

Motorists Buying Smaller Cars Here As Gasoline Prices Continue Rise

Drivers in northeast Nebraska are buying smaller automobiles at a faster rate than ever before, but not to the degree people are buying them in many areas of the country. According to car dealers in Wayne, small car sales are up but their production is behind, forcing buyers to wait at the bottom of long lists before their cars arrive. Sales of small cars vary from one car dealer to another. It was discovered through a Wayne Herald survey this week.

One car dealer reports his business is selling approximately 40 percent compact and intermediate cars and about 60 percent full-size cars. Compact car sales are up about 10 percent from last year. However, another dealer reported about 30 percent of his car sales have been compact and subcompacts. Some 40 percent of the sales involved intermediate and full-sized automobiles.

Lengthy wait

While buyers are waiting up to several months for their small cars to arrive, buyers of full-size cars are receiving their orders without delay. With the country following a trend to small car sales, full-size car demand is lower and production has tapered off, decreasing the waiting period, dealers say.

"People do a lot of talking about small cars and a lot of looking at small cars, but big car sales have held up well," one dealer said. "Big cars offer comfort and convenience that can't be found in the smaller cars and they get better mileage than they ever have. People who want a big car are buying now because they know they won't be able to buy one in a few years."

Another car dealer pointed out that full-size cars have been reduced in size and are getting almost as many miles per gallon as smaller cars.

"Some of the companies have down-sized the big cars and they get about 46 percent better gas mileage than before," the dealer stated. "In the major metropolitan areas, small cars make up 60 to 70 percent of all car sales. I think that figure in this area is about as high as it will be. There will still be a large percentage of big car buyers in this area. Some people can buy bigger cars and get 20 to 23 miles per gallon and they're happy."

Small is economical

The main reason car buyers are turning to small cars is obvious — they use less gasoline. With gasoline prices rising and availability in question, drivers are turning to more economical ways of life.

However, one dealer pointed out that many people buy compact cars simply because they are cheaper in initial investment. Costs of large cars range from hundreds to thousands of dollars above the cost of smaller, more economical cars.

The Wayne dealers all agreed that more people are buying small cars but indicated small cars are not for everyone. So, while small car sales skyrocket across the United States, figures indicate that northeast Nebraska sales also will increase, but at a slower pace. And drivers, who order small cars, will continue to wait because of delayed production.

THE PRICE on the gas pump tells the story. Gas prices continue to rise and car buyers are purchasing smaller cars to save gas and money. Prices for regular gasoline soared as high as 90.9 cents per gallon in Wayne and continue to increase.

Small Tornado Sighted Area Escapes Major Storm Damage

Wayne County apparently missed the brunt of a strong, late-spring storm cell that swept through the Midwest Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The only area report Wednesday morning of any serious damage was at the Robert West farm some 3 1/2 miles east of Wayne on US 35.

Mrs. West said a small tornado is believed to have dropped from the clouds about 5 p.m., damaging three windows, several trees and a corn crib. There were no injuries to either her or her three children. The windows were broken out, she reported, and the glass damaged furniture and walls in two rooms. There also was some water damage.

In addition, a small corn crib north of the house was flattened and several road signs and trees in the area were damaged.

According to Mrs. West, Breck Geise, a neighbor, was working in the field near there when he saw an apparent funnel cloud. He attempted to phone the West family but was not in time.

"It hit so fast we're just thankful no one was hurt," Mrs. West said.

There were no official sightings of any funnel clouds by either the Wayne County Sheriff's Department or the Wayne Police Department. Mostly trees

Damage in the rest of the county was confined to downed trees, tree limbs and a few downed electrical wires.

Bill Mellor, superintendent of distribution at the Wayne Electrical Department, said there were no power outages despite reports of trees and limbs across wires.

A spokesman for the Wayne Street Department confirmed those reports, saying damage was mostly minor and was mostly downed tree limbs.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. here added that damage was minor and was no worse than during a typical rain storm.

Storm predicted

The storm which is now centered over Michigan and Indiana was well documented and predicted for this area Tuesday evening.

Thunderstorm and tornado watches and warnings were issued for most of Nebraska and Iowa by early Tuesday afternoon and the front edge of the cell struck Wayne shortly before 5 p.m.

Reports indicated wind gusts were in excess of 50 miles per hour in some areas of Wayne and the unofficial rainfall for here was 1.75 inches.

Region IV Has New Director

John Corcoran, 44, who spent two years as a history professor at Wayne State College, has been named Executive Director of Region IV Office of Developmental Disabilities, 114 W. Third St.

His appointment was effective June 11 and he succeeds Mary Ann Brenden who resigned earlier.

A native of Portland, Maine, Corcoran received masters and bachelors degrees in history from Arkansas State University, and acquired several hours toward his doctorate at Texas Tech.

John Corcoran

After spending four years in the US Air Force, he worked in administration for the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for seven years in Germany.

Corcoran was a history teacher at WSC from 1971 to 1973 and then worked with the Comprehensive Employment Training Act program (CETA) at Northeast Nebraska Technical College in Norfolk from 1973-76. After that, he worked through the University of Nebraska in adult and continuing education.

Corcoran said Region IV covers counties in northeast Nebraska including Wayne, Dixon and Cedar.

Region IV, as do the other six regions in Nebraska, provides a variety of services for the mentally retarded. "The idea is to assist clients to the point where they develop to their highest potential," he explained.

Corcoran said an individual program plan is developed for each client to provide a 1-on-1 relationship. In working with the clients, a 3-track plan for gradual progression is implemented. This includes basic skills, basic living skills and basic employment skills.

The former Wayne resident, who now lives in Stanton, said there are six regions across the state. Funds are provided by the state, through county assessment and through Title 20.

Corcoran and his wife, Katherine, have two children, John, 15, and Kate 4. Katherine is secretary for the Northeast Technical College President and Board of Governors.

Farm Ladies Luncheon Scheduled for June 28

Wayne Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice President Gary Van Meter said Tuesday that almost 400 tickets are being sent to area farm wives who have registered to attend the annual Farm Ladies Appreciation Luncheon Thursday, June 28.

The Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event begins at 12:30 p.m. at the Wayne State College Student Center.

Van Meter said the free luncheon is being held for all area farm wives and women who register by today (Thursday) at one of the sponsoring Wayne businesses. Women who register will receive their tickets in the mail.

Co-chairmen for this year's event are Rozan Pedersen and Sheryl Marra. Several other Wayne area women are working with the chairmen to prepare for the luncheon.

Theme for the program, which will be emceed by Mrs. Marra, is "Country Garden Party," and will include musical selections by the Treble Clef Singers of the First Methodist Church of Wayne, accompanied by Varda Morris.

Speaking during the afternoon will be Mrs. Betty Majors of Osceola. Mrs. Majors is the national president of WIFE (Women Involved in Farm Economics), which has over 700 members in 13 states.

Welcoming the women will be Glen Ellington, president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Dwaine Rethwisch, an area farm wife, will give the response. The invocation will be given by Mary Edmonds.

Mrs. Marra said there will also be door prizes.

In past years, the luncheon saluting farm women has proven to be a success, with nearly 500 attending. The first luncheon was held in 1974.

Women working with the co-chairmen for this year's luncheon are Debbie Rise, Cindy Nigh, Donna Ewing, Jennifer Carney, Claudia Koeber, Phyllis Leach, Jan Brown, Jackie Dietman, Sandra Elliott and Anita Fuelberth.

WOMEN WORKING ON THE committee for this year's Farm Ladies Appreciation Luncheon have been busy this week preparing reservations for the annual event. Sorting out registrations recently at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce office were, from left, Cindy Nigh, Sandra Elliott and Donna Ewing. Farm women who have not yet registered are urged to do so by today (Thursday) at one of the sponsoring Wayne businesses. The luncheon will be held at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, June 28, at the Wayne State College Student Center.

Mini-bus Should Begin Rounds July 2

The Wayne Senior Citizen mini-bus will be in operation by July 2 if a driver can be found, reports Jocell Bull, director and coordinator of activities, programs and services for the Senior Citizen Center.

Mrs. Bull said the bus arrived in late April but had to be licensed, inspected and a hydraulic wheel chair lift added before it was ready for use. The sign was added last week, she reports.

The mini-bus will provide Wayne residents 60 years of age and over with transportation for doctor and business appointments, grocery and drug stores, the Senior Citizen Center, visiting friends, shopping and other uses.

The bus also will be used to transport the handicapped.

Matching funds

The bus was purchased with funds received through a Title 3 grant application and with matching funds from the city of Wayne. Title 3 funds came from Northeast Nebraska Agency on Aging (NENAA). Total amount from both sources was $12,600.

In addition, Mrs. Bull said another $8,847 was received for operation of the bus for a year.

The 15-passenger Dodge Maxi-Van includes an automatic wheel chair lift and is air conditioned. It will travel within the Wayne city limits and to the Wayne Municipal Airport, and will be used for out-of-town trips on occasion, she added.

The bus is sponsored by the (NENAA) and will operate from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Schedule

Persons wishing to use the bus for transportation must contact the Senior Citizen Center at least 24 hours ahead of time. The bus will then make its rounds each day to the locations requested through appointments, Mrs. Bull said.

