

Winside Patrons Mull Over Petition

Frank Sinatra was the target of a Dean Martin "roast" this week. People attending the February meeting of the Winside board of education Monday night also got a little steamed up.

As did Frank, the people cooled considerably when Erwin Morris, president of the Winside board, called time following an hour and one-half discussion centering around a petition presented by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Farrrens, patrons of Winside school district 95R.

The elementary library of the Winside school, expressed definite views concerning the petition which asked for replacement of the present school administration or working out "problems" with the present administrations.

Mrs. Farrrens cited reasons of "students being put down" and "students being called dumb" by Winside teachers. He said others among the 74 signers told her other reasons for apparent backing of the petition, but Mrs. Farrrens refrained from voicing those as she contended they would be "heresy" coming from her.

Exchanges became a little "heated" as Mrs. Farrrens, her husband and members of the board, teachers, patron friends of the school board jockeyed for position. With no one taking a decisive lead, Morris called time on the discussion so the board could get on to other business.

The discussion had ranged from the need of "old-fashioned" teacher to the integrity of Winside instructors.

Mrs. Farrrens said she defined an "old fashioned" teacher as one who "doesn't scream and holler; as one who doesn't play favorites; as one who tries to help."

This evoked a statement from Terry Munter who proclaimed the professionalism of Winside teachers. "There are some parents who expect teachers to do something at school which they couldn't get done in the home."

After sparring back and forth, and a standing "show of hands" by those present, it was more-or-less decided a proposed school advisory committee could be the best solution all around.

The purpose of the committee is five-fold: To advise the principal on local matters; to provide two-way communication; to develop broader understanding of school problems and accomplishments; to provide education for the community in the school programs and operation and to share some of the negative responses with the principal.

The meeting wound down with a statement by Chuck Mann, a Winside student, who told the group and the board that it was his opinion Winside teachers are conducting themselves in a professional manner and most treated their teaching assignments as "more than just a job."

Fair Board Seeks Pioneer Families

LeLard Herman, president, and Marilyn Koch, secretary of the Wayne County Fair board, are seeking the identity of local pioneer farm families. Those who qualify will receive the Nebraska Pioneer farm award during the Wayne County fair.

The special award, now in its twenty-third year, was designed to pay tribute to pioneer farm families of Nebraska who have owned the same land for 100 years or more.

The program is a joint venture between Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha, and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers. Beautiful walnut and bronze plaques and handsome framed certificates will be presented to each family that qualifies.

Eligible families are urged to contact Marilyn Koch, who will submit the nominations from this county to the state committee.

Deadline for receiving nominations is May 15, 1978.

New Program For Terracing

A new conservation program regarding the building of terraces is now available.

The program, administered by the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources district, will pay the cooperators $40 per acre for fields terraced during the months of June, July and August.

District personnel said cooperators may harvest a crop of oats from these fields if their cropping system permits.

Cooperators may request ACP cost-share from the ASCS office for terrace construction. This assistance pays for approximately 90 percent of the construction costs.

The Soil Conservation service will assist in staking and checking of the conservation work.

The benefits from a good conservation program are many, according to officials. It eliminates siltation of road ditches and fertile, bottomland fields as well as streams and creeks. A terrace system reduces runoff and stores moisture on the slopes. It also reduces the loss of fertilizer, herbicides and insecticides in stream channels.

Mini-Crop Clinic Set for Friday

The Wayne County Extension service will sponsor a Mini-Crop Protection clinic at the Wayne City auditorium Friday, Feb. 10, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Russ Moomaw, district extension crop specialist, will discuss herbicide injury and when to replant, 2,4-D versus Banvel and a review of new herbicides.

Jay VerLinden, coordinator of the WSC Humanities Career's Day, said the event is designed to give high school students an idea of the various careers available to them.

"It's a good opportunity for students to get out and learn more about these areas and the career they offer," VerLinden said.

The event is open to all interested high school students.

One Injured In Accident

A Wisner woman received a cut chin and other possible injuries in a car-tractor accident Monday on a county road southeast of Wayne.

Wayne county sheriff's officials reported Ilene C. Hornback received the chin injury when the car she was driving went out of control on an ice covered road five miles east and seven miles south of Wayne.

The car, which was southbound slammed into a tractor being driven northbound by Harry Gust of rural Wakefield. The car was totaled out in the accident and the loader sweep being pulled by the tractor received extensive damage.

Officers said the Hornback car went out of control when the driver committed it to a skid in an attempt to go into a ditch. The driver said she hit the brakes when she came over a hill and saw the tractor and sweep in the "middle of the road." She tried for the left ditch but the car was unable to get traction and slammed into the sweep.

Gust said he didn't see the Hornback car until the crash. The tractor and sweep were in the right hand lane when the accident happened.

The driver of the car reported a pain to her right side as well as the cut chin. She was taken to her family doctor.

There were no charges filed.

Not Guilty Plea To Sex Charge

A Kansas man pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree sexual and felonious assault during district court action last week.

William Hill, Rossville, Kans., entered the plea before Judge Eugene C. McFadden. Judge McFadden set Wednesday, April 26 at 9:30 a.m. as the date and time of the court case.

Hill is charged with the alleged assault which reportedly happened on June 21 near Winside. A Dixon county teenager reportedly was involved in the assault.

The arraignment was continued from a January court hearing on motion by the defense attorney.

A CHIMNEY stands as mute evidence of a fire Sunday night which destroyed this house in Dixon.

Sunday Night Fire Totals House

Members of the Dixon and Concord volunteer fire departments joined forces to battle a house fire in sub-zero temperatures Sunday night in Dixon.

Johnny Young, Dixon fire chief, said a house occupied by the Larry Kerstens was destroyed by the fire which apparently started near the chimney of a wood-burning stove.

Chief Young said the alarm came in at approximately 10:30 p.m. He said the house was engulfed by flames when the department arrived. The firemen concentrated on saving as much furniture and other belongings.

Young said the fire, the first major blaze in the Dixon Fire district in two years, was discovered by Sharon Prescott, the owner of the house. The Kerstens were not at home when the fire broke out, he explained.

Young explained the sub-zero temperatures, officially 10 degrees below zero, hampered the efforts by the firemen who were aided by members of the Concord fire department.

Chief Young said he called for assistance as soon as he was able to evaluate the fire. He passed along his department's thanks for the assistance by the Concord department.

The house formerly belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanley.

