Big Shooter Contest Set Thursday

Pottery buffs take note: The first annual national Big Shooter Contest, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, has been set for 7 p.m. Thursday, July 19, on Main Street.

Chamber Executive Vice President Gary Van Meter said "this is a contest for everyone." He explained further, "each contestant will be given 10 pounds of clay and the use of a potter's wheel. The object is to pull (shape) a pot (cylinder) as tall as possible in 10 minutes.

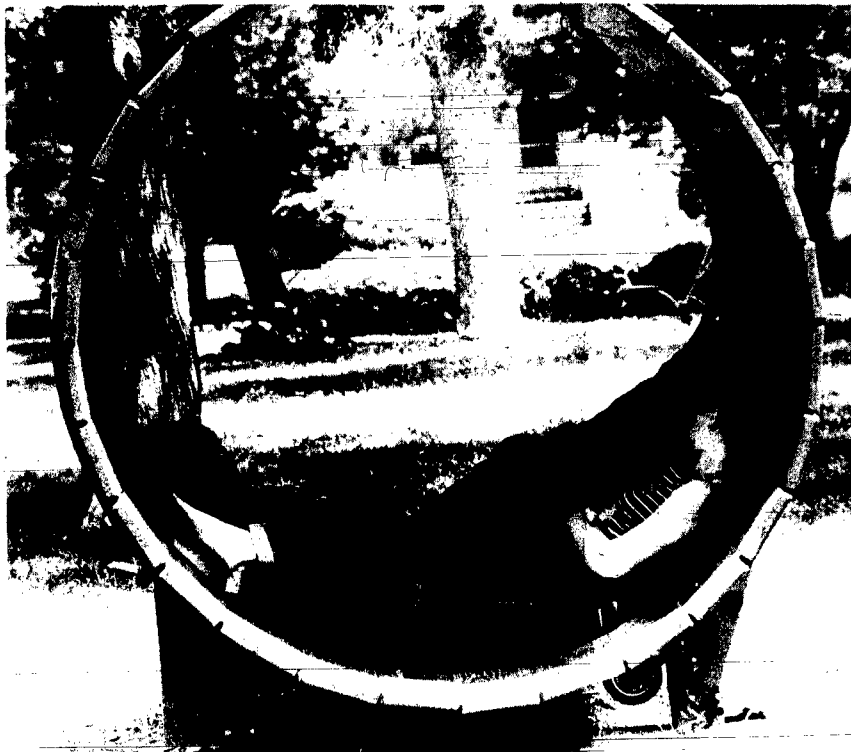

Van Meter said 30 contestants will be selected from the entrants to participate and will be notified by telephone. All contestants will receive a free Big Shooter T-shirt and the top winner's name will be submitted to the Guinness Book of World Records for best performance.

The contest is similar to one developed some years ago by local artist Carlos Frey.

According to the rules, kickwheels only will be used. The lump of clay will be placed on the wheelhead with the wheel stopped. Contestants will have 10 minutes to shape the lump of clay to a minimum diameter of four inches with the height measurement taken on the low side of the cylinder.

Those reaching 14 inches will be termed "big shot"; those from 12 to 14 inches will be called "big shooter"; 10 to 12 inches, "plain shooter"; 8 to 10 inches, "sissy shooter"; 6 to 8 inches, "shot down"; and 6 inches or less, "needs a shot."

For additional information, contact the Chamber of Commerce office at 375-2240; or Frey at 375-2395.

Neihardt Celebration Will Include WSC Event

Neihardt Day, which takes place the first Sunday in August annually by proclamation of the Governor of Nebraska, will be celebrated again this year in a two-day festival Aug. 4 and 5.

The first day of the Neihardt Day celebration will be a music festival to take place on the Wayne State campus here, Neihardt's alma mater.

Neihardt, best known for his authorship of "Black Elk Speaks," is author of several volumes of poetry. His major work is "Cycle of the West" which took 29 years to write, and covers in a lyrical style a story of the West. Black Elk, astonished with Neihardt's gift with words, gave the poet the name "Flaming Rainbow." It is for this gift that Neihardt Day is celebrated.

Bobby Bridger, songwriter and story teller, will feature performances given by area musicians at the first day here.

The second day of the festivities will take place just outside Neihardt's writing studio in Bancroft, where weeds and tin cans used to rule. Now a Sacred Hoop Prayer Garden has blossomed there into what is known as the Neihardt Center.

