Birth Defects Target Of March Set Sunday

The annual Mothers March on Birth Defects, a drive against America's major child health problem, is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 21, in Wayne. Mothers' March volunteers this year will distribute health education literature about low birth weight, said Mrs. Robert Woehler, Mothers' March chairman. "Low birth weight is the leading cause of infant death and the major cause of childhood disabilities," said Mrs. Woehler, adding that with early prenatal care and good nutrition during pregnancy, many women could reduce the risk of having seriously ill babies. Birth defects strike more than a quarter million babies each year.

Mrs. Woehler reports that March of Dimes funds provide special medical attention for women suffering complications during pregnancy, and intensive care for critically ill newborns.

Other funds make possible health education, research, and community service programs. All of these are aimed at giving every baby a healthy start in life.

Money raised during the Wayne Mothers' March, which will be conducted by the Wayne Mrs. Jaycees and volunteers, will help support and pay for the infant warmer at Providence Medical Center.

Mrs. Woehler said volunteers, including individuals or clubs, are needed to help with the drive. Anyone interested in participating is asked to call her at 375-3329.

'Ma Bell' Asks Plan Approval

Northwestern Bell has requested the Nebraska Public Service Commission to approve a credit and pricing plan for calls to directory assistance that should result in lower phone bills for most of its Nebraska customers, including those in the Waynesland area.

According to the proposal, customers who make three directory assistance calls or less per month would receive a 20 cent credit on their bill. The credit would be absorbed by the fourth call in a month, and calls in excess of four would be billed at 20 cents each.

"Proving Directory Assistance service has become increasingly costly. Our operators handled over 33 million calls in 1978, and our customers all share the cost in their monthly bills," said B.R. Morris, Northwestern Bell Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of its Nebraska Operations.

"Our intent is to put more of the burden of providing this service on the relative few who use it, while rewarding those who look up their own numbers. In other parts of the country where similar charges have been implemented, only five to eight percent of residence customers incur charges for this service," Morris continued.

The charge would not apply to customers who have been certified by qualified authority as unable to use a directory be-

Enters Contest

Council Aims for All-State Rating

Wayne is back in the running to become an All-Nebraska Community. The Wayne city council Tuesday night passed an entry resolution putting Wayne into the race for the annual award.

The contest is sponsored by the State of Nebraska through the Nebraska Improvement Program. It is designed to recognize those communities which measure up to a criteria containing some 15 points.

City Clerk Bruce Mordhorst told the council that Wayne made a strong bid for the honor last year, missing the coveted award by only one point. Mordhorst said the city was docked because of the apparent lack of a rural health program. This drawback has been eliminated and Mordhorst said the city stands a good chance of being named an "All-Nebraska City."

In order to join the magic circle of outstanding communities in 48 states, a community must meet the following: Airport Improvements, Health Services, Planning, Solid Waste Practices, Education, Fire Protection, Industrial Development, Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, Library Services, Street Improvement, Parks and Recreation, Street Lighting, Improvement, Waste Water Collection and Treatment, Water Supply System and Housing.

City Okays

Red Lights

Wayne volunteer firemen soon will be running under flashing red lights when they are on the way to a fire or to the "hose house."

The Wayne city council Tuesday night approved a request by Fire Chief Dick Korn to apply to the county sheriff for permits to use the flashing red lights.

Korn said the department has been operating under blue lights, but they are not as readily recognized as the flashing reds.

He said the purpose of the red lights is two-fold: "They will identify firemen on their way to the hose house or to a fire in their private vehicles so long as they are a safety measure, as well."

Korn said state patrol troopers have asked that the department make application for the lights. The chief pointed out the city police department and the county sheriff's office have endorsed the use of the lights.

According to state statutes, the red lights will permit the driver to proceed past a steady red traffic signal or flashing red signal or a stop sign. The driver must slow down as necessary for safe operation.

A fire volunteer, when responding to a fire call and using the red flashing lights, may exceed speed limits so long as he does not endanger life, limb or property.

The changeover to the red lights will cost the city approximately $708, converting some 20 use lights now in use and purchasing 20 more.

Contracts Set

For Principals

Principals in the Wayne-Carroll school system will have their own contracts following action taken Monday night by the Wayne Board of Education.

The board reviewed a proposed contract designed for principals in the system. The principals heretofore, have been under the same contract as that used for teachers.

The contract pinpoints certain areas which are applicable to principals and spells out duties and responsibilities.

Council Sets

No parking applies to the east side of the center line of Claycomb Road and the south line of the center line of Grainland Road between the east line of Blaine Street and the west line of Maple Street.

Also, no vehicle will be parked or left standing on the north side and on the south side of Grainland Road between the east line of Blaine Street and the east line of Sherman Street.

'Vital Link'

Initiate Drive to Keep Job Service Office Open

The Wayne Job Service office is in danger of being closed, according to Gary Van Meter of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The office, which opened in 1977, has been serving various businesses, industries and private citizens throughout the Wayne area in job placement services at no cost.

"This office has been a fundamental part of our employment picture for both businesses and people looking for work," Van Meter said. "Without it, we have no organized system of matching people to available jobs."

The Chamber manager went on to point out that the office has been a vital link in the efforts of Wayne Industries, Inc. to attract new industry to Wayne and that its demise would be a weakening of the resources available to new industry for attracting employment.

Mayor Wayne Marsh met with Ken Boyer, area director for Job Service from Norfolk, and was originally assured the office would continue. "I assured Mr. Boyer that the city and community would do everything possible to make a permanent home for the job service office here in Wayne," said Mayor Marsh. "At that time, Mr. Boyer had indicated that the office would remain in the community."

The office currently enjoys a free rent status in the Chamber of Commerce offices. Commerce office several days later, however, revealed that the main office in Lincoln still wished to close the office and would do so some time during the first part of 1979.

An effort is currently being mounted to save the office by the Chamber of Commerce and city officials. They are urging residents and businesses to show their written support to the Lincoln office expressing the need and desire to keep the service in Wayne. Residents are urged to write both Les Kafka, Job Service field supervisor, or Don Haase, state director of the Nebraska Job Service, Box 94600, State House Station, Lincoln, Neb. 68509.

"This is something everyone can pitch in and help on," Van Meter commented.

Removes Name As Candidate

By CHUCK BARNES
Alan Cramer, Wayne, Herald publisher, removed his name as a candidate for the state director of economic development in a meeting with Governor Charles Thone Tuesday. Thone had said in a Lincoln newspaper story Dec. 21 that Cramer was being considered for the post.

The department of economic development is responsible for industrial development, community development, tourism and research for the State.

Following the meeting Cramer said that the two Northeast Nebraska men (Thone is from Hartington) discussed the position at great length. "This is probably the most important non-elected post in state government," Cramer said. "Governor Thone is committed to the attraction of new industries — especially those that relate to processing of agricultural products — and the upgrading of present industries so that thousands of new jobs will stimulate Nebraska's economy and that any new or expanded state services will be paid for from increased taxes on new industries and jobs rather than on increased taxes on present businesses and job-holders."

