'Lack of Interest'

Seventh Street Snipped from Plan

Improvement of Seventh Street (Highway 351) through Wayne is not included in the state's department of roads one to six year plan.

Tom P. McCarthy, district engineer, Norfolk, responded to a question during an area meeting of the department and elected officials in Wayne Wednesday night, stating any improvement or reconstruction of the state highway through Wayne was dropped from the plan because of "lack of support by the Community of Wayne."

The answer came to a question posed by City Clerk Bruce Mordhorst. Mordhorst said the city council Jan. 10, 1978, passed a resolution including the project in its one to six year plan, proposing reconstruction in 1981.

Mordhorst told the Herald the department of roads apparently was reacting to a delegation which appeared before department representatives about eight months ago in O'Neill.

He said McCarthy never referred directly to the O'Neill meeting at which the Wayne delegation made it clear it was opposed to any improvements or reconstruction by the state of the east west highway through Wayne.

Elect Burney

He is a former journalist as well as graduated from University of Nebraska. He edited a newspaper in Austin, Texas for two years before returning to Hartington where he spent the following 17 years as a livestock feeder.

He is a member of the society of Farm Managers and Appraisers, the Farm and Land Institute, is past president of the Lewis and Clark Board of Realtors and former chairman of the Cattle Industry Self Conservation district.

Willow Creek Gets Dunking

The proposed Willow Creek project, which includes a dam and a 615-acre lake, has shots fired at it during a public hearing held Wednesday night at Pierce.

Some 300 persons attending the hearing, which was conducted by the Nebraska Resources Development Fund Advisory Board, heard an attorney for a group of landowners state that recreation is not a viable reason for building the project. He pointed out the area already has three recreational areas.

Omaha Attorney Jim Fitzgerald and an area farmer also asked that a study be made to determine possible ground water loss to the City of Pierce.

Most of those testifying against the project cited higher local taxes and loss of farmland and recreational parks in the area as reasons for not building the dam and subsequent lake. Several witnesses also feared vandalism and safety problems with the dam.

In the wake of the project, Wendell Newcomb, a director, See WILLOW, Page 9

EVIDENCE OF A beautiful soybean harvest. The bean harvest is well underway in the Wayne land area. Through good harvest management, producers could save as much as 2 1/2 bushels per acre.

Average of 2 1/2 bushels per acre lost Harvesting Management Could Stem Dollar Loss

Harvesting of what appears to be a bumper soybean crop is well underway, although area farmers got a day off Friday because of rain showers.

Wayne County Extension Agent Don Spitzze said he could not give an accurate yield estimate although early reports indicate it going to be an "excellent crop."

Another aspect of the soybean harvest was brought to light by Stan Straling, Dixon County extension agent, who said area farmers have been "cheated" of an as much as 2 1/2 bushels per acre during combining because of poor harvesting "management."

The News in Brief

Around the Clock Service

International Harvester Dealer Thies Brudigan, Inc., Wayne, is continuing its efforts to provide special parts and service around the clock for area farmers during harvest time.

Named Director

A Wayne native has been named director of the Scott Paper company. Richard M. Brester, senior vice president of Atlantic Richfield company and president of its ARCO Chemical company division headquartered in Philadelphia, joined Atlantic Richfield in 1973 as senior vice president/finance.

State Youth Chairman For March of Dimes

Cheryl Koch, Allen, has been named Nebraska State Youth Chairman for the March of Dimes. Miss Koch's duties, according to Mrs. Betty Carr, Northeast Nebraska District Chairman, will be reaching and involving key youth leaders of state and district organizations, such as the FHA, FBLA, Medical Explorers and high school student councils.

A conference of these leaders is planned for Columbus, Oct. 12-13. Presently a student at the University of Nebraska, Miss Koch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Koch, Concord, and a graduate of Allen High School.

Starting said the 2 1/2 bushels per acre is an average figure from information compiled by Milford A. Hanna, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The addition of skid plated and/or automatic header height control will help to protect the cutter bar. Hanna points out Sharp sickle sections also improve harvest efficiency by shaking the plants less, he states.

Hanna also said another difficulty is keeping both ends of the combine header the same distance from the ground as much as possible at the last cultivation. He recommends a voiding harvesting across rows. He said best results on terraces, ridges, ditches and low spots are obtained by placing one edge of the header in the middle of the ridge or low spot rather than trying to straddle it.

Hanna states proper travel speed improves harvest. Too slow speeds increase shatter loss, too fast speeds make it difficult to control header height. He recommends checking the stubble. Uneven height in the row indicates the speed is too fast. Generally, he said, travel speed should be between 2.8 to 3.2 miles per hour. This can be determined by stepping off yards by walking beside the combine. This means 28 to 32 steps in a time period of 20 seconds would give the proper speed.

