Heritage homes, which are custom manufactured in a new 45,000 square foot plant, are designed for individual customers. They are being sold through a four-state network of contractors.

CEDA Eases Job Crunch

With jobs becoming harder to find, it's good to know that there is at least one government agency doing work to alleviate the job crunch.

CEDA is providing some 12 Wayne youths with summer employment with its SPEEDY (Summer Program for the Employment of Economically Disadvantaged Youth) program, according to CEDA Regional Field Supervisor Rod Bowder.

Bowder explained that SPEEDY works as a joint effort between the Nebraska Job Service and CEDA.

The Job Service gets applications for youth aged 14-21, and screens them to determine economic need. The names of the selected youths are then given to CEDA, who places them. The youths are given jobs.

For Updating City Plan

HUD Grant for Wayne

The Wayne city council and the Wayne Planning Commission Tuesday will hold a joint discussion during a special council meeting set to begin at 4 p.m., break at 4:20 and re-open the meeting again at 7 p.m.

The 7 p.m. time slot is for the joint meeting of the two groups to discuss updating the city's comprehensive plan.

The two main factors to work out, according to Bruce Mordhorst, city clerk, will be the scope of the updating and who will be hired as planning consultant to spearhead the update.

This is the second time for updating the plan. The last time was 1973 and the council and the commission have decided the plan needs changing to meet the needs for controlled and orderly growth of Wayne.

The meeting Tuesday night will be for discussion only and no official action is to be taken. The matter will be taken up as an agenda item at the next council meeting which is June 27.

The funding for the updating is shared by the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, Dave Wright, community planner with the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, said federal funds slated for the project amount to $15,000 with the city footing the remaining $7,500.

Wayne received the federal grant after making application in November of last year. Ten other communities in the state qualified for HUD funds under a new program: Urban Development Action Grants (UDAG). Wright said this program is designed for distressed cities. He pointed out "distress" criteria are based on economic and physical factors such as poverty, population decline, age of housing and per capita income.

The other communities are Auburn; Beatrice; Chadron; Fairbury; Falls City; Nebraska City; Scottsbluff; Sidney; Superior and Wahoo. Wright explained eligible activities for the UDAG are basically similar to Community Development Block Grants. The See HUD, page 13

OBSERVATIONS

Need for "restricted smoking"

Beginning July 1, Iowa smokers will have to check where they are before lighting up.

Effective July 1, it will be illegal in Iowa for anyone to smoke in elevators, hotel lobbies, concert halls, auditoriums, libraries or similar public facilities.

Although we're a tried and true smoker, we applaud the Iowa action and recommend Nebraska salons give some thought to a similar "smoking only" law. We feel that we, as individuals, have the right to smoke and perhaps endanger our health. But we do not have the prerogative to endanger the health of others. And when you get right down to it, it seems a little disgusting for us or others to have to breathe the smoke from a cigarette, cigar or pipe being smoked by others.

The law in Iowa is a little vague and there seems to be a reluctance on the part of state officials to enforce it. Persons are prohibited from smoking in some public places and restricted in others. Offenders are subject to a $5 "civil fine."

Iowa Attorney General Robert Turner

has thrown his weight into the fracas with the mind-boggling statement: "What the hell is a civil fine? There is no such thing." It is not unusual for Turner to be confused.

While there must be some sort of equitable enforcement of a smoking ban, the intent and purpose of the ban is the real issue. If we smokers do not have enough sense to give up the habit, we should be equitably fined.

It's not easy to give up smoking once you have acquired the habit. But many have made the trip and have kicked the habit. They should be rewarded by not being continually subjected to the smoke of others who do not have what it takes to give up smoking or simply do not want to give up the habit.

Whatever the case, we feel non-smokers ought to be given some sort of protection. Non-smoking and restricted areas are not the complete answer, but at least they present a "foot in the door."

There is no question that smoking is harmful to health... it says so right on the package. Those who do not smoke should have some sort of protection and some law is better than none at all. — Chuck Barnes

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786.

