "We invite all residents to see for themselves the services we offer," Mrs. Meier said.

Manufacturers Holding Down Furnishing Costs.

It will cost more to decorate your home in 1978, but price increases won't be significant above the 1977 levels, according to Janet Wilson, Extension consumer education specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Wilson, who attended the annual Food and Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D.C. this winter, said home furnishing manufacturers and designers appear to be making an attempt to keep costs down.

"They're starting to avoid petroleum-based products like manmade fibers and the more costly imported raw materials," she said. "There's an emphasis instead on using American products to eliminate some import and transportation costs."

Manufacturers also are emphasizing the use of natural fibers, particularly cotton, she said. "We should see a lot more upholstered products and draperies in natural fibers."

In carpets, there is expected to be a greater variety of wool fibers, especially American rather than imported wool. "In fact, the use of American wool may actually mean that prices of wool carpets may not rise greatly, or may even be slightly lower than last year," according to the specialist.

Lynne Bruggeman Engaged to Jerry Allemann

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman of Hoskins and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Allemann of Winslow have announced the engagement of their children, Lynne Irene Bruggeman and Jerry Dean Allemann.

Purchasing meat in quantity isn't always a good buy, but it can be, according to Teresa Shaffer, Extension food and nutrition specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Persons who have freezer space in their home and who shop around for the best buy, taking into consideration actual price per pound, will get the most for their money, she says. Shaffer says most persons overlook the fact that the price per pound usually quoted is for the hanging or gross weight of a carcass. "This is the weight before trimming and cutting, not the amount of usable meat you'll take home," she says.

Cutting loss will usually be about 25 percent of a beef carcass, says the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist, adding that this should be taken into account when figuring actual cost per pound.

"People also tend to overlook the fact that not all of the cut will be steaks," adds Shaffer. A normal yield from a beef carcass will include 25 percent ground beef and stew meat, 25 percent steaks and 25 percent roasts, she says.

To make realistic comparisons, it also is necessary to know both the quality grade and yield grade of the carcass. "The higher the quality, the more the carcass is worth," she says, "and the higher the yield grade, the more lean meat you'll have."

USDA yield grade 1 denotes the highest yield and yield grade 5 the lowest in beef and lamb, according to the specialist. Quality grades include prime, which is usually only sold to hotels and restaurants, and USDA choice and good, which are widely available. "The lower the quality grade, the less tender the meat will be," she explained.

When comparing price per pound of estimated usable beef for persons who want to buy portions of a carcass, according to the specialist, "Those who prefer steaks and roasts may want a hindquarter of beef, which will yield more tender cuts, but also will cost more per pound than a forequarter."

A forequarter contains more of the less tender cuts, but the yield of usable lean meat is usually greater than in the hindquarter, she notes.

"Be sure to buy from a dealer with a well-established reputation for honesty and fairness," warns the specialist. Quantity beef can be purchased at some supermarkets, food locker plants, meat packers and wholesale outlets.

Matmen End Dual Season With Victory

Wayne High matmen ended their dual season Tuesday night with an impressive 33-18 decision over host Schuyler for the Blue Devils fourth win against three losses.

Most of Wayne's seven individual wins came in the lower weights where the Devils picked up three quick wins on two decisions and a pin for a 12-0 lead.

Saturday coach Don Koenig's crew heads to Columbus Lakeview for the West Husker Conference meet. Defending champion Wisner-Pilger will be the team to beat in the three-team tournament, the coach added. Last year Wayne finished second.

Svoboda, Pfeiffer Carry Wildcats to Third at Plainview

Medal winners Bryan Svoboda and Mitch Pfeiffer carried Winside High grapplers to third place Saturday in the Plainview Invitational.

Pfeiffer won the heavyweight title with a 11-9 decision over Clayton Hoefs of Wisner-Pilger and Svoboda won by default over 185-pound Ron Christiansen of Plainview.

Three other Wildcat grapplers won second place and one each finished third and fourth as coach Randy Humpal's team collected 120 points.

Elgin Pope John won with 167½ points followed by Plainview with 132½, Winside, Wisner with 113½, Creighton with 80, Stanton with 78½, Osmond with 26 and Niobrara with 15½.

Taking second place for Winside were 105-pound Rick Bowers, 126-pound Tom Koll and 155-pound LaVerle Miller. Brian Foote (112) was third and Eric Vahlkamp (138) was fourth out of 12 grapplers at the all-day meet.

Next stop for Winside is Tuesday when the Cats close their dual season at Wakefield.

WAYNE'S tenacious boardwork turned the outcome of Saturday night's Central States Conference matchup against rival Kearney into the Wildcats' favor. In their 106-88 decision, the Cats set a new school rebounding record with 74 caroms. An example of just how aggressive the Cats were on the boards came in the second half when Jay Bellar (24) and Gary Billings (42) gang up to knock the offensive carom away from one of the Lopers' big men, 6-5 Tom Ritzdorf.

Chadron Ends Cats Win Streak at Three, but... Wayne Hands Lopers 106-88 Setback

By BOB BARTLETT and RUSS HERMAN
Sometimes when a coach announces his resignation before the end of the season, his team will go one of two ways: Either go into a slump, or take on the role of "win one for the Gipper" and produce a winning season.

However, Wayne State coach Jim Seward doesn't believe that either way describes his club's playing.

Seward, who announced last week that he will be leaving Wayne State at the end of the school year, has witnessed an upsurge in his club, winning the last three ball games including a hard-fought 106-88 victory over rival Kearney St. Saturday night.

"With the exception of one or two ball games, we're playing as well as we can," Seward pointed out after his club boosted its season record to 11-8.

As for the win-loss record, Seward went on, it is the same as it was this time last year when the Wildcats went on to post their third straight winning season under the head man. The big difference is that instead of returning for a stretch of home games like last year, the Cats will be on the road for five contests.

"We've been up and down all season and we've won in spurts. Perhaps the recent wins will give us confidence on the road," the coach added.

The win over Kearney keeps Wayne's hopes alive for making the top half in the eight-team Central States Conference with a 3-3 record, three games away from league leader Missouri Southern.

Saturday's game started out with the running style the Lopers are well noted for, but the Wildcats didn't let that both them.

In a duel of the guards, Wayne's Dale Meyer kayoed Kearney's Randy Cipriano by out-scoring the son of Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano, 23-18.

Meyer, a 6-1 senior guard from Sioux City, said after the game that he felt that he could score on Cipriano at any time. The key, he added, was to stop the Kearney star by making him pick up the quick fouls.

Late in the second half, Meyer accomplished that goal when Cipriano exited the game with his team trailing.

Meyer sparked the Wildcats to a 53-36 halftime lead, scoring 13 of his game high 23 points in the first half. Kearney quickly came back in the second half and tied the score 73-73 on a driving bank shot by Tim Mohanna with 10:46 left.

