Like Women's Vote, Anthony Dollar Has Tough Going

by Randy Hascall

The Susan B. Anthony dollar seems to be having a more difficult time gaining acceptance than the lady it was named after. That was the conclusion reached by the Wayne Herald after speaking to several merchants, bankers and businesses in the Wayne area.

Bank executives at State National Bank and First National Bank in Wayne indicated that people are not accepting the Anthony dollar for various reasons.

"People show a lot of interest in them (Anthony dollars) but they don't want to use them," one bank official said. "People want them for a novelty. They are very much like the quarter in size and as far as the merchants are concerned, they may get mixed up. The merchants aren't happy to get them."

Another bank officer indicated the new coins may never be accepted.

"The Susan B. Anthony dollars are not being accepted too well. They are too small and too much like the quarter," the executive said. "When someone wants $25 dollars in ones, they want dollar bills not coins. It's much easier to handle. I really don't think that they will be accepted, judging by the people's response. It's hard to replace the dollar bill."

The Susan B. Anthony coin is slightly larger than the quarter and smaller than the half dollar, but merchants believe the coin is too close in size to the quarter. The new coin is 1.04 inches in diameter compared to .96 of an inch for the quarter — a difference of only .08 of an inch.

"I don't like the coins," one Wayne merchant said. "They can be mistaken for quarters and will fit into pinball machines and pool tables. They plug up the machines. I put the coins behind the cash register and deposit them at the bank. I don't use them as change."

A representative of Casey Music Company of Laurel, a local distributor of pinball machines, juke boxes and pool tables, indicated that he had received four or five calls concerning machines jammed by the Susan B. Anthony dollar. He stated that manufacturers are in the process of building juke box coin chutes that accept the new coins. However, he wasn't sure what was being done with pinball machines.

Other merchants contacted by The Wayne Herald agreed that the coin is too much like the quarter and felt it is confusing to use. Most of the merchants said they deposit the coins after receiving them. Another problem brought up was the lack of a coin drawer in the cash register. Many registers are built to accommodate pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars, but leave no room for a one-dollar coin.

"Five hundred million of the new Anthony dollars were available for release on July 2 and distributed by the 37 Federal Reserve Banks to commercial banks across the country. A minimum of $4.5 million will be saved per year, claim Department of the Treasury officials.

The Eisenhower dollar cost eight cents to produce while the Susan B. Anthony coin cost only three cents. The one dollar bill costs nearly two cents to produce and lasts about 18 months while the Anthony dollar will last 15 years or more, according to Treasury statistics.

According to the Treasury Department, the new coin has many advantages. Contrary to the general opinion in the Wayne area, the Bureau of the Mint claims that the new coins are quick and easy to separate by size, saving time and reducing errors in counting and handling operations.

The bureau indicates that the Anthony dollars are quickly counted, eliminates the need for removal of worn bills, are easy to carry with other coins, easy to find in pockets and easy for children to use.

ONE GLANCE at these two coins shows a major reason the new SBA dollar is not being accepted readily in Wayne — or anywhere, for that matter. As one can see, there is only a slight difference in size and weight. Imagine searching for a quarter at a dimly-lit phone booth, or in a lounge, and coming up with one the new dollars instead.

Just Who Was Susan B. Anthony ???

The Anthony dollar is becoming a flop in Wayne. It was minted to honor the woman who fought most of her life to acquire the right for women to vote.

For those of us not current on our knowledge of history, here follows a brief rundown on Susan B. Anthony according to information supplied in a promotional brochure.

Susan B. Anthony was an American who devoted her life to securing the right of woman to vote. Her crusade continues the heritage of all heroic Americans who have built this country on the belief that equality is the right of every citizen, not the privilege of a few.

"Born in Adams, Mass., in 1820, she was well trained for her rebel role in history. Susan B. Anthony was raised in a family of Hickite Quakers whose members were often the backbone of liberal thought and action in the 19th century.

a fund raiser and president of the local chapter of the Daughters of Temperance, one of the only organizations open to women.

"The many times Miss Anthony was faced with the inequality of women did not weaken her resolve. She often voiced labor's cause and publicized news of strikes and the plight of working women; yet she was denied a delegate's seat at the 1869 convention of the National Labor Union.

"Perhaps her most trying moment came when her life-long family friend, Frederick Douglass, and his fellow male anti-slavery advocates at the first post-war Women's Right Convention in 1866 announced that the women must wait and be patient. 'This is the Negro's hour,' he said.

She is best known for her legal battle of the United States vs. Susan B. Anthony. Throughout 1872, she had been urging delegates of the suffrage convention to test the theory that the Fourteenth Amendment did not exclude women from voting. Armed with the amendment and the state election law which she read as proof that the text did not prohibit women from voting, she led a group of women to register in Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 1.

The same 16 women returned to the polls Nov. 5 and deposited their votes which were to be counted in the national election. All were soon arrested and all pleaded guilty to voting and were placed under bail of $500 and ordered to appear before the Albany, N.Y. court where Miss Anthony's bail was raised to $1,000.

After a long legal battle, she was sentenced to a fine which she refused to pay. She persisted in her efforts to secure women's right to vote for 33 more years, speaking, writing and counseling her followers who would continue her work and secure passage of the Nineteenth Amendment in 1920.

Musical Group, Comedy Act Feature '79 Fair Which Runs Through Sunday

A Las Vegas-style musical group and a contemporary comedy team are grandstand highlights of the Wayne County Fair which opened today (Thursday) and runs through Sunday at the Fairgrounds west of here.

The Buddy Young Show and Mahana & Jaspersing are scheduled to appear at 8:30 p.m. Friday night after presentation of Pioneer awards and other special awards. The 1979 fair opened this morning with judging of exhibits in the 4-H building, judging of 4-H and open class dairy, judging of rabbits, poultry and pigeons, judging of 4-H horses, judging of open class economics and a mini-rod tractor pull and disco dance.

For specific times, see schedule, elsewhere on this page.

Mahana & Jaspersing are billed in California, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and Arizona as contemporary sound effects and impression specialists.

They have worked with such acts as Melissa Manchester, Ray Price, Ann Murray, Jody Miller, Tommy James, Mel Tillis and Donny and Marie.

As a child, Glen Jaspersing used to hide in trees and frighten unsuspecting Boy Scout companions with mountain lion roars.

Not to be outdone, Glen Mahana was known to confuse the people in South America when he did secret bird calls on the buses he rode. He also claims to be the first person in the world to do an impersonation of Paul Lynde.

Weekend activities

Friday's events will include judging of 4-H and open class hogs, judging of 4-H and open class sheep, judging of 4-H beef, judging of open class horses, the annual big barbecue, the 4-H livestock parade and other events mentioned earlier.

Saturday will feature market hog show, judging of open class beef, horseshoe pitching, tractor pull and a sanctioned tractor pull.

Four-H pen of three market beef show, livestock bonus auction, demolition derby, 4-H livestock bonus auction and demolition derby are features of the closing day of the fair Sunday.

A blood pressure clinic will be held all four days under sponsorship of the Wayne Kiwanis Club.

Mobile office

Congressman Doug Bereuter's mobile congressional office will be at the Wayne County Fair on Thursday and Friday of this week.

The mobile office, a recreational type vehicle, will be open for business from 3 p.m. until 9 p.m. evenings.

Manning the office while it is in Wayne will be Dan Vodvarka of Wayne, Bereuter's assistant district coordinator for the northern part of the First Congressional District, and Carol Reilly of Lincoln, also an assistant district coordinator.

Bereuter, in announcing the mobile office service, noted that in almost a month of use, that it has been well received. Persons wishing to contact the congressman's representative at other times may reach Vodvarka during regular office hours at the northern district office at 220 W. Seventh St. in Wayne, 375-3030.

Monthly Siren Tests Friday

The city of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of civil defense sirens at 1 p.m. Friday.

Sirens will be allowed to run only one minute with a three minute pause between each siren test. Sirens will be tested in the following sequence:

Alert (used for tornado or other natural disaster warning) — both high and low siren on for one minute.

Pause — three minutes.

Attack — both high and low on for 10 seconds, off for 10 seconds, continuing for one minute.

Normal time sequence for each of the sirens would be a full three minutes. Since this is for testing purposes only, the siren will be shut off after one minute each so the public can quickly determine the difference between test and an actual warning.

If this were not a test, the public should immediately take shelter upon hearing either the Alert or the Attack signals given.

New Manager At Lil' Duffer

Jerre Chapman, 28, is the new manager at the Lil' Duffer.

A native of Norfolk, Chapman graduated from high school there and spent 3 1/2 years in the U.S. Army. He also attended Northeast Nebraska Technical College in Norfolk.

Jerre Chapman

"His work experience includes several years in direct sales prior to becoming involved in the fast food restaurant business in Norfolk. He has been involved with that for about two years. Chapman was active in Norfolk Jaycees and hopes to become involved here. He is looking forward to living in a smaller, less hectic community.

He and his wife, Janet, have two children, Neil, 6, and Gail, 1. They will move here in August when suitable housing is found.

For more information, see advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

News in Brief

Chamber Coffee for New Wayne Doctor

This week's Chamber of Commerce coffee will be held at the Wiseman-Lindau Clinic, 214 Pearl, for Dr. James Lindau who started practice in Wayne July 16.

Chamber members are urged to attend the 10 to 11 a.m. coffee for an opportunity to meet and visit with Wayne's newest doctor.

Pool Closes Early Friday

The Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool will close tomorrow (Friday) at 5 p.m. because of the barbecue at the Wayne County Fair. The pool will be open at its regular hours beginning Saturday.

Allen Sets Tractor Driving Event

The annual Future Farmers of America (FFA) tractor driving contest at Allen will be held Sunday, July 29, at 12:30 p.m., following a family picnic on the school grounds.

A spokesman for the FFA said all members and interested freshmen are eligible to attend the picnic and compete in the contest.

The top two drivers will go on to compete in the district contest at West Point on Aug. 14. The top two district winners will advance to the state contest in Lincoln during the State Fair.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the top three drivers in the local competition.

Ley Completes Intern Session

Jonathan H. Ley, 20, Wayne, has just finished seven weeks working as an intern in Sen. J.J. Exon's office in Washington.

"It was an experience I'll never forget," Ley said, "having the opportunity to see first hand how the U.S. Senate deals with major issues such as the energy crisis and Salt II has really increased my respect for government."

Ley plans to return to Wayne for the remainder of the summer before resuming classes this fall at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where he is a junior.

Confirmands Meet 55 Years Later

Members of the 1924 confirmation class at the Immanuel Lutheran Church north of Wakefield gathered at the Stratton House in Wayne Friday night.

Ten members of the class, who were confirmed April 13, 1924, met for a social hour and dinner. It was the first time the confirmands had met in 55 years.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dearl Meyer of Emerson, Mrs. Edna Kraillman Echtenkamp of Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. George Reuter, Dorothy Lessmann Parenti, Mr. and Mrs. Louie (Amanda Hollman) Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Otto (Elsie Baker) Saul, all of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sohren of Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Ella Meyer) Meier and Mrs. Willis (Eda Meyer) Jones, all of Coleridge, and Mrs. Anita Lessmann Gerdes of Bakersfield, Calif.

Unable to attend the reunion were Beatrice Luth McCoy of Norfolk and Evelyn Meyer Erlotben of 8432 S.W. 56th St., Portland, Ore., 97219.

Deceased members of the class are George Aevermann and Ora Lubberstedt.

Guests at Friday night's get-together were Mrs. Lucille Barthele of Wakefield and Mrs. Helen Echtenkamp of Wayne.

The Rev. E. Gehrke was pastor at Immanuel Lutheran Church when the group was confirmed. Their teacher was E.P. Grete.

