RALPH BLOMENKAMP steps down as WSC custodian.

Ralph Blomenkamp 'Youngster' Retires as Wayne State Custodian

Ralph Blomenkamp will retire from his custodian job at Wayne State College this month. But, at 63 and the youngest of eleven children, he is still really a youngster.

"I don't know if I'm a youngster, but I'm the youngest of the bunch," he said. "All but one sister from my family are still alive and there's just two years difference between all of us. My oldest sister is 22 years older than I am, so I guess you could say I'm the youngest."

Blomenkamp has been a Wayne State custodian for 17 years — since 1962. He is known on campus for his friendliness, still rolls his own cigarettes and can always manage a philosophical comment on topics of the day. A smile cuts across his face as he begins to reflect on his years with the college.

"I have seen my share of changes at Wayne State," he said. "New buildings, different faculty, all types of students, calm years, turbulent years and crew cuts."

"The kids in the 60s, they were a different breed," he later added, "but they were acting like all the rest of the students in the country. I have to say this though, I have never had any trouble with any of them. I have always enjoyed the young people and I still do. As a matter of fact, I think they have helped me stay a little younger."

His optimism on the future is rare these days, but he said his attitude has helped him live an enjoyable life.

"I have no regrets, I have had a full life," he said. "I have enjoyed all the phases of my life and if there are any more phases, I'm going to enjoy those also."

"It all comes from the right attitude," he adds. "It makes it a lot easier to get through the day. If I wake up in the morning and I am alive, it's a good morning."

He said he has no doubt he will enjoy doing full time what he has done part time over the years — gardening, building small wooden projects, refinishing furniture and fishing with his wife Orvella.

Penny James Selected Girls' State Delegate

Penny James, Wayne High School junior, has been selected as a delegate to the 38th annual Cornhusker Girls' State, scheduled the week of June 3-9.

Miss James, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip C. James, will represent the American Legion Auxiliary, VFW Auxiliary and Wayne Women's Club at Girls' State.

Terri (Theresa) Melena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Melena, Wayne has been selected as alternate. She is also a junior at Wayne High.

Miss James is currently president of her junior class after holding offices of secretary, treasurer and secretary during her freshman and sophomore years. She is very active in music, participating in swing choir three years, freshman choir one year, varsity choir two years, varsity band three years and stage band two years.

The junior, who is also a drum majorette, was selected out of 150 girls from 150 schools in Nebraska.

City Council Approves Rezoning Request

The Wayne city council Tuesday night approved a request to rezone a portion of Seventh Street from residential to commercial.

The council voted unanimously to approve the rezoning request after hearing more than an hour of arguments for and against the proposal.

The lots are located just north of the Dairy Sweet on Seventh Street.

The actual owner of the lots is clouded with Kern Swartz, city attorney, stating that in his opinion Scott's of Wayne, Nebr.,

possibly is not the owner because of technicalities in that it did not have a fee simple title. The proceedings have been held up because of a misunderstanding between the principal parties and a Wyoming attorney. The franchise owner's assumed the filing for incorporation had been completed but found out their attorney in Wyoming had not submitted the work.

Budd Bornhoff, attorney for certain parties opposing the rezoning, asked for the legal opinion after he queried the secretary of state and found no articles of incorporation, certificate of authorization to do business in Nebraska or no resident agent listed with the state office for Scott's. He also contacted the county clerk, he said, and found the same circumstances.

He maintained Scott's did not own the lots and the council, therefore, did not have any assurance what was going to be constructed on them.

Arnie Flinn, formerly of Cheyenne, Wyo., who now lives in Phoenix, Ariz., was on hand to tell the council a restaurant will be built on the lots.

The planned food facility, according to Flinn, will be a Scott's franchise restaurant; the eighth one to be franchised.

Flinn said the restaurant will be a 2,000 square foot facility which will seat some 60 persons inside with plans for tables outside on a patio underneath a large tree which was left standing on the west end of the paved lot.

He said the pre-engineered building, the fixtures, the lot costs and paving will add up to between $320,000 and $350,000.

Flinn said there will be a drive up window for car service. He said the firm will have a full time manager, three to four assistant managers, with a total employment of 20 to 25 persons.

He said the premise of Scott's is much the same as a McDonald's in that it will "expedite food as fast as possible."

Flinn said the hours of the proposed restaurant will be open until 11 p.m. week nights except Friday and Saturday, when it will remain open until 12 midnight.

There will be some 20 parking stalls on the lot, according to Flinn.

Interpretation of the present city zoning code got hung up on "enclosed cafe or restaurant" with Bornhoff maintaining the proposed facility would not fit the category. Flinn assured the council it would be enclosed.

Swartz said he was aware of the sections of the code which sets out the word "enclosed." He pointed out, however, that because the present code causes more problems than it solves, it is being redone by professional planners who are working on a new comprehensive plan.

Duane Schroeder, representing Scott's, said the proposed facilities blends with the character of the neighborhood, pointing out it would be only one block from the intersection of two major highways. He noted that the First National Bank, Wayne, is building a drive in facility on the corner of the intersection.

He also said it would mean another business in Wayne and that the tax base would be broadened. "The proposed facility and its location is in keeping with a business expansion program in an interim report by the professional planners."

Bornhoff countered that his See COUNCIL, page 12

Laurel Woman Appointed Director to NAS Board

Sharon Boeckenhauer, Laurel, has been appointed to the Nebraska Advocacy Services (NAS) Board of Directors.

NAS was established to represent the rights of persons with developmental disabilities. The new agency opened its office at 3940 Cornhusker Highway, Lincoln in July, 1978.

NAS's purpose is the development of a statewide advocacy system to ensure that people have access to the treatment, services, and rehabilitation guaranteed as their human and legal rights. Board members are selected from rural and urban areas to represent Nebraska's entire population.

Mrs. Boeckenhauer is a graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln with a B.S. degree in education. She is the parent of a handicapped child and has participated in various community activities. Currently, she is helping in organizing a Pilot-Parents group in the Wayne-Laurel area. This was an outgrowth of her belief that support to parents is crucial to helping handicapped children.

News in Brief

Siren Testing Friday

The monthly testing of the Civil Defense sirens will be held Friday at 1 p.m.

Sirens will be allowed to run only one minute with a three minute pause between each test. Normal sequence for each of the sirens is a full three minutes.

Receives Third Place

Allen Consolidated high school received third place in the District III Class B High School Speech Contest at Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk.

Donna Kieckhafer, Wakefield, was third in original public address.

Coffee at Armory

The weekly Chamber of Commerce coffee will be held Friday at the National Guard Armory, Wayne, from 10 to 11 a.m.

Chamber members are urged to attend and see the displays for the planned weekend open house.

'After Fools Day' Sale

An "After April Fools Day Sale" has been scheduled for April 3 by Cardinal Key Honorary of Wayne State College, to raise money for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

The sale, on the lawn east of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building, is open to the public from 5-9 p.m. It will include such services as free labor on a car tuneup of Randy Shaw, an airplane ride to two people over the Wayne area by Carl Rump, lawn cleaning by Alpha Lambda Delta, stationery personalization by Don Cattle, mending and other sales.

Donations of sale items will be made by Wayne merchants and Wayne State instructors.

National Guard Unit To Hold Open House

The Wayne National Guard unit will put its best foot forward this weekend as it hosts an open house.

Denny Spangler, NCO in charge of the Wayne armory, said members of Co. A (Det. 1), 1st Bn., 134th Inf., will be on hand Saturday and Sunday to greet residents of the Wayne-Laurel area.

A Chamber of Commerce coffee will be held at the armory Friday from 10 to 11 a.m.

Sgt. Spangler said some of the items to be on display are an armored personnel carrier and other vehicles, weapons including an M-16 and 50 mm and 30 mm machine guns, guided missile launchers and communications equipment.

Spangler said he especially wants Wayne businessmen to visit the armory, pointing out the unit had a payroll last year of $52,000 and was only 25 percent of authorized strength.

The unit presently has 20 members with an authorized strength of 80. "We will have information concerning recruitment and incentives available during the open house," Spangler explained.

The open house hours Saturday and Sunday are 10 to 11 a.m.

Woman Dies From Burns

Funeral services for Mrs. William (Dora) Deck, 82, rural Hoskins, were held Wednesday at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Norfolk.

Mrs. Deck died Sunday from burns she received when her house caught fire while she was burning trash in a barrel.

Authorities said she received extensive third degree burns to her body.

Wayne County Sheriff Don (Butch) Weible said Mrs. Deck was found about 6:55 a.m. by a son, Dale, who resided with her. The house is located about five miles south of Winslow on Highway 35. Authorities said the fire was contained to the yard area.

Local Club Members, Students Win Awards at Arts Festival

Wayne Federated Woman's Club members and area school students brought home several awards following the annual District III Fine Arts Festival held at Scribner last Saturday.

Two hundred forty-nine women from northeast Nebraska Women's Clubs registered at the annual event, sponsored by District III, Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs.

