

County Fair Receives $1,000

The Wayne County Fair at Wayne has received $1,000 from Ak-Sar-Ben, according to president Leland Herman and secretary Marilyn Koch.

This is the third such contribution from Ak-Sar-Ben toward the $30,000 four-year project to build an agricultural exhibit building on the fair grounds.

Construction will include interior seating, lighting, pen and exterior landscaping. Completion is expected in 1979.

The County Fair Improvement Program, now in its 25th year, is one of a series of projects of financial assistance to county fairs made possible by funds from Ak-Sar-Ben's annual race meeting, according to J.D. Anderson, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of this civic organization.

This year Ak-Sar-Ben is again offering to Nebraska County Fairs, through the Building Grant program, up to a maximum of $1,000 annually for construction of permanent improvements on the fair grounds in the Cornhusker State.

This popular county fair program follows the "dollar matching" principle, in that Ak-Sar-Ben agrees to match dollars with each county fair which will match its contribution with at least an equal amount.

Group Takes

Look at 30's

A discussion group at Wayne State College Tuesday night participated in an in-depth look at the Depression of the 30's.

The program, "Legacies of the depression on the Great Plains," is made up of two television shows on the Nebraska, Education Television Network (NETN). The first, entitled "The Farm," was aired Tuesday night.

The WSC discussion group was 1 of 19 meetings throughout the state. The group, led by WSC social science instructor Pat McGarry, discussed the concepts of the Depression's legacies presented in the program.

Immediately following the program Tuesday night, a panel of University of Nebraska-Lincoln, discussed the program live over the NETN. The WSC discussion group joined the others in calling in questions and comments to the panelists.

The program focuses on the farmer's plight — dust storms, low prices, foreclosures and evictions — and the "alphabet soup" government agencies that provided price supports, farm credit, rural electric service and conservation programs.

The second program, concerning "The Small Town," will air at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 11.

"The Small Town" program will visit Broken Bow to talk with townspeople about the effects of the Depression and its legacies on the town still in evidence today.

Those interested in participating in the second Wayne State discussion group should meet at 7:30 p.m., April 11 in Room 18 of the U.S. Conn. Library or phone McGarry at 375-2200.

A Current Topic

PROBLEMS FACING Wayne area farmers were hashed over by Bill Corbit, a Wayne County Farm Bureau member who farms east of Wayne and State Sen. Doug Bereuter, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman, First District. Bereuter was in Wayne Saturday for the Wayne County Farm Bureau's annual meeting. Featured speaker at the meeting was Robert Thompson.

Solid Increase in Output

Real output in the area and the state rose sharply in November of 1977, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

The 1.5 percent increase of physical output for the state followed a decrease in October.

The magnitude of the rise in area and state economic activity in November of last year was unusually large, according to William Gerbes, research associate, writing in the March issue of "Business in Nebraska."

Gerbes said a sharp jump in agricultural output was a major factor in the increase. Seasonally adjusted cash farm marketing in November were 35.1 percent above October levels.

Gerbes pointed out a 7 percent increase in Nebraska crop prices during the month and the sale of farm products in advance of an impending "farm strike" were cited as factors contributing to the size of November farm marketing.

The researcher said while agriculture made the most dramatic jump as compared to the previous month, the increase was spread over all five sectors of the area and state economy.

The sectors and their month-

Rates, Prices

This year's feed grain, wheat loan rates and target prices have been announced by Sec. of Ag. Bob Bergland.

Wayne area farmers will have 1978 loan rates of $2 per bushel for corn and $2.25 for wheat. Target prices for corn is $2.10 and $3 or $3.05 for wheat.

Wheat will be supported with a $3 target price if 1978 production is above 1.8 million bushels or $3.05 target price if production is 1.8 million bushels or less.

The 1978 loan rates and target prices and comparisons with 1977 are:

Loan rates for corn, $2 for 1978, $2 for 1977; target prices for corn, $2.10 for 1978, $2 for 1977. Wheat loan rates for 1978, $2.25; 1977, $2.25; target prices for 1978, $3, 1977, $2.90 for allotment wheat $3.05 target price 1978 if allotment underplanted.

German Brothers Visit Liedmans

Farmlife Called 'Lonesome'

CARROLL — Everything is relative.

While inflation in the United States continues to spiral, it still has a way to go before it catches up with countries like Germany.

People in Germany are paying $3.50 for a pound of beef from a super market and $1.81 per gallon for gas. On the other side of the coin is $7 per bushel wheat and $6.50 per bushel oats and barley.

All this was brought out in a conversation with Paul Adolf, Martin and Gerhart Meyer, all of Bunds, Germany, Providence of Westfalen. They left Tuesday after a 17-day visit with their uncle Fred Liedman and his wife and son, Don, who farm 2 1/4 miles west of Carroll.

The visitors, whose ages range from 38 to 45 years, are all married and have families. They are the children of Mr. Liedman's sister. This was the first time they had seen their uncle.

Paul and Adolf are farmers. Paul farms 25 acres and Adolf farms 20 acres. Agricultural land sells for approximately $8,000 an acre.

They have dairy cattle and hogs and raise wheat, oats, barley and corn. The per-acre average is 100 bushels. However, the two reported the past year was dry and the crops didn't yield the 100 bushels. But they said this was an exception to the normal conditions.

Corn, they said, is used for silage as the weather is too cool and damp for maturity. Gerhart is a foreman for the General Motors Corporation and Martin is a mail carrier. He has a rural route, 18 miles long with 400 patrons. He must take the mail to the door of each home, he said. He drives a mail truck that is provided by the postal department.

The Carroll area is a vast departure from what the men are accustomed to. They said the rural people in Germany live so close together as neighbors they considered the Carroll area to be quiet and even lonesome.

The Liedmans took their guests to Western Nebraska and parts of South Dakota to show them ranch country and how sparsely populated an area it is.

Fred Liedman came to the United States nearly 50 years ago because there were no opportunities for jobs there at the time. He stated Germany now is really an industrial country, being very similar to the United States. He has returned to his native country only once since coming to the Carroll area.

Don has visited relatives in Germany twice in recent years. He said four German Marks in 1967 was equivalent to $1 in U.S. currency. Now two Marks equal a dollar.

Five Attend

Cancer Meeting

Five members of the Wayne County Unit of the American Cancer Society attended the Nebraska kick-off meeting held Saturday at the New Tower Motel in Omaha.

Those attending were Mrs. Niel Sandahl, Mrs. Rudy Lange, Mrs. Lou Lutz, Mrs. Kenneth Edmonds and Mrs. Lester Hansen.

One of the speakers was Dr. Henry Lemon, M.D., Omaha, who told about the many advancements in research and some of promising progress in treatment. He said the Pap Test has reduced deaths to the point where cancer of the cervix is not a major problem.

G. Robert Gadberry, a national officer of the Cancer Society from Kansas, told the group that the United States last year spent four times as much for bumper stickers as it did for cancer programs for research, education and service.

The Nebraska goal this year is $640,550. Wayne County's share of the state goal is $4,225. The annual Cancer Crusade in Wayne County is now underway.

Option Set

For Set-Aside

Producers on farms that grew barley, corn or grain sorghum in 1977 now have the option for voluntary diversion for payment. Aiden Johnson, Chairman Wayne County ASC Committee, announced.

The producers can qualify for payment if they set aside an additional 10 percent of their 1978 planted acreage. This set aside is in addition to the minimum set aside of 10 percent. To qualify for the payment the producer will be restricted to planting no more acreage to the feed grain that was planted in 1977, Johnson explained.

The payment will be .20 cents for corn and .12 cents for barley and grain sorghum times the farm established yield and times the actual acreage of the feed grain planted for harvest in 1978.

Johnson advised that additional information can be obtained from the ASCS office.

By three players with 39 each, West Oakland-Craig, fourth in the nine-hole meet with a 197. Third was Emerson-Hubbard with a 177.

Monday Wayne returns home to face Stanton in a dual meet at Wayne Country Club.

Wayne Golfers Finish Second

Defending Class C state champion Oakland-Craig didn't let the high winds bother the Knights Thursday when they captured a triangular meet at Beemer Country Club over Wayne and West Point.

Paced by Baldwin's 39 for medalist honor, the Knights easily outdistanced their competitors with a nine-hole total of 182 for four golfers.

Wayne finished a strong second with a 182 and West Point rounded out the pack with a 197.

Veteran Doug Pierson lead coach Harold Maciejewski's linksmen with a 44. Freshmen Chip Carr followed with a 45 while Bob Bornhoff recorded a 46 and John Keating finished with a 47. Jay Stoltenberg's score of 49 was not used.

Oakland also captured the junior varsity meet with a score of 200 to Wayne's 209. West Point didn't field a JV squad.

Low scorers for Wayne were John Melena with 48, John Kluge and Scott Kudrna with 53 each and Duane Smith with 55. Also playing was Clay Ellingson with a 62.

THREE WAYNE girls established new school records Friday while leading the Blue Devils to second place in the Columbus Lakeview Invitational. From left, Lynn Surber set a new mark in the mile, Lesa Barclay clipped the old record in the shot put and Joleen Bennett established a new discus record.

Three Records Fall

Wayne Gals Are Second at Lakeview

Wayne High girls broke three school records en route to a hard-earned second place finish Friday in the Columbus Lakeview Invitational.

The locals collected 64 points to finish behind leader Grand Island Central Catholic with 75 in a Class B meet loaded with talent.

