Triple Threat

Weekend Storm Tough to Take

A triple-threat weekend storm staggered the area as it dealt out snow, blowing snow and down-right cold temperatures. And a flashing sign downtown reading: "Sure its cold outside. Snow what?" failed to provoke snickers from those who had to be outside in the sub zero weather. Falling snow Friday with steadily dropping temperatures preceded the bad stuff which came Saturday with wind gusts of 20 mile per hour and a wind chill factor of minus 55 degrees, as early morning readings held steady at 8 below. Even though the storm presented many hazards most of the planned school activities went as planned.

Motorists Saturday were told to stay off the roads unless it was absolutely necessary. Blowing snow cut down visibility to a quarter of a mile in the Wayne-land area with many of the roads icy and snow covered.

County roads were impassible in many areas as the strong winds Friday night and Saturday piled up snow drifts, blocking the roads.

Wayne city police were kept busy investigating accidents which were storm related. They are still looking for a vehicle which reportedly left the scene of an accident at 2nd and Main about 7 p.m. Friday.

Police said a car began driven by Lester Luft 120 West 2nd, was making a right turn from Main street to West 2nd when it was struck on the right side by an unknown vehicle.

An estimated $200 was sustained by the Luft vehicle.

A chain reaction accident was reported to the police about 4:30 p.m. Friday.

A vehicle being driven by Carol E. Strach, 715 Walnut, Wayne, was eastbound in the 200 block of West 7th behind a vehicle being driven by Paul W. Everingham, Wakefield. Everingham told police he was slowing down to make a right turn onto Pearl street when his vehicle was struck by the Strach vehicle which was unable to stop because of the ice.

The Everingham vehicle was in the roadway following the accident when it was struck in the rear by a vehicle being driven by Laura R. Lessman, RR 2, Wayne. She told police she did not see the car until it was too late and was unable to avoid the accident because of the slippery roadway.

Earlier Friday, police investigated a two vehicle accident near the intersection of Main and East 10th. A vehicle being driven by Mark W. Lewon, Newcastle, ran into the rear of a vehicle being driven by Henry King, Yankton, S.D.

King told officers he was See STORM, Page 10

Addition to Wakefield Care Center is Opened

A new 21 bed addition to the Wakefield Health Care Center began taking residents today (Monday). Russel Swigart, administrator, said some ten residents will be transferred to the new addition today. He said he expects to have the new unit completely filled shortly.

"We have a waiting list of nearly 40 names but some of them aren't ready to come into the center," Swigart explained. "However, we don't expect to have any trouble filling the beds."

The new $295,000 addition (including land) will hold an open house Jan. 28 from 2 to 4 p.m. Coffee and cookies will be served and tours will be conducted, according to Swigart.

There was a lot of scurrying around Friday and Saturday as last minute items had to be taken care of before the okay was given to open for business. One of the things that look the longest to complete was a day long inspection by the state fire marshal.

Much of the credit for getting the center opened was directed by Swigart to Humphrey Hansen, building coordinator from Sioux City. "He drew up the plans and then followed through during the construction to make certain everything was done properly," Swigart explained.

The bright, new addition brings to 62 the number of nursing beds in the center which is attached to the Wakefield Community hospital which has 22 patient beds.

The accessibility to the hospital is one of the attractive things about the center, Swigart pointed out. "Dr. Max Coe makes rounds twice a day in the hospital. If we have someone for him to see, we can transport them to the hospital or if the need warrants it, Dr. Coe will see the resident in the center."

The intermediate care facility (ICF 1 and 2) is expected to meet the needs of the community with the opening of the See CARE CENTER, Page 10

Region IV Post To Mordhorst

Carol T. Mordhorst has been appointed Area Director for Region IV Services in Wayne, an agency of the Region IV Office of Developmental Disabilities.

Mrs. Mordhorst has been Acting Director of Region IV Services in Wayne since December 15, 1978, when she was promoted from her post as coordinator of the Adult Developmental Center. She replaces Rosalind Meier who relocated to Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Mordhorst's history with Region IV dates back to August 1975, when she was hired as assistant bookkeeper. Since then Carol has been promoted seven times and now directs a community based program serving mentally retarded children and adults from Thurston and Wayne counties.

In addition to her administrative duties, Mrs. Mordhorst is president of the Wayne County Association for Retarded Citizens and Cum Laude graduate of Wayne State College. She resides in Wayne with her son Jason and husband Bruce.

Planning Seminar

A financial planning seminar is scheduled for tonight at Wayne State College. The seminar is sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

New Drivers

Ed Program

Ron Carnes, driver education teacher at Wayne high school, attended an Advanced Driver Education workshop at the Holiday Inn in Lincoln, recently.

The workshop was funded by the Nebraska Highway Safety Program and presented cooperatively by the Nebraska Safety Center and the state Department of Education.

The curriculum presented at the workshop was developed as a countermeasure for the disproportionate number of accidents involving youth. Class room included alcohol information, complex perceptual skill development, and advanced emergency techniques.

The advanced emergency techniques were practiced at the Lincoln East driving range. These included evasive action and brake control exercises.

This is the second year of the program. Programs were involved at Papillion, Ralston, Plattsmouth, Hayes Center, Sioux City, and Columbus during 1978. A total of 50 instructors and high school students participated.