School Sale Nets $18,200

Wakefield school district's coffers were enhanced by $18,200 as the result of an auction sale of school surplus property.

Dr. Gary Bennerotte, superintendent, told the Wakefield board of education Monday night a surplus shops building sold for $13,200 and school lots of land sold for $5,000.

In other board action, a complete report on present and projected curriculums in grades 7 through 12 was presented to the board. The curriculum schedules for next year will be finalized in March.

The board agreed to purchase a camera for the school's video tape recorder and to complete the necessary wiring for the video tape equipment.

Superintendent Bennerotte explained to the board how the visual electronic equipment can be utilized as a teaching aid throughout Wakefield's education system.

The board sought to clarify the district's responsibility in the special education field for students who have reached the 18 year age limit.

Superintendent Bennerotte said the state laws covering this area of special education is "confusing" and needs to be clarified before any action can be taken regarding the age limitation.

More 'Git up 'n Go' Turbo-Powered Car

Economy and performance are the reasons Stan Johnson of Wayne decided to become the first automobile owner in Northeast Nebraska to purchase the auto industry's latest experimental vehicle — the turbo-powered car.

Johnson, who is an engineer with the Nebraska Highway Department, said that his six-cylinder engine has the performance of an eight-cylinder, yet it doesn't use as much gas.

Latest gas ratings show that his 1978 Buick should be getting 22 miles per gallon on the highway. As of Monday, Johnson reported that he was averaging about 22 mpg.

The turbo-charger itself is an addition to the engine to help increase the fuel burning capacity of the engine both at high and low speeds, Johnson pointed out. The cost of the addition is about $300, but Johnson feels the extra money will be worth it in the future.

Johnson, who ordered his Buick in September from Ellingson Motors Inc. of Wayne, received his car in January and just last week watched his odometer turn over 500 miles.

If the turbo-charged engine proves successful in other cars, Johnson believes that it may open the door for other carmakers to install the turbo-charger in their automobiles to save gas and increase performance.

STAN JOHNSON pointed to Turbo-Charger.

Lessons to Focus on Legislative Process

During February, home extension club lesson leaders, along with other interested organizations in Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Wayne and Thurston Counties, will get a closer look at how the legislative process works.

Anna Marie Kreifels, area home extension agent at the Northeast Station, near Concord, said many women feel there is very little they can do to make an impact on the legislative process.

"During the February lessons," said Miss Kreifels, "women will review how an idea in the mind can become a law on paper."

The February leader training lesson, entitled "How a Bill Becomes a Law," will be held for representatives of any interested group or club. Such leaders are asked to notify Anna Marie Kreifels at the Northeast Station at Concord if they plan to attend one of the meetings so lesson materials can be prepared.

Representatives at the meetings will be given information that they, in turn, can present to their respective clubs.

Ibsen Play Opening at College

The Wayne State College Theater Department, under the direction of Dr. Helen J. Russell, will open its first play of 1978 with "An Enemy of the People" by Henrik Ibsen.

"An Enemy of the People" is being directed by Arthur L. Dirks. He is assisted by Michael Nemecek.

The play concerns Dr. Stockmann's efforts to clean up the infected public baths and the opposition he runs up against from the authorities and the public.

A matinee performance is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 12, followed by 8 p.m. performances Feb. 13 and 14. Phone reservations can be made by calling 375-2200, Ext. 234.

Dirks said the play is not a mood piece, but rather an idea play that requires the audience to think about what is happening on stage.

Dirks said the play should prove especially interesting to students because it raises questions about American society and ideals. There are some powerful scenes, he added, that may cause students to question their own ideas and beliefs.

Dave Hesse, a sophomore at Wayne State College working on a double major in theater and music, plays the title role of Dr. Thomas Stockmann, staff physician at the municipal baths. Hesse brings to the stage a long list of production credits. He has appeared in several college productions with lead roles in "The Pied Piper," "Absurd Person Singular" and "The Room."

Dawn Hartung, also a sophomore at Wayne State, plays Dr. Stockmann's wife, Dawn. Dawn has a double major in theater and speech. Although this is her first major role, she has appeared in "The Room," "Absurd Person Singular" and "Chamber Music." Dawn also has become very involved in the technical aspect of theater.

Jay Bacon of Omaha has been chosen for the role of mayor, police chief, and chairman of the board of the municipal baths. Bacon has appeared in Wayne State productions "Don't Drink the Water," "The Father" and "Professor George." He graduated from Wayne in 1977 with a community counseling major and is continuing theater education. He will next be appearing in "The Marriage Proposal" on Feb. 27.

Other title roles in "An Enemy of the People" are played by Jeannie Robinson as Petra; Rick Fairbanks as Hovstad, editor of The People's Courier; James Grant as Mrs. Stockmann's foster father Morten Kill; Robin Edwards as Aslakson, a printer; Wayne Hendricks as Billing, assistant editor of The People's Courier; and Jeff Carstens as Captain Hors-ter.

Playing the roles of Dr. and Mrs. Stockmann's sons are Steven and David Zahniser. Roles of the townspeople are played by Jill Ankeny, Tom Burney, Mike DeVall, Nancy Fernau, Peg Hunt, Joe Osborne, Tim Ryan, Pam Schwartz, David Sindelar and Diana Williams.

Open House For Roebers Marks 50th Anniversary

Over 200 friends and relatives honored the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Roeber of Emerson Sunday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield.

The open house event, hosted by the couple's children, followed a noon dinner for family at the Up Towner Cafe in Wakefield. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weathers of Maville, Ia. registered guests at the reception. Among those attending were Mrs. Martin Meyer of Wakefield and Rudolph Roeber of Wayne, attendants at the couple's wedding 50 years ago.

Other guests came from Aurelia, Maville, Ames, Kingsley, Atlantic, Hinton and Sioux City, Ia.; Sioux Falls, S.D.; Emerson, Wakefield, Wayne, Lincoln, Columbus, Concord, Allen, Coleridge, Walthill, South Sioux City and Lyons.

Gifts were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Gustafson of Ames, Ia. and Mrs. Marilyn Koch of Wayne.

The Rev. Ronald Holling spoke during the afternoon program. Gordon Nedergaard sang, accompanied by Mrs. Norman Meyer. Ronald Roeber read a family history and Frances Hiemstra, representing the couple's children, gave a tribute to her parents.