Hanna said two of the most often ignored factors in soybean loss are the speed and the height of the reel. These, he said, should be matched with the travel speed. The reel should be fast enough to beat the beans, particularly if pods are dry. The bats should leave the plants just as they are cut. See LOSS, Page 9

Rains at the Right Times, Plus Moderate Weather Figures Back Up Excellent Growing Season

It looks like another bumper crop for Wayne land farmers, and there's good reason for it.

According to Don Spitzze, Wayne county extension agent, the growing season has been excellent for both soybeans and corn.

This is no big news for area farmers. But Spitzze has compiled weather data to substantiate the booming crops. Throw out the month of June, and a period around Labor Day, and the spring, summer (which "fell" last Saturday) has been near perfect.

Spitzze's data is based on irrigated corn but it can be related to dryland crops as well. It covers the growing season from June 1 to Sept. 1.

The sum and substance of the findings is that: following the driest June of record, the rains come at the right times and were followed by moderate weather.

In fact, the figures show that taking into consideration the Extra-Transpiration Values (ET—how much moisture irrigation corn uses, including moisture that is lost through evaporation and through the leaves of the plant), the corn used only 78 percent what is considered to be normal while rainfall was only 85 percent of normal.

Spitzze explained that irrigated corn uses a "norm" of 3 that corn under irrigation which is planted May 20 and fertilized an expected yield of 135 bushels per acre. The average use of moisture has been determined by ET values arrived at from data gathered at a weather station located at Northeast Station, near Concord.

The figures used were fed into a computer in Lincoln which punched out the amount of moisture a plant needed in a 24-hour period on a day-to-day basis throughout the growing season.

Spitzze said the computer read-out shows a trend (following June) when moisture for moisture would be broken by substantial rainfall with little or no runoff, followed by mild weather. Movies of old favorites including Popeye, The Pink Panther, Sylvester and Tweety, the Little Rascals and others will be shown.

Spitzze said the figures on the computer readout, the day when the ET values were the highest was July 5 when irrigated corn needed 38 of an inch of moisture. The second highest usage came on July 4. This was at a time when the temperatures were over the 100 degree mark with drying winds. The third highest day during the season was July 17.

The period from July 18 to Aug. 31 (with the exception of Aug. 31), the corn crops used less than average amount of moisture. In fact, there were only nine days during the season when the plants used more than the normal amount of moisture.

Six of these days came in the dry month of June.

The July 5 stress peak was broken by a rainfall of 1.58 inches on July 6, with mild temperatures during the following week. Spitzze said his charts show that nearly three inches of moisture fell during the three-day period of July 20, 21 and 22. Again, the moisture was followed by mild temperatures, and temperatures during the following week.

Spitzze also pointed out that the weather factor was near perfect during the critical pollinating and silking period which came during the last part of July and the first part of August.

Spitzze observed that in his opinion, wind velocity and to a lesser extent, humidity, has much more of an effect on crop yield than temperature.

The extension agent said that the figures relate only to irrigated corn. They can be adjusted for dryland crops. He also pointed out other factors such as time of planting, type of soil, etc., should be taken into consideration.

He explained the data from Northeast Station is valid for a 50-mile radius around the fact-

We read with interest about a Neigh will digger who is a water witch, as we country folk are aware, is a person who can grip a forked willow switch in upturned fists and discover by watching the tip of the switch bend downward, where to dig for water."
—CHB—
We were skeptics at one time... but no longer.

"—CHB—
During a pre-longed drought, we heard of water being discovered by a water witch. We followed up the story and met an old-time, match-chewing farmer who allowed as how he was a water witch.

"—CHB—
"So are you, if you want to be," he said. "Not so," we scoffed. He led us to where the well had been dug and capped. He took out a many-bladed pocket knife and snipped off a forked willow branch. Without any to-do, he walked toward the new well and by-gigged, the branch dipped down as he held it in the approved fashion."
—CHB—

"You made it bend," we said. "Didn't," he said, and handed us the branch. He showed us how to hold it with upright fists and for us to walk toward the well. With a smirk we took off as he said "you got to be a believer to make it work." We had him. We didn't believe and we practiced on. And then the tip of the fork began to bend downward. We attempted to hide our amazement and gripped even more lightly onto the branch. The thing didn't stop until it was pointing straight down and we were standing on top of the well.

"—CHB—
We tried it several times and each time the switch dipped. We held it so lightly that the bark was ripped off the branches of the fork in our hands as it continued downward.

"—CHB—
He then gave us a couple of welding rods bent at right angles for a grip. He has us walk along side the well with two rods held in front of us. As we approached the well, the rods began to turn and pointed at the well as we passed.

"—CHB—
Old Joe didn't try to explain it. He just bit off a little piece of the match, split it out and invited us to the house for a glass of water. —CHB—

OBSERVATIONS

There are other ways

The din and clamor over California's "Proposition 13" has calmed down in favor of world peace accord and the upcoming World Series of Baseball. However, just because it has been replaced in the nation's limelight, it should not be ignored. Taxes and the payment thereof is a major subject of conversation here in the Wayneland area and across the state in general, especially the spending lid law.