Judging in all categories of arts and crafts, and in sewing, music and speech contests occupied the morning hours. A craft demonstration was given at 10 o'clock and meetings of the District Executive Board and nominating committee were held.

The afternoon program began with a welcome by Scribner Woman's Club president Mrs. Gilbert Mohr, and Scribner Chamber of Commerce president Paul Morris. Responses were made by District III president Mrs. Gordon Bleich, Norfolk, and president elect Mrs. Lambert Zvacek, Pender.

District and state officers were recognized and district chairmen were introduced.

Highlighting the afternoon program were performances by winners of speech and music contests, and a style show presented by high school and adult sewing contestants. Winners in scrapbook competition and in art and crafts were announced by the chairmen of those committees.

Art students in Wayne County received several awards from among the 544 entries in the arts division.

Wayne area students captured five of the 40 blue ribbons awarded for student art. They were won by Chad Bleck, second grade, District 57, Mandy Peterson, ninth grade, Wayne High; Mike Lutt and Kim Bleck, 10th graders, Wayne High; and Signe Anderson, 11th grade, Wayne High.

A number of red and white ribbons also were won by Wayne students.

Julia Dorcey, Wayne High

junior, and Rodney Porter, a seventh grader at Wayne Middle School, received reds. Hoskins students who were awarded red ribbons were first grader Jamie Parlier and kindergartener James Stacy. Ann Mueller of St. Mary's, Wayne, also won a red ribbon.

White ribbons were received by Francine Gross, a seventh grader at Wayne Middle School, and by Al Nissen, a senior at Wayne High.

Mrs. Lella Maynard, a member of the Wayne Woman's Club, said that the acquisition of a ward ribbon by students entered by the Wayne Woman's Club was remarkably high and is a tribute not only to the students but also to art teachers in Wayne County.

In adult art, the Wayne entrant was the recipient of one of only four blue ribbons awarded in the category. Receiving the blue ribbon from Wayne was Cheryl Marra for her oil painting.

Mrs. Maynard said Wayne brought home six of the 44 blue ribbons awarded in the arts.

This is an outstanding performance, she said, "considering about 30 clubs in the district were represented at the Festival.

In crafts, where several hundred entries resulted in keen competition, Wayne captured two blue and numerous other ribbons.

Mrs. Fred Reeg received a blue for a patchwork pillow, and Cheryl Marra blue for a dried flower picture.

Two red ribbons and one white were won by Gladys Stout for quilts. Other winners of red ribbons were Mrs. Roy Lennart for an embroidered mixer cover, Mrs. Otto Henthof for an Artex painted luncheon cloth, Mrs. Fred Reeg for an embroidered quilt, Nancy Hagerman for a macrame necklace, and Mrs. Chris Tietgen for china painting. Mrs. J.S. Johar won a white

Landangers Mark

52nd Anniversary

Winside residents Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landanger celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary Saturday with a supper at Ron's Steakhouse in Carroll.

Guests for the supper included Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Landanger and family of Newman Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Landanger and family and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graves and family of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yarger and Lane Landanger of West Point, and Mrs. Chris Jorgensen of Winside.

Swing Choir Performs At Woman's Club Friday

Wayne High School's swing choir, directed and accompanied by instructor Jana Rutledge, furnished special music at the March 23 meeting of the Wayne Federated Woman's Club.

Mrs. Rutledge also played a piano solo.

Mrs. Virgil Chambers, Mrs. Clark Banister, Mrs. Ed Kluge and Mrs. Dorothy Thun were hostesses. Thirty-two members attended.

Reports on the recent Arts and Crafts Show were given. A letter of appreciation was read from the downtown Improvement committee acknowledging the Woman's Club's recent gift of money for three trees.

Mrs. Lella Maynard made a report on the financial status of the club.

The program was a color film and narration, entitled "Water: A Matter of Survival," obtained from the University of Nebraska Lincoln instructional media center.

Norris Weible was in charge of the slide presentation, which dealt with the purposes and objectives of the Nebraska Water Resources Association and emphasized the importance of the proposed Norden Dam.

The next regular meeting will be on April 13. The program, by Mrs. Charles Maier, will be on the Easter theme.

The Wayne Woman's Club will host the District III spring workshop, an all day event attended by clubwomen from northeast Nebraska, on April 6.

The workshop will feature round table discussions and will deal with various phases of women's club work. Mrs. William Hasebroock of West Point, state parliamentarian, will conduct a program on parliamentary procedure. District III officers and committee chairmen also are expected to attend.

All members of the Wayne Federated Woman's Club are welcome to attend the workshop and are encouraged to bring guests.

Senior Citizens Invited to See Play at WSC

Members of the Wayne Senior Citizens Center have made plans to attend the Wayne State College Theater Department's production of "Beauty and the Beast" this Sunday afternoon.

A special invitation was extended to the senior citizens by Dr. Helen Russell, theater professor at Wayne State.

Mrs. Jocell Bull, director of the Senior Citizens Center, said persons who would like to attend with the group must make reservations by noon Friday, March 30, at the Senior Citizens Center, 375-1460.

Mrs. Bull said persons who make their reservations by Friday will be admitted to the 2 p.m. showing free of charge. Transportation will be provided for persons who request rides.

Miss Stappert Feted Sunday

A miscellaneous bridal shower at the Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wakefield, was held Sunday in honor of Shirley Stappert.

Hostesses were Mrs. Marvin Nelson, Mrs. Lloyd Roeder, Mrs. Dale Lessmann and Lori Lessmann. Thirty guests attended.

A pencil game furnished entertainment. Hazel Hank received the prize, which she forwarded to the honoree, Lori Lessmann, sang "Evergreen," assisted by Jean Carhart, and Mrs. Marvin Nelson read "The Foundation of a Home."

Miss Stappert and Lee Echtenkamp of Wakefield will be married April 21 at Bow Valley.

Vanek-Geiger Engagement Told

Making plans for a late spring wedding are Karen Luray Vanek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vanek of Ithaca, N.Y., and Dennis Lynn Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Geiger of Waterbury. The engagement has been announced by the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Vanek is a 1972 graduate of Ithaca High School and a 1976 graduate of Cornell University. She is employed by Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N.Y., as a computer system designer and is attending the University of Rochester evenings, studying toward a master's degree.

Her fiancé, a 1970 graduate of Allen High School and a 1974 graduate of the University of Nebraska, is a cost accountant for Eastman Kodak and also attends the University of Rochester seeking a master's degree.

Iris Society Plans Two Shows in May

Two official American Iris Society shows were approved by the Affiliated Elkhorn Valley Iris Society during its first meeting of the year March 23.

A local iris enthusiast and immediate past president of the Elkhorn Valley Iris Society has been appointed chairman for a median iris show in mid-May at the Sunset Plaza in Norfolk.

Lucile Larson of Wayne will head up the show in May, during the bloom season for several classes of smaller, earlier varieties of iris.

Mrs. Larson will be assisted by club secretary Nancy Hagerman, also of Wayne.

Wednesday, May 30, has been confirmed by Sunset Plaza at Norfolk for a tall bearded iris show. Chairman is Emma Pederson and assistant is Barbara Saltz, both of Norfolk.

Northeast Nebraskan's interest in joining the local society, which meets the fourth Friday evenings at the Norfolk Commercial Federal Savings and Loan Association may call membership chairman Lucile Larson, Wayne, 375 1861.

Other committee chairmen are Myrtle Cox, Norfolk, public life; Larry Harder, Ponca, inter club and regional activities; the Jim Hummel family, Wayne, youth activities; Emma Pederson Norfolk, and Anne Gaddie, Stanton, hospitality; and Gene Gaddie, Norfolk, public relations.

Essman-Renaud Set Wedding Date

Making plans for a June 16 wedding at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Pender are Lori Essman and James Renaud.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essman of Pender and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Renaud of Lincoln.

Miss Essman is a graduate of Wayne State College and is employed in Lincoln. Her fiancé, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, also is employed in Lincoln.

'Adventure in Faith' Weekend Planned at Methodist Church

Cliff and Kathy Johnson of Loveland, Colo. will be conducting an "Adventure in Faith" weekend retreat at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne, March 30 through April 1.

The Rev. Kenneth Edmonds, pastor of the local church, said the public is welcome to attend.

The Johnsons, a lay couple, have been involved in church work since childhood. They were married in 1950 and have one daughter and two sons.

Cliff is a former night club entertainer and has done stage and television work. After going into full time Christian ministry he served as a lay associate pastor in Canon City, Colo. After a year of this work, he and Kathy began a career of doing concerts, evangelistic meetings, family retreats and motivational meetings.

The retreat in Wayne will begin Friday evening at 6:30 with a congregational potluck supper and open program.

Activities Saturday begin with coffee at 9:30 a.m. Following a program with Cliff and Kathy, from 10 to 12, there will be a noon luncheon and small group activities from 1 to 2.

Johnsons will conduct the worship service Sunday morning at 9:30.

150 Attend Open House For Frank Vlasaks At Carroll Auditorium

Mr and Mrs Frank Vlasak of Randolph observed their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at the Carroll auditorium.