Wayne's Jay Bellar came back with a 20 foot jumper to give the Wildcats the lead again and the capacity crowd of 1,700 which jammed Rice Auditorium went wild. Bellar scored two more baskets and Mark Olsen added a pair as the sudden outbursts grew to a 14-2 streak to boost Wayne State's lead to 87-75 with a little over seven minutes left. Bellar played his finest game of the season, scoring 18 points and pulling down 17 rebounds, including eight offensive rebounds.

Olsen added 17 markers and Bob Reason led the Cats in rebounds with 12. Randy Cipriano-See WAYNE STATE, page 5

West Husker Conference Tournament Cedar Eliminates Blue Devils, 61-55

Hartington Cedar's Mike Litz and Kevin Becker thwarted any hopes of Wayne High remaining alive in the West Husker Conference tournament Tuesday night when the pair combined for 36 points in the Trojans' 61-55 elimination of the Blue Devils.

Litz, 6-3, poured in 20 markers and Becker, 6-4, added 16 as the duo crashed Wayne's defense for the inside shots. As a result of their inside play, Hartington shot 43 percent from the field — the marked difference in the outcome of the game, said Wayne boss Bill Sharpe.

"Our kids played a good ball game, but couldn't get the shots when we needed them," the coach noted about his club which holds a 6-8 record. Wayne, which converted 20 of 63 from the field for 32 percent, got scoring leadership from Tom Ginn with 18 and John Keating with 12. However, junior Brad Emry had an off night, making only two points.

In the other conference game Tuesday night, Columbus Lakeview advanced to the semifinal round Friday night by beating Wisner-Pilger 58-48.

In semifinal action, Madison will play Cedar at 6:30 p.m. and Emerson-Hubbard will go against Lakeview at 8. Finals are Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Schuyler 46, Wayne 44

"It was the typical Saturday game with both teams playing the night before," said Wayne coach Bill Sharpe after his club dropped a 46-44, contest at Schuyler.

"You just don't prepare for games that are back to back," Sharpe went on. "For college teams it's normal to play back to back, but not in high school," he added.

Although it was a scrappy contest, both teams had trouble putting in their share of shots. Wayne converted 16 of 56 for 29 percent while Schuyler made 20 of 67 for 30 percent. "We were putting the shots up and most of them were decent," Sharpe noted, "but we still didn't connect."

Senior forward John Keating took the last shot for the Blue Devils, but missed tying the score when he appeared to be fouled, Sharpe said. However, officials failed to call a personal.

"We had all kinds of opportunities and so did they but neither team made them," the coach pointed out, adding that a See CEDAR, page 5

Wildkittens Push Record To 15 Wins

Wayne State's Wildkittens won their seventh Central States Conference game without a loss Saturday night, beating Kearney

State, 64-54 at Wayne. The Wildkittens are 15-4 on the season.

Wayne rode the hot shooting of Barb Bettin, Lori Langel and Lori Erwin to 20-6 after eight minutes of action and maintained the margin throughout the rest of the first half, leading 32-16 at halftime.

The Loperettes, who shot only 17 percent from the field in the first half, got hot in the second half, cutting the lead to 48-40 on a basket by Leah Hill with 8:34 left in the game. Hill and Andra DeKlavs were the key scorers for Kearney in the second half, scoring 11 points each. Hill finished the game with 15 points, while DeKlavs did all of her scoring in the second half. Julie Brinkman gave the Wildkittens a shot in the arm, scoring six of Wayne's next eight points and Erwin quickly added six more to build the Wildkitten lead back to 61-44 and the Loperettes never seriously threatened after that.

Langel led the balanced Wayne attack with 17 points. Brinkman added 14 and handed out six assists. Julie Petronis and Erwin controlled the boards. Petronis grabbing 18 and Erwin 11.

SDS Wins Meet

South Dakota State won a wrestling triangular against Wayne State and Kearney State Saturday at Wayne.

South Dakota State ran over Kearney, 31-14 and defeated the Wildcats, 37-12 to wrap up the championship. Kearney also defeated Wayne, 34-9.

Kirk Hansen was the only Wildcat grappler to claim two victories. The 167 pound wrestler won one match by forfeit and nudged South Dakota State's Martin Parsley, 1-0.

(Continued from page 4) and Tim Mohanna paced Barney with 18 and 17 points, respectively. Wayne's... torrid defense stopped the taller Logers by having the middle to halt Kearney from getting the second and third shots. As a result, the Cats had a new school rebound record of 74 caroms. Both Seward and Meyer pointed out that the victory had to do with the huge enthusiastic crowd which jammed Rice Auditorium for the 7:30 p.m. tilt. "This is the best crowd I've seen in my four years," Meyer pointed out. "It's good to know there are fans backing you." Seward noted that the "great crowd support" was highlighted by the fact that members of Wayne State's football team banded together for the first time to give the basketball team a lot of vocal support. Wayne's big victory also has to go to the band, Seward added.

Laurel 'Gets by' Coleridge Quint

Three days of missed practices almost cost Laurel a victory over Coleridge Monday night. The Bears of coach Everett Jensen had to shake off poor shooting to overcome the Bulldogs, 32-23. For Laurel's sixth win in 11 games. "Our big problem was that we could break fast and steal the ball, but we couldn't get things going," Jensen said, blaming the lack of practices as the primary cause. Last week the Bears missed three workouts when school was closed due to the weather.

MAIL BOX: Former Allen High boys basketball coach Jim Kootz sends along a notice that during his first year as head coach at Giltner High his team stands at 4-4 as of early last week: "Of the four losses, one was to the third ranked Class D team in the state, Hordeville (ranked third in the Lincoln Journal-Star and fourth in the Omaha World-Herald), one was in overtime and another was by five points." "Considering we started the season with only two lettermen, no starters and no one over six foot tall, I'm really proud of what my kids have accomplished thus far. Last Friday's (Jan. 20) 65-57 victory over Trumbull was especially satisfying for a number of reasons. Trumbull is our 'arch-rival' and the game was played on their floor. In addition, it helped the kids gain a measure of revenge since Trumbull had beaten Giltner 60-0 in football." Kootz goes on to say that "the only thing we (he and his family) miss about Northeast Nebraska is the fine newspaper coverage my teams once received. If (now) is no where near the quality that it was when you were covering the area, I only hope that they wake up around here. I can't believe how I was spoiled by your coverage."

FORMER NATIONAL NAIA wrestling champion, Ken Monroe, is being considered for induction in the NAIA Hall of Fame. Wayne State coaches as well as friends and instructors are pushing their pens writing letters to NAIA officials to help Kenny be the second WS graduate inducted in the Hall. First person from Wayne State was Virgil "Bud" Lindahl, now the athletic director at the University of Colorado. Lindahl played football during the late 1930's. Monroe three times was named the 167-pound national champion in 1970, 1972 and 1973. He finished second in the nation in 1971. His record for four years on the mat stands at a remarkable 92 wins, nine losses and two draws.

