Council Hires Clerk-Treasurer

Hearing Brings Objection

Comments of opposition and clarification were heard during a pair of public hearings Tuesday night at a regular city council meeting.

TWO PERSONS spoke against the city's application for a grant to fund a senior citizens mini-bus which has been operating for about a year under a similar grant.

Both persons opposed were senior citizens and complained to the council that they would not ride the mini bus under any circumstances. While both admitted they had never been refused a ride on the transportation facility for senior citizens, they indicated they were opposed to the grant "under present conditions at the Senior Citizens Center."

MEMBERS of the council, the city's administration and the city's legal staff reminded the two in opposition that the hearing did not involve the Senior Citizens Center, but rather a grant application for use of a mini-bus by all senior citizens in the community.

After continued arguments by those opposed and comments by some in favor, the council closed the hearing and voted to proceed with the grant application.

Comprehensive plan
The city's new and massive comprehensive plan and zoning ordinance revision were topics of a public hearing at which several persons sought clarification on some segments of the plan.

ATTORNEY Duane Schroeder, Chamber Executive Gary Van Meter and developer Bob Carhart all had questions on various parts of the plan.

The three were assured that the problems had been corrected or that the problems were of a minor nature and could be dealt with at a later date.

After conclusion of the hearing, the council instructed that the necessary adjustments be written into the plan and the plan be printed in final form.

THE COUNCIL and the Planning and Zoning Commission have spent numerous evenings reviewing each section of the seven interim reports. The final plan will provide current and future councils and administrations with a guideline for organized growth within the city.

The council also signed an agreement with the state Department of Roads indicating a willingness to participate in reconstruction of Nebraska 15 north of Wayne.

The city's share of work to be done within the city limits (which runs to the north edge of the Municipal Golf Course) will be about $14,600 for culvert work.

AT A previous council meeting, the state and city reached an agreement that Nebraska 15 within the city limits will be resurfaced only. From the north edge of the golf course north to the Concord spur, the highway will be totally reconstructed.

Voting against the agreement was council member Larry Johnson. Voting in favor were council members Carolyn Filter, Keith Mosley, Cliff Ginn, Darrel Fuebner and Leo Hansen.

The council also gave its permission to the city's administration to have a 20 cylinder generating engine at the electric plant repaired. Cost will be $13,156 and money has been allocated in the budget for such maintenance expenses.

A LOT SPLIT request by Alan Rainbolt, Wayne, was approved upon recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Rainbolt's request involved Lots 8 14 in Block 2 of the Roosevelt Park Addition. He indicated plans to build several homes in the area and needed the lots split to allow for proper footage requirements according to the zoning ordinance.

In other action, the council approved the administration's recommendation that Norman J. Melton, 42, be approved as new clerk-treasurer. Melton was sworn in by Mayor Wayne Marsh and assumed his duties immediately. For more information, see story elsewhere on this page.

All members were present except Sam Heppner and Darrel Heier, and all actions were unanimous unless noted otherwise.

New Clerk-Treasurer Approved by Council

Upon recommendation of the city administrator and approval by the city council, Mayor Wayne Marsh swore in Norman J. Melton, 42, as the city's new clerk-treasurer.

A native of New Jersey, Melton and his wife and three children will move here from Omaha where he was with the 1st Battalion, 134th Inf., as an Army advisor to the National Guard for 4 1/2 years.

With a bachelor's degree from Rutgers in business administration, Melton also received a master's degree in public administration from the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Prior to his stint in Omaha, he was involved in plans and operations at Fort Carson in Colorado Springs with the 4th Infantry Division. He has spent 20 years in the service.

His wife, a native of Florida, was a teacher with the Omaha Public School District. Their children, David, 12, and 10-year old twins Bryan and Kristin, will begin school here in the near future.

While working as an advisor for the National Guard, Melton had contact with Wayne's Company A of the National Guard.

Melton replaces former clerk-treasurer Bruce Mordhorst who resigned last month to take a similar position at Sierra Vista, Ariz.

Security, Fire Coffee Topics

Friday's Chamber of Commerce coffee will provide members with a free demonstration of fire and theft security devices for their business, warehouse or home.

Bill Watson, Nebraska state patrolman, will demonstrate and display such equipment used in stores and businesses.

The coffee will be from 10 to 11 a.m. in the community room of the Columbus Federal Savings and Loan Association building. The 20-minute demonstration will begin at 10:15 a.m.

City Faces Financial Crunch Next Year; Solutions May Be Painful

The city of Wayne is faced with a deficit of about $100,000 next year, and alternatives available to help eliminate that problem are anything but popular.

Such was the picture painted by City Administrator Darrell Brewington at the regular Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Monday at the Black Knight.

BREWINGTON cited several reasons for the anticipated deficit including a double digit inflation rate, even cent lid bill and a dwindling reserve account.

Alternatives, he said, are a city sales tax, a cutback in services to residents or hikes in fees paid for those services. A combination of any of these also is a consideration, he said.

The state-imposed lid bill is a major reason the city is soon to be in financial straits, Brewington explained.

"THE LID BILL puts us in the hole each year. We're allowed seven percent of the previous year's dollar amount, and this places the city in a no growth situation," the city administrator noted.

"Growth is essential to the community, especially to the business community," he continued. "We need growth, but because of the lid bill, growth is becoming a liability instead of an asset."

Brewington said that in previous years, a reserve was generated by several sources such as the electric fund. While there is but $40,000 in reserve funds now, at one time the total was nearly $350,000, he said.

THE RESERVE was used because it was necessary, and by using the money, an increase in taxes was avoided, the city administrator noted. The money helped pay for such things as a new fire truck, the railroad right-of-way, the transfer station and considerable paving.

The electric fund also has a bond debt of $700,000 due in November of 1981, and Brewington said "at that time we will need to pay it off."

Other factors which will continue to cut into the city's reserve funds include establishment of three subdivisions. One is underway now, and two others will be started next spring.

WHEN THESE are developed, the city is required to extend electricity to the development and in some cases water and sewer utilities. "The subdivisions will require new demands on the electric fund," Brewington predicted.

At the present, under influences of the lid bill, any growth — the addition of subdivisions, utilities, etc. — is a liability, he said.

Brewington noted that the city is faced with about a 15 percent inflation rate because of the services and "hardware" it buys. With a seven percent lid bill, "that leaves us eight percent short of maintaining the status quo," he said.

BASED ON current financial projections, it will be difficult to maintain existing services. Costs are going up for the city just as business costs are going up for local merchants, the city administrator reminded the Kiwanians.

There are a lot of services that can be reduced, Brewington said, but not enough to eliminate the projected $100,000 deficit. "We are at a point of diminishing returns as far as inflation goes," he added.

Brewington anticipates that if taxpayers vote a sales tax, then properly tax used in general operation of the city would be reduced by some 40 percent.

The city is considering all possibilities in trying to solve the problem, the city administrator said.

The cost of doing business continues to go up, and the Wayne-Carroll School District board of directors faced a couple of items during their monthly meeting Monday which may pinch the budget.

Bids were opened on refuse removal for the elementary, middle and high schools, and the final bid reflects the bite of continued double digit inflation.

BIDS WERE submitted by Wayne Refuse Service and Frank Mrsny Sanitation Service, both Wayne, with low bid awarded to Mrsny Sanitation.

The Mrsny bid was $185.08 per month for a yearly total of $2,221; the Wayne Refuse bid was $189.58 for an annual total of $2,275.

Supt. Francis Haun pointed out that last year's monthly contract with Mrsny was $109.70 per month for a total of about $1,316 annually.

SUPERINTENDENT Haun also provided the board with diagrams of bus routes which could use additional gravel.

There were several miles involved, and Haun told the board that the Wayne County Commissioners said earlier this year that money, or a lack of it, would be a factor in adding gravel to bus routes.

Seeks grant
Richard Metteer, principal at Middle School, presented a proposal entitled "Native American Arts and Crafts" for which a federal grant will be sought.

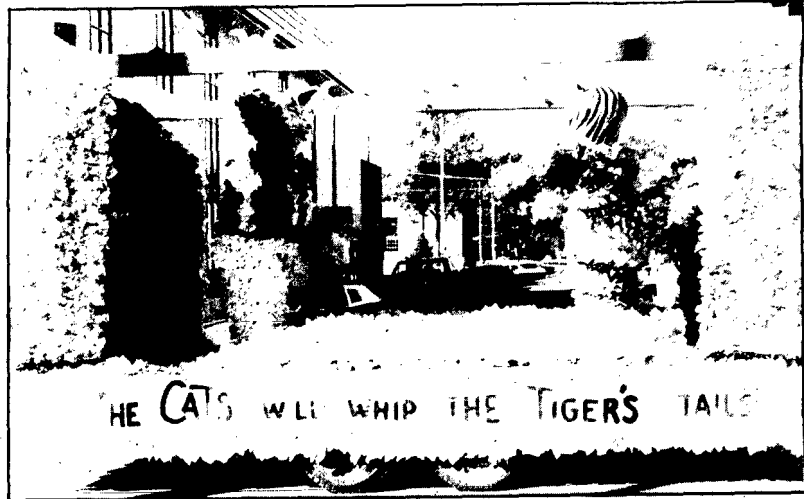

Metteer was present to outline the project and seek permission from the

Top Honors in Homecoming Parade

ANNUAL Wayne State College Wildcat Days homecoming parade was held down Main Street Saturday with winners named in two divisions — dormitory and organizations. Winner of the dormitory division was Morey Hall with the entry (above). "Wildcats Will Burn 'Em and Bail 'Em." Top honor in the organization's category went to the WSC Industrial Arts Club (below) with a theme of "The Cats Will Whip the Tigers' Tails." The parade opened activities which included a 129 Wildcat victory over Ft. Hayes State College.

Schools Begin to Feel Money Pinch

board to apply for the Title IV-C money.

After considerable discussion, the board voted 3-1 to allow Metteer to proceed with the grant application. The Middle School principal said there is no guarantee the project will be approved since there is considerable competition for Title IV-C grants.

VOTING AGAINST the grant application was board member Milton Owens. Voting in favor were Dorothy Ley, Neil Sandahl and Wilbur Giese.

If the grant is approved (and there will be no cost to the school district), various Indian reservations will be visited and detailed information will be gathered regarding the arts and crafts of native Americans.

This information would be developed into a package program which can be worked into the Wayne-Carroll curriculum and possibly used by other Nebraska school systems.