Baptized at Norfolk

Baptismal services were held Saturday evening at Christ Lutheran Church in Norfolk for Jerod Jerome Cleveland. The Rev. Daniel Closter officiated. Jerod is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Cleveland of Hoskins. His godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Loren Burris of Norfolk.

Area Represented at Weeklong LWML International Convention

Nearly 4,000 members and guests from throughout the United States and Canada gathered in Omaha to attend the 18th biennial convention of the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML), July 16-19. Theme was "Sow the Seed."

The LWML is the women's auxiliary of The Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and numbers about 200,000 members in 43 districts.

Attending the convention from this area were Mrs. LeRoy Koch, delegate from the Wayne Zone, Nebraska North District; Mrs. Ed Fork of Carroll, Wayne Zone president; and Mrs. Dwayne Rethwisch of Wayne, a member of the pilot planning committee Anita Sandahl, also of Wayne, attended as a youth representative for the Nebraska North District.

A charter bus of 47 Wayne Zone LWML members attended the July 17 sessions, and several LWML members from the Wayne Zone were in attendance at other sessions throughout the convention.

A highlight of the convention was a surprise visit from Vice President Walter Mondale, who was in Omaha to seek support for the SALT II treaty. Mondale spoke to the convention and commended the Leaguers for their work in so many "worth while projects throughout the country."

The 550-plus voting delegates set a mission project goal of $450,000, representing the amount of funds to be gathered during the next two years. In addition, $165,000 was authorized for the League's ongoing programs in the next two years.

Projects selected for the 1979-81 biennium included Canadian ministry, Hispanic ministry, on-going ambassadors for Christ, Micronesian student ministry, Navajo Indian ministry, Hong Kong social ministry, Taiwan educational ministry, Brazilian ministry, and a lay ministry program.

Delegates elected the following new officers to four-year terms: Mrs. Helen Gienapp, Warren, Mich., president; Mrs. Doris Durkee, St. Paul, Minn., first vice president; Mrs. DeLores Rhode, Boulder, Colo., third vice president; Mrs. Karen Curry, Delray Beach, Fla., financial secretary; the Rev. Fredrick Riemer, Findlay, Ohio, pastoral counselor.

Four offerings were taken during the course of the convention. The first at the opening service raised over $11,000 and will be used for the League's mission projects. The other offerings are designated for World Hunger, a refugee resettlement, and other mission programs.

A "parade of blankets" consisted of more than 3,200 blankets, or quilts brought by delegates and guests for Lutheran World Relief, including 30 quilts donated by Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid members of Wayne.

More than 6,500 persons attended the opening service, where they heard Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, International Lutheran Hour speaker.

Dr. J.A.O. Preus, president of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, told the delegates that their prayers, gifts and projects are producing.

Delegates chose Detroit, Mich. as the convention site in 1983. In 1981 the convention will meet in Milwaukee, Wis.

Kerri Cornelius-Lynn Stallbaum Marry July 14 in Iowa Church

The marriage of Kerri Lynn Cornelius of Moviile, Ia., to Lynn Dennis Stallbaum of Martinsburg was solemnized in 3 p.m. rites July 14 at the immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Moviile.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lyle Cornelius Sr. of Moviile and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stallbaum of Martinsburg.

The newlyweds are making their home near Allen. The bride is a 1979 graduate of St. Joseph Mercy School of Nursing. The bridegroom was graduated from Allen High School in 1973 and is employed at Kneiff's Sand and Gravel.

The Rev. Henry Weimer of Moviile officiated at the couple's double ring ceremony. Julie Cornelius and Keith Cornelius, sister and brother of the bride, sang "Wedding Song" and "Lord's Prayer." Organist was Millie Wycoff of Moviile and the bride was another sister of the bride, Carol Cornelius.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sleeveless white empire wedding gown of polyester acetate in floor length with a full train. Lace trimmed the V-neckline. She wore an ankle-length veil edged with lace and carried yellow roses and blue carnations with baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Amy Cornelius of Moviile, and the bridesmaid, Tina Sachau of Martinsburg, wore sleeveless lemon yellow polyester frocks in floor length, designed with empire waistlines and yoke ties in back. They wore flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of yellow roses and blue carnations with baby's breath.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with tails and a yellow rosebud boutonniere, and his attendants, Larry Stallbaum of Crofton and Kent Sachau of Martinsburg, wore light blue tuxedos.

The bride's mother wore a silver polyester gown in floor length with a cape, and the bridegroom's mother chose a deep pink floor-length double knit, also designed with a cape. The guests were ushered into the church by John Rebensdorf Jr. and Jay Rebensdorf, both of Wayne.

Reception for 105 guests in the church basement followed the wedding ceremony.

Faye Kerstetter of Kennard and Laura Freilinger of Livermore, Ia., cut and served the cake. Lorna Stallbaum of Washington poured. Waitresses were Annie Martens of Climbing Hill, Ia., and Connie Nielson of Lynch

Newlyweds Honored

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Keith McClary were guests of honor at a pantry and linen shower Sunday evening at the Winside city auditorium.

UN-L Students On Dean's List

Four hundred and one students at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln have been named to the College of Business Administration Dean's List for the second semester of the 1978-79 academic year.

To qualify, a student must have received a grade point average of 3.6 or above (4.0 is an A) while enrolled in at least 12 hours of undergraduate coursework.

Area students making the Dean's List include Cynthia Gnirk, a sophomore from Hoskins, and Alene George, a freshman from Winslow.

Award Scholarship

Dale Kennedy, guidance counselor at the Allen Consolidated School, announced recently that Susan Erwin has received a full scholarship to Doane College in Crete.

The scholarship was awarded in athletics, music, and academics.

Miss Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin, is a spring high school graduate. She will enter classes at Doane in the fall.

Hosts at the Wayne County Historical Museum Sunday afternoon, July 29, will be Mr. and Mrs. Merton Hilton and Ann Lage.

The museum is open each Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 and is located at Seventh and Lincoln Sts., Wayne.

Churchwomen Host Fete for Miss Johnson

Ladies of the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield were invited to a shower last Thursday afternoon honoring Cindy Johnson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert V. Johnson.

Hostesses for the shower were members of the Lutheran Churchwomen.

Miss Johnson and Charles Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Leonard of Wakefield, will be married this Saturday.

Mrs. Allen Johnson was in charge of devotions. The Gems sang "The Life History of Cindy."

The mothers of the honored couple poured. Punch was served by Mrs. Fred Ulecht and Eveline Ring.

Specialist Recommends Breast-Feeding For Child's Nutrition

Although many mothers worry about their teen-age "junk food junkie" or their 10-year-old's picky eating, few may realize that good nutritional habits begin with an infant's first feeding.

Dr. Linda Vaughan, University of Nebraska-Lincoln assistant professor of food and nutrition, said good nutrition is crucial for an infant's good health and development.

"During infancy, poor nutrition can cause problems with physical and mental development that can't be made up in later life," she stressed.

She said there is evidence that infants who are overfed may lose the ability to regulate their appetites, and could be plagued with weight problems for the rest of their lives.

Infants who are fed high levels of sugar may develop an excessive sweet tooth, Vaughan added, which may cause problems with proper dental development.

Vaughan said infants need only milk or a "nut substitute" such as a formula, and water to be well-nourished. Infants who are breast-fed may not even need water supplements.

She noted that breast feeding has economic, nutritional and emotional benefits to both mother and child.

The extra calories, proteins and minerals a nursing mother needs may add up to about $5 to $7 per month, Vaughan said. However, formula may cost up to $30 a month, not including the cost of bottles.

Human milk also is better-suited nutritionally for infants than milk formulas or cow's milk, Vaughan said. Human milk is seldom allergic to the human infant and it contains antibodies against some diseases.

Because the mother must hold the infant while feeding him or her, nursing fulfills the need for maternal contact, as well as strengthening a feeling of affection, she said.

She noted that there is evidence that women who nurse suffer less uterine bleeding than those who bottle-feed, and a

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE

125 Attend Open House For Kay Golden Wedding

A Wakefield couple, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kay, marked their golden wedding anniversary Saturday at an open house reception and dance held for them at the Wayne city auditorium.

Mary Ann Kay of Wakefield registered the 125 guests who attended the open house reception from 2 to 4 p.m.

The guests came from Copenhagen, Denmark; Hawarden, Council Bluffs and Sioux City, Ia.; East Moline and Milan, Ill.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Wayne, Wakefield, Winslow, Hoskins, Battle Creek, Norfolk, Wisner, West Point, Pilger, Bancroft, Pender, Dakota City, Allen, and Emerson.

Among those present for the afternoon reception was Kay's mother, Martha Kay, 95, who resides at the Wakefield Health Care Center. Mr. and Mrs. John Kay of Wayne, attendants at the couple's wedding, also attended.

The event was hosted by the couple's children and families. Mrs. Leigh (Marcelline) Johnson of Bancroft and Donald Kay of Wayne. There are five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Roger Fredrickson of Wayne.

The cake, baked by Mrs. Jack Rubock of Wayne, was cut and served by Mrs. John E. Kay and Mrs. Gary Kay, also of Wayne. Mrs. Melvin Long of Norfolk poured and Mrs. David Slevors of Wayne served punch.

There was a dinner Saturday noon for the family at The Windmill in Wayne. A dance was held that evening at the city auditorium. Lunch was served by relatives and friends.

Kays were married at Wayne on July 21, 1929, and have resided three miles south and two and a half miles west of Wakefield since that time.

Wayne In Class B Tourney This Week

Class B Area 3 baseball action is just around the corner for Wayne Midget and Legion teams. The Area 3 tournament is scheduled to begin Monday in West Point with both of Hank Overin's teams entered in the field. The Wayne Juniors will participate in a seven-team field, with double elimination play. West Point, which boasted a 21-1 record before press time, is the tourney favorite. Wayne is scheduled to play Valley at 6:15 p.m. Monday in the opening round.

The Wayne Midgets should have an easier road, playing single elimination competition in a four-team field. The locals are pitted against Elkhorn, Saturday, Aug. 7. If the Midgets win that game, they will play in the finals at 6:15 p.m. Sunday.

The Nebraska State Legion Tournament is scheduled to be played in Broken Bow beginning Friday, Aug. 10. The State Midget Tournament is set to begin on Friday, Aug. 10 in Ord. Following is a complete Area 3 baseball schedule:

Humboldt High Earns Honors At WSC Clinic

Cheerleaders from Humboldt, Iowa, High School were awarded the first place trophy as Varsity Grand Champions at the Fourth Annual International Cheerleading Foundation's (ICF) Cheerleading Clinic held July 15-19 at Wayne State College. The Humboldt squad also took the overall "Firecracker" or spirit award at the event.

Second place ribbons were earned by the Cozad High School cheerleaders and third place by the Primghar, Iowa, High School squad.

Chanters from Millard were awarded the first place trophy in the junior varsity competition. Papillion took second, while the Stuart Junior Varsity squad took third.

The Gretna varsity squad earned the congeniality plaque and Kim Bartunek of Gretna High School won the overall "Coog" or best all-around cheerleader award. Miss Bartunek and Tricia Mickelson of Humboldt were both recommended to ICF as potential clinic instructors, an honor normally reserved for college cheerleaders.

Over 160 cheerleaders from schools throughout Nebraska and Iowa, and several from South Dakota, participated in the event. The girls, except for commuters, were housed in WSC residence halls. Sessions were held on campus with regular evaluation sessions.

Clinic instructors were supplied by the International Cheerleading Foundation. This year's instructors were cheerleaders from Penn State, Southwestern Louisiana State, Washington State and Ohio State.

