Fills Fourth Ward Vacancy

Clif Ginn Appointed To Wayne City Council

The Wayne City Council Tuesday night ratified the appointment of Clifton Ginn as a city councilman.

CLIFTON GINN
Ginn, as associate professor of political science at Wayne State College, replaces Jim Thomas as councilman fourth ward. Thomas was forced to resign as he moved from his representative district.

The appointment was made by Mayor Freeman Decker who noted Ginn is a taxpayer, a home owner and has children in the public schools.

Mayor Decker paid special tribute to ex-councilman Thomas, stating he had served admirably as a member of the city governing body.

Ginn has been associated with Wayne State for nine and one-half years. He has served as a member of the College Community committee and has received the Wayne State Excellence in Teaching award for the 1969-70 academic year and 1970-71 academic year.

Ginn earned his bachelor's degree at University of Omaha, his master's degree at the University of Southern California and his doctoral degree at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

He is married. He and his wife, Antonia, are the parents of five children. They are Richard, 26, a senior at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln; Mike, 24, admission counselor for Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln; Mary Ann (Mrs. Randy Luft), 22, Wayne; Tom, 16, a junior at Wayne High School and Teresa, a freshman at Wayne High School.

Ginn is a retired air force officer, serving 21 years.

In other action, the council approved the appointments of Larry Creighton and Dana Johnson as volunteer firemen for the Wayne fire department.

Mayor Decker reported the receipt of a rebate check from the Peoples Natural Gas company in the amount of $5,860.53.

The mayor also read a letter from Police Chief Vern Fairchild who stated his department will stop writing warning tickets for improper parking because the city does not have an ordinance to cover the violation.

Fairchild said his department wrote 979 warning tickets in a three month period. The Chief gave March 1 as the date the ticket writing would be terminated if the council had not yet adopted an ordinance.

He did say, however, his department would cause vehicles to be towed away for snow removal and to provide a clear fire lane.

The council discussed and set in motion preliminary planning for an electrical demand limiting controller. The automatic device would automatically determine peak electrical demands. It is designed to save the city money.

A bid opening for electrical materials to be used in Fairacres and Providence Road additions, found duplicate figures from two companies.

The usual method of deciding a tie did not apply and a coin was tossed awarding the project to the General Electric company.

Three bids for city land rental. See CLIF, page 10

Three Injured In Accident

Three persons were injured early Sunday morning when the vehicle in which they were riding went out of control on an icy roadway north of Winside.

Sheriff's officials said Brian D. Erdman, RR 1, Carroll, the driver; Deborah Erdman, RR 1, a passenger and Mark Frahm, Carroll, another passenger, were taken to Providence Medical Center by the Winside Emergency unit for treatment.

Brian Erdman was treated for sprains and bruises, Deborah Erdman was treated for sprains, bruises and a concussion and Frahm was treated for bruises and a separated right shoulder.

Officers said the vehicle was southbound on Highway 35 at the time of the accident. The driver told officers he lost control on an icy roadway. The vehicle went into the east ditch, rolled three times and came to rest on its wheels. The accident happened about 1:10 a.m.

All three persons were thrown from the vehicle. A passing motorist stopped and took them to Winside where they contacted the emergency unit and were transported to Providence Medical Center.

Officers said the 1973 vehicle was a total loss as a result of the accident.

Texas Type Ice Sickle

TWO WAYNE State College students take time out from digging out from a major snow storm Monday to measure an ice sickle which formed on the eve trough at 104 West 11th. The longest sickle measured eight feet. The two students are Bill Foral and Lynn Jenkins. The storm caused schools to close Monday and highways were down to one lane traffic as an estimated ten inches of snow was whipped around by gusty winds. Another storm is forecast for this weekend.

Receives Cut

In Accident

A rural Wayne farmer received a cut over his eye when the vehicle he was driving Sunday afternoon collided with one being driven by a Wayne student.

Sheriff's officers said Donald D. Siefken, RR 1, Wayne, received the cut when he crested a hill four-tenths of a mile east of Altona on a county road and was in collision with a vehicle being driven by Christine Stuthman, RR 1, Wayne.

Officers reported Stuthman was making a left turn from a farm driveway onto a county road when the Siefken vehicle came over a hill and the two were in collision.

Siefken was taken to the doctor by his wife.

Lions Talent Contest Set

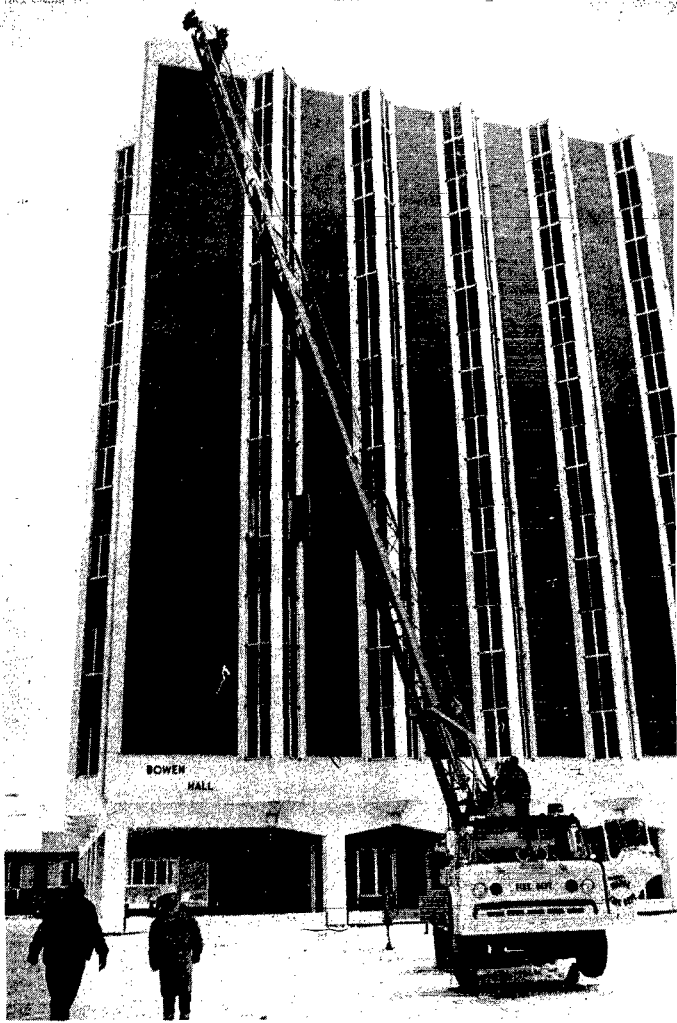

The annual Lions Club Talent contest has been set for April 2, 1978, in the Wayne High School lecture hall at 1:30 p.m. Entry blanks for the contest will appear in the March 1st Wayne Herald and the March 2nd Morning Shopper and the deadline for entries will be Saturday, March 18.

