Cold Temperatures Return

Severe Weather Still Marks Winter Picture

Severe winter conditions continue their onslaught as blowing snow and cold temperatures Monday and Tuesday caused many area schools to start late and dismiss early and nearly all activities cancelled Tuesday night.

There was a break in the cold snap Monday as temperatures neared the 30 degree mark, but gusty winds caused drifting snow and hazardous road conditions.

Temperatures began to fall late Monday afternoon and continued their slide throughout Tuesday and into Wednesday. Blowing snow Tuesday filled in many of the county roads which the county crews just recently opened.

School officials, fearing roads would be impassable by the school buses, dismissed students early to make certain students get home safely.

Winside did not have school Wednesday morning because of the drifting snow Monday and Tuesday. Sports, school and civic activities were cancelled or postponed because of the weather conditions.

The loose snow, which has piled to nearly 14 inches on the level was swept along by the winds as there was no crust on top to hold it down. Visibility was cut considerably by the blowing snow.

The most recent developments in the winter weather picture made an already gloomy mood even more so. The cold weather is taxing many of the institutions who are looking for funds to meet their fuel bills.

Providence Medical Center is one of those institutions which is finding the weather situation frustrating to say the least.

Marci Thomas, administrator stated the December fuel bill at the center was increased because of the "fuel adjustment" which meant it had to use fuel energy other than natural gas. The alternate source usually was higher costwise, Mrs. Thomas said.

She also said that during January, the center was overflowing with patients. They had to put some of the patients in hallways for the first time since the center had been open.

know if the cold weather had anything to do with the influx of patients.

The overall picture looks grim for most budgets and sources say the winter is not over, by a long shot.

Award for Service

RECEIVING AN award from Darrell Wiener for service given to Boy Scout Troop 174 is Bob Carhart. Carhart, who received the Silver Beaver Award earlier in the year, was honored Monday night at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The award was presented to Carhart for his outstanding service and leadership to the troop.

Dairy Barn Collapses

IT LOOKS like a windstorm ripped apart this dairy barn on the Schrant Roadside Dairy farm located one mile east and three quarters of a mile south of Winside. However, the cause for the collapse of the 50 by 144 foot structure has not yet been determined. The building came down with a crash about 9:30 p.m. Jan. 31 with some 45 head of stock inside. Luckily only one of the cows was trapped in the downed building and she was pulled free by the Schrant family who said the crash sounded like a "sonic boom." The building is relatively new, completed in September, 1978.

Prices Slashed

'Thursday Night Fever' Unchecked

"Thursday Night Fever" goes unchecked among Wayne businessmen and sources say the epidemic may never be brought under control.

Wayne businessmen are turning Thursday night into a shopper's paradise as they use bright markers to slash prices on items to be purchased between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

A sample of the items can be found in a two-page advertisement in today's Herald.

Sources say they feel the "fever" will continue to spread and that even more bargains will be made available in the coming weeks.

And to enhance the situation for shoppers to do their buying in Wayne, is a new concept to the popular Birthday Bucks contest which is held every Thursday evening.

Officials of the Wayne Retail Association have now made it possible for shoppers to win from $25 to $750 in Birthday Bucks.

The $25 figure is for consolation winners who are named every Thursday night. The $750 figure is the Birthday Bucks jackpot which goes to that person who is in a participating store when the date is announced and it coincides exactly with that person's own birth date.

However, under the new rules, a consolation winner may win as much as $100 in Birthday Bucks. The consolation winner will have an opportunity to participate in the new "Pigeonhole Parade" where the winner will draw one of nine envelopes from pigeonholes in a box to be located in The Wayne Herald.

The winner may win $25, $50, $75 or $100 depending upon which envelope is drawn.

"Thursday Night Fever" and "Pigeonhole Parade" are just two of the many reasons why area residents should make Wayne their shopping center, not only on Thursday nights but other nights as well, association officials pointed out.

Seek Pioneer Farm Families

Marlyn Koch, Wayne, president of the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers, joined with the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben in announcing that nominations for the 24th annual Nebraska Pioneer Farm Family awards are being accepted.

The program honors farm families in Nebraska whose land has been owned by the same family for 100 years or more.

Koch pointed out that 1,693 farm families in 43 counties have been honored at various county fairs during the first 23 years of the project.

He said that again this year the honored families will receive an engraved walnut plaque and an aluminum gatepost marker for each farm from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, plus a special framed citation from the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers.

In addition, Ak-Sar-Ben will host the honored families at an annual banquet during the organization's 52nd Livestock Exposition and Rodeo Sept. 21 through Sept. 29.

Koch said all nominations must be submitted by May 15 to the secretary of the local county fair board.

Residents in the Wayne area will have an opportunity to view a total solar eclipse Feb. 26.

The eclipse, which will be 88 percent in the Wayne area, will start at 9:24 a.m. and will end at 11:54 a.m. The maximum eclipse will come at 10:37 a.m. The percent is that portion of the sun covered by the shadow cast by the moon.

The eclipse will mark the last chance of this century to view a See ECLIPSE, page 10

January is Coldest on Record—Weather Service

It's official! January, 1979, was the coldest January on record according to Paul Woolard of the National Weather Service in Norfolk.

This comes as no great surprise to residents in the Wayne-land area, but it does confirm what they already suspected.

And even the old timers tend to agree with the findings of the service, taking into account the winters of 1888 and 1936.

The average high temperature during the past month was 5.7 degrees, which is 13.2 degrees below normal. The average low temperature during the month was minus 2.5 degrees.

Although the temperatures moderated for a short time Monday, reaching to near 30 degrees, they soon plunged back into the deep February with a minus 10 degree reading at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The area has gone 75 days without the temperature rising above the 32 degree mark. While the area might be heading for a new record, it is not a record as yet, according to Woolard. The record is 92 days.

The snow fall at the end of January was 24.6 inches which is about 19 inches above normal.

There is no good news as far as relief is concerned during February. Temperatures are expected to remain cold throughout the month. Woolard said the extended forecast calls for below normal precipitation but he takes exception with that.

"I think we will have a wet month during February which increases the chance of flooding when the thaw does come."

George Van Allen, climatologist at Norfolk, said he does not think the country is headed for another ice age. Instead, he favors the theory that the country has been in an above normal warm cycle since 1931 and it is now beginning to return to normal which will mean continued relative severe winters.

The blizzard of 1888 was recorded in a book "In All Its Fury" published by William H. O'Gara, Laurel, former Speaker of the House of Representatives. Included in the book is a description of the blizzard as THOSE WIGGLY lines on these weather charts (being pointed out by Paul Woolard) are the little dudes that signify bad weather for the Wayne-land area.

Search On For Judge

A public hearing has been set Feb. 21 to receive information relating to candidates for appointment to the office of district judge, 9th judicial district.

The vacancy was caused by the death of Eugene McFadden, Norfolk, who was killed Jan. 29 in a car-train collision southwest of Norfolk.