Although there is not a required fee, Mrs. Bull said a donation of 25 cents will be suggested. This will help defray operation expenses.

Applications are now being accepted at her office at 306 Pearl St. City Hall basement.

The bus has been used for several minor projects and was used to take several senior citizens to the Senior Citizen June Filing in Lincoln June 6.

For more information, contact Mrs. Bull at 375-1460.

JOCHELL BULL, director and coordinator of activities, programs and services for the Wayne Senior Citizens Center, stands next to the hydraulic wheelchair lift on the new mini-bus. The new transportation system for Wayne senior citizens should be in operation by July 2.

News in Brief

Chamber Plans Surprise Coffee

Chamber of Commerce members are urged to attend another "surprise coffee" this Friday to honor an unsuspecting personality in Wayne.

Members are urged to meet at the Wayne Fire Station at 10 a.m. for the ride on the old fire truck, courtesy of Paul Roope. The truck will leave at 10:10 promptly.

The Allen Board of Education met this month and set the free high tuition at $3,400 for the 1979-80 school year. The tuition rate for kindergarten through eighth grade, was set at $14.00, plus $200 transportation.

Jan Marie Tuerk June Bride of Philip Dalton

Jan Marie Tuerk and Philip Edward Dalton were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Saturday at the Presbyterian Church of the Cross in Omaha.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Tuerk of West Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Joyce Dalton of Laurel.

Honor attendants were Julie Tuerk of Omaha and Michael Dalton of Laurel.

Bridesmaids were Sandy Tuerk, Debbie Tuerk, Dana Lewis and Sara Parks, all of Omaha, and Cindy Schroeder of Wall Lake, Ia. Groomsman were Don Dalton and Mark Anderson, both of Laurel. Bill Dalton of Dodge, Paul Todesco of Omaha and Gregg Wendell of Wayne.

Ushers were Jim Lake, Robin Gade, Kevin Gade and Bill Susler. Lighting candles were Deanna DeSmet and Renee DeSmet, both of Omaha.

The Rev. Ralph Gerber of Omaha officiated at the ceremony. Soloist was Susan Hogan of Kearney and organist was Dana Sloan of Omaha. Jessica Tuerk and Angela Todesco were flower girls.

For her wedding day the bride selected a white floor-length gown of chantlaine. A ruffle of Cluny and Venice lace adorned the high neckline, and small pleats and Cluny lace enhanced the ruffle on the fitted bodice. The cuffs were of chantlaine. Scalloped lace-edged tiers formed the satin ribbon at the waistline. The chapel-length train was edged in lace. Matching lace highlighted the headpiece and formed a scalloped edge on the fingertip veil. She carried white roses, lily, and pink and blue carnations.

The bridesmaids' layered dresses were of dusty rose polyester. The sleeveless top layer, designed with a high neckline and front gathers, extended to the knee, over a long skirt. They carried pink roses and blue and white carnations.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and his attendants were attired in blue tuxedos.

About 300 guests, registered by Bobbie Hanglely of Omaha, attended a reception afterward at the Ramada Inn Central in Omaha. The cake was cut and served by Carla Danielson and Janet Lehmkuhl, both of Omaha.

The bride was graduated from high school in 1974 and attended Wayne State College. The bridegroom, a 1975 graduate of Laurel High School, plans to graduate from Wayne State College in December. He is employed by Doug Nelson of Wayne.

The newlyweds are living at 314 E. Fourth St., Apt. 6, in Wayne.

125 Honor C. R. Wenstrands At Wakefield Covenant Church

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C.R. (Irene) Wenstrand of Wakefield was observed Sunday afternoon at the Evangelical-Covenant Church in Wakefield.

Hosting the open house reception were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wenstrand of Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Mike (Paula) Nanos of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wenstrand of Schaumburg, Ill. There are seven grandchildren.

The 125 guests attended from Red Oak, Stanton, Sioux City and Indianola, Ia.; Longville, Minn.; Schaumburg, Ill.; Wakefield, Lyons, Omaha, Concord, Allen and Wayne.

Guests were registered by grandchildren Sharon Wenstrand of Wakefield, Tim Nanos of Omaha and Peter Wenstrand of Schaumburg, Ill. The guests were greeted by Paula Nanos and Ron Wenstrand.

Alan Wenstrand thanked guests who attended the event. Music included "Bless This House," sung by Nancy Wenstrand, and the anniversary song, sung by the couple's grandchildren. Devotions were by the Rev. E. Neil Peterson. The cake, which was baked by Mrs. Larry Baker of Wakefield, was cut and served by Nancy Wenstrand of Schaumburg, Ill. Mrs. Kenneth Wenstrand of Longville, Minn. poured and Mike Nanos of Omaha served punch.

Waitresses were Mrs. Ronnie Wenstrand and Renee Wenstrand of Wakefield. Women assisting in the kitchen were neighbors of the honored couple, including Mrs. Reuben Johnson, Mrs. Myron Olson and Mrs. Joe Erickson.

Wenstrands were married June 18, 1939, at Red Oak, Ia. They resided on a farm north of Wakefield until 1963 when they moved into town.

Attendants at their wedding, who were present for Sunday's observance, were Kenneth Wenstrand of Longville, Minn., Mrs. Dwight Moser of Indianola, Ia., and Mrs. Harlan Quist of Stanton, Ia.

'Carnival' Auditions Being Held

Auditions for "Carnival," the Wayne Community Theatre's fall musical production, are being held today (Thursday) and Friday in the lecture hall at Wayne High School.

Auditions are scheduled from 4 to 7 p.m. today (Thursday) and from 4 to 6 p.m. on Friday.

"Carnival" is the story of Lilli, a lonely orphan, who is enchanted with the desire to join the dazzling and glamorous carnival. She becomes the pawn in a fierce rivalry for her affection between Marco the Magnificent, the troupe's magician, and Paul Berthelot, a puppeteer with a game leg.

In addition to Lilli, Marco the Magnificent and Paul, there are numerous singing and speaking parts.

Also needed for the production are four roustabouts who set up the carnival, tumble and sing; Jacquot, another puppeteer; B.F. Schlegel, the owner of the carnival; The Incomparable Rosalie, the magician's assistant; Princess Olga, a fortune teller; Gladys and Gloria Twicki, twin acrobats; Greta Schlegel, the owner's wife; Grobert, baker; and Dr. Glass, a veterinarian.

Non-speaking parts include jugglers, harem girls, strong man, aerialists, clowns, a dwarf, wardrobe women, gypsies, and any other specialty acts which would fit into a carnival.

Dr. Helen Russell, a member of the Wayne Community Theatre, said auditions are open to everyone in the Wayne area. "We hope that there is enough interest and enthusiasm in the community to present a spectacular production of 'Carnival' with a cast of 30 or more," said Russell.

Persons who cannot attend scheduled auditions Thursday or Friday should contact Ted Blenderman, 375-1598, to arrange a special time to audition. Blenderman is directing the production.

Dr. Jay O'Leary will be the musical director and Cindy Kelly will be the choreographer.

"Carnival" will be presented as a dinner theatre on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8 and 9.

Wedding Rites at Wayne Unite Wolske-Lambrecht on June 9

The marriage of Debra Sue Wolske to Willis Wayne Lambrecht was solemnized June 9 in rites at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolske of Wayne. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Lambrecht of North Bend.

Guests, registered by Bonnie Muske of South Haven, Mich., were ushered into the church by Don Kruger of North Bend and Francis Clarkson of Norfolk.

Kevin Johnson of North Bend sang "The Wedding Song" and "Follow Me." Accompanist was Mrs. Connie Webber of Wayne. The Rev. Kenneth Edmonds of Wayne and the Rev. Gary Boye of North Bend officiated at the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by Mary Shuster of Wayne, maid of honor, and her sisters, Mrs. Kathy Clarkson of Norfolk and Mrs. Barbara Wenther of Sioux City, as bridesmaids.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Ron Weber of Kearney, best man, and Dennis Joy of Omaha and Greg Kucera of Arvada, Colo. Junior groomsmen, who ushered the mothers of the couple into the church, were Jay Wenther of Sioux City and Jeff Clarkson of Norfolk.

Flower girl was Becky Kruger of North Bend and ring bearer was Mark Wenther of Sioux City. Candles were lighted by Scott Wenther of Sioux City and Scott Muske of South Haven, Mich.

The bride, who was escorted down the aisle by her father, chose a white floor-length empire gown of polyorganza. Re-embroidered venice lace motifs accented the Queen Anne neckline and sheer Gibson Girl sleeves. The semi A-line skirt, with a self fabric flounce, draped softly into an attached chapel train, trimmed with tiny venice lace. A bridal illusion mantilla with matching venice lace completed the bride's ensemble, and she carried a cascade of yellow and pink princess roses, blue daisies and pink miniature carnations accented with white stephanotis, baby's breath, greenery, and long blue and white bridal streamers.

The bride's attendants wore long, blue frocks of polyester angel knit styled with a blouson bodice. Their skirts were designed with sunburst pleats, which draped softly from the waistline. They carried nose gays of blue daisies, pink miniature carnations and yellow pompons accented with baby's breath and long blue streamers.