Statements such as "absolutely fantastic" and "an absolute necessity to anyone who drives" were relayed by the students. Teachers were equally optimistic regarding the accident reduction potential.

The program goal this year is to include approximately 150 high school instructors and students.

Carnes will implement the workshop at Wayne High School. Students with driving experience will be selected for the program.

Dixon 4-H Program Set

The 4-H Achievement program, which was "snowed-out" in December, has been re-scheduled by the Achievement Committee for 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21, at the Northeast Station near Concord. All those interested in seeing members of the Dixon County 4-H clubs receive their awards are invited to attend.

County 4-H Leaders will be presented desk-top planning calendars, compliments of the Wakefield National bank at the program, and both individual and club awards will be recognized.

This is a big event for 4-H members, reported Stan Starling, Dixon county extension agent, and it is hoped that despite the late scheduling, all those involved with the 4-H program will attend and that a memorable afternoon will be enjoyed by all. Among the events planned is a slide presentation of the 1978 Citizenship Shortcourse trip by the Dixon County Junior Leaders.

Wayne State Students To Present Joint Recital

Wayne State students Curtis Jeffries of Ida Grove, Ia. and Mary Knapp of Fullerton will perform in a joint senior recital at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 18, in Ramsey theatre of the Fine Arts building at Wayne State College.

Jeffries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis J. Jeffries of Ida Grove, Ia., will perform on the trumpet and violin works by Hering, Vivaldi, Goeyens, Balay and Loeillet. Jeffries is a 1975 graduate of Ida Grove Community high school and a music major at Wayne State.

Miss Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Knapp of Fullerton, will perform on the oboe works by Cimerosa, Hindemith, Vaughn Williams and Vivaldi. She is a 1975 graduate of Fullerton High School and a music major at Wayne State.

Senior recitals are part of the requirements for senior music majors at WSC and are open free to the public.

Area Producer Chairs Meeting

Charles W. Stelling, Wakefield, president of the Northeast Nebraska Sheep Producers Association, chaired a meeting of the organization held in Pierce.

Steve Gramlich, vice president of the group gave a talk on "Techniques for Saving Lambs" and showed video tapes on "Sheep Obstetrics" and "Lamb Survival".

NENSPA members voted to purchase the videotape, "Sheep Obstetrics," which is to be presented to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Agricultural Communication for use throughout the state. Members hope that other associations in the state, now in organizational stages, will also purchase videotapes so that producers statewide can benefit from a variety of educational programs.

Stelling and his wife, Charlotte, served the group served sandwiches of summer sausage, combining lamb and beef. Special treats of lamb cookery could rapidly become accepted as traditional by the members since two earlier meetings featured "lamb hot dogs" served by Susan Olson of Bloomfield, Association Secretary-Treasurer. These were quickly dubbed "sheep dogs" by appreciative jesters.

It was noted that sheep topped the market at Sioux City, hitting a high of $76 per hundredweight.

Starting Competition

MEMBERS OF the contest one-act play, "High Sign," are these Wayne high school students (left to right) Lesa Remer, Randy Flier, Marvin Hansen, Suzanne Platner, Garth Hagerman and Dave Blenderman (seated in front). The group was in dress rehearsal Friday, preparing for the conference contest Saturday. They will compete in the District contest to be held Thursday at Wayne State College. Wayne players last year won first place in the State Class A contest. The play is under the direction of Ted Blenderman.

Nothing Really New:

Farming Risky Business

Any farmer in the Wayneland area will tell you farming is a chancy business at best.

Even though it's sometimes a risky business, farmers can reduce their risks in several ways, said Dr. Lynn H. Lutgen, extension agricultural economist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Begins Work

POINTING OUT some of the high points of the Wayne Municipal code to Darrell Brewington (seated), new Wayne city administrator, is City Clerk Bruce Mordhorst, Brewington, who moved from California, began work today. Although he recently has been in a mild climate, he knows about snow as he worked at one time in Alaska. He also held posts in Illinois where he said, winter weather can "kick up its heels." He said he is looking forward to working and living in Wayne.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1788.

Out of Old Nebraska

UP comes to North Platte

At North Platte Station on Dec. 24, 1866, General James Hervey Simpson wrote a letter which was published in the Washington (DC) Chronicle. Later, this informative letter was reprinted in Silas Seymour's Western Incidents Connected with the Union Pacific (1867), pages 124-127.

This road in the general good character of its embankments, cuts, ditches, station houses, water tanks, depots, round houses, machine and carshops, and all the other adjuncts which are essential to the construction of a first class railroad.

"To ride over the road and through the almost limitless valley of the Platte, with a speed equal to that experienced in the great railroads of the States I have mentioned, is to start within you ideas of the greatness, power, and progress of our country."

"All along the road, where the Company has established its stations settlements are springing up rapidly; and here, at this point whence I write, North Platte Station, where three weeks ago there was nothing, are already some twenty buildings, including a brick engine roundhouse, calculated for forty engines, founded on a stone foundation, at present nearly completed for ten engines; a water tank of beautiful proportions, as they all are along the road, kept from freezing by being warmed by a stove, also a fixture in every tank house; a frame depot of the usual beautiful design; a large frame hotel, nearly finished, to cost about $18,000; a long, spaciou, movable building, belonging to General (John S.) Casement, and his brother, Daniel Casement, the great tracklayers of the continent, calculated for a store, eatinghouse and for storage purposes; together with sundry other buildings.