Metteer said the skills of most Indians are being lost as the tribes and their people are assimilated into the American society. The idea of the project is to capture some of these skills and provide them as educational tools for students.

Learning disabilities
In other action, the board heard a proposed board policy on teacher training in the area of learning disabilities (LD) as submitted by board member Ley.

As of the start of the 1978-79 school year, all elementary teachers had the proper LD training, about half of the middle school teachers were trained and none of the high school instructors were trained, Mrs. Ley said.

AS A RESULT, she has proposed three alternatives for faculty members to choose from in completing their learning disabilities training. These can be found in a separate story elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. Ley said the learning disabilities training would help teachers provide every student with a better chance to reach his or her potential.

Superintendent Haun provided brief reports on a number of items as follows:

Band uniform committee — The committee has been named and bids on new uniforms will be received at 7 p.m. Oct. 22 in the high school band room. A target date of next fall has been set for receipt of the uniforms.

Middle School windows — The first order of windows has been received.

TASK FORCE appointment — Superintendent Haun has been appointed to a state task force on quality education. The group will study the value of having mandatory competency testing in high schools on a statewide basis.

Biography position — A substitute has been hired to fill the position left vacant after W. Leigh Mueller broke his contract earlier this year.

Middle School shop door — Is in a sad state of disrepair and will be replaced by Overhead Door Co., Norfolk, for $440.

A REPORT was provided involving ACT test scores of last year's Wayne-Carroll high juniors. The report indicated that the 1978-79 juniors as a whole were above both the state and national averages in English, math, social studies and natural sciences.

However, broken down by sex, the women fell below the state average by four tenths of a percent in mathematics. In all other areas, the women were above the state and national averages.

Bonds paid
All bonds on the elementary school, erected in about 1959, have been paid off; Superintendent Haun noted. There is a balance of $31,580 in the account which was transferred by board action into the high school bond account.

There is a balance of $385,000 left on the high school bonds which will expire in about seven years.

THE ANNUAL audit of Wayne-Carroll School District was reviewed at the Monday meeting. The report, compiled by the local certified public accountant Jerry Malcom, indicated the bookkeeping procedures were in line with standard accounting practices of the state.

All members were present except Jim Hummel and Dale Stotenberg, and all actions were unanimous unless noted otherwise.

Concord Vies For Finalist

Concord has been announced as one of six Class I finalists in the Nebraska Community Improvement Program contest.

Judges were to tour Concord late Tuesday afternoon. The top three will be announced as winners Oct. 22.

Other finalists include Wallace, Brainard, Alexander, Farnam and Taylor.

The community finalists were chosen from scrapbook materials submitted in September. Two out-of-state community development experts judged each of the five population categories and chose finalists. The judges visited each community personally Tuesday and Wednesday. During the visits, community leaders met the judges in each town and escorted them on tours highlighting community achievements during the NCIP year.

Local Firm Joins ERA Service

ERA-Property Exchange, 112 Professional Building, has joined ERA (Electronic Realty Associates, Inc.), a nationwide home marketing service, it was announced this week by Darrel Fuelberth, owner.
 As an ERA real estate broker, Fuelberth said he will be able to offer such consumer aids as ERA Real Estate's two home warranties — the Home Buyers Protection Plan and Home Sellers Protection — as well as photo-by-wire listings and a nationwide relocation system.
 ERA Real Estate, the fastest growing national home marketing service, will have more than 40,000 sales associates in more than 3,750 offices nationwide by the end of 1979, according to Fuelberth.
 "With ERA Real Estate's exclusive consumer aids, we can help people sell their homes and alleviate the trauma of moving," Fuelberth said.
 "The Home Buyers Protection Plan," said Fuelberth "protects the homeowner against the operational failure of major home components including the central heating, electric air conditioning, plumbing and electrical system, built-in appliances, water heaters, and softeners and accessible sheet metal ducts."
 "Home Sellers Protection coverage begins 15 days after the home is listed for sale with the ERA Real Estate Broker, for up to six months or until the home is sold. The coverage is identical to the buyer's plan," Fuelberth said.

 "A person moving long distances has always had to travel back and forth to find the right home. There was no way to make the search easier. ERA Real Estate's "Moving Machine" has changed all that. The "Moving Machine" transmits six photos at a time of homes and descriptive data to prospective buyers practically anywhere in the country. The transmission only takes six minutes from the time the request is made to the central bank of homes on file at ERA Real Estate's headquarters in Overland Park, Kansas. The buyer could be looking at these photos as they come off the machine while sitting in his living room or in my office," Fuelberth said.

 "According to Fuelberth, more than 700,000 photos have been sent in five years, and there are more than 30,000 active listings on file.
 ERA Property Exchange has been serving home buyers and sellers in the Wayne area for the past 12 years.

Editorial— Helmet Law Expected to Stir Things Up

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

A bill proposing re-enactment of a controversial piece of legislation will be before Nebraska lawmakers next year.

Sen. Dave Landis of Lincoln announced recently he will sponsor a measure that calls for motorcycle and moped riders to wear helmets.

The Legislature, threatened by the federal government with possible loss of road building and maintenance funds unless it cooperated, passed a motorcycle helmet law in 1975.

But the lawmakers repealed the law two years later.

Landis says voluntary systems of helmet use have not worked. He noted a recent state government survey showed 83 percent of those questioned said they believed the repealed law should be reinstated.

The Lincoln lawmaker said he knows he will have strong opposition when he attempts to get his measure approved. In fact, he said he expects the opposition to be "fierce." But Landis said he is convinced opponents represent only a small minority and that the public good that would result from a helmet law would far outweigh any arguments the opponents could present.

Landis cited studies by the National Highway Traffic Safety Committee as an important reason why the state needs a helmet statute.

Those studies indicated riders who did not wear helmets had from three to nine times more fatal traffic accidents than riders who wear the protective devices.

Last year, nearly 50,000 motorcycles were registered in Nebraska. There were an undetermined number of mopeds. The little cycles do not have to be registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles but they have become increasingly popular as the price of gasoline keeps escalating.

Defective window blamed

Presenting a medium-minimum security prisoner at Lincoln had not been in use very long before three inmates escaped by pushing out a window and scaling down a fence around the prison.

State Correctional Services Director

Jerry Bolin said the reason the inmates got away so easily was a defective window.

Two of the escapees were recaptured within a few days, and the other was taken back into custody about a week later.

Bolin said a replacement for the defective window had been ordered before the escape and that a check was being made to determine whether similar windows were also defective.

He said new and longer bolts now secure the windows and that "keeper frames" will probably be added to help prevent the glass from being pushed out.

Bolin said changes in the movement of the population and better supervision of inmates when they are in the yard may also be needed at the new corrections center, which opened in July.

Gasohol law debated

Oral arguments on the constitutionality of the gasohol law were presented recently before the Nebraska Supreme Court.

One of the main arguments of the state Justice Department, which is challenging the constitutional validity of the statute, is that it would authorize the spending of state money for something other than a clearly recognizable public purpose.

The law would permit state government assistance in the development of gasohol consisting of 10 percent grain alcohol and 90 percent unleaded gasoline. Its supporters said, because of the energy crisis, the law definitely would serve a public purpose.

They made that argument repeatedly while outlining to the high court reasons why the law should be upheld.

The legislation would create a special fund financed by a 1-cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax. Money generated by the tax would guarantee government bonds for the development of alcohol plants and facilities by counties, cities and private parties.

The country or city would lease the plants to the state for up to 50 years with rental periods of not more than 12 months, with the rental payments being subject to annual appropriations. The legislation would authorize the state to enter into contracts or agreements with any private entity or person to provide the management or operating services for the facilties.

The Justice Department has contended the act would, among other things, unconstitutionally extend the state's credit to private firms and obligate future legislatures.

Gasohol proponents told the court a constitutional amendment approved some years ago removed the restriction against continuing appropriations, such as the gasohol law would authorize.

The Justice Department had earlier been granted an injunction blocking implementation of the law until all questions about its constitutionality were settled.

Against forced consolidation

A spokesman for Nebraska teachers has warned legislative advocates of forced school consolidation not to bring the issue to a head during the 1980 legislative session.

Paul Beltz, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, said a reorganization bill next year would be untimely and could actually harm the cause of education.

Beltz said any time is a bad time to talk about reorganization "but right now is the worst time."

His statement was similar to one made recently by Sen. Gerald Koch of Ralston, chairman of the Legislature's Education Committee.

Sens. Peter Hoang of Omaha and Don Wesley of Lincoln, who will be in their second year of lawmaking next year, have indicated they may sponsor reorganization legislation in 1980.

Beltz said he favors reorganization to promote efficiency and better programming. But he and Koch believe discussion of the issue next year in the unicameral would provide an obstacle to reorganizing the issue of higher state aid to schools.

Beltz said he is optimistic the Legislature will enact some type of school financing law. But he questioned whether proposals being considered could be described as state school aid.

All of the bills appear to be designed to provide property tax relief, he said.

Beltz said his organization is attempting to develop an aid program of its own, but he declined to get into the specifics of the proposal.

National Newspaper Week is a good time to remind ourselves of the guaranteed Constitutional rights we enjoy as Americans.

It is also a time for us to reflect upon what our Forefathers had in mind when they gave us the rights so explicitly spelled out when they drew up the First Amendment.

We don't have to read it twice to know what it means. Clearly it says that the people of this country shall have the freedom to follow their own religious pursuits, the freedom to peacefully assemble and to petition the government for redress of grievances, the freedom to openly express themselves — and the freedom and the right to run a free press.

The First Amendment backs these freedoms up by saying that the Congress shall make no laws abridging them.

That's a pretty forward stuff. The framers of the Constitution were first-rate writers when it came to drafting clear and unequivocal language. They understood not only how to write it, but more importantly, they understood the freedoms they intended to protect. Congress shall make no law — abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press — or of the others protected by the First Amendment. And even despite its frequent and considerable discomfort in countless ways with the press, as a body and in person Congress has made no law abridging the freedom of speech.

Today the rights and the responsibilities of the free press as served are governed are being shackled by those who do the governing. Although press freedom lives here, some recent decisions by the courts attest to the fact that freedom of the press lives in peril.

Recent court decisions make it evident that some judges seem to want not an independent judiciary, but an imperial judiciary — a judiciary that would bend and beat our citizens' press freedoms into service not of the public but of the courts and of the law enforcement agencies.