The annual clinic, one of about 70 sponsors through ICF annually throughout the U.S., is designed to help high school and junior high cheerleaders improve their skills.

Participants in this year's clinic at Wayne State included: Jodi Freese, Viki Bullock, Tob Spacil, ReNae McNeil, Kris Proelt, Kelly O'Donnell, Penny James and Lynnette Hansen of Wayne High and Colette Kraemer, Sonya Ellis, Linda Wood and Kris Knepper. June Luschen and Pam Kavanaugh of Allen High School.

Despite His Handicap

'One-Arm' Swings Freely

Forty five years ago, he couldn't break 100 strokes for 18 holes of golf. Forty years ago he wasn't even playing golf. Now, at the age of 62, Kasch Glowacz of Omaha is a happy golf enthusiast who can consistently break 100 and is an inspiration to many colleagues on the golf course.

Kasch, once a strong 220 pound laborer, lost his left arm in a coal conveyor accident at the age of 19. The arm dangled uselessly by his left side for five years in hopes that one day it would return to life. Finally, Kasch gave up hope on the arm and realized that the dysfunctional limb was a menace. He had it amputated.

After the operation, he married Helen and his wife Helen are still married and have a daughter, Cynthia. Seven or eight years later, he began golfing again, despite his handicap.

When Kasch reached his early 40's, he was found to have cancer of the stomach. Doctors were reluctant to perform a colotomy because of Kasch's armless left side. Under extreme caution, the doctors performed surgery and Kasch survived the operation with no major difficulties.

After the one armed golfer recovered, he was back on the course again. At his home course (Omaha Benson) he now boasts a 12 handicap over nine holes. Kasch appears cheerful and determined on the golf course and is always willing to talk about his missing arm. He played in the Wayne Open July 15.

"Call me a one armed bandit and I'll shake your hand," Kasch said. "At first I didn't want to play golf again. My arm was hanging by my side. Finally, my doctor told me to get it cut off. He encouraged me."

After I had my arm removed, I started golfing again. People would always be watching me and when I hit the ball 50 yards they would clap. Kasch continued. "They were trying to encourage me. I thought I hit bad shots but the fans thought they were good. They inspired me, so I started hitting buckets of balls along the railroad tracks."

Kasch sat in the clubhouse at Wayne Country Club afterwards, sipping a mixed drink and joking with acquaintances. "I should have gotten a par on the fourth hole but I didn't get enough left arm into my tee shot," he chuckled.

Kasch is usually seen joking with friends. And his friends are often seen kidding him about his one-armed golf game. That's the way he likes it. "I like to advertise the way I am, I talk about it and accept it. I don't stay home and do nothing," said Kasch. "Other golfers come out of their shell when they see my handicap. I should have had the arm cut off sooner."

THE ONE armed golfer, Kasch Glowacz chips the ball onto the green at the Wayne Country Club. Kasch was in Wayne for the Wayne Open Golf Tournament, an event he has competed in on several occasions. One Arm, now 62 years old, boasts a 12 handicap over nine holes.

Joking with people has almost become a business with Kasch. While warming up for his golf, he practices swings backhanded. When he begins his game, he plays forehanded, the same way a right handed golfer would play.

"I like to have people write 'one arm' under my name," Kasch said. "I don't want people to feel sorry for me." Few people feel sorry for Kasch. Most admire the man because of his determination and ability to face up to his handicap. He has an earned golfing companion from Grand Island who travels to several tournaments with him.

"Another man from Grand Island lost his arm in an electrical accident and his friends told him about me," Kasch explained. "He called and asked what he could do to play golf. I helped him and now we go to tournaments together. I'm so happy that this man is playing because he said he knew if he wasn't golfing, he'd be drinking instead. He also has a left wooden leg. He's my prize pupil."

Since he lost his arm, the best round Kasch has ever shot is a 77 he fired in the championship flight of a tournament in Columbus. He qualified for another championship flight in a tourney in Iowa. Kasch said he used to play in tournaments at Wayne and sleep in the parking lot overnight.

Like any person with a handicap, Kasch often hears children talk about his missing arm. "Kids will see me and say, 'Mom, he only has one arm.' The mother will tell her child to be quiet because she thinks I'll be offended. When kids ask me what happened, I must have an answer for them. They're smart and I like that."

Sometimes, I tell kids I was crossing the street when I should have been and got run over. I tell others that I used to bite my fingernails," Kasch said. "When one girl questioned me, I told her I used to suck my thumb. Her mother winked at me. The girl looked at me and said she would never suck her thumb again. A few minutes later, the girl ran, skipped and hopped up to me and said, 'Mr. Kasch don't worry, your arm will grow back.' That felt great. I'll never forget that moment. Those were the most encouraging words I've ever heard."

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

HOW TIME FLIES! It seems like spring just arrived a few weeks ago and here we are in late July. The summer baseball season is nearly over. In fact, district baseball action began in Class C yesterday (Wednesday). Class B area tournament play begins Monday.

As usual, Wayne and Wakefield will be contenders in area and district action and hope to go to State. Another team which has gone almost unnoticed this season is Laurel's Midget team. They have had a fine season and could certainly slip through district action.

Wayne's Midgets can win area play by winning two games. If their pitching comes through, they can do it. The Legion has a much more difficult route in a double elimination seven team tourney. West Point has lost only one game all season. To the best of my knowledge, and will host the tournament. It's bound to be a real test for the locals so we should find out how much depth and stamina the Wayne team has. Wakefield will enter only a Legion team in districts because about six Midgets play on the Legion team. They're bound to be the tourney favorites.

BASKETBALL SEASON is a long way off yet, but this seems like a good time to talk about it. Wayne fans may see improvement in their varsity boys' team this year. The reason is simple — Wayne played in a summer basketball league which just completed its season.

Teams from many of the neighboring communities participated in the league which was organized to keep the young athletes active while they learned fundamentals of team play. Hopefully, this summer league activity will pay off in the long run.

FOOTBALL FORECASTERS are making or have already made their predictions for the upcoming football season. Most of the prognosticators seem to tab Southern Cal as the national champions. One of the surprising forecasts was the selection of Purdue as the number two team in the county by one of the annual pigskin forecasters. Purdue had a good season last year but I doubt that the Boilermakers will finish in the top five.

Some of the other national powers which have received recognition in the top 10 ranking include Alabama, Texas, Penn State, Nebraska, Stanford, Michigan, Oklahoma, Pittsburgh, Arkansas and Notre Dame.

Bruggeman, Brudigan One-Two At Sioux Falls

At the midway point in auto racing at Huslet's Speedway in Sioux Falls, Gerald Bruggeman and Gene Brudigan, both of Hoskins, rank one two. Mid-season standings show Bruggeman with 2,010 points and Brudigan in second place with 1,190. Harold Brudigan of Hoskins is currently in ninth place with 690 points.

Bruggeman added to his point total last Wednesday in the Serloma Charity race for the School for Handicapped Children fund. He placed third in the third heat and second in the A feature. Gene Brudigan won the second heat, finished second in the trophy dash and placed third in the A feature. Harold Brudigan finished seventh in the A feature.

At Huslet's Speedway, Sunday, Gene Brudigan had a good day, winning the second heat, finishing second in the A feature and placing third in the trophy dash. Harold Brudigan finished fourth in the third heat. In races at Jackson, Minn. Saturday, Bruggeman placed third in the second heat and sixth in the A feature. Gene Brudigan placed fifth in the second heat.

Hunting Seasons Are Set

Regulations for eight Nebraska fall hunting seasons were set by the Game and Parks Commission following a public hearing at its July 20 meeting in Lincoln.

Bag and possession limits, season length, open areas and other regulations were established for dove, snipe, rail, woodcock, grouse, cottontail rabbit, squirrel, and fall turkey seasons. And, the Commission set an evening meeting on Aug. 27 to establish the remaining seasons, those on pheasant, quail, waterfowl, bobcat, jack-rabbit, crow hunting and furbearer trapping.

The grouse regulations established by the Commissioners reflected the findings of Commission biologists studying this year's grouse population. The biologists report that a bumper crop of prairie chickens and sharpshin is in the offing, and the Commissioners responded with a season one week longer than last year's, with more liberal limits. Grouse hunting will run from Sept. 15 through Nov. 4, with limits of three birds daily and nine in possession.

The Commissioners also heard good reports on the status of most of Nebraska's wild turkey flock. Shotgun permit numbers were increased to 1,000 in the Niobrara Unit, and 300 in the Verdigris area. The Round Top Unit will offer 1,500 fall turkey permits, the same number as last year. The 1979 fall turkey season will open on Oct. 27 and run through Nov. 9. Fall archery turkey hunting will be open from Oct. 1 through Oct. 26 west of U.S. Highway 81, except for Buffalo and Webster counties.

Other seasons established by the Commission include: dove — Sept. 1 Oct. 15, 10 per day and 20 in possession; cottontail rabbit — Sept. 1 Feb. 29, 7 & 21; squirrel — Sept. 1 Jan. 31, 7 & 21; rail — Sept. 1 Nov. 9, 25 & 25; snipe — Sept. 15 Nov. 18, 5 & 10.

In other action, the Commission voted to extend to Dec. 31 an agreement with South Dakota regarding fishing on the Missouri River along the border between the two states. The agreement allows holders of resident permits from the two states to fish from either bank of the river, and to fish any oxbow, sloughs, chutes or backwaters of the river on either side, provided they are connected to the river or contain part of the state boundary. In effect, the major benefit for South Dakota fishermen is access to the Gavins Point Dam Tailwaters, while Nebraska fishermen gain use of South Dakota's boat ramps on the river.

The Commission indicated that the agreement might not be renewed beyond the end of 1979 if South Dakota does not make some progress toward previously-agreed-to goals. These include more equitable treatment of nonresident waterfowl hunters in South Dakota, and the elimination of jug fishing on Lewis and Clark Lake.

Pitching Comes Through

Midgets Shutout Pender

It takes at least two good pitchers for a team to win an area baseball tournament and the Wayne Midgets are in the process of molding their second pitcher. Tim Pfeiffer has been the pitching ace for the Midgets all season and at times has been almost unbeatable. But, the Midgets have had trouble grooming another pitcher.

Now, Kevin Nissen appears to be approaching the form that will be needed for area action in West Point beginning Saturday, Aug. 4. He shut out Pender Monday night in a 10-0 win. The Midgets will meet Elkhorn at 4 p.m. and if they should win, would face the West Point-Hartington winner on Sunday, Aug. 5.

Nissen pitched four and two-thirds innings against Pender, Monday night and allowed only two base hits while recording seven strikeouts. He ran into a bases loaded jam in the second inning but Pfeiffer entered the game to retire one batter for the third out.

Offensively, the Wayne bats were hot. The Midgets collected 10 hits and managed 10 runs to post a 10-0 win by virtue of the 10-run rule. Leading the attack were Pfeiffer with two hits and two runs and Jeff Brandt with two hits.

Nissen struckout the first two batters in the second inning before running into problems when the next three batters loaded the bases on an error, a walk and a single. After Pfeiffer retired the final batter in the second, Nissen reentered the game as pitcher and retired nine consecutive batters to earn the win.

Wayne built a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the second on four singles and a sacrifice bunt. Nissen led off with a base hit, stole second base and reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Pat McCright. Tod Heier followed with an RBI single and stole second base. Todd Skokan rapped a base hit moving Heier to third. He, then stole second base to set up a double threat. Brandt singled to score Heier and Skokan moved to third base. Skokan stole home for a 3-0 lead.