Wayne State festivities

The festivities begin at 11 a.m. at the Willow Bowl on the WSC campus. The opening performance is a surprise performance to be announced. At 12 noon, the Neigh blue-grass group "Sweet Corn" performs. Between 1 and 3 p.m. Bobby Bridger will conduct a workshop on his adaptation of the stories in Neihardt's writings.

At 3 p.m. the Clarkson Czech Dancers perform, followed at 3:30 by Campbell Bavenci with mountain music on hammered dulcimer. Bridger will end the Willow Bowl events with an hour workshop demonstration.

At 7 p.m., the concert in Rice Auditorium will begin with "Sweet Corn," followed by Bobby Bridger at 8 p.m.

The Willow Bowl activities are free to the public. The evening concert is $2.50 for advance tickets, $3 at the door; $1.50 for students and senior citizens; reduced rates for groups over 10. For reservations send check or money order to Neihardt Center, Bancroft, Nebraska 68004.

The second day of the festivities takes place in Bancroft at the Neihardt Center. The main program will feature Bridger performing the first part of his trilogy, "Seekers of the Fleece," at 3 p.m. The center will open at 10 a.m. for tours, displays, and a special demonstration of "Mountain Man" regalia by the Fort Atkinson Muzzleloaders. All activities for this day are free.

PERMITS NEEDED

County Assessor Doris Stipp reminds Wayne County residents that any new construction for which a building permit is not required under zoning regulations of the county or municipality should be reported to her office. This includes any types of improvements or alterations in areas other than Winslow, Hoskins and Wayne. These communities currently require building permits.

An Escape from the Heat

ANY TYPE of shade was a welcome blessing last week as the Wayne area suffered through some of the hottest and most humid days so far this summer. These girls were found escaping the pounding sun in Bressler Park.

County to Attend Hearing Tuesday

State Proposes Valuation Hikes

A report issued by the state Revenue Department says increases of 32 and 18 percent respectively in urban and agricultural land valuations are needed in Wayne County in order to achieve statewide equalization.

The department earlier this week provided a list of proposed increases in valuations of residential, commercial and agricultural land which range from a low of 7 percent for non-agricultural land in Thayer County to a high of 32 percent for such land in Banner County.

In connection with these proposed changes, the Revenue Department has scheduled a series of "show cause" hearings to be held in Lincoln.

County board chairmen, assessors and clerks will be asked to show cause why their valuations should, in their opinion, differ from the department's recommendations.

Wayne County is scheduled to be heard Tuesday.

A department survey earlier this year found that the average state sales-assessment ratio was 17.02 percent. But by law, property should be taxed at 35 percent of its assessed value, the department says.

Local reaction

Doris Stipp, Wayne County assessor, said the county's representative at the hearing will request a reduction in urban valuations from the state's proposal, but will not contend the agricultural proposal.

"We have been a little low on ag land, and the 18 percent increase on rural land straight across the board is satisfactory to us," she commented.

"We're real happy the Board of Equalization and Assessment is acting. They haven't for 10 years and we're a little disappointed about that. We have a new tax commissioner and we have a new governor and at least they're trying to do their jobs," she said.

Mrs. Stipp said the 32 percent for urban areas is in line for Wayne, but is a little high for the villages in the county. As a result, the county will seek a reduction in the proposed urban valuation hike.

"There is some hope the Board of Equalization will agree with the county's request, but Mrs. Stipp is a little pessimistic that any change will result from the hearing.

If the state's figures are certified, valuations will increase and the tax levies should drop, she predicted. This would not make taxes higher, the assessor theorized.

Tax supported subdivisions are saddled with a 7 percent lid on their budgets this year which also should help hold taxes as they are.

The state's recommendations are not final, but will be reviewed after the hearings by the board at its next regular meeting July 25. A final order probably will be issued before Aug. 15 and county assessors should have the board's recommendations for use in setting mill levies by Sept. 1, a state official predicted.

Ag land basis

For agricultural land, the department used a 1976 state manual, taking into account crops, rainfall, soil conditions and the amount of income the property could produce.

The increases for ag land reflect equalization similar to increases needed on non-agricultural land to bring it in line with the mandated 35 percent sales assessment ratio, even though there weren't enough sales to figure such a ratio, he said.

Other counties

Percent increases for urban and agricultural land (respectively) for Cedar County are 27 and 30 percent; and for Dixon County are 46 and 23 percent.