"It's the most difficult meet we'll go to this year," said a happy coach Mavis Dalton who added that her girls undoubtedly prove they could compete with the stronger schools.

Wisner-Pilger was third with 60 points followed by (not in order) Columbus Scotts, Columbus Lakeview, Arlington, Pierce, David City Aquinas and Raymond-Central Catholic.

Lesla Barclay snapped her own mark in the shot put with a toss of 36-7/2 to better her previous throw of 36-6/2 in 1976.

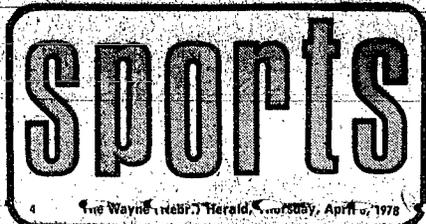

Two other marks which fell were in the discus and mile run. Joleen Bennett threw the plate 95-7 to clip the old mark of 92-9 held by Peg Pinkelman last year. In the mile, Lynn Surber ran in 6:13.03, smashing the old record of 6:57 set by Tammy Holdorf last year.

Wildcats Take Pair From Bellevue Nine

Wayne State opened the 1978 baseball season by sweeping a doubleheader over Bellevue College Saturday, 7-3 and 6-5 at Wayne.

The Wildcats were led by the clutch batting of center fielder Kevin Mahlberg, who had three hits and four runs batted in for the day.

Wayne jumped to a 4-1 lead after an inning. With one out, Tony Piscicola walked to set up the first run. After Steve Klein-smith filed out for the second out, Lyle Smith was hit by a pitch and Bernie Minarik reached base on an error. Mahlberg then singled in one run and another scored on a Bellevue error. Dewey Edgar punched home two more scores with a single.

Coch Ron Jones' team put the contest out of reach with two runs in the fourth. Smith walked and Minarik reached base on another error. Smith scored on a wild pitch and Minarik raced home from third on a sacrifice fly by Mahlberg.

Mark Larson was the winning pitcher for Wayne. He came in after starter Rod Hege was struck by a line drive in the first inning. Wayne State's mound corps allowed only six hits while walking two and fanning four.

Mahlberg fueled Wayne's comeback in the second game, facing a two-run single in the third inning after Bellevue had taken a 2-0 lead.

The Wildcats added another run in that inning, and scored three times in the fifth. Piscicola led off the stanza with a single and Minarik walked. Singles by Kleinsmith and Mahlberg sandwiched around a two-base hit by Smith produced the rallies.

Bellevue came back with two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh before Wildcat reliever Doug Carroll of Wayne rescued starter Edgar and nailed down the final out with the winning run at first base.

Edgar yielded 10 hits in six and two-thirds innings while walking five and whiffing four.

Wildkittens, UNO Split in Softball

Wayne State women split a twin bill in softball action with UNO Saturday at Wayne, winning the first game, 5-2 and losing the nightcap, 10-0.

The Wildkittens, 3-7 on the season, came from behind in the last of the eighth inning after the Mavericks had taken a 2-1 lead. Peg Yockey reached base on an error and singles by Kim Abbott and Robin Welsh loaded the bases with one out.

First baseman Donna Lueders hit a grand slam homer to give Wayne the win.

Wayne scored an earlier run in the third inning when Vicki Carsey doubled home Marla Cities who reached base on an error.

Lynne Larson (2-1) was the winning pitcher, scattering six hits, walking two and striking out eight.

It was all UNO in the second game, however, as the Mavericks bombarded Wayne hurler Pat Lenihan (0-5) for 12 hits en route to the shutout win.

Lenihan walked two and had no strikeouts.

Wayne mustered only two hits for the contest.

"I was very encouraged by our play," said Wayne State coach Sue Kovar. "We've split with both UNO and Nebraska. See WILDKITTENS, page 155

Wakefield, Pender to Defend Titles

Defending champions Wakefield and Pender will head a list of 14 girls and boys high school track teams today (Thursday) when they invade Wayne State's oval for the running of the fourth annual Wakefield Invitational.

Pender and Emerson-Hubbard are expected to be in the thick of the race for the boys' title and Wakefield, Pender and Hartington are picked to battle it out for first in the girls division.

The Trojanettes of coach Ernie Kovar have an extra incentive, though — to win their fourth straight title.

Field events start at 9 a.m. with the running events to follow at 10. Finals are scheduled to begin about 1:30 p.m.

Other teams in the meet are Allen, Laurel, Leigh, Newcastle, Norfolk Catholic, Ponca, Stanton, Winside and Wynol.

3 Teams Drop from NNBL

Overin Will Manage Wayne Town Team

After a three-year absence as manager of the Wayne town team, Hank Overin is back at it again.

Overin Tuesday told the town team board he would manage the club this year provided he had an assistant. And that assistant, according to unconfirmed reports, will be former player Terry Lutt.

Overin hasn't set starting dates for practice, but did point out that they will be held on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. The head man said he plans to have a lot of inter-squad games in order that players as well as himself can evaluate the best 15 players for the season.

Overin pointed out that the team will be made up almost entirely of local players, except at shortstop and perhaps on the mound.

"We have several people who can play shortstop, but no one right now who has the arm to throw the ball the distance," Overin said.

The age limit for playing on this year's club is 19 to 25. Players over that limit who played last year are welcomed to return for tryouts, Overin emphasized.

Wayne will remain in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League, despite the loss of three clubs from the eight-team loop. Dropping from the league are Allen-Martinburg, Pender-Bancroft and Dakota City.

League president and secretary Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield said following a league meeting Sunday that both Allen and Dakota City decided to drop because they couldn't find field managers this year. Pender made the switch from the NNBL to the Dodge County loop.

Other teams remaining in the NEN league are Homer, Newcastle, Ponca and Wakefield. There is a possibility that Hartington may quit the South Dakota league to opt for the NNBL, Olson said.

The league president also learned that an Onawa, Ia. town team has expressed interest in joining the NNBL. League officials hope to make a decision on that possible entry next week.

Emry Grabs 2 Placings to Lead WH

Junior Brad Emry finished second in the triple jump and third in the long jump Friday to lead Wayne High track team to eighth place in the 13-team Prairieview Invitational.

Atkinson-West Point won with 115 points followed by Pierce with 89, Emerson-Hubbard with 58, Crofton with 56, Wisner-Pilger with 55, Randolph with 43%.

Pender with 40, Wayne with 20, O'Neill with 16, West Point with 10%.

Ainsworth, Plainview and Creighton with 8 each.

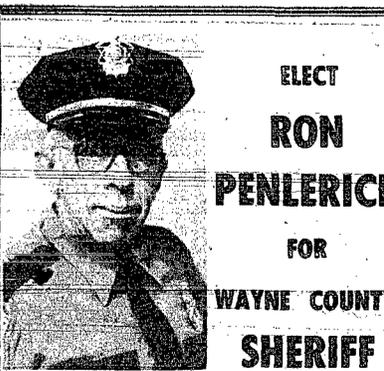

Emry leaped 42-6% in the triple jump to finish behind winner Dan Bitterbeck of Randolph, who went 44-8. In the long jump, the junior went 20%.

Three Wayne entries grabbed fifth place finishes to also score for coach Al Hansen's cindermen. Dave Hamm was fifth in the two mile run with a time of 10:52.8. In the 2 mile relay the foursome of Jeff Backstrom, Tod Heier, Mike Lutt and Hamm were clocked in 9:01.6. And in the mile relay the quartet of Rick Johnson, Backstrom, Heier and Emry finished in 3:46.8.

2 Records Fall at Triangular

Two school records fell Tuesday of last week when Wayne High hurriers traveled to Randolph for a triangular meet. Dave Hamm snapped the two-

Two Titles Decided in City Loops

Two of the three titles in men's city recreation basketball leagues were settled last week.

In B league, Team 5 claimed the playoff title at the city auditorium Tuesday night with a come-from-behind 54-49 decision over Team 3, and in C league season winner Team 1 rolled to a 66-53 victory over Team 4.

Mark Fleer piloted the B winners with a 16-point second half when the winners overcame a five point halftime deficit, 30-25. Fleer sank four baskets and converted three of four free throws in the third period to help tie the match at 40-all going into the fourth frame.

Hot-shooting John Dorcey, who has been the mainstay for Team 1 in C league play, poured in 25 points in a convincing victory Wednesday night.

Dorcey ignited for 11 points in the first period to put his club in front 19-12 and played consistent ball throughout the remainder of the game.

Team 4 had three players in double figures, but ran into a cold third quarter where the losers managed only eight points. Leading Team 4 were Don Sherman with 18, Darrell Doeschler with 14 and Jerry Dorcey with 10.

Results:

B League: Team 5 — Mark Fleer 24, Mike Looft 12, Roger Langenberg 8, Mic Daehnke 8, Tom Hagmann 2; Team 3 — Bill Schwarz 16, Lynn Lessman 14, Fritz Wolbe 8, Larry Creighton 7, Al Avery, 4.

52 Report Monday to Grid Camp

Spring football practice got underway at Wayne State Monday with 52 grid hopefuls trying out for a position on the team.

The Wildcats have approximately 30 letterman back plus a number of newcomers and about 25 transfers.

The first two days of drills consisted mostly of basic conditioning and fundamental work-outs. The team did not have a contact practice until today (Thursday) when players will don pads.

"The spring workouts will be similar to our normal practice sessions during the season," said head coach Del Stollenberg. "We will practice each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from now until April 28."

