

Area Activities Planned for Memorial Day

Wayne and area towns will be closing business firms on Monday in observance of the national Memorial Day. Activities in the area will include special services, programs, parades and dinners.

WAYNE

The Wayne program, sponsored this year by the American Legion, will include a Monday morning parade and graveside service, according to American Legion commander Jean Nuss.

Participating in the parade, which will begin at 10 a.m. at Third and Pearl Streets and march north on Main Street to Greenwood Cemetery, will be the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, World War I Barracks and their auxiliaries, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Wayne High School band. Also participating in the Memorial Day program will be the Disabled American Veterans. Parade chairman is Chris Barthol.

Flower girls, between ages of eight and 14, are needed for the parade and to decorate the graves of veterans at the cemetery. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Julia Haas, 375-3463. Girls should meet at 9:45 a.m. at the Woman's Club room with flowers if they have them.

Clifton Ginn, associate professor of political science at Wayne State College, will speak at the cemetery. A member of the high school band will play taps. Mary Kruger, American Legion Auxiliary president, will speak briefly, and Clea Sharer, a member of the VFW and American Legion will read the roll call of deceased veterans.

ALLEN

Allen businesses will close Monday for community graveside services. The program, to be held at Eastview Cemetery, will begin at 10:30 a.m. Taking part will be the American Legion Post and Auxiliary and the VFW Post and Auxiliary.

Earl Potter, post chaplain, will give the prayer. The Rev. Bill Anderson will give the invocation and benediction, and the Allen School band will perform under the direction of Jeanne Carlson. The address will be given by Merle Von Minden, American Legion commander. Ken Swanson will head the firing squad.

The program will include roll call of the dead by Bill Kjer, a floral tribute by Maurice Swanson, and taps. A memorial prayer will be offered by Norma Smith, auxiliary chaplain.

Mark Creamer and Darcy Harder, last year's Boys and Girls Staters, will give the Gettysburg Address and history of Memorial Day.

BELDEN

The Memorial Day parade in Belden, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, will begin at 10 a.m. Monday. Members of the Legion and Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and flower girls from the community who wish to participate will line up at the Bank corner.

The parade will proceed to the cemetery where Zack Boughton will speak at 10:30 a.m.

A dinner will be served at the Presbyterian Church beginning at 11:30 a.m. The price is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children 10 and under. The cemetery service and dinner are sponsored by the Ladies Cemetery Association.

CARROLL

Most Carroll businesses also will be closing Monday for Memorial Day observances. Ron's Bar and Steakhouse will open at 9 a.m. and close at 1 p.m. Ron's will open following the program and will remain open until 5 p.m.

An ice cream social is planned for Sunday evening, May 27, at the Presbyterian Church, beginning at 5:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend the social, which is being sponsored by the Bethany Cemetery Association.

The schedule Monday begins with a community dinner to be served at the United Methodist Church at 11:30 a.m.

Russell Hall, commander of American Legion Irvin Lyons Post 145, will have a short program during graveside services set for 1 p.m. at the Bethany Cemetery southwest of Carroll. There will be a program at the Carroll auditorium at 2 p.m. The public is invited.

Z.L. Boughton of Belden will be speaker for the program at the auditorium. The Rev. Gail Axen of Stanton will have the invocation and benediction. Mrs. Delbert Claussen will be the pianist, and special music will be furnished by Karen Longe and Dana Nelson.

Mrs. Cliff Bethune, Mrs. Russell Hall and Mrs. Erwin Morris are in charge of decorations. The American Legion Auxiliary, with president Mrs. Keith Owens, will be in charge of memorials.

Following the service at the auditorium, the Legion will march to Elmwood Cemetery in Carroll for taps and the gun salute.

CONCORD-DIXON

Concord and Dixon will have a combined program on Sunday, May 27, at the Concord school auditorium at 2:30 p.m. Speaker will be the Rev. David Newman of the Concord Lutheran Church, assisted by the Rev. John Westerholm of See ACTIVITIES, page 10.

During Commencement Ceremonies Sunday

'Be Somebody' Wayne High Grads Told

Wayne High School graduates Sunday were told to "have a plan, have goals established and have a purpose" during commencement ceremonies held in Rice Auditorium on the Wayne State Campus.

Dr. Alan T. Seagren, special assistant to the president, University of Nebraska

Lincoln, commencement speaker, advised the graduates to "Be Somebody."

Seagren concentrated on four points:
— Have a plan or pinpoint your goal.
— Work on the ability to get along with other human beings.
— Have faith in yourself and have a dream.

Work hard and be persistent.
After elaborating on these areas, Dr. Seagren noted that Abraham Lincoln, one of the great presidents, suffered 11 major defeats before he was finally elected president in 1860.

Lincoln's quote, "You can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but never all of the people all of the time," Dr. Seagren said, could also carry a message of "you never fool yourself any of the time."

Dr. Seagren noted the motto of the class of 1979, "Cherish Yesterday, Live Today and Dream Tomorrow." He said it is actually the character of the graduates which is being honored. "Recognizing that it is not fully matured, cultivate it, work on it, do not lose sight of it, and most of all, master it."

He wished the 1979 class success in life's journey.

Anita Rae Sandahl, salutatorian, told her classmates they must learn to accept victory and defeat and they must continue to develop their moral values.

She said many are saddened to leave behind their high school friends and high school activities, but she said graduation is a fulfillment of one dream "and now we must work to make tomorrow's dreams a reality."

She advised her classmates not to fear the unknown or failure for they are ready for the future.

Christina Lynn Vakoc, valedictorian, used the mighty trees at the Willow Bowl on the Wayne State campus as an illustration of "standing the test of time."

She told her classmates they must also weather the test of time as they experience victory as well as defeat.

In closing, she said, "The finality of today gives birth to tomorrow."

The class of 1979 was presented by Dr. Donald Zeiss, principal. Neil Sandahl, vice president of the board of education, presented the diplomas.

Curt Frye, high school counselor, presented the honor students to the standing room only crowd in the auditorium.

The Rev. Thomas B. Mendenhall gave the invocation and the benediction. The professional and the recessional were played by the Wayne High Varsity band.

Those who received diplomas Sunday were:

First Anniversary

Open House Friday At Heritage Homes

Area residents are invited to a first anniversary open house to be hosted by Heritage Homes of Nebraska, Inc. Friday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The open house will be held at the production plant located east of Wayne in the industrial park. There will be refreshments and tours of the plant.

Rod Tompkins, president of Heritage Homes, said it has been a progressive first year of growth for Heritage Homes and he wants residents in the Wayneland area to learn first hand why Heritage Homes is a leader in quality family homes in a six state area. "The open house will also give us an opportunity to meet the people of the area and thank them for their support during our first year in business," Tompkins explained.

"We are proud of our people, product and progress and we want to share it with those in the Wayneland area."

Heritage Homes will also host a Chamber of Commerce coffee Friday morning from 10 to 11 a.m. when members of the Chamber will have an opportunity to look over the operation.

Heritage Homes opened for business about a year ago with the shipping of a ribbon by former governor Val Peterson. There were some 14 employees who helped to build the first modular home to roll off the line.

The plant now employs more than 100 persons and is hiring more. During the first year in business, the plant has produced 114 units, 14 more than they projected for the first year in business.

Tompkins also pointed out the plant has been able to provide stable employment in an otherwise seasonal operation.

The homes are constructed by skilled craftsmen on assembly line basis. Tompkins explained one reason Heritage Homes are being accepted is construction is controlled throughout the building stage.

The flooring is laid, walls are framed and a roof constructed on site is added to form one half of a custom ordered house. Wiring, insulation, drywall, shingles, siding, windows, cabinets and carpeting are added as the unit moves along the line on "T" beams and rollers.

"We even wash the windows," Tompkins added with justified pride.

Winside Graduates Sing 'Time to be Movin' On'

Happiness and sadness, careers and computers, opportunity and pressure were all a part of the commencement ceremonies held Monday night in the Winside High School gymnasium.

Some 32 seniors, including a foreign exchange student, received their high school diplomas from Board of Education President Dean Janke.

Receiving special recognition were the members of the top ten percent of the graduating class. They were Della Holtgrew, Kristi Duering and Brenda Voss.

Graduating seniors Carla Berg, Kristi Duering and Brenda Voss presented the program.

Carla Berg recounted the 13 years of togetherness by most of the class, stating there have been many happy times and some sad times. She recommended to her fellow classmates to "enjoy this place, these hours, this school and the memories."

Kristi Duering pointed out the graduating class members would be branching out into careers, many of which would include the latest in technology such as computers.

She pointed out the computer has flaws because it functions only as well as those who program it. She noted the added responsibilities facing the seniors and dedicated a poem, "The Best is Yet to Come" to her classmates.

Brenda Voss used the class motto: "We are the future, looking out at the past. We are the present, making old things last. We are the tomorrow, thinking of yesterday. We are today, doing things our own way." to point out the pressures that faced past Winside graduates and commented the 1979 class must face the challenge of the energy crisis and perhaps, helping to avoid World War III.

She said she and her classmates must work to make the world a better place in which to live and love.

The senior girls presented a duet and the senior class ended the program with "It's Time for Movin' On."

Honor awardees were presented to the graduating students by Al Schueler.

Seniors who were graduated were: Thomas Anderson, Carla Berg, Lisa Cleveland, Susan Coulter, Kristi Duering, Todd Greunke, Christine Grube, Judith Hartman, Terri Hartman, Della Holtgrew, Ronald Holtgrew, Todd Jenkins, Lori Jensen, Jay Koch, Thomas Koll, Andrea Mann.

Kurtis Marolt, Brent Miller, Charles Peter, Mitchell Pfeiffer, David Ritze, Paul Roberts, Larry Ruback, Takayuki Sakurai, Bruce Smith, Lori Thies, Kathleen Thomas, Carolyn Tillama, Eric Vahkamp, Brenda Voss and Randy Willis.

The ceremony was interrupted when the crowd and the 1979 class gave a standing ovation when Takayuki Sakurai was presented his diploma.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday with the Rev. Kenneth Edmonds, Wayne, delivering the sermon.

The choir and mixed chorus sang "Song of Ruth."

Northwestern Bell

Crabtree-Johnson Wed Saturday in Florida

The May 19 wedding of Karen Crabtree and Mark Johnson, both of Bismarck, N.D., was solemnized in a 7 p.m. ceremony at the Bell Shoals Baptist Church in Brandon, Fla.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Crabtree of Brandon, Fla., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Robert Johnson and the late Robert Johnson of Carroll.