Let's look at some of these judiciary decisions.

One case in point is the chilling decision last year by the nation's highest court which struck harder at our society's press freedom than has any court decision in re-

LETTERS

Oct. 4, 1979

Dear Editor:

All burned up — you bet — not only am I burned up, but steamed up and the vapor is rolling. I think I feel like Jesus did when he was angered and turned on the money mongers at the temple.

As far as the letter of Oct. 2 — it held little truth and true knowledge of the Bible. I could present the same truths from the Bible in a different matter in which she presented it — but I am not here to argue about religion. The issue is abortion and nothing else.

Once again the devil, the agent of Satan, is clever. First, I'll tell you how clever he is. He appeared as an Angel of Light in the Bible. He displays power, he quotes Scripture and he even advocates faith.

The point is not what is the worst of these killings but that all three are killings of life — embryo, fetus and the fully developed infant. Our hearts are more with the fully developed infant because we can see it, hold it and it does give life more meaning than we can see.

I am not here to judge or argue what is the worst. All I know is killing is wrong in all stages of human life unless one is confronted with two lives in jeopardy, at the same time. Both cannot live so one of them must be sacrificed.

I was an embryo at my beginning. I am thankful that no one judged my being or my fate in life or that I was not a fit soul to live and interfere in this life style. They would have denied me this Christian right to grow as Jesus did. Life is an opportunity to know. God remembers all people. Life has a soul (spiritual part of life) whether embryo, fetus or as a developed infant. That is what makes man different from animals.

The beautiful passages in the Bible (Luke 1:41-45) tell us that John the Baptist leaped with the Holy Spirit in the womb of Elizabeth. This does tell us the Holy Spirit is with us always, before and after birth. Not one of us, not one of us could utter the name of Jesus without the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12:3b). No one can tell me it is impossible for God to be with us in any way. God remembers all people. He starts playing God with human life then life from God is meaningless. The Oct. 2 question — "Where in the Bible does it say when an embryo becomes a human being?" My question, "Where in the Bible does it say that an embryo does not become a human being?" The deciding answer is in the birth of Jesus but He, only, was conceived by the Holy Ghost. This is what makes Jesus different from man. God was there in the beginning and He remained. Christ's life is our guiding light.

What if Mary had been aborted at the embryo stage? What a gruesome thought and question! — but I'm thinking Joseph would have had a good reason — he was not the father — but through all his trying hours, (he had them too) he was with God, and he knew that it was God's embryo.

After having a daughter experience three sad miscarriages — tell her or me that these embryos did not carry a soul. I just about cry to think about it. How can one be so cruel as to say an embryo is not God's work and He is not with us at this stage in life.

What if my human anger would like to say, "Anyone who is for abortion should have been aborted," but I know this is wrong but hope it gives one something to think about.

I am wondering if carrying a baby to term and the doctor is late before the abortion. Many arms ache to hold a darling baby.

There are four things recessing our country: TV, prayer withheld out of school, courts protecting criminals rights and abortions. Other ditching sins are drugs, sexual and physical abuse and self-seekers.

Before closing this letter I would like to quote this article from the Public Pulse in the Omaha World-Herald from Suzanne Bianchi — "ALL LIFE IS PRECIOUS" — In the June 21 Pulse a person asks the question "amount of 'ignorance' if took to decide that destroying a golden egg's egg and abortion has anything at all to do with one another."

The June 17 ad did not imply that an unborn child and an eagle's egg are totally synonymous. The point is that both are life and all life is precious. The most precious is the unborn child.

The only ignorance is that of people who fight to save the life of an unborn eagle yet entirely overlook that of an unborn child. I would like to share this moment from Jean Rasmussen.

"Not just a mass of flesh — That forms to satisfy A mother's love — Or forms in spite of it. Patterned in His likeness. — But never full in growth; My dust, as dust of all That live and perish On this earth, — Is mingled with the grave My dear, dead by you — To share a life on earth, Awaits its form in heaven. Did you know we cannot kill a soul?"

If one cannot believe God can be with an embryo and that a soul does not exist with it, then so be it. May it always be that I shall never be a part of this cruel bloody mess or the shedding of innocent blood whether in the embryo, fetus or the fully developed infant. How can one go wrong with this decision? This decision leaves no room for doubt or fear of doing wrong.

I will close with this inspiring Bible passage — "whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God." (1 Cor. 10:31).

Dear Editor,

It's just too bad The Wayne Herald takes an emotional issue. Is your darn toilet in it? Isn't it just too bad that Dan Field, "The pled typer," doesn't like to hear about abortion and pornography. I suppose he is like so many — if he doesn't think about it then it doesn't exist. Well, it does exist and it isn't going to go away. An embryo is an embryo. It is your darn toilet in it. Is any time a human life snuffed out it would say that is an emotional issue.

Because abortion does kill a human being that in itself makes this a black and white issue. But something I would like to mention because so few are aware of it, is the experimental done on living fetuses. First, I must say in most abortions the baby is unnecessarily killed but sometimes in a saline abortion the baby lives. In almost all hysterotomy abortions the baby is alive but left to die. There is evidence in numerous medical news reports as of the 1970's "Congressional Record" that experiments are being carried out on these defenseless little beings. The aborted babies at Magee Women's Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa. are packed on ice while still moving and shipped to experimental laboratories. Dr. Tryphena Humphrey, of the University of Alabama Medical School, tested the "gag reflexes" on aborted babies in experiments similar to those done on concentration camp inmates in Nazi Germany. Dr. Robert Goodin of Stanford University Medical Center does experiments on ten-week fetuses "silence opening and exposing the heart (which is still beating) as "an observation in scientific research."

Is this how much we value human life? I believe all are valuable in the eyes of God and it is for us eternally that we are born not just for life on this earth. How can these innocent carry out God's plan for them when they are butchered in their mothers wombs or dissected for experimentation?

No, the pro-life people in this town, in this state, and in the nation, never go away but we will become stronger and stronger and stronger because our Lord will prevail!

We have gone over the top! As you have noted and are late before the abortion. Many arms ache to hold a darling baby.

There are four things recessing our country: TV, prayer withheld out of school, courts protecting criminals rights and abortions. Other ditching sins are drugs, sexual and physical abuse and self-seekers.

Before closing this letter I would like to quote this article from the Public Pulse in the Omaha World-Herald from Suzanne Bianchi — "ALL LIFE IS PRECIOUS" — In the June 21 Pulse a person asks the question "amount of 'ignorance' if took to decide that destroying a golden egg's egg and abortion has anything at all to do with one another."

The June 17 ad did not imply that an coverage of the project, the Morning Chaper for listing the contributors' weeks as the contributions came in, and the State National Bank for the use of their facilities in setting up and carrying out the project.

Also, I would like to publicly thank the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department and, in particular, Dutch Sitzman for demonstrating and showing the equipment to the public on several occasions. And I would like to thank the Lions Club Committee who spent many hours planning, organizing and working to complete the project. Those people are co-chairmen Earl Fuoss and Stan Hansen, committee treasurer, Charles Denesia, and members, John Vakoc and Roger Boyce.

The "Jaws of Life" equipment cost $6,000 and the initial $1,000 was contributed by the Wayne Lions Club. Contributions have gone over the $5,000 needed to complete the payment for the project. All contributions over and above the $5,000 will go to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department toward the purchase of additional emergency equipment.

I would like to thank the community for a job well done! Thank You.

To the Editor:

After reading the letter to the editor in the Thursday, Oct. 4 issue of The Herald, I wish to share a few opinions also. The impression is given that liberalized legal abortion will solve the problems of unwanted and abused children. Why is it that although New York and Colorado have had very liberal abortion laws since 1970 (several years even before the 1973 ruling by the Supreme Court), the incidence of child abuse has climbed each year since in those states. Nine years of legalized abortion has not alleviated that problem. The Oct. 3 issue of the Norfolk Flyer carried an article on the overwhelming amount of child abuse and neglect in the Lincoln area, which case workers are not able to keep up with. It only emphasizes the total lack of respect for human life which has become so prevalent in these United States.

The question of when does the embryo become a human being is answered by our present scientific knowledge of chromosomes and gene structure, and of the intricate genetic programming, and we do know that a human can only develop into what it already is, a human being. In October, 1967, a group of 20 medical people met in a "think tank" for several days, and the first important question discussed was "When Does Life Begin?" Some 19 of the 20 could not find a point in the stages of development from fertilization to birth when it was not a human life.

It is sad, but true that abortions are allowed up into the third trimester, if reasons of health are presented, and some have survived the abortion, only to be left to die, and others are rescued by concerned medical personnel. Of the more than 400 abortions performed in Nebraska monthly, at least 20 or more are performed by the saline solution method, which is done after the 16th week and long after. The use of prostaglandin drug has often brought about a live birth also.

As of August, 1977, medical abortions need not be paid for if the state so chooses and some limitations have been put on federal funds for abortion also, although there are still plenty of loopholes. It is felt by the pro-abortionists that the poor are being discriminated against, however the Center of Disease Control in Atlanta initiated a hospital-surveillance project to see what impact the restrictions had on abortion-related complications. Contrary to what was claimed would happen, "no increase in related complications" was observed. But abortion funding was restricted. Data on women was collected from 24 institutions in the District of Columbia and 13 states. Ten of these institutions were located in states where public funds were not available and therefore legal abortion might be less available. Fourteen of the institutions were in states that continue to use state funds in finance abortions. Out of 3,157 abortion complications reported, only seven occurred after admitted illegally induced procedures. In three other instances, but none of these 10 complications occurred in Medicaid recipients. (Information taken from Center of Disease Control Morbidity & Mortality Report). It is felt that the poor are discriminated against when funds are refused to them for abortions, but my feeling are that it is the unborn of the poor who are discriminated against when funds are made available. The availability of funds for abortion is a way of coercing the indigent pregnant mother to take the life of her unborn. We as a civilized society surely need not resort to attack on our most defenseless to help solve our problems. Why not support Birthright or Emergency Pregnancy Service, who get no federal funds, and help them with the tremendous job they are doing in working with the expectant mother when she has a need. Birthright need be financial, material or just counseling.

The phrase "do not impose your morals on someone else" has been heard many times, but when we as a society decide who shall live and who shall die, then "who is imposing whose morals on whom?"