Hearings for these counties also are scheduled Tuesday.

In developments late last week, a Scotts Bluff attorney said the Revenue Department's proposed valuation changes may deviate from the Board of Equalization's order.

The board on July 2 approved a motion raising urban property values to a level comparable to the aggregate value in eight counties with sales assessment ratios close to 35 percent, which is the legal limit.

But the attorney claims the Revenue Department deviated from that motion by computing values that would reach the 35 percent figure instead of computing values approaching the aggregate levels in the top eight counties.

Newest and Youngest Doctor Begins Here

Friendliness of the community, a variety of recreational opportunities and the influence of a college were factors combining to attract Wayne's newest and youngest doctor.

James Lindau, 28, a 1976 graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Medicine, was scheduled to begin his practice with Wayne physician Willis Wiseman today (Monday).

Dr. Lindau and his wife, Sheryl, and their 4 week-old daughter, Elizabeth, moved here about two weeks ago and are living at 1010 Hillcrest Road.

Dr. Lindau said he was interested in family practice and wanted to live in a small town. Several communities were considered by him and his wife, but "we got a good feeling" after visiting Wayne, he said.

The amount of young people in Wayne, a factor related to Wayne State College, and the recreational facilities offered by the city of Wayne and Wayne State played a major role in the Lindaus' decision to locate here.

Dr. Lindau finished his postgraduate work in family practice residency in Lincoln recently.

A native of Wahoo, Lindau graduated from UNL in 1973 and went on to medical school in Omaha. His wife also is a native of Wahoo.

The Chamber of Commerce Search Committee had been working for some time to attract a doctor to Wayne.

Family practice

Family practice, in which Dr. Lindau specialized, is one of the newest areas in medicine having been formed in the 1960's.

The main thrust of family practice, Dr. Lindau explained, is to provide ongoing health care for family units as well as individuals.

The Academy of Family Practice requires its members to maintain their recertification through continuing education on the most recent medical developments.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Elofson, Wayne, Elofson is formerly vice president and general manager of the metro group which was responsible for four smaller White Metro plants in Indiana, Illinois and Texas.

White Advertising Metro recently acquired Ruth Outdoor Advertising Co., Inc. and Northeast Outdoor Advertising Corp., both in New York.

Fire Department Has Pair of Calls

Areas of Wayne were without power briefly Wednesday and Thursday after tarring equipment on a truck came in contact with power lines near Seventh Street and Pine Heights Road about 4:23 p.m. Wednesday.

A spokesman for the Wayne Light Department said power was out when the lines and pole were broken and then again when the extra load was transferred to other sources.

The Wayne Police Department said a straight truck driven by Alvin F. Wieseler, 45, was carrying farm equipment when the equipment struck the power lines, breaking the power pole.

The truck, owned by Logan Valley Implement Inc., was not damaged. Investigation continues into the mishap.

The WPD also reports an accident about 8 a.m. Friday in the 100 block of Pearl Street.

Drivers involved were Thomas E. McCright, 53, Wayne, and David J. Danek, 25, Wayne. There were no injuries. The Danek pickup received less than $250 in damages, and the McCright pickup, owned by Goch Field Mill Corp., Lincoln, was not damaged.

Dog Daze Set For Saturday

Businesses in Wayne will pull their merchandise out onto the sidewalks for the annual Dog Daze Sidewalk Sale Saturday, July 21.

Merchants will be offering rock bottom prices on a variety of items for the sale which starts at 7 a.m.

Power Outages Mishap Result

Wayne Fire Department was called to a car fire on Seventh Street near the Elm Motel Friday afternoon. Damage was minor and the fire was put out with a fire extinguisher.

A problem arose when the fire whistle stuck and continued to blow. At about the same time, a tornado warning for northern Cedar and Dixon counties was issued and several Wayne residents mistook the truck siren for a weather warning.

The WFD also was called to a trailer at the Reuner Trailer Court on Twelfth Street where an exhaust fan had overheated. There was no damage.

NEBRASKA

...the Good Life

Nebraska has produced many outstanding newspapermen who have gained national recognition. Several have been awarded Pulitzer Prizes. One went to Charles S. Ryckman, editor of the "Fremont Tribune", for his editorial on Nebraska Sen. George Norris entitled, "The Gentleman From Nebraska," published Nov. 7, 1930. (See the "Fremont Tribune," on file at the Nebraska State Historical Society.) The honor brought with it a $500 cash prize.