The couple's double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Tim Wilson of Brandon. Vocelist was Mrs. Joseph Crabtree of Jacksonville, Fla., who sang "And I Love Him So" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Cites of Brandon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white formal wedding gown of satin and Italian lace designed with a high neckline, long sleeves and lace cape. Her fingertip bridal tulle was attached to a satin cap with crystal beading. She carried carnations and daisy mums with ivy streamers.

The bride's sister, Kathy Crabtree, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Linda Brooks and Linda Edwards. All are of Brandon.

The bride's attendants wore crepe back satin gowns in formal length with chiffon capes. The gowns were in lime green, coral and daffodil yellow. They wore a flower band in their hair and carried carnations and baby's breath.

The bride's mother chose an emerald green crepe dress with a lace jacket, and the bridegroom's mother selected a floral print in polyester and silk.

A reception for 100 guests followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's sisters, Lynn Crabtree and Mrs. J.K. Carpenter, both of Brandon, cut the cake and served punch.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Disney World and will make their home at 730 N. 32nd St., in Bismarck, N.D. The bride was graduated from Brandon High School in 1971. The bridegroom, a 1967 graduate of Wayne High School, attended the University of Nebraska and is employed at the Coal Creek Power Plant in Bismarck.

The bridegroom's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Creighton of North Platte, flew to Florida with the wedding service.

Wechs Marking 40th

Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Welch of Norfolk, formerly of the Hoskins area, will be honored for their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, May 27, at the Zion Lutheran Church, located northwest of Hoskins.

Hosting the event are the couple's children and their families, Sandra Gates of Grand Island and Susan Talcott of Fox Island, Wash.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house reception from 2 to 4 p.m. The couple requests no gifts.

NPPD says...

Play it SAFE

Here's what to remember about SAFETY and SUMMER FUN

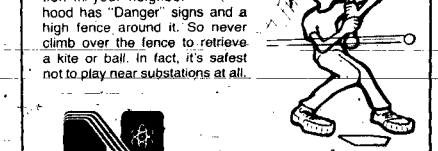

Summer is right around the corner, and for children that means more time to play outdoors. NPPD wants that summer fun to be the safest possible... for everyone's children. Here are some ideas to help children play it safe.

Tree house and swing safety
Never build a tree house, tree swing or swing set near a power line. Build them as low to the ground as possible and without metal parts. Don't stay in a tree house when it's raining.

Power poles are for power lines
Never climb power poles... or trees near poles and lines. You could be seriously hurt falling from a pole or touching a power line.

Substations aren't playgrounds
They help transmit high-voltage electricity. That's why the NPPD substation in your neighborhood has "Danger" signs and a high fence around it. So never climb over the fence to retrieve a kite or ball. In fact, it's safest not to play near substations at all.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

With DARREL FUELBERTH

People change as they grow older. Desires and interests change. Families change, too, especially in size. Starting with a newly-married couple, a family grows with each new child, then shrinks again as the children marry and move away to homes of their own.

Alouses can change, also. Of course, it usually stays the same size but its ability to provide for the needs of the family size varies. Neighborhoods can change in desirability, for better or worse. It is usually easier for a family to move to a more suitable home and neighborhood than to try to adjust to inadequate conditions.

Should you be thinking about a house more perfectly suited to your family's needs? Stop in and "TALK IT OVER" with us. Let's discuss some things you might want to consider.

Wayne Can't Claim Elusive State Title Blue Devils Second To Hot-Hitting Ryan

The Wayne Blue Devils made themselves known in the State Class B Baseball Tournament at Ralston Tuesday evening but they didn't come home with the trophy that they had to win to reach their only remaining goal of the year.

Backed by about 190 cheering fans who made the 2½ hour trip from Wayne to Ralston, the undefeated Devils made their bid to become champions but ran into a hard hitting ball club from Omaha Ryan. They came home with the runner-up trophy following a 7-3 loss.

Wayne got on the scoreboard first when leadoff batter Jeff Zeiss opened with a walk and stole second base. Tim Pfeiffer also walked and Jerry Goeden advanced the runners with a sacrifice bunt. Zeiss scored on a wild pitch and Pfeiffer moved to third. Pfeiffer was tagged out in a rundown when Tom Ginn failed to bunt on a squeeze play.

Ryan scored to tie the game in the bottom of the inning with a triple and a sacrifice bunt. Starting pitcher Dennis Carroll, who entered the game with a 5.0 record, ran into problems in the third inning as fly balls were lost to the sun and misjudged by the Wayne outfielders, giving Ryan a couple of runs. Then sophomore Jerry Rempe blasted a two run homer for a 5-1 lead.

Reliever Tim Pfeiffer entered the game and struckout two batters to get out of the inning. Wayne threatened to score in the top of the fourth but couldn't get the job done. Despite a good pickoff play from Pfeiffer to Schwartz at first base, the Blue Devils couldn't stop Ryan in the bottom of the fourth.

A bobbled grounder and a pair of deep base hits gave Ryan two more runs and a 7-1 lead. Despite the determination to come back, the Blue Devils couldn't muster any runs in the fifth or sixth innings while they held the Knights scoreless.

Then, in the top of the seventh the Devils made one last charge. Behind a cheering diehard Wayne crowd and chants of "we can come back. We've done it before." from the dugout, Wayne gave its best effort.

Trailing 7-1, Dave Schwartz led off with a single and Kevin Nissen drew a walk. Dan Mitchell doubled to score Schwartz and Wayne suddenly drew its second breath. Carroll drove a deep sacrifice fly to center field, bringing Nissen home for a 7-3 difference.

Ryan pitcher Joe Farrell, who checked Wayne on six hits in seven innings, struckout Zeiss and forced Pfeiffer to ground out and end the game. Ryan's record is a deceiving 10-11 against mostly metro teams while Wayne fell to 11-1 for the year. Omaha Burke defeated Lincoln Southeast 8-4 in the nightcap to win the Class A title.

Eighth Chuck Ellis Baseball Tournery To Begin Tomorrow

The eighth annual Chuck Ellis Memorial Baseball Tournament begins in Wakefield May 25, with 13 teams competing for top honors. There is no defending champion, as rain forced cancellation of the 1978 tournery after it had been only partially completed.

Three former winners are in this year's field. They include the Sioux Falls Blackbirds (1973-76-77), Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson (1974), and Sioux City Heelan (1975). Friday's play begins with Laurel facing Norfolk at 6 p.m. The game will be followed by Wayne meeting Elkhorn

On Saturday at 6 p.m. Emerson plays Creighton. In that evening's second matchup Sioux City West will face the host team, Wakefield. Receiving first round byes, Heelan and Thomas Jefferson play the Friday night winners on Sunday. Sioux City North and Sioux Falls, also waived through the first round, will play the Saturday winners on Monday.

Nebraska Class A American Legion Junior champion, Omaha Creighton Prep doesn't join the field until the final round. The tournament is named after Chuck Ellis, Wakefield athlete, who starred for the 1969 state runners up. A year later he was killed in a car accident.

The meet, until last year, had the dubious distinction of having every opening day in six straight years washed out by rain. Last year play opened on schedule but fell victim to the elements.

The tournament is noted for its outstanding class of baseball. Several past performers have played in the North Central Conference and the Big Eight. Another, Ken Crejdek of Council Bluffs Teeljay, is now pitching with Omaha Royals of the Class Triple A American Association.

Football Coaches Draw To WSC For Weekend Football Clinic

Some of today's top football coaches, with years of professional experience will highlight the first Wayne State College Football Coaches Clinic Friday and Saturday. The event is open to all high school and college coaches with registration cost $15 in advance, $17.50 at the door and $10 for Saturday sessions only. Sessions will run from 3 to 8:40 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 2:50 p.m. Saturday.

Andy MacDonald, who has spent the last three years with the Seattle Seahawks as offensive backfield and special teams coach, will be one of the top speakers. He has also coached at Michigan State, Colorado State, Tulsa and Iowa University. MacDonald will discuss the offensive kicking game, defensive kicking and the Seahawks' quarterback, Jim Zorn's spring draw.

The other coach from the professional ranks is Paul Roach, offensive coordinator for the Denver Broncos. Prior to his position at Denver, he was offensive coordinator for the Green Bay Packers and the Oakland Raiders. Roach helped pilot the Raiders to a 31-9-2 mark in his three-year stint in Oakland. He will speak at the clinic on the fundamentals of backfield play and on goal line and short yardage plays.

John "Jersey" Jermier, a former Big Eight athletic director at Kansas State and a former head coach at WSC, will discuss motivational techniques. High school coaches who will be speaking include Terry Stevens, Ken Fisher and Bill James.

Stevens, who was a Little All-American in 1958, is coach at Sioux City East and will speak on the action-passing game. Fisher, head coach of last year's Nebraska Class A championship team, Grand Island, will cover the 5-2 defense. James, who coached at Bellevue for the last 22 years and won four state championships, will speak on the unbalanced line offense.

3 Boys Place At State

Dennis Anderson and Brad Saunders both placed in the State Track and Field meet at Omaha Burke Friday and Saturday to give Laurel nine points in the Class C competition. Allen's lone qualifier, Greg Carr, also placed to score four points for his team in Class D. Anderson finished sixth in the two-mile run with a time of 10:01.6 and Saunders placed second in the shotput with a distance of 53.2. Carr Leaped 20-3 to place fourth in the Class D long jump.

Top Collegiate Coaches At Ivey's Teton Clinic

When Wayne State basketball coach Bill Ivey embarks in a project, he invests a great deal of time and money. One such project is the Grand Teton Basketball Coaches Clinic he has initiated for July 3, 4 and 5. The clinic will be given at Jackson Lake Lodge in Grand Teton National Park, Wyoming.

Ivey invested his own money in the clinic so that the Fourth of July weekend will be more than just a time for fireworks. Five major university coaches will direct the Grand Teton clinic. They are Jim Brandenburg of Wyoming University, Lynn Archibald of Idaho State, Lute Olson of Iowa University, Bill Foster of Duke University and Ted Owens from the University of Kansas.

For $50, male and female coaches can attend the clinic which is designed to improve and expand coaching techniques. Registration will begin in the afternoon of Tuesday, July 3 with coach Bill Foster conducting a summer tune-up for basketball coaches at 6 p.m. Coach Owens will run the next session on offensive transition at 7:30.

All five coaches will conduct programs on Wednesday with time allowed for fishing expeditions. On Thursday, the five coaches will

Wayne-Carroll Boosters To Meet Thursday Night

About 30 persons have met and recently formed a Wayne Carroll booster club for the 1979-80 school year. The group was formed principally to support Wayne High athletics during the next school year.