Curtain times are 8 p.m. Oct. 14, and 8 p.m. nightly Oct. 15 and 16.

Theatre Department Opens With Comedy

The Wayne State Theatre Department, under the direction of Dr. Helen J. Russell, will open the 1979-80 season Sunday, Oct. 14, with Lanford Wilson's comedy, "The Hot L Baltimore."

The madcap Broadway hit centers around the residents of the Hotel Baltimore, a once elegant but now run-down hotel which is scheduled for demolition.

The final week of rehearsals are underway now for the show

Mildred Jones Gives Program

Minerva Club met with Mrs. Raymond Schreiner Monday afternoon for a brief business meeting and program, given by Mrs. Mildred Jones.

Mrs. Jones' talk was entitled "Anecdotes and Antics of Children I Have Taught."

Next meeting of the Minerva Club will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 22 in the home of Ida Moses.

which will run two evenings and an afternoon in Ramsey Theatre at the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. Curtain time is 2 p.m. Oct. 14, and 8 p.m. nightly Oct. 15 and 16.

Heading up the cast are Dave Sindelar, Claudia O'Neill, Karen Achor, Nancy Baum, Joseph Oborny, Pat Meis and Lisa Amundson.

Portraying Bill Lewis, the night clerk, is Dave Sindelar, a junior at Wayne State from Columbus. Sindelar has appeared in several other plays, including "The Miser," "The Stock of Recognition," "Rama and the Tigers" and "Absurd Person Singular." He is a theatre and math major.

The girl, a curious romantic, is portrayed by Lisa Amundson. Miss Amundson is an English and theatre major at Wayne State and is appearing in her first production.

Millie, a retired waitress, is played by Pat Meis of Elgin, a junior majoring in biology and CNA. While at Wayne, Pat has also appeared in "The Miser" and "Beauty and the Beast." Cast as April Green is Claudia O'Neill, a senior speech and English major at Wayne State, who has appeared in many other shows at the college, including "Celebration," "Princess Rebecca Birnbaum," "Tom Sawyer," "Beauty and the Beast" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Joseph Oborny, a senior at Wayne State, is cast as Mr. Morse, a retired resident of the hotel Oborny, a native of Bellwood, is a double major in theatre and speech and has appeared in many productions at Wayne State.

Jackie, an independent, is played by Nancy Baum, a senior English major from Elgin. While at Wayne Nancy has had roles in "The Miser," "St. Joan," "Anything Goes" and "Mary Stuart."

Karen Achor comes to Wayne State from Bellevue and is a sophomore majoring in theatre. She portrays Suzy, a romantic prostitute. Miss Achor also has appeared in "Shadow Box," "Beauty and the Beast" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

All technical aspects of the production are handled by Noel Rennerfeldt. The setting consists of three areas of the once elegant hotel — the office, lounge and grand staircase. A thrust stage will be used and areas will be designated through the use of elevations.

Wayne State College students, faculty and staff will be admitted to the play free with identification. All tickets, advanced and at the door, are $2.50. Group rates are available. Persons wishing more information are asked to call 375-2200, ext. 224.

Six Wayne Homes to Be Featured During Annual AAUW House Tour

Members of the Wayne chapter of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will conduct their fifth annual house tour in Wayne Sunday, Oct. 21.

Mrs. Kathy Manske, chairman of this year's tour, said the public is invited to visit the homes of six Wayne families, including Mr. and Mrs. Al Ehlers, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Varilek, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Marra, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pierson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Wittig.

Tour hours are from 2 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Manske said the public can tour any or all of the homes between those hours, adding that the tour is non-guided and ticket holders may visit the homes in any order they wish.

This year's proceeds will go to the Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary, the Pilot Parent Project, the Wayne Regional Arts Council and the A.A.U.W.'s scholarship and fellowship program.

Tickets are available at both Wayne banks, Griess Rexall, Sav-Mor Drug and from any AAUW member. Tickets also will be available the day of the tour at Sav-Mor Drug and at the homes on the tour. Cost is $2.50 in advance and $3 the day of the tour. Children who are not carried will be charged the full admission price.

Helping Mrs. Manske with the tour arrangements are AAUW members Phyllis Leach, Jackie Dilman, Joan Burst, Lin Brummetts, Sue Kovar, Jan Dinsmore, Charlene Rasmussen, Penny Urwiler, Claudia Koerber, Sharon Boeckenhauer, Twila Claybaugh and Marie Mohr.

Mrs. Manske said door decorations or dried flower arrangements will be on display at each of the homes. Businesses furnishing the decorations and arrangements are Puckett Florist of Pender, Joanie Designs, Country Nursery of Wayne, and the Wayne Greenhouse.

The 70-year-old home of Al and Norma Ehlers, located at 120 W. Ninth St., features an early American decor. The kitchen ceiling beams were made from Mrs. Ehler's great grandfather's homestead at Bel den, which was built at the time family heirlooms and antiques, including a spinning wheel and a camel back trunk from Germany, a brass bed, and a black marble clock made in England at the time of Queen Elizabeth's grandmother's death.

The modern family home of Rod and Sue Varilek was completed in 1978 and lends itself well to both formal and informal entertaining. Their home is located at 1119 Sunset Dr.

The split-level home features a family room on the lower level with a large brick fireplace and a wet bar. A focal point of the master bedroom is a large Peruvian Alpaca rug.

The two-story home of Ken and Sheryl Marra, at 1008 Sherman St., was completed in 1978. The floor plan was designed by Mr. Marra, and Mrs. Marra's interest in decorating is evident throughout the home.

Persons visiting the Marra home can enjoy refreshments on the enclosed patio. Horticulture visitors will enjoy the many interesting indoor plants.

Lovely stained glass windows add elegance to the stately older home of Rod and Loreta Tompkins, at 420 Douglas St. Recently redecorated, the home maintains the charm and character of the mid 1880's, with 10 foot ceilings, wooden partition doors and a fireplace. A highlight on the second floor is an airy sun porch off the master bedroom.

Visitors to the Tompkins home should take special notice of the natural colored oak woodwork and ornate door knobs and hinges.

A sunken living room is one of the many points of interest in the 11 year old home of Dean and Marilyn Pierson, at 113 Wildciff Dr. The split level home, arranged for family living, features a sunny eating area in the kitchen and two fireplaces.

Many family hobbies and projects may be seen throughout the Pierson home, including air brush art pieces by their son, Doug.

The home of Al and Betty Wittig, built in 1918, is a spacious two story, three bed room house formally owned by the Carhart and Burr Davis families. Beautiful woodwork is found throughout the home, with

Concert at Winside

Vocal and instrumental students in grades nine through 12 at Winside High School will present their first concert of the year Monday evening, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Elementary School.

Groups which will be featured during the program are the concert band, mixed chorus, girls and boys glee and swing choir.

Vocal director is Lance Bristol and instrumental director is Curt Jeffries.

Pastor To Be Installed At Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Wayne will install the Rev. Edward A. Carter as pastor at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 14.

Pastor Carter and his wife, Ruth, are New Englanders, raised in Connecticut. They have no children. They were residents of New Hampshire until last year when they moved to Omaha to serve as Ministers of Music and Pastor's Assistant at Trinity Church Interdenominational.

Prior to their ministry in Omaha, the Carters were engaged in Evangelistic ministries throughout the United States, Canada and the Caribbean for over 29 years. Mrs. Carter is an accomplished pianist, organist and vocalist.

Pastor Carter began his ministry in Wayne on Sept. 16 after receiving a call from the Baptist Church on Aug. 6 by vote of the church, following recommendation by the Pulpit Committee, chaired by Dr. Steven Dinsmore.

Taking part in Sunday's installation service will be the Rev. David Bender, pastor First Baptist Church, Norfolk; Dr. Steven Dinsmore, educator, Wayne State College; David Rodney Gibb, architect, Omaha; Dr. Heinz Grabia, executive minister Nebraska Baptist State Convention; Rev. Robert Haas, pastor United Presbyterian Church Wayne, and president of the Wayne Ministerial Association; Rev. Larry Ostercamp, pastor Evangelical Free Church, Wayne; Rev. Donliver Peterson, pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne; Rev. Orville Roach, minister at large, Nebraska Baptist State Convention, Takamah; Steven Thornburg, Omaha; and Rev. A.R. Weiss, pastor Assembly of God Church, Wayne.

Mrs. Ruth Carter and Jane Buttermore of Wayne State College will assist at the organ and piano respectively.

Rev. Carter's pastorate succeeds that of the Rev. Verni Matson and interim pastor, the Rev. Orville Roach.

Christmas Craft Festival Slated At Laurel Church

A variety of Christmas decorations and crafts will be featured at a Christmas Craft Festival to be held Monday, Nov. 12, at the United Methodist Church in Laurel.

The festival will begin at 9:15 a.m. with registration and refreshments. Program sessions will begin at 9:45 a.m. and end at 2:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Participants will be able to select five of the following craft sessions to attend: Crystal Craft taught by Mrs. Jim Mole; Christmas Crafts by Linda Milbrath; Cut Glass Work by the Rev. Robert Neuf; Off-Loom Weaving by Mrs. Richard Korn; Silk Flowers by Mrs. Lloyd Roebber; Pine Cone Decorations by Mrs. Paul Ebmeyer; Christmas Wreaths by Deb Schroeder; and Christmas Creations by Val Schellpeper.

Craft sessions, led by residents from Cedar, Dixon and Wayne Counties, will include demonstrations, discussion and displays of each craft.

A film, entitled "Look At Me," which focuses on the International Year of the Child, will be shown during the noon hour. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch.

The registration fee is $1 and includes refreshments, church rental and session expenses. Advance registration is required by Nov. 5.

Persons planning to attend are asked to mail their checks and a list of the five sessions they wish to attend to Valerie Schellpeper, Cedar County Extension Office, Hartington, Neb., 68739. Checks should be made payable to the Cedar County Extension Office.

Miss Schellpeper said early registration is advised because of limited enrollment.

The workshop is sponsored by the Cedar County Extension Service. For more information contact Val Schellpeper at the Cedar County Extension Office, Hartington, 254-6821.

Laurel UPW Sponsoring Annual Bazaar

Handmade items, baked goods, plants and Christmas decorations will be featured during a fall bazaar and bake sale this Saturday at the city auditorium in Laurel.