WAYNE SECOND GUSSERS are getting together with WS coaches to establish the college's first Hall of Fame. The idea is to recognize players in all sports who have been honored as All-American, or on NAIA district, regional and national teams and the like. Also in the works are plans for distributing an alumni newsletter to keep sports enthusiasts aware of what is going on at Wayne State and some of the future plans.

Tractor Team Places High at Nationals

The three-man tractor pulling team of Keith Gamble, Randy and Butch Janke finished among the top 10 in two divisions over the weekend at the Denver Winter Nationals in Denver, Colo. The area pullers finished fourth in the 12,000-pound class and eighth in the 9,000-pound division while competing against 22 other entries in the two categories.

Turnovers Stop Winside In L-C Contest at Wausa

Turnovers marred Winside's bid for its third victory in girls basketball Tuesday night when the Wildcats fell to host Wausa, 48-45. The Cats committed a total of 42 turnovers to stop coach Kathy O'Connor's team in its tracks during Lewis and Clark Conference action. "They pressed us in the first quarter but we handled the ball well," O'Connor said. However, the second quarter was a different story. The press got to the Wildcats, allowing the area club to score only three points to trial at the half, 21-19. Senior Paula Hoemann set a school rebounding record against the Vikings by pulling down 26 caroms. The old record was 24 held by Deb Albrecht. Hoemann also led her club in scoring with 16 points. Winside's record is 2-6.

Those up-and-down Laurel Bears got back on the winning road Saturday night by improving their rebounding and free throw shooting to nudge visiting Osmond, 51-48. The win boosted Laurel's record to 10 wins against six losses going into Friday night's away game at Bloomfield. Coach Joel Parks' Bears made 15 of 20 tries from the charity stripe against Osmond and cleared 31 rebounds to show a marked improvement after they lost to Hartington High the night before, 57-49. "Against Hartington we just didn't play well, and two statistics pretty much tell the story," Parks said. The Bears gave up the ball 33 times on turnovers and made only 11 of 24 free throws. Steve Anderson led the Bears on the boards against Osmond with nine rebounds and Mike Martin had seven. The Bears also reduced the number of turnovers to 17.

Wausa's Fastbreak Kayos Colvin's Troops, 72-42

Wausa opened up its fastbreak game midway through the third period Tuesday night to ramble past visiting Winside, 72-42. In West Lewis and Clark Conference action. Mark Fredrick ignited Wausa's surge with his torrid shooting and rebounding as the Viking player poured in 24 points for high scoring honors. The loss of two Wildcat stars hampered Winside's chances to rally. Both Chuck Peter and Bill Gotlberg exited the game with their fifth personal to chop out most of the height in Winside's starting quint. "For three quarters we played well, but then we ran out of gas or something," said coach Sam Colvin. Sophomores Paul Roberts and Randy Ritze had a good night for Winside, scoring 14 and 10 points respectively. Ritze also had eight of the teams 30 rebounds. Winside's record drops to 1-10.

Team 3 Remains Leader in Loop With Five Wins

Despite three players scoring better than 20 points each, Team 7 couldn't outgun league-leader Team 3 Monday night. The winners in A league basketball countered with five men in double figures, including Earle Overin who had 29 points. Mike Meyer led the losers, now 3-2, with 24 points while Doug Sturm had 23 and Randy Workman 22, for the winners. Doug Carroll and Ritch Workman had 18 apiece, and Tim Robinson and Mike Nelmann had 14 each. In another high scoring game, Bob Nelson and Bruce Johnson combined for 60 points to carry Team 4 to a 98-92 decision over Team 6. And in overtime, Team 2 outshot Team 1 for a 69-60 victory. Koenig: Caliber Of Competition Really Helped Up

The caliber of competition Wayne High grapplers faced at the Albion Invitational Saturday is the type coach Don Koenig wanted his matmen to meet before the start of districts later this month. A number of the top two individual winners in each event were rated among the best in their classes going into the meet, Koenig pointed out, and as a result the majority of Wayne wrestlers had a chance to compete against the best. Larry Hank (98) and Dan Mitchell (185) led Wayne with a pair of second place finishes. Hank was pinned by the state's third-ranked Class B grappler, Larry Luther of Lexington, and Mitchell lost to Dean Schindler of Neligh in 1:57. Mitchell's loss to the Neligh grappler was kind of a fluke, Koenig pointed out. Mitchell was slammed to the mat and the air knocked out of him, the coach explained, adding that the referee refused to stop the match at that point, so Mitchell was pinned. Ward Wacker was third and both Rick Luff and Dusty Ruback finished fourth. As a team, Wayne was fifth with 77 points.

DIFFICULT STAINS

Antiperspirant, deodorant, and perspiration stains can be removed effectively at home with expensive formulas or dry cleaning bills. Most of the supplies you will need should be found readily in your home.

For washable fabrics, gather together a liquid dishwashing detergent, ammonia (the ten percent solution is best), vinegar, and rubbing alcohol or denatured alcohol (the 70 to 90 percent concentration).

First, combine one-half teaspoon of the detergent and one tablespoon of the ammonia in a quart of warm water. Soak or sponge the fabric for up to 30 minutes. Then soak the fabric for up to an hour in a solution of one quart warm water and one tablespoon of vinegar. Rinse and dry.

Finally, sponge with alcohol.

Keeping an absorbent pad beneath the fabric until the stain disappears. Keep the stain moist during this procedure. Then launder as usual.

For wool and silk fabrics, follow this procedure, but dilute the ammonia with equal amounts of water. Follow the garment label for regular care. Some wool and silk garments require professional handling.

Be careful whenever attempting to remove stains that you do not mix chlorine bleach and ammonia. Together, the two emit toxic fumes.

As a general washday precaution against perspiration and antiperspirant buildup, try spraying full strength household ammonia (five percent) on garments at the neckline and armholes before laundering.

the tune "Support Your Heart Association." Denise Jirak-Smith, activity director, reminded area residents that dollars are needed for the important work of the heart association in its effort to fight heart diseases, the nation's leading killer.

begin June 1, 1978 with 45 working days.

The engineer's estimate for the project was $223,000. The work includes the construction of a storm sewer with 2,083 linear feet of pipe, ranging from 84 inches to 12 inches.

In other business, the council passed a resolution concerning city credit. The resolution put a limitation on the extension of credit to the city or its officials or employees.

Councilwoman Carolyn Filler said there has been some evidence of misuse of credit by city employees. She pointed out the city ordinance now of record lists the "seller" being just as guilty as the person misusing the city credit for his (her) own use.

The council also heard bids for electric materials needed to beef up the west side feeder line and extend new service around Providence Medical Center.

The bids were read by Norm Armstrong who was directed by the council to check the computations of the bids and report back to the council at the next regular meeting which will be Feb. 15.

Administrator Brink explained to the council the workings of a power demand limiting controller. The system would be programmed to compute when power demand peaks could be expected and use sensors to relay other information so the power could be fed into the lines automatically and at reportedly considerable savings.