The open house reception was hosted by the couple's children, Mrs. Glen (Ortels) Dowling and Mrs. Ivan (Shirley) Gubbels, both of Randolph. There are 10 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Steve Shafter of Norfolk registered the 150 guests, who came from Schuyler, Howells, Syracuse, West Point, Fremont, Ewing, Columbus, Norfolk, Albion, Wisner, Stanton, Win side, Lincoln, Neigh, Waverly, Pierce, Wayne, Carroll and Randolph.

Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Lynn Dowling and Mrs. Mike Dowling, both of Randolph.

The afternoon program began with introductions of the Vlasak family. Peggy Gubbels read a short story of the couple's life together followed with a poem by Karen Dowling.

The program closed with a song "My Happiness," by Peggy and Shauna Gubbels and Delores Shafter. They were accompanied by Mrs. John Rees. Music throughout the rest of the afternoon was furnished by Ludwig Broer on his accordion.

Mrs. Dean McGrew of Randolph baked the anniversary cake, which was cut and served by Mrs. Randy Graham of Lincoln and Peggy Gubbels of Wayne.

Carol Dowling of Lincoln and Jenny Burns of Norfolk poured.

Mrs. Mike Neuhafen of Pierce and Shauna Gubbels of Randolph served punch.

Women assisting in the kitchen included Mrs. Mary Roberts, Mrs. R. L. Jones and Mrs. Emma Eckert, all of Wayne. Mrs. Lynn Roberts, Mrs. Ruth Jones, Mrs. Lloyd Morris, Mrs. Harold Morris and Mrs. Stanley Morris, all of Carroll, and Mrs. John Hansen and Mrs. Mevin Dowling, both of Randolph.

Frank and Agnes Vlasak were married March 28, 1929, at West Point. The couple farmed in Cumming County until 1942 when they moved to Wayne County. They purchased a farm west of Carroll, where they resided until June of 1977 when they moved to Randolph.

Anniversary Dance

All friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gemelke of Wayne are invited to attend a wedding anniversary dance Friday, April 6, honoring the couple's silver wedding anniversary.

Dancing will be from 9 to 12:45 p.m. at King's Ballroom in Norfolk. No other invitations are being sent.

Gemelke's children are Connie and Brenda, both of Norfolk, and Terry and Steven, at home.

Armand, and Pamela Mentzer has the role of Beauty.

The Prince, who is about to become king, must choose a queen. He wants to choose Beauty as his queen, but complications arise when he is changed into a terrifying beast by the evil magician.

Cast as the evil magician is Rick Fairbanks. Pat Meis plays his daughter, Antoinette.

Other members of the cast are Pamela Swartz as the Queen, Claudia O'Neill as the Godmother, Chris Hennig and Karen Achor as Beauty's sisters, Aurelie and Alphonse, and Michael Nemeck as Beauty's father, Beauvais.

Also appearing as court entertainers, pages or townspeople are Denise Lee, Carl Wilson, Dale Cuffel, Mark Shuffelt, Pam Meier, Delores Zimmerman, Curtis Carstens and Laura Leach.

All designs and technical aspects of the production are handled by Arthur Dirks.

REV. GREG HAFER

New Minister In Wakefield

The Rev. Greg Hafer, new pastor of the Christian Church of Wakefield, delivered his first sermon there Sunday.

Pastor Hafer, 27, comes to Wakefield from Margate, Fla., where he served as pastor of the First Christian Church there for four years. Prior to that he was minister of the Diamond Grove Christian Church in Diamond Mo for three years.

He is a graduate of Ozark Bible College in Joplin, Mo.

Pastor Hafer's family includes his wife, Deb, and sons, Joshua, 5, Jeremy, 3, and Jeffrey, 19 months.

Hafer is making their home in the church parsonage, 304 Johnson St., Wakefield.

Vander Veens Honored Sunday

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wakefield, hosted a cooperative dinner Sunday at the church to honor the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Pier Vander Veen of Wakefield.

Guests included the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Vander Veen and Amy of Madison, and Robert Lynden, Darrell, Dwight and Brent Vander Veen, all of Wakefield.

The Rev. and Mrs. Terry Timm and family also attended the dinner and program.

Group one of the Aid was in charge of the event. Chairman was Mrs. Ed Krusemark.

The program opened with the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers." Pastor Timm gave an anniversary address and prayer.

Musical selections included piano numbers by Tiffany and Kodi Nelson, and guitar numbers by Valerie Krusemark.

A poem, entitled "Those Twenty Five Years," was read by Mrs. Ed Krusemark. A skit by Mrs. Albert L. Nelson and Mrs. Ronnie Krusemark included two readings, "Mother Tells Her Story" and "Father Gives His Version."

Shelley Krusemark played "You Light Up My Life" on the piano and Mrs. Albert L. Nelson presented a gift to the couple on behalf of the Ladies Aid. The program closed with the hymn, "Let Us Ever Walk With Jesus."

Pitch was played after the program, with prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Tarnow.

Mrs. Albert G. Nelson, Clifford Baker and Pier Vander Veen.

Mrs. Ronnie Krusemark served the anniversary cake, which she baked and decorated.

The group studied Romans 14. Verses were read by Mabel Sundell, Mrs. Virgil Chambers, Mildred Wacker, Weldon Sundell, Gale Bathke, Lillie Swinney and Dorothy Rubeck.

Mildred Wacker furnished refreshments.

The next Bible study of Romans 15 will be conducted by the Rev. Larry Ostercamp on Monday, April 9, at 2:30 p.m. Persons attending are asked to bring their favorite translation of the Bible.

Cheer cards have been sent to Leone Balde, Nora Netherda, Hazel Smith, Shirley Wagner and Pearl Griffith.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

WITH DARREL FUELBERTH

Same young couples do not plan to have children for at least a few years. They have no need for extra bedrooms, storage space or play areas. They see little reason to consider buying a house. It's true that, for many people, renting makes a lot of sense. Yet, the economics are all on the side of home ownership.

It has been estimated that of all Americans with a net worth of $10,000 or more, over 80 percent acquired their money through the ownership of real property. Equity in a home increases with each payment as well as with the inflationary trend. It is probably the easiest way to save and to build an estate.

When you first start to think about buying or selling real estate, that's the time to Stop In and "TALK IT OVER" with us.

21st Annual Children's Show Opens at WSC

The Wayne State College Theater Department is in the final week of rehearsals for its annual children's production "Beauty and the Beast" by Nora Mac Alway, opens this Sunday afternoon at 2 at the WSC Ramsey Theater.

The play also will be performed Monday through Friday, April 2-6, at 1 p.m. Additional performances are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m.

Tickets, which may be purchased at the door, are $2 for adults and 75 cents for children. Early reservations can be made by calling the college, 375 2200, Ext. 234.

This year's play is the 21st annual children's show to be presented at the college under the direction of Dr. Helen J. Russell, professor of theater at Wayne State.

Dr. Russell said "Beauty and the Beast" is a delightful and magical story that can be enjoyed by adults as well as youngsters.

The setting for the play is in the Prince's hidden palace. Robin Edwards plays Prince

Winners Compose All-Area Team

All-Area Wrestling Team

Call it the first Wayne Herald All-Area Wrestling Team! The team is made up of 12 individuals from the three area high schools that have wrestling programs: Wayne, Wakesfield, Wakefield.

If this year's All-Area team is well-received, The Wayne Herald will incorporate it into its All-Area program as an annual event. In addition to the top 12 wrestlers, 9 have been selected as honorable mention.

The top 12 were selected mainly on season records. All won at least 40 percent of their matches this past season and wrestled at least 22 times. Although 12 wrestlers were selected, three weight classes are represented by two wrestlers and three weight classes are not represented. It is believed that this is the best way to honor the 12 best wrestlers in the area.

Six of the All-Area wrestlers are from Wakesfield, while Wayne boasts five grapplers on the team and Wakefield places one. On the honorable mention list, four wrestlers are from Wakesfield, two from Wakefield and two from Wayne. Some were selected by records, others because they qualified for the State Tournament, regardless of record.

Track Season Opens

Most of the area boys and girls track teams open their season today, when the Laurel-Concord Relays begin at Wayne State College.

Fifteen boys and girls teams will participate in the meet at the WSC track. Teams from Laurel, Wakesfield, Alton and Wakefield will be represented at the relays.

The Wayne High boys track team opens its season tomorrow (Friday) at the Plainview Invitational and the Wayne girls open at the Lakeview Invitational tomorrow.

Wayne State Tennis Team Committed To Win

By BRAD WIELAND

An experienced squad of tennis players will represent Wayne State College this season. Preparation for the season, which opened at Nebraska Wesleyan Wednesday, began in late January with a weight and cardiovascular (heart and muscle) program, which is designed to increase endurance in the athletes. A tennis skills program was also instituted in Rice Auditorium by coach Stu Glendenning. The tennis team usually practices outdoors the last two weeks of March, but due to the long winter the team has been unable to do so.