The annual bazaar is sponsored by Laurel's United Presbyterian Women. Presby. are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Women are planning to serve coffee and rolls during the morning. They also will be serving lunch of taverns, home-made vegetable soup, ham and cheese salad sandwiches, pie and coffee.

The public is invited.

German Oktoberfest 200 Attend Open House

Polka music and German cuisine will highlight the German Oktoberfest Saturday night, Oct. 20, at the Wayne Country Club.

A spokesman for the Country Club said all members and guests are welcome to attend the event, beginning with Trinken (social hour) from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Essen (bratwurst, beer, sauerkraut and German potato salad) will be served at 7:30 p.m. followed with Tanzen (dancing) to the Polka Kings at 8:30.

Persons who would like to attend the event are asked to make reservations by Wednesday, Oct. 17, by calling 375-2507, or 375-1656.

200 Attend Open House

About 200 guests attended an open house reception at the Winside city auditorium Oct. 7 honoring the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Koch of Winside.

Mrs. Gerald Hasebrook of Norfolk registered the guests, who attended from Sioux Falls, S.D.; Logan, Iowa; Camarillo and Holtville, Calif.; Wausa, Emerson, Wakefield, Norfolk, Wayne, Winside, Albion, Bristol, Carroll, Omaha, Laurel, Concord, Stanton, Lincoln, Spencer and Newman Grove.

The event was hosted by the couple's children and families, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Koch of Milford and Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Donna) Blaser of Norfolk.

There are four grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Gifts were arranged by Mitchell Koch of Milford and Todd Blaser of Norfolk.

Mitchell Koch of Milford was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program. The Rev. Gail Axen had prayer.

Marcie Koch read an original poem written by Mitchell Koch. Musical selections included a trumpet solo by Todd Blaser of Norfolk and several numbers by The Classics, a quartet from Norfolk. Harlan Brugger of Winside furnished organ music throughout the afternoon.

The anniversary cake, which was baked by Evelyn Rubeck of Wayne, was cut and served by Mrs. Wesley Rubeck and Mrs. Myron Larson, both of Carroll.

Mrs. Paul Blaser of Norfolk and Mrs. Joe Koch of Milford poured, and Marcie Koch of Milford served punch.

Members of the Theophilus Ladies Aid at Winside worked in the kitchen and dining room.

Kochs were married at Butte on Sept. 11, 1929, and have resided on a farm northeast of Winside since that time. Among those present for Sunday's observance was Mrs. Arlene Bowers of Bristol, an attendant at their wedding 50 years ago.

Extension Women Recognized

The annual Recognition and Achievement Day program sponsored by the Wayne County Home Extension Clubs attracted a crowd of about 75 women Friday afternoon.

Theme of the program, held in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne, was "International Year of the Child."

Mrs. Louis Luff Sr., chairman of the Wayne County Home Extension Council, welcomed the guests and opened the program.

Mrs. Sherlan Frey of Wayne spoke to the group of women. Her topic, entitled "Encouraging Creativity in Your Children," stated that fear of whether or not a creative project will be accepted is the greatest detriment to developing creativity in children.

"Their creative projects need to be praised, not criticized," said Mrs. Frey, who displayed toys she had helped her children create.

Ron Daly, Ph.D., Extension Family Life Specialist, Lincoln, also spoke on "Public View Related to the International Year of the Child."

Dr. Daly emphasized the importance of keeping the initial purpose of the International Year of the Child in mind — the needs of children. He reminded the audience that political issues can interfere and blur the focus on children.

As he spoke, Dr. Daly was accompanied at the podium by his eight-year-old son, John Michael, and by Teena Luff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Luff of Wayne.

Vocal selections were sung by the Treble Clef Singers of Wayne.

The 1979 Home Extension Council members were recognized for their leadership during the past year. Council members and home extension club presidents for 1980 were installed.

Serving on the Wayne County Home Extension Council during 1980 are Mrs. Marlan Jordan, Wayne, council chairman; Mrs. Darrell Moore, Wayne, chairman elect; Mrs. Herbert Niemann, Carroll, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Jones, Wayne, secretary; Mrs. Don Johnson, Hoskins, treasurer; Mrs. Dale Stoltenberg, Carroll; Wayne Carroll, Group Chairman; Mrs.

Bill Willers, Stanton, Hoskins; Winside Group Chairman; Mrs. Dorell Rahn, Wayne, Citizenship Leader; Mrs. Chester Marotz, Hoskins, Cultural Arts Leader; Mrs. Del Sorensen, Wayne, Family Life Leader; Mrs. Brad Schellpeper, Winside, Health and Safety Leader; Mrs. Don Luff, Wayne, Foods Division at County Fair; Mrs. Randy Baier, Wisner, Needlework Division at County Fair; and Mrs. Alex Liska, Wayne, Vegetables Division at County Fair.

Club presidents for 1980 include Mrs. Guy Anderson, Randolph, A Teen; Mrs. Paul Henschke, Wakefield, Farm Fans; Mrs. Delvin Mikkelsen, Wayne, Happy Homemakers; Mrs. Arnold Witter, Hoskins, High Lands; Mrs. Ruth Jones, Wayne, Hillcrest; Mrs. Ezra Johens, Norfolk, Hoskins Homemakers; Mrs. Marvin Victor, Wakefield, Klick and Klatter; Mrs. Fred Mann, Wayne, Merry Mixers; Mrs. Verdel Backstrom, Wayne, Monday Mrs.; Mrs. Lyle Krueger, Winside, Scattered Neighbors; Mrs. Norman Haglund, Wakefield, Serve All; Mrs. Richard Longe, Carroll, Star; Mrs.

Gilbert Kralfman, Wayne, Sunshine; Mrs. Robert Porter, Wayne, Three M's; Mrs. Merlin Kenney, Carroll, Town and Country; Mrs. Ray Johens, Hoskins, 20th Century; and Mrs. Roger Luff, Wakefield, We Few.

Mrs. Leo Hansen of Wayne a member of the Merry Mixers Club, presented a silver tray to Mrs. Herb Niemann of Carroll, a member of the Klick and Klatter Club. The tray is a traveling award given each year to the club displaying the outstanding booth at the Wayne County Fair.

Special awards were presented to Mrs. Robert Porter, Mrs. Larry Nichols, and area extension agent Anna Marie Kretzels, for "going the extra mile" in service to the County Home Extension Council.

Members of the Achievement Day planning committee were Mrs. Orville Nelson, Wayne, chairman; Mrs. Darrell Moore, Wayne, and Mrs. Randy Larson, Wakefield.

Refreshments were served and a silver offering donation was accepted for a special fund to be used for a health need for a child as determined by the Council.

Tatting Classes Slated

Sessions on tatting, an ancient art of lace making, will begin in Wayne on Monday, Oct. 22, and are open to all local and area residents. The class is sponsored by the Wayne Regional Arts Council.

Instructor will be Mrs. Gail Korn of Wayne, who has received numerous awards for her tatting, Danish cross-stitch, off-loom weaving and crewel embroidery.

The first session will begin at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 22 in the meeting room at Columbus Federal Savings and Loan in Wayne. Sessions will follow at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 29 and Monday, Nov. 12.

Mrs. Korn said the class is limited to 12 participants and early registrations are advised. Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Korn at 375-3615. Cost of the class is $12 for members of the Wayne Regional Arts Council and $15 for non-members. Participants must furnish their own shuttle, which can be purchased in a craft shop or in some department stores.

"Anyone can develop the skills to tat," said Mrs. Korn, adding that persons enrolled in the class will learn to make tatting snowflakes as Christmas tree ornaments.

Mrs. Korn said classmembers also will receive enough basic knowledge during the three sessions to make dollies, pillowcase edgings, tablecloths, place mats, dresser scarves and lace trim garments.

DR. RON DALY, Ph.D., Extension Family Life Specialist from Lincoln, spoke to a group of nearly 75 women in Wayne Friday afternoon during the annual Recognition and Achievement Day program sponsored by the Wayne County Home Extension Clubs. Dr. Daly's topic was "The International Year of the Child." Pictured with him are his eight-year-old son, John Michael, and Teena Luff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Luff of Wayne, who accompanied Dr. Daly to the podium. Also pictured is Mrs. Orville Nelson of Wayne, chairman of the Achievement Day planning committee.

A Homecoming Victory

Wildcats Recover To Get Back On Winning Track

By Kevin Weiberg
Wayne State SID

Wayne State College shook off a bad case of the fumbles Saturday and drove 56 yards for a touchdown in the closing minutes to hand Fort Hays State University a 12-9 loss on homecoming day in Wayne.

Despite the one-yard touchdown plunge by quarterback Rick Lade with 1:55 remaining, the Wildcats had to rely on a pass interception by Mark White in the end zone with just over 30 seconds left to preserve the win.

The game was marred with numerous miscues by both clubs. WSC fumbled the ball eight times, losing three. The Wildcats also had a pass intercepted. Fort Hays lost three fumbles and the interception by White.

The two teams traded field goals for their first scores. Don Ramsey booted a 37 yard field goal with 5:05 left in the second quarter for the only points of the first half. Ramsey's field goal capped a seven play 47 yard Fort Hays drive that gave the Tigers a 3-0 lead. Bart Emanuel's 24 yard field goal tied the score at 3-3 with 5:18 left in the third quarter.

The Tigers went back ahead with 8:22 left in the game on an option pass from back up quarterback Rick Mondt to tight end Sam Farmer. The play started with Mondt setting up at wide receiver and Tiger quarterback Hoskin Hogan firing a lateral to Mondt in the left flat. Tight end Farmer, streaking down the middle of the field, was wide open and the play was good for a 37-yard score. Ramsey's PAT stayed below the cross bar and the Wildcats trailed 9-3.

The Wildcats grabbed back the momentum following a 51 yard punt by Pat Maxwell that pinned Fort Hays at its own six-yard line. On second and 11 at the five, quarterback Hogan was sacked in the end zone by Bill Schwartz. The safety moved the Cats within four points with 5:45 remaining and set-up the game winning touchdown drive.

Following the free kick, the Wildcats started from their own 44-yard line and moved 56 yards in nine plays for the score. Two big plays kept the drive alive. On second and seven at the Wildcat 47 yard line, tailback Bob Barry, scamp-ered for 24 yards and a first down at the Tiger 29 yard line.

The run gave Barry 100 yards rushing for the day, his first 100 yard performance of the year. Five plays later on the third and 16 at the Tiger 22 yard line Lade, dashed 20 yards on a quarterback draw that set up the winning score. Lade's touchdown run came two plays later.