"Already the route has been definitely fixed to Great Salt Lake, and the proximity to an air line from Chicago, considering the difficulties of the route through the Black Hills, Rocky Mountains proper, and the Wasatch Range, is a source of heartfelt congratulation.

"The Government Commissioners, General (J.H.) Simpson, (S.R.) Curtis, and Dr. (W.M.) White, are now here, examining the last completed section of thirty-five miles, extending from the two hundred and seventh mile to the three hundred and fifth mile post west from Omaha; and they express themselves highly pleased with the admirable manner in which the road has been built throughout.

"This main trunk is so admirably linked with the Sioux City branch, the Mississippi and Missouri Railroad branch, the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad branch, by the way of Atchison, and the Missouri Pacific branch, west from St. Louis, that all these roads should continue to be fostered by the General Government. These branches give equal facilities to all parts of our common country, and every citizen, as well as the Government, should take equal pride in encouraging this greatest of all enterprises.

"The writer had nearly forgotten to speak of the railroad connection with the net of railroads east of Omaha, by the near completion of the Iowa branch of the Chicago and North Western Railroad. This road the writer rode over last week, from Chicago, as far as St. Johns, twenty-two miles east of Omaha, and certainly before spring, if not within a month, the connection will be complete all the way from New York to the west end of the Great Pacific Railroad.

"Already an Express Company has been organized, called the Western Transportation Company, which is in operation day and night, and transports freight within five days from this, North Platte Station, to Denver. This, again, is progress."

Unicameral Review

SENATOR ELMOR M. HEFNER
District No. 19
Culteridge, Nebraska
The 86th Legislature (first session) convened at the State Capitol in Lincoln Jan. 3. Most of the day was spent in electing senators to the standing committees. Sixty-five legislative bills were introduced Thursday, but the afternoon was devoted to inauguration ceremonies — swearing in of all elected state officers and the new governor's address. No matter where you stand politically, residents of legislative district 19 can take pride in their native son, Charles Thone, as he was inaugurated 34th Governor of the State of Nebraska. From tiny Bow Valley to the State Capitol in 35 years, he is one of many outstanding statesmen to come from "our" corner of the state. I was happy to see former governors Dwight Burney, Val Peterson and "Nobby" Tiemann participate in the grand march at the governor's ball and enjoyed visiting with them during the evening.

poses, (2) the state budget, (3) a comprehensive water plan, (4) welfare reform, and (5) increased state aid to schools. I consider these to be some of the important issues of this session of the Legislature and I would appreciate input from my readers. You can write or call me at my convenience on weekends at my home, 214 S. 24th St., 68701. While in session during the week my Capitol office phone is 471-2624. The mailing address is State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509. I appreciate hearing from you. If democracy as we know it is to continue, people at the grass roots level will have to take a more active interest in local, state and federal government. I was happy to be reappointed to serve on the Revenue Committee and to be elected vice chairman again. I feel the past two years' experience serving on that committee is of value. One of the main objectives of this committee will be to fund ways of equalizing property tax, both intra-county and inter-county in our state. I was also appointed to serve on the Constitutional Revision and Recreation Committee and the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee. I am looking forward to a very busy and interesting session.

Annual event?

Dear Editor: Last month a Wayne business, Pamida, Inc., named a day "Church Day." On that particular day 10 percent of your purchases were donated to your Church. It was a wonderful opportunity to stock up on necessary items or to purchase some Christmas presents and to also donate to your Church. A total of 37 churches from Wayne and the surrounding towns benefited from this promotion. On behalf of our Church, Immanuel Lutheran of Wakefield, I would like to thank Kenneth Soden, Manager of the local Gibson Store for having "Church Day." I hope he will make this an annual event. — Dale Lessmann, Wayne

Fluoride important in baby's diet

This is the third in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Wayne Herald in cooperation with the Nebraska Dental Association in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, February 4-10. I am breast feeding my 3 month-old baby. Since we live in a fluoridated community, can I assume that she is getting the recommended amount of fluoride for the best development of her teeth?

fluoride supplement may be advised in those instances where breast milk is the only fluid given. By the same token, children from the age of birth to two years who live in non-fluoridated communities should receive a fluoride supplement. This is because it has been established that persons who receive adequate fluoride from birth onward can expect to have 65 percent fewer cavities than they would otherwise experience.

Because infants diets do vary considerably — and many youngsters receive food or formula that is processed with fluoridated tap water — it is wise to seek the professional advice of your family dentist on the best method of providing the fluoride protection needed in tooth development.