"The job (director of economic development) certainly demands more attention than I could give it at the present time," Cramer said.

City to Seek State Approval

Controversial Seventh Street construction is expected to be put back into the state's one and six year road plan, following action Tuesday night by the city council.

The council directed the city clerk to write to the State Department of Roads and request the construction project to be put back into the state's work plan.

The proposed widening and resurfacing was taken out of the state's one and six year plan last November because of objections and apparent lack of support.

By putting the proposed construction into the state's plan, the city will be eligible for state aid when (and if) the construction is undertaken.

Hummel Heads Board Committee

Jim Hummel was named as chairman of a Wayne-Carroll school board negotiation committee.

Named to serve with Hummel, who is a member of the Wayne board, are board members Del Stollenberg and Milton Owens.

The board reviewed a request from the Wayne Education Association to negotiate salaries.

Council Drops Four Alleys

Four alleys, which are not being used as alleys, were closed by action of the city council Tuesday night.

The alleys are presently being used as private drives and are not on the tax rolls. Following the action Tuesday night, most of the alleys closed will be taxed to the property owners.

They do not contain any utilities.

Health-Fitness Program

Lifetime Benefits from New PE Course

Personal health courses will go into the gym and physical education will go into the classrooms, according to a program adopted Monday night by the Wayne-Carroll board of education.

The course syllabus for health-fitness for grade 9 at Wayne High School was presented by Dr. Don Zeiss, high school principal.

He said the course will be integrated into the 9th grade physical education program. He pointed out it is designed to teach "why" exercise and fitness are important and "what" one's own fitness needs are and how to attain and maintain fitness throughout one's life.

Dr. Zeiss said the course also teaches students how to solve their own fitness and exercise problems. "An important objective of this course is to have each student develop his or her own exercise program with an emphasis on lifetime fitness.

The innovative program has been developed especially for Wayne students. Dr. Zeiss said they intend to stick strictly to the course outline to determine whether or not it is working to accomplish those goals set forth by the HEW department and those established by members of the physical education department.

He pointed out the Wayne Middle School provides a biological background for students, centering mainly on medical, self-help and basic first aid. He said the program is not comprehensive enough and should include an attitude of personal fitness. Dr. Zeiss said instructors in the physical education department are "excited" about the proposed program and said they were glad to get back into the classroom for part of the physical fitness program.

The course will be offered during the third quarter when a physical education and health major at Wayne State College

Farm Child Could Cost $88,000

The cost of raising a farm child from birth to age 18 could total as much as $88,000, according to Kathy Prochaska-Cue, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension family economics specialist.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has revised its estimations of the cost of raising a farm child in 1977 dollars, she reports. The results show that a thrifty family could get by on $27,000, while it could cost as much as $88,000 to raise a child at the "liberal" level.

At the moderate level, the total cost from birth to age 18 would be about $58,700. These figures do not include the costs of birth or college, she notes.

Inflation accounts for much of the higher costs, says the specialist. For example, the total cost of raising a farm boy at the moderate cost level in 1960 would have been $40,196, compared to $59,414 in 1977.

Total costs are higher for raising boys than girls, primarily because of higher transportation costs for teenage boys, she notes.

The child's estimated share of family housing is the most costly item in the child-rearing cost estimates, says Prochaska-Cue, accounting for between 35 to 40 percent of the total costs. Food at home and transportation are generally second and third highest, followed by education, medical care and miscellaneous items.

Estimated costs for clothing and food away from home represent the smallest share of the cost of raising a farm child.

At the thrifty or lower cost level, the specialist said food and housing account for more than two-thirds of the total cost, while education was estimated at zero.

At the liberal level, education and miscellaneous expenditures, which include items such as gifts, laundry expenses, recreational and entertainment expenses, were significantly more important.

Concord Senior Center Expected to Open Soon

Work is progressing on the new Concord-Dixon Senior Citizens Center and opening is scheduled in about a month.

Coordinator Melvin Puhrmann said completion is nearing on renovation of the former cafe building, where the new center will be housed.

He added that decoration, furnishing and operation of the center will be determined by the membership. A meeting was scheduled to be held last night (Wednesday) at the center at 7 p.m.

The possibility of establishing a Senior Citizens Center for the Concord and Dixon areas was explored by the Concord Betterment Committee in the early spring of 1978. Inquiries were made of the Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency and negotiations began with the Area Commission on Aging office in Norfolk.

In early June, an organization meeting was held at the Concord Fire Hall to form the Concord-Dixon Senior Citizens, Inc. Officers chosen were Helen Pearson, president; Irma Anderson, vice president; Ina Rieth, secretary; Gladys Park, treasurer, and Puhrmann, coordinator.

Catholic Tops Battle of Ranked Wrestling Teams

Norfolk Catholic, the number seven rated team in Class C, placed six wrestlers in the finals and racked up 140 points to win the championship of the Winside Invitational Saturday. Class D powers Elgin and Winside finished second and third in the two day tournament with 125 1/2 and 106 1/2 points, respectively. Fourteen teams participated in the tournament, including five rated teams and 22 rated wrestlers in the 140 wrestler field.

Other rated teams besides the top three finishers were Bennington and Logan View. Elgin had four wrestlers in the finals to two for Winside. All four from Elgin won their matches. Doug Reeves, coach of the host team, said that the competition was much better than most district tournaments. Many state rated wrestlers met in what could be a preview to the state tournament.

In the 112 pound class, Winside's Brian Foote, number three in Class D, pinned Roger Meis of Elgin, who is number two in Class D. Then Foote was pinned in the finals by wrestler three ranked Class C wrestler Dean Alberts of Scribner. Winside's 119 pound Rick Bowers, ranked number four, was pinned by Norfolk Catholic's Rick Schulte, number five in Class C. Schulte was then decided 2-1 by Bennington's number three, Doug Manzer. Four ranked wrestlers competed in the 126 pound class with Elgin's Tim Sutton winning the class. Sutton is fourth ranked and defeated Jeff Gillespie of Norfolk Catholic who is rated number one in Class C. Gillespie declined number three ranked Tom Anderson of Winside. Tom Polen, fifth ranked from Bennington placed third. Three rated wrestlers met in the 145 pound class with Elgin's Rodger Legate prevailing. Winside's Mitch Pfeiffer, number one in Class D's 185 pound class, was upset by Elgin's Terry Helthoff in the finals. "I was disappointed in a couple of matches but I'm glad we got a look at Elgin," Coach Doug Reeves said. "It's going to be really hairy at districts and state vs Elgin. The two teams (Winside and Elgin) are pretty even."

Wildcats' Balance Too Much For Doane

By DARWIN RUBECK
WSC Sports
Information Assistant

The Wayne State Wildcats, with a well balanced attack of five players scoring in double figures, downed the Doane Tigers 73-71 in action at Rice Auditorium Tuesday night. The Wildcats were again led by the ballhandling tandem from North Carolina, Zake Lorick and Willie Summers, along with the strong board play of Bob Reeson from West Point.