This year's WSC squad is competitive with a number of players who are determined to secure a spot on the starting team, making it difficult for Glendenning to choose the starting six players.

"There are eleven people out who are committed to make WSC tennis a winner this season," Glendenning said.

College tennis team competition includes six singles matches and three doubles. This year's number one singles seed is senior Craig Buford. Buford's strong points are his quickness and overall placement of the ball.

Ron Thompson of Woodland, Calif., is seeded number two for WSC. He counts heavily on his power game with his backhand stroke being his best weapon. Thompson, a senior this year, was selected on the All-Central States Intercollegiate Conference squad last year.

Pat Dennehy of Arlington will take to the courts with a consistent game and the ability to volley effectively over his opponent.

Dennehy, a junior, was also selected to last year's CSIC team and will be seeded number three in the upcoming season.

Holding down the number four spot will be junior college transfer John Jarosh of Addison, Ill. Jarosh's game plan is usually a delivery of a crushing serve designed to ace his opponent.

The number five seed will be junior Dave Vuchetich of Lincoln.

"Vuchetich is probably the most anxious to begin competition," Glendenning said.

Rounding out this year's starting team is number six seeded freshman Craig Bertrand of Des Moines, Ia. Bertrand was a four year letterman at Des Moines Tech High School.

Making up the remainder of this year's squad are Al Riedmann, Terry Pleas and Pete Vogel of Omaha; Henry Barber of Burlington, N.J., and Mano Mahadeva of Colombo, Ceylon.

Doubles action will see Buford teamed with Thompson for WSC's number one seeded team; Dennehy and Jarosh at number two and Vuchetich and Bertrand seeded third.

WSC's home opener will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow (Friday), against Yankton College.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

THE SPRING SPORTS SEASON is here and I find myself behind schedule (just like the spring weather).

Track season is officially open now and the five area high schools are involved either today or tomorrow in track meets. The Laurel-Concord Relays at Wayne State College today should give area folks a preview of the season.

With boys and girls teams of four area high schools involved in the meet, I should get a chance to talk to each of the coaches a little more in depth and watch their teams in action. I hope the weather is cooperative.

Wayne High's track squads open tomorrow with the boys in Plainview and the girls at Lakeview.

THE BENEFIT GAMES between the Wayne Herald and the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department this past weekend were successful, thanks to many generous people. The outcome (The Wayne Herald won) is unimportant. The important thing is that all parties involved helped raise money for the Tammy Helman Fund and Michael Braden Memorial Fund.

At this time, the proceeds total approximately $265. On behalf of everyone involved, I would like to thank the Wayne Fire Department players, The Wayne Herald players, the teachers at District 57 for selling tickets, Glen Wiser and Chuck Renek for announcing, Merton Ellis at the Wayne City Auditorium, Lyle Garvin and Tom Anderson for refereeing and everyone who donated to the cause. It took a total effort to make the benefit event a success.

ALL-AREA SELECTIONS have finally been completed for all winter sports.

After announcing boys and girls basketball teams in Monday's edition, wrestling selections are announced in today's paper.

I am expanding the All Area program to include sports such as wrestling, baseball, track and possibly others. These sports have sometimes taken the backseat to football and basketball but I see no reason why All Area selections can't be expanded to include them. To the individual participants, some of the "minor" sports and accomplishments within are just as important as in the "major" sports.

Each All Area selection will be presented a Wayne Herald certificate on behalf of his accomplishment, regardless of whether the individual was selected to the first team, second team or honorable mention. Certificates will be presented at the area high schools near the end of the school year.

NCAA FINALISTS Michigan State and Indiana State convinced me that they are the top two teams in the country. Although DePaul and Arkansas were both impressive along with numerous other teams, the finalists proved themselves under pressure.

Earlier in the season I claimed that the Atlantic Coast Conference was the strongest in the country. The Big Ten changed my mind by the end of the season.

With Michigan State winning the NCAA title and Indiana claiming the NIT championship over Purdue and Ohio State, the Big Ten made its mark in collegiate basketball. It's a powerful conference.

WAYNE STATE'S BASEBALL team is dedicating its season to manager Gregory Paesl, who died Tuesday, March 20. The Wayne State sophomore was student manager for the Wildcats despite suffering from congenital heart disease and glaucoma.

He died Tuesday evening en route to the hospital in his hometown of Creighton after becoming ill on a baseball trip.

WSC coach Steve Anson said that his team hopes to play like Paesl lived — "with lots of desire." "His death dampened our spirit on return from the 'major' sports."

team's trip to Texas. Greg had many illnesses and everyday he lived it was a challenge to just stay alive. The team hopes to live up to the character he lived by." Anson said.

The health education major was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Paesl of Creighton and a graduate of Creighton High School. The WSC baseball team attended his funeral in Creighton Friday.

Overin Dazzles With 60 Points To Break Three Rec. Records

Earle Overin demolished the single game scoring record Monday night in A League action as he devastated Team Seven with an incredible 60 points.

The individual performance broke the old record of 45, also held by Overin. His team, Team Four, scored 122 points to break the one team scoring record and the combined team total of 211 points record. Team Four won the game 122-89.

Teammates Bruce Johnson and Mike Niemann scored 28 and 20 points respectively to add to Overin's total. Although overshadowed by Overin, Breck Gliese pumped in 35 points for Team Seven, all in the final three quarters. Overin burned the nets for 15 points in the first quarter, 17 in the second, 14 in the third and 14 in the fourth for the record.

Johnson scored 16 in the first quarter to keep pace with Overin early and Gliese added 16 in the final period for Team Seven in the scoring barage. Mark Engler and Dave Anderson scored 16 points each for the losing team and Mike Dunklau added 14.

In other action, Team Five posted a 70-64 win over Team

Twelfth Week: 1-2, 7 p.m.; 6-4, 8 p.m.; 7-3, 9:15.

Team Four: Overin, 60; Rudebusch, 6; Niemann, 20; Johnson, 28; Christensen, 8. Team Seven: Anderson, 16; Dunklau, 14; Engler, 16; Munter, 4; Stroh, 4; Gliese, 35.

Team Five: Ehlers, 25; Dwyer, 16; Workman, 7; Davie, 4; Deier, 7; Statler, 11. Team Six: Mitchell, 14; Meyer, 11; Froehlich, 26; Carroll, 2; Nelson, 11.

Team Three: Schwartz, 31; Mitchell, 22; Park, 2; Dougherty, 13; Sturm, 6. Team One: Keating, 9; Nissen, 11; Carroll, 8; Hix, 18; Prather, 14; Brown, 6.

Six as Scott Ehlers paced the winners with 25 points. Tim Dwyer scored 16 and Mark Statler added 11. Team Six was led by Jack Froehlich with 26 points, Rob Mitchell with 14 and Mike Meyer and Don Nelson with 11 points each.

Team Three was the other winner, Monday, taking a 74-66 decision from Team One. Bill Schwartz led all scorers with 31 points to lead Team Three. Rick Mitchell netted 22 for the winners and Pat Dougherty added 13.

Team One was paced by Dave Hix with 18 points, Prather with 14 and Aaron Nissen with 11.

Jaycee Kids' Wrestling At Wayne High Saturday

Approximately 180 wrestlers, in grades kindergarten through sixth, are expected at the Wayne Jaycees Kids' Wrestling Tournament, Saturday at Wayne High. Wrestlers from as far away as Thurston, Oakdale, Columbus and Randolph will be participating in the event, which will be the first wrestling tournament to ever be held at Wayne High.

48 Wayne Wrestlers (Above) Competed In A Meet At Pender While 7th And 8th Graders Wrestled At Stanton Saturday.

More than eight wrestlers in each weight class. The wrestlers are also divided by age with kindergarten through third grade grapplers in the junior division and fourth through sixth graders in the senior division. Medals will be presented to the top three individuals in each weight class and division.

Returners Strong

WSC Women Open Track Season

By DARWIN RUBECK
First year Wayne State Col lege women's track coach Helen Carroll is preparing her team for the 1979 season which begins with the Red Grovet Relays at Fairbury tomorrow (Friday).

"More than half of the girls are running for their first year, but we have a few real strong returners," coach Carroll said. "Those expected to provide much of the team leadership are seniors Sally Schwede of Norfolk and Sue Fricke of Columbus."

Goslar and Fricke have been named by their teammates as the co-captains of the 1979 season.

In 1978, her best in the 100 meter hurdles was 15.3 and in the 400 meter hurdles at 1:16.3.

Three sophomores will provide much experience and depth to the team. They are Lori Goslar of Charter Oak, Ia., Laura Peter of O'Neill and Mary Jo Christen of Burwell.

Goslar, like Fricke, will compete in the weight events, the shot, javelin and discus. She had the Wildcats' best record last season in the javelin and discus events, tossing them 100 feet and 103 feet respectively.

Laura Peter is expected to do well this spring. She was one of the top long distance runners for the Kittens in 1978 in the 300 meter run, with a time of 12:14, and the two-mile, running in 14:02.