McCright and Brandt rapped run-scoring base hits in the third as Doug Proett, Pfeiffer and McCright crossed the plate for a 6-0 lead. Jim Sperry recorded a big hit in the fifth when he slashed a base hit to score Eric Brink and Bill Vritska. Al Lindsey scored the first run of the inning.

The 10th run for Wayne ended the game when Pfeiffer tripled and scored with Perry Nelson at the plate. The win assured the Midgets of at least a tie in the Ralph Bishop League.

Carroll Ball Diamond Dedicated

The new ball park at the north edge of Carroll was dedicated Sunday afternoon and officially named the Robert E. Johnson Memorial Ball Park, by the Carroll Businessmen's Club.

The ceremonies began with Kenneth Eddie, mayor of Carroll, telling the crowd of about 150 how the location was chosen. He stated that last year when the businessmen met to discuss a possible name for the project, the community had just been saddened by the death of the Carroll rural mail carrier, Robert E. Johnson. The club voted unanimously to name the park after Johnson.

Mayor Eddie said that Johnson, who had lived in Carroll since 1935, had been very active in the improvement of the Carroll community. He had held offices in the school and on the town board and was very active in sports. Johnson served Carroll as mail carrier for about 30 years, Eddie said.

A plaque was presented to Mrs. Robert E. Johnson and the Carroll ball teams gave her an autographed ball. Mrs. Johnson presented a check for $500 that was given in memory of her husband at the time of his death to be used for all park improvements. The $500 was received by the Johnson family following Robert's death.

Baseball and softball games followed Winside and Carroll followed the dedication with a lunch served by the Carroll Ball Club.

Class C District Parings Are Changed

When tournament directors drew pairings for the Class C, Area 3 Baseball Tournament, they used a list submitted to them from the State Baseball Association. Pender was omitted from the list but should have been included. Thus, tournament pairings had to be redone to accommodate Pender in the Midget and Legion tours.

In the original pairings, Laurel Midgets received a bye and Winside Midgets were scheduled to play Randolph. In the revised pairings, Laurel will now play Pender at 3 p.m. today (Thursday) in Midget action. Winside will still meet Randolph.

In the Legion division, no major changes were made. Pender was paired with Wynot in first round action. Laurel is still scheduled to play Randolph and Wakefield and Winside are scheduled to meet in the other first round matchup.

Wayne Boys' Team Wins R. B. League

The Wayne Little League baseball team, composed of boys age 12 and under, clinched the Ralph Bishop League title with a 7-2 win over Laurel last Thursday.

Steve Overin upped his pitching record to 8-0 by throwing a two-hitter against the Laurel team. He also has three saves for the season. Don Larsen earned two wins and Jeff Sherer got the other win as Wayne compiled a 12-0 record. A Ralph Bishop League game with Wisner and two non-league games with Thurston are all that remain for the locals.

Overin struckout 11 batters in the six inning win against Laurel. Pearson and Halsch collected the only Laurel hits in the third inning as Wayne fell behind 2-1. Wayne scored five runs in the fourth and one in the sixth to post a 7-2 win. Wayne out-hit Laurel 9-2.

Collecting hits for Wayne were: Sherer, Gross, Pick, Larsen, Haase, Koeng, Jorgensen and Dorcay.

14 and under
Wayne 12, Laurel 5 — Two hits each by Todd Schwartz and Chad Dorcay led the Wayne Pony League to a 12-5 win over Laurel last Thursday. Both players scored two runs in the game, giving Schwartz the mound victory. Laurel collected six hits, including three by Halsch, who tripled and singled twice.

12 and under
Wayne 13, Emerson 8 — Don Larsen was the winning pitcher as Wayne pushed 13 runs across the plate. Brent Pick was the leading batter, collecting two hits and scoring two runs.

14 and under
Emerson 14, Wayne 4 — Wayne couldn't keep up with the hard hitting Emerson team and managed only four hits and four runs. Collecting the hits for Wayne were Pfeiffer, Schwartz, McCright and Nieman.

Girls' Softball Results

18 and under
Winside 13, Carroll 12 — Winning pitcher was June Mey and the losing pitcher was Meg Owens. Brenda Voss, Marci Thomas, Meyer and Krisi Duering led Winside with two hits each. The leading hitter for Carroll was Milligan with two base hits.

15 and under
Winside 12, Carroll 5 — Winning pitcher was Schueter and the losing pitcher was Johnson. Winside was led at the plate by Meyer with four hits and Schueter with three. Murray, T. Thomas, Jensen and Janke added two hits apiece. Leading Carroll were Dahl koeter and Ulrich with two hits each.

18 and under
Winside 10, Osmond 6 — Winning pitcher was Kelly Leighton and the loser was T. Hoepfner. Leading hitters for Winside were Voss with three hits and Dawn Janke, Kelly Leighton, Kim Leighton and Daria Janke with two hits each. Osmond was led by Blunck and Brockmeier with two hits each.

15 and under
Winside 20, Osmond 15 — Winning pitcher was Schueter and the loser was S. Hoepfner. Winside's leading hitters were T. Thomas with five hits, Daria Janke with four and Kelly Leighton and Frederick with three hits each. Leading hitter for Osmond was Hoffman with three hits including two home runs.

15 and under
Pierce 15, Winside 8 (5 innings) — Winning pitcher was Heib and the losing pitcher was Schueter. Kelly Leighton with three hits and Meyer with two hits led Winside. Pierce was led by Morris with four hits.

18 and under
Winside 23, Pierce 22 (7 innings) — Kelly Leighton was the winning pitcher in this high scoring close battle. Voss and Meyer led the Winside offense with three hits each. Pierce was led by Sihaceki with five hits.

13 and under
Laurel 15, Winside 13 — Vander heiden pitched a no-hit shutout in this Ralph Bishop League contest. Leading hitters for Laurel were Lindsey, Osborne and Lute with three hits each. Thompson had a home run for the winners.

15 and under
Laurel 9, Winside 7 — A triple play by Laurel ended the final Winside threat and gave Laurel the win by two runs. With bases loaded and no outs in the last inning, Winside's Brudigan hit a line drive to third baseman Jonas. She made the catch, stepped on third base for the second out and threw to second base to complete the triple play. Leading Laurel at the plate was Schultz with three hits. Schueter led Winside with two hits. Dabekow earned the win while Meyer was tagged for the loss.

18 and under
Winside 19, Laurel 8 — Gallop earned the win and Galvin suffered the loss in a five inning game. Leading Winside's offense were Bowers with four hits, Voss, M. Thomas and Kim Leighton with three hits apiece. For Laurel, Galvin, Chace, Thompson, Reynolds and Jonas all had one hit.

18 and under
Winside 13, Carroll 13 — Winside won this seven inning contest at the Robert E. Johnson Memorial Field dedication in Carroll, Sunday. Laurie Gallop got the pitching win while Lori Burbach was tagged for the loss. Leading Winside were Brenda Voss and Dawn Janke with four hits each and Joanie Bowers and Marci Thomas with three hits apiece. Holly Rees had three hits for Carroll, followed by Eddie, Meg Owens, Milligan, M. Eddie and Burbach with two each.

Waldbaum Employees to Kansas City

PART-TIME and FULL-TIME employees of the Milton G. Waldbaum Company, Wakefield, who qualified for a company sponsored weekend in Kansas City left Friday morning by chartered bus. About 80 persons were taken in two weekends for a KC Royals Baseball game, pizza and a day at World's of Fun. To qualify for the trip, employees worked weekends or holidays or other unusual hours at odd jobs at either Big Red Farms or the Wakefield plant to accumulate the needed number of points.

Some Social Security Books Are Misleading

Some books sold as social security information are useful, but there are others that are inaccurate, misleading, overpriced, and deceptively advertised, says Date Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk last recently.

The Social Security Administration doesn't discourage the sale of commercial publications, Branch said. At the same time, we don't endorse any non-government publication. People can get free, accurate, up-to-date publications and other information about social security at any social security office.

Social security information is organized and illustrated in a different way in some commercial books. Some of them are well done, but the information in them isn't "secret" or "inside." If advertising suggests it is, the advertising is false.

Some advertising hints that a publisher has an official connection with the Social Security Administration and has access to people's social security records, Branch said. This is never true. No advertiser has access to other people's social security records. These records are confidential under the law. Dramatic claims for books can be misleading, Branch said. For example, an advertisement says readers will learn "how to collect $300 a month from social security at age 30 while you are working full time." The book tells you what any social security office will tell you without charge. If a young father and mother are both working under social security and one dies, their children may get monthly social security payments.

People can call, write, or visit any social security office for free information about the retirement, disability, survivors, Medicare and supplemental security income programs.

Attic Heat Hampering Energy Efficiency

Don't look now, but you may have a furnace over the ceiling.

When outside summer temperatures reach into the 90's — not unusual in Nebraska — a home's attic can reach temperatures of 160 degrees F (72 C), which is almost like having a furnace upstairs, an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension housing specialist pointed out.

Kathy Parrott said high temperatures in the attic mean the house, especially the upper floor, is hotter and the air conditioner has to run much longer and more often to cool things down.

Rather than paying higher air conditioning bills, however, Parrott said homeowners might try to cool off the attic by increasing the amount of ventilation it receives.

This can be accomplished either through natural attic ventilation or powered ventilation, provided by the attic fans now being advertised in many parts of the state.

For natural ventilation, the University of Nebraska Lincoln specialist said an adequate number of vent openings are needed in the attic. Openings in the ridge or soffits work to let cooler air in while vents in the ridge or peak of the roof let heat escape, she explained.

About one square inch of vent opening is recommended for every square foot of attic floor space.

When computing the amount of vent openings, Parrott said to remember that vents with screens or louvers reduce the amount of air flow by as much as one-half. As a result, homeowners will need about two square inches of louvered or screened vent opening per square foot of attic floor.

Sometimes, attic ventilation can be increased significantly simply by making certain existing vents aren't blocked by bird nests or covered over by insulation, she noted.

Attic fans are advertised as another way to save money on air conditioning costs, according to the specialist.

When roof designs prevent adequate natural ventilation, such as when there is no roof overhang, an attic fan can be installed at one gable to pull the air through the attic and reduce temperatures.

Lower attic temperatures, Parrott said, will directly affect the amount of time the compressor unit on an air conditioner will run.

And, since attic fans use only a small amount of energy to operate when compared to an air conditioner, the combination of an air conditioner and attic fan can be more economical, she said.

"This is especially true if your attic insulation is less than about R-20, which means the house gains more heat from a hot attic," she said.

Attic fans also can make a home more comfortable by reducing attic temperatures, Parrott added. The home will cool down more at night and won't heat up as fast during the day.

In addition, attic fans can be installed so they exhaust hot air from inside the house, as well as in the attic. This is usually accomplished through an open attic door.

"The only problem is remembering to close off the attic from the house when the air conditioner is running, so you're not exhausting cool air through the attic," she said.

How can you tell if your attic needs more ventilation? Parrott said to use a thermometer that registers at least 160 degrees F (72 C) and check the temperature in the attic several times during the day. "If the temperature is 10 to 15 degrees higher than it is outside, you need to consider adding vents or an attic fan," Parrott said.

Injuries Result From Accident

A Wayne man was treated for cuts, bruises and abrasions at Providence Medical Center here after a two-car accident about 11:15 a.m. Saturday 10 1/2 miles west of Wayne on Nebraska 98.

According to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Brian Lessman, 22, was headed west when a car driven by Todd Jenkins, 19, Carroll, attempted to pass him. Jenkins' car caught the side of the Lessman car, causing it to roll about four times in the ditch.

Lessman was transported by Winslow ambulance. Damage to the Jenkins car was less than $250 while the Lessman car was considered a total loss.