Lorick topped the scoring attack with 17 points while handing off a team leading four assists. Reeson dominated the boards for Wayne State pulling down 10 rebounds and adding 13 points. Willie Summers hit 10 points with 6 of those in the first half. Jay Bellar of Warhill and Dean Onken from Carroll, Ia., each had 10 points also. Bellar showed his leaping abilities in picking up six rebounds. The Doane Tigers had the game's high scorer, Gary Karthaus, who hit 10 of 14 shots from the field and added 4 of 6 points from the free throw line for 24 points. Gary Stubbelfield added 16 points to Doane's attack. These two were the only Tigers scoring in double figures. Wayne State led at the half 32-29 behind a surge of 10 wildcat points in the last 5 minutes of the half, after trailing by as many as 6 points. The Wildcats, using ball control and a tough inside board game, built up a 14 point lead with 11 minutes left in the game. Bob Reeson pulled down 7 of his 10 rebounds in the second half, 5 of those on the defensive board. Zake Lorick hit 13 of his 14 points in the second half to hold off the Doane come-

Kittens To Open CSIC Play

The Wayne State Wildkittens (4-7) open conference action with two games this week-end, both at home. On Friday, the Wildkittens take on Pittsburg State and on Saturday they play Missouri Southern. Both games begin at 5:30 p.m. in Rice Auditorium and both opponents are expected to be tough.

After a slow start, the Wildkittens, led by Lori Erwin of Concord, are playing well. The Kittens broke a six game slump by defeating Dickinson State 62-59 in the second round of the Chadron State Holiday Tournament held Dec. 27-29. They went on to down Dakota Wesleyan 81-56 in the consolation game of the tourney. Lori Erwin scored points in three games at Chadron and was named to the "All-Tourney Team."

Wayne State coach Helen Carroll says she is looking forward to action in the Central States Conference and believes the action will be tough. Last season the Wildkittens built up a 24-point lead late in the second half and then coasted to a 78-47 victory over Pittsburg State at Wayne. They had a much easier time at home against Missouri Southern, handily winning 83-54.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hasen

NOW THAT HOLIDAY tourneys are over, we can look back and see how successful the area teams were. All five teams played in the district and all five placed second.

Wayne was second in the WSC Tourney, Laurel was second in the Laurel Holiday Tourney and Laurel Invitational, Allen was second in the Allen Tourney, Wakefield was second in the Wakefield Holiday Tourney and Winside was second in the Coleridge Tourney.

While each of these teams had hopes of winning championships, all fell in the finals. I watched many of the trophy presentations and although finishing in second place, some of these teams received their trophies with real pride.

Anytime that the losing team applauds the trophy presentation to the championship team, I'm impressed. It may seem like a small gesture but it's magnified in the eyes of the public.

SPORTSMANSHIP: WHAT IS IT? A dictionary definition is "conduct becoming to a sportsman; rivalry; courteous relations; graceful acceptance of results."

True sportsmanship is: When a wrestler helps his opponent to his feet at the end of the match and gestures, "good match."

Not when a wrestler refuses to shake hands after losing the match and returns to his chair to sulk.

When a basketball player shakes an opponent's hand and says "good game" after that player fouled out. Or when he applauds the other team for winning the tourney championship.

Not when a basketball player makes excuses why his team lost and refuses to admit defeat.

When cheerleaders show courtesy toward the other school with their cheers and visit with the other cheerleaders during halftime.

Not when cheerleaders conduct offensive, demeaning cheers and purposely drown out the cheers of the other school.

When fans support their athletes and demonstrate their faith and patronage.

Not when fans yell and scream at the referees and blame them for losses while making excuses.

When a coach is proud of his team, and tells the opposing coach he has done a good job.

Not when a coach, like Woody Hayes, loses his temper and slugs an opposing player.

SPECIAL MENTION should be made of the Winside Invitational Wrestling Tourney. In the meet, 14 teams competed and that has to make it one of the largest tourneys in the state. In addition, five of those teams were rated in the top 10 positions in Class C and D.

In Class C, Bennington was rated fifth and placed sixth in the meet; Norfolk Catholic, rated seventh in state, won the tourney. Logan View, ranked 10th in Class C, finished seventh in the tourney.

In Class D, Winside was rated second in state. They finished third. Elgin, ranked fifth, placed second. Unrated teams Randolph and Oakland-Craig placed fourth and fifth respectively.

I counted 22 wrestlers in the tournament who are rated in state. Class C ratings include the top six positions while Class D includes only four wrestlers in each weight class. According to the ratings, the two highest weight classes were the 112 pound class and the 126 pound class, both with four state ranked wrestlers competing.

The competition was strong, the wrestling was superb and the tournament was extremely successful.

Wayne Wrestlers Drop Neligh

Four Wayne wrestlers won by pin Tuesday night as the Blue Devils breezed by Neligh 48-12 in Neligh.

David Doeschler at 132 points, pinned Steve Murray in 4:44.

Winside Girls Prevail Again With Easy Win

The Winside girls basketball team used a balanced scoring attack to easily defeat Beemer 42-19 Monday night. Kathy Thomas and Kathy Thies each scored 10 points and Marcel Thomas and Laurie Gallop added 8 and 7 respectively, in the win.

Kathy Thomas also led the team in rebounding with 12 followed by Gallop with 7. Winside led 6-2 after the first quarter and 17-12 at the half before coming alive in the second half. The Wildkittens outscored Beemer 16-3 in the final stanza to cement the win.

"We didn't play up to par in the first half but came out to play ball in the second half," Coach Kathy O'Connor said. "Kathy Thomas and Kathy Thies did a good job."

Winside's record is now 5-1 after the victory. A game originally scheduled with Hartington Tuesday night was postponed due to Hartington illness.

In Tourney Finals

Wakefield Stopped By Pirates

HIGH FLYING Scott Hallstrom of Wakefield draws a foul as he hits this basket. He made the free throw for a three point play against Emerson-Hubbard Saturday. Todd Swigart watches in awe as the ball drops through.

A zone defense brought momentum to a standstill for the Wakefield Trojans Saturday night and Emerson-Hubbard pulled by for a 63-57 victory in the Finals of the Wakefield Holiday Tourney.

After getting off to a slow start, the Trojans fell behind 15-10 before Todd threw a court shot through the hoop at the buzzer for a 15-12 first quarter score.

Wakefield came on strong in the second quarter, getting its offensive charged for a 31-26 halftime lead.

"That's when the momentum changed. The turning point was in the third quarter when their zone defense brought our tempo to a standstill. I felt they went to the zone out of desperation and we should have been able to take care of it," Wakefield Coach Joe Coble said.

"We've had trouble all year long starting the game and starting the second half with any intensity," Coble added. "We got beat very badly in rebounding. We need better positioning."