Also killed in the mishap was Court Reporter Dale Thies, Norfolk.

The two men were apparently returning to Norfolk from Madison when the accident happened on an intersection of the Union Pacific railroad tracks and a county road some seven miles south and one and one-half miles west of Norfolk.

Wayne county is included in the 9th judicial district.

Area Students In Festival

Four area students have been selected to the Plainman Honors Music Festival orchestra, chorus and band by Dr. Paul Swanson, head of the Nebraska Wesleyan University music department.

The three students will gather at Nebraska Wesleyan today (Thursday) for two days of rehearsals, winding up with a concert Saturday in O'Donnell Auditorium.

Selected to the choir were Dennis Carlson and Steve Linn of Laurel. Named to the band were Karen Mackey of Laurel and Michele Brockmoller of Winside.

Assembly of God Church Hosting Nelson Family

Wayne area residents are invited to visit and hear the Nelson Family Evangelistic Team at the Wayne Assembly of God Church, 901 Circle Dr., Feb. 11 through 21.

A charismatic seminar will be held in the fellowship hall of the church from 10 to 11:30 a.m. daily, except Saturday. Evening services will be held during the week at 7:30 p.m.

According to the Rev. A.R. Weiss, pastor of the Wayne Assembly of God Church, baby-sitting services will be provided during the morning seminars by the Nelson family.

"The 10 a.m. charismatic seminar will make the word of God come alive in your life," said Pastor Weiss.

Evangelist Verlyn Nelson started in the ministry at the age of 19. He pastored for 17 years in Minnesota and five years in Wisconsin. Since that time he has been in the evangelistic field. The Nelson Family have ministered in many states and in a number of denominations.

Special vocal music will be provided by Brenda Nelson of The Nelson Family. She has had four years of specialized training in her field. Her first record release is now available.

Pastor Weiss said the public is welcome to hear The Nelson Family during their visit to Wayne.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

I HEARD SOME RUMORS circulating about Washburn University possibly having to forfeit some basketball games this season, so I checked into it.

Washburn is a member of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference along with Wayne State, Kearney State, Missouri Western, Missouri Southern, Fort Hays, Pittsburg and Emporia State. In a telephone conversation with Earl Brown, Washburn sports information director, I learned that Washburn has not yet had to forfeit any games, but is under investigation.

Two Washburn players became ineligible for university loans when their grade point averages fell below 2.0. When this happened, the Washburn basketball coach looked elsewhere and secured them loans from an outside source. According to NIAA rules, loans are supposed to come from within the university and not from an outside source. Thus, the NIAA is investigating the loan situation and will make a decision in the future concerning the matter.

As of now, Washburn is 14-4 with no forfeits and will retain that record unless the NIAA takes action. Incidentally, one of the games that Washburn would have to forfeit, should the NIAA decide, is a win over Wayne State.

OTHER INFO ABOUT WASHBURN: Football coach Larry Elliott resigned on Jan. 12. He hopes to continue teaching at the university and coach baseball but only assist the football team. Athletic director Ed Head also resigned his position on Jan. 13, effective at the end of this school year.

THE WAYNE GIRLS basketball team received some recognition this week. The Blue Devils were listed as an honorable mention in the Omaha World Herald Class B basketball ratings, released Monday.

IT FINALLY HAPPENED. With Class C Lyons ranked fifth in the state for all classes, I knew it was only a matter of time until Class B Aurora made it into the Top Ten.

This week, it happened in the Lincoln Star. Firth Norris, ranked number one in Lincoln's Class B ratings and Aurora, ranked number two, both cracked the Top Ten.

Aurora, 15-0 and playing in the Central Ten Conference — the toughest Class B conference in the state — has dominated nearly all of its opponents this season. I feel they are just as good as Lyons and I think they could handle themselves well against Class A opposition. I know little about Firth Norris but they hold a 14-0 record and have easily won their games.

This marks the first time in history that three lower class teams have been ranked in the Top Ten.

A BASEBALL CLINIC is scheduled at Ponca High School for Saturday, Feb. 17. The Northeast Nebraska Baseball Clinic is open to all baseball players, any age.

The early bird clinic will feature Jim Ellanger of Briar Cliff College, who will present information on conditioning. Don Protxter of Morningside, who will discuss pitching and Dave Welter of Iowa State University who will teach base running and catching. Protxter and Welter will team up for a presentation on hitting.

The clinic will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through 12, with registration from 8:30-9 a.m. Admission is only one dollar. With three well-known baseball coaches doing the presentation it sounds like a good chance for baseball players to improve their fundamentals in the game.

THE WAYNE STATE Wildcats had a good opportunity to take the drivers seat to state playoffs Tuesday night but lost a heartbreaker to Chadron State 68-65 on the home court.

The top two teams from the NCC will play against the top two teams in the NIAC to decide who will represent the district in NIAA basketball playoffs.

After Tuesday's game, the Cats drop to 4-2 in the NCC, while Kearney leads the pack with a 6-1 record and Chadron follows at 4-1. Peru and Bellevue are out of the picture. Chadron must play Kearney on the road, next week. That game could easily tack another loss on the Eagles' record.

Wayne must play Peru yet Feb. 12 and then wraps up its regular season with a game at Chadron on Feb. 27. If the Cats beat Peru, the Chadron game could well decide the playoff team.

In the NIAC, Hastings and Midland are each 4-0 and Doane is 3-2. These three teams are the only ones in contention.

STAN LEWIS, former Wayne State football star, will be making a return visit to Wayne State College sometime in March. Not much has been heard about Lewis in the past year or two, but WSC defensive coach Ralph Barclay got word from Lewis that he had been playing professional football for Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League.

After sustaining an injury, Lewis took over a job with the YMCA in Chicago. He will be back in Wayne sometime next month with a couple of prospective athletes who are interested in Wayne State College.

Bennett Sparks the Wayne Girls To Tourney Title

Jolene Bennett scored a season high 28 points, including 11 in the fourth quarter to lead the Wayne High girls to the West Husker Tournament championship Saturday night in the Wayne High gym. The Blue Devils defeated Madison 65-57 in the championship game. Both teams opened the game with excellent passing and shooting as Madison took a 20-18 first quarter lead. Bennett scored nine points in the first period and Peg Pinkelman added seven. At the same time, Sally Sjutts of Madison scored seven. The Wayne girls picked up their scoring even more in the second quarter, scoring 22 points to 13 for Madison for a 40-33 lead.

LaVonna Sharpe and Pinkelman ran into foul-trouble in the second half and spent some time on the bench. The two teams cooled down in the third quarter and Madison closed the difference to 46-42 when the period ended.

Pinkelman fouled out with 7:29 remaining. She scored 17 total points with 15 coming in the first half. Bennett, Sharpe and Lesa Barclay held Wayne ahead but with 4:52 remaining, Madison tied the game up at 50 all. The Dragons took the lead 54-52 but Julia Dorcay tied it again with two free throws. Baskets by Bennett and Dorcay put Wayne ahead by four, 60-56 with less than two minutes left.