OBSERVATIONS

Oiling the wheels

The adage of the "squeaking wheel will receive the most attention" is especially applicable now if taxpayers in the Wayne land area and the state want to take some of the heat off of property taxes. According to a story describing the property tax situation locally complete with "pie graphs" made up by County Assessor Doris Slipp, it vividly shows that most of the tax dollar goes toward public education. There is no question but that we should attempt to give our young people the best education possible. But to put the financial burden on property taxes is a little harsh. We concur with bills now feeling their way through the legislature that other areas should be tapped to help to pay for the cost of education. Possible answers would be an increase in personal income taxes and an increase in sales tax. We are less inclined to bolster the cause of increasing sales tax because this tax hits the low income group just as hard as those in the higher echelons. An increase in sales tax could be made more viable with an exemption of sales tax on foods. According to "Ed News," a publication for school administrators and boards published by the Nebraska State Educational Association, 75 percent of the funds used to support Nebraska's public elementary and secondary schools were raised locally. Only one state, New Hampshire, imposed a greater burden on the local property owner. Last year, according to the publication, the State of Nebraska paid an estimated 18 percent of the public school costs. Only two states, New Hampshire and South Dakota, paid less. Those states together had 352 operating school districts. State funds in Nebraska were divided among almost 1,100 districts. Latest available statistics indicate that Nebraska ranks 44th among the states in per-capita state taxes. Nebraska ranks 13th in local property taxes per capita. Last year, Nebraska's per-capita costs of educating students attending school trailed 40 other states. And its interesting to note that nine states — seven of them in the south — that had lower costs, operated a grand total of 1,544 school districts. We aren't debating consolidation in this presentation but it seems to enter into the proposition of paying for public education. Joe B. Williams surveyed Nebraskans and their attitudes toward state and local taxes. Of those polled, 6 percent indicated that a greater portion of the costs of local government should be raised from local property taxes. That 6 percent — and only that 6 percent of the public — will get its wish. When local costs rise should they will and state support remains stagnant (which it will), the percentage raised locally will rise. So how about the 94 percent included in the poll who apparently lean toward other means of financing? They are slow to show their support for taking the financial load off of property taxes. We urge taxpayers who want affirmative action toward taking the near back-breaking financial burden off of property taxes, to make themselves knowledgeable about those actions being taken by the state's lawmakers regarding this area. If they find something they like, our cars should give both vocal and physical support. This is one of those times when personal involvement may mean a financial investment for the future. Help draw attention to squeaking property tax wheels by making representatives aware of the public sentiment and do something about putting some "grease" in the right spot. — Chuck Barnes.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

Consumer to pay price

The automobile companies are being blistered by Federal regulations but it is the consumer who will pay the price. And the inconvenience, says the Automotive Information Council. Today's car already carries more than $700 in emissions and safety equipment required by law — and some of which is questionable value — and by 1985 that figure will rise by another $1,000. Not only that, says AIC, but the size of cars will be much smaller than they are today because of the mileage averages which must be met by them. Each company must have an average of 27.5 miles per gallon for all its cars — the large with the small — by then.

"Another alternative would be to forego production of 225,000 full-sized family cars — which, incidentally, would be equivalent to shutting down one of Ford's two-shift assembly plants for an entire year, jeopardizing 20,000 jobs." The other companies are making the same points in the hope that their arguments will be heard, and possibly they are in some quarters, said AIC. Michigan Congressman Stockman said he feels the car owner will "have his fill" soon and that Congress will repeal the mileage law. But he said the public must make itself heard.

Use of lighter weight materials can only do so much. So then will come smaller cars, less powerful engines, more stick shifts and reduced use of convenience options. Auto companies today are finding it difficult to meet the 1979 company average of 19 mpg and consequently have increased the prices of V-8 engines because of the need to put customers in better-mileage vehicles. The auto companies have started speaking out on the issue because of the difficulty and cost in reaching the standards. In a recent statement, Ford Motor said: "For example, if the present 1979 standard were raised by an amount as seemingly insignificant as one-tenth of a mile per gallon, Ford would have to make a drastic change in its production and marketing plans. One theoretical solution would be to manufacture and sell some 60,000 extra Pintos or 160,000 extra Fairmonts (to average the greater mileage of those cars with the larger Ford Cars) but we cannot force people to buy our cars and neither of these possibilities seems realistic in today's market."

Speaking of PEOPLE

Vitamin Misconceptions Abound

When it comes to vitamins, the human body isn't quite as picky as some people might think, according to Teresa

Shaffer, extension food and nutrition specialist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

"One myth about 'natural' vitamins is that they are better for your body than those synthesized in a laboratory," she said, "but the fact is, the body can't tell whether that vitamin C came from an orange or a vitamin tablet."

Each vitamin has a particular molecular structure that remains the same whether it's synthetic, extracted from a plant or animal source, or consumed as part of a plant or animal, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln specialist explained.

And the body cannot distinguish in any way between a vitamin from a plant or animal and the same vitamin from a laboratory.

She pointed out, however, that the body does need the bulk and texture of real food in addition to vitamins and nutrients. "And the best way to get all these essentials is to eat a balanced diet."

Another fallacy of the so-called "natural" vitamins is that vitamin products sold as "natural" don't contain any synthetic ingredients, Shaffer noted. "Some of the very synthetic ingredients people are trying to avoid are present in the 'natural' products," she pointed out, often as binders and fillers in tablets and capsules.

Taking a multi-vitamin every day "just to be sure" you're getting enough vitamins usually is unnecessary," added Shaffer.

"The idea that the higher the vitamin dosage, the better off you are, is misguided," the specialist said. "Unless you have a vitamin deficiency, your body probably doesn't need any more than the recommended daily allowance gained by a balanced diet, and the excess may even be harmful."

