Must be Ratified by Wayne Education Association

Board Approves Teacher Salary Package

The Wayne-Carroll board of education Monday night gave tentative approval to a salary package that would increase the base (beginning) salary of a teacher by five percent.

Supt. Dr. F.R. Haun said the proposal will have to be ratified by the Wayne Education Association. Dr. Haun said the present salary for a beginning teacher is $9,000 per school year. The proposed beginning salary for the 1979-80 school year will be $9,450.

Dr. Haun explained that teacher salaries are based on what is termed an "index schedule" which allows a four percent of the base increase for a limited number of years, experience and a five percent of the base salary increase for each nine hours of graduate credit. He pointed out the total proposed salary package for teachers in the district would result in an average salary increase of 6.8 percent over the 1979-80 school year. Dr. Haun stated the increase last year was approximately seven percent.

In other action concerning salaries, the board approved a 6.75 percent increase in salaries for all employees who are not on a salary schedule or an hourly wage.

Dr. Haun said this includes all administrators and certain advisory personnel. The board further approved a 25 cent per hour increase for all employees who work on an hourly wage salary schedule.

Dr. Haun stated the 25 cents per hour increase for hourly workers will average out approximately to a seven percent increase.

Combine Funds For Bonding

The water and sewer fund will be combined to provide a better bonding package.

City Administrator Darrell Brewington said the city is looking at an estimated $300,000 bond issue to upgrade both the sewer and water systems.

He said the issue would be revenue bonds and by combining the funds it would present to purchasers of the bonds a better earning capacity.

Brewington said the sewer system is upgrading its treatment facility to meet federal standards and an examination will be made in the near future to determine what to do with the water system.

He also said the city engineer is going ahead with a proposed rate hike in both sewer and water. Brewington said both services are and have been losing money.

New Bridge Is Proposed

Wayne county has completed a draft planning study report on a proposed bridge on the Wayne-Dixon county line.

The bridge will be located approximately 2 miles north and two and three quarter miles east of Wayne.

The existing bridge will be replaced with a new 28 foot wide clear roadway bridge. The project also includes grading of the approaches and gravel surfacing.

The estimated cost of the project is $323,000 with 80 percent federal funds, 10 percent state and 5 percent each for Wayne and Dixon counties.

Copies of the report have been sent to interested state and local agencies. It is available for inspection at the office of the Wayne County Clerk, Wayne and the office of the Dixon County Clerk, Ponca. Copies may be obtained from Mrs. Margaretta Morris, Wayne County Clerk.

Comments about the report may be submitted to the Wayne County Clerk until May 15, 1979, and will become a part of the record. All comments will then be reviewed before completing the final planning study report.

Unpaid Utility Bills Deleted

The Wayne city council Tuesday night approved a recommendation that some $673.99 in back utility bills be termed uncollectible.

City Clerk Bruce Mardhorst said the bills were owed by persons who had moved out of the state. He pointed out the move the council does not prohibit the collection of the bills if the persons come back into the state.

DR. JAMES LINDAU

Dr. James Lindau To Come to Wayne

Dr. James Lindau will join Dr. Willis Wiseman in a joint practice in Wayne in late spring or early summer, according to officials of a Chamber of Commerce Search Committee.

Dr. Lindau is finishing post graduate work in family practice residency in Lincoln.

The 28-year-old doctor is a 1976 graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Medicine and a 1973 graduate of the University of Nebraska Lincoln.

He is a native of Wahoo and attended Wahoo schools. He and his wife, Sheryl, are expecting their first child the latter part of May.

The first announcement of Dr. Lindau's intention of joining Dr. Wiseman was made during the annual meeting of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Jan. 18.

Dr. Wiseman told the members and their guests that getting a doctor to practice in Wayne was "indeed a major accomplishment."

He said bringing Dr. Lindau to Wayne could not have been accomplished without the help of many individuals. He expressed his thanks to those individuals for their time and talent in helping to convince Dr. Lindau to come to Wayne.

Gary Van Meter, Chamber executive, called the coming of Dr. Lindau "the most outstanding achievement of the Chamber during 1978."

Van Meter commented that he hoped Dr. Lindau's decision to come to Wayne was "the start of things health wise in the Wayneland area." Dr. Wiseman echoed See LINDAU, page 12.

Concerning New Park Ordinance

Council Balks on Exemption Request

What started out as a routine agenda item turned into a major confrontation during the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday night.

Virgil Kardell, owner of Country Living Acres, a proposed subdivision one mile north and one mile east of Wayne was told by the city council he must pay a fee of $871.20 under a new park ordinance recently passed by the council.

Kardell told the council he did not intend to develop the subdivision, that it would be used as a home for his son and for an Evangelical Free church building. The council was considering the final plan of Country Living Acres, but first postponed any action because the county commissioners expressed some opposition to the subdivision.

However, the issue was to council consideration when Commissioner Merlin Beierman appeared before the council explaining the objection centered around the need for an access road.

Kardell had authorized him to "take care of the matter," and he said since the action had gone to final plat, he would give his approval to the subdivision without an access road.

The commissioner said he was going to meet with the Wayne Planning Commission to discuss access roads for subdivisions which fall within the two mile radius jurisdiction of the council.