The cake, which was baked by Mrs. Larry Baker of Wakefield, was cut and served by Mrs. Rudolph Roeber of Wayne and Mrs. Norman Yeagle of Coleridge. Mrs. Irma Brammer of Wayne and Mrs. Arnold Roeber of Wakefield poured. Punch was served by Liane Roeber of Emerson and Lisa Roeber of Sioux City.

Members of the church's Ladies Aid assisted in the kitchen.

Roebers were married at the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Wakefield on Feb. 8, 1928. They resided in the Wakefield area for 12 years, moving to a farm East of Emerson in 1940.

Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Lester (Frances) Hiemstra of Aurelia, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Roeber, Mr. and Mrs. Veritie Roeber and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Roeber, all of Emerson. There are 14 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

EXTENSION NOTES

CLOTHING COSTS UP
 Although clothing costs are expected to inch upward in '78, the expected increase in prices is not as much as for most other consumer goods.

Last year, consumer expenditures for clothing and shoes averaged $373 per person, up $18 per person over '76. A similar rate of increase is expected for the coming year. Items most affected by price increases in '77 were footwear and men's and boys' clothing.

Even with higher prices, consumers are spending a smaller proportion of their income on clothing—about 6.8 percent in 1977 compared to 8.2 percent in 1960. Population in the 14-34 year age group usually have the highest clothing expenditures.

Attitudes toward clothes have changed in recent years. A casual lifestyle has brought about a relaxed attitude toward clothes. Today's population is more interested in quality, utility and performance in wearing apparel. Interest in faddish, low-quality items has declined.

Consumers also are demanding more natural fibers such as cotton, wool and silk. Manufacturers are responding by creating the "natural-look" with blended fabrics containing some synthetic fiber content.

With higher prices ahead, consumers may wish to take advantage of current fashion trends featuring separates, mix and match outfits, and ensembles.

Brewer: We'll Come Back...Our Girls Are Tough

Wildkittens Suffered 1st loop Defeats

By BOB BARTLETT and RUSS HERMAN
The absence of senior Connie Kunzmann grew even more apparent for coach Chuck Brewer's Wayne State team last week.

Without the 6-0 center, the Wildkittens have lost that inside scoring punch and along with it, their last three games.

"A lot of it has to do with playing on the road," Brewer said Sunday after returning from a long road trip to two Kansas teams, which handed the Kittens their first losses in Central State Conference play.

Brewer, however, doesn't feel that his team's 7-2 league record has reached the crisis stage as far as his team losing its hold of first in the eight-team CSIS.

"I've got a tough bunch of girls. Losing to them is kinda like water off a ducks back...they won't let it bother them," he added.

Of the six games Wayne has left on its schedule (including Wednesday's game against UNO), the Wildkittens play three conference games at home. Friday they travel to Ft. Hays St. and on Saturday go to Kearney before the Kittens return home to face Missouri Southern, Pittsburg St. and Missouri Western.

The Wildkittens (15-7) were handed conference losses by Washburn, 66-57, Friday night at Topeka, Kan., and Emporia State, 70-64 Saturday evening. Wayne State's women had previously lost only one conference game in the 1 1/2 years they have been a member of the CSIC.

Wayne went out to an early 15-12 lead against Emporia midway through the first half, but cold shooting and turnovers began to take their toll. Emporia rallied and took a 33-21 lead at intermission.

The Wildkittens came back in the second half on the shooting of Julie Brinkman, Lori Lange and reserve Barb Bettin. Brinkman finished the night with 18 points. Lange added 17 and Bettin 13.

Wayne State shot 38 percent from the field compared to 41 percent for Emporia.

At Washburn, Wayne State started off fairly well, leading 30-26 at halftime, but the Ichabods came back to take the lead in the second half as they dominated the boards. Washburn pulled down 67 rebounds to only 34 for Wayne. Pam Watkins grabbed 20 and Carolyn Johnson 19 for winners.

Thomas' 19 Lifts Cats To 3rd Win

After missing the last three games due to the flu, Winside's Kathy Thomas returned to the court in grand fashion Tuesday night to score 19 points and pull down 13 rebounds and lead her team to a 53-27 victory over host Wakefield.

For coach Kathy O'Connor's club, the win snapped a three-game losing streak and improved its record to 3-7.

In a game marred by 54 fouls, Winside was able to take advantage from the line where it converted 23 of 37 shots for 62 percent. Meanwhile, Wakefield cashed-in on seven of 16.

"We only shot 18 percent from the field but the fact that we could convert at the free throw line was the big difference," O'Connor noted.

In spite of a full court Wakefield press, she added, Winside only turned the ball over 18 times.

Winside's junior varsity ended its season on a winning note with an 18-7 decision for the club's fifth win in six outings.

Walthill Downs Wayne Gals

Invading Walthill girls stopped Wayne Saturday in the locals' first taste of competition in fifth and sixth grade action.

Walthill scored 10 points in the second half to overcome Wayne gals, 10-6, in a game played at the city auditorium.

"Our girls have never played anyone outside of the intramural competition so it was tough for them to adjust," said recreation coach Hank Overin.

Scoring for Wayne were Amy Gross, Karen Kaup and Franny Gross with two each.

In other action Saturday, Wayne fifth and sixth grade boys teams posted wins over Walthill. Steve Overin score 14 points, including two in overtime, to lead the fifth grade to a 16-14 victory, and the sixth grade got by 14-10.

Brendan Dorcay led the sixth grade with five points, followed by Overin with four, Dirk Johnson with three and Blaine Johs with two. Todd Dorcay scored two points in the fifth grade game.

West Husker Champs

WINNING THEIR weight classes at the West Husker Conference tournament Saturday were four Wayne High grapplers, from left, Larry Hank (98), Ward Wacker (145), Dan Mitchell (185) and Rick Johnson (126). As a team, the Blue Devils were second with 68 points, three points shy of first-place Wisner-Pilger with 71. Finishing third in the three-team meet at Columbus was Columbus Lakeview with 24. Coach Don Koenig said that his club had a good shot at winning the team title outright if his club would have had a heavyweight wrestler. Regular heavyweight Alan Schuett couldn't make the trip. Earning at least one win in the meet were Wayne matmen Rick Luft (105), Dave Schock (112), Terry Hamilton (119), Kirk Echtenkamp (132), Kelly Hansen (138), Don Straight (155) and Dusty Rubeck (167).

Wildcats Drop Pair of Road Games

Wayne State continued to experience problems on the road, losing to Washburn University, 92-85 at Topeka, Kan., Friday night and Emporia State, 99-74 at Emporia, Kan., Saturday evening.