That's when Bennett took over. She rebounded a missed free throw by Barclay and scored and then added three free throws in the final 23 seconds for a 65-57 win. The 5'10 junior finished with a sizzling nine baskets in 13 attempts and 10 of 11 at the free throw line. The win pushed Wayne's record to 10-3 for the season with two losses against South Sioux and one against Norfolk. The Blue Devils are scheduled to host Emerson Hubbard today (Thursday) with freshman action beginning at 5 p.m.

"The whole team performed well," Wayne coach Curt Frye said. "This is probably as good of a team as I've had. The reserves came in and gave the others a rest for a strong finish. Everyone did a nice job."

Frosh Win Two

Jill Zeiss, Kris Proett and Terry Johnson led the freshmen girls from Wayne to two victories this week, edging Norfolk Catholic 29-27 and Pierce 29-20. Against Catholic, Zeiss scored 9 and Proett and Johnson scored 8 each. In the Pierce game, Zeiss pumped in 17 and Johnson made 6 points and 6 rebounds.

Games Called Off

All area basketball games were either postponed or cancelled Tuesday night due to the weather. Most of the local schools were let out early for the same reason. Cancelled were the Wayne-Randolph boys game and the Allen-Ponca boys game. Postponed were the Allen-Wakefield girls game, the Winside-Hartington boys game and the Laurel boys game.

Wakefield Picks Up Two Wins Over The Weekend

The Wakefield Trojans picked up two impressive victories over the weekend to up their record to 8-6 for the season. The Trojans dumped Coleridge 68-47 Friday night and came back with an 82-50 victory over Winside Saturday.

Scott Hallstrom scored 20 points for Wakefield against Coleridge Friday and Von Portwood and Rick Guy grabbed eight rebounds. The Trojans shot 48 percent from the field.

Wakefield held leads of 19-6 after the first quarter, 35-22 at half, 61-32 after three quarters and held on to win 68-47.

"It was the type of game where we played as well and hard as we could," Wakefield coach Joe Coble said. "We were able to play everyone quite a while." Brian Nordby led Coleridge with 13.

The Wakefield reserves won 50-35, with Jeff Hallstrom scoring 14 points. The Trojans defeated Winside 82-50 Saturday night on the home court as Tom Preston and Scott Hallstrom combined for 48 points. Preston scored 23 and Hallstrom hit 25. Rick Guy and Doug Starzi aided the cause with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The Trojans shot a blazing 57 percent from the field in what Coach Coble termed their best game of the year. Starzi pulled down 11 rebounds and Todd Swigart made seven assists for Wakefield.

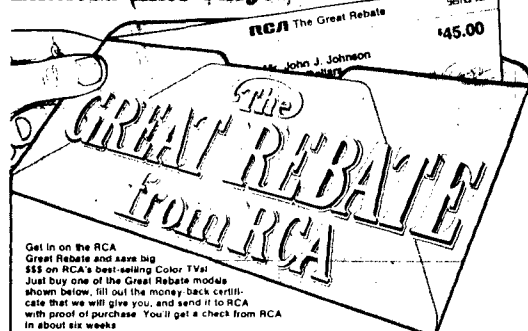

"It may have been our best game overall all year," Coble said. "Everything fell into place as we had our most impressive four-quarter performance."

"Preston hit 10 of 14 from the field. He was outstanding on offense," said Coble. "And Rick Guy did a very fine job coming off the bench. He helped keep the ball from the big kids along with Starzi and (Barry) Jones. That was the big difference."

Cedar Catholic Wins Rematch Over Devils 57-52

The Wayne Blue Devils looked light and tense during much of the West Husker Tourney championship Saturday night as they were dropped by Hartington Cedar Catholic 57-52.

Wayne shot only 28 percent from the field and the Devils didn't shoot much better, connecting on 37 percent of their shots. However, the Blue Devils made up for their low percentage from the field by hitting 16 of 18 free throws for 84 percent.

Both teams came out light in the first quarter and with three minutes elapsed, the score was only 2-2. With all five starters over six foot tall, Cedar enjoyed a height advantage but Wayne countered with its quickness.

The score was tied 12-12 after the first quarter.

The rivals exchanged leads until Tom Ginn hit a three-point play and Jeff Zeiss fired an 18 footer for a 22-20 lead. With a fine pass from Randy Dunklau, Ginn scored on a layup in the final seconds of the half, to take a 24-20 lead into the lockerroom.

Wayne warmed up in the third period as Brad Emry and Zeiss built a 30-24 lead. Cedar battled back and outscored the Devils 14-4 in the next six minutes for a 38-24 lead after three quarters.

The Blue Devils trailed for the rest of the game, although they cut the Cedar lead at times. Emry scored eight points in the final period and Zeiss added some key points as Wayne fought back but couldn't regain the lead.

Cedar used a well-played delay game to eat a couple of minutes off the clock with a six point lead.

Stuart Nissen made a layup with 1:19 left to close within six points at 54-50 as the Devils made one last effort to win but it was too late. Ginn fouled out and Cedar upped its lead to 57-50 on a free throw.

Tod Heier made a layup with one second on the clock to cut the margin to five in a 57-52 loss.

Cedar's Russ Uhing and Tom Feltmeier combined for 37 points to lead C.C. which left victim to Wayne earlier in the season.

"We got behind and couldn't make it up. We were too tight," Wayne coach Bill Sharpe said. "Jeff Zeiss hit six for six at the free throw line and played a pretty consistent tournament for us."

Wayne is 9-5 for the season and is scheduled to host Walthill Friday in a rematch of the WSC Tourney finals, which Wayne lost.

Subs Lead Girls

Allen Wins Tourney

The Allen girls basketball team was led by a sophomore and a freshman as the Eagles blasted Wynot 50-40 to win the Ponca Tournament Saturday night.

Sophomore Lisa Erwin scored 22 points and pulled down 13 rebounds and freshman Des Williams scored 14 points in the championship game. Allen coach Steve McManigal had the team rely on Williams, Beth Stalling, Janet Peterson and Sonya Ellis to help his team.

Regular starter Susie Erwin was out with an injury. Stacey Koester missed much of the game because of illness and Lisa Wood was in foul trouble early and had to sit out much of the time.

Allen started off slowly in the first quarter playing to a 6-6 tie. Then, the Eagles scored 18 points in the second quarter to lead by a 24-17 lead at the half. Spurred by Erwin and Williams, Allen increased its lead to 15 points while holding Wynot to four points in the third quarter.

Williams hit five of nine shots from the field to lead the Eagles to a 39 percent shooting average. Allen outrebounded Wynot 38-32 with Erwin's rebounds and Pam Brownell's nine.

The subs played a good game. Allen coach Steve McManigal said, "It was the same type of team ball as usual. I was very pleased with all of them."

In addition to complimenting the substitutes, McManigal said that regular starters Erwin and Brownell combined for an excellent game. "Saturday, we played as fine team balls as we've played. We're looking good and starting to peak."