Armstrong also said the increase in rates for natural gas in the Wayne area was turned down by the Federal Power Commission and city users will be receiving a rebate on their bill from Dec. 27, 1977.

The estimated cost is between $12,000 and $14,000. The council took the matter under advisement before making a decision.

The council got into the matter of snow removal just about the time snow began to fall in the city. They discussed some of the "hot spots" in snow removal as well as parking in alleyways.

The council voted to wait until next meeting to discuss a transfer station contract. It will be held over until the next council meeting to give council members a chance to study the contract.

Apparent strong support by the council to a proposition to renovate the ball park on 4th street caused the members to ask for further information and a report from city engineers.

Mayer Decker said "something needs to be done about the ball park." Brink added the renovation warrants the effort. The possible renovation project will be brought up for discussion as soon as the preliminary designs are finished.

Calling All Cooks!

If Your Recipe Measures Up, You Could Win...

$25 or $10 Worth of Food Certificates

During The Wayne Herald's

New 'Recipe-of-the-Month' Contest

How To Enter

Just jot your favorite recipe, or recipes, down on a sheet of paper. Include your name, address and telephone number. Mail your favorites to Recipes, The Wayne Herald, 114 Main St., Wayne, 68787.

How To Win

Recipes will be printed in each Thursday issue of The Wayne Herald. At the end of each month, the best recipe, along with a runner-up, will be selected from those printed in the paper during that month. There are not categories in the contest. All types of food dishes will be considered in the final selection.

What To Win

Winner of the best "Recipe-of-the-Month" will be awarded a $25 certificate redeemable at Wittig's Food Center, Johnson's Frozen Foods, or Arnies.

The runner-up each month will receive $10 worth of food certificates redeemable at one of the three stores.

An Added Bonus

At the end of the year, The Wayne Herald will compile a cookbook listing all recipes submitted to the paper throughout the year. The cookbook will be made available to all area home-makers.

GREAT MOMENTS IN JOURNALISM! A GREAT MOMENT IN JOURNALISM OCCURRED IN 1773 WHEN BENJAMIN FRANKLIN PUBLISHED A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER FROM HIS PRINT SHOP CALLED "THE PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE." JUST FOUR YEARS LATER, FRANKLIN PUBLISHED HIS BEST-KNOWN WORK, "POOR RICHARD'S ALMANACK," WHICH MADE HIM POPULAR AS A RUSTIC PHILOSOPHER! SOME GREAT MOMENTS IN TELEVISION JOURNALISM OCCUR EVERY NIGHT WHEN LOCAL TELEVISION NEWS PROGRAMS PRESENT BOTH IN-DEPTH STORIES AND SIDE NEWS REPORTS LIKE THAT'S ONE OF THE REASONS, POINTS OUT THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BROADCASTERS, WHY 71 PERCENT OF TELEVISION VIEWERS WATCH EARLY EVENING LOCAL NEWS AT LEAST TWICE A WEEK! SOME GREAT MOMENTS HAVE OCCURRED IN LOCAL NEWSPAPER JOURNALISM TO KEEP THE TOTAL CIRCULATION OF THE NATION'S HEARTLAND PRESS INCREASING. IT LEAPED MORE THAN 2.1 MILLION DURING 1976 TO MORE THAN 27.2 MILLION! ONE REASON IS THAT LOCAL NEWSPAPERS HAVE BEEN FREE TO EXPERIMENT WITH CREATIVE NEW APPROACHES TO SUPPLYING THEIR READERS WITH NEWS.

Hoskins Plans For New Bridge Set for 1980's
The Hoskins town board Monday night adopted its one and six year street program, calling for building a new bridge north on Main Street during the early 1980's. Town board members were advised to wait until that time in hopes of securing federal funds to match village and county funds to replace the old bridge, according to a board member. In other business, members discussed with builders the possibility of construction of a new housing development in Hoskins.

OBITUARIES

Henry Kugler

Funeral services for Henry Kugler of Wayne are pending at Hiscox-Schumacher Funeral Home in Wayne. He died Wednesday morning at Providence Medical Center at the age of 84.

Maggie Mick

Maggie Mick, a resident of the Wisner Manor Nursing Home, died Tuesday at Providence Medical Center at the age of 98.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Hiscox-Schumacher Funeral Home in Wayne with the Rev. Kenneth Edmonds officiating. Visitation is today (Thursday) at Hiscox-Schumacher, and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne.

Maggie Mick, the daughter of Harvery and Eliza Hailey, was born Nov. 26, 1879, in Concord, Ill. On May 11, 1897, she was united in marriage to John Mick in Jacksonville, Ill.

In 1918 she came with her husband and one daughter to live in Madison. A lifelong member of the Methodist Church, she was active in her church circle, Rebekah Lodge, Royal Neighbors and in the Past Noble Grand Club.

Preceding her in death were her husband and one daughter, Corinne McCutlough. Survivors include two granddaughters, Mrs. Larry (Betty Lou) King of Wayne, and Mrs. Arthur (Margery) Eveland of Hutchinson, Kan., and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Ralph Smith

A former resident of the Ponca and Waterbury area, Mrs. Ralph (Dollie) Smith died Jan. 14 in the Tri Vite Nursing Home in Tonasket, Wash., at the age of 84.

She moved from Nebraska in 1940 to Oroville, Wash. Survivors include one brother, Joe Good of Allen.

Mrs. Wesley M. Linn

A former resident of the Wayne-Carroll area, Mrs. Wesley M. Linn, died Jan. 21 in McAllen, Texas, at the age of 71. Funeral services were held Jan. 24 in Pharr, Texas, with burial in the Roselawn Cemetery in McAllen.

Nina Belle Barnett Linn, the daughter of the Harry Linns, Barnes, was born Aug. 9, 1906, in Wayne. On Aug. 25, 1925, she married Wesley M. Linn of Carroll. The couple moved to Pharr, Texas in 1926, and had resided there since.

Preceding her in death were four brothers and two sisters. She is survived by her widower, Wesley; two sons, Charles and Lyle Linn, both of Pharr, Texas; two daughters, Bonnie Bartholomew of McAllen, and Libby Klingaman of Lake Jackson, Texas, and three sisters, Mrs. Lou Cook of Zephyrhills, Fla., Mrs. Joe Davis, Orange, Calif., and Mrs. Everett Roberts of Wayne.

Those attending the funeral from the area included Mrs. Jack Ruback, Wayne, and Billie Jaeger, Winside, both nieces of Mrs. Linn.

Scouts Receive Awards

Cub Scouts of Troop 148 held their pack meeting Friday evening at the fire hall with parents as guests. The scouts opened the meeting with the flag salute and told of the five qualifications for becoming a Bobcat.

Awards were presented by Lanny Maas. Jason Plantenberg and Lanny Maas received Bobcat badges. Chris Olson and Paul Davids received the Wolf badge. Chris also was presented the Gold Point Arrow.

The scouts closed the meeting with the living circle and reciting of the law of the pack. Articles made by cub scouts were on display.