The bridegroom wore a light blue tuxedo. His boutonniere was a white rose with stephanotis and baby's breath. The rest of the men in the wedding party wore light blue coats with dark blue vests and trousers with light blue shirts and dark blue ties. Their boutonnières were white stephanotis.

Mrs. Wolske selected a floor-length silesta beige dress with an apricot-chiffon cape, and Mrs. Lambrecht chose a dusty rose silesta fashion. Both wore a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sullivan of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harvey of North Bend greeted the 200 guests who attended a reception at the Wayne Country Club following the ceremony.

Connie Kruger of North Bend and Jean Hellman of Bertrand cut and served the cake. Gigi Goblirsch of Omaha poured and Jennifer Shuffelt of Wayne served punch.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Germany and are residing at 711 E. Seventh St., in North Bend.

The bride was graduated from Wayne High School in 1975 and Wayne State College in 1978. She teaches at the Morse Bluff Elementary School. The bridegroom, who is activities director, coach and teacher at North Bend Central Junior-Senior High School, is a 1968 graduate of North Bend High School and a 1972 graduate of Wayne State College.

Reunion at Norfolk

Members of the Herman Buss family, formerly of Hoskins, were in charge of arrangements for the annual Buss reunion held June 10 at a Norfolk park.

Twenty-three relatives attended. Carl Peters and Ann Alderman were the oldest present, and Richard Hansen was the youngest.

The 1980 reunion is slated for the second Sunday in June at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park in Norfolk. The Rudolph Schultz family is on the planning committee.

New Pastor Serving Winside, Carroll

REV. JANET BAERNSTEIN

The Rev. Janet Baernstein delivered her first sermons Sunday at the United Methodist Churches in Winside and Carroll.

Pastor Baernstein moved to Winside last week from the Meadow Grove-Battle Creek Parish, where she had served as minister for the past six months.

A native of Portsmouth, Vir., Pastor Baernstein moved to California with her family at the age of 10 and was graduated from high school at Redlands, Calif.

She attended San Bernardino Valley College in California for two years and LaVerne College, LaVerne, Calif., for two years. Before entering Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill., Pastor Baernstein spent one year in Brethren Volunteer Service, a private volunteer program run by the Church of the Brethren. During that year she was a teacher in a child care center for low income families in Plymouth, Ind.

She was ordained June 9, 1977, at Lincoln and served as assistant pastor for six months at the Chadron United Methodist Church before receiving the Meadow Grove-Battle Creek Parish.

At Ehlers of Wayne, who had served as lay leader of the United Methodist Churches in Winside and Carroll, conducted his last services June 10.

Madison Band Entertains

Madison Senior Citizens Center band members entertained at the Senior Citizens Center in Wayne last Thursday afternoon.

Wayne's Bobbles and Bubbles band also provided music. Alma Splittgerber accompanied a sing-a-long.

Following entertainment, director Joceli Bull gave the Madison band members a tour of the Wayne Senior Citizens Center and explained activities, programs and services it provides to the area.

Visiting from Madison were Harry Kuhn, Minnie Reigle, Martha White, Esther Schultz, Mabel Blanchard, Mabel Beatty, Elsie Rietter, Amelia Blank, Andrew Nelson and director Mrs. Irene Coates.

Also visiting the local Senior Citizens Center Thursday afternoon was Judy Blenderman, assistant public librarian.

Mrs. Blenderman told about the books "Love is a Three Letter Word," "Bomb in the Classroom," "Whatever Happened to Mavis Rooster," "Love Affair with a Cougar," "The San Francisco Earthquake," "19 Steps Up the Mountain" and "Bel Ria."

Mrs. Blenderman also showed a film, entitled "Yesterday's Farm" from the Nebraska Library Commission.

Books may be checked out at the Senior Citizens Center and returned there or to the Wayne Public Library.

Next library hour will be at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 12.

Married at Concord

Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord, was the scene of the 4 o'clock wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Elaine Guern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Guern Sr. of Concord, and Kenny Sanders, son of Mrs. Dorothy Sanders of Laurel.

The newlyweds are making their home at 206 W. First St., in Laurel, where the bride is employed at FAACS and the bridegroom works at Gowery's. The bride was graduated from Laurel-Concord High School in 1978. The bridegroom, a 1976 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, attended Wayne State College.

Nancy Galvin Honored

Nancy Galvin, who will be married June 29 to John Abis, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon at the Dixon United Methodist Church.

Fifty friends and relatives attended from Laurel, Wayne, Norfolk, Dixon and Concord. Decorations were in Daphne rose-and-white.

The program included devotions by Mrs. Oliver Noe, a reading by Margaret Ankeny and a guitar solo by Lori Hartman.

Cheryl Abts and Lisa Galvin assisted with the gifts. Mrs. Harry Gries of Norfolk poured and Mrs. Dave Abts served punch.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ron Ankeny, Mrs. Carol Hlchert, Mrs. Earl Eckert, Mrs. Oliver Noe, Mrs. Wilmer Herrel, Mrs. Dick Hansen, Mrs. Fay Walton, Mrs. Marvin Hartman, Mrs. Gordon Hansen, Mrs. Garold Jewett, Mrs. Marion Quist, Mrs. Gene Quist and Margaret Ankeny.

Annual Club Picnic Held at Wayne Park

We Few Home Extension Club held its annual family picnic June 11 at Bressler Park in Wayne. Hostess was Sandra Wried.

Joni Thomsen was in charge of entertainment, which included foot races, a potato pushing contest, gunny sack races, and an egg throwing contest. Adults and youngsters participated, with trophies awarded to the winners.

Next regular meeting of the club will be with Joni Thomsen on July 9 at 2 p.m. to discuss the fair booth.

Circle Meets

The LWML Evening Circle of Grace Lutheran Church met with 22 members and a guest, Mary Lindahl of Wayne, June 12 at the church.

The lesson included a crossword puzzle on "Sow the Seed." Bonnie Sandahl and Marcine Rohrberg had the program, entitled "LWML and What it Means."

The Circle plans to invite guests to a picnic Sept. 11 at the shelter house at the Wayne swimming pool, at 7 p.m.

FEWER IN POVERTY

More than 3 million Americans climbed out of a state of poverty in the period from 1976 to 1975, Census Bureau statistics reveal.

The poverty level, as defined by government, is an annual income of $5,500 or less for a non-farm family of four persons. In 1970, 27.1 million Americans were below the poverty level, but by 1975 the figure had been trimmed to 22.9 million.

BPW Program, Dinner Meeting Slated Tuesday

The Wayne Business and Professional Womens Club will meet Tuesday night, June 26, for a 6:30 dinner meeting at the Stratton House with the new president, Roberta Wette, conducting the meeting.

Mrs. Wette said there has been a change in the program. Mrs. Lillian Surber, who was scheduled to speak, has a prior commitment and will speak instead at the July meeting.

Presenting the program Tuesday evening will be Tim Boyle, administrator at the Wayne Care Centre. His topic will be "New Horizons on Care of the Aged."

All BPW members are reminded to bring one or more articles for a silent auction to be held at this meeting.

Class B All-State Baseball Honors Are Earned By Area Players

Northeast Nebraska was well-represented when the Omaha World-Herald announced its All-State baseball selections. Sunday. Five players from Wakefield and Wayne were named to the All-State Class B first team and three players from Laurel and Wayne were listed as honorable mention selections.

Wakefield's Doug Starzl was named All-State third baseman for the third consecutive year. To lead the Northeast Nebraska selections, Jeff Zeiss, a Wayne junior, was selected to the first team for the second straight year as an outfielder.

Others selected to the team were Tom Ginn, shortstop from Wayne; Rick Guy, pitcher from Wakefield; and Todd Swigart, utility player from Wakefield. Named to the honorable mention list were: outfielder Russ Gade and catcher Shannon Hopkins of Laurel and outfielder Jerry Goeden of Wayne. All of the northeast Nebraska players were members of teams in the Northeast Nebraska High School Baseball Conference, formed this year.

"I'm most happy that we're getting some recognition in this part of the state," Wakefield coach Joe Coble said about the All-State selections. "When Wayne and Wakefield played in Lincoln and with Wayne playing in the State tournament we got some recognition. There are some good people up in this part of the state and I think playing in a conference for the first time helped us in an indirect manner to get All-State selections. I'd like to congratulate all the northeast Nebraska players on the team.

"I'm awfully happy especially for Starzl who was selected for the third year in a row," continued Coble. "I've never heard of that happening before. That's outstanding in itself."

Doug Starzl — "What can you say about Doug Starzl? He's been on the All-State team three years and that speaks for itself," Coble said. "He was our leading batter for three years and he's been asked to play various positions in our games. He's a good long ball hitter and got us the RBIs we needed."

Todd Swigart — "Swigart can play any position on the field," said Coble. "He was our team captain and provided the leadership everywhere. He was a team player who didn't worry about his individual statistics. That made him extremely valuable."

Rick Guy — "I feel Guy is the premier pitcher in northeast Nebraska," stated Coble. "He pitched well all season but lost some games he really deserved to win. I think he's the best pitcher in this part of the state. He's a super kid and very coachable. We also relied on him to play at other positions."