Stollenberg said spring practice turnout has been larger than usual this year because of the success of the Wildcat football program in 1977. Wayne State finished the 1977 season with a 7-3 record and took second place in the Central States Conference after forecasting a 10-2 record.

Stollenberg said the major purpose of the spring drills is to evaluate new people. "We'll find out what position they're suited for," he said. "We will probably ask some of our other people to try a new position to help strengthen the team and give them more playing time."

Stollenberg also used the first two days of practice to experiment with some new offensive and defensive wrinkles. In particular, Wayne has been working with the veer offense.

Emry, who led Wayne with three seconds and a third, went 43-2 in the triple to break his old mark of 42-10 set last season.

As team, Wayne finished third with 55 points, right behind winner Randolph with 110 and Crofton with 82.

Also grabbing a first for coach Al Hansen's Blue Devils was the mile relay team of Backstrom, Rick Johnson, Dennis Fleer and Todd Heier with a time of 3:51.9.

Wildcat Netters Post Second Win

Wayne State men's tennis team won its second straight outing Monday, defeating Morningside, 7-2 at Sioux City.

Wayne, 2-1 for the season, hosts Dana College today (Thursday).

Against Morningside, Craig Buford and Ron Thompson, the second and third seeds on the Wayne team, maintained undefeated singles records by knocking off their opponents in three sets.

Top seed Mike Lidie lost his first decision of the season to Morningside's Bruce Cook, 6-4, 6-7, 5-7.

Wayne chalked up its first win Friday over Yankton in a whitewash, 9-0.

It was an easy day for coach Wes Fritz's Wildcats as Yankton failed to win a match. In fact, the hosts scored over one point only twice in 18 games and were shutout in 11 games.

Mosley Named News' Top 12

Wayne High senior cager Sydney Mosley was honored by the Norfolk Daily News as one of the Top Twelve players in Northeast Nebraska.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Mosley of Wayne was the Blue Devils leading scorer throughout the 1977-78 campaign.

Two other Wayne cagers plus two area girls received honorable mention in the Norfolk paper. They were Wayne juniors Lesa Barclay and Peg Pinkelman and seniors Cheryl Abts of Laurel and Paula Hoemann of Winside.

Backstop / Bob Bartlett

PAULA CHASE probably realizes that there are a lot of good gal runners in the state and the nation. And to be sure, there are the excellent runners the kind who rate Olympic caliber.

Although the Laurel High sophomore doesn't rate herself with any of the above, she knows that to rank anywhere near the best it takes one ingredient — determination.

Chase displayed that determination last week at the Laurel Concord Relays by winning three events and helping the Bears relay team earn another first to finish fourth in a talent-laden meet.

The Laurel lass isn't one however who goes around seeking praise. As might be expected, she's shy when it comes to having her picture taken or talking of her accomplishments.

Instead she gives credit to her team and coach Everett Jensen for the wins Laurel produced.

She also pointed out that her running companion, Clark Maxon, had a lot to do with her performances. Ever since she was in junior high, she and Maxon would pace each other running. Although she seldom came close to winning the dual races, Paula noted that her continuous running helped her to improve and become the winner she has.

Jensen went on to add that Paula's participation in other girls sports has done a lot to condition her for spring track.

Chase won the long jump, 100 and 400, then anchored the winning 800 meter relay team as the Bears finished with 40 points.

Still, she maintains, credit has to go to those who helped her.

ALTHOUGH AN outbreak of CEM (contagious equine melittis) in the race horse world seems remote in Nebraska, the disease does have an indirect tie to Wayne.

Dr. Tom Swerczek at the University of Kentucky's veterinary science department, who discovered the disease, is a first cousin to Wayne vet Dr. David Swerczek.

The tie was discovered after reading recent issues of Sports Illustrated which quoted the Kentucky vet on the outbreak.

According to Dave, there is no evidence of CEM in Nebraska and he doesn't expect there will be in the future. The problem mainly lies in the eastern states where breeding thoroughbred race horses is a way of life.

LONG SPEECHES are best left for graduations and banquets, so I'll make this one short. Thanks to the area coaches who made my job of reporting so interesting. And thanks to Northeast Nebraska for producing some of the premier athletes who make the sports world a pleasure to be a part of.

County Fair Receives $1,000

The Wayne County Fair at Wayne has received $1,000 from Ak-Sar-Ben, according to president Leland Herman and secretary Marilyn Koch.

This is the third such contribution from Ak-Sar-Ben toward the $50,000 four-year project to build an agricultural exhibit building on the fair grounds.

Construction will include interior seating, lighting, pen and exterior landscaping. Completion is expected in 1979.

The County Fair Improvement Program, now in its 25th year, is one of a series of projects of financial assistance to county fairs made possible by funds from Ak-Sar-Ben's annual race meeting, according to J.D. Anderson, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of this county organization.

This year Ak-Sar-Ben is again offering to Nebraska County Fairs through the Building Grant program, up to a maximum of $1,000 annually for construction of permanent improvements on the fair grounds in the Cornhusker State.

This popular county fair program follows the "dollar-matching" principle. In that Ak-Sar-Ben agrees to match dollars with each county fair which will match its contribution with at least an equal amount.

Group Takes

Look at 30's

A discussion group at Wayne State College Tuesday night participated in an in-depth look at the Depression of the 30's.

The program, "Legacies of the depression on the Great Plains," is made up of two television shows on the Nebraska Education Television Network (NETN). The first, entitled "The Farm," was aired Tuesday night.

The WSC discussion group was 1 of 19 meeting throughout the state. The group, led by WSC social science instructor Pat McCarty, discussed the concepts of the Depression's legacies presented in the program.

Immediately following the program Tuesday night, a panel of University of Nebraska-Lincoln, discussed the program live over the NETN. The WSC discussion group joined the others in calling in questions and comments to the panelists.

The program focuses on the farmer's plight — dust storms, low prices, foreclosures and evictions — and the "alphabet soup" government agencies that provided price supports, farm credit, rural electric service and conservation programs.

The second program, concerning "The Small Town," will air at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 11.

"The Small Town" program will visit Broken Bow to talk with townspeople about the effects of the Depression and its legacies on the town still in evidence today.

Those interested in participating in the second Wayne State discussion group should meet at 7:30 p.m., April 11 in Room 18 of the U.S. Conn Library or phone McCarty at 375-2200.

A Current Topic

PROBLEMS FACING Wayne area farmers were hashed over by Bill Corbit, a Wayne County Farm Bureau member who farms east of Wayne and State Sen. Doug Bereuter, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman, First District. Bereuter was in Wayne Saturday for the Wayne County Farm Bureau's annual meeting. Featured speaker at the meeting was Robert Thompson.

Solid Increase in Output

Real output in the area and the state rose sharply in November of 1977, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

The 1 percent increase of physical output for the state followed a decrease in October.

The magnitude of the rise in area and state economic activity in November of last year was unusually large, according to William Gerbes, research associate, writing in the March issue of "Business in Nebraska."

Gerbes said a sharp jump in agricultural output was a major factor in the increase. Seasonally adjusted cash farm marketing in November were 35.1 percent above October levels.

Gerbes pointed out a 7 percent increase in Nebraska crop prices during the month and the sale of farm products in advance of an impending "farm strike" were cited as factors contributing to the size of November farm marketing.

The researcher said while waiting room — where all the antics occur. In addition to the comedy, there's a bit of love story unfolding between a doctor and an outsider.

Characters include Dawn Janke as nurse Smith, Rhonda Topp as nurse Jones, Alene George as the art teacher, Darci Janke as the music teacher, Brenda Voss as the history teacher, Lori Jensen as the principal, Caria Berg as the English teacher, Michelle Brockmoller as the gym teacher, Jeff Warnemunde as Dr. Van, Chuck Manis as Mr. Arifur, Robyn Winch is Florence Ware and Curtis Carsten is Dr. Sullivan.

German Brothers Visit Liedmans

Farmlife Called 'Lonesome'

CARROLL — Everything is relative.

While inflation in the United States continues to spiral, it still has a ways to go before it catches up with countries like Germany.

People in Germany are paying $3.50 for a pound of beef from a super market and $1.81 per gallon for gas. On the other side of the coin is $7 per bushel wheat and $6.50 per bushel oats and barley.

All this was brought out in a conversation with Paul Adolf, Martin and Gerhart Meyer, all of Bundel, Germany, Providence of Westfalen. They left Tuesday after a 17-day visit with their uncle Fred Liedman and his wife and son, Don, who farm 2 1/4 miles west of Carroll.

The visitors, whose ages range from 38 to 45 years, are married and have families. They are the children of Mr. Liedman's sister. This was the first time they had seen their uncle.

Paul and Adolf are farmers. Paul farms 25 acres and Adolf farms 50 acres. Agricultural land sells for approximately $8,000 an acre.

They have dairy cattle and hogs and raise wheat, oats, barley and corn. The per-acre average is 100 bushels. However, the two reported the last year was dry and the crops didn't yield the 100 bushels. But they said this was an exception to the normal conditions.

Corn, they said, is used for silage as the weather is too cool and damp for maturity.

Gerhart is a foreman for the General Motors Corporation and Martin is a mail carrier. He has a rural route, 18 miles long with 400 patrons. He must take the mail to the door of each home, he said. He drives a mail truck that is provided by the postal department.

The Carroll area is a vast departure from what the men are accustomed to. They said the rural people in Germany live so close together as neighbors they considered the Carroll area to be quiet and even lonesome.