With Chuck Barnes

calling our attention to them). We truly try to get it right.

The front page of today's Herald points up the county activity in the CEDA program. The program is functioning and is one of the better projects to come out of the "carnival" at our nation's capital.

We don't put down the good intentions of those who are giving their best to provide us with the best. However, there seems to be a breakdown when it comes to administering federal programs. When the money from Washington for funding federal programs is divided up, Nebraska is very near the bottom in per capita federal aid. We receive $236 per person compared to the U.S. average of $305. Indiana and Texas also are low on the federal money fortune pole. California and its new famous "Proposition 13" receive $311 in federal dollars per capita with New Yorkers pulling down $415 each and Alaskans, $939.

The "Paper That Iowa Depends Upon," the Des Moines Register, recently published a poll on heaven and hell and found that 1 Republican in 25 expects to end up in hell, whereas 1 Democrat in 9 assumes he will.

Which brings to mind a theological explanation of liberals and conservatives. A liberal sees a man drowning and throws him a rope; then he goes off to do his next good deed. A conservative throws the man a rope, then tells him: "If you swim the first ten yards yourself, I'll pull you the rest of the way."

And that, for what it's worth, is that!

River steamer now a museum

When Nebraska was a territory — and even before — it was not uncommon to see on her eastern boundary steamboats splashing up the Missouri. Built in Pennsylvania, Ohio, or in some other more populous state, the river boats traveled as far up the Big Muddy as Montana, carrying passengers and freight.

The Ohio River built boats, rarer now on the Missouri, are mainly barges carrying heavy cargo. On April 18, 1972, one such boat was returned to Brownville, Nebraska, to become the home of the Missouri River Museum administered by the Nebraska State Historical Society. The steam-propelled dredge Captain Meriwether Lewis had left the Corps of Engineers facilities, at the mouth of the Gasconade River in east-central Missouri, a week earlier on April 11, 1972, with a crew of Society personnel under Captain R. ...

She was launched Saturday, Dec. 12, 1931, from the ways of the Marietta Manufacturing Company at Point Pleasant, West Virginia — the largest hull (288 feet, 11 1/2 inches long and 50 feet wide) launched up to that time. When launched, she was without her pilot house and the twin smoke stacks which would eventually soar 62 1/2 feet above the water.

The photograph, accompanying the announcement of her launching indicates that the wheelhouses for the two side-paddle wheels were not then completed.

The Waterways Journal report of her trials and tests notes that her two 800 horsepower 20" x 27" Marietta Company tandem compound engines could drive her along at ten miles per hour in still water. This was lessened to about 3 to 4 miles per hour against the Missouri River current. Her 87" pump with a 34" discharge, driven by a vertical triple-expansion steam engine of about 1,300 horsepower, could deliver 4,000 tons of river bottom an hour at the end of her discharge pipe. The steam for these and the more than 30 other steam engines on the boat was provided by two Foster Wheeler water tube type boilers capable of operating at 250 pounds of pressure per square inch.

The dredge's accommodations for a crew of up to 40 people were highly praised. She had every modern convenience in lighting, plumbing, heating, and boasted a complete laundry plant, electrically equipped. The galley was comparable to the kitchen of a modern hotel.

After her river trials on the Ohio, the Captain Meriwether Lewis was brought down stream, up the Mississippi, past St. Louis, and up the Missouri River, to

May 21, 1932, she began the tasks for which she was built. She dredged the sands of the Big Muddy's shallow crossings and reaches and placed some 80,000 cubic yards of material a day in the shallow water near the opposite shore. The first station was at Cam bridge Bend above Glasgow, Mo. After spending six years in the Kansas City District, she was transferred to the Omaha District in 1938, when she dredged crossings and straightened channels till she was refitted from active dredging in 1965 and permanently docked in 1969.