The Emporia loss drops the Wildcats to an even 11-11 on the season, 3-5 in the Central States Conference.

The Wildcats trailed the Hornets by only 34-33 late in the first half, but a pair of quick baskets and the inability of the Wildcats to capitalize on Emporia errors pushed the Hornets to a 49-41 halftime lead.

The hosts came out in the second half and quickly pushed the lead to 15 points with 58 percent field goal shooting.

Mark Olsen led Wayne State with 16 points. Dale Meyer, Lennie Adams and Joe Curl added 10 apiece. Wayne State stayed close all the way. The Wildcats trailed by eight points at halftime, but came back to tie the score at 52-52 with 18 minutes left.

Wisner Gals Explode in Fourth To Shatter Wayne's Title Hopes

After three periods of solid basketball, the roof caved in on Wayne High girls Saturday night when Wisner-Pilger went to its fast break game to stop the Blue Devils for the championship title of the West Husker Conference.

Playing on their home court, the Gatorettes overcame a 10-point halftime deficit with 18 points in the third period to trim the score to 47-39 and 20 points in the last frame to Wayne's six.

Cheryl Heller and Deb Dietloff led coach Ray Gotdel's Wisner team with six points each in the final stanza. Heller finished the night with 14 points.

"They (Wisner) hurt us on the fast breaks," said Wayne coach Curt Frye. "All of a sudden we weren't getting back on defense," he added.

All-tournament players Lesa Barclay, Peg Pinkelman and Sydney Mosley were among the top four players who scored in double figures for Frye's 8-4 club. Barclay led the group with 16 points, Pinkelman and Mosley had 12 apiece and Jolene Bennett had 10.

Wayne outshot the defending West Husker champs from the field, 32 percent to Wisner's 27. However, turnovers put the brakes on Wayne's game in the second half. The Devils committed a total of 27 mistakes.

"We were 10 points up at half and virtually even after the third period," Frye said, "but we just turned the ball over too many times."

Other players named to the all-conference team were: From Wisner — Deb Johnson, Gloria Brockemeier, Cheryl Heller; Emerson-Hubbard — Karla Nelson, Paula Rager; Hartington CC — Jill Kramer; Columbus Lakeview — Brenda Jensen; Madison — Terri Mathan.

Wayne gals head back into action tonight (Thursday) when they host Emerson, then travel to Hartington Cedar Catholic Friday night for a make-up game before the Devils wrap up regular season play Tuesday night at Wisner.

Winside Draws No. 1 Pender In C District

Winside has the unenviable task of taking on No. one-seeded Pender in the first round of the Class C boys district basketball playoffs at Wayne High School.

The Wildcats will face the 16-3 Pendragons Monday night, Feb. 20, at 6:30 in the first of two matches in the eight-team district. The second game at 8 o'clock features fourth-seeded Emerson-Hubbard (8-6) against Homer.

Tuesday night's slate finds Laurel, third-seeded with an 11-6 mark, and Ponca playing at 6:30 followed by Wakefield and Walthill at 8. Walthill is second in the tournament with a 13-3 mark.

Semifinals are Thursday and the finals are Friday.

Setting High Goals Makes Wayne State's Brinkman Work Harder

Julie Brinkman sets her goals high, but with the things she has going for her, it's easy to see why she is successful in everything she does.

Brinkman is a starting guard on the Wayne State College Wildkittens basketball team. She is the club's second leading scorer, averaging 15.8 points a game. And she leads the team in field goal percentage, free throw percentage and assists. In other words, she's an all-purpose player.

"My goal is to win the state tournament, regionals and participate in the nationals," Brinkman said. "By the time the state tournament rolls around, we should be really strong. We'll have confidence in our bench. We've always had bench strength and the girls have positive attitudes. They're hard workers."

JULIE BRINKMAN

The WSC team currently leads the Central States Conference and sports one of the best records (15-4 through Feb. 7) in the state.

Brinkman attributes a good deal of her talents and success to her close relationship with God.

"My personal relationship with God is good," said Brinkman, who stands 5-5 and hails from Rolfe, Ia. "He has given me the talent and ability to play ball and my efforts give glory to Him."

Prayer is an important part of Wayne State's preparation for a game. The team prays before and after each contest. Brinkman has a favorite verse that says, "I can do all things through the one who gives me strength."

Brinkman had to adjust to a new coach this year. Former coach G.J. Willoughby was replaced this year by coach Chuck Brewer.

"Brewer knew our team's capabilities," Brinkman said. "We had a lot of positive adjustments to make, but it looks like it's working out for us."

Brinkman played her high school ball under different rules than those that Brinkman became an offensive forward and averaged 32 points a game during her four year playing career. Coming to Wayne State presented a switch in playing style and she had to learn to play defense.

"For one thing, I found out I had to be in better shape to go full court," Brink-however, Brewer has installed a two guard system. Brinkman's complement in the back court is 5-2 Julie Jones of Hinton, Ia.

"Since we made the switch to the two guard setup, I haven't brought the ball down the floor as much," Brinkman said, "but I have a lot of faith in Jones."

Brinkman is majoring in biology as a physical education at Wayne State and says she hopes to go into coaching someday.

"I think I'd like to go back to Iowa to coach," she says. "The girls' athletic union over there sets high standards and they are very favorable toward women's athletics."

It seems that everything is falling into place for Julie Brinkman, but it's not hard to see why.

'My goal is to win the state tournament. . .'

apply to Nebraska girls basketball. According to Iowa practice, each team consists of six girls, three on offense and three on defense. Neither unit could advance past the half court line on its half of the floor.

Because of her shooting abilities, man said. "It took a little time to learn the transition between offense and defense."

Breakdown in Defense Stops Allen Girls in Finals

A break down in Allen defense late in the second half Saturday night opened the door for Newcastle to win the Ponca Invitational title, 46-35.

The Red Raiders, led by senior Valerie Zerbe with 25 points, broke through Allen's zone defense for the inside plays to cripple the favored Eagles in the second showdown for both teams.

Allen, which won the first meeting 34-27 at Newcastle, tried to doubleteam Zerbe but she was able to can 10 points in the first half for a 20-15 Newcastle lead and 15 in the last two periods.

"The key to the whole thing was that our defense broke down in the second half," related coach Steve McManigal. "We were zoning most of the game but they got the ball into Zerbe despite our doubleteam effort."