Kardell was given seven days in which to pay the fee so that he could get a building permit for the proposed church. Kardell said he wanted to confer with his attorney.

Time became an important element as the congregation of the Evangelical Free Church, which has been meeting in the Wayne National Guard Armory, has made plans to begin work on the church May 7.

Kardell explained that church members of congregations throughout the state have volunteered their help in the "church raising."

"We have contractors lined up to do the excavating and block work and we have to meet their time-table. If we have to change our plans, it will mean a two week delay."

Mayor Wayne Marsh told Kardell that while the council appreciated his position, they See BALKS, page 12.

Lawyer Claims Cover-Up at Jonestown

MARK LANE

By RANDY HASCALL
The American Intelligence System played a part in the deaths of 900 persons in Jonestown, Guyana and the U.S. media are guilty of covering up and distorting what really happened, according to lecturer and attorney Mark Lane.

Lane spoke before a crowd of about 150 persons at Wayne State College's Ramsey Theatre Monday night.

Playing a portion of a tape by Jim Jones which he claimed had never before been heard publicly, Lane described in detail the events leading to and following the Jonestown incident.

He accused the media of a cover-up for their use of the word "suicide" when he said that all of the evidence showed that the vast majority of the people were murdered in Jonestown.

The audience listened intently as Lane played an excerpt of the tape which he said was a recording of People's Temple leader James Jones addressing his cult during a mass ritual.

Jones was heard commanding his followers to be patient and drink a soft drink laced with cyanide. His followers were heard screaming and resisting in the background but according to Lane, armed guards made sure that dissidents were injected with cyanide in the forehead.

"Keep your emotions down. Every tribe in history has done it. If you knew what was ahead of you, you'd be glad to take the step over," Jones was heard to say. "Death is a million times better than ten more days of this life."

Although Lane said that the tape had never been heard publicly, several Wayne State students said they heard it 20 minutes of it on television in mid-March. The total length of the tape is said to be 43 minutes. Lane told the audience that Jones tried to convince the people to drink the cyanide while many were injected with the poison and others were gunned down while resisting. Jones' strongest opponent, Lane said, was his wife.

"The government tries to convince us that hundreds followed us 'piped pipes,'" Lane stated. "Yet, eye-witnesses claim that armed guards injected cyanide in the resistor's foreheads. We cannot wait 10 or 15 years to explain to me how a six-month old baby can commit suicide."

The tape which Lane played was said to have been recorded, during the last hour of the Jonestown ritual and obtained from Home Video of New York City.

Lane said he plans to file a multi-million dollar suit against individuals in the CIA, FBI, The New York Times, Newsweek Magazine, Esquire Magazine and the Los Angeles Times for deliberately conspiring against Jim Jones, endangering his (Lane's) life and for libel.

Lane said his suit will cost tens of thousands of dollars. Describing Jonestown, Lane See COVER-UP, page 12.

News in Brief Ignore Letters

Several residents in the area reported receiving an unsigned "chain letter" through the mail. Both Postmaster Wilbur Giese and City Attorney Bob Enszt urged those receiving such letters to ignore them. Giese said "chain letters" are in violation of federal laws.

Feed Grain

Feed grain program deficiency payment checks totaling $1,200,315 have been issued to Wayne county producers for their 1978 corn and sorghum crops.

Alden Johnson, chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee, said farmers who participated in the 1978 setaside program are eligible to receive the payments.

Based on a payment rate of 3 cents per bushel for corn, and 33 cents per bushels for sorghum, deficiency payments make up the difference between the target price and the higher of the loan rate for the crop or the average price received by See CHECKS, page 12.

Bid Opening May 8 Window Replacement Program at Middle School

The Wayne-Carroll board of education has set May 8 as the date for bid openings for window replacement project at the Middle School.

Dr. F.R. Haun, superintendent, said specifications will be available April 23.

According to Dr. Haun, the project will include some 138 windows in the building at an estimated cost of $300 to $250 per window, for a total cost of approximately $46,230. Dr. Haun said the proposed project is being planned over two summers, doing one half each summer. He said there is no binding stipulation that it be done over a two-summer period. "If we can attract more bidders by doing it all at once and get a better price, as an alternative, we would certainly consider it."

He also said he is looking into the possibility of getting federal aid for the project through a new energy incentive program the details of which will be released sometime this week.

Dr. Haun said if the federal government did participate in the project, it would be on a matching fund basis.

He pointed out the window replacement will most certainly cut down the fuel costs for heating the building and could possibly meet the requirements of the energy saving incentive program.

The windows are of the same construction as those which replaced several windows at Wayne State College last summer and have worked out quite well, according to college officials.

The bid opening will be held at 2 p.m. in the lecture hall of the See WINDOW, page 12.

40 Witnesses At Convention

About 40 members of the Wayne congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses returned home Sunday from a two-day Bible convention in Grand Island.

Among those attending from Wayne were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Degryse and family.

Degryse, an associate minister for Jehovah's Witnesses in Wayne, reported that a highlight for the 750 persons assembled at the convention was a speech by D. Holman, a traveling minister of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Holman, who spoke on the subject "A Cleansed Earth — Will You Live to See It," pointed out that in spite of the increase of pollution and personal uncleanliness in the world, Christians must remain physically and morally clean to survive into the promised new earth God will bring.

