Arctic Air Covers Area in Icy Shroud

The Wayneland area threated about a bit last weekend to rid itself of an icy grip of arctic air which plunged temperatures to an unofficial low of ten degrees below zero.
A high pressure front moved into the area, spinning freezing air throughout the Midlands making people late for work when their cars wouldn't start and making it uncomfortable for those who have to work outside. The deep freeze has not been as biting as it could be because of little wind. While daytime temperatures remained in the mid-teens, it was not as uncomfortable being outside as it might be with winds bringing into consideration the wind chill index.

Here in the Wayneland area, life is "business as usual" despite the cold temperatures. There were no reports of fuel shortages or cold classrooms in area schools.

However, school officials advised parents to make certain their children are dressed properly for the cold weather before leaving for school, especially if they are walking.
An extension safety specialist recommends dressing warmly in loose-fitting, layered, wool clothing. Outer garments should be tightly woven and water repellent, he stated. A wool hat and scarf should be worn to protect the face and cover the mouth to prevent lung damage from the cold air.

Rollin D. Schnieder also said mittens are much warmer than gloves, Mittens, he said, allow the fingers to be next to each other for added warmth and also reduces the surface area of the hand exposed to the cold.

The purpose of dressing properly, of course, is to prevent frostbite which can be so severe it will result in the loss of fingers, toes or even an limb.
"The greatest danger of frostbite," Schnieder explained, "is its ability to strike without the victim being aware of any danger."

He said an intense "biting" or tingling sensation followed by numbness, an odd stiffness in the limbs and the skin turning chalky white are the earliest symptoms of frostbite.
Schnieder said young children are particularly susceptible to frostbite because they don't interrupt their play to heed the early warnings.
Modern treatment of frostbite involves covering the victim with blankets and giving hot drinks while rapidly rewarming the affected areas with lukewarm water. Schnieder said to forget the old-fashioned remedy of using cold water — or worse, snow and ice — as treatment.
"This only increases tissue damage," he said.
Along with the cold weather comes the neighbor-helping-neighbor to jump-start a car. This could lead to an explosion of the battery, if done improperly, spattering sulfuric acid.
Schnieder said a car battery is actually a latent hydrogen bomb of the non-nuclear variety. Small quantities of hydrogen gas are given at the negative plate of a battery even when the cells are not being charged.
A burning cigarette, a glowing pipe or even a spark from the jumper cables themselves is enough to ignite the hydrogen and cause an explosion.
There are certain safeguards that can be taken while jump-starting a car. Make sure both batteries are the same voltage. Make certain the fluid level in both batteries are full. Place a piece of cloth over the unexposed vent holes of both batteries.
Attach one end of one jumper cable to the booster battery's positive terminal which most often is identified by a red "positive" identification of abbreviation on the case, post or clamp. When making connection to battery posts, twist camps back and forth on the terminals to make sure of good metal-to-metal contacts. Attach the other end of the same cable to the positive terminal of the discharged battery.
Attach one end of the second cable to the negative terminal, which is indicated by a black "negative" identification of the booster battery. Connect the other end of the negative cable to the engine generator/alternator or any other accessible metallic part attached to the engine block, that is not painted, chrome-plated, heavily rusted or covered with grease.
Don Spitzer, county extension agent, said the cold weather does See COLD, Page 8

Frostbite Hazard Of Winter Months

KEEPING WARM during sub-zero temperatures last Friday and Saturday is Jeff Simpson, sixth grader at Middle School and son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Simpson, Wayne. Students are cautioned to be dressed properly in the cold temperatures to avoid the possibility of frostbite.

Moving Ahead (Or Up)

IN NEAR ZERO temperatures, an air-conditioner is hefted to the top of the new Mine Shaft Mall on Second Street as it moves along to completion. To balance things out, a central heating unit was added to the roof-top heating and cooling system.

Wayne Will Have New Mayor Tuesday

The City of Wayne will have a new mayor as of 7:40 p.m. if everything goes according to the agenda schedule for the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday night.
Mayor Freeman Decker will adjourn the meeting "sine die" following the approval of the minutes and the consideration of claims.
Newly elected Wayne Marsh

Wayne Girl Is Candidate

Laura Hagemann, Wayne will represent Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers in the 1979 Nebraska Pork Queen contest, Jan. 5 and 6 in Lincoln.

The competition will be held in conjunction with the Nebraska Pork Producers annual meeting and banquet.

Pork Queens from 21 area groups will be vying for the honor of succeeding Michelle Heitmann of Hardy, 1978 Nebraska Pork Queen.

During the two-day event, each contestant will deliver a 5 minute consumer oriented oral presentation. The area queens will also have personal interviews with the contest judges. These interviews will provide the judges with an opportunity to evaluate knowledge of the pork industry, ease of expression and personal poise.

The 1979 Nebraska Pork Queen will be crowned at the annual banquet, Jan. 6 in Pershing auditorium.

The new queen will then represent the Nebraska Pork Producers at promotional events and selected functions across the state of Nebraska.
At the end of her State reign, she will travel to the 1980 American Pork Congress in St. Louis, MI, to compete for the title of 1980 National Pork Queen.

Last-Minute Christmas Gifts Stave Off Panic, Pressure

If at 6:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve and the neighbor calls to ask if she can bring over "a little something" for your present. The only problem, it didn't occur to you until that moment to buy a gift for her.

Those with more nerve than others can handle the problem quite nicely by just admitting they're empty-handed and leaving it at that.

It's amazing, however, what can become an appropriate gift with a little imagination and a lot of pressure.

For example, the next time you're driving home on Christmas Eve and suddenly remember you've forgotten to buy your brother, father or boyfriend a present, just stop at your neighborhood gas station. Most carry such treasures as car wax, oil, windshield scrapers, upholstery cleaner, flashlights and jumper cables.

Other under-pressure possibilities include stops at the local drug store or convenience store. Drug stores carry all kinds of cosmetics and perfumes, and you could always buy a magazine and promise your friend a year's subscription.

At the convenience food store, fill your grocery bag with gourmet food items for the cook-lover, "health" food items for your jogger friend or low-calorie tidbits for the weight-watcher.