Mrs. Gene Wagner and Mrs. Lanny Maas served refreshments.

Next regular meeting will be at 4 p.m. Feb. 3 at the fire hall.

Meet for Cards

The Get-to-Gether Card Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Marie Rathman. Mrs. Frieda Bendin was a guest.

Pitch prizes went to Mrs. Marvin Malchow, high, Mrs. Walter Strate, second high, and Mrs. Irene Fletcher, low.

Mrs. Walter Strate will be hostess for the next meeting, set for Feb. 16.

Garden Club Meets

The Hoskins Garden Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Anna Falk. All members attended the meeting, answering roll call by telling how they spent Christmas.

President Gladys Reichert opened the meeting with a poem, entitled "A New Year." The group sang "America," and Mrs. Frieda Meierhenry read "This Year is Mine."

The hostess conducted several contests and presented the comprehensive study, entitled "A New Species of African Violets."

The president told about the Nebraska state flag, the state bird, which is the meadowlark, and the state flower, the goldenrod. Mrs. Reuben Puls presented the lesson on the goldenrod and the meadowlark.

Mrs. Carl Hinzman presented a special study, entitled "Birds Can Be a Bright Spot in Long Midland Winter." The president closed the meeting with an article, "Flip a Lid for Plant Spac."

Members will have a Valentine cookie exchange at the next meeting, set for Feb. 23 in the home of Mrs. Carl Wittler.

Meet for Supper

Members of the Helping Hand Club met in the Robert Marshall home for a potluck supper Friday evening.

Cards furnished entertainment and prizes went to Harry Schwede and Mrs. Henry Mittelstaedt, high, Henry Mittelstaedt and Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, low, and Gus Perske and Mrs. Irene Strate, traveling.

The next meeting will be a chili and oyster soup supper in the John Thietje home on Feb. 8.

Surprise Party

The Hoskins Card Club held a surprise housewarming party for the Harry Schwedes on Saturday evening. Schwedes moved recently to Norfolk.

Mrs. Marie Rathman was a guest for the party. Card prizes went to Marvin Malchow and Mrs. Herman Opfer, high, and Herman Opfer and Mrs. Marie Rathman, low.

Area Residents Elected Officers

Two area persons were elected officers of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Water Resource District board of directors at a meeting held Jan. 28 at the Villa Inn, Norfolk.

Robert Jordan of Wayne was elected treasurer and Bill Meyer of Pierce was elected president.

Gene Phillips, SCS liaison of the NRD, reported that SCS operating budget will be approximately the same for 1978 as for 1977. It was also reported the ACP cost-share rates for high priority practices may be raised to 90 percent in Pierce and Stanton counties.

A Lincoln firm presented to the board the final copy of the economic, financial and environmental statements for the Willow Creek Dam and Recreational area. The board voted to delay action on the statement until the June meeting.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wiltse "An acre of performance is worth the whole world of promise."

Promises glibly given but lacking sincerity of intent to give them substance, are empty and meaningless. Too often, even the most sincere promises are made worthless for lack of follow-through. A promise not carried out is certainly a disappointment to the receiver and, if the giver has a conscience, a source of shame and regret for him. No promise should be given lightly nor without the intent of fulfillment. Once given, a promise should be kept, even if the cost is great. We are proud of our record of service to the people of this community. We offer sympathetic assistance and comfort to people of all faiths. Wiltse, Mortuary counselors are qualified to advise on Veterans', Social Security and insurance benefits.

Cauliflower Walnut Bake

1 medium head Cauliflower, broken into flowerets
1 cup Sour Cream
1 cup shredded Cheese
1 tablespoon Flour
2 teaspoons Chicken Bouillon, instant
1 teaspoon Dry Mustard
½ cup chopped Nuts
¼ cup dry Bread Crumbs
1 tablespoon Butter, melted
1 teaspoon Dried Marjoram Leaves, crumbled
½ teaspoon Onion Salt

Cook cauliflower in salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain. Heat oven to 400 degrees. Mix sour cream, cheese, flour, chicken bouillon and mustard. Place cauliflower in a 10 x 6 x 2-inch pan. Spoon cheese mixture over cauliflower. Mix walnuts, bread crumbs, butter, marjoram and onion salt. Sprinkle over cheese and cauliflower. Bake until hot and bubbly for 20 minutes.

1 disjointed Chicken
¼ cup Fat
1 cup sifted Flour
1 teaspoon Baking Powder
1 teaspoon Salt
3 Eggs, well beaten
1½ cups Milk
¼ cup Butter or Margarine, melted
¼ cup chopped Parsley

Combine ¼ cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, sage and pepper. Coat chicken with mixture. Brown in hot fat. Place chicken in 2-quart casserole or 11½ x 7½ x 1½-inch baking dish. Sift 1 cup flour, baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Combine eggs, milk, butter and parsley. Add to flour mixture and stir until smooth. Pour over the chicken. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Serves 5-6.

Oatmeal Chocolate Chip Cake

1¾ cups boiling Water
1 cup uncooked Oatmeal (quick or old-fashioned)
1 cup lightly packed Brown Sugar
1 cup Granulated Sugar
½ cup Margarine
2 extra-large Eggs (3-medium)
1¾ cups Flour
1 teaspoon heaping of Soda
½ teaspoon Salt
1 tablespoon Cocoa
1 package (12 oz.) semi-sweet Chocolate Chips
¾ cup chopped Walnuts

Pour boiling water over oatmeal. Let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes. Add sugars and margarine. Stir until margarine melts. Add eggs. Mix well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cocoa. Add to sugar mixture. Mix well. Add ½ of chocolate chips. Pour batter into greased and floured 9 x 13-inch pan. Sprinkle walnuts and remaining chips on top. Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes.

Pizza-Wiches

1 pound Ground Beef, browned and drained
1/2 pound grated Cheddar Cheese
1/2 teaspoon Garlic Salt
1/2 teaspoon Oregano
1/2 small Onion, grated
1 can Tomato Soup
1/4 (of tomato soup can) Oil
1 small can chopped Ripe Olives

Mix and spread on Vienna bread and broil.

Graham Bread

2 cups Dark Flour
3 cups Boiling Water
One-third cup Sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons Salt
3 tablespoons Lard
3 tablespoons Molasses
4 1/2 teaspoons Yeast
1/2 cup warm Water
1 teaspoon Sugar
7 cups White Flour (about)

Put dark flour in a large bowl. Pour on boiling water, one-third cup sugar, salt, lard and molasses. Beat very hard and set aside to cool.

Meanwhile, dissolve yeast in warm water. Add 1 teaspoon sugar.

When first mixture is cool, add yeast and beat well. Add enough white flour to make a soft dough. Let rise until doubled. Put in three loaf pans. Let rise until dough is about 1 inch above pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes.