In Victorian days it was considered unladylike to eat cheese.

Wayne Pitching Strong Devil One-Hitter Drops Laurel

After 13 and two-thirds innings of hitless baseball, the Wayne High pitching staff allowed its first hit of the season as the Blue Devils defeated Laurel 7-0 at home Saturday in a makeup game. Dennis Carroll extended his no-hit pitching streak to eight innings shutting down the Laurel bats for the first five innings. He struck out four batters and walked two. Jerry Goeden relieved Carroll in the sixth inning and held the Bears hitless until Doug Lufe singled with two outs in the seventh. Goeden struck out three batters in two innings. The Blue Devils had their own problems at the plate as they made only four hits off of Joe Olson and Mike Martin. Jeff Zeiss led off the first inning with a walk, advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt by Carroll and later scored on a misplayed ground ball hit by Tom Ginn. Ginn scored after Al Nissen singled and the Laurel defense committed an error.

The Blue Devils added two more runs in the third. Zeiss and Carroll walked to open the threat and Dan Mitchell singled to load the bases. Ginn drew a walk to score Zeiss with no outs. On a pick-off attempt of Mitchell at second base, Carroll stole home in a close play making the score 4-0. Laurel's Olson entered the game in relief and retired the side.

The last three Wayne runs were scored in the bottom of the fourth, putting the game out of reach. Tim Pfeiffer led off with a line single to center field. Tim Thomas walked and Zeiss was awarded first base when he was hit by a pitch.

Carroll hit a ground ball to shortstop Don Dalton, who threw Zeiss out at second. Carroll reached first base safely in the double play attempt. Mitchell stepped to the plate and brought in two runs with a single to clear the bases. Ginn and Nissen were thrown out to end the inning.

Laurel had a possible scoring opportunity in the second inning with Lon Swanson on third base and Mark McCorkindale on second but failed to earn a run.

The two teams were scheduled to meet again Wednesday at Laurel.

Wayne Bombs Decatur

The Wayne Blue Devils hammered Decatur for 18 runs, including 11 in the third inning to coast to their third straight victory in the newly formed Northeast Nebraska High School Baseball Conference, Monday.

Tim Pfeiffer pitched the first two innings, allowing two hits and gaining five strikeouts. Jeff Zeiss relieved Pfeiffer in the fifth and final inning and struck out the side to end the game.

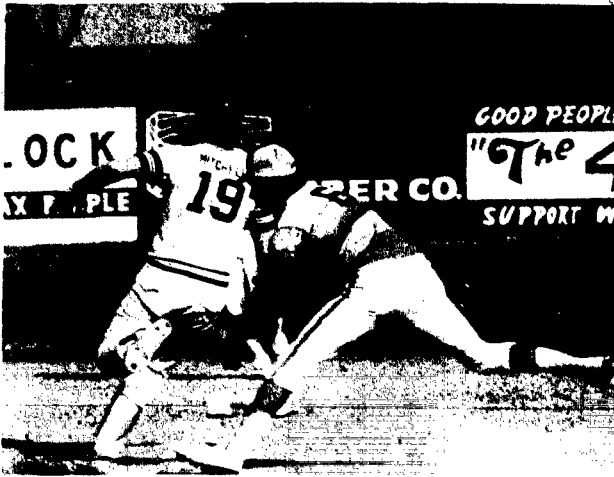

Dennis Carroll was Wayne's first base runner, when he stole second base in the first inning. He stole second base and Dan Mitchell moved him to third with a sacrifice. Then, Carroll scored on a passed ball. Pfeiffer scored the other Wayne run in the first when he singled, stole two bases and scored on a passed ball.

After a dry second inning, the Devils took complete control with 11 players scoring. Runs were scored in order by Kevin Nissen, Zeiss, Carroll, Pfeiffer, Al Nissen, Ginn, Mark Ganssebon, Dave Schwartz, Jere Morris, Jeff Sperry and Tim Thomas.

Goeden led the third inning hitting with a double and two R.B.I. while Zeiss, Mitchell, Pfeiffer and Kevin Nissen all singled. The other Wayne runs were scored on errors and passed balls.

Wayne substitutes added five runs in the bottom of the fourth and Zeiss retired the side in the top of the fifth to end the game on the 10 run rule. Brian Fleming, Todd Pfeiffer and Jim Sperry were the other Devils who scored. With three singles and two runs in three trips to the plate, Pfeiffer led the Devils in batting. They were scheduled to play at Laurel Wednesday and at Bancroft today.

Guy One-Hits Laurel As Trojans Win Again

Pitcher Rick Guy pitched a one-hitter and Doug Starzl and Scott Hallstrom led the offensive attack as Wakefield stopped Laurel 10-0 Monday in conference baseball action.

Guy was invincible on the mound, allowing only one hit and one walk while striking out 10 in the five inning game. Called on the 10 run rule, Laurel's Russ Gade was also pitching well as he shutout the Trojans in the first three innings.

Doug Starzl opened the Wakefield attack in the bottom of the fourth inning when he doubled with two runners on base. The Trojans made six runs in that inning to take hold of the game. The hosts scored four more runs in the bottom of the fifth to end the game. Starzl had one hit, two runs and two R.B.I. on two plate appearances and Hallstrom had two hits, two runs and two R.B.I. in three trips to the plate for Wakefield.