Your home itself has endless gift possibilities if you just look in the right places. Kitchen cabinets might yield home-canned foods, which always make a nice gift, or you could part with some of your home-baked holiday goods.

88th Birthday Party at Hoskins

Mrs. Lena Ulrich observed her 88th birthday Tuesday afternoon at her home in Hoskins.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ulrich and Mrs. Everett Wetzler of Norfolk Christine Lueker of Winside, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Mrs. Anna Falk, Arthur Ulrich and Mrs. Bill Fenske, all of Hoskins.

The group held a songfest. Mrs. Ulrich served a birthday cake which she baked. The cake was decorated by Christine Lueker.

If there's a book you've hardly touched on a bottle of unopened wine or liquor, both make welcome gifts as does a house-hold plant.

If none of these ideas appeal to you, here are some more last-minute gifts that can stave off the panic:

— If you have a hobby of some kind, such as mscrame, sewing, painting, quilting or needlework, wrap up some basic "starter" tools and promise lessons.

— Buy some fruit or use fresh fruits and vegetables on hand. Arrange in a basket and tie with a ribbon.

— If you quilt and have some extra quilting blocks around, sew together for simple decorative pillowcases. Extra scraps of material also can be turned into a Christmas stocking or tote bag with little effort.

— Extra flowerbuds or seeds left over from the fall can be an inventive gift for the plant lover.

— Make a homemade gift certificate promising some services such as babysitting, cooking, a meal or washing the car.

— Copy your favorite holiday recipes on personalized or holiday recipe cards. Give with a sample.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Silver Year Fete

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gnirk of Hoskins are invited to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary on Sunday, Dec. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Trinity Lutheran Church basement in Hoskins.

Gnirks were married Dec. 14, 1963. Their children, who are hosting the anniversary observance, are Mrs. Michael (Debra) Jones of Norfolk, Rodney Gnirk of Battle Creek, Robert Gnirk Jr. of Hoskins, and Reginald and Lori Gnirk of Hoskins.

Daughter of Former Residents Semi-Finalist

Barbara Reed, 16-year-old daughter of former Wayne residents Mr. and Mrs. Don Reed of San Marino, Calif., has been named a semi-finalist for the Miss Teenage America Contest to be held next month in Nashville.

Barbara Reed

The 5'8" honor student will reign for one year as Miss Teenage Hawthorne Plaza. Her first appearance was the day after Thanksgiving when she and the Hawthorne High School Band ushered Santa Claus into the Plaza.

Miss Reed was ranked tops in the scholastic competition of the Miss Teenage America contest. She competed with 93 girls in her geographical area, and went on to compete with 14 girls at Hawthorne Plaza for the talent and beauty portion of the contest. There she was named a duo winner.

The final portion of the contest was held at Huntington Beach, where each of the two winners from six Southern California geographical areas showed their

Trojans Steamroll Osmond With 47 Point Second Half

BY WILLIS MAHANNAH
The Wakefield Trojans, benefiting from a strong third quarter, upped their record to 2-1 with a convincing 75-47 victory over Osmond in boys' basketball action Friday night.

Wakefield, leading 28-27 at the half, opened the third quarter in a hustling manner rolling off 14 unanswered points to take a 42-27 advantage.

That quarter ended with Wakefield on top 52-24, as the Trojan defense limited Osmond to only one field goal in those eight minutes. Osmond's other points for the third quarter came from free throws.

The game opened with Osmond jumping off to a 10-4 lead, as the Tigers controlled the first quarter, leading 15-12 at the buzzer.

The slow, deliberate tempo continued into the second quarter as both teams used zone defenses causing lots of passes and few shots.

Late in the second period, Wakefield coach Joe Coble ordered his troops to switch back to man to man coverage along with a full court press, and that move turned the game around. Trailing 27-24 with just 40 seconds remaining in the first half, Wakefield took advantage of two quick steals resulting in two easy baskets to gain the lead for good.

Coble was pleased with his team's defense in the second half and gave them credit for getting the offense on track. Coble stated "Our team defense as a whole did a good job, and I have to give credit to Todd Swigart for kicking our defense in gear in the second half. Doug Starzl also had a good second half defensively."

Wakefield's defensive efforts proved to be the difference as Osmond was limited to 18 field goals compared to 30 for the Trojans. From the charity stripe, Osmond was 11 for 21 and Wakefield hit on 15 of 21 attempts.

Leading scorers for Wakefield were Scott Hallstrom with 21 points, followed by Barry Jones and Tom Preston with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Osmond was led by Mark Kumm with 14 markers and Joe Hoffman had 12.

At the boards, Starzl and Jones led the Trojans, pulling down seven saves each.

Wakefield's assist leader was Swigart with seven.

The Trojan Junior Varsity was also victorious Friday night, defeating Osmond 36-32. Coren Erlandsen had 10 points to lead the JV's, and Larry Sobberg added 8.

Wakefield will travel to Hartington Friday Dec. 15, for their next game.

Bartels Heads Trojan Win

Led by Jolene Bartels' 20 points, the Wakefield Trojans outscored Emerson Hubbard in the third period and pulled away to a 50-42 victory Thursday night.

The first quarter was low scoring as Wakefield took a slim 6-5 lead. The two teams erupted in the second quarter and totaled 34 points with the Trojans gaining a 24-21 half time lead.

Wakefield came out in the third period and continued its hot shooting to add 18 more points to its total, while holding Emerson to 11. The score at the end of three was Wakefield 42, Emerson 32.

Although the Pirates outshot the Trojans in the final period, Wakefield held on to win 50-42. The Trojans are now 1-1 and will host Hartington Thursday night. Emerson Hubbard won the reverse game 19-17.

Ginn, Emry Score Big But Devils Fall Short

The Wayne Blue Devils fell behind South Sioux Friday night and couldn't generate enough scoring to rebound from the deficit, eventually falling to the Cardinals 67-52.

Tom Ginn sparked the Wayne offense with 17 points and Brad Emry added 13 in the effort. South Sioux moved into the lead 20-16 after the first quarter and The Devils never broke that lead.