The Liedmans took their guests to Western Nebraska and parts of South Dakota to show them ranch country and how sparsely populated an area it is.

Fred Liedman came to the United States nearly 50 years ago because there were no opportunities for jobs there at the time. He stated Germany now is really an industrial country, being very similar to the United States. He has returned to his native country only once since coming to the Carroll area.

Don has visited relatives in Germany twice in recent years. He said four German Marks in 1967 was equivalent to $1 in U.S. currency. Now two Marks equal a dollar.

Five Attend

Cancer Meeting

Five members of the Wayne County Unit of the American Cancer Society attended the Nebraska kick-off meeting held Saturday at the New Tower Motel in Omaha.

Those attending were Mrs. Niel Sandahl, Mrs. Rudy Lange, Mrs. Lou Luff, Mrs. Kenneth Edmonds and Mrs. Lester Hansen.

One of the speakers was Dr. Henry Lemon, M.D., Omaha, who told about the many advancements in research and some of promising progress in treatment. He said the Pap Test has reduced deaths to the point where cancer of the cervix is not a major problem.

G. Robert Gadberrry, a national officer of the Cancer Society from Kansas, told the group that the United States last year spent four times as much for bumper stickers as it did for cancer programs for research, education and service.

The Nebraska goal this year is $40,550. Wayne County's share of the state goal is $4,225, the annual Cancer Crusade in Wayne County is now underway.

Option Set

For Set-Aside

Producers on farms that grew barley, corn or grain sorghum in 1977 now have the option for voluntary diversion for payment. Alden Johnson, Chairman Wayne County ASC Committee, announced.

The producers can qualify for payment if they set aside an additional 10 percent of their 1978 planted acreage. This set aside is in addition to the minimum set aside of 10 percent. To qualify for the payment the producer will be restricted to planting no more acreage to the feed grain that was planted in 1977, Johnson explained.

The payment will be .20 cents for corn and .12 cents for barley and grain sorghum times the farm established yield and times the actual acreage of the feed grain planted for harvest in 1978.

Johnson advised that additional information can be obtained from the ASCS office.

Wildcats Take Pair
From Bellevue Nine

Wayne State opened the 1978 baseball season by sweeping a doubleheader over Bellevue College Saturday, 7-3 and 6-5 at Wayne.

The Wildcats were led by the Dutch bailing of center fielder Kevin Mahberg, who had three hits and four runs batted in for the day.

Wayne jumped to a 4-1 lead after an inning. With one out, Tony Pisciola walked to set up the first run. After Steve Klein-Smith filed out for the second out, Lyle Smith was hit by a pitch and Bernie Minarik reached base on an error. Mahberg then singled in one run and another scored on a Bellevue error. Dewey Edgar punched home two more scores with a single.

Coach Ron Jones' team put the contest out of reach with two runs in the fourth. Smith walked and Minarik reached base on another error. Smith scored on a wild pitch and Minarik raced home from third on a sacrifice fly by Mahberg.

Mark Larson was the winning pitcher for Wayne. He came in after starter Rod Hegge was struck by a line drive in the first inning. Wayne State's mound corps allowed only six hits while walking two and fanning four.

Mahberg fueled Wayne's comeback in the second game, facing a two-run deficit in the third inning after Bellevue had taken a 2-0 lead.

The Wildcats added another run in that inning and scored three times in the fifth. Pisciola led off the stanza with a single and Minarik walked. Singles by Klein-Smith and Mahberg sandwiched around a two-base hit by Smith produced the tallies.

Bellevue came back with two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh before Wildcat reliever Doug Carroll of Wayne rescued starter Edgar and nelled down the final out with the winning run at first base.

Edgar yielded 10 hits in six and two-thirds innings while walking five and whiffing four.

Wayne State women split a twin-bill in softball action with UNO Saturday at Wayne, winning the first game, 5-2 and losing the nightcap, 10-4.

The Wildkittens, 3-7 on the season, came from behind in the last of the eighth inning after the Mavericks had taken a 2-1 lead. Peg Yockey reached base on an error and singles by Kim Abbott and Robin Walsh loaded the bases with one out. First baseman Donna Lueders hit a grand slam homer to give Wayne the win.

Wayne scored an earlier run in the third inning when Vicki Carsey doubled home Marla Clites who reached base on an error.

Lynne Larson (2-1) was the winning pitcher, scattering six hits, walking two and striking out eight.

It was all UNO in the second game, however, as the Mavericks bombarded Wayne hurler Pat Lenihan (0-3) for 12 hits en route to the shutout win. Lenihan walked two and had no strikeouts.

Wayne mustered only two hits for the contest.

"I was very encouraged by our play," said Wayne State coach Sue Kovar. "We've split with both UNO and Nebraska. See WILDKITTENS, page 155

Wakefield, Pender to Defend Titles

Defending champions Wakefield and Pender will head a list of 14 girls and boys high school track teams today (Thursday) when they invade Wayne State's oval for the running of the fourth annual Wakefield Invitational.

Pender and Emerson-Hubbard are expected to be in the thick of the race for the boys' title and Wakefield, Pender and Hartington are picked to battle it out for first in the girls division.

The Trojanettes of coach Ernie Kovar have an extra incentive, though — to win their fourth straight title.

Field events start at 9 a.m. with the running events to follow at 10. Finals are scheduled to begin about 1:30 p.m.

Other teams in the meet are Allen, Laurel, Leigh, Newcastle, Norfolk Catholic, Ponca, Stanton, Winside and Wynot.

3 Teams Drop from NNBL

Overin Will Manage Wayne Town Team

After a three-year absence as manager of the Wayne town team, Hank Overin is back at it again.

Overin Tuesday told the town team board he would manage the club this year provided he had an assistant. And that assistant, according to unconfirmed reports, will be former player Terry Lutt.

Overin hasn't set starting dates for practice, but did point out that they will be held on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. The head man said he plans to have a lot of inter-squad games in order that players as well as himself can evaluate the best 15 players for the season.

Overin pointed out that the team will be made up almost entirely of local players, except at shortstop and perhaps on the mound.

"We have several people who can play shortstop, but no one right now who has the arm to throw the ball the distance," Overin said.

The age limit for playing on this year's club is 19 to 25. Players over that limit who played last year are welcomed to return for tryouts, Overin emphasized.

Wayne will remain in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League, despite the loss of three clubs from the eight-team loop. Dropping from the league are Allen-Martinsburg, Pender-Bancroft and Dakota City.

League president and secretary Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield said following a league meeting Sunday that both Allen and Dakota City decided to drop because they couldn't find field managers this year.

Pender made the switch from the NNBL to the Dodge County loop.

Other teams remaining in the NEBL league are Homer, New Castle, Ponca and Wakefield. There is a possibility that Hartington may quit the South Dakota league to opt for the NNBL, Olson said.

The league president also learned that an Onawa, Ia. town team has expressed interest in joining the NNBL. League officials hope to make a decision on that possible entry next week.

Emry Grabs 2 Placings to Lead WH

Junior Brad Emry finished second in the triple jump and third in the long jump Friday to lead Wayne High track team to eighth place in the 13-team Plainview Invitational.

Atkinson-West Hill won with 115 points followed by Pierce with 89, Emerson-Hubbard with 58, Crofton with 56, Wisner-Pilger with 55, Randolph with 43 1/2, Pender with 40, Wayne with 20, O'Neill with 16, West Point with 10 1/2, Ainsworth, Plainview and Creighton with 8 each.

Emry leaped 42-6 1/2 in the triple jump to finish behind winner Dan Billerbeck of Randolph, who went 44-8. In the long jump, the junior went 20 1/2.

Three Wayne entries grabbed fifth place finishes to also score for coach Al Hansen's cindermen. Dave Hamm was fifth in the two mile run with a time of 10:52.8. In the 2 mile relay the foursome of Jeff Backstrom, Tod Heier, Mike Lutt and Hamm were clocked in 9:01.6. And in the mile relay the quartet of Rick Johnson, Backstrom, Heier and Emry finished in 3:46.8.

A Wayne State student from O'Neill, Bob Miller, helped the Wayne Country Club open the 1978 season in grand fashion Saturday by sinking a hole-in-one.

The 21-year-old golfer used a five iron on the 147-yard par three No. three hole.

Two Titles Decided in City Loops

Two of the three titles in men's city recreation basketball leagues were settled last week.

In B league, Team 5 claimed the playoff title at the city auditorium Tuesday night with a come-from-behind 54-49 decision over Team 3, and in C league season winner Team 1 rolled to a 66-53 victory over Team 4.

Mark Fleer piloted the B winners with a 16-point second half when the winners overcame a five point halftime deficit. 30-25. Fleer sank four baskets and converted three of four free throws in the third period to help tie the match at 49-all going into the fourth frame.

Hot-shooting John Dorcey, who has been the mainstay for Team 1 in C league play, poured in 25 points in a convincing victory Wednesday night.

Dorcey ignited for 11 points in the first period to put his club in front 19-12 and played consistent ball throughout the remainder of the game.

Team 4 had three players in double figures, but ran into a cold third quarter where the losers managed only eight points.

Leading Team 4 were Don Sherman with 18, Darrell Doeschler with 14 and Jerry Dorcey with 10.

Results:

B League: Team 5 — Mark Fleer 24, Mike Lofte 12, Roger Langenberg 8, Mic Daehnke 8, Tom Hagmann 2; Team 3 — Bill Schwartz 16, Larry Lessman 14, Fritz Weible 8, Lynn Creighton 7, Al Avery, 4.