The Allen-Wakefield game originally scheduled for Tuesday was postponed. The Eagles will play Coleridge at home Thursday night. Susie Erwin is expected to be back in action Monday districts when districts open in Pender.

Anderson Hot Hands Laurel To Ninth Win

Steve Anderson scored 32 points and pulled down 13 rebounds to lead the Laurel Bears to their sixth consecutive victory 71-59 over Neligh Friday night.

Laurel got off to a slow start and fell behind 18-9 in the first quarter as Neligh shot eight of 12 from the field and hit two free throws. Anderson sparked the Bears and brought them alive in the second quarter, scoring 15 of the team's 21 points to take a 30-28 halftime lead.

Ron Gadeken found the range in the second half, scoring 13 of his 15 total points as the Bears opened up a seven-point lead in the third period and swept to a 71-59 win. The victory upped Laurel's record to 9-6 for the season. The Bears are scheduled to play Madison at home Friday night with reserve action beginning at 6:30.

Both teams enjoyed strong shooting percentages for the night with Laurel hitting 52 percent to 51 percent for Neligh.

"I'm glad they could come back," Laurel coach Joel Parks said about his team. "Anderson's big second quarter pulled us into the lead and Gadeken came alive in the second half to help. Paul Guern scored all seven of his points in the second half, too. It was a pretty good shooting game."

Don Dalton and Russ Gade were hindered by sprained ankles during the game.

Eagles Nip Newcastle

The Allen Eagles used a strong fourth quarter to nip Newcastle 41-39 and grab third place in the Ponca Tournament, Saturday night.

Steve Stewart and Mark Creamer were the leading scorers for Allen with 14 and 12 points each. The Eagles shot 46 percent from the field.

Allen led 10-8 after the first quarter but lost the lead in the second period when Newcastle outscored the Eagles 13-6 for a 21-16 halftime count.

Newcastle held on to a 31-26 lead after the third quarter.

Trailing 31-26, the Eagles hustled on defense to force mistakes and rallied to win. Duane Stolte sank a free throw in the final minute to assure a tie at 39-39 and Newcastle missed its scoring opportunity giving Allen its fifth win in 13 decisions.

"We cut down on turnovers in the second half. That was a big factor," Allen coach Bart Kniff said. "We were hustling on defense and got a couple of steals that helped a lot. Stolte and Steve Stewart did a good job for us. It's good to get on the winning track. It gives everyone a lift."

WSC Stopped Short By Chadron

By DARWIN RUBECK
WSC Sports Information Assistant

A late rally by the Wildcats fell short as the Chadron State Eagles nipped the Cats 68-65 Tuesday at Wayne.

The Eagles were on top 64-55 with 5:37 remaining when the Cats staged a 10-point rally to take the lead 65-64 with 1:07 left.

Eagle Steve Coon went to the free throw line twice in the last 24 seconds and hit 4 shots to win the game for Chadron State 68-65.

Wayne State is now 9-10 overall and 4-2 in the Nebraska College Conference (NCC), while Chadron topped their record to 12-8 and 4-1 in the NCC.

Dean Onken of Carroll, Ia., fueled the first half attack for Wayne State with 14 of his 16 points to lead the Cats to a 40-36 half-time lead.

Zake Lorick of Lumberton, N.C., was the top scorer for Wayne State, hitting 10 points in each half for a total of 20 points.

Wattie Rhoda of Elizabethtown, N.C., added 15 points to the Wildcat offense.

The Eagles also had three players in double figures, topped by the game's leading scorer Bob Wood with 24 points. Dave Hopla added 17 points, while Steve Coon hit 14 points.

The key to the Chadron State victory was their board play and a nine minute scoring stretch in the middle of the second half. The Eagles grabbed 28 rebounds compared to Wayne State's 19, and they outscored the Cats 28-7 between 15:21 and 5:37 left in the game.

The Cats' 10 point rally came after that stretch, but Coon had warmed up too much during the stretch to miss any of his four free throws.

The Wildcats take to the road this weekend to battle CSC foes Pittsburg State and Missouri Southern Friday and Saturday, respectively.

Wayne State Swimmers Fourth In Relays

The Wayne State swimming team finished in fourth place in the Knox Relays last weekend in Gallburg, Ill.

Wayne State was led by senior captain, Duane Hugo with a second-place finish in the 200 butterfly.

Commenting on the relays, Coach Ralph Barclay said, "For having only four experienced swimmers and one diver left, which is only one-third of a normal swimming squad, we are doing well, considering the size of the squad."

WSC will be on the road this Thursday against Concordia College and then travel to Dordt College on Friday. Earlier in the season WSC defeated Dordt 73-39.

St. Mary's Rallies To Beat Wildkittens

The Flames of the College of St. Mary's of Omaha burned out the Wildkittens' lead to win 61-58 Tuesday at Wayne.

The Wildkittens played well to take a 33-24 half time lead. The Kittens built on that lead in the second half, but the rally by St. Mary's was too much to handle.

Kim Mostek led the Flames' balanced attack with 16 points. Molly Huelman added 12, with Madonna Dolan right behind her, hitting 11. Evelyn Evans and Conchita Johnson rounded out the double figure scorers with 10 points each.

Lori Erwin of Concord, again led the Kittens, hitting 15 points. Julie Petronis of Sioux City, Ia., Ann Hamling of Columbus and Kari Erwin of Concord, each added 10 points to the Wildkittens offense.

Peter Erwin grabbed a game leading 15 rebounds, and Hamling helped out under the boards by pulling down 11 rebounds, but the Flames still outrebounded the Kittens 47-39.

The Kittens face a tough road test this weekend, traveling to Pittsburg State and Missouri Southern Friday and Saturday, respectively. Both are CSC contests.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wittse

"The more we do, the more we can do; the more busy we are the more leisure we have."

Most of us have plenty of time. In fact, it usually seems that there are simply too few hours in each day and we just can't get around to all the things we want to do. Perhaps we've never realized it but the more we undertake, the greater our capacity for accomplishment becomes.

If you need someone to take on some special assignment, consider the busiest persons you know. Chances are they'll accept the task, handle it efficiently and never complain. It won't even cut into their leisure time! We take pride in providing this community with an essential service in accordance with the highest ethical standards of our professions.

Alcoholism: Not Just a 'Man's Disease'

The following is the first in a series of articles submitted to The Wayne Herald by the Wayne County 4-H Junior Leaders. Consecutive articles, all dealing with alcoholism, will appear each month in the newspaper. During "Alcohol Impact 1979," 4-H Junior Leaders are planning special events and activities to inform and educate the public on alcoholism, an illness which affects men, women and teenagers.

As a result, the drinking problems of women have been neglected, ridiculed, denied, or at best, lumped together with those of men. Yet recent evidence indicates that alcoholism among women is a serious and widespread problem affecting three to five million women in the United States.