"We got behind and tried to catch up too quickly," Coach Bill Sharpe said. "We just didn't play very well." South Sioux led at the half 38-30, and after three periods 51-40.

Wayne hit 23 baskets in 63 attempts for a 37 percent average while South Sioux pumped in 55 percent. The Blue Devils out rebounded the Cards 39 to 28 but turned the ball over 18 times compared to 12 for South Sioux. Emry led the team at the boards with 11 rebounds followed by Perry Nelson with 9.

South Sioux's 5-8 Dave Notelbom seemed to be the determining factor in the Cardinals al victory. He hit 11 field goals and two free throws for 24 points. Garry Dean and Mark White added 11 points each for the Cardinals.

Wayne, which drops to 0-2, was scheduled to meet Lakeview Saturday in the home opener for the Blue Devils this season.

The Wayne B team won an exciting game when the junior Blue Devils topped South Sioux 74-68 in double overtime. Tony Rezek led the JV's with 20 points and Stuart Nissen scored 19. Todd Heier added 10 in the winning cause.

Wayne played Columbus Lakeview last night at Wayne High. The game was their third in five days. Wayne plays at Laurel Tuesday.

Quick Pantherettes Outpass Wayne Gals

In an offense-minded game Thursday night, the Wayne Blue Devils fell to Norfolk's girls 59-46, after a lackluster third quarter.

Both teams came out running in the first quarter and Norfolk jumped out in front 19-14 at the end of the first period behind good passing and teamwork.

The Blue Devils opened the second quarter cold and didn't score during the first two minutes. Peg Pinkelman hit a basket and a free throw to break the slump and shift the momentum to Wayne's side. Then, Lisa Barclay added some key baskets.

The Blue Devils took a lead in the second quarter but couldn't hold on and Norfolk went into the locker room with a 31-30 lead at half.

Wayne ran into foul trouble and midway through the third quarter, LaVonna Sharpe fouled out and Pinkelman went to the bench with four fouls. The Devils made numerous mistakes in the period and fell apart against a quick Panther team.

Jolene Bennett came alive and hit three baskets in the final two minutes of the third quarter for Wayne's only points as the locals fell behind 46-36.

The Panthers used accurate passing and their quickness to take advantage of Wayne errors and win the game 59-46. Toni Oppinger led Norfolk with 16 points while Barclay and Pinkelman finished with 15 and 14 points respectively for the Devils.

"Turnovers hurt badly," Coach Curt Frye said. "We committed fouls out of position and made silly mistakes. Norfolk passed extremely well and we didn't," he added.

The Wayne reserves were victorious in the opener 34-29. Stacy Jacobmeier led the locals with 10 points followed by Lynn Surber with 8. Other scorers: Shelly Davis, 5; Jenny DeTurk, 4; Tammie Thomas, 2; Megan Owens, 2; Anne Liska, 1; Lisa Peters, 1.

Bears Cold, Trojans Blistering Hot

Basketball teams can have their colds days and their hot days. Unfortunately for Laurel, while they were having a cold day, their opponents from Hartington C.C. were on fire.

The Bears shot only 24 percent from the field Friday night while host team Cedar Catholic hit 56 percent from the field. C.C. had little trouble with Laurel after they found the range, and went on to win the game 78-42.

"Two extremes were displayed tonight," Laurel Coach Joel Parks said after the game. "We had very poor shooting while theirs was very good."

In addition to the high field goal percentage during the entire game, the Trojans hit an amazing 76 percent in the fourth quarter, missing only six shots in 24 attempts.

"It was a rough, very physical game," Parks said. "We just sat us. We only had 11 turnovers but got blitzed. They would have beat a lot of people whooting like that."

Four Trojans finished in double figures for the night. Mike Litz and Keith Becker led Cedar with 18 points apiece while Russ Uthing and John Kathol both finished with 11 points. Steve Anderson was the leading scorer for Laurel with 11 points. Don Dalton and Matt Johnson followed him.

Looking ahead to tomorrow's (Tuesday's) game with Wayne, Parks said that when Laurel and Wayne meet, the records can be thrown away. He added that the two teams have a good rivalry built up and said he hopes for a good game.

Shorter Wildcats Execute Ball Control To Top Mo. Western

Controuing the ball is the name of the game for the Wayne State Wildcat basketball team this year, and that's exactly what the Wildcats did in their 56-51 victory Thursday over favored CSIC opponent Missouri Western.

The Wildcats, now 3-1 on the season, baffled the tall Missouri Western team (five players at 6-6 or over) with a combination of four-corner control, man to man defense and a "screaming zone" defense.

"I am certainly pleased with the play of a couple of our freshmen," first-year coach Bill Ivey said, "and with the defense. We didn't make any foolish fouls and I think our defense won the game for us."

Ivey said that he was not sure what to expect from the Missouri team, but he was happy to see WSC, with the tallest player, 6-6, perform well against a larger opponent.

"We didn't really know what to anticipate," Ivey said. "I knew they were big and I was certainly concerned with their board play but Bobby Reeson (WSC's center) did a fine job."

Wayne State controlled the ball from the start of the match, but faltered midway through the second half and fell behind by as much as seven points. Ivey's group recovered quickly and WSC led at the half, 26 to 25.

The Wildcats scored the first three points of the second half and went directly into a four corner-control game. They then extended their lead to 36-25 before Missouri Western called its first time out of the second half. The Wildcats led by as much as 12 points and at one time used up more than 1:30 of the clock with a four-corner stall before moving in for an easy score by Jay Bellar.

In addition to the ball handling by freshman guard Zake Lorrick and junior guard Willie Summers, WSC received a balanced scoring attack with Summers hitting 14 points, Lorrick with 14, senior Bob Reeson 12, freshman Joe Lindsey 10, with sophomore Jay Bellar contributing 6 points.

Wayne State faced Hastings College at Wayne, Saturday. Hastings defeated the Wildcats last year 99-96 and finished the 1977 season with an 18-5 record. They have four seniors and a number of juniors back this year.