The loss was only the second for McManigal's club against 10 wins. Meanwhile, Newcastle upped its record to 7-3.

"It (the loss) makes us realize that districts are going to be tough. We realize that we're capable of winning, but we'll need 100 percent effort or we'll get beat," McManigal pointed out.

Saturday's game was the first of three important contests for the Eagles. This Saturday they face Wynot for the Lewis and Clark Conference title beginning at 6:30 at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium. Next week they head into district play at Pender.

In the boys division of the conference title, Hartington takes on Walthill at 8 o'clock.

Cat Grapplers Down Trojans

Winside completed its dual season with its fourth win in seven outings Tuesday night by overcoming host Wakefield, 31-24.

The Wildcats strongman team of LaVerle Miller (155), Bryan Svoboda (185) and Mitch Pfeiffer (170) kept their impressive records intact by winning their matches to pull out Winside's victory.

Svoboda wrapped up season action with a 21-1 record. Pfeiffer-See GRAPPLERS, page 10

Wayne Cagers Take Second

WAYNE'S seventh and eighth grade recreation basketball team won second place in a tournament at Emerson Sacred Heart School. The locals, who beat Emerson 37-26 in the first round, lost to West Point Central Catholic 37-25 in the finals. Playing for coach Hank Overin are, front row from left, Jeff McCright, Todd Schwartz, Steve Overin, Jeff Jorgensen, Steve Rethwisch, Bob Anderson; back row, Overin, Bob Liska, Todd Davie, Rich Pohlman, Sharon Niemann, Tim Heier, Terry Gilliland.

'Poor Shape' Hampers Eagles Against Wynot

"We're not in shape, and we've only got two weeks to get in shape," reflected Allen coach Cliff Jorgensen after his Eagles had to settle for fourth place Saturday night at the Ponca Invitational.

Jorgensen was referring to the second-half play of his Allen quint which seemed to falter at the hands of Wynot, 57-45, in the consolation rounds.

"We've been playing good in the first half most of the time, but we can't stick it out in the second half," the coach noted after the Eagles suffered their 12th loss in 14 games.

Both clubs were knotted at 26 apiece at the end of two quarters. Wynot broke the deadlock with 15 points in the third period and held Allen to six for a 41-32 lead.

Mark Creamer led the Eagles with 14 points while sophomore Greg Carr had 11 and senior Tod Ellis had 10.

The Eagles have off this Friday night. They will wrap up season play next week before heading into district competition.

Wayne is 3rd

Wayne girls are seeded third in the Class B district tournament at Platte College in Columbus.

The 8-4 Blue Devils will face Hartington Cedar Catholic the second night of district play, Tuesday at 6:30. A victory would put the locals into semi-final action Thursday night at 8 against the winner of the Wisner-Pilger-Madison contest.

Schuyler, with only one loss, is seeded first followed by Wisner which holds a 9-2 record as of Tuesday morning. Other teams in the eight-team tournament are Pierce, Columbus Lakeview and Columbus Scotus.

Final play is 8 p.m. Friday.

"THAT'S JUST the way I planned it," laughed Frank Mrsny after the Wayne kegler picked up the difficult 4-6 split during last Tuesday night's City league action.

Mrsny admitted that he needed that spare for a 202—good enough to win the jackpot price from his teammates.

THE TRANSITION from playing forward and center in high school girls basketball to guard in college ball hasn't been a traumatic one for former Allen High player Lori Erwin.

The 19-year-old freshman at Wayne State says the biggest adjustment she has had to make is playing with other girls who are high-caliber cagers. And, as a result, she has to work harder to earn a spot on the women's team.

The main area the former all-state Class D star has had to work on is her ball handling. She along with team leader Julie Brinkman are responsible for bringing the ball down court and setting up the plays.

Although the 5-9½ freshman doesn't take full credit for leading her club, her coach, Chuck Brewer, pointed out that she is averaging 10 points a game and helping to take up some of the slack left by the absence of the Wildkittens' leading scorer, Connie Kunzmann, who is out for the season with a bad knee.

"She's gaining more confidence as the year goes on and she's done some very good things for us," Brewer noted about Erwin. The coach added that he's trying to make adjustments in Wayne's offense so that Lori will be able to score more points from the inside.

During her senior year at Allen, Lori led the Eagles with a 22-point average and earned honors from the Lewis and Clark Conference, Omaha World-Herald All-State team, the Norfolk Daily News Top 20 and The Wayne Herald All-Area team. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord says she has one advantage over other players on Wayne's women's team—a sister who also plays college basketball.

Although that relationship may not seem like an advantage to some, to Lori it is. "It's nice to have a sister (Kari on the team) to talk to and work things out together," Lori said, adding that their working together also helps to build each other's confidence.

Confidence is one thing Lori said she has gained the most in her first year at Wayne State. Both her coach and she have recognized that fact because Brewer made it clear at the beginning of the season that each player has to have confidence in herself to be on the team. Lori already had some of the confidence going for her at Allen, thanks to head man Steve McManigal whom she said instilled in her the idea that a player has to be dedicated if she wants anything in life.

WAYNE STATE cage followers have until today (Thursday) to sign up for a bus trip to Kearney for the annual battle with the Lopers. Cost for the round trip run is $5 per person and is open on a first-come, first-serve basis. Call Bill Dickey at First National Bank to reserve a seat. Bus leaves at 12:30 p.m. sharp from the bank.

Besides the men's game, those riding along will see the women's contest which starts at 5:15, according to Bill Dickey, who's in charge of making transportation arrangements.

HIGH SCHOOL basketball takes a back seat this week while prep wrestling grabs the spotlight during district action today and Friday.

Wayne grapplers head to the Class B district at Boys Town where they'll face such powerhouses as Arlington, Blair, Boys Town and others. Coach Don Koenig believes several of his matmen have a chance of going all the way to state. Making their bids for a return trip to the state meet in Lincoln are Kirk Echtenkamp (132) and Kelly Hansen (138). "Just because they've been to state doesn't mean they will go again," Koenig cautioned.

Wayne State College will host the Class C-3 district wrestling tournament today and Friday at Rice Auditorium.

About 14 schools are expected to participate. Competition is expected once again to be some of the toughest in the state. Three of the state's top 10 wrestling schools, Pender, Tekamah-Herman and Winside, are in the journey along with Creighton, Elgin Pope John, Neigh, Norfolk Catholic, Osmond, Oakland-Craig, Plainview, Randolph, Stanton, Wakefield and West Point.