C League: Team 1 — John Dorcey 25, Dick Dilman 14, Grant Ellingson 8, Wayne Wesel 7, Rod Varitek 5, Bill Dickey 4, Kern Swartz 3; Team 4 — Don Sherman 18, Darrell Doeschler 14, Jerry Dorcey 10, Randy Shaw 8, Hank Overlin 3.

52 Report Monday to Grid Camp

Spring football practice got underway at Wayne State Monday with 52 grid hopefuls trying out for a position on the team.

The Wildcats have approximately 30 letterman back plus a number of newcomers and about 75 fans.

The first two days of drills consisted mostly of basic conditioning and fundamental work-outs. The team did not have a contact practice until today (Thursday) when players will don pads.

"The spring workouts will be similar to our normal practice sessions during the season," said head coach Del Stoltenberg. "We will practice each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from now until April 28."

Stoltenberg said spring practice turnout has been larger than usual this year because of the success of the Wildcat football program in 1977. Wayne State finished the 1977 season with a 7-3 record and took second place in the Central States Conference after forfeiting a game. The school is scheduled to play at Wakefield Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from now until April 28.

Stoltenberg said the major purpose of the spring drills is to evaluate new people. "We'll find out what position they're suited for," he said. "We will probably ask some of our other people to try a new position to help strengthen the team and give them more playing time."

Stoltenberg also used the first two days of practice to experiment with some new offensive and defensive wrinkles. In particular, Wayne has been working with the veer offense.

As a team, Wayne finished third with 55 points, right behind winner Randolph with 110 and Crofton with 82.

Wildcat Netters Post Second Win

Wayne State men's tennis team won its second straight outing Monday, defeating Morningside's Bruce Cook, 6-4, 6-7, 5-7.

Wayne chalked up its first win Friday over Yankton in a whitewash, 9-0.

It was an easy day for coach Wes Fritz's Wildcats as Yankton failed to win a match. In fact, the hosts scored over one point only twice in 18 games and were shutout in 11 games.

Mosley Named News' Top 12

Wayne High senior cager Sydney Mosley was honored by the Norfolk Daily News as one of the Top Twelve players in Northeast Nebraska.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Mosley of Wayne was the Blue Devils leading scorer throughout the 1977-78 campaign.

Two other Wayne cagers plus two area girls received honorable mention in the Norfolk paper. They were Wayne juniors Lesa Barclay and Peg Pinkelman and seniors Cheryl Abts of Laurel and Paula Hoemann of Winside.

Backstop / Bob Bartlett

PAULA CHASE probably realizes that there are a lot of good gal runners in the state and the nation. And to be sure, there are the excellent runners, the kind who rate Olympic caliber.

Although the Laurel High sophomore doesn't rate herself with any of the above, she knows that to rank anywhere near the best it takes one ingredient — determination.

Chase displayed that determination last week at the Laurel-Concord Relays by winning three events and helping the Bears relay team earn another first to finish fourth in a talent-laden meet.

The Laurel lass isn't one however who goes around seeking praise. As might be expected, she's shy when it comes to having her picture taken or talking of her accomplishments.

Instead she gives credit to her team and coach Everett Jensen for the wins Laurel produced.

She also pointed out that her running companion, Clark Maxon, had a lot to do with her performances. Ever since she was in junior high, she and Maxon would pace each other running. Although she seldom came close to winning the dual races, Paula noted that her continuous running helped her to improve and become the winner she has.

Jensen went on to add that Paula's participation in other girls sports has done a lot to condition her for spring track.

Chase won the long jump, 100 and 400, then anchored the winning 800 meter relay team as the Bears finished with 40 points.

Still, she maintains, credit has to go to those who helped her.

ALTHOUGH AN outbreak of CEM (contagious equine metritis) in the race horse world seems remote in Nebraska, the disease does have an indirect tie to Wayne.

Dr. Tom Swerczek of the University of Kentucky's veterinary science department, who discovered the disease, is a first cousin to Wayne vet Dr. David Swerczek.

The tie was discovered after reading recent issues of Sports Illustrated which quoted the Kentucky vet on the outbreak.

According to Dave, there is no evidence of CEM in Nebraska and he doesn't expect there will be in the future. The problem mainly lies in the eastern states where breeding thoroughbred race horses is a way of life.

LONG SPEECHES are best left for graduations and banquets, so I'll make this one short. Thanks to the area coaches who made my job of reporting so interesting. And thanks to Northeast Nebraska for producing some of the premier athletes who make the sports world a pleasure to be a part of.

This is the last Backstop column before I take on my new job in Omaha.

WS Gals Capture Grovert Relays; Take 5 Firsts

The Wayne State women's track team continued its fine season by winning the women's division of the Red Grovert Relays at Fairbury, Friday.

Wayne piled up 85 points and captured first place in five events. Second place went to Cloud County (Kansas) Junior College with 61 points. Other team scores saw Hutchinson (Kan.) Junior College with 59, Highland (Kan.) Junior College 30, Peru State 27, Hastings 20, Chadron State 18, Plattie 14, SE-Fairbury 13, Marymount 8, Haskell 5, Nebraska Wesleyan 0, Dana 0.

Wayne State's 880 yard relay team (Kim Krutz, Linda Knievel, Deb Folsom, Sally Schwede) captured first place with a 1:51.8 clocking.

Other top spots for coach Linda Teack's girls went to Lana Buckles in the triple jump (32.2), mile medley relay team (Folsom, Schwede, Dianne Ogden, Lori Erwin) 4:37.8, and mile relay team (Folsom, Schwede, Ogden, Judy Martin) 4:19.7.

Match Stopped

No date has been set for rescheduling the Wakefield-Hartington golf match originally set for Monday.

Trojan golf coach Lyle Trullinger said the meet had to be postponed because the Wakefield golf course wasn't open.

Increase in Exports

Nebraska food processing and beef industries are expected to increase exports to Japan during the next few years, according to Martin Hirabayashi, former chief international economist on Japanese affairs for the U.S. Department of State.

"I think Nebraska should be thinking of exports to Japan in a very positive way," he said at Wayne State College Wednesday. "As a food market it is going to become more and more important and I think people in Nebraska especially must watch for it."

In a speech entitled "The Japanese Economy and the American Connection," before an audience of WSC students, Hirabayashi said even though Japan's economy has realized a growth rate of about 10 percent annually for the past 15 years, Japanese agricultural production has decreased, creating a good market for imported goods. He said about 50 percent of the Japanese work force was producing agricultural products in 1945, compared with about twelve and one-half percent today.

He said U.S. agricultural products, which make up about 40 percent of the U.S. trade with Japan, enjoyed a surplus last year, despite a U.S.-Japan trade deficit of over $3 billion. "Japan is a tremendous market in size in the sense we can sell agricultural products there," he said. "We are selling about $200 million in beef each year alone. He added that Japan's beef import quotas have been tripled, making an even better market for Nebraska's products."

Hirabayashi was at WSC as part of the college's Public Affairs Institute Program that brings speakers on current affairs to campus. He traced the development of the Japanese economy from 1945 to the present. Hirabayashi said a major reason for the quick recovery and success of Japan following World War II was U.S. aid. Over 13,228 U.S. technological agreements valued at over two billion dollars were signed with Japan before 1969. Hirabayashi said that figure has probably doubled within the past seven years.

"We signed a number of technological agreements to help them get started," he said. "We also helped them with short-term and long-term loans." He added that the U.S. also helped Japan become a member of the major international trade organizations, paving the way for industrial growth.

Though the Japanese economy has grown 10 percent a year, Hirabayashi said it is suffering "growing pains" much like any industrialized nation. He said the Japanese people are questioning the direction of the country, which could cause a slowed growth rate in future years.

"They face the question of how do we respond to our citizens who say you are spoiling the environment," he said. "People of large have more developed a feeling of unrest; a feeling of the government is not doing enough."

MARTIN HIRABAYASHI, former chief international economist on Japanese affairs, spoke "The Japanese Economy and the American Connection" Wednesday at Wayne State College.

NEW ALFALFA
Baker is a new alfalfa variety that is winter hard with long persistence. It has high resistance to pea aphids and bacterial wilt. It has moderate resistance to downy mildew and potato leafhopper yellowing and low resistance to anthracnose. Baker is similar to Vernal in its fall growth habit and rate of recovery after cutting. Flemish type alfalfa varieties recover faster after cutting than does Baker, but do not necessarily yield more total tonnage per year. Certified Baker seed should be available for 1978 planting.

CONTROLLING SPARROWS
English sparrows can be controlled by shooting, poisoning, trapping, or scaring. Shooting with low-powered guns is selective and will reduce infestations if persistently used.

Grain poisoned with strychnine is registered by the EPA for English sparrow control. If poisoned grain is used, prebait for several days in areas close to buildings to reduce hazard to beneficial birds and other wildlife. Poisoned grain should be distributed only after the English sparrows readily consume to prebait. Do not use the poisoned grain if non-target birds or mammals are using the area.

Dead animals and remaining poisoned bait should be picked up and destroyed when the desired control has been obtained. The use of poisoned grain is hazardous and should only be used by trained personnel.

Potential problems with English sparrows can be greatly reduced by destroying nests and eggs at two week intervals during the spring and summer and by keeping entrances to buildings on implement sheds closed. The elimination of nesting and roosting sites is the best permanent solution to the problem.