Jeff Zeiss — "This is the second year on the team for Jeff Zeiss," said Wayne coach Mike Mallette. "He has improved over all the aspects of the game. His batting average is up from .290 last year to .370 and his RBI and stolen base totals are up. He was only thrown out once trying to steal base. Jeff is very deserving and really has no weak points. I'd like to see him qualify for a third year. He always gives 100 percent effort."

Tom Ginn — "This is quite an honor for Tom Ginn since he played much of the season as a designated hitter," Mallette said. "He was bothered by tendonitis for about half of the season and moved back to shortstop toward the end of the year. He is a very fine player with very good range from his position and is excellent at the plate with men on base. He gave 100 percent effort at all times and if his arm stays in the groove, he'll be able to play second base, third base or shortstop in college."

Jerry Goeden — "Jerry Goeden was the most improved player on our team this season and was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates," Mallette stated. "He was our leading hitter and completely matured in one season. He did an excellent job for us. Like Jeff (Zeiss) and Tom (Ginn), he really liked the game of baseball and played hard out on that field."

Russ Gade — "Russ Gade played designated hitter, pitcher for us and was named to the All-State honorable mention list as an outfielder," said Laurel coach Bob Weisenberg. "He batted .394 and hit the ball as well as anyone I've coached in five years at Laurel."

Shannon Hopkins — "Shannon Hopkins batted .333 and was sound mechanically as our catcher," Weisenberg said. "He was an All-Conference player and is getting better and better all the time. He has a very good on-base percentage and is a real good catcher for the pitchers to throw to."

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Huscell

NORTHEAST NEBRASKA has been recognized. Five area baseball players were honored Sunday when they were named to the Class B All-State Baseball team by The Omaha World-Herald. Another three quality players were on the honorable mention list.

The Omaha World-Herald represents a large metropolitan area and its sports writers have sometimes been criticized for being pro-Omaha, but coaches in this area are not going to make those charges. The selections seem to have been extremely fair with the best of the Northeast being recognized for their achievements.

The All-State selections include: Jeff Zeiss and Tom Ginn of Wayne and Doug Starzl, Todd Swigart and Rick Guy of Wakefield. Honorable mention players are Jerry Goeden of Wayne and Russ Gade and Shannon Hopkins of Laurel. Congratulations to all of these fine young men.

WHEN WAYNE COUNTRY CLUB bartender Bill Hornbeck hit his second shot on the par five 13th hole, he didn't have the slightest idea it would be a shot he'd remember for a long time to come. Hornbeck found that his tee shot on the 538 yard hole had rolled behind a tree. He hit a three wood on his second shot but lost sight of the ball because of the tree.

He and his playing companion searched the fairway and rough looking for the ball but found nothing. Finally, Hornbeck returned to the original spot and hit a provisional ball with a two-stroke penalty. He eventually knocked the ball in the cup for a seven, but when he reached down to pick his ball out of the cup he found two balls resting at the bottom of the small hole.

The other ball was his original second shot. He had double eagled the par five hole. But, did it count or must he count the provisional ball? After playing the final five holes with a 35 or 40 total, Hornbeck consulted Wayne golf professional Rudy Froeschle. Froeschle, in turn, consulted the rule book and uncovered a rule that made Hornbeck's double eagle official. Once the ball was in the cup, the hole was completed, thus making the provisional ball unnecessary. Hornbeck is a long ball hitter, who is planning to play in the regional long drive contest at St. Paul, Minnesota. THE HORNBECK STORY reminds me of a tall tale I heard many years ago. It goes something like this: An avid golfer was out on his home course playing a round of golf by himself and running into bad luck. He broke a few clubs and lost a few golf balls along the way and he began to swear each time he hit a bad shot.

His language became progressively worse until finally on the 17th hole, God took notice of the foul language and sent an angel to the golf course to punish the golfer for his filthy tongue. The angel carried out his assignment on the 18th and final hole.

The golfer teed off and his ball flew the whole length of the 595 yard, par five hole. It came to rest in the cup for a hole-in-one and the angel ascended, having completed his assignment. When the angel returned, God questioned the move, asking how a 595 yard hole-in-one could be considered punishment. "Who will believe him?" was the angel's response.

Anson, Schwartz Earn Honors

Wayne State College interim head baseball coach Steve Anson and freshman third baseman Bill Schwartz were selected for NAIA honors last Thursday for their performances during the 1979 season. Anson, in his first year as a head college coach, was named NAIA District 11 "Coach of the Year." Schwartz was named honorable mention to the NAIA 1979 All America Team.

23-22 season and the District 11 Championship. His team qualified for the Area 3 playoffs and were defeated in double elimination play. Anson filled in during the 1979 season for head coach Ron Jones, who was on a one-semester sabbatical leave and will return for 1979-80. Anson has accepted a coaching position at Washburn University, Topeka, Kan.

Schwartz, a Wayne native, led the Wildcats in hitting throughout the season, finishing the year with a .384 average (including playoffs). He hit seven home runs, including a grand slam in Area 3 playoffs, and 32 RBIs in 31 games, compiling a .369 fielding average. The 6-2, 190-pounder was named earlier this season to the NAIA District 11 All Star Team.

Hoskins Racers Still Placing

Gerald Bruggeman and Gene Brudigan continued their success in racing at the VFW Speedway in Jackson, Minn., and Husets Speedway in Sioux Falls, over the weekend.

At Jackson, Saturday, Bruggeman won the third heat and placed fifth in the A feature. Brudigan was fifth in the third heat and finished fourth in the A feature.

Sunday, Bruggeman won the third heat at Sioux Falls, placed second in the A feature and placed third in the trophy dash. Brudigan placed second in the first heat and second in the trophy dash.

Cross Country Run Slated for June 24

A five kilometer run in a South Dakota State Park area is scheduled for Saturday, June 30 with three classes open to runners.

The sixth annual Don Baker Lakeshore Run, in honor of the former University of South Dakota-Springfield track and cross country coach, will be run in the State Park area around the Springfield Marina Boat Basin, beginning at 8 a.m.

Registration is scheduled in the Boat Basin parking lot from 6:30-7:30 a.m. the day of the race. Entry fee is one dollar per participant and everyone will receive an award. The run will be divided into three categories: open men, open women and masters (men) with trophies being awarded to first place finishers in the open and women divisions. Lakeshore jerseys will be presented to the top 10 men finishers, the top five women finishers and the first place winner in the masters division. All participants will receive certificates.

Overnight camping facilities are available at the park, and shower and restroom facilities will be available for runners and campers. Reservations for camping can be made in advance by calling 369-5454 after 6 p.m. Advance entry blanks are available from Don Rinehart, track coach, USDS, Springfield, SD 57062. Rinehart is a Wayne State College graduate and track coach at USDS for the past year.

Cage Camp Over

THE CATS' Cage Camp at Wayne State College drew 32 boys over the past week. The boys were drilled on basketball fundamentals and played an all-star game Saturday. A Kittens' Cage Camp for girls, which was scheduled for this week, was cancelled.

Best Ball Planned At Laurel Club

A best ball golf tournament has been scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) at the Cedar View Country Club in Laurel. The tournament is planned for couples with tee-off scheduled for 6:30 p.m. A pot luck supper will follow.

Tourney Sunday

Rain postponed the Fathers' Day Golf Tournament that was to have been held Sunday at the Cedar View Country Club in Laurel. The tournament has been rescheduled for Sunday, June 24.

The tournament is scheduled for 18 holes with an extra nine holes for the championship flight finalists. Interested persons should call the clubhouse at 256-9940 for reserved tee times.

Wayne Ralph Bishop Boys Are Winning Big

LITTLE LEAGUE
Wayne 30, Winside 6 — With a barrage of hitting, the Wayne Little League team crushed Winside 30-6 in area action. Steve Overin led Wayne by pounding two consecutive home runs in the first inning. Chris Wieseler recorded two singles in two at bats. Shannon Dorsey hit a triple and single and Lowell Heggenmeyer cleared the bases with a grand slam homer in the third inning. Overin, Tim Fleming and Dorsey combined to pitch a no hitter, although six Winside runners scored in the fourth on walks.

PONY LEAGUE
Wayne 27, Winside 0 — The Wayne Pony League defeated

Winside's Pony League in Ralph Bishop play 27-0 behind the no-hit pitching of Jeff Jorgensen and Todd Pfeiffer. Steve Rethwisch was the game's leading batter with two doubles and a triple. Jeff McCright rapped a homer and a double in three at bats and Pfeiffer recorded two singles and scored five runs for the game.

12 and Under
Wayne 15, Wakefield 6 — In Ralph Bishop boys play in the 12 years and under division, Wayne scored consistently and held off a late Wakefield rally to win its second game of the season 15-6. Steve Overin with a home run and Chris Wieseler and Don Larson with two base hits apiece led Wayne in hitting. Overin was the winning pitcher, going five innings and striking out 10 batters while giving up two hits and five walks. Olson and Miller collected Wakefield's two hits.

14 and Under
Wakefield 5, Wayne 4 — Wakefield's Wayne Guy struck out 20 Wayne batters as the Wakefield 14 and under boys' team edged Wayne 5-4 in eight innings. Both teams recorded six hits with Jeff Jorgensen and Todd Schwartz pitching for Wayne. Steve Rethwisch and McCright led the Wayne batters with two hits each and Greve led Wakefield with three hits in four plate appearances. The game was tied 3-3 after six innings and went into extra innings. McCright out Wayne ahead with a run in the top of the eighth but Tullberg and Foote scored two Wakefield runs in the bottom of the inning to win the game.