Although Coble was disappointed with his team's performance, he did have some favorable comments. "The positive side is that Barry Jones and Scott Hallstrom had outstanding tournament play."

Hallstrom scored 24 points in the final game for 62 total tournament points while Jones added 12 in both games.

Emerson-Hubbard took a 36-35 lead with three minutes remaining in the third period as the Pirates pushed into a 50-42 advantage with five minutes left in the game. Coble had his Trojans pick up the pace and play a more stringent defense in the final minutes.

Hallstrom hit several jump shots from the 15 to 20 foot range to keep the score tight but Jones fouled out to hinder the offensive punch. Then, with a minute left, Hallstrom fouled out.

Wakefield pulled within four points when Rick Guy connected on both ends of a one-and-one situation but got no closer. A final Emerson layup put the final count at 63-57.

The Trojans shot 38 percent from the field and were led by Doug Starzi at the boards with 15 rebounds. The team had only 30 rebounds including eight on the offensive end. In addition, the Trojans turned the ball over 19 times.

Bill Gatz with 22 points and Randy Fuscher with 15 led Emerson-Hubbard. Wakefield's record is now 4-3 and the Trojans will host undefeated Walthill Friday.

Wakefield Girls Lose To Ponca

The Wakefield girls dropped to a 2-5 record with a 52-45 loss to Ponca Monday night.

Kathy Murphy and Kathy Gustafson led the Trojans in double figures with 12 points each.

Fourth Quarter Press Boosts Bears To Win

The Laurel girls scored 20 points in the fourth quarter, using a man-to-man press on defense, to rally past Osmond 49-43 Saturday night in Laurel.

Lisa Galvin and Kay Anderson both scored in double figures to ignite the Laurel scoring attack. Galvin scored 14 points and Anderson followed closely with 13.

The Bears trailed Osmond 10-8 after the opening quarter and 22-15 at half before mounting a comeback. Laurel closed the difference to 34-29 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth period was all Laurel's as the host team outscored the Tigers 20-9 to even its record at 4-4.

"We didn't play very well until the last five minutes," Laurel Coach Ev Jensen said. "We were behind 39-30 with five minutes remaining and scored 19 points. We used our man to man press and started doing things right."

A game originally scheduled between Laurel and Hartington C.C. was postponed Monday night because of Hartington illness. The Bears play at Newcastle tonight (Thursday) at 6:30.

Madison Drops Wayne Frosh

The Wayne freshmen dropped a close game Friday as Madison nipped the Blue Devils 29-26 in a low scoring game at Madison.

Wayne got off to a slow start and the freshmen found themselves behind 8-2 after the first quarter and 14-7 at half.

The Blue Devils reversed the momentum in the third period and outscored Madison 10-1 to post a 17-15 lead. Wayne held the lead until the final three minutes of the game when Madison took over.

Richard Poehlman and Mark Bofenkamp led Wayne with 8 and 7 points respectively. "The first half hurt us," said Wayne Coach Duane Blomkamp. "But we got ahead. Both teams could have played better. The long break may have hurt but we still should have played better."

Scorers: Poehlman, 8; Bofenkamp, 7; Al Lindsay, 4; Todd Davie, 4; Mark Hummel, 2; Jim Sperry, 1.

The Wayne freshmen record is 1-1 and the team is scheduled to host Hartington C.C. today (Thursday) at 4 p.m.

Eagles Are Stopped Cold In Championship Quest

HITTING A layup against Bancroft, Saturday night is Richard Stewart of Allen. The Eagles lost the game in the finals of their own tourney.

The Allen Eagles found their shooting get colder as the game progressed Saturday night and the Eagles lost to Bancroft 58-43 in the finals of Allen-Tournament.

After opening with an early 4-4 tie, Allen fell behind 9-4. The Eagles began a second quarter surge after trailing 15-10 at the end of the first period.

Doug Koester put Allen on top 18-17 with a layup two minutes into the second quarter. Then things fell apart and Allen could never regain the lead.

Bancroft took a 27-22 lead at the half as Allen's shots hit the rim and bounced out. The Eagles found the going even tougher in the second half and fell further behind in a disastrous third quarter.

With turnovers and missed shots, Bancroft established a 42-28 third quarter lead. Bart Gotch with 15 points and Rich Stewart with 16 accounted for 31 of Allen's points. Gotch pulled down 13 rebounds and Hansen added eight.

The two teams played almost even in the final quarter for a 58-43 Bulldog victory. "Bancroft played good basketball," Allen coach Bart Knief said. "Our turnovers hurt a lot. To start winning again, we have to hold our turnovers to 10 or less."

"We have to work more on patience," Knief added. "We threw up some bad shots. The Christmas layoff didn't help Rich Stewart is coming around. He'll help us quite a bit. He's really hustling."

Allen's record now falls to 4-3 including an earlier win over Bancroft. The layout is only 30 percent from the field with 17 baskets in 56 attempts. Bancroft hit 44 percent with 25 baskets in 57 shots. The Bulldogs were led by Glenn Tietz with 19 points, Scott Wedner with 12, Jeff Knuppel with 11 and Jim Brown with 10.

In the consolation game, New castle clobbered Santee 93-31. The winners were led by Randy Nelson with 23, Von Vaugnerbe with 15, Kevin McGill with 12 and Troy Madge with 10. George Johnson led Santee with 10 points.

Eagles Fall In Third

The Allen Eagles played undefeated Waitstill an even game for two quarters Tuesday night but then the Bluejays exploded for 31 points in the third quarter and went on to win 75-51.

Allen fell behind the number one team in Class D, 17-7 after the first quarter, but didn't give up. The Eagles rallied in the second period to outscore the invaders 18-7 for a 25-24 halftime lead. Waitstill, demonstrated why they were given the number one ranking, when they scored more points in the third quarter than they did in the second and fourth. The Bluejays rattled off 31 points to 14 for Allen, to take an insurmountable 55-39 lead.

"We played very well against the number one team in the state," Allen coach Bart Knief said. "They got their machine rolling in the third quarter. They have a real good ball club."

Knief credited everyone on his team with a good game in the losing cause. He said that his players played hard.

Bart Gotch led the Eagles with 19 points followed by Mark Creamer with 10. Gotch also led the team in rebounding with nine. Bob Stewart came off the bench for eight rebounds. Knief said he was really pleased with Stewart's performance. Waitstill was led by four players in double figures: Barry Jackson, 13; Eddie Stansberry, 16; John Miller, 15; Russ Stansberry, 14. Knief, whose team is 4-4, said he hopes to get back above .500 with a win over Newcastle Friday night in Allen. The JV game is scheduled to begin at 6:30.

Former Wayne High Athlete, Monte Lowe Hustling To Help The Mount Marty Basketball Team Win.

YANKTON, S.D. — "He may not average 20 points and 13 rebounds per game and he probably won't be the team's assist leader either. But when it comes to hustle, attitude, and determination, there's no one better."