PASTURE MANAGEMENT
It's time to start thinking about pastures and pasture management. In a very dry year, such as 1976, the use of fertilization and rotational grazing doubled the amount of beef produced per acre from bromegrass pastures. These practices do not increase average daily gains. They do allow the farmer to increase the carrying capacity. The application of 40-80-0 N with 20-0. P205 per acre each spring will be an economical application for bromegrass pastures. Early spring application of fertilizer is ideal for bromegrass.

Bergland Cites Realities

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
By M.M. Van Kirk
Director of Information

Recently U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland called upon the nation's farmers and ranchers to live in reality. He gave the 1977 Agriculture Act a chance to operate and prove whether or not it can improve farm income. He listed a number of those realities that make sense regardless of one's particular political persuasion.

Following are some excerpts from that address: "Of course the present program isn't everything that every farmer wants. Can you tell me anyone — or point to any one organization — that can come up with a program that can completely satisfy every one of some 2½ million farmers we have today? Can anyone come up with a program that can meet the needs of 400 different commodities?"

"Can anyone outline a program that would completely restructure our whole farm marketing system without, at the same time, completely destroying farmer independence?"

"Can anyone create a farm program that would take all the risks out of the weather? After all, weather here at home and worldwide has more direct effect on prices than all the government policies in this world laid end to end."

"Now, if you arbitrarily set the prices of all farm commodities at some magic figure called parity, we are faced with some hard problems — none of them attractive or feasible. It would require a mandatory slash in production of wheat and feed grains — not voluntary, mind you, but by government fiat. It would require the greatest and most restrictive production controls that farmers have ever experienced. It would require a restructuring of our marketing system — creating the most monstrous bureaucracy."

"There is nothing in the history of farm family agriculture that would indicate farmers would accept this sort of regimentation without being guaranteed adequate payments for land taken out of production. The government cost of financing such a program would be staggering and taxpayers wouldn't stand for it. Previous programs to pay farmers for not producing caused a wave of public resentment. And new and more costly attempts to revive the program would be most difficult to get through Congress."

"Furthermore, such a program would dangerously imperil our reputation in foreign markets as dependable suppliers. We would become non-competitor in the export market. We could be put in a position where our reserves were inadequate to meet domestic and worldwide demands in periods of production shortfalls — which are inevitable."

"And finally, arbitrarily pegging commodity prices too high would invite a new wave of farm speculation that would drive land prices up another 12 to 15 percent above current record levels. Such an increase would again have to be reflected in the artificial commodity price structure, thus perpetuating the costly cycle. Furthermore, another sharp increase in farm land prices would virtually foreclose forever any chance for young family farmers to enter agriculture or to develop ad-quate farm land resources. That point has already been reached for many farmers."

The Carter Administration and Secretary Bergland have made many adjustments allowable under provisions of the 1977 Act in matters of target and loan rates, credit extension, increases in the P.L. 480 Food for Peace Program, increased efforts to expand exports and reduce trade barriers against U.S. products.

Bergland's request of farmers to give the law a chance to work is realistic. There are no instant solutions to this nation's crime problem, drug problem, inflation problem or any other problem. Now could we think that an instant solution to its farm problem?

NEW ALFALFA
Baker is a new alfalfa variety that is winter hard with long persistence. It has high resistance to pea aphids and bacterial wilt. It has moderate resistance to downy mildew and potato leafhopper yellowing and low resistance to anthracnose. Baker is similar to Vernal in its fall growth habit and rate of recovery after cutting. Flemish type alfalfa varieties recover faster after cutting than does Baker, but do not necessarily yield more total tonnage per year. Certified Baker seed should be available for 1978 planting.

CONTROLLING SPARROWS
English sparrows can be controlled by shooting, poisoning, trapping, or scaring. Shooting with low-powered guns is selective and will reduce infestations if persistently used.

Grain poisoned with strychnine is registered by the EPA for English sparrow control. If poisoned grain is used, prebait for several days in areas close to buildings to reduce hazard to beneficial birds and other wildlife. Poisoned grain should be distributed only after the English sparrows readily consume to prebait. Do not use the poisoned grain if non-target birds or mammals are using the area.

Dead animals and remaining poisoned bait should be picked up and destroyed when the desired control has been obtained. The use of poisoned grain is hazardous and should only be used by trained personnel.

Potential problems with English sparrows can be greatly reduced by destroying nests and eggs at two week intervals during the spring and summer and by keeping entrances to buildings on implement sheds closed. The elimination of nesting and roosting sites is the best permanent solution to the problem.

PASTURE MANAGEMENT
It's time to start thinking about pastures and pasture management. In a very dry year, such as 1976, the use of fertilization and rotational grazing doubled the amount of beef produced per acre from bromegrass pastures. These practices do not increase average daily gains. They do allow the farmer to increase the carrying capacity. The application of 40-80-0 N with 20-0. P205 per acre each spring will be an economical application for bromegrass pastures. Early spring application of fertilizer is ideal for bromegrass.

LINCOLN — Nebraska's lawmakers returned from a brief Easter recess confronted by a pile of work and issues of major importance. But they didn't hang around long — one day to be exact.

After spending most of the day debating a resolution requesting a national constitutional convention on an anti-abortion amendment, a motion to adjourn until April 4, meet for two days and then adjourn again until May 15 carried on a 30-15 ballot.

As the official reason for their abrupt action, the senators said they needed time for assessment of flood damage by a special legislative committee.

But it was the bill to allow Omaha to increase its 1 percent sales tax to 1.5 percent that obviously factored strongly in the surprise maneuver.

What supporters of that measure were seeking was time to drum up the 30 votes needed to override Gov. J. James Exon's veto of the legislation. They admitted they didn't have enough votes the day they returned from the Easter recess and had to hatch up a scheme that would afford them a longer period to argue their case with reluctant colleagues.

Exon criticized the senators who favored the interruption in the session because they wanted to block an immediate vote on the Omaha sales tax issue. He said it appeared there were enough votes for an override.

But he noted Wednesday, March 29, was the final day for getting the issue on the Omaha primary election ballot, if the City Council wished to place the issue before their constituents. Exon had argued Omahans should not be denied a vote on the matter.

The governor also said the Legislature had reached a point of "complete disarray" in which the legislative process was breaking down and the trading of votes had reached the "rampant" stage.

He claimed his office had just about completed its flood damage estimates and there was no reason for the Legislature to gather the information on its own.

Another of several reasons some legislative observers said prompted the work interruption was the desire of some legislators to enhance their chances at the polls in the May 9 primary election in which about half the senators will be seeking re-election or higher office.

By delaying their return to work until May 15, the lawmakers would not use up the five legislative days permitted for veto override attempts until after the primary.

Sen. Glenn Goodrich, who led much of the effort to get the Omaha sales tax bill passed, said the veto caused a dropoff of seven votes that had been firm for the legislation.

Goodrich reasoned postponing the override (try until) after the primary election might make it easier for some of his colleagues to ballot for the override.

Whether the senators would stick to their decision to take the April 4 to May 15 recess was questioned by some in the Legislature.

The lawmakers voted 26-9 final approval to a bill aimed at trimming high products liability insurance rates for manufacturers.

Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh, chairman of the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee that sponsored the legislation, said it is the best products liability measure in the nation and that he was sure other states would enact similar laws.

Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha, who fought the bill every step of the way, tried to kill it just before the final vote was taken.

The legislation includes a four year statute of limitation that would prohibit lawsuits after that period because of an allegedly defective product. Also in the bill is a statute of repose that would limit lawsuits for any reason to 10 years after a product had been made.

Under "state of the art" language, the state-of-the-manufacturing-art-at-the-time a product was made would be the standard for defense in court action.

The bill also provides that contributory negligence on the part of product users could be taken into account. It also requires detailed reporting of Nebraska's experience in products liability claims.

Bereaver of Ulica, said the language of the bill was vague and could be "difficult to defend on constitutional grounds."

Under the measure, it would be a felony for aliens or corporations with aliens as stockholders to either buy or finance the buying of Nebraska farm land.

Assistant Attorney General Robert F. Barile questioned whether such provisions could withstand an attack in court.

The bill is sponsored by the Agriculture and Environment Committee and was considered a compromise to another measure that would outlaw so-called corporation farming.

Increases Budget Request
Gov. J. James Exon has upped his request for mental-retardation services to speed the transfer of Beatrice State Developmental Center residents into community programs.

He suggested a budget increase of $238,000 this fiscal year to provide openings in community programs for an additional 58 residents from Beatrice and another $378,000 to help maintain them in community programs next fiscal year.

The 58 residents would be in addition to more than 100 already stated for community placement.

Implementation of his recommendation would have a "dramatic effect" on the ability of the Beatrice facility to meet federal certification standards by the deadline of July this year, the governor said.

His proposal, he added, would also have the effect of making more money available for further movement of Beatrice residents in fiscal 1978-79.

It is possible to anticipate a decrease in the population of the facility at Beatrice to about 750 by the end of the next fiscal year, Exon said.

"My recommendations would target funds to specific objectives based on written agreements, and would reward actual performance in meeting those agreed upon objectives," the governor said in a message to the Legislature.

OBSERVATIONS

The best medicine

We read with casual interest about a national Midwest "Laugh Contest" to be held in Omaha.

While you may smile at such a contest, we feel it has merit. "Laugh and the whole world laughs with you." With the many overtones of a sagging economy, inflation newly perfect missiles by the Russians, it is sometimes difficult to see the bright side.