The Wayne Carroll board of education has gone on record as being opposed to the restrictive law. The board maintains it cannot provide the quality of education needed in the Wayneland area if it is operated under the lid law. The members agree that there is an "escape clause" in the law which allows a board to seek additional funds through channels established by the law. They feel there is too much red tape and too little time to use the clause effectively. We tend to agree with the board's general feeling.

"Proposition 13" itself has some glaring loopholes. It puts too much emphasis on reducing property tax and not enough on controlling all the other ingenious schemes the politicians will try to come up, with replace their lost revenue.

It makes the cut so sudden and so drastic that it invites what is termed the "Washington Monument Play." It is axiomatic in Washington that when a federal agency is under pressure to trim its budget, the cuts is proposed will affect the most politically popular programs under its jurisdiction. The classic example of this is the threatening to close the Washington Monument to tourists. Funds to keep it open were quickly forthcoming which accounts for the general term "Washington Monument Plays."

Getting back to California, by focusing on local property tax alone, it fails to get at one of the worst areas of governmental waste, welfare, which in California is a responsibility of the state and national governments.

Other states are experimenting with other and in several cases, better kinds of spending or taxing limits. Tennessee, for example, has amended its constitution to limit increased in total state spending to the growth of the state's economy. Another similar method is to limit the growth of local taxes either to increases in personal income, or to increases in total economic activity. Such limit leave politicians the freedom to move funds from one budget category to another and allow for reasonable growth of society, while establishing a firm ceiling on total governmental activity.

We feel it will be better for all concerned if it's the Tennessee-type limit that spreads rather than the California kind. Something along the Tennessee lines may be needed at the federal level since nothing else seems very effective in trimming the federal deficit.

Politicians should be awarded some kind of recognition for their tearful reaction to taking funding from their immediate jurisdiction. A lot of them have been wailing. "The people should leave these decisions (spending) to us" or words to that effect.

Precisely the problem. We did leave the spending decisions to the politicians, and the politicians ducked their responsibility. They found it easier to increase the budget — through borrowing, higher taxes, inflation, or all of the above — than to make the tough decisions on how to allocate a limited amount of revenue among competing interest groups. — Chuck Barnes.

Chief worry? Inflation!

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

By M.M. Van Kirk

Director of Agriculture

Inflation and the constant spiral of production costs which it produces continues to be the most discouraging factor for farmers and ranch operators of all ages.

According to USDA figures, the nation's farm production expenses rose 225 percent in the last decade... from $28.1 billion in 1967 to $85.7 billion in 1977. Cash receipts from farm marketings in the same period rose from $42.8 billion in 1967 to $95 billion in 1977. Since 1973, total net farm income has continually declined. Farmers are handling more dollars each year but retaining fewer of them.

Most of the expansion of recent years in the farm sector has been with borrowed capital, much of it secured by land values which have nearly tripled since 1967. Most of the purchases of farm land, according to virtually all surveys, have been made by older farmers who acquired their land years ago at lower prices and who are able to spread the cost of new land purchases over their entire acreage.

The increase in land values has enabled many farmers to refinance losses in their livestock and crop operations because of the greater equity which their land ownership represents. Such expansions using refinancing, while necessary and useful to those who have the land base to do it, are costly in terms of an added interest and property tax load.

One frequently hears the present financial woes of agriculture compared to the Depression years of the 1930's. Such comparisons can be misleading. The 1930's was a time of deflation rather than inflation, complicated by severe drought conditions and shortage of operating capital. Crop and livestock prices were very low for what was produced despite adverse weather conditions. The nation's general economy was at a low ebb, unemployment was rampant and domestic demand for all foods, including meat, was far below normal.

Land prices declined and farm foreclosures and bank failures were everyday occurrences. In many areas, farm land wouldn't bring the price of the mortgage and title passed to the lenders, generally the insurance companies. Most farmers did not have enough equity left in their land to refinance.

On the plus side, production costs were also low. The better operators survived and delayed expansion until World War II and improved crop conditions brought a return of prosperity. The chief difference between conditions then and now is the difference between deflation and inflation. Perhaps one of the chief problems with government farm programs of the last 40 years is that they attempt to apply the policies and techniques originated for deflation ills to the sicknesses of inflation.

Recently a young farmer-rancher here in Nebraska who first hit his stride in a favorable time and has coped with the stresses of the last three years fairly effectively, shook his head and observed, "My expenses have gone up 15 to 20 percent each of the last three years." He cited purchase of a new combine last year which listed at $39,000, and big increases in his fertilizer and other things. Generally he had delayed some of his expansion plans, done most of his own construction and maintenance work, and conducted a consistently balance crop and livestock operation.