In Nebraska, the records indicate about 22 percent of the women have a problem with alcohol. There may be another 11 percent who are hidden by family members and friends. That may then mean that one in three women could develop a health problem involving alcoholism among women has largely been a "hidden illness" because of the harsh stigma attached to the woman with an alcohol problem. In many instances, the family of the woman alcoholic perpetuates the problem by weaving a "protective" circle of silence around her, rather than urging her to seek treatment. And in many cases, the woman's family physician simply prescribes a bottle of tranquilizers, thus exposing her to the risks of cross-addiction, rather than diagnosing her alcohol problem. Fortunately, changing attitudes toward women in our society, coupled with a greater acceptance of alcoholism as an illness, have made some impact on efforts to recognize and help the alcoholic woman.

More research on alcoholic women is being conducted, treatment services are slowly expanding to meet women's needs, and gradually, myths and stereotypes about alcoholic women are falling by the wayside.

Stepped-up research on women's alcohol problems has illuminated some important differences in the alcohol problems of women versus men. Among them are:

- Women, far more frequently than men, point to a specific life crisis as a precipitator of heavy drinking. The problems most frequently cited are those which threaten their role as wife and mother, including divorce, desertion, death of a family member, children leaving home, and obstetrical and gynecological problems.

- Women alcoholics, far more than men, report a history of depression associated with their alcoholism. And because of the greater number of psychoactive drugs prescribed to women than men, more women alcoholics than men are cross-addicted.
- Divorce rates for alcoholic women are much higher than for alcoholic men.

- Preliminary studies on the "fetal alcohol syndrome" point to the probable danger of birth defects in the children of alcoholic mothers. Links between alcohol and child abuse and neglect have also been made.

More individuals and groups are recognizing alcohol abuse and alcoholism as a valid women's health issue, and are integrating women's alcohol concerns into consciousness-raising groups, speakers' programs, referral banks, public information programs and other projects.

severe winter storms within recollection of many people. Every effort has been made to restore activity and conditions are returning to normal this week.

County road equipment is working at full capacity to clear roads. The two plows in the Frank Erleben's district worked night and day after Friday's storm (Feb. 7, 1936) to open roads. The plows broke down under the heavy work Monday and were out duty for a time. The larger plow started again Wednesday and the smaller one is also at work now. The plow in David Kock's district and also one in Henry Rethwisch's district have been working steadily. These plows worked to meet each other Sunday to make it possible to take the body of Elmer Fredrickson of Carroll to Winside. The road was opened three miles north of Winside and two and one half south of Carroll. Both are working continually. Difficulty was experienced Sunday by a Randolph undertaker to get to Sholes when William Bertling died.

... some 25 shovellers worked three days clearing snow from the main business district and the alleys downtown.

... considerable amount of hand work will have to be done on roads. WPA put 12 men to work shoveling snow around Wayne and the same number was employed in districts near Winside and Carroll.

The blizzard of 1949 was also counted among the major ones of the area, according to one source. However, while his description was vivid it cannot be printed because of the language used.

Thone Keeps budget under 7 percent

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — Gov. Charles Thone has submitted to the Legislature his first budget. And true to his word, he managed to keep total expenditures under a seven percent increase.

His budget of slightly more than $570.1 million in General Fund money, including operations and construction, would represent a 6.3 percent increase over this fiscal year's appropriations.

Thone's proposals included $299,889,918 in aid to local governments and individuals, $134,009,598 for postsecondary education and $129,160,381 for state government operations.

Don Leuenberger, Thone's budget chief, described the governor's recommendations as "a tight budget but one that meets the legitimate needs of the state."

He said those preparing the budget did not take "one penny more" but were attempted to come up with a realistic spending blueprint that would provide adequate funding for everyone.

It's not a "perfect" document, Leuenberger told reporters during a budget briefing. He added Thone "will be willing to listen to suggestions" on his proposals. The budget does not anticipate any increases in taxes or fees, Leuenberger said.

He said about 2,000 state employee positions will be removed from the state payroll. This will be done by not refilling any positions that have been vacant for 30 days as of Feb. 4.

There probably will be a need to re-authorize some positions, Leuenberger said. Currently there are about 3,200 jobs unfilled, 800 of them of "the clerical type," he said.

State workers will receive a 6.5 percent wage hike, effective July 1, under Thone's spending proposal.

Sentencing Bill Discussed

A bill before the Judiciary Committee were enacted into law, the state's prison population might increase from 50 to 100 percent, according to state Corrections Department officials.

The bill, which has the support of the Nebraska District Judges Association, would change the laws dealing with minimum and indefinite sentences. Stricken from the statutes would be provisions for making minimum terms no more than one-third of indefinite sentences set by a court. The measure would also eliminate a section of the law making an offender eligible for parole at the statutory minimum of a fixed sentence — regardless of the length of the term imposed by the court.

District Judge James Buckley of Omaha, chairman of the Sentencing Alternatives and Parole Procedures Committee of the judges association, said courts are currently denied a needed sentencing tool.

Buckley said factors other than rehabilitation must be taken into consideration when a judge imposes sentencing. Among those factors, he added, are deterrence to the offender, punishment, the need to protect society and deterrence to others.

There are times, according to Buckley, when a person convicted of a particular crime, should serve the full sentence, even if that person has been rehabilitated before his term is up.

Dan Griepentrog, a Corrections Department administrator, said combining the bill with so-called "good time" statutes on the books would make some offenders ineligible for parole and also curtail their eligibility for release programs.

"Good time" refers to the days and months an inmate may earn off his sentence for good behavior while in prison.

Sen. Patrick Venditte of Omaha, a member of the Judiciary Committee, said the criminal justice system isn't getting the job of reducing crime done.

Instead, he said, the Legislature seems to keep "watering down" laws pertaining to the punishment of criminals.

Griepentrog replied that "one great way" to cut down crime is to reduce the number of repeat offenders through rehabilitation programs. Passage of the bill would place a roadblock in the way of those programs, he said.

Eugene Neal, a member of the Nebraska Parole Board, also spoke against the proposal.

Bill Draws Large Crowd

A bill proposing that a certificate of need be required before construction or expansion of medical facilities and services attracted a crowd to the Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee hearing recently.

Everyone who spoke on the measure supported the idea behind the legislation, but many suggested amendments.

The bill is designed to encourage costs containment and eliminate duplication of services.

The state's three health agencies told the committee they would like to have more of a voice in determining local health service needs, and the Nebraska Hospital Association requested changes for such things as site acquisition.

Because there were so many wishing to testify jammed into the hearing room, the committee was unable to accept testimony from everyone who desired to speak.

The committee sponsored the bill, which would prohibit construction or acquisition of a health care facility unless a certificate of need was first obtained.

Also prohibited, without a certificate of need, would be new institutional health services, substantial changes in health services, a change in bed capacity and most health care expenditures exceeding $100,000.

Dr. William Higgins, chairman of the state Health Board, said, "This is legislation sorely needed for the citizens of the state."