Hot 4th Quarter Shoots Down Coleridge

With a strong fourth quarter surge, Winside broke open a close, low-scoring game Friday night and rolled over Coleridge 45-30 at home.

The first quarter was slow moving as both teams set up the ball on offense and patiently waited for their shots. Neither team worked the ball inside and the outside shots didn't fall. The teams were tied up 4-4 after the first period.

Winside's defense looked strong as the Wildcats blocked shots from the shorter Coleridge players and stole the ball on many occasions.

Although both teams continued to have problems scoring in the second quarter, Winside did open up its attack and build an 18-13 halftime lead. However, they also got into foul trouble.

The Bulldogs found some better shots in the second half and cut the Winside lead to 20-19 late in the third quarter. Winside held on to its one-point lead and with the score 24-23 after three periods, it looked like it would be a tight battle.

The Wildcats played up to their potential in the final period as they racked up 21 points to seven for Coleridge. Bob Hawkins opened the attack with two quick baskets in the final stanza to give his team some momentum.

With Winside taking control of the tempo, the Bulldogs made some mistakes and the Wildcats broke open for easy buckets to break the game open. The strong finish by the tall Wildcats vaulted them past Coleridge 45-30 and pushed their record to 2-0. Chuck Peter led the home team with 16 points.

Under the boards Winside was extremely balanced with Peter and Hawkins leading the way with nine rebounds each. Bruce Smith snatched eight rebounds while Bill Gottberg and Paul Roberts pulled down seven apiece.

Dan Huss with nine points and Warren Stallbaum with eight led the Coleridge offense.

"We had foul trouble in the second quarter," Coach Dennis Gonneman said. "Basically we're a slowed down team but we didn't take good shots. In the fourth quarter, we showed what we could do," he added.

Coleridge committed 21 turnovers which resulted in 18 Winside points while the Wildcats made 15 turnovers for eight Coleridge points.

"It was a total team effort, every one did his job, at a certain point," Gonneman stated. "We got ahead finally and put them away."

Winside travels to Wynot for a game Friday night.

Bears Set Record Score

The Laurel girls scored a record number of points Thursday night in a good team effort as the Bears rolled over Wausa 66-33 to up their record to 2-1.

Three Laurel players scored in double figures as the offense exploded. Roxie Kraemer led the team with 14 points. She was followed closely by Deanna Manz with 13 and Lisa Galvin with 12 points.

"Everything clicked and things went real well," Coach Ev Jensen said. "The fast break worked and we hit 46 percent from the floor. That's the most points ever scored by a girls team at Laurel. Our free throws do need work though," he added. Laurel held only a four point lead after the first quarter but the Bears outscored Wausa 24-8 in the second quarter to take a 34-14 lead.

The scoring continued to be high throughout the second half as the Bears totaled 82 points in the final two periods.

"We're playing young players who are inexperienced," Jensen stated. "By the end of the year we could have a real good season. We may have our ups and downs though."

The girls play Wayne Thursday night and Bloomfield next Tuesday in games that Jensen expects to be tough. He compared both teams to be of the calibre of Allen.

Laurel won the reserve game 21-18 to push the JV record to 3-0.

Creamer Leads Eagles Past Bancroft Friday

Sparked by Mark Creamer, the Allen Eagles took a 10 point lead in the third quarter and held on to nip Bancroft 49-48 in boys basketball action Friday night.

Bancroft took a 12-10 first quarter lead but the Eagles caught up in the second period and grabbed a 20-19 advantage at half-time. Then, Creamer and teammates outscored the Bulldogs 14-6 in the third quarter for a comfortable 10 point lead.

Bancroft didn't give up and made one last effort to catch the Eagles in the fourth quarter. Led by Glenn Tietz, who finished with 19 points, the Bulldogs closed in on the Allen lead. Although being outscored in the final eight minutes, Allen held on for a 49-48 win — their second consecutive triumph.

The Eagles hit 35 percent from the field with 22 field goals in 63 attempts. Bancroft finished with 43 percent accuracy. Bart Gotch and Lee Hansen played major roles in the game dragging down 13 and 11 rebounds respectively.

"Creamer sparked us. He hit some key shots that put us in the lead," Coach Bart Kneiff said. "We're slowly but surely getting there. We have to find our compass, but it's coming around. We need another win." Kneiff also complimented Gotch and Hansen.

Allen will get an opportunity for another win Friday at Homer.

Randy's RECAP

According to Randy Hascall

WILLIE MAHANNAH covered the Wakefield-Osmond basketball game for the Wayne Herald Friday night. Although this is the first time he has reported for The Wayne Herald, Mahannah is not new at sports reporting.

He is a Wayne State student and has been a sports reporter and intramural reporter for the Wayne State during the past year. He's been interested in and involved in athletics most of his life. Willie will be covering area games for me in the future also, when the opportunities arise.

THE METRIC SYSTEM has reached the Midwest but I'm not accustomed to it yet. I received rosters of an area school's boys and girls basketball teams while ago and when I checked to see how tall the players are I became confused.

The heights were all listed in centimeters ranging from 178-188 centimeters on the boys team and from 163 to 180 on the girls squad.

Luckily, there was a conversion chart under the roster and I calculated their heights in feet and inches. A six foot player is 183 centimeters tall in the metric system while a player 173 centimeters tall is 5-8. How tall does that make Bill Walton?

PETE ROSE'S POCKETS should be jingling next spring as he puts on a Phillie uniform for $3.2 million in four seasons. That's over $5,000 a game and not bad for a 38-year-old baseball player. I've always thought that Rose was an excellent player but when someone earns more than $1,000 every time he bats, it's ridiculous.

Bobby Grich, baseball player for the California Angels received $7,045 for each of his 44 hits during the 1977 season.

Of course, baseball isn't the only sport hit by these high priced contracts. Professional basketball and football are just as bad. David Thompson, star of the Denver Nuggets basketball team, signed a contract last May for $4 million over a five year period. He receives $800,000 a year in cash installments. If you want to sit down and figure out how much he makes an hour, you'll probably faint.

For every second (that's right-second) that Thompson is on the basketball court this season, he will make $4.20. That's simply outrageous.