There will be four divisions for contestants: They are the elementary division (8 years of age and under), intermediate division (ages 9, 10, and 11), junior division (ages 12, 13 and 14), and senior division (ages 15, 16, 17 and 18). The contestant's age on July 1, 1977, determines the division in which he will compete. For contestants who appear in groups, the age of the oldest contestant in the group will determine the division of competition.

For groups, the maximum number of contestants in a group is nine. Each performance will be limited to a maximum of six minutes, and no act using fire will be permitted.

Contestants will be judged on a 30 point basis which includes degree of talent (15 points), perfection of performance (10 points), and audience appeal (5 points). First and second place winners will be named in each division, and first place winners will compete in the District Lions Club Talent contest to be held at Omaha, Westside high school on April 23.

The public is invited to attend the competition.

Getting Up In The World

IT WASN'T long after the arrival of Wayne's new fire truck Saturday that members of the Volunteer Fire Department were testing the vehicle. As expected the truck passed the tests, including several at Bowen Hall on the Wayne State College campus and at Wayne County courthouse. According to fire chief Dick Korn the ladder will extend 75 feet, almost seven stories. The estimated $100,000 truck, which was ordered two years ago, will go through another test Sunday at 1 p.m. when firemen will run water through the nozzle at Wayne Industrial Site. During Saturday's test very few volunteers were willing to climb the ladder during tests except for one brave soul, Brooks Widner, who went all the way to the top of the ladder at Bowen.

Weekend Loot

About $160 in cash and a case of liquor were taken from Gem Cafe, 100 Main, sometime over the weekend.

Two passers-by discovered a window broken about 8:30 a.m. Sunday but store owner Frank Woehler didn't notice any money or liquor missing until 8 o'clock that night, according to police reports.

Entry was made by kicking in the glass front door, the report said.

The News in Brief Express Their Thanks

Wayne Jaycee officials expressed their thanks to area residents who helped with the Region IV Clothing drive. Merle Rise, chairman of the drive, said there was a generous response to the drive.

Two Vacancies

Julie Benson, Concord Village clerk, reminded area residents there are two vacancies on the board of trustees. She said the deadline for filing is March 10. She said forms for filing could be gotten at the clerk's office or from the Dixon County clerk.

Early Publication

Because of limited mail service on George Washington's Birthday Monday, Feb. 20, the Feb. 20 Wayne Herald will be published one day early. Early news and advertising copy will be greatly appreciated.

Benefit Game

A benefit basketball game between the Wayne Herald and the Wayne volunteer firemen will be held Sunday, Feb. 26, in the city auditorium. Details are still being worked out.

Wayne-Carroll Superintendent

Haun Accepts Contract

The Wayne-Carroll School District Board of Education in regular session Monday night voted to extend a three-year contract to Supt. Francis Haun. Supt. Haun accepted the contract with the stipulation that he be allowed professional advancement if the right occasion arose. The board agreed, voicing a commendation for Supt. Haun's past performance. The board also approved administrative appointments recommended by Supt. Haun for the 1978-79 academic year. The appointments are Doris Daniels, secretary-treasurer of the board; Donald Zeiss, high school principal; Richard Metteer, middle school principal and special education director and David Luft, elementary principal and Title I director. Supt. Haun made note of the fact the principals are covered by the same continuing contract law as teachers. A copy of the law was made available to the board.

In another major action, the school board approved a school calendar for Wayne schools covering the 1978-79 academic year.

There will be 179 school days in the school year. The first quarter will cover 45 days from Aug. 30 to Nov. 3, the second quarter will cover 46 days from Nov. 6 to Jan. 19, 1979; the third quarter will cover 46 days from Jan. 22, 1979 to March 23, 1979; the fourth quarter will cover 43 days from March 26, 1979 to May 25, 1979.

According to the calendar, school will begin Aug. 28 and will end May 25, 1979. Vacation days will include Sept. 4, Labor Day; Oct. 26-27, Teacher's Convention; Nov. 23-24, Thanksgiving; Dec. 22 to Jan. 3, 1979, Christmas and April 13 to 16, 1979, Easter.

The board also adopted policies for the selection of media center materials. The policies include the objectives of selection, responsibility for selection of materials, criteria for selection of instructional materials, procedures for selection and the process for challenging selected materials.

Supt. Haun announced the Wayne schools have been notified by the Nebraska North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, that there are no violations of the North Central Association criteria for 1977-78.

Supt. Haun will leave Feb. 15 for the American Association of School Administrators annual meeting in Atlanta.

The Wayne superintendent will chair a 20-minute television panel presentation to be taped on Feb. 15 for showing on Feb. 16 on WATL, an Atlanta commercial TV station. The topic to be discussed is "Educating Children with Behavior Problems."

Principal Metteer met with the board to discuss a proposed course at Middle School for the academically talented students. He said there would be

Lubberstedt-Schroeder
Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lubberstedt of Dixon have announced the engagement of their daughter, LeAnn Lubberstedt, to Jerald Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schroeder of Wakefield.

The bride-elect graduated from Allen High School in 1975 and is also a graduate of Floral Technology and Design School in Shawnee Mission, Kan. She is assistant manager of Denning Florist in Sioux City. Her fiancé, a 1971 graduate of Wakefield High School, is employed at Salmon Well Co. in Wakefield.