Letters Welcome

Letters from readers are welcome. They should be timely, brief and most contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter.

Letters may be published with a pseudonym or with the author's name omitted if so desired. However, the writer's signature must be a part of the original letter. Unsigned letters will not be printed.

For him and others like him the greatest worry continues to be inflation and the entirely predictable effect it will have upon his production costs next year and the years thereafter.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

JAMES Schroeder of Laurel is the newest associate of the L.A.S. M. Greening Agency, Norfolk, as a district representative in the area for Aid Associates for Lutherans.

GROUND-BREAKING ceremonies were held Sept. 26 for a housing project in west Randolph. Randolph Haven Apartments will be apartments for the elderly, according to Mark Day, an owner of the project. Each of the 16 units in the fourplex will have a single bedroom.

GOODYEAR will soon begin interviewing for 26 maintenance jobs at its new plant under construction in Norfolk. Bob Geyer, employee relations manager for the new facility, said the company is looking for maintenance personnel with electrical, electronic or mechanical skills.

Proprietor George Helfer Jr. said the cement block building will have a 30 foot frontage and will be 40 foot long.

TAXI cabs are an uncommon sight in West Point. An Alabama cab that drove into West Point Sept. 26 was really special. Driver Freddie Hamby and paying passenger Herbert Sedinger now hold the world's record for the longest paid taxi ride. They broke the old record Sept. 25 while in Kadok, S.D. They've driven more than 7,000 miles in 18 days.

The author who left the auto-graphed copies is Verle Armstrong. He presently resides in Orange, Calif.

JOE Frisch brought the first new-crop soybeans into Madison Sept. 22. He farms west of Madison. Bob Freudenburg of the Ochener Grain Co. said that Frisch's beans tested 13 percent moisture and that Frisch had estimated that the small field had made 40 bushels to the acre.

Stork Challenges California Stations

(Editor's Note: The following reported by was published in the Ukiah (Calif.) Daily Journal and was sent to the Herald.)
A Nebraska man says the owners of KUKI and KALF radio stations in Ukiah offered to sell the stations to him earlier this year, and then backed out of the deal.

Theodore Stork, of Wayne, Nebr., has filed suit against Concerned Communications Corporation, owner of KUKI and KALF, demanding that the Yuba City firm sell him the stations for $600,000.

Stork maintains he negotiated an oral and written agreement with Concerned Communications between January and March, and says he sold a Nebraska station he owned in order to raise a down payment — on the Ukiah station.

In the suit, he says he sold station KTCB in Wayne for $550,000. According to the suit, "By March 14, 1978, a written 'Purchase Agreement' acceptable to both plaintiff and (Concerned Communications) was completed."

The suit goes on to charge that by April 20, Concerned Communications had decided not to sell the stations "based on tax reasons."

In a separate but similar suit filed recently, William Exline, a "media broker" who had negotiated the sale for Stork, has demanded that Concerned pay him the commission he would have received had the sale gone through — some $27,000.

When asked by the Journal about the suits yesterday, Ray Streeter, president of Concerned, said, "I don't think I ought to discuss this."

Asked if the station is presently for sale, Streeter said, "The station has never officially been for sale and it stays that way."
The Journal was unable to reach Stork for comment.

Pfeiffer Scoring Record Dazzles Coleridge 47-0

Winside revealed no secret weapons against Coleridge in the Wildcats' homecoming game Friday night, but merely unleashed a bull-headed running back named Mitch Pfeiffer who ran all over the invaders in a lopsided 47-0 win.

The 4-2, 210 pound senior exploded against a weak Coleridge defense and set a new Winside scoring record with 27 points in one game. Pfeiffer ran for four touchdowns, a two-point conversion and kicked a PAT to record his 27 points.

After taunting Coleridge for 43 minutes, Pfeiffer declared that the outcome was a "nice homecoming victory." He was a two way winner Friday night as he was also crowned homecoming king at halftime.

The Wildcats indicated that they were ready to play a good aggressive game when the defense held Coleridge on the first series and forced them to punt into a brisk northwest wind.

After receiving the ball in Coleridge territory at the 45 yard line, Byron Schellenberg broke through a hole on the third play from scrimmage and moved down to the 29. A few plays later, Pfeiffer moved the ball from the 24 to the 2, placing Winside in excellent scoring position.

Workhorse Pfeiffer got the call from the 2 and two plays later he burst through the line for a touchdown. He booted the PAT kick and Winside led 7-0.

On the next series of plays for Coleridge, Tom Koll sacked the quarterback for a 15 yard loss after a big rush, and the Bull dogs were forced to punt again.

Following a short punt, Winside took over possession at the Coleridge 28 yard line.