For Laurel, Shannon Hopkins ended Guy's bid for a no-hitter early when he singled in the first inning.

Gade controlled us until Starzl's hit in the fourth," Wakefield coach Joe Coble said. "We were too selective at the plate but got things rolling in the last couple of innings."

Morningside College Tuesday in Sioux City.

Bill Schwartz opened the top of the third with a single to get Wayne's offense moving. Bernie Minarik was the next Wildcat up and he collected his second hit of the day with a double, advancing Schwartz to third. Then, with two men on base, Blatchford tripled to make the score 5-0.

Wayne State Plans Girls Basketball Camp In Mid-June

A basketball camp for girls is being planned at Wayne State College for June 17-22 by WSC women's basketball coach Helen Carroll. The 'Kittens' Camp will include individualized instruction and analysis, outstanding training hints, actual game situations, training hints, instructional and highlight films, contests, recreational activities and an awards program.

According to coach Carroll and her staff, the camp is structured to enable all interested girls an opportunity to develop and enrich their investments in basketball. This includes teaching fundamental skills, ideals of sportsmanship, leadership and citizenship.

The camp will be conducted at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium with all college facilities utilized — dormitories, cafeteria, swimming pool, tennis courts. Individual instruction is planned at each of three daily sessions.

Registration will be limited to girls who will be in grades 7 through 12 next fall. Participants will register at Rice Auditorium from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 17. Checkout time is between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday. Each camper should provide her own basketball equipment, bed linen, towels, swimming suits and toilet articles.

The cost for the cage camp is $90. A deposit of $25 should be sent with an application and the balance will be due at registration time. The fee includes room, board, instructional materials, WSC T shirt, medical insurance and awards.

Applications can be obtained from the Wayne State athletic department. Deposit checks should be payable to Wayne State College and sent to Helen Carroll, Wayne State College.

Larson Pitches Second No-Hitter of Season

BY DARWIN RUBECK AND BRAD WIELAND

Lynne Larson tossed her second no-hitter of the season and upped her record to 4-2 as the Wayne State softball team trounced St. Mary's of Omaha 12-2 in four innings in the nightcap of a doubleheader played at Omaha, Monday.

WSC also captured the first game, as Cindy Stella picked up her fourth win against no defeats in a 15-3 victory.

"The girls played well and everything seemed to fall in place," coach Sue Kovar said. Vicki Carsey provided the only hit for Wayne State in the 12-2 win as St. Mary's committed 13 errors to help the WSC cause. Carsey pounded out a double in her first appearance at the plate, which also was the first at bat of the game.

In the opening game, the story was much different as Wayne State gathered 10 hits while St. Mary's had six hits.

"In the first game we really hit the ball well, especially Linda (Prchal)," Kovar said.

Prchal led the way for the Kittens, picking up three hits in four trips to the plate including a triple and a home run.

Robin Walsh and Stella each had two hits, while Brandi, Diana Hall and Teri Rademacher each added one hit to the WSC attack.

Wayne State seemed to be just warming up for action against the University of Nebraska Lincoln, as the two teams were scheduled to tangle in a double header Tuesday at Wayne, which was postponed.

Golfers Win First Meet

The Wayne High golf team won its first dual of the year by downing Stanton 200-249 at the Stanton Country Club Monday.

Bob Bornhoff led the Blue Devils with a score of 46, followed by Jay Stollenberg with a 47. Chip Carr shot a 53 for third low on the Wayne team and John Kluge and Don Straight had 54's to round out the varsity scoring. The top four scores were counted.

Jason Wild of Stanton had the low score of the match, firing a 41 on the nine hole course. Two of Coach Harold Maciejewski's reserves shot well in the damp, cold weather. John Melena shot a 50 and Doug Rose scored a 49.

Fifteen golfers are out for this year's golf team with Stollenberg and Bornhoff, the returning senior letterman Carr is a junior letterman Coach Maciejewski said he has a number of golfers who can push for the fourth and fifth spots on varsity. Maciejewski said that his team didn't play badly considering that they hadn't practiced outdoors. The Wayne Country Club didn't officially open until yesterday (Wednesday) so the Stanton dual was the first chance for the golfers to putt. Wayne was scheduled to play in the Albion Invitational yesterday but the meet was postponed because of weather.

GWEN VICTOR of Wakefield finished sixth in the 800 meter run at the WSC Invitational.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

AS MID-APRIL APPROACHES, students are looking forward to summer vacation. Within the next month many high schools will honor athletes at athletic banquets. Allen High School had its banquet last Tuesday and I'm sorry to say it sneaked by me.

I had hoped to attend all of the area banquets to take pictures but I didn't hear about Allen's early banquet until it was over, so I guess I'll have to wait until next year. The award winners are listed in a separate article.

Looking ahead, I found out that Wakefield's banquet is scheduled for April 24 at the school auditorium at 6:30 John Melton, assistant football coach at the University of Nebraska will be the guest speaker. Other athletic banquets are down the line. Winside is planning a potluck supper banquet on May 15 at 6:30. The Wayne W Club banquet is set for May 17. Laurel doesn't have a spring banquet. I was informed by school officials.

ANYONE WHO CAN bring the weather can golf at the Wayne Country Club now. The course officially opened yesterday (Wednesday).