Excessive amounts of vitamin A, for example, taken over long periods can increase pressure within the skull or even cause growth retardation in children. Other symptoms of overdoses are similar to those of deficiency: dry, cracked skin, headaches and bone pain.

"Too much vitamin D also has been known to retard mental and physical growth in children, as well as cause nausea, weakness, stiffness, constipation, hypertension and even death," she said.

Blue Devils Struggle Early But Use Strong Finish To Win

The Wayne Blue Devils found Stanton to be a stubborn opponent but established a strong lead in the third period and held on for a 66-55 win Friday night in the Wayne High School gym.

Tom Ginn led all scorers with 18 points and an aggressive Al Nissen scored 14 for the Blue Devils. Ginn scored 15 of his points in the second half while Nissen hit two baskets in each quarter.

The Blue Devils came out in a man-to-man press early in the game to take a five-point lead but made some mistakes and Stanton tied the game up. Two baskets in the final three seconds of the first quarter, including a basket at the buzzer gave the Mustangs a 17-13 lead.

Wayne played better basketball in the second quarter and took a slim 26-23 lead into the locker at the half. The Blue Devils came out hot in the third period and scored seven straight points for a 33-23 lead with five minutes remaining in the game.

They held on for a 45-35 advantage after three quarters. With the Wayne lead fluctuating between 10 points and 13, Wayne Coach Bill Sharpe placed many of his substitutes into the game. The subs ran into some problems and the Wayne lead was cut to 60-55 with 1:19 left in the game.

Sharpe put his starters back in the game and they took control during the last minute. Jeff Zeiss hit a basket with 42 seconds remaining and Paul Sutherland and Ginn connected on free throws in the final seconds for the final 66-55 margin. Every varsity player saw action for Wayne.

"We hadn't concentrated on Stanton much," Coach Sharpe said. "We were concerned about our fast tempo and that hurt, but I'm not displeased with the game. The players worked hard and played well at times, but we weren't patient. We'll have to play better against Hartington next time."

"Al (Nissen) is a hard worker. He gets open a lot and seems to be in the right spot at the right time. He does a lot of things that aren't noticed," Sharpe said.

One of the keys to victory for Wayne was the number of turnovers. The Blue Devils turned the ball over 14 times to 31 times for Stanton. They also held a 16-7 edge in offensive rebounding. Ginn had eight rebounds and Nissen and Brad Emry had six.

Zeiss stole the ball seven times and Ginn added four or five steals. Wayne hit 40 percent from the field to 46 percent for Stanton.

Wayne is now 7-3 and hosts Hartington C.C. Friday.

Wayne reserves 66, Stanton 37. The Wayne reserve team torpedoes Stanton 66-37 in a mismatch. The junior Blue Devils blew the game open early with a 21-5 first quarter lead and increased the score to 38-12 at the half.

Wayne scorers: Jerry Morris, 4; Jeff Sperry, 2; Tod Hiler, 6; Nick Zimmer, 2; Scott Wessel, 3; Kevin Nissen, 8; Paul Sutherland, 2; Tim Pfeiffer, 6; Tony Rezek, 13; Doug Proett, 2; Pat McCright, 4; Todd Skotan, 8; Brian Fleming, 6.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Muscell

THE WAYNE HIGH wrestling cheerleaders asked me to publicize a snow dance that they're sponsoring Saturday night. The dance is scheduled from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the Wayne High gym.

On Friday night, at halftime of the Wayne JV basketball game, a King and queen will be crowned from the senior class. An attendant from each class will also be announced. The band that will be playing Saturday night is "Jump."

TWO WRESTLERS WERE honored at the Second Guessers meeting Thursday. Wayne High wrestlers Dan Mitchell (heavyweight) and Rick Lutt (112 pounds) were Koenig described Meyer as a gentleman who was aggressive on the mat. He said that Mitchell and Lutt both compare favorably with Meyer.

IT WAS INTERESTING to me to hear Jim Meyer's name come up at the meeting, because I remember Meyer from past experience at Wayne State College.

During my freshman year at Wayne State, I tried out for the college wrestling team. I happened to be in the same weight class as Jim Meyer and it didn't take long to find out he was a good wrestler. During his junior year at WSC, I believe Meyer posted a 23-31 record or close to it. I wrestled him in practice and believe me he was good.

My college wrestling career only lasted about three weeks — just long enough to get a good taste of what college wrestling is like. Between my mediocrity on the mat and an injury and lack of time, I decided that college wrestling was a class above me. But I kept attending meets and watching Jim Meyer win match after match.

PRESENTED AN AWARD for outstanding player on the Wayne State wrestling team during the Chadron State Tourney, was Lori Erwin of Concord. Erwin scored 65 points in three games to be selected to the "All Tourney Team" from the eight women's teams in the tournament. WSC Coach Helen Carroll termed Erwin "the consistent player" of the team.

WHILE THE WSC BASKETBALL Tourney is still fresh in some people's minds, I'd like to take a look into the past years of the tourney.

College play began in 1958 when Dakota Wesleyan became the first champion. Since then, Wayne State won the tournament nine times. The boys high school division began in 1968 when Laurel won the tourney. Laurel, won again in 1969.