The club is scheduled to meet again at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night at the Wayne-Carroll athletic awards banquet in the Lecture Hall of the high school. A special booster club meeting is scheduled immediately following the awards banquet. Members will be able to order booster club shirts or sweaters at that time and will further discuss club activities. They also hope to establish a music booster club.

Bradix, Janicek Play In Region AIAW Tennis

Wayne State's Shari Bradix and Judy Janicek, both of Bellevue, both had limited success at the Region IV AIAW Small College Tennis Tournament held May 17-19 at Winona, Minn.

Bradix, a junior, lost in first round number one singles action, 7-6, 6-4, 6-4, to a player from Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn. Bradix then defeated a player from St. Ambrose College of Davenport, Iowa, in the first round of the consolation match. She took that match 6-2, 6-2. In the semifinal of the consolation matches, Bradix defeated a Southwestern Baptist player, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2 but lost in the finals of the consolation match, 6-3, 4-6, 4-6.

Janicek, a sophomore, also lost in her opening match, 6-2, 6-2, to a Missouri Western player, and drew a bye in the second round action. She was then defeated 6-2, 6-3, by a Winona State (Minn.) player.

Bradix and Janicek, who were the District 11 number one doubles champions this year, lost in the first round at Winona, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4. They later lost in a consolation game, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, to a team from St. Louis, Mo.

Twenty four teams from six states participated in the AIAW Tourney, including the CSIC opponents Missouri Western, Ft. Hays and Kearney State.

Bradix finished 14-5 on the season as the number one WSC singles player and was the Central States Conference women's champion last fall and NAIA District 11 runner up this spring.

Janicek finished 6-9 on the season.

Wayne Athletic Banquet Tonight

The Wayne Athletic Banquet is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at Wayne High School. The meal is planned in the high school commons, with serving to begin at 6 p.m. The awards presentation is scheduled to begin at 7:30 in the Lecture Hall.

MOST PEOPLE SAY they don't believe in superstitions but yet the majority seem to have certain superstitions of their own that they follow. The Wayne High baseball team is no exception.

When the team was in Ralston warming up for the Class B State final with Omaha Ryan, catcher Dan Mitchell found a four leaf clover. He naturally wanted to hang onto it to give him and his team good luck, so he placed it inside one of his socks.

Assistant coach Bill Sharpe wore the bottom half of his baseball uniform but didn't wear the shirt that matched. Why? Simply because the number of the jersey is 13 and an unlucky number.

Despite the superstitious precautions that were taken, the Devils didn't win the game. They made some mistakes that they don't normally make and the Knights of Omaha Ryan really hit the ball well.

Two things impressed me at the State Tourney. Almost 200 loyal fans followed the team to Ralston and the players and coaches appreciated it. I know because they told me they were happy to have such a large following.

The other impression was left when the players tried to stage a rally late in the game. Sure, each player was disappointed but still they gave a dedicated team effort until the final out. They didn't give up even when they trailed 7-1 in the seventh inning.

IT'S EASY TO WRITE an article after an area team has won, but when a team has lost it's especially tough. And when a game has as much at stake as a Class B title the chore doesn't get any easier.

I rode to Ralston with the Wayne team Tuesday. It's always a pleasure to travel with them and visit with the players and it gives me an inside picture of just how much the game means to them. It's the best way to understand the views of the players.

As I sat in the car on the trip down, I could feel the excitement of playing in the State Tourney and the anxiousness of winning the Class B title. On the long trip back, I saw the players' tears and could feel their disappointments and sorrows. But before we reached Wayne, some of the disappointment had worn off and the players realized it wasn't the end of the world. They'll be back.

ORVELL SMITH FIELD in Ralston was a beautiful place to play the State Baseball Tournament. The grass infield and outfield were well cared for and the stands held a large crowd of fans. The scoreboard was a fine piece of electronic gadgetry and fit well into the handsome ball park.

WAYNE'S TWO-MILE relay team ran in Class B State competition last weekend and although the team didn't place, they did have a good season and set a school record in districts. Team members are Mike Lutt, Rick Johnson, Tod Heier and Kurt Powers.

Memorial Day

Fruit Pizza 2 Pizza Pans

- 1/2 cup Oleo
- 1/2 cup Crisco
- 1 1/2 cups Sugar
- 2 Eggs
- 2 3/4 cups Flour
- 2 teaspoons Cream of Tartar
- 1 teaspoon Soda
- 1/4 teaspoon Salt

For the crust, mix oleo, shortening, sugar and eggs. Blend in dry ingredients. Press in 12-inch pizza pans and bake 8 to 10 minutes at 400 degrees. Cool.

- 8 ounces Cream Cheese
- 1/2 cup Sugar
- 1 can Pineapple Chunks
- 1 can Mandarin Oranges
- 1 (10 oz.) package Whole Strawberries
- 1 Banana, sliced and dipped in lemon juice

Drain fruits and reserve juice. Mix cream cheese, sugar and 2 tablespoons Juice. Spread on cooled crust. Arrange the fruits on this. Cook the rest of the juices with 3 tablespoons cornstarch. Cool and drizzle over the fruit.

Mrs. Cliff Baker
Wakefield, Nebr.

Pumpkin Cake With Nutmeg Icing

- 1 (16 oz.) can Pumpkin
- 1 Spice Cake Mix
- 2 Whole Eggs
- 1 Egg Yolk (save white for icing)
- 1 cup Milk
- 1/4 teaspoon Salt
- Nutmeg Icing (recipe below)

Beat all ingredients until smooth. Pour into a 10 1/2 x 15-inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Frost when cool.

Nutmeg Icing

- 1 stick Butter or Margarine
- 1 Egg White
- 1 (3 oz.) package Cream Cheese
- 1 teaspoon Vanilla
- 1 scant teaspoon Nutmeg
- 1/2 cup chopped Walnuts
- 3 cups Powdered Sugar

Whip with mixer until fluffy.

Mrs. Paul Dangberg
Wayne, Nebr.

Roast Beef Casserole

- 1 (8 oz.) package Noodles
- 3 cups cut-up Roast Beef
- Salt and Pepper to taste
- 1 can Cream of Mushroom Soup (or any cream soup)
- 1/2 cup Milk

Cook noodles until done. Drain well. Put cut-up meat in a 2-quart casserole. Add noodles and salt and pepper. Pour soup and milk over all. Sprinkle corn flake crumbs over top. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes.

Mrs. Herman Oetken
Wayne, Nebr.

Christian Gehman's Real Chocolate Pudding "A treat to eat"

- One-third cup Sugar
- 1 teaspoon Salt
- 3 tablespoons Cornstarch
- 2 cups Milk
- Two-thirds cup Chocolate Syrup
- 1 Well-beaten Egg
- 1 teaspoon Vanilla
- 1 tablespoon Butter (at least)

Combine the sugar, salt and cornstarch in a heavy 1 1/2-quart saucepan. Gradually stir in milk, chocolate syrup and egg. Stir pudding over medium heat (don't let it scorch) until it boils. Cook 1 minute. Don't stop stirring. The pudding now should be thick and gooey and it wants to scorch.

Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla and butter. Pour into serving dishes. Good hot or cold and with whipped topping.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER SLUDGE: Blend 4 tablespoons peanut butter into warm pudding — need not be smooth.

HOT FUDGE SAUCE: Decrease cornstarch to 1 tablespoon.

Mrs. Eldon Bareiman
Wayne, Nebr.

Banana Muffins

- 3 large Bananas
- 3/4 cup Sugar
- 1 Egg
- One-third cup melted Margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon Salt
- 1 teaspoon Baking Soda
- 1 teaspoon Baking Powder
- 1 1/2 cups Flour

Mash the bananas. Add sugar and slightly beaten egg. Add the melted margarine and sifted dry ingredients. Beat only to blend.

Place by teaspoonsful into buttered muffin tins. Bake at 375 degrees for about 20 minutes or until done.

Excellent as dinner muffins or with whipped cream for dessert.

Mrs. Claire Vogel
Cape Coral, Fla.

Individual Queches

- Pastry for two-crust pie
- 3/4 cup chopped cooked Shrimp
- 1/4 cup sliced Green Onion
- 4 ounces Swiss Cheese, shredded
- 1/2 cup Real Mayonnaise
- 2 Eggs
- One-third cup Milk
- 1/4 teaspoon Salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Dried Dill Weed

On a floured surface, roll out half of pastry into 12-inch circles. Cut six 4-inch circles. Repeat with remaining pastry. Fill into twelve 2 1/2-inch muffin pan cups. Fill each cup with shrimp, onion and cheese.

Beat remaining ingredients. Pour over cheese and bake at 400 degrees for 15 or 20 minutes or until browned. Makes 12.

Dorothy Zapp
Wayne, Nebr.

OBITUARIES

Dave Hamer

Graveside services for Dave Hamer, a former Wayne County Judge, will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Greenwood Cemetery. Hamer died April 18 in California and was cremated.

Robert Witte

Services are pending at Billings, Montana for Robert H. Witte, 53. He died Saturday of a heart attack. Witte, a former resident of Winside, is a nephew of Mrs. Harry Granquist of Wayne. He is preceded in death by his wife, Barbara, and his parents. He is survived by a daughter, Sheryl; one brother, William Witte of Spokane, Wash.; and two sisters, Betty Seigrist of San Jose, Calif., and Shirley Sawyer of Los Angeles, Calif.

Michael Brown

Graveside services for Michael Brown, infant son of Richard and Patricia Brown of Fremont, were held May 14 at the Memorial Cemetery in Fremont. The Rev. Robert Hansen officiated. Michael was born May 11 in the Fremont hospital and died that same day. He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Berkeley and Ritchie, both at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brown of Fremont and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hoeman of Winside; and a great grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Hoeman of Wayne. Attending services from the area were the Ted Hoemans and Todd, and Mrs. Lee Anderson, Winside, Mrs. Matilda Barelman, Mrs. Irene Lutt, Mrs. Oscar Hoeman, Mrs. Willis Meyer and Mrs. Gilbert Baier, all of Wayne, and the Clarence Bakers and the Kenneth Bakers of Wakefield.

Mrs. Agnes Spengler

Mrs. Agnes Spengler, 84, of Norfolk, died May 17 at a Norfolk nursing home. Services were held Tuesday morning at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Norfolk with the Rev. John Hauser officiating. Burial was in the Hillcrest Memorial Park Cemetery, Norfolk. Agnes Spengler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wolschlagler, was born Oct. 17, 1894 in Hoskins. On Feb. 20, 1916 she married August Spengler at Hoskins, where the couple farmed until moving to Norfolk in 1954. She is preceded in death by her husband, parents, seven brothers and four sisters. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Arnold (Marquerite) Janke of Winside, Mrs. Daryle (Evelyn) Wade of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs. Clarence (Ruth) Bierman of Battle Creek; 10 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Lydia Yahnik of Geneseo, Ill.