First round matches will begin at 4 p.m. today with championship round matches to start at 4 p.m. on Friday.

Admission for adults is $1.50 per session and $1 per session for students.

Thought for Today

By Brian McBride

"The more we do, the more we can do; the more busy we are the more leisure we have. . ."

Most of us have plenty to do. In fact, it usually seems that there are simply too few hours in each day and we just can't get around to all the things we want to do. Perhaps we've never realized it but the more we undertake, the greater our capacity for accomplishment becomes.

If you need someone to take on some special assignment, consider the busiest persons you know. Chances are they'll accept the task, handle it efficiently and never complain. It won't even cut into their leisure time!

We take pride in providing this community with an essential service in accordance with the highest ethical standards of our profession.

Community Council Meeting is Tonight

A Community council meeting is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne elementary school, according to Council Chairman Dorothy Ley. The agenda includes a report on the progress and problems of Project Predict and Prevent, Kay Cattle director and Sharon Corbit advisory council.

Curriculum modification at the high school will be discussed by Don Zeiss, Judy Zobel, Lee Mueller and Bob Newman. Project Adoptions will be presented by Project Success staff. Mrs. Ley said the agenda will take approximately one hour with subcommittees to meet from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

The council is composed of concerned parents and other community leaders, school personnel from District 17 and St. Mary's and interested college students. The council and its five subcommittees met only three or four times a year.

The subcommittee include: Volunteer Recruitment: This committee helps find volunteer aides-parents, lay citizens, college and high school students — who will give of their time in one of the three areas of the SLD program — language arts or math aides, motor perception aides, curriculum modification materials workers.

Interschool Coordination and Ongoing Improvements: This committee makes suggestions concerning how the program can be improved to better meet the needs of SLD children, K-12 and strives to coordinate the SLD program K-12 in District 17 and with St. Mary's.

Coordination with External Agencies: This committee works with other educational agencies such as Wayne State College E.S.U.I., and Predict and Prevent, an early childhood project begun through Community council and the Wayne public schools, now sponsored by E.S.U.I. (This committee was very influential in establishing the summer workshops in which over 200 teachers have trained in SLD techniques and the weekend courses in which several hundred teachers have learned new techniques to use with children who have problems.)

Dissemination: This Committee forms a communications link with the larger Wayne-Carroll community. They have been responsible for supplying information about the project through a Speaker's Bureau, circulation of picture booklets in public places, news articles, and informal conversation.

Title I Committee: This committee formed of parents acts as an advisory panel to Mr. Lutt in improving the program financed by Title I, which includes math help for those who need it in the elementary and middle school and also help in the middle school for those who have special needs in language arts.

Wayne Police Receive Grant

The Wayne police department has received a grant to help purchase audio-visual equipment for officer training.

The grant, which was made available through the Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, will pay about 80 percent of the estimated $1,700 cost of the equipment, said police chief Vern Fairchild.

The equipment includes slide, filmstrip, opaque and overhead projectors as well as a screen. The materials also will be used for public information meetings on law enforcement, Fairchild noted.

Fund-Raising Telethon Sunday

Area representatives of the American Agriculture movement will stage a telethon Sunday night to raise funds to keep representatives in Washington, D.C.

The telethon will start at 10 p.m. Sunday and will last until 1 a.m. Monday. The telecast can be seen on Channel 8, KOMC, officials stated.

There will be two area numbers for those who want to donate to the telethon can call. They are (420) 585-4502 or (402) 375-1838.

Memorial Gifts Are Received

Heart Fund Memorial Chairman for Wayne county, Mrs. Carl Lentz, said contributions were received in the W. Leland Ellis of Wayne.

Memorials to the Nebraska Heart Association help support heart research, both locally and nationally, as well as providing monies for such community service programs as high blood pressure screening and classes in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

Memorial gifts are made in memory of deceased friends and loved ones, as well as in honor of special occasions such as birthdays and anniversaries. Memorial gifts are acknowledged with a card naming the donor and the person in whose honor the gift is made.

AH Board Okays Maternity Pay

By a 4-2 vote, the Allen school board agreed to pay English instructor Marcia Rastedt sick leave following a grievance hearing Monday night.

Mrs. Rastedt asked for the hearing after the board earlier refused to grant paying her for 18 days maternity leave. She received a check for $1,030, said superintendent Robert Heckathorn.

In other board action Monday, members agreed to continue their reviewing of the teachers until Tuesday night. The purpose of the review is to decide which teachers will be offered contracts for the next school year, Heckathorn said.

Soften yeast in warm water. Combine corn meal, shortening, salt, sugar and milk in top of double boiler. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook for 10 minutes. Cool mixture to lukewarm and add beaten eggs and 1 1/2 cups flour. Add yeast, mixing well. Add enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl and let rise until double. Punch down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into rolls, place on greased baking sheet. Let rise until double. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen three-inch rolls.

Should reinstate school funds

CAPITOL NEWS

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

There is agreement on both sides in the school aid controversy that the reductions in state money suffered by many school districts this year should be restored.

Both sides testified to that effect during a hearing before the Legislature's Education Committee.

But there were sharp differences of opinion on how the matter should be handled.

Former State Sen. Ross Rasmussen, who is now the executive director of the Nebraska School Boards Association, was a behind-the-scenes pusher for the 1977 law that provided for increasing state aid by $20 million annually for three years. That law was passed over a gubernatorial veto but was later suspended through a petition drive that will place the issue on this fall's general election ballot.

S.H. Brauer, Jr., executive secretary of the Nebraska School Improvement Association, led the petition campaign.

He and Rasmussen were the main spokesmen during hearings on three bills which grew out of the suspension of the 1977 law.

Nebraska's lawmakers didn't only approve more school aid last year, but also those changes, approximately $6 million of the $55 million now allocated for school aid cannot be used. Many small districts are receiving sharply lower payments than they did a year ago. A bill sponsored by Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh would allow the Nebraska Education Department to disperse the $6 million in the restoration of some of the lost funds to the districts.

Sen. Howard Lamb of Anselmo sponsored another of the bills heard. His measure proposes returning state aid to what it was last school year.

Sens. Gerald Koch of Ralston and Jerome Warner of Waverly, both longtime promoters of higher state aid, introduced the third bill, which would set up a special fund of $56 million to finance the 1977 law, if the vote did not reject it in November's election.

Brauer said he was "flabbergasted" by amendments to the DeCamp proposal because one would add $20 million to the 1977 bill so people would vote on it in the status it was when they signed the petition to put it on the ballot.