The May 5, 1931, "Tribune" said: Ryckman is one of the youngest, if not the youngest, editorial writer ever to receive the honor. He is 32 years of age. He also is one of the few editors of a country daily, if not the only one, ever chosen for the award. The editorial prize usually goes to the more experienced and more widely known writers of metropolitan dailies. (The writer overlooked William Allen White's "To An Anxious Friend," an editorial on freedom of the press, in the still-smaller "Emporia (Kansas) Gazette," 1922).

The article was written by Ryckman following the re-election of Republican Norris to the Senate over Democrat Gilbert M. Hitchcock in November, 1930. (The writer overlooked William Allen White's "To An Anxious Friend," an editorial on freedom of the press, in the still-smaller "Emporia (Kansas) Gazette," 1922).

Excerpts from Ryckman's award-winning editorial ("Fremont Tribune" Nov. 7, 1930; reprinted May 5, 1931): "Senator George W. Norris, never lacking a mandate from the people of Nebraska in the course he has pursued as a member of the United States Senate, now returns to Washington doubly assured of the unquestioned approval of his state and its people.

"The senatorial record of Mr. Norris, with all its ramifications, has been endorsed in as convincing a manner as anyone could wish. Many reasons have been advanced as to why such an endorsement should not be extended to him. The opposition to Mr. Norris has been conducted as ably and as thoroughly as any group of capable politicians could do the job. The candidacy of as fine a statesman as Nebraska ever produced (Gilbert M. Hitchcock) has been presented to the state as an alternative to that of Mr. Norris, and has been rejected....

"The state of Nebraska has elected Norris to the United States Senate this year, as it has many times in the past, mainly because he is not wanted there. If his return to Washington causes discomfiture in official circles, the people of Nebraska will regard their votes as not having been cast in vain....

"Nebraska voters have long since ceased to look to Washington for relief, and they no longer select their congressional representatives with relief in view. Neither George Norris nor any of his Nebraska Colleagues in Congress have been able to combat this hopeless situation. If Norris were forced to rely upon what he has done in Congress for Nebraska, he would approach an election day with fear in his heart.

"But Senator Norris has found another way to serve Nebraska. By making himself objectionable to federal administrators without regard to political complexion and to eastern interests of every kind, he has afforded Nebraskans a chance to vent their wrath. He is, perhaps unwittingly, an instrument of revenge....

"And yet, George Norris is not a political power in Nebraska. The people of other states believe he is revered as an idol in his own state. As a matter of fact, he is probably held in lower esteem in Nebraska than in any other state in the union. His endorsement of another candidate is of no real value. He could not throw a handful of votes over any political fence in the state....

"The explanation of this fascinating political paradox is to be found not in an analysis of Norris, but of Nebraska. As a senator, Norris has given Nebraska something the state never had before. He has put the 'Gentleman From Nebraska' on every front page in America, and has kept him there. A resident of Nebraska can pick up the latest edition of a New York Daily or of an Arizona weekly, and find 'Norris of Nebraska' in at least three type faces....

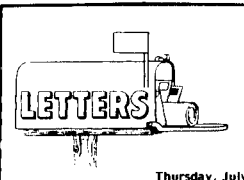

"Norris does not represent Nebraska politics. He is the personification of a Nebraska protest against the intellectual aloofness of the east. A vote for Norris is cast into the ballot box with all the venom of a snowball thrown at a silk hat.... Another senator might get federal projects, administrative favor, post offices and pork barrel plunder for Nebraska, but the state is contemptuous of these. For nearly two decades Norris has kept Nebraska beyond the pale of federal favor, but his people consider him worth the price.

"George Norris is the bur Nebraska delights in putting under the eastern saddle. He is the reprisal for all the jokes of vaudevillians, the caricatures of cartoonists and the jibes of humorists that have come out of the east in the last quarter of a century....

"The Norris home in McCook, a national historic landmark, is administered by the society. Containing original Norris furnishings, it is open April, May, September, and October, 1-5 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays; June, July, and August, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 1-5 p.m., Sunday. — Patricia Gaster, Editorial Assistant, Nebraska State Historical Society.

Dear Editor:

Hurricane "Bob," the first hurricane to carry a masculine name, and the final "Saga of John Wayne" have something in common... they proved to be mostly wind and lacked any real punch.