5 tablespoons Cream or Evaporated Milk
1 cup Flour
1 cup Oatmeal
3/4 cup Brown Sugar
1/2 teaspoon Soda
3/4 cup melted Butter
1 cup Chocolate Chips
1/2 cup Pecans

Melt caramels and cream in double boiler; cool. Combine all other ingredients, except chocolate chips and pecans, in a bowl. Stir until butter is absorbed and mixture is crumbly. Press 1/2 of crumbs into 7 x 11-inch pan; bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Sprinkle with chocolate chips and pecans, and cover with caramel mixture. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs and bake 15-20 minutes longer.

One-third cup Shortening
5 1/2 or 6 cups Flour
2 Eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups Quick Rolled Oats
1 cup Raisins
Cinnamon Filling:
2 tablespoons Cinnamon
One-third cup Sugar

Soak yeast in warm water with 1 teaspoon sugar. Pour boiling water over raisins and let stand while mixing bread.

When dough has risen to double in bulk, divide into two portions. Roll each portion to 8 x 15-inches. Sprinkle with cinnamon filling as for cinnamon rolls. Cut each roll in two to make four small loaves of delicious bread. Bake at 350 degrees about 45 minutes.

MMA IN FARROWING SOWS
MMA are the initials for Mastitis, Metritis and Agalactia. Mastitis is an inflammation of the mammary glands or udder, metritis is an inflammation of the uterus and agalactia is failure to secrete milk.

The sows usually stop giving milk, and, of course, the pigs will be restless and appear hungry. The pigs soon become susceptible to other disease because of starvation.

Question: How soon after farrowing does MMA become a problem?

The disease will appear from 12 hours to three days after farrowing.

Question: What are some causes other than MMA for a sow not producing enough milk for her litter?

Sometimes first litter gilts don't produce enough milk because of a hormone deficiency. After one injection of a hormone that stimulates milk "let down," they will often continue to produce milk without further treatment.

Some gilts don't have the genetic background to produce enough milk to feed their pigs. Since this is an inheritable trait, it is important to select replacement gilts from good milking mothers.

Molds and toxins in feed are other possible causes for milking problems. Some molds produce hormone upsets that cause milk to stop milking.

Question: What causes MMA?

The actual cause is still unknown. However, most veterinarians say it can be traced to faulty management practices.

Question: How should MMA be treated?

Treatment generally includes the injection of antibiotics, hormones and steroids to combat secondary infections; reduce inflammation and produce "let-down" of milk.

Glauber's salts in the drinking water and beet pulp in the feed are used to treat the constipation that often accompanies MMA.

Consult a vet for complete treatment recommendations.

Question: What can a producer do to prevent MMA problems?

Nothing works 100 percent as a preventative, but some recommendations are:

1. Limit feed to about four pounds per day during gestation.
2. Feed nothing but water on the day of farrowing. Feed two pounds of the lactation ration the next day, three pounds the third day and so on until the fifth day. Then start to full feed.
3. Supplement the ration with 20,000 to 40,000 units of Vitamin E per ton. Start feeding this at least two weeks before farrowing and continue through lactation.
4. Provide drinking water to the sow at all times while she is in the farrowing stall.

QUESTIONS ON MMA
Question: How would a swine producer recognize an MMA outbreak in his sows?

Sows often lie on their belly and ignore their pigs. They drink water, but won't eat. The udders may be firmer than normal. A vaginal discharge is sometimes noticed. Sometimes sows will be lame and reluctant to move around. They are often constipated.

Ag Topics

TV Feature

Roger Sandman, director of the state department of agriculture, will be interviewed by representatives of Nebraska's agriculture press on the AGRISCOPE program, airing tonight, Thursday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. on the Nebraska Educational Television network.

The program will be repeated Sunday, Feb. 5, at 6:30 p.m.

Sandman will be questioned about a wide variety of agriculture related topics including the recent sale of Nebraska grain to the Chinese Nationalist government on the island of Taiwan and the farm strike issue.

Questioning Sandman will be Dominick Costello, farm editor for the Lincoln Journal and Star; Dave Howe, managing editor of the Nebraska Farmer magazine; Don Ringler, farm writer for the Omaha World-Herald; and Jim Levy, producer of AGRISCOPE.

AGRISCOPE is produced by the University of Nebraska Television special projects unit and the Department of Agricultural Communications, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Meet at Open House

Seek New F-M Rules

The agriculture department is considering changing the federal regulations making it easier to import milk and milk products from countries where foot-and-mouth disease is always present.

Foot-and-mouth disease is a highly communicable livestock virus disease and is found in nearly all of Western Europe. These countries could become a source of most imported dairy products. Livestock in the United States are free of the disease, after very expensive eradication programs and would have no resistance to an outbreak.

Irvin J. Elkin, President of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., recently announced "it would be disastrous if the cattle in this country became infected. There would be increased risk of the disease being carried into this country through human error despite some proposed safeguards."

Dairy farmer co-ops and National Milk Producers Federation plan on submitting analyses relevant to the suggested methods of controlling the imported products. "All cloven-hoofed animals are subject to infection, so that the risk of devastating infection to beef, dairy, sheep, goats and swine is enormous," Elkin said.

"Consumers also would suffer irreparable injury if domestic livestock should be infected. It could reduce meat and milk production by 25 percent. Public comments on the proposal may be submitted through Feb. 13 to the deputy administrator for veterinary services, USDA, Hyattsville, Md 20782.

The Wranglers 4-H Club met Jan. 18 for their first business meeting of the year. Roll call was answered by 17 members and two leaders.

Record books and premium money from 1977 were handed out. New members Amy and Jeff Gotch were welcomed into the club.

New officers elected are president, Kevin Kraemer; vice president, Mark Creamer; secretary, Cheryl Koch; treasurer, Dan Koester; news reporter, Colette Kraemer, and sentinel, Mark Koch. Leaders elected are Cliff Stalling, Jim Warner and Sandy Petit.

The meeting was adjourned and lunch was served by Cheryl, Mark and Sheila Koch.

U.S. Farmers Not Alone

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

It may not be much consolation, but U.S. farmers should be aware that farmers throughout the major agricultural exporting nations, have problems of low prices and high production costs that sound very much like their own.

This is especially true with Canadian wheat and livestock producers whose operations are very similar to those in the United States. North of the border though, instead of blaming Bob Bergland and the Carter administration, they zero in on the Canadian Wheat board and their own government policies.

"The Western Producer," a large weekly agricultural newspaper serving Western Canada, in its Jan. 12 issue carried a picture of the recent border incident where U.S. striking farmers blocked trucks delivering cattle into the U.S., claiming Canadian cattle imports have depressed American cattle prices up to $8 to $10 per cwt.

Miles Fuchs, vice president of the Western Canada Cow-Calf association, said American cattlemen are misinformed when they argue the influx of Canadian cattle have depressed American prices, because the volumes are not large enough to have an effect. He said Americans ship three times as much beef to Canada as Canadians ship south.

The secretary of the Canadian Cattlemen's association said American picketing is not only irresponsible but will endanger the good relations that have been built up for years between Canadian and American producers.