The WCD also reports a tender pickup accident about 2:30 p.m. Thursday on the main street of Winslow.

Drivers were Michael Thompson, 32, Winslow, and Raymond Kashas, 30, Sioux City. According to the report, the Thompson pickup struck the Kashas tractor trailer as it was making a turn.

There were no injuries. The Thompson pickup received less than $250 in damage and there was no damage to the tractor trailer.

The heart is only about 5 1/2 inches long and 3 1/2 inches wide.

Historical Society Receives $2,000

The Wayne County Historical Society recently was presented a check for $2,000 in lieu of property east of town.

Mrs. Mabel Sorensen, a long time member of the Historical Society, donated the money after 2 1/2 acres of land were sold.

In 1954, the Museum Committee organized in the Wayne Women's Club. The group secured a room behind the courtroom in the Courthouse which soon was overflowing with county artifacts.

Years of searching for a new site proved fruitless until Mrs. Sorensen offered, in memo of her husband, Clarence, 2 1/2 acres of land east of town.

The idea was to construct a new building on the site but local support and a financial drive failed. In consequence, the former home of a local doctor at Sixth and Main Streets was available and was moved to the new site east of town.

The project was progressing until the highway access right of way was repossessed. Since the museum had to be abandoned, it reverted to Mrs. Sorensen. She recently sold the property and presented a check for the proceeds to the Historical Society which is now housed at Seventh and Lincoln Streets.

The Historical Society has yet to decide how the money will be spent.

Cycle Accidents Injuries Told

A Wayne resident was injured in a motorcycle accident about 10:09 p.m. Monday in the 100 block of Windom, the Wayne Police Department reports.

Taken to Providence Medical Center by ambulance was Robert L. Bates, 21, with cuts and abrasions. According to the report, he lost control of his cycle, struck the curb, a wire fence and three metal poles.

The cycle received about $100 in damages.

Return From Vacation

Mrs. Rudy Longe and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Lampe, returned last Thursday after vacationing five weeks in California and Hawaii.

They visited Mrs. Lampe's daughters in Sacramento, including Mrs. Milo Vander Wert and Mrs. Orville Remme and their families.

Mrs. Longe spent the first week in Salinas, Calif. with a brother, Alfred Lampe, and accompanied him to his son's wedding on June 10 at Monterey. On June 17, Mrs. Longe and her brother attended the graduation of Lampe's grandson, Tom Lyons, at Stanford University.

Returning to Sacramento, relatives helped Mrs. Lampe celebrate her 91st birthday on June 23 in the Vander Wert home.

On July 5, Mrs. Longe and Mrs. Lampe went to Kailua, Hawaii, where they spent a week with a niece of Mrs. Longe, Mrs. Tom Lyons and family.

Attend Convention

Eight members of St. Paul's LWML attended the international LWML convention at Omaha July 17.

Attending were Mrs. Ronnie Krusemark, Mrs. Albert L. Nelson, Mrs. Emil Tarnow, Mrs. Gertrude Utech, Mrs. Dean Meyer, Mrs. Ed Krusemark, Mrs. Howard Greve and Mrs. Clifford Baker.

Mary Alice Utech, Mrs. Irene Waller, Mrs. Gertrude Utech and Alvin Ohlquist toured Gavin's Point Dam and the Niobrara area Saturday.

Mrs. Gertrude Utech entertained several women last Wednesday morning to honor Mrs. Keith Kirkwood of California.

The Bill Greve family joined a group in the Lowell Newton home Sunday evening for a picnic supper honoring Mrs. Newton's birthday. Greves were coffee guests later in the evening in the John Greve home to honor Mrs. Greve's birthday.

The Clarke Kais attended a reunion Sunday with the Nebraska Farm Bureau group who toured Washington, D.C. in 1973. The reunion was held at the Windmill Park near Gibbon. Kais left Saturday and returned home Monday. They were guests Sunday night in the Ed Zach home, Hastings.

OBITUARIES

Daniel Harms

Funeral services for Daniel Ray Harms, 22, a former Wayne resident, were held at the Wintz Funeral Chapel in Hartington Friday, July 20, the Rev. David Astrup officiating. Burial was in the Hartington City Cemetery.

Harms was found hanged on his parents farm nine miles east of Hartington.

Born Dec. 8, 1956, in Fullerton, Calif., he was the son of Marvin L. and Norma C. Harms. He moved from California to Wayne in 1959 then to Hartington in 1973. He was a 1975 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and attended Wayne State College for one term.

Survivors include his parents; three brothers, Matthew of Lincoln, Zachary of Sioux City and Timothy of Hartington, one sister, Michelle Benscofer of Schuyler.

Artie Fisher

Services for Artie Fisher were held Monday morning at the United Methodist Church in Winside with the Rev. Janet Baerstein officiating. Burial was in the Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside.

He died Saturday at Norfolk.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. N.L. Diltman, Bernie Bowers, Ed Waterhouse, Walt Hamm, Dale Miller and Charles Jackson. Active pallbearers were John Fisher, Brad Fisher, Kenneth Christensen, Larry Wacker, Charles Wacker and Jim Kyncl.

Artie Fisher, the son of William and Anna Wookley Fisher, was born March 4, 1895 on a farm northwest of Winside. He married Veve Peterson on May 14, 1919 in Winside. The couple moved into town in 1935. His wife Veve died in 1973 and he married Sadie Hughes on Aug. 12, 1978, in Winside.

He was a member of the United Methodist Church and the Winside Senior Citizens.

He is preceded in death by his first wife, Veve, one son and two brothers. Survivors include his widow, Sadie Hughes Fisher; two sons, Gordon of Yakima, Wash., and Donald of Norfolk; four daughters, Mrs. Henry (Gladys) Wacker and Mrs. Gary (Juanita) Christensen, both of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Norman (Loretta) Christensen of Norfolk and Mrs. Robert (Bonnie) Desland of Sacramento, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Charles (Vallie) Decker of Paso Robles, Calif. and Mrs. George (Lettie) Barlow of Portland, Ore.; 17 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Hobbies, Collections on Display

Persons with hobbies and collections are invited to display them at the Dixon County Historical Museum in Allen during the month of August. The museum is open each Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4. Hosts this Sunday will be Donald and Maribel Noe.

Members of the Dixon County Historical Society met July 17 with 20 answering roll call. Hostess was Grace Green.

Scott Sorensen, a representative of the Sioux City Public Museum, showed slides of Sioux City from the years 1870 to the late 1920's.

The Historical Society does not plan to meet during August.

Trail Rides
The Allen Golden Spur Saddle Club held a trail ride at the home of Mike Isoms on Sunday with 37 attending. A potluck supper was served following the ride.

The next ride will be held Aug. 12 at 6:30 p.m. at the Harold Isoms. A potluck lunch of finger foods will be served afterward.

Ice Cream Supper
The United Methodist Church at Allen is planning a home made ice cream supper this Friday evening, beginning at 6:30 in the church parlors.

A spokesman for the church said there will be free delivery of ice cream to elderly and shut-in residents of the community who call the church between 7 and 8 p.m., that evening to place their order.

The public is invited to attend for homemade ice cream, pies and cakes.

The church also plans to serve the Farmer's Coop Elevator stockholders following their annual meeting.

Registration Set
Registration for grades seven through twelve at the Allen Consolidated School will be on Thursday, Aug. 23, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Classes will be held Friday, Aug. 24, for all grades from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Buses will run that day. There will be no lunch. Classes will resume full time on Monday, Aug. 27.

Changing Schedule
United Methodist Sunday school teachers met recently and made plans to change the schedule for Sunday school classes during the remainder of the summer school vacation.

Classes will meet each Monday, July 30 and Aug. 6 and 13, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. There will be no classes on Aug. 20 because of the Dixon County Fair.

There are no classes on Sundays for elementary through sixth grades.

Promotion Sunday will be held Aug. 26.

Refinishing Floor
The custodial staff will be refinishing the gym floor at the Allen Consolidated School on Thursday, Aug. 2.

Persons are asked not to use the gym for 14 days after the work is done.

Physicals Needed
Allen School superintendent Robert Heckathorne has announced that all incoming seventh graders must have a physical whether or not they plan to participate in the athletic program.

Heckathorne said transportation will be furnished for students who wish to take their physical at the Ponca Clinic on Aug. 1 at 11:30 p.m.

Students who do not take their physicals that day are asked to get in touch with the school for physical forms.

Club Anniversary
The Chatter Sew Club of Allen will observe its 45th anniversary with a potluck picnic today (Thursday) at 12:30 p.m. at the Allen park.

Invitations have been sent to former members of the club.

Attend Clinic
Six Allen cheerleaders for the 1979-80 season attended a cheerleading camp at Wayne State College last week.

Taking part from Allen were Sonya Ellis, Colette Kraemer, Krys Knepper, June Luschen, Pam Kavanaugh and Linda Wood.

The group received eight ribbons.

Robb Linafelter attended basketball camp at Briar Cliff College in Sioux City last week. Parents were guests for an exhibition program on Friday morning.

Golden Rule Lodge members who visited Ezra Christensen Sunday for his 82nd birthday were the Eldren Smiths, Homer, the Howard Gillaspies, the Ken Linafelters, the Lewin Durants, the Jim Warners, Duane Koester, K.R. Mitchell and Bob McCord. Opal Wheeler helped Mrs. Christensen serve the birthday cake.

Opal Wheeler of Allen and Helen Gustafson of Wakefield spent several days last week visiting Viva Darger and Mrs. Pat Darger and family at Sioux Falls, S.D.

The Ralph Noes, Melba, Idaho, were supper guests last Monday in the Noe Shortt home. Thursday visitors of Mrs. Emma Noe to help her observe her 104th birthday were Doris Linafelter, John Karberg, the Ralph Noes of Idaho, the Oliver Noes, the Leslie Noes, the Marvin Greens and Victor Green.

Mrs. Florence Malcolm was a Sunday dinner and supper guest in the Noe Shortt home. Afternoon visitors were the Ralph Noes of Idaho, the Oliver Noes and the Leslie Noes of Dixon.

The Rollin Baumans, Lincoln, and the Cliff Baumans, River side, Calif. were Sunday dinner guests of the Claren Isoms.

Statewide Equalization Fuss Continuing

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
State Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Numerous county officials appeared recently in Lincoln to present their ideas on what should be done in the state Board of Equalization's attempt to achieve statewide equalization of property values.

Officials from some of the state's more populous counties, including Douglas, Lancaster, Sarpy, Cass and Saunders, weren't always in agreement on what course the state should take.

Spokesmen for Lancaster, Cass and Sarpy counties said they objected to across-the-board valuation increases for their urban property. They proposed different valuation changes for different classes of property be given consideration. But Douglas County asked that its valuation be left undisturbed, while Saunders County said it favored one uniform valuation change for all classes of property.

The Board has suggested statewide property valuation increases it hopes will result in assessed valuations at 35 percent of value, which is the statutory requirement.

The Board scheduled a July 25th meeting for review of its proposal. The increase it suggested for urban property was based on a sales-assessment ratio, a comparison of sales price and level of assessment, computed for single family residential units in all of the state's 93 counties.

When dealing with agricultural land, the Board suggested using the state Revenue Department's 1976 land valuation manual as a guideline, then establishing values at a figure 30 percent above the guideline value.

Lancaster County Assessor Carol Broman questioned the across-the-board increase for urban property and the use only of the sales-assessment ratio for residential property in arriving at increases for all urban property. She favored different valuation increases for different classes of city property.

Due to malfunctioning recording equipment officials from seven of the counties who testified early in the hearings did not have their remarks put onto tape.