The dredge and her machinery may be seen by the public at Brownville on the banks of the Missouri River during the summer season from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, and on afternoons during the week if restoration work permits.

Computers...terrorists' new target

Computers and their operators rather than government officials and businessmen may soon become the number one target of terrorists in Western Europe and the U.S. This conclusion is based on findings in a number of secret studies undertaken for NATO and U.S. intelligence agencies and now circulating among American security officials.

One of the most "smoking only" laws. We feel that we, as individuals, have the right to smoke and perhaps endanger our health. But we do not have the prerogative to endanger the health of others. And when you get right down to it, it seems a little disgusting for us or others to have to breathe the smoke from a cigarette, cigar or pipe being smoked by others.

The financial industry would grind to a halt almost overnight if their computers ceased functioning. The Stock Market and its complex network of brokers is now firmly wedded to an on-line financial information service. The clearing house process millions of checks every night simply by exchanging computer tapes and the insurance companies circulate the vast funds that pass through their hands almost exclusively through large computer systems.

"Communications — increasingly this means computer talking to computer, or man talking to computer from a terminal, office, laboratory, factory floor, warehouse, and point of sale. Mass communication systems are now controlled by program controlled telex and telephone exchanges tied into computers which are accessible to other than the regular operators. Use of communication satellites involve computers.

"Transportation — Scheduling and optimization of trajectories for fleets of vessels by computer is now well established. Air traffic control systems handling our crowded skies are wholly reliant on computers to maintain the densities of traffic which we now expect as a matter of course. Destruction of these computers could shut down entire airports.

"Law Enforcement — The police forces of the major industrial nations are heavily dependent on computer systems, not only for the specialized tasks of traffic control, but also for correlation of large amounts of information about criminal activities, finger print analyses, and rapid identification of stolen vehicles and arms."

Training specialized terrorists — Another study prepared for the Central Intelligence Agency reveals that terrorists now being trained within the Soviet bloc are being fully briefed on the vulnerability of computers in Western Europe and the United States.

This study warns that Communist parties in the West have received instructions now being trained within the Soviet bloc are being fully briefed on the vulnerability of computers in Western Europe and the United States.

Computers in the Soviet Union are the responsibility of an organization known as Elektronogtehnika which is located in Moscow. This organization is linked to Elorg, a Soviet controlled corporation set up in several Western countries to gather information on computers and their operations.

Foreign terrorists are known to be attending schools on computer systems which are run in Moscow by Elektron-ogtehnika, according to a recent Soviet defector. By knocking out western computers, the defector reports, the Russians hope to disrupt the economies of NATO nations and to create an atmosphere of disillusionment with business and government.

An example of what can be expected in the U.S. took place only two weeks ago in Italy. A computer facility of the U.S.-owned Honeywell Computer Company in Milan was attacked. Five terrorists overpowered the night watchman and two cleaning men, spread gasoline around the building and set it ablaze. Company officials estimated damage at more than $1 million.

Overin Hot On Mound In Tight 2-1 Contest

Earle Overin struck out 12 batters and gave up only three hits to protect the two runs that the Wayne Town Team scored and edge Onawa 2-1 in a NNBL game Thursday night.

Onawa took a 1-0 lead on a walk and a hit. They had runners in scoring position in the second and third innings, also, but couldn't score. Meanwhile the Wayne Town Team had problems of their own. Dave Hix singled in the second and reached third base on a sacrifice bunt by Aaron Nissen and a single by Overin but couldn't get home.

Larry Luft doubled in the third inning and stole third with only one out but two fly balls to the first baseman ended the threat for Wayne. In the fourth inning, the Town Team finally got a run when Nissen and Overin singled.

Onawa couldn't get anything going for the rest of the game and watched their hopes disappear when they were only able to send three batters to the plate in each of the final six innings.

Luff, Mike Green, and Nelson walked to load the bases in the fifth inning but Wayne still couldn't get the go-ahead run. The long-awaited run came in the bottom of the sixth with two outs. Mike Meyer and Monty Lowe stepped singles and Meyer crossed the plate with what later became the winning run.