A May 20 wedding date has been set at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Estate Meeting Open to Public

Wayne County Home Extension Clubs are sponsoring an Estate planning meeting for the public next Wednesday, Feb. 22, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the old Lutheran School Building in Hoskins. Extension clubs will provide coffee. Persons attending are asked to bring a sack lunch. Guest speaker will be Dr. Phil Henderson, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Lincoln. He will discuss objectives of estate planning and characteristics of tools that can be used to plan estates. Advantages of different ways to hold title to property will be presented, and Dr. Henderson will give basic suggestions for realizing savings in federal estate taxes by taking proper action in estate planning.

Fete Held for Denise Greve

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Bill Greve home at Wakefield Sunday afternoon honoring bride-elect Denise Greve of Wakefield.

The bride's colors, shades of green, were used in the decorations and menu. Games furnished entertainment.

Hosting the event were her aunts, Mrs. John Greve, Jr., Mrs. Dennis Ronspies, Mrs. Dean Greve, Mrs. Eugene Bartels and Mrs. Bill Greve.

Legislation was passed in 1976 which resulted in changes in federal estate tax laws. Discussion of these changes also will be a part of Dr. Henderson's presentation.

"Estate planning is not something that is of concern only to older persons," said Dr. Henderson, "but to all adults regardless of age or marital status."

Federal estate taxes have become a major concern of farm families during the last 5 or 6 years. The tremendous increase in land values since 1970 has increased the value of estates so much that many families are faced with the possibility of having to pay federal state taxes equal to 30 percent or more of their total assets, said Dr. Henderson.

The increase in property values plus the fact that many couples hold title to property as joint tenants with right of survivorship can lead to severe problems at the death of the parents, he added.

There will be opportunities for questions from the audience during Dr. Henderson's presentation Wednesday.

The Rev. Robert Hopkins of Bloomfield officiated at the couple's double ring ceremony. Church decorations included a candelabra with apricot candles and two altar bouquets of apricot and rust pompons and carnations.

Wedding music included "The Wedding Song" and "Time in a Bottle," sung by Steve and Joni Kraemer of Lincoln and accompanied by Joan Hoppe of Bloomfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a toe-length gown of white sheer chiffon over bridal taffeta with an attached chapel-length train. Scalloped Venice lace appliques were featured on the high rise bodice, high neckline, triple-tiered angel sleeves and hemline of the full skirt. Her veil of sheer imported illusion was edged in matching Venice lace. She carried apricot carnations and white roses on a white Bible.

Ellen Opkis of Creighton served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Hamm of Wausa, another sister of the bride, and Mary Stalling of Winside. Their toe-length gowns of rust double knit were styled with high waistlines accented with sheer tan and rust floral ties, and sheer sleeves. Each carried a single white carnation with rust streamers.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Gerald Stalling of Winside. Groomsman were Bill Mattes of Wakefield and Kenny Jacob of Whiting, Ia., brother of the bride. Ushers were David Hamm of Wayne and Gary Gochnour of Lincoln.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and his attendants wore chocolate brown tuxedos with apricot shirts.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house reception, which is being hosted by the couple's children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Buckendahl and sons, Beverly Buckendahl and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hixson and daughters, all of Pierce.

Leaders Will Study Legislative Process

Although the legislative process is one that is cloaked in an aura of mystery for many persons, it isn't as mysterious as it may seem, according to Kathy Klahn, area home extension agent.

"People can have an impact on the legislative process, but first they need to understand how it works," said Miss Klahn.

The process of how a bill becomes a law in Nebraska will be the purpose of the February leader training lesson for Home Extension Club members and other interested persons in five counties in northeast Nebraska.

The lesson, entitled "How a Bill Becomes a Law," will focus on how an idea in the mind becomes a law on paper.

An examination of how the Nebraska Unicameral works and who it comprises will be the starting point for the lesson. Discussion will then concern the introduction of a bill and the step by step process before it can become a law. The role of the bill drafter, various legislative committees, the elected representatives and the governor will also be included.

"Most importantly, how Nebraskans can influence the legislative process and where they can turn for help will be covered," said Miss Klahn.

The lesson, which is part of an overall "Impact '78 - Citizenship in Action" Home Extension Club thrust this year, will be held as follows:

Feb. 21 - 1:30 p.m., courtroom, Wayne County Court house.

Feb. 22 - 1:30 p.m., city auditorium, Hartington.

Feb. 23 - 1:30 p.m., Northeast Station, Concord.

Feb. 24 - 9:30 a.m., Extension Office meeting room, courthouse, Dakota City; 1:30 p.m., Extension Office meeting room, Walthill.

All clubs within the area are welcome to send a representative to the meetings. Groups wishing to send a representative should contact the Cedar County Extension Office in Hartington.

Girl Scouts Begin Cookie Sale

Girl Scouts in Wayne and Winside will begin their annual cookie sale Friday, according to sale chairman Mrs. Duaine Jacobsen.

Mrs. Jacobsen said girls will be taking orders door to door through Feb. 26.

Varities of cookies available again this year are chocolate chip, chocolate and vanilla creme, savannahs, mints, scot-lea, and cheddarette crackers.

The sale is conducted as part of the drive to raise funds for troops in the Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council.

Proceeds from the sales contribute to the council which maintains Camp Crossed Arrows, help finance operation of the council, allow girls to earn camperships for attending summer session at the camp, and contribute to the Wider Opportunity Fund, with a penny for every box sold going into a fund which provides for a council-wide trip or activity.

In addition, said Mrs. Jacobsen, cookie sales enable individual troops to build their treasury to help finance camping trips and other excursions for local troops.

Anyone not contacted about the sales by a Girl Scout can call Mrs. Jacobsen at 375-1249 or Mrs. Darrell Moore at 375-3098. Mrs. Jacobsen said 1,812 boxes of cookies were sold last year in Wayne and Winside.

Monsons Will Appear at Concord

A well-known gospel choir consisting of six brothers and sisters, who call themselves The Monson Family Singers, will present a sacred song service at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord Monday evening, Feb. 20.

The public is invited to attend the 7:30 p.m. program, according to the Rev. Delroy Lindquist.

The Monson Family, now on tour in this area, has traveled extensively throughout the United States, singing and playing their instruments (which include electric guitar, bass guitar and drums) in churches, auditoriums, high schools, youth camps, and on radio and television programs.

During a seven year period, the Monsons have received recognition in national talent competition, performed with top musical groups across the nation, and recorded long play stereo albums.