The second amendment would return the $6 million to schools so they would receive two-thirds of the amount they lost this year.

Brauer said he was shocked by the suggested changes because he thought he had an understanding with DeCamp on the legislation.

DeCamp was out of town, and his amendments were proposed by Rasmussen.

Brauer also attacked the Koch-Warner bill, claiming it would force sales and income tax increases later this year. But Rasmussen said without the bill there wouldn't be any money to fund the 1977 aid law, if the voters decided this fall that it should not be repealed.

Sales Tax Bill Advances

A bill that would allow cities to impose up to 1.5 percent municipal sales tax has moved out of committee onto the legislative floor. But it appears it will be amended so its provisions would apply only to Omaha, whose city officials begged the Revenue Committee to approve the measure.

Omaha Mayor Al Veys told the committee his city simply must have another revenue source to cover its increased expenses, including the 14.1 percent salary hike the Nebraska Court of Industrial Relations approved last December for the Omaha Police Union.

Veys said civilian employees and firemen have also asked the court for a raise and probably will get a percentage increase similar to the one allowed policemen.

Fireworks Ban Proposed

Those proposing the outlawing of fireworks are tampering with a priceless bit of Americana.

So the Legislature's Judiciary Committee was told while it considered the merits of a bill to ban fireworks.

Wendell Kronberg, representing the Ralston Chamber of Commerce, said, "We are against legislation which results in further encroachments on our rights."

Have we really forgotten the meaning of the Fourth of July in our country and the traditional way of celebrating it?"

Supporters of the bill said it is needed because the number of injuries and fires resulting from fireworks is increasing.

Earl Ahlschwede, city manager at Grand Island, said, "It seems if we are out to promote fire safety in Nebraska, this is one direct cause of fire that should be curtailed."

State Fire Marshal Paul Sarnecki advised the committee that he banned use of aerial rockets, effective last Jan. 1. That prohibition should go a long way in solving the fire safety problem, he said.

Deborah Liebig of Columbus, a student at Wayne State College, said she is putting herself through school by selling fireworks.

"I feel you are pointing the finger at the wrong people," she said. "Illegal fireworks will get into the hands of the reckless."

Miss Liebig also described Fourth of July fireworks displays as "the highlight of summer" for many Nebraskans.

After listening to all the testimony, the committee killed the bill.

Public Radio Bill Heard

Some described it as a luxury the state cannot afford and others said it would fill an education and cultural void that is ignored by commercial broadcasting interests.

Under discussion before the Legislature's Education Committee was a bill proposing establishment of a public radio commission and a public radio fund.

Sen. Steve Fowler of Lincoln said his contacts with many persons from various walks of life have convinced him there is widespread interest in public radio.

But Richard Chapin, president of Sutar Enterprises in Lincoln, labeled such a system as "government radio, subsidized by federal and state tax funds."

He said that type of broadcasting would cater to specialized interests while imposing still another tax burden on the people, most of whom see no compelling need for the system.

The proposed legislation calls for a nine station network, which would function under the direction of the Nebraska Public Radio Commission whose membership would be the same as that of the Nebraska Education Television Commission.

A long-time promoter of public radio, Phil Heckman of Crete, president of Doane College, said starting the system would cost each Nebraskan 10 cents and that the cost would rise to a little more than half a dollar annually once the entire system was functioning.

He emphasized there would be considerable federal matching money to help finance the operations.

The public radio idea hasn't seemed to stir up much interest among the lawmakers, and Gov. J. James Exon has also voiced sentiment against it. The reason for their opposition is primarily a conviction that the state money that would be required could be put to better use at a time when the state has so many demands on its treasury.

The bill has strong support from minority groups, as well as from organizations representing the handicapped, especially the blind.

Alcoholism Legislation

The Legislature's Judiciary Committee was told alcoholism is a disease and those suffering from it should not be punished for manifesting it.

Before the committee was a bill which would decriminalize alcoholism and provide for a more humane approach in dealing with alcoholics.

Sen. William Nichol of Scottsbluff, sponsor of the legislation, said it would not prohibit law enforcement officers from arresting drunk drivers or those committing crimes while intoxicated.

He said the objective of his bill is to get more federal money for the treatment of alcoholics.

William Ford of the Nebraska Division of Alcoholism, said the state would receive about $228,000 annually in federal incentive funds for six years if the Nichol bill is passed into law.

Another supporter of the measure was Barbara Gaither, executive director of the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union. She said the NCLU is interested in getting victimless crimes out of the state's criminal code.

The American way. . .

The legislative tax battle is underway. And from all indications, it will politicians 1, working people 0.

Now that legislators are back in Congress after the holiday recess, they are out to do battle in the name of democracy. And one of the major fields of battle will be in the area of tax cuts.

The economic ball game will find the senators and representatives choosing up sides. Charges and counter charges will be fired broadly. Those legislators supporting tax cuts for business will be labeled "probusiness" and those supporting tax cuts on personal income will be called "antibusiness." But all of these congressional fireworks will be pure rhetoric.

However, in the final analysis there simply aren't any sides to the battle.

With unemployment high and import competition growing, the employers and the employees of our country are faced with exactly the same issues — how to keep economy moving, how to reduce unemployment, how to keep inflation within reasonable bounds.

Pitting employer against employee is actually clever slight of hand by which many elected representatives can turn public attention away from their own responsibility for efficient management of the federal budget — something they've failed to do for an unconscionably long time.

In the opinion of those knowledgeable about the ways of our elected representatives, many are unresponsive to the real needs of American citizens because we citizens allow them to be. We fail to act by not expressing our opinions frequently and directly to all branches of government at the local, state and national levels.

In other words, we buy the rhetoric and let the reality go — the reality being that all employees and all employers, the public and the business, the consumers and the producers are all mutually dependent. What hurts one, hurts all.

All members of congress consider tax cuts, prudent suggestion could be that all of us should give them — our congressmen — our views on taxation and tell them how we want to see our tax money spent.

If you do write to your senators and representatives, you should consider these points:

1. We need tax reductions, both personal and corporate, because both employers and employees need tax relief to keep our economy in balanced form.

2. Along with tax cuts, we urgently need a government that will not spend tax money wastefully. Our government must reduce expenditures to offset the tax revenues lost through tax cuts. If it continues spending at the same level, the inevitable result will be a shocking increase in the national debt.