Facing a third down situation, Paul Roberts dropped back to pass and hit Dirk Jaeger at the 15 yard line. Pfeiffer carried the ball on the next two plays and moved it down to the three inch line. On the next play he carried over. The PAT attempt was wide right giving the Wildcats a 13-0 lead.

Winside's spirited defense took over again and held Coleridge to two yards on three carries. From the 22 yard line, Coleridge punted the ball eight yards.

After a penalty, a completion and an incomplete, Winside made a fourth down and 10 situation. Quarterback Roberts connected with Jaeger on a screen pass and he followed his blockers down to the 11 yard line.

From the 11, Brian Foote drove through the line to the three yard line, before Pfeiffer plunged in for the score. A two point conversion pass to Schellenberg made the score 21-0.

After an exchange of punts, Coleridge went to the air from their own 31 yard line. Foote stepped in, intercepted the ball at the 45 yard line and ran it back down the sideline for a TD. A missed two point conversion attempt left the score at 27-0 with a 41 left in the first half.

Both teams exchanged punts and Coleridge regained the ball. Unable to move the offense, the Bulldogs punted the ball back to Winside with a three yard punt.

With a little over a minute left, the Wildcats started to move the ball. Pfeiffer did it again with 23 seconds left as he ran for the TD and the score changed to 33-0 after the PAT attempt failed.

Taking advantage of a fumble recovery by Bill Gotthardt at the Coleridge 10 yard line, Winside added another touchdown in the third quarter. Sophomore Schellenberg broke through for a five yard score and Pfeiffer added the two point conversion on a run to take a 41-0 lead.

The final Wildcat score came with 6:30 left in the game. Roberts split the Coleridge defense for a nine yard touch down pass to Bruce Smith. Following an unsuccessful conversion attempt the scoreboard read 47-0 and the game ended.

Newcastle Beats Buzzer To Nip Allen

Newcastle scored a touchdown in the final seconds to edge Allen 14-12 in Newcastle Friday night.

After a scoreless first quarter, Newcastle put the first points on the board with a 20 yard pass to Mike Marron in the second quarter. A two-point conversion made the score 8-0.

On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Allen's Greg Carr broke free for a 45 yard touchdown run. The two point conversion failed and Newcastle led at halftime 8-6.

Neither team scored in the third quarter so the game remained tight into the fourth period. Allen finally took the lead when Kevin Kraemer intercepted a pass and ran it back 32 yards to set the Eagles in scoring position.

Lee Hansen broke through the Newcastle defense for a three yard TD and Allen led 12-8. Once again, the conversion attempt failed.

Newcastle came back and with nine seconds left and quarterback Madge scored on a one yard yard to put the Raiders on top for good. 14-12. Allen tried the kickoff but their hopes ended when time ran out after a 40 yard desperation pass moved them into Newcastle territory at the 20.

Allen was led by Carr, who rushed for 101 yards on 14 carries. Defensively, Kraemer and Ken Hohenstein led the tackling. Kraemer, Bart Gotch and Terry Brewer each had an interception for the Eagles.

Allen will take a 7-3 record into its homecoming game with Winnebago Friday night.

Team With Defense To Win

Brad Emry rushed for 126 yards and scored both touchdowns as Wayne topped Tekamah 14-6 Friday night. Rick Johnson also had a good night for the Blue Devils, rushing for 118 yards.

Emry put Wayne on top in the first quarter with a 54 yard touchdown run and Tom Ginn passed to Steve Sorenson for the two point conversion to post an 8-0 lead.

Defenses tightened in the second and third periods as neither team scored. Emry popped into the endzone again in the fourth quarter for his second TD. Tekamah scored a touch down with a fourth quarter punt return of 37 yards to break up the shutout, 14-6.

The defense was a deciding factor for Wayne as Ginn and Tod Heier each intercepted one pass. Dan Mitchell, Kelly Maxson and Emry recovered fumbles for the Blue Devils.

Leading tacklers were Mitchell with 13, Randy Dunk

Iau, Al Schuett and Dennis Carrill with 11 tackles each and Doug Hummel with 10.

"It was a good enough performance to win but we need better performances over the next four ball games," Coach Stew Cline said. "We need to show improvement but it was a good win and I'm happy. We didn't have any injuries. Looking ahead to Friday's game with Madison, Cline said that when Madison and Wayne play anything can happen. Wayne is 2-0 in the conference while Madison is 0-2.

Bears Win 35-0

Offensive Display Impressive

By MARK LARSON
Wayne Stater Sports Editor

The Laurel Bears, after losing their last two games, came back in grand fashion as they defeated the Osmond Tigers 35 to 0 for their homecoming game Friday night.

Laurel received the opening kick off and started driving from their own 47 yard line. A long run of 22 yards by Ron Gadeken moved the ball down to the seven yard line of Osmond.

Two plays later, quarterback Steve Anderson hit Don Dalton in the endzone from nine yards out for Laurel's first score of the game. The two point conversion failed and Laurel led 6 with 6:22 left in the first quarter.