The Wildcats moved their season record to 2-2-1 and 1-1 in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference with the win. WSC travels to Washburn University at Topeka, Kan., with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff scheduled Saturday.

"I think the biggest change that we're seeing in our defense is the fact that the defensive secondary, which is quite young as everybody knows, is maturing and they've had a chance to get some game experience," said coach Del Stollenberg. "I think that I can see each week that they're getting just a little bit better in terms of reading their keys and coming up for run support. We probably ask our backs to give more run support than most teams do and I think that's the reason for the 88 yards on the ground. In this day and age the way people throw the football around it's pretty difficult to shut them out totally as far as the passing game is concerned."

"We probably came through this ball game in as good shape as any ball game since that first one with Chadron. Bob Broome, our left guard, turned an ankle but was in pretty good shape," Stollenberg said. "And Steve Atman had an arm injury. I think he had a hyperextension and a bruise. It's swollen right now and it's been immobilized, but I think it will be ready to go this week. Steve is a heck of a competitor and he's not going to be watching from the sidelines if there is any way he can be in there."

WSC Travels to Washburn Next

Washburn University, 2-3 overall and 0-2 in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference, will host Wayne State College at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Moore Bowl in Topeka, Kan. The Wildcats, 2-2-1 and 1-1 in the CSIC trail in the series between the two schools, winning only one of four previous meetings.

Washburn's Ichabods under first-year head coach Gary Hampton were picked last by conference coaches in a pre-season poll, and have thus far done nothing to change that ranking losing to Emporia State 17-11 two weeks ago and Pittsburg State 46-12 last week in Pittsburg.

The Ichabods possess one of the CSIC's most potent passing weapons in the arm of junior quarterback Mike Atkins. Atkins was selected to the CSIC all-league team last year after setting four Ichabod passing records. The junior completed 112 of 237 passes for 1374 yards and five touchdowns in 1978.

Hampton has employed several new wrinkles in his first season as Ichabod coach. The most unusual of these new looks is a no-huddle offense. Nearly all of the Ichabods plays are called from the line of scrimmage. WSC head coach Del Stollenberg said the Ichabod offense can be explosive.

"Their actual offense, once they get the play called, looks like a Wing-T with a lot of motion, counter action and this type of thing," he said. "They are capable of pushing some points on the scoreboard if people aren't reading their keys properly."

The leading rusher for the Ichabods is senior fullback Mark Samich. Samich has gained 261 yards in four of Washburn's first five contests. Defensively, the Ichabods are led by junior strong safety Andy O'Neill. The 6-0, 185 pounder had 16 tackles and a 43 yard punt return against Pittsburg. He also has three interceptions.

Injuries have hurt both clubs in 1979. Washburn's standout split end and kick return specialist Ron Beal separated a shoulder last Saturday in Pittsburg and could miss the rest of the year. The Wildcats are as near full strength as they have been since the opening game at Chadron.

Only WSC's standout receiver Jeff Ingram, who suffered a broken collar bone at Chadron, will not be in action Saturday. Marty Hansen, Bud Matthews and Bill Schwartz, all nursing injuries last week in the Wildcats' 12-9 homecoming victory over Fort Hays, are expected to be 100 percent by Saturday.

Last year, in Wayne, the Wildcats defeated Washburn for the first time in the history of the series, 7-6. Though the Wildcats gained 319 yards total offense to the Ichabod's 184 yards, WSC had to rely on a missed extra point for the win. Tailback Bob Barry carried the ball 42 times for 168 yards in last year's game.

RON BERRIE      BOB BARRY

Berrie And Barry Athletes of Week

Defensive tackle Ron Berrie, and tailback Bob Barry, were selected Wayne State college "Players of the Week" for their performances last Saturday against Fort Hays State University. Sophomore defensive tackle Berrie of Davenport, Iowa, carded eight total tackles in WSC's 12-9 homecoming victory. The 6-3, 220 pounder has been a leader on the defensive line all year. He is currently third in total tackles after five games with 16 unassisted and 32 assisted stops.

Battle Creek product Barry rushed for 100 yards for the first time this year last Saturday. The 6-3, 200-pound senior is WSC's all-time career rushing leader with over 3,200 yards on the ground.

Barry had struggled in the Wildcats opening four games but according to Stollenberg he looked "like the Bob Barry of old" last Saturday. The two-time NAIA all-American carried the ball 25 times for 100 yards in the victory including a 24-yard scamper on the winning touchdown drive.

This week's contest winner was Norman Herman. Norman correctly predicted 16 winners. The real competition this week was for second place with seven entries picking 15 winners, so the Tie-Breaker game was used. Wayne State defeated Fort Hays State 12-9. Art Pollard predicted 14-10 to earn second place. The other entries which were tied: Marty Hansen - Wayne, Mary Libbe and Jean Herman - West Point, Ron Wecker - Randolph, Darin Schellenberg - Winside, and Lefty Olson - Wakefield. Congratulations to our winners and good luck to everyone in this week's contest.

Cross Country Squad Sweeps Past Plainview

Wayne Athletes of the Week

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK at last week's Second Guessers meeting, Kurt Powers (left) and Doug Proett, showed why they earned the honor. Running in a home dual against Plainview, Monday, the cousins placed first with hands clasped at the finish line. Both runners are now preparing for conference competition and districts. The West Husker meet will be held at the Wayne Country Club course, Friday and districts are scheduled, Wednesday.

For 15 minutes, Wayne's cross country team neglected the weather and got down to the business at hand, Monday afternoon.

Mother Nature was the strongest opposition to the Blue Devils as they swept to an easy victory over Plainview at the Wayne Country Club Course. Wayne's varsity runners fought mild showers; strong winds and cold weather to finish in the top five positions and post the victory over Plainview.

Counting the top four runners of each team, Wayne won the varsity match with 10 points compared to 30 points also outdid the Pirates. Counting varsity and reserve runners, Wayne swept the top eight positions.

Cousins Doug Proett and Kurt Powers finished in a virtual first place tie, crossing the finish line with hands clasped. Proett was awarded first place for the records. Both runners finished with a time of 14:34 over the 2 1/2 mile Wayne course.

Much improved Joel Mosley placed third in 15:06 and Jeff Balcer finished fourth with a time of 15:10. Mike Luft completed the varsity scoring with a fifth place finish. Placing sixth, seventh and eighth respectively in the competition were Wayne reserves Jeze Morris (15:49), Pat McCright (16:05) and Tim Pfeiffer (16:19). Plainview's varsity runners finished in the ninth, 10th and 11th spots, but Perry Nelson finished in 12th position in 17:36.

To figure varsity scores, reserve finishes were ignored giving Wayne the top five places and Plainview the next five finishes.

"I didn't feel we were extended today, competition wise," said coach Harold MacLeavelle. "Our third and fourth runners can pretty well, only about 30 seconds behind the leaders. Things are looking up."

Next action for the Wayne runners is scheduled Friday when Wayne hosts the West Husker Conference Meet. Districts are scheduled Wednesday.

PAUL SUTHERLAND

STEVE SORESENSEN

LYNN SURBER

AWARDED CERTIFICATES as athletes of the week at the Second Guessers meeting, last Thursday were five Wayne High athletes. Cross country runners Kurt Powers and Doug Proett are pictured with the cross country elsewhere in the sports section. Others chosen were: Paul Sutherland, Steve Sorensen and Lynn Surber. Sorensen received the award for his performance against Winser-Pilger. He intercepted a pass for a touchdown in his first performance as linebacker and was the team's fourth leading tackler. Sutherland led the team in tackling and intercepted an important pass against Winser. He also made the game saving tackle. Surber, a 5-3 junior has a 90 inch vertical jump and led the Wayne volleyball team against Emerson-Hubbard. She recorded 10 good spikes in 11 attempts for three aces and is a 90 percent efficient server.

Wayne Spikers Place Fifth

After losing their opening match of the South Sioux City Volleyball Tournament, the Wayne Blue Devils rebounded to place fifth with two victories. Wayne lost to host South Sioux 13-15, 3-15 in the opening round Monday night. Coach Deb Bodenstedt said her team played "very poorly" in the opener. The Devils rallied to defeat LeMars 15-10, 15-5 in the consolation bracket but still didn't play well.

A 15-6, 15-4 win over Sioux City West gave the Blue Devils a fifth place finish in the eight team, four-day tournament. Lisa Daniels sparked the winners with 13 good serves in the first set.

game and Jolene Bennett recorded eight good serves in the second game.

Bennett and Lisa Peters played well at the net in both games. Bennett hit eight good spikes in nine attempts for five aces and added four dink aces. Peters made 11 good spikes in 11 attempts for five aces and added four blocks. Julia Dorcay, Wayne's leading setter, was all over the floor and set the ball well against West. Her sets led to the strong team spiking. Wayne, with an 8-3 record, is scheduled to host Class B's sixth rated team in the state, undefeated Hartington CC, Tuesday in the Wayne gym.

WSC Cheerleader Clinic Winside Loses Match Scheduled Saturday

The Wayne State College cheerleaders will host the first ever WSC Fall Cheerleading Clinic at 8 a.m. Saturday in Rice Auditorium.

The clinic, designed for both varsity and junior varsity high school cheerleading squads, will emphasize football and basketball cheers and chants as well as work on jumps and stunts. A session for advisors will also be held during the morning.

Cost of the one day event is $5 per cheerleader with advisors admitted for free. Ribbons will be awarded to those squads who excel in the clinic which is expected to conclude about 4 p.m.

Winside Loses Match

Mistakes hurt the Winside volleyball team as they dropped a contest to Emerson-Hubbard 11-15, 9-15, Tuesday night in Emerson.

Julie Krajcek and Marci Thomas performed well but the Wildcats ran into trouble with their serving. Winside took the lead but soon lost it when several serves went into the net. The varsity record is now 4-5.

The Winside B team won its match 16-14, 15-2 behind a fine team performance. June Meyer and Robyn Wincel led the junior varsity attack. The C team lost its match 4-15, 8-15.

Against Coleridge last Thursday, Winside lost a conference match 8-15, 12-15. The B team won 8-11, 11-6, 11-7. Next action for Winside will be tonight (Thursday) at Wynot.

Bears Fall In Three

The Laurel volleyball team got off to a good start, then slumped and lost a 15-10, 4-15, 5-15 decision to Hartington, Tuesday night on the home court.