"We haven't been able to time any of the running events in practice so we'll just have to wait until the first meet to see how well we have prepared."

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Chris Jensen

Services for Mrs. Chris Jensen of Laurel, are to be held today (Thursday) at the United Lutheran Church in Laurel. She died Monday in Norfolk at the age of 83.

The Rev. Kenneth Marquardt will officiate and pallbearers are Boyd Sutton, L.J. Mallatt, Glenn Morten, Verneal Gade, Eugene Sohler and Melvin Olsen. Burial will be in the Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside.

Clara Mabel Jensen, the daughter of Rasmus and Maggie Nielsen, was born Feb. 7, 1896, at Herman, and moved to Winside as a young girl. She married Chris Jensen Aug. 15, 1923, at Wayne. The couple farmed near Winside and Carroll until 1945 when they moved to Laurel, where they ran the Laurel Locker. They retired in 1959.

In November of 1978, Jensens moved into the Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel. Mrs. Jensen was a member of the United Lutheran Church, American Legion and WWI Auxiliaries, and the Laurel Garden Club.

Preceding her in death were her parents, one son, Robert one daughter, Wilma, and two grandsons. Survivors include her widower, one son, Dr. Ronald Jensen of Barrington, Ill., one daughter, Mrs. Leonard (Dorothy) Andersen of Winside, five grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, three brothers, Elmer Nielsen and Howard Iverson, both of Winside, and Raymond Iverson of Hacienda Heights, Calif., and three sisters, Margaret Christensen of North Palm Beach, Fla., Irene Iverson of Alhambra, Calif., and Helen Jones of West Covina, Calif.

Funds Allow Student Loans

For the third consecutive year the Wayne State Foundation has presented Wayne State College with funds that will allow WSC students to receive National Direct Student Loans (NDSL) for winter semester, 1979.

The Foundation recently presented over $50,000 to WSC to help with an annual cash flow problem that, without the Foundation funds, would delay student loans. The Foundation presented WSC with $30,000 in 1977 and $25,000 in 1978 for the NDSL program.

The cash flow problem stems from federal government allocations to colleges. WSC is allotted up to $239,000 for NDSLs for 1979-80. The federal government provides about $126,000 of those loan funds and the balance comes from student repayments on previous loans.

Repayment funds are not available until March 1, but the winter semester starts in January, creating a shortage of loan funds for about a two-month period. The Foundation funds are repaid by WSC later in the academic year.

Chuck Kay, executive secretary of the WSC Foundation, said the loans are an important part of the financial aid package for about 370 WSC students.

"Without these funds there would be many students who would like to go to school who could not," Kay said. "The Foundation continues to support the NDSL program because Wayne State is doing a very fine job in administering the program. The fine record of student repayment on these loans is also impressive."

That WSC student repayment rate is significantly greater than the national average. Nationally, 20.4 percent of all NDSL recipients at four-year colleges default on their loans, while the WSC student default rate is only 2.8 percent.

About 400 students received NDSLs through WSC in 1977-78. The loan money is used for student educational expenses and repaid by the students after graduation.

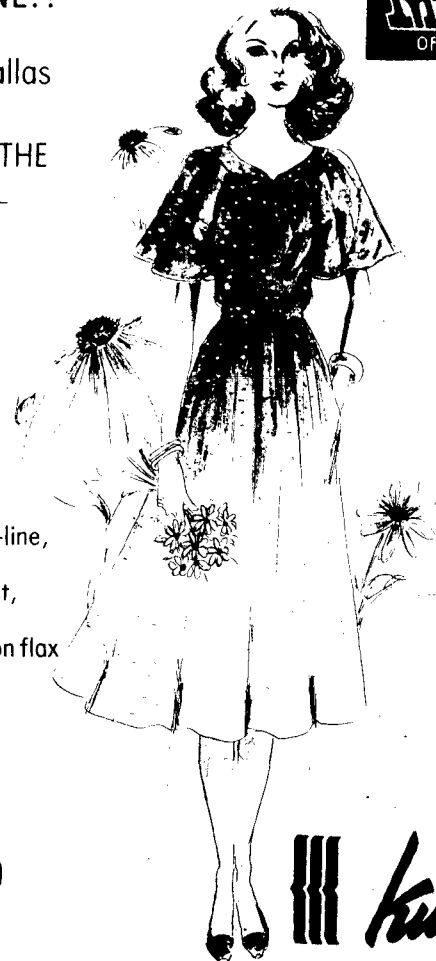

The WSC Foundation, founded in 1961, is a non profit organization that supports WSC projects not funded by state funds. The Foundation gathers funds through endowments designed to help support WSC.

Foundation officers include former Nebraska Governor Val Peterson, president, Henry Ley, vice president, Kenneth Olds, resident agent and Mrs. Leila Maynard, secretary-treasurer.

Pastor to Be Installed

INSTALLATION SERVICES for the Rev. John Hafermann will be held this Sunday evening at 7 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside. Pastor Hafermann also will be serving as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Carroll. The Rev. Ronald Helling, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Wakefield, will conduct the rite of installation. Members of the two congregations and friends are invited to attend a potluck dinner at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Winside church. Following the installation, there will be a reception for the Hafermann family in the church parlors. Pastor Hafermann served as pastor of Hope and Faith Lutheran Churches, Sonora and Orona, Texas from June of 1977 to March of 1979. He and his wife, Gay, have three children.

Witnesses Taking Part In Three Events

Members of the Wayne congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have announced that they will take part in three special events during April.

On April 1, congregations throughout the United States will participate in a special public address, entitled "Happy Through Hungry—How Can It Be?" Locally the address will be delivered by R. Rogers at 10:10 a.m. in the Woman's Club room of the Wayne city auditorium.

The following weekend, April 7 and 8, the Wayne congregation will be attending the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Walnut Junior High School, Grand Island. A. Degreyse, a local elder, will be addressing the assembly on the subject, "How Parents and Youths Contribute Toward Cleanliness of the Congregation." Wednesday, April 11, the annual memorial observance of the death of Christ Jesus will be held at the Wayne Woman's Club room at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to hear a Bible talk about the meaning and purpose of this observance.

Governor Sets Library Week

Governor Charles Thone signed a proclamation on March 19 declaring the week of March 25-31 "Nebraska Libraries and Information Services Week."

The ceremony took place at 11:30 a.m. in the Governor's suite of offices.

Claxmaxing the week is the Nebraska Pre-White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services, March 29-31, at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, Lincoln. One hundred citizens were selected by nomination to be delegates to the state conference. Displays of library services and modern information technology will be exhibited during the meeting.

Dorothy Creigh, noted Nebraska author and historian, will deliver the keynote address at the Pre-White House Conference at 6:00 p.m. Thursday evening, March 29. Mrs. Creigh has written several historic accounts of pioneer life including Nebraska a Bicentennial History which is part of a multi-volume set published for the national Bicentennial celebration.

Proclaiming March 25-31 Nebraska Libraries & Information Services Week will help focus attention on improving information services in our state," said Charles Stelling, Conference coordinator. "Libraries can, and do provide much more than recreational reading materials," Stelling explained. "With advanced technology and skilled personnel, libraries can provide information of all kinds on all levels. But people in the profession need to know what kinds of services our citizens want. That's the main reason for having the Conference."

BRUCE LUHR

Qualifies For Leaders Club

Bruce Luhr, Wayne, has qualified for Lutheran Brotherhood's 1978 Leaders Club.

He is a district representative for the Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society. The Leaders Club is one of the Society's top sales honors.

Lutheran Brotherhood President Woodrow P. Langhaug said Luhr qualified on the basis of the amount of life and health insurance protection he placed with Lutherans in his area.

Luhr is associated with Lutheran Brotherhood's Mike Johnson Agency, headquartered in Sioux City, Iowa. He has been an LB district representative since 1977.

In addition to its insurance and other financial services, Lutheran Brotherhood operates a fraternal activities program with a current annual budget of more than $11 million. With fraternal allocations, the Society funds the service projects of over 4,000 LB branches and sponsors various programs to benefit members, Lutheran higher education, the Lutheran church and community.

Groundwater Act more pliable

CAPITOL NEWS
BY MELVIN PAUL STATEHOUSE CORRESPONDENT
THE NEBRASKA PRESS ASSOCIATION

LINCOLN — The Legislature has re-vined two controversial parts of a groundwater control bill in an effort to get support for other provisions designed to strengthen the Nebraska Groundwater Management Act.

With the controversial sections deleted from the measure, it received 30-0 second round approval recently.

In its original form, the bill would have increased from one-fourth to one mill the maximum permissible levy for operation of groundwater control areas. Later the levy was amended to a maximum of three-fourths of a mill.

But the provision triggered spirited debate and prompted a series of amendment attempts, including one to require voter approval before the currently authorized one-fourth mill levy could be increased.

Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, who sponsored the bill, said he was willing to strike from the legislation references to a higher mill levy so proposed revisions of the groundwater control law could be implemented. Kremer said the mill levy issue could be addressed later.