The Bears struck again in the first quarter after an Osmond pass was picked off by Jamie Johnson at the 37 yard line of Laurel. Quarterback Steve Anderson went to work and threw a perfect pass to Russ Gade who raced 67 yards down to Osmond's three yard line.

On the next play, Dalton scored. The conversion was good and with 3:09 left in the first quarter it was Laurel 12, Osmond 0.

Osmond couldn't get going against the Bears' defense and had to give up the ball. With just minutes gone in the second quarter Laurel scored its third touch down of the night on a 12 yard run by Dalton.

The touchdown was set up by a long run by Mark McCorkindale of 40 yards. Laurel made the two point conversion and with 10:52 left in the first half led 20-0.

Osmond, after receiving the ball, started their first real drive of the night taking the ball to Laurel's 25 yard line. On the next play though, Osmond attempted a pass but Steve Anderson stepped in to intercept at the one yard line and trotted down field to the 47 yard line.

Four plays later, Dalton took the ball down to the one yard line but a penalty nullified the play. The Bears came back two plays later with a touchdown pass from Anderson to his tight end Russ Gade from 27 yards out. The two point conversion by Dalton was good and Laurel led 28-0 with 7:17 left in the half.

The third quarter saw a lot of subterfuge in the game as Laurel head coach Nick Danze gave the first unit a rest. Both defenses stiffened throughout the third quarter and neither team could put anything on the scoreboard. The third quarter ended with Laurel on top 28-0.

In the fourth quarter, the first team offense started going again after Jamie

Johnson intercepted his third pass of the night. Starting from their own 25 yard line, the Bears used good passes from Anderson — who finished the game with 131 yards passing, completing seven out of eight passes, and fine running by Dalton and McCorkindale to take the ball down to Osmond's four yard line.

One play later, McCorkindale scored Laurel's final touchdown. The PAT was good by kicker Scott Sherry. Laurel led 35-0 with 10:47 left in the game.

The remainder of the game saw a lot of Osmond's 45' neither team scored and the game ended with Laurel winning 35 to 0. Head coach Nick Danze felt his team came back well after losing the last two games. "The offense played exceptionally good," said Danze, "even though there were a lot of mistakes. Laurel will play Hartington on the home field next Friday night."

Winside And

Emerson Clash

Winside upped its conference volleyball record to 3-0 with a 15-4, 15-4 thrashing of Coleridge Thursday night. Keri Duering completed a good series and gave Winside early momentum in the varsity match.

With eight spikes in nine attempts, Kathy Thomas played what Coach Rich Stoffers called, "a consistently good game" and scored four aces. Stoffers added that the key to the game was senior setter Teri Hartmann, who he said ran the offense very effectively. She made 13 good sets in 13 attempts and was credited with 12 assists.

According to Stoffers his team played its soundest game this season with a new offensive setup controlling the game from the start.

The junior varsity lost its match by 12-15, 11-15 but the C team rallied to win 8-11, 11-9, 11-3. Winside with a 4-2 record will face undefeated Emerson at Hartington tomorrow (Tuesday), at 6:30 p.m.

Wakefield Downs Wynot

Wakefield picked up an important conference win in volleyball by turning back Wynot 15-2, 15-10 Thursday night to push their conference record to 2-1.

Lisa Greve paced the winners with 11 points and Jolene Barthe added seven more. Leading spikers for Wakefield were Kelly Murphy and Jon Erb for setting the ball so well and added that Ardie Barker played a good floor game. The varsity season record is now 3-3.

Wakefield lost the B game 9-15 and lost the C game 6-11, 11-4, 9-11. They will meet Osmond Tuesday in another conference match at 6:30.

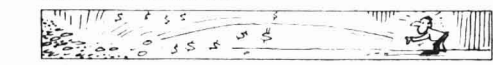

Coach Ernie Kovar credited Kelly Murphy and Jon Erb for setting the ball so well and added that Ardie Barker played a good floor game. The varsity season record is now 3-3.

Wakefield lost the B game 9-15 and lost the C game 6-11, 11-4, 9-11. They will meet Osmond Tuesday in another conference match at 6:30.

Randy's RECAP
According to Randy Hascall

AFTER FOOTBALL ACTION Friday the Husker and Lewis and Clark Conference are fighting up. Lakeview played a non-conference game against Scotts and lost but still leads the West Husker division with a 3-0 record. Wayne is right behind with a 2-0 record.

Emerson is in third with a 1-1 record, so the race is on.

Games still to play three conference games yet. First they meet Madison then Lakeview on homecoming and Emerson the following week. Wayne again faces the first unit a real test at knocking Lakeview off the top with their first conference loss.

You can bet Emerson fans will be keeping an eye on the Blue Devils knowing that a Lakeview loss would put them well in the running. The path gets tough for the Blue Devils now and the games become extremely important.