Laughter is a sign of well being and happiness. Perhaps the most sincere sound of happiness is the laughter of children. They laugh because they are happy, or they are amused. They very seldom laugh for the sake of laughter.

We know it is difficult to turn a frown into a smile. When things aren't going exactly right and we get down in the dumps, it is hard to say, "Hey...things aren't really so bad." But the so-called silver lining shows up best on the darkest clouds.

Laughter is contagious. We read where a woman who is able to laugh at will and is paid $100 per night on a talk show to help out a struggling comic. Funny or not, she breaks out with a robust laugh and it soon spreads to the entire audience. Sure, this is contrived laughter but even at that, it serves to help people forget their troubles and have a chuckle or two.

Psychiatrists and psychologists have spent endless hours of research to find out the key to laughter. They are confronted with persons in deep depression and they are unable to make them see the bright side. Yet, they know laughter is the best medicine.

The ability to laugh is a state of mind. Probably the one most important thing we can do to help us keep a smile on our face is to not take ourselves too seriously. The same goes for situations. If we can just step back and take a long look at life, we will find there are many common, everyday happenings which could at least illicit a chuckle if we would let them.

Whatever it is that makes us laugh, we are all for it. Life is much too short to waste it with a frown on our face. And just think, if we're happy there's a good chance we will make others happy. And that is what life is all about. — Chuck Barnes.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1766.

Keeping it simple

President, Chamber of Commerce of the United States

WASHINGTON — Today's quiz: Interpret the following sentence. "For purposes of paragraph (3), an organization described in paragraph (2) shall be deemed to include an organization described in section 501(c) (4), (5) or (6) which would be described in paragraph (2) if it were an organization described in section 501(c) (3)."

That's a sample of the federal tax code. It's also an example of the kind of language President Carter has sworn to purge from the agencies under his command.

The President has issued an executive order requiring many federal departments and bureaus to speak — and write — comprehensible English.

Not only must the regulations they issue be "as simple and clear as possible," but also agency heads must certify that new rules are needed, that they are the most efficient method of achieving the desired end, and that the public has been consulted in the drafting process.

Better still, if the proposed regulation will have a substantial financial impact on the national economy generally or on one industry in particular, then the agency concerned must prepare an analysis of that effect.

In issuing these orders, the President is recognizing an important trend that extends beyond the federal government. Private industry, too, has been revising its encrusted legal jargon to improve communication with customers. Many insurance policies, loan agreements, and warranties are being rewritten in plain English.

The significance of this trend can scarcely be overestimated. When the language of important documents is obscure, laymen must hire experts to interpret their obligations for them. Then the experts have to go to court for interpretations of the interpretation. It all adds to the process of regulatory drag that is estimated to cost the economy upwards of $65 billion a year.

Lawyers argue — with some justification — that there is an established precision to legal terminology which is lacking in informal English. But there are at least two ways around the problem. One is to push the informal language through initial court tests until it can be established that something means what it says. Another is to use a dual system of contracts, etc., in which a plain-English text is accompanied by a text in compliance with all prevailing legal technicalities.

One way or the other, a government that functions largely by the voluntary compliance of the governed can scarcely afford to do less.

I salute the President in his determination, and I wish him every success. The federal bureaucracy is quite capable of killing such reform proposals by destructive foot-dragging. Happily, though, there are signs that many of the regulators themselves understand the need for change.

Now if Congress would get on the bandwagon too, we could all burn our legal dictionaries. President Carter's initial order covered all federal agencies, including the "independent" regulatory agencies that Congress considers its own. Influential congressmen, properly jealous of their prerogatives, reminded the President that his writ doesn't run in congressional territory.

OK. Three cheers for the separation of powers. But, "congressional territory" covers many of the alphabet-soup agencies that are an important source of public frustration. So, it seems to me that if Congress wants to block an extension of much-needed reforms by the Executive, it assumes the clear responsibility to put its own house in equal order.

We would all be well-advised to keep in mind James Madison's admonition: "It will be of little avail to the people that the laws are made by men of their own choice if the laws be so voluminous that they cannot be read, or so incoherent that they cannot be understood; if they be repealed or revised before they are promulgated, or undergo such incessant changes that no man who knows what the law is today, can guess what it will be like tomorrow."

Good relationship

Dear Editor:
Last fall the Eta Pi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, a professional business fraternity at Wayne State, donated money to the Chamber of Commerce to purchase the first tree for Wayne's downtown improvement. Since then, other organizations have also assisted the improvement committee.

Members of Delta Sigma Pi feel privileged to have businessmen nearby who are interested in students and who are eager to help us in preparing for the business world. The area businessmen have done much to help support our chapter, as well as the college. We encourage other organizations to show appreciation toward the businessmen's efforts to beautify the local retail trade area.

Thank you. — Randy Pinkelman, President Eta Pi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

Contest continues

Dear Editor:
In the article concerning County Government Day, Thursday, March 30, it was stated that the students were invited to take part in The American Legion Oratorical Contest which is being revived after being dropped for several years. This is incorrect. This contest has never been dropped. It has been in existence since 1928 and a District and Department contest has been held every year since then. Every state participates in this except Ohio.

The American Legion Oratorical Contest is a very educational and worthwhile contest for the youth of America. Since 1928 The American Legion has awarded $34,000 actual grants in the form of U.S. Savings Bonds and scholarships to competing youth. Our District 3 winner last year received a total of $375 and this year's winner received $75. (This amount varies depending on placing in the Department contest.)

Thank you for correcting this error. — Harlan Van Winkle, District 3 Oratorical Chairman.

Constructive Criticism.

In 1833, people thought the idea of a "balloon frame" house was full of hot air. Back then, houses were built with massive beams by skilled craftsmen. But Augustus Deodad Taylor had a new idea. Just build a cage-like frame of two-by-fours and nail the siding and roof right to it.

"A house like that would be picked up and blown away by the prairie winds like a toy balloon," the critics cried.

Not so. For it turned out the "balloon frame" house was even stronger than conventional models.

Taylor's new idea made quick and easy settlement of the West a reality. And helped build a strong, new country.

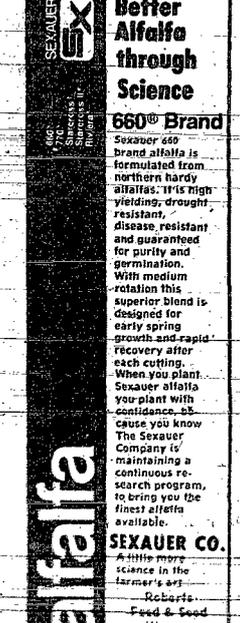

Today, the building goes on, thanks to over 9 1/2 million Americans buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

They know while they're looking out for their future, they're looking out for America's future, too.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. When it comes to saving, they're mighty constructive.

Conference Probes Sex and Curriculum

Sex roles and the Wayne State College curriculum will be examined Tuesday, April 4, at a WSC Affirmative Action Committee conference.

Guest speaker Pat Knaub of the University of Nebraska, Family and Human Development Center will begin the conference with a preliminary address at 10 a.m. in Ramsey Theater. Five discussion groups will then deal with subjects selected from Knaub's speech.

Discussion leaders will include Glorie Lessman, public relations director for Northeast Technical Community College; Emille Berkenpas, director of counseling for WSC; Sharon Thomas of the WSC social science department; Kathy Conway, a coaquator at the Wakefield High School and Eleanor Fuhrman, elementary librarian at the Norfolk Public Schools.

An afternoon panel will meet at 2 p.m. in the North Dining Room of the WSC Student Center. Panelists will include Joanne Wadlow, assistant dean of the school of arts and sciences; UNL; Pat Knaub of UNL; Dr. Linda Hargrave, WSC dean of students and Donna Nelson, WSC student. Others will include Anne Peterson, WSC television reporter and David Herzog, an Omaha attorney. The panel will be moderated by WSC English instructor Ruby Federsen.

Pedersen said the event is designed to evaluate WSC's offerings for today's women.

"We will examine whether or not the curriculum on the Wayne State campus fits new roles for women in 1978," she said. "Are we preparing our women for what they are to be expected to know for the kinds of jobs they have access to?"

Pedersen said the program, open to the general public, should be of value to both men and women.

"I would hope that all students, both men and women, would be interested in attending," she said. "We have some excellent people participating and there should be something for everyone."

Registration for the event begins at 9:15 a.m. in Ramsey Theatre of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building.

Modern Misses
The Modern Misses 4-H Club met March 14 in the home of Patti and Kelly Cole. There were seven members and four mothers present.

The next meeting will be April 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Karen and Carmen Reeg. Dawn Carstens, news reporter.

were determined by using the same components of production costs as used in formulating the corn and wheat targets.

Commodity loans from the U.S. Department of Agriculture give producers an opportunity to obtain cash while holding their crops for later sale. The target price protects producers from abnormally low market prices for the crops.

To be eligible for 1978 crop loans and feed grain loans and target price protection, Wayne area farmers need to participate in the 1978 set-aside programs and comply with all set-aside and normal crop acreage requirements.

only for construction of new facilities for high-moisture grain silage and dry grain.

Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said the action will be of particular benefit to dairymen and livestock producers who need storage for grass silage and to grain producers with storage facilities that need modification and remodeling to increase capacity and efficiency.

In general, provisions for current farm facility loans will apply to the new loans and borrowers must provide security adequate to protect CCC's interest.