He disagreed with some of his colleagues who said the measure now provides for nothing. Kremer said it added dewatering of an aquifer as another reason for establishing a control area, would allow for an adjacent area to be included in an existing control area, require a hearing before rules and regulations could be enforced, and extend from 12 months to 18 months the period given a district to adopt rules and regulations for operation of a control area.

Kremer said he agreed to delete the taxing portion of the bill because of the "confused" situation stemming from property revaluations going on across the state and the debate on what the state's lid law does or does not do.

Site Study Proposed

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly wants a site study and soil borings on an alternate site for the Men's Reformatory in Omaha.

Warner wants these things done despite a recent federal court ruling that will allow the state to proceed with condemnation of the primary site.

After the Waverly lawmaker made his proposal, he was accused by Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha of attempting to get everyone so fed up with the project that the reformatory would be moved to Lincoln.

Warner labeled the Goodrich statement
an "unfounded lie."

He said the alternate site, which is just several blocks from the primary site in East Omaha, appears to be more feasible and economical. But that could not be determined until some borings are taken,
he said.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals recently refused to stop the state from going ahead with condemnation of land owned by Monarch Chemical Works Inc., whose owner Marvin Walenz, has kept the project tied up in litigation for four years.

In about two months, the federal court will hear Walenz's appeal of the decision against him.

Warner said a portion of the primary site is on an old landfill and that the state had to come up with an additional $700,000 for preparation of the site because of the condition of the ground.

According to Goodrich, 5 of 32 owners of property on the alternate site would fight the change in location and that would cause another three years of delay.

Goodrich also objected to the idea of changing the Omaha facility from a medium-minimum security reformatory to one that would emphasize vocational training.

Kelly is Optimistic

Sen. Ralph Kelly of Grand Island says he's optimistic about getting his legislature to raise the drinking age from 19 to 21 debated by the Legislature.

He is the sponsor of two bills — one that would have the people decide the issue by voting on a constitutional amendment, and another that would have the Legislature raise the age by simply changing the law.

Kelly said he favors having the Legislature handle the matter, as proposed in LB221. If that bill is not advanced out of committee, he will try to raise it on the legislative floor, Kelly said.

He added he has enough committee support to get the bill proposing the constitutional amendment reported to the floor but will ask the Constitutional Revision and Recreation Committee to hold on to that measure until he sees what the fate of LB221 will be.

Kelly said the foundation of his strag-gley in getting the drinking age issue before the Legislature is strong support for the legislation from the public. He said the backing of various organizations has been especially helpful.

Kelly said several amendments are being discussed in committee. One would permit those 19 and 20 years old to drink in bars and restaurants but would prohibit them from making off-sale purchases. Other amendments would permit them to buy 3.2 beer, or to buy beer but not hard liquor.

Bingo Bill Debated

Sen. Vard Johnson of Omaha, a freshman lawmaker, is trying to prevent large, profit-motivated bingo operations from damaging or running smaller ones out of business.

So far, he has been successful during early floor debate of a bill, in getting his ideas adopted by the Legislature.

The Miscellaneous Subjects Committee proposed the Unicameral limit bingo sessions to three times a week at the same location and to provide for compensating custodial help.

Johnson persuaded his colleagues to permit only two bingo occasions a week in the same facility and to strike the language that would have permitted compensation of custodial workers.

One operator told the committee during a hearing several months ago that custodial employees in the operator's bingo hall "volunteered" to help with the games.

Johnson said limiting the number of bingo sessions to twice a week in any one facility would cause large-scale bingo operation to "dwindle and maybe dry up."
He added professional organizations in Omaha and Lincoln have led to "casino-type gambling."

There were complaints during a hearing last fall that bigtime operators could offer prizes so lucrative that churches and fraternal organizations sponsoring bingo games were having difficulty attracting crowds of any size.

The lawmakers adopted an amendment under which organizations that sponsor bingo can use proceeds to improve property owned by the organizations.

The bill received 33-0 first round approval and will be in a position where it can be amended at least once more before it comes up for a final vote.

Introduces earnings resolutions

BY SEN. EDWARD ZORINSKY

Two colleagues and I have introduced a resolution that would restore the $8,625 ceiling on outside earnings that the Senate voted recently to suspend until 1984.

The income ceiling was to have been the quid pro quo for a hefty pay raise the Senate voted itself two years ago. Set to take effect this year, it would have barred members from earning more than $8,625 a year from writing, speechmaking and other outside activities.

But just as its grip was about to be felt,
the Senate decided by voice vote to put back its effective date until 1984.

The resolution Senators Gary Hart (D, Colo.), Richard Stone (D, Fla.) and I are sponsoring states simply that the ceiling shall take effect this year as planned.
Senator Hart has informed Rules Committee Chairman Claiborne Pell (D, R.I.)
that we intend to press our case. If the Rules Committee refuses to send the resolution to the full Senate for a vote, it can possibly be attached, as an amendment, to other legislation.

Being a Senator is a full-time job.
When a Senator engages in outside activities to earn money, he shortchanges the taxpaying public. Such practices should not be allowed to resume.

Nebraska seems to have avoided major spring flooding this year, with the help of favorable temperatures. But there has been some damage, and with more still possible, property owners may be wondering where they can go for help.

Briefly, readers who live in flood plains should know the following:

First, most Nebraska communities are enrolled in the federal flood insurance program, operated through the Department of Housing and Urban Development. If yours is such a community, you can buy federally subsidized flood insurance from private agents that will take effect almost immediately.

WE ALL WANT TO HEAR ABOUT IT!

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The maximum coverage varies, depending on the community, but it can run as high as several hundred thousand dollars for a structure and its contents.
Section 209 of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offers emergency aid to farmers when farm damage "is going to run into several thousand dollars" and the owner cannot afford singlehandedly to make repairs.

ASCS will pay up to 80 percent of the cost of removing debris, restoring buildings, grading and sloping flooded farmland, and rebuilding fences. I talked with State ASCS official last week who assured me that preparation of a loan to lend a hand, if needed. If you want its assistance, contact your local ASCS office.

Third, the Economic Development Administration is authorized to help rebuild communities whose economies have been disrupted by flooding. In areas with unemployment above the national average — 5.8 percent at last reading — flooding must have caused a loss of 500, or two percent of the community's jobs.
Where unemployment is less than the national rate, the job loss must be 1,000, or four percent.

Federal aid covers up to three quarters of the cost of flood repair. Interested communities should contact EDA's Pierre, South Dakota field representative, Cornelius Grant, at (605) 224-8280.

I am always available to answer questions and be of other assistance.
Please don't hesitate to contact me through my Lincoln (402) 471-5246,
Omaha (402) 221-4381 or Washington (202)
224-6551 offices.

Fewer husbands sole breadwinners

Husbands are less likely now than formerly to be the sole breadwinner for their family, according to the U.S.
Census Bureau.

This and other financial trends are carried in the March 1979 issue of Finance Facts, a monthly newsletter on consumer financial behavior published for finance companies by the National Consumer Finance Association.

In March, 1977, the husband was his family's sole earner in only 26 percent of married-couple families. In 36 percent of the families, both husband and wife were earners. The wife was the only breadwinner in 4 percent of the families.

In the same year, 81 percent of all husbands were in the labor force, with participation among those ages 33 to 44 the highest at 94 percent. During the same period, 47 percent of all married women were in the labor force. Wives under 25 were most likely to be working (58 percent) whereas the participate rate of wives 25 to 34 years old dropped to 52 percent.

Married women having one or more children under 18 were slightly more likely to be members of the labor force (48 percent) as married women who had no children (45 percent). Highest participation rate (82 percent) was among married women ages 25 to 34 who did not have children. Among wives who weren't high school graduates, 33 percent were either employed or job hunting. Of those who had completed more than four years of college, 69 percent were working.

Married couples with both spouses working or seeking work had a median family income in 1976 of $19,327. If only the husband were working the median income was $16,267, whereas if only the wife were employed the income average was $12,450.

Endorse constitutional amendment

The Republican Policy Committee today overwhelmingly endorsed a Constitutional Amendment to balance the budget and impose a limit on federal spending except in an emergency.

GOP Policy Chairman Bud Shuster (R., Pa.) said: "There can no longer be any question about where the great majority of Republicans in the U.S.
House of Representatives stand on this issue. The imprimatur of the Republican Policy Committee now officially supports the actions of more than 74 percent of the Republicans in the House who have co-sponsored a Constitutional Amendment to limit spending. The American people have a right to know that it is the Republicans who support a Constitutional limit on federal spending. By contrast, only 29 percent of the Democrats in the House have co-sponsored such legislation, and the Carter White House has created a task force to lobby against the nationwide sentiment for this amendment."