So what does the modest Thompson have to say about his contract? Thompson is an article in Sports Illustrated last spring, he replied, "I feel worthy. I know I could have gotten more, but peace of mind is more important than cash."

He collects that much money and talks about peace of mind: It's incredible. So as athletes' wages continue to soar, and the economy continues to sag, professional athletes continue to compete to see who can be the highest paid athlete in the world. Where does it all end?

I THOUGHT THAT SOME people might be interested in learning the classification procedures for athletics. Schools are classed according to the State Department of Education enrollment figures of the previous year for grades 9-11.

Omaha Westside is the largest school in the state with an enrollment of 2,237 students. The largest Class B team is Gering with 557 students. Wayne is near the middle of the pack with 296 enrollees. In Class C, Pierce and Wood River are the biggest schools with 215 students each. Laurel is down the line with 147 students. Hanging together are Wakefield with 101 and Winside with 99 enrollees. Eustis and Trenton lead the Class D ranks with 86 students each while Allen totals 79. The Class A-B-C-D designations do not pertain to all activities but are the basis for most athletic classifications.

Named All-Tourney

SELECTED TO the all-tournament team in the Ryland Milner Invitational Basketball Tournament was Julie Petronis, Wayne State sophomore center. Above, she receives a trophy from Ryland Milner, for whom the tourney was named. Wayne State defeated TarKio College in the first round and lost to Northwest Missouri in the finals to finish second.

Winside Grapplers Not Up To Par Vs. Pender

The Winside wrestling team suffered a setback in its first dual of the season Thursday as Pender dumped the Wildcats 34-12.

"We wrestled really poorly," Winside Coach Doug Reeves said after the meet. "They won the opener and got the momentum. After the 126 pound match, the score was 11-8 Pender and that was as close as we got."

Winside lost two matches by one point and tied another as they fell to the Pendergrons. Reeves credited Eric Vahlkamp at 155 pounds with a good match. "We weren't aggressive. We didn't wrestle up to our potential at all," Reeves stated. "We weren't outclassed, we just died."

Tom Anderson remained undefeated with a decision at 126. The winners of the WSC Tourney last week, competed in the North Bend Tourney Saturday and Reeves said he hoped his team would recover from the loss. "We have to come back like champions and winners again. Nine of our 12 wrestlers are seeded at North Bend). It should be close."

Results of the North Bend Tourney will be published in Thursday's issue of The Wayne Herald. Three Winside wrestlers were seeded first, one second, three third and two fourth.

Pender results are as follows:
98 — Mark Koch (W) was pinned by Harold Christensen (P).

105 — Doug Jaeger (W) was dec. by Tim Swanson (P) 7-1.
112 — Brian Foote (W) dec. Craig Thompson (P) 8-1.

119 — Rick Bowers (W) wrestled to a 2-2 draw with Rick McQuistan (P).

126 — Tom Anderson (W) dec. Gary Prokop (P) 7-0.
132 — Barry Bowers (W) was pinned by Don McQuistan (P).

138 — Scott Mann (W) was dec. by Bill Reppert (P) 3-2.
145 — Tom Koll (W) was dec. by Kevin Pendrick (P) 8-2.

155 — Eric Vahlkamp (W) was dec. by Phil Sorenson (P) 7-2.
167 — Brent Miller (W) was dec. by Jim Martin (P) 14-1.

185 — Mitch Pfeiffer (W) dec. Brad Krusimaker (P) 8-0.
HW — Kent Galsmeyer (W) was dec. by Chuck Urbank (P) 3-1.

Church Women

Have Luncheon

Women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church met Wednesday afternoon for a potluck luncheon and Christmas program. Service Group 4 served the dinner in the church social room.

Thirty-five members and a guest, Mrs. Linda Fitzke, attended.
 Fruit baskets were delivered to shut-ins from the Lutheran Churchwomen. Food items were brought for the Lutheran Pantry located in Omaha.

Mrs. Marvin Draghu conducted the meeting. Mrs. Jewell Schock presented the program, "How Quietly He Comes," assisted by Mrs. Arland Aurich. Accompanist was Mrs. Doniver Peterson.

It was announced that Circles will not meet during December. Naomi Circle will meet Jan. 18 and Esther Circle will meet Jan. 19. Next general meeting is Jan. 25.

Ten Meet For Christmas Party

Christmas readings, games and a grab bag Christmas gift exchange furnished entertainment following a 1 o'clock potluck luncheon of the Central Social Circle Tuesday.

Hostess was Verdelle Reeg. Far roll call, 10 members told how they would spend $1,000 if someone gave it to them for Christmas.

Program leader Mary Kieper gave a Christmas reading and led in the singing of "Silent Night." Lillian Granquist read the Christmas Story. Pencil games were played, and prizes went to Darlene Gathje and Kay Gilfert. Joceli Bull received the door prize. The afternoon concluded with a grab bag gift exchange.

Next meeting will be Jan. 2 at 1:30 p.m. with Darlene Helgren. Club members are asked to have five quilt blocks sewn by this meeting.

Poultry, Egg Organizations Elect Officers

Five Nebraska poultry and egg organizations elected new officers and directors during an annual convention in Columbus recently of the Nebraska Poultry Industries Inc. (NPI) and its component divisions.

Dick Brownell of the Milton G. Waldbaum Co. of Wakefield was elected president by the NPI. Other officers are Dale Keller of David City, first vice president; Doug Ferebee of Gibbon, second vice president; Jack Flynn of Columbus, secretary-treasurer; and Doyle Free of Lincoln, general manager.

Reo Weeks of the Nebraska Turkey Ranch, Gibbon, was elected to a three-year term of a NPI director at large. Brownell and Flynn also serve as directors-at-large.

The Nebraska Egg Council chose LaVern Dunker, Scyuler, as its new president. Also selected were Jim Rountree, David City, vice president; Jack Flynn, Columbus, secretary; Joe Claybaugh, Wayne, treasurer; and Doyle Free, Lincoln, executive secretary.

Keller, Claybaugh and Bernard Hann, Bellwood, were elected to serve as directors at large to the council. Dan Gardner Wakefield, Gil Eckhoff, Omaha, Brownell, Dunker, Flynn, and Dick Earl, Lincoln, also serve as directors-at-large.