Jane Ford, executive director of the Southeast Nebraska Health Systems agency, claimed the proposal doesn't adequately emphasize local involvement in the certificate of need process.

Wants School Financing Shifted

Shifting the funding of public schools from the property tax to an adjusted gross income tax is being proposed again by Sen. George W. Adams.

He picked up substantial support for his proposal in the 1978 legislature before the bill failed during the last stage of consideration.

Burrows said the legislation might lead to consolidation of school districts while providing what he considers a more equitable system of providing school education. There was no opposition expressed during the hearing on the bill, but Forrest Johnson, executive director of the Nebraska Tax Research Council, said he opposes the legislation and will submit his comments in writing to the Education Committee. Johnson had to leave the hearing early.

The bill calls for the same tax rate to apply to all residents of a school district. The rate would be based on the district's budget and the income of all the district's residents.

There are provisions in the bill for taxing 4 percent of a corporation's gross income during the first year of operation, a sparsely factor for rural districts, and a maximum 10 percent individual income tax rate.

Burrows says the property tax for education affects most severely those living on low or fixed incomes. He told the committee, "No one should be driven out of his or her home because of a property tax bill."

The Adams lawmaker also claims income, rather than property taxes, is "most stable base of revenue for education."

Freshman Sen. Harold Sleck of Pleasant Dale co-sponsored the bill. He said it would encourage consolidation because tax shelters used by some districts no longer would be available.

Energy crisis: produce a solution

RICHARD L. LESHER, PRESIDENT
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON — The unexpected collapse of Iran, until recently the world's second largest oil exporting nation, has flashed a very clear warning to the United States. Our prosperity is precariously linked to the survival and continued friendship of Saudi Arabia — an outpost of stability in an area undergoing change — in some cases, violent change. We have allowed America to become dangerously dependent on unreliable foreign energy supplies.

We now import nearly one-half of all the oil we consume. We must take immediate steps to reduce this vulnerability by promoting greater domestic exploration and production, or risk losing the jobs, abundance and freedoms that so many Americans now take for granted. No country which must rely on the goodwill of others for so basic a commodity as energy can expect to remain master of its own destiny.

Unfortunately, the Administration seems both unprepared and unwilling to face this tremendous challenge. In his televised State of the Union address, the President devoted just 13 words to energy and failed to suggest even one proposal to expand production.

His passive attitude reflects the Administration's belief in the inevitability of an energy shortage and, thus, in the need for government to impose new taxes or to call for other sacrifices in order to allocate the diminishing supplies among competing interests. But who will make these sacrifices? Clearly it will not be the government regulators who will continue to draw handsome salaries, and each year make more of the decisions about what we drive, where we live and how we live. Tragically, the real losers will be the poor and those of modest means who will be trapped near the bottom of the ladder, deprived of a real opportunity for personal advancement.

Defeatism is not what America is all about. I believe we can and must do better. The United States Geological Survey indicates that domestic oil and gas reserves remaining to be discovered amount to approximately three times the presently proven oil and gas reserves. The only way we will ever locate and get those reserves out of the ground is by returning to market pricing without government controls.

A recent Harris poll indicates 45 percent of the public favors such action. More and more Americans now realize that our growing dependence on foreign countries from our own government's policy of holding down prices — a policy which, however good the intentions, has had precisely the opposite effect by reducing competition and incentives, raising costs, hindering production and forcing consumers to purchase more expensive substitutes from abroad.

I recommend that, beginning on June 1, 1979, the President eliminate the current system of maintaining a national average price for domestic crude oil, a price known as the composite price. In its place would be a gradual phase-out of price controls of lower tier domestic oil (so called oil by Oct. 19, 1981. Upper tier oil (newly discovered), would be decontrolled immediately. In addition, there would be no new legislation imposing taxes or extending regulation.

This is the best approach to reach what should be shared goal: to minimize our energy imports from abroad, and maximize the production of energy and the creation of jobs at home at the cheapest possible cost of consumers.

In effect, this policy would provide all producers with the needed incentives to cover rising expenditures and produce more oil from present properties. And it would provide confidence in future market pricing, thereby encouraging companies to invest more of their own and borrowed capital to search for new oil.

Market pricing would also encourage more efficient use of fuel, helping to curb consumption. And as domestic production begins picking up, imports would decrease.

The Chamber estimates this approach would add, at most, 0.2 percent to our annual rate of inflation during the three year phase-up period. And contrary to many reports, there would be no "windfall profits," as government at all levels would retain the lion's share of each extra revenue dollar, leaving only 28 cents available to companies for new investment.

These incentives will not help if companies cannot explore. The Administration is carrying environmentalism to the extreme in its bid to lock out vast areas — more than 300 million acres — of land from any exploration or development.

The Administration's energy policy has forced working Americans to stimulate foreign economies while actually subsidizing their own dwindling supplies, rising inflation and possible eventual unemployment here at home. That's carrying sacrifice a bit too far; in fact, it's tantamount to giving everyone in American a gun during wartime, but then asking them to stand in a circle then open fire.

A little more wisdom and common sense would go a long way. We must start to invest more of our own money in our own economy, produce our own energy and create our own jobs. America has produced its way out of crises before, and we can certainly do it again. But we must stop bickering, and begin.

Programs produce more surpluses, not less

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
BY M.M. VAN KIRK,
DIRECTOR OF INFORMATION

One of the distinguishing characteristics of federal farm programs dating back to their beginnings in the 1930's has been that they have consistently resulted in more production and greater surpluses

Dimes will help

Wayne

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Wayne Mrs. Jaycees and Mrs. Robert Woelher, chairman, we wish to thank all who contributed to our 1979 Mothers' March of Dimes, held Sunday, Jan. 21.

We were able to raise over $500 this year, which will help pay for the Infant Welfare Center here in Wayne.

We, the Mrs. Jaycees, want to add an extra thanks to our additional volunteers outside our chapter, who were Debbie Enz, Janice Hammer, Lynn Kramer, Mr. Varmon Krause, Luquita Miller, Jackie Nissen, Gwen Prieson, Betty Redwine, Vickie Stokan and Connie Vandenlin.

An extra thanks also to the senior citizens for stuffing the envelopes used on each volunteer to convene the town. A thank you also to The Wayne Herald for their wonderful coverage of our Mothers' March.

Some of this would have been possible without the assistance of Wayne who gave so generously. Thank you, — Mrs. Robert Woelher, Chairman, Wayne Mothers' March.

of the farm commodities that were already in trouble.

When cropland acres were reduced, the burden fell most heavily on those farmers with small acreage and benefited most those of large acreage. Understandably, a wheat grower who normally plants 5,000 acres of wheat will disturb his normal cropping program and will set 20 percent "set aside" than one who has 500 acres.

The record of corn production can provide a graphic example. Production of corn for grain in 1978 topped the 7 billion bushel mark for the first time in the nation's history and was the fourth consecutive year that it has established a new record. The 1978 production was realized because it was an exceptional crop year and the yield average was 101.2 bushels per acre. The 70 million acres harvested was 1 percent below 1977 but very obviously farmers did not participate enthusiastically in the USDA's call for a 10 percent reduction in corn acres.