Wayne Juniors Triumph On Ginn One-Hitter

Tom Ginn watched his bid for a no-hitter go down the drain in the fifth inning Friday night when Wisner's pitcher Raabe lined a single to center field but the Wayne Juniors had no trouble defeating Wisner 11-2.

Three errors in the first inning gave Wisner an early run. Mark Gansbom singled to lead off for Wayne and Ginn advanced him with a hit. Kevin Murray followed by pounding a double to score Gansbom and Ginn, and then took advantage of Wisner errors to score himself.

Neither team could get an attack going in the second or third innings but Wayne did have a rally in the fourth. Dave Schwartz walked, was sacrificed by Jerry Goeden, and Gansbom reached first on a bobbled groundball by the shortstop, scoring Schwartz. Dean Carroll pounded a triple to score Gansbom and came home on another fielding error of Ginn's ground out.

Murray singled and Doug Carroll brought him home with a triple. Wisner had bases loaded in the top of the sixth but a couldn't get any runs. Dean Car-

Shutout Boosts Wakefield In Sweep of Emerson

Doug Startz pitched a three-hit shutout for the Wakefield Midgets and the Juniors exploded for 11 runs to sweep Emerson in NNBL games Friday night. Going into the bottom of the third inning with a 1-0 lead, the Midgets rocked Emerson for eight runs in the third and added one more in the fifth to win the game by the 10-run rule, 10-0. Philby took the loss for Emerson.

The Juniors scored that magic number of eight runs in the fourth to break open a close contest and win the second game, 11-6. Wakefield scored one run in the first and two in the second to take a 3-0 lead.

Emerson responded with three runs in the third and fourth innings to tie the game up before Wakefield clobbered them with eight quick runs. Emerson scored three more in the sixth but that was as close as they could get.

WSC Hires Interim Baseball Coach

Wayne State College has hired an interim baseball coach to serve for Ron Jones during the 1979 season. Jones will be taking a one semester sabbatical leave during the spring term to complete his doctorate degree at Kansas University.

Steve Anson, a 24 year-old former Big Eight baseball player for Kansas State will take over the baseball coaching duties while Jones is gone. Anson who is an Indiana native, was Big Eight batting champion in 1974 and made the first or second All Big Eight Team in three of his four seasons.

Anson was assistant coach for the 1977 Kansas State baseball team. In addition to coaching baseball, his duties at WSC will include assistant basketball coach, and physical education teacher. He will also work on his masters degree in P.E. during his stay at Wayne State. Jones will return in the fall of '79 and resume his coaching career in the spring semester.

Midgets' Win-Streak Stretched To Five

The Wayne Midgets kept their perfect league record intact with an 18-2 thrashing of Wisner Friday night. Kevin Nissen had the hot hand for Wayne with two hits and six RBIs.

The Midgets put the game out of each early when all starters batted in the first inning and scored five runs. Jeff Zeiss led off the game with a hit and was followed by four walks issued to Dennis Carroll, Tim Pfeiffer, Jeff Dion, and Tim Thomas. With the bases loaded, Nissen lined a double to score three runs.

The second inning was even a bigger one and the home team collected 11 more runs. After singles by Zeiss and Carroll, and a double by Pfeiffer Wayne was threatening again and forced a pitching change. The new pitcher, Mathes, didn't seem to have much more luck than the first one and got shelled for some more runs.

After walking Don Mitchell, Mathes gave up a single to Thomas and Nissen came to the plate again with the bases loaded. Nissen didn't settle for a double this time — Instead he smacked a triple and added three more RBIs to his total. Jeff Sperry scored Nissen on a sacrifice.