I WAS HAPPY to read that the Nebraska University gymnastics team won the national championship last week end. Gymnastics is a growing sport and just to beat Oklahoma is an accomplishment.

Nebraska University's athletic program is being upgraded immensely under athletic director Bob Devaney. Taking a look at the improved performances of the gymnastics team, baseball team, swim team and women's basketball team shows that. The Big Red still lack in a couple of areas but hopefully that will come in the next few years.

WITH NBA playoffs beginning this week, I have to predict that the Washington Bullets will win the world championship. I'm biased in my prediction though, since I have been a Bullets fan for many years.

IN MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, I have to predict the New York Yankees and the Kansas City Royals to repeat as American League champs. Kansas City should face tough competition from California this year, but the Royals usually come through the clutch. Boston and Baltimore may be darkhorses in the AL East.

I'll go with Pittsburgh and Los Angeles in the National League, despite stiff competition this year. Philadelphia is picked by most people to repeat in the East but I think the Pirates will be on top at the end of the season. San Francisco should be a strong contender in the West as will Cincinnati, but LA will probably come out with the best record. Predictions on the World Series later.

PERSONAL THANKS to Wayne State athletic director John Merriman and to the Second Guessers for the "Wayne State watch" they presented me Sunday evening at the winter sports banquet.

The watch, which they presented to me for sports coverage is one of the most memorable birthday presents I have ever received. Their consideration was greatly appreciated.

Lots of people enjoy looking at houses for sale. Some are looking for novel decorating ideas. Others are merely curious and feel that "house-hunting is low-cost entertainment. To be a prospect, a "looker" must be actively in the market for a home and financially able to buy when he finds the property that meets his needs.

When you list your property with us, we carefully screen everyone before we bring them to see your house. We determine what style and size of house they prefer, the kind of neighborhood they want and their financial capability. We want to be sure you are showing your house to people who haven't been pre-qualified. We're willing and able to buy.

We're in touch with buyers who have outlived their need for housing and are able to buy. Someone may be looking for a house like yours. List your property with us.

Area Lamb Sale Being Considered

As a strong demand for lamb continues, few producers are willing to part with their lambs before they are finished for market.

Families who only buy a few lambs for 4-H projects are finding it more difficult to locate lambs, according to Stan Stirling, Dixon county extension agent.

Several established lamb sales are conducted each year. A new sale is being considered this spring by the newly-established Northeast Nebraska Sheep Producers association (NENSPA).

Tentative date for this 4-H Market Lamb Sale is May 16 at 8 p.m. in the Norfolk Sale Barn.

Any 4-H family interested in this sale is asked to contact their county extension agent by April 19 so a count can be given to NENSPA sale committee members. If sufficient interest is shown, arrangements for the sale will be completed.

Agents generally have a file of sale announcements and can also provide information about other sales in their area.

Two lessons were presented at the meeting. They were "Time Taken and Time Makers," given by Lori Jackson, and "Effective Detective," presented by Polly Kjer and Mary Lou Koester.

Kathy Boswell will be hostess for the May meeting.

Attend Conference
Representatives of the Future Homemakers of America chapter at Allen High School were among 1,200 FHA members from across the state who attended the 1979 state leadership conference of the Nebraska Association of Future Homemakers of America, held in Lincoln.

Theme for the meeting was "Blueprints for the Future."

Attending from Allen were Colette Kraemer, Sonya Ellis, Wendy Lubberstedt, Carmen Lubberstedt and Des Williams, along with their advisor, Mrs. Ek Dahl. Lisa Wood attended as a state officer candidate.

Dr. Williams Purkey from the University of North Carolina was keynote speaker for the first day of the conference, which was held April 9-10.

A series of workshops were scheduled on issues relating to the family.

Other activities during the conference included recognition of outstanding achievements for FHA members and chapters, installation of the 1979-80 state executive council, and sessions on leadership development.

There are more than 5,000 members in 172 FHA chapters in Nebraska.

 Mayor Marsh pointed out that while the new ordinance, requiring neighborhood parks in new subdivisions seems a little harsh at the present time, it will be a "good law" for future development of Wayne.
 The subdivision covers some 3.42 acres and has four lots platted, including the lot on which Kardell's son's house is located. He said he did intend to develop it beyond the house and the church.
 The council went into "executive session" to determine the value of the property. After reconvening, the told Kardell they valued the land at $3,000 an acre. Kardell said he felt it was a fair appraisal.
 The council gave conditional approval of the resolution, setting forth the seven day extension.

 Farmers who participate in this year's set-aside program will be eligible for deficiency payments and other benefits on their 1979 crops. The sign-up period ends April 30. Producers who have not filed their intentions to participate are urged to do so as soon as possible. The ASC official said

Hints

Yeast Breads

1. Yeast bread is porous because of over rising, or baking at too low a temperature.
2. Crust is dark and blisters because of under rising, which causes the bread to blister just under the crust.
3. Bread that does not rise is caused from over kneading or using old yeast.
4. Bread that is streaked is caused from under kneading, and not kneading evenly.
5. Bread that bakes uneven is caused by using old dark pans; too much dough in pan; crowding the oven shelf; or baking at too high a temperature.
6. For a tender crust on bread, brush immediately upon removing from the pans with butter, and cover with a cloth.