One of the most surprising reports has been that as of Jan. 1, farmers have indicated that in 1979 they intend to increase their corn plantings by 1 percent. That report has been deplored by many as premature but on past performance is reasonably credible. After all, there is a huge stockpile of wheat in this country and, for that matter, a good supply in the rest of the world, yet winter wheat seedlings for the 1979 crop are already in the ground and acreage is estimated at 3 percent over the previous year.

The 95 percent of the population of this country who know very little about agriculture have a reason to be confused. They have sympathy for the farmer and show willingness to believe that he is a major victim of inflation and is producing his crops at below cost of production. They hear demands for government subsidies of farm commodities to 90 and 100 percent of parity as necessary to survive. And they can see that farmers have increased their acreage of wheat where the United States has investments. They also thought the bill should be more comprehensive and include other financial institutions.

I would like the bill to remain narrow. Other stipulations could be added at a later date if needed. The next step will be to get five affirmative votes to get it out of committee and on general file. At that point the loan rates on farm commodities stated the dilemma as he faces it: "If our loan rates force our products above world prices, then foreign customers will buy elsewhere and all we can do is build more grainlaires."

The present farm program has bought "time" for the market price on the 1978 crop. It was able to feed grains but the grain reserve storage has increased to more than 1.2 billion bushels.

Hits foreign ownership of stock

SENATOR ELOY M. HEFFNER
District No. 19
Coleridge, Nebraska 68727

The flu "bug" caught up with me last Monday and so I was unable to serve on the panel at the Nebraska Water Resources Association convention held in Lincoln, Neb. I was able to return to the legislature the next day.

I presented my bill, LB 123, to the Unicameral's Banking Committee. This bill would prohibit foreign ownership of Nebraska bank stock. It also prohibits any foreign entity from buying bank stock in Nebraska. Any foreign entity already owning stock would have until Jan. 1, 1983 to dispose of it.

Foreign ownership is not a problem yet in Nebraska, but an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Foreclosure on Nebraska farmers by foreign owners is my greatest concern. It would be using the "backdoor" approach to get control of our agriculture land and businesses.

This bill has the support of the Nebraska Bankers Association. No one voiced opposition at the hearing. Some of the senators on the committee questioned the possibility of retaliation in countries where the United States has investments. They also thought the bill should be more comprehensive and include other financial institutions.

I would like the bill to remain narrow. Other stipulations could be added at a later date if needed. The next step will be to get five affirmative votes to get it out of committee and on general file. At that time all of the 49 senators will be able to debate the issue.

Agricultural exports are predicted to climb to $29 billion this year to provide some optimism but the question has to be asked, "What are we going to do if we get another 7 billion bushel corn crop and another 2 billion bushel wheat crop?"

Once again it is apparent that government farm programs do not reduce surplus production nor do they guarantee that the "family farm" will survive.

Also, a bill introduced by another senator that addresses itself to prohibit ownership of agriculture land by aliens will be heard by the Agriculture Committee at a later date.

A bill that requires a city or village to file a duplicate building permit with the county assessor was introduced by me. This would make the assessor aware of the improvement which would then be reflected on the tax roll in the coming year. The hearing was held recently before the Urban Affairs Committee. This committee now has voted if to the floor and we should be debating it this week.

The Revenue Committee advanced LB 159, which mandates county assessors to use manuals from the State Revenue Department in setting valuations. These two bills, if passed, would help bring equalization of property for tax purposes.

Presently Strong Hog Prices Could Weaken

Hog prices are expected to remain relatively strong through the early part of 1979, but could weaken considerably later in the year, according to Dr. Larry Blitney, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension economist.

The IANR specialist says pork production is expected to increase through 1979, ranging from an expected increase of four percent in the first quarter to a potential increase of 16 percent during the last quarter.

Producers should realize profits from their hog enterprises through most of 1979, Blitney said, adding that hog prices could fall below production costs late in the year if producers follow through with their intended farrowings as reported.

"This is the third year that a report has indicated a rapid expansion of hog numbers. During the last two years, the intentions have not materialized. Predictions of production and prices for the first half of 1979 depend on whether producers follow through with the reported intentions, or whether they alter their plans to avoid the price consequences of a rapid expansion," Blitney said.

The average price received by farmers for hogs in 1979 is expected to be below the 1978

Feedlot Info Available

By early February, Nebraska beef feedlot operators may temper their marketing decisions with information available through a management advisory report program, according to an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources staff member.

James Hassler, University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural economics professor, said the program will offer monthly advice on placement and sales decisions to beef feedlot operators.

Feedlot operators in a five-state region including Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming will receive information and specific examples through the Institute's AGNET computer system, Hassler said. In addition, the information may be reproduced and distributed by each state's agricultural extension service.

The program, a pilot project for the past year, was funded by the Old West Regional Commission, a $49,740 grant, also from the commission, will finance the full-fledged program, as well as assess demand for the service.

Hassler noted that advisory information will be presented for both a "standard" operation, one specializing in finish to slaughter class levels before sale, and for a "flexible" operation which sells any inventory after two months of feed.

GROWING AVOCADO

The avocado is an attractive houseplant with bright, shiny and attractive leaves. This plant can be started by selecting a fruit which is soft when squeezed, and then extracting the pit from it. The seed should not be allowed to dry out.

To plant the seed, use a six-to-eight inch clay or plastic flower pot, and use a well-drained potting mixture. To speed germination, remove the top one-fourth of the seed with a razor blade. Plant the seed so that the tip is covered with about one-fourth inch of soil, then water thoroughly.

The avocado plant requires exposure to a south or east window with full sun, and a temperature of from 65 to 80 degrees. The plant should not be allowed to dry out between waterings, and may be placed outdoors during the summer. The plant may be pruned to shape it.

If the avocado plant has problems, the trouble may be too frequent watering or insufficient light. Browning on leaf edges is caused by low humidity, yellow speckling on leaves indicates spider mites and general yellowing of leaves indicates a

INCREASING AFRICAN VIOLETS

If you're looking for ways to increase your African violets, there are two ways to do this without buying new plants.

Older African violets frequently develop separate crowns. You can easily separate them with some of the roots still attached. Using a sharp knife, cut straight down between the section and through the root system. The separated crowns are then ready to be repotted in separate pots.

Another way to start new African violets is by leaf cuttings from healthy plants. Select a healthy, recently matured leaf and remove it from the crown of your plant. You can root the leaf by placing it in water, sand, or a 50:50 mixture of sand and peat moss.

It is important that the leaf blade doesn't come in contact with the water or other rooting material. If you use water, place a piece of waxed paper over the top of the container and fasten it with a rubber band. Then slip the leaf stem through a hole in the center of the paper and down into the water.