Zeiss and Carroll reached base safely again and Pfeiffer took over where Nissen left off with a triple and two RBIs of his own. Rick Metheer walked and Dion doubled before Mitchell hit out to end the inning. Wisner's third pitcher of the game started the third and checked Wayne batters better than the previous pitchers. Nissen walked, Zeiss singled, and Carroll doubled to score two runs for Wayne but that was all they got in the third. Wisner held Wayne scoreless in the fourth inning and finally ended their dry spell with two runs in the fifth to end the game 18-2.

Carroll was the winning pitcher, allowing five hits and striking out eight batters.

Swim Club Wins Season Opener

The Wayne Swim Club proved that it's going to be a tough team in competition this year by downing Hartington 343-214 Wednesday. Hartington saw it's nine year win streak snapped by the Wayne swimmers, who won a first place in all but one event.

Coach Joan Hochstein said her team of 32 swimmers is a good team this year and will compete with anyone who's willing. She said they need to find competition since many of the teams they competed against last year are no longer competing.

The Wayne Swim Club is made up of swimmers from the age of 6 through 17. The next meet is scheduled for June 27 against Pender here.

150 Entered Tournery Draws Near

The dates for the Wayne Open Tennis Tournament are near and about 150 entries have signed up to play. Last year's junior and senior tournerys combined had 284 entrants. This year's tournery is planned for June 23-25.

The tournament is sponsored by the Wayne Tennis Club. The Wayne Club is a branch of the Nebraska Tennis Club, the Missouri Valley Tennis Association, and the U.S.T.A.

Wayne is one of six cities to put on a U.S.T.A. sanctioned tournament in Nebraska. The other cities are Fremont, Lincoln, Kearney, Omaha, and Beatrice. The Wayne tournery last year outdrew the Beatrice tournery 2-1.

Joy Rodenberg, second vice-president of the M.V.T.A., said that she was pleased with the tournerys last year in Wayne and that trophies put some of the larger cities to shame.

The main purposes of the tournerys are to promote tennis. Wayne, and Wayne State College but not necessarily in that order.

Wayne Pro and Partner Third

Wayne golf professional Rudy Froeschle and partner Jerry Fisher, head pro at the Lincoln Country Club, won third place Monday in the AMF Harley Davidson Best Ball Championship at Omaha Country Club.

Froeschle and Fisher paired up for a six under par 166 in the 36 hole event. Third place paid $225 per person in the 21st Iowa Nebraska PGA tournament.

"Jerry did most of the work," Froeschle said afterwards, "since the only club I was hitting really well was the putter. But the main thing was that when one of us had a bad hole, the other was usually able to save a par."

Wakefield Splits Two

The Wakefield Midgets got nipped by Norfolk Thursday but the Juniors made up for it with a sound 10-6 trouncing of the Norfolk Legion team. Rick Guy led the Midgets with a single, double, and two runs but a Norfolk run in the bottom of the fifth inning edged Wakefield 5-4.

The Juniors scored four runs in the top of the seventh to win the nightcap. Jeno Kline doubled following Norfolk errors to give Wakefield the extra run.

Plainview Open

The annual two day Plainview men's open golf tournery is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday June 24-25. Entry fees are $15 for the championship flight and $10 for other flights. All golfers must call or write Dale Johnson, 587 4816 or Les Weber, 682 4848 for reservations by June 21.

The previous Monday, a program team comprised of Roger Wacker, Si Prather, Kerri Bressler and Froeschle tied for second place in a four man best ball event. They combined for a 16 under 55.

Randy's RECAP

According to Randy Hascall

IN MY COLUMN Thursday, I wrote about discipline problems at the 'Cubs' Cage Camp. It evidently sounded as though a large group of students were involved. This is not true. A small number of the players were responsible for the trouble and they were not from our immediate area.

I'm sure that Coach Seward and his assistants worked hard to make the camp a success and they have built the camp into a worthwhile annual event. I didn't mean to overshadow the benefits of the camp by mentioning the trouble a few individuals caused.