12 and Under
Wayne 14, Pender 5 — A 10-run fifth inning carried the Wayne 12 and under boys' team past Pender 14-5 in Ralph Bishop League play last Thursday. Don Larson was the key Wayne batter, collecting two hits and scoring two runs while adding two RBIs.

14 and under
Wayne 15, Pender 2 — Wayne got back on the winning track after a loss to Wakefield, by trouncing Pender 15-2 in Ralph Bishop boys action, last Thursday. Steve Rethwisch led the seven-hit attack with two base raps and two runs. Pitcher Todd Pfeiffer limited Pender to two runs on four hits to earn the win.

Making plans for an Aug. 3 wedding at St. John's Lutheran Church, Pilger, are Joan Schulz and Vendell Ekberg. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Schulz of Pilger and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ekberg of Wakefield.
The bride-elect was graduated from Wisner-Pilger High School and Nancy Boudie Prep and Modeling School. She is employed at the Wayne Care Centre.
Her fiance, a graduate of Wakefield High School, attended Wayne State College.

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

Mark Kirbys Wed at Wausa

Baskets of white gladiol and blue carnations decorated the altar of Thabor Lutheran Church in Wausa June 2 for the wedding of Tamara Jo Clarkson and Mark Andrew Kirby.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Clarkson of Wausa, formerly of Concord. She was graduated from Wausa High School and attended Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirby of Crofton, is a graduate of Wausa High School and is self-employed.

bearers were Jeff Clarkson and John Cunningham.
Kevin Kirby served as best man, and groomsmen were Kerry Clarkson and Kim Johnson.
The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt, and his attendants wore light blue tuxedos with navy pants and white ruffled shirts.

Newlyweds Honored

A reception was held at the United Methodist Church in Allen June 10, honoring newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mc Afee.

Complexion Tips

Treat yourself to beautiful skin this summer! Here are seven simple, no fuss complexion tips to keep your skin soft, smooth and looking "younger than springtime."
1. Eat healthy fresh fruits and vegetables. Many of the season's fruits and vegetables are abundant in vitamin "A," the skin vitamin. Cantaloupes, carrots, lettuce and a wide array of low-calorie green and yellow fruits and vegetables will benefit your waistline as well as your complexion.
2. Cleanse your face twice a day. Clean skin is more important than usual during warmer weather. Skin oils can combine with dirt and perspiration to clog pores and lead to flare-ups. Avoid soaps. Regular soaps can "strip" your skin of its built-in moisture protection system and can leave your complexion tight and dry.
3. Exercise in the fresh air. Staying in shape increases circulation to your skin and leaves your complexion with a healthy glow. A brisk walk in the warm air will help keep your body fit and your complexion radiant.
4. Follow all exercise with a gentle facial cleansing. Use a mild cleanser.
5. Get plenty of sleep. Don't underestimate the importance of sleep in your beauty routine. It gives your body and skin time to re-energize. Lack of adequate sleep will deplete your skin of its natural radiance and encourage dark circles under eyes.
6. Don't rush a summer suntan with a reflector. It can intensify the sun's rays and burn delicate complexions. Be sensible about time spent in the sun. A tan can add healthy color to your complexion but too much sun can dry and age your skin prematurely.

• Reels should be removed from the reel seats, broken down and lubricated to prevent rust from forming or salt water from corroding the moving parts.
• A few simple tugs should indicate whether line has begun oxidizing and losing its prescribed "test" strength specifications. If the line is relatively new, reversing its position on the reel will restore its strength.
• Hooks on lures should be sharpened with an ignition point file and rusty hooks replaced. Worn lures can be rejuvenated with enamel paints or tape. Spinners and spoons made of nickel or copper can be repolished with a soft cloth.

Tax Problems The Same Everywhere

CAPITOL NEWS
BY MELVIN PAUL
STATEHOUSE CORRESPONDENT
THE NEBRASKA PRESS ASSOCIATION

State, county and city tax officials who attended a recent legislative tax seminar were told their property tax problems are not different and are no worse than in other parts of the country.

Attending the seminar were officials from Utah, Connecticut, Oregon, North Dakota and several representatives of national organizations. All had stories to tell about successes and failures in addressing problems stemming from so-called inequities in the property tax system.

Sponsors of the seminar were the Legislature's Revenue Committee and the Ad Hoc Committee on Property Taxation. Chairman of both committees is Sen. Cal Carsten of Avoca.

During the concluding session of the two-day meeting, Carsten said he was sure many worthwhile suggestions had been made. These, he added, would give Nebraska legislators alternatives to consider in their attempts to remedy the state's property taxation problems.

A Nebraska legislator presided over each of the various panels. The topics discussed covered a wide range. A definition for property values was of concern to the members of the panel on property assessment and equalization.

Robert Flannigan, Connecticut real estate director, said, "Value is a very difficult concept. It's not what value is, but it's what people think value is."

Most of the panels devoted at least some time to concerns about property values, and there was some discussion on whether constitutional or statutory restraints should be imposed on state and local spending limits. Putting such restrictions into the constitution would be much too inflexible, some of the speakers said.

While commenting on local and state spending limits, Elsie Waters of Tax Foundation, Inc., said mandatory ceilings on expenditures could be harmful because "to me they offer a simplistic solution to complicated problems."

But she and other panelists seemed to agree that when working on tax problems, the entire tax structure — federal, state and local — is what "really matters."

"What matters is not only who pays, but also who receives the benefits," Miss Waters said.

COUPONS FOR STATE USE

Brent R. Stevenson, director of the state Department of Administrative Services, recently notified state employees they can use airline discount coupons for themselves if the coupons resulted from a state trip.

In a memo to state agencies, Stevenson said the DAS policy on discount coupons was retroactive to May 28.

The memo referred specifically to United Airlines' recent practice of offering a coupon to travelers that will result in a 50 percent discount on future flights.

Stevenson said any such coupons issued to state employees while on state business belong to the state.

He directed heads of agencies, boards and commissions to collect the coupons for future use.

Stevenson said any agency that receives more discount coupons than it can use by Dec. 31 should send them to his office for redistribution to other agencies that may need them.

MAKES PRISON VISIT

State Sen. Don Wesley of Lincoln said the new medium-minimum men's prison in Lincoln won't be a "country club" but he added, "It's going to be a long-term service to society in general."

He made the comment following his unannounced visit to the displaced men's reformatory west of Lincoln whose inmates will soon be housed in the new facility.

Wesley, one of the youngest members of the Legislature, said he was "sobered" by conditions he encountered in the old prison.

He said what he saw convinced him the millions of dollars the state is investing in new prisons is necessary.

"After looking at that old reformatory, I realize it was not adequate in any sense of the word," Wesley said. "It's a sobering thought (but) I'd say the reformatory was even worse than the maximum security prison, which in inadequate and unacceptable."

Wesley said he made his unannounced visit because he wanted to compare the old facilities with the new. Prior to his reformatory visit, the Lincoln lawmaker toured the penitentiary.

Prisoners in the reformatory will be moved early in July to the new medium-minimum prison, which is on a site near the old building.

The new structure will be air-conditioned and will have a cell for each inmate. Some inmates in the old facility have individual cells but some of the other cells house up to four persons.

The new structure will also have a special unit for prisoners with chemical dependency problems.

WILL TEST GASOHOL

The Army will begin testing gasohol in its vehicles in July or August to determine whether it is feasible for military vehicles, Lt. Col. Richard Kall advised the Nebraska Gasohol Committee.

Kall said the test will be conducted at Fort Belvoir, Va., and is expected to last about two years.

Explaining the Army's interest, Kall said it wants to be able to use whatever fuel is available in the market place. He added it is obvious gasohol has potential and if its use becomes widespread, "we want to be able to use it."

Kall said the Army decided to visit Nebraska, a pioneer in gasohol research, to benefit from the state's experiments.

He said the Army probably would buy most of its gasohol, a blend of 10 percent alcohol and 90 percent unleaded gasoline, but that it might do some mixing of the fuel on its own.

While visiting with Gasohol Committee, Kall said the Army expects President Carter eventually to order federal agencies to use the blended fuel in their vehicles, if the special fuel is available locally.

OMBUSMAN HOTLINE

Nebraskans with a complaint against a state government agency or needing information about governmental procedures can dial a toll-free hotline for help.

The number — 800-742-7690 — will connect the caller with the state Ombudsman's Office, which is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Ombudsman Murrell McNeil said the hotline will save his office the time and cost of correspondence and will also be quicker in responding to questions.

When the office is able to supply the information by telephone, "we can give the person immediate aid," McNeil said.

He said at least half of the inquiries received can be handled over the telephone.

My Column
 By Dan Field

Typewriter keys and the mind are usually a bit rusty when trying to work up an "introductory" column for a new job. Such is certainly the case here.

By now the word is beginning to filter through the community that The Herald has a new Editor, and he's at long last on the job.

My predecessor, Mr. Barnestorming himself, has taken over full-time management of The Morning Shopper. For the past several months Chuck has been working out of both The Shopper and The Herald and we suspicion he's grayed a little more. But we doubt that will have much effect on this tennis game.