Mrs. Louise Gabel

Mrs. Louise Gabel, 78, of Yorkville, Ill., a retired school teacher, died May 11 at her home. Services were held May 14 in Yorkville with burial in the Elmwood Cemetery, Yorkville. Louise Gabel was born June 2, 1900 at Fremont. She moved to Dixon as a youngster and was graduated from Allen High School. Mrs. Gabel taught school for 40 years, many of them at Yorkville. She also taught in the Allen area and in Wyoming and Nevada. Louise Gabel was a member of Yorkville United Methodist Church, Yorkville Women's Club, Kendall County Republican Club, Yorkville Chapter 295 Order of Eastern Star, Past Matrons Club and Yorkville Senior Foxes. She is preceded in death by her husband, Glen, one brother and two sisters. Survivors include one stepson, Clyde Gabel of Yorkville, one stepdaughter, Mrs. Julius (Jane) Hummel of St. Joseph, Ore.; two brothers, Ernest Knoell of Dixon and Melvin Knoell of Fremont; and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Bubbers of Morrilstown, S.D.; Mrs. Gertrude Iben of Grey Eagle, Minn.; and Mrs. Alice Fitch of Greenleaf, Idaho.

Mrs. Alice Rolland

A former Laurel resident, Mrs. Alice Rolland, 75, of Alliance, died Saturday at an Alliance hospital. Services were held Tuesday at the United Methodist Church in Laurel with the Rev. James E. Mote officiating. Burial was in the Belton Cemetery. Pallbearers were Charles and Randy Rolland, Steve Meier, David Barker, Bill Taylor and Melvin Downs. Mrs. Rolland, the former Alice Mae Minegar, the daughter of George and Julia Whitmore Minegar, was born Aug. 19, 1903, in Osceola, Ind. Mrs. Rolland came to Nebraska as a young girl. She married Glenn Rolland on Aug. 19, 1920, in Sioux City. The couple lived in northeast Nebraska. Mrs. Rolland moved to the Good Samaritan Village in Alliance 10 years ago. She is preceded in death by her husband, Glenn, in 1965. She is survived by three sons, Robert of Wausa, Wayne of Laurel and Kenneth of Wayne; seven daughters, Mrs. Mildred Green, Mrs. Harold (Eva) Taylor, Mrs. Harry (Mary) Taylor and Mrs. Ronald (Janice) Grover, all of Alliance, Mrs. Charles (Donna) Downs of Omaha, Mrs. Glennadine Barker of Wayne, and Mrs. Lester (Judy) Meier of Belden; 57 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

New Office Hours For Dixon County

In an effort to provide Dixon county residents with better service, several Dixon county officials have proposed a temporary change in courthouse office hours. In order to give the customers 8 1/2 hours of continuous service, the following offices will conduct business from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. thereby being open during the noon hour beginning June 4, 1979: County Clerk, County Assessor, County Treasurer and County Welfare. The sheriff's office will continue to be on call 24 hours a day. The following offices having only one employee, will be closed for an hour lunch period: Clerk of District Court and County Superintendent of Schools. With these schedules the offices will be able to give an extra one-half hour of service to the county and each clerk will be on duty 8 hours a day. These schedules will be on a trial basis to evaluate its effectiveness and will be reviewed in October. The following offices will continue to operate 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.: County Attorney, County Judge and Farmers Home administration.

Two are Graduated

Two persons from Wayne received degrees during Creighton University commencement ceremonies held May 19 at Omaha. Georgianne Goblirsch was awarded a bachelor of arts degree and the Rev. Thomas E. McDermott was awarded a master of divinity degree.

KTCH Radio Gets Go-Ahead

Construction permits for radio station KTCH AM-FM have been approved by the Federal Communications Commission. Dean Craun, manager, announced Wednesday.

The improvements will include raising power on the AM from 500 to 2,500 watts and an increase tower height for the FM facility to 324 feet, plus a second tower. Craun said construction will begin within 60 days and the facilities operational around the first of September.

"This means a major boost in the signal in both AM and FM," Craun said. "It will cover Northeast Nebraska from the Iowa-Nebraska border to Neligh and from north of Yankton, S.D. and south almost to Columbus."

These improvements have been before the FCC since the first of the year. Craun explained.

Poppy Sales Figure

Poppy sales during Poppy Day conducted in Wayne recently totaled $273.91. The figure published two weeks ago was incorrect.

Plan Food Sources For Area Wildlife

A cooperative project between the Game and Parks Commission and the Nebraska Extension Service is aimed at providing food sources for wildlife next winter. This project will provide youth groups or individual youngsters with seed to establish Wildlife Food Plots. Bags of seed containing milo, millet and giant gray sunflower will be provided to young people through the Wayne County Extension Office and other extension offices throughout the state. Each bag will contain enough seed to plant a one-quarter acre wildlife food patch. Several youngsters may wish to divide up the contents of the four pounds of seed. Instructions for planting will also be provided in each bag. Any young person or group interested in establishing a wildlife food plot planting may acquire this seed at no cost by contacting the Wayne County Extension Office. The seed will be available until the supply is exhausted. The seed is for planting, and should not be fed to wildlife, since it has been treated with insecticides that would be harmful to birds and animals. Now is the time — not next winter when the snow is deep — to plant and establish wildlife food plots that will provide an abundance of standing food for wildlife when they need it.

Laurel Promoting Beef

In observance of National Beef Month this month the Laurel Chamber of Commerce and the Cedar County Feeders Association are sponsoring Beef Days today (Thursday), Friday and Saturday. Businesses in Laurel are planning to promote the red meat industry with posters, bumper stickers and balloons. Shoppers also can register at participating businesses for free T-bone steaks. The Cedar County Feeders will have a live beef at the corner of the State Farm Insurance Co. from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday. Shoppers will be asked to guess the live weight of the steer, with the person closest receiving a $25 certificate for the purchase of beef. Cedar County Feeders will also be serving hors d'oeuvres on Saturday at the Laurel Lockers, IGA and Gowers's GW Foods. Chamber members will help serve the hors d'oeuvres from 1 to 5 p.m.

IF YOU ARE MOVING FROM THE WAYNE AREA CONSIDER THESE FACTS ABOUT A SERVICE WE PROVIDE

RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service was founded in 1960 as the nation's first not-for-profit broker-owned and broker-directed real estate referral service.

RELO has been the nation's leading relocation service for consumers and the leading referral service for real estate professionals for nearly a decade.

RELO is a not-for-profit organization providing a referral network, and marketing and educational program support. Because of RELO's member-owned, not-for-profit structure, service is the primary consideration.

RELO services include:

- a meeting with the originating broker, who will offer help that includes appraisal and marketing of the family's present home.
- services in finding the right home, including help in arranging financing, moving companies and other requirements.

All RELO services are provided at no additional cost or obligation.

Board Approves Haun's Suggestions

Wayne Carroll Supt. Dr. Francis Haun Monday night made several recommendations to the board of education, with official action coming on all of them. Dr. Haun recommended and the board approved:

- Adding one more section to the kindergarten class as it appears there will be more than 60 students.
- Raise substitute teachers salaries from $24 per day to $30 for the first two weeks, $30 to $24 for the next two weeks and on regular salary schedule if longer than one month.
- Paying a registered nurse by the same salary schedule as the teachers with associate nurse (three years) receiving 80 percent.
- Raising the per mile fee from 15 cents to 18 cents.
- Make the sick leave policies the same for all employees as that used for certified staff.

Dan Sherry Receives Gladman '500' Trophy

Dan Sherry, former Kiwanis district Lt. Governor, received the Gladman '500' trophy for starting two new clubs during his year as a district officer. The trophy was presented during the Nebraska Iowa District of Kiwanis 59th annual convention held last weekend on the campus of Buena Vista college, Storm Lake, Ia. Sherry also received a distinguished Lt. Governor's certificate and pin at the convention. The Wayne Kiwanis club is 1 of approximately 180 clubs comprising the Nebraska Iowa district with approximately 8,000 members. The Wayne club meets each Monday at 12 noon at the Black Knight.

4-H'ers to Tour Plant

A tour to Brookings, S.D. to visit a farm size alcohol plant developed by Dr. Paul Middough, with the Department of Microbiology, SDSU Brookings, is being sponsored by the Pierce County extension service. A carload group from Dixon County is planned to join the bus tour at Pierce. Those interested in going should contact the Dixon County Extension Office (584-2261), Clarence Waitier, Pierce (329-4501) or the Pierce County extension office (329-4615). Bus transportation is $13 per person. Dr. Middough will be testifying before Congress on May 14 and 15 regarding the practicality of alcohol production. He plans to return to Brookings in time to have the alcohol plant in full operation for the tour group. The plant is a farm size unit holding one ton of grain slurry and produces 95 percent alcohol fuel.

Evangelical Free Church, Concord. There will be special music.

Participating in the program, which is sponsored by the Concord-Dixon Cemetery Association, will be the VFW and flower girls and boys.

Graves will be decorated at the Concord cemetery following the service at the auditorium. Local pastors will give the memorial prayer at the cemetery.

LAUREL

Laurel's Memorial Day program will get underway with a parade Monday morning, according to Boyd Sutton of the Laurel American Legion Post 54.

Members of the American Legion, VFW, Brownies and high school band will meet at the VFW Hall at 9:30 a.m. and march to the city auditorium where a program is scheduled for 10 a.m. The Rev. James Mote of the United Methodist Church in Laurel will speak, and there will be a vocal presentation by Mrs. L.J. Mallett. The prayer and benediction will be by the VFW chaplain, and the high school band will play "The Star Spangled Banner."

Gravestone services are set at the Laurel Cemetery immediately following the program at the auditorium. Two members of the high school band will play taps and members of the American Legion and VFW Auxiliaries will place a wreath for the unknown soldier. There will be a salutatory and roll call of deceased veterans by L.J. Mallett.

A beef and ham dinner will be served at the Laurel school by the Ladies Cemetery Association, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tickets, which will be sold at the door, are $3.50 for adults and $2 for children under 12 years of age. The menu includes roast beef, ham, whipped potatoes and gravy, salad, vegetable, rolls, relish, pie and coffee.

WAKEFIELD

Gravestone services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday at the Wakefield Cemetery with the American Legion and VFW Posts and Auxiliaries in charge, according to Legion commander Don Rouse.