Perhaps that is the way it should be. After the deciding vote was cast at the last meeting of the Wayne city council, we felt the "voice of the people" had been heard. While we can't agree completely with the way the council members voted and finally, the deciding vote of the mayor we are convinced they voted their conscience and we can't and don't ask for anything more.

After a great deal of soul-searching, we contacted our source in California and he agreed to make contact with the Wayne family. However, after explaining the feeling of the representatives of the citizens of the City of Wayne and exploring personal opinions, we joined together in the laying to rest the late John Wayne as far as the proposed honorary dedication was concerned.

John Wayne, the actor, is dead. Wayne, the city, is far from it. The city of Wayne is a vibrant community on the verge of something big. Because of this, our suggestion concerning the honorary dedication was made with the best interests of the community in mind. We wanted to provide something upon which the city of Wayne could build. But anything fashioned out of sand soon crumbles.

While we personally are regrouping, we hope the citizens of Wayne do not become placid in forming the future of Wayne. New ideas are needed to insure that Wayne continues to be the "shining star of North-east Nebraska."

How brightly this "star" continues to shine, depends a large part upon what the citizens of Wayne do to kindle its flame. Indifference and closed minds do not an outstanding community make. Progress, fueled by continued constructive input from the citizens of Wayne, is bound to be felt in the community of Wayne. And with this progress comes growth; a growth built on a sound foundation.

"We urge all persons interested in the city of Wayne to explore all avenues which might lead to a positive future. As has been stated: "Nothing is so potent as an idea whose time has come." — Chuck Barnes.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Concerned with running into "closed" signs at gasoline stations, many motorists have resorted to carrying cans of gasoline in their cars.

The Automotive Information Council (AIC) warns against the practice, stating that it could be more dangerous than carrying sticks of dynamite.

"It's like riding with a bomb," said the council. Those gas cans are not designed to withstand a rupture in case of even a minor collision, so a spark could destroy a car in a minute or less. Fatalities therefore are more likely.

AIC also advises against using the cans to store extra gasoline in the garage, where careless handling also could cause a fire or explosion.

A check of auto parts stores indicates that the practice of carrying cans in cars is widespread. "We can hardly keep them on the shelves," said the manager of one store. Another said he's selling five to six times more of them than last year.

An AIC staff member saw one motorist filling five-gallon cans at a gasoline station, while a second motorist had three. "It's for insurance," said the one with five cans.

But it could be expensive insurance, notes AIC, if the car is hit in the rear.

The Department of Energy estimates that from 20 to 40 million gallons of gasoline are being stored by motorists in California alone, compared with an estimated 80 million gallons in the underground tanks at filling stations.

An ending of this practice not only could improve safety but, in combination with elimination of the habit of topping off, could help alleviate the spot shortages, said the Automotive Information Council.

The gasoline situation also has resulted in a noted increase in motorists driving away from self-service stations without paying.

Explained one station operator: "They can't steal from a barge, they can't punch Standard Oil in the mouth, so they're taking it out on the dealer."

Some stations therefore are demanding payment before the booth attendant will turn on the pump. If your fill-up requires less than the amount paid in advance, the attendant will refund the difference.

Other stations are putting in closed-circuit televisions with zoom lens to check license plates and some have installed police-type sirens which are set off if a car starts to leave without paying.

Paradise Found.

The only vacation trip Marge and I ever took was our honeymoon. Money was in short supply, so we figured it'd be terrific fun to camp out on the Appalachian Trail. Start our life together in a veritable Garden of Eden.

Well, while we feasted our eyes on the scenery, the mosquitoes feasted on me. I was riddled with bites. Marge came off second best in an encounter with poison ivy. After that, we swore we'd never go anywhere again until we could do it in the grand manner.

That was the start of our vacation kitty. Every chance we got, we'd buy U. S. Savings Bonds and stack them away. As soon as the kids were grown and on their own, we were going to take off. We kept dreaming and the Bonds kept growing.

About six months ago, I called the family together and announced that Marge and I would finally take our vacation. In Hawaii. We were gonna shoot the works. Tour the Islands. Laze in the sun. Nibble on pineapples and lychee nuts. And do exactly what we wanted.

Well, we finally found paradise. It's been a great vacation. And two people never deserved it more. I did go down to the airline ticket office the other day to book our return flight. But, instead, I just turned in the tickets.

As they say in the Islands—Aloha.