This is how Mount Marty College Lancers basketball coach describes former Wayne High School athlete, Monte Lowe, now a junior at the Mount.

"A coach dreams about having a player with Monte's attitude and determination," says Martin. "He has a tremendous effect on the team's attitude as well."

After a slow start, the Lancers have come on to post a 6-5 record including the championship of the South Dakota Tech Holiday Tournament.

In the championship game, Lowe scored 14 points and pulled down eight rebounds against the host school to lead his team to a 118-95 victory.

Lowe has contributed nine points and seven rebounds per game. "Our game plan doesn't call for Monte to take a great amount of shots," notes Martin. His aggressiveness, both on the offensive and defensive boards has been a tremendous asset to us.

Lowe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lowe of Wayne has made an even 50 percent of his field goals and 75 percent of his free throws.

During his freshman year, Lowe earned a starting position at guard and helped the Lancers to the NAIA District 12 crown and a berth in the NAIA National Tournament. Last season, he was used both as a reserve guard and forward as the Lancers posted a 24-6 record and second place in the district.

This season, the Wayne product has regained his starting position at forward and Coach Martin admits it will take an awful lot to remove the 6'4" Lowe from the starting line-up. "You can only ask a guy to give you 100 percent," says Martin. "Monte is not up to par if he doesn't give 250 percent."

One of his best efforts to date came against Mankato State, where he scored 14 points and hauled in nine rebounds. "Monte is one of our most consistent players," says Martin. "We can count on him to give us a fine performance game after game."

Lowe, a business major has been a great inspiration to the young Lancers, who are in a rebuilding year. "It's a pleasure to have a player like Monte on our team," says Martin. "He is definitely a coaches-type player."

What has been Lowe's biggest thrill as a college basketball player? "Well, it has to be winning the NAIA District No. 12 crown," says Lowe. "It's quite an honor playing in the National Tournament."

Also high on his list is an incident which took place during last year's MMC Alumni game, where Lowe blocked a shot taken by an ex-Wayne state Wildkitten coach, and former Lancer, Chuck Brewer. "Chuck burned us for 38 points during that game," admits Lowe. "But the blocked shot really felt good."

COPING FINANCIALLY

More and more individuals and families are putting "coping financially" at the top of their new year resolution list. That's a good start, but it should be followed up with some definite planning.

The first step might be to determine your own net worth statement at the beginning of this year. Then set up a budget and decide financial transactions accordingly.

To draw up your net worth statement use a sheet of ruled paper. Draw a vertical line down the middle. On the left side list your assets or what you own; on the right side list your liabilities or what you owe.

Assets include such items as cash on hand, checking and savings accounts, stock and mutual fund shares, insurance policies, real estate and personal property figured at current market value.

Liabilities include all money and payments owed, such as mortgages on real estate, installment loans, taxes owed, charge accounts, and miscellaneous debts, such as dentist and doctor bills.

Once the net worth statement is completed, subtract the total amount of your liabilities from the total amount of your assets. The result is your net worth.

Whether your net worth is positive or negative, plan how you would like the balance sheet to change during 1979.

Milk Prices To Rise

Consumers can expect to pay 4 to 10 percent higher prices for all milk and milk products in 1979, said a University of Nebraska Lincoln extension agricultural economist.

Dr. Michael Turner said dairymen probably will receive 8 percent higher prices for their milk in the coming year.

"Slight declines in total milk production and a surprising increase in commercial use in 1978 substantially changed the dairy picture for 1979," the Nebraska Agriculture and Natural Resources expert said.

The ag economist said that although government purchase of dairy products was projected to be the most important factor in the dairy market, higher consumer income and retail prices for other foods helped to increase consumer purchases of butter, cheese (up 8 percent) and ice cream.

Turner said that 1979 milk production will equal or be slightly higher than the 122 billion pounds purchased in 1978, but that price increases above the 10 percent mark will be limited by large stocks of butter and nonfat dry milk held by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Although Turner said there will be little or no gain in retail sales in 1979 due to the sharp expansion in the retail market in 1978, he said he foresees possibly the largest increase in retail dairy prices since 1976.

"The coming year will see slightly higher milk production, offset by slightly higher commercial use," Turner said.

Even though many factors — ranging from the weather to the government's inflation policies — could upset the balance between production and use, Turner said 1979 likely will be another fairly good year for dairymen.

Waste no time in getting to work

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Staff Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN— Nebraska's lawmakers, nine of them new, wasted no time in getting to work after the opening gavel of the session.

Except for a few brief interruptions while the senators waited for Supreme Court Chief Justice Norman Kriwsha to come to the legislative chamber to swear in several unicameral officers, the first day of the session went almost like clockwork.

One of the first things the legislators did was select Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings as their Speaker. He had no opposition.

Sen. Frank Lewis of Bellevue was the choice of the majority for the influential position of chairman of the Executive Board, the administrative arm of the unicameral. Chosen vice chairman was Neilson Sen. John DeCamp, a close ally of Lewis on some major pieces of legislation in past sessions.

Lincoln Sen. Shirley Marsh gained the distinction of selection as chairperson of the Committee on Committees — the highest post ever held by a woman in the Nebraska Legislature.

As expected, there was no opposition to Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly for the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee.

Many of those selected for key positions were unanimous choices. But there were several exceptions, one being Lewis who won out over Omaha Sen. Larry Sloney on a 27-22 vote.

Sen. Richard Maresch beat Sen. George Burrows of Adams, 28-21, for the leadership of the Business and Labor Committee. Sen. William Nichol of Scottsbluff won by that same vote in a contest with Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha for chairman of the Education Committee. Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora beat off a challenge by Sen. Nelson Merz of Falls City for the boss's job on the Public Works Committee, and Sen. Sam Cullian of Hemingford bested Sen. Martin Kahle of Kearney for chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee. The vote was 29-20.

Kahle ran an even tighter race with Raiston Sen. Gerald Koch for the chairman's job on the Education Committee. That one couldn't have been closer with Koch winning 25-24.

Exon Says Farewell
J. James Exon, who for a 26-hour period was both a U.S. senator and governor of Nebraska, said farewell to the Legislature in rather subdued tones.

At least it seemed that way to legislative observers who recalled the many times Exon had dealt with the lawmakers in harsh language.

He told the senators the condition of the state is generally good "and with prudent management; the future bodes well for the continuation of the good life in Nebraska."

Among other things, Exon said, the state is in a "sound financial position with a realistic General Fund balance of approximately $61.2 million... taking into account all monies on hand and deposited."

He didn't bypass the opportunity to remind the lawmakers, as he had done so frequently during his eight years as governor, that "the power to tax still embodies the power to destroy and must be used with prudence."

Exon said he tried "to preserve the independence of and to prevent the encroachment upon the already limited constitutional and statutory powers of the office of governor."

He said it was natural to have disagreements between the two branches of government. But he said "out of legitimate differences of opinion generally comes the intelligent resolution of all issues."