The Rev. E. Neil Peterson of the Evangelical Covenant Church will speak and give the invocation and benediction. The Wakefield High School band will play. Roll call will be by commander Rouse and advancing of the colors will be by the American Legion and VFW Posts and Auxiliaries.

Steve Oberg will recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and Susan Miller will recite "In Flander's Field."

WINSIDE-HOSKINS

Members of the Winside American Legion Post and Auxiliary will meet at 8 a.m. Monday to decorate graves at Theophilus Cemetery northeast of Winside, Spring Branch Cemetery south of Hoskins, cemeteries west and east of Hoskins and southwest of Winside. The final stop will be Pleasantview Cemetery west of Winside.

The Rev. Gail Axen will speak at a program at 10:30 a.m. at the Winside city auditorium. Pastor Axen will give the invocation and benediction. The Winside School band will open the program with the "Star Spangled Banner" and other musical selections.

Scott Mann, 1979 Boys stater from Winside, will read the Gettysburg Address during the program. A reading also will be given by 1979 Girls Stater, Debbie Brockman.

Wayne Denkiau will read the roster of the dead at Pleasantview Cemetery at 11 a.m. Taps will be by Althea Pfeiffer and Ted Sakurai. The Rev. Gail Axen will speak and give the invocation and benediction.

The American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor a dinner for the public at the Winside Legion Hall from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost of the meal is $3 for adults and $1.75 for children 12 years of age and younger.

Session will be held July 9 through Aug. 10.

For information on summer offerings contact the WSC Registrar's office at 375-2200.

Water Safty

School Planned

For Instructors

Mrs. Hank Stalp of the Cumming County Red Cross has announced that a Red Cross water safety instructor school will be held May 29 through June 9 from 9 a.m. to noon at the West Point swimming pool.

Persons taking the course must be 17 years of age and hold the advanced life saving certificate.

Registration for those planning to participate in the water safety school must be made with Russell Mueller, water safety instructor trainer at West Point, 372-2225.

Wayne Swimming Pool

Set to Open Monday

The Wayne municipal swimming pool will be opened to the public Monday, according to City Clerk Bruce Mordhorst.

Mordhorst said the pool will open at 1 p.m. and remain open until 9 p.m. This will be the daily schedule except during bad weather, he said.

The fees for using the pool have been raised this year, he said. A single admission is 75 cents, a season's pass for one person is $12.50 and $25 for a family.

Gordon Emry has been hired as manager of the pool.

Wakefield Graduate

Receives WSC Grant

A Wakefield high school graduate has been awarded a "Presidential Scholarship" to Wayne State college for the fall semester.

The scholarships are awarded to quality students not qualified for financial aid through WSC.

Tammy Jo Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meier, Wakefield, was a spring graduate from Wakefield high school where she was active in Drama club, Pep club, Future Business Leaders of America and National Honors society.

She plans to major in accounting at WSC.

Winside—

The class sponsors were Allen Schlueter and Terry Munter. The class flower was a white rose with a blue tint.

Honor escorts for the seniors were Mary Bowder and Mark Sueli. Ushers were Deb Brockman, Dawn Janke, Julie Kraljick, Kim Leighton, Kathy Thies and Marie Thomas.

Open House—

The quality construction cannot be challenged nor can the price which is some 10 to 15 percent under a "stick" built home.

"We want our visitors to visit the assembly line and watch our people at work and see the quality of work which goes into a Heritage Home which are pre-sold and custom designed before they are put on the line," Tompkins said. "We are looking forward to the open house and meeting the fine people of the area."

Honors—

presented for excellent academic achievement and citizenship.

Wayne State's Board of Trustees Scholarship for full tuition was granted to Lorraine Garvin. The scholarship was given in recognition of outstanding scholastic winner at the University of Nebraska but declined the regents to accept the Board of Trustees award at WSC.

Steve Anderson was granted an athletic scholarship to Platte Technical Community college for full tuition and books. It was given for recognition of outstanding ability in basketball.

The Presidential Scholarship to Wayne State was presented to Carolyn Knudsen Burns. The award covers full tuition.

A Security National Bank scholarship was awarded Verlin Hanson. Terry Robson received a $1,000 scholarship to Sterling College in Kansas based on academic excellence.

Two scholarships, given in memory of Don Casey, were presented to Beverly Christensen and Cindy Kastrop.

Haskell award winners were Mrs. Vera Diediker and David McElroy, teachers in the Laurel-Concord school system.

Dorothy Garvin Rath Awards were given to co-valedictorians Terry Robson and Lorraine Garvin. The two addressed their fellow graduates, discussing the past years together and what the future holds in store. Invocation and benediction were delivered by Rev. Frederick Cook of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Lisa Galvin, Lorraine Garvin, Nell Gohier, Meant Gunnarson, Cindy Haahr, Edward Hafner, Laura Hansen, Verlin Hanson, Kathleen Kardell, Cynthia Kastrop, Carol Loberg, Ronald Lundahl, Tamara Malchow, Deanna Manz, Jay Mathiason, Kory Matthews.

Compromise on state budget

CAPITOL NEWS

BY MELVIN PAUL
STATEHOUSE CORRESPONDENT
THE NEBRASKA PRESS ASSOCIATION
LINCOLN — During the waning days of the legislative session, it appeared the state lawmakers would adopt a budget that could be accommodated with revenues generated by current state tax rates.

Gov. Charles Thone pledged "while campaigning last year and several times since he began his administration that he would do everything in his power to hold the state budget to an amount that would not force a higher tax burden on the people."

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of the Legislature's Appropriations Committee, also strove to keep state spending during the fiscal year beginning July 1 to a level that could be funded by income produced with current tax rates.

About 10 days before the scheduled final adjournment of the Unicameral, a group of senators got together and worked out a package of proposals that would hold the state budget increase to right around 7 percent.

In order to achieve that objective, they had to offer a number of compromises. These included one under which the state will take over 2 percent of the counties' 20 percent share of medical welfare costs next fiscal year and another 2 percent of the year after that.

The compromise package also included deletion of a $10 million increase in state aid to schools — an item that most senators thought would trigger an increase in state tax rates.

Warner told his colleagues the setting of spending priorities is "never easy" but that it has to be done while addressing the realities of life.

The compromises included the striking from one of the budget bills $1.1 million for renovation of the University of Nebraska's agricultural engineering building. But the amendment authorized the Board of Regents to use some of the $200,000 earmarked for miscellaneous renovations to continue planning and design for upgrading the building.

ANTI-SMOKING BILL PASSED

The Legislature recently passed and sent to Gov. Charles Thone a bill that would prohibit smoking in public places and at public meetings except in designated areas.

The measure received a surprisingly strong 30-8 final vote of approval.

The attorney general's office has questioned the constitutionality of the legislation, which would go into effect on Jan. 1, 1980.

Under the bill, the state Health Department would devise "necessary and reasonable" rules and regulations for implementation of the law.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Larry Stoney of Omaha, would permit the Health Department, upon request, to waive the provisions of the act if it determined there were "compelling reasons" to do so and if a waiver would not significantly affect the health and welfare of nonsmokers.

The attorney general's office said in its opinion, the bill does not contain "sufficiently clear and definite standards" to guide the Health Department in determining how to administer the act.

The attorney general also said the part of the measure authorizing the department to waive the restricted smoking provisions "appears to be particularly defective as it is void of any indication concerning what factors may be considered compelling reasons."

A restaurant with a serving area of less than 1,200 square feet would not come under provisions of the act. Bars would also be exempted as would private social functions in rooms or halls in which seating arrangements were controlled by the sponsors of the functions.

Stoney said he patterned the legislation after a Minnesota law which, he said, seemingly is working satisfactorily.

DRINKING BILL STALLED

The effort by Grand Island Sen. Ralph Kelly to raise the drinking age from 19 to 21 has ended for this session of the Legislature.

But Kelly will try again to win approval of the controversial legislation, which will be held over for consideration next year.

the governor," said Venditte.

Most legislative observers believe if Thone vetoes the legislation, there will not be enough votes to override the veto.

During one of his first press conferences after taking office, the governor was asked if he would veto a death penalty repeal bill, and he said he would.

But when he was asked if the measure included a provision for a minimum mandatory prison term of 30 years for those convicted of first-degree murder, Thone said he would have to study such legislation before making up his mind.

Since then, the governor has been asked several times what his stance on repeal is. The last two times the question was posed, Thone said he is leaning heavily on the opinion of Chief Justice Norman Krivosha of the Supreme Court that the death sentence is justified in "appropriate" cases.

Polls show a big majority of Nebraskans favor retention of the death penalty, even though it has not been carried out in the state for 20 years.

During the next to last week of the session, Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora moved to suspend the rules and to have an immediate vote without debate on Kelly's bill.

Kremer's motion failed. Kelly then told reporters there was no point in trying to pursue the matter further this year.

The bill was stuck in committee most of the session, but Kelly did manage to persuade his colleagues to get the legislation pulled to the floor for debate.

REPEAL BILL ADVANCES

All this writing, it looks like a good bet that Gov. Charles Thone holds the key on whether Nebraska's death penalty law will be repealed.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha, has gotten through its first two tests, picking up just the 25 votes needed to win second-round approval.

Sen. Patrick Venditte of Omaha, who strongly opposes the repeal, said during debate it appeared the bill had enough support to gain final approval from the lawmakers. "Perhaps our only hope is

Would founding fathers approve?

RICHARD L. LESHER
PRESIDENT
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON — A crisis, or major national problem seems to follow this young nation every step along its way. Sometimes, I wonder — "What if?" What if those wise people whom we call our Founding Fathers were here to witness the current calamity — what would they say and do about our national energy problem?

I can just imagine their shock upon learning about the decades of government control over such a basic industry. They knew about unjust controls. They despised them almost as much as they disliked and distrusted arbitrary political power. In fact, one of the memorable passages of the Declaration of Independence accuses King George III of erecting "a multitude of New Offices, and of sending . . . swarms of officers to harass our People, and eat out their substance."

So if the Founding Fathers were here today, we might well see them look at each other and then announce in amazement: "It's incredible, but in many respects nothing seems to have changed. We Americans are still being treated like colonialists."

"Of course, other nations can virtually dictate the quantity and price of the energy supplies we purchase. Here at home, we have created a colossal $10 billion dollar bureaucracy — the Department of Energy — at an approximate cost of $200 a year for every family of four. This bureaucracy is busy, busy, busy spending almost as much in a year as the major oil companies earn in profits. But while the industry tries to explore, produce, refine and market a product, the bureaucracy regulates and creates more paperwork, and actually controls our energy shortages. You call that common sense?"