Wayne High finished second or third in the eight team field from 1972 through 1975. After a two-year absence in the top three places, Wayne finished in second place again this year. The girls division opened in 1976 with Ord winning the title. Laurel placed second and Wayne third in 1976 and 77. This year, the Wayne girls won the title.

I found this information in a winter sports booklet, released by the Wayne State Public Information Office.

I'VE RECEIVED several calls inquiring why the bowling highlights weren't in The Wayne Herald. The reason is that I simply forgot to put them in. One time, I ran out of space on the sports pages, but the other times I just overlooked them.

However, if readers look back to last Monday's edition, bowling highlights from two weeks were printed. Some people apparently missed these, because the inquiries I received were made this week. The bowling highlights will be a regular part of the sports pages once a week for the rest of the season.

WAYNE STATE FOLLOWERS who are curious as to how Jim Meyer is doing at Ashland College, which is the head of basketball coach at Wayne State, can find the information in today's edition. Chuck Mlotwisch, sports information director of Ashland College, Ohio sent a feature story on Seaward.

Wayne Grapplers Lose Dual To Rated Albion

The Wayne High wrestling team dropped its second dual of the season Friday night as the Blue Devils found the opposition strong, in a 38-12 loss to Albion, the number five rated team in Class B.

Four Wayne wrestlers won by decision while the other eight matches were won by Albion. Rick Luft continued his undefeated streak at 13 matches and Rick Johnson, Ward Walker and Dusty Rubcek added decisions.

"Formally unbeaten Dan Mitchell lost his first match of the year in a controversial 6-7 decision at the heavyweight class. Mitchell led 7-0 at one time in the match.

"We ran into a better team," Wayne Coach Don Koerig said after the dual. "The score looks lopsided but we wrestled well."

Laurel Girls Above .500 With Easy Win Thursday

The Laurel girls shutout Newcastle 13-0 in the first quarter and poured it on for a final 60-15 win in Newcastle, Thursday night.

Lisa Galvin led the Bears' attack with 17 points and Kay Anderson followed in double figures with 11 points.

The Bears led 28-0 at halftime and 44-22 after three quarters before a strong finish and a 60-25 win.

"Newcastle is very young but we didn't play too bad," Coach Ev Jensen said. "We scored 60 points and shot 43 percent from the field. Our goal is 45 percent so we aren't too far off."

The win upheld Laurel's record to 5-4. The Bears are scheduled to host Pender Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Donna Lofquist scored 10 points to lead the Laurel reserves 13-0 in a 37-10 win in the opening game. The reserves are now 6-1.

Trojans Play Well, Edged By Walthill

After getting off to a slow start against Walthill, the Wakefield Trojans played patient basketball and gave Class D's undefeated number one basketball team a scare Friday night before losing 73-69.

Walthill took a 10-point lead 24-14 after the first quarter but Wakefield didn't get shook. The Trojans stuck by their game plan and slowly cut the lead with patient play.

Wakefield called 40-33 at the half and 57-52 after three quarters before catching the Bluejays in the fourth quarter. The Trojans took a one-point lead with 3:05 remaining in the game as they put together a strong charge.

A three-point play gave Walthill the lead again and when they took over possession of the ball, Wakefield was forced to foul. The free throws dropped and the Bluejays squeaked by for a 73-69 win.

The Wakefield Trojans scored 19 points and Tom Preston and Barry Jones hit 13 for Wakefield, while John Miller led Walthill's four double figure scorers with 20 points. The Trojans connected on 45 percent of their shots from the floor. Barry Jones nabbed nine rebounds for Wakefield, which committed only 10 turnovers.

"We got off to our customary slow start but hung close for the rest of the game," Wakefield Coach Joe Coble said. "I'm awfully pleased with our performance (Tom) Preston did a real good job of handling the pressure Walthill applied.

"I'm real proud, we played a real good ball game. I felt we played four quarters with intent and stayed with the game plan," Coble continued. "Wall Hill is a well coached team."

They don't shake. I have to give them credit and I have to give our players credit. It wasn't a total loss. I saw many good things."

Wakefield, now 4-4, hosts Emerson-Hubbard Tuesday night at 6:30 in an attempt to avenge an earlier loss to the Pirates in the Wakefield Holiday Tourney.

Walthill Reserves 55, Wakefield 48

The Wakefield Trojans found Walthill's JV team to be a 1910 too tough in a 55-48 loss, despite the performance of sophomore Jeff Hallstrom. Wakefield scorers: Jeff Hallstrom, 81; Brent Kahl, 7; Larry Soderberg, 3; Loren Erlinson, 3; Dale Phelps, 2; Doug Verplank, 2.

Wayne State Grapplers Back On Mats Wednesday

By BRAD WIELAND
 WSC Sports Information Assistant

The Wayne State College wrestling team will be back on the mat Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 5 p.m. in Rice Auditorium, after a one month layoff.

The Wildcats will put their 5-2 record on the line in a double dual match against Northwest Missouri State and Midland College. The grapplers are currently riding a two match winning streak after defeating Buena Vista, 39-3 and Coe College, 29-11, on Dec. 16.

Earlier in the season WSC competed in the Northwest Missouri State Tournament, where the grapplers finished sixth behind fifth place North west Missouri State.