In citing to the accomplishments of what he several times referred to as the "Exon-Whelan Administration," Exon mentioned the reduction of the state's bonded debt, an improved highway system, good progress in mental health and education programs, a reversal of a population decline, the "greatest industrial expansion" ever in Nebraska, and one of the nation's lowest unemployment rates.

Exon, who occupied the governor's office longer than anyone in the state's history, served simultaneously for a little more than one day as governor and U.S. senator because the U.S. Constitution says newly elected senators take office at noon on Jan. 3 and the Nebraska Constitution says an incumbent governor stays in office until his successor is sworn in.

Charles Thone didn't succeed Exon until the early afternoon hours of Jan. 4.

Of the approximately half of those surveyed who had received their statements, 40 percent preferred to pay a larger share of their taxes through sales and income levies. Of the half who had not received their statements or didn't know if they had, only 29 percent said they would prefer to pay a bigger share of their taxes on sales and income.

Among occupational groups, farmers and ranchers showed the greatest preference, 51 percent, for shifting more of the burden on sales and income.

Williams questioned 1,659 individuals and found 35 percent favoring paying a bigger share of their taxes on sales and income, 4 percent advocating a bigger share on property, and 47 percent in favor of the present balance.

When asked in what area of government — city, county or schools — their tax dollars were getting used the best, 47 percent of those who had an opinion said schools, 27 percent named city government and 26 percent listed city government.

Poll Shows Tax Preferences
A statewide poll in December by research consultant Joe B. Williams showed Nebraskans prefer sales-income taxes over property taxes by 6-1.

The poll, commissioned by the Nebraska State Education Association and the Nebraska State School Boards Association, showed the margin of preference rose to 10-1 among those who had received their new property tax statements.

That apparently is the biggest factor in helping individuals arrive at their decisions.

Rumblings in advance of the opening of the 1979 session of the Nebraska Legislature indicate that there will be a strong attempt to repeal or amend the 1977 personal property tax exemption law.

Nebraska's agricultural interests and particularly individual farmers and ranchers who in 1978 for the first time found their farm machinery and equipment exempt from personal taxes and are looking forward to exemption on their livestock in 1980, have cause for concern.

Memorials are being sent to the Legislature to repeal or amend the 1977 personal property tax exemption law, and particularly individual farmers and ranchers who in 1978 for the first time found their farm machinery and equipment exempt from personal taxes and are looking forward to exemption on their livestock in 1980, have cause for concern.

lature to classify and exempt personal property as it may choose.

Implementation of Amendment 10 provisions was delayed until passage of the Personal Property Tax Exemption Law of 1972 which set up a 5-year program to phase out the personal property tax on farm machinery, livestock and business inventories over a 5-year period to a maximum exemption of 92 1/2 percent, with the State to reimburse the counties from sales and income tax sources. The 1972 law was a compromise version passed over the governor's veto.

There were complications, naturally. County assessors suddenly got busy doing better job of assessing, rounding up more personal property on the schedules and increasing valuations. Reimbursement totals climbed and worried legislators.

The 1977 Legislature approved a new exemption law which called for 100 percent exemption of the personal property tax on farm machinery and equipment in 1978, 100 percent exemption on business inventories in 1979, and 100 percent exemption on livestock in 1980. The reimbursement funding to the counties for loss of revenue was set at $50,000 per county in 1978, $62,000,000 the second year, and a limit of $70,000,000 in 1980 and thereafter. Distribution to the counties was to be in proportion to the amount each county received in 1977. This last provision is a bone of contention and from a practical standpoint will require adjustment as the 1977 formula becomes obsolete with time.

The principle for exemption of a tax on personal property is as valid now as it has always been, because it taxes the tools of production that an individual, farm or business must own to make a living. A professional man may make $50,000 per year, income with little money invested than a brief case and pay no personal property taxes. But today's farmer and rancher must have $100,000 to $200,000 invested in livestock and equipment, all subject to a personal property tax for support of local agencies of government. At the same time he must pay a sales tax on his considerable purchases of equipment and supplies and an income tax the same as anyone else if he makes a profit on his operations.

The personal property tax by its very nature has been difficult to administer, unfair and discriminatory and that is the real issue to be kept in mind during the 1979 legislative session and future sessions. There is no clamor to return to taxing household items or intangible property because many people have forgotten that they ever were taxed.

Grants to double

Recipients of federal Basic Education Opportunity Grants are expected to double next school year as a result of the 1978 congressional passage of the Middle Income Student Assistance Act. The program goes into effect August 1.

"This is the most significant student financial aid bill passed in recent years," according to Ronald R. Fritz, acting director of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. "It will open up the coffers to a lot more people."

The legislation not only increases the average Basic Grant awards for current recipients but expands the program to include many independent students and those from families with incomes formerly excluded, Fritz says.

The size of the grant is based on family income and assets, number of parents employed, and the number of family members pursuing a postsecondary education. For example, depending on accumulated assets, a family of four with an income of $26,000, one child in college and one employed parent would probably receive about $900. Grants range up to $1,000 for lower-income families.

The National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators estimates that 1.5 million new students will be assisted under the program, Fritz says, with 45 to 50 percent of all undergraduate students eligible for some of the grant money.

Projected increases for Nebraska is from 19,000 students receiving $14 million in 1978 to nearly 25,000 students receiving $25 million in 1979-80, he adds.

"We expect a 50 percent increase in recipients at UNL," Fritz says, "and we are urging every undergraduate to apply."

Choosing family dentist

This is the second in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Wayne Herald in cooperation with the Nebraska Dental Association, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, February 4-10.

We continue the move in this area and would like some advice on locating a family dentist.

Choosing a family dentist is no easy task. You are wise not to wait until an emergency strikes to start your search. Because dental care is such a personal service, you may want to visit several dentists before selecting that one you are comfortable with and find easy to talk to. Keep in mind that a dentist in general practice is fully qualified to provide all routine care. Some parents may prefer to take their youngsters to a pedodontist who specializes in the treatment of children.

How do you locate that right dentist?
— Inquire at a nearby hospital with an accredited dental service;
— Ask faculty members of dental schools in your area for recommendations;
— Check the ADA Director listing the names of practitioners by city and state at the public library;
— Consult your family physician or local pharmacist;
— Ask friends, neighbors or co-workers — in whom you have confidence — for recommendations of dentists they are pleased with.

Once you have the names of several

President Chamber of Commerce of the United States

WASHINGTON — Sports fans invent countless ways to vent their anger and disesteem, from bopping fielders with beer cans to flying a banner over the stadium from a small airplane.

Frustrated football fans of the New York Giants hired the airplane and equipped it with a banner reading: FIFTEEN YEARS OF LOUSY FOOTBALL AND WE'VE HAD ENOUGH.

One of the outlets not chosen is membership in FANS, a branch of Ralph Nader. You may recall that FANS, whose initials stand for "Fight to Advance the Nation's Sports," was formed in 1977 to mold the nation's sports lovers into a consumers' rights organization, providing protection against fraud, deceit, ticket gouging and other practices frowned upon by Mr. Nader and millions of other Americans.