U. S. Savings Bonds can help pay for that dream vacation. So join the Payroll Savings Plan at work or buy Bonds where you bank. A little planning can go a long way.

Ritze-Kounovsky Making First Home in Norfolk

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. David Albert Kounovsky are making their home in Norfolk, where both are employed at Dale Electronics Inc.

The bride is the former Barbara Jean Ritze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ritze of Winside. She was graduated from Winside High School in 1976.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kounovsky of Stanton and is a 1972 graduate of Stanton High School. He served for four years in the U.S. Air Force.

Honor attendants at the couple's wedding were Sally Schwartz and Earl Schwartz, both of Norfolk. Bridesmaids were Candy Kernick of Norfolk and Cindy Zieher of Meadow Grove, and groomsmen were Stan Hasenkamp of Stanton and Gary Agaton of Battle Creek.

The Rev. Gall Axen of Stanton officiated at the double ring ceremony June 30 at the Theophilus United Church of Christ, rural Winside.

Guests were registered by Karen Kaser of Norfolk and ushered into the church by Bob Ritze of Winside and Marly Keenan of Stanton. Flower girls were Tina Lehman of Stanton and Jennifer Fork of Carroll.

Soloist was LeNeil Zofka of Winside, who sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Wedding Song," accompanied on the organ by Donna Jacobsen, also of Winside.

The bride appeared in an ivory gown of polyorganza. Her high regency neckline of Cluny lace was trimmed with a soft organza ruffle. Cluny lace and Venice lace formed a V to the lace encircled high rise waistline, and a row of eight covered buttons adorned the bodice. Matching lace was featured on the bishop sleeves and edged the hemline of the semi-full skirt and train. An organza-flounce completed her gown.

Her chapel-length illusion net veil was held in place by a band cap of Cluny lace and seed pearls. Matching lace outlined the entire veil. She carried a cascade of baby blue daisies with one large blue rose in the center, accented with ivory angel lace and white streamers.

Her attendants wore shimmering gowns of cornflower blue accented with floral drapes in polyknit jersey. The heister-style blouson bodices were of a string effect and flowing skirts fell from waistslines accented with long tie belts. The floral over drapes started at the bodice and swept back to walking length. Each carried one large blue rose framed with baby blue daisies and accented with ivory angel lace and white streamers.

The bridegroom wore an ivory tuxedo with a blue rosebud boutonniere, and his attendants were attired in light gray tuxedos with darker gray accents, blue shirts, and blue and white carnations.

Mrs. Ritze selected a blue, beige and green floral knit with beige accessories, and Mrs. Kounovsky wore a blue knit designed with an accordion pleated skirt.

Paula Hoemann of Hoskins and Kathy Nichols of Norfolk arranged gifts at a reception at the Winside city auditorium following the ceremony. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ritze of Denver and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lehman of Stanton.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Lonnie Fork of Carroll and Mrs. Arlene Zofka of Winside. Mrs. Marie Wyatt of Stanton and Mrs. Armin Fischer of Wichita, Kan., poured Punch was served by Mrs. Don Carroll and Mrs. Esther Svenson, both of Stanton. Lori Jensen, Patti Frevort and Susan Coulter, all of Winside, were waitresses.

THE EARLY DAYS

In Ralph Bishop All-Star Classic

West Rallies To Win Both Games

Strange things have been known to happen in all-star games and the Ralph Bishop League-Legion All-Star game was a classic example. Players from Wayne, Wakefield, Winside and Laurel formed the West team. Because the East has only three teams, Walthill, an independent team, was chosen to join Wisner. Emerson and Pender-Bancroft to form the East squad. Everything was fine until Walthill declined and the Ralph Bishop coaches were forced to make a quick decision what should be done. It was decided that two Wayne players, two Wakefield players and one Wisner player would be added to the team as at large selections. Chosen to the team were Dean Carroll and Jerry Goeden of Wayne, Tom Preston and Larry Soderberg of Wakefield and Bob Koch of Wisner. These extra players, especially Goeden, were influential in the near-win for the East team, which was edged in the final inning 10-8.

The game was tied at 2-2 after the first inning with Wayne stars Jeff Zeiss and Tom Ginn scoring the West runs. The East scored three runs in the second for a 5-2 lead. Runs by Dean Carroll, Tom Preston and Jerry Goeden in the bottom of the sixth put the East on top 8-2. In addition, Goeden pitched three scoreless innings, allowing one hit.