The policy committee, in its statement, said: "If the Democrat majority in Shuster continued: "While Republicans support the American people in trying to gain more control over big government, the Democrats support big government in trying to gain more control over the American people." Shuster also charged that the Congress "will be guilty of benign neglect if it continues to ignore the message from the taxpayers that is sweeping the land. The American people have had enough. They are fed up with decades of reckless spending by the Democrats and the Democrat legacy of enormous debt being handed down to generation after generation. They want it stopped and stopped quickly." Congress had been responsive to the true interests of the American people, there would be no need for a Constitutional Amendment to balance the budget and limit federal spending. Instead, the Democrat big spenders in Congress have increased federal spending as a percent of GNP from approximately 17.5 percent in 1955 to 22.1 percent in 1979. The four balanced budgets in 1956, 1957, 1960 and 1969 all occurred in Republican Administrations simply because of the long standing Republican commitment to the principle of balanced budgets and limited government."

The statement called upon the House Judiciary Committee to "expeditiously complete hearings" on this issue and report legislation to the floor, and also called upon the Democrat majority in Congress to "act promptly on this historic issue."

Seals provide services

The Nebraska Easter Seal society provides many services for handicapped Nebraskans.

With the money donated in the state
Easter Seals provides transportation, wheelchairs, braces, hearing apparatus,
physical, speech and occupational therapy and a summer resident camp for handicapped Nebraskans from seven to 95. These are just a few of the many services provided by Nebraska Easter Seals.

Easter Seals believes in the importance of these services and the good they do for handicapped children and adults, but they do not believe in duplicating services that already exist.

When a client requests help, Easter Seals will shop around with the money you have given to find the best deal on a needed service.

Your money goes to providing direct services to disabled persons — not to setting up services that can be found elsewhere.

When all possible avenues of help have been explored, and if assistance has not yet been obtained, Easter Seals provides the service directly.

Nebraska Easter Seals is doing a good job of working closely with the clients' physicians to determine the handicapped persons' needs and to arrange the proper service in the most economical way.

This makes the best use of the funds contributed by people like you across the state.

Please give this Easter to this worthwhile cause.

Insecticides Kill Livestock

Livestock losses, some of major proportions, continue to be reported from insecticides, an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension veterinarian said this week.

Dr. Alex Hogg said one of the more common causes of these losses is organophosphate insecticides used to control corn rootworms.

"Although these rootworm insecticides should provide little hazard if used properly, they continue to figure prominently in the reports of substantial cattle losses," Dr. Hogg said.

The University of Nebraska Lincoln animal health specialist said an analysis of the cases of these toxicities reveals three major reasons for the poisonings.

1. Lack of knowledge by farmers of the extreme poisoning capability of organophosphates.
 2. Careless handling and storage of these products.
 3. Misuse of insecticides.
- "It takes only 1/4 to 1/2 tea spoon of the active ingredient of some organophosphates to kill a steer," Dr. Hogg pointed out. "This means that a level table spoon of a commonly used root worm granulated preparation is a lethal dose for cattle."

Spilled materials, either in the cornfield at planting time or in storage bins, should be cleaned up immediately and properly disposed of by burying.

Several reports have been received of livestock losses, both cattle and swine, due to organophosphates being used improperly as rodenticides to kill rats, Dr. Hogg reported.

"This goes back to lack of knowledge of the extreme toxicity of these materials he said.

"Proper labeling of insecticides and storage under lock and key cannot be overemphasized," Dr. Hogg said.

Excess insecticide cleaned from planter boxes never should be put in old mineral or feed sacks but should be returned to the original container, which assumes that the original containers were saved for this use.

Dr. Hogg described the prominent clinical signs of organophosphate poisoning: salivation from the mouth, depression, slight muscular twitching, rolling of the eyeballs, diarrhea, sweating and excessive watering of the eyes. Affected animals often bloat. However, he stressed that not every animal will exhibit all these signs.

LEFTOVER SEEDS

Do you need to purchase new seed or can you use leftover seed from last year? The answer depends on the type of seed and how it was stored. Most commercially produced seed will be good the second year if it was stored in tightly covered containers in a cool, dark place. Seed with storage life limited to one year include okra, onion, parsnip, and salsify.

Bean, carrot, leek, and pea germinate after two or three years in storage.

Weak seedlings and lower germination rates are associated with old seed. Plant it thicker than recommended on the package and thin to the proper spacing by leaving the strongest seedlings.

When new superior varieties of your favorite vegetable becomes available, select these. Don't neglect these varieties by using stored seed or inferior varieties.

Furthermore, many of the vegetables you grow are hybrid seeds. Seed saved from these varieties will not produce plants with the desirable characteristics found in the parent plant.

EARLY SPRING LAWN CARE

Spring is second only to fall as a favorable season for growth of established cool season lawn grasses.

Cleanup is the first important part of any spring lawn program. Fewer living grass plants will be raked out of a dry soil. Several types of power equipment will save you time and labor cleaning large lawn areas.

POWER RAKE
A power rake (spring type) can be used to lift mat and debris that has sifted between the crowns of the plant. Power rakes should be set to remove loose accumulations or organic matter.

If you have more than one-half inch of partially decomposed roots, crowns, and prostrate stems accumulated above the soil surface, now is a good time to alleviate this thatch problem.

In most cases, a soil aerator which removes cores 1/4 to 3/4 inch in diameter on four inch centers will help prevent a thatch problem. An aerator relieves compaction allows for the penetration of water and nutrients into the soil and normally does not detract from the appearance of a home lawn.

WATERING

Another important spring lawn management practice is proper watering. The objective of spring lawn watering program is to develop a deep lawn root system before summer.

This means watering only after the surface inch of soil has dried considerably. Then water infrequently and deeply. A good root system will also develop quicker if you delay a nitrogen fertilizer application until the time you apply a pre-emergent crabgrass control.

Nebr. Voc Ag Judging Contests April 5, 6

More than one-quarter of Nebraska's high school vocational agriculture students will gather in Lincoln April 5 and 6 to compete in the Nebraska vocational agricultural judging contests.

Burnell Gingery, state director of ag education, said that about 2,500 of the state's more than 8,000 high school vocational agriculture students are expected to take part in 16 judging contests on the University of Nebraska Lincoln East Campus. Last year, about 2,400 students participated in the contests sponsored by the UNL Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The contests cover material typical in most vocational agriculture programs, according to Leon Wissmann, assistant instructor of ag education at UNL and director of the contests.

The 16 contests on this year's schedule are:

Meats judging and identification, agronomy, livestock management, farm management, senior livestock selection, junior livestock selection, milk quality and dairy foods, dairy cattle selection, poultry management, metals, tractor maintenance, farm machinery, farm wiring and water management, nursery and landscape management, and national agricultural mechanics.

The top three individuals in each contest receive medals and one-half of the competitors in each contest receive ribbons.

Nebraska Popcorn Crop on Upswing

Will Nebraska reclaim its title as popcorn king this year from Indiana?

Nebraska was first in the nation in popcorn production in 1977 with 129.2 million pounds produced on 38,000 acres with an average yield of 3,400 pounds per acre. In 1978, Indiana slipped into first place ahead of the Cornhusker State.

Yields in excess of 5,000 pounds per acre have been achieved in Nebraska under irrigated conditions. Authorities say acreage has increased in recent years due to the high quality of irrigated popcorn and the more certain yield as compared to dryland production. Numerous popcorn companies contract acreage in Nebraska.

about one-sixth purples, one-third blues, one-third reds and one-sixth whites. Wissmann said. In team competition, the top three teams in each contest receive plaques.

In half of the 16 contests, the winning team will represent Nebraska in national competition in Kansas City this fall, he said.

New this year will be a Vocational Agriculture Sweepstakes traveling trophy, Wissmann added. The sweepstakes trophy, sponsored by the University of Nebraska FFA chapter, was first awarded last year on a permanent basis. This year's award will be based on the number of contests in which a school competes, with points given on the strength of placements in the contests, and with the trophy re-awarded each year, he explained.

The Nebraska vocational agriculture teachers association also is involved in the contests, which began in 1917. Then chairman of the UNL animal science department, Prof. Howard Gramlich, invited 50 or 60 students to the campus to judge livestock.

The contests now are held concurrently with the State FFA Convention, which has about 200 delegates. New state FFA officers will be announced immediately after the judging contests awards program.

The awards ceremony will take place on Saturday, April 7, in the Great Plains Room in the Nebraska East Union on the UNL East Campus. The 9:30 a.m. ceremony is open to the public and will include presentation of plaques and medals as well as the recognition of the top farm management team in each of the eight districts, Wissmann said.

In addition to the plaques and medals, the Farm Credit Banks of Omaha also will present a $50 check to the top farm management team in each of the eight districts.

Special Option Packages on America's best-selling pickup.

Whitetails, rear bumper shown are available at extra cost

Best-selling pickups.
Now you can get a special buy on tough Ford pickups, America's best-selling pickups according to R. L. Polk & Co. registrations. And we're celebrating with big discounts—up to $350 off the sticker price on special-option Explorer pickups.

"Best Buy" time.
You can buy Explorer pickups with special tape stripes, special wheel covers, bright western mirrors, bright grille and moldings. Plus, there's a special seat trim, deluxe seat belts, and a cigarette lighter—all at a discount.
Add power steering, automatic transmission, tilt wheel and the discount grows. Add air conditioning and Convenience Group for a bigger discount. Add a box cover and the discount totals $350.