KIM BAKER of the 4th Jug men's softball team had a whale of a day at the plate against the Et Tug Wednesday night. In six trips to the plate, Baker hit five home runs including two in the same inning for the winners. Another rarity occurred in the first inning when a member of each team hit a grand slam home run.

square off in a make up game and T.J.'s and Danielson's will meet Wednesday. Next week the action will continue with T.J.'s and the 4th Jug going head to head and Waldbaum's pitted against Danielson's. These games should give a good indication of who will be on top at the end of the season.

THE SOFTBALL LEAGUE gets down to the nitty gritty this week when the top teams start facing each other. The season is more than half over and T.J.'s, Waldbaum's and 4th Jug all have one less win than Danielson's in the running with three losses.

Waldbaum's and the 4th Jug will

HEALTH TIP OF THE WEEK
"Preventive medicine" is most important - to avoid illness, or to catch and cure it early, before the illness becomes serious. This is why an annual medical check-up is so advisable. Just as "preventive maintenance" on your car can avert major breakdown and repair - so "preventive medicine" can nip an illness in the bud, and probably avoid great discomfort and surgery.

IRRIGATION SCHEDULING

The irrigating season is here again, the Lower Elkhorn NRD and the Cooperative Extension Service are once again offering a scheduling service. Weather stations located near Battle Creek, Concord and West Point are read daily by Extension or NRD personnel. These weather stations record amounts of rainfall, wind, sunlight, relative humidity and temperatures. This information is then processed by the AGNET computer system in Lincoln, to find the amount of soil moisture used by the crops daily.

The crop water use is then made available to irrigators. Radio stations carrying this information are:

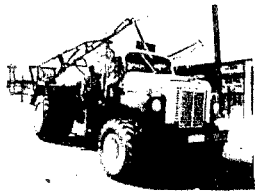

WJAG — 780AM — Norfolk — 7:32 a.m. — Monday-Saturday.
KTCH — 1590AM — Wayne — 6:37 a.m. and 12:55 p.m. — Monday-Saturday.
KHUB — 1340AM — Fremont — 12:45 p.m. — Monday-Saturday.

The same recorded information is also available 24 hours a day by calling the following hotline telephone numbers:

Norfolk — 371-9300.
Wayne — 375-1472.
West Point — 372-2390.

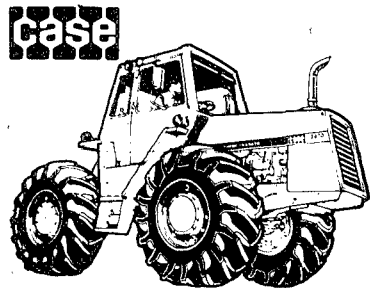

Besides crop water use, these recordings may also carry scheduling tips or other information useful to irrigators. These messages began June 1.

Crop water use and rainfall information can be used in the "checkbook scheduling method," which means putting on enough irrigation water to equal the crop water use minus any rainfall. However, it is preferable to also use soil moisture blocks. With moisture blocks, irrigators can monitor actual soil moisture to be sure of adequate moisture and guard against excess irrigation which would waste water and energy. Local Extension Agents and NRD personnel have been holding information meetings demonstrating how to install and read moisture blocks and other factors of irrigation scheduling. If you could not attend any of these meetings, you may still get help with these things by contacting your local Extension Agent.

COST-SHARING AVAILABLE

Thirteen of the fifteen counties in the Lower Elkhorn NRD are offering cost-sharing for irrigation scheduling equipment in 1978. Amounts of cost-sharing varies from county to county, but is only allowed for a full set of equipment. A set consists of a flow meter, soil probe, moisture blocks and hand held moisture meter. In sandy soil, tensiometers should be used in place of the moisture blocks and hand held moisture meters. For more information contact your local SCS Office.

DON'T STOP SCHEDULING

BECAUSE OF ADEQUATE MOISTURE

Irrigators may tend to lose interest in scheduling during a year of above average rainfall, but that is a financial mistake. Good years can be the most profitable for irrigation scheduling, since it can keep you from putting on unnecessary irrigation water. Each unnecessary irrigation costs you money for fuel, as well as increasing the possibility of leaching nitrates below the root zone. This excess irrigation does not increase yields.