We're grateful for his assistance and guidance during the transition.

Experts that deal in different aspects of the human mind say moving is one of the most traumatic experiences in a person's life. I'll drink to that.

It is simply amazing the amount of stuff (more like things) a couple married three years can acquire. And trying to move oneself is no small chore. If it weren't for friends in Red Oak the task would have been impossible.

The decision to make a move is relatively simple compared to the physical move. The hassle begins when the search for housing starts, particularly in Wayne, we found.

We first looked for housing when the snow was still flying — actually not long ago. We were adjusted to medium income housing in Red Oak and hoped to find something comparable here. That is when the drama began.

Not only were there few homes on the market here, but those similar to our low home were priced well above our expectations. To make a long story short, we made numerous trips to Wayne looking at homes and finally settled for one which will keep hot dogs and hamburger on the table for longer than we'd like.

Anyone who has bought a home here in the last few years can attest to our woes.

But the financial people here bent over backwards, as did the realtors, to help us. We certainly don't find fault with the realtors on the lack of and expense of housing here. We are here now, settled in and finding our way around, and we shouldn't complain.

Which brings me to a positive aspect of this community.

Kathy, Chris (our 15-month old son) and I have been overwhelmed with the welcome we have received. What Wayne lacks in housing, it makes up in warmth.

In Wayne only a few minutes and with the moving van backed up to the garage, one of our many friendly neighbors walked up, introduced himself and asked if he could help.

Since then, neighbors have brought us meals, cakes, have offered us use of their tools and have literally stopped in the street to welcome us.

My fellow employees at The Herald likewise are more helpful than I could have hoped. My first impressions are that it is a good, young and ambitious staff.

During a transition period such as this, a new Editor has been stumbling in the dark, trying to adjust to the routine. Trying to get organized can be a pain for other employees, but those at The Herald have been more than understanding.

As most of you may have guessed, I've not chosen an official name for my column. With a little bit of luck and advice I'll have that by the time this appears at least once each week, however.

But until I develop a brilliant title, it will remain "My Column" — not too imaginative, but it's easy to remember.

Although these comments have today many about a bit mundane, that will not always be the case. We plan to comment on happenings in and around Wayne, whether it be the city council, school board, the track, sports, dance, music, movies, meetings, hunting or what you please.

Enough for today. An Douglas MacArthur once said, "I shall return."

Bill May Cut Grain System

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
 BY M.M. VAN KIRK,
 DIRECTOR OF INFORMATION
 KEEP INCENTIVE SYSTEM —

Despite the fact that U.S. farm commodity exports will achieve a record $32 billion total this fiscal year, there is a bill in Congress which seeks to dismantle the nation's grain marketing system and substitute for it government-operated trading in grains and soybeans.

H.R. 4237 introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. James Weaver (D-Ore.) was the subject of a hearing recently by the House Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains. The bill seeks to create within the Commodity Credit Corp., a national grain board and would designate the Commodity Credit Corp. as the seller or marketing agent for all export sales of wheat, rice, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, rye and soybeans.

The CCC would be authorized to negotiate sales for the export of such commodities, to barter them for other goods, to accept purchase bids from foreign purchasers, to offer selling bids in the world market and to establish reserves to meet future export sales. The CCC can already barter under its charter and the PL 480 program.

Private exporters, including farmer-owned cooperatives, would be able to participate in the export of these commodities only if such commodities are purchased from the CCC and such sales are approved by the CCC. Additionally, no sales could be made by CCC or any exporter for less than the established price.

With only a couple of exceptions, farm and commodity organizations testified against the bill. They argued that private traders run rings around government boards when it comes to searching out new business and responding to export opportunities in world markets. They declared that the actual trading of farm commodities should not be dependent on, or influenced by, political decisions of the government.

Opponents of the bill cited the fact that farmers became very upset, as did our trading partners, when the government imposed the soybean embargo of 1973, an action which alienated some good soybean customers. H.R. 4237 would in effect, freely permit the CCC to restrict, and even embargo, exports for political purposes.

It was noted that regardless of claims that grain boards are used in many countries, there is no evidence that farmers in such countries achieve greater returns from their exports than they do in the U.S. Currently Canada is having rail shipping problems and ships are backed up at their West Coast ports waiting for grain deliveries.

A study of Canadian and U.S. grain marketing systems made by Professors Andrew Schmitz and Alex McCalla of the University of California in 1976 noted that while the Canadian Wheat Board system has strong support among growers, Canadian grain exports have not expanded and that nation's share of the world wheat market has actually declined over the past 20 years. Their report stated that while price pooling has helped share market risks within each crop year, it has not significantly stabilized prices between years.

The study said the U.S. grain marketing system has evolved primarily through private initiatives to meet a much larger, more complex marketing challenge. It was also noted that domestic demand at that time was taking 70 percent of U.S. production compared to only 25 percent in Canada.

As recently as 1970, U.S. exports of farm commodities amounted to only $6.7 billion annually as compared to $32 billion this fiscal year. Even discounting inflationary effects, that kind of growth indicates that the U.S. free enterprise system should not be cast aside for all government control and operation. The inefficiencies of government agency operations (Amtrak, U.S. Post Office, etc.) are too well demonstrated to take this course.

modifies only if such commodities are purchased from the CCC and such sales are approved by the CCC. Additionally, no sales could be made by CCC or any exporter for less than the established price.

With only a couple of exceptions, farm and commodity organizations testified against the bill. They argued that private traders run rings around government boards when it comes to searching out new business and responding to export opportunities in world markets. They declared that the actual trading of farm commodities should not be dependent on, or influenced by, political decisions of the government.

National Health Proposals Costly

RICHARD L. LESHER, PRESIDENT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES

Have you ever noticed how often life in Washington, D.C. contradicts what passes for normal everywhere else? Take, for example, the principle of competition.

In the real world, competition is desirable; the more there is, the better the quality of products and services, and even bringing prices down. But in Washington, the opposite is true — the more politicians compete, the faster prices seem to shoot up.

The current duel of political one-upmanship between President Carter and Senator Ed Kennedy on the issue of health care illustrates just how this process works. With the President's popularity fading, and the Senator's threat growing, a top Carter political adviser recently admitted, "Kennedy leveraged Carter into expanding health care." Of course, we mustn't think that's necessarily inflationary.

On the contrary, the presentation of the President's National Health Plan seemed so slick one would have thought we were receiving the latest initiative from his team of inflation fighters. Here were the same people whose policies have provoked more than a doubling of inflation in less than three years, now reassuring us their health plan will mark a continuation of the official policy of "restraint."

During the first year, 1983, the plan should "only" total $24 billion in new cost and taxes. Of course that kind of austerity cannot last forever; eventually, we will be expected to make some real sacrifices.

But don't panic. There is an alternative. If we really want to get tough with inflation, we should support Senator

Kennedy's more "comprehensive" approach. His plan (depending on whose figures you believe) will "only" cost two to three times more the first year than Carter's — or $40-$60 billion. The senator claims what seems more expensive will actually be less expensive. How, you ask? Why, through the federal government's magical managerial skills — the skills which will enable us to cut out unnecessary costs and save consumers billions of dollars. Anyone swallowing a proposed cure-all like that is bound to wake up with a financial migraine.

You see what's really at stake here, stripped of all their rhetorical bows and ribbons, are two proposals that will take us squarely down the road toward socialized medicine. The only difference is one of timing. Kennedy would allow the government to move in quickly, virtually controlling both spending on health care and the fees doctors and hospitals could charge. Carter would move more gradually, lulling us with only a glimpse of the camel's nose under the tent.

The advocates of socialized medicine never point out that only 5 percent of Americans lack any health insurance, and a slightly higher percentage lacks catastrophic coverage. Both these groups could be protected by slightly expanding coverage of existing health programs. We are told that without more government control, costs will go through the roof. But it was precisely when all the government's programs, regulations and paperwork began weighing down on the industry in the mid-60's that medical costs first took off. How in the world will even more bureaucracy lead to lower costs?

So the basic questions are these: Where is the evidence that a government takeover of the health care industry will produce anything but more pain — both physical and financial — for the consumer? And where will we find leaders to direct this magnificent medical leap into the unknown? From those who have blessed us with 18 unbalanced budgets in the last 19 years? Or perhaps from those who so dependably run our trains and deliver our mail? Or maybe even from those who have so mismanaged the Medicare and Medicaid programs that even H.I.T.'s famous computers seem ready to melt?

Of course we could look overseas for guidance. But where? Certainly not to Australia, where socialized medicine proved so unpopular and unworkable that it was completely scrapped; nor to Great Britain, where to cut costs, thousands have been left to die from acute kidney disease, where some 800,000 others must wait up to three years for the most basic operations, where there is a serious shortage of medical personnel and where 98 percent of the medical buildings were constructed before 1960; nor to Sweden, which suffers from similar problems and where there is a fact understanding that such operations as organ transplants will not be available to people over 70; nor, finally, to Canada where frustrated physicians are fleeing in droves — to the United States.