ALLEN HIGH girls were crowned the Lewis and Clark Conference basketball champs following their 44-23 drubbing of Wynot Saturday night during the finals of the conference playoffs at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium. Allen, which won the Lewis division with a 6-0 record, knocked off Clark representative Wynot with a balanced offensive and defensive show. Playing for coach Steve McManigal and his assistant Gary Troth are, front row from left, Sonya Ellis, Terri Jones, Colette Kraemer, Cheryl Koch, Charlene Roth; back row, McManigal, Stacey Koester, Lisa Erwin, Pam Brownell, June Stapleton, Lisa Wood, Susie Erwin, Troth. In addition to the Eagles winning both the division and conference trophies, Allen had one player, Susie Erwin, named to the all-conference first team. Two others, Stacey Koester and Lisa Erwin, made the second team.

Allen's Fast Offense, Tough Defense Capture Conference Cage Title

By BOB BARTLETT
Allen High used a fast breaking offense and a tough zone defense Saturday night to capture the Lewis and Clark Conference girls basketball title in grand fashion.

The 11-2 Eagles, sparked by the scoring of all-conference player Susie Erwin, had no problems dumping defending Clark division champ, Wynot, to the tune of 44-23.

Playing before a good-sized crowd at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium, coach Steve McManigal's Eagles walked to a 23-13 first-half lead, before the Lewis division representatives clamped down on the Blue Devils with a full-court press.

"We needed that game," McManigal said, "because we came off a loss (to Newcastle in the finals of the Ponca Tournament)."

Allen never had any problems with Wynot throughout the contest. The Eagles took quick command on baskets by Koester and Susie Erwin and stopped Wynot from scoring in the first three minutes of play.

With about 4:50 left in the first quarter, Wynot's top scorer, Cindy Becker broke the ice with her first basket. She finished the evening game with a team-high of six points.

Allen scored quick baskets in the third period resulting from thefts. Wood gave her club on of the biggest margins in the third period on a steal and following layup for a 34-15 Allen lead with 5:07 showing on the clock.

About his team's playing, the coach added that "We played together as a team as well as we have all year... each player worked hard and I'm proud of all of them."

As expected, the Eagles controlled the game both offensively and defensively. Led by three players with 10 rebounds each, Allen dominated the boards with 46 caroms to Wynot's 31. Pulling down 10 each were Lisa Wood, June Stapleton and Stacey Koester.

Koester also was instrumental in Allen's scoring show with 10 markers to tie Lisa Erwin for

Coaches Pick Erwin for All-Conference Honors

Junior Susie Erwin, who led Allen girls to the Lewis and Clark Conference title, was named Saturday night to the first team of the Lewis division.

The 5-7 leader has been averaging 12 points a game from her guard position while taking control of Allen's fast break offense. Also honored during halftime of the boys conference playoff game at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium were seniors Valerie Zerbe of Newcastle, Janelle Jensen of Homer, Kristi Meyer of Walthill and sophomore Linda Samuelson of Bancroft.

"This year we've been stressing balanced scoring and Susie has been one of three averaging in double figures," said Eagle mentor Steve McManigal.

The two other players who've been among Allen's scoring leaders are sophomore Stacey Koester and freshman Lisa Erwin, both named to the second team.

Koester has been scoring about 10 points an outing and putting down seven rebounds. Meanwhile, Erwin has been averaging 14 points and 11 caroms a contest.

Division and conference winner Walthill landed two on boys all-conference Lewis team. They are seniors Jeff Bellar and Donnie Archer. Making up the remainder of the top five are seniors Jerry Bring of Bancroft, Troy Madge of Newcastle and junior Ron Hirsch of Homer.

Allen senior Tod Ellis was named honorable mention with his average of 16 points a game, said coach Cliff Jorgensen.

McDonald's All-Star

Danny Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Larson of Ventura, Calif., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larson of Allen, has been named to McDonald's All American Basketball team. 'Bago Takes Two Winnebago's junior high boys basketball teams downed Allen in a pair of games Thursday.

Allen lost the seventh grade tilt, 16-4, and fell in the eighth grade contest, 36-32. Robb Linafelter led the eighth grade cagers with 22 points while Bruce and Denn Smith had four each and Leonard Wood had two.

Scoring for Allen in the seventh grade game were Rick Smith and Jeff Burnham with two apiece.

GREGG LAGE will be heading to Illinois early next month for two reasons. First, he wants to visit his former high school wrestling coach Doug Barclay, who is molding another top-rank high school wrestling team. Second, and most importantly, he wants to be a national champ.

The former Winside High matman who placed in the state Class C meet three of his four years as a Wildcat, prides himself on being one of three wrestlers from Nebraska Wesleyan University to qualify for the nationals.

Lage, a junior, will be making the 400-plus mile trek March 3 and 4 to Wheaton, Ill., site of this year's National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division Three wrestling tournament, where he is confident that he'll be bringing home one of the top placings if not a national title.

Lage reasons that his chances to place are good because of the caliber of wrestlers he has faced during the season. Of his three losses, two were to a grappler who finished fifth last year in the nation. Both losses were close, 4-1 and 5-1.

Lage feels he has become more aggressive, and his statistics prove that. He's been averaging two takedowns per match for a season total of 43 to lead teammates.

Although the junior Plainsman hasn't had many pins this season, Lage did record one pin he'll never forget. It came in a meet at the University of Nebraska-Omaha where he stopped a wrestler from Graceland who had never before been pinned in high school or college.

The 150-pound Lage has put on quite a bit of weight since he first put on his wrestling togs back in 1972 when he wrestled for Barclay at 98 pounds. Back then, Gregg got his first taste of state competition, and to put it in Lage's words, his debut didn't turn out too well.

Things changed the following year when brother Doug forced Gregg out of the 126-pound weight class and consequently out of a shot for his second straight trip to state.

The next two years were more bountiful for the Winside lad. In 1974, he finished fourth in the state at 126, and in 1975 nailed down second place at 138 to help coach Barclay's Wildcats take the state Class C team title.

Now, at the ripe age of 20, Gregg envisions a dream come true—a trip to the nationals and an excellent chance of winning the 150-pound crown.