A spokesman for Manitoba Beef growers said "Canada has always been treated as a junior partner in the North American beef industry; they are tougher on us than we are on them."

A recent issue carried comments on 1978 farm prospects by some of Canada's top farm leaders and their comments sound very much like what would be said here in the U.S. Mac Runciman, the president of United Grain Growers, said grain prices show little sign of a market recovery in 1978 and that the upward movement in prices will continue. He added, "It doesn't mean that grain farmers are headed for bankruptcy. But when profit margins are as thin as they are, maybe it is a good time to sit down and

Bright Spot On Horizon

Higher prices and additional marketing alternatives are in the economic picture for Nebraska cow-calf operators and feeder cattle growers in 1978, according to Dr. Allen C. Wellman, extension agricultural economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Choice yearling feeder steer prices should increase from the current $39. to $42-a-hundred-weight range to an average in the mid- to upper-$40s this year, Wellman said. The expected higher prices are a result of reduced feeder cattle supplies and improved demand by cattle feeders for feedlot replacement cattle, he said.

"Prices should improve gradually during the year, but ups and downs should be expected during the last half of 1978," he said. "Calf and light-weight feeders probably will sell at a premium over yearling cattle, and the 1978 average price could be near or above the $50 a hundredweight mark."

"Higher-than-expected slaughter cattle prices in 1978 would be an additional shot in the arm for higher feeder cattle prices," he said.

Wellman said range and pasture conditions, prospects for this year's feed grain crop and forage supplies and prices will have a major impact on feeder cattle prices by mid-1978.

"Currently, feeder cattle are in prime condition and forage supplies are abundant throughout the state, so feeder cattle owners have nearly completed control over when their feeders are to be marketed," he said. "There should be almost no reassess our operations until better times return."

The Canadian in his assessment of problems of inflation, cash flow liquidity, and getting along with present equipment, ended his down-to-earth assessment with some practical wry humor as follows: "Notice how much better your old equipment looks every day! Let someone else worry. Use your energy for constructive decisions, such as being sure new equipment and buildings are absolutely necessary for your operation; Retain your sanity — don't panic; Watch cash flow — or cash trickle; Quit expanding; Sell open market grain on a monthly basis; Diversify; Give up your hired help and marginal land; Be thankful for good health; Learn to enjoy things that don't cost anything.

— Don't let excess money lie in your checking account; Do more custom work; Look at alternative crops — but not untested ones; Use services of consultants; Use university research results; Quit wheat, Phoenix, Miami, and Hawaii; Park your pickup on your farm instead of in front of a local cafe.

These were written by a Canadian farmer but they could have been written by some Nebraska farmers.

Tips About Herbicides

Preplant incorporated herbicides will perform only as good as the incorporation has been, according to Russell Moomaw, District extension agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Many of the herbicides in use today require soil incorporation. Farm operators using this type of herbicide need to take a close look at mechanical incorporation procedures, especially in light of the changes that have taken place in tillage equipment.

Farm machinery keeps on getting bigger. Big discs often have 22 inch blades spaced 9 inches apart. Older discs usually had 20 inch blades spaced 7 1/2 inches apart. Agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois recently compared these two discs as herbicide incorporation tools. Results of these studies should help farmers do a better job of herbicide incorporation, states Moomaw.

The first conclusion from the Illinois study indicated that two passes over the field were needed for good herbicide incorporation. The large disc had more of a tendency to streak the herbicide than did the smaller disc. However, with a second pass even the large disc gave satisfactory incorporation. Best results are obtained if the second pass is made at an angle to the first pass.

A second conclusion is this — don't operate the disc too deep. Deep incorporation of the herbicide results in too much soil dilution and placement of the chemical below the weed seed. The weed shoot needs to grow through an adequate concentration of herbicide in the soil for

USDA: Sulfa Residues Down In Packing Plants

WEST POINT — The number of sulfa residue violations detected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's random sampling of slaughter plants declined toward the end of 1977 and may be reason for encouragement, according to Roger Gerrits, a USDA staff scientist from Beltsville, Md.

Nationally, the number of hog carcasses violating the .1 parts per million tolerance level for sulfa dropped from a high of 17.2 percent in June to 9.8 percent by the end of November, he told about 150 persons attending the 18th annual series of Area Swine Days here Thursday (Jan. 26).

A similar decline was evident in Nebraska, Gerrits said, with the violation rate high of 17.7 percent in July falling to 9 percent in November. The state's 11-month violation rate figure averaged 13.9 percent compared to 14.5 percent in Iowa and 13.5 percent nationally, he said.

The possible reasons for the apparent decline are unclear, although increased communication as well as more producer awareness and action is partly responsible, said Gerrits, who is co-chairman of an inter-agency feed additive team.

But he cautioned that if frequent recycling of sulfa occurs when animals not fed the drug directly pick it up from other sources, such as the feces of other hogs, cold weather also may be responsible for the drop.

Warmer spring weather should provide analysts with more reliable data on the role of sulfa recycling, Gerrits said.

However, he said, of the violations detected recently, the level of sulfa found was considerably lower than in previous months. "We're seeing a lot more violations in the .2 and .3 (parts per million) level than in the .8, .9 or 1 part per million range," he said.

To help reduce the level of violations, Gerrits said, the withdrawal time stipulated for all sulfamethazine products was increased to 15 days in December because of the "differential metabolism" of hogs and differences in administering the drug. The withdrawal time for sulfathiazole products was maintained at 10 days, he said.

"Almost all sulfa residue (violations) are caused by sulfamethazine," he said. "It's responsible for all but about 2 percent of the cases." Sulfamethazine is used in about 75 percent of the nation's swine, he said.

Sulfa compounds concentrate about equally in the liver and kidney of hogs, Gerrits said. The level of concentration in muscle portions of pigs is about half that of the liver and kidney level, he said.

"Following sulfa withdrawal, the levels in all three tissues fall proportionately over time," he said.

He urged pork producers and other livestock interests to work with technologists and consumer interests to develop a comprehensive program concerning feed additives that considers the new, larger farm production units and practices that have evolved.

"The important role of agricultural chemicals and drugs and the benefits derived from their use are reflected in the increase in the efficiency and total production of crops as well as livestock," Gerrits said.

"There is little doubt that the use of chemicals and drugs in food-producing animals will be essential to insure the efficient production of plants and livestock to meet the food requirements of an ever-increasing human population," he said.

"But we are all aware that to use drugs and chemicals, we must determine if there are direct effects on animals and the efficiency of production, and boluses of these chemicals that may be retained in the organs or muscles of animals which could potentially affect human health or safety," Gerrits said.

If regulatory action is taken against drug companies, he said, some products would be removed from the market, there would be a slower output and increased cost of developing new products and research and testing programs would be reduced.