Biscuits

1. Rough biscuits are caused by insufficient mixing.
2. Dry biscuits are caused from baking in too slow an oven and handling too much.
3. Uneven browning is caused from baking in a dark surface pan (use a cookie sheet or shallow bright finish pan); too high a temperature; and rolling the dough too thin.

Muffins

1. Coarse texture is caused from insufficient stirring, and baking at too low a temperature.
2. Tunnels in muffins, peaks in center, and a soggy texture, are caused by overmixing.
3. For a nice muffin, mix well but light, and bake at the correct temperature.

Hoskins Businessman Retires

HERMAN (DUTCH) OFFER says he's planning a lot of fishing trips with his wife now that he's retired. Dutch, who has been owner and manager of Voss Implement Co. at Hoskins for the past 40 years, said his business recently to Robert (Gus) and Carol Krauske of Columbus. Dutch and his wife Frieda are pictured above with the new owners, who took possession of the business April 1. Among the many memories Dutch has stored up during his long business career is the sale of his first tractor to the Henry Amend family of Hoskins in 1919 for about $900. George Amend, pictured on that very same tractor (photo below) with Dutch, says the tractor still runs and is used for a variety of farm chores. Dutch purchased the business from his father in law, the late William Voss, when it was an International Harvester dealership. The past 15 years, he and his wife have handled feed, fertilizer and repair parts. Krauskes plan to change the name of the business to Lovestack Production Service, dealing in feed, animal health products and a small line of hardware. They have two sons, Bryan, 1, and Nicholas, 2. Offers will continue to reside in Hoskins.

This and That...

from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

PLANNING THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

The next step after the site has been selected is to plan on paper the size of the garden, the kind and amount of vegetable desired and their arrangement. Time of planting should be considered, changes made on paper before actual plantings are made.

Garden size depends on space available, the kind and amount of vegetables desired and the time you wish to spend for planting and care. A single hill of certain vine crop varieties will require as much space as 10 tomato plants. The length of sweet corn row providing enough ears for one person will produce enough radishes, lettuce, onions, beets, carrots or sweet peppers for three or four people.

GROUPING VEGETABLES

It is efficient to arrange the garden plan so vegetables are grouped according to growing season and growth characteristics. Plant perennials such as asparagus and rhubarb on one side of the garden along with berries where they will not be disturbed nor interfere with an annual soil preparation.

Plant short season, early planted vegetables such as radishes, green onions, spinach, lettuce, peas, early cabbage and beans next to perennials. After harvesting this area may more conveniently be prepared for later plantings.

Tomatoes, peppers, sweet corn and other warm season crops require a longer time to mature and should be grouped together if possible, avoid shading other plants with corn by planting it to the north of lower growing crops. When space is limited, small, quick growing vegetables may be interplanted between rows where tomatoes and vine crops will later spread.

NE Station Hires Pest Expert

Integrated Pest Management is an approach to pest control which employs a combination of techniques to control the wide variety of pests that threaten crops and livestock. These techniques include cultural methods, biological or natural controls, selected use of pesticides, and other techniques that minimize damage due to pests such as insects, weeds, and diseases. So states Keith Jarvi, the extension pest management scout supervisor located at the Northeast Station near Concord.

John Witkowski, extension entomologist, also at Concord, recently announced that Keith, a graduate in entomology from North Dakota State University, has been hired to provide information and training in IPM to interested Northeast Nebraska farmers and stockmen.

The program is being funded by the United States Department of Agriculture, Science and Education Administration. Extension and is being made available in Northeast Nebraska through the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Jarvi expects to be initially involved in several counties of northeast Nebraska, with major emphasis on the management of corn insect pests. As the program continues, it will be expanded to include livestock pest management such as feedlot and pasture fly control etc.

Jarvi's duties will include the training of field scouts for interested agribusiness organizations, grower cooperative associations, and 4-H youth field scouting clubs. Jarvi will also emphasize training of individual farmers who wish to scout their own fields. The training format will include winter seminars and summer field tours emphasizing insect scouting, insect identification, biology and control.

Any IPM system relies heavily on the proper identification of a pest problem says Jarvi, and in corn, weekly scouting of fields will determine the presence of pests in the fields and whether the number of pests is great enough to warrant a chemical pesticide treatment.

Proper insect scouting of fields may save the producer a great deal in costs, as many chemical pesticides are not needed, yet are applied as "insurance treatments" against potential insect problems that may never materialize.

For example, University of

Allen FFA Places At State

Nebraska researchers estimate that over half of the planting time soil treatments with insecticides to control the corn root worm complex in continuous cornfields may not be needed. IPM techniques such as scouting for the egg laying rootworm beetle the previous July/August for economic numbers may aid in identifying those cornfields not needing a soil treatment for rootworms the following spring. Also, the selective and timely use of pesticides will produce fewer problems with insect resistance and environmental contamination.

The goal of the IPM program in Northeast Nebraska is to educate and train the agricultural clientele in proper Integrated Pest Management techniques. Additional goals include minimizing both insect damage and insecticidal costs to the producer yet still maintaining anticipated yield goals.

For additional information, contact a county agent or contact the Northeast Station, Concord.

AgExports May Increase

U.S. agricultural exports are projected to increase 13 billion and total more than $10 billion in fiscal year 1979, an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension economist said this week.