To qualify for the nationals, a wrestler must have won at least 60 percent of his matches, or place among the top two in a conference meet. As of Sunday, Gregg already passed one test—winning 23 matches while losing three.

This year isn't the first opportunity Lage has had a chance to go to the nationals. During his sophomore campaign he chalked up a 13-1 record, but turned down a trip to New York, site of the 1977 finals.

Besides aiming for a national title, Lage has plans to enter dental school next year at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

UPCOMING: Athletic officials at Wayne State are planning a weightlifting clinic, tentatively scheduled for Saturday, March 4.

The clinic will feature Mike Kennedy, a former Cornhusker linebacker who operates the Omaha Athletic Center in Omaha.

A REMINDER: This Saturday at 1:30 p.m. college athletic trainer Regg Swanson will conduct demonstrations on taping techniques, rehabilitation, treatment variations and knee injury evaluation.

Winside Gals Advance In Mild Upset, 40-39

A mild upset Tuesday night kept Winside gals alive in the Class C district basketball action at Homer.

The 4-7 Wildcats knocked off Emerson-Hubbard, 40-39, to earn a confrontation with talented Pender in the semifinals round tonight (Thursday), beginning at 6:30.

Coach Kathy O'Connor's Cats got the consistent scoring from season leader Paula Rager with 18 points and fine play from Krisi Duering with 10.

"We were able to get the ball down court despite their press," O'Connor pointed out as another reason the Winside quint was able to overcome the Pirates.

Emerson, which was led by Lori Kellogg with 13, Carla Nelson with 11 and Lori Tuilberg with 10, was minus its leading scorer, center Paula Rager who is out for the season with a knee injury she suffered last week against Wayne.

O'Connor also hailed the play- ing of Krisi Duering and Lisa Longnecker in the victory. Duering hit two key baskets late in the fourth period and Longnecker grabbed five assists.

Wayne Grapplers Finish Eighth at Yankton Meet

Wayne State wrestlers finished eighth out of 12 teams at the Yankton College Invitational Sunday and Monday at Yankton, S.D.

Graceland won the tournament with 102 points, followed by Kearney 96 1/2, South Dakota-Springfield 81 1/2, Yankton 78 1/2, Northern State 67 1/2, Westmar 60 1/2, Peru State 52 1/2, Wayne State 41, Chadron State 40 1/2, Dakota State 27, Morningside 18 and Black Hills State 15 1/2.

The Wildcats gained two second place finishes, one fourth and a sixth. Kirk Hanson at 167 pounds and Dave Uich at 177 pounds were Wayne's runners-up. Hansen lost to Doug Rohlik of South Dakota-Springfield, 5-0 in the finals at 167. Hansen had beaten Rohlik earlier in the season. Wayne State coach Jim McDougal says the two will probably meet again at the national tournament.

Uich lost to Still of Graceland in the finals at 177.

Bill Gubbels finished fourth at 150 pounds, losing to Logdon of Graceland in the consolation wrestleback. Even though he finished only fourth, McDougal feels that Gubbels was the best grappler in that weight class.

Don Schernikau took sixth place in the 126 pound division of the tourney.

Wayne State's final regular season action will be at Seward Saturday.

Wayne State's final regular season action will be at Seward Saturday where they tangle with Concordia, Peru State and tournament champion Graceland in a triple dual.

Eagles Gearing to Meet Newcastle in Rematch

"We still feel the sting of the Ponca Tournament, and there's no other team in the area we want to beat more than Newcastle," stressed Allen girls basketball coach Steve McManigal Tuesday night after his Eagles advanced to the semifinal round of the Class D district at Pender.

Allen rolled to its 12th win by blasting Winnebago, 60-19, to earn the right to face Newcastle tonight (Thursday) at 6:30.

Both teams hold a victory over the other. Newcastle has the latest win, a 12-point decision in the finals of the Ponca Tournament two weeks ago.

Allen, which handed the Red Raiders a seven-point defeat in the teams first meeting, tuned up for the semifinal bout with a torrid 58 percent shooting from the field, including a sizzling third period where the Eagles hit 15 of 17 from the field.

Sophomore Stacey Koester and junior Lisa Erwin teamed up to score most of Allen's 32 points in the third frame. Erwin garnered the rebounds and steals and fed Koester with the two-point plays, said McManigal.

Also effective in stopping the Indians was Allen's press which caused most of the losers' 36 turnovers.

The Eagles, now 12-2, controlled the boards with 25 caroms, including seven by team leader Pam Brownell.

Williams Leads AH

Des Williams poured in 10 points last week to lead Allen girls to a 44-4 beating of Wakefield in junior high varsity action.

Allen also won the B team game, 22-8, on the 14-point performance of Judy Taylor.

In the boys contests, Wakefield won both, 25-22 and 29-22. Denny Smith was high for Allen in the varsity game with 10 points and Ricky Stewart led the Eagles in the B game also with 10.

As a team, Wayne shot 49 percent from the field compared to 39 for Wisner. On the boards, the Devils grabbed 41 rebounds. Mosley was the leader with 12.

Kearney's Women Cagers Hand Kittens 6th Defeat

Wayne State gals lost their sixth straight game and fourth in a row in the Central States Conference Saturday night when Kearney State's women pinned a 65-53 defeat on the Wildkittens.

Wayne State, 10-10 overall and 7-4 in league play, will host Missouri Southern Friday night at Rice Auditorium.

Against Kearney, Wayne State shot only 39 percent in the first half, but that was still good enough for a 40-36 lead at intermission. Then a cold spell began.

The Wildkittens did not score a point for nearly eight minutes of the second half before Barb Bettin finally put in a score with 12:32 remaining. Kearney, meanwhile, used the Wayne streak to build a 10-0 streak of their own and go ahead 46-40.

Wayne State scored only three baskets from the field in the second half and shot only 10 percent.

Lori Erwin paced the Wayne State attack with 13 points and reserve Bettin added 10. Julie Brinkman and Lori Langel, both averaging in double figures thus far this season, were held to 10 points between them. Connie See KEARNEY'S page 10

V-6 TURBOCHARGED FOR EXTRA POWER AND ECONOMY!