Lynda Elmeler led the Laurel varsity with seven points as the Bears opened with a victory in the first set, playing well as a team.

Hartington tested the Laurel defense in the next two sets and Laurel came out on the losing end of both games. The varsity record drops to 4-6.

Laurel's B team won its match 7-15, 15-10, 10-13, behind the scoring of Donna Loquist. She scored 15 points and Anne Schultz added eight in the winning cause.

Patsy Thompson led the C team in a losing effort, 12-15, 15-12, 8-15. Next action for Laurel is scheduled tomorrow (Friday) at Sioux City East.

Young Blue Devils Sneak By Schuyler

Jim Pochlman led a strong second half surge as the Wayne eighth grade football team edged Central Ten toe Schuyler 14-7, Tuesday at Schuyler. The Warriors got off to a quick start and opened up a 12-0 half time lead. Pochlman received the second half kickoff and returned the ball 85 yards for a touchdown. A two-point conversion made the score 12-8. With four minutes remaining in the game, Pochlman struck again as he ran around the left end for a 35-yard touchdown, giving Wayne a 14-12 lead. The Wakefield defense, which showed little resistance in the first half, toughened and held Schuyler to only one first down in the final two periods.

Pochlman finished the game with 160 yards in 15 carries. Layne Lueders, rushed for 46 yards. Blaine Jobs ran for 21 yards and Brendon Dorcay added six yards. Layne Marsh caught one pass for five yards. Defensively, Pochlman tallied 12 tackles and four assists. Ted DeTurk followed with five tackles and four assists. John took five tackles and two assists and David Lange made three tackles and three assists. The next game for the eighth graders is set for Tuesday at West Point CC.

Another Win For Trojans

Ardie Barker scored 15 serve points to lead the Wakefield Trojans to a volleyball win over Osmond, on the home court, Tuesday night. Of Barker's 15 points, 12 were aces.

As a team, the Trojans made 21 aces on serves and added 10 down spikes for a 15-3, 15-5 win. The victory upped Wakefield's record to 3-5.

The Wakefield junior varsity and C team completed a sweep over Osmond with 8-11, 13-11, 11-7 and 11-8, 11-3 wins respectively. Next action for the Trojans is scheduled for Tuesday on the home court against Walhalla.

Rats, Mice Will Be Seeking Winter Shelter

With colder weather approaching, farmers may find unwanted "guests" helping themselves to room and board in livestock buildings or anywhere grain is stored.

These unwelcome guests — rats and mice — can do a lot of damage when they visit. According to Robert M. Timm, extension vertebrate pest specialist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, rats and mice consume grain and also contaminate it with their wastes. They may also carry disease, but their biggest impact probably is in the structural damage they can do to buildings.

"These rodents' incisors grow all their life so they're constantly gnawing on something to wear their teeth down. Insulation materials are especially vulnerable — they make good nesting material and they're readily chewed," Timm explains.

Rigid plastic foam insulation seems especially susceptible, he added.

The safest method to control rats and mice is with an anticoagulant rodenticide. Timm said "The poison must be consumed over a number of days to produce death because the effect is cumulative. Death results from interference with the blood's clotting ability, causing internal bleeding," he explained. Chlorophacinone, diphacinone, Fumaryl Pival, PMP, Warfarin and Prolin are examples of anticoagulant rodenticides.

If you're using an anticoagulant and are not seeing any results although the bait is well accepted, Timm suggests checking for the following problems:

The bait is available for too short a period. Bait should be available for at least 15 days or until feeding stops.

Not enough bait is put out and none remains from one baiting to the next.

Not enough bait stations are used, they're not close enough together, or they're not near main areas of rodent activity. (For house mice, Timm added, bait stations may need to be as close as three to six feet apart.)

The control program doesn't cover a large enough area, and permits rodents to move in from nearby untreated areas.

The rodents are resistant to the rodenticide. Although unlikely, this may occur where anticoagulants have been used for an extended period. Resists may be present if about the same amount of bait is consumed daily for a number of weeks.

If you're not achieving control because the bait is poorly accepted, Timm advised checking the following factors:

The bait is a poor choice or it's formulated improperly.

Bait stations are not properly placed. They must be next to walls in areas where rats and mice are active.

Other, preferred foods, such as livestock feed, are more abundant.

The bait has become moldy, rancid, insect ridden, or contaminated with other materials. Discard old bait periodically because control is best with fresh bait.

The quality of the anticoagulant is poor and the rodents can detect it in the bait.

As with any pesticide, proper use of anticoagulants is important. Timm said. Label directions should be followed precisely and bait locations should be carefully selected to avoid accidental exposure to livestock, children or wildlife. Commercially available bait boxes will help to reduce the possibility of accidental poisoning, he said.

Even though anticoagulants are the safest method of control, Timm said, prevention is even better. Generally this means rodent proofing a facility when it's being constructed, but recommended methods can be incorporated into an existing structure also.

To make a building rat and mouse proof, the specialist said, any holes or gaps larger than one quarter inch must be closed. Ventilation ducts and other openings should be covered with quarter inch hardware cloth and areas that are susceptible to gnawing, such as bottoms of doors, should be covered with metal. Shallow foundations should be constructed with a curtain wall around the bottom of the building, extending 36 inches into the ground, to prevent underground entry," he said.

Because of the damage they can do, rodents are worth the work of keeping them out, Timm said. "Controlling Rats," a new NebGuide authored by Timm, is available free from county extension offices to help farmers rid themselves of the rodents.

Land Judging Event Planned

The Northeast Station, Concord, will be host to a Land Judging Contest Youth participants from several counties will converge there on Oct. 17 at 8 a.m. to learn and to compete. Approximately 300 youths are expected to participate, according to Stan Starling, Dixon County Extension agent.

Many vocational agriculture teachers will be bringing teams to the contest. 4-H members are also eligible to compete as teams or as individuals. Teams will be composed of four members with only the top three scores counted. Any 4-H Leader can bring individuals or a team and should contact their County Agent or the Northeast Station, Concord, for details. There is also an adult division for 4-H Leaders who wish to enter. Contestants should bring two number two pencils, 50 cents registration, and a sack lunch.

The contest will involve judging amount of residue per acre, distribution and anchorage of residues, surface coverages, weed control, moisture depth, seedbed condition and other factors. The contest is sponsored by the Lewis and Clark Natural Resources District with assistance from the Dixon County Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

Curt Nelson Wins Honors

THE JUNIOR division pole bending championship at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Exposition 4-H Light Horse Show Friday, Sept. 28, went to Curt Nelson (above), 12, of Carroll. Curt and Flash, 14-year old mare, logged a time of .21-.21 seconds to top 46 entries in the junior division. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Nelson. The junior division cloverleaf barrel racing championship also went to Curt. He and Flash had a time of .15-.67 seconds around the barrels for the second championship of the day. He received a plaque and ribbon for each championship from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. Scott Mann, Hoskins, received a blue ribbon in senior pole bending. Jeff S. Behmer, Hoskins, received a blue for cloverleaf barrel racing; and David Fleer, Hoskins, took home a blue in senior clover leaf racing.

This and That...
from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

At the time of writing this column we still haven't had a killing frost, but I'm sure this will change soon.

Feeding frozen forages can be a problem. Sudan and soybeans can be safely pastured or fed as green chop following frost if precautions are taken. These precautions include: not turning cows out on a frost damaged crop when they are hungry, having an adequate and balanced mineral supplement available, be sure there is a good supply of clean water available.

This probably does not eliminate all possibilities of a prussic acid poisoning problem, as any growing soybean or sudan plant can contain dangerous levels of prussic acid.

Check pastures. It is a good idea to go out and check the pasture before the cows are turned out. For example, a light frost which kills top growth may not affect new growth. Cows commonly will graze the green young shoots. Once the plant has been completely killed, sorghums may be grazed safely in about a week. Grazing should be safe after the leaves and stalks both have turned brown.

The stage of maturity and moisture levels are the keys to deciding what is the best way to handle sudan when making it into hay or silage. If the crop was quite mature at the time it was frozen, probably the easiest way to harvest the crop is to graze it. If the crop was in the heading out to early bloom stage when it froze, it can be made into good hay.

Other crops. In some other crops, handling techniques vary. Corn should be put in the silo as quickly as possible. Every day of delay means loss of leaves. Grain sorghum, if in the hard dough stage, should be left and harvested as grain. If less mature, it can dry down and be put up for silage. Alfalfa normally will

Use of Carbaryl May Bring Irritation

Preliminary results of an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources risk study on urban use of carbaryl shows "significant exposure to the skin on the user's hands, but minimal penetration of the skin."

Dr. J. Robert Leavitt, assistant professor of agronomy and a co-investigator in the study, advised the high degree of hand exposure to poor practices in handling pesticides.

"It just shows that most of us tend to be somewhat careless in handling pesticides," he said.

"Putting on a pair of rubber gloves would reduce hand exposure almost to zero."

More than 50 volunteers from Lincoln and Omaha participated in the study which began this past March. The study was conducted under a grant from the North Central Regional Pesticide Impact Assessment Committee.

According to Dr. Roger E. Gold, coordinator of environmental programs and another of the co-investigators, the Nebraska exposure study is one of the first major efforts to document potential risk from exposure to carbaryl.

The carbamate insecticide, Gold said, is the active ingredient in Sevin R and other similar products, and is widely used both in agriculture and on home lawns and gardens. The chemical has 7,842 registered uses on 80 crop species, and an estimated 16.6 million pounds are sold annually in the U.S.

Gold explained that carbamates are "Cholinesterase inhibitors," that is, they block the formation of acetylcholinesterase, a blood enzyme essential to proper functioning of the nervous system.

Overall objective of the study was to determine the degree of exposure and the amount of contamination which results from using carbaryl in typical urban application situations. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln scientists used both direct and indirect measuring techniques.

A small blood sample was taken from each volunteer user in order to determine his/her normal cholinesterase level. Another sample was taken immediately prior to applying carbaryl, and a third, two hours after application. Comparing cholinesterase levels found in each sample was one of the indicators used to measure exposure risk.

The blood samples were analyzed by Drs. Terry Holcaw and Charles F. Ryan, both of the Department of Pharmacodynamics and Toxicology, College of Pharmacy, University of Nebraska Medical Center. Both are also co-investigators in the study.