And being men of wisdom, courage and action, I believe the Founding Fathers would call the leaders of the energy industry to the Congress and say: "This situation is intolerable. Our great young nation cannot afford to be at the mercy of other nations because of our dependence on energy. We must commit ourselves now to a policy of energy independence, and we must resolve to persevere until that goal has been reached."

So go out, and find new oil and gas in American soil, and charge a profit fair enough to make Americans want to invest more to finance even more drilling and exploration.

"And use the more expensive techniques for pumping out of the less accessible oil in old fields, for we need American oil and American independence and a fair price above the costs in all that we ask."

"And beginning immediately, find ways to mine and transport more coal in an environmentally responsible manner. We know the tremendous opportunities coal offers us. At present, its 47 billion tons represents 74 percent of all our energy reserves — an amount greater than all of the oil in the mid-east. Yet, coal represents only 19 percent of the energy we consume."

"If you should have sufficient funds, or if you shall generate new funds, do not neglect the other new sources. Ignore the doomsayers. We have shown that we can handle the entire nuclear technology spectrum. Do not ignore environmental or health constraints. Pay meticulous attention to the proper functioning to safety and back up systems. Do everything possible to minimize human error. "And go after other so-called exotic sources as well — sources that experts believe contain unbelievably large supplies of energy. Explore the seas, the winds, the temperatures of the earth and the power of the sun. Explore the tar sands, and oil shale, and gasohol, and fusion and methanol. Put forth all of your energy so that the energies of the citizens of this nation shall not be harassed by the powers of government — ours or any other. Do all these things and thou shall be honored in our land. If the profits are great — reinvest them wisely for the benefit of all your shareholders and the American people. That is the American way. We remain strong and unique. Together, we will regain our independence."

Yes, that is what I believe our Founding Fathers would be telling us if they were here today. And with their kind of leadership, we would succeed. They proved that 200 years ago when they tackled and conquered a much tougher challenge. With the most pathetic of armies — untrained, outgunned and undersupplied — they beat back one of the most powerful fighting forces in the world. But they did have each other, a goal, and the will to reach it. Perhaps that is why, shortly before the colonies declared their independence, John Adams said: "I have passed the Rubicon; swim or sink, live or die, survive or perish with my country — that is my unalterable determination."

What about us?

Legislative Look

SENATOR JOHN ROBERT MURPHY
District No. 17
110 East 37th Street
South Sioux City, Nebraska 68774

There are days when it is fun to be in the Legislature. A few days ago, one of my constituents called to point out what he felt was an abuse by a Department of state government that I didn't even know existed. When the Legislature created this department, it gave them the power to issue rules and regulations to further clarify their own operation, as is customary.

The agency had the authority to require a report from various subdivisions of government relative to the payment of retirement monies. One of their rules required that this report be submitted in time to reach the state department by the 10th of the month and along with it, the necessary funds. In order to assure that these reports would be made in a timely manner, they elected to levy a penalty for late arrival. So far, so good.

Just such a report had been mailed by this individual on the 9th of the month. Customary mail service was normally overnight, thus the report should have arrived on the 10th as required.

This time the U.S. Government rule was slow in getting the mail to Lincoln.

The department immediately sent notice that the penalty had been assessed and requested payment, even though the late delivery was in no way the fault of the sender and under ordinary circumstances, would have been timely in its arrival.

It could have been easily determined from the postmark that the payment had, in fact, been mailed in a timely fashion. However, no one bothered to think, in rote fashion, the penalty was levied according to the letter of the law.

When the subsequent monthly payment was made, attention was called to the fact that it had been mailed properly and the individual making the report suggested that the penalty should not have been assessed and accordingly, did not include money for the penalty.

This very efficient department immediately telephoned the individual and demanded payment. In response to his question as to what the consequences would be if he refused to pay the penalty, the department drew itself up to the full height of the Peter Principle and announced that state monies to the county would be cut off.

I called the department head and inquired as to the necessity of levying a penalty under these circumstances and received a rather terse answer to the effect that, that's how it is. Looking further into this agency, I found that I could not abolish the agency inasmuch as it was established in response to another of our famous federal guidelines and the question as to what the consequences would be if he refused to pay the penalty, the department drew itself up to the full height of the Peter Principle and announced that state monies to the county would be cut off.

I further explained my innermost sentiments with regard to this department and its behavior. I then subsequently withdrew the amendment.

The result was marvelous. Within two days, I had a four-page letter of explanation of the agency's role, delivered by hand by a department attorney, along with information that all penalties that had been assessed under this particular rule for the past two months, would be refunded and that as per my request, a rehearing on this rule has been set for May 21st at which time the rule will be changed.

Son of a gun! There are days when it is fun being a senator.

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU
FEDERATION
BY M.M. VAN KIRK
DIRECTOR OF INFORMATION

The importance of the agricultural export market to Nebraska farmers and ranchers is highlighted by the report that more than one-fourth of their cash income in fiscal 1978 resulted from their share of the total U.S. farm commodity exports.

In fiscal marketing year 1978 (and all reports indicate fiscal 1979 agricultural exports may be up $5 to $6 billion above last year), Nebraskans exported $1.33 billion worth of farm products. Considering that total cash receipts from crop and livestock marketings in Nebraska amounted to $4.6 billion, this means that more than 28 percent of Nebraska farm and ranch income was attributable to foreign sales.

Noteworthy too is the fact that the 1978 total was $331 million above the 1977 export figure which was just slightly over $1 billion. The upturn in Nebraska farm and ranch economic conditions during 1978 coincided with the increase in the export total for the state.

In fiscal 1978, U.S. farm exports totaled $27.3 billion, 14 percent over the previous year. Nebraska ranked 8th among the 10 major exporting states which had overseas sales of farm products amounting to $16.5 billion. The ranking was in this order: Illinois, Iowa, Texas, California, Minnesota, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Ohio. Soybeans, feed grains, wheat, cotton and tobacco comprised 71 percent of the total U.S. agricultural export value in fiscal 1978.

Of the top 10 states, Nebraska ranked third in feed grains exports with $721.5 million worth, sixth in wheat and wheat products exports with $221.9 million worth, and fifth in exports of hides and skins with exports amounting to $43 million.

Of the 10 states, Nebraska was fourth in exports of meats and meat preparations with $44.8 million going to overseas customers; and the state was third in exports of lard and tallow with $39.7 million.

Nebraska is not in the top 10 as a soybean producer, but its share of soybean exports in 1978 climbed to $148 million as compared to $85.8 million in 1977. The 1978 figures list $92.5 million worth of miscellaneous exports during the year and this figure would undoubtedly include a sizable amount for dry edible beans of which the state is a major producer and exporter of both Great Northern and Pinto varieties.

A ranking of 8th place in agricultural exports gives Nebraska farmers both an interest and a stake in the action Congress takes in ratification of the multilateral trade negotiation agreements. U.S. negotiators admit that they did not get all the concessions they wanted for agricultural producers in the agreements but most informed observers feel that what they achieved is a start on reducing trade barriers to U.S. agricultural products in both Japan and Western European countries.

Trade negotiators will argue that acceptance of the agreements for the present is infinitely preferable to touching off a protectionist trade war which can alienate the nation's best farm customers. Realists continually stress that international trade is a two-way street. While the U.S. is the world's largest and most dependable source of agricultural supplies, there are other producers and the competition is keen.

Only in the production of agricultural products does the U.S. have a clear cut edge over other countries in its balance of trade figures and the fact that farm exports continue to climb indicates that we must be doing some things right. Eight nations in 1978 exceeded $1 billion in imports of U.S. agricultural products topped by Japan's $4.4 billion and followed in order by The Netherlands, $2.3 billion; Soviet Union, $1.7 billion; Canada, $1.6 billion; West Germany, $1.5 billion; South Korea, $1.1 billion; United Kingdom, $1.1 billion and Italy, $1 billion.

They are our best customers and good old Yankee common sense says treat customers with respect and appreciation and try to sell them even more.

Another takeover attempt

If you like how your mail is delivered, how your taxes and prices keep going up and how federal policy saved you from an energy crisis, you will leap for joy over the latest Washington takeover scheme. It's far more likely, however, that — like most Americans — you would oppose further regulation of business activity affecting consumers, workers and taxpayers.

Proposed by a powerful group of pro-labor members in Congress, the federal takeover plan would federalize the present state system of workers' compensation programs, which provide employer-paid benefits to help offset income lost due to injury on the job.

States have been successfully running these systems for more than 60 years, sparing both employers and their employees the expense and aggravation of lawsuits that otherwise might arise in injury cases.

Under a Senate bill (S. 420) the present system would be supplanted by a federal program establishing minimum federal standards and benefit levels for all states to follow.

Why substitute federal control now? What new infinite wisdom is there that the federal government could do a better job?

None. As a matter of fact, the state systems operating under 50 different state laws — each tailored to a state's needs and economy — are constantly being improved. True, in 1972, a national commission found a number of shortcomings.

Since then, according to a survey by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, nearly 1,500 amendments have been added to the state laws, upgrading benefits and making other improvements to overcome the 1972 complaints.

Could the federal government do a better job? The fact is, that it has not. Under a law enacted in 1916, the federal government operates the compensation system covering federal employees, which in 1980 will pay out an estimated $1 billion in benefits.

In 1976, a House investigating committee found that the federal program was managed so poorly that it lacked "the data necessary to accurately determine the effects of changes in the law or to refute charges of widespread abuse."

In other words, it was in no position to control or properly administer the handling of millions of dollars. Under these circumstances it comes as no surprise that benefits have grown dramatically. From 1970 through fiscal 1977, these benefits jumped by more than 315 percent — from $131 million to $455 million.

Matters are little better today. Judging from a recent General Accounting Office (GAO) study made for Congress, the Department of Labor, which handles the program, has failed ever since 1974 to devise and put in effect a vitally needed computerized system of handling the benefit funds.

Here is what a GAO official recently said in Congressional testimony when he reviewed the GAO study's findings: Five years have passed since ESA (the Employment Standards Administration, a part of the labor department) began to develop its computer system, and over $6 million has been spent by ESA in attempting to develop the system. However, very little progress has been made. As of March 1979, despite three separate attempts to develop the system, only 2 of 28 processing steps have been computerized and only one of six management requirements have been partially satisfied.

The department's efforts, the GAO official added, have been "plagued with problems and have suffered from a lack of management control and coordination."

"Even now there appears to be considerable doubt and confusion as to the future action this development effort will take," the official stated.

Do we want to entrust our state programs to the U.S. Department of Labor? U.S. Senator Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) has predicted that enactment of S. 420 or similar legislation "will quickly lead to a total breakdown of our state system of workers' compensation."