After that was discovered, Deputy State Tax Commissioner John Decker advised the officials from Merrick, Hamilton, York, Sioux, Grant, Hitchcock and Frontier counties they could make another appearance before the board.

But the spokesmen in five of the seven counties said they did not wish to return. Even though the testimony was not recorded, written testimony and other documents from the seven counties are in the official record.

Restroom statutes questioned
Sen. Donald Dworak of Columbus says Nebraska's laws dealing with separate outhouses for males and females do not take into account modern plumbing.

In a letter to Dennis Blank, chief of the state Agriculture Department's bureau of dairies and food, Dworak said, "In reviewing the appropriate statutes pertaining to toilet facilities in restaurants, it seems there is ambiguity and conflict."

The Columbus lawmaker said a review of the laws turned up a section discussing outhouses "and the statute calls for separate male and female facilities, but the section discussing hotels and restaurants with modern sanitary plumbing makes no mention or has no requirement for separate male and female facilities."

Dworak asked the Agriculture Department has "administratively interpreted" the outhouse law to apply to all facilities. Such an interpretation lacks common sense, he added.

He cited the example of a small cafe in Columbus, the Little Gem Cafe, that seats about 15 persons and can get by with one restroom.

"I have not had one complaint from any citizen, nor have I heard one good reason, either sanitary or lack of availability, which would justify the Department's arbitrary insistence that the Little Gem increase square footage by 15 percent and the value of its building by 20 percent to put in another toilet that may be used once or twice a day," Dworak said.

He noted with approval the Department is aware of many problems because of outdated statutes and is reviewing the laws for possible recommendations for amendments.

Dworak suggested the Department impose a moratorium on its rules and regulations that have questionable legislative bases until after the Legislature has had an opportunity to study the statutes.

"I can't help but think that the majority of the Legislature would take a dim view of small existing restaurants in Nebraska spending large sums of money for unneeded, little-used dual (restroom) facilities," Dworak said.

May be breaking the law
The attorney for the state Sunshine Commission says public officials who receive money or gifts for addressing an organization may be breaking the law.

Bernard Wisnow told a special legislative committee the state's Political Accountability and Disclosure Act is worded so generally that distinguishing between bribery and receiving expenses for speaking to a group is very subjective.

Wisnow said many of the prohibitions in the lobbying and conflict of interest portions of the law are also difficult to interpret.

He recommended the lawmakers clarify much of the Sunshine Law and cited speaking engagements as an example of problems encountered when interpreting the statute.

He said a legislator can receive actual expenses for speaking to a group that employs a lobbyist "but if the expenses paid go beyond what is customary, it smacks of bribery."

Wisnow added the acceptance of an honorarium — the customary fee for speaking — is also questionable under the law.

The attorney suggested amending the law so precise limits would be set on speaking fees.

Another proposal was that the Sunshine Law be revised so it would be more specific on newsletters. Wisnow noted the law forbids overt political mass mailings but Thursday Afternoon Massacre of his what types of mailings are permissible.

Use of mass mailings should be restricted, either by law or legislative rule, so they are not abused for election purposes, he said.

WAY BACK WHEN

30 Years Ago
July 28, 1949: Ruth and John Nelson of Wakefield left last Friday for Yellowstone Park. They are making the trip on their bicycles. Work on remodeling and redecorating the Coast-to-Coast Store was completed this week. A new brick veneer front was installed, creating new show windows. The interior walls were wallpapered and an air conditioning unit was installed.

Wayne County's 1949 wheat allotment was 297 acres. The AAA office said that any farmer who did not receive an allotment, but believes he should have one, should notify the AAA office. Francis Phillips of the Wayne State College English staff received an honorable mention in a recent contest sponsored by Scholastic magazine for her suggestion for the project entitled "Every Student's Key to Understanding Current Affairs."

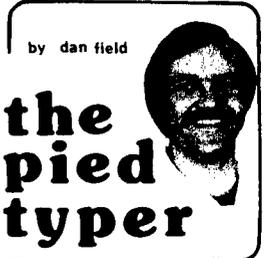

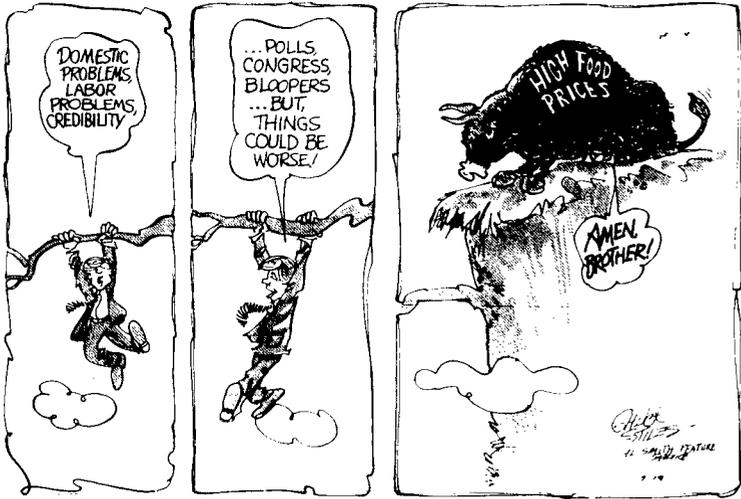

25 Years Ago
July 22, 1954: Wayne residents were startled Monday night when a bright white object hovered in the sky east of town for nearly a half hour. Flying saucers were the topic of street discussion. Government officials dispelled saucer rumors later, however, when they announced that the object was identified as a plastic balloon with a basket beneath it. The balloon was flying at 15,000 to 20,000 feet. It was believed to have been seen somewhere in Minnesota. Wayne County will have its new 4-H building at the fairgrounds in time for the 1954 fair, County Agent Harold Ingalls announced this week. Marlan Carlson, son of Prof. and Mrs. Albert G. Carlson, is one of the students to participate in the University of Kansas workshop here July 22-24. He plays violin.

20 Years Ago
July 23, 1959: A new phone system of alerting local business houses of shoplifting activities or bad check passers was instituted this week by Wayne Chamber of Commerce. The telephone tree system enables the Commerce to alert all members in about six minutes. WSC has purchased a new 35-passenger bus for transportation for students to all college activities. Winside will play host to one of the county's most popular events, the annual Old Settlers Reunion next Thursday. This year's celebration will be the fifty-ninth anniversary of the event findings.

15 Years Ago
July 23, 1964: David Hamer Jr., Omaha, son of Judge and Mrs. Dave Hamer, Wayne, was honored recently by the National Press Photographers Association. Hamer, assistant news director of KMTV, Omaha, received a citation from NPPA for his organization of a quarterly television news film contest. He was also appointed national television news film chairman for NPPA. Pvt. Gene H. Lutt, son of Harvey Lutt, Wakefield, was enrolled recently in the U.S. Army Signal School, Ft. Monmouth, N.J., for training as a radio technician. Lutt was a graduate of Wayne High in 1960.

10 Years Ago
July 24, 1969: Linda Garvin, daughter of the Lyle Garvins, Wayne, will again carry a lead in a Shore Acres Summer Theatre production. Winside public school administrators, M.J. Masten, superintendent of schools, and Ronald Kramer, principal, were awarded degrees during graduation ceremonies held at the Nebraska University in Lincoln July 15. Five Dixon Co. 4-H members got purple ribbons during the county fair. They were Kathy and Colleen Chapman of Allen, Dale and Denise Magnuson of Laurel, and Lyle George of Dixon. Nearly 100 people turned out for the dedication of the Dixon County Historical Society's museum and school house in Allen Sunday afternoon. Guest speaker for the day was Wendell Frantz, museum director of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Poor Jimmy. Now the latest polls show that nearly three quarters of those voters questioned think he's not doing an adequate job. His energy speech helped the ratings some, but his Thursday Afternoon Massacre of his Cabinet wiped that away quickly. To paraphrase a bumper sticker seen in the waning days of Richard Nixon's Presidency, "Don't Blame Me, I Voted for Ford."

Poor Richard — where are you now? Now Jimmy says he may have made a mistake in asking for the mass resignation of his Cabinet because it created an unexpected uproar. Oh, Lordy. I'm an understanding kind of guy, and patient to new ideas, concepts and Presidents. But ol' Peanut Breath just ain't cutting the mustard. Even many of his fellow Democrats are wishing they could bury their heads in the sand. Or better yet, help Jimmy get his out.

I'm probably the last person that should make any judgments on Presidential politics, domestic or foreign policy. But doesn't it strike anyone else with a little concern that here is our President, leader of our country and supposedly the strongest and most powerful leader on this earth, actually believing no one would take a second glance at his Cabinet faux pas. Oh, Lordy! I will, however, have to endorse Carter's effort to "win the energy war." Whether or not you believe in a serious energy crunch, the President has asked for a national effort to beat the blackmail by the OPEC nations. Their hold on our oil supplies could mean the eventual death of our economy as we know it today. We all should make an effort to conserve.

On liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786.

Live Up to Principals Worth Keeping

Richard L. Tasher, President Chamber of Commerce of the United States. One of the age-old criticisms of the national Chamber is that we have become too predictable. Our response has been that any large organization, by definition, is predictable. It is a competent management's responsibility to define, shape and carry out its organization's mission. Who is surprised, for example, when George Heany asks for more money for his members, or when the Joint Chiefs of Staff argue for increased defense spending when their mission is to protect the nation? But this question or predictability is especially true in the case of the Chamber.

For our mission: "To advance human progress through an economic, political and social system based on individual freedom, incentive, initiative, opportunity and responsibility." Is really a restatement of those principles conceived by the Founding Fathers as the basis of our American society. Our predictability is another way of saying that we intend to be dependable; we intend to honor our birthright.

Benjamin Franklin once remarked: "If a principle is good for anything, it is worth living up to." I happen to believe that America's record speaks for itself. In this country, a fraction of the world's population with no monopoly on natural resources has created more new wealth — and given more away — than any other country in history. Just consider for a moment what America produces and contributes:

An agricultural system that feeds and sustains millions of the world's hungry; miraculous medical breakthroughs that reduce pain and eliminate crippling disease, and universities, industries and research centers that continue to attract the world's finest minds and produce technological discoveries that free us from dependency and show the world the most abundant assortment of foods and consumer goods the world has ever known.

But how did it happen? Was this unprecedented prosperity legislated from Washington... was it handed down by edict from HUD, ICC, FTC, DOT, or any of the other countless departments, bureaus, agencies and commissions that make up the growing network of roots of Big Brother's family tree? Heavens no!

Washington itself is a creation of our affluence. The seeds of that affluence were planted some 200 years ago in our revolutionary experiment in self-government. The whole idea was to protect the freedoms of individuals, not just from outsiders, but from insiders as well — and especially from those in office.

And that's the only idea that has ever worked. For as Irving Kristol has observed: "Where people are given the freedom to engage in economic activities for the purpose of bettering their condition, most important, where the entrepreneur is given the freedom to innovate, then you get economic growth. Where such freedoms are restricted by government, you get relatively slow or no economic growth." And what is true here is true everywhere. That's why South Korea prospers while North Korea stagnates; and that's why in Europe, it is those in the East who always yearn to live in the West.

Yet we're constantly asked, what about all our problems now? The same people, for example, who spent, taxed and regulated us into our present dilemma of soaring prices and energy shortages now say that only a massive new federal commitment can provide solutions. But how? Will we be saved by the Department of Energy which spends $10 billion in taxes each year without producing a drop of oil, and which cannot even deliver its own mail? DOE estimates it loses at least 126,000 pieces of mail every year (a stack more than twice as high as the Washington Monument) and it needs more than two days just to deliver one letter between offices in the same town.