Midland's appearance in Wayne will be the first head to head action since last year when WSC defeated the Warriors, 33-18, at Wayne.

The double dual will be a tune-up for Friday and Saturday, Jan. 19-20, when WSC will host the Wayne State Invitational. The invitational will feature four teams: South Dakota State, Springfield, West mar. Ft. Hayes State, and Wayne State. Action in the invitational begins at 5 p.m., Friday, in Rice Auditorium.

Former WSC Coach Jim Seward Doing Well At Ashland College

ASHLAND, OHIO — Jim Seward's sprint basketball is alive and prospering. Just ask fans of Ashland College basketball who have watched his club run to a 10-3 record, including six straight triumphs and 9 in the last 10 games.

Seward came to Ashland this season after a four-year stint at Wayne State College, and promptly encountered an on-again, off-again battle with "Murphy's Law."

Jim Seward in action

But somehow Seward, a graduate of Hiram Scott College (Nebr.), pulled together a devastated program and has built a club which is currently rated ninth in the NCAA Division III poll of Basketball Weekly. His Eagles also stand second in NCAA III scoring with 95.8 points per game.

Ashland has even gained national recognition through it all, including being contacted by SPORT magazine for a future story.

Seward, a native of Evanston, Ill., accepted the Ashland College position last spring after Joe Gottfried left the Eagles to take the head job at Southern Illinois University.

With his recruiting time past history, Seward inherited what looked to be a solid nucleus from last season's 1977 squad. Three starters were back from the team which earned Ashland a third straight NCAA Division III postseason tournament berth, and though Seward had no chance to attract any top fresh men, things didn't look too bad.

He knew he was walking into a unique situation. The school became famous for its small college basketball prowess in mid and late 1960s under legendary Bill Musselman, and then later carried on the tradition under Gottfried.

During 1966-72, Ashland posted a 138-27 record, earning four post-season tournament appearances and a pair of berths in the small-college final four in Evansville, Ind. Over the last three seasons under Gottfried, the Eagles not only added to their string of tourney berths but won 59 of 79 games.

But it didn't take things long to go sour for Seward in his rookie year.

He lost 6-7 star Tom Krumb on the second day of organized practice when his year's second-leading scorer and rebounder damaged a knee severely enough to sideline him for the whole season.

Seward, minus the only real big man he had on hand, came under fire for his somewhat bizarre style of play when the Eagles lost two of their first three games and dropped out of sight in the national rankings. Ashland had been ranked as high as 8th in the nation by the Basketball Weekly.

Seward's philosophy features a non-stop, no-lime-out, race-horse approach which has seen Ashland score 110 or more points four times this year.

"In practice, we talked a lot about smiling. We spent time in practice smiling. We smiled the entire game against Capital University (O.), which was undefeated at the time (AC won 99-88). We smiled at the free-throw line, in our huddles, during timeouts and at the half, Seward said.

"One time one of our players came over to the bench after missing a couple of free throws with a sad look on his face. I told him if he didn't smile I was going to take him out of the game. When you get tense and start pressing, you're not very

Hartington Tops Winside Boys

The Winside Wildcats ran into a tough Hartington basketball team Friday night and fell victim in a 68-53 decision at Hartington.

With 6-3 Bob Hawkins missing action because of illness, Winside lacked the height that had been an asset this season. Three players scored in double figures in the balanced offensive punch.

Chuck Peter scored 14, Paul Roberts added 12 and Randy Ritze scored 11.

Hartington established a 19-16 lead in a high scoring first quarter. The host team outscored Winside by seven points in the second period for a 36-26 halftime lead. The Wildcats played Hartington to a standstill in the third quarter but couldn't close the gap any.

Peter and Roberts snatched nine rebounds each for the Wildcats and Roberts added five assists. Hartington was led by Russ Hagert with 21 points, Tom Goetz with 12, Chris Hagert with 14 and Joel Hanson with 11.

"We played them a good game," Winside Coach Dennis Gonnerman said. "We had a total team effort tonight. We shot well and gave them a good run. Hartington has a lot of depth and talent."

Winside, now 4-4, will host Wausa Friday night.

happy and don't smile too often. Smiling helped to loosen things up and take some of the pressure off."

Maybe Seward's philosophy helped straighten matters out. Something did and the Eagles then took off on their current tear. Ashland's lone loss since Nov. 30 was 75-74 to Wittenberg

Winside Wildkittens Fall

The Winside Wildkittens suffered a tough loss at the hands of undefeated and highly rated Hartington High 44-36 Friday night in Hartington. The game was rescheduled from Tuesday night because of illness.

Winside played even with Hartington on the floor most of the game, actually scoring more points from the field but falling behind at the free throw line.

The Wildkittens shot only five free throws all night and made two while Hartington shot 25 charity shots and made 12.

Hartington gained a 16-12 first quarter lead and stretched it to 27-17 at half. Winside cut the lead to the final difference of eight points but couldn't get any closer.

2, 4, 6 Win C League Action

Don Zeiss, Bill Blecke and Wayne Wessel teamed up for 44 points to lead Team Four to a 61-57 win over Team Three in men's C League recreation basketball action, Wednesday.