It is "small wonder," says the Chamber in its newsletter, Congressional Action, that "at least one state governor has vowed to disassemble his state workers' compensation system if federalization ever does become a reality."

WHO IS WATCHING THE HEN HOUSE?

Dr. Jack Carlson, chief economist of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, reminds taxpayers that government policies not only create inflation but also make government a major beneficiary of inflation.

While the federal income and Social Security taxes were rising 11.2 percent, from March 1978, to March 1979, average pay for production workers rose only 8.4 percent. Federal taxes rose 33 percent faster than the average weekly earnings of these workers, he said.

Soil Stewardship Week

The world, as it is known today, could not exist without a fruitful agriculture and hopefully people will observe Soil Stewardship Week being celebrated in Nebraska and throughout the United States on May 26-27, according to officials of the Soil Conservation Service and the Nebraska Association of Resources Districts.

SCS State Conservationist, Benny Martin, and Association Executive Director, Lee Orton, said the theme for the 1979 celebration is "Interdependence." The theme has also been endorsed by President Carter.

Americans have always understood the value of working together to achieve common goals," President Carter said. "We have learned that unity of purpose and mutual dependence are essential to our growth as a society of self-governing people."

It is especially fitting, therefore, that interdependence of city and country, of Americans and their resources, and of man and nature... is the theme of Soil Stewardship Week in 1979. Our nation can be thankful for our progress in repairing the damage we have done to our environment. But that is only a start. To achieve greater harmony with nature, we must continue to seek harmony with one another," said the President.

The concept of Soil Stewardship began some 1,500 years ago when the Bishop of Vienne, France set aside several special days following bad weather and earthquakes that brought crop failures and widespread hunger to France. The Bishop called upon the people to offer prayers and penance, and to offer humble thanks to their creator "for the priceless gifts of soil, water, air and sunshine, which make all living things possible."

In parts of the southern United States and earlier in this century, a few churches and their congregations began to set aside the fifth Sunday after Easter as Soil and Soul Sunday. In 1946 that name was changed to Soil Stewardship Sunday at the suggestion of the Farm and Ranch magazine.

Magazine officials suggested to religious leaders in a number of southern states that one Sunday be set aside each year for a special reminder to their congregations about the ethical obligations of all people to serve as responsible stewards of the land.

The response of the clergy and laymen was so warm that the Soil Stewardship Sunday observances quickly spread to other churches and states.

In 1955 the National Association of Conservation Districts began sponsoring the observance on a nationwide basis. A year later in an effort to consolidate similar events on many church calendars, Soil Stewardship Sunday was changed to Soil Stewardship Week. The change provided greater latitude in church timing for the observance. Soil Stewardship Week now always begins the fifth Sunday after Easter and continues through the sixth Sunday.

The Soil Stewardship Week observance, according to its sponsors, is one to be joined in by everyone who shares a personal responsibility for the care of soil, water and other elements that make up the environment.

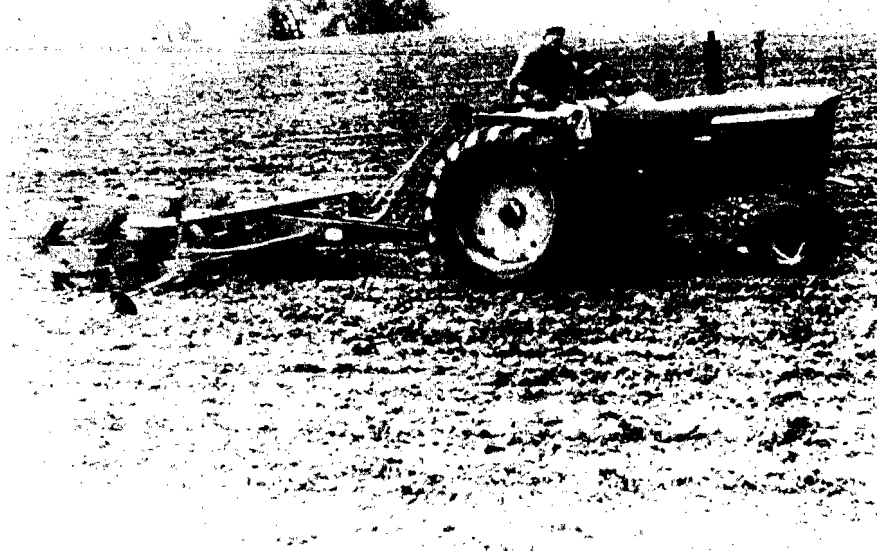

Corn Planting Delayed But Cutworms Laying Eggs

Cool, wet weather this spring has delayed corn planting in some areas of Nebraska, but even so, cutworms soon will be a problem again for many farmers.

Bob Roselle, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension entomologist, said farmers should be checking their fields for feeding on small plants soon after emergence. They should look for plants sliced off at or below ground level and then check the soil six to eight inches from the damaged plants. If they find a worm the color of the soil which curls when removed from the ground, cutworms are the culprit.

Roselle said two types of cutworms can infest fields: Dark-sided cutworms usually cause the first damage as they over-winter in fields and feed as soon as the corn emerges. Black cutworms lay their eggs in the spring and destroy plants later in the season.

According to Roselle, conditions ideal for cutworm infestation are fields with lots of debris, fields with weedy growth in the early spring, and farm ground located near permanent

AREA FARMERS are busy planting crops in their fields this week as the weather is cooperating. Rain earlier in the season delayed planting forcing farmers to run behind schedule

types of brushy vegetation. Treatment of cutworms is determined by the percent injury sustained in the fields. If over five percent of the plants are damaged, rescue treatment would pay, Roselle said. Four insecticides and a bait are currently recommended for treating cutworms. Lorsban, a relatively new chemical, is either air broadcast or sprayed using ground equipment. Sevin, Dylax and Toxaphene are three band sprays used over the corn rows. They are a more concentrated form of insecticide, said Roselle. Sevin bait also may be used, but is more expensive, he said.

If the ground is extremely dry, the insecticides will not control the cutworms satisfactorily, Roselle said. "It may help to rotary hoe the field before or immediately after (application) in order to get those worms up so they get into the material (insecticide) itself," Roselle said.

Concord Offers Insect Program
Nebraska 4-H'ers interested in how to detect corn insect pests should plan to attend the second annual 4-H Insect Corn Field Scout training program to be held in June, at Concord or Lincoln.

Program coordinator Lloyd Andersen, an entomologist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, said the biology of corn pests, techniques for scouting crop acreage, reporting procedures and future job opportunities in insect control will be taught at the training sessions.

The schedule for the 4-H Insect Corn Field Scout Training programs: June 1 — North east Station, Concord; June 12 — UNL Plant Industry Building on the University's East Campus. The sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. Dates and places for sessions at the South Central Station, the Panhandle Station and in Nuckolls County are to be announced.

Although there is no fee or formal registration Andersen recommended that interested 4-H members contact their local county agent about their intent to attend the sessions.

GARDEN INSECTS
The insect season is upon us and this means problems for the home gardener. I have a suggestion that will help solve at least part of that problem. In our office we have a bulletin entitled, "Insect Control Recommendations for Vegetables in the Home Garden."

GARDEN WEED CONTROL
There are two methods of weed control — cultivation and use of herbicides. Each has advantages but are not perfect by themselves. A combination of the methods will show the greatest effect.

GERANIUMS
For geraniums to be grown in the window box or in beds during summer, a moderately fertile friable soil is preferred over a very rich soil. Strong fertilizer should be avoided. Moderate growth produces the best flowers. Too much water and fertilizer during hot weather will also encourage growth of the foliage and will lower the quality and number of flowers.

MULCHES
Adding mulches around the plants or along the rows adds another measure of weed control as well as a means of holding moisture in the soil. Adding mulches such as sawdust, straw or grass clippings after the herbicide has been applied will not hurt the vegetables.

Many times it can extend the effective life of the herbicide. When using grass clippings, be sure no volatile herbicide such as 2,4-D has been applied to the grass recently. When sprayed clippings are used as mulch, some damage may be observed on tomatoes, beans and other vegetables.

Neighbors Plover
At Karlberg Farm

Neighbors and relatives plowed 85 acres at the Marilyn Karlberg farm near Allen on May 16. Karlberg was injured in an accident last March.

The Ladies Aid of the First Lutheran Church prepared dinner for the men.

Fewer Ag Students Farming

Slightly fewer 1979 agriculture graduates are returning to farming and ranching than in previous years due to financial strains in farming and attractive salaries offered by agribusiness firms, according to Dr. T.E. Hartung, dean of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Agriculture.

However, he predicted that agribusiness will have to recruit more intensively to draw future agriculture graduates away from family ranches and farms.

Marialice Renard, placement director for the College of Agriculture, said that 27 to 30 percent of 1979 agriculture graduates will return to farming or ranching, down from the 37 percent who returned to farming in 1972 through 1974. But Hartung said the increasing demand for agriculture graduates will mean harder work ahead for company personnel recruiters.

Job opportunities in agribusiness, ag finance, marketing, sales and swine confinement management far outnumber graduates, with two to three job openings per graduate, he pointed out. Demand also is increasing for vocational agriculture instructors.

Renard said 22 to 25 percent of ag college graduates will enter business or agriculture related fields and 15 percent will opt for advanced studies in graduate school. Another 15 percent will be employed by government agencies and 6 to 7 percent will teach vocational agriculture.

Hartung said that about 90 percent of ag college graduates will remain in the state following graduation, up from the 65 to 70 percent who stayed in Nebraska five years ago. He attributed the increase to the growth of Nebraska agriculture and expansion of productive capacity.

Nebraska Ag Exports Third

Nebraska was the third highest state nationally in per capita agricultural exports in fiscal year 1977, according to an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources agricultural economist.

Everett Peterson, extension ag economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said that Nebraska's share of U.S. agricultural exports in fiscal year 1977 totaled an estimated $988 million, three and one-half times the fiscal year 1972 level.

The state ranked seventh nationally in total agricultural exports, he said.

Food grain sales, totaling $548 million, accounted for 55 percent of the state's total agricultural exports in fiscal year 1977. The UNL staff member said. These shipments were more than five times greater in value than five years previously. Wheat and flour were the second largest exports from the state, followed by soybeans. Together, these products accounted for an additional 20 percent of Nebraska overseas farm sales.

Other commodities reported in substantial value were hides, lard and tallow, and meat. The value of each amounting to about $40 million.

The steady growth in exports of agricultural products from fiscal year 1972 to 1977 accounted for 63 percent of the increase in farm product sales. Peterson added. During the period the export contribution in each dollar of the state's farm receipts increased from 12 to 27 cents.