Gauze pads placed both on the skin and over the outer garments worn by each applicator were used to measure direct exposure.

Analysis of the outer pads produces definite evidence of carbaryl exposure, Leavitt said. However, analysis of the inner pads show "little or nothing." In addition, some of the volunteers were asked to wear an air sampling pump during application to measure potential exposure through respiration. Leavitt said initial analysis of these samples show "extremely low" exposure through this route.

Leavitt said it would be "several weeks" before final samples are analyzed and the researchers can begin summarizing results. Complete findings and results in the study will be detailed in a final report expected to be ready by the end of February, 1980.

Spotlight on Weeds

Leafy spurge growing conditions

Description Leafy Spurge is a persistent deep-rooted perennial which reproduces by seeds and roots. The stems are eight to thirty-six inches tall and are stiff and woody at maturity. The main stem may be surrounded by eight to ten secondary stems giving a clump-like appearance. The bluish-green leaves are long and narrow with smooth or slightly wavy margins. The small flowers are borne on a short stalk above two large showy heart shaped bracts which are generally mistaken for flower petals. Three seeds may be produced in each flower which literally explodes on maturity throwing the seeds as far as fifteen feet. The seeds may remain visible for at least five years. Seedling plants generally do not flower the first year. Some roots may penetrate to depths of twelve feet. The reddish-brown roots produce a multitude of pink buds which are capable of producing new plants up to three feet away from the mother plant. Sections of roots as short as 1/2 inch may give rise to new plants. All parts of the plant contain a milky sap which may cause severe irritation to human skin.

Control In pastureland use one quart of 2,4-D plus one pint Banvel in early bud stage in spring or late fall. A spring treatment followed by a fall retreatment may be necessary with bad infestations.

Leafy spurge in cropland can generally be eradicated by two years of continuous cultivation. The infested areas should be cultivated three to four inches deep every time the leafy spurge is three to four inches tall (maximum) or about every two to three weeks depending on

Hoskins Woman Tours Europe

Mrs. Walter Koehler returned home Oct. 1 after spending a month touring Europe.

Mrs. Koehler accompanied her daughter and family, the Gene Cowells and Tammi of Fremont, Calif., to Frankfurt, Germany, where they met her son and family, Capt. and Mrs. Leon Jack Pingel of Roto, Spain.

The families toured Germany, visiting Heidelberg, Salsbury and Munich. At Bundo, Germany, they visited Mrs. Koehler's cousin, the Richard Broekemeier family, and with other relatives.

The group took a boat trip up the Rhine River and visited Hitler's castle, which was built in 1938.

They also visited the countries of Switzerland, Austria, France, Spain and England.

Before returning home, the families visited Morocco, Africa, where Capt. Pingel spent two years in the U.S. Navy. They stayed four days in the Capt. Pingel home at Roto, Spain before returning home.

Trinity Aid

Mrs. Arthur Behmer and Mrs. Orville Broekemeier were hostesses for the Oct. 4 meeting of the Trinity Lutheran Ladies Aid, held in the school basement.

Guests were Mrs. Gene Grosch and Christopher and Mrs. Bill Gries, Jennie and Beth.

The meeting opened with a hymn and devotions by the Rev. Wesley Bruss. Mrs. Otto Wanfuch was leader for the topic, "Give," with all members taking part.

Mrs. Lane Marolt, president, conducted the business meeting. Reports were given by secretary Mrs. Scott Deck and treasurer Mrs. Otto Wanfuch, followed with correspondence and committee reports.

Mrs. Orville Broekemeier told about the LWMS Fall Rally which was held at Waco last month.

Mrs. Lyle Marolt and Mrs. Lane Marolt were named to the visiting committee for the month of October.

Mrs. Arthur Behmer, Mrs. A. Bruggeman, Mrs. Alfred Mangels and Mrs. Hilaa Thomas were honored with the birthday song, and the meeting closed with a hymn and prayer.

Mrs. Wesley Bruss and Mrs. Doug Deck will be hostesses for the Nov. 1 meeting. New officers will be elected and the program will be presented by Trinity Lutheran School children.

Lions Make Final Payment

ceremony at the Wayne Fire Station. A check totaling nearly $5,000 was presented by Wayne Lions Club members Stan Hansen and Charles Denesia to Ken Haas, representative of the Small Fire Equipment Co. from which the "Jaws of Life" was purchased. Also present was Wayne Fire Chief Dick Korn.

Hansen said the check represented the outpouring of financial response by area citizens to the Lions Club-sponsored community project.

Denesia said more than 300 individuals, businesses, civic and fraternal organizations, church groups and others contributed to the campaign. They expressed the club's sincere appreciation for the public generosity which enabled them to meet the financial obligation in a five week period.

The Lions Club made initial payment of $1,000 and then made a public appeal to raise the remaining $5,000. "We couldn't have asked for a more positive response," the two men stated.

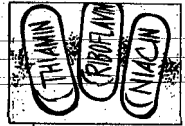

The tool, which will be kept by the Wayne Fire Department but will be available to area fire departments and rescue units when needed, can be used to effectively rescue persons trapped in a wrecked car or truck or from a corn picker or other farm machinery.

The "Jaws of Life" has the capability of lifting a car, truck, semi-trailer or even a railroad car. Also purchased were various pieces of optional equipment which can force open a door or raise a roof of a wrecked vehicle, move a steering column and cut through metal.

This tool, and others like it, have been credited with being the prime factor in saving lives. "We hope we never have to use it," said Chief Korn, "but we're mighty happy to have it available."

Contributions have gone over the $5,000 mark needed to complete payment for the project, Fred Webber, Lions Club president said. All contributions above $5,000 will go to the Volunteer Fire Department to purchase additional emergency equipment, he said.

Three of the B vitamins—thiamin, riboflavin and nicotin—play central roles in the release of energy from food.

Proposed Board Policy Would Require Additional LD Training

Wayne-Carroll board of education is considering an addition to the board policy which, in the words of its sponsor, help every student reach his or her fullest potential. It would require teachers within the K-6 school system to improve their training in learning disabilities.

BOARD MEMBER Dorothy Ley presented her proposal at the board's regular monthly meeting Monday at the high school. She would require teachers within the K-6 school system to improve their training in learning disabilities.

The proposal reads as follows: "In order that every student may be better served in reaching his potential, all new teaching staff on the elementary and lower middle school level (K-6) will fulfill one of the following options:

(1) Before they are employed, staff members will already have taken eight hours or more of SLD training focused upon teaching techniques proved effective with youngsters who have specific learning disability ties; or

(2) In the SLD area, new staff members will accumulate four or more hours their first year in the Wayne system and four or more hours their second year.

They will confer with the director of special education and their respective principals to work out a program which will be of most benefit to the 25-30 percent of their students who have different learning styles and thereby need alternative teaching techniques. Courses suggested for meeting this criteria at Wayne State College include: principles of specific learning disabilities, language arts for the SLD student, curriculum modification for the SLD student, motor perception, and practicum for the SLD student. These courses are taught at least once yearly and often repeated several times; or

(3) They will participate in a year of classroom training in which the SLD resource teacher will first demonstrate effective SLD teaching in the new staff member's classroom, then team teach with her or him, and finally act as a consultant to the new staff member.

On the upper middle school and high school levels the first two options apply except in the English area, where all three apply. The requirement of hours is reduced to four on the upper middle school and high school levels. English teachers, however, also are required to complete the summer practicum on the upper middle school and high school levels.

In order to receive an increment increase on the salary schedule, staff members must fulfill the above requirements on schedule.

MRS. LEY also proposed that the policy be applied to present staff, giving them two years to complete the requirements. She also proposed that the school district foot the bill for tuition for anyone completing the courses during the 1979-80 school year.

If 30 teachers took advantage of the offer, she explained, the cost to the district would be $2,270. This is a "small price," Mrs. Ley said, "to pay for improved instruction, not only for the 250-300 youngsters who vitally need alternative techniques but for the entire student body."

The money saved from not having a full-time special education instructor during the 1979-80 school year could be used for in-service training of staff, she said.

"WHAT I HEAR over and over from teachers who have had the learning disabilities training is that they become better teachers of all children during the training. They learn to view every student as an individual with his or her own unique learning style," Mrs. Ley commented.

The board took the matter under advisement and will report at a later date.

Cindy Bull Is Royalty Finalist

Eighteen University of Nebraska at Lincoln students have been selected as finalists in the 1979 Corn Cobs and Tassels Homecoming Royalty contest including a Wayne woman.

The finalists, nine men and nine women, will vie for the honor of representing the university as homecoming King and Queen in an election to be held during the week before UNL's homecoming football game with the University of Kansas on Oct. 13.

The UNL women students selected as homecoming royalty finalists include Cynthia L. Bull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Bull, Wayne, who is majoring in Home Economics and Extension.

Students on the city campus will vote from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9, in the Nebraska Union, while east campus students will vote from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10. The winners will be announced at half-time of the homecoming football game.

The Homecoming Royalty Contest is one of a number of special events planned by the All-University Homecoming Committee to be held during the week before Homecoming. The All-University Homecoming Committee, in addition to representatives from the Corn Cobs and Tassels, includes representatives from the Student Alumni Board, the City and East Campus Union Program Councils, the Interfraternity Council and Pan-Hellenic Society, the UNL Yell Squad and ASUN.

Fire Destroys Trailer

Fire almost completely destroyed a trailer house about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday on the east side of Hawkins.

Hawkins Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene shortly after fire broke out about 1:25 p.m. Fire Chief Gerald Wittler said Darrell Maier and his son, four-year-old Curtis, were asleep at the time but neighbors alerted them to the fire in time.

According to Wittler, the fire apparently was started when a stereo plug shorted out. Firemen battled the blaze about 30 minutes before it was brought under control. The trailer was in flames when firemen arrived. There were no injuries.

Museum Open

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wittke and Mrs. Max Lundstrom will be hosts at the Wayne County Historical Museum Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4.

The museum is located at Seventh and Lincoln Sts., in Wayne.

Cuzins' Meet

Mrs. Virgil Mosemann of Emerson entertained the Cuzins' Club Oct. 4. Andy Lutt was a guest.

Card prizes went to Mrs. Howard Mau, Mrs. Don Lutt and Mrs. Kenneth Dunklau. Mrs. Roy Habrock of Emerson will be the Nov. 1 hostess. The club meets at 1:30 p.m.