We can solve these pressing problems of escalating medical costs, but only by reducing government control and regulation and by simultaneously promoting more competition. I'll deal with that alternative in my next column on medical care. In the meantime, let's not be fooled by the reported differences between the Kennedy and Carter health plans. Let's not mistake the light at the end of the health care tunnel for the beacon of one of their oncoming federal trains.

The Exxon Diary
 Commentary by J. James Exxon U.S. Senator

Sen. J.J. Exxon has announced that the Senate Subcommittee on Surface Transportation will hold hearings in Nebraska and South Dakota this July on the Railroad Deregulation Act of 1979.

Exxon, who will chair the hearings, will be accompanied by Sen. Larry Pressler of South Dakota, ranking minority member of the subcommittee.

"The plan is aimed at stimulating competition to lower rates and improve service," Exxon said. "However, we want to look into effects it would have on those who rely on the railroads to ship grain and freight to be assured no one will suffer under the plan and that adequate service will be maintained for all customers."

The hearing in Sioux Falls, S.D. will be held at the downtown Holiday Inn, 100 West Eighth St. on July 5 beginning at 8:30 a.m. The Omaha hearing will be held at the Omaha-Douglas Civic Center, City-County Legislative Chamber, 16th and Farnam Streets on July 6 beginning at 9 a.m.

These hearings are open to the public and interested parties are urged to attend. However, due to time constraints, oral testimony will be limited. Written testimony will be accepted until 5 p.m. July 6 and will be made a part of the permanent record.

Feeder Lambs Class Announced

Wayne County Extension Service will have a class for 4-H market feeder lambs at the County Fair this year. This will be for any lambs not heavy enough for market lamb division. The sheep entered in feeder class will be in addition to lambs in market class.

This division is not in fair books since it was added after weigh-in day.

4-H Leaders Set Family Picnic

The Dixon County 4-H junior leaders will hold a family picnic and organizational meeting on Friday at 6:30, June 15 in the Allen Park.

All Dixon County 4-H'ers age 14-18 and their families are invited to attend. The group will have a potluck supper, business meeting and then recreation in the park. In case of rain, they will meet at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Junior leaders are older 4-H members who assist in 4-H events and develop leadership skills through their efforts. One responsibility of this group is the food stand at the fair. Individual junior leaders often help by serving as project leaders for their club, give demonstrations at meetings or assist with special workshops and events.

Leadership, responsibility, and knowledge are all important benefits of the junior leader program, comments Valerie Schellpeper, Dixon County Home Extension Agent.

Tomato Cages

Are Time Savers

Gardeners can save themselves time and effort by using wire cages for growing tomatoes according to the Wayne County Extension Service.

Instead of staking and pruning, many gardeners prefer to use wire cages made from concrete reinforcing wire to train tomatoes. These are wire hoops, two inches in diameter and six inches high, with large enough openings to harvest the tomatoes. Anchor cages to the ground with stakes.

Tomatoes also can be allowed to sprawl over a bed straw. However, the cost of straw and a slightly smaller tomato crop are disadvantages to this method.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Teeter, 1109 Lincoln St., Wayne. Bauter is scholarship chairman for OFMA.

Cucurbits Can Frustrate Home Gardening Efforts

Frustrated with your cucurbits? Cucurbits, which include such vegetables as pumpkins, squash, gourds and cucumbers, often cause home gardeners problems because of bacterial wilt.

The wilt infection begins on one or two leaves, which droop at once. It then spreads from the foliage downwards, until the entire plant has wilted and died. Less susceptible squash varieties and pumpkins may show a dwarfing in growth.

Bacterial wilt can be difficult to identify, especially since other things can cause wilting. One test is to cut across a diseased stem. If you can press out milky, sticky droplets of sap, it may be the disease. This isn't always a dependable diagnosis, however.

Wilt-causing bacteria are carried in or on the bodies of striped and spotted cucumber beetles. The bacteria overwinter in the digestive tract of the insect and enter the young plants in the spring while beetles feed.

Late in the summer, grasshoppers also can play a role in transmitting the disease. When they or other insects chew on diseased leaves, the infection can be spread through their mouth-parts to other plants.

The beetle is the main culprit, however. In fact, the beetle and bacterium are so closely associated that elimination of the insect will reduce the disease incidence drastically.

Gardeners are advised to dust or spray young transplants when they're set in the field. Continue spraying every four or five days thereafter, until plants begin to vine vigorously. Sevin and methoxychlor are suggested insecticides.

Plants that become infected during the growing season should be removed from the garden. Watermelons are immune to infection and certain varieties of cucumbers and squash are less susceptible than others.

MULCHES IN GARDEN

Mulches can be of real help to a gardener. Paper, plastic and aluminum foil strips make an excellent mulch for a gardener with a small plot of ground. These usually are available at garden stores.

Organic materials such as spoiled hay, manure, ground corn cobs, composted materials and sandusit make excellent mulch. These materials should be applied to obtain a mulch depth of three to four inches.

Do not use lawn clippings if they have been treated with a herbicide.

HARVESTING ASPARAGUS

When the spear size of asparagus begins to decline in the asparagus bed, it is time to stop harvesting the crop. Eight to 10 weeks of harvest is usually maximum harvest for a mature asparagus bed.

After the harvest is completed, several maintenance steps should be taken to assure an equally good harvest next year.

Two pounds of urea or ammonium nitrate per 1,000 square feet, side-dressed on the rows after harvest will increase vegetative growth and strengthen the plant for next year's production. If fertilizer is unavailable, compost or well-rotted manure should be used on the asparagus bed after harvest.

Simazine, a pre-emergent herbicide, could be used in the asparagus bed after harvest is completed. If label directions are followed, many weed problems will be solved after using simazine.

STRAWBERRIES

Harvest period for June-bearing strawberries should be maintained for next year. Weak, weedy or diseased plants should be destroyed following harvest.

June-bearing strawberries should be renovated immediately after harvest. Yields and size of berries are usually less in second and third year beds.

Row widths of June-bearers should be narrowed with a cultivator or plow. Original plants in the center of the row should be plowed out, leaving a row six inches wide to the right or left of the original row. Spacing between the new rows, center to center, should be four feet. Cultivate between new rows and use mulch or herbicide to kill competing weeds.

New rows should be irrigated and treated with young transplants. We have an excellent Neb. Guide on strawberries. $1.95

Iris become crowded after three to five years and usually dwindle in size and appearance. The iris need to be dug and divided. The best time is after they have bloomed.

Before digging, cut the leaves to one-third the height. Lift out the whole clump with a spading fork and wash away the soil. Cut the rhizomes (these rootlike underground stems) with a

Cattle Price Boom Continues, As Inflation Leaves Its Mark

Nebraska's cattle industry may be in the midst of a boom period in prices received at market, but cattlemen in Nebraska are faring no better than the rest of the nation's consumers in the current inflationary spiral.

Such is the conclusion to be drawn from figures provided by Charles Bare, statistical coordinator for the University of Nebraska—Lincoln's Bureau of Business Research. Figures gathered by the bureau indicate that cattlemen, like most people, have been fighting a losing battle with inflation.

"For every dollar a cattleman spent on wages, taxes and interest in 1967, he now spends $2.45," according to Bare. "And while his expenses have been growing at a rate of 8.97 percent annually, the prices he receives at market have risen only 7.26 percent since 1971."

Looking at overall farm income in the 1971-78 period, Bare pointed out that it showed a compound growth rate, taking into account annual fluctuations of only 4.73 percent over the period.

Lubberstedt Is Director

Mrs. Larry Lubberstedt, Dixon, has been elected to serve as District F Director on the Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs Board for 1980-81. The election was held at the annual NCHCE meeting in Grand Island June 12-13. District F includes a 13-county area in northeast Nebraska.

Mrs. Lubberstedt has been a member of Artemis Home Extension Club for 15 years. In her club she has held the offices of president, secretary and treasurer. She is currently serving as chairman of the Dixon County Home Extension Council. She has also served as Dixon County health and safety leader for several years and has organized two diabetes screening clinics and two blood pressure screening clinics.

Other local homemakers currently serving on the NCHCE Board are Mrs. Robert Porter, Wayne, vice president; and Mrs. Verdel Erwin, Concord, secretary. Area Extension Agent Anna Marie Kreifels is home agent director for District E and F. Valerie Schellpeper, Area Extension Agent, Hartington will replace Miss Kreifels on the Board for the 1980-81 term.

That meat prices are in line with the overall Consumer Price Index (CPI) is also borne out by statistics gathered by the Bureau of Business Research.

"The overall CPI for goods and services rose 95.4 percent between 1967 and 1978," according to Bare. "The CPI for beef and veal went up 102.2 percent over the same period, only slightly more than the gain in the overall CPI."

"For the 1971-78 period, that comes out to a compound growth rate in the beef and veal index of 7.12 percent, again only slightly more than the overall CPI increase of 7.05 percent in the same period."

Bare said that during the period when the overall CPI was increasing steadily, there were years in which the beef and veal CPI declined, as in 1975-76 and 1976-77.

"Conditions within the cattle industry have to be placed in context," Bare said. "Historically, ranching and farming are cyclical industries, subject to supply and demand factors, as well as such factors as the weather and government controls. For both farmers and ranchers, there were a number of lean years during the 70's which resulted in cutting back on the size of herds, and more than likely, dipping into cash reserves in order to survive.