"A Turbocharger? What's That?"
A turbocharger is a sophisticated aid to a powerplant that supplies extra power when you want it. Under normal driving conditions the V-6 operates without it. But when additional output is called for, as in passing, the turbocharger uses exhaust gases that are normally expelled from the car to increase power substantially.
Because it operates only on demand, the turbocharger enables you to get added power when you need it, still within the confines of a V-6 engine.

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wiltse

"Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy."
Emerson

It sometimes appears that there is not always time for courtesy. Courtesy, it seems, is a victim of the times; a "non-essential" part of our existence which finds difficulty surviving in the frantic atmosphere of lives geared to speed.

Life in general might be a shade more bearable, certainly less hectic and demanding, if we could squeeze more consideration into the average day at home, at work, on the road, in business or wherever a little courtesy could make human relationships more pleasant.

You can expect courteous, sympathetic treatment when you call on us, whether for information or for help at time of need. Wiltse Mortuaries serves not only the Wayne area but also the Winside and Laurel communities.

PREVENTING POISONINGS

Growing children are curious explorers. They like to examine everything, including brightly colored pills and attractively packaged household products. And most children, if given a chance, will put some of these products into their mouths and swallow them.

Thousands of children are accidentally poisoned each year. Many are injured and many die. From ingesting medicines, drain cleaners, bleaches and other household chemicals.

Medicines and household chemicals are important aids to maintaining a home and are safe and effective when used as directed. However, they also are potent enough to cause injury when carelessly used or abused, and when they are swallowed by a child, tragedy can result.

When medicines and household chemicals enter the home, it is the responsibility of the parents to make sure that their children, and pets as well, do not accidentally swallow any of the contents.

Special packaging does not eliminate the need for additional preventive measures to protect children from accidental poisonings.

Here are some ways you can help protect your children and pets:

- Use safety packaging when available.
- Learn how to re-secure correctly the safety feature after use, so that the product will always be packaged safely.
- Keep household products and medicines out of reach and out of sight of children. Lock them up when possible.

- Store internal medicines away from other household substances. Properly re-secure the cap after use and keep the product in the original container. Never put any medicine or chemical in a cup or soft drink bottle.
- Read the label on all products and heed warnings and cautions.

- Always turn on the light when giving medicines. Never take medicines in the dark.
- Avoid taking medicines in the presence of a child. The child may learn to imitate your action.

- If you have a crawling infant, keep household products stored above the floor level, not beneath the kitchen sink.
- If you are using a product when called to the door or telephone, take it with you.
- Have handy the phone number of your nearest doctor, poison control center, hospital and police. If a child does swallow a medicine or household chemical, don't wait to see what effects it may have. Contact your doctor or poison control center immediately.

THE LAST OF THE TORONADO!

No . . . General Motors Will Still Make The Toronado, But You Only Have Till The End of March to Order a Full Size Toronado. So . . . Order Now While There is Still Time.

We Will Be Taking Orders Till the End of March.

The basic advantage of Toronado: front wheel drive.
The weight of the engine rides over the wheels which power it forward. This helps provide gripping traction—as you are pulled along, rather than pushed. And the confidence this generates is a singular pleasure as you ride in the inner world of Toronado.

In bad weather, on wet roads, Toronado's traction, roadability and directional stability can be particularly reassuring. And it's powered by a 403 V8 engine with exclusive MISAR electronic spark timing—the engine's performance is continuously fine-tuned by an on-board digital mini-computer to deliver instantaneous response to your driving needs of the moment.

So you relax and enjoy the luxury around you. Four-Season air conditioning, automatic transmission, power brakes, steering and windows and AM/FM stereo radio all are standard in Toronado.

(1) Leather inserts in seating areas offered in camel, carmine, black. (2) Available XS treatment with sliding sunroof and panoramic rear window; sunroof reduces headroom. (3) Toronado's command post.

Minimum wage for inmates

CAPITOL NEWS

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

One way or another, inmates of Nebraska's penal institutions should be assigned to gainful employment for which they would be paid the minimum wage.

That's the opinion of Sen. John DeCamp, Neligh, who outlined his views recently to the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

He proposed a system under which the prisoners would get to keep part of their wages so they would have something to live on after release. The rest of the money would be utilized to repay the victim of an inmate's crime, contribute to the support of his or her family, and defray partially the state's confinement costs.

According to DeCamp, prisoners should be working instead of leading a life of idleness. In addition, he said, he could not understand what would be wrong in making an inmate contribute to his own family's support and in repaying those whom he harmed. Under the present system, the taxpayer is saddled with most of those costs, he said.

DeCamp also suggested that conjugal visits be permitted for married prisoners. This could be a positive step in the maintenance of family relationships, he said.

The Neligh lawmaker said inmates could be put to work through both public and private enterprises. In some states, business firms moved inside prison walls to teach skills and establish industries, he said, adding that additional prisoners could be given jobs on work release programs outside the penal institutions.

State Corrections Director Joseph Vittek said he favored the philosophy of the legislation DeCamp proposed. He said major concerns of prison administrators are employment, restitution to victims and keeping families together.

DeCamp said 8 percent of the more than 1,500 inmates in the State Penal Complex last year were on educational or work release programs. Those on work release earned about $600,000, "or as much as it cost the state to keep them," he said.

The committee appeared to be generally in agreement with what the Neligh senator suggested. Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha said, "The philosophy of the bill is to be pushed."

KEEP DEATH PENALTY

At the time this was written, Nebraska's lawmakers had killed a bill that would have abolished capital punishment in the state. But the matter was far from settled.

Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha was attempting to get his measure to repeal capital punishment revived. What he was trying to do was get the proposal amended so that it would call for a moratorium on executions until citizens were given a chance to vote on a constitutional amendment. The constitutional change would strip the State Pardon Board of its power to reduce certain sentences.

The amendment proposal, sponsored by Sen. Wally Barnett, Lincoln, would make it impossible for the Pardon Board to reduce a minimum 30 year sentence for first degree murder.

Barnett said unless the constitution is changed, a mandatory minimum sentence provided for in the statutes could still be disregarded by the Pardon Board.

Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln said the Barnett amendment is "the only alternative plan to the death penalty, and if the people want an alternative, you have to submit this to the people."

During the capital punishment debate, it was emphasized several times that many persons would agree to doing away with executions, if they could be sure that those guilty of first degree murder were locked up for many years, without hope of parole.