Winside and Wakefield find themselves sharing the lead in the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference after Friday's victory. Wakefield dumped Hartington and Wynot off the top in their previous two outings. Three conference games remain with Osmond, Winside and Coleridge.

Winside opens the tough part of its schedule with games against Wymot, Wakefield, Hartington and Withall. If both teams are successful in their next outings, the Winside Wakefield matchup could be for the whole ball of wax. Football is unpredictable but keep an eye open for the Wakefield Winside game.

YOUNG SCRAPPERS will be donning pads this week as they open the recreation football season tomorrow (Tuesday). Fifth and sixth graders will be playing at 6:30 p.m. while seventh and eighth grade players will follow at 8 p.m. Sixth graders who weigh over 100 pounds will also play with the junior high teams.

Games are scheduled for every Tuesday night for seven weeks. After every third game teams will be scrambled to provide new competition.

All games will be played at the city ball park and no admission will be charged. Hank Overin said that everyone is welcome to watch the games and he feels they will enjoy watching the players progress throughout the season.

He said that early in the season they make many mistakes but by the end of the year they are much improved.

Trojan "D" Does It Again

"We're just tickled pink!" Coach John Wayne remarked after his Wakefield Trojans dumped conference leader Wymot 8-0 Friday night, for their mid-straight win.

Wakefield's lone touchdown came in the first quarter on a 60 yard drive in four plays. Todd Swigart passed to Blaine Neilson for 21 yards, and then to Scott Hallstrom for a 38 yard touchdown to cap the drive.

The Trojans added a two point conversion on a pass to make the score 8-0. Much of the rest of the drive consisted of punt exchanges until Wakefield opened a drive in the third quarter.

The Blue Devils covered 72 yards in eight plays after a short Wakefield punt and 25 yards of penalties. The Wakefield defense stiffened into a goal line stance on and got off at the eight yard line and took over the ball at the four after holding Wymot scoreless in four plays.

"We nailed 'em," Torczon said. "Our defense was patient and everyone played consistently. We had a mental lapse in the third quarter but that was our only letdown. We're improving but we've got a long way to go."

Wakefield rushed for 73 yards and Blaine Neilson covered 42 yards to lead the Trojans offensively. Torczon said he couldn't single out any defensive players.

Wakefield has shown a strong defense this season, allowing an average of 4.2 points per game for their opponents, while averaging only 8 points a game themselves.

In reference to Osmond, Friday's Wakefield opponent, Torczon said that they're very capable.

Wayne Woman's Club Represented

Wednesday At Intercounty Meeting

Eleven women represented the Wayne Federated Women's Club at the annual inter-county convention Wednesday at Laurel. Wayne received an award for having the largest delegation from out-of-town.

Wayne also tied with Bloomfield for membership increase during the past year. Each club reported five new members.

Fifty-five clubwomen from Bloomfield, Coleridge, Plainview, Randolph, Laurel, and Winside turned out for the meeting and silver tea.

Registration and a brief business meeting, conducted by inter-county president Mrs. Ann Nelson of Laurel, preceded the 12 o'clock luncheon.

Appearing on the afternoon program were District III president Mrs. Gordon Bleich of Norfolk, president-elect Mrs.

Lambert Zvacek of Pender; and director of juniors for District III, Mrs. Charles Reppert of Pender.

Reports of local activities were given by members of the seven clubs.

New inter-county officers, installed by Ruth Ebmeyer of Laurel, and Mrs. Carl Broeker of Bloomfield, president; Mrs. Leonard Arnske of Plainview, vice president; and Mrs. William Wood of Bloomfield, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Broeker extended an invitation from the Bloomfield club to host the 1979 inter-county meeting.

At Wednesday's meeting from Wayne were Mrs. Charles Maier, Mrs. William Hagerman, Mrs. Raymond Schreiner, Mrs. Val Danne, Mrs. Robert Vakoc, Mrs. Dorothy Thun, Mrs. Leila Maynard, Mrs. Harvey Echtenkams, Lee Casauve, Mrs. Thelma Young and Goldie Leonard.

Garden Club Has Dessert Luncheon

Mrs. Arnold Wittler was hostess for the Town and Country Garden Club at a 2 o'clock dessert luncheon held on Tuesday afternoon.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. George Wittler, Mrs. Edwin Ulrich and Mrs. Norris Langenberg.

Mrs. Arthur Betmer, president, opened the meeting with a poem "September" and a thought for the day "It's nice to be important!"

Show and tell was held for roll call. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Lyle Marotz.

The group sent a gift to Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and plans were made for the annual dinner to be Nov. 5.

Special prizes went to Mrs. Hilda Thomas and Mrs. Lyle Marotz.

St. Stan Starling, Dixon County Extension Agent, says that information has been received regarding Clarke-McNary trees for 1979 planting.