Dr. Everett E. Peterson said the gain reflects high average unit values for most commodities. "The volume of major ag commodities shipped abroad is expected to total near last year's 122 million metric tons," Peterson said.

He cited continued economic growth, rising incomes and population growth in major markets as factors in continued expansion in world demand for foods, feeds and raw materials. Upgrading human diets along with relatively abundant feed supplies is leading to increases in hog and poultry production in many countries," Peterson commented.

Two other forces are evident, Peterson said. Stronger world markets are stimulating a continued large volume of U.S. exports of farm products, despite record world crops of grains and oilseeds. And the depreciation of the dollar also has helped to encourage exports of some commodities to certain markets. This may be a temporary source of foreign demand," Peterson cautioned.

After a 30 percent volume gain in fiscal 1978, soybean exports will increase about a tenth this year, he said. Small volume gains also are expected for exports of feed grains, rice and tobacco. These increases likely will be offset by slight declines in exports of wheat, cotton and vegetable oils.

On the other side of the ledger, U.S. agricultural imports in fiscal 1978-79 are likely to increase 6 percent to a record $14.8 billion, with most of the value increase coming from higher prices, especially for meat. The value gain in meats and products alone represents more than three-fourths of the total expected increase, Peterson said.

The U.S. agricultural trade balance of $15.5 billion (value of exports over imports) forecast for 1978-79 compares to balances of $13.4 billion, $10.6 billion and $12.5 billion in the past three fiscal years, Peterson noted.

Scientists Seek Reasons For Calf Embryo Deaths

Cattlemen could increase calf crop size without enlarging their herds if losses early in pregnancy could be reduced. And perhaps they can, U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists suggest.

"We are investigating the reasons for these losses, with the ultimate goal of reducing them," says John R. Chenault, physiologist at the Ruman L. Huska U.S. Meat Animal Research Center, Clay Center, Neb. Studies in this and other countries indicate that 10 to 30 percent of the embryos die during the initial 40 days.

In one study by the department's Science and Education Administration, researchers are being slaughtered at 7, 8, 15 and 16 days after breeding to pinpoint more precisely when embryonic deaths occur. The results of this study should help narrow research to the critical days during pregnancy when the majority of losses occur.

Embryonic death may result from either genetic abnormalities within the embryo or an inadequate uterine environment.

Chenault explains. While losses caused by genetic abnormalities cannot be eliminated, he believes that it may be possible to manipulate the uterine environment so normal embryos have a greater chance for survival.

The USDA scientists will use information from studies to describe the normal sequence of events during early pregnancy. Knowledge gained from these studies may be useful in developing a diagnostic method that also may be able to develop treatments or preventive measures to help cows maintain early pregnancy.

4-H Gardening Workshop Set At NE Station

Joni Kraemer, a Junior Leader and experienced 4-H gardener, will be conducting the second of four workshops on skills needed to garden for Dixon County 4-H members at 9 a.m. Saturday, April 14, at the Northeast Station.

Stan Stirling, Dixon County Extension Agent, reports many 4-H members have chosen to learn the skills required to grow their own garden by taking the 4-H gardening program.

Some like to help supply their family's food, others just like to display their produce at the county fair and compete for prizes," said Stirling. A special activity being considered for this year's fair is growing a cucumber in a vinegar bottle then pickling it.

Saturday's workshop will include instruction in skills needed prior to planting, including proper planting techniques and fertilization.

Stirling said all 4-Hers, lead ers, gardeners and friends are invited to attend this workshop in order to broaden their gardening skills.

By Tama Krause

Even the most dedicated gardener gets bored with the same old tomatoes and beans year after year.
 If your garden is in a rut, try some new crops, or at least some new varieties of your old favorites.

For instance, gardeners who like Oriental foods may want to try growing some of the ingredients. Chinese cabbage, mustard cabbage, Chinese kale, vegetable soybeans and white radishes are among the possibilities.

Edible podded peas are another. Pods picked before they start to bulge with peas are sweet and crunchy. They can be planted as early as you can work the soil. They mature in about two months, so they're one of the first crops to be ready for harvest!

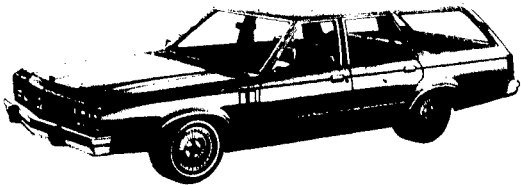

A new crop this year in edible podded peas is the Sugar Snap, an all American gold medal winner for 1979. It is billed as an edible podded snap pea that can be eaten when it is filled with peas. It provides about twice as much edible matter per foot of row than ordinary shelled peas. Sugar Snap can be steamed, stir-fried or snapped and eaten raw in salads. It freezes well but cannot be canned. Canning, like overcooking, makes the pods fall apart.