But not much happened. So it came as little surprise a few months ago when the FANS office in Washington was quietly closed for lack of funds to keep the staff and pay office expenses. It was announced that the remnants would be sent to San Francisco and a new attempt made to "build it up from the bottom."

The development is worth more than an item on the sports pages because it graphically illustrates the fundamental weakness of the professional consumerist movement in this country.

If the largest television audience to watch a U.S. sports event is a fair indication, there must be at least 75 million sports fans — the number who watched the seventh game of the 1975 World Series. But there were only 1,500 members in FANS when it closed up shop in the Nation's Capital.

Sports fans are consumers, and the nation's 200 million plus consumers have demonstrated that no one single person or group speaks for them. After trying for almost a decade, consumer activists found this out when the 95th Congress rejected the Nader proposal for a so-called consumer protection agency in Washington, manned chiefly by lawyers. The House of Representatives, which three times before had approved such a proposal, turned it down, and it was not brought up in the Senate, despite White House lobbying.

Nader, whose rise to fame rests on a book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," published in 1965 and since disproved in key respects, never hesitates to treat his pet schemes and the public interest as one and the same. Perhaps it is an honest mistake. But one critic has noted that Mr. Nader's "promiscuous use of the phrase raises serious moral questions with which Mr. Nader has never grappled."

What the Naders of this world forget is that the American public rejects self-proclaimed leaders and their causes — and with good reason. We already have in place democratic processes that enable us to choose our legitimate representatives to carry out our wishes. There are 535 members of Congress paid to represent the taxpayers and the consumer interest. They are elected by a constituency that has the right to remove them from office if they fail to do the job.

The single most important problem facing consumers in this country today is inflation. To control inflation substantial change must be made in tax and spending policies of the federal, state and local governments. This does not mean that business and organized labor are without sin. But the major sources of the problem are government spending and government regulation.

Nader is part of the problem. He has been one of the leading advocates of policies calling for greater government intervention and regulation of people's lives, particularly through regulation of business.

But Americans increasingly are revealing that they are against the kind of solutions Nader prescribes, as shown by Proposition 13 and similar tax-spending protests in the recent midterm elections.

reputable dentists, call each for an appointment. Explain that you are attempting to select a family dentist. Don't be embarrassed to ask questions. You can learn a great deal in an initial office visit.

Is the location of the office convenient? How suitable is the appointment schedule? Is the general appearance of the office and staff neat, clean and orderly? Is the dentist prevention oriented? Does the dentist seem to take an interest in you and your family's health? Is a record of your medical and dental history taken for file and to assist in the evaluation of future needs? What arrangements are made to handle emergencies outside of office hours? Is a back-up colleague or emergency referral service available? What about the use of dental X-rays in diagnosis?

Finally, don't hesitate to ask the dentist about fees and any other financial arrangements that might be required. Naturally it is impossible to give a hard-and-fast set of rules for assessing quality dental care — primarily because individual patient needs vary. But a good experience with dentistry starts with the right choice of family practitioner. The individual patient does have considerable control over his own oral health and the cost of dental care.

Farmers, Ranchers Will See Higher Production Prices

inflation may soon join death and taxes as the only sure things in life but careful shopping can help ease the crunch, according to an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension farm management specialist.

Dr. Les Sheffield said the 1978 U.S. inflation rate of 8 to 9 percent is expected to continue, and farmers and ranchers can plan to pay more for most of their 1979 production needs.

Sheffield predicted that prices for tractors, farm equipment parts and repair service are likely to increase by 7 to 10 percent from 1978 to 1979.

"Buyers willing to do some extra shopping and bargaining with farm equipment dealers, especially in the off season before field work begins, may be able to obtain larger discounts off list prices or better trade-in values of used equipment, Sheffield said.

Buyers also can save considerably if they purchase when equipment manufacturers offer either sale prices or free financing for three to six months after purchase and delivery, providing the prices for equipment are competitive.

Building and construction labor costs have risen rapidly, Sheffield said, especially for wood structures. Steel building prices also have risen by at least the annual rate of inflation in recent years.

Sheffield noted that supplies of natural gas, diesel fuel, gasoline, LP gas and electricity should be adequate in 1979, although most energy rates will increase by 7 to 10 percent.

Sheffield said fertilizer costs have declined during the past year because of increased productive capacity, especially for nitrogen fertilizers.

Price increases of 3 to 6 percent for most herbicides are expected, Sheffield said. Since the patent for atrazine expired in 1976, its production capacity has increased and its prices have been more competitive.

Sheffield said that 1979 feed concentrate prices are likely to be higher because of increases in the prices for soybeans and other feed concentrate sources, such as cottonseed.

However, early 1979 corn and milo prices should be fairly close to the government loan rates because of 1978 record crops, he said. Hay prices are not expected to exceed the late fall 1978 level.

Sheffield estimated that hired labor wages will increase 5 to 10 percent in 1979 to keep pace with inflation.

Real estate tax increases of up to 50 percent and more in some cases plus an 18 percent state income tax rate for 1979 will add to total farm production costs, although new lower federal tax rates on long term capital gains will reduce the federal tax on such gains in 1979.

This and That...

DON C. SPRITZ

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Young pigs are born with enough iron to last about one week. If supplemental iron is not provided by injection or by mouth, pigs will become anemic by one week of age.

Iron is essential for the baby pig, too much iron is poisonous and may kill pigs. Many commercial injectable iron preparations contain 100 mgm. of iron per cc.

A small pig should receive one cc. and larger baby pigs may be given 1 1/2 cc. Two cc. per pig may be toxic to very young pigs. It is safer to give pigs 100 mgm. of iron at three days of age and repeat the one cc. injection at 15 days of age than to give 200 mgm at the first injection.

replace wires which have old cracked insulation. It might be worthwhile to water around the ground to be sure it is making a good contact with the soil.

Dry weather increases the hazard of loss either from reduced gains or from electrocution of animals.

TREE LIMBS

Heavy snow can cause limbs of trees or shrubs to break. If drifting hasn't buried the plant, you can easily relieve the situation by shaking branches vigorously. This removes the snow and prevents breakage. Brushing off the snow with a broom or by hand also helps.

If a tree or shrub is buried in the snow, damage will probably occur when the snow mass begins to settle. This is especially true on spreading shrubs or junipers. In this situation, remove the snow if possible and at least break the snow crust around the plant. This relieves the branches from much of the settling pressures of the snow.

After the next heavy snow, take a quick stroll around your yard to remove snow from the branches. This will greatly help your trees and shrubs.

Sheep Decline Levels Out

The rapid decline in sheep numbers — experienced since 1960 — has leveled out, although commercial sheep and lamb slaughter for 1979 is predicted to be down 15 percent from 1978 nationwide.