Compare that performance with the voluntary activities during the past two years of a somewhat smaller organization, the Wilkes Chamber of Commerce in North Wilkesboro, N.C. With the help of its members' profits (that's right, profits), that one Chamber, working with its foundation and the downtown North Wilkesboro Association, accomplished the following for its neighbors:

Sponsored sickle cell anemia clinics; provided thousands of dollars to a community college for scholarships and physical additions; spent thousands to upgrade the county's medical delivery system including the recruitment of doctors; secured industries and professions to provide new jobs, and acted as a local sponsor, providing the matching funds for hot meals for the elderly program.

So perhaps you will understand why I say the national Chamber has no intention of abandoning, nor of ever apologizing for its mission. In fact, we rather like being called predictable; that's what promoting principles, people and progress is all about.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

It doesn't seem possible that we've been rolling along with radios for over 50 years, says the Automotive Information Council.

The first car radios, which appeared during the 1920's, were not permanently installed. The receiver was really a portable unit.

Radio reception during the early years was foiled by a number of "bugs," including interference generated by the vehicle's ignition system. In order to really enjoy the radio it was necessary to park the car and turn off the motor. Radio installation was also difficult. The ceiling fabric had to be removed for a roof antenna, and then replaced, a lead line was strung down a front corner post and a hole had to be cut in the floor to mount the auxiliary battery case.

The radios weren't factory installed until the early 1930's when the installation and interference problems had been worked out, the latter because of development of resistor spark plugs.

In the 1940's, push-button tuning to pre-set stations became an appealing customer feature. During the mid-1950's one automaker debuted with the first all-transistor car radio which was far more durable and reliable than the old type radios.

Not all sound innovations were popular. In 1956, the first factory-installed 6 and two-third rpm record player was introduced. It was a complete flop.

The concept of being able to select the entertainment the car occupant wanted to hear must have been a good one though, because late in the 1960's eight-track tape systems quickly caught on with the public. Now it was possible to conveniently select the type of entertainment one wanted to hear as easily as it could be done at home.

In the past decade, the in-car sound market has really grown. Eight-track and cassette tapes, AM-FM stereo, and CB's have all gained popularity. Fewer than 25 percent of the cars built in 1976 came with less than an AM radio and most of those had units installed later.

What your car has depends as much on your taste as it does on your pocket book. The cost of in-car entertainment can run from less than $100 to several thousand dollars.

No wonder a car is considered to be a living room on wheels, says the Automotive Information Council.

WHEN A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The television speech on man's first step on the moon was nearly as moving today as it was then. It was truly a giant step for the United States, and the Soviet Union even today doesn't have the technology to match the feat.

It was a sophomore in college at the time and well remember the excitement among my friends. The late 60's were a turbulent time, as you all recall, and looking back it is interesting to note the harmony among most university students when the moon landing occurred.

You'll always have your cry-babies who thought the money should have been spent to distribute food around the world. But by and large, that moon landing was a tremendous step forward for this country and — at least momentarily — rekindled a sense of patriotism and spirit that had not been seen in the U.S. for many years.

The Vietnam War (some like to call it a conflict) had done much to damage our spirit at the time, and morale in this country was low. The Apollo moon program helped this country regain much of the respect it lost around the world.

I agree with Jimmy C. that this country needs another goal like the moon landing to help regroup forces. But I suspect it will take a major catastrophe to rekindle lost respect for this nation.

There are such a variety of forces working against one another on the energy situation that I doubt we'll see any marked progress — at least on a voluntary basis.

It was a proud moment when the United States placed men on the moon. With a little luck and a watchful eye from the Good Lord, maybe we'll endure this mess.

This will be my first Wayne County Fair and my family and I are looking forward to it. Granted, it will mean a little extra work to gather the news and take all the pictures. But at the same time we're exposed to a part of America's stronghold — agriculture.

4-H youth, their parents and others have been putting in countless hours this week to ready the Fairgrounds for the expected throng. We urge everyone to take a casual stroll through the fair and examine for yourself what rural America can do for you.

PUBLIC NOTICES

Deadline for all legal notices to be published by The Wayne Herald is as follows: 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's newspaper; 4 p.m. Thursday for Monday's newspaper.

Every government official or board that handles public money, should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Notice is hereby given that the Madison County Board of Commissioners will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, August 7, 1979, at 2:30 p.m. in the Commissioners Room, Madison County Courthouse, Madison, Nebraska, the subject of the hearing is to receive comment from the general public pertaining to the below listed amendments to the Madison County Zoning and Subdivision Resolution:

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR A FEDERAL-AID HIGHWAY HEARING
The Wayne County Board and the Nebraska Department of Roads are offering an opportunity for a public hearing on Highway Project No. BR07090(3) described as the replacement of the Logan Creek Bridge beginning approximately 0.5 miles west of the Northeast Corner of Section 4, Township 26 North, Range 4, East extending 0.4 mile east crossing Logan Creek, located in Wayne and Dixon Counties.

The opportunity for a public hearing is extended to give all interested persons an opportunity to express their views and to discuss the location and design features of the proposed project and the County Board is committed to a specific location or design.

Preliminary plans developed to date are available for inspection at the County Clerk's Office, Wayne, Nebraska.

If a public hearing is desired, a written request must be made to the County Clerk of Wayne County at Wayne, Nebraska on or before August 16, 1979, in the event that a hearing is scheduled, a notice of the date, time and place will be published.

This opportunity notice will also be posted in a conspicuous public place by the County for the purpose of giving all interested parties an opportunity to know of this matter and to request a hearing, if desired.

If no request for a hearing is received on or before the specified date, the project will be advanced to the next stage of development.

ALLEN BOARD OF EDUCATION PROCEEDINGS
July 18, 1979
The Board of Education, District 70-76A, met in Special Session Wednesday, July 18, 1979. Members Present: Martin Blohm, Chairman, Verlan Hingst, Marlen Matthes, Jackie Williams, Superintendent Heckathorn. Absent: Richard Otlesen.

The meeting was called to order by Martin Blohm, Chairman.

The Board held an audience with Martin and Virgie Genster. Martin requested:

- Eight (8) hours per day for him — maximum $5.00 per hour for a forty (40) hour week. Begin at 6:00 a.m. and work a straight eight (8) hours.
- Six (6) hours per day for Virgie $5.00 per hour. Begin at 9:30 a.m. and work a straight six (6) hours.

The Board held an audience with Darlene Benton.

Moved by Loren Carr to retire to Executive Session. Seconded by Marlen Matthes. Carried 5-0.

During Executive Session, the Board discussed the wage request of Martin and Virgie Genster. Moved by Verlan Hingst to return to Regular Session. Seconded by Loren Carr. Carried 5-0.

Moved by Martin Blohm to offer a wage agreement to Martin Genster as follows:

$5.00 per hour — Eight (8) hours per day
$5.00 per day on Holidays and weekends when cold weather necessitates checking on the furnace.
Carried 4-0. (Verlan Hingst abstaining)

Moved by Verlan Hingst to offer a wage agreement to Virgie Genster as follows:

$3.98 per hour for six (6) hours a day
Seconded by Loren Carr. Carried 4-0. (Harlan Matthes abstaining)

Superintendent Heckathorn reported to the Board that the morning of the 17th of July, he received a legal notice from the County Treasurer stating that the District would receive an approximate sum of $64,895.00 from the State for "Personal Property Tax Relief" and that said sum was not reflected in the budget presented at the Annual Meeting of the night before (July 16, 1979). Mr. Heckathorn stated that he immediately called Ray Johnson, the State Auditor of Public Accounts and asked for information on:

- 1) Addition of the figure of $64,895.00 to estimated revenue.
- 2) Line 19, Page 21 Budget form 50-3 (Net Cash Balance) as several questions concerning this item had been asked at the Budget Hearing.
- 3) Mr. Johnson advised to include the figure of $64,895.00 to Estimated Revenue.
- 4) Line 19 should include an estimated County Treasurer balance, and the figure (column 3) — line 19 should equal line 76 (Balance Forward) the difference between line 73 (Total Revenue Available) and line 74 (Estimated Total Expenses) a figure of $147,280.00.

Mr. Johnson further advised to make said corrections and publish the changes. Official notice of Budget Change follows the Minutes of the Special Board Meeting.

No further business, meeting adjourned by Martin Blohm, Chairman at 11:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF BUDGET CHANGE
Page 21 "Estimated Revenue" Line 19 — Change from $125,000.00 to $147,280.00

Page 23 "Estimated Revenue" Line 71 — Change from $281,207.00 to $308,382.00
Page 23 "Estimated Revenue" Line 72 — Change from $411,989.00 to $374,814.00
Page 8 "General Fund" Line 8 — Change from $433,000.00 to $344,302.00
Page 8 "Sinking Fund" Line 8 — Change from $11,412.00 to $10,367.00
Page 9 "Sinking Fund" Line 9 — Change from $14,659.00 to $12,228.00

The above changes represent an addition of the amounts of $22,880.00 to Line 19, Column 3, page 21, and an addition of $144,895.00. These figures will represent a reduction in required taxes from $433,000.00 to $308,302.00 in General Fund, from $11,412.00 to $10,367.00 in the Sinking Fund, and a reduction from $14,659.00 to $12,228.00 in the Board Fund.

FONNER PARK STATE 4-H HORSE EXPOSITION GRAND ISLAND

Fleer Has Reserve Champion

DAVID FLEER, Hoskins, was named reserve champion in senior boys pole bending at the Fonner Park-Nebraska State 4-H Exposition recently after compiling a total time of 44.78 seconds. He and his American Saddle Horse, Prince, competed in two go rounds to win the title. David, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleer, has been competing at state for four years. He was third in poles last year and also competed in barrel racing this year. His trophy was donated by Bertolin Concessions of Grand Island.

Area Winners in 4-H Exposition

Several Wayne-area youngsters won honors in a variety of events at the Fonner Park-Nebraska State 4-H Exposition in Grand Island last week.

David Fleer, 19, Hoskins, took reserve champion honors in the senior boys' pole bending; Rick Anderson, 17, Hoskins, and Jeff Triggs, 15, Wayne, won blue ribbons in the boys' 14 and up pole bending.

Sheri Triggs, 17, Wayne, won a blue ribbon in the girls' 14 and up barrel racing; David Fleer, 19, Hoskins, and Triggs won blue ribbons in the boys' 14 and up barrel racing; and Edward Fleer, 17, Wayne, won a purple ribbon in the two-year-old gelding class of the horse exposition.

Nominations for Service Award

Nominations for the Nebraska Agribusiness Club's Public Service to Agriculture Award will be accepted until Aug. 1, the chairman of the club's awards committee announced this week.

According to G.W. Erickson, Nebraskans who have contributed to the agriculture industry in the fields of farming and ranching, education and research, credit, conservation, marketing, farm youth work or communications are eligible for nomination.

Any Nebraskan may nominate a candidate, Erickson said. Award winners will be announced at the annual Nebraska Agribusiness Club dinner set for Nov. 2.

Nominations should be sent to Erickson at 1001 Mulder Dr., Elmore, Neb. 68018.

This and That...
from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Creep-fed calves usually weigh from 25 to 50 lbs. more at weaning time than non-creep fed calves and require seven to ten pounds of creep feed for each additional pound of gain.

Creep feeding may be profitable for producers who sell calves at weaning time, and also should be considered when pasture conditions are poor and cow milk production is low. The greatest benefits from creep feeding may be prior to weaning — to teach calves to eat out of a feedbunk and to reduce weaning stress.

Creep feeding is least profitable for the producer who intends to feed his own calves and sell them as yearlings.

The reason for this is that calves that are not creep-fed tend to make compensatory growth when placed on feed, which means there will be little difference in final weights of creep-fed and non-creep fed calves when they are sold as yearlings.