Report Progress On CPR Training

After Gov. J. James Exon and the directors of 14 state agencies participated in a basic CPR course last year, they felt that such training should be made available to all state employees. The Nebraska Department of Health was assigned the responsibility for coordinating a CPR training program for employees of 74 state agencies.

Dr. Henry Smith, Director of the Health Department, reported to Governor Exon that by the end of September 1978, over 5,500 state employees have been trained in basic CPR. The goal of

1. CPR training has been conducted in 75 percent of all state agencies.

2. All state agencies excluding the four state colleges and the University of Nebraska System have a combined total of 19,059 employees. Of these, 4,541 (or 34.8 percent) have completed the basic CPR course.

- In other business, the council will hear presentations by City Clerk Bruce Mordhorst concerning M.E. Way Memorial interest, a police cruiser and the proposed 1 and 6 year street plan.
- Phil Lorenzen is scheduled to appear before the council concerning a bond issue. The preliminary plat of Sunnyview Addition will be reviewed. Four ordinances will be considered and a maintenance agreement will be presented to the council by the department of roads.
- The council meeting will be held in the Fredrick Brink Council Chambers beginning at 7:30 p.m.

3. The four state colleges and the University of Nebraska System have 16,712 employees, of which 1,038 (or 6.2 percent) have been trained in CPR.

According to Smith, 208 state employees have been trained as CPR instructors. Many of these instructors have not only taught their co-workers but have also volunteered to teach CPR to community groups during off-duty hours.

CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) combines rhythmic chest compressions and artificial respiration to help persons whose hearts have stopped beating due to heart attack, drowning, electrocution, drug overdose or other accident.

put stress on livestock out in open fields. However, he said cold usually results in an increase in consumption of feed and a decrease in production of weight gain or milk.

The real danger to livestock, he said, comes when there is snow or freezing rain accompanied by strong winds.

While most business places and residences are using more and more fuel as the cold weather deepens, one place of business in Wayne has yet to resort to fuel for heat.

Wittig's Food Center, which was recently moved into new quarters, uses reclaimed hot air produced by compressors to heat the 12,000 square feet in the super market. He said the system is designed to switch over to fuel heat when the temperature drops to a certain point inside the building. Al Wittig, the owner, said he has not been on fuel heat yet this winter, even when the temperature was ten degrees below zero.

OBITUARIES

Martha Lutt

A former resident of Wayne, Mrs. Martha Lutt, 96, died Dec. 1 at a Norfolk hospital.

She was born in Germany Aug. 15, 1882 to Ferdinand and Louise Phlatt Pfeil and came to Hoskins with her family in 1900. On Feb. 28, 1901, she married Henry Lutt of Hoskins. They farmed Southwest of Wayne until 1909, then went to Colome, S.D. Mr. Lutt died in 1922, and Mrs. Lutt moved to Wayne in 1928. In 1938 she made her home with her son-in-law, Herbert Peters in Wayne, and helped raise five grandchildren after the death of their mother.

In May of this year she went to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Percy Anderson of Norfolk. She had been a resident of Valley View Lodge since September.

She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in Germany and was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne, with the Rev. Thomas Mendenhall and the Rev. John Upton officiating. Serving as pallbearers were Gilbert Krause, Art Lehmann, Alfred Miller, Don and Norman Peters and Melvin Pfeil. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

She is preceded in death by her husband, one son, two daughters, two grandchildren, four brothers and three sisters. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Percy (Hilda) Andersen of Norfolk and Mrs. Elsie Nelson of Carmichael, Calif., 15 grandchildren; 36 great grandchildren and 11 great great grandchildren.

Holidays Are For Grandparents Too

The Christmas season isn't just for children. It should be a joyous occasion for every generation. True, if there are small children in the family, holiday events focus on them — and this is only fitting. But this is also a time for remembering the past, and for linking the past to the present, and to the future, as well. The holidays are a time for children to hear about and delight in — as they always do — what it was like in the "olden days" when their grandparents were children themselves. This is the time, too, for grandparents to enjoy that very special pleasure of indulging their grandchildren.

Sometimes parents think that the grandparents are too extravagant, that they give presents, the parents can't afford. Naturally this makes young parents resentful. Jealousy, too, sometimes surfaces, as parents recall, "they never gave me such opportunities they have to really get to know another and more distant generation; to share their thoughts with them; to discover with the children. Let your parents have the pleasure of being extravagant if that makes their holidays more joyous. And enjoy the pleasure your children derive from their grandparents' generosity.

All that is needed is common sense on both sides. A grandmother should not, for instance, decide that the time has come for Sarah to a bicycle unless she has her parents' approval. Such a major gift, involving safety as well as expense, should be discussed beforehand with the parents.

On the other hand, if a grandfather yearns to teach his grandchildren to fish and give them rather costly tackle, rejoice in the friendship and communion that may result between the generations.

The holidays may provide children who live far from their grandparents with one of the few opportunities they have to really get to know another and more distant generation; to share their thoughts with them; to discover that they can have fun with them, learn from them, play with them. The holidays are not just a time for exchanging gifts. They are times for family closeness, for the renewal of traditions and for the sharing of memories that will last a lifetime.