After the Wayne and Wakefield players did the damage for the East squad, players from the same two teams took over for the West. Dennis Carroll, Todd Swigart and Tom Ginn scored runs to put the West within two runs at 8-4.

The East ran out of regular pitchers and turned to Dean Carroll, who made his first mound appearance of the season. Carroll gave up only three base hits in the three innings he pitched but it was enough for the West to get two earned runs and two unearned runs for the win. Trailing by two runs, Ginn and Barry Jones crossed the plate to tie the score. Back to back singles by Wakefield's Scott Hallstrom and Rick Guy put the West in the threatening position. Wayne's Dan Mitchell lined a base hit to score the two winning runs in a 10-8 win.

Dennis Carroll was credited the win while brother Dean Carroll suffered the loss.

Four Hits Enough For Midgets

Four hits are seldom enough to win a baseball game, but it turned out to be enough for the West team to nip the East 4-2 in a Ralph Bishop League Midget All-Star game Wednesday night in Wakefield.

Collecting hits for the West team, which was composed of Wayne, Wakefield, Laurel and Winside players, were Mark Starzl and Joedy Sherer of Wakefield. Tim Pfeiffer of Wayne and Brian Foote of Winside. All of these players except Sherer also pitched in the game.

The East, made of players from Wisner, Emerson, Pender and Bancroft, scored one run in the bottom of the first inning for a 1-0 lead. The West took command in the top of the third with three runs on three hits.

Starzl began the threat with a single and Foote followed in his footsteps with another base hit. After a double steal, Laurel catcher Shannon Hopkins walked to load the bases. Pfeiffer, then drove a fly ball into deep left center field for a triple scoring all three runners. That was enough for starting pitcher Joe Olsen of Laurel to earn the win.

Billy Warren of Wakefield

added an insurance run in the top of the sixth, reaching base on a fielder's choice and later scoring on a passed ball.

Trailing 4-1, the East threatened in the bottom of the seventh.

With bases loaded and one out, an East runner was called out on interference when he ran into a hill ground ball. A base hit gave the East team one run and pitcher Tim Pfeiffer hit a batter with a pitch loading the bases again. Then, Pfeiffer struckout the final batter to preserve the win 4-2.

Wayne Juniors Top Walthill 'Nine'

Playing a non-Ralph Bishop League game in a hectic schedule, the Wayne Juniors collected 14 hits for a 6-4 win over Walthill, Thursday night in Walthill.

Six players, Jeff Zeiss, Dennis Carroll, Tom Ginn, Dan Mitchell, Jerry Goeden and Dean Carroll, played in the Ralph Bishop All-Star game Wednesday night and were scheduled to play against Wisner on the road Friday. Both Carrolls and Goeden pitched in the All-Star game, which left Jeff Zeiss in the starring role against Walthill.

Zeiss held Walthill to one run on four hits in five innings of pitching before he left the mound with a sore back. Dean Carroll pitched the final two innings to earn the save. He gave up four hits and three runs. Mark Gansbom was the leading hitter in the game, slugging a triple and two singles in three plate appearances and scoring two runs. Dave Schwartz, Dean Carroll, Dennis Carroll and Zeiss recorded two hits each.

Walthill took a 1-0 lead in the first inning but Gansbom, Zeiss and Dennis Carroll knocked the game in the third inning. Gansbom led off with a base hit, Zeiss sacrificed him to second with a bunt and Carroll brought him home with a single.

Still tied at 1-1, Gansbom tripled in the top of the fifth. Zeiss slashed a double to score Gansbom and Dennis Carroll added the other run later in the inning with Tom Ginn hitting a key single. Dean Carroll and Dave Schwartz singled in the sixth inning and both runners scored on RBI singles by Gansbom and Zeiss for Wayne's fourth and fifth runs.

Walthill scored one run in the sixth inning to cut the Wayne lead to 5-2 but Wayne quickly pulled ahead by four runs again. Ginn reached first base on a fielder's choice and Dan Mitchell drove him home with a triple for the last run.

Pitcher Dean Carroll retired the first two Walthill batters in the seventh inning but ran into troubles when the next three batters reached base and scored two runs, cutting the Wayne lead to two runs. Keeping calm under pressure, Carroll struck out the final batter for a 6-4 Wayne victory. The Juniors were scheduled to play at Wisner in Ralph Bishop action Friday night.