At the beginning of the 70's, Bare noted, Nebraska cattle stock totaled 6,450,000, only .09 percent less than the 1978 total of 6,500,000. The number of cattle did reach 7,410,000 in 1974, before starting into a decline that began reversing itself slightly in 1978.

Current beef prices have increased sharply over the past four months, according to Bare. For the immediate future, he said the price trend for beef cattle will likely continue before it starts to decline or stabilize.

"Eventually," he said, "ranchers will regenerate their herds, but not until after they set aside some of their profits as a hedge against the possibility of lean years such as those of the mid-seventies, or to make overdue investments in equipment and machinery. Only then, and if market, weather, and other factors provide the proper conditions, will the cattle industry return to the upward portion of its cycle."

Fireblight Destructive To Variety of Trees

Fireblight is widespread and highly destructive to many ornamentals, apples, crabapples and pears. In Nebraska, severe damage has occurred on cottonwood.

The disease's most obvious symptom is the appearance of dead terminal shoots of new growth. These turn brown or black, the leaves drop downward, but remain attached, and the branch appears to have been scorched. The disease progresses downward on the branch, forming a shrunken, dark brown to purple canker. The dead bark of infected branches is dry and dark brown when cut.

Applications of nitrogen fertilizer. Spray programs can help control fireblight, but will not take the place of sanitation.

Zineb, streptomycin sulfate and Bordeaux mixture are registered for use against this disease. They are applied at blossom time with one to three additional applications, depending on which fungicide is selected. Before obtaining and applying a fungicide, read the label and follow all directions.

Weed Control Is Twilight Tour

The annual weed control twilight tour at the Northeast Nebraska Experimental Station near Concord will be held at 6 p.m. June 28, announces Russell Moomaw, agronomist at the station.

After viewing weed control experiments, a lunch will be served courtesy of several chemical companies who are co-sponsoring the tour.

Herbicide use and performance will be viewed in conventional and no-tillage corn and soybean production systems. There are old herbicide favorites to compare with newer products. Volunteer corn control in soybeans is still of interest. Several herbicide treatments in soybeans show promise on volunteer corn, notes Moomaw. One of these is Hogen, which will have full label registration soon for use in soybeans.

A new experiment at the Northeast Station has herbicides applied on growing oats. This research is aimed toward using oat stubble in no-tillage corn or soybean production, observes Moomaw.

Farm operators and other agri-business people are urged to participate in this weed control.

Comment Is Sought On Program

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland asked the public to comment by Aug. 6 on proposals for the 1980 wheat program.

He also asked for comment on whether barley and oats should be included in the 1980 feed grain program and whether program decisions on barley and oats should be announced at the same time as for the wheat.

Bergland proposed to make the following determinations:

The amount of the national program acreages.

The reduction from the previous year's harvested acreage required to guarantee established (target) price protection on the total 1980 planted acreage.

Whether there should be set-aside requirements and, if so, the extent of the set-aside.

If a set-aside or land diversion program is required, whether a limitation should be placed on planted acreage.

Whether there should be land diversion program, if so, the extent of such diversion and the level of payment.

The loan and purchase levels for 1980 crops of wheat, barley, oats, and rye.

Whether the special wheat acreage grazing and hay program should be implemented.

The established (target) prices for wheat, barley, and oats.

Other related provisions such as Commodity Credit Corporation minimum resale price, commodity eligibility, storage requirements, premiums and discounts and other provision as may be necessary to carry out the program.

Most of these determinations for wheat are required to be made by the Secretary on or before Aug. 15. Normally a decision on the inclusion of barley and oats in the feed grain program is made at the same time the corn and sorghum program decision is made, prior to Nov. 15. As some barley is planted in the fall and does compete with wheat for the same acreage, the Secretary is considering whether an ap-provision of the 1980 barley and oats program provisions along with the 1980 wheat program announcement is appropriate.

The proposal appeared in the Federal Register June 6.

Before reaching his decision, the Secretary will consider any recommendations and views regarding these items.

To be assured of consideration all written comments must be received on or before Aug. 6. Comments should be sent to the Director, Production Adjustment Division, ASCS, USDA, Room 3630-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C., 20013.

All comments will be available for public inspection at the office of the director, during regular business hours.

Spotlight On Weeds

JERUSALEM ARTICHOKE
Jerusalem artichoke is a perennial, which reproduces by rhizomes, tubers and seeds.

It has fibrous roots, from short rootstocks which bear edible white tubers at tips. Stems are erect, usually branching above, rough hair, and up to nine feet in height. Leaves are simple, large, opposite on lower part and alternate on upper part of stem, upper surface very rough, lower surface hairy, varying from egg-shaped to lance-shaped, edges saw toothed.

Flower heads are about two inches in diameter, with large yellow ray flowers surrounding yellow disk flowers. The seed is flattened, wedge shaped, smooth, often mottled with black. Jerusalem artichokes are found in moist fields, fence rows, roadsides and woods.

Use 1/2 pint 2,4-D plus 1/2 pint Banvel in corn fields. Use drop nozzles on corn fields, eight inches, if no crop is growing, use one quart 2,4-D ester plus 1/2 pint Banvel per acre.

Control is best achieved where infestations are left undisturbed then sprayed about the time the plants are ready to bloom.

Will Not Be Undersold

Every supermarket has weekly specials, and the prices on those items may be below IGA's regular shelf price . . . but when that happens, just follow three simple steps, and we'll SAVE YOU MONEY. It's as easy as 1-2-3.

1.

Check all Wayne supermarket ads published this week.

2.

If you find an item with a price you like, just tear out the entire ad and take it to IGA.

3.

If our price isn't already lower than our competitor, we'll meet the price in their ad.

OBITUARIES

Eric Lewin

Services for Eric Lewin, six months old, were held Friday at the Methodist Church in Pender. Burial was in the Rose Hill Cemetery. The infant died June 12 as a result of crib death.

Eric, the son of Ken and Lori Lewin of Littleton, Colo., was born Jan. 5 in Sioux City. He is survived by his parents; one brother, Adam, at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Kamish of Casper, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewin of Thurston.

Agnes Sonderstrup

Agnes I. Sonderstrup of Omaha died June 13 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha, following a lingering illness.

Services were held at Swanson-Golden Mortuary in Omaha on Saturday with the Rev. W. Clayton Nielsen officiating. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne. Agnes Sonderstrup was born June 28, 1903 in Copenhagen, Denmark. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. She came to the United States with her parents, the late Pilo and Anna Andrusen and was married on Dec. 2, 1943 to Christian V. Sonderstrup in Papillion.

Survivors include her widower; one sister, Mrs. Anton (Rena) Pedersen of Wayne; one niece, Mrs. Morris (Vera) Drew of Santa Monica, Calif.; one grand-niece, one grand-nephew and several cousins.

Sigrd Tullberg

Services for Sigrd Kristina Tullberg, age 85, of Wakefield, were held Saturday at the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield with the Rev. Robert V. Johnson officiating. Mrs. Tullberg died June 14 at the Wakefield Health Care Center.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery. Pallbearers were Erwin Mortenson, Morris Gustafson, Marvin Mortenson, James Gustafson, Joel Gustafson and John Nelson.

Sigrd Kristina Tullberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neils Moline, was born July 15, 1896 in Sweden. On Feb. 25, 1921 in Denver, Colo., she married Axel Tullberg.

She is preceded in death by her husband and two sons. Survivors include two sons, Myron of Wakefield and Paul of Emerson; one daughter, Mrs. Elmer (Deora) Lehman of Concord; 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren; one brother, Carl Moline of Alhambra, Calif.; and one sister, Mrs. Anna Warner of Alhambra, Calif.

Heart Group

Tells Memorials

Heart fund memorials in the names of two area residents were received recently by Mrs. Carl Lentz, memorial chairman for Wayne County.

Memorials were received for Mrs. Blanche Fowler, Wayne, and Herbert Hinnerichs, Wakefield.

Mrs. Lentz said memorials to the American Heart Association, Nebraska affiliate, are an important source of support to continue research and community service programs such as high blood pressure screenings, classes in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), as well as continuing education programs for medical professional and the general public.

Memorials to the American Heart Association, Nebraska affiliate, are acknowledged by a card naming the donor and the person in whose honor the donation is made.

If you wish to honor a relative or friend through a heart memorial just send the name of the person to be honored, your own name and address and that of the person to be notified, together with your check or money order (made payable to the American Heart Association, Nebraska affiliate) to Mrs. Carl Lentz, 703 East 10th Street, Wayne, Ne. 68787.

AMERICAN LEADERS Carl Hubbell, pitching for the National League in the '34 All-Star Game, gave up base hits to the first two batters facing him. Then the New York Giants' left-handed batters Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees and Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics. Hubbell opened the second inning by striking out Al Simmons of the Chicago White Sox and Joe Cronin of the Washington Senators. It was, according to a poll of members of the Baseball Hall of Fame, the "greatest moment" in All-Star history. The Hall of Famer named Hubbell and another former Giant, Willie Mays, the greatest players in All-Star Game history. Also receiving greatest All-Star votes were Ruth, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, Charley Gehringer of the Detroit Tigers, and the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio and Yogi Berra.