Dress up your car

An economy car may drive like a gem and get good gas mileage, but the owner may sometimes glance with envy at the luxury and sporty cars and long for some of their expensive styling. For the car buyer who has to opt for a stripped model for budgetary reasons, do-it-yourself body side moldings and pinstrips can do a lot to avoid the box-on-wheels look, says the Automotive Information Council. The trim kits can do more than just add good looks. Body moldings can help to avoid the nick your car's finish can get when someone opens a car door into the side of your car. A better-looking car also can add additional dollars at trade-in time. Self-stick trims are available at auto-accessory stores. The color of the pinstrips or moldings should match or complement the interior of the car. Look at other cars in a parking lot for ideas on the most popular color combinations. Pinstrips can be put almost anywhere on the body of the car to accent body lines. Body moldings, however, should be placed where they can do the most good in preventing nicks and scratches. On a mid-sized car, put the moldings on the area of widest curvature. On a smaller, car, usually lower, you may have to place the molding higher to compensate for the height at which a larger car's door will hit the side. To install, wash the surface of the car where the trim will be and remove all dirt and wax to insure good sticking of the trim's adhesive. Make the placement of the stripes or the molding along the side of the car by measuring up from a flat surface and marking with a crayon or other soft marker that will wipe off. Place masking tape as a guide just below the markings and stand back to see that you measured correctly. If the guide line looks tilted, remove the tape and measure again. To apply the molding or trim, peel the backing off as you go, placing the trim just above the tape guide line. Use light pressure at first, checking to see that the trim is on straight. Once the trim is where you want it, use hand pressure to assure good contact. On pinstripe trim, remove the transparent plastic carrier that covers the stripe. Do-it-yourself trim can almost transform a plain economy model, says the Automotive Information Council.

OBSERVATIONS

Reacting to actions

Usually, we leave world affairs to those who are in charge of such things but we cannot accept the way in which our government has reacted to the Jim Jones religious cult murder-suicide in Gynana.

We believe our government has overstepped its obligations in returning all of the bodies of those who died because of their beliefs, to the United States. . . a country which they forsaken for a country of their own choosing.

We feel what happened in Gynana is tragic. And we are sorry that an elected representative of our country was slain as well as several of our countrymen who were doing their jobs as reporters.

However, we do not alter our opinion that, for the most part, we (the United States) over-reacted to a situation and accepted responsibilities which should have been shouldered by an agency or organization.

Our government made the decision to bring the bodies of those who died in Jonestown back to the United States to be claimed or eventually cremated if not claimed. And they used the money of the taxpayer to carry out this decision.

We certainly feel something had to be done concerning the situation. We feel even more strongly that it was and should not be the responsibility of the United States to accept the burden of actions of those who choose to turn their backs on the United States and live in a country more acceptable to their political and religious beliefs.

Perhaps we are overreacting to the actions of the government to which we elect representatives to echo our voices in governmental decisions and policy making. We call this form of government a democracy. And in time of need, we lay down our lives for democratic freedoms.

We have served in the armed forces but we are one of the lucky ones because we are able to write this. There are many who died in the fight for freedom and they have been left to be buried with their comrades with whom they served and with whom they paid the sacrifice.

War is hell and many times hard-nosed decisions have to be made such as burying our servicemen in the battle fields. But when our government has a choice, we feel they should take a look at the rolls of countrymen who were killed and buried in alien countries and then decide whether or not they should shoulder those things for which they are not responsible.

We know we are beating a dead horse. Nothing can be done about what has transpired except to talk about it. But there are other "Jonestowns." There are many cults and groups who deny the very things upon which the United States is founded. Should we bring them "home" as we did those of Jonestown? We think not. We owe that much to those who fought and fell in the name of freedom. — Chuck Barnes

BarneStorming

With Chuck Barnes

We re-experienced our now-normal reaction to the first snow storm of the season. We got sick to our stomach as visions of "Winters Past" passed before us, showing seemingly endless circles of digging in and then digging out.

Sure, it's easy enough for you to say "if you don't like it, why don't you get the hell out!" We have said the same thing over and over again, but some complusion makes us remain to fight the bitter battle of winter.

We will our share of snow to snowmobilers, skiers, sleigh-riders, the makers of snowmen and to "Big Foot, wherever you are."

We're not all that hung up about snow. When conditions are right it blends to make a picturesque winter scene. We can live with it. We can "dig it" as they say. But we feel we can still maintain some sort of sanity when the flakes are falling.

Much to our disgust, we had to make a trip into the outside world last Saturday afternoon. We made certain we had a full tank of gas, blankets, fully stocked "survival kits," all of those good things. As we skimmed along, we faintly saw them through the blowing snow. Can it be? We asked. And so it was.

There they were. Must have been six or eight of them. And in full daylight, at that.

Whiffing over the sound of the blowing snow came the regimental "hike one!" "hike two!" "hike three!" One went on a fly pattern while another ran a come-back. The spheroid broke through the snow cover and was promptly dropped by the climax-clad receiver on a suicide route.

Football. Right in the middle of a major snow storm. No uniforms. No officials. And most of all, no spectators, they battled back and forth. We watched as the entire squad buried themselves in the snowdrift, going after a ball which had been fumbled on a blurred version of the "Statue of Liberty Play."

Boys will be boys, we thought. And then we saw one of them scramble after a cap and low and behold, it was a girl. Can it be? We asked. And so it was. Football can be fun.

And that, he mused as he joined the snow fun, is that!

Holding down health care costs

RIDDLE: Why is going to the dentist less painful these days?

ANSWER: Dental fees are not going up as fast as fees for doctors or hospital care.

The riddle is true and helps illustrate how Americans, if sufficiently motivated, can help hold down health care costs, which are almost doubling every five years, and today cost an average of $830 for each man, woman and child in the United States.

For the decade prior to 1977, says Nation's Business magazine, dental fees rose by 85 percent, in contrast to the cost of living index, which rose 94 percent, doctors' fees, up more than 100 percent and semiprivate hospital rooms, up 200 percent.

The point is that the vast majority of dental patients has a direct financial link to dental care. — the magazine added, pointing out that 95 percent of the nation's dental bill is paid for in private dollars.

In contrast, approximately 200 million Americans can count on some sort of insurance to pay for hospital bills.

Nation's Business, the country's largest business publication with almost 1.2 million subscribers, devotes a major article in its November issue to methods businesses have actually used to hold down health care costs. And it relates a major effort by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to encourage more firms to emulate these cost-saving programs. The Chamber publishes the magazine.

As the largest purchaser of health care services, business spent $70 billion in 1977 for this purpose.

In the search for new, effective ways to curb costs, the Chamber is emphasizing methods that will give everyone in the chain — patients, doctors, hospitals and administrators — a stronger financial incentive to restrain costs. The Chamber program, "Health Action," includes:

- Review programs to ensure that employers are getting cost-effective health care programs — using tests they use to justify other purchases.
- Self-insurance, which saves on taxes and premiums in many cases.
- Stricter handling of claims.
- Use of deductibles and coinsurance as a means of holding down costs.