A salad garden need not be limited to leaf lettuce and round, red radishes. Try growing romaine, endive, spinach and escarole for salad greens; oblong red, round white and long white radishes, green onions, carrots, cucumbers, cherry tomatoes and peppers.
 This year try a couple of plants of sweet yellow, banana-shaped peppers or green bell peppers that turn yellow instead of red when they ripen. Tomatoes, too, offer a wide range of sizes and colors, from tiny red and yellow cherry tomatoes to giant red, yellow and even white-fruited varieties. A tomato variety developed specifically for stuffing also is available.
 Less common root crops worth trying are parsnips, rutabagas, Jerusalem Artichokes and salsify. Or look to leeks, shallots, chives and garlic — all members of the onion family — to spice up your garden.
 If you like summer squash and zucchini, try scallopini, a recent All-America selection that's great for stuffing. For a different twist on winter squash, try vegetable spaghetti, a hard-skinned squash with spaghetti-like pulp that goes well with a favorite meat and tomato sauce. A whole garden devoted to beans would be easy enough. In addition to green snap beans, available in both bush and climbing varieties, most seed catalogs offer a wide selection of yellow wax beans, purple-podded snap beans that turn green when they're cooked, Italian flat beans, dwarf horticultural bush beans (straight pods that are green at the snap stage and turn pale yellow green with splashes of red at the shell stage), Lima beans, kidney beans, soybeans, and yardlong beans.
 Any seed catalog is full of ideas for the adventurous. However, stick with varieties you know you can depend on for the bulk of your food production. Try new crops or varieties on a limited trial basis.

Area Farmers Getting Eager

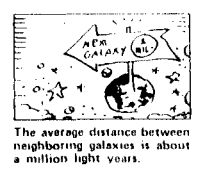

It's been a long winter and Wayland farmers are eager to get started with spring work. George Rehm, agronomist at the Northeast Experiment Station, Concord, suggests farmers take care of one important task before they get too heavily involved with field work. Unless soil samples were collected last fall, soil sampling should be first on the list of things to do this spring.

"In the past," said Rehm, "we used to think of soil sampling as being important for making fertilizer recommendations only." Today, we need the results of a soil test to guide fertilizer use and herbicide use as well. For many herbicides, the suggested rate is based on the soil pH as well as the organic matter content of the soil. Both pH and organic matter measurements are routine tests when a soil sample is submitted for analysis.

A deep test for residual or carryover nitrogen is also an important part of a soil testing program. If residual nitrogen is high, the amount of nitrogen needed in a fertilizer program can be reduced. On the other hand, some farmers may not be applying enough nitrogen to get those top yields. A test for residual nitrogen will produce nitrogen fertilizer recommendations that are precise for top yields.

Rehm also points out that if no longer takes a long time to get soil samples analyzed. Results are usually returned within 10 days after they arrive in the laboratory. The local County Extension Offices and the North east Experiment Station have soil sample boxes and easy-to-follow instructions.

Every year, we always shoot for top yields. A soil sampling program is the first step to top yields. There is still plenty of time to take soil samples this spring.

The average distance between neighboring galaxies is about a million light years.

PUBLIC NOTICES BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

Deadline for all legal notices to be published by the Wayne Herald is as follows: 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's newspaper for 5 p.m. Thursday for Monday's newspaper.

PUBLIC NOTICE
 Availability of Draft County Planning Study Report:
 To Whom It May Concern:
 Notice is hereby given that Wayne County has completed the Draft County Planning Study Report for a proposed County Highway Improvement project.

The proposed improvement is located on the Wayne-Dixon County line (road between Sections 4, Township 10 North, Range 4 East of the 6th P.M., and Section 33, Township 27 North Range 4 East of the 6th P.M., approximately 2.00 miles North and 2.75 miles East of Wayne, Nebraska. The proposed construction work will consist of replacing the existing bridge with a new 28' wide clear roadway bridge, grading of the approaches and gravel surfacing.

The report, a required by the County Compliance Addendum to Nebraska's Action Plan, contain certain data needed for a study of a highway project prior to the start of the planning period. Since not all highway improvements are of the same magnitude, nor will they have similar economic, social and environmental effects, a project level will be assigned each project. This level, ranging from "A" through "D," will determine which projects will require the most complete and detailed procedures. Level "A" projects will be considered the most complex, requiring the maximum degree of effort, procedures and studies. A "D" level project would be the least complex and would require the minimum degree of study. A proposed project level of "C" has been given to this project.

Copies of the report have been sent to agencies and local officials having an interest in the project. The report is available for public inspection in the office of the Wayne County Clerk, Wayne, Nebraska 68787, and the office of the Dixon County Clerk, Ponca, Nebraska 68702.

Will your family inherit the farm, business or house after you're gone?

Don't bet a lifetime on it.

Without a clear-cut estate settlement plan your family could lose your lifetime of hard work. Even if you specified in your Will that a family member get your farm or business, it may never happen. Estate taxes can run into five or six figures and force your heirs to sell your farm or business to raise the needed cash.

How can you prevent such a loss? Come to our free seminar on estate planning and learn how. We'll show you "Estate Planning For All Ages"—a colorful slide presentation produced by Neil E. Hall, nationally-known expert on estate planning.

His program is an informative, easy-to-understand explanation of estate planning for both farm and non-farm persons, with emphasis on the major methods used to reduce death taxes. You'll learn about:

- The three most-used strategies for minimizing federal estate tax
- Types of property and how it passes to the heirs
- Five different taxes that may erode away an estate
- How the marital deduction and charitable deductions cut taxes
- Federal gift tax rules and much, much more

We invite both you and your spouse to attend. Just send the coupon to reserve your seats. See you there!