Victories Over Wisner Are Important Ones

When the pressure is on, the Wayne Midgets and Juniors seem to play their best baseball and against Wisner Friday night, the pressure was on. With Wisner on top of the Ralph Bishop League Midget standings and near the top in the Legion Standings, Wayne needed to win to have a shot at the League titles.

Tim Pfeiffer, who has carried the Wayne Midgets through some tough games, had a splendid night on the mound, pitching a one-hit shutout in a 5-0 win. In the Legion game, Dennis Carroll threw a four-hitter as the locals picked up a 3-1 win.

Wisner collected its only hit off of the hard throwing Pfeiffer with a double, in the first inning. From that point, Pfeiffer took complete control of the game. Only three Wisner ball players reached base in the final five innings, one on an error, one on a walk and one who was hit by a pitch.

While Pfeiffer contained the Wisner bats, Kevin Nissen and Pat McCright led Wayne out of its sluggish hitting problems by pounding three hits each. Nissen split the Wisner defense with a double and two singles while McCright pasted three singles. Pfeiffer and Jere Morris collected the other two Wayne base hits, leading to the five run attack.

The locals scored three runs in the second inning and two in the fourth to take command. The Wayne Midgets are scheduled to host Pender Monday night. Districts are scheduled in West Point beginning Aug. 4.

Wayne Legion Gets Win Over Wisner

There wasn't a superstitious player on the Wayne Legion team Friday night the 13th, and the local Juniors nailed Wisner with a 3-1 Ralph Bishop League loss, enhancing their own chances of a league championship.

Dennis Carroll did an effective job on the mound, pitching a four-hitter with five strikeouts and only one walk. With only six base runners all night, Wisner could only muster one run.

The Legion had been having difficulties scoring enough runs to win in the past few weeks but got all they needed for Carroll Friday. Jeff Zeiss was the first Wayne player to cross the plate when he scored in the top of the third inning. He scored on a sacrifice fly to Tom Ginn.

The one run lead held up until the sixth inning when Wisner put together a double and a single to tie the score. Jeff Dion led off the seventh with a single but was forced out at third on a fielder's choice after Zeiss walked and Ginn hit a ground ball to the third baseman.

With Zeiss on second and Ginn on first the Wisner pitcher was called for a balk and both runners advanced. Then, catcher Dan Mitchell faced a single into center field to bring home two runs for a 3-1 lead. After yielding a leadoff single in the bottom of the seventh, Carroll retired the next three players to preserve the win.

The Juniors are scheduled to host Pender tonight (Monday) with districts getting started on July 30 at West Point.

Economic Study of Ogallala Aquifer Planned

Financed by $300,000 from the U.S. Department of Commerce the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission (NRC) is beginning an economic study of the High Plains Ogallala Aquifer in Nebraska.

The study in Nebraska is part of a research program resulting from problems related to declining water and energy resources in the underground aquifer system that extends over portions of six states — Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, said Gayle H. Lewis, chief of NRC's planning division.

The Ogallala aquifer supports one of the largest agricultural economies in the world. The 180,000 square miles in the study area includes about 9.5 million acres of irrigated cropland. About one-half of these irrigated acres are in Nebraska which is one of the leading states in corn and beef production. Goals of the study are understanding the effect of future declines of groundwater and investigation of actions to stretch the useful life of the Ogallala Aquifer.

Primary objectives of the study are to determine potential development alternatives for the high plains; to identify and describe the policies and actions required to carry-out promising development strategies; and to evaluate the local, state and national implications of application or absence of these alternatives, Lewis said.

The alternative strategies may include:

- Water demand management through full application of currently accepted conservation practices and management technology.
- Water demand management through comprehensive application of advanced technology in water and agricultural management.
- Local water supply augmentation.
- Water supply augmentation through minor interbasin transfers, and;
- Water supply augmentation through major importation schemes.

Lewis explained that the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission is in charge of the management of the study. If it is contracting with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Water Resources Center, Energy Research and Development Center and Conservation and Survey Division, to assist with various phases of the research work.

Elements of the study in Nebraska will include agricultural and farm-level research, energy production impacts, state water resources and evaluation impacts research. Citizen involvement for the program will be provided through a recently appointed Public Advisory Board consisting of persons with an interest in the Natural Resources of Nebraska.

The Nebraska plan of study was completed May 31, and the study itself is now underway toward a completion date of June, 1981.