4-H Horse Show Dates Announced

The deadline for entries to the 1979 series of district 4-H horse shows and two horsemanship level III shows started for late June and early July is fast approaching, according to R.B. Warren, extension 4-H horse specialist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Warren said performance class entries for the district shows which are also the qualifying rounds for the Fanner Park Nebraska State 4-H Horse Exposition July 16-19 in Grand Island must be received by the district's county extension agent no later than noon June 5.

He added that the same June 5 deadline applies to all halter horse and showmanship entries for the state horse expo and that exhibitors may enter two horses in halter and one in showmanship for that show.

Warren emphasized that before participating in the performance classes in the state contest, 4-H'ers must have won purple or blue ribbons at a district show.

To compete in the district shows, contestants must be between 12 and 19 years old as of Jan. 1, 1979 and also have passed the 4-H horsemanship level III course by June 1. The horse specialist added that level III (horsemanship) requirements must also be passed by June 1 by those wishing to enter the horsemanship level shows at York July 9 and at North Platte July 10.

Agronomy Day Set For June 18

June 18 will be the date of the 1979 Agronomy Field Day to be held at the University of Nebraska Field Laboratory near Mead, according to Don Hanway, professor of agronomy in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

He said that visitors can observe research plots of wheat, alfalfa and grasses on the morning tour, which begins at 9:30 a.m. After lunch, those attending may choose to visit additional research areas, according to their interests, he added.

Irrigation Scheduling

LENRD with the Cooperative Extension Service will soon begin the third year of Irrigation Hotline reports. The reports are part of an irrigation scheduling program to help irrigators do a more efficient job and to conserve our precious natural resources.

The hotline broadcasts will begin June 4 on three area radio stations:
WJAG-780-Norfolk
KHUB-1340-Fremont
KTCH-1590-Wayne

The broadcasts will continue through the irrigation season, with updates two or three times a week.

Hotline telephones will not be used in 1979, however, the crop water use information will be available weekly to area newspapers.

Weather stations located near Battle Creek, Concord and Oakland are read daily by Extension or NRD personnel. These weather stations record amounts of rainfall, wind, sunlight, relative humidity and temperatures. This information is then processed by the AGNET computer system in Lincoln, to find the amount of soil moisture used by the crops daily.

This information then is contained in the hotline broadcasts, to enable the scheduling of irrigations. If a farmer knows the soil type of his irrigated field, he can find the moisture holding capacity of the top three feet of soil. The following table shows averages and shouldn't be used in calculations:

Well Regulations

WHAT WELLS SHOULD BE REGISTERED?

All wells, except those used solely for domestic purposes, must be registered within thirty days after completion. The owner of the well is responsible for registering the well. Registration forms may be obtained from the Department of Water Resources Office in Lincoln or Norfolk, Nebraska.

SPACING REQUIREMENTS FOR IRRIGATION AND MUNICIPAL WELLS

No irrigation well shall be drilled within 600 feet of an existing irrigation well. This does not apply to a landowner putting additional wells on his own land, as long as the wells are not within 600 feet of neighboring landowners wells.

No irrigation, municipal, or industrial well shall be drilled within 1000 feet of an existing municipal well, nor will a municipal well be drilled within 1000 feet of an existing irrigation or industrial well.

However, an individual may ask the Department of Water Resources to waive these spacing requirements for a specific case.

Soil Texture	Average Available Water (in.)
	1 ft.	2 ft.	3 ft.
loamy sand	1.3	2.5	3.7
sandy loam	1.7	3.2	4.8
silt loam	2.6	5.1	7.6
silty clay loam	2.6	4.9	7.2

The moisture blocks in heavy soils or tensiometers in sandy soil can be used to calculate the amount of water taken out of the soil profile. The daily crop water use obtained from the weather stations can then be used to determine when to irrigate again and how much water to apply. When irrigation water is applied, it should not entirely fill up the soil profile. In this way you can save irrigation water by taking advantage of rainfall.

In these times of energy shortage and high energy costs, irrigation scheduling can help farmers conserve energy while increasing profit margins.

PUMPING PLANT EFFICIENCY

Irrigation Pumping Plant Efficiency is another area that can save money and fuel. Nebraska Performance Standards have been set up to gauge the efficiency of a pumping plant and determine if a savings can be gained by repairing or readjusting it.

Deon Axthelm, University of Nebraska, conducted a study in one NRD to determine how many irrigation pumping plants were operating at or above the Nebraska Performance Standard. The number of wells tested was 5,565 and the following table shows the results.

% of Wells	Above	501	no problem operation
9%	90-100%	835	acceptable improvement possible
35%	75-89%	1947	improvement very possible
32%	50-75%	1781	unacceptable
9%	49%-less	501

"KEEP THE BALANCE"

Cattle & Hog Prices
Co-op Feed Savings
Farm Management

With the higher cattle prices and lower marketing hog prices, your Co-op is offering a special $1.00 per ton off on all corn and soy meals. This offer is in effect until June 10 to be sure to take advantage of these special low prices. It's our way of helping to keep the balance in farm management costs.

TRI COUNTY CO-OP
Ladell - Randolph - Winslow

Sunshine Kids

The Sunshine Kids met in the home of Scott Nichols on May 18. Roll call was one thing that has come up in the garden. Minutes were read and approved.

The leader, Daniel Sukup, reminded the club that on June 8-10 there will be a mini 4-H camp at Wayne State College for 11-13 year-olds.

The club filled out the activity books and Susie Luft taught them a song.

Michelle Luft gave a demonstration on how to make a bed. Casey Nichols read 18 bicycle safety rules.

The next meeting will be June 15 in the home of Jeff and Cheryl Sukup.

Modern Misses 4-H Club
The Modern Misses 4-H Club met in the home of Judy Bauer meister May 8. There were five members and three mothers present.

Carman Reeg led the 4-H pledge. The club discussed the theme booth and the record book.

Judy Bauermeister received a purple ribbon and Dawn Carstens received a blue ribbon in the Wayne County Speech Contest.

The club made favors for the hospital. Carman Reeg took cookies she made for her project.

The next meeting will be June 5 in the home of Dawn Carstens.

Hi-Raters Boys 4-H Club
The Hi-Raters Boys 4-H Club met with perfect attendance at the May 10 meeting. Roll call was answered with a favorite sport.

Entertainment was led by Mark and Michelle Kubik. The club decided to paint and clean-up around the LaPorte cupola. Volunteers will work on May 19 or May 26 depending on the weather.

The club's family potluck picnic and swimming party will be held June 24 at the swimming pool shelter house at 1 p.m. A definite date for the club's fishing camp-out will be decided at the June meeting.

Lunch was served by Leon Deum and John Anderson. Mothers were special guests.

The next meeting will be June 14 at Grace Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. Demonstrations will be given by Marc Rahn, Dale Droeschler, Steven Rethwisch and Stuart Rethwisch.

Wayne Peppy Pals 4-H Club
The Wayne Peppy Pals 4-H Club met May 16. Before the meeting Blaine Johs led a game.

Roll call was a theme booth idea. Members chose Dean Fuelberth's ideas to be used at the county fair.

Mrs. Darrel Fuelberth led the practice for the song contest. A talk on alcohol was given by Anita Sandahl.

Demonstration talks were by Dean Fuelberth on the first liquid fuel rocket, and Bret Fuelberth on Goddard's second try. Following the demonstrations, the club had project meetings.

The Carroll Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club met Wednesday evening and played ball at the Winslow ball park.

Lunch was served in the home of Mrs. Mary Lou George.

The next meeting will be June 20 in the Dennis Bowers home.

Future Feeders
The Future Feeders 4-H Club met May 7 at the Northeast Station with 10 members present. Members appointed Jeff Carlson, Lon Swanson and Layne Johnson to head construction of the group project.

The club decided that dues will be $1 per member.

The club viewed slides of different types of fish and saw a film, entitled "Happiness is 4-H".

The Nelsons and Swansons served lunch.

Next meeting will be June 4 at 6 p.m. in the Verl Carlson home. Each member is to bring a pie, one and a half inches in diameter by three feet long, and a paint brush. Carlsons and Herrmans will serve lunch.

SPOTLIGHT ON WEEDS

LEAFY SPURGE
DESCRIPTION
Leafy Spurge is a persistent deep rooted perennial which reproduces by seeds and roots. The stems are eight to thirty six inches tall and are stiff and woody at maturity. The main stem may be surrounded by eight to ten secondary stems giving a clumpy appearance. The bluish green leaves are long and narrow with smooth or slightly wavy margins.

The small flowers are borne on a short stalk above two large showy heart shaped bracts which are generally mistaken for flower petals. Three seeds may be produced in each flower which liberally explodes on maturity throwing the seeds as far as fifteen feet. The seeds may remain viable for at least five years. Seedling plants generally do not flower the first year. Some roots may penetrate to depths of twelve feet.

The reddish brown roots produce a multitude of pink buds which are capable of producing new plants up to three feet away from the motherplant. Six tons of roots as short as 1/2 inch may give rise to new plants. All parts of the plant contain a milky sap which may cause severe irritation to human skin.

CONTROL
In pastureland use one quart of 2,4-D plus one pint Banvel in early bud stage in spring or late fall. A spring treatment followed by a fall retreatment may be necessary with bad infestations. Leafy spurge in cropland can generally be eradicated by two years of continuous cultivation. The infested areas should be cultivated three to four inches deep every time the leafy spurge is three to four inches tall (maximum) or about every two to three weeks depending on growing conditions.

Cultivation should continue from early spring to freeze up in the fall. Care should be taken so that small pieces of roots are not carried to uninfested areas. Cultivation should be done on hot days whenever possible as roots will be killed if exposed to temperatures of 86 degrees Fahrenheit or more for several hours.

SPECIAL REMARKS
Leafy Spurge is a very persistent weed and may take several years of vigorous effort to control.

Perhaps one of the most insidious and costly weeds now before Congress would levy an import duty on foreign sugar that is being dumped on U.S. markets a step that would enrich the U.S. Treasury by $105 million for each penny of duty, and which would tend to return stability of sugar prices to the U.S. consumer.

Lightning Strikes

Home Near Laurel

Laurel Volunteer Firemen extinguished a house fire last Thursday on the Lowell Burns farm located one mile east of the Laurel Weigh Station.

Mrs. Burns was in the basement when lightning struck both the house and a nearby tree.

"Because of the quick response by Laurel firemen," said Mrs. Burns, "most of the damage was confined to the north bedroom of the home and the roof. There was also some smoke and water damage.