While you're writing, keep this major point in mind: Our economic system won't function well if we choose sides and play off one interest group against the other. No matter how convincing the rhetoric of politicians sounds, we are not a nation divided into competitive economic camps. We basically are a people united by our shared economic needs and aims. Our economy, like our country, belongs to all American citizens.

Learn Ways To Irrigate

The second annual Irrigation Scheduling workshop will be held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln on March 14 and 15. This workshop is designed so that an individual farmer can learn techniques to better manage his soil and water resources to reduce his crop production costs while retaining or increasing crop yields.

The techniques described will range from simple scheduling techniques which are adapted for an individual who is farming one or two quarters to complex techniques requiring the irrigation scheduling program in the AGNET computer system.

The workshop will be split into several sections so that the participants can learn about all of the techniques or obtain intensified instruction in just one or two methods best adapted to his situation.

Irrigation scheduling is applying the right amount of water to a crop at the right time. Irrigators in south central Nebraska have found that with scheduling they can maintain crop yields using about one-third less water than irrigators who do not schedule their fields.

For conditions in south central Nebraska this amounts to 8 1/2 inches of water which need not be pumped and a savings in See LEARN, page 5

PREVENTING PIG DIARRHEA

Here are ten suggestions from Extension Veterinarian on how to prevent diarrhea in baby pigs that have just been weaned:

1. Take sows away from pigs. Leave pigs in farrowing crates for a few days to adjust to weaning before moving to nursery.

2. Start feeding weaning pigs feed for one week before weaning. Don't make abrupt change in feed.

3. If weaning early (three weeks) leave pigs on sows an extra week.

4. Limit feed on pigs weaning. Don't self-feed as pigs eat too much.

5. Keep pigs warm after weaning. Keep the temperature at 85 degrees F if weaning at three weeks.

6. Use small modular nurseries with 100 percent plastic or fiberglass slats. Use all-in, all-out management of nursery and thoroughly clean between groups.

7. Consider adding antibiotics to feed — but only as a last resort.

8. Use nipple waterers. Cleaner water is provided by nipples than drinking pans or cups.

9. Have vet check pigs blood for hemoglobin level. It should be nine grams per 100 ml of blood. If it is low, give 100 mg of iron one week before weaning.

10. Feed clean sod to pigs before and after weaning.

TGE

Pigs under 21 days old are very susceptible to death from TGE.

Precautionary measures are very important in avoiding a TGE outbreak in baby pigs since no effective treatment is available. This is particularly important with colder weather when TGE is more prevalent.

Preventative steps include keeping baby pigs and breeding stock away from other livestock, particularly newly-purchased pigs. After pigs have recovered from a TGE outbreak, the TGE virus can be found in the digestive and respiratory tracts for up to four months. Because the carrier state cannot be determined by testing, spread by carrier pigs that appear healthy is possible. Newly purchased breeding and feeder swine should be kept away from the farrowing area. A much better plan is never to bring feeder pigs onto a farm with farrowing crates.

Care should also be taken to avoid transporting the virus via manure on clothing, boots, trucks and other machinery. Particularly during the winter, this type of spread can be significant.

Galloways Win Contest

Purebred Gallow steers won the 14th Annual National Western Fed Beef contest held in Denver, Colo.

These steers topped 41 other entries to capture the Grand Champion honors.

These Galloway purebred steers averaged yield grade 1 and graded middle choice and had been on feed only 80 days.

This was the second year in a row that Horseshoe Galloways of Ft. Klamath, Ore., hung carcasses in the National Western winners exhibition meat display case.

Last year they had Reserve Grand Champion carcasses with Galloway-Herford crosses.

The 1978 and 1977 carcasses were of totally different bloodlines.

The Fed Beef contest is the largest carcass contest in the U.S. and is continuing to grow in size and popularity each year.

A new Galloway class was added this year with Horseshoe Galloways taking top steer honors, T-Bone Galloways, Carpenter, Wyo. following, and Lester Rivers, Laramie, Wyo. in third place.

Top Galloway heifer honors went to Bouffer Farms of LaSalle, Colo.

Pick Oats Seed With Care

Oats is a major crop in Wayne county and varieties should be selected that have the characteristics that produce the highest returns per acre. Many farmers continue to plant the same old variety of doubtful heritage when many newer and better varieties are available.

pumping costs of over $10 per acre for center pivots. Northeast Nebraska farmers in Holt and Antelope Counties would realize similar savings. Irrigators farther east would realize slightly less savings but they would remain substantial. Another major benefit from irrigation scheduling is a reduction in the leaching of nitrogen fertilizers below the root zone of the crop. This results in lower quantities of nitrogen needing to be applied to the crop, as well as reduced potential for contamination of the ground water. This benefit is most pronounced on lighter sandier soils with the greatest leaching potential. In addition, the use of smaller amounts of fertilizer will result in the use of less energy to produce the fertilizer and lower production costs per acre. Savings realized depend upon the fertilizer program, but is a significant amount. Also, county agents throughout northeast Nebraska will be holding county meetings on irrigation scheduling this spring and will be providing crop consumptive use information throughout the summer.

Set Grain Price Levels

Target price levels for 1977 crop barley and grain sorghum were announced recently by Vice President Walter F. Mondale. In remarks to the press at the Wheat Quality Laboratories of Washington State University, Vice President Mondale said the 1977 target price levels will be $2.15 per bushel for barley and $2.28 per bushel for grain sorghum.

Establishing these target price levels is important for two reasons. First, it extends the principle of treating all producers of the major commodities fairly and equitably. We are using the same components of production costs for barley and grain sorghum that the Administration used in formulating wheat, corn, and upland cotton program proposals to the Congress for the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977. Second, this action means that barley producers will receive deficiency payments at a rate of 50 cents per bushel, or payments nationally totaling approximately $208 million, the Vice President said.

Vice President Mondale also indicated that it will be March before the preliminary determination on the deficiency payment rate for grain sorghum will be made. The final payment rate will be determined in April with payments to producers beginning soon thereafter. Early estimates are that the payment rate will be 35-40 cents per bushel with payments totaling $300-$325 million. Coupled with the wheat deficiency payments of $1.2 billion, direct payments to grain producers this year will total approximately $1.7 billion. This should help the serious cash-flow problems that farmers have experienced because of low grain prices, the Vice President said. The 1973 Act established the target price for 1977 crop sorghum at $1.62 per bushel, and the target price for 1977 crop barley at $1.39 per bushel.