Sen. Nelson Merz of Falls City made the motion to revive Sen. Ernest Chambers' bill to abolish the death penalty. He made the same motion a year ago when the same bill was killed but later was brought back to life.

LAYOFFS MAY BE NECESSARY

The Legislature's Education committee was told a drop in enrollments in some parts of the state may force the laying off of some teachers.

And if some teachers have to be placed into the ranks of the unemployed, it should be under a plan negotiated by the school districts and teachers bargaining units, representatives of teachers unions told the committee.

Representatives of school boards and school administrators argued laying off teachers is a management decision that should be left to them.

As introduced by the late Sen. Keith Boughn, Norfolk, the bill under consideration by the committee calls for seniority to be the key factor in deciding which teachers should be let go because of declining enrollments.

But the Nebraska State Education association has agreed to offer an amendment that would allow each school district to negotiate a plan that could be based on a number of factors, including seniority, teacher evaluations or a combination of those two plus other considerations.

SCHOOL TESTING PROPOSED

A bill before the Legislature's Education Committee recently proposed that next fall every sixth and 11th grade student in the state be given a general knowledge test.

The objective of his bill, Sen. Richard Marech of Milligan said, is to "analyze and evaluate the learning process."

added the test results would provide an indicator to the schools how they measure up in comparisons with others in the state.

Marech said the data compiled would be for the use only of the State Department of Education and the Legislature because he would not want to embarrass any schools. At the same time schools should know what their strong and weak points are, he said.

Don Lienemann of Papillion, a member of the State Board of Education, said he agreed with the concept of the bill but that he would change the early testing to the third or fourth grade.

Also supporting the bill was Sen. John Murphy of South Sioux City, who said he did not believe it was possible to provide equal educational opportunities without periodic tests of the students. He suggested an annual examination would be preferable.

Sen. Gerald Koch, Ralston, a professional educator, said schools already give plenty of tests to determine how effective their programs are and how well their students measure up to those in other schools.

OBSERVATIONS

A tested 'talk' tool

The much maligned citizen band radio is now receiving recognition as a grass roots level communication system which has justified its existence through performance.

We applaud this acceptance of what here-to-fore has been regarded as a "high priced toy" which is good for nothing but meaningless chatter. We acknowledge the fact there is a lot of "talk" on the channels which is only of interest to those talking. But tucked away in the background is a network of CB'ers who are dedicated to provide a voice in an emergency.

The Wayne CB club is a good example of this willingness to be of service to the general public. They are organized, they have people trained for the various aspects of emergency communication and they have dipped into their own pockets to finance additional equipment located in key locations to aid in the event of an emergency.

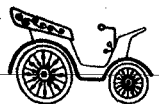

An example of how the members of this club react in an emergency came some four years ago. They were called out as weather spotters in a tornado alert. One member sighted a funnel which had whipped its way through Stanton county and was on a collision course with Carroll.

The sighting was reported to the communications center which transmitted the information to a CB base in Carroll. Residents in Carroll had ample time to get to safety because of the advance warning through the CB network. In fact the residents of Carroll said the CB alert was the only warning they had about the tornado.

While the CB network's role is that of a backup to law enforcement and Civil Defense radio, it has proven itself in emergency conditions. This acceptance is due mainly to the operators who not only maintain their equipment but keep themselves trained to aid in the event of an emergency.

During their regular monthly meetings, they have speakers such as members of the highway patrol, local law enforcement members, weather personnel all backed up by a continuing interest of CB'ers to be of assistance anyway, anytime.

We feel technology will provide better citizen band radio equipment. At the same time, CB operators will be better trained for assistance to motorists, to correctly interpret weather conditions during an alert and to be of major assistance in all emergency conditions. — Chuck Barnes.

Kiwanians Honor Sprouls Family

A RURAL WAYNE family received the Outstanding Farmer Award from the Wayne Kiwanis Club Monday for their leadership in the dairy industry. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sprouls, who own a 540-acre farm three miles south and one west of Wayne, were recognized for their dairy herd which has the second highest producing cow in the state, averaging about 4,000 gallons of milk last year. The entire herd averaged 2,000 gallons or 18,500 pounds per cow per year. The Sprouls family, which includes children Mike, Julie and Wes, is active in 4-H projects as well as school functions. Presenting the Sprouls with the annual award is Kiwanian Ken Liska in the background.

'Water' to Be Topic at Sierra Meeting

"Water" will be the topic of discussion when the Elkhorn Valley Group of the Sierra Club hold its regular monthly meeting this Monday evening. The meeting begins at 7:30 at First Federal Savings and Loan, Fourth and Braasch, in Norfolk. Featured speaker will be David Aiken, University of Nebraska-Lincoln water law specialist. He will address such areas as groundwater ownership, upcoming legislation and water economics. The public is invited.

The Wayne Peppy Pals 4-H Club held their regular meeting the evening of Feb. 9 in the Richard Baier home with 10 members present to answer roll call with a speech topic. Mrs. Hilbert Johs was the lesson leader as the group discussed the A to Z display and reviewed club goals. Health leader Kim Backstrom gave a nutrition report and safety leader Mat Baier read a car safety paragraph. The group reviewed the Rock 'N Roll Jamboree, which is being held to raise money for the Heart Fund. Mat also demonstrated "From Flat to Fat," and the group watched 4-H demo slides. Project sessions were held and singing and ham games were enjoyed. Lunch was served. Members will be giving their speeches in the near future. The next meeting date is Saturday in the home of Kim Backstrom at 2 p.m.

DUSTY HOUSEPLANTS

If your house plants are dusty, then this is the time to give them a bath.

Dull, dusty leaves are not attractive and the dust interferes with the overall health of the plant. The breathing holes in the leaves are blocked and the plant does not obtain the necessary carbon dioxide. To clean small-leaved plants, use a spray nozzle for washing your hair to give the plants a gentle shower. For larger leaved plants, wipe each leaf with a soft damp cloth. To avoid water marks, use water low in calcium.

If extra shine is needed for the leaves, use a commercial plant polish. Carefully follow directions on the label. Do not use milk or mayonnaise on the leaves or injury will occur. Hairy leaved plants like African violets may be dusted with a camel's hair brush. Remember, cold water will spot their leaves.