Best EPA gas mileage.
A 1979 Ford pickup with optional over-drive transmission has an EPA estimate of 18 MPG... the best of any full-size pickup excluding diesels and crossovers. Compare this estimate to the "estimated MPG" of other trucks. Your mileage may vary depending on your speed, trip distance and weather.

More About Price, Discounts
are based on the difference between traditional suggested retail pricing of options purchased separately and as a package.

FORD COURIER. A tough pickup with a big cargo box and comfortable cab. The engine lineup includes a standard 2.0 liter or optional 2.3 liter engine, standard 4-speed transmission, optional 5-speed overdrive or automatic (2.3 liter only).

FORD BRONCO. Compare it to any 4-wheeler. Bronco's built on a truck-tough chassis with heavy-duty frame rails. Bronco offers full-time or part-time 4-wheel drive even with automatic transmission. Bronco also offers great cab comfort.

NPPD says...

Play it SAFE

Here's what to remember about KITES and MODEL AIRPLANES

Electricity is both powerful and beneficial. Used properly, electricity can bring about a more comfortable, better world. Treated foolishly, it can bring disaster. NPPD wants to help keep you safe when you're flying kites or model airplanes.

Stick to the wide open spaces
Fly your kite or plane in areas where there are no power lines, trees or buildings.

Never climb a pole or tree to try and free your kite or plane. If it gets caught in a power line and doesn't come down by itself, call NPPD.

Be a weather watcher
Remember, flying kites or planes in an open field during stormy weather makes you a perfect target for a lightning bolt. Sunny days are safer.

Electricity moves best through metal
Never have metal on your kite, string or tail.

Foreign Farm Sales Made

Sales of farmland to foreign investors were reported to have occurred in seven of the state's 93 counties during the 18 months prior to February, 1979, according to an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources agricultural economist.

Dr. Bruce B. Johnson said according to a national survey by Cooperative Extension Service personnel reported to the U.S. Senate Agricultural Committee, some 17,000 acres of farmland in Nebraska were believed to involve foreign purchasers during the period.

At the 1978 rate, it would take more than 40 years for foreign investors to acquire the equivalent of one percent of the state's agricultural land base, Johnson said.

On the national level, it was estimated that 500,000 acres per year are being purchased by foreign investors. During 1978, about 25 million acres of farmland transferred ownership, so the 500,000 acres estimated to have been acquired by foreign investors amount to about two percent of the acreage transferred, the UNL economist said.

Taco Salad

1 1/2 pounds Hamburger
1 8-oz. bottle Mild or Hot Taco Sauce
Salt and Pepper to taste
1 medium size head Lettuce
1 cup grated Sharp or Mild Cheese
1/4 cup grated Onion
1 or 2 Tomatoes, diced
Cucumbers and Peppers
1/2 package Taco Flavored Chips, crushed

Brown meat over low heat. Add taco sauce slowly — cook out liquid.

Cut up lettuce and add the remainder of ingredients. Just before serving, add hot meat and toss with lettuce. Serve with crackers and salad dressing.

Spring Garden Salad

4 cups diced Rhubarb
2 cups Sugar
1/2 cup Water
2 (3 oz.) packages Strawberry Gelatin
Dash of Salt
2 cups sliced fresh Strawberries
1 cup Whipping Cream, whipped, or Whipped Topping

Combine the rhubarb, sugar and water and cook until rhubarb is tender. Add gelatin and stir until it is dissolved. Add dash of salt. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Then fold in strawberries and whipped cream. Pour into a ring mold and chill until completely set.

Butterscotch Chewies

1 package (about 3 1/2 oz.) Butterscotch Pudding and Pie Filling
1/2 cup Light Corn Syrup
One-third cup Peanut Butter
4 cups Cheerios

Butter a 9-inch square pan. In a large saucepan, blend pudding and pie filling (dry mix) and corn syrup. Heat to boiling over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Blend in peanut butter. Add cereal. Stir until thoroughly coated. Turn into prepared pan. Cool. When set about 30 minutes, cut into 1 1/2-inch squares. Makes 3 dozen.

When spreading mixture in pan, use a buttered back of spoon.

Mrs. John Violette
Wayne, Nebr.

Pineapple Refrigerator Cake

1/2 cup soft Butter or Margarine
2 cups Powdered Sugar
1 Egg
2 teaspoons Grated Orange Rind
1 can (8 1/4 oz.) Crushed Pineapple, drained
1 tablespoon Pineapple Juice
12-ounce Pound Cake
One-third cup Shredded Coconut, optional

Beat together butter, sugar, egg and orange rind until fluffy. Stir in pineapple and 1 tablespoon pineapple juice. Cut pound cake into 4 horizontal slices. Spread 1/4 of the filling on each slice of cake; stack each slice of cake on top of another. Sprinkle coconut over top layer. Wrap in foil and chill. Cut into slices to serve. Makes 8 servings.

"A cup of hot tea would be good with this."
Wilma O'Harra
Wayne, Nebr.

Salad Supreme

1 can Pineapple Tidbits
40 large Marshmallows, cut in pieces (or 2 cups miniature marshmallows)
2 packages beaten Whipped Topping
4 tablespoons Mayonnaise
1 package Cream Cheese
1 jar Olive Pimiento Cheese

Add pineapple tidbits and marshmallows to remainder of ingredients and mix. Can be made ahead of time or same day needed.

Mrs. Glenn Granquist
Wayne, Nebr.

Canadian Tarts

Pastry:
2 cups All-Purpose Flour
1 cup Fluffo
1/4 cup Ice Water

Filling:
1 cup Brown Sugar
1 Egg
1 teaspoon Butter

1 cup Raisins
1/4 cup Milk
1/4 cup Maple Syrup
1 teaspoon Vanilla
1/2 cup Nuts (hickory, pecan, black walnut or walnut)
1/2 cup Coconut

Shape pastry in muffin tins. Fill about 3/4 full with filling. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 or 20 minutes.

Pearl Puckett
West Point, Nebr.

French Cookies

1 1/2 cups Brown Sugar
1 level cup Shortening
2 Eggs
2 tablespoons Cocoa
1 cup Cold Coffee
1 cup chopped Raisins
1 teaspoon Baking Powder
1 teaspoon Cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon Cloves
1 teaspoon Vanilla
3 cups Flour

Spread on cookie sheet. Bake for 30 minutes. When cool, frost with powdered sugar frosting. Cut into 2 1/2-inch squares.

Mrs. Ruth Stipp
Wakefield, Nebr.

Apricot Surprise

2 cups Flour
1 1/2 cups crushed Soda Crackers
2 cups shredded Coconut
1 cup Brown Sugar
One-third teaspoon Baking Powder
1 cup melted Butter
2 cans Apricot Pie Filling

Mix the flour, crackers, coconut, sugar and baking powder. Add melted butter and mix thoroughly. Put two-thirds of mixture in a 9 x 13-inch pan, pressing down firmly. Pour pie filling over first layer. Cover with the remaining flour mixture. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes.

Dorothy Zapp
Wayne, Nebr.

Pull Apart Rolls

1 package (3 3/8 oz.) Butterscotch Pudding Mix (not instant)
1/2 cup Brown Sugar
1/2 cup Butter or Margarine, melted
1 teaspoon Cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped Walnuts
2 loaves Frozen Bread, thawed completely and cut into 1-inch cubes

Combine the pudding mix, sugar, butter, cinnamon and walnuts in a bowl and stir with a fork until crumbly. Place a layer of bread cubes in the bottom of a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. (This batter makes two loaf pans of rolls). Divide crumb mixture and sprinkle half on each loaf. Repeat layers. Cover pans and let rise in a warm place for 1 hour or until double in bulk. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Turn out of pan immediately.

Serve warm or cold.

Mrs. Brian Hanson
Wayne, Nebr.

Hints

Pies and Pastries

1. Tough pastry may be caused by not using enough shortening, too much water, or over mixing the dough.
2. Shrinking or buckling of pastry may be caused by stretching the pastry when fitting into pie plate, or not pricking the pastry shell adequately on sides and bottom before baking.
3. Soggy crust may result because the crust is too thick and not uniform; not enough shortening; baking too slowly; or failure to provide steam vents for two-crust pies.
4. Pastry crumbles from overmixing flour and fat.
5. Cool cream or cooked fillings before pouring into pie shell.
6. Sprinkle crushed graham crackers in shell before adding cream filling to prevent a soggy crust.
7. Pies do not brown — for fruit or custard pies use a pyrex pie pan or an enamel pan. Bake at 400 to 425 degrees constant temperature.
8. Try using powdered sugar for higher and fluffier meringues on pies.
9. Mix flour, salt and shortening for pie crust with an electric mixer.
10. Pies and tarts will have golden brown crusts if you brush them with milk before they are put in the oven to bake. For a shiny glaze brush crusts with the white of an egg.