HUD —

(Continued from page 1) major difference, he said, is that UDAG projects require commitment of private sector investment to generate the federal funds.

The community planner said that although approximately 2,000 cities across the nation are competing for funding under the program, the funds for the plan updating are assured "barring any unforeseen circumstances."

According to the initial information, projects under the UDAG program would have to be started by July 1. Wright said delays by HUD and other factors will be made by the July 1 deadline "flexible."

June is Dairy Month

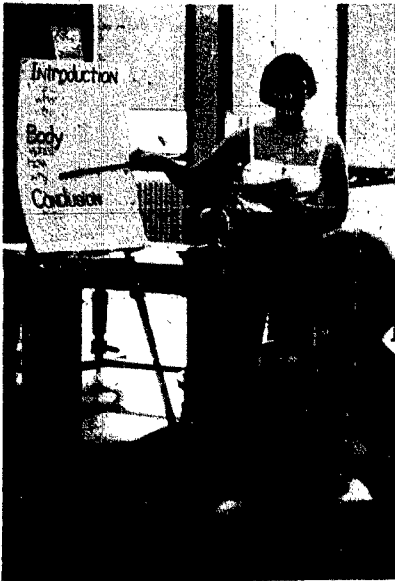

Nebraska dairy farmers and dairy manufacturers have plenty to celebrate during June, National Dairy Month, according to Dr. Stanley Wallen, Extension food scientist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He says consumption of dairy products in the U.S. has increased rapidly in some areas, while remaining steady or above normal in others.

The most rapid growth has occurred in cheese consumption, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist notes. Americans now eat almost five pounds more cheese annually per person than they did in 1970, pushing per capita cheese consumption to almost 16 pounds in 1977.

The amount of American cheese consumed per person increased from 6.8 pounds in 1970 to 9 pounds in 1977, an increase of 32 percent, he adds. Consumption of other cheeses increased 56 percent, from 4.4 pounds in 1970 to 6.9 pounds in 1977.

Per person consumption of low-fat milk, however, rose from 6 gallons in 1970 to 10.3 gallons in 1977, an increase of more than 70 percent. The amount of nonfat dry milk consumed has declined since 1970, Wallen notes, but consumption of other major dairy products has remained relatively stable. Americans ate 4 gallons of ice cream, 4.1 pounds of butter and 4.8 pounds of cottage cheese per person in 1977.

Wallen says these figures reflect commercial sales of dairy products only, and don't include products purchased by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and then donated to such programs as school lunches.

Need Nebraska Families To Host French Students

Some 170 Nebraska families are needed to sponsor visiting students from France late this summer.

The students are picked by the North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League (NACEL) and are placed in Midwestern homes by Seminars International.

NACEL, based in Tours, France, screens French students through their teachers of English. All the students have studied English for at least four years.

Through this cross-cultural exchange, the students hope to improve their conversational English, as well as have a total living experience with an American family, according to a spokesman.

Participating families are responsible for providing room and board for their French visitors. The students will bring at least $100 pocket money and are covered by liability and medical insurance during their American visit.

The students are placed in a variety of homes, matching as closely as possible the student's interests with those of the host family. A profile indicating the hobbies and interests of the French student will be sent to the host family plus a personal note and a picture.

French speaking American students from this year's host families are eligible for a reciprocal program to spend a month with French friends next summer.

Families interested in sharing their homes Aug. 5 through 31 should contact Mrs. Grace McKenzie (402-371-7118) in the Norfolk area, or Mrs. Jolane Luetchens (402-464-8116) in Lincoln.

Mrs. Luetchens, the Nebraska area coordinator, said there is a special need for families to host 17 and 18 year old French boys, and that some of the students have requested to be placed on farms.