During the past year, farm facility loan provisions have been broadened and liberalized to help achieve the goals of the price support and farmer-owned grain reserve programs. Eligible producers may borrow up to 85 percent of the cost of buying and installing storage facilities and drying equipment, including concrete and wiring costs. The loan limit for this use was increased last year to $50,000 from $25,000.

Other changes made in the past year allowed storage needs to be based on two years' production rather than one; permitted storage capacity used for the grain reserve program to be excluded in determining need; reduced down payments required of farmers from 30 percent to 15 percent; reduced interest rates on loans from 7.5 percent to 7 percent and lengthened the repayment period of new loans from five to eight years.

As a result, Fitzgerald said, loan activity has greatly increased. During 1977, 53,565 loans were made totaling $412.3 million bushels. During 1976, 10,816 loans were made, totaling $55.6 million, for storage capacity of 79.1 million bushels.

Additional information about the farm facility loan program and its eligibility requirements may be obtained from the Wayne County ASCS office.

Wayne State Choir Receives Silver Rating

The Wayne State College 58-member Concert Choir won an "excellent" rating and a silver medal for their performance at the Inter-Collegiate Choral Festival in Mexico City, Mexico, held March 22-27.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Cornell Runestad, was one of five college choirs from throughout the United States to participate in the event. Though gold medals are the highest award annually at the festival, the silver medal was the highest award presented this year. Only one gold medal has been awarded in the last three years. Also receiving a silver medal was the University of New York at Cortland. WSC director Runestad said he was very happy with his choir's performance.

"We were particularly pleased to have competed so successfully against schools much larger than we," he said. "We were also the only group to have sung all out music from memory."

Judges for the event included choral directors from the University of Michigan, Boston University, the University of Hawaii, the Mexico National Institute of Fine Arts and Westminster Choir College of Princeton.

A comment on the WSC choir written by the Westminster judge said "the most impressive characteristic of this choir is the love for choral singing which came through loudly and clearly."

The overall Mexico City festival was designed to bring choirs from the U.S. together for five days of concerts, with a final combined choir concert on Easter morning in the Cathedral of Mexico. Guest conductor throughout the festival was Pulitzer prize winning composer Norman Delio Jolo of Boston University. Other selections performed by the Wayne State Choir included "The Gift Carol" by Pfautsch and "Ya Viena La Viena" by Shaw-Parker. They also performed five American nursery rhymes arranged by Ralph Hunter.

While in Mexico City, WSC Choir members visited the Pyramids of Teotihuacan; Chapultepec Park; San Juan Markets; Garibaldi Square; the Ballet of Folklorio at the Plaza Santa Cecilia and other attractions of the city. Choirs participating, in addition to Wayne State, included Livingston University of Livingston, Ala., under the direction of Dr. J. Perry White; Mary Hardin-Baylor College of Bethel, Tex., under the direction of Dr. Jerry R. Hill; the University of New York at Cortland, under the direction of Robert Ergenbright and the University of Akron of Akron, Ohio, under the direction of Frank Jacobs.

THE WSC CHOIR blends voices to sing their way to a silver medal in competition at Mexico City, Mexico. Dr. Cornell Runestad directs the choir members as they sing for adjudication at the new performing arts center at Mexico City University.

WAITING FOR the debut by Dr. Cornell Runestad are members of the WSC Choir.

THE MOMENT of truth as Dr. Cornell Runestad (right) is presented a statue on behalf of the WSC Choir which earned a silver medal at the Inter-Collegiate Choral Festival in Mexico City, Mexico, March 22 to 27. Presenting the prize statue is Dr. George Cavender, director of bands at the University of Michigan. The awards ceremony was held at the Plaza Santa Cecilia of Gerabaldi Square March 24.

THE WSC CHOIR came to entertain but they were entertained as well, as they watched a colorful show at a Ballet Folklorico in the Plaza Santa Cecilia.

was sluggish the first five months of the year, significant gains in economic activity were recorded in the May-November period. During the first 11 months of 1977, physical output in the state was 6.4 percent above the level for the comparable period the previous year. The growth was one percent higher than the 5.4 percent growth in the U.S. physical volume index. Significant output increases in the distributive, construction and government sectors also contributed to the strong performance of the state and area economy during November, 1977, according to Gerbes. Distributive sector output, he explained, up 3.2 percent for the month, was nearly 7 percent above its May level. Expansion in this sector, along with gains in agricultural production, spearheaded growth in the state and area economy in the May-November period.

EYE ON FASHION By Lillian Surber Newest Spring Up-Date: DRESSES are soft, loose, fluid, feminine and romantic. Styling allows great body freedom, yet a sophisticated look. SHAPES: The Float or Drift Dress falls softly from shoulder or neckline, is often pleated, tacked, or tiered, and is also flattering belted or bloused. The blouse or bubble may be gently bloused either by draw string or elasticized. Two-piece dressing depicts the importance of skirts, topped with jacket, vest, or bolera. The sundress, a perky category for a hot summer day! On-and-of shoulder styles, spaghetti straps, sometimes with matching shawl. Prom dresses come in story-book looks and prim little-girl looks with lots of ruffles and lace. DETAILS: Feminine touches as flowers, tiers, smocking, lace, embroidery, ribbon trim. Also big billow sleeves and peasant necklines. FABRICS: Cottons, gauze, sheers, Quiana knits, sexy crapes and slinky jerseys, ethnic prints. COLORS: Delicate pastels, neutrals, Khaki, muted and dusty tones. SURBER'S

Winnebago will be the site of the men's slo-pitch softball tournament, April 21-23.

Entry fee is $45 per team and should be mailed to Box 726, Winnebago, Ne. 68071.

There will be two divisions and all-tourney teams will be selected, according to Ed Rastowski, tournament director.

"We wanted to try some new things to capitalize on the talent we have coming in here," Stoltenberg said.

Wayne State has eight returning starters on defense and six on offense. The Wildcat head coach said he feels the offensive backfield should be one of Wayne's major strengths this year.

"We lost only Kirk Gardner from last year," he said. "He was a fine blocker, but we feel we have some freshmen and other players to bolster the group. Rick Lade has a year of quarterbacking under his belt and of course, Bob Barry is back."

Barry broke the school single season rushing record as a sophomore last season, amassing 130 yards. He was the leading rusher in the Central States Conference.

The Wildcats open the 1978 season at home on Sept. 9 against Chadron.

Just shoot... drop the cassette into the player... in seconds

1955..... THE WORLD'S FIRST... INSTANT PICTURES

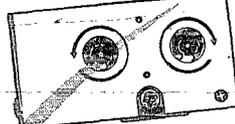

Remember? Polaroid revolutionizes picture taking with the world's first fully self-contained camera that allows you still pictures INSTANTLY.

POLARVISION IS HERE-A NEW WAY TO SEE & REMEMBER YOUR LIFE.

Polarvision...the revolutionary new system in home movies that brings you all the convenience of your treasures moments now and in full life realism and color. No need to wait and re-wind your projector! No need to lose precious time "setting up" to show your movies! Polarvision does it all for you...INSTANTLY.

Phototape film is the new medium that records the moving images of life, in color, for instant viewing. You never touch the Phototape film itself. It is inside a cassette. Playing time is approximately 2 1/2 minutes.

POLARVISION GIVES YOU VIVID COLORS

Polarvision "Real Life" color is vivid and luminous over an extremely wide color range...you'll feel like you're seeing more on the screen than you saw when it happened. The image appears almost three-dimensional because detail both far and near is sharp and clear.

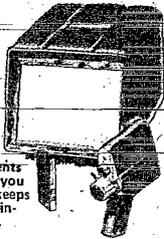

SIMPLE TO USE...

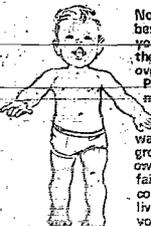

So simple, a child can operate it. Just put the camera setting on near or far and squeeze the trigger to shoot the picture you want. You see exactly what you're getting through a viewfinder that lets you look right through the picture-taking lens. Children find the Polarvision system especially fascinating because this is their first real look at themselves. ("That's me!")

1978...INSTANT MOVIES POLAROID DOES IT AGAIN!

Yes...home movies that develop and appear INSTANTLY...Polarvision, a radically new means of communication that re-creates life-as-it happened just moments ago—plays it for you in seconds, and keeps it for you to see instantly, anytime.

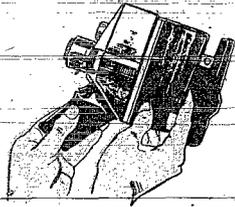

MOMENTS THAT ONCE SLIPPED AWAY ARE NOW BROUGHT BACK IMMEDIATELY.

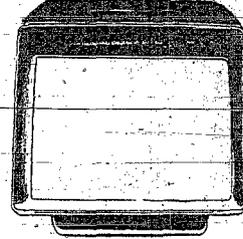

Now, capture the best moments of your life, relive them over and over INSTANTLY! Polarvision makes it possible for you to watch the children grow up, or your own form one the fairway, or tennis court...a moving living history of you and your family.

JUST DROP IN CASSETTE

You just drop the cassette into the camera and squeeze the trigger. The camera is extremely lightweight and equipped with a comfortable pistol grip—it's easy and it's fun! After capturing the moments you want, simply put the cassette into the Polarvision player where it develops and projects onto the screen automatically, and within a matter of seconds.

COMPACT TABLE TOP PLAYER

The Polarvision player is portable (only 24 lbs.) You can enjoy it without closing the blinds or turning off the lights.