The Chamber's program was not pulled out of a magician's hat. And it is exhaustive in its factual support. It stems from an 18-month, $175,000 study made by InterStudy, one of the nation's foremost consulting firms in the field of health, for the National Chamber Foundation. The study, called "A National Care Strategy," consists of five published reports, reviewing in detail the business role in the health care system and setting out specific steps and action that can be taken.

Together, they comprise an American handbook that should help fill a serious void in our debate over national health insurance — it's a practical "How to" book.

WAR OF THE SPECIES

In one of its little noted final acts, the 96th Congress gave Americans aid and comfort in the undeclared economic war with the endangered species of animal and plant life.

Shortly before its adjournment Congress voted to amend the Endangered Species Act of 1973, which was enacted with the best of intentions, namely, to ensure the ecological balance by protecting species whose existence is threatened by man's progress. This was to be done by designating certain species as endangered and by banning commercial or other use of their natural habitats.

Unfortunately, in actual application, the Act frequently became an obstacle to economic growth when land was foreclosed to new business developments, highways or housing in order to spare the species. In the most notable case, completion of a multimillion dollar dam project on the Tellico River in Tennessee was blocked in order to preserve the habitat of a tiny minnow called the snail darter. In Houston, federal regulators proposed to ban use of a downtown paved parking lot because it is the natural habitat of the Houston toad, a creature whose existence itself is in doubt. No one can swear to seeing one.

Thanks to groups such as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; lawmakers took notice of the problem and agreed a more equitable approach was needed to balance environmental and economic interests.

First, Congress voted to extend funding of the Act for 18 months, instead of three years, to anticipate the recommendations of a study under way by the General Accounting Office, the Congressional watchdog. Then, sorting through a deluge of amendments, Congress voted a number which — in the Chamber's view were "pluses." These will give the public a greater and more effective role in decisionmaking leading up to determinations of endangered species and habitats, speed up court appeals and grant exemptions for the first time.

After GAO completes its study of how the Act has been implemented, Congress should take another look at the problem again. Meanwhile, our environmental and economic needs should be able to prosper in a "detente."

Crime and the family

The best place to start practicing crime resistance is in the home and an easy way to make crime resistance a part of the family routine is through a Family Council.

A Family Council is simply an informal gathering of family members during which they discuss the family's individual and collective vulnerability to crime and ways to reduce this vulnerability. Crime resistance literature, usually available from local police, can be used both to learn about crime problems of particular concern in your area and as a source of helpful preventive tips.

Although crimes such as burglary, robbery and assault are of concern to the family generally, individual family members should be aware of specific crime problems that might face them because of their age or sex. Children, for instance, must be warned of child molesters and bicycle thieves; women should recognize the dangers posed by purse snatchers and sex offenders; men should guard against pickpockets, and the elderly must be wary of swindlers.

To improve protection for the family as a whole, consider assigning specific crime resistance responsibilities to family members. For example, one member of the family could insure that the home is always secured for the evening before the family retires. Another could assume responsibility for insuring that all windows and doors are locked prior to the family's departure from the home.

After developing your family's anti-crime strategy, suggest to your neighbors that they adopt the Family Council approach and then join your police and other families in your neighborhood to form a united front against crime.

Shorter census forms

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION By M.M. VanKirk, Director of Information

There's good news for the nation's farmers and ranchers who will be filling out the farm census forms that they will be receiving in early January. Farm Census questionnaires have been reduced to 4 or 5 pages as compared to 22 pages 4 years ago.

About 80 percent of the nation's agricultural producers will receive by mail a 4-page questionnaire; the remainder will get a 5-page questionnaire to obtain a sample of information not asked for in the shorter form.

The coming census has been advanced one year to put it in phase with the 10-year cycle of other economic censuses starting in 1982. Since 1920, the Farm Census has been taken every 5 years. From 1840 to 1920, it was taken every 10 years.

The big difference in the 1978 census questionnaire is that items to be asked of all farmers are limited to the basic subjects of land ownership and land use; crops; poultry and livestock; total value of products sold; and operator and farm management characteristics.

Additional needed county-level information will be obtained through the 6-page questionnaire going to 20 percent of the farms. This form asks data on land values, production expenses, equipment, labor, fertilizer, pesticides, fuel consumption and storage capacity.

A Farm Census spokesman has explained why it is important that farmers and ranchers respond to the questionnaire as accurately as possible:

"First of all," he said, "farmers need a common starting point and an accurate yardstick with which to measure their efforts. You might call the censuses 'snapshots' of the nation's farmers; showing how they are doing at the moment.

"Second, many national and state programs affecting agriculture are designed or allocated on the basis of census data, including funds for Extension Services, research, soil conservation work, and other agricultural services.

"Third, farm organizations, cooperatives, commodity associations and agri business corporations use the statistics to provide a more effective production and distribution system, as well as to effectively make points in dealing with key issues and problems facing the farm community."

As in earlier censuses, the all-farm and 20-percent sample data from the five-page questionnaires will be published for each of the more than 3,000 counties with agricultural operations, for each state and the entire nation.

In the second phase of the census, additional sample surveys will be made in 1980 for the year 1979. Subjects under consideration for these 10,000 to 50,000 farm samples include farm energy uses, corporate structure, horticulture, on-farm irrigation, farm labor and farm finance.

In endeavoring to monitor trends in domestic ownership in 1978? Answers to this question will enable the Farm Census to measure any increase in farmland ownership by foreign interests.

The information obtained from the census is used to plan for the future of agriculture. Developed since 1840, the U.S. Farm Census has by far a better agri-census system than any other nation and the available information is used not only by farmers, but by the business people who supply them with what they need and those who market their products.

This will be the third farm census conducted by mail. The Bureau of Census has found that the reports that farmers fill out by themselves tend to be better than ones obtained through personal interviews, and the farmer is more able to complete the form at his convenience. Farmers and ranchers in their own best interests will provide accurate information.