The game was tied after the first quarter before Team Four jumped on top and stayed there for the remainder of the game. For Team Four, Zeiss scored 18, Blecke 15 and Wessel 11. Pat Gross scored 17 for Team Three and was followed by Stew Cline with 13, Lee Remer with 12 and Terry/Kumm with 10.

Team Six outscored Team One 18-9 in the final quarter to earn a 58-49 victory, Wednesday. Ken Liska with 21 points, Darrell Doescher with 17, and Dan Johnson with 12 led Team Six. The game was tied at 40 after three quarters. Don Sherman and Randy Shaw with 12 points each led Team One.

Team Two took a first quarter lead of 20-6 and didn't let up the rest of the game to post a (O), considered a prime candidate for a Division III national title.

But just when things seemed to be straightening out, along came another blockbuster, Fred Graham, an All-American guard last year as just a sophomore, got into some off-the-court trouble and lost his basketball eligibility.

Now, Seward was minus his top two scorers from last year's team.

And, ironically, the style of play Seward caught so much grief for ultimately wound up as the Eagles' saving grace. With opponents unable to concentrate on any individual, Ashland simply continues to run its opponents into submission in an unrelenting manner. Six players average double-figure scoring amid a lineup which goes 67.5-63.5, 10, and 5.9.

Seward's team was making up for its lack of rebounding muscle and natural shooters by just trying to run (and run and run) and throw up as many shots as humanly possible.

"Our percentage is poor (just a shade over 40 percent), but if you throw it up enough, enough of them will fall in," says Seward. "The big thing now is the kids believe in the system."

"We don't really have one or two key people, but everyone we know is totally involved and contributing. I think substituting at the right times has helped. We're not a good shooting team and we're not very quick, but we try to compensate."

Seward uses 10 players a game, running a shuttle system offense. Seward player goes as hard as he can for as long as he can, takes a brief respite and is inserted back in the lineup.

Seward believes an intense player can perform "quicker." But he drives an athlete no harder than he drives himself. His ideas are the only ones that will be accepted, however.

In Ashland, it's Seward's way or the highway.

In the Eagles' last game Seward lost another player, Sophomore forward Joe Sokol, who at 6-3 was the team's second leading rebounder and score, was sidelined for an indefinite period with a painful hip pointer.

Seward, however, doesn't even worry about such things any more.

"I do wonder when it's going to end, though," he says with a smile — and a sigh.

Seward compiled a 44-45 record at Wayne State where his teams twice ranked among the 15 NAIA scoring squads. His overall coaching record before this year was 96-64, including a 32-19 mark in two years at Northeast Community College,

Wayne State Kittens Fall To Pittsburg

By Darwin Ruback
WSC Sports Information Assistant

The Wayne State Kittens were defeated 62-51 by the Lady Gorillas of Pittsburg State in CSIC action, Friday night.

The Kittens, led by Lori Erwin's 18 points, could not hold off the second half surge of the Lady Gorillas.

The Pittsburg State offense was powered by Sunny York and Terry Hosney, each hitting 21 points and putting down 10 rebounds. York and Hosney kept the Lady Gorillas in the game during the first half action as York hit 13 points and Hosney 10. York's first half points included a 20 foot jump shot at the buzzer putting Pittsburg State on top for the first time in the game and they never trailed from then on.

The Wildkittens never gave up and played even with the Lady Gorillas for the first 6 minutes of the second half. At that point the Lady Gorillas hit 8 straight points to build their lead to 47-38 with 11:10 remaining in the game.

Lori Erwin hit 8 of her 18 points in the last 11 minutes to try to pull the Kittens back into the game, but the effort fell short. The Wildkittens hit only 27 percent of their shots in the second half while Pittsburg shot 48 percent in the second half.

Even though Wayne State out rebounded Pittsburg, 35 to 34, they could not put in the second and sometimes third shots.

The Wildkittens were also plagued by cold shooting from the free throw line, hitting only 5 of 13 attempts for 30 percent, while Pittsburg hit 4 of 5 for 80 percent.

WHO PRAYED
Did you think of us this morning? As you breathed a word of prayer? Did you ask for strength to help us; All our heavy burdens bear? Someone prayed and strength was given; For the lone and weary road; Someone prayed and faith grew stronger As we bent beneath our load. Some prayed — the way grew brighter. And we walked all unafraid in our heart a song of gladness — Tell me, was it YOU who prayed? Mrs. Albert Karlberg, Mr. and Mrs. Per Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thornton and family. 115

Care Center

new addition. "It's kind of ironic," Swigert pointed out. "The first unit was opened four years ago, almost to the day." The first unit, containing 42 beds, was opened Jan. 30, 1975.

The new addition opened today gobbled up one room because of construction needs. "We are going to use the room as an employee lounge and locker room."

The new addition has two colorful and bright lounges and an exercise room. These are new to the center.

Swigert said the new addition was funded through grants which have now been removed by the federal government. "We're happy to have the new addition completed. We could not qualify for funding if we have to make application now," he stated.

Swigert said when the new addition is in full operation, there will be some ten new employees on the payroll. As he tried to answer questions from the fire marshal, Swigert again pointed out irony as the new addition is now completed. "We had originally applied for 60 beds when we made our application more than four years ago and the government turned us down." "We're not complaining," he quickly added.