The total inventory of sheep and lambs on Jan. 1, 1979, should be about 1.2 million — close to the total on the same date last year.

Dr. Lynn H. Lutgen, extension agricultural economist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said ewe numbers probably will decrease about 2 1/2 percent from last year. Because of this decrease, the lamb crop also will decrease about five percent, he said, with the number of lambs expected to range from 7,500,000 to a high of 8 million.

Demand still is running ahead of supply, he said. The sheep producers in 1979 can expect prices to follow a similar pattern to last year, but at a slightly higher level than in 1978.

Wool demand will remain strong, he said, as increased energy prices have added to the demand for wool garments. Wool prices in 1979 should average above 1978 prices, he added.

Feed Grain Prices Expected To Be Slightly Higher In 1979

Farmers can take heart in knowing that average feed grain prices for 1979 are likely to be slightly higher than the 1977-78 averages, according to an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources agricultural economist.

Dean Linsenmeyer, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln assistant professor of agricultural economics, said the increase is due to strong feed demands, continued strong export demand and heavy placement of grain in the reserve program.

He noted that despite a 5 million acre decrease in the amount of harvested feed grain acres in 1978, the United States produced a record of nearly 209 million metric tons, 4 percent more than 1977 levels.

Linsenmeyer said he expects the demand for U.S. feed grains to remain steady to slightly stronger for several reasons.

"The declining value of the U.S. dollar on international currency markets has made the large U.S. feed grain supplies relatively cheaper for foreign buyers, therefore attracting additional purchases," Linsenmeyer said.

The numbers of hogs and poultry in Japan and Eastern Europe has stimulated feed grain exports, in spite of the 5 percent increase in 1978 total world grain production, Linsenmeyer said.

Linsenmeyer projected that the favorable feeding margin for most livestock and poultry categories and large livestock and poultry numbers will spur the U.S. feed industry to increase its use for grains by 7 percent.

He said he expected the 1978-79 corn prices to average between $1.95 and $2.15 per bushel, which is slightly higher than the 1977-78 average. The 1978-79 corn crop had an average yield of 101 bushels per acre, and the 6.4 billion bushel total was 7 percent higher than the 1977-78 record harvest.

Average 1979 sorghum prices are expected to be about $1.85 to $2.05 per bushel, Linsenmeyer said, although new crop harvest expectations will influence the market. He said sorghum production in 1978 was down about 12 percent from 1977, but carry over stocks from 1977-78 of 191 million bushels were nearly 100 million bushels more than the carry over levels a year earlier. Due to decreased production and increased usage, Linsenmeyer projected 1979 carry over stocks of sorghum to be slightly lower

Soybean Production Growing

Soybeans are pushing ahead as one of America's rapidly growing crops and industries. They showed an increase of nearly 10 percent in 1978 over 1977.

Even though acreage was up substantially, however, yields were down 2.3 bushels per acre from 1977, netting only a two percent increase in soybean supplies from last year. Sixty-three million acres were harvested this fall, said Dr. Lynn H. Lutgen, extension agricultural economist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

As of Sept. 1, 1978, total 1978-79 soybean supplies, including a 159-million bushel carryover, pushes the total supplies up 86 million bushels over 1977-78, Lutgen said.

Carryover stocks on Sept. 1, 1979 will be about 170 million bushels, he predicted, which is an increase of only 11 million bushels from 1978.

"In 1979, we can expect the acres planted to soybeans to increase above the 64.4 million acres planted this past year," he said. It normally is expected that corn acres will be switched to soybeans when the soybean-corn price ratio is 2 1/2 to 1, Lutgen said. In early November, 1978, the ratio was about 3 to 1 and the March futures show about the same price relationship, he said. There will be an increase in soybean acres if this continues, he said.

Soybean supply and demand for 1978-79 is predicted to be well-balanced, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln economist said. Soybean crushings are expected to increase from 927 million in the past year to a record 970 million. The rise in crushings is a reflection of the likely increase in soybean meal feed because of expansion in cattle, hog and poultry industries, he said.

Exports in 1978-79 are expected to reach a record of 720 million bushels, an increase of 30 million over last season, he said. Since United States exports face little competition from Brazil and Argentina for the first half of 1978-79, the United States could be as much as 75 million bushels ahead by February, Lutgen predicted.

The United States will face little competition in the world market through the winter, so

Calf Profits Finally Up

Many cow-calf operators sold their first profitable calf in several years in the fall of 1978, according to Dr. Al Wellman, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension economist.

Feeder cattle and calf prices took a rather unexpected and large price jump during the first half of 1978 and maintained the higher prices throughout much of the rest of the year.

"By looking at the current inventory situation we can build the outlook for the rest of the year," Wellman says.

According to the IANR specialist, the total cattle inventory decline of recent years continued in 1978. Producers didn't retain as many heifers for beef cow herd replacements as expected. This, combined with a continued high level of cow slaughter, will result in another decline in the cow herd for 1978, according to Wellman.

"It is likely the reduction will be around two million head, leaving the cow inventory about 16 percent below the 1975 level. This smaller cow herd suggests that the 1979 calf crop will be smaller than this past year's estimated 44.1 million head," Wellman says.

"In 1978, the calf crop was almost as large as the combined cattle and calf slaughter which was about 44.5 million head. It's very likely that the 1979 calf crop could be 42 to 43 million head, exceeding the combined cattle and calf slaughter for the first time since 1975.

"There seemed to be minimal holding back of heifers for cow herd replacement throughout most of 1978. But with the higher feeder cattle and calf prices that producers are receiving, it's likely that retention of additional heifers will probably gain momentum during 1979. Many of these will not calve before 1980, however," the specialist adds.

Improved feeder cattle prices are also likely to result in producers culling fewer cows cow herd replacements as expected. This, combined with a continued high level of cow slaughter, will result in another decline in the cow herd for 1978, according to Wellman.

As herd rebuilding gets underway and more heifers are held for replacements, available feeder cattle supplies will be further reduced, the specialist says.

The smaller supply of feeder cattle, combined with a good demand for them by feedlot operators, has pushed prices sharply higher. Choice yearling feeder steers averaged in the upper $50 range this past year (about 45 percent higher than in 1977), and further rises are in prospect for 1979, according to Wellman.

"But the increase is not expected to be nearly as large as in 1978," Wellman adds. "For 1979, choice yearling feeder steers will probably average in the mid to upper $40 range, or possibly near $70."

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wittse

"The more we do, the more we can do; the more busy we are the more leisure we have."

Hazlett

Most of us have plenty to do. In fact, it usually seems that there are simply too few hours in each day and we just can't get around to all the things we want to do. Perhaps we've never realized it but the more we undertake, the greater our capacity for accomplishment becomes.

If you need someone to take on some special assignment, consider the busiest persons you know. Chances are they'll accept the task, handle it efficiently and never complain. It won't even cut into their leisure time!

We take pride in providing this community with an essential service in accordance with the highest ethical standards of our profession.