RECYCLE GARDEN SEED

Vegetable garden seed costs have more than doubled in the last five years. This is understandable because of the increased costs of fertilizer, fuel, greenhouse heating, etc. which are figured into producing a package of seed.

So why not use some of the leftover seed purchased for last year's garden? Approximate storage life of vegetable seed varies: onions, parsnips and corn will last two years; peas, beans and parsley will usually keep three years; seeds of most other vegetables will last four to five years in proper storage; and beets, eggplant, squash, melons and cucumbers will last even longer. Lettuce is one See AGENT, page 5

'76 Farm Taxes Increase 14%

Taxes levied on farm real estate in Nebraska for 1976 increased 14 per cent over 1975, according to the USDA's Economic Research service, and while the figures for 1977 are not yet available, a sizable increase can be expected for the past year.

According to the statistics, the total farm real estate tax in the state for 1976 was $153.3 million compared to $134.1 million in 1975. In 1970 the total was $90.6 million and in 1960 was $51.6 million. The average tax per acre in the state was $3.29 in 1976 compared to $2.88 per acre in 1975; $2.04 in 1970 and $1.11 in 1960.

Nebraska taxpayers know that the major portion of their local property tax goes to the support of their county government and other taxing agencies such as Community college districts, Natural Resources districts, weed districts, rural fire protection districts, et cetera. The list is long and inflation is having an effect on all of them, so it is not surprising that the farm real estate tax burden is increasing.

When the figures were recently announced, news stories about the tax increases noted that the value of farm land in the state has also increased dramatically, with the per acre value of farmland in the state rising from $89 per acre average in 1960 to $154 in 1970; to $289 in 1975 and $364 in 1976. The inference of course was that the land is worth a great deal more so naturally it should be taxed a great deal more.

The fallacy in this kind of reasoning is that farm real estate taxes are as much as a part of a farmer's operating costs as are his bills for gasoline and diesel fuel, machinery repairs, feed and seed costs, etc. His real estate taxes must be paid out of operating revenues just like his other bills.

Land prices have been increasing phenomenally, at least until the last year, and certainly out of proportion to what it will produce. Increased land prices have provided many farmers equity to increase the size of their mortgages and to refinance their operations, including the necessity to pay their property taxes. Obviously, that can't See TAXES, page 5

Small Farmers Must Be Doing Something Right

The family farm is alive and well despite increasing threats to its existence. Indeed, the challenge of survival of the family farm can be seen in the alarming drop in the farm population in recent years. From 1960 to 1970 the number of farmers in the U.S. dropped from over 15 million to just under 10 million, plunging the proportion of farmers to the total population from 8.7 per cent to 4.8 per cent. "These are astounding figures," observed secretary of agriculture Bob Bergland. Yet Bergland sees this as an essentially healthy sign. "There is no way that fewer and fewer farms could feed more and more people with bigger and bigger crops if they weren't doing it right," he said. "The advantages and strengths of the family farm system are many; decisions that affect how the land is to be prepared, how it is to be cultivated and how it is to be harvested are made on the spot; animals are cared for around the clock; there is constant vigilance against anything going wrong; there can be instant changes of plans in the light of changes in the weather; and work gets done when needed," Bergland said.

In spite of its success threats to the family farm system are numerous. In addition to the usual hazards of weather, disease, and low prices, Bergland cited other threats to the very system itself — vertical integration by big corporations, tax write-offs to wealthy city dwellers who purchase farms and deduct losses from their income.

A former member of the House of Representatives, Bergland in 1972 helped introduce legislation to prevent monopolistic practices in agriculture. "During hearings there were numerous opinions on how to accomplish that purpose," Bergland said, "but nearly everyone agreed that the efficiency of the family farm had prevented even worse encroachment by monopolistic, non-farm forces."

One reason Bergland cited for this was farmers' inherent sense of concern for his resources. "He does not 'mine' the land or waste the water, or hurt the soil, or let the place run down. The land is his only livelihood and his only asset."

Kiwanis Club to Celebrate 55th Anniversary on Sunday

Members of Wayne Kiwanis will celebrate the club's 55th anniversary Sunday night at Wayne State's Student Center. The 6 p.m. dinner will feature two programs, a slide presentation of Jerusalem by the Rev. Doniver Peterson, and a demonstration by Boy Scouts from the Diamond Dick district.

Program chairman Leon Meyer said that tickets will go on sale at the door for $3.50 per person.

In observance of National Boy Scout week, club treasurer and scoutmaster for Troop 175, Vern Fairchild, outlined some of the programs carried on by the Kiwanis-sponsored troop.

During the past year a total of 17 scouts have advanced in ranks, including some from Tenderfoot to Life, Fairchild noted.

While attending summer camp at Eagle, the Wayne troop earned a total of 30 merit badges out of a possible 42, making Troop 175 one of the most active award winners at the week-long affair.

Fairchild noted that members of the troop intend to keep up their active pace this year by going on camping trips at least once every six weeks. The big event for the troop, he added, will be a 50-mile hike in the Black Hills, scheduled for early June.

An active troop leader for two years, Fairchild noted that his involvement in Boy Scouts has paid off by knowing that he has helped youths to better themselves both as scouts and as persons.

He went on to point out that the success of Troop 175 has a lot to do with parents of scouts who participate in the programs. "Any scout troop that is good, is good because of active parent participation," he said.

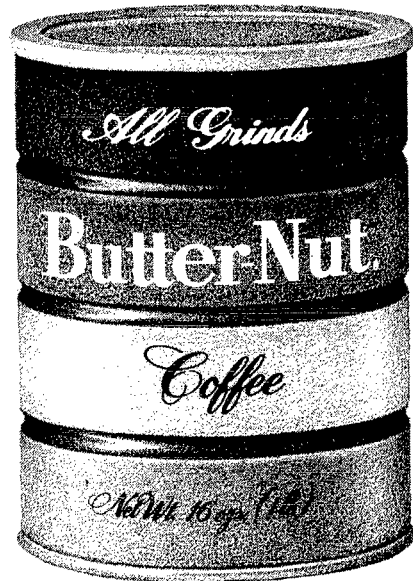

Norfolk Man Named Lieutenant Governor-Elect