Still another point to remember is the demand of feeder buyers. Some have discriminated against the heavier weights and high conditions in favor of lighter-weight calves.

For those who want to try creep feeding, start when calves are two or three months of age or six weeks prior to weaning. Use a simple grain and protein supplement mixture, basing ingredients on what feed happens to be available at competitive costs.

Hopper control. Hoppers are not too choosy in their diet and will feed on most garden vegetables. Gardens adjacent to grass, pastures or border areas around gardens should be sprayed while hoppers are small and unable to travel long distances. The wider the sprayed border, the longer the protection.

When hopper numbers are high, they will eventually cross borders into gardens. A carefully selected insecticide that is safe on vegetables must be used to protect the gardener's investment.

Matlathion or Sevin can be used on almost all garden crops, with relatively short periods from application to harvest. Diazinon is registered for many vegetables, with a five to four-teen day period before harvest.

Livestock Affected by Heat, Humidity

Recent scorching temperatures, accompanied by high humidity, have prompted an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension specialist to warn livestock producers to take special hot

Luedtke Tops Judging Event

Shelly Luedtke of Laurel received top purple in the senior division of the Dixon County 4-H home economics judging contest, according to Val Schell, area extension agent.

The contest was held July 10 at the Northeast Station and also in surrounding counties. Second purple was received by Mary Lehman. Both are members of the Concordettes 4-H Club.

Twenty-nine 4-H members participated in the senior and junior division which required 4-H members to answer questions relating to foods, clothing, home living and general areas such as safety and child care. All participants received ribbon awards.

Six senior division members are now eligible to participate in the state home economics judging contest held during the state fair. Those receiving highest scores in foods were Beth Gunderson and Shelly Luedtke; Derwin Roberts — alternate; clothing — Mary Lehman and Julie Stohler; Shelly Luedtke — alternate; home environment — Mary Lehman and Sheila Koch; Jill Hanson — alternate.

Amy Gotch received top purple in the Junior Division and Donna Rahn received second purple. Amy and Donna are both members of the Lucky Lads and Lassies 4-H Club. Placings for the contest were as follows: senior division — purple: Shelly Luedtke, Laurel; Mary Lehman, Concord; Julie Stohler, Concord; Beth Gunderson, Ponca; blue: Karen Osada Ponca, Derwin Roberts, Allen Linda Wood, Allen; Sheila Koch, Concord; and Jill Hanson, Concord; red: Sheryl Sawtell, Newcastle; Debi Meyer, Wakefield; and Mary Oswald, Allen.

weather precautions for their animals.

Livestock do not adjust well to high temperatures, said Dr. Paul Guyer, IANR extension beef specialist. When heat is coupled with high humidity, he said livestock losses occur because the animals' physical mechanisms for controlling their body temperatures are less effective.

In extremely hot and humid weather, the producer should avoid handling the animals. Guyer said. Cool drinking water, shaded ground and sprinkling with water will help cool them by conduction, he said.

Keeping cattle and hogs where air is circulating and using fans where possible will help move air heated by the animals' bodies, he said. Where there is little wind and fans are not available, keep the animals scattered.

Cattle in confinement benefit from shade in two ways, Guyer said. The animals' bodies and the ground below them do not receive radiant heat from the sun and the roof or shade may be so constructed that livestock radiate heat to the north sky or to the underside of the roof or shade, he said.

The problem of cooling livestock when humidity is high is complicated by the fact that muggy air is not conducive to evaporation, and using misting systems will only make the humidity worse, he added.

Additional hot weather cautions Guyer offered include keeping marketings current and selling cattle that have had respiratory problems.

"As livestock reach market finish they tend to have less heat tolerance, probably because they have less body surface per unit of weight," the extension specialist said. "And, animals with any impairment in health are likely to be the first to succumb to heat stress."

If the producer must transport animals during hot weather, Guyer said, it's better to haul at night or in the early morning in carriers bedded with wet sand. Carrying fewer animals per load and having the truck open for maximum ventilation also helps alleviate heat stress, he said.

While on the road, Guyer said, move rapidly and smoothly, avoiding sudden starts and stops which can cause pigs and downed animals. Also, avoid meal and coffee breaks to minimize the animals' time in the truck, he concluded.

The Dixon County 4-H demonstration contest will be held Thursday, July 26, at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at Northeast Station near Concord.

The contest will be held at two separate times to accommodate all 4-Hers. Demonstrations by 4-Hers can include topics related to any agriculture, home ec or miscellaneous (safety, child care, etc.) related area.

The public is invited to attend this special annual event.

Land Control Meeting Topic

A public rally on regional government and land control is scheduled for Kings Ballroom at 8 p.m. Aug. 6, in Norfolk.

Col. Arch E. Roberts, national director of the Committee to Restore the Constitution Inc., will be featured speaker.

According to Colonel Roberts, regional revolutionaries seek to dissolve county governments, transfer state powers to a central authority in Washington, administer the affairs of U.S. citizens through a network of state sub-regions and national regional councils, seize control of the land and production facilities, overthrow the constitution and reduce Americans to the status of economic serfs on the land which once was theirs.

Subeck and Rod of Tustin, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walker, Mrs. Gladys Wattermeyer, Jille and Dave of Omaha, Mary Finn of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Gathie of Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Finn of Carroll.

Following the dedication and ball games, Mrs. Johnson hosted a luncheon for relatives and friends in her home.

Area Boy Scouts Take Part In Philmont Explorer Base

A group of Wayne area Boy Scouts arrived July 17 at Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base near Cimarron, N.M. Philmont, which is operated by the Boy Scouts of America, is the world's largest camping facility, covering 214 square miles.

The Scouts are John Carhart, Ben Cattle, Brian Cattle, Bob Liska, Dave Wiener and Steven Zahniser. They are among 13,000 young Scouting men and women expected to hike Philmont's mountainous trails this summer.

The group is under the adult leadership of Bob Carhart and Darrell Wiener. During their 12-day stay at Philmont, they will backpack between 50 and 75 miles, visiting several of the ranch's 22 mountain camps. At these camps, they will be instructed in such things as rock-climbing, rifle safety, western lore, conservation, and other programs. In addition all Scouts are accompanied for their first two days by a Philmont Ranger, who instructs them in the basics of backpacking and survival.

The Wayne area youths are members of Troops 174 and 175, sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Kiwanis Club respectively.

1979 marks the 41st season for Philmont Scout Ranch. More than 375,000 people have hiked its trails since 1938, when the ranch was given to the Boy Scouts by oilman Waite Phillips.

Banks Sponsor 4-H Magazine

Don C. Spitze, Wayne County Extension agent, has announced that banks of Wayne County, Nebraska will again sponsor and provide a subscription to the national 4-H news magazine to each volunteer 4-H leader in Wayne County.

This marks the 39th consecutive year that banks in Wayne County and across Nebraska have provided this resource toward leader development and programming.

A private opinion survey sent to 2,000 leaders indicates that 75 percent of the leaders read every issue and only 2 percent of the leaders indicated they never read the magazine. The survey also indicated the 4-H news was an aid in setting and conducting leader training workshops in special areas.

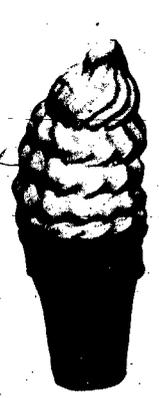

No Girls Allowed

ONE OF THE joys of childhood is playing in a clubhouse and building the clubhouse is even more fun. These three young Wakefield carpenters were seen putting together this neighborhood project by their favorite tree. Mike Hallstrom (background) and Steve Obermeyer (middle) tack the siding on their mansion while Tim Schwanen (foreground) nails some steps onto their tree ladder. All three boys are age 11.

Surprise Observance Held Sunday for Minnie Graef

The children of Mrs. Minnie Graef hosted a surprise observance Sunday afternoon to honor their mother's 75th birthday.

About 100 relatives and friends attended the open house event at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The gift table was centered with cut flowers and a birthday cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Dean Janke.

Mrs. Julius Eckert was in charge of the cards and gifts, which were carried by Mrs. Graef's grandchildren.

Mrs. Judy Sorenson of Wayne cut and served the cake. Mrs. Florine Hill of Omaha served punch and Mrs. Don Langenberg of Hoskins poured.

On Sunday evening, Mrs. Graef and family members enjoyed a picnic supper at the Winside park. The event honored the July birthdays of six family members.

A group of 15 friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Graef Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. Cards furnished entertainment and a cooperative lunch was served.

Teachers Meet

St. Paul's Sunday school teachers met July 18 with five members and the Rev. John Hafermann. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Russell Prince, vice president. Pastor Hafermann had prayer.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A thank you note was received from Ronnie Prince for his remembrance book.

Next meeting will be Aug. 15 at 8 p.m. Hosts will be Mrs. Ray Reeg and Mr. and Mrs. Al Schlueter.

Plan Anniversary

The Scattered Neighbors Club plans to observe its 25th anniversary with a party in September.

The planning committee is Mrs. Wilmer Deck, Mrs. Dale Krueger and Mrs. Warren Marotz.

Ten members of the club met July 18 for a 9 a.m. brunch in the home of Mrs. Dean Janke. The meeting opened with the collect.

President Mrs. Wilmer Deck discussed projects for the Wayne County Fair. Women who plan to work at the fair are Mrs. Lyle Krueger, Mrs. Arland Aurich and Mrs. Herbert Jaeger.

Honor David Gahl

Guests in the George Gahl home last Thursday in observance of David's birthday were the Mike Thompson family, Mrs. Mildred Thompson and Julie and Cindy of Battle Creek, Mrs. Jo Thompson and the Don Wackers.

Ladies Aid Meets

Eleven members of the Theophilus Ladies Aid met at the church last Thursday.

Mrs. Ervin Vahikamp had charge of the program, which opened with the song "American the Beautiful." Mrs. Vahikamp read Psalm 62 from "Moments of Meditation," and the program closed with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer.

The birthday song was sung for Mrs. Otto Frevert, who also served lunch. Next month's lesson leader will be Mildred Wacker and the hostess will be Mrs. Otto Koch.

Attend Reunion

The Troutman family reunion was held at Schuyler recently with 50 relatives attending for a noon dinner. Verne Troutman of Saltville, Va. came the farthest distance. Also attending from a distance was Mrs. Leo (Virginia Troutman) Nelson of Rogers, Ark. The youngest present was Luke Handke of Pierce, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leon (Connie Sue Troutman) Handke. Other relatives came from Norfolk, Omaha, Pierce, Winside and Lincoln.

Thought for Today
By Brian McBride

"Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder..."
Lewis Wallace

We are surrounded by beauty, if we will only learn to notice it. The sound of a child's laughter; a bird's song; the feel of a spring rain or a kitten's fur; the sight of a rainbow or a bird on the wing. Their beauty is ours if we are merely aware of it.

It is said "two men looked through bars... one saw mud, the other stars." Beauty may be overlooked unless we develop an attitude which looks for it everywhere. With such an attitude our lives are certain to be enriched for beauty perceived and appreciated leads to beauty in action and personal relationships.

We believe that a beautiful memorial service should prepare the bereaved for adjustment to loss.

Wittig's IGA Will Not Be Undersold

Every supermarket has weekly specials, and the prices on those items may be below IGA's regular shelf price... but when that happens, just follow three simple steps, and we'll SAVE YOU MONEY. It's as easy as 1-2-3.

1. Check all Wayne supermarket ads published this week.
2. If you find an item with a price you like, just tear out the entire ad and take it to IGA.
3. If our price isn't already lower than our competitor, we'll meet the price in their ad.