Gerrits said several areas of research need to be explored to provide producers with accurate information regarding the effect of sulfa in swine. Included are: a long-term toxicology study; identification of feed manufacturing practices that result in feed contamination; determining the effect of therapeutic levels on sulfa levels in tissue at various doses and times after treatment; identification of swine production practices that may result in residue violations; determining the degree of or change in bacterial resistance to sulfonamides; developing a sensitive method for predicting the presence of total sulfonamides in edible tissues using blood samples; determining relative tissue residues of alternative sulfonamides under research and farm conditions; substantiation of the effect of residues in manure pack; determining the levels of sulfa in feed required to produce "actionable" levels; developing a test and testing procedures to determine the level of residues that can be caused by all possible sources of sulfa.

Until such tests are completed, he urged producers to follow several steps to minimize

Expect Beef Price Hike

Retail beef prices in 1978 probably will increase five to nine cents a pound from the $1.38 average posted last year, according to Dr. Allen C. Wellman, extension agricultural economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

He said the nation's most popular beef item — hamburger — could well lead the list of beef products casting consumers more this year as cattlemen complete reductions in the size of their herds to reverse losses suffered the past few years.

A "sharp" reduction in the supply of beef processed into hamburger, which could force higher prices, likely will be caused by a "substantial" decline in the slaughter of cows and nonfed steers and heifers, Wellman said. The size of the cow herd may stabilize at about 50 million head in 1978, he said, following a year in which commercial cow slaughter reached 9.7 million head.

"With the apparent demand that has built up for hamburger, such a reduction in supply could result in larger price increases for hamburger than for beef cuts such as Choice steaks," Wellman said.

As beef prices rise, the economist said, per capita consumption may drop three to seven pounds below the 1977 level of 125.5 pounds, although rising consumer incomes are expected to support some increase in retail prices. Despite the dip in beef consumption, total per capita meat consumption should equal 1977's high level of 193 pounds, he said.

But Wellman said two factors largely responsible for limiting the profits of cattle producers last year — ample beef supplies and large stocks of competing meats such as pork and poultry — likely will continue to dampen the chances for a "substantial rise" in 1978 fed cattle prices.

This year's average slaughter price for Choice grade steers at Omaha may be $1 to $4 a hundredweight more than the $40 average paid in 1977, he said. Prices should remain in the low-$40 a hundredweight range during the first part of this year before strengthening slightly in the spring and moving sideways during the remainder of 1978, he said.

"The most important factors for the 1978 outlook may be the large placements of cattle on feed during the last part of 1977 and somewhat higher feed grain prices," Wellman said. "Feed supplies, particularly forage supplies, will continue to be an important variable. The large 1977 grain crops will supply ample quantities of feed grains to support expanded cattle feeding."

Total feed costs in 1978, however, are expected to remain below the average figure of the past four years, he said, providing additional impetus for continued expansion in fed cattle numbers. Placements of cattle on feed likely will increase slightly during the first half of the year, Wellman said.

As of Jan. 1, he said, the total cattle and calf inventory was 117 million to 118 million head, a 4 to 5 percent decline from Jan. 1, 1977. For the second consecutive year, he noted, total cattle and calf slaughter, which reached 47.7 million head, exceeded the calf crop, which was 46.1 million head.

39 percent of the Jan. 1, 1977 total cattle and calf inventory was slaughtered this past year, the highest percentage since 1957," Wellman said.

But he said that situation probably will not be repeated in 1978, when total cattle and calf slaughter likely will not exceed the expected calf crop. After including probable death losses of 4.7 million head and net imports of 1 million head, however, another "slight" reduction of 1 to 3 percent is anticipated in the Jan. 1, 1979 cattle inventory, which should stand at 115 million to 117 million head, he said.

Beef production likely will continue to decline as the current liquidation phase is completed and herd rebuilding begins, he said, with recent high levels of meat and beef production tapering off some by 1979.

"Last year was the third year in the current liquidation phase of the cattle cycle, and cattle numbers took the sharpest downturn in several decades," Wellman said. "But the inventory of cattle on feed will continue to build even though fed cattle marketings also are expected to rise."

During 1978, he said, fed cattle marketings may increase 4 to 6 percent, with most of the jump coming during the last half of the year. Fed cattle slaughter likely will account for 65 to 68 percent of the total commercial cattle slaughter in 1978, he said.

Fed cattle slaughter last year was about 2 percent higher than 1976 levels, accounting for about 62 percent of the total commercial slaughter, he noted.

But Wellman said total commercial slaughter still is expected to drop 5 to 8 percent from 1977 levels because of a "substantial reduction" anticipated in the slaughter of nonfed beef.

"A declining supply of feeder cattle, an increased demand for feedlot replacements by cattle feeders, along with good grazing conditions and some increase in cattle prices, should reduce nonfed steer and heifer slaughter by one-third or more," he said.

However, total beef production should decline by only 2 to 5 percent this year because of the higher percentage of fed cattle, which are sold at heavier weights than grass-fed animals, Wellman said.

"Large meat supplies and higher production costs in 1978 will keep the premium high for sharp feedlot managers and cattle feeders who can show a profit," he said.

Wellman said higher replacement cattle costs and generally higher production costs, with the exception of feed, kept "extreme" pressure on cattle feeding profitability last year. More abundant grain supplies, however, lowered feed efficiency costs in 1977 to the lowest levels since 1973, he said.

noted, total cattle and calf slaughter, which reached 47.7 million head, exceeded the calf crop.

"Although total feeder cattle supplies are declining from recent high levels, ample numbers still are available to meet expected demands from cattle feeders and growers," he said.

The calf crop during the current cycle peaked at 50.8 million head in 1974, he said.

Wellman said the 1978 calf crop is expected to drop by about .6 million head — to 45.5 million head — largely because of a reduction in cow numbers in 1977. The size of the nation's cow herd may stabilize at about 50 million head in 1978, he said, following a year in which commercial cow slaughter reached 9.7 million head.

Slaughter of nonfed steers and heifers, as well as calves, may decline by 30 percent or more this year from 1977 levels if feeder cattle prices remain strong or increase during the first part of 1978, Wellman said.

"Forage conditions in other parts of the United States and poorer than expected calf level prices kept calf slaughter higher than expected in 1977," he said. "Per capita supplies of veal may drop to two and a half to three pounds in 1978 from a nearly four pound per capita level in 1977."

He said calf slaughter last year was 5.7 million head, the highest figure of the decade. If prices are high, calf slaughter could decline to 3.6 million head in 1978.

Last year's feeder cattle prices, especially for lightweight animals, showed continued improvement, he said.

"However, it is unlikely that the higher feeder cattle prices put many cow-calf producers in a profitable operating position, particularly if both variable and fixed costs are included," Wellman said.

good control. Don't be tempted to drop a large disc to the hubs when incorporating herbicides just because power is available to pull it, reminds agronomist Moomaw.

A field cultivator provides adequate incorporation if two passes are used. Use sweeps rather than chisel points for herbicide incorporation. The field cultivator should be set to cut 3 to 4 inches deep and operated at 5 mph or more. As with the disc, make the second pass with the field cultivator at an angle to the first pass.