Weigh Qualities For Oat Selection

By DON C. SPITZER
Wayne County Extension Agent

Oats is a major crop in Wayne County and varieties should be selected that have the characteristics to produce the highest returns per acre. Many farmers continue to plant the same old variety of doubtful heritage when many newer and better varieties are available.

If farmers haven't been checking yield tests of some of the new oats varieties the last couple of years they may be in for a surprise. Lang, a recently introduced oats variety, has yielded 26 percent more than Burnett, a variety widely grown in Wayne County. These tests are the results of four years of trial at Northeast Station near Concord.

Here is what Herb Hansen, a Wayne County farmer who lives northwest of Wayne has to say about Lang:

"Lang stands very well on fertile, heavily fertilized soil because it has a stiff, short straw. It yields well, but the short straw is a disadvantage if you are harvesting it for silage."

If yield was the only consideration in choosing an oat variety everyone would then plant the highest yielding such as Lang. But other characteristics such as test weight should be considered. An example of this is a recently introduced oat variety named Bates. Although Bates has not yielded as much as Lang in area tests, farmers may prefer it because of its heavy grain.

Some other characteristics that should be considered include maturity date, straw strength and height. Straw strength and height are especially important. Oats grown in rich bottom soil may have a tendency to lodge, therefore an oat variety that is short with a stiff straw should be considered.

On the other hand, a farmer may want to grow oats on less fertile hill ground or use it for silage. In this case taller oats might be more desirable.

Currently eight varieties of oats are being recommended for Northeast Nebraska. These include Bates, Burnett, Kelsey, Kota, Lang, Otee, Stout and Trio.

Characteristics of Oat Varieties in Recent Nebraska Tests

Following are the varieties with their maturity, straw strength, bushel weight, height.

Lang — Early, Strong, High, Short; Stout — Early, Strong, High, Short; Bates — Early, Strong, High, Short; Otee — Early, Strong, High, Short; Kelsey — Medium, Medium, Medium, Strong; Burnett — Medium, Strong, Medium, Medium; Kota — Medium, Medium, High, Tall; Trio — Early, Medium, Medium, Medium.

Burnett 50	62	25	65	49
Kota 48	61	20	61	51
Trio 47	53	23	61	51

And don't forget, regardless of the variety of oats you are planting, it pays to plant certified seed. The Extension Office has a bulletin that lists all certified oat seed producers in this area. We have several certified oat growers in Wayne County, as well as a number of producers in Northeast Nebraska.

In order to make the most profit from your oat crop, you need to select the right variety. And the selection of the right variety should be based on the best information possible. For more facts on oat tests contact the Wayne County Extension Office, 375-3310 and ask for Small Grain Variety Tests. We will be glad to send you a copy.

1978 Crop Production Set Record

Crop production in 1978 set a new record high with an index of 131 (1974-100) compared with the 1977 index of 130. Record high production was established by several crops, notably corn and soybeans.

The feed grain index at 135 was seven percent above the previous high set in 1977 while the oil crops index at 180 was 17 percent above the previous high, also set in 1977. Hay and forage production was also at record levels with an index of 115, 6 percent above the 1977 index; the previous record.

ACREAGE BELOW YEAR EARLIER

The acreage of principal crops planted or grown in 1978 total 334 million acres, three percent below the 1977 total. Major decreases were for corn, sorghum, all wheat, oats, barley and cotton while crops increasing in planted acreage included soybeans, rice, rye, sunflower, dry edible beans and sugarbeets.

Acreage of principal crops harvested in 1978 totaled 325 million acres down two percent from 1977. Crops showing decreases from 1977 included corn, sorghum, all wheat, oats, barley and cotton.

CORN

Production of corn for grain in 1978 is estimated at a record 7.08 million bushels, 10 percent above the 1977 crop and 13 percent above 1976. This is the fourth consecutive year that a production record has been set. The record crop was the result of sharply increased yields which more than offset a reduction in harvested acres. The U.S. yield averaged a record 101.2 bushels per acre, up 10.5 bushels from the previous year and up 4.2 bushels from the previous record set in 1972.

BARLEY

The 1978 production of barley totaled 447 million bushels, 6 percent above 1977 and 20 percent above 1976. The increase in the 1978 crop was the result of record yields per acre offsetting fewer acres harvested for grain.

Acreage harvested for grain is estimated at 9.23 million acres, three percent below the 9.56 million acres harvested in 1977. Yield per harvested acre averaged a record 48.4 bushels, 4.5 bushels above last year and 2.6 bushels above the previous record high set in 1971.

ALL WHEAT

U.S. growers produced 1.80 billion bushels of wheat in 1978, 12 percent less than last year's 2.04 billion bushels. The crop was harvested from 56.8 million acres, 14 percent less than a year ago. Yields averaged 31.6 bushels per acre, 1.0 bushel more than last year.

WINTER WHEAT

Production of 1.25 billion bushels of winter wheat in 1978 was 19 percent less than the 1977 crop of 1.54 billion bushels, farmers harvested 38.9 million acres, 20 percent less than in 1977. Average yield for 32.1 bushels was a half bushel better than a year ago.

DURUM WHEAT

There were 133 million bushels of durum wheat produced in 1978, 67 percent more than last year's 80.0 million bushels and about 1.5 million bushels less than the record high 1976 crop.

SOYBEANS

The Nation's 1978 soybean crop is estimated at a record high 1.84 billion bushels, five percent more than the previous record of 1.76 billion bushels produced in 1977. A sharp increase in the acreage harvested more than offset a moderate decline in the average yield per acre, paving the way for the new record high production. The average yield of 29.2 bushels per acre ranks second only to the 30.6 bushel average attained in 1977.

The acreage planted during 1978 totaled a record high 64.0 million acres. This is a nine percent above the previous record of 58.8 million acres planted to soybeans during 1977. The acreage harvested for beans totaled 63.0 million acres, exceeding the acreage harvested in 1977 by 9 percent.

ALFALFA HAY

Alfalfa hay production increased 8 percent in 1978 to total 86.7 million tons compared to 80.4 million tons in 1977 and 69.8 million tons in 1976. There were 27.7 million acres harvested, 2 percent more than the previous year.

The increase of the production increase resulted from improved yields as favorable weather made extra cuttings possible on many farms. The average yield in 1978 was 3.13 tons per acre, up from the 1977 average of 2.97 tons per acre. Alfalfa hay made up 61 percent of the nation's total hay crop in 1978 compared with 61.2 percent the previous year.

All other hay production totaled 55.5 million tons in 1978, nine percent above the 1977 crop and 11 percent above the 1976 crop. As with alfalfa hay, most of the production increase in all other hay was the result of higher yields.

FACTS & FIGURES

Since 1973, the American truck and bus industries have managed to save 1.7 billion gallons of fuel thanks to voluntary efforts of truck makers and truck users. This saves shippers money, and that saves shoppers money.

Another 218 million gallons have been saved by adopting fuel-efficient diesel engines for 50 percent of the nation's new large trucks. The savings are just beginning. Last year alone more than 88,000 new high-efficiency highway diesels were built.