William R. Lovett, UNL Tree Improvement Forester, recently visited the U.S. Forest Service Bessey Nursery and reports that this year's cuttings look exceptionally good, thanks to good moisture and growing conditions.

Cooperators should be pleased with the quality.

The Bessey Nursery is now growing seedlings for the National Forest in the Rocky Mountain Region. This means increased costs for Nebraska landowners buying trees from the Clarke-McNary program. Postage costs have also increased.

Total prices will now be $17.25 per hundred (an increase of $2.75) this includes delivery. Many varieties sold out early last year and those planning Christmas trees and conservation plantings are encouraged to order them early. They can be ordered through your County Extension Office, Starling adds.

Social Security Coverage Explained

Many people seem to be confused about the rules governing how social security credits a person's earnings according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk. There are two different concepts involved, Branch said. The first has to do with how earnings are credited, and the second deals with how social security credits, or "quarters of coverage," are earned.

Self-employed people will continue reporting their covered earnings annually at the time they file their Federal income tax return. Once a person's earnings are covered, and subsequently reported, another measure is used to determine whether the person gets social security credits, or "quarters of coverage," based on the earnings.

Starting with 1978 the same rules apply to all employed or self-employed alike. A worker will receive one quarter of coverage for each $250 of annual earnings, up to a total of 4 quarters if annual earnings are $1,000 or more. The $250 measure will increase automatically in future years to keep pace with increases in average wages covered by social security.

Powers, Proett Capture Cross Country Medals

Drainage Endangers Waterfowl So N.D. Construction Halts

The United Wildlife Federation has won a court order stopping construction of a North Dakota drainage ditch which, it charged, would endanger the lives of thousands of migratory waterfowl.

Judge Aubrey E. Robinson, Jr., sitting in U.S. District Court at Washington, D.C., ordered a halt to construction of the controversial "Channel A" between Devils Lake and Devils Lake in Ramsey County, N.D.

Channel A, the court ruled, comes under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, because under Section 10 of the 1899 Rivers and Harbors Act it affects the "course, condition, location or capacity of a navigable body of water in the U.S."

The NWF had argued, and the court agreed, that Devil's Lake is a navigable waterway and thus subject to control by the Corps of Engineers.

Work on the channel, now 50 percent completed, must cease. Judge Robinson held, until the Army Engineers can study its effects on the environment and issue a permit.

Channel A was designed to benefit farmers whose lands are occasionally flooded by excess sheet water flowing from Dry Lake to Devil's Lake. NWF, the nation's largest citizens conservation organization, argued that drainage of the thousands of acres of wetlands surrounding the lakes would have a serious effect on the large number of waterfowl that use the area as feeding grounds and migrational stopovers.

According to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, drainage of the wetlands would "drastically affect snow and blue geese and the redhead and canvasback ducks. These birds are experiencing population stress and the Devil's Lake wetlands are vital to them."

Sediment traveling through Channel A would greatly increase the turbidity of Devil's Lake, the NWF claimed, possibly clogging the gills of fish. In addition, agricultural chemicals, such as pesticides and fertilizers, would be carried by the sediment into the lake.

NWF filed the suit last September against both the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of the Corps of Engineers. The Corps had claimed that Devil's Lake was not a navigable waterway.

Before the Corps can grant a permit to complete Channel A, it must consult with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and prepare an environmental impact statement. The USFWS is expected to ask the Corps to mitigate any damage done to wild life by the channel.

NWF attorney Kenneth Kamlet explained that the purpose of the suit was not to "prevent flood control efforts by local farmers, or to stop the Channel A project altogether. We wanted to get an environmental impact statement out in the open, so that the projects' full consequences on wildlife could be studied."

Indiscriminate drainage of wetlands has often resulted in new flooding problems. Kamlet points out "Wetlands are nature's way of solving drainage problems."

A New Generation of Leadership

"Doug Bereuter...like a breath of fresh air"

"Sen. Bereuter doesn't fit the mold of the standard-type politician who has been on the ballot time after time... We look at the Utica businessman and legislator as a 'breath of fresh air.'" South Sioux City Star, May 18, 1978

Get to know Doug Bereuter. A businessman from Utica, Sen. Bereuter has served in the Nebraska Unicameral since 1974. As a freshman senator, he was selected by the Eggleston Institute of Politics as one of 50 outstanding legislators in America.

A former state administrator, Sen. Bereuter developed the nationally known Nebraska Community Improvement Program. He has also served as a teacher and private consultant in economic development and urban affairs.

Sen. Bereuter has served as Federal Relations Coordinator for Nebraska's Executive Branch, and has been a frequent witness before Congressional committees.

An armed forces veteran, Sen. Bereuter and his wife Louise have two sons, Kirk and Eric.

Sen. Bereuter has the broad background citizenship of the First District except of the government business, local, state and federal government, education, and community service.
